I again direct that the plans and procedures of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan be implemented throughout state government. FURTHERMORE, based on the above noted situation and under the provisions of RCW 43.06.220(1)(g), I also find that strict

State agencies and departments are directed to continue utilizing state resources and doing everything reasonably possible to support implementation of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan and to assist affected political subdivisions in an effort to respond to and recover from the COVID-19 pandemic.

I continue to order into active state service the organized militia of Washington State to include the National Guard and the State Guard, or such part thereof as may be necessary in the opinion of The Adjutant General to address the circumstances described above, to perform such duties as directed by competent authority of the Washington State Military Department in addressing the outbreak. Additionally, I continue to direct the Washington State Department of Health, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, and other agencies to identify and provide appropriate personnel for conducting necessary and ongoing incident related assessments.

ACCORDINGLY, in recognition of the above findings, and to help preserve and maintain life, health, property or the public peace under RCW 43.06.220(1)(h), I prohibit all energy, telecommunications, and water providers in Washington State from conducting the following activities:

- (1) Disconnecting any residential customers from energy, telecommunications, or water service due to nonpayment on an active account, except at the request of the customer.
- (2) Refusing to reconnect any residential customer who has been disconnected due to nonpayment;
- (3) Charging fees for late payment or reconnection of energy, telecommunications, or water service; and
- (4) Disconnecting service to any residential customer who has contacted the utility to request assistance from the utility's COVID-19 Customer Support Program.

These prohibitions on disconnecting, refusing to reconnect, and charging late fees in this proclamation, as amended, are extended until termination of the COVID-19 State of Emergency or 11:59 p.m. on April 30, 2021, whichever comes first.

FURTHERMORE, it is the intent of this order to ensure that vulnerable populations and households retain access to essential services while they are experiencing financial hardship caused by layoffs, reduced hours, or other circumstances caused by the COVID-19 pandemic. Access to these services is critical to ensure the safety and health of our communities during this crisis. This order therefore acknowledges the role that the public and private utilities subject to this order play in protecting the health and well-being of our communities and families; and expresses gratitude for their voluntary efforts to support customers during this crisis.

ADDITIONALLY, I want to thank the vast majority of utility customers who have continued to pay what they can, as soon as they can, to help support the people and the systems that are supporting them through this crisis. The intent of Proclamation 20-23, et seq., is to provide relief to those individuals who have been impacted by the COVID-19 crisis. This Proclamation does not relieve customer from the obligation to pay for utility services. Customers and utilities are expected to continue to communicate in good faith with one another, and to work together, on the timing and terms of payment and repayment solutions. I strongly encourage utilities and customers to be as proactive as possible in this regard, in order to help avoid large arrearage balances and credit and collections issues.

MOREOVER, as additional federal funding may become available for utility bill assistance, I hereby direct the Office of Financial Management to allocate appropriate funding for this purpose.

Violators of this order may be subject to criminal penalties pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(5).

AMENDING AND EXTENDING PROCLAMATIONS 20-05 and 20-28, et seq.

20-28.14

Open Public Meetings Act and Public Records Act Proclamations

WHEREAS, on February 29, 2020, I issued Proclamation 20-05, proclaiming a State of Emergency for all counties throughout the state of Washington as a result of the coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) outbreak in the United States and confirmed person-to-person spread of COVID-19 in Washington State; and

WHEREAS, as a result of the continued worldwide spread of COVID-19, its significant progression in Washington State, and the high risk it poses to our most vulnerable populations, I have subsequently issued several amendatory proclamations, exercising my emergency powers under RCW 43.06.220 by prohibiting certain activities and waiving and suspending specified laws and regulations; and

WHEREAS, I issued Proclamations 20-25, et seq., first entitled Stay Home – Stay Healthy, which initially prohibited all people in Washington State from leaving their homes except under certain circumstances, and which I later amended to Safe Start – Stay Healthy” County-By- County Phased Reopening, gradually relaxing those limitations based on county-by-county phasing; and, on November 16, 2020 I again amended 20-25, et seq., to Stay Safe– Stay Healthy - Rollback of County-By-County Phased Reopening Responding to a COVID-19 Outbreak Surge, in response to a large surge of new cases of COVID-19, increased hospitalizations and ongoing COVID-19 related deaths in Washington State; and

WHEREAS, to enable public meetings to occur while maintaining the social distancing and limitations on in-person interactions necessary to curtail the spread of COVID-19, on March 24, 2020, I issued Proclamation 20-28, prohibiting in-person meetings and waiving and suspending laws and rules concerning RCW 42.56, the Public Records Act, and RCW 42.30, the Open Public Meetings Act that hindered conducting public meetings remotely; and

WHEREAS, under the provisions of RCW 43.06.220(4), the statutory waivers and suspensions of Proclamation 20-28, et seq., have been periodically extended by the leadership of the Washington State Senate and House of Representatives, and which I have acknowledged and similarly extended the prohibitions therein in subsequent sequentially numbered proclamations, which proclamations also contained modifications and guidance regarding the waivers, suspensions, and prohibitions; and

WHEREAS, on December 7, 2020, under the provisions of RCW 43.06.220(4), the statutory waivers and suspensions in Proclamation 20-28, et seq., were again extended by the leadership of the Washington State Senate and House of Representatives until the termination of the COVID- 19 State of Emergency or 11:59 p.m. on January 19, 2021, whichever occurs first; and

WHEREAS, to provide greater opportunity for the public to engage its governing bodies when public health circumstances safely allow, while continuing to maintain critical social distancing and other requirements to prevent further spread of the virus, it is necessary that I amend the prohibition on open public meetings to exempt from this prohibition all meetings as allowed in guidelines for “business meetings”, found in the “Miscellaneous Venues” guidance, and as incorporated into the Proclamation 20-25 et seq., Stay Safe – Stay Healthy - Rollback of County- By-County Phased Reopening Responding to a COVID-19 Outbreak Surge; and

WHEREAS, to fully extend Proclamations 20-28, et seq., it is also necessary for me to extend the prohibitions provided therein; and

WHEREAS, to assist in the implementation of Proclamation 20-28, et seq., it is appropriate to restate in one document the prohibitions and the statutory waivers and suspensions currently in effect; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, through the State Emergency Operations Center, continues coordinating resources across state government to address the impacts and long-term effects of the emergencies on Washington State and its people.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Jay Inslee, Governor of the state of Washington, as a result of the above-noted situations, and under RCW 38.08, 38.52, and 43.06, do hereby proclaim that a State of Emergency continues to exist in all counties of Washington State, that Proclamation 20-05 and all amendments remain in effect, and that the prohibitions in Proclamations 20-28, et seq., are amended to (1) recognize the extension of the statutory waivers and suspensions of RCW 42.56 and RCW 42.30 restated herein by the leadership of the Washington State Senate and House of Representatives until the termination of the COVID19 State of Emergency or 11:59 p.m. on January 19, 2021, whichever occurs first, (2) similarly extend the prohibitions herein until the termination of the COVID-19 State of Emergency or 11:59 p.m. on January 19, 2021, whichever occurs first, and (3) amend a prohibition herein as set out below.

I again direct that the plans and procedures of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan be implemented throughout state government. State agencies and departments are directed to continue utilizing state resources and doing everything reasonably possible to support implementation of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan and to assist affected political subdivisions in an effort to respond to and recover from the COVID-19 pandemic and wildfires.

I continue to order into active state service the organized militia of Washington State to include the National Guard and the State Guard, or such part thereof as may be necessary in the opinion of The Adjutant General to address the circumstances described above, to perform such duties as directed by competent authority of the Washington State Military Department in addressing the outbreak. Additionally, I continue to direct the Department of Health, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, and other agencies to identify and provide appropriate personnel for conducting necessary and ongoing incident related assessments.

FURTHERMORE, based on the above situation and under the provisions of RCW 43.06.220(1)(h), I find that RCW 42.30, as applied to all public agencies statewide, involves the conduct of state business, and to help preserve and maintain life, health, property or the public peace, and I hereby amend Proclamation 20-05, and 20-28 et seq., to prohibit public agencies as follows:

Prohibition:

Any public agency subject to RCW 42.30 is prohibited from conducting a public meeting subject to RCW 42.30 unless (a) the meeting is not conducted in-person and instead provides an option(s) for the public to attend the proceedings through, at minimum, telephonic access, and may also include other electronic, internet or other means of remote access, and (b) provides the ability for all persons attending the meeting to hear each other at the same time.

Exemption from Prohibition:

As an exception to the above prohibition, public agencies holding public meetings may, at their option and in addition to hosting the remote meeting elements described above, include an in-person component to a public meeting if all of the following requirements are met:

1. The open public meeting complies with the guidelines for “business meetings”, found in the “Miscellaneous Venues” guidance here, as incorporated into the Proclamation 20-25 et seq., Stay Safe – Stay Healthy - Rollback of County-By-County Phased Reopening Responding to a COVID-19 Outbreak Surge; and
2. Any person wishing to attend in person a public meeting with an in-person component must be able to do so at a physical location meeting the requirements herein, either in a primary meeting location or an overflow physical location that provides the ability for all persons attending the meeting to hear each other at the same time; and
3. If at any time during a public meeting the in-person component cannot comply with each of the requirements herein, the public meeting (to include the telephonic/remote access portions) must be recessed until compliance is restored or if compliance cannot be restored then adjourned, continued, or otherwise terminated; and
4. The public agency holding an in-person public meeting shall accommodate, to the extent practicable, those wishing to participate in and/or attend the public meeting (to include the press) by allowing persons to attend the meeting by listening and speaking through operable telecommunications devices (examples include using an attendee’s cell phone with service to connect to a conference calling service, or allowing persons to call in using an attendee’s cell phone with service); and
5. County and other local election canvassing boards performing operations related to the 2020 general election are exempt from the prohibitions set forth in this Proclamation to allow them to perform their operations openly and transparently, provided that such boards must (a) permit all persons entitled by law to observe such operations access sufficient to conduct such observation, and (b) follow Department of Health and Department of Labor and Industries guidelines related to facial coverings, social distancing, sanitizing, and other protective measures enacted in response to the COVID-19 pandemic.

FURTHERMORE, based on the above noted situation and under the provisions of RCW 43.06.220(2)(g), I continue to find that strict compliance with the following portions of statutory and regulatory obligations or limitations will prevent, hinder, or delay necessary action for coping with the COVID-19 State of Emergency by bringing people in contact with one another at a time when the virus is rapidly spreading, and that the language of each statutory provision specified below is hereby waived and suspended:

- RCW 42.30.030 – the following words only:
“and all persons shall be permitted to attend any meeting of the governing body of a public agency, except as otherwise provided in this chapter”
- RCW 42.30.040 – in its entirety;
- RCW 42.30.050 – as to the following word only: “room” in the first sentence
- RCW 42.30.070 – as to the following word only: the first usage of “site” - in the fourth sentence
- RCW 42.30.075 – as to the following words only:
“Notice of any change from such meeting schedule shall be published in the state register for distribution at least twenty days prior to the rescheduled meeting date.”
- RCW 42.30.080(2)(c) – as to the following words only:

“Prominently displayed at the main entrance of the agency's principal location and the meeting site if it is not held at the agency's principal location.”

- RCW 42.30.090 – as to the following words only:
“on or near the door of the place where the regular, adjourned regular, special, or adjourned special meeting was held.”

FURTHERMORE, based on the above noted situation and under the provisions of RCW 43.06.220(2)(g), I find that RCW 42.56, as applied to all public agencies statewide involves the conduct of state business and I also continue to find that strict compliance with the following statutory and regulatory obligations or limitations will prevent, hinder, or delay necessary action for coping with the COVID-19 State of Emergency in responding to public records requests by bringing people in contact with one another at a time when the virus is rapidly spreading, and that the language of each statutory provision specified below is hereby waived and suspended

- RCW 42.56.080(2), as to the following words only:
 - “Agency facilities shall be made available to any person for the copying of public records except when and to the extent that this would unreasonably disrupt the operations of the agency.”
 - “in person during an agency's normal office hours, or”
- RCW 42.56.090, as to the first sentence only
- RCW 42.56.100, as to the following word only in the first sentence: “full”
- RCW 42.56.520(1), as to the following words only in the second sentence:
 - “Within five business days of receiving a public records request,”
 - This statutory suspension at 42.56.520(1) does not apply to requests for public records received by an agency electronically.

Violators of this order may be subject to criminal penalties pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(5).

Public Records Act – Contact Tracing -- Personal Information

WHEREAS, on February 29, 2020, I issued Proclamation 20-05, proclaiming a State of Emergency for all counties throughout the state of Washington as a result of the coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) outbreak in the United States and confirmed person-to-person spread of COVID-19 in Washington State; and

WHEREAS, as a result of the continued worldwide spread of COVID-19, its significant progression in Washington State, and the high risk it poses to our most vulnerable populations, I have subsequently issued several amendatory proclamations, exercising my emergency powers under RCW 43.06.220 by prohibiting certain activities and waiving and suspending specified laws and regulations; and

WHEREAS, the COVID-19 disease, caused by a virus that spreads easily from person to person which may result in serious illness or death and has been classified by the World Health Organization as a worldwide pandemic, has broadly spread throughout Washington State, significantly increasing the threat of serious associated health risks statewide; and

WHEREAS, an effective response to the COVID-19 epidemic requires public health professionals and others working with them to interview those infected with COVID-19 and trace their close contacts in order to provide guidance to, quarantine, and test those individuals for infection to prevent further spread of the COVID-19 disease, and this must be done by collecting the names and personal information of these individuals; and

WHEREAS, the success of the response to the COVID-19 epidemic depends in large part on the free flow of information and individuals' willingness to share information and cooperate with public health authorities, which would be significantly hindered if this personal information was required to be disclosed to the general public; and

WHEREAS, under RCW 42.56.360(2) and RCW 70.02.050(2)(a), any health care information that health care providers are required to report to the government, including information about individuals with confirmed or suspected COVID-19, is plainly exempt from disclosure; and

WHEREAS, while there are specific express exemptions for other case investigation and contact tracing information, including RCW 70.02.220(7) and RCW 70.24.022(3), which specifically, and broadly, exempt all information gathered in the course of a contact investigation related to sexually transmitted diseases that are reported to public health agencies, there is no express exemption from disclosure for case investigation and contact tracing information generally; and

WHEREAS, while RCW 42.56.230(1) provides reasonable grounds for withholding from disclosure case investigation, contact tracing, and visitor and customer log information as personal information in files maintained for "patients or clients" of "public health agencies," the courts have not interpreted the meaning of the term "client" or ruled on the application of this exemption to case investigation, contact tracing, or visitor, customer log, and employee log information, and the Public Records Act is liberally construed in favor of disclosure, and its exemptions are narrowly construed, to promote open government policies; and

WHEREAS, RCW 42.56.270(1), and, as an "other statute" in RCW 42.56.070(1), chapter 19.108 RCW, the Uniform Trade Secrets Act, provide reasonable grounds for withholding from disclosure visitor and customer log information that is collected by businesses and provided to a public health agency for contact tracing following a new case of infection as proprietary information and research data, the courts have not ruled on the application of these exemptions to visitor and customer log information, and the Public Records Act is liberally construed in favor of disclosure, and its exemptions are narrowly construed, to promote open government policies; and

WHEREAS, although the Public Records Act and related "other statutes" strongly suggest the intent to exempt the personally identifying information of persons contacted by COVID-19 case investigators and contact tracers, and also exempt visitor or customer log information that a business might share with contact tracers, whether this information is exempt remains uncertain in the absence of specific statutory definitions or exemptions; and

WHEREAS, while there are arguments that support the position that COVID-19 case investigation and contact tracing information, and the personally identifiable information that is gathered as a part of that work, is already exempt under the Public Records Act, ensuring the protection of a person's personally identifiable information may determine whether that person will fully cooperate with COVID-19 case investigators and contact tracers; and

were extended by the leadership of the Washington State Senate and House of Representatives, and which I have acknowledged and similarly extended the prohibitions therein in subsequent sequentially-numbered proclamations; and

WHEREAS, on December 7, 2020, under the provisions of RCW 43.06.220(4), the statutory waivers and suspensions of Proclamation 20-64, et seq., were extended by the leadership of the Washington State Senate and House of Representatives until the termination of the COVID-19 State of Emergency or 11:59 p.m. on January 19, 2021; and

WHEREAS, the worldwide COVID-19 pandemic and its progression in Washington State continue to threaten the life and health of our people as well as the economy of Washington State, and remain a public disaster affecting life, health, property or the public peace; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Department of Health continues to maintain a Public Health Incident Management Team in coordination with the State Emergency Operations Center and other supporting state agencies to manage the public health aspects of the incident; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, through the State Emergency Operations Center, continues coordinating resources across state government to support the Department of Health and local health officials in alleviating the impacts to people, property, and infrastructure, and continues coordinating with the Department of Health in assessing the impacts and long-term effects of the incident on Washington State and its people.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Jay Inslee, Governor of the state of Washington, as a result of the above-noted situation, and under RCW 38.08, 38.52 and 43.06, do hereby proclaim that a State of Emergency continues to exist in all counties of Washington State, that Proclamation 20-05 and all amendments thereto remain in effect as otherwise amended, and that Proclamations 20-05 and 20-64, et seq., are amended to (1) continue to recognize the extension of statutory waivers and suspensions therein by the leadership of the Washington State Senate and House of Representatives until the termination of the COVID-19 State of Emergency or 11:59 p.m. on January 19, 2021, whichever occurs first, and (2) similarly extend the prohibitions therein until termination of the COVID-19 State of Emergency or 11:59 p.m. on January 19, 2021, whichever occurs first.

I again direct that the plans and procedures of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan be implemented throughout state government. State agencies and departments are directed to continue utilizing state resources and doing everything reasonably possible to support implementation of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan and to assist affected political subdivisions in an effort to respond to and recover from the COVID-19 pandemic.

I continue to order into active state service the organized militia of Washington State to include the National Guard and the State Guard, or such part thereof as may be necessary in the opinion of The Adjutant General to address the circumstances described above, to perform such duties as directed by competent authority of the Washington State Military Department in addressing the outbreak. WHEREAS, on February 29, 2020, I issued Proclamation 20-05, proclaiming a State of Emergency for all counties throughout the state of Washington as a result of the coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) outbreak in the United States and confirmed person-to-person spread of COVID-19 in Washington State; and

WHEREAS, as a result of the continued worldwide spread of COVID-19, its significant progression in Washington State, and the high risk it poses to our most vulnerable populations, I have subsequently issued several amendatory proclamations, exercising my emergency powers under RCW 43.06.220 by prohibiting certain activities and waiving and suspending specified laws and regulations; and

WHEREAS, the COVID-19 disease, caused by a virus that spreads easily from person to person which may result in serious illness or death and has been classified by the World Health Organization as a worldwide pandemic, has broadly spread throughout Washington State and remains a significant health risk to all of our people, especially members of our most vulnerable populations; and

WHEREAS, the worldwide COVID-19 pandemic and its progression in Washington State continue to threaten the life and health of our people as well as the economy of Washington State, and remain a public disaster affecting life, health, property or the public peace; and

WHEREAS, there is an increased risk of rapid spread of COVID-19 among persons who live and work in congregate settings, and many residents and workers at long-term care facilities are at increased risk for severe COVID-19; and

WHEREAS, to mitigate the increased risk of rapid spread of COVID-19 among residents and workers, congregate living facilities have increased physical distancing protocols, heightened screening upon entrance and exit, instituted more intensive cleaning protocols, and taken a variety of other measures; and

WHEREAS, the measures taken in congregate settings to respond to the COVID-19 pandemic have resulted in unprecedented demands on the resources and caregivers necessary to provide essential services in Washington State's congregate living facilities; and

WHEREAS, as an added challenge to meeting the resource and workforce needs of our congregate living facilities, the outbreak of COVID-19 has significantly reduced the availability of long-term care workers in the state in recent weeks; and

WHEREAS, long-term care workers are required to complete specific training, testing and certification requirements by dates certain, yet necessary class offerings, testing opportunities, and certification processing have been disrupted and cancelled because of the COVID-19 pandemic, exacerbating the long-term care worker shortage throughout Washington State; and

WHEREAS, due to physical distancing and group size requirements, training class sizes held during early phases of reopening must be smaller, and it will take significant time for workers to receive training and testing to fully meet licensing and certification requirements and resume their positions with long-term care facilities or as individual providers to clients in the community; and

WHEREAS, if the existing waivers for fingerprint background check requirements for Adult Family Homes, Assisted Living Facilities, Enhanced Services Facilities, and in-home providers are not extended, staff who have been or are unable to obtain fingerprint background checks as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic cannot provide services while they wait for fingerprint test sites to become fully operational and address the backlog of customers; and

WHEREAS, long-term care facilities are required to meet specific construction reviews, at times, certificate of need requirements, and inspections by dates certain or at specified intervals, yet necessary personnel and resources to process those requirements are unavailable or cannot be utilized due to restrictions implemented in response to the COVID-19 pandemic; and

WHEREAS, restrictions and staff shortages related to the COVID-19 pandemic, to include possible quarantine of residential long-term care facilities such as nursing homes, may hinder safe reviews, certificate issuance, and inspection and survey activities; and

WHEREAS, to maintain availability of facilities, staffing, and resources in our congregate living system at levels necessary to safely provide essential services during the current COVID-19 pandemic, agencies and other entities operating congregate living facilities have utilized a variety of interim licenses, waiver of certain certification, inspection, administrative requirements, and other programs that are temporary in nature; and

WHEREAS, to prevent expiration of these temporary programs and the resulting loss of necessary facilities, staffing, and resources, I previously issued Proclamations 20-06, 20-10, 20-16, 20-17, 20-18, 20-37, et. seq., 20-38, et seq., and 20-52, et seq., waiving and suspending specified statutes and rules relating to facilities, staffing, and resources at congregate living and care facilities and other related subjects; and

WHEREAS, because the waivers, suspensions and prohibitions contained in Proclamations 20-10, 20-18, 20-37, et seq., 20-38, et seq., and 20-52, et seq., address a variety of topics some of which are also addressed by other proclamations, orders and guidance documents, I issued Proclamations 20-65, 20-66, and 20-74 dividing some of the waivers, suspensions and prohibitions into their topical areas and cross-reference applicable orders and guidance documents, to assist in the understanding, administration and implementation of those waivers, suspensions and prohibitions; and

WHEREAS, under the provisions of RCW 43.06.220(4), the statutory waivers and suspensions contained in Proclamations 20-10, 20-18, 20-37 et seq., 20-38 et seq., and 20-52 et seq., had been periodically extended with certain modifications, by the leadership of the Washington State Senate and House of Representatives until the termination of the COVID-19 State of Emergency, and which I acknowledged and similarly extended the prohibitions and the waiver and suspension of rules therein with certain modifications in subsequent proclamations; and

WHEREAS, under the provisions of RCW 43.06.220(4), the statutory waivers and suspensions in Proclamation 20-65, et seq., including all of the prior proclamations' statutory waivers and suspensions contained therein, except numbered paragraph 30 (at my request), were extended by the leadership of the Washington State Senate and House of Representatives, and which I acknowledged and similarly extended the prohibitions and the waiver and suspension of rules therein in subsequent proclamations; and

WHEREAS, to fully extend Proclamation 20-65, et seq., it is also necessary for me to extend the prohibitions and the waiver and suspension of rules provided therein; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Department of Health continues to maintain a Public Health Incident Management Team in coordination with the State Emergency Operations Center and other supporting state agencies to manage the public health aspects of the incident; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, through the State Emergency Operations Center, continues coordinating resources across state government to support the Department of Health and local health officials in alleviating the impacts to people, property, and infrastructure, and continues coordinating with the Department of Health in assessing the impacts and long-term effects of the incident on Washington State and its people; and

ROLLBACK OF COUNTY-BY-COUNTY PHASED REOPENING RESPONDING TO A COVID-19 OUTBREAK SURGE

WHEREAS, on February 29, 2020, I issued Proclamation 20-05, proclaiming a State of Emergency for all counties throughout the state of Washington as a result of the coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) outbreak in the United States and confirmed person-to-person spread of COVID-19 in Washington State; and

WHEREAS, as a result of the continued worldwide spread of COVID-19, its significant progression in Washington State, and the high risk it poses to our most vulnerable populations, I have subsequently issued several amendatory proclamations, exercising my emergency powers under RCW 43.06.220 by prohibiting certain activities and waiving and suspending specified laws and regulations; and

WHEREAS, I issued Proclamations 20-25, et seq., first entitled “Stay Home – Stay Healthy,” and later changed to “Safe Start – Stay Healthy” County-By-County Phased Reopening found here, in which I initially prohibited all people in Washington State from leaving their homes except under certain circumstances and then gradually relaxed those limitations based on county-by-county phasing established according to metrics provided by the Secretary of Health; and

WHEREAS, on July 2, 2020, due to the increased COVID-19 infection rates across the state, I ordered a freeze on all counties moving forward to a subsequent phase, and that freeze remains in place today; and

WHEREAS, on July 24, 2020, the Secretary of Health issued Order of the Secretary of Health 20-03.1, found here, which, among other things, requires (with exceptions) the use of face coverings throughout the state; and

WHEREAS, despite this guidance, positive COVID-19-related cases and hospitalizations have been on a steady rise since early September; and, most alarmingly, since the latter part of October through the first two weeks of December, 2020, the number of COVID-19 cases continue to dramatically increase in Washington, and COVID-19-related hospitalizations have risen sharply, putting our people, our health system, and our economy in as dangerous a position as we faced in March 2020, and have not significantly improved since; and

WHEREAS, there is evidence that the virus is spread through very small droplets called aerosols that are expelled from our mouths when we breathe, talk, sing, vocalize, cough, or sneeze, that these aerosols linger in air, and that a significant risk factor for spreading the virus is prolonged, close contact with an infected person indoors, especially in poorly ventilated spaces; and

WHEREAS, we know that several factors increase the risk for person-to-person COVID-19 transmission; such factors include (1) the more that people and groups interact, (2) the longer those interactions last, (3) the closer the contact between individuals, and (4) the denser the occupancy for indoor facilities; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Department of Health and the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention have provided health and safety guidance to reduce the risk of transmission of COVID-19 generally and in specific sectors, environments, and settings, yet many individuals continue to disregard this guidance, and person-to-person interactions, including gatherings, have led to many infections and are a primary factor in the dangerous increase in COVID-19 cases and hospitalizations currently being experienced in Washington; and

WHEREAS, to reduce the severe increases in COVID-19 cases and hospitalizations we are currently facing, and to reduce the increase in deaths from COVID-19 that likely will follow, it is necessary to immediately modify prior prohibitions and guidance, and to issue further guidance as it is developed; and

WHEREAS, COVID-19, caused by a virus that spreads easily from person to person which may result in serious illness or death and has been classified by the World Health Organization as a worldwide pandemic, has broadly spread throughout Washington State and remains a significant health risk to all of our people, especially among our most vulnerable populations; and

WHEREAS, the worldwide COVID-19 pandemic and its progression in Washington State continue to threaten the life and health of our people as well as the economy of Washington State, and remain a public disaster affecting life, health, property or the public peace; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Department of Health continues to maintain a Public Health Incident Management Team in coordination with the State Emergency Operations Center and other supporting state agencies to manage the public health aspects of the incident; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, through the State Emergency Operations Center, continues coordinating resources across state government to support the Department of Health and local health officials in alleviating the impacts to people, property, and infrastructure, and continues coordinating with the Department of Health in assessing the impacts and long-term effects of the incident on Washington State and its people; and

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Jay Inslee, Governor of the state of Washington, as a result of the above noted situation, and under Chapters 38.08, 38.52 and 43.06 RCW, do hereby proclaim and order that a State of Emergency continues to exist in all counties of Washington State, that Proclamation 20-05 and all amendments thereto remain in effect, and that, to help preserve and maintain life, health, property or the public peace pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(1)(h), Proclamations 20-25, et seq., renamed “Stay Safe – Stay Healthy” are amended to extend all of the prohibitions described herein until this order is amended or rescinded. Except as otherwise provided in this order, the Safe Start Washington Phased Reopening County-by-County Plan found here, the Order of the Secretary of Health 20-03.1, issued on July 24, 2020, found here, and all other provisions of Proclamations 20-25, et seq., shall remain in full force and effect.

FURTHERMORE, pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(3), the prohibitions set forth in Proclamations 20-25, et seq., continue to be modified, with amendments, as set forth below. Unless otherwise specifically noted, the modifications herein take effect immediately. All modifications to existing phased prohibitions set forth herein shall expire at 11:59 p.m., Monday, January 4, 2021, unless otherwise extended.

If an activity is not listed below, currently existing guidance shall continue to apply. If current guidance is more restrictive than the below listed restrictions, the most restrictive guidance shall apply. These below modifications do not apply to education (including but not limited to K-12, higher education, trade and vocational schools), childcare, recovery support groups, health care, and courts and judicial branch-related proceedings, all of which are exempt from the modifications and shall continue to follow current guidance. Terms used in this proclamation have the same definitions used in the Safe Start Washington Phased Reopening County-by-County Plan.

Modifications to existing phased prohibitions:

1. Indoor Social Gatherings with people from outside your household are prohibited unless they (a) quarantine for fourteen days (14) prior to the social gathering; or (b) quarantine for seven (7) days prior to the social gathering and receive a negative COVID-19 test result no more than 48-hours prior to the gathering. A household is defined as individuals residing in the same domicile.

FURTHERMORE, in collaboration with the Washington State Department of Health, in furtherance of the physical, mental, and economic well-being of all Washingtonians, I will continue to analyze the data and epidemiological modeling and adjust guidance accordingly.

ADDITIONALLY, as a reminder, a travel advisory for all non-essential travel, issued on November 13, 2020, remains in effect. That advisory provides the following guidance:

These persons should limit their interactions to their immediate household; and (2) Washingtonians are encouraged to stay home or in their region and avoid non-essential travel to other states or countries.

ADDITIONALLY, in furtherance of these prohibitions and for general awareness:

All mandatory guidelines for businesses and activities, which remain in effect except as modified by this Proclamation and the Order of the Secretary of Health 20-03.1, may be found at the Governor's Office website, COVID-19 Resources and Information, and at COVID-19 Reopening Guidance for Businesses and Workers.

I again direct that the plans and procedures of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan be implemented throughout state government. I continue to order into active state service the organized militia of Washington State to include the National Guard and the State Guard, or such part thereof as may be necessary in the opinion of The Adjutant General to address the circumstances described above, to perform such duties as directed by competent authority of the Washington State Military Department in addressing the outbreak. Additionally, I continue to direct the Department of Health, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, and other agencies to identify and provide appropriate personnel for conducting necessary and ongoing incident related assessments.

Violators of this order may be subject to criminal penalties pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(5). Further, if people fail to comply with the required social distancing and other protective measures while engaging in this phased reopening, I may be forced to reinstate the prohibitions established in earlier proclamations.

Safeguarding Public Trust and Stability in Local Health Jurisdictions

WHEREAS, on February 29, 2020, I issued Proclamation 20-05, proclaiming a State of Emergency for all counties throughout the state of Washington as a result of the coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) outbreak in the United States and confirmed person-to-person spread of COVID-19 in Washington State; and

WHEREAS, as a result of the continued worldwide spread of COVID-19, its significant progression in Washington State, and the high risk it poses to our most vulnerable populations, I have subsequently issued several amendatory proclamations, exercising my emergency powers under RCW 43.06.220 by prohibiting certain activities and waiving and suspending specified laws and regulations; and

WHEREAS, the COVID-19 disease, caused by a virus that spreads easily from person to person which may result in serious illness or death and has been classified by the World Health Organization as a worldwide pandemic, continues to broadly spread throughout Washington State, significantly increasing the threat of serious associated health risks statewide; and

WHEREAS, I issued Proclamations 20-25, et seq., first entitled “Stay Home – Stay Healthy,” in which I initially prohibited all people in Washington State from leaving their homes except under certain circumstances, which I later amended to “Safe Start – Stay Healthy” County-By-County Phased Reopening, gradually relaxing those limitations based on county-by-county phasing, and on November 16, 2020 again amended 20-25, et seq., to “Stay Safe – Stay Healthy - Rollback of County-By-County Phased Reopening Responding to a COVID-19 Outbreak Surge”, in response to a large surge of new cases of COVID-19, increased hospitalizations and ongoing COVID-19 related deaths in Washington State; and

WHEREAS, despite this guidance, positive COVID-19-related cases and hospitalizations have been on a steady rise since early September; and, most alarmingly, since the latter part of October through the first two weeks of December, 2020, COVID-19 cases have significantly increased in Washington, and COVID-19-related hospitalizations have risen sharply, putting our people, our health system, and our economy in as dangerous a position as we faced in March 2020; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Department of Health and the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention have provided health and safety guidance to reduce the risk of transmission of COVID-19 generally and in specific sectors, environments, and settings, yet many individuals continue to disregard this guidance, and person-to-person interactions, including gatherings, have led to many infections and are a primary factor in the dangerous increase in COVID-19 cases and hospitalizations currently being experienced in Washington; and

WHEREAS, public health is essential for all Washingtonians, and local health jurisdictions, including county health departments, combined city-county health departments, and health districts, have unique insight into and primary responsibility for addressing the public health concerns and needs of the local communities within their jurisdictions; and

WHEREAS, local health jurisdictions work hard to gain the trust of those they serve, a trust that is vital to the ability of local health jurisdictions to effectively protect and promote public health, and many people look to their local health jurisdictions for a broad range of public health-related guidance, including localized pandemic guidance, and other services and resources, including testing, contact tracing and case investigations, outbreak control, personal protective equipment distribution, and consultation on the implementation of infection control measures; and

WHEREAS, local health jurisdictions have a critical role at all times, but their role is never more important than during a deadly public health crisis and pandemic; in that role, it is imperative to maintain public confidence in local health jurisdictions and maintain, to the greatest extent possible, uninterrupted access to local health jurisdictions and their services, as well as to ensure consistency in, and access to, health guidance; and

WHEREAS, notice and public discourse around the substantial restructuring or termination of a city-county health department or health district is demoralizing and distracting to the critical essential staff of the department or district at a time when staff are already overwhelmed, overworked, and their mental and physical health are at risk due to the pandemic; and

WHEREAS, the statewide health system is now receiving and administering vaccinations, the effective and focused coordination of which by the state and local public health jurisdictions is vital to ending the pandemic and saving lives, and which must not be disrupted by actions taken to fundamentally alter the administration and structure of these vital public health organizations, which will also confuse and undermine public trust in the public health system; and

WHEREAS, the continuity and stability of operations and services provided by local health jurisdictions are critical to the local and state-wide effort to combat this deadly public health crisis and pandemic; and

WHEREAS, the worldwide COVID-19 pandemic and its progression in Washington State continue to threaten the life and health of our people as well as the economy of Washington State, and remain a public disaster affecting life, health, property or the public peace; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Department of Health continues to maintain a Public Health Incident Management Team in coordination with the State Emergency Operations Center and other supporting state agencies to manage the public health aspects of the incident; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, through the State Emergency Operations Center, continues coordinating resources across state government to support the Department of Health and local health officials in alleviating the impacts to people, property, and infrastructure, and continues coordinating with the Department of Health in assessing the impacts and long-term effects of the incident on Washington State and its people; and

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Jay Inslee, Governor of the state of Washington, as a result of the above-noted situation, and under Chapters 38.08, 38.52 and 43.06 RCW, do hereby proclaim that a State of Emergency continues to exist in all counties of Washington State, that Proclamation 20-05, as amended, remains in effect, and that, pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(1)(h), I hereby prohibit any party to an agreement to operate a combined city and county health department made under chapter 70.08 RCW or any member of a health district created under chapter 70.46 RCW from taking any action, whether under RCW 70.08.100, RCW 70.46.090, or any other law, pursuant to any other agreement, or on any other grounds, to terminate or commence or advance the legal process for termination of any agreement to operate a combined city and county health department or to withdraw or commence or advance the legal process for withdrawal from membership in any health district, except when:

1. Both parties to the agreement to operate a combined city and county health department or all members of the health district mutually agree to the termination or withdrawal; or
2. A party seeking to terminate the agreement or withdraw from the health district or the combined city-county health department requests and receives approval from the Washington State Secretary of Health. To approve the request, the Secretary of Health must determine, in the Secretary's sole discretion, that termination or withdrawal would not adversely affect the COVID-19 pandemic response. The Secretary must provide a final determination to the requester within 14 days of receiving the request.

This prohibition goes into effect immediately and shall remain in effect until the end of the emergency or until otherwise amended or rescinded.

I again direct that the plans and procedures of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan be implemented throughout state government. State agencies and departments are directed to continue utilizing state resources and doing everything reasonably possible to support implementation of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan and to assist affected political subdivisions in an effort to respond to and recover from the COVID-19 pandemic.

I continue to order into active state service the organized militia of Washington State to include the National Guard and the State Guard, or such part thereof as may be necessary in the opinion of The Adjutant General to address the circumstances described above, to perform such duties as directed by competent authority of the Washington State Military Department in addressing the outbreak. Additionally, I continue to direct the Department of Health, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, and other agencies to identify and provide appropriate personnel for conducting necessary and ongoing incident related assessments.

