Introduction

This Legislative Handbook of the Sixtieth Legislature for the 2007 session contains pictures and biographical material on state elected officials and members of the Senate and House of Representatives. Additionally, there are sections of the handbook on Americans with Disabilities Act, how a bill becomes law, parking and tour information, and a campus map.

This handbook is prepared by the Senate and the House of Representatives to assist those interested in becoming better acquainted with their statewide elected officials, legislators and the legislative process in our state.

State Elected Officials

CHRIS GREGOIRE Governor

As Washington's 22nd Governor, Chris Gregoire has delivered real results to the people of Washington. Combining effective leadership with a tireless work ethic, she has shown time and again that she has the courage and independence to stand up and fight for individuals and families. She was Washington state attorney general for the 12 years prior and was the first woman elected to the position in state history.

Governor Gregoire's vision for Washington reflects her commitment to world-class education, access to quality, affordable health care, job creation and other top priorities, including a new rainy day fund. As Governor, she has worked for:

- An education system families can rely on;
- An economy that offers opportunity for family wage jobs;
- Health insurance families can afford;
- An environment where families can thrive;
- Communities where families feel safe; and
- State government that is performance-driven and accountable to Washington families.

Raised in Auburn, Washington, Governor Gregoire graduated from the University of Washington in 1969 with a teaching certificate and Bachelor of Arts degree in speech and sociology. In 1977, she received a Juris Doctorate degree and, in 1995, an honorary Doctor of Law degree from Gonzaga University.

Gregoire's record as Attorney General reflects a commitment to ensuring that the laws of Washington work on behalf of all the people of the state. She worked tirelessly on children's issues and led a statewide program that resulted in a comprehensive reform of the state's juvenile system. She also worked to pass a tough new ethics law for state government and to find alternatives to litigation in resolving legal disputes.

As Attorney General, Governor Gregoire was the lead negotiator in the groundbreaking settlement of state lawsuits against the tobacco industry. She was a leader in the effort to protect citizens' privacy and combat identity theft and she worked to protect consumers and investors in the wake of the Enron scandal.

Prior to being elected Attorney General, Governor Gregoire served as director of the Washington Department of Ecology from 1988 to 1992, where she negotiated the breakthrough agreement with the federal government to clean up the Hanford nuclear site.

Governor Gregoire and her husband, Mike, reside in Olympia. They have two daughters – Courtney, an attorney, and Michelle, a senior in college.

State Elected Officials

BRAD OWEN Lt. Governor

Democrat. Brad Owen was elected as Washington State's 15th Lieutenant Governor in 1996, and was re-elected to his third term in 2004. He serves the state as president of the Senate, and is acting governor in the absence of the Governor. Owen was a small business owner and served his community as Shelton Finance Commissioner, followed by several terms as a state Senator and Representative. The Lieutenant Governor has dedicated his term of service to "helping kids grow up healthy in safe communities with opportunity," his office motto. Owen also actively supports strengthening the ties between Washington State's international community and state government. For the past several years he has worked toward fostering international trade and building stronger international connections. Owen also founded and is the president of a non-profit organization called Strategies for Youth. This innovative organization partners with his office to develop and deliver positive messages to youth, as well as to the community at large. Owen is married with six children and twelve grandchildren, and lives in Shelton.

SAM REED Secretary of State

Republican. Sam Reed is Washington's 14th Secretary of State, currently serving in his second term. Since taking office in 2000, Reed has made substantial strides to bring Washington State into the 21st century. He launched the nation's first state government digital archives and worked to make Washington a more business friendly state by providing for corporations to file electronically. Reed fought and won the battle to save the Washington State Library, the State's oldest cultural institution. Secretary Reed oversaw the closest race for governor in the history of the United States. He recognized the challenges in Washington's election system and successfully championed major reform including the establishment of the State's first statewide voter-registration system. The Secretary of State is now authorized to review each county's elections procedures at least once every three years to prevent and correct problems before they occur. Reed successfully advocated for moving the date of Washington's Primary Election from September to August - allowing more time for Washington ballots to reach Washington military personnel and residents living overseas, and allowing election workers more time to prepare for the General Election. Reed grew up in Wenatchee. His family moved to Spokane where he graduated from Lewis and Clark High School. He earned a Bachelor's Degree in Social Studies and Master's Degree in Political Science Washington State University. Secretary Reed, whose family lived here in territorial days, is working to further safeguard, preserve and celebrate Washington's unique heritage for future generations. Reed's innovative project, the Washington Heritage Center, would bring the State Archives, Library and State Capital Museum and their collections into a new home on the Capitol Campus. Reed and his wife Margie reside in Olympia; have a son David, a daughter Kristen, and a son-in-law Eric. They are the proud grandparents of Nathan and Tommy.

