AN ACT relating to mutual savings banks and pensions for employees of such banks, and amending section 1 of chapter 87 of the Laws of 1935.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Washington:

Pensions.

SECTION 1. The Congress of the United States and the legislatures of various states have adopted legislation designed to provide for the social security of the aged, infirm or unemployed worker and his family, to the end that the serious social consequences of poor relief assistance be alleviated. It is desirable that this legislation be supplemented to the fullest extent possible by voluntary provision on the part of employers for the security of their superannuated and disabled employees. The legislature, therefore, declares that in its considered judgment the public good and general welfare of the workers of the state require the enactment of this legislation authorizing mutual savings banks to provide pensions for their disabled and superannuated employees.

Rem. Rev.
Stat. (§ 364-21