Violators of this order may be subject to criminal penalties pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(5).

20-09.3
Phased Reopening of K-12 Schools

WHEREAS, on February 29, 2020, I issued Proclamation 20-05, proclaiming a State of Emergency for all counties throughout Washington State as a result of the coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) outbreak in the United States and confirmed person-to-person spread of COVID-19 in Washington State; and

WHEREAS, as a result of the continued worldwide spread of COVID-19, its significant progression in Washington State, and the high risk it poses to our most vulnerable populations, I have subsequently issued several amendatory proclamations, exercising my emergency powers under RCW 43.06.220 by prohibiting certain activities and waiving and suspending specified laws and regulations, including issuance of Proclamations 20-25, et seq., which limit Washingtonians' ability to participate in certain activities; and

WHEREAS, the COVID-19 disease, caused by a virus that spreads easily from person to person which may result in serious illness or death and has been classified by the World Health Organization as a worldwide pandemic, has broadly spread throughout Washington State and remains a significant health risk to all of our people, especially members of our most vulnerable populations; and

WHEREAS, during early stages of the COVID-19 pandemic, health professionals and epidemiological modeling experts indicated that the spread of COVID-19, if left unchecked, threatened to overwhelm portions of Washington's public and private health-care system; and

WHEREAS, health professionals and epidemiological modeling experts indicated that continued operation of schools could increase the spread of COVID-19 throughout Washington and would increase the threat to our residents and our health system; and

WHEREAS, to counter the threat of COVID-19 spread posed by continued operation of schools, in Proclamations 20-08, and 20-09, et seq., I prohibited public school districts, charter schools, and private schools from conducting in-person educational, recreational, and other K-12 school programs using school facilities, and also prohibited the Washington Center for Deaf and Hard of Hearing Youth, the Washington School for the Deaf, and the Washington State School for the Blind from conducting student educational and outreach services; and

WHEREAS, schools are the foundation of Washington's communities, and in addition to traditional classroom education, schools provide a variety of vital services to students, families and communities that play a vital role in students' ability to succeed, including academic supports, special education supports, health therapies, mental/behavioral supports, access to nutritious food, and other community services; and

WHEREAS, closing our schools has been stressful for all Washingtonians, and has been particularly difficult for children with heightened social, physical, developmental, or emotional needs, and those who rely on our schools to provide services, structure, and positive social interactions; and

WHEREAS, beyond COVID-19 infections, the pandemic has brought other health concerns. Recent data from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) show the proportion of emergency department visits related to mental health crisis has increased for young children and adolescents since the pandemic started, reaching levels in late-March through October 2020 substantially higher than during the same period in 2019; and

WHEREAS, in-person learning has a broad range of benefits for children beyond educational instruction, including the development of social and emotional skills, and the absence of in-person learning may be particularly harmful for children living in poverty, children of color, English language learners, children with diagnosed disabilities, and young children, and can further widen inequities in our society; and

WHEREAS, the CDC recently recommended that K-12 schools should be the last settings to close after all other mitigation measures have been employed, and the first to reopen when they can do so safely; and

WHEREAS, although parents, students, school teachers, and administrators have made tremendous efforts to continue to function through distance learning, and I recognize their extraordinary resilience, strength, adaptability, and courage, all agree that re-opening our schools and restarting face-to-face learning as soon as can be safely accomplished will benefit our children, families and communities; and

WHEREAS, although Department of Health statistics indicate that the continuing rise in cases of COVID-19 and associated deaths in Washington State demonstrate the ongoing, present threat of this lethal disease, health professionals and epidemiological modeling experts believe that we have made adequate progress against COVID-19 as a state to modify current statewide closure of K-12 school facilities; and

WHEREAS, the nature of COVID-19 viral transmission, including both asymptomatic and symptomatic spread as well as the relatively high infectious nature, suggests it is appropriate to re-open schools only through a careful, phased, flexible, and science-based approach; and

WHEREAS, the science suggests that by ensuring safe social distancing and hygiene practices, and modifying procedures and facilities, additional school functions can be conducted with limited risk of exposure and spread of COVID-19; and

WHEREAS, state, national and international research conducted on schools that are providing in- person learning has shown that, for the most part, schools are not centers of transmission for COVID- 19 infections, and detected transmission within schools tends to occur only on a limited basis if schools implement rigorous health and safety protocols; and

WHEREAS, school administrators and staff who work together to ensure health and safety protocols are rigorously implemented have demonstrated success in keeping schools open for full or partial in- person learning; and

WHEREAS, schools will continue to be prepared to be flexible to pivot in whole or in part to distance learning if there is a COVID-19 outbreak in their county or within their school community and to follow guidance from the Department of Health, the Department of Labor & Industries (L&I), and the Superintendent of Public Instruction to help mitigate risk to students, teachers, and the community; and

WHEREAS, the worldwide COVID-19 pandemic and its progression in Washington State continue to threaten the life and health of our people as well as the economy of Washington State, and remain a public disaster affecting life, health, property or the public peace; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Department of Health continues to maintain a Public Health Incident Management Team in coordination with the State Emergency Operations Center and other supporting state agencies to manage the public health aspects of the incident; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, through the State Emergency Operations Center, continues coordinating resources across state government to support the Department of Health and local health officials in alleviating the impacts to people, property, and infrastructure, and continues coordinating with the Department of Health in assessing the impacts and long-term effects of the incident on Washington State and its people; and

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Jay Inslee, Governor of the state of Washington, as a result of the above- noted situation, and under Chapters 38.08, 38.52 and 43.06 RCW, do hereby proclaim and order that a State of Emergency continues to exist in all counties of Washington State, that Proclamation 20-05 and all amendments thereto remain in effect as otherwise amended, and that, to help preserve and maintain life, health, property or the public peace pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(1)(h), Proclamations 20-08, and 20-09, et seq., are amended to extend all of the prohibitions and each expiration date therein until the state of emergency, issued on February 29, 2020, pursuant to Proclamation 20-05, is rescinded, except as further amended pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(3) to exempt from the prohibitions and allow re-opening as provided in this order and subject to the requirements in the K-12 Schools 2020-2021 Guidance document found here, and the School Employer Health and Safety Requirements found here.

ADDITIONALLY, all school districts are prohibited from conducting in-person instruction unless they ensure that each of the following standards is met:

- As required by L&I's Division of Occupational Safety and Health rules mandating site specific accident prevention programs and safety committees, each school district develops and implements an Accident Prevention Program (APP) as described in WAC 296-800-140 and WAC 296-800-130, including a COVID-19 prevention plan.

- Each employer or district, working with its school safety committee, ensures that the employer’s or districts school-specific COVID-19 prevention plan is effectively implemented at all times and the school safety committee makeup and conduct complies with applicable rules. At a minimum, each school COVID-19 prevention plan shall contain the following provisions:
 - The designated name(s) of the COVID-19 prevention plan supervisor(s);
 - Applicable procedures for, or reference to resources containing, employee mask requirements and respiratory protection programs specific to the school;
 - A requirement that the COVID-19 supervisor(s) ensure that all employees have been trained in COVID-19 prevention using the language they best understand;
 - A requirement that the COVID-19 supervisor(s) ensure adequate supplies (at least meeting minimum requirements) of required masks, respirators, and all other personal protective equipment are readily available at the school; and
 - Written procedures to implement the publication, Employer Health & Safety Requirements for School Scenarios.

ADDITIONALLY, I recommend use of the Washington State Department of Health’s guidance to school districts and local health jurisdictions entitled, “Tools to Prepare for Provision of In Person Learning among K-12 Students at Public and Private Schools during the COVID-19 Pandemic.” This document provides recommendations for modes of learning based on county-level COVID-19 health metric trends to support local school districts and public health officers as they work together to balance education and health care needs of their communities.

ADDITIONALLY, until there is broader distribution of an effective vaccine, effective treatment, or herd immunity, it is crucial, and therefore ordered, that schools implement and require all personal protective behaviors set forth in the K-12 Schools 2020-2021 Guidance documents.

I again direct that the plans and procedures of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan be implemented throughout state government. State agencies and departments are directed to continue utilizing state resources and doing everything reasonably possible to support implementation of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan and to assist affected political subdivisions in an effort to respond to and recover from the COVID-19 pandemic.

I continue to order into active state service the organized militia of Washington State to include the National Guard and the State Guard, or such part thereof as may be necessary in the opinion of The Adjutant General to address the circumstances described above, to perform such duties as directed by competent authority of the Washington State Military Department in addressing the outbreak. Additionally, I continue to direct the Department of Health, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, and other agencies to identify and provide appropriate personnel for conducting necessary and ongoing incident related assessments.

Violators of this order may be subject to criminal penalties pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(5).

This order goes into effect immediately and will remain in effect until the state of emergency, issued on February 29, 2020, pursuant to Proclamation 20-05, is rescinded, or until this order is amended or rescinded, whichever occurs first.

Employment Security Department– Lump Sum Retirement Benefits

WHEREAS, on February 29, 2020, I issued Proclamation 20-05, proclaiming a State of Emergency for all counties throughout Washington State as a result of the coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) outbreak in the United States and confirmed person-to-person spread of COVID-19 in Washington State; and

WHEREAS, as a result of the continued worldwide spread of COVID-19, its significant progression in Washington State, and the high risk it poses to our most vulnerable populations, I have subsequently issued amendatory proclamations, exercising my emergency powers under RCW 43.06.220 by prohibiting certain activities and waiving and suspending specified laws and regulations; and

WHEREAS, the COVID-19 disease, caused by a virus that spreads easily from person to person, which may result in serious illness or death and has been classified by the World Health Organization as a worldwide pandemic, has broadly spread throughout Washington State and remains a significant health risk to all of our people, especially members of our most vulnerable populations; and

WHEREAS, as a result of the global COVID-19 pandemic and its impacts on Washington State, many members of our workforce are suffering significant economic hardship and in some cases their financial resources are becoming severely limited; and

WHEREAS, the Employment Security Department is responsible for administering the unemployment insurance program in the State of Washington and has been processing a historic number of unemployment claims due to the layoffs resulting from the economic impact on employers caused by the COVID-19 pandemic and the imposition of necessary safe distancing requirements; and

WHEREAS, RCW 50.04.323(3), and associated WAC 192-190-020(1), require the Employment Security Department to prorate lump sum retirement benefits “over the life expectancy of the individual” claimant, and then deduct those benefits from a claimant’s weekly unemployment benefit; which require an inordinate amount of time for the Employment Security Department’s staff to process, even though these deductions, averaging seven dollars per week, are only subtracted from a claimant’s weekly benefit and are not subtracted from a claimant’s maximum available benefits, which means the amount deducted is usually paid later in the claim; and

WHEREAS, the Department of Health and the Center for Disease Control indicate that the numbers of cases of COVID-19 and associated deaths continues to increase dramatically across the United States and specifically in Washington State, demonstrating the ongoing, present threat of this lethal disease; and

WHEREAS, I issued Proclamations 20-25, et seq., that initially prohibited all people in Washington State from leaving their homes except under certain circumstances, and later gradually relaxed those limitations based on county-by-county phasing, but on November 16, 2020, I was forced to again amend 20-25, et seq., in response to the surge of new cases of COVID-19 and resulting deaths in Washington State, to roll back the reopening of businesses and reestablishing limitations on community gatherings, which also impacts employment opportunities; and

WHEREAS, the worldwide COVID-19 pandemic and its progression in Washington State continue to threaten the life and health of our people as well as the economy of Washington State, and remain a public disaster affecting life, health, property or the public peace; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Department of Health continues to maintain a Public Health Incident Management Team in coordination with the State Emergency Operations Center and other supporting state agencies to manage the public health aspects of the incident; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, through the State Emergency Operations Center, continues coordinating resources across state government to support the Department of Health and local health officials in alleviating the impacts to people, property, and infrastructure, and continues coordinating with the Department of Health in assessing the impacts and long-term effects of the incident on Washington State and its people.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Jay Inslee, Governor of the state of Washington, as a result of the above-noted situation, and under Chapters 38.08, 38.52 and 43.06 RCW, do hereby proclaim that a State of Emergency continues to exist in all counties of Washington State, that Proclamation 20-05, as amended, remains in effect, and that Proclamation 20-05 is amended to waive and suspend RCW 50.04.323(3), and WAC 192-190-020(1), in their entirety, because they prevent, hinder or delay necessary action to provide unemployment compensation to workers who have been affected by the COVID-19 pandemic. The waivers and suspensions take effect immediately and will remain in effect until 11:59 p.m., January 16, 2021, or as otherwise amended or rescinded.

I again direct that the plans and procedures of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan be implemented throughout state government. State agencies and departments are directed to continue utilizing state resources and doing everything reasonably possible to support implementation of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan and to assist affected political subdivisions in an effort to respond to and recover from the COVID-19 pandemic.

As a result of this event, I continue to order into active state service the organized militia of Washington State to include the National Guard and the State Guard, or such part thereof as may be necessary in the opinion of The Adjutant General to address the circumstances described above, to perform such duties as directed by competent authority of the Washington State Military Department in addressing the outbreak. Additionally, I continue to direct the Department of Health, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, and other agencies to identify and provide appropriate personnel for conducting necessary and ongoing incident related assessments.

Violators of this of this order may be subject to criminal penalties pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(5).

WHEREAS, as a result of the continued worldwide spread of COVID-19, its significant progression in Washington State, and the high risk it poses to our most vulnerable populations, I have subsequently issued several amendatory proclamations, exercising my emergency powers under RCW 43.06.220 by prohibiting certain activities and waiving and suspending specified laws and regulations; and

WHEREAS, the COVID-19 disease, caused by a virus that spreads easily from person to person which may result in serious illness or death and has been classified by the World Health Organization as a worldwide pandemic, continues to broadly spread throughout Washington State, significantly increasing the threat of serious associated health risks statewide; and

WHEREAS, I issued Proclamations 20-25, et seq., first entitled “Stay Home – Stay Healthy,” in which I initially prohibited all people in Washington State from leaving their homes except under certain circumstances, which I later amended to “Safe Start – Stay Healthy” County-By-County Phased Reopening, gradually relaxing those limitations based on county-by-county phasing, and on November 16, 2020, again amended 20-25, et seq., to “Stay Safe – Stay Healthy – Rollback of County-By-County Phased Reopening Responding to a COVID-19 Outbreak Surge,” in response to a large surge of new cases of COVID-19, increased hospitalizations and ongoing COVID-19 related deaths in Washington State; and

WHEREAS, despite this guidance, positive COVID-19-related cases and hospitalizations have been on a steady rise since early September; and, most alarmingly, since the latter part of October through the first two weeks of December, 2020, COVID-19 cases have significantly increased in Washington, and COVID-19-related hospitalizations have risen sharply, putting our people, our health system, and our economy in as dangerous a position as we faced in March 2020; and

WHEREAS, the Department of Corrections is currently experiencing a significant spike in COVID-19 cases, including at the intake and reception center for new incarcerations at the Washington Corrections Center, where the COVID-19 pandemic protocols require that newly committed individuals be isolated for 14 days upon arrival; and

WHEREAS, given that there are COVID-19 outbreaks at nearly all major correctional facilities across the state, transfers between facilities have essentially been halted to help mitigate the spread of the virus, resulting in overpopulation at the Washington Corrections Center, which is significantly complicating efforts to combat the pandemic; and

WHEREAS, language in RCW 72.02, RCW 70.48, and RCW 36.63 require counties to transfer, and the Department of Corrections to receive, newly committed individuals from the county jails in which they reside prior to commitment to a state correctional facility, despite the inability to safely house such individuals, making it is necessary to waive and suspend portions of those statutes to allow the Department of Corrections to control the current outbreak; and

WHEREAS, the worldwide COVID-19 pandemic and its progression in Washington State continue to threaten the life and health of our people as well as the economy of Washington State, and remain a public disaster affecting life, health, property or the public peace; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Department of Health continues to maintain a Public Health Incident Management Team in coordination with the State Emergency Operations Center and other supporting state agencies to manage the public health aspects of the incident; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, through the State Emergency Operations Center, continues coordinating resources across state government to support the Department of Health and local health officials in alleviating the impacts to people, property, and infrastructure, and continues coordinating with the Department of Health in assessing the impacts and long-term effects of the incident on Washington State and its people.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Jay Inslee, Governor of the state of Washington, as a result of the above- noted situation, and under Chapters 38.08, 38.52 and 43.06 RCW, do hereby proclaim that a State of Emergency continues to exist in all counties of Washington State, that Proclamation 20-05 and all amendments thereto remain in effect, and that Proclamation 20-05 is amended to waive or suspend specified statutes that prevent, hinder or delay necessary action in coping with the unprecedented demands being placed on our health care system by the COVID-19 pandemic and to prohibit certain activities to help preserve and maintain life, health, property or the public peace by retaining individuals recently committed to a state correctional facility in a county jail to allow for a temporary suspension of new intakes at the two state prison receptions centers.

I again direct that the plans and procedures of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan be implemented throughout state government. State agencies and departments are directed to continue utilizing state resources and doing everything reasonably possible to support implementation of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan and to assist affected political subdivisions in an effort to respond to and recover from the COVID-19 pandemic.

I continue to order into active state service the organized militia of Washington State to include the National Guard and the State Guard, or such part thereof as may be necessary in the opinion of The Adjutant General to address the circumstances described above, to perform such duties as directed by competent authority of the Washington State Military Department in addressing the outbreak. Additionally, I continue to direct the Department of Health, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, and other agencies to identify and provide appropriate personnel for conducting necessary and ongoing incident related assessments.

FURTHERMORE, based on the above situation and under the provisions of RCW 43.06.220(2)(g), I also find that strict compliance with the following statutory and regulatory obligations or limitations will risk reducing the availability of essential services and prevent, hinder, or delay the response to the COVID-19 pandemic State of Emergency under Proclamation 20-05, and that the portion or language of each statutory and regulatory provision specified below is hereby waived and suspended, until 11:59 PM on January 3, 2021:

1. RCW 72.02.230 – in its entirety;
2. RCW 70.48.240 – in its entirety;
3. RCW 36.63.255 – in its entirety;
4. RCW 72.02.200 - only the words: “receiving and”; and

FURTHERMORE, in recognition of the above findings, and to help preserve and maintain life, health, property or the public peace under RCW 43.06.220(1)(h), I prohibit, until 11:59 PM on January 3, 2021:

- 1) All public agencies from transporting any individual to a state correctional facility without the advance permission of the Department of Corrections, and
- 2) The Department of Corrections from receiving any individual from any public agency without receiving advance notice and providing advance permission for the transport of that individual to a state correctional facility.

Nothing in this proclamation is intended or may be relied upon to create a right or benefit, substantive or procedural, enforceable at law by any person.

Violators of this of this order may be subject to criminal penalties pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(5).

Signed and sealed with the official seal of the state of Washington on this 17th day of December, A.D., Two Thousand and Twenty at Olympia, Washington.

WHEREAS, I issued Proclamations 20-25, et seq., first entitled “Stay Home – Stay Healthy,” in which I initially prohibited all people in Washington State from leaving their homes except under certain circumstances, which I later amended to “Safe Start – Stay Healthy” County-By- County Phased Reopening, gradually relaxing those limitations based on county-by-county phasing, and on November 16, 2020, I again amended 20-25, et seq., to “Stay Safe– Stay Healthy - Rollback of County-By-County Phased Reopening Responding to a COVID-19 Outbreak Surge”, in response to a large surge of new cases of COVID-19, increased hospitalizations and ongoing COVID-19 related deaths in Washington State; and

WHEREAS, as a result of the global COVID-19 pandemic, the social distancing required to bring it under control, and its impacts on Washington State, certain businesses, employees, and taxpayers are suffering significant economic hardship, and in some cases their financial resources are becoming severely limited, with some businesses closing and employees suffering layoffs; and

The waiver and suspension takes effect immediately and will remain in effect until 11:59 p.m., January 16, 2021, or as otherwise amended or rescinded.

I again direct that the plans and procedures of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan be implemented throughout state government. State agencies and departments are directed to continue utilizing state resources and doing everything reasonably possible to support implementation of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan and to assist affected political subdivisions in an effort to respond to and recover from the COVID-19 pandemic.

“STAY SAFE – STAY HEALTHY”

ROLLBACK OF COUNTY-BY-COUNTY PHASED REOPENING RESPONDING TO A COVID-19 OUTBREAK SURGE

WHEREAS, on February 29, 2020, I issued Proclamation 20-05, proclaiming a State of Emergency for all counties throughout the state of Washington as a result of the coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) outbreak in the United States and confirmed person-to-person spread of COVID-19 in Washington State; and

WHEREAS, as a result of the continued worldwide spread of COVID-19, its significant progression in Washington State, and the high risk it poses to our most vulnerable populations, I have subsequently issued several amendatory proclamations, exercising my emergency powers under RCW 43.06.220 by prohibiting certain activities and waiving and suspending specified laws and regulations; and

WHEREAS, I issued Proclamations 20-25, et seq., first entitled “Stay Home – Stay Healthy,” and later changed to “Safe Start – Stay Healthy” County-By-County Phased Reopening, found here, in which I initially prohibited all people in Washington State from leaving their homes except under certain circumstances and then gradually relaxed those limitations based on county-by-county phasing established according to metrics provided by the Secretary of Health; and

WHEREAS, on July 2, 2020, due to the increased COVID-19 infection rates across the state, I ordered a freeze on all counties moving forward to a subsequent phase, and that freeze remains in place today; and

WHEREAS, on July 24, 2020, the Secretary of Health issued Order of the Secretary of Health 20- 03.1, found here, which, among other things, requires (with exceptions) the use of face coverings throughout the state; and

WHEREAS, despite this guidance, positive COVID-19-related cases and hospitalizations have been on a steady rise since early September; and, most alarmingly, since the latter part of October through the first two weeks of December, 2020, the number of COVID-19 cases continue to dramatically increase in Washington, and COVID-19-related hospitalizations have risen sharply, putting our people, our health system, and our economy in as dangerous a position as we faced in March 2020, and have not significantly improved since; and

WHEREAS, there is evidence that the virus is spread through very small droplets called aerosols that are expelled from our mouths when we breathe, talk, sing, vocalize, cough, or sneeze, that these aerosols linger in air, and that a significant risk factor for spreading the virus is prolonged, close contact with an infected person indoors, especially in poorly ventilated spaces; and

WHEREAS, we know that several factors increase the risk for person-to-person COVID-19 transmission; such factors include (1) the more that people and groups interact, (2) the longer those interactions last, (3) the closer the contact between individuals, and (4) the denser the occupancy for indoor facilities; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Department of Health and the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention have provided health and safety guidance to reduce the risk of transmission of COVID- 19 generally and in specific sectors, environments, and settings, yet many individuals continue to disregard this guidance, and person-to-person interactions, including gatherings, have led to many infections and are a primary factor in the dangerous increase in COVID-19 cases and hospitalizations currently being experienced in Washington; and

WHEREAS, to reduce the severe increases in COVID-19 cases and hospitalizations we are currently facing, and to reduce the increase in deaths from COVID-19 that likely will follow, it is necessary to immediately modify prior prohibitions and guidance, and to issue further guidance as it is developed; and

WHEREAS, COVID-19, caused by a virus that spreads easily from person to person which may result in serious illness or death and has been classified by the World Health Organization as a worldwide pandemic, has broadly spread throughout Washington State and remains a significant health risk to all of our people, especially among our most vulnerable populations; and

WHEREAS, the worldwide COVID-19 pandemic and its progression in Washington State continue to threaten the life and health of our people as well as the economy of Washington State, and remain a public disaster affecting life, health, property or the public peace; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Department of Health continues to maintain a Public Health Incident Management Team in coordination with the State Emergency Operations Center and other supporting state agencies to manage the public health aspects of the incident; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, through the State Emergency Operations Center, continues coordinating resources across state government to support the Department of Health and local health officials in alleviating the impacts to people, property, and infrastructure, and continues coordinating with the Department of Health in assessing the impacts and long-term effects of the incident on Washington State and its people; and

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Jay Inslee, Governor of the state of Washington, as a result of the above noted situation, and under Chapters 38.08, 38.52 and 43.06 RCW, do hereby proclaim and order that a State of Emergency continues to exist in all counties of Washington State, that Proclamation 20-05 and all amendments thereto remain in effect, and that, to help preserve and maintain life, health, property or the public peace pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(1)(h), Proclamations 20-25, et seq., renamed “Stay Safe – Stay Healthy” are amended to extend all of the prohibitions described herein until this order is amended or rescinded. Outdoor singing, while participants wear face coverings, is permitted, so long as the activity otherwise complies with guidance specific to that activity.

FURTHERMORE, in collaboration with the Washington State Department of Health, in furtherance of the physical, mental, and economic well-being of all Washingtonians, I will continue to analyze the data and epidemiological modeling and adjust guidance accordingly.

ADDITIONALLY, as a reminder, a travel advisory for all non-essential travel, issued on November 13, 2020, remains in effect. That advisory provides the following guidance: (1) Persons arriving in Washington from other states or countries, including returning Washington residents, should self-quarantine for 14 days after arrival. These persons should limit their interactions to their immediate household; and (2) Washingtonians are encouraged to stay home or in their region and avoid non-essential travel to other states or countries.

ADDITIONALLY, in furtherance of these prohibitions and for general awareness:

1. Order of the Secretary of Health 20-03.1, issued on July 24, 2020, is incorporated by reference, and may be amended as is necessary; and, all such amendments are also incorporated by reference.
2. Employers must comply with all conditions for operation required by the state Department of Labor & Industries, including interpretive guidance, regulations and rules such as WAC 296-800-14035, and Department of Labor & Industries-administered statutes.
3. Everyone is required to cooperate with public health authorities in the investigation of cases, suspected cases, outbreaks, and suspected outbreaks of COVID-19 and with the implementation of infection control measures pursuant to State Board of Health rule in WAC 246-101-425.
4. All mandatory guidelines for businesses and activities, which remain in effect except as modified by this Proclamation and the Order of the Secretary of Health 20-03.1, may be found at the Governor's Office website, COVID-19 Resources and Information, and at COVID-19 Reopening Guidance for Businesses and Workers.

I again direct that the plans and procedures of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan be implemented throughout state government. State agencies and departments are directed to continue utilizing state resources and doing everything reasonably possible to support implementation of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan and to assist affected political subdivisions in an effort to respond to and recover from the COVID-19 pandemic.

I continue to order into active state service the organized militia of Washington State to include the National Guard and the State Guard, or such part thereof as may be necessary in the opinion of The Adjutant General to address the circumstances described above, to perform such duties as directed by competent authority of the Washington State Military Department in addressing the outbreak. Additionally, I continue to direct the Department of Health, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, and other agencies to identify and provide appropriate personnel for conducting necessary and ongoing incident related assessments.

Violators of this order may be subject to criminal penalties pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(5). Further, if people fail to comply with the required social distancing and other protective measures while engaging in this phased reopening, I may be forced to reinstate the prohibitions established in earlier proclamations.

Unless extended or amended, upon expiration or termination of this amendatory proclamation the provisions of Proclamation 20-25, et seq., will continue to be in effect until the state of emergency, issued on February 29, 2020, pursuant to Proclamation 20-05, is rescinded.

Restrictions on Travelers from Countries where the SARS-CoV-2 Variant 501Y.V is Circulating

WHEREAS, on February 29, 2020, I issued Proclamation 20-05, proclaiming a State of Emergency for all counties throughout the state of Washington as a result of the coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) outbreak in the United States and confirmed person-to-person spread of COVID-19 in Washington State; and

WHEREAS, as a result of the continued worldwide spread of COVID-19, its significant progression in Washington State, and the high risk it poses to our most vulnerable populations, I have subsequently issued several amendatory proclamations, exercising my emergency powers under RCW 43.06.220 by prohibiting certain activities and waiving and suspending specified laws and regulations; and

WHEREAS, I issued Proclamations 20-25, et seq., first entitled “Stay Home – Stay Healthy,” in which I initially prohibited all people in Washington State from leaving their homes except under certain circumstances, which I later amended to “Safe Start – Stay Healthy” County-By-County Phased Reopening, gradually relaxing those limitations based on county-by-county phasing, and on November 16, 2020 again amended 20-25, et seq., to “Stay Safe – Stay Healthy – Rollback of County-By-County Phased Reopening Responding to a COVID-19 Outbreak Surge,” in response to a large surge of new cases of COVID-19, increased hospitalizations and ongoing COVID-19-related deaths in Washington State; and

WHEREAS, despite this guidance, COVID-19-related cases, hospitalizations and deaths have remained very high, putting our people, our health system, and our economy in as dangerous a position as we faced in March 2020; and

WHEREAS, there is evidence that the virus can be spread through very small droplets called aerosols that are expelled from our mouths when we breathe, talk, sing, vocalize, cough, or sneeze, that these aerosols linger in air, and that a significant risk factor for spreading the virus is prolonged, close contact with an infected person indoors, especially in poorly ventilated spaces; and

WHEREAS, several factors increase the risk for person-to-person COVID-19 transmission; such factors include (1) the more that people and groups interact, (2) the longer those interactions last, (3) the closer the contact between individuals, and (4) the denser the occupancy for indoor facilities; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Department of Health and the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention have provided health and safety guidance to reduce the risk of transmission of COVID-19 generally and in specific sectors, environments, and settings, yet many individuals continue to disregard this guidance, and person-to-person interactions, including gatherings, have led to many infections and are an important factor in the dangerous increase in COVID-19 cases and hospitalizations currently being experienced in Washington; and

WHEREAS, a new variant of the SARS-CoV-2 virus, 501Y.V, has been identified in the United Kingdom, South Africa and possibly other countries, which may be more transmissible than other variants; and

WHEREAS, to reduce chances of introduction of the SARS-CoV-2 variant 501Y.V into our State’s population, and to control the potential for further increasing the already severe numbers of COVID-19 cases, hospitalizations, and deaths we are currently facing, it is necessary to immediately prohibit from entering the State of Washington individuals who have been in any country where the SARS-CoV-2 variant 501Y.V has been circulating, including but not limited to the United Kingdom and South Africa, unless certain protective conditions have been met; and

WHEREAS, COVID-19, caused by a virus that spreads easily from person to person which may result in serious illness or death and has been classified by the World Health Organization as a worldwide pandemic, has broadly spread throughout Washington State and remains a significant health risk to all of our people, especially among our most vulnerable populations; and

WHEREAS, the worldwide COVID-19 pandemic and its progression in Washington State continue to threaten the life and health of our people as well as the economy of Washington State, and remain a public disaster affecting life, health, property or the public peace; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Department of Health continues to maintain a Public Health Incident Management Team in coordination with the State Emergency Operations Center and other supporting state agencies to manage the public health aspects of the incident; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, through the State Emergency Operations Center, continues coordinating resources across state government to support the Department of Health and local health officials in alleviating the impacts to people, property, and infrastructure, and continues coordinating with the Department of Health in assessing the impacts and long- term effects of the incident on Washington State and its people; and

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Jay Inslee, Governor of the state of Washington, as a result of the above noted situation, and under Chapters 38.08, 38.52 and 43.06 RCW, do hereby proclaim and order that a State of Emergency continues to exist in all counties of Washington State, that Proclamation 20-05 and all amendments thereto remain in effect, and that, to help preserve and maintain life, health, property or the public peace, pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(1)(h), I amend Proclamation 20-05 to prohibit travel to the State of Washington as set out below.

FURTHERMORE, pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(1)(h), I hereby prohibit any individual who has been present within the prior 14 days in any country where the SARS-CoV-2 variant 501Y.V is circulating, as listed on the Department of Health's website, including but not limited to the United Kingdom and South Africa, from entering or being present in the State of Washington unless they quarantine until fourteen days (14) after arriving in the State of Washington. Flight crew are exempt from this proclamation.

ADDITIONALLY, an individual is permitted to leave quarantine to do the following, provided that they avoid public transportation and ride-share services, wear a face covering, separate themselves from other people to the greatest extent reasonably possible, and follow other appropriate social distancing measures:

- As necessary, travel to and between a health care facility, their home, their place of residence, or an authorized quarantine facility;
- Obtain necessary medical care and COVID-19 testing, provided that they first make reasonable efforts to contact a health care provider before they leave quarantine; and
- Obtain necessary medications and supplies and services for family or household members and pets, such as groceries, food, and supplies for household consumption and use and products necessary to maintain safety, sanitation, and essential maintenance of the home or residence, provided that they first exhaust all reasonable alternatives, including, but not limited to, purchasing products online or by phone and having them delivered to their home or residence, asking for help from family, friends, or acquaintances, or contacting government or non-profit agencies for assistance.

ADDITIONALLY, an individual is also permitted and urged to leave quarantine if their home or place of residence is unsafe or becomes unsafe. When the individual's safety is secured, the individual is encouraged to contact an appropriate government agency for assistance in securing an alternate quarantine site.

ADDITIONALLY, these individuals are also strongly encouraged to get tested at least seven (7) days after entering Washington state.

FURTHERMORE, in collaboration with the Washington State Department of Health, in furtherance of the physical, mental, and economic well-being of all Washingtonians, I will continue to analyze the data and epidemiological modeling and adjust guidance accordingly.

ADDITIONALLY, as a reminder, a travel advisory for all non-essential travel, issued on November 13, 2020, remains in effect. That advisory provides the following guidance:

1. Persons arriving in Washington from other states or countries, including returning Washington residents, should self-quarantine for 14 days after arrival. These persons should limit their interactions to their immediate household; and
2. Washingtonians are encouraged to stay home or in their region and avoid non-essential travel to other states or countries.

ADDITIONALLY, in furtherance of these prohibitions and for general awareness:

1. Order of the Secretary of Health 20-03.1, issued on July 24, 2020, is incorporated by reference, and as amended.
2. Employers must comply with all conditions for operation required by the state Department of Labor & Industries, including interpretive guidance, regulations and rules such as WAC 296-800- 14035, and Department of Labor & Industries-administered statutes.

3. Everyone is required to cooperate with public health authorities in the investigation of cases, suspected cases, outbreaks, and suspected outbreaks of COVID-19 and with the implementation of infection control measures pursuant to State Board of Health rule in WAC 246-101-425.
4. Additional guidelines for travel may be found at the United States Center for Disease Control and Prevention’s website.

I again direct that the plans and procedures of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan be implemented throughout state government. State agencies and departments are directed to continue utilizing state resources and doing everything reasonably possible to support implementation of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan and to assist affected political subdivisions in an effort to respond to and recover from the COVID-19 pandemic.

I continue to order into active state service the organized militia of Washington State to include the National Guard and the State Guard, or such part thereof as may be necessary in the opinion of The Adjutant General to address the circumstances described above, to perform such duties as directed by competent authority of the Washington State Military Department in addressing the outbreak. Additionally, I continue to direct the Department of Health, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, and other agencies to identify and provide appropriate personnel for conducting necessary and ongoing incident related assessments.

Violators of this order may be subject to criminal penalties pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(5). Further, if people fail to comply with the required social distancing and other protective measures while engaging in this phased reopening, I may be forced to reinstate the prohibitions established in earlier proclamations.

Unless extended or amended, this proclamation will continue to be in effect until the state of emergency, issued on February 29, 2020, pursuant to Proclamation 20-05, is rescinded.