State Elected Officials

MICHAEL J. MURPHY State Treasurer

Democrat. Michael J. Murphy is the 21st Treasurer of the State of Washington. He was elected in 1996 and took office on Jan. 15, 1997. He was re-elected in 2000 and again in November 2004. Mike is a Seattle native and the eldest son of a family of 11 children. He graduated from Seattle University in 1969 with a B.A. in history. After a tour of duty in the military, Mike was hired by the Office of the State Treasurer in 1972. In his first 15 years at the state treasurer's office, Mike held jobs including administrator of the Public Deposit Protection Commission and internal auditor. While working full-time and attending college at night, Mike earned his M.B.A. from Pacific Lutheran University. Mike was appointed treasurer of Thurston County, the state's eighth largest county, in spring 1987. He won election to the position in fall 1987 and was re-elected in 1990 and 1994. As State Treasurer, Mike is responsible for investments of more than $7.6 billion in the treasury portfolio, including $4.3 billion in the Local Government Investment Pool. The State Treasurer is chair of the State Finance Committee, which oversees management of the state's outstanding debt. The State Treasurer is one of 10 voting members of the State Investment Board, which manages more than $57 billion in investments. Mike is vice president of the Western State Treasurers Association. Mike is married to Teri Smith Murphy, who retired in 2001 after 30 years as a teacher in the Olympia School District. Mike and Teri live in Olympia.

BRIAN SONNTAG State Auditor

Democrat. Now in his fourth term, Brian Sonntag has served the citizens of Washington as State Auditor since 1993. He is committed to openness and accountability to protect the rights of citizens to know what their government is doing. In 2005, voters passed an initiative giving his office broad authority to conduct performance audits as another tool to promote accountability. Brian is a Certified Government Financial Manager and a member of the Performance Audit Task Force of the National State Auditor's Association. He also serves on the Board of the Washington Coalition for Open Government. He is a member of the state Productivity Board and co-chairs Public Service Recognition Week, an annual event showcasing the achievements of state employees. Brian is the state's eighth elected State Auditor. He has a long career in public service. He was elected Pierce County Clerk at age 26 and later served as Pierce County Auditor, an office his father once held. His civic involvement has included United Way, Boys and Girls Club, YMCA, March of Dimes and coaching youth baseball and basketball. Brian and his wife, Jann, live in Tacoma. Brian has three sons and one grandson.

State Elected Officials

ROB McKENNA Attorney General

Republican. Serving his first term. As the state's chief legal officer, McKenna directs attorneys and professional staff providing legal services to state agencies, boards and commissions. He serves on the National Association of Attorneys General (NAAG) Executive Board, co-chairs the NAAG Tobacco Committee and was named an Aspen Institute Rodel Fellow in Public Leadership. He began his legal career at Perkins Coie in Seattle, specializing in business and regulatory law. He was elected to the King County Council in 1995 and re-elected in 1999 and 2003. He chaired the Washington State Transportation Improvement Board and the Eastside Transportation Partnership; served on the Sound Transit Board and the Economic Development Council of Seattle and King County Board; and co-founded the Eastside Human Services Forum. McKenna is an Eagle Scout; past president of the Bellevue Schools Foundation; Board Member of the Bellevue Community College Foundation; Fundraising Chair for the Eastside Domestic Violence Program; Executive Board Member of the Boy Scouts of America, Chief Seattle Council; and past co-chair of the City of Hope Walk for Hope to Cure Breast Cancer. He was named one of Washington CEO Magazine's Most Amazing Attorneys of 2006; one of Seattle Magazine's 26 Most Influential People in Seattle in 2006; Outstanding Leader of the Year by the Eastside Domestic Violence Program in 2006. Other honors include: Advance Bellevue 10th Anniversary Legacy Award; Washington Law and Politics "25 Smartest People in Washington"; the Puget Sound Business Journal's "40 Under 40" award; and the Municipal League's Doug Mason Memorial Award. Rob earned dual bachelors degrees with distinction in economics and international studies from the University of Washington. He earned his law degree from the University of Chicago. He lives in Bellevue with his wife Marilyn, and their four children.