WHEREAS, under RCW 74.04.660(6), during a state of emergency the Governor is authorized to extend eligibility for benefits under the Family Emergency Assistance Program to individuals and families without children; and

WHEREAS, on March 18, 2020, I issued Proclamation 20-18 which, among other things, expanded eligibility for benefits under the Family Emergency Assistance Program to individuals and families without children; and

WHEREAS, on August 27, 2020, leadership in three of the four legislative caucuses determined that the contents of this order do not require legislative approval under the provisions of RCW 43.06.220(4), which I acknowledged when subsequently extending the provisions therein in Proclamation 20-63.2; and

WHEREAS, the worldwide COVID-19 pandemic and its progression in Washington State continue to threaten the life and health of our people as well as the economy of Washington State, and remain a public disaster affecting life, health, property or the public peace; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Department of Health continues to maintain a Public Health Incident Management Team in coordination with the State Emergency Operations Center and other supporting state agencies to manage the public health aspects of the incident; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, through the State Emergency Operations Center, continues coordinating resources across state government to support the Department of Health and local health officials in alleviating the impacts to people, property, and infrastructure, and continues coordinating with the Department of Health in assessing the impacts and long-term effects of the incident on Washington State and its people.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Jay Inslee, Governor of the state of Washington, as a result of the above- noted situation, pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(2)(c) and RCW 74.04.660(6), continue to authorize and direct the Secretary of the Department of Social and Health Services to expand eligibility for the Family Emergency Assistance Program to include individuals and families without children. PROCLAMATION BY THE GOVERNOR

Delaying Repeal of RCW 26.10

WHEREAS, on February 29, 2020, I issued Proclamation 20-05, proclaiming a State of Emergency for all counties throughout Washington State as a result of the coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) outbreak in the United States and confirmed person-to-person spread of COVID-19 in Washington State; and

WHEREAS, as a result of the continued worldwide spread of COVID-19, its significant progression in Washington State, and the high risk it poses to our most vulnerable populations, I have subsequently issued several amendatory proclamations, exercising my emergency powers under RCW 43.06.220 by prohibiting certain activities and waiving and suspending specified laws and regulations; and

WHEREAS, the COVID-19 disease, caused by a virus that spreads easily from person to person which may result in serious illness or death and has been classified by the World Health Organization as a worldwide pandemic, continues to broadly spread throughout Washington State, significantly increasing the threat of serious associated health risks statewide; and

WHEREAS, I issued Proclamations 20-25, et seq., first entitled “Stay Home – Stay Healthy,” in which I initially prohibited all people in Washington State from leaving their homes except under certain circumstances, which I later amended to “Safe Start – Stay Healthy” County-By-County Phased Reopening, gradually relaxing those limitations based on county-by-county phasing, and on November 16, 2020, again amended 20-25, et seq., to “Stay Safe – Stay Healthy – Rollback of County-By-County Phased Reopening Responding to a COVID-19 Outbreak Surge,” in response to a large surge of new cases of COVID-19, increased hospitalizations and ongoing COVID-19 related deaths in Washington State; and

WHEREAS, despite this guidance, COVID-19-related cases, hospitalizations and deaths have remained very high, putting our people, our health system, and our economy in as dangerous a position as we faced in March 2020; and

WHEREAS, the social distancing required in Proclamation 20-25 et seq., limited court access ordered by the judiciary, directives from public health authorities, and other restrictions issued in response to the COVID-19 pandemic, make access to Washington State Courts extremely limited; and

WHEREAS, pursuant to the Washington State Supreme Court’s prior orders, many Washington courts have taken important steps to protect public health while ensuring continued access to justice and essential court services, by strictly observing social distancing measures, holding proceedings remotely, suspending many in-building operations, and, among other things, promulgating emergency rules as necessary; and

WHEREAS, despite extraordinary efforts, Washington State Superior Courts face a substantial and long- term backlog of cases. In August 2020, Superior Courts: (1) completed 3,014 civil cases as compared to 6,038 at the same time last year; (2) completed 1,969 criminal cases as compared to 2,940 at the same time last year; and (3) sentenced 1,141 defendants as compared to 2,048 defendants at the same time last year; and

WHEREAS, superior courts are diligently working to maintain essential court functions and move toward greater capacity while protecting the health of staff, lawyers, litigants, jurors, and the public; and

WHEREAS, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill 6287, Section 905 (Chapter 312, Laws of 2020), repeals RCW 26.10 – relating to third party custody of minors, and Section 907 delays implementation of the repeal to January 1, 2021; and

WHEREAS, a waiver and suspension of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill 6287, Section 905 (Chapter 312, Laws of 2020) and a portion of Section 907, to further delay to the repeal of RCW 26.10, will give the courts adequate time to transition cases filed before January 1, 2021 under RCW 26.10 to minor guardianships under new RCW 11.130, without which superior courts would be required to reconsider all pending third-party custody cases under the new law, essentially requiring such cases to start anew, delaying a permanent placement for the affected minors, further straining the capacity of the courts, and adding to the ever-mounting backlog; and

WHEREAS, the worldwide COVID-19 pandemic and its progression in Washington State continue to threaten the life and health of our people as well as the economy of Washington State, and remain a public disaster affecting life, health, property or the public peace; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Department of Health continues to maintain a Public Health Incident Management Team in coordination with the State Emergency Operations Center and other supporting state agencies to manage the public health aspects of the incident; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, through the State Emergency Operations Center, continues coordinating resources across state government to support the Department of Health and local health officials in alleviating the impacts to people, property, and infrastructure, and continues coordinating with the Department of Health in assessing the impacts and long- term effects of the incident on Washington State and its people.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Jay Inslee, Governor of the state of Washington, as a result of the above-noted situation, and under Chapters 38.08, 38.52 and 43.06 RCW, do hereby proclaim that a State of Emergency continues to exist in all counties of Washington State, that Proclamation 20-05 and all amendments thereto remain in effect, and that Proclamation 20-05 is amended to waive or suspend statutory provisions that prevents, hinders or delays necessary action in coping with the COVID-19 pandemic, by delaying the repeal of RCW 26.10 with respect to any case that has been filed on or before December 31, 2020.

I again direct that the plans and procedures of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan be implemented throughout state government. State agencies and departments are directed to continue utilizing state resources and doing everything reasonably possible to support implementation of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan and to assist affected political subdivisions in an effort to respond to and recover from the COVID-19 pandemic.

I continue to order into active state service the organized militia of Washington State to include the National Guard and the State Guard, or such part thereof as may be necessary in the opinion of The Adjutant General to address the circumstances described above, to perform such duties as directed by competent authority of the Washington State Military Department in addressing the outbreak. Additionally, I continue to direct the Department of Health, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, and other agencies to identify and provide appropriate personnel for conducting necessary and ongoing incident related assessments.

FURTHERMORE, based on the above situation and under the provisions of RCW 43.06.220(2)(g), I also find that strict compliance with Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill 6287, Section 905 (Chapter 312, Laws of 2020), and a portion of Section 907, will prevent, hinder, or delay the response to the COVID-19 pandemic State of Emergency under Proclamation 20-05, and therefore, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill 6287, Section 905 (Chapter 312, Laws of 2020) is hereby waived and suspended in its entirety, and the number “905” is waived and suspended in Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill 6287, Section 907 (Chapter 312, Laws of 2020), which takes effect on 12:01AM on January 1, 2021 and shall remain in effect until 11:59 PM on January 30, 2021, or as amended or extended.

FURTHERMORE, based on the above situation and under the provisions of RCW 43.06.220(1)(h), I hereby prohibit anyone from filing a new third party custody case pursuant to RCW 26.10 after 12:01AM on January 1, 2021, understanding that those affected may instead file a new case pursuant to the provisions of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill 6287 (Chapter 312, Laws of 2020).

Violators of this of this order may be subject to criminal penalties pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(5).

Signed and sealed with the official seal of the state of Washington on this 30th day of December, A.D., Two Thousand and Twenty at Olympia, Washington.

Evictions and Related Housing Practices

WHEREAS, on February 29, 2020, I issued Proclamation 20-05, proclaiming a State of Emergency for all counties throughout the state of Washington as a result of the coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) outbreak in the United States and confirmed person-to-person spread of COVID-19 in Washington State; and

WHEREAS, as a result of the continued worldwide spread of COVID-19, its significant progression in Washington State, and the high risk it poses to our most vulnerable populations, I have subsequently issued several amendatory proclamations, exercising my emergency powers under RCW 43.06.220 by prohibiting certain activities and waiving and suspending specified laws and regulations; and

WHEREAS, the COVID-19 disease, caused by a virus that spreads easily from person to person which may result in serious illness or death and has been classified by the World Health Organization as a worldwide pandemic, continues to broadly spread throughout Washington State; and

WHEREAS, the COVID-19 pandemic is causing a sustained global economic slowdown, and an economic downturn throughout Washington State with unprecedented numbers of layoffs and reduced work hours for a significant percentage of our workforce due to substantial reductions in business activity impacting our commercial sectors that support our State's economic vitality, including severe impacts to the large number of small businesses that make Washington State's economy thrive; and

WHEREAS, many of our workforce expected to be impacted by these layoffs and substantially reduced work hours are anticipated to suffer economic hardship that will disproportionately affect low and moderate income workers resulting in lost wages and potentially the inability to pay for basic household expenses, including rent; and

WHEREAS, the inability to pay rent by these members of our workforce increases the likelihood of eviction from their homes, increasing the life, health and safety risks to a significant percentage of our people from the COVID-19 pandemic; and

WHEREAS, tenants, residents, and renters who are not materially affected by COVID-19 should and must continue to pay rent, to avoid unnecessary and avoidable economic hardship to landlords, property owners, and property managers who are economically impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic; and

WHEREAS, under RCW 59.12 (Unlawful Detainer), RCW 59.18 (Residential Landlord-Tenant Act), and RCW 59.20 (Manufactured/Mobile Home Landlord-Tenant Act) residents seeking to avoid default judgment in eviction hearings need to appear in court in order to avoid losing substantial rights to assert defenses or access legal and economic assistance; and

WHEREAS, on May 29, 2020, in response to the COVID-19 pandemic, the Washington Supreme Court issued Amended Order No. 25700-B-626, and ordered that courts should begin to hear non-emergency civil matters. While appropriate and essential to the operation of our state justice system, the reopening of courts could lead to a wave of new eviction filings, hearings, and trials that risk overwhelming courts and resulting in a surge in eviction orders and corresponding housing loss statewide; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Legislature has established a housing assistance program in RCW 43.185 pursuant to its findings in RCW 43.185.010 "that it is in the public interest to establish a continuously renewable resource known as the housing trust fund and housing assistance program to assist low and very low-income citizens in meeting their basic housing needs;" and

WHEREAS, it is critical to protect tenants and residents of traditional dwellings from homelessness, as well as those who have lawfully occupied or resided in less traditional dwelling situations for 14 days or more, whether or not documented in a lease, including but not limited to roommates who share a home; long-term care facilities; transient housing in hotels and motels; "Airbnb's"; motor homes; RVs; and camping areas; and

WHEREAS, due to the impacts of the pandemic, individuals and families have had to move in with friends or family, and college students have had to return to their parents' home, for example, and such residents should be protected from eviction even though they are not documented in a lease. However, this order is not intended to permit occupants introduced into a dwelling who are not listed on the lease to remain or hold over after the tenant(s) of record permanently vacate the dwelling ("holdover occupant"), unless the landlord, property owner, or property manager (collectively, "landlord") has accepted partial or full payment of rent, including payment in the form of labor, from the holdover occupant, or has formally or informally acknowledged the existence of a landlord-tenant relationship with the holdover occupant; and

WHEREAS, a temporary moratorium on evictions and related actions throughout Washington State at this time will help reduce economic hardship and related life, health, and safety risks to those members of our workforce impacted by layoffs and substantially reduced work hours or who are otherwise unable to pay rent as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic; and

WHEREAS, as of November 2020, current information suggests that at least 165,000 tenants in Washington will be unable to pay their rent in the near future, reflecting the continued financial precariousness of many in the state. According to the state's unemployment information, as of December 2020, current data show there are nearly twice as many people claiming unemployment benefits in Washington than there were a year ago. This does not account for the many thousands of others who are filing claims with separate programs such as Pandemic Unemployment Assistance and Pandemic Emergency Unemployment Compensation: in December 2020, nearly 500,000 new and ongoing claims for unemployment-related assistance have been filed; and

WHEREAS, a temporary moratorium on evictions and related actions will reduce housing instability, enable residents to stay in their homes unless conducting essential activities, employment in essential business services, or otherwise engaged in permissible activities, and will promote public health and safety by reducing the progression of COVID-19 in Washington State; and

WHEREAS, I issued Proclamations 20-25, 20-25.1, 20-25.2, and 20-25.3 (Stay Home – Stay Healthy), and I subsequently issued Proclamation 20-25.4 (“Safe Start – Stay Healthy” County-By-County Phased Reopening), wherein I amended and transitioned the previous proclamations’ “Stay Home – Stay Healthy” requirements to “Safe Start – Stay Healthy” requirements, prohibiting all people in Washington State from leaving their homes except under certain circumstances and limitations based on a phased reopening of counties as established in Proclamation 20-25.4, et seq., and according to the phase each county was subsequently assigned by the Secretary of Health; and

WHEREAS, when I issued Proclamation 20-25.4 on May 31, 2020, I ordered that, beginning on June 1, 2020, counties would be allowed to apply to the Department of Health to move forward to the next phase of reopening more business and other activities; and by July 2, 2020, a total of five counties were approved to move to a modified version of Phase 1, 17 counties were in Phase 2, and 17 counties were in Phase 3; and

WHEREAS, on July 2, 2020, due to the increased COVID-19 infection rates across the state, I ordered a freeze on all counties moving forward to a subsequent phase, and that freeze remains in place while I work with the Department of Health and other epidemiological experts to determine appropriate strategies to mitigate the recent increased spread of the virus, and those strategies may include dialing back business and other activities; and

WHEREAS, on July 23, 2020, in response to the statewide increased rates of infection, hospitalizations, and deaths, I announced an expansion of the Department of Health’s face covering requirements and several restrictions on activities where people tend to congregate; and

WHEREAS, on October 6, 2020, due to the increased COVID-19 infection rates across the state, I announced that all counties will remain in their current reopening phases as a result of the continuing surge in COVID-19 cases across the state; and

WHEREAS, positive COVID-19-related cases and hospitalizations have been on a steady rise since early September; and, most alarmingly, since the latter part of October through December, 2020, the number of COVID-19 cases continue to dramatically increase in Washington, and COVID-19-related hospitalizations have risen sharply, putting our people, our health system, and our economy in as dangerous a position as we faced in March 2020, and have not significantly improved since; and

WHEREAS, when I issued Proclamation 20-19.3 on July 24, 2020, the Washington State Department of Health reported at least 51,849 confirmed cases of COVID-19 with 1,494 associated deaths; and as of December 30, 2020, there are at least 232,993 confirmed cases with 3,420 associated deaths; and

WHEREAS, the worldwide COVID-19 pandemic and its progression in Washington State continues to threaten the life and health of our people as well as the economy of Washington State, and remains a public disaster affecting life, health, property or the public peace; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Department of Health continues to maintain a Public Health Incident Management Team in coordination with the State Emergency Operations Center and other supporting state agencies to manage the public health aspects of the incident; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, through the State Emergency Operations Center, continues coordinating resources across state government to support the Washington State Department of Health and local health officials in alleviating the impacts to people, property, and infrastructure, and continues coordinating with the Department of Health in assessing the impacts and long-term effects of the incident on Washington State and its people.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Jay Inslee, Governor of the state of Washington, as a result of the above- noted situation, and under Chapters 38.08, 38.52 and 43.06 RCW, do hereby proclaim that a State of Emergency continues to exist in all counties of Washington State, that Proclamation 20-05 and all amendments thereto remain in effect, and that Proclamations 20-05 and 20-19, et seq., are amended to temporarily prohibit residential evictions and temporarily impose other related prohibitions statewide until 11:59 p.m. on March 31, 2021, as provided herein.

I again direct that the plans and procedures of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan be implemented throughout State government. State agencies and departments are directed to continue utilizing state resources and doing everything reasonably possible to support implementation of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan and to assist affected political subdivisions in an effort to respond to and recover from the COVID-19 pandemic.

I continue to order into active state service the organized militia of Washington State to include the National Guard and the State Guard, or such part thereof as may be necessary in the opinion of The Adjutant General to address the circumstances described above, to perform such duties as directed by competent authority of the Washington State Military Department in addressing the outbreak. Additionally, I continue to direct the Washington State Department of Health, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, and other agencies to identify and provide appropriate personnel for conducting necessary and ongoing incident related assessments.

ACCORDINGLY, based on the above noted situation and under the provisions of RCW 43.06.220(1)(h), and to help preserve and maintain life, health, property or the public peace, except where federal law requires otherwise, effective immediately and until 11:59 p.m. on March 31, 2021, I hereby prohibit the following activities related to residential dwellings and commercial rental properties in Washington State:

- Landlords, property owners, and property managers are prohibited from serving or enforcing, or threatening to serve or enforce, any notice requiring a resident to vacate any dwelling or parcel of land occupied as a dwelling, including but not limited to an eviction notice, notice to pay or vacate, notice of unlawful detainer, notice of termination of rental, or notice to comply or vacate. This prohibition applies to tenancies or other housing arrangements that have expired or that will expire during the effective period of this Proclamation. This prohibition does not apply to emergency shelters where length of stay is conditioned upon a resident's participation in, and compliance with, a supportive services program. Emergency shelters should make every effort to work with shelter clients to find alternate housing solutions. This prohibition applies unless the landlord, property owner, or property manager (a) attaches an affidavit to the eviction or termination of tenancy notice attesting that the action is necessary to respond to a significant and immediate risk to the health, safety, or property of others created by the resident; or (b) provides at least 60 days' written notice of the property owner's intent to (i) personally occupy the premises as the owner's primary residence, or (ii) sell the property. Such a 60-day notice of intent to sell or personally occupy shall be in the form of an affidavit signed under penalty of perjury, and does not dispense landlords, property owners, or property managers from their notice obligations prior to entering the property, or from wearing face coverings, social distancing, and complying with all other COVID-19 safety measures upon entry, together with their guests and agents. Any eviction or termination of tenancy notice served under one of the above exceptions must independently comply with all applicable requirements under Washington law, and nothing in this paragraph waives those requirements.
- Landlords, property owners, and property managers are prohibited from seeking or enforcing, or threatening to seek or enforce, judicial eviction orders involving any dwelling or parcel of land occupied as a dwelling, unless the landlord, property owner, or property manager (a) attaches an affidavit to the eviction or termination of tenancy notice attesting that the action is necessary to respond to a significant and immediate risk to the health, safety, or property of others created by the resident; or (b) shows that at least 60 days' written notice were provided of the property owner's intent to (i) personally occupy the premises as the owner's primary residence, or (ii) sell the property. Such a 60-day notice of intent to sell or personally occupy shall be in the form of an affidavit signed under penalty of perjury.
- Local law enforcement are prohibited from serving, threatening to serve, or otherwise acting on eviction orders affecting any dwelling or parcel of land occupied as a dwelling, unless the eviction order clearly states that it was issued based on a court's finding that (a) the individual(s) named in the eviction order is creating a significant and immediate risk to the health, safety, or property of others; or (b) at least 60 days' written notice were provided of the property owner's intent to (i) personally occupy the premises as the owner's primary residence, or (ii) sell the property. Local law enforcement may serve or otherwise act on eviction orders, including writs of restitution that contain the findings required by this paragraph.
- Landlords, property owners, and property managers are prohibited from assessing, or threatening to assess, late fees for the non-payment or late payment of rent or other charges related to a dwelling or parcel of land occupied as a dwelling, and where such non-payment or late payment occurred on or after February 29, 2020, the date when a State of Emergency was proclaimed in all counties in Washington State.
- Landlords, property owners, and property managers are prohibited from assessing, or threatening to assess, rent or other charges related to a dwelling or parcel of land occupied as a dwelling for any period during which the resident's access to, or occupancy of, such dwelling was prevented as a result of the COVID-19 outbreak.

- Except as provided in this paragraph, landlords, property owners, and property managers are prohibited from treating any unpaid rent or other charges related to a dwelling or parcel of land occupied as a dwelling as an enforceable debt or obligation that is owing or collectable, where such non-payment was as a result of the COVID-19 outbreak and occurred on or after February 29, 2020, and during the State of Emergency proclaimed in all counties in Washington State. This includes attempts to collect, or threats to collect, through a collection agency, by filing an unlawful detainer or other judicial action, withholding any portion of a security deposit, billing or invoicing, reporting to credit bureaus, or by any other means. This prohibition does not apply to a landlord, property owner, or property manager who demonstrates by a preponderance of the evidence to a court that the resident was offered, and refused or failed to comply with, a re-payment plan that was reasonable based on the individual financial, health, and other circumstances of that resident; failure to provide a reasonable re-payment plan shall be a defense to any lawsuit or other attempts to collect.
- Nothing in this order precludes a landlord, property owner, or property manager from engaging in customary and routine communications with residents of a dwelling or parcel of land occupied as a dwelling. “Customary and routine” means communication practices that were in place prior to the issuance of Proclamation 20-19 on March 18, 2020, but only to the extent that those communications reasonably notify a resident of upcoming rent that is due; provide notice of community events, news, or updates; document a lease violation without threatening eviction; or are otherwise consistent with this order. Within these communications and parameters, it is permissible for landlords, property owners and property managers to provide information to residents regarding financial resources, including coordinating with residents in applying for rent assistance through the state’s Emergency Rent Assistance Program (ERAP) or an alternative state rent assistance program, and to provide residents with information on how to engage with them in discussions regarding reasonable repayment plans as described in this order.
- Except as provided in this paragraph, landlords, property owners, and property managers are prohibited from increasing, or threatening to increase, the rate of rent for any dwelling or parcel of land occupied as a dwelling. This prohibition does not apply to a landlord, property owner, or property manager who provides (a) advance notice of a rent increase required by RCW 59.20.090(2) (Manufactured/Mobile Home Landlord-Tenant Act), or (b) notice of a rent increase specified by the terms of the existing lease, provided that (i) the noticed rent increase does not take effect until after the expiration of Proclamation 20-19, et seq., and any modification or extension thereof, and (ii) the notice is restricted to its limited purpose and does not contain any threatening or coercive language, including any language threatening eviction or describing unpaid rent or other charges. Unless expressly permitted in this or a subsequent order, under no circumstances may a rent increase go into effect while this Proclamation, or any extension thereof, is in effect. Except as provided below, this prohibition also applies to commercial rental property if the commercial tenant has been materially impacted by the COVID-19, whether personally impacted and is unable to work or whether the business itself was deemed non-essential pursuant to Proclamation 20-25 or otherwise lost staff or customers due to the COVID-19 outbreak. This prohibition does not apply to commercial rental property if rent increases were included in an existing lease agreement that was executed prior to February 29, 2020 (pre-COVID-19 state of emergency).
- Landlords, property owners, and property managers are prohibited from retaliating against individuals for invoking their rights or protections under Proclamations 20-19 et seq., or any other state or federal law providing rights or protections for residential dwellings. Nothing in this order prevents a landlord from seeking to engage in reasonable communications with tenants to explore re-payment plans in accordance with this order.
- The preceding prohibitions do not apply to operators of long-term care facilities licensed or certified by the Department of Social and Health Services to prevent them from taking action to appropriately, safely, and lawfully transfer or discharge a resident for health or safety reasons, or a change in payer source that the facility is unable to accept, in accordance with the laws and rules that apply to those facilities. Additionally, the above prohibition against increasing, or threatening to increase, the rate of rent for any dwelling does not apply to customary changes in the charges or fees for cost of care (such as charges for personal care, utilities, and other reasonable and customary operating expenses), or reasonable charges or fees related to COVID-19 (such as the costs of PPE and testing), as long as these charges or fees are outlined in the long-term care facility’s notice of services and are applied in accordance with the laws and rules that apply to those facilities, including any advance notice requirement.

Terminology used in these prohibitions shall be understood by reference to Washington law, including but not limited to RCW 49.60, RCW 59.12, RCW 59.18, and RCW 59.20. For purposes of this Proclamation, a “significant and immediate risk to the health, safety, or property of others created by the resident” (a) is one that is described with particularity; (b) as it relates to “significant and immediate” risk to the health and safety of others, includes any behavior by a resident which is imminently hazardous to the physical safety of other persons on the premises (RCW 59.18.130 (8)(a)); (c) cannot be established on the basis of the resident’s own health condition or disability; (d) excludes the situation in which a resident who may have been exposed to, or contracted, the COVID-19, or is following Department of Health guidelines regarding isolation or quarantine; and (e) excludes circumstances that are not urgent in nature, such as conditions that were known or knowable to the landlord, property owner, or property manager pre-COVID-19 but regarding which that entity took no action.

FURTHERMORE, it is the intent of this order to prevent a potential new devastating impact of the COVID-19 outbreak – that is, a wave of statewide homelessness that will impact every community in our state. To that end, this order further acknowledges, applauds, and reflects gratitude to the immeasurable contribution to the health and well-being of our communities and families made by the landlords, property owners, and property managers subject to this order.

ADDITIONALLY, it is also the intent of this order to extend state emergency rent assistance programs and to incorporate the newly approved federal rental assistance funding. The goal is to continue to provide a path for eligible tenants to seek rental assistance, but to now also allow landlords, property owners, and property managers to initiate an application for rental assistance. This process should be collaborative, and I encourage the nonprofit and philanthropic communities to continue their support of programs that help educate and inform both parties of the benefits of these rental assistance programs. Although a new program may need to be created for the newly approved federal rental assistance, all counties should consider the existing program in King County as a model for creating this path for landlords and property owners and property managers.

ADDITIONALLY, I want to thank the vast majority of tenants who have continued to pay what they can, as soon as they can, to help support the people and the system that are supporting them through this crisis. The intent of Proclamation 20-19, et seq., is to provide relief to those individuals who have been impacted by the COVID-19 crisis. Landlords and tenants are expected to communicate in good faith with one another, and to work together, on the timing and terms of payment and repayment solutions that all parties will need in order to overcome the severe challenges that COVID-19 has imposed for landlords and tenants alike. I strongly encourage landlords and tenants to avail themselves of the services offered at existing dispute resolution centers to come to agreement on payment and repayment solutions.

MOREOVER, as Washington State begins to emerge from the current public health and economic crises, I recognize that courts, tenants, landlords, property owners, and property managers may desire additional direction concerning the specific parameters for reasonable re-payment plans related to outstanding rent or fees. This is best addressed by legislation, and I invite the state Legislature to produce legislation as early as possible during their next session to address this issue. I stand ready to partner with our legislators as necessary and appropriate to ensure that the needed framework is passed into law.

Violators of this order may be subject to criminal penalties pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(5).

WHEREAS, as a result of the continued worldwide spread of COVID-19, its significant progression in Washington State, and the high risk it poses to our most vulnerable populations, I have subsequently issued several amendatory proclamations, exercising my emergency powers under RCW 43.06.220 by prohibiting certain activities and waiving and suspending specified laws and regulations; and

WHEREAS, the COVID-19 disease, caused by a virus that spreads easily from person to person which may result in serious illness or death and has been classified by the World Health Organization as a worldwide pandemic, continues to broadly spread throughout Washington State; and

WHEREAS, the number of cases of COVID-19 in Washington State and the associated deaths continue to increase, demonstrating the ongoing, present, and persistent threat of this lethal disease; and

WHEREAS, the COVID-19 pandemic continues to cause a sustained global economic slowdown, and an economic downturn throughout Washington State with unprecedented numbers of layoffs and reduced work hours for a significant percentage of our workforce due to substantial reductions in business activity impacting our commercial sectors that support our State's economic vitality, including severe impacts to the large number of small businesses that make Washington State's economy thrive; and

WHEREAS, to prevent or reduce economic hardship and related life, health, and safety risks to those members of our workforce impacted by layoffs and substantially reduced work hours or who are otherwise unable to pay for basic household expenses as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic, I issued Proclamation 20-49, to temporarily waive and suspend statutes and regulations related to the collection of judgments for consumer debt; and

WHEREAS, under the provisions of RCW 43.06.220(4), the statutory waivers and suspensions of Proclamation 20-49, et seq., have been periodically extended by the leadership of the Washington State Senate and House of Representatives and which I acknowledged and similarly extended the prohibitions therein in subsequent sequentially numbered proclamations; and

WHEREAS, on December 7, 2020, under the provisions of RCW 43.06.220(4), the statutory waivers and suspensions of Proclamation 20-49, et seq., were extended as to the garnishment of bank accounts only by the leadership of the Washington State Senate and House of Representatives until the termination of the COVID-19 State of Emergency or 11:59 p.m. on January 19, 2021, whichever occurs first; and

WHEREAS, I subsequently issued Proclamation 20-49.11 amending Proclamations 20-49, et seq., to (1) recognize the extension of statutory waivers and suspensions therein by the leadership of the Washington State Senate and House of Representatives until the termination of the COVID-19 State of Emergency or 11:59 p.m. on January 19, 2021, whichever occurs first, and (2) similarly extend the prohibitions therein until termination of the COVID-19 State of Emergency or 11:59 p.m. on January 19, 2021, whichever occurs first; and

WHEREAS, the federal government has issued additional federal COVID-19 stimulus payments under legislation that was not addressed in Proclamations 20-49, et seq.; and

WHEREAS, the worldwide COVID-19 pandemic and its progression in Washington State continue to threaten the life and health of our people as well as the economy of Washington State and remain a public disaster affecting life, health, property or the public peace; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Department of Health continues to maintain a Public Health Incident Management Team in coordination with the State Emergency Operations Center and other supporting state agencies to manage the public health aspects of the COVID-19 emergency; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, through the State Emergency Operations Center, continues coordinating resources across state government to support the Washington State Department of Health and local health officials in alleviating the impacts to people, property, and infrastructure, and continues coordinating with the Department of Health in assessing the impacts and long-term effects of the incident on Washington State and its people.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Jay Inslee, Governor of the state of Washington, as a result of the above-noted situation, and under Chapters 38.08, 38.52, and 43.06 RCW, do hereby proclaim that a State of Emergency continues to exist in all counties of Washington State, that Proclamation 20-05 and all amendments thereto remain in effect as otherwise amended, and that Proclamations 20-49, et seq., are amended to address federal stimulus payments issued specifically in response to the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic. This proclamation shall remain in effect until termination of the COVID-19 State of Emergency or 11:59 p.m. on January 19, 2021, whichever occurs first.

I again direct that the plans and procedures of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan be implemented throughout State government. State agencies and departments are directed to continue utilizing state resources and doing everything reasonably possible to support implementation of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan and to assist affected political subdivisions in an effort to respond to and recover from the COVID-19 pandemic.

I continue to order into active state service the organized militia of Washington State to include the National Guard and the State Guard, or such part thereof as may be necessary in the opinion of The Adjutant General to address the circumstances described above, to perform such duties as directed by competent authority of the Washington State Military Department in addressing the outbreak. Additionally, I continue to direct the Washington State Department of Health, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, and other agencies to identify and provide appropriate personnel for conducting necessary and ongoing incident related assessments.

FURTHERMORE, except as otherwise prohibited or limited by state or federal law, the statutory waivers and suspensions of Proclamations 20-49, et seq., which operate to prohibit garnishments for consumer debt in certain circumstances, (a) are not applicable to bank account funds other than federal stimulus payments issued in response to the COVID-19 pandemic and state and federal unemployment payments; and (b) are not applicable to garnishments for continuing liens on earnings (wages), and have not been applicable to garnishments for continuing liens on earning since May 27, 2020.

ADDITIONALLY, whereas state law provides specific exemptions from execution, attachment and garnishment for certain personal property, including an exemption of $2,000 in bank accounts from consumer debt garnishment, nothing in this proclamation may be construed to limit a consumer’s right to claim those exemptions or to challenge any garnishment proceeding.

Violators of this order may be subject to criminal penalties pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(5).

ROLLBACK OF COUNTY-BY-COUNTY PHASED REOPENING RESPONDING TO A COVID-19 OUTBREAK SURGE

WHEREAS, on February 29, 2020, I issued Proclamation 20-05, proclaiming a State of Emergency for all counties throughout the state of Washington as a result of the coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) outbreak in the United States and confirmed person-to-person spread of COVID-19 in Washington State; and

WHEREAS, as a result of the continued worldwide spread of COVID-19, its significant progression in Washington State, and the high risk it poses to our most vulnerable populations, I have subsequently issued several amendatory proclamations, exercising my emergency powers under RCW 43.06.220 by prohibiting certain activities and waiving and suspending specified laws and regulations; and

WHEREAS, I issued Proclamations 20-25, et seq., first entitled “Stay Home – Stay Healthy,” and later changed to “Safe Start – Stay Healthy” County-By-County Phased Reopening, found here, in which I initially prohibited all people in Washington State from leaving their homes except under certain circumstances and then gradually relaxed those limitations based on county-by-county phasing established according to metrics provided by the Secretary of Health; and

WHEREAS, on July 2, 2020, due to the increased COVID-19 infection rates across the state, I ordered a freeze on all counties moving forward to a subsequent phase, and that freeze remains in place today; and

WHEREAS, on July 24, 2020, the Secretary of Health issued Order of the Secretary of Health 20- 03.1, found here, which, among other things, requires (with exceptions) the use of face coverings throughout the state; and

WHEREAS, despite this guidance, positive COVID-19-related cases and hospitalizations have been on a steady rise since early September; and, most alarmingly, since the latter part of October through December, 2020, the number of COVID-19 cases continue to dramatically increase in Washington, and COVID-19-related hospitalizations have risen sharply, putting our people, our health system, and our economy in as dangerous a position as we faced in March 2020, and have not significantly improved since; and

WHEREAS, there is evidence that the virus is spread through very small droplets called aerosols that are expelled from our mouths when we breathe, talk, sing, vocalize, cough, or sneeze, that these aerosols linger in air, and that a significant risk factor for spreading the virus is prolonged, close contact with an infected person indoors, especially in poorly ventilated spaces; and

WHEREAS, we know that several factors increase the risk for person-to-person COVID-19 transmission; such factors include (1) the more that people and groups interact, (2) the longer those interactions last, (3) the closer the contact between individuals, and (4) the denser the occupancy for indoor facilities; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Department of Health and the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention have provided health and safety guidance to reduce the risk of transmission of COVID- 19 generally and in specific sectors, environments, and settings, yet many individuals continue to disregard this guidance, and person-to-person interactions, including gatherings, have led to many infections and are a primary factor in the dangerous increase in COVID-19 cases and hospitalizations currently being experienced

in Washington; and

WHEREAS, to reduce the severe increases in COVID-19 cases and hospitalizations we are currently facing, and to reduce the increase in deaths from COVID-19 that likely will follow, it is necessary to immediately modify prior prohibitions and guidance, and to issue further guidance as it is developed; and

WHEREAS, COVID-19, caused by a virus that spreads easily from person to person which may result in serious illness or death and has been classified by the World Health Organization as a worldwide pandemic, has broadly spread throughout Washington State and remains a significant health risk to all of our people, especially among our most vulnerable populations; and

WHEREAS, the worldwide COVID-19 pandemic and its progression in Washington State continue to threaten the life and health of our people as well as the economy of Washington State, and remain a public disaster affecting life, health, property or the public peace; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Department of Health continues to maintain a Public Health Incident Management Team in coordination with the State Emergency Operations Center and other supporting state agencies to manage the public health aspects of the incident; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, through the State Emergency Operations Center, continues coordinating resources across state government to support the Department of Health and local health officials in alleviating the impacts to people, property, and infrastructure, and continues coordinating with the Department of Health in assessing the impacts and long-term effects of the incident on Washington State and its people; and

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Jay Inslee, Governor of the state of Washington, as a result of the above noted situation, and under Chapters 38.08, 38.52 and 43.06 RCW, do hereby proclaim and order that a State of Emergency continues to exist in all counties of Washington State, that Proclamation 20-05 and all amendments thereto remain in effect, and that, to help preserve and maintain life, health, property or the public peace pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(1)(h), Proclamations 20-25, et seq., renamed “Stay Safe – Stay Healthy” are amended to extend all of the prohibitions described herein until this order is amended or rescinded. Except as otherwise provided in this order, the Safe Start Washington Phased Reopening County-by-County Plan found here, the Order of the Secretary of Health 20-03.1, issued on July 24, 2020, found here, and all other provisions of Proclamations 20- 25, et seq., shall remain in full force and effect.

Outdoor singing, while participants wear face coverings, is permitted, so long as the activity otherwise complies with guidance specific to that activity.

FURTHERMORE, in collaboration with the Washington State Department of Health, in furtherance of the physical, mental, and economic well-being of all Washingtonians, I will continue to analyze the data and epidemiological modeling and adjust guidance accordingly.

ADDITIONALLY, as a reminder, a travel advisory for all non-essential travel, issued on November 13, 2020, remains in effect. That advisory provides the following guidance: (1) Persons arriving in Washington from other states or countries, including returning Washington residents, should self-quarantine for 14 days after arrival. These persons should limit their interactions to their immediate household; and (2) Washingtonians are encouraged to stay home or in their region and avoid non-essential travel to other states or countries.

ADDITIONALLY, in furtherance of these prohibitions and for general awareness:

I again direct that the plans and procedures of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan be implemented throughout state government. State agencies and departments are directed to continue utilizing state resources and doing everything reasonably possible to support implementation of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan and to assist affected political subdivisions in an effort to respond to and recover from the COVID-19 pandemic.

I continue to order into active state service the organized militia of Washington State to include the National Guard and the State Guard, or such part thereof as may be necessary in the opinion of The Adjutant General to address the circumstances described above, to perform such duties as directed by competent authority of the Washington State Military Department in addressing the outbreak. “HEALTHY WASHINGTON – ROADMAP TO RECOVERY”

WHEREAS, on February 29, 2020, I issued Proclamation 20-05, proclaiming a State of Emergency for all counties throughout the state of Washington as a result of the coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) outbreak in the United States and confirmed person-to-person spread of COVID-19 in Washington State; and

WHEREAS, as a result of the continued worldwide spread of COVID-19, its significant progression in Washington State, and the high risk it poses to our most vulnerable populations, I have subsequently issued several amendatory proclamations, exercising my emergency powers under RCW 43.06.220 by prohibiting certain activities and waiving and suspending specified laws and regulations; and

WHEREAS, I issued Proclamations 20-25, et seq., first entitled “Stay Home – Stay Healthy,” in which I initially prohibited all people in Washington State from leaving their homes except under certain circumstances, which I later amended to “Safe Start – Stay Healthy – County-By-County Phased Reopening,” gradually relaxing those limitations based on county-by-county phasing, and on November 16, 2020 again amended 20-25, et seq., to “Stay Safe – Stay Healthy – Rollback of County-By-County Phased Reopening Responding to a COVID-19 Outbreak Surge,” in response to a large surge of new cases of COVID-19, increased hospitalizations and ongoing COVID-19 related deaths in Washington State; and

WHEREAS, on July 2, 2020, due to the increased COVID-19 infection rates across the state, I ordered a freeze on all counties moving forward to a subsequent phase and on July 24, 2020, the Secretary of Health issued Order of the Secretary of Health 20-03.1, found here, which, among other things, requires (with exceptions) the use of face coverings throughout the state; and

WHEREAS, there is evidence that the virus is spread through very small droplets called aerosols that are expelled from our mouths when we breathe, talk, sing, vocalize, cough, or sneeze, that these aerosols linger in air, and that a significant risk factor for spreading the virus is prolonged, close contact with an infected person indoors, especially in poorly ventilated spaces; and

WHEREAS, we know that several factors increase the risk for person-to-person COVID-19 transmission; such factors include (1) the more that people and groups interact, (2) the longer those interactions last, (3) the closer the contact between individuals, and (4) the denser the occupancy for indoor facilities; and

WHEREAS, despite an increase in infections, hospitalizations, and deaths this fall and winter, Washington State has avoided overwhelming the state’s health care systems throughout this pandemic through rigorous safety and prevention measures, such as physical distancing and masking, as well as social and economic prohibitions; and

WHEREAS, a new and more contagious coronavirus variant, first identified in the United Kingdom and confirmed to now be in at least seven U.S. states and 33 countries, and a second new and more contagious coronavirus, first identified in South Africa, threaten to further strain our health care systems and therefore demand even more vigilance in our prevention measures; and

WHEREAS, now that two vaccines have been approved for use in the United States and efforts to vaccinate the most vulnerable populations are underway, it is appropriate to create a new roadmap to recovery that establishes the goal of safely easing some restrictions while also maintaining crucial hospital capacity, ensuring care for Washingtonians who need it, paving the way for economic recovery, and maintaining flexibility to quickly pivot to increase restrictions if needed; and

WHEREAS, achieving the goal that our health care systems are not overwhelmed during this pandemic is better and more appropriately served by shifting from a county-by-county approach to a regional approach that is substantially similar to existing emergency medical services regions; and

WHEREAS, the worldwide COVID-19 pandemic and its progression in Washington State continue to threaten the life and health of our people as well as the economy of Washington State, and remain a public disaster affecting life, health, property or the public peace; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Department of Health continues to maintain a Public Health Incident Management Team in coordination with the State Emergency Operations Center and other supporting state agencies to manage the public health aspects of the incident; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, through the State Emergency Operations Center, continues coordinating resources across state government to support the Department of Health and local health officials in alleviating the impacts to people, property, and infrastructure, and continues coordinating with the Department of Health in assessing the impacts and long-term effects of the incident on Washington State and its people; and

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Jay Inslee, Governor of the state of Washington, as a result of the above noted situation, and under Chapters 38.08, 38.52 and 43.06 RCW, do hereby proclaim and order that a State of Emergency continues to exist in all counties of Washington State, that Proclamation 20-05, as amended, remains in effect, and that, to help preserve and maintain life, health, property or the public peace pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(1)(h), Proclamation 20-25, et seq., remains in full force and effect, but is hereby amended to be renamed “Healthy Washington – Roadmap To Recovery.” This Healthy Washington – Roadmap To Recovery, found here, extends all of the prohibitions described in Proclamations 20-25, et seq., except as amended herein.

Any activities not specifically addressed in the Healthy Washington – Roadmap To Recovery plan are subject to previously issued guidance related to that activity as it applies to the region’s current or subsequent phase.

ADDITIONALLY, in furtherance of these prohibitions and for general awareness:

I again direct that the plans and procedures of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan be implemented throughout state government. State agencies and departments are directed to continue utilizing state resources and doing everything reasonably possible to support implementation of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan and to assist affected political subdivisions in an effort to respond to and recover from the COVID-19 pandemic.

Additionally, I continue to direct the Department of Health, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, and other agencies to identify and provide appropriate personnel for conducting necessary and ongoing incident related assessments.

Violators of this order may be subject to criminal penalties pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(5). WAIVER OF IN-PERSON ADMINISTRATION OF OATH OF OFFICE

WHEREAS, on February 29, 2020, I issued Proclamation 20-05, proclaiming a State of Emergency for all counties throughout the state of Washington as a result of the coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) outbreak in the United States and confirmed person-to-person spread of COVID-19 in Washington State; and

WHEREAS, as a result of the continued worldwide spread of COVID-19, its significant progression in Washington State, and the high risk it poses to our most vulnerable populations, I have subsequently issued several amendatory proclamations, exercising my emergency powers under RCW 43.06.220 by prohibiting certain activities and waiving and suspending specified laws and regulations; and

WHEREAS, the COVID-19 disease, caused by a virus that spreads easily from person to person which may result in serious illness or death and has been classified by the World Health Organization as a worldwide pandemic, continues to broadly spread throughout Washington State, significantly increasing the threat of serious associated health risks statewide; and

WHEREAS, there is evidence that the virus can be spread through very small droplets called aerosols that are expelled from our mouths when we breathe, talk, sing, vocalize, cough, or sneeze, that these aerosols linger in air, and that a significant risk factor for spreading the virus is prolonged, close contact with an infected person indoors, especially in poorly ventilated spaces; and

WHEREAS, I issued Proclamations 20-25, et seq., first entitled “Stay Home – Stay Healthy,” in which I initially prohibited all people in Washington State from leaving their homes except under certain circumstances, which I have subsequently amended based on changing COVID-19 activity and is now entitled “Healthy Washington” and contains a flexible, science-based matrix for determining the level of restrictions in place in Washington 39 counties based on level of COVID-19 activity; and

WHEREAS, to protect the health and welfare of state officials and employees and the general public, Washington agencies and officials courts have imposed numerous restrictions, including holding proceedings remotely, strictly observing social distancing measures, suspending many in-building operations, and promulgating emergency rules as necessary; and

WHEREAS, despite this guidance, COVID-19-related cases, hospitalizations and deaths have remained very high, putting our people, our health system, our economy, and our government operations and services in as dangerous a position as we faced in March 2020; and

WHEREAS, pursuant to RCW 43.01.020, before entering upon the duties of their respective offices, the nine state-wide elected officials referenced in this statute are required to swear or affirm an oath, which by statute shall be administered by one of the justices of the supreme court at the capitol; and

FURTHERMORE, based on the above situation and under the provisions of RCW 43.06.220(2)(g), I also find that strict compliance with RCW 43.01.020 will prevent, hinder, or delay the response to the COVID-19 pandemic State of Emergency under Proclamation 20-05, and therefore, RCW 43.01.020 is amended by waiving and suspending the language indicated by strikethrough below, and the language of the statutory provision specified below is hereby waived and suspended as provided herein until the end of the emergency or 11:59 p.m. on January 15, 2021, whichever is first:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Jay Inslee, Governor of the state of Washington, as a result of the above- noted situation, and under Chapters 38.08, 38.52 and 43.06 RCW, do hereby proclaim that a State of Emergency continues to exist in all counties of Washington State, that Proclamation 20-05 and all amendments thereto remain in effect, and that Proclamations 20-05 and 20-23, et seq., are amended to (1) recognize the extension of statutory waivers and suspensions therein by the Washington State Legislature until termination of the State of Emergency pursuant to RCW 43.06.210, or until rescinded, whichever occurs first, and (2) similarly extend the prohibitions therein until the termination of the State of Emergency or until rescinded, whichever occurs first.

I again direct that the plans and procedures of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan be implemented throughout state government. State agencies and departments are directed to continue utilizing state resources and doing everything reasonably possible to support implementation of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan and to assist affected political subdivisions in an effort to respond to and recover from the COVID-19 pandemic.

I continue to order into active state service the organized militia of Washington State to include the National Guard and the State Guard, or such part thereof as may be necessary in the opinion of The Adjutant General to address the circumstances described above, to perform such duties as directed by competent authority of the Washington State Military Department in addressing the outbreak. Additionally, I continue to direct the Washington State Department of Health, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, and other agencies to identify and provide appropriate personnel for conducting necessary and ongoing incident related assessments.

ACCORDINGLY, in recognition of the above findings, and to help preserve and maintain life, health, property or the public peace under RCW 43.06.220(1)(h), I prohibit all energy, telecommunications, and water providers in Washington State from conducting the following activities:

- (1) Disconnecting any residential customers from energy, telecommunications, or water service due to nonpayment on an active account, except at the request of the customer.
- (2) Refusing to reconnect any residential customer who has been disconnected due to nonpayment;
- (3) Charging fees for late payment or reconnection of energy, telecommunications, or water service; and
- (4) Disconnecting service to any residential customer who has contacted the utility to request assistance from the utility's COVID-19 Customer Support Program.

These prohibitions on disconnecting, refusing to reconnect, and charging late fees in this proclamation, as amended, are extended until termination of the COVID-19 State of Emergency or 11:59 p.m. on April 30, 2021, whichever comes first.

FURTHERMORE, it is the intent of this order to ensure that vulnerable populations and households retain access to essential services while they are experiencing financial hardship caused by layoffs, reduced hours, or other circumstances caused by the COVID-19 pandemic. Access to these services is critical to ensure the safety and health of our communities during this crisis. This order therefore acknowledges the role that the public and private utilities subject to this order play in protecting the health and well-being of our communities and families; and expresses gratitude for their voluntary efforts to support customers during this crisis.

ADDITIONALLY, I want to thank the vast majority of utility customers who have continued to pay what they can, as soon as they can, to help support the people and the systems that are supporting them through this crisis. The intent of Proclamation 20-23, et seq., is to provide relief to those individuals who have been impacted by the COVID-19 crisis. This Proclamation does not relieve customer from the obligation to pay for utility services. Customers and utilities are expected to continue to communicate in good faith with one another, and to work together, on the timing and terms of payment and repayment solutions. I strongly encourage utilities and customers to be as proactive as possible in this regard, in order to help avoid large arrearage balances and credit and collections issues.

MOREOVER, as additional federal funding may become available for utility bill assistance, I hereby direct the Office of Financial Management to allocate appropriate funding for this purpose.

Violators of this order may be subject to criminal penalties pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(5).

Public Records Act – Contact Tracing -- Personal Information

WHEREAS, on February 29, 2020, I issued Proclamation 20-05, proclaiming a State of Emergency for all counties throughout the state of Washington as a result of the coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) outbreak in the United States and confirmed person-to-person spread of COVID-19 in Washington State; and

WHEREAS, as a result of the continued worldwide spread of COVID-19, its significant progression in Washington State, and the high risk it poses to our most vulnerable populations, I have subsequently issued several amendatory proclamations, exercising my emergency powers under RCW 43.06.220 by prohibiting certain activities and waiving and suspending specified laws and regulations; and

WHEREAS, the COVID-19 disease, caused by a virus that spreads easily from person to person which may result in serious illness or death and has been classified by the World Health Organization as a worldwide pandemic, has broadly spread throughout Washington State, significantly increasing the threat of serious associated health risks statewide; and

WHEREAS, an effective response to the COVID-19 epidemic requires public health professionals and others working with them to interview those infected with COVID-19 and trace their close contacts in order to provide guidance to, quarantine, and test those individuals for infection to prevent further spread of the COVID-19 disease, and this must be done by collecting the names and personal information of these individuals; and

WHEREAS, the success of the response to the COVID-19 epidemic depends in large part on the free flow of information and individuals' willingness to share information and cooperate with public health authorities, which would be significantly hindered if this personal information was required to be disclosed to the general public; and

WHEREAS, under RCW 42.56.360(2) and RCW 70.02.050(2)(a), any health care information that health care providers are required to report to the government, including information about individuals with confirmed or suspected COVID-19, is plainly exempt from disclosure; and

WHEREAS, while there are specific express exemptions for other case investigation and contact tracing information, including RCW 70.02.220(7) and RCW 70.24.022(3), which specifically, and broadly, exempt all information gathered in the course of a contact investigation related to sexually transmitted diseases that are reported to public health agencies, there is no express exemption from disclosure for case investigation and contact tracing information generally; and

WHEREAS, while RCW 42.56.230(1) provides reasonable grounds for withholding from disclosure case investigation, contact tracing, and visitor and customer log information as personal information in files maintained for "patients or clients" of "public health agencies,” the courts have not interpreted the meaning of the term “client” or ruled on the application of this exemption to case investigation, contact tracing, or visitor, customer log, and employee log information, and the Public Records Act is liberally construed in favor of disclosure, and its exemptions are narrowly construed, to promote open government policies; and

WHEREAS, RCW 42.56.270(1), and, as an “other statute” in RCW 42.56.070(1), chapter 19.108 RCW, the Uniform Trade Secrets Act, provide reasonable grounds for withholding from disclosure visitor and customer log information that is collected by businesses and provided to a public health agency for contact tracing following a new case of infection as proprietary information and research data, the courts have not ruled on the application of these exemptions to visitor and customer log information, and the Public Records Act is liberally construed in favor of disclosure, and its exemptions are narrowly construed, to promote open government policies; and

WHEREAS, although the Public Records Act and related “other statutes” strongly suggest the intent to exempt the personally identifying information of persons contacted by COVID-19 case investigators and contact tracers, and also exempt visitor or customer log information that a business might share with contact tracers, whether this information is exempt remains uncertain in the absence of specific statutory definitions or exemptions; and

WHEREAS, while there are arguments that support the position that COVID-19 case investigation and contact tracing information, and the personally identifiable information that is gathered as a part of that work, is already exempt under the Public Records Act, ensuring the protection of a person’s personally identifiable information may determine whether that person will fully cooperate with COVID-19 case investigators and contact tracers; and

WHEREAS, under the provisions of RCW 43.06.220(4), the statutory waivers and suspensions of Proclamation 20-64, et seq., were extended by the leadership of the Washington State Senate and House of Representatives, and which I have acknowledged and similarly extended the prohibitions therein in subsequent sequentially-numbered proclamations; and

WHEREAS, on January 15, 2021, under the provisions of RCW 43.06.220(4), the statutory waivers and suspensions of Proclamation 20-49, et seq., were extended by Senate Concurrent Resolution 8402 until the termination of the state of emergency pursuant to RCW 43.06.210, or until rescinded, whichever occurs first; and

WHEREAS, the worldwide COVID-19 pandemic and its progression in Washington State continue to threaten the life and health of our people as well as the economy of Washington State, and remain a public disaster affecting life, health, property or the public peace; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Department of Health continues to maintain a Public Health Incident Management Team in coordination with the State Emergency Operations Center and other supporting state agencies to manage the public health aspects of the incident; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, through the State Emergency Operations Center, continues coordinating resources across state government to support the Department of Health and local health officials in alleviating the impacts to people, property, and infrastructure, and continues coordinating with the Department of Health in assessing the impacts and long-term effects of the incident on Washington State and its people.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Jay Inslee, Governor of the state of Washington, as a result of the above-noted situation, and under RCW 38.08, 38.52 and 43.06, do hereby proclaim that a State of Emergency continues to exist in all counties of Washington State, that Proclamation 20-05 and all amendments thereto remain in effect as otherwise amended, and that Proclamations 20-05 and 20-64, et seq., are amended to (1) continue to recognize the extension of statutory waivers and suspensions therein by the Washington State Legislature until the termination of the COVID-19 State of Emergency or until rescinded, whichever occurs first, and (2) similarly extend the prohibitions therein until termination of the COVID-19 State of Emergency or until rescinded, whichever occurs first.

I again direct that the plans and procedures of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan be implemented throughout state government. State agencies and departments are directed to continue utilizing state resources and doing everything reasonably possible to support implementation of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan and to assist affected political subdivisions in an effort to respond to and recover from the COVID-19 pandemic.

Long Term Care – Workers, Facilities, and Resources

WHEREAS, on February 29, 2020, I issued Proclamation 20-05, proclaiming a State of Emergency for all counties throughout the state of Washington as a result of the coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) outbreak in the United States and confirmed person-to-person spread of COVID-19 in Washington State; and

WHEREAS, as a result of the continued worldwide spread of COVID-19, its significant progression in Washington State, and the high risk it poses to our most vulnerable populations, I have subsequently issued several amendatory proclamations, exercising my emergency powers under RCW 43.06.220 by prohibiting certain activities and waiving and suspending specified laws and regulations; and

WHEREAS, the COVID-19 disease, caused by a virus that spreads easily from person to person which may result in serious illness or death and has been classified by the World Health Organization as a worldwide pandemic, has broadly spread throughout Washington State and remains a significant health risk to all of our people, especially members of our most vulnerable populations; and

WHEREAS, the worldwide COVID-19 pandemic and its progression in Washington State continue to threaten the life and health of our people as well as the economy of Washington State, and remain a public disaster affecting life, health, property or the public peace; and

WHEREAS, there is an increased risk of rapid spread of COVID-19 among persons who live and work in congregate settings, and many residents and workers at long-term care facilities are at increased risk for severe COVID-19; and

WHEREAS, to mitigate the increased risk of rapid spread of COVID-19 among residents and workers, congregate living facilities have increased physical distancing protocols, heightened screening upon entrance and exit, instituted more intensive cleaning protocols, and taken a variety of other measures; and

WHEREAS, the measures taken in congregate settings to respond to the COVID-19 pandemic have resulted in unprecedented demands on the resources and caregivers necessary to provide essential services in Washington State’s congregate living facilities; and

WHEREAS, as an added challenge to meeting the resource and workforce needs of our congregate living facilities, the outbreak of COVID-19 has significantly reduced the availability of long-term care workers in the state in recent weeks; and

WHEREAS, long-term care workers are required to complete specific training, testing and certification requirements by dates certain, yet necessary class offerings, testing opportunities, and certification processing have been disrupted and cancelled because of the COVID-19 pandemic, exacerbating the long-term care worker shortage throughout Washington State; and

WHEREAS, due to physical distancing and group size requirements, training class sizes held during early phases of reopening must be smaller, and it will take significant time for workers to receive training and testing to fully meet licensing and certification requirements and resume their positions with long-term care facilities or as individual providers to clients in the community; and

WHEREAS, if the existing waivers for fingerprint background check requirements for Adult Family Homes, Assisted Living Facilities, Enhanced Services Facilities, and in-home providers are not extended, staff who have been or are unable to obtain fingerprint background checks as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic cannot provide services while they wait for fingerprint test sites to become fully operational and address the backlog of customers; and

WHEREAS, long-term care facilities are required to meet specific construction reviews, at times, certificate of need requirements, and inspections by dates certain or at specified intervals, yet necessary personnel and resources to process those requirements are unavailable or cannot be utilized due to restrictions implemented in response to the COVID-19 pandemic; and

WHEREAS, restrictions and staff shortages related to the COVID-19 pandemic, to include possible quarantine of residential long-term care facilities such as nursing homes, may hinder safe reviews, certificate issuance, and inspection and survey activities; and

WHEREAS, to maintain availability of facilities, staffing, and resources in our congregate living system at levels necessary to safely provide essential services during the current COVID-19 pandemic, agencies and other entities operating congregate living facilities have utilized a variety of interim licenses, waiver of certain certification, inspection, administrative requirements, and other programs that are temporary in nature; and

WHEREAS, to prevent expiration of these temporary programs and the resulting loss of necessary facilities, staffing, and resources, I previously issued Proclamations 20-06, 20-10, 20-16, 20-17, 20-18, 20-37, et. seq., 20-38, et seq., and 20-52, et seq., waiving and suspending specified statutes and rules relating to facilities, staffing, and resources at congregate living and care facilities and other related subjects; and

WHEREAS, because the waivers, suspensions and prohibitions contained in Proclamations 20-10, 20-18, 20-37, et seq., 20-38, et seq., and 20-52, et seq., address a variety of topics some of which are also addressed by other proclamations, orders and guidance documents, I issued Proclamations 20-65, 20-66, and 20-74 dividing some of the waivers, suspensions and prohibitions into their topical areas and cross-reference applicable orders and guidance documents, to assist in the understanding, administration and implementation of those waivers, suspensions and prohibitions; and

WHEREAS, under the provisions of RCW 43.06.220(4), the statutory waivers and suspensions contained in Proclamations 20-10, 20-18, 20-37 et seq., 20-38 et seq., and 20-52 et seq., had been periodically extended with certain modifications, by the leadership of the Washington State Senate and House of Representatives until the termination of the COVID-19 State of Emergency, and which I acknowledged and similarly extended the prohibitions and the waiver and suspension of rules therein with certain modifications in subsequent proclamations; and

WHEREAS, under the provisions of RCW 43.06.220(4), the statutory waivers and suspensions in Proclamation 20-65, et seq., including all of the prior proclamations' statutory waivers and suspensions contained therein, except numbered paragraph 30 (at my request), were extended by the leadership of the Washington State Senate and House of Representatives, and which I acknowledged and similarly extended the prohibitions and the waiver and suspension of rules therein in subsequent proclamations; and

WHEREAS, on January 15, 2021, under the provisions of RCW 43.06.220(4), the statutory waivers and suspensions of Proclamation 20-65, et seq., were extended by Senate Concurrent Resolution 8402 until the termination of the state of emergency pursuant to RCW 43.06.210, or until rescinded, whichever occurs first; and

WHEREAS, to fully extend Proclamation 20-65, et seq., it is also necessary for me to extend the prohibitions and the waiver and suspension of rules provided therein; and

AMENDING PROCLAMATIONS 20-05 AND 20-84

Delaying Repeal of RCW 26.10

WHEREAS, on February 29, 2020, I issued Proclamation 20-05, proclaiming a State of Emergency for all counties throughout Washington State as a result of the coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) outbreak in the United States and confirmed person-to-person spread of COVID-19 in Washington State; and

WHEREAS, as a result of the continued worldwide spread of COVID-19, its significant progression in Washington State, and the high risk it poses to our most vulnerable populations, I have subsequently issued several amendatory proclamations, exercising my emergency powers under RCW 43.06.220 by prohibiting certain activities and waiving and suspending specified laws and regulations; and

WHEREAS, the COVID-19 disease, caused by a virus that spreads easily from person to person which may result in serious illness or death and has been classified by the World Health Organization as a worldwide pandemic, continues to broadly spread throughout Washington State, significantly increasing the threat of serious associated health risks statewide; and

WHEREAS, I issued Proclamations 20-25, et seq., first entitled “Stay Home – Stay Healthy,” in which I initially prohibited all people in Washington State from leaving their homes except under certain circumstances, which I later amended to “Safe Start – Stay Healthy” County-By-County Phased Reopening, gradually relaxing those limitations based on county-by-county phasing, and on November 16, 2020, again amended 20-25, et seq., to “Stay Safe – Stay Healthy – Rollback of County-By-County Phased Reopening Responding to a COVID-19 Outbreak Surge,” in response to a large surge of new cases of COVID-19, increased hospitalizations and ongoing COVID-19 related deaths in Washington State; and

WHEREAS, despite this guidance, COVID-19-related cases, hospitalizations and deaths have remained very high, putting our people, our health system, and our economy in as dangerous a position as we faced in March 2020; and

WHEREAS, the social distancing required in Proclamation 20-25 et seq., limited court access ordered by the judiciary, directives from public health authorities, and other restrictions issued in response to the COVID-19 pandemic, make access to Washington State Courts extremely limited; and

WHEREAS, pursuant to the Washington State Supreme Court’s prior orders, many Washington courts have taken important steps to protect public health while ensuring continued access to justice and essential court services, by strictly observing social distancing measures, holding proceedings remotely, suspending many in-building operations, and, among other things, promulgating emergency rules as necessary; and

WHEREAS, despite extraordinary efforts, Washington State Superior Courts face a substantial and long- term backlog of cases. In August 2020, Superior Courts: (1) completed 3,014 civil cases as compared to 6,038 at the same time last year; (2) completed 1,969 criminal cases as compared to 2,940 at the same time last year; and (3) sentenced 1,141 defendants as compared to 2,048 defendants at the same time last year; and

WHEREAS, superior courts are diligently working to maintain essential court functions and move toward greater capacity while protecting the health of staff, lawyers, litigants, jurors, and the public; and

WHEREAS, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill 6287, Section 905 (Chapter 312, Laws of 2020), repeals RCW 26.10 – relating to third party custody of minors, and Section 907 delays implementation of the repeal to January 1, 2021; and

WHEREAS, a waiver and suspension of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill 6287, Section 905 (Chapter 312, Laws of 2020) and a portion of Section 907, to further delay to the repeal of RCW 26.10, will give the courts adequate time to transition cases filed before January 1, 2021 under RCW 26.10 to minor guardianships under new RCW 11.130, without which superior courts would be required to reconsider all pending third-party custody cases under the new law, essentially requiring such cases to start anew, delaying a permanent placement for the affected minors, further straining the capacity of the courts, and adding to the ever-mounting backlog; and

WHEREAS, in response to the COVID-19 emergency, on December 30, 2020, I issued 20-84, which waived Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill 6287, Section 905 (Chapter 312, Laws of 2020), and parts of Section 907. I also prohibited anyone from filing new third party custody cases pursuant to RCW 26.10 after 12:01AM on January 1, 2021; and

WHEREAS, on January 15, 2021, under the provisions of RCW 43.06.220(4), the statutory waivers and suspensions of Proclamations 20-84, were extended by Senate Concurrent Resolution 8402 until the termination of the state of emergency pursuant to RCW 43.06.210, or until rescinded, whichever occurs first; and

WHEREAS, the worldwide COVID-19 pandemic and its progression in Washington State continue to threaten the life and health of our people as well as the economy of Washington State, and remain a public disaster affecting life, health, property or the public peace; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Department of Health continues to maintain a Public Health Incident Management Team in coordination with the State Emergency Operations Center and other supporting state agencies to manage the public health aspects of the incident; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, through the State Emergency Operations Center, continues coordinating resources across state government to support the Department of Health and local health officials in alleviating the impacts to people, property, and infrastructure, and continues coordinating with the Department of Health in assessing the impacts and long- term effects of the incident on Washington State and its people.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Jay Inslee, Governor of the state of Washington, as a result of the above-noted situation, and under Chapters 38.08, 38.52 and 43.06 RCW, do hereby proclaim that a State of Emergency continues to exist in all counties of Washington State, that Proclamation 20-05, as amended, remains in effect, and that Proclamation 20-84, is amended to (1) recognize the extensions of statutory waivers and suspensions by the legislature therein until the termination of the state of emergency pursuant to RCW 43.06.210, or until rescinded, whichever occurs first and (2) similarly extend the prohibitions therein until the termination of the COVID-19 State of Emergency, or until rescinded, whichever occurs first.

I again direct that the plans and procedures of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan be implemented throughout state government. State agencies and departments are directed to continue utilizing state resources and doing everything reasonably possible to support implementation of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan and to assist affected political subdivisions in an effort to respond to and recover from the COVID-19 pandemic.

I continue to order into active state service the organized militia of Washington State to include the National Guard and the State Guard, or such part thereof as may be necessary in the opinion of The Adjutant General to address the circumstances described above, to perform such duties as directed by competent authority of the Washington State Military Department in addressing the outbreak. Additionally, I continue to direct the Department of Health, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, and other agencies to identify and provide appropriate personnel for conducting necessary and ongoing incident related assessments.

Violators of this of this order may be subject to criminal penalties pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(5).

EXTENDED ELIGIBILITY FOR FOSTER CARE SERVICES

WHEREAS, on February 29, 2020, I issued Proclamation 20-05, proclaiming a State of Emergency for all counties throughout the state of Washington as a result of the coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) outbreak in the United States and confirmed person-to-person spread of COVID-19 in Washington State; and

WHEREAS, as a result of the continued worldwide spread of COVID-19, its significant progression in Washington State, and the high risk it poses to our most vulnerable populations, I have subsequently issued several amendatory proclamations, exercising my emergency powers under RCW 43.06.220 by prohibiting certain activities and waiving and suspending specified laws and regulations; and

or death and has been classified by the World Health Organization as a worldwide pandemic, continues to broadly spread throughout Washington State, significantly increasing the threat of serious associated health risks statewide; and

WHEREAS, I issued Proclamations 20-25, et seq., first entitled “Stay Home – Stay Healthy,” in which I initially prohibited all people in Washington State from leaving their homes except under certain circumstances, which I subsequently amended based on changing COVID-19 activity in Washington and is now entitled “Healthy Washington” and enacts a flexible, science-based matrix based on COVID-19 activity to set appropriate restrictions for Washington’s counties; and

WHEREAS, the Department of Children, Youth and Families provides foster care services to Washington state children and youth; and

WHEREAS, under current law, upon reaching their 21st birthday, Washington children and youth are no longer eligible for foster care services; and

WHEREAS, in response to the ongoing effects of the COVID-19 pandemic, on December 27, 2020, the federal Consolidated Appropriations Act, 2021, was enacted, which (among other things) forbids states from refusing foster care services to persons who during the COVID-19 pandemic either have or will become too old to be eligible for such services, and eliminates certain additional eligibility requirements for foster care services; and

WHEREAS, to align with federal law and ensure Washington’s foster care services can be provided during the COVID-19 pandemic to persons who would otherwise be too old to be eligible for such services and to eliminate certain eligibility requirements for foster care services, while ensuring that appropriate age limitations continue to apply, the state must waive statutory provisions related to eligibility for foster care services and enact prohibitions related to foster care services eligibility; and

WHEREAS, the worldwide COVID-19 pandemic and its progression in Washington State continue to threaten the life and health of our people as well as the economy of Washington State, and remain a public disaster affecting life, health, property or the public peace; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Department of Health continues to maintain a Public Health Incident Management Team in coordination with the State Emergency Operations Center and other supporting state agencies to manage the public health aspects of the incident; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, through the State Emergency Operations Center, continues coordinating resources across state government to support the Washington State Department of Health and local health officials in alleviating the impacts to people, property, and infrastructure, and continues coordinating with the Department of Health in assessing the impacts and long-term effects of the incident on Washington State and its people.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Jay Inslee, Governor of the state of Washington, as a result of the above-noted situation, and under Chapters 38.08, 38.52 and 43.06 RCW, do hereby proclaim that a State of Emergency continues to exist in all counties of Washington State, that Proclamation 20-05 and all amendments thereto remain in effect, and that Proclamation 20-05 is amended by waiving and suspending statutory language indicated by strikethrough below that serves to restrict continued or renewed eligibility for foster care services to persons who have turned or will turn 21 years old during the COVID-19 pandemic emergency, while simultaneously enacting prohibitions that will retain appropriate age-based restrictions on eligibility for foster care services.

FURTHERMORE, based on the above situation and under the provisions of RCW 43.06.220(2)(g), I also find that strict compliance with the statutes listed below will prevent, hinder, or delay the response to the COVID-19 pandemic State of Emergency under Proclamation 20-05, and therefore, those statutory provisions listed below are amended by waiving and suspending the language indicated by strikethrough.

RCW 13.34.030 (waiver and suspension indicated by strikethrough):

- (2) "Child," "juvenile," and "youth" mean:
 - (a) Any individual under the age of eighteen years; or

- ...
- (16) "Nonminor dependent" means any individual age eighteen to twenty- one years who is participating in extended foster care services authorized under RCW 74.13.031.

RCW 13.34.267 (waiver and suspension indicated by strikethrough):

- ~~(a)~~ Enrolled in a secondary education program or a secondary education equivalency program;

RCW 13.34.268 (waiver and suspension indicated by strikethrough):

(1)(a) If a youth prior to reaching age twenty-one years requests extended foster care services from the department pursuant to RCW 74.13.336, and the department declines to enter into a voluntary placement agreement with the youth, the department must provide written documentation to the youth which contains:

- (b) To be eligible for extended foster care services, the nonminor dependent must have been dependent at the time that he or she reached age eighteen years. If the dependency case of the nonminor dependent was dismissed pursuant to RCW 13.34.267, he or she may receive extended foster care services pursuant to a voluntary placement agreement under RCW 74.13.336 or pursuant to an order of dependency issued by the court under RCW 13.34.268. A nonminor dependent whose dependency case was dismissed by the court may request extended foster care services before reaching age twenty-one years. Eligible nonminor dependents may unenroll and reenroll in extended foster care through a voluntary placement agreement an unlimited number of times between ages eighteen and twenty-one.
- (c) The department shall develop and implement rules regarding youth eligibility requirements.
- (d) The department shall make efforts to ensure that extended foster care services maximize medicaid reimbursements. - (1) A youth who has reached age eighteen years may request extended foster care services authorized under RCW 74.13.031 at any time before he or she reaches the age of twenty-one years if:
- (a) The dependency proceeding of the youth was dismissed pursuant to RCW 13.34.267(4) at the time that he or she reached age eighteen years; or
 - (b) The court, after holding the dependency case open pursuant to RCW 13.34.267(1), has dismissed the case because the youth became ineligible for extended foster care services.

FURTHERMORE, based on the above noted situation and under the provisions of RCW 43.06.220(1)(h), and to help preserve and maintain life, health, property or the public peace by retaining appropriate age-based restrictions on persons receiving foster care, I hereby prohibit persons who turned 21 years of age prior to April 1, 2020, from receiving foster care services from agencies of the State of Washington, except where federal law requires otherwise.

I again direct that the plans and procedures of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan be implemented throughout State government. State agencies and departments are directed to continue utilizing state resources and doing everything reasonably possible to support implementation of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan and to assist affected political subdivisions in an effort to respond to and recover from the COVID-19 pandemic.

I continue to order into active state service the organized militia of Washington State to include the National Guard and the State Guard, or such part thereof as may be necessary in the opinion of The Adjutant General to address the circumstances described above, to perform such duties as directed by competent authority of the Washington State Military Department in addressing the outbreak. Additionally, I continue to direct the Washington State Department of Health, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, and other agencies to identify and provide appropriate personnel for conducting necessary and ongoing incident related assessments.

Violators of this order may be subject to criminal penalties pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(5).

Unless extended or amended, the statutory waivers and suspensions and the prohibitions in this proclamation shall be in effect immediately and shall be in effect until February 28, 2021.

AMENDING PROCLAMATIONS 20-05 AND 20-83

WHEREAS, on February 29, 2020, I issued Proclamation 20-05, proclaiming a State of Emergency for all counties throughout the state of Washington as a result of the coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) outbreak in the United States and confirmed person-to-person spread of COVID-19 in Washington State; and

WHEREAS, as a result of the continued worldwide spread of COVID-19, its significant progression in Washington State, and the high risk it poses to our most vulnerable populations, I have subsequently issued several amendatory proclamations, exercising my emergency powers under RCW 43.06.220 by prohibiting certain activities and waiving and suspending specified laws and regulations; and

WHEREAS, I issued Proclamations 20-25, et seq., first entitled “Stay Home – Stay Healthy,” in which I initially prohibited all people in Washington State from leaving their homes except under certain circumstances, which I subsequently amended based on changing COVID-19 activity in Washington. That order is now entitled “Healthy Washington – Roadmap to Recovery” and enacts a flexible, science-based matrix based on COVID-19 activity to set appropriate restrictions for Washington’s counties; and

WHEREAS, although COVID-19-related cases, hospitalizations and deaths have consistently declined since early January 2021, health experts advise that these declines should not induce complacency in non-pharmaceutical interventions because significant cause for concern continues due to the emergence and exponential growth of COVID-19 variants, including but not limited to the B.1.1.7 variant; and

WHEREAS, there is evidence that the virus can be spread through very small droplets called aerosols that are expelled from our mouths when we breathe, talk, sing, vocalize, cough, or sneeze, that these aerosols linger in air, and that a significant risk factor for spreading the virus is prolonged, close contact with an infected person indoors, especially in poorly ventilated spaces; and

WHEREAS, several factors increase the risk for person-to-person COVID-19 transmission; such factors include (1) the more that people and groups interact, (2) the longer those interactions last, (3) the closer the contact between individuals, and (4) the denser the occupancy for indoor facilities; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Department of Health and the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) have provided health and safety guidance to reduce the risk of transmission of COVID-19 generally and in specific sectors, environments, and settings, yet many individuals continue to disregard this guidance, and person-to-person interactions, including gatherings, have led to many infections and are a significant factor in the new COVID-19 cases and hospitalizations currently being experienced in Washington; and

WHEREAS, new variants of COVID-19 (SARS-CoV-2 virus, 501Y.V) have been identified in the United Kingdom, South Africa and other countries, which may be more transmissible than other variants; and

WHEREAS, in January 2021, evidence of a potentially fast-spreading strain of the coronavirus known as B.1.1.7 was found in Washington State, and in February 2021, evidence of the B.1.351 variant was also found in Washington; and

WHEREAS, on January 12, 2021, the CDC issued an order establishing new travel requirements for all air passengers coming to the United States, including U.S. citizens, which, among other things, requires that all passengers obtain a negative COVID-19 test result or documentation of recovery from COVID-19 before boarding a flight to the United States, and the order further requires that all travelers wear a face covering on planes, buses, trains, and other forms of public transportation traveling into, within, or out of the United States and in U.S. transportation hubs such as airports and stations; and

WHEREAS, COVID-19, caused by a virus that spreads easily from person to person which may result in serious illness or death and has been classified by the World Health Organization as a worldwide pandemic, has broadly spread throughout Washington State and remains a significant health risk to all of our people, especially among our most vulnerable populations; and

WHEREAS, the worldwide COVID-19 pandemic and its progression in Washington State continue to threaten the life and health of our people as well as the economy of Washington State, and remain a public disaster affecting life, health, property or the public peace; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Department of Health continues to maintain a Public Health Incident Management Team in coordination with the State Emergency Operations Center and other supporting state agencies to manage the public health aspects of the incident; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, through the State Emergency Operations Center, continues coordinating resources across state government to support the Department of Health and local health officials in alleviating the impacts to people, property, and infrastructure, and continues coordinating with the Department of Health in assessing the impacts and long- term effects of the incident on Washington State and its people; and

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Jay Inslee, Governor of the state of Washington, as a result of the above noted situation, and under Chapters 38.08, 38.52 and 43.06 RCW, do hereby proclaim and order that a State of Emergency continues to exist in all counties of Washington State, that Proclamation 20-05 and all amendments thereto remain in effect, and that, to help preserve and maintain life, health, property or the public peace, pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(1)(h), I amend Proclamations 20- 05 and 20-83 to prohibit travel to the State of Washington as set out below.