TERESA "TERRY" BERGESON, Ph.D. Superintendent of Public Instruction

Nonpartisan. For more than 35 years, Terry Bergeson has worked to ensure public school students achieve an education that truly prepares them for life beyond the classroom. Born and raised in Massachusetts, Bergeson holds a B.A. in English, a master's degree in counseling and guidance and a Ph.D. in education. She began her career as a teacher and junior high school guidance counselor, working in Massachusetts, Alaska, and Washington. As an advocate for education and educators, Dr. Bergeson became active in the Washington Education Association; she was elected vice president in 1981, then president in 1985. She was hired in 1989 as executive director of the Central Kitsap School District, where she supervised nine schools and several special programs. In 1993, Dr. Bergeson was appointed executive director of the Washington State Commission on Student Learning. As executive director, Dr. Bergeson was charged with developing statewide standards for students, as well as a series of tests students must pass prior to graduation. She served as executive director until 1996, when she was first elected as state superintendent of public instruction. She was re-elected in 2000 and 2004.

State Elected Officials

DOUG SUTHERLAND Commissioner of Public Lands

Republican. Serving his second term as Commissioner of Public Lands, Doug Sutherland administers the Department of Natural Resources, the state's management agency for forest, agricultural, range, tidal and shore lands. As Commissioner, Doug strives to balance the important goals of providing funding for schools, habitat protection and opportunities for recreation. He serves as chair of the Board of Natural Resources and the Forest Practices Board. Elected in November 2000, Doug previously served two terms as Pierce County Executive where he was co-chair of the Tri-County ESA Task Force. Doug began his public service career as a member of the Tacoma City Council, then as Tacoma's mayor from 1982-1990. As mayor, Doug was instrumental in beginning the Superfund cleanup of Commencement Bay and improving Tacoma's air quality.

MIKE KREIDLER Insurance Commissioner

Democrat. Native-son Mike Kreidler has served the people of Washington in elected offices and appointed posts at local, state and national levels for more than 30 years. Beginning his career as a school board member, he then served 16 years in the state legislature – both houses – and was later elected to Congress. President Clinton appointed him Regional Director of the Department of Health and Human Services. He also served gubernatorial appointments representing Washington on the Northwest Power Planning Council. Reelected Insurance Commissioner in 2004, Mike continues a strong commitment to consumer protection as his second term unfolds, advocating for health insurance reform and a strong regulatory presence in the state's insurance markets. A doctor of optometry, he practiced at Group Health Cooperative of Puget Sound for 20 years. He also holds a master's degree in public health and was a founding director of what is now Venture Bank. Mike retired as a Lieutenant Colonel from the Army Reserves with 20 years of service in 2003. He and wife Lela have three children and are proud grandparents. They reside in Lacey.

Senator

SENATORS OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON

OWEN, BRAD Lieutenant Governor President of the Senate

Born in Tacoma, Washington on May 23, 1950, Lieutenant Governor Owen graduated from Frankfurt American High School in 1968. Upon returning to the U.S. after graduation, he moved back to his birth state of Washington and then later settled in Shelton. During the next 22 years, Owen was a small business owner and became a prominent member of his community.

Brad Owen was elected as Washington state's 15th lieutenant governor in 1996, and is now in his third term as lieutenant governor. Lieutenant Governor Owen serves the state as president of the Senate, and is the acting governor in the absence of the governor. Prior to his election as lieutenant governor, Owen served as Shelton finance commissioner from 1976-1979, as a member of the Washington State House of Representatives from 1976-1982, and in the Washington State Senate from 1983-1996.

Lieutenant Governor Owen has dedicated his term of service to provide leadership in the field of public health and safety, with an emphasis on substance abuse and prevention. He is the co-chair of the Washington State Mentoring Partnership, as well as the chair of the Legislative Committee on Economic Development and International Relations. He has conducted many foreign trade and goodwill missions and promotes stronger ties among Washington State's economic and international communities. Additionally, as president of a non-profit organization called Strategies for Youth (SFY), he develops and delivers positive messages about substance abuse and bullying awareness to youth, as well as to the community at large. In 2002, he received an Honorary Doctorate of Letters (Humanities) from Walla Walla College for his years of public service and work with kids and communities.

Lieutenant Governor Owen is an avid outdoorsman, hunter and fisherman, and enjoys playing a variety of musical instruments including the guitar, drums, and sax. Owen and his wife, Linda, live in Shelton. They have six children: Shanie, Dana, Sherri, Mark, Adam, and Royce, and 12 grandchildren: Elizabeth, Casey, Amanda, Savannah, Joshua, CammiAnn, Seth, Sophia, Naomi, Luke, Jaidyn and Azarayah.

Americans with Disabilities Act

Assistance For Persons With Disabilities

The Washington State Legislature is committed to making legislative activities and facilities accessible to all people. To meet this goal, the Legislature has taken steps to ensure that individuals with disabilities have full access to legislative activities, programs, and services. The Legislature would like to hear from you if you have comments or concerns relating to services we provide to persons with disabilities. Please feel free to contact the appropriate ADA coordinator.

Barrier-Free Access

All legislative buildings have designated disabled parking and entrance ramps to provide easy access. Each building on the campus has at least one door that is accessible by wheelchair. Legislative hearing rooms in the Cherberg and O'Brien buildings are accessible to persons using wheelchairs. Each hearing room has an accessible entrance and a designated wheelchair seating area. If additional assistance is required, please contact the appropriate Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) coordinator listed below.

Auxiliary Aids For Communication

Telecommunications Device for the Deaf (TTY):

The Legislature has TTY service. This service allows persons who are deaf or hard-of-hearing to communicate with legislators and staff about matters before the Legislature, scheduling, bill information, etc. For information or to leave a message, call the following number:

Legislative TTY1-800-635-9993

State Telephone Relay Service:

As an alternative to the Legislature's TTY number, any legislative number can be reached directly by dialing:

State Telephone Relay Service (voice)1-800-833-6384

or State Telephone Relay Service (TTY).....1-800-833-6388

Assistive Listening Devices in Hearing Rooms:

Legislative hearing rooms are equipped with assistive listening systems. These systems allow hard-of-hearing persons to amplify hearing proceedings through the use of special headphones. For meetings in the Cherberg and O'Brien buildings, headphones can be checked out at the security offices on the first floor of each building.

Interpreters and Readers

The Legislature will provide sign language interpreters and readers when appropriate and with advance notice. If you need a sign language interpreter or reader, please contact the appropriate staff person or ADA coordinator.

Documents in Alternative Formats:

Legislative documents can be made available in alternate formats (large print, braille, and audio tape) upon request. If you need a document in an alternate format, contact the appropriate staff person or ADA coordinator. Please give as much advance notice as possible, as it may take significant turnaround time to meet certain requests.

ADA Coordinators

The Senate and House ADA coordinators provide assistance if questions or concerns arise and coordinate the implementation of the ADA.

How a Bill Becomes a Law

1. A bill may be introduced in either the Senate or House of Representatives, but the procedure by which a bill becomes a law is much the same, wherever the bill originates.

The bill is introduced in the Senate or the House by a member, or members, of that body. After the bill is filed with the Secretary of the Senate or Chief Clerk of the House, it is given a number and, it is read the first time by title only in open session and referred to a standing committee.