ACCORDINGLY, pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(1)(h), I hereby prohibit any individual from traveling by air from any location outside of the United States to Washington state, directly or indirectly, unless that individual complies with the requirements established by the CDC that can be found at this website. Individuals exempted from the CDC requirements are also exempt from this proclamation.

FURTHERMORE, in collaboration with the Washington State Department of Health, in furtherance of the physical, mental, and economic well-being of all Washingtonians, I will continue to analyze the data and epidemiological modeling and adjust guidance accordingly.

ADDITIONALLY, as a reminder, a travel advisory for all non-essential travel, issued on November 13, 2020, remains in effect. That advisory provides the following guidance:

1. Persons arriving in Washington from other states or countries, including returning Washington residents, should self-quarantine for 14 days after arrival. These persons should limit their interactions to their immediate household; and
2. Washingtonians are encouraged to stay home or in their region and avoid non-essential travel to other states or countries.

ADDITIONALLY, in furtherance of these prohibitions and for general awareness:

1. Order of the Secretary of Health 20-03.1, issued on July 24, 2020, is incorporated by reference, and as amended.
2. Employers must comply with all conditions for operation required by the state Department of Labor & Industries, including interpretive guidance, regulations and rules such as WAC 296-800-14035, and Department of Labor & Industries- administered statutes.
3. Everyone is required to cooperate with public health authorities in the investigation of cases, suspected cases, outbreaks, and suspected outbreaks of COVID-19 and with the implementation of infection control measures pursuant to State Board of Health rule in WAC 246-101-425.
4. Guidelines for other travel may be found at the CDC's website.

I again direct that the plans and procedures of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan be implemented throughout state government. State agencies and departments are directed to continue utilizing state resources and doing everything reasonably possible to support implementation of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan and to assist affected political subdivisions in an effort to respond to and recover from the COVID-19 pandemic.

I continue to order into active state service the organized militia of Washington State to include the National Guard and the State Guard, or such part thereof as may be necessary in the opinion of The Adjutant General to address the circumstances described above, to perform such duties as directed by competent authority of the Washington State Military Department in addressing the outbreak. Additionally, I continue to direct the Department of Health, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, and other agencies to identify and provide appropriate personnel for conducting necessary and ongoing incident related assessments.

Violators of this order may be subject to criminal penalties pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(5).

Further, if people fail to comply with the required social distancing and other protective measures while engaging in this phased reopening, I may be forced to reinstate the prohibitions established in earlier proclamations.

Unless extended or amended, this proclamation will continue to be in effect until the state of emergency, issued on February 29, 2020, pursuant to Proclamation 20-05, is rescinded.

Signed and sealed with the official seal of the state of Washington on this 1st day of March, A.D., Two Thousand and Twenty-One at Olympia, Washington.

AMENDING AND EXTENDING PROCLAMATION 20-05

EFSEC Informational Public Hearings

WHEREAS, on February 29, 2020, I issued Proclamation 20-05, proclaiming a State of Emergency for all counties throughout the state of Washington as a result of the coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) outbreak in the United States and confirmed person-

to-person spread of COVID-19 in Washington State; and

WHEREAS, as a result of the continued worldwide spread of COVID-19, its significant progression in Washington State, and the high risk it poses to our most vulnerable populations, I have subsequently issued several amendatory proclamations, exercising my emergency powers under RCW 43.06.220 by prohibiting certain activities and waiving and suspending specified laws and regulations; and

WHEREAS, I issued Proclamation 20-25, et seq., first entitled “Stay Home – Stay Healthy,” in which I initially prohibited all people in Washington State from leaving their homes except under certain circumstances; and, I subsequently amended that order based on changing COVID-19 activity in Washington, and it is now entitled “Healthy Washington,” and enacts a flexible, science-based matrix based on COVID-19 activity to set appropriate restrictions for Washington’s counties; and

WHEREAS, to ensure open government and enable public meetings to occur while maintaining the social distancing and limitations on in-person interactions necessary to curtail the spread of COVID-19, I issued Proclamation 20-28, et seq., prohibiting most in-person meetings and waiving and suspending laws and rules concerning RCW 42.30, the Open Public Meetings Act, that hindered conducting public meetings remotely; and

WHEREAS, the Energy Facility Site Evaluation Council (EFSEC) is responsible for reviewing applications to certify the siting of certain energy facilities in Washington, and under the requirements at RCW 80.50.090(1) and WAC 463-26-025(3), EFSEC must hold certain informational public hearings in the general proximity of a proposed project; and

WHEREAS, consistent with Proclamation 20-28, et seq., it is necessary to waive certain statutory and rule provisions relating to EFSEC’s informational public hearings involving the siting of energy facilities in Washington to allow them to occur remotely to maintain the social distancing and limitations on in-person interactions necessary to curtail the spread of COVID-19, while encouraging broader public observation and robust public comment opportunities from the comfort and safety of one’s home; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, through the State Emergency Operations Center, continues coordinating resources across state government to address the impacts and long-term effects of the emergencies on Washington State and its people.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Jay Inslee, Governor of the state of Washington, as a result of the above-noted situations, and under RCW 38.08, 38.52, and 43.06, do hereby proclaim that a State of Emergency continues to exist in all counties of Washington State, that Proclamation 20-05 and all amendments remain in effect and is hereby amended to waive statutory and rule provisions requiring public informational hearings to be held in a particular location to allow for appropriate social distancing necessary to avoid the further spread of COVID-19.

I again direct that the plans and procedures of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan be implemented throughout state government. State agencies and departments are directed to continue utilizing state resources and doing everything reasonably possible to support implementation of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan and to assist affected political subdivisions in an effort to respond to and recover from the COVID-19 pandemic.

I continue to order into active state service the organized militia of Washington State to include the National Guard and the State Guard, or such part thereof as may be necessary in the opinion of The Adjutant General to address the circumstances described above, to perform such duties as directed by competent authority of the Washington State Military Department in addressing the outbreak. Additionally, I continue to direct the Department of Health, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, and other agencies to identify and provide appropriate personnel for conducting necessary and ongoing incident related assessments.

FURTHERMORE, based on the above noted situation and under the provisions of RCW 43.06.220(2)(g), I continue to find that strict compliance with the following portions of statutory and regulatory obligations or limitations will prevent, hinder, or delay necessary action to cope with the COVID-19 State of Emergency by bringing people in contact with one another at a time when the original virus strain and variant strains continue to spread, and that the language of each statutory provision specified below is hereby waived and suspended:

- RCW 80.50.090(1)– only the following words as struck below:
“The council shall conduct an informational public hearing in the county of the proposed site as soon as practicable but not later than sixty days after receipt of an application for site certification. However, the place of such public hearing shall be as close as practical to the proposed site.”
- WAC 463-26-025(3)– only the following words as struck below:

“The informational meeting shall be held in the general proximity of the proposed project as soon as practicable within sixty days after receipt of an application for site certification.”

FURTHERMORE, based on the above situation and under the provisions of RCW 43.06.220(1)(h), I find that to help preserve and maintain life, health, property or the public peace, I hereby amend Proclamation 20-05, to prohibit the Energy Facility Site Evaluation Council as follows:

from conducting the informational public hearing required by RCW 80.50.090(1) unless (a) the meeting is not conducted in-person and instead provides an option(s) and notice of the option(s) for the public to attend and provide input to the proceedings through, at minimum, telephonic access, and may also include other electronic, internet or other means of remote access, and (b) provides the ability for all persons attending the meeting to hear each other at the same time.

The statutory and rule waivers and prohibitions contained in this proclamation shall take effect on March 12, 2021 and terminate on April 11, 2021, unless further extended.

Violators of this order may be subject to criminal penalties pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(5).

EMERGENCY PROCLAMATION OF THE GOVERNOR

Children and Youth Mental Health Crisis

WHEREAS, on February 29, 2020, I proclaimed a State of Emergency for all counties throughout Washington State as a result of the coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) outbreak in the United States and confirmed person-to-person spread of COVID-19 in Washington State as a result of the continued worldwide spread of COVID-19, its significant progression in Washington State, and the high risk it poses to our most vulnerable populations; and

WHEREAS, I issued many amendatory proclamations, exercising my emergency powers under RCW 43.06.220 by prohibiting certain activities and waiving and suspending specified laws and regulations, including prohibiting most schools from conducting in-person educational, recreational, and other K-12 school programs using school facilities, as well as certain student educational and outreach services; and

WHEREAS, closing school facilities contributed to Washington’s efforts to minimize the spread and impact of COVID-19, but the closure of schools has also been stressful for many Washingtonians, particularly for many children and youth; and for many Washington children, it is feared that the lack of in-person learning and other school-based supports may result in gaps in students’ learning and development that may last a lifetime; and

WHEREAS, the United States Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) noted that schools provide numerous benefits beyond education, including school meal programs and social, physical, behavioral, and mental health services, and because of their critical role for all children and the disproportionate impact that school closures can have on those with low incomes, K-12 schools should be the last settings to close after all other COVID-19 mitigation measures have been employed and the first to reopen when they can do so safely; and

WHEREAS, hospitals and health professionals who specialize in the treatment of children indicate that many of Washington’s children and youth are experiencing a significant mental and behavioral health crisis as a result of the ongoing pandemic, which has been exacerbated by continued isolation, difficulty engaging with virtual learning, and lack of regular in-person interaction with educators, school personnel, mentors and peers; and

WHEREAS, early school-age children are at a critical juncture for social and emotional learning, such as formation of positive relationships, peer interaction, self-awareness and self-management, development of social skills, and decision-making, and these domains are essential for school success but are not readily learned in the absence of in-person interaction; and

WHEREAS, pediatric physicians have recently observed the following:

- Since the physical closure of schools, pediatricians are seeing a significant increase in youth with eating disorders, anxiety, mood disorders, and depression with suicidal thoughts or self-harm behaviors; and

- Most families experience long wait times and limited access to mental health services; and
- LGBTQ2+ youth have specific challenges navigating limited social support when affirmation and support is particularly important, resulting in sleep disturbances, decreased physical activity leading to unhealthy weight gain, and abuse of substances; and
- A significant number of previously stable youth have experienced now-onset or exacerbated eating disorders, depression, or anxiety, with some requiring increased use of medications, hospitalization, or other higher levels of care; and
- Children are experiencing a significant sense of isolation and loss, which is negatively impacting their learning and grades; and
- Although we have, for the time being, averted the crisis of overwhelming hospital capacity related to COVID-19 cases, we are in the midst of another crisis related to the mental health of many of our children; and

WHEREAS, at nearly every data point, Sacred Heart Children’s Hospital in Spokane has reported a substantial increase in pediatric patients with behavioral health diagnoses as a primary concern during COVID-19, despite the general tendency to avoid health care settings to avoid exposure to COVID-19, including the following:

- Acute care admissions to its Inpatient Adolescent Psychiatric Unit increased 73% in 2020 as compared to 2019, and
- Acute care admissions to its General Pediatric Floor for behavioral health issues increased 68% in 2020 compared to 2019; and

WHEREAS, Seattle Children’s Hospital has reported that:

- The Psychiatric Unit is currently the most over-capacity/over-stressed part of the hospital; and
- Unlike before the COVID-19 pandemic, it is now normal for 1 to 2 children to be admitted every night at Seattle Children’s for attempted suicide; and
- Parent calls seeking referrals to outpatient mental health providers have significantly increased in 2020 compared to 2019; and

WHEREAS, Swedish Medical Center has reported that, despite a lack of designated pediatric inpatient psychiatry beds:

- The percentage of pediatric inpatient admissions in its hospital for behavioral health reasons and/or suicide attempt has dramatically increased from 7.5% in 2018, 6.2% in 2019, 10.8% in 2020, to 24.5% in the first 2 months of 2021; and
- During COVID-19, pediatric hospital physicians are seeing many more children and adolescents with new-onset depression and anxiety, initial suicide attempts, and new-onset need for behavioral health treatment; and

WHEREAS, Mary Bridge Children’s Hospital has reported:

- The 14-day medical admission rate for mental health reasons increased approximately 67% from March 2020 to February 2021; and
- 60% of patients admitted to medical wards for mental health reasons are age 15-18 and 40% of these patients are age 14 and younger; and

WHEREAS, University of Washington Medicine reports that for patients under the age of 27, depression and anxiety are now the two most common diagnoses, and, when compared against 2019 data, it has seen 1,723 more patients with depression and 2,968 more patients with anxiety in 2021; and

WHEREAS, recent data from the CDC also shows that the proportion of emergency department visits related to mental health crises has increased for young children and adolescents since the pandemic started, reaching levels in late-March through October 2020 substantially higher than during the same period in 2019; and in Washington State, preliminary data suggest the relative reported emergency department visit count for suicidal ideation, suspected suicide attempt, and psychological distress are higher in the first few weeks of 2021 than the rates in corresponding weeks of 2019 and 2020 and show an increase from the end of 2020; and

WHEREAS, the children and adolescents presenting in mental health crises to hospitals or emergency rooms are the most severe cases and represent just a small portion of the entire population of youth in Washington who are suffering from increased mental and behavioral health needs, educational setbacks, and developmental concerns; and

WHEREAS, the Office of Superintendent of Public Instruction reports that student absences increased by 60% for middle school students in January 2021 compared to January 2020. Across all grades, for students receiving English learner services and students whose families are experiencing poverty, absences doubled in that same timeframe. In addition, 25% of all high school students did not receive credit in at least one course this school year. This is a 42% increase from the 2019-2020 school year. The increase in not receiving credit in courses is most significant for students experiencing poverty, and disproportionately impact students who are American Indian/Alaskan Native, and students who are Latino; and

WHEREAS, while school-age child care and youth development programs have been able to provide basic supports to some children, many programs and facilities that offer vital support to children and youth facing physical, mental, or socio-economic crises have been and remain unavailable due to restrictions imposed in response to the COVID-19 pandemic; and

WHEREAS, the multiple, overlapping effects on our children of continuing school facility closures on our children and adolescents constitutes an emergency related to and amplified by, but distinct from, the threat posed by the COVID-19 pandemic; and

WHEREAS, epidemiologists and infection prevention physicians, including those associated with the Washington Chapter of the American Academy of Pediatrics and the Washington Department of Health, believe that each region of our state has made adequate progress to reduce community levels of COVID-19 such that, by implementing multi-layered infection prevention protocols, K-12 school facilities can safely reopen for, at a minimum, hybrid learning; and

WHEREAS, on-campus, in-person instruction can be done safely, as evidenced by the demonstrated success of over 1,400 Washington schools that have experienced minimal in-school transmission; and

WHEREAS, health and worker safety protocols and measures must be followed to protect staff, students, and families; and

WHEREAS, increasing the option to return to school facilities for all K-12 students will help to prevent or curtail mental and behavioral health issues for many students by reducing isolation and improving in-person access to educators, school personnel, mentors and peers, but it is not a panacea for the long-standing need for accessible behavioral health services and supports for our children and youth. It is only a part of the solution to addressing mental and behavioral health issues for children and youth, many of whom will also need greater access to and availability of behavioral health services and supports, in and outside of schools, in order to forestall lifelong impacts from this pandemic; and

WHEREAS, teachers have been creative and have worked very diligently to provide remote learning, and some students and families have benefited from remote learning. But student/parental choice with regard to in-person learning must be respected during the ongoing pandemic, and remote-learning options must be preserved to serve those students; and

WHEREAS, the lack of statewide in-person K-12 schooling affects the life and health of our people as well as the economy of Washington State, and remains a public disorder or disaster affecting life, health, property or the public peace; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, through the State Emergency Operations Center, continues coordinating resources across state government to alleviate the impacts to people, property, and infrastructure from the COVID-19 emergency and the new emergency developing from the lack of statewide in-person K-12 schooling; and

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Jay Inslee, Governor of the state of Washington, as a result of the above- noted situation, and under Chapters 38.08, 38.52 and 43.06 RCW, do hereby proclaim and order that a State of Emergency exists in all counties of Washington State due to the current status of the mental and behavioral health of many of Washington's children and youth, and direct the plans and procedures of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan be implemented. State agencies and departments are directed to utilize state resources and to do everything reasonably possible to assist affected political subdivisions in an effort to respond to and recover from this mental health crisis.

As a result of this event, I also hereby order into active state service the organized militia of Washington State to include the National Guard and the State Guard, or such part thereof as may be necessary in the opinion of The Adjutant General to address the circumstances described above, to perform such duties as directed by competent authority of the Washington State Military Department in addressing the crisis. Additionally, I direct the Washington State Department of Health, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, and other agencies to identify and provide appropriate personnel for conducting necessary and ongoing incident related assessments.

FURTHERMORE, based on the above situation and under the provisions of RCW 43.06.220(1)(h) to help preserve and maintain life, health, property or the public peace, I hereby prohibit all public school districts, including charter schools, in the state of Washington from failing to offer all K-12 students the opportunity to engage in both remote/on-line instruction and on-campus/in-person instruction, otherwise known as a hybrid model of K-12 instruction, and I also hereby prohibit all public school districts, including charter schools, in the state of Washington from offering or continuing to offer a remote/online instruction option without also offering an on-campus/in-person instruction option that is consistent with Department of Health guidance, found here, and the Department of Labor and Industries' requirements for employee safety as dictated by the School Employer Health and Safety Requirements found here, and as further provided below:

- By April 5, 2021, all elementary grade students (K-5 or K-6, depending on the district) must be provided with an opportunity to engage in a hybrid model of instruction; and

- By April 19, 2021, all remaining K-12 students must be provided with an opportunity to engage in a hybrid model of instruction. School districts may stagger/phase-in grades to achieve this requirement by April 19, 2021; and
- By April 19, 2021, all school districts must offer at least 30% of average weekly instructional hours as on-campus, in-person instruction for all K-12 students who wish to attend in-person.
- In addition:
 - Under no circumstances may a student be offered less than 2 days (which may be partial days) of on-campus, in-person instruction per week; and
 - All school districts must continue to work to exceed the 30% minimum instructional hours, and must reach the school’s maximum capacity and maximum frequency of on- campus, in-person instruction that the school can provide, when all health and safety recommendations and requirements are applied, as soon as possible; and
 - If a school district currently provides a hybrid instruction model that deviates from the parameters specified above, the Office of Superintendent of Public Instruction may approve the schedule of any such school district operating unique hybrid learning models that meets the intent of the prohibitions in this order.

FURTHERMORE, I also hereby direct our Health Care Authority and Department of Health to immediately begin work on recommendations on how to support the behavioral health needs of our children and youth over the next 6 to 12 months and to address and triage the full spectrum of rising pediatric behavioral health needs.

ADDITIONALLY, I recommend use of the Washington State Department of Health’s guidance to school districts and local health jurisdictions entitled, “Tools to Prepare for the Provision of In-Person Learning among K-12 Students Public and Private Schools during the COVID-19 Pandemic” found here. This document provides recommendations for modes of learning based on county-level COVID- 19 health metric trends to support local school districts and public health officers as they collaborate to balance community education and health care needs.

Violators of this order may be subject to criminal penalties pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(5).

This order goes into effect immediately and will remain in effect until the end of this mental health emergency or until rescinded.

Signed and sealed with the official seal of the state of Washington on this 15th day of March, A.D., Two Thousand and Twenty-One at Olympia, Washington.

WHEREAS, the COVID-19 disease, caused by a virus that spreads easily from person to person which may result in serious illness or death and has been classified by the World Health Organization as a worldwide pandemic, continues to broadly spread throughout Washington State; and

WHEREAS, the number of cases of COVID-19 in Washington State and the associated deaths have continued, demonstrating the ongoing, present, and persistent threat of this lethal disease; and

WHEREAS, the COVID-19 pandemic continues to cause a sustained global economic slowdown, and an economic downturn

throughout Washington State with unprecedented numbers of layoffs and reduced work hours for a significant percentage of our workforce due to substantial reductions in business activity impacting our commercial sectors that support our State's economic vitality, including severe impacts to the large number of small businesses that make Washington State's economy thrive; and

WHEREAS, as a result of the continued worldwide spread of COVID-19, its significant progression in Washington State, and the high risk it poses to our most vulnerable populations, I have subsequently issued several amendatory proclamations, exercising my emergency powers under RCW 43.06.220 by prohibiting certain activities and waiving and suspending specified laws and regulations; and

WHEREAS, the COVID-19 disease, caused by a virus that spreads easily from person to person which may result in serious illness or death and has been classified by the World Health Organization as a worldwide pandemic, continues to broadly spread throughout Washington State; and

WHEREAS, the COVID-19 pandemic is causing a sustained global economic slowdown, and an economic downturn throughout Washington State with unprecedented numbers of layoffs and reduced work hours for a significant percentage of our workforce due to substantial reductions in business activity impacting our commercial sectors that support our State's economic vitality, including severe impacts to the large number of small businesses that make Washington State's economy thrive; and

WHEREAS, many of our workforce expected to be impacted by these layoffs and substantially reduced work hours are anticipated to suffer economic hardship that will disproportionately affect low and moderate income workers resulting in lost wages and potentially the inability to pay for basic household expenses, including rent; and

WHEREAS, the inability to pay rent by these members of our workforce increases the likelihood of eviction from their homes, increasing the life, health and safety risks to a significant percentage of our people from the COVID-19 pandemic; and

WHEREAS, tenants, residents, and renters who are not materially affected by COVID-19 should and must continue to pay rent, to avoid unnecessary and avoidable economic hardship to landlords, property owners, and property managers who are economically impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic; and

WHEREAS, under RCW 59.12 (Unlawful Detainer), RCW 59.18 (Residential Landlord-Tenant Act), and RCW 59.20 (Manufactured/Mobile Home Landlord-Tenant Act) residents seeking to avoid default judgment in eviction hearings need to appear in court in order to avoid losing substantial rights to assert defenses or access legal and economic assistance; and

WHEREAS, on May 29, 2020, in response to the COVID-19 pandemic, the Washington Supreme Court issued Amended Order No. 25700-B-626, and ordered that courts should begin to hear non-emergency civil matters. While appropriate and essential to the operation of our state justice system, the reopening of courts could lead to a wave of new eviction filings, hearings, and trials that risk overwhelming courts and resulting in a surge in eviction orders and corresponding housing loss statewide; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Legislature has established a housing assistance program in RCW 43.185 pursuant to its findings in RCW 43.185.010 "that it is in the public interest to establish a continuously renewable resource known as the housing trust fund and housing assistance program to assist low and very low-income citizens in meeting their basic housing needs;" and

WHEREAS, it is critical to protect tenants and residents of traditional dwellings from homelessness, as well as those who have lawfully occupied or resided in less traditional dwelling situations for 14 days or more, whether or not documented in a lease, including but not limited to roommates who share a home; long-term care facilities; transient housing in hotels and motels; "Airbnb's"; motor homes; RVs; and camping areas; and

WHEREAS, due to the impacts of the pandemic, individuals and families have had to move in with friends or family, and college students have had to return to their parents' home, for example, and such residents should be protected from eviction even though they are not documented in a lease. However, this order is not intended to permit occupants introduced into a dwelling who are not listed on the lease to remain or hold over after the tenant(s) of record permanently vacate the dwelling ("holdover occupant"), unless the landlord, property owner, or property manager (collectively, "landlord") has accepted partial or full payment of rent, including payment in the form of labor, from the holdover occupant, or has formally or informally acknowledged the existence of a landlord-tenant relationship with the holdover occupant; and

WHEREAS, a temporary moratorium on evictions and related actions throughout Washington State at this time will help reduce economic hardship and related life, health, and safety risks to those members of our workforce impacted by layoffs and substantially reduced work hours or who are otherwise unable to pay rent as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic; and

WHEREAS, as of March 2021, current information suggests that at least 76,000 tenants in Washington will be unable to pay their rent in the near future, reflecting the continued financial precariousness of many in the state. According to the state's unemployment information, significantly more people are claiming unemployment benefits in Washington now versus a year ago. This does not account for the many thousands of others who are filing claims with separate programs such as Pandemic Unemployment Assistance and Pandemic Emergency Unemployment Compensation: in December 2020, nearly 275,000 new and ongoing claims for unemployment-related assistance were filed; and

WHEREAS, a temporary moratorium on evictions and related actions will reduce housing instability, enable residents to stay in their homes unless conducting essential activities, employment in essential business services, or otherwise engaged in permissible activities, and will promote public health and safety by reducing the progression of COVID-19 in Washington State; and

WHEREAS, I issued Proclamations 20-25, 20-25.1, 20-25.2, and 20-25.3 (Stay Home – Stay Healthy), and I subsequently issued Proclamation 20-25.4 ("Safe Start – Stay Healthy" County- By-County Phased Reopening), wherein I amended and transitioned the previous proclamations' "Stay Home – Stay Healthy" requirements to "Safe Start – Stay Healthy" requirements, prohibiting all people in Washington State from leaving their homes except under certain circumstances and limitations based on a phased reopening of counties as established in Proclamation 20-25.4, et seq., and according to the phase each county was subsequently assigned by the Secretary of Health; and

WHEREAS, when I issued Proclamation 20-25.4 on May 31, 2020, I ordered that, beginning on June 1, 2020, counties would be allowed to apply to the Department of Health to move forward to the next phase of reopening more business and other activities; and by July 2, 2020, a total of five counties were approved to move to a modified version of Phase 1, 17 counties were in Phase 2, and 17 counties were in Phase 3; and

WHEREAS, on July 2, 2020, due to the increased COVID-19 infection rates across the state, I ordered a freeze on all counties moving forward to a subsequent phase, and that freeze remained in place while I worked with the Department of Health and other epidemiological experts to determine appropriate strategies to mitigate the increased spread of the virus, and those strategies included dialing back business and other activities; and

WHEREAS, on July 23, 2020, in response to the statewide increased rates of infection, hospitalizations, and deaths, I announced an expansion of the Department of Health's face covering requirements and several restrictions on activities where people tend to congregate; and

WHEREAS, on October 6, 2020, due to the increased COVID-19 infection rates across the state, I announced that all counties would remain in their current reopening phases as a result of the continuing surge in COVID-19 cases across the state; and

WHEREAS, positive COVID-19-related cases and hospitalizations steadily rose from early September 2020, through early January, 2021, and the number of COVID-19 cases and COVID-19-related hospitalizations continue to put our people, our health system, and our economy in a precarious position; and

WHEREAS, when I issued Proclamation 20-19.3 on July 24, 2020, the Washington State Department of Health reported at least 51,849 confirmed cases of COVID-19 with 1,494 associated deaths; and as of March 15, 2020, there are at least 330,367 confirmed cases with 5,149 associated deaths; and

WHEREAS, the worldwide COVID-19 pandemic and its progression in Washington State continues to threaten the life and health of our people as well as the economy of Washington State, and remains a public disaster affecting life, health, property or the public peace; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Department of Health continues to maintain a Public Health Incident Management Team in coordination with the State Emergency Operations Center and other supporting state agencies to manage the public health aspects of the incident; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, through the State Emergency Operations Center, continues coordinating resources across state government to support the Washington State Department of Health and local health officials in alleviating the impacts to people, property, and infrastructure, and continues coordinating with the Department of Health in assessing the impacts and long-term effects of the incident on Washington State and its people.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Jay Inslee, Governor of the state of Washington, as a result of the above-noted situation, and under Chapters 38.08, 38.52 and 43.06 RCW, do hereby proclaim that a State of Emergency continues to exist in all counties of Washington State, that Proclamation 20-05 and all amendments thereto remain in effect, and that Proclamations 20-05 and 20-19, et seq., are amended to temporarily prohibit residential evictions and temporarily impose other related prohibitions statewide until 11:59 p.m. on June 30, 2021, as provided herein.

I again direct that the plans and procedures of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan be implemented throughout State government. State agencies and departments are directed to continue utilizing state resources and doing everything reasonably possible to support implementation of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan and to assist affected political subdivisions in an effort to respond to and recover from the COVID-19 pandemic.

I continue to order into active state service the organized militia of Washington State to include the National Guard and the State Guard, or such part thereof as may be necessary in the opinion of The Adjutant General to address the circumstances described above, to perform such duties as directed by competent authority of the Washington State Military Department in addressing the outbreak. Additionally, I continue to direct the Washington State Department of Health, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, and other agencies to identify and provide appropriate personnel for conducting necessary and ongoing incident related assessments.

ACCORDINGLY, based on the above noted situation and under the provisions of RCW 43.06.220(1)(h), and to help preserve and maintain life, health, property or the public peace, except where federal law requires otherwise, effective immediately and until 11:59 p.m. on June 30, 2021, I hereby prohibit the following activities related to residential dwellings and commercial rental properties in Washington State:

- (i) Landlords, property owners, and property managers are prohibited from serving or enforcing, or threatening to serve or enforce, any notice requiring a resident to vacate any dwelling or parcel of land occupied as a dwelling, including but not limited to an eviction notice, notice to pay or vacate, notice of unlawful detainer, notice of termination of rental, or notice to comply or vacate. This prohibition applies to tenancies or other housing arrangements that have expired or that will expire during the effective period of this Proclamation. This prohibition does not apply to emergency shelters where length of stay is conditioned upon a resident's participation in, and compliance with, a supportive services program. Emergency shelters should make every effort to work with shelter clients to find alternate housing solutions. This prohibition applies unless the landlord, property owner, or property manager (a) attaches an affidavit to the eviction or termination of tenancy notice attesting that the action is necessary to respond to a significant and immediate risk to the health, safety, or property of others created by the resident; or (b) provides at least 60 days' written notice of the property owner's intent to (i) personally occupy the premises as the owner's primary residence, or (ii) sell the property. Such a 60-day notice of intent to sell or personally occupy shall be in the form of an affidavit signed under penalty of perjury, and does not dispense landlords, property owners, or property managers from their notice obligations prior to entering the property, or from wearing face coverings, social distancing, and complying with all other COVID- 19 safety measures upon entry, together with their guests and agents. Any eviction or termination of tenancy notice served under one of the above exceptions must independently comply with all applicable requirements under Washington law, and nothing in this paragraph waives those requirements.
- Landlords, property owners, and property managers are prohibited from seeking or enforcing, or threatening to seek or enforce, judicial eviction orders involving any dwelling or parcel of land occupied as a dwelling, unless the landlord, property owner, or property manager (a) attaches an affidavit to the eviction or termination of tenancy notice attesting that the action is necessary to respond to a significant and immediate risk to the health, safety, or property of others created by the resident; or (b) shows that at least 60 days' written notice were provided of the property owner's intent to (i) personally occupy the premises as the owner's primary residence, or (ii) sell the property. Such a 60-day notice of intent to sell or personally occupy shall be in the form of an affidavit signed under penalty of perjury.
- Local law enforcement are prohibited from serving, threatening to serve, or otherwise acting on eviction orders affecting any dwelling or parcel of land occupied as a dwelling, unless the eviction order clearly states that it was issued based on a court's finding that
 - (a) the individual(s) named in the eviction order is creating a significant and immediate risk to the health, safety, or property of others; or (b) at least 60 days' written notice were provided of the property owner's intent to (i) personally occupy the premises as the owner's primary residence, or (ii) sell the property. Local law enforcement may serve or otherwise act on eviction orders, including writs of restitution that contain the findings required by this paragraph.
- Landlords, property owners, and property managers are prohibited from assessing, or threatening to assess, late fees for the non-payment or late payment of rent or other charges related to a dwelling or parcel of land occupied as a dwelling, and where such non-payment or late payment occurred on or after February 29, 2020, the date when a State of Emergency was proclaimed in all counties in Washington State.

- Landlords, property owners, and property managers are prohibited from assessing, or threatening to assess, rent or other charges related to a dwelling or parcel of land occupied as a dwelling for any period during which the resident's access to, or occupancy of, such dwelling was prevented as a result of the COVID-19 outbreak.
- Except as provided in this paragraph, landlords, property owners, and property managers are prohibited from treating any unpaid rent or other charges related to a dwelling or parcel of land occupied as a dwelling as an enforceable debt or obligation that is owing or collectable, where such non-payment was as a result of the COVID-19 outbreak and occurred on or after February 29, 2020, and during the State of Emergency proclaimed in all counties in Washington State. This includes attempts to collect, or threats to collect, through a collection agency, by filing an unlawful detainer or other judicial action, withholding any portion of a security deposit, billing or invoicing, reporting to credit bureaus, or by any other means. This prohibition does not apply to a landlord, property owner, or property manager who demonstrates by a preponderance of the evidence to a court that the resident was offered, and refused or failed to comply with, a re-payment plan that was reasonable based on the individual financial, health, and other circumstances of that resident; failure to provide a reasonable re-payment plan shall be a defense to any lawsuit or other attempts to collect.
- Nothing in this order precludes a landlord, property owner, or property manager from engaging in customary and routine communications with residents of a dwelling or parcel of land occupied as a dwelling. "Customary and routine" means communication practices that were in place prior to the issuance of Proclamation 20-19 on March 18, 2020, but only to the extent that those communications reasonably notify a resident of upcoming rent that is due; provide notice of community events, news, or updates; document a lease violation without threatening eviction; or are otherwise consistent with this order. Within these communications and parameters, it is permissible for landlords, property owners and property managers to provide information to residents regarding financial resources, including coordinating with residents in applying for rent assistance through the state's Emergency Rent Assistance Program (ERAP) or an alternative state rent assistance program, and to provide residents with information on how to engage with them in discussions regarding reasonable repayment plans as described in this order.
- (b) Except as provided in this paragraph, landlords, property owners, and property managers are prohibited from increasing, or threatening to increase, the rate of rent for any dwelling or parcel of land occupied as a dwelling. This prohibition does not apply to a landlord, property owner, or property manager who provides (a) advance notice of a rent increase required by RCW 59.20.090(2) (Manufactured/Mobile Home Landlord-Tenant Act), or notice of a rent increase specified by the terms of the existing lease, provided that (i) the noticed rent increase does not take effect until after the expiration of Proclamation 20-19, et seq., and any modification or extension thereof, and (ii) the notice is restricted to its limited purpose and does not contain any threatening or coercive language, including any language threatening eviction or describing unpaid rent or other charges. Unless expressly permitted in this or a subsequent order, under no circumstances may a rent increase go into effect while this Proclamation, or any extension thereof, is in effect. Except as provided below, this prohibition also applies to commercial rental property if the commercial tenant has been materially impacted by the COVID-19, whether personally impacted and is unable to work or whether the business itself was deemed non-essential pursuant to Proclamation 20-25 or otherwise lost staff or customers due to the COVID-19 outbreak. This prohibition does not apply to commercial rental property if rent increases were included in an existing lease agreement that was executed prior to February 29, 2020 (pre-COVID-19 state of emergency).
- Landlords, property owners, and property managers are prohibited from retaliating against individuals for invoking their rights or protections under Proclamations 20-19 et seq., or any other state or federal law providing rights or protections for residential dwellings. Nothing in this order prevents a landlord from seeking to engage in reasonable communications with tenants to explore re-payment plans in accordance with this order.
- The preceding prohibitions do not apply to operators of long-term care facilities licensed or certified by the Department of Social and Health Services to prevent them from taking action to appropriately, safely, and lawfully transfer or discharge a resident for health or safety reasons, or a change in payer source that the facility is unable to accept, in accordance with the laws and rules that apply to those facilities. Additionally, the above prohibition against increasing, or threatening to increase, the rate of rent for any dwelling does not apply to customary changes in the charges or fees for cost of care (such as charges for personal care, utilities, and other reasonable and customary operating expenses), or reasonable charges or fees related to COVID-19 (such as the costs of PPE and testing), as long as these charges or fees are outlined in the long-term care facility's notice of services and are applied in accordance with the laws and rules that apply to those facilities, including any advance notice requirement.