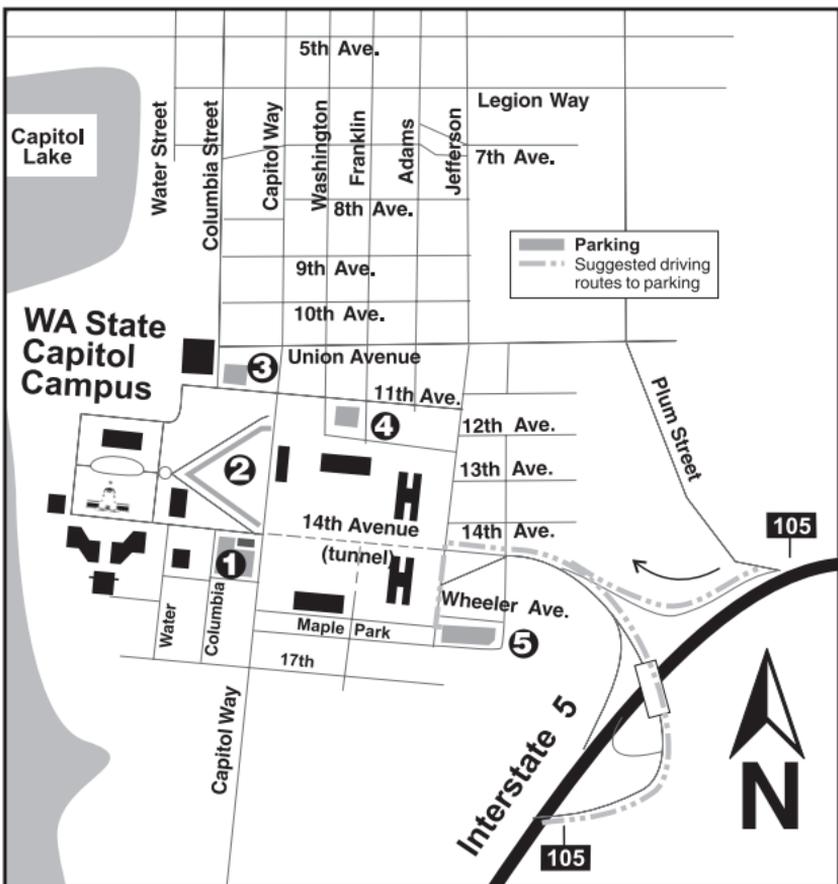

2. The committee studies the bill and often holds public hearings on it. The committee will then meet to consider the information it has gathered. It may approve the bill with or without amendments, draft a new bill on the same subject incorporating the desired changes, or take no action.
3. The committee is now ready to report back to the Senate or the House. If the majority is in favor of the bill as introduced or with certain amendments, the chair recommends the bill for passage. The committee report is read in open session of the Senate or the House, and the bill is then referred to the Rules Committee.
4. After the bill has been recommended for passage by the standing committee to which it was originally referred, the Rules Committee can either place it on the second reading calendar for debate before the entire body, or take no action.
5. When the bill appears on the calendar for second reading, it is subject to amendment. It is then returned to the Rules Committee where it must receive a favorable vote before being placed on the third reading calendar for final passage. This referral to Rules is often bypassed by vote of the Senate or the House and the bill placed on final passage immediately following its second reading. Depending upon the degree of controversy, debate may last a few minutes to several hours or even several days.
6. After passing in the Senate or the House, the bill will go through an almost identical procedure in the other body.

If the bill is passed by the other body, but is amended, the originating body must concur in the amendments. If the change in the bill is not accepted, it may be returned for reconsideration of the amendments. If the amendments are not rescinded, a conference committee may be requested on the differences.
7. If the conference committee cannot agree, a conference committee may be appointed with power to rewrite the amendment or even write an entirely new bill. When the conferees reach agreement, they report to their respective houses. Their report is either accepted or rejected without any changes.
8. If the report is accepted by both houses, the bill is signed by the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House in open sessions of each body, and then is sent for the Governor's signature.
9. Within five days, if the Legislature is still in session, or 20 days after its adjournment, the Governor may sign the bill or veto all or any section of it. The Legislature can override the veto by a two-thirds vote of both houses. If the Governor fails to act on the bill, it becomes law without a signature.

State Capitol Parking Information

Persons with Disabilities

Those needing auxiliary aids or services for purposes of attending hearings or participating in other legislative activities should call the House at (360) 786-7101 or the Senate at (360) 786-7400 for further information. TTY 1-800-635-9993.

Tour and School Buses

Buses may unload and reload passengers on the Capitol Campus at the Winged Victory statue (at the junction of the North and South Diagonals). Buses should then park in the bus parking area at the Capitol Visitor Lot.

Visitors Tour Information

The State Capitol Tour Program provides educational tours to school groups, constituent visitors and guests, community organizations and the visiting public. The Tour Office will coordinate with legislator's office arrangements for visiting constituents. When school groups are scheduled to tour the capitol during session, the legislator's office will reserve a time for the legislator to speak to the group from their district.

Requests from constituents often come directly to the Tour Office which then informs the legislators from the district. Many times the request comes first to the legislator who will then call the office with the name of the group and a contact phone number.

Guided public tours of the Washington State Legislative Building are offered seven days a week between the hours of 10:00 a.m. and 3:00 p.m. Tours are free and begin every hour on the hour and last 60 minutes. Groups can meet their tour guide at the foot of the rotunda steps on the north side of the building, just inside the main entrance. The Legislative Building is closed on Thanksgiving, Christmas, and New Year's Day.

The Washington State Capitol Tour office accepts reservations for group tours year round. Please call (360) 902-8880 between the hours of 8:00 a.m. - 5:00 p.m. Monday thru Friday to make your reservations.

Visitors are welcome to take a self-guided tour of the Legislative Building and the campus grounds. Brochures are available at the information desk located in the north foyer entrance of the Legislative Building and at the Visitor Information Center.

Free public tours of the Executive Mansion are available most Wednesdays. Reservations are required. Morning and afternoon tours are offered, however dates and times may vary. Maximum group size is limited to 25 and each tour last one hour. Please call the State Capitol Tour office at (360) 902-8880 for information and to make your reservation.