Terminology used in these prohibitions shall be understood by reference to Washington law, including but not limited to RCW 49.60, RCW 59.12, RCW 59.18, and RCW 59.20. For purposes of this Proclamation, a "significant and immediate risk to the health, safety, or property of others created by the resident" (a) is one that is described with particularity; (b) as it relates to "significant and immediate" risk to the health and safety of others, includes any behavior by a resident which is imminently hazardous to the physical safety of other persons on the premises (RCW 59.18.130 (8)(a)); (c) cannot be established on the basis of the resident's own health condition or disability; (d) excludes the situation in which a resident who may have been exposed to, or contracted, the COVID-19, or is following Department of Health guidelines regarding isolation or quarantine; and (e) excludes circumstances that are not urgent in nature, such as conditions that were known or knowable to the landlord, property owner, or property manager pre-COVID-19 but regarding which that entity took no action.

FURTHERMORE, it is the intent of this order to prevent a potential new devastating impact of the COVID-19 outbreak – that is, a wave of statewide homelessness that will impact every community in our state. To that end, this order further acknowledges, applauds, and reflects gratitude to the immeasurable contribution to the health and well-being of our communities and families made by the landlords, property owners, and property managers subject to this order.

ADDITIONALLY, it is also the intent of this order to extend state emergency rent assistance programs and to incorporate the newly approved federal rental assistance funding. The goal is to continue to provide a path for eligible tenants to seek rental assistance, but to now also allow landlords, property owners, and property managers to initiate an application for rental assistance. This process should be collaborative, and I encourage the nonprofit and philanthropic communities to continue their support of programs that help educate and inform both parties of the benefits of these rental assistance programs. Although a new program may need to be created for the newly approved federal rental assistance, all counties should consider the existing program in King County as a model for creating this path for landlords and property owners and property managers.

ADDITIONALLY, I want to thank the vast majority of tenants who have continued to pay what they can, as soon as they can, to help support the people and the system that are supporting them through this crisis. The intent of Proclamation 20-19, et seq., is to provide relief to those individuals who have been impacted by the COVID-19 crisis. Landlords and tenants are expected to communicate in good faith with one another, and to work together, on the timing and terms of payment and repayment solutions that all parties will need in order to overcome the severe challenges that COVID-19 has imposed for landlords and tenants alike. I strongly encourage landlords and tenants to avail themselves of the services offered at existing dispute resolution centers to come to agreement on payment and repayment solutions.

MOREOVER, as Washington State begins to emerge from the current public health and economic crises, I recognize that courts, tenants, landlords, property owners, and property managers may desire additional direction concerning the specific parameters for reasonable re- payment plans related to outstanding rent or fees. This is best addressed by legislation, and I invite the state Legislature to produce legislation as early as possible during their next session to address this issue. I stand ready to partner with our legislators as necessary and appropriate to ensure that the needed framework is passed into law.

Violators of this order may be subject to criminal penalties pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(5).

Signed and sealed with the official seal of the state of Washington on this 18th day of March, A.D., Two Thousand and Twenty-One at Olympia, Washington.

PROCLAMATION BY THE GOVERNOR
AMENDING AND EXTENDING EMERGENCY PROCLAMATIONS 20-05 and 20-23, et seq.

Ratepayer Assistance and Preservation of Essential Services

WHEREAS, on February 29, 2020, I issued Proclamation 20-05, proclaiming a State of Emergency for all counties throughout Washington State of as a result of the coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID- 19) outbreak in the United States and confirmed person-to-person spread of COVID-19 in Washington State; and

WHEREAS, as a result of the continued worldwide spread of COVID-19, its significant progression in Washington State, and the high risk it poses to our most vulnerable populations, I have subsequently issued several amendatory proclamations, exercising my emergency powers under RCW 43.06.220 by prohibiting certain activities and waiving and suspending specified laws and regulations; and

WHEREAS, the COVID-19 disease, caused by a virus that spreads easily from person to person which may result in serious illness or death and has been classified by the World Health Organization as a worldwide pandemic, continues to broadly spread throughout Washington State, significantly increasing the threat of serious associated health risks statewide; and

WHEREAS, the COVID-19 pandemic has caused a global economic slowdown and an economic downturn in Washington State, resulting in layoffs and reduced work hours for a significant percentage of our workforce and significant reductions in business activity impacting our commercial sectors that support our state's economic vitality, including severe impacts to the large number of small businesses that make Washington State's economy thrive; and

WHEREAS, the available financial resources of many of our people and businesses are becoming limited with many of them suffering considerable economic hardship as a result of the economic impacts of the COVID-19 pandemic on our economy, resulting in a significant threat of utility services being disconnected and late payment fees being imposed; and

WHEREAS, maintaining provision of utility services during this crisis is an essential tool in sustaining and protecting the health and welfare of our people and businesses as a critical part of the overall response to the COVID-19 pandemic; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Utilities and Transportation Commission regulates the rates and services of investor-owned utilities in Washington State and is coordinating with utilities throughout the State to protect the availability and affordability of essential utility services for those economically impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic through a variety of measures, including: suspending disconnection of utilities for nonpayment, waiving late fees, working with affected utility customers to establish payment arrangements, and improving access to energy assistance for affected customers; and

WHEREAS, Washington State Utilities and Transportation Commission issued a moratorium for disconnections for nonpayment through April 30, 2021, at which time the Commission will evaluate health and economic data to determine whether things have improved enough to lift the moratorium; and

WHEREAS, on March 18, 2020, I issued Proclamation 20-23, waiving and suspending statutes and prohibiting certain activities relating to utility services; and

WHEREAS, on March 24, 2020, I issued Proclamation 20-23.1, amending and continuing the waivers and suspension of statutes and the prohibitions of certain activities relating to utility services; and

WHEREAS, under the provisions of RCW 43.06.220(4), the statutory waivers and suspensions in Proclamations 20-23, et seq., have been periodically extended by the leadership of the Washington State Senate and House of Representatives, and which I acknowledged and similarly extended the prohibitions therein; and

WHEREAS, on January 15, 2021, under the provisions of RCW 43.06.220(4), the statutory waivers and suspensions of Proclamation 20-23, et seq., were extended by Senate Concurrent Resolution 8402 until the termination of the state of emergency pursuant to RCW 43.06.210, or until rescinded, whichever occurs first; and

WHEREAS, to fully extend Proclamations 20-23, et seq., it is also necessary for me to extend the prohibitions therein; and

WHEREAS, the worldwide COVID-19 pandemic and its progression throughout Washington State continues to threaten the life and health of our people as well as the economy of Washington State, and remains a public disaster affecting life, health, property or the public peace; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Department of Health continues to maintain a Public Health Incident Management Team in coordination with the State Emergency Operations Center and other supporting state agencies to manage the public health aspects of the incident; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, through the State Emergency Operations Center, continues coordinating resources across state government to support the Washington State Department of Health and local health officials in alleviating the impacts to people, property, and infrastructure, and continues coordinating with the Department of Health in assessing the impacts and long-term effects of the incident on Washington State and its people.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Jay Inslee, Governor of the state of Washington, as a result of the above- noted situation, and under Chapters 38.08, 38.52 and 43.06 RCW, do hereby proclaim that a State of Emergency continues to exist in all counties of Washington State, that Proclamation 20-05 and all amendments thereto remain in effect, and that Proclamations 20-05 and 20-23, et seq., are amended to (1) recognize the extension of statutory waivers and suspensions therein by the Washington State Legislature until termination of the State of Emergency pursuant to RCW 43.06.210, or until rescinded, whichever occurs first, and (2) similarly extend the prohibitions therein until the termination of the State of Emergency or until rescinded, whichever occurs first.

I again direct that the plans and procedures of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan be implemented throughout state government. State agencies and departments are directed to continue utilizing state resources and doing everything reasonably possible to support implementation of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan and to assist affected political subdivisions in an effort to respond to and recover from the COVID-19 pandemic.

I continue to order into active state service the organized militia of Washington State to include the National Guard and the State Guard, or such part thereof as may be necessary in the opinion of The Adjutant General to address the circumstances described above, to perform such duties as directed by competent authority of the Washington State Military Department in addressing the outbreak. Additionally, I continue to direct the Washington State Department of Health, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, and other agencies to identify and provide appropriate personnel for conducting necessary and ongoing incident related assessments.

ACCORDINGLY, in recognition of the above findings, and to help preserve and maintain life, health, property or the public peace under RCW 43.06.220(1)(h), I prohibit all energy, telecommunications, and water providers in Washington State from conducting the following activities:

- (1) Disconnecting any residential customers from energy, telecommunications, or water service due to nonpayment on an active account, except at the request of the customer.
- (2) Refusing to reconnect any residential customer who has been disconnected due to nonpayment;
- (3) Charging fees for late payment or reconnection of energy, telecommunications, or water service; and
- (4) Disconnecting service to any residential customer who has contacted the utility to request assistance from the utility’s COVID-19 Customer Support Program.

These prohibitions on disconnecting, refusing to reconnect, and charging late fees in this proclamation, as amended, are extended until termination of the COVID-19 State of Emergency or 11:59 p.m. on July 31, 2021, whichever comes first.

Citizens encountering financial difficulties should reach out to their local utility providers. Most utilities have adopted policies that can help with delinquent bills and ensure continued service after the moratorium expires.

FURTHERMORE, it is the intent of this order to ensure that vulnerable populations and households retain access to essential services while they are experiencing financial hardship caused by layoffs, reduced hours, or other circumstances caused by the COVID-19 pandemic. Access to these services is critical to ensure the safety and health of our communities during this crisis. This order therefore acknowledges the role that the public and private utilities subject to this order play in protecting the health and well-being of our communities and families; and expresses gratitude for their voluntary efforts to support customers during this crisis.

ADDITIONALLY, I want to thank the vast majority of utility customers who have continued to pay what they can, as soon as they can, to help support the people and the systems that are supporting them through this crisis. The intent of Proclamation 20-23, et seq., is to provide relief to those individuals who have been impacted by the COVID-19 crisis. This Proclamation does not relieve customer from the obligation to pay for utility services. Customers and utilities are expected to continue to communicate in good faith with one another, and to work together, on the timing and terms of payment and repayment solutions. Utilities should prioritize use of customer support tools, particularly those that have accrued extensive utility bill arrearages, prior to the end of the moratorium, in order to help avoid credit and collections issues.

Violators of this order may be subject to criminal penalties pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(5).

Signed and sealed with the official seal of the state of Washington on this 18th day of March, A.D., Two Thousand and Twenty-One at Olympia, Washington.

Children and Youth Mental Health Crisis

WHEREAS, on February 29, 2020, I proclaimed a State of Emergency for all counties throughout Washington State as a result of the coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) outbreak in the United States and confirmed person-to-person spread of COVID-19 in Washington State as a result of the continued worldwide spread of COVID-19, its significant progression in Washington State, and the high risk it poses to our most vulnerable populations; and

WHEREAS, I issued many amendatory proclamations, exercising my emergency powers under RCW 43.06.220 by prohibiting certain activities and waiving and suspending specified laws and regulations, including prohibiting most schools from conducting in-person educational, recreational, and other K-12 school programs using school facilities, as well as certain student educational and outreach services; and

WHEREAS, closing school facilities contributed to Washington's efforts to minimize the spread and impact of COVID-19, but the closure of schools has also been stressful for many Washingtonians, particularly for many children and youth; and for many Washington children, it is feared that the lack of in-person learning and other school-based supports may result in gaps in students' learning and development that may last a lifetime; and

WHEREAS, the United States Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) noted that schools provide numerous benefits beyond education, including school meal programs and social, physical, behavioral, and mental health services, and because of their critical role for all children and the disproportionate impact that school closures can have on those with low incomes, K-12 schools should be the last settings to close after all other COVID-19 mitigation measures have been employed and the first to reopen when they can do so safely; and

WHEREAS, hospitals and health professionals who specialize in the treatment of children indicate that many of Washington's children and youth are experiencing a significant mental and behavioral health crisis as a result of the ongoing pandemic, which has been exacerbated by continued isolation, difficulty engaging with virtual learning, and lack of regular in-person interaction with educators, school personnel, mentors and peers; and

WHEREAS, early school-age children are at a critical juncture for social and emotional learning, such as formation of positive relationships, peer interaction, self-awareness and self-management, development of social skills, and decision-making, and these domains are essential for school success but are not readily learned in the absence of in-person interaction; and

WHEREAS, pediatric physicians have recently observed the following:

- Since the physical closure of schools, pediatricians are seeing a significant increase in youth with eating disorders, anxiety, mood disorders, and depression with suicidal thoughts or self-harm behaviors; and
- Most families experience long wait times and limited access to mental health services; and
- LGBTQ2+ youth have specific challenges navigating limited social support when affirmation and support is particularly important, resulting in sleep disturbances, decreased physical activity leading to unhealthy weight gain, and abuse of substances; and
- A significant number of previously stable youth have experienced now-onset or exacerbated eating disorders, depression, or anxiety, with some requiring increased use of medications, hospitalization, or other higher levels of care; and
- Children are experiencing a significant sense of isolation and loss, which is negatively impacting their learning and grades; and
- Although we have, for the time being, averted the crisis of overwhelming hospital capacity related to COVID-19 cases, we are in the midst of another crisis related to the mental health of many of our children; and

WHEREAS, at nearly every data point, Sacred Heart Children's Hospital in Spokane has reported a substantial increase in pediatric patients with behavioral health diagnoses as a primary concern during COVID-19, despite the general tendency to avoid health care settings to avoid exposure to COVID-19, including the following:

- Acute care admissions to its Inpatient Adolescent Psychiatric Unit increased 73% in 2020 as compared to 2019, and
- Acute care admissions to its General Pediatric Floor for behavioral health issues increased 68% in 2020 compared to 2019; and

WHEREAS, Seattle Children's Hospital has reported that:

- The Psychiatric Unit is currently the most over-capacity/over-stressed part of the hospital; and
- Unlike before the COVID-19 pandemic, it is now normal for 1 to 2 children to be admitted every night at Seattle Children's for attempted suicide; and
- Parent calls seeking referrals to outpatient mental health providers have significantly increased in 2020 compared to 2019; and

WHEREAS, Swedish Medical Center has reported that, despite a lack of designated pediatric inpatient psychiatry beds:

- The percentage of pediatric inpatient admissions in its hospital for behavioral health reasons and/or suicide attempt has dramatically increased from 7.5% in 2018, 6.2% in 2019, 10.8% in 2020, to 24.5% in the first 2 months of 2021; and
- During COVID-19, pediatric hospital physicians are seeing many more children and adolescents with new-onset depression and anxiety, initial suicide attempts, and new-onset need for behavioral health treatment; and

WHEREAS, Mary Bridge Children’s Hospital has reported:

- The 14-day medical admission rate for mental health reasons increased approximately 67% from March 2020 to February 2021; and
- 60% of patients admitted to medical wards for mental health reasons are age 15-18 and 40% of these patients are age 14 and younger; and

WHEREAS, University of Washington Medicine reports that for patients under the age of 27, depression and anxiety are now the two most common diagnoses, and, when compared against 2019 data, it has seen 1,723 more patients with depression and 2,968 more patients with anxiety in 2021; and

WHEREAS, recent data from the CDC also shows that the proportion of emergency department visits related to mental health crises has increased for young children and adolescents since the pandemic started, reaching levels in late-March through October 2020 substantially higher than during the same period in 2019; and in Washington State, preliminary data suggest the relative reported emergency department visit count for suicidal ideation, suspected suicide attempt, and psychological distress are higher in the first few weeks of 2021 than the rates in corresponding weeks of 2019 and 2020 and show an increase from the end of 2020; and

WHEREAS, the children and adolescents presenting in mental health crises to hospitals or emergency rooms are the most severe cases and represent just a small portion of the entire population of youth in Washington who are suffering from increased mental and behavioral health needs, educational setbacks, and developmental concerns; and

WHEREAS, the Office of Superintendent of Public Instruction reports that student absences increased by 60% for middle school students in January 2021 compared to January 2020. Across all grades, for students receiving English learner services and students whose families are experiencing poverty, absences doubled in that same timeframe. In addition, 25% of all high school students did not receive credit in at least one course this school year. This is a 42% increase from the 2019-2020 school year. The increase in not receiving credit in courses is most significant for students experiencing poverty, and disproportionately impact students who are American Indian/Alaskan Native, and students who are Latino; and

WHEREAS, while school-age child care and youth development programs have been able to provide basic supports to some children, many programs and facilities that offer vital support to children and youth facing physical, mental, or socio-economic crises have been and remain unavailable due to restrictions imposed in response to the COVID-19 pandemic; and

WHEREAS, the multiple, overlapping effects on our children of continuing school facility closures on our children and adolescents constitutes an emergency related to and amplified by, but distinct from, the threat posed by the COVID-19 pandemic; and

WHEREAS, epidemiologists and infection prevention physicians, including those associated with the Washington Chapter of the American Academy of Pediatrics and the Washington Department of Health, believe that each region of our state has made adequate progress to reduce community levels of COVID-19 such that, by implementing multi-layered infection prevention protocols, K-12 school facilities can safely reopen for, at a minimum, hybrid learning; and

WHEREAS, on-campus, in-person instruction can be done safely, as evidenced by the demonstrated success of over 1,400 Washington schools that have experienced minimal in-school transmission; and

WHEREAS, on March 19, 2021, the CDC issued updated K-12 education guidance revising physical distancing recommendations to reflect at least 3 feet between students in classrooms, and providing clearer guidance when a greater distance, such as 6 feet, is recommended; and

WHEREAS, on March 25, 2021, the Washington Department of Health issued updated K-12 guidance that aligns with CDC’s physical distancing recommendations and the science on COVID-19 transmission in K-12 schools; and

WHEREAS, on March 25, 2021, the Department of Labor and Industries’ updated its health and worker safety protocols and measures, which must be followed to protect staff, students, and families; and

WHEREAS, increasing the option to return to school facilities for all K-12 students will help to prevent or curtail mental and behavioral health issues for many students by reducing isolation and improving in-person access to educators, school personnel, mentors and peers, but it is not a panacea for the long-standing need for accessible behavioral health services and supports for our children and youth. It is only a part of the solution to addressing mental and behavioral health issues for children and youth, many of whom will also need greater access to and availability of behavioral health services and supports, in and outside of schools, in order to forestall lifelong impacts from this pandemic; and

WHEREAS, teachers have been creative and have worked very diligently to provide remote learning, and some students and families have benefited from remote learning. But student/parental choice with regard to in-person learning must be respected during the ongoing pandemic, and remote-learning options must be preserved to serve those students; and

WHEREAS, the lack of statewide in-person K-12 schooling affects the life and health of our people as well as the economy of Washington State, and remains a public disorder or disaster affecting life, health, property or the public peace; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, through the State Emergency Operations Center, continues coordinating resources across state government to alleviate the impacts to people, property, and infrastructure from the COVID-19 emergency and the new emergency developing from the lack of statewide in-person K-12 schooling; and

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Jay Inslee, Governor of the state of Washington, as a result of the above- noted situation, and under Chapters 38.08, 38.52 and 43.06 RCW, do hereby proclaim and order that a State of Emergency exists in all counties of Washington State due to the current status of the mental and behavioral health of many of Washington's children and youth, and direct the plans and procedures of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan be implemented. State agencies and departments are directed to utilize state resources and to do everything reasonably possible to assist affected political subdivisions in an effort to respond to and recover from this mental health crisis.

As a result of this event, I also hereby order into active state service the organized militia of Washington State to include the National Guard and the State Guard, or such part thereof as may be necessary in the opinion of The Adjutant General to address the circumstances described above, to perform such duties as directed by competent authority of the Washington State Military Department in addressing the crisis. Additionally, I direct the Washington State Department of Health, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, and other agencies to identify and provide appropriate personnel for conducting necessary and ongoing incident related assessments.

FURTHERMORE, based on the above situation and under the provisions of RCW 43.06.220(1)(h) to help preserve and maintain life, health, property or the public peace, I hereby prohibit all public school districts, including charter schools, in the state of Washington from failing to offer all K-12 students the opportunity to engage in both remote/on-line instruction and on-campus/in-person instruction, otherwise known as a hybrid model of K-12 instruction, and I also hereby prohibit all public school districts, including charter schools, in the state of Washington from offering or continuing to offer a remote/online instruction option without also offering an on-campus/in-person instruction option that is consistent with Department of Health guidance, found here, and the Department of Labor and Industries' requirements for employee safety as dictated by the School Employer Health and Safety Requirements found here, and as further provided below:

- By April 5, 2021, all elementary grade students (K-5 or K-6, depending on the district) must be provided with an opportunity to engage in a hybrid model of instruction; and
- By April 19, 2021, all remaining K-12 students must be provided with an opportunity to engage in a hybrid model of instruction. School districts may stagger/phase-in grades to achieve this requirement by April 19, 2021; and
- By April 19, 2021, all school districts must offer at least 30% of average weekly instructional hours as on-campus, in-person instruction for all K-12 students who wish to attend in-person.
- In addition:
 - All school districts are permitted, but not required, to follow the CDC's guidance for reopening K-12 schools, found here, which provide, in part, that it is generally safe to reduce distance between students in the classroom from 6 feet to 3 feet. School districts are permitted, but not required, to follow the CDC's guidance immediately; and
 - Under no circumstances may a student be offered less than 2 days (which may be partial days) of on-campus, in-person instruction per week; and
 - All school districts must continue to work to exceed the 30% minimum instructional hours; and
 - Subject to the physical distancing parameters implemented by the school district, all school districts must reach the school's maximum capacity and maximum frequency of on-campus, in-person instruction that the school can provide, when all health and safety recommendations and requirements are applied, as soon as possible; and
 - If a school district currently provides or proposes to adopt a hybrid instruction model that deviates from the parameters specified above, the Office of Superintendent of Public Instruction may approve the schedule of any such school district operating unique hybrid learning models that meets the intent of the prohibitions in this order.

FURTHERMORE, I also hereby direct our Health Care Authority and Department of Health to immediately begin work on recommendations on how to support the behavioral health needs of our children and youth over the next 6 to 12 months and to address and triage the full spectrum of rising pediatric behavioral health needs.

Violators of this order may be subject to criminal penalties pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(5).

This order goes into effect immediately and will remain in effect until the end of this mental health emergency or until rescinded.

AMENDING PROCLAMATIONS 20-05 AND 20-83

20-83.2
Restrictions on Travelers

WHEREAS, on February 29, 2020, I issued Proclamation 20-05, proclaiming a State of Emergency for all counties throughout the state of Washington as a result of the coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) outbreak in the United States and confirmed person-to-person spread of COVID-19 in Washington State; and

WHEREAS, as a result of the continued worldwide spread of COVID-19, its significant progression in Washington State, and the high risk it poses to our most vulnerable populations, I have subsequently issued several amendatory proclamations, exercising my emergency powers under RCW 43.06.220 by prohibiting certain activities and waiving and suspending specified laws and regulations; and

WHEREAS, I issued Proclamations 20-25, et seq., first entitled “Stay Home – Stay Healthy,” in which I initially prohibited all people in Washington State from leaving their homes except under certain circumstances, which I subsequently amended based on changing COVID-19 activity in Washington. That order is now entitled “Healthy Washington – Roadmap to Recovery” and enacts a flexible, science-based matrix based on COVID-19 activity to set appropriate restrictions for Washington’s counties; and

WHEREAS, although COVID-19-related cases, hospitalizations and deaths have consistently declined since early January 2021, health experts advise that these declines should not induce complacency in non-pharmaceutical interventions because significant cause for concern continues due to the emergence and exponential growth of COVID-19 variants, including but not limited to the B.1.1.7 variant; and

WHEREAS, there is evidence that the virus can be spread through very small droplets called aerosols that are expelled from our mouths when we breathe, talk, sing, vocalize, cough, or sneeze, that these aerosols linger in air, and that a significant risk factor for spreading the virus is prolonged, close contact with an infected person indoors, especially in poorly ventilated spaces; and

WHEREAS, several factors increase the risk for person-to-person COVID-19 transmission; such factors include (1) the more that people and groups interact, (2) the longer those interactions last, (3) the closer the contact between individuals, and (4) the denser the occupancy for indoor facilities; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Department of Health and the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) have provided health and safety guidance to reduce the risk of transmission of COVID-19 generally and in specific sectors, environments, and settings, yet many individuals continue to disregard this guidance, and person-to-person interactions, including gatherings, have led to many infections and are a significant factor in the new COVID-19 cases and hospitalizations currently being experienced in Washington; and

WHEREAS, new variants of COVID-19 (SARS-CoV-2 virus, 501Y.V) have been identified in other countries, which may be more transmissible than other variants; and

WHEREAS, in January 2021, evidence of a potentially fast-spreading strain of the coronavirus known as B.1.1.7 was found in Washington State, and in February 2021, evidence of the B.1.351 variant was also found in Washington; and

WHEREAS, on January 12, 2021, the CDC issued an order establishing new travel requirements for all air passengers coming to the United States, including U.S. citizens, which, among other things, requires that all passengers obtain a negative COVID-19 test result or documentation of recovery from COVID-19 before boarding a flight to the United States, and the order further requires that all travelers wear a face covering on planes, buses, trains, and other forms of public transportation traveling into, within, or out of the United States and in U.S. transportation hubs such as airports and stations; and

WHEREAS, COVID-19, caused by a virus that spreads easily from person to person which may result in serious illness or death

and has been classified by the World Health Organization as a worldwide pandemic, has broadly spread throughout Washington State and remains a significant health risk to all of our people, especially among our most vulnerable populations; and

WHEREAS, the worldwide COVID-19 pandemic and its progression in Washington State continue to threaten the life and health of our people as well as the economy of Washington State, and remain a public disaster affecting life, health, property or the public peace; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Department of Health continues to maintain a Public Health Incident Management Team in coordination with the State Emergency Operations Center and other supporting state agencies to manage the public health aspects of the incident; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, through the State Emergency Operations Center, continues coordinating resources across state government to support the Department of Health and local health officials in alleviating the impacts to people, property, and infrastructure, and continues coordinating with the Department of Health in assessing the impacts and long- term effects of the incident on Washington State and its people; and

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Jay Inslee, Governor of the state of Washington, as a result of the above noted situation, and under Chapters 38.08, 38.52 and 43.06 RCW, do hereby proclaim and order that a State of Emergency continues to exist in all counties of Washington State, that Proclamation 20-05 and all amendments thereto remain in effect, and that, to help preserve and maintain life, health, property or the public peace, pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(1)(h), I amend Proclamations 20-05 and 20-83 to prohibit travel to the State of Washington as set out below.

ACCORDINGLY, pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(1)(h), I hereby prohibit any individual from traveling by air from any location outside of the United States to Washington state, directly or indirectly, unless that individual complies with the requirements established by the CDC that can be found at this website. Individuals exempted from the CDC requirements are also exempt from this proclamation.

FURTHERMORE, in collaboration with the Washington State Department of Health, in furtherance of the physical, mental, and economic well-being of all Washingtonians, I will continue to analyze the data and epidemiological modeling and adjust guidance accordingly.

ADDITIONALLY, I issued a travel advisory on November 13, 2020, recommending that travelers avoid non-essential travel and self-quarantine upon arriving in Washington from out of state. I rescinded that travel advisory on March 19, 2021, and instead recommended that travelers follow the CDC's COVID-19 travel guidance.

ADDITIONALLY, in furtherance of these prohibitions and for general awareness:

1. Order of the Secretary of Health 20-03.1, issued on July 24, 2020, is incorporated by reference, and as amended.
2. Employers must comply with all conditions for operation required by the state Department of Labor & Industries, including interpretive guidance, regulations and rules such as WAC 296-800-14035, and Department of Labor & Industries-administered statutes.
3. Everyone is required to cooperate with public health authorities in the investigation of cases, suspected cases, outbreaks, and suspected outbreaks of COVID-19 and with the implementation of infection control measures pursuant to State Board of Health rule in WAC 246-101-425.
4. Guidelines for other travel may be found at the CDC's website.

I again direct that the plans and procedures of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan be implemented throughout state government. State agencies and departments are directed to continue utilizing state resources and doing everything reasonably possible to support implementation of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan and to assist affected political subdivisions in an effort to respond to and recover from the COVID-19 pandemic.

I continue to order into active state service the organized militia of Washington State to include the National Guard and the State Guard, or such part thereof as may be necessary in the opinion of The Adjutant General to address the circumstances described above, to perform such duties as directed by competent authority of the Washington State Military Department in addressing the outbreak. Additionally, I continue to direct the Department of Health, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, and other agencies to identify and provide appropriate personnel for conducting necessary and ongoing incident related assessments.

Violators of this order may be subject to criminal penalties pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(5). Further, if people fail to comply with the required social distancing and other protective measures while engaging in this phased reopening, I may be forced to reinstate the prohibitions established in earlier proclamations.

Unless extended or amended, this proclamation will continue to be in effect until the state of emergency, issued on February 29, 2020, pursuant to Proclamation 20-05, is rescinded.

Signed and sealed with the official seal of the state of Washington on this 5th day of April, A.D., Two Thousand and Twenty-One at Olympia, Washington.

High-Risk Employees – Workers’ Rights

WHEREAS, on February 29, 2020, I issued Proclamation 20-05, proclaiming a State of Emergency for all counties throughout Washington State as a result of the coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) outbreak in the United States and confirmed person-to-person spread of COVID-19 in the state of Washington; and

WHEREAS, as a result of the continued worldwide spread of COVID-19, its significant progression in Washington State, and the high risk it poses to our most vulnerable populations, I have subsequently issued several amendatory proclamations, exercising my emergency powers under RCW 43.06.220 by prohibiting certain activities and waiving and suspending specified laws and regulations; and

WHEREAS, the COVID-19 disease, caused by a virus that spreads easily from person to person which may result in serious illness or death and has been classified by the World Health Organization as a worldwide pandemic, continues to persist in the state of Washington; and

WHEREAS, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) reports that groups at higher risk of severe illness or death from COVID-19 are those over 65 years of age, and people of any age who have certain chronic underlying health conditions; and

WHEREAS, on April 14, 2020, I issued Proclamation 20-46 to protect our public and private sector workers in high-risk categories from the significant life, health and safety risks of the COVID-19 disease, requiring employers to seek any and all options for alternative work arrangements and to protect these workers from certain impacts to their employment and benefits; and

WHEREAS, on June 9, 2020, I issued Proclamation 20-46.1, extending the prohibitions in Proclamation 20-46 until August 1, 2020, and on July 29, 2020, I further extended the prohibitions with Proclamation 20-46.2 for the duration of the current state of emergency initially proclaimed in Proclamation 20-05, or until otherwise rescinded or amended; and

WHEREAS, despite an increase in infections, hospitalizations, and deaths in the latter half of 2020, Washington State has avoided overwhelming the state’s health care systems throughout this pandemic through rigorous safety and prevention measures, such as physical distancing and masking, as well as social and economic prohibitions; and

WHEREAS, through the tireless work of all Washingtonians and, as of April 5, 2021, the successful administration of 3,798,746 vaccine doses, fully immunizing more than one million Washingtonians, many hundreds of thousands of whom are high-risk individuals; the threat of COVID-19 to the lives of Washingtonians is decreasing; and

WHEREAS, the CDC reports that all vaccines available in Washington are safe and effective, having been evaluated using tens of thousands of participants in clinical trials and having proven to significantly decrease the likelihood of infection; and

WHEREAS, on January 11, 2021, I issued Proclamation 20-25.12, “Healthy Washington – Roadmap to Recovery,” wherein I found it appropriate to begin easing the prohibitions and restrictions critical to the state’s pandemic response; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Department of Health continues to maintain a Public Health Incident Management Team in coordination with the State Emergency Operations Center and other supporting state agencies to manage the public health aspects of the incident; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, through the State Emergency Operations Center, continues to coordinate resources across state government to support the Department of Health and local health officials in alleviating the impacts to people, property, and infrastructure, and continues to coordinate with the Department of Health in assessing the impacts and long-term effects of the incident on Washington State and its people.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Jay Inslee, Governor of the state of Washington, as a result of the above-noted situation, and under RCW 38.08, 38.52, and 43.06, do hereby proclaim: that a State of Emergency continues to exist in all counties of Washington State; that Proclamation 20-05 and all amendments thereto remain in effect; that Proclamations 20-05 and 20-46, et seq., are amended to extend all of the prohibitions therein through the duration of the current state of emergency initially proclaimed in Proclamation 20-05, or until otherwise rescinded or amended; and that my memorandum to Proclamation 20-46.2, dated July 29, 2020, is rescinded as of April 23, 2021.

FURTHERMORE, for any high-risk worker who is unable to return to the workplace with or without accommodation due to the COVID-19 pandemic, employers remain prohibited from:

1. Failing to utilize all available options for alternative work assignments to protect high-risk employees, if requested, from exposure to COVID-19; and
2. Failing to permit any high-risk employee in a situation where an alternative work arrangement is not feasible to use any available employer-granted accrued leave or unemployment insurance, in any sequence, at the discretion of the employee; and
3. Taking adverse employment action against any employee for exercising their rights under this Proclamation that would result in loss of the employee's current employment position by permanent replacement; and
4. Making changes to a high-risk employee's accommodations under Proclamation 20-46, et seq., without providing the employee 14 calendar days' advanced written notice itemizing the changes. Notice may be provided as early as April 9, 2021.

Effective April 23, 2021, employers are no longer prohibited from:

1. Requiring medical verification from any employee who is availing themselves of the protections of this proclamation.
 - a. Medical verification shall include a determination of or medical opinion as to whether the employee is high risk and whether the employee may be able to return to the workplace with additional accommodations in place, taking into consideration the employee's medical condition, vaccination status, and the particular circumstances of their job or workplace.
 - b. For purposes of obtaining medical verification, employers must follow the same interactive process required by state and federal disability laws, ensuring that employees have a reasonable amount of time to respond. Employers and employees may commence the process on April 9, 2021, but employers may not mandate commencement prior to April 23, 2021.
2. Failing to fully maintain all employer-related health insurance benefits, starting in the calendar month following the month in which the 14-day notice described in paragraph 4, above, lapses; and unless the employee is otherwise eligible under the Family and Medical Leave Act of 1993, Pub.L. 103-3; a collective bargaining agreement; or other condition specific to the employment relationship.

For purposes of this Proclamation, a "high risk employee" is synonymous with any employee defined by the Centers for Disease Control as being more likely to get severely ill from COVID-19.

This Proclamation shall be construed to protect the employee, to the greatest extent possible, from loss of their position and retaliation for decisions made regarding whether and how to work for their employer pursuant to this Proclamation.

This Proclamation shall not be construed:

1. To prohibit an employer from hiring temporary employees so long as it does not negatively impact the permanent employee's right under this Proclamation to return to their employment position without any negative ramifications to their employment status by the employer; or
2. To prohibit an employer from requiring employees who do not report to work under this Proclamation to give up to five days' advance notice to the employer of any decision to report to work or return to work under this Proclamation; or
3. To prohibit an employer from taking employment action when no work reasonably exists, such as in a circumstance of a reduction in force, for a high-risk employee during this Proclamation. However, in the case that no work exists, employers shall not take action that may adversely impact an employee's eligibility for unemployment benefits; or
4. To apply any new rights or obligations created by this Proclamation 20-46.3 retroactively; or
5. To modify my prior clarification that employers may require medical verification from high-risk employees seeking to use any leave where a state or federal law, collective bargaining agreement, or contractual obligation separately requires verification; or
6. To minimize my strong support for telework, the use of alternative or remote work locations, reassignment, and social distancing measures where possible, all of which will continue to mitigate the spread of COVID-19 as employees, who cannot work remotely, return to the workplace; or
7. To minimize my strong support for employers to consider options, where feasible, to continue to provide assistance, including benefits, information, or other resources, to high-risk employees for the duration of the state of emergency.

I again direct that the plans and procedures of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan be implemented throughout state government. State agencies and departments are directed to continue utilizing state resources and doing everything reasonably possible to support implementation of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan and to assist affected political subdivisions in an effort to respond to and recover from the COVID-19 pandemic.

I continue to order into active state service the organized militia of Washington State to include the National Guard and the State Guard, or such part thereof as may be necessary in the opinion of The Adjutant General to address the circumstances described above, to perform such duties as directed by competent authority of the Washington State Military Department in addressing the outbreak. Additionally, I continue to direct the Department of Health, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, and other agencies to identify and provide appropriate personnel for conducting necessary and ongoing incident related assessments.

Violators of this order may be subject to criminal penalties pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(5).

PROCLAMATION BY THE GOVERNOR
AMENDING PROCLAMATIONS 20-05 and 20-25, et seq.

20-25.13

“HEALTHY WASHINGTON – ROADMAP TO RECOVERY”

WHEREAS, on February 29, 2020, I issued Proclamation 20-05, proclaiming a State of Emergency for all counties throughout the state of Washington as a result of the coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) outbreak in the United States and confirmed person-to-person spread of COVID-19 in Washington State; and

WHEREAS, as a result of the continued worldwide spread of COVID-19, its significant progression in Washington State, and the high risk it poses to our most vulnerable populations, I have subsequently issued several amendatory proclamations, exercising my emergency powers under RCW 43.06.220 by prohibiting certain activities and waiving and suspending specified laws and regulations; and

WHEREAS, I issued Proclamations 20-25, et seq., first entitled “Stay Home – Stay Healthy,” in which I initially prohibited all people in Washington State from leaving their homes except under certain circumstances, which I later amended to “Safe Start – Stay Healthy – County-By-County Phased Reopening,” gradually relaxing those limitations based on county-by-county phasing, and on November 16, 2020 again amended 20-25, et seq., to “Stay Safe – Stay Healthy – Rollback of County-By-County Phased Reopening Responding to a COVID-19 Outbreak Surge,” in response to a large surge of new cases of COVID-19, increased hospitalizations and ongoing COVID-19 related deaths in Washington State; and

WHEREAS, on July 2, 2020, due to the increased COVID-19 infection rates across the state, I ordered a freeze on all counties moving forward to a subsequent phase and on July 24, 2020, the Secretary of Health issued Order of the Secretary of Health 20-03.1, found here, which, among other things, requires (with exceptions) the use of face coverings throughout the state; and

WHEREAS, there is evidence that the virus is spread through very small droplets called aerosols that are expelled from our mouths when we breathe, talk, sing, vocalize, cough, or sneeze, that these aerosols linger in air, and that a significant risk factor for spreading the virus is prolonged, close contact with an infected person indoors, especially in poorly ventilated spaces; and

WHEREAS, we know that several factors increase the risk for person-to-person COVID-19 transmission; such factors include (1) the more that people and groups interact, (2) the longer those interactions last, (3) the closer the contact between individuals, and (4) the denser the occupancy for indoor facilities; and

WHEREAS, the worldwide COVID-19 pandemic and its progression in Washington State continue to threaten the life and health of our people as well as the economy of Washington State, and remain a public disaster affecting life, health, property or the public peace; and

WHEREAS, despite several waves of increased infections, hospitalizations, and deaths over the last 14 months, Washington State has avoided overwhelming the state’s health care systems throughout this pandemic through rigorous safety and prevention measures, such as physical distancing and facial coverings, as well as social and economic prohibitions and the heroic efforts of health care professionals; and

WHEREAS, now that three vaccines have been approved for use in the United States and efforts to vaccinate everyone aged 12 and up are underway, it is appropriate to further modify the roadmap to recovery (Healthy Washington – Roadmap To Recovery) that establishes the goal of safely easing some restrictions while also maintaining crucial hospital capacity, ensuring care for Washingtonians who need it, paving the way for economic recovery, and maintaining flexibility to quickly pivot to increase restrictions if needed; and

WHEREAS, as of May 17, 2021, 59 percent of people 16 years of age and older and 48 percent of the total population has initiated vaccination, and 48 percent of people 16 year of age and older and 38 percent of the total population are fully vaccinated; and

WHEREAS, on or about May 13, 2021, data reflects that the number and percent of vaccinated Washington residents continues to increase, while the number of new cases and hospitalizations is decreasing; and

WHEREAS, on May 13, 2021, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) announced that fully vaccinated individuals are not required to wear masks inside or outside, except when in health care settings, correctional facilities, homeless shelters, schools, and public transportation, and Washington state’s data supports adopting that recommendation at this time; and

WHEREAS, the data supported moving all counties to Phase 3 on May 18, 2021, and, further, unless the data changes and supports a different path, setting a goal of fully reopening most sectors in the state by June 30, 2021; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Department of Health continues to maintain a Public Health Incident Management Team in coordination with the State Emergency Operations Center and other supporting state agencies to manage the public health aspects of the incident; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, through the State Emergency Operations Center, continues coordinating resources across state government to support the Department of Health and local health officials in alleviating the impacts to people, property, and infrastructure, and continues coordinating with the state Department of Health in assessing the impacts and long-term effects of the incident on Washington State and its people; and

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Jay Inslee, Governor of the state of Washington, as a result of the above noted situation, and under Chapters 38.08, 38.52 and 43.06 RCW, do hereby proclaim and order that a State of Emergency continues to exist in all counties of Washington State, that Proclamation 20-05, as amended, remains in effect, and that, to help preserve and maintain life, health, property or the public peace pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(1)(h), Proclamation 20-25, et seq., Healthy Washington – Roadmap To Recovery, found here, remains in full force and effect, and extends all of the prohibitions described in Proclamations 20-25, et seq., except as they have been amended and are further amended herein.

FURTHERMORE, for purposes of the prohibitions contained in the Healthy Washington – Roadmap To Recovery, every county began in Phase 1 as of January 11, 2021. Most counties were able to move to the less restrictive Phases 2 and 3 as determined by the Roadmap to Recovery.

Now, given the reduced level of COVID-19 activity in the state and the significant, and increasing, number of vaccinated individuals in our state, I hereby order that all counties are hereby moved to Phase 3, as of May 18, 2021. Further, any activities not specifically addressed in Proclamation 20-25.12 Healthy Washington – Roadmap To Recovery plan remain subject to previously issued guidance related to that activity as it applies to the county’s current or subsequent phase. Finally, if statewide COVID-19 infections or related deaths begin to rise again and reach a statewide hospital Intensive Care Unit capacity of 90% or greater, restrictions may again be reinstated for the protection of everyone in the state.

ADDITIONALLY, in furtherance of these prohibitions and for general awareness:

1. The face covering requirements for workers, employers, businesses, customers, the general public, and any other entities or individuals in prior versions of Proclamation 20-25 are hereby rescinded and replaced with the face covering requirements imposed in and pursuant to this version of Proclamation 20-25.
2. Order of the Secretary of Health 20-03.2, issued on May 15, 2021, is incorporated by reference, and may be amended as is necessary; and, all such amendments are also incorporated by reference.
3. Employers must comply with all conditions for operation required by the Washington State Department of Labor & Industries, including interpretive guidance, regulations and rules and Department of Labor & Industries-administered statutes.
4. Everyone is required to cooperate with public health authorities in the investigation of cases, suspected cases, outbreaks, and suspected outbreaks of COVID-19 and with the implementation of infection control measures pursuant to State Board of Health rule in WAC 246-101-425.
5. All mandatory guidelines for businesses and activities, which remain in effect except as modified by this Proclamation, may be found at the Governor’s Office website, COVID-19 Resources and Information, and at COVID-19 Reopening Guidance for Businesses and Workers. Existing guidelines that require proof of vaccination for certain settings and activities remain in effect until such time as those guidelines are expressly modified.

FURTHERMORE, in support of this proclamation:

1. General rule: Per the CDC’s recommendation adopted by the Governor on May 13, 2021, and as provided in Order of the Secretary of Health 20-03.2, fully vaccinated individuals are not required to wear a face covering inside or outside except when in health care settings, correctional facilities, homeless shelters, schools, and public transportation (collectively, “CDC exempted locations”).
2. Additional local restrictions may apply: Nothing in this proclamation or in the Order of the Secretary of Health 20-03.2 prevents a business owner or local authority from imposing face covering or other restrictions or requirements in businesses or locations that are not included in CDC exempted locations, unless otherwise prohibited by state or federal law. In addition, local authorities and landlords are prohibited from preventing or prohibiting businesses in their jurisdictions and properties from imposing face covering requirements or requiring proof of vaccination from customers and are further prohibited from penalizing a business in any manner if it chooses to require face coverings or proof of vaccination.
3. Customers: In support of the general rule stated above, businesses may choose to implement an honor system and assume that a customer who is not wearing a face covering is fully vaccinated. However, a business may also choose to engage with customers to determine if they are fully vaccinated or are otherwise exempt from the face covering requirement and may also ask customers for proof of vaccination.
4. Employees: Unless additional restrictions are imposed by the employer or a state or local authority or the worksite is an exception under the CDC guidance, a fully vaccinated employee may work at the employee’s worksite without wearing a face covering only after the employee has either provided (a) proof of vaccination to the employer; or (b) a signed document attesting to the employee’s fully vaccinated status. The option to provide a signed self-attestation may be done in hard copy or electronically.

5. Employers: COVID-19 continues to pose a significant risk to health and life. Therefore, employers continue to have a responsibility to ensure workplace safety. To that end, employers:
 - a. Must require proof of vaccination or self-attestation from every employee before those employees are permitted to work at the worksite without wearing a face covering as permitted under the general rule referenced above. Employers may choose the form of proof they will require;
 - b. Notwithstanding (a) above, may require that employees wear a face covering while at the worksite regardless of vaccination status; and
 - c. May require vaccination as a condition of employment, except as prohibited by state or federal law.

ADDITIONALLY, in addition to guidance issued by the Department of Health and the Department of Labor & Industries, additional guidance for businesses, employees, and customers may be found here and is incorporated by reference, and such guidance may be updated periodically and all such updates are also incorporated by reference.

I again direct that the plans and procedures of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan be implemented throughout state government. State agencies and departments are directed to continue utilizing state resources and doing everything reasonably possible to support implementation of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan and to assist affected political subdivisions in an effort to respond to and recover from the COVID-19 pandemic.

I continue to order into active state service the organized militia of Washington State to include the National Guard and the State Guard, or such part thereof as may be necessary in the opinion of The Adjutant General to address the circumstances described above, to perform such duties as directed by competent authority of the Washington State Military Department in addressing the outbreak. Additionally, I continue to direct the Department of Health, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, and other agencies to identify and provide appropriate personnel for conducting necessary and ongoing incident related assessments.

Violators of this order may be subject to criminal penalties pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(5). Further, if people fail to comply with the required facial coverings, social distancing and other protective measures while engaging in this phased reopening, I may be forced to reinstate the prohibitions established in earlier proclamations.

This order is effective immediately. Unless extended or amended, upon expiration or termination of this amendatory proclamation the provisions of Proclamation 20-25, et seq., will continue to be in effect until the state of emergency, issued on February 29, 2020, pursuant to Proclamation 20-05, is rescinded.

Signed and sealed with the official seal of the state of Washington on this 21st day of May, A.D., Two Thousand and Twenty-One at Olympia, Washington.

EMERGENCY PROCLAMATION BY THE GOVERNOR
AMENDING PROCLAMATION 20-05*21-09*Tenancy Preservation – A Bridge to E2SSB 5160

WHEREAS, on February 29, 2020, I issued Proclamation 20-05, proclaiming a State of Emergency for all counties throughout the state of Washington as a result of the coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) outbreak in the United States and confirmed person-to-person spread of COVID-19 in Washington State; and

WHEREAS, the COVID-19 disease, caused by a virus that spreads easily from person to person which may result in serious illness or death and has been classified by the World Health Organization as a worldwide pandemic, continues to persist throughout Washington State; and

WHEREAS, the COVID-19 pandemic caused a sustained global economic slowdown, and an economic downturn throughout Washington State with unprecedented numbers of layoffs and reduced work hours for a significant percentage of our workforce due to substantial reductions in business activity impacting our commercial sectors that support our State's economic vitality, including severe impacts to the large number of small businesses that make Washington State's economy thrive; and

WHEREAS, many in our workforce were impacted by these layoffs and substantially reduced work hours, and economic hardship disproportionately affected low and moderate income workers resulting in lost wages and potentially the inability to pay for basic household expenses, including rent; and

WHEREAS, members of our workforce who are unable to pay rent due to the COVID-19 pandemic face an increased risk of being evicted from their homes, and the resulting increases in life, health and safety risks; and

WHEREAS, to avoid unnecessary and avoidable economic hardship to landlords, property owners, and property managers who are economically impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic, tenants, residents, and renters who are not materially affected by COVID-19 should and must continue to pay rent; and

WHEREAS, under RCW 59.12 (Unlawful Detainer), RCW 59.18 (Residential Landlord-Tenant Act), and RCW 59.20 (Manufactured/Mobile Home Landlord-Tenant Act), tenants seeking to avoid default judgment in eviction hearings must appear in court in order to avoid losing substantial rights to assert defenses or access legal and economic assistance; and

WHEREAS, as Washington state recovers from the COVID-19 pandemic, the Legislature intends to provide housing stability through passage of Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill (E2SSB) 5160, Chapter 115, Laws of 2021, which bolsters tenant protections, and it further intends to preserve tenancies through passage of Engrossed Substitute House Bill (ESHB) 1236, Chapter 212, Laws of 2021, which enumerates allowable grounds for eviction under residential landlord-tenant law; and

WHEREAS, more than 3.4 million Washingtonians have received vaccinations to limit the severity and spread of COVID-19, but the state of Washington remains below the goal of 70% of all eligible persons being vaccinated by June 30, 2021; and

WHEREAS, currently, COVID-19 vaccines are authorized only for people 12 years of age and older, so children under 12 years of age cannot yet be vaccinated and must rely on low levels of community transmission and health measures including face coverings, physical distancing, and hand hygiene to reduce their risk for COVID-19; and

WHEREAS, genomic sequencing shows that variants of concern that are more transmissible and may cause more severe disease, including Alpha, Gamma, and Delta, now represent the majority of new COVID-19 cases in Washington state; and

WHEREAS, vaccination rates vary across the state, leaving communities with low vaccination rates at risk for ongoing transmission of COVID-19 and unvaccinated people in these communities at risk for illness, hospitalization, and death from COVID-19; and

WHEREAS, during the 2021 legislative session, the Legislature appropriated hundreds of millions of dollars from the federal American Rescue Plan Act (ARPA) in rental assistance, but the program to disperse those funds is still under development, and individuals in need of assistance will not be able to submit an application for rental assistance until July 2021 at the earliest; and

WHEREAS, at this time, neither the eviction resolution pilot program nor the right to counsel program as provided by E2SSB 5160 are operational statewide; and

WHEREAS, data from the Census Bureau Pulse Survey released on June 16, 2021, shows that 195,307 renters, or 12% of all Washington renters, are behind on rent. Over 126,000 of those households have children under the age of 18; and

WHEREAS, the state of Washington has implemented a Roadmap to Recovery to assist businesses restart and to increase hiring, yet unemployment remains above 6% with slow recovery in significant industry sectors; and

WHEREAS, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) has again extended the CDC's eviction moratorium, and it is currently scheduled to expire on July 31, 2021; and

WHEREAS, the U.S. Department of Justice, Office of the Associate Attorney General, encourages courts to consider eviction diversion strategies that can help families avoid the disruption and damage caused by eviction, and directs courts to federal resources to help them navigate this crisis.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Jay Inslee, Governor of the state of Washington, as a result of the above- noted situation, and under Chapters 38.08, 38.52 and 43.06 RCW, do hereby proclaim that a State of Emergency continues to exist in all counties of Washington State, that Proclamation 20-19 and all amendments thereto are scheduled to end at 11:59 pm on June 30, 2021, and that because full implementation of Senate Bill 5160 has not yet occurred, Proclamation 20-05 et seq., is amended to temporarily impose certain prohibitions and shall continue to preserve residential tenancy until 11:59 p.m. on September 30, 2021, as provided herein.

I again direct that the plans and procedures of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan be implemented throughout State government. State agencies and departments are directed to continue utilizing state resources and doing everything reasonably possible to support implementation of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan and to assist affected political subdivisions in an effort to respond to and recover from the COVID-19 pandemic.

I continue to order into active state service the organized militia of Washington State to include the National Guard and the State Guard, or such part thereof as may be necessary in the opinion of The Adjutant General to address the circumstances described above, to perform such duties as directed by competent authority of the Washington State Military Department in addressing the outbreak. Additionally, I continue to direct the Washington State Department of Health, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, and other agencies to identify and provide appropriate personnel for conducting necessary and ongoing incident related assessments.

ACCORDINGLY, based on the above noted situation and under the provisions of RCW 43.06.220(1)(h), and to help preserve and maintain life, health, property or the public peace, except where federal law requires otherwise, from July 1, 2021, until 11:59 p.m. on September 30, 2021, I hereby prohibit the following activities related to residential dwellings in Washington State.

STATEMENT OF INTENT:

It is the intent of this order to bridge the operational gap between the eviction moratorium enacted by prior proclamations and the protections and programs subsequently enacted by the Legislature, and to reduce uncertainty as the state implements post-COVID-19 long-term housing recovery strategies contained in legislative enactments such as E2SSB 5160. To that end, any ambiguities contained in this proclamation shall be resolved by applying the processes, timelines, and definitions established in E2SSB 5160.

Furthermore, because the Legislature answered the call to help thousands of landlords and tenants who have endured great hardship during this pandemic by appropriating hundreds of millions of dollars (which are not yet fully disbursed to local communities) and establishing thorough and thoughtful programs to address the ongoing housing crisis (which programs are not yet operational statewide), I respectfully ask that local jurisdictions, rental assistance programs, eviction resolution pilot programs, housing advocacy organizations, courts, landlords, and tenants work collaboratively, patiently, and in good faith to enable the Legislature's remarkable efforts to be effectuated.

- If based in whole or in part on any arrears (rent owed) that accrued due to COVID-19 from February 29, 2020 through July 31, 2021, landlords, property owners, and property managers (collectively, landlords) are prohibited from serving or enforcing, or threatening to serve or enforce, any notice requiring a tenant to vacate any dwelling, including but not limited to an eviction notice, notice to pay or vacate, unlawful detainer summons or complaint, notice of termination of rental, or notice to comply or vacate until both (1) a rental assistance program and an eviction resolution pilot program as contemplated by Section 7 of E2SSB 5160 have been implemented and are operational in the county in which the rental property is located; and (2) a tenant has been provided with, and has, since the effective date of this order, rejected or failed to respond within 14 days of receipt of such notice to an opportunity to participate in an operational rental assistance program and an operational eviction resolution pilot program provided by E2SSB 5160.
- Attestation to program implementation shall be provided by each county rental assistance grant recipient to the Department of Commerce, and by each eviction resolution pilot program to the Administrative Office of the Courts, Office of Civil Legal Aid, and the Office of Financial Management, and such attestations shall be posted to the local county or court public-facing website.

- Tenants must respond to landlords regarding establishing reasonable repayment plans and participate in eviction resolution programs per the timelines established in SB 5160.
- Landlords and tenants are encouraged to address payment of rent through September 30, 2021, as part of the eviction resolution pilot program process.
- There is a presumption that any rent payment made on or after August 1, 2021, is applied to current rent before applying toward arrears.
- Each rental assistance program is authorized to share the application status of a tenant with the tenant’s landlord.
- For purposes of this order, an operational rental assistance program means a program located in the county in which the rental property is located, is receiving or able to receive applications for rental assistance from eligible renters and landlords, is currently disbursing or is able to disburse funds, and remains open throughout the time period of this order.
- For purposes of this order, an operational eviction resolution pilot program means a program that complies with the provisions of Section 7 of E2SSB 5160, is located in the county in which the property is located, is serving or is able to serve pilot program clients, and is located in a jurisdiction in which a standing judicial order of the relevant superior court exists. If an out-of-county resolution program is accepting out-of-county applications, a tenant and landlord may agree, but are not required, to use an operational eviction resolution program located in a different county.
- In addition, both the in-county rental assistance programs and the eviction resolution pilot program must be accessible to persons with limited English proficiency (including access to appropriate professional interpreter services) and either accessible to persons with disabilities or able to serve persons with disabilities by providing a reasonable accommodation.

ENFORCEABLE DEBT (February 29, 2020 through July 31, 2021)

- If based in whole or in part on any arrears that accrued due to COVID-19 from February 29, 2020 through July 31, 2021, landlords are prohibited from treating any unpaid rent or other charges related to a dwelling as an enforceable debt or obligation that is owing or collectable, where such non-payment was, in whole or in part, a result of the COVID-19 crisis, until such time as the landlord and tenant have been provided with an opportunity to resolve nonpayment of rent through a rental assistance program and an eviction resolution pilot program as provided by Section 7 of E2SSB 5160. This prohibition includes attempts to collect, or threats to collect, independently or through a collection agency, by filing an unlawful detainer or other judicial action, by withholding any portion of a security deposit, by reporting to credit bureaus, or by any other means.

FUTURE RENT OWED (August 1, 2021 through September 30, 2021)

- For rent accruing on August 1, 2021, or thereafter, it is the expectation that tenants will pay rent in full, negotiate a lesser amount or a payment plan with the tenant’s landlord, or actively seek rental assistance if assistance is needed. For rent accruing on August 1, 2021, or thereafter, and unless an exception or other state law allows for eviction, landlords are prohibited from serving or enforcing, or threatening to serve or enforce, any notice requiring a tenant to vacate any dwelling, including but not limited to an eviction notice, notice to pay or vacate, unlawful detainer summons or complaint, notice of termination of rental, or notice to comply or vacate, if, unless otherwise permitted by this order or under state law, a tenant has (1) made full payment of rent; or (2) made a partial payment of rent based on their individual economic circumstances as negotiated with the landlord; or (3) has a pending application for rental assistance that has not been fully processed; or (4) resides in a jurisdiction in which the rental assistance program is anticipating receipt of additional rental assistance resources but has not yet started their program or the rental assistance program is not yet accepting new applications for assistance.
- There is a presumption that any rent payment made on or after August 1, 2021, is applied to current rent before applying toward arrears.
- A landlord is not required to accept partial payment of rent but is required to offer a tenant a reasonable repayment plan under this order and pursuant to Section 4 of E2SSB 5160.
- A rental assistance program is authorized to share the application status of a tenant with the tenant’s landlord.

LATE FEES (February 29, 2020 through September 30, 2021)

- Landlords are prohibited from assessing, or threatening to assess, late fees for the non- payment or late payment of rent or other charges related to a dwelling where such non- payment or late payment occurred due to COVID-19 on or after February 29, 2020 through September 30, 2021.

RENT INCREASES (February 29, 2020 through September 30, 2021)

- While this order does not prohibit rent increases, any rent notice increases that were prohibited pursuant to Proclamation 20-19 et seq., continue to be prohibited and may not be retroactively imposed. Any rent increases issued within the effective dates of this order must conform to RCW 59.18.140. Landlords accepting funds through state and/or federal rent assistance program may be prohibited from increasing rents as part of state or local program guidelines.

WRITTEN NOTICE OF RESOURCES AND PROGRAMS (February 29, 2020 through September 30, 2021)

- For rent owed that accrued due to COVID-19 on or after February 29, 2020, landlords are prohibited from serving or enforcing, or threatening to serve or enforce, any notice requiring a resident to vacate any dwelling, including but not limited to an eviction notice, notice to pay or vacate, unlawful detainer summons or complaint, notice of termination of rental, or notice to comply or vacate without first providing the tenant with written notice of the funding resources and programs established in E2SSB 5160. The written material may be provided in hard copy or electronically. Links to these materials may also be found on the Washington state Attorney General Office's website.

REASONABLE REPAYMENT PLANS (February 29, 2020 through September 30, 2021)

- For rent owed that accrued due to COVID-19 on or after February 29, 2020, landlords are prohibited from serving or enforcing, or threatening to serve or enforce, any notice requiring a resident to vacate any dwelling, including but not limited to an eviction notice, notice to pay or vacate, unlawful detainer summons or complaint, notice of termination of rental, or notice to comply or vacate if the landlord has made no attempt to establish a reasonable repayment plan with the tenant per E2SSB 5160, or if they cannot agree on a plan and no local eviction resolution pilot program per E2SSB 5160 exists.
 - “Reasonable repayment plan” has the same meaning as “reasonable schedule for repayment,” as defined in Section 4 of E2SSB 5160, and means a repayment plan or schedule for unpaid rent that does not exceed monthly payments equal to one-third of the monthly rental charges during the period of accrued debt.
 - Tenants must respond to landlords within 14 days of the landlord's offer, per the timeline established in E2SSB 5160.
 - If a tenant fails to accept the terms of a reasonable repayment plan or if the tenant defaults on any rent owed under a repayment plan, a landlord must first provide notice to the tenant informing the tenant of the eviction resolution pilot program, and then follow the procedures provided by E2SSB 5160, before filing an unlawful detainer action. The pilot program must be operational at the time the notice is sent and must be able to provide the tenant with an opportunity to participate in the program.

PERMISSIBLE UNLAWFUL DETAINER ACTIONS

- Excepting the prohibitions stated herein, all other allowable evictions under ESHB 1236 and the current Residential Landlord-Tenant Act (RCW 59.18) and Manufactured/Mobile Home Landlord-Tenant Act (RCW 59.20) may proceed as otherwise allowed by law.

LOCAL LAW ENFORCEMENT

- Local law enforcement entities are prohibited from serving, threatening to serve, or otherwise acting on eviction orders affecting any dwelling unless the eviction order, including a writ of restitution, contains a finding that the landlord has complied with this order and the unlawful detainer action is permitted under this order.

COMMUNICATIONS

- Nothing in this order precludes a landlord from engaging in customary and routine communications with tenants. “Customary and routine” means communication practices that were in place prior to the issuance of Emergency Proclamation 20-19 on March 18, 2020, but only to the extent that those communications reasonably notify a tenant of upcoming rent that is due; provide notice of community events, news, or updates; document a lease violation; are related to negotiating a reasonable repayment plan or other program provided by E2SSB 5160; or are otherwise consistent with this order. Within these communications and parameters, landlords may provide information to tenants regarding financial resources, including coordinating with tenants in applying for rent assistance through the state's Emergency Rent Assistance Program (ERAP) or an alternative rent assistance program, and to provide tenants with information on how to engage with them in discussions regarding reasonable repayment plans as described in this order.
- Tenants must respond to landlords regarding establishing reasonable repayment plans and participation in eviction resolution programs per the timelines established in SB 5160.

RETALIATION

- Landlords are prohibited from retaliating against individuals for invoking their rights or protections under this Proclamation, Proclamations 20-19 et seq., or any other state or federal law providing rights or protections for residential dwellings.

RIGHT TO COUNSEL

- Nothing in this order modifies the requirement in Section 8 of E2SSB 5160 that a court must appoint an attorney for an indigent tenant in an unlawful detainer proceeding while this order is in effect.

EXCLUSIONS

- This order and these prohibitions do not apply to emergency shelters where length of stay is conditioned upon a resident's participation in, and compliance with, a supportive services program. Emergency shelters should make every effort to work with shelter clients to find alternate housing solutions. In addition, this order and these prohibitions do not apply to long-term care facilities licensed or certified by Department of Social and Health Services; transient housing in hotels and motels; “Airbnbs”; motor homes; RVs; public lands; and camping areas.

FURTHERMORE, this order acknowledges, applauds, and reflects gratitude to the immeasurable contribution to the health and well-being of our communities and families made by the landlords, property owners, and property managers subject to this order.

Violators of this order may be subject to criminal penalties pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(5).

PROCLAMATION BY THE GOVERNOR
AMENDING PROCLAMATIONS 20-05, 20-12, et seq., AND 20-25, et seq.

Higher Education

WHEREAS, on February 29, 2020, I issued Proclamation 20-05, proclaiming a State of Emergency for all counties throughout Washington State as a result of the coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) outbreak in the United States and confirmed person-to-person spread of COVID-19 in Washington State; and

WHEREAS, as a result of the continued worldwide spread of COVID-19, its persistence in Washington State, and the high risk it continues to pose to our most vulnerable populations, I have subsequently issued several amendatory proclamations, exercising my emergency powers under RCW 43.06.220 by prohibiting certain activities and waiving and suspending specified laws and regulations; and

WHEREAS, the COVID-19 disease, caused by a virus that spreads easily from person to person, which may result in serious illness or death and has been classified by the World Health Organization as a worldwide pandemic, continues to persist in the state of Washington; and

WHEREAS, despite an increase in infections, hospitalizations, and deaths in the latter half of 2020, Washington State has avoided overwhelming the state's health care systems throughout this pandemic by implementing rigorous safety and prevention measures, such as physical distancing, masking, social and economic prohibitions and, since December 2020, the administration of vaccinations to prevent infection with the coronavirus that causes COVID-19 symptoms; and

WHEREAS, the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) and the Washington State Department of Health (DOH) have determined that the COVID-19 vaccines that have received emergency approval by the U.S. Food & Drug Administration are safe and effective against infection with the coronavirus that causes COVID-19; and

WHEREAS, everyone age 12 and older is currently eligible to receive a vaccination against the coronavirus causing COVID-19 symptoms, and Washington health care providers, in collaboration with public health and other community partners, have successfully administered millions of vaccine doses, but have millions more doses to administer, and it is necessary to achieve the highest rate of vaccination of the United States population as possible; and

WHEREAS, on March 13, 2020, in recognition of experts' warnings that continued normal operation of public and private universities, colleges, community colleges, and technical colleges could increase the spread of COVID-19 throughout Washington State, I issued Emergency Proclamation 20-12 prohibiting public and private universities, colleges, community colleges, and technical colleges from conducting in-person classroom instruction and lectures related to all educational programs; and

WHEREAS, the prohibitions in Proclamation 20-12 expired on April 24, 2020, but public and private universities, colleges, community colleges, and technical colleges remained in modified operation, including remote learning and certain programs for essential workers; and

WHEREAS, Washington's public and private universities, colleges, community colleges, and technical colleges are an important part of our economy and are vital to the educational, social, and economic needs of Washingtonians; and

WHEREAS, the progression of COVID-19 in Washington State shows ethnic disparities in health impacts which are likely to increase ethnic disparities in access and success in post-secondary education, requiring the State and all of our campuses and programs to understand how these challenges affect our students and to work to minimize these impacts; and

WHEREAS, although public and private universities, colleges, community colleges, and technical colleges made tremendous efforts to continue to function through remote learning, in-person learning benefits Washington; and

WHEREAS, the nature of COVID-19 viral transmission, including both asymptomatic and symptomatic spread as well as the relatively high infectious nature, suggests it is appropriate to provide in-person learning at public and private universities, colleges, and technical schools only through a science-based approach that incorporates safety, sanitation, and physical distancing guidelines; and

WHEREAS, during the initial return to campus in the fall of 2020, there were more than 35 COVID-19 outbreaks linked to public and private institutions of higher education, and some higher education institutions have seen a substantial increase in COVID-19 positive cases that are tied to both congregate living arrangements, including fraternities and sororities, and also large social gatherings of students, thereby triggering the need to increase safety measures to address these outbreaks; and

WHEREAS, I issued Proclamations 20-12.1 and 20-12.2 to permit Washington's public and private universities, colleges, community colleges, and technical colleges to resume in-person instruction, lectures and similar educational gatherings, provided that extensive safety requirements were implemented, and to impose certain safety requirements on shared housing; and

WHEREAS, the widespread availability of safe and effective COVID-19 vaccinations makes it appropriate to lift legally-mandated safety requirements for public and private universities, colleges, community colleges, and technical colleges that have committed to implementing vaccination requirements on their campuses; and

WHEREAS, the worldwide COVID-19 pandemic and its progression in Washington State continue to threaten the life and health of our people as well as the economy of Washington State, and remain a public disaster affecting life, health, property or the public peace, and

WHEREAS, students attending public and private universities, colleges, community colleges, and technical colleges are largely in the age demographic with the highest rate of COVID-19 cases and the lowest rate of vaccinations of those over the age of 18, which, taken with the foregoing, justifies continuing to mandate certain safety measures for public and private universities, colleges, community colleges, and technical colleges that choose not to implement vaccination requirements on their campuses; and

WHEREAS, DOH continues to maintain a Public Health Incident Management Team in coordination with the State Emergency Operations Center and other supporting state agencies to manage the public health aspects of the incident; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, through the State Emergency Operations Center, continues coordinating resources across state government to support DOH and local health officials in alleviating the impacts to people, property, and infrastructure, and continues coordinating with DOH in assessing the impacts and long-term effects of the incident on Washington State and its people.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Jay Inslee, Governor of the state of Washington, as a result of the above- noted situation, and under Chapters 38.08, 38.52 and 43.06 RCW, do hereby proclaim and order that a State of Emergency continues to exist in all counties of Washington State, that Proclamation 20-05 and all amendments thereto remain in effect as amended, and that, to help preserve and maintain life, health, property or the public peace pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(1)(h), Proclamations 20-05 and 20-12, et seq., and 20-25, et seq., continue in effect except as amended herein, to allow for in-person classroom instruction, lectures and similar educational gatherings at public and private universities, colleges, community colleges, and technical colleges (referred to hereafter collectively as institutions of higher education, or IHEs), provided certain requirements are and continue to be satisfied.

FURTHERMORE, IHEs that do not have fully vaccinated campuses are prohibited from providing in-person classroom instruction, lectures and similar educational gatherings, except when they implement, follow, and enforce the requirements specified below. IHEs with fully vaccinated campuses are wholly exempt from this proclamation and encouraged, but not required, to follow DOH's COVID-19 recommendations for higher education.

IHEs WITH FULLY VACCINATED CAMPUSES

An IHE has a fully vaccinated campus and is exempt from this proclamation when it meets all of the following requirements:

- The IHE implements a policy requiring all of its students, staff, and faculty who participate in or attend IHE courses, operations, or other activities in person at IHE locations to be fully vaccinated against COVID-19, subject to any medical exemptions required by law and any religious or philosophical exemptions the IHE provides.

- For purposes of this proclamation, a person is fully vaccinated against COVID-19 two weeks after they have received the second dose in a two-dose series of a COVID-19 vaccine authorized for emergency use by the FDA (e.g., Pfizer-BioNTech or Moderna) or two weeks after they have received a single-dose COVID-19 vaccine authorized for emergency use by the FDA (e.g., Johnson & Johnson (J&J)/Janssen). For purposes of this proclamation, an IHE may consider a person fully vaccinated against COVID-19 two weeks after they have received all recommended doses of a COVID-19 vaccine that is listed for emergency use by the World Health Organization (WHO).
- The IHE implements a policy and procedure to verify the vaccination status of students, staff, and faculty who are not exempt from the vaccination requirement:
 - The IHE must verify the vaccination status of all staff and faculty who do not wear face coverings in the workplace, as required by the Department of Labor & Industries (L&I).
 - The IHE must verify the vaccination status of all students by obtaining or observing documentary proof of full vaccination, such as a CDC vaccination card, documentation of vaccination from a health care provider, or a state immunization information system record, or obtaining a hard copy or electronically signed self-attestation from the student. Any student self-attestation must include the following information:
 - The dates when each dose of the COVID-19 vaccine was administered to the student;
 - Language stating that the student is attesting to the truthfulness of their self-attestation and will be subject to disciplinary action if their self-attestation is determined to be untruthful in violation of the IHE’s code of conduct or equivalent; and
 - Language stating that the IHE and state and local public health officials may require further verification of the student’s vaccination status, including observing the student’s CDC vaccination card, state immunization information system record, or other documentation.
- The IHE implements a policy requiring every student, staff member, and faculty member who claims an exemption to the vaccination requirement and every volunteer, contractor, and visitor to wear a face covering at IHE locations in accordance with the Secretary of Health’s face covering order and to comply with any applicable L&I workplace safety requirements. For people claiming exemptions to the Secretary of Health’s face covering order, the IHE’s policy must include putting in place other safety measures to protect the safety of the exempt people and others.

REQUIREMENTS FOR IHEs WITHOUT FULLY VACCINATED CAMPUSES

Campus Safety

- Adhere to all federal, state and local public health and workplace safety requirements;
- Develop a comprehensive COVID-19 infection control plan incorporating the requirements below, applicable workplace safety requirements, and best practices in CDC and DOH guidance for IHEs, and make available a copy of the plan at each location on campus;
- Implement a policy and procedure requiring students, staff, and faculty to provide information about their vaccination status:
 - The IHE must verify the vaccination status of all staff and faculty who do not wear face coverings in the workplace, as required by L&I.
 - The IHE must ascertain the vaccination status of all students. From students who are not fully vaccinated, the IHE must obtain a hard copy or electronically signed self-attestation that they are not fully vaccinated. From fully vaccinated students, the IHE must obtain or observe documentary proof of full vaccination, such as a CDC vaccination card, documentation of vaccination from a health care provider, or a state immunization information system record, or obtain a hard copy or electronically signed self-attestation from the student. Any student self-attestation must include the following information:
 - The dates when each dose of the COVID-19 vaccine was administered to the student;
 - Language stating that the student is attesting to the truthfulness of their self-attestation and will be subject to disciplinary action if their self-attestation is determined to be untruthful in violation of the IHE’s code of conduct or equivalent; and
 - Language stating that the IHE and state and local public health officials may require further verification of the student’s vaccination status, including viewing the student’s CDC vaccination card, state immunization information system record, or other documentation;
- Enforce compliance with the Secretary of Health’s face covering order and L&I’s requirements inside IHE facilities;
- To the extent permitted by law, require all students, regardless of vaccination status, to wear face coverings when meeting with a faculty member for office hours or similar purposes, if requested by the faculty member;
- Maintain minimum physical distancing, whenever possible, of three feet between all non-household members indoors on campus, including students, faculty, staff, volunteers, contractors, and visitors, and where physical distancing cannot be maintained, implement administrative or engineering controls to minimize exposure;
- Implement and maintain hand washing policies to ensure frequent and adequate hand washing and maintain adequate supplies;
- Implement and maintain adequate sanitization protocols consistent with CDC’s Cleaning and Disinfecting Your Facility

guidance and Guidance for Institutions of Higher Education \(IHEs\) and the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency's list of disinfectants for COVID-19;

- Implement and maintain a self-certification COVID-19 screening program for students and personnel consistent with DOH's Guidance for Daily COVID-19 Symptom Screening of Staff and Guests;
- Develop response protocols for students, personnel, and visitors reporting symptoms and/or confirmed to have COVID-19;
- If students or personnel are experiencing any known COVID-19 symptoms, are confirmed to have COVID-19, or have been exposed to a confirmed case of COVID-19, require them to follow the direction of the local health jurisdiction and, to the extent not inconsistent with that direction, DOH's Evaluation and Management of Persons with New Unexplained Symptoms of COVID-19, What to do if you were potentially exposed to someone with COVID-19, and What to do if you have confirmed or suspected COVID-19 and CDC's What to Do If You Are Sick guidance;
- Make diligent efforts to monitor and enforce compliance with the requirements of this proclamation by students and personnel within the institution's disciplinary authority and procedures and any other applicable authority;
- Develop a plan with the relevant local health jurisdiction to address the isolation and quarantine needs of any personnel and students who have confirmed or suspected COVID-19 or exposure to an individual confirmed to have COVID-19 and are unable to isolate or quarantine in their usual place of residence; and
- Assess recognized hazards, including COVID-19, as part of the ongoing requirement to provide a safe and healthy workplace and, where appropriate, take additional steps to protect unvaccinated employees. Appropriate steps could include but are not limited to maximizing fresh air and providing a mask that is more protective than a cloth face covering. These should be considered as part of the IHE's comprehensive infection control plan.

Student Worker and Personnel Support

- Provide student workers and personnel with PPE such as gloves, goggles, face shields, and/or masks as appropriate or required for student workers/personnel not working alone (e.g. any public-facing job and/or those whose responsibility includes operating within physical distancing limits), and shut down or suspend any activity if PPE cannot be provided;
- Comply and require compliance with L&I requirements for face coverings and the Secretary of Health's face covering order as applicable to the workplace except where this order is more stringent;
- Identify available alternative arrangements for student workers and personnel upon requests or refusals to work due to concerns related to campus safety. Priority should be given for student workers/personnel who are considered high-risk or vulnerable as defined by public health officials (following state guidelines for COVID-19 scenarios and benefits); and
- Educate students and personnel on symptom detection, sources of high risk to COVID-19, prevention measures, and leave benefits/policies.

Visitor Expectations

- Post visible entry point signage for students, personnel, and visitors describing shared on- campus responsibilities and requirements, including those regarding proper hygiene and sanitization, physical distancing and face coverings, staying home if feeling sick, information on how and when to report concerns, and other information as appropriate or required.

Food Services

- Implement floor markings to promote physical distancing;
- Post signs to remind patrons of physical distancing and face covering requirements and to use hand sanitizer;
- Complete routine sanitization of high-touch surfaces and shared resources (e.g., door handles, points of sales); and
- Enforce compliance with the Secretary of Health's face covering order and L&I's requirements inside IHE food service facilities

I again direct that the plans and procedures of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan be implemented throughout state government. State agencies and departments are directed to continue utilizing state resources and doing everything reasonably possible to support implementation of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan and to assist affected political subdivisions in an effort to respond to and recover from the COVID-19 pandemic.

I continue to order into active state service the organized militia of Washington State to include the National Guard and the State Guard, or such part thereof as may be necessary in the opinion of The Adjutant General to address the circumstances described above, to perform such duties as directed by competent authority of the Washington State Military Department in addressing the outbreak. Additionally, I continue to direct the Department of Health, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, and other agencies to identify and provide appropriate personnel for conducting necessary and ongoing incident related assessments.

This Proclamation, and the prohibitions and orders contained herein, takes effect at 12:01 a.m. on July 1, 2021, and remains in effect until rescinded or otherwise amended. Violators of this order may be subject to criminal penalties pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(5).

Secretary of State

PROCLAMATION BY THE GOVERNOR
AMENDING PROCLAMATIONS 20-05 and 20-25, et seq.

“WASHINGTON READY”

WHEREAS, on February 29, 2020, I issued Proclamation 20-05, proclaiming a State of Emergency for all counties throughout the state of Washington as a result of the coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) outbreak in the United States and confirmed person-to-person spread of COVID-19 in Washington State; and

WHEREAS, as a result of the continued worldwide spread of COVID-19, its persistence in Washington State, and the high risk it continues to pose to our most vulnerable populations, I have subsequently issued amendatory proclamations, exercising my emergency powers under RCW 43.06.220, that prohibit certain activities and waive and suspend specified laws and regulations; and

WHEREAS, I issued Proclamations 20-25, et seq., first entitled “Stay Home – Stay Healthy,” in which I prohibited people in Washington State from leaving their homes except under certain circumstances, which I later amended to “Safe Start – Stay Healthy – County-By-County Phased Reopening,” then to “Stay Safe – Stay Healthy – Rollback of County-By-County Phased Reopening Responding to a COVID- 19 Outbreak Surge,” and then to “Healthy Washington – Roadmap to Recovery,” in response to the changing COVID-19 epidemiological and health system conditions in Washington State; and

WHEREAS, on July 2, 2020, due to the COVID-19 infection rates which were increasing across the state, I ordered a freeze on all counties moving forward to a subsequent phase of reopening and on July 24, 2020, the Secretary of Health issued Order of the Secretary of Health 20-03.1, which, among other things, required (with exceptions) the use of face coverings throughout the state; and

WHEREAS, over the past 16 months, health experts and epidemiological modeling experts, including those at the Department of Health, the United States Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), and our state universities, have gained critical knowledge regarding the spread of COVID-19, including a better understanding of the risks associated with certain activities and the measures that can be taken to reduce those risks; and

WHEREAS, we now know that several factors increase the risk for person-to-person COVID-19 transmission; such factors include (1) the more that people and groups interact, (2) the longer those interactions last, (3) the closer the contact between individuals, and (4) the denser the occupancy for indoor facilities; and

WHEREAS, the worldwide COVID-19 pandemic and its persistence in Washington State continue to threaten the life and health of our people as well as the economy of Washington State, and remain a public disaster affecting life, health, property or the public peace; and

WHEREAS, although the COVID-19 disease continues as an ongoing and present threat in Washington State, the measures we have taken together as Washingtonians over the past 16 months, including the willingness of Washingtonians to take advantage of the remarkable, life-saving vaccines being administered throughout the state, have made a difference and have altered the course of the pandemic in fundamental ways; and

WHEREAS, although Department of Health statistics reflect the continued persistence of COVID-19 and support the continuation of the state of emergency, health experts and epidemiological modeling experts believe that as a state we have made adequate progress against COVID-19 to begin modifying the roadmap to recovery (Healthy Washington – Roadmap To Recovery) to move towards the goal of safely easing some restrictions while also maintaining crucial hospital capacity, ensuring care for Washingtonians who need it, paving the way for economic recovery, and maintaining flexibility to quickly pivot to increase restrictions if needed; and

WHEREAS, as of June 30, 2021, at least 67 percent of people 16 years of age and older and 55 percent of the total population have initiated vaccination, and at least 60 percent of people 16 year of age and older and 50 percent of the total population are fully vaccinated; and

WHEREAS, data reflect that the number and percent of vaccinated Washington residents continue to increase, while the number of new COVID-19 cases, hospitalizations, and deaths are decreasing; and

WHEREAS, as of June 30, 2021, notwithstanding the progress made in increasing the vaccination rate among persons eligible to vaccinated, we continue to have new COVID-19 cases on a daily basis and new COVID-19 deaths on nearly a daily basis; and

WHEREAS, on May 13, 2021, the CDC announced that fully vaccinated individuals are not recommended to wear masks inside or outside, except when in health care settings, correctional facilities, homeless shelters, schools, and public transportation, and Washington State's data support adopting the CDC's position at this time; and

WHEREAS, the data supported moving all counties to Phase 3 on May 18, 2021, and, supported fully reopening most sectors in the state by June 30, 2021; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Department of Health continues to maintain a Public Health Incident Management Team in coordination with the State Emergency Operations Center and other supporting state agencies to manage the public health aspects of the incident; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, through the State Emergency Operations Center, continues coordinating resources across state government to support the Department of Health and local health officials in alleviating the impacts to people, property, and infrastructure, and continues coordinating with the state Department of Health in assessing the impacts and long-term effects of the incident on Washington State and its people; and

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Jay Inslee, Governor of the state of Washington, as a result of the above noted situation, and under Chapters 38.08, 38.52 and 43.06 RCW, do hereby proclaim and order that a State of Emergency continues to exist in all counties of Washington State, that Proclamation 20-05, as amended, remains in effect, and that, to help preserve and maintain life, health, property or the public peace pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(1)(h), Proclamation 20-25, et seq., Healthy Washington – Roadmap To Recovery, renamed Washington Ready pursuant to this order, found here, remains in full force and effect, and all of the prohibitions described therein are extended except as they are specifically altered or amended by this Proclamation.

FURTHERMORE, for purposes of the prohibitions contained in the Healthy Washington – Roadmap To Recovery, every county began in Phase 1 as of January 11, 2021. Most counties were able to move to the less restrictive Phases 2 and 3 as determined by the Roadmap to Recovery. Now, given the reduced level of COVID-19 activity in the state and the significant, and increasing, number of vaccinated individuals in our state, I hereby order that movement, occupancy, and face-covering restrictions are modified as set forth in this Proclamation 20-25.14, Washington Ready. If statewide COVID-19 infections or related deaths begin to rise again and reach a statewide hospital Intensive Care Unit capacity of 90% or greater, restrictions may again be reinstated for the protection of everyone in the state.

ADDITIONALLY, in furtherance of these prohibitions, and for general awareness:

1. The face covering requirements for workers, employers, businesses, customers, the general public, and any other entities or individuals in prior versions of Proclamation 20-25 are hereby rescinded and replaced with the face covering requirements imposed in and pursuant to this version of Proclamation 20-25.
2. The Secretary of Health's face covering order and any subsequent amendments are incorporated by reference.
3. Employers must comply with all conditions for operation required by the Washington State Department of Labor & Industries, including interpretive guidance, regulations and rules and Department of Labor & Industries-administered statutes.
4. Everyone is required to cooperate with public health authorities in the investigation of cases, suspected cases, outbreaks, and suspected outbreaks of COVID-19 and with the implementation of infection control measures pursuant to State Board of Health rule in WAC 246-101-425.
5. All mandatory guidelines for specific businesses and activities, which remain in effect except as modified by this Proclamation, may be found at the Governor's Office website, COVID-19 Resources and Information, and at COVID-19 Reopening Guidance for Businesses and Workers. Existing guidelines that require proof of vaccination for certain settings and activities remain in effect until such time as those guidelines are expressly modified.

FURTHERMORE, in support of this proclamation:

6. General rule: General face covering requirements are found in the Secretary of Health's face covering order, and any subsequent amendments, as incorporated herein by reference.

7. Additional local restrictions may apply: Nothing in this proclamation or in the Secretary of Health's face covering order prevents any other individual or entity from imposing face covering or other restrictions or requirements in businesses or other locations within the scope of their legal authority. In addition, local authorities and landlords are prohibited from preventing or prohibiting businesses in their jurisdictions and tenants in their properties, respectively, from imposing face covering requirements or requiring proof of vaccination from customers, and are further prohibited from penalizing a business or tenant in any manner if it chooses to require face coverings or proof of vaccination.
8. Customers: In support of the Secretary of Health's face covering order, businesses may choose to implement an honor system and assume that all customers who are not wearing face coverings while indoors are fully vaccinated. However, a business may also choose to engage with customers to determine if they are fully vaccinated or are otherwise exempt from the indoor face covering requirement and may also ask customers for proof of vaccination.
9. Employees: Unless additional restrictions are imposed by the employer or a state or local authority or face coverings are legally required at the specific worksite regardless of vaccination status, a fully vaccinated employee may work indoors at the employee's worksite without wearing a face covering, but only after the employee has either provided (a) proof of vaccination to the employer; or (b) a signed document attesting to the employee's fully vaccinated status. The option to provide a signed self-attestation may be done in hard copy or electronically.
10. Employers: Employers are required to provide a safe and healthy workplace and must assess hazards in their workplace and take appropriate steps to protect workers. COVID-19 remains a recognized hazard that continues to pose a significant risk to the health and life of employees. Employers therefore must assess the hazard COVID-19 poses to their workplace and take appropriate steps to protect workers, including workers who are not fully vaccinated. To that end, employers:
 - a. Must obtain proof of vaccination or a hard copy or electronically signed document attesting to the employee's fully vaccinated status from every employee before the employee is permitted to work at an indoor worksite without wearing a face covering, and must follow applicable rules for those jobs and worksites that continue to require face coverings;
 - b. Notwithstanding (a) above, may require that employees wear a face covering while at the worksite regardless of vaccination status; and
 - c. May require vaccination as a condition of employment, except as prohibited by state or federal law.

ADDITIONALLY, in addition to guidance issued by the Department of Health and the Department of Labor & Industries, additional guidance for businesses, employees, and customers may be found here and is incorporated by reference, and such guidance may be updated periodically and all such updates are also incorporated by reference.

I again direct that the plans and procedures of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan be implemented throughout state government. State agencies and departments are directed to continue utilizing state resources and doing everything reasonably possible to support implementation of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan and to assist affected political subdivisions in an effort to respond to and recover from the COVID-19 pandemic.

I continue to order into active state service the organized militia of Washington State to include the National Guard and the State Guard, or such part thereof as may be necessary in the opinion of The Adjutant General to address the circumstances described above, to perform such duties as directed by competent authority of the Washington State Military Department in addressing the outbreak. Additionally, I continue to direct the Department of Health, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, and other agencies to identify and provide appropriate personnel for conducting necessary and ongoing incident related assessments.

Violators of this order may be subject to criminal penalties pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(5). Further, if people fail to comply with the required facial coverings, social distancing and other protective measures while engaging in this phased reopening, I may be forced to reinstate the prohibitions established in earlier proclamations.

This order is effective immediately. Unless extended or amended, or termination of this amendatory proclamation, the provisions of Proclamation 20-25, et seq., will continue to be in effect until the state of emergency, issued on February 29, 2020, pursuant to Proclamation 20-05, is rescinded.

Ratepayer Assistance and Preservation of Essential Services

WHEREAS, on February 29, 2020, I issued Proclamation 20-05, proclaiming a State of Emergency for all counties throughout Washington State of as a result of the coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID- 19) outbreak in the United States and confirmed person-to-person spread of COVID-19 in Washington State; and

WHEREAS, as a result of the continued worldwide spread of COVID-19, its continued persistence in Washington State, and the high risk it continues to pose to our most vulnerable populations, I have subsequently issued several amendatory proclamations, exercising my emergency powers under RCW 43.06.220 by prohibiting certain activities and waiving and suspending specified laws and regulations; and

WHEREAS, the COVID-19 disease, caused by a virus that spreads easily from person to person which may result in serious illness or death and has been classified by the World Health Organization as a worldwide pandemic, continues to persist as an ongoing threat in Washington State; and

WHEREAS, the COVID-19 pandemic caused a global economic slowdown and an economic downturn in Washington State, which resulted in layoffs and reduced work hours for a significant percentage of our workforce and significant reductions in business activity impacting the commercial sectors that support our state’s economic vitality, including severe impacts to the large number of small businesses that make Washington State’s economy thrive; and

WHEREAS, the COVID-19 pandemic has limited the available financial resources of many of our people and businesses with many of them suffering considerable economic hardship as a result of the economic impacts of the COVID-19 pandemic on our economy, resulting in a significant threat of utility services being disconnected and late payment fees being imposed; and

WHEREAS, maintaining provision of utility services during this crisis is an essential tool in sustaining and protecting the health and welfare of our people and businesses as a critical part of the overall response to the COVID-19 pandemic; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Utilities and Transportation Commission regulates the rates and services of investor-owned utilities in Washington State and is coordinating with utilities throughout the State to protect the availability and affordability of essential utility services for those economically impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic through a variety of measures, including: suspending disconnection of utilities for nonpayment, waiving late fees, working with affected utility customers to establish payment arrangements, and improving access to energy assistance for affected customers; and

WHEREAS, on March 18, 2020, I issued Proclamation 20-23, waiving and suspending statutes and prohibiting certain activities relating to utility services; and

WHEREAS, on March 24, 2020, I issued Proclamation 20-23.1, amending and continuing the waivers and suspension of statutes and the prohibitions of certain activities relating to utility services; and

WHEREAS, under the provisions of RCW 43.06.220(4), the statutory waivers and suspensions in Proclamations 20-23, et seq., have been periodically extended by the leadership of the Washington State Senate and House of Representatives, and which I acknowledged and similarly extended the prohibitions therein; and

WHEREAS, on January 15, 2021, under the provisions of RCW 43.06.220(4), the statutory waivers and suspensions of Proclamation 20-23, et seq., were extended by Senate Concurrent Resolution 8402 until the termination of the state of emergency pursuant to RCW 43.06.210, or until rescinded, whichever occurs first, and which I acknowledged and similarly extended the prohibitions therein; and

WHEREAS, on March 18, 2021, I amended 20-23, et seq., to extend the prohibitions on disconnecting, refusing to reconnect, and charging late fees until termination of the COVID-19 State of Emergency or 11:59 p.m. on July 31, 2021, whichever comes first; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Utilities and Transportation Commission extended its moratorium for disconnections for nonpayment through July 31, 2021, at which time the Commission will lift its moratorium; and

WHEREAS, the worldwide COVID-19 pandemic and its persistence in Washington State continue to threaten the life and health of our people as well as the economy of Washington State, and remain a public disaster affecting life, health, property or the public peace; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Department of Health continues to maintain a Public Health Incident Management Team in coordination with the State Emergency Operations Center and other supporting state agencies to manage the public health aspects of the incident; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, through the State Emergency Operations Center, continues coordinating resources across state government to support the Washington State Department of Health and local health officials in alleviating the impacts to people, property, and infrastructure, and continues coordinating with the Department of Health in assessing the impacts and long-term effects of the incident on Washington State and its people.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Jay Inslee, Governor of the state of Washington, as a result of the above- noted situation, and under Chapters 38.08, 38.52 and 43.06 RCW, do hereby proclaim that a State of Emergency continues to exist in all counties of Washington State, that Proclamation 20-05 and amendments thereto remain in effect, and that Proclamations 20-05 and 20-23, et seq., are amended to (1) recognize the extension of statutory waivers and suspensions therein by the Washington State Legislature until termination of the State of Emergency pursuant to RCW 43.06.210, or until rescinded, whichever occurs first, and (2) similarly extend the prohibitions therein until through the termination of the state of emergency, or until rescinded, whichever occurs first, unless provided otherwise below.

I again direct that the plans and procedures of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan be implemented throughout state government. State agencies and departments are directed to continue utilizing state resources and doing everything reasonably possible to support implementation of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan and to assist affected political subdivisions in an effort to respond to and recover from the COVID-19 pandemic.

I continue to order into active state service the organized militia of Washington State to include the National Guard and the State Guard, or such part thereof as may be necessary in the opinion of The Adjutant General to address the circumstances described above, to perform such duties as directed by competent authority of the Washington State Military Department in addressing the outbreak. Additionally, I continue to direct the Washington State Department of Health, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, and other agencies to identify and provide appropriate personnel for conducting necessary and ongoing incident related assessments.

ACCORDINGLY, in recognition of the above findings, and to help preserve and maintain life, health, property or the public peace under RCW 43.06.220(1)(h), I continue to prohibit all energy, telecommunications, and water providers in Washington State from conducting the following activities:

- (1) Disconnecting any residential customers from energy, telecommunications, or water service due to nonpayment on an active account, except at the request of the customer.
- (2) Refusing to reconnect any residential customer who has been disconnected due to nonpayment;
- (3) Charging fees for late payment or reconnection of energy, telecommunications, or water service; and
- (4) Disconnecting service to any residential customer who has contacted the utility to request assistance from the utility's COVID-19 Customer Support Program.

These prohibitions on disconnecting, refusing to reconnect, and charging late fees in this proclamation, as amended, are extended until termination of the COVID-19 State of Emergency or 11:59 p.m. on September 30, 2021, whichever comes first.

Citizens encountering financial difficulties should contact their local utility providers. Most utilities have adopted policies that can help with delinquent bills and ensure continued service after the moratorium expires. Also, the Washington State Department of Commerce has assembled resources for utility customers, which may be accessed here or by calling 2-1-1.

FURTHERMORE, it continues to be the intent of this order to ensure that vulnerable populations and households retain access to essential services while they are experiencing financial hardship caused by layoffs, reduced hours, or other circumstances caused by the COVID-19 pandemic. Access to these services is critical to ensure the safety and health of our communities during this crisis. This order therefore acknowledges the role that the public and private utilities subject to this order play in protecting the health and well-being of our communities and families; and expresses gratitude for their voluntary efforts to support customers during this crisis.

ADDITIONALLY, I want to thank the vast majority of utility customers who have continued to pay what they can, as soon as they can, to help support the people and the systems that are supporting them through this crisis. The intent of Proclamation 20-23, et seq., is to provide relief to those individuals who have been impacted by the COVID-19 crisis. This Proclamation does not relieve customer from the obligation to pay for utility services. Customers and utilities are expected to continue to communicate in good faith with one another, and to work together, on the timing and terms of payment and repayment solutions. Utilities should prioritize use of customer support tools, particularly those that have accrued extensive utility bill arrearages, prior to the end of the moratorium, in order to help avoid credit and collections issues.

Violators of this order may be subject to criminal penalties pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(5).

Signed and sealed with the official seal of the state of Washington on this 2nd day of July, A.D., Two Thousand and Twenty-One at Olympia, Washington.

AMENDING AND EXTENDING EMERGENCY PROCLAMATION 20-05

Outdoor Preschool Pilot Program

WHEREAS, on February 29, 2020, I issued Proclamation 20-05, proclaiming a State of Emergency for all counties throughout Washington State of as a result of the coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) outbreak in the United States and confirmed person-to-person spread of COVID-19 in Washington State; and

WHEREAS, as a result of the continued worldwide spread of COVID-19, its persistence in Washington State, and the high risk it continues to pose to our most vulnerable populations, I have subsequently issued several amendatory proclamations, exercising my emergency powers under RCW 43.06.220 by prohibiting certain activities and waiving and suspending specified laws and regulations; and

WHEREAS, the COVID-19 disease, caused by a virus that spreads easily from person to person which may result in serious illness or death and has been classified by the World Health Organization as a worldwide pandemic, continues to persist as an ongoing threat in Washington State; and

WHEREAS, despite an increase in infections, hospitalizations, and deaths in the latter half of 2020, Washington State has avoided overwhelming the state's health care systems throughout this pandemic by implementing rigorous safety and prevention measures, such as physical distancing, masking, social and economic prohibitions and, since December of 2020, the administration of vaccinations to prevent infection with the coronavirus that causes COVID-19 symptoms; and

WHEREAS, in response to the COVID-19 pandemic, I have issued proclamations limiting gatherings, particularly limiting indoor gatherings and in-person, indoor educational gatherings; and

WHEREAS, in 2017, the legislature directed the Department of Children, Youth, and Families (DCYF) to establish a four-year pilot project to license outdoor nature-based early learning and child care programs; and

WHEREAS, in response, DCYF launched the Outdoor Preschool Pilot project to license outdoor, nature-based early learning and child care programs (outdoor preschool), and in doing so, set a precedent by making Washington the first state in the nation to successfully develop state licensing requirements and processes to expand access to safe, high-quality outdoor preschool; and

WHEREAS, the Outdoor Preschool Pilot project has been successful, and seven outdoor preschools currently are licensed, operating, and serving children under the program; and

WHEREAS, the Outdoor Preschool Pilot project has been particularly valuable during the COVID-19 pandemic, by demonstrating the viability of outdoor preschools as a means of maximizing the use of outdoor learning environments and thereby slowing the spread of COVID-19, and by increasing the child-care options for working parents; and

WHEREAS, the statutory authority to operate the Outdoor Preschool Pilot program and license outdoor preschools ended on June 30, 2021; and

WHEREAS, based on the success of the Outdoor Preschool Pilot program, the legislature passed E2SSB 5151 which I subsequently signed into law, permanently authorizing DCYF to issue outdoor child care licenses as part of its regular licensing program; and

WHEREAS, the effective date of E2SSB 5151 is July 25, 2021, which creates an inadvertent short-term gap in DCYF's legal authority to license outdoor preschool and child care programs; and

WHEREAS, if DCYF is required to temporarily shut down the outdoor preschool programs operating under the Outdoor Preschool Pilot program, such a shutdown would create a severe hardship for the program, the children, and the families being served in those programs, would result in affected children either going without preschool or attending an indoor-based preschool with higher risk of COVID-19 transmission, and would cause some parents to be unable to work due to lack of adequate child care; and

WHEREAS, extending the continued operation of the Outdoor Preschool Pilot program until E2SSB 5151's effective date helps children, working parents, the ongoing battle against COVID-19, and contributes to the state's overall economic recovery efforts; and

WHEREAS, the worldwide COVID-19 pandemic and its persistence in Washington State continue to threaten the life and health of our people as well as the economy of Washington State, and remain a public disaster affecting life, health, property or the public peace; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Department of Health continues to maintain a Public Health Incident Management Team in coordination with the State Emergency Operations Center and other supporting state agencies to manage the public health aspects of the incident; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, through the State Emergency Operations Center, continues coordinating resources across state government to support the Department of Health and local health officials in alleviating the impacts to people, property, and infrastructure, and continues coordinating with the Department of Health in assessing the impacts and long-term effects of the incident on Washington State and its people.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Jay Inslee, Governor of the state of Washington, as a result of the above-noted situation, and under Chapters 38.08, 38.52 and 43.06 RCW, do hereby proclaim that a State of Emergency continues to exist in all counties of Washington State, that Proclamation 20-05, as amended, remains in effect, and that Proclamation 20-05 is amended to waive and suspend the specific statutory language in RCW 43.216.740(1) identified below because the statutory language prevents, hinders, or delays necessary action to provide continued licensed outdoor preschool. The waivers and suspensions take effect immediately and will remain in effect until July 31, 2021, unless otherwise amended or rescinded.

The language to be waived and suspended is indicated by strikethrough: RCW 43.216.740(1): (1) The department shall establish a pilot project to license outdoor, nature-based early learning and child care programs. The pilot project shall commence beginning August 31, 2017, and conclude June 30, 2021.

I again direct that the plans and procedures of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan be implemented throughout state government. State agencies and departments are directed to continue utilizing state resources and doing everything reasonably possible to support implementation of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan and to assist affected political subdivisions in an effort to respond to and recover from the COVID-19 pandemic.

I continue to order into active state service the organized militia of Washington State to include the National Guard and the State Guard, or such part thereof as may be necessary in the opinion of The Adjutant General to address the circumstances described above, to perform such duties as directed by competent authority of the Washington State Military Department in addressing the outbreak. Additionally, I continue to direct the Washington State Department of Health, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, and other agencies to identify and provide appropriate personnel for conducting necessary and ongoing incident related assessments.

Violators of this order may be subject to criminal penalties pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(5).

WHEREAS, on February 29, 2020, I issued Proclamation 20-05, proclaiming a State of Emergency for all counties throughout Washington State as a result of the coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) outbreak in the United States and confirmed person-to-person spread of COVID-19 in Washington State; and

WHEREAS, as a result of the continued worldwide spread of COVID-19, its persistence in Washington State, and the high risk it continues to pose to our most vulnerable populations, I have subsequently issued several amendatory proclamations, exercising my emergency powers under RCW 43.06.220 by prohibiting certain activities and waiving and suspending specified laws and regulations; and

WHEREAS, the COVID-19 disease, caused by a virus that spreads easily from person to person, which may result in serious illness or death and has been classified by the World Health Organization as a worldwide pandemic, continues to persist in the state of Washington; and

WHEREAS, despite an increase in infections, hospitalizations, and deaths in the latter half of 2020, Washington State has avoided overwhelming the state's health care systems throughout this pandemic by implementing rigorous safety and prevention measures, such as physical distancing, masking, social and economic prohibitions and, since December 2020, the administration of vaccinations to prevent infection with the coronavirus that causes COVID-19 symptoms; and

WHEREAS, the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) and the Washington State Department of Health (DOH) have determined that the COVID-19 vaccines that have received emergency approval by the U.S. Food & Drug Administration are safe and effective against infection with the coronavirus that causes COVID-19; and

WHEREAS, everyone age 12 and older is currently eligible to receive a vaccination against the coronavirus causing COVID-19 symptoms, and Washington health care providers, in collaboration with public health and other community partners, have successfully administered millions of vaccine doses, but have millions more doses to administer, and it is necessary to achieve the highest rate of vaccination of the United States population as possible; and

WHEREAS, on March 13, 2020, in recognition of experts' warnings that continued normal operation of public and private universities, colleges, community colleges, and technical colleges could increase the spread of COVID-19 throughout Washington State, I issued Emergency Proclamation 20-12 prohibiting public and private universities, colleges, community colleges, and technical colleges from conducting in-person classroom instruction and lectures related to all educational programs; and

WHEREAS, the prohibitions in Proclamation 20-12 expired on April 24, 2020, but public and private universities, colleges, community colleges, and technical colleges remained in modified operation, including remote learning and certain programs for essential workers; and

WHEREAS, Washington's public and private universities, colleges, community colleges, and technical colleges are an important part of our economy and are vital to the educational, social, and economic needs of Washingtonians; and

WHEREAS, the progression of COVID-19 in Washington State shows ethnic disparities in health impacts which are likely to increase ethnic disparities in access and success in post-secondary education, requiring the State and all of our campuses and programs to understand how these challenges affect our students and to work to minimize these impacts; and

WHEREAS, although public and private universities, colleges, community colleges, and technical colleges made tremendous efforts to continue to function through remote learning, in-person learning benefits Washington; and

WHEREAS, the nature of COVID-19 viral transmission, including both asymptomatic and symptomatic spread as well as the relatively high infectious nature, suggests it is appropriate to provide in-person learning at public and private universities, colleges, and technical schools only through a science-based approach that incorporates safety, sanitation, and physical distancing guidelines; and

WHEREAS, during the initial return to campus in the fall of 2020, there were more than 35 COVID- 19 outbreaks linked to public and private institutions of higher education, and some higher education institutions have seen a substantial increase in COVID-19 positive cases that are tied to both congregate living arrangements, including fraternities and sororities, and also large social gatherings of students, thereby triggering the need to increase safety measures to address these outbreaks; and

WHEREAS, I issued Proclamations 20-12.1 and 20-12.2 to permit Washington's public and private universities, colleges, community colleges, and technical colleges to resume in-person instruction, lectures and similar educational gatherings, provided that extensive safety requirements were implemented, and to impose certain safety requirements on shared housing; and

WHEREAS, the widespread availability of safe and effective COVID-19 vaccinations makes it appropriate to lift legally-mandated safety requirements for public and private universities, colleges, community colleges, and technical colleges that have committed to implementing vaccination requirements on their campuses; and

WHEREAS, the worldwide COVID-19 pandemic and its progression in Washington State continue to threaten the life and health of our people as well as the economy of Washington State, and remain a public disaster affecting life, health, property or the public peace, and

WHEREAS, students attending public and private universities, colleges, community colleges, and technical colleges are largely in the age demographic with the highest rate of COVID-19 cases and the lowest rate of vaccinations of those over the age of 18, which, taken with the foregoing, justifies continuing to mandate certain safety measures for public and private universities, colleges, community colleges, and technical colleges that choose not to implement vaccination requirements on their campuses; and

WHEREAS, DOH continues to maintain a Public Health Incident Management Team in coordination with the State Emergency Operations Center and other supporting state agencies to manage the public health aspects of the incident; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, through the State Emergency Operations Center, continues coordinating resources across state government to support DOH and local health officials in alleviating the impacts to people, property, and infrastructure, and continues coordinating with DOH in assessing the impacts and long-term effects of the incident on Washington State and its people.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Jay Inslee, Governor of the state of Washington, as a result of the above- noted situation, and under Chapters 38.08, 38.52 and 43.06 RCW, do hereby proclaim and order that a State of Emergency continues to exist in all counties of Washington State, that Proclamation 20-05 and all amendments thereto remain in effect as amended, and that, to help preserve and maintain life, health, property or the public peace pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(1)(h), Proclamations 20-05 and 20- 12, et seq., and 20-25, et seq., continue in effect except as amended herein, to allow for in-person classroom instruction, lectures and similar educational gatherings at public and private universities, colleges, community colleges, and technical colleges (referred to hereafter collectively as institutions of higher education, or IHEs), provided certain requirements are and continue to be satisfied.

FURTHERMORE, IHEs that do not have fully vaccinated campuses are prohibited from providing in-person classroom instruction, lectures and similar educational gatherings, except when they implement, follow, and enforce the requirements specified below. IHEs with fully vaccinated campuses are wholly exempt from this proclamation and encouraged, but not required, to follow DOH's COVID-19 recommendations for higher education.

IHEs WITH FULLY VACCINATED CAMPUSES

An IHE has a fully vaccinated campus and is exempt from this proclamation when it meets all of the following requirements:

- The IHE implements a policy requiring all of its students, staff, and faculty who participate in or attend IHE courses, operations, or other activities in person at IHE locations to be fully vaccinated against COVID-19, subject to any medical exemptions required by law and any religious or philosophical exemptions the IHE provides.

- For purposes of this proclamation, a person is fully vaccinated against COVID-19 two weeks after they have received the second dose in a two-dose series of a COVID-19 vaccine authorized for emergency use by the FDA (e.g., Pfizer-BioNTech or Moderna) or two weeks after they have received a single-dose COVID-19 vaccine authorized for emergency use by the FDA (e.g., Johnson & Johnson (J&J)/Janssen). For purposes of this proclamation, an IHE may consider a person fully vaccinated against COVID-19 two weeks after they have received all recommended doses of a COVID-19 vaccine that is listed for emergency use by the World Health Organization (WHO).
- The IHE implements a policy and procedure to verify the vaccination status of students, staff, and faculty who are not exempt from the vaccination requirement:
 - The IHE must verify the vaccination status of all staff and faculty who do not wear face coverings in the workplace, as required by the Department of Labor & Industries (L&I).
 - The IHE must verify the vaccination status of all students by obtaining or observing documentary proof of full vaccination, such as a CDC vaccination card, documentation of vaccination from a health care provider, or a state immunization information system record, or obtaining a hard copy or electronically signed self-attestation from the student. Any student self-attestation must include the following information:
 - The dates when each dose of the COVID-19 vaccine was administered to the student;
 - Language stating that the student is attesting to the truthfulness of their self-attestation and will be subject to disciplinary action if their self-attestation is determined to be untruthful in violation of the IHE's code of conduct or equivalent; and
 - Language stating that the IHE and state and local public health officials may require further verification of the student's vaccination status, including observing the student's CDC vaccination card, state immunization information system record, or other documentation.
- The IHE implements a policy requiring every student, staff member, and faculty member who claims an exemption to the vaccination requirement and every volunteer, contractor, and visitor to wear a face covering at IHE locations in accordance with the Secretary of Health's face covering order and to comply with any applicable L&I workplace safety requirements. For people claiming exemptions to the Secretary of Health's face covering order, the IHE's policy must include putting in place other safety measures to protect the safety of the exempt people and others.

REQUIREMENTS FOR IHEs WITHOUT FULLY VACCINATED CAMPUSES

Campus Safety

- Adhere to all federal, state and local public health and workplace safety requirements;
- Develop a comprehensive COVID-19 infection control plan incorporating the requirements below, applicable workplace safety requirements, and best practices in CDC and DOH guidance for IHEs, and make available a copy of the plan at each location on campus;
- Implement a policy and procedure requiring students, staff, and faculty to provide information about their vaccination status, as follows:
 - The IHE must verify the vaccination status of all staff and faculty who do not wear face coverings in the workplace, as required by L&I.
 - The IHE must require all fully vaccinated students who participate in or attend IHE courses, operations, or other activities in person at IHE locations to provide documentary proof of full vaccination, and the IHE must obtain or observe documentary proof of full vaccination, such as a CDC vaccination card, documentation of vaccination from a health care provider, or a state immunization information system record, or obtain a hard copy or electronically signed self-attestation from the student. Any student self-attestation must include the following information:
 - The dates when each dose of the COVID-19 vaccine was administered to the student;
 - Language stating that the student is attesting to the truthfulness of their self-attestation and will be subject to disciplinary action if their self-attestation is determined to be untruthful in violation of the IHE's code of conduct or equivalent; and

K-12 Schools

WHEREAS, on February 29, 2020, I issued Proclamation 20-05, proclaiming a State of Emergency for all counties throughout Washington State as a result of the coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) outbreak in the United States and confirmed person-to-person spread of COVID-19 in Washington State; and

WHEREAS, as a result of the continued worldwide spread of COVID-19, its significant progression in Washington State, and the high risk it poses to our most vulnerable populations, I have subsequently issued several amendatory proclamations, exercising my emergency powers under RCW 43.06.220 by prohibiting certain activities and waiving and suspending specified laws and regulations, including issuance of Emergency Proclamations 20-25, et seq., which limit Washingtonians' ability to participate in certain activities; and

WHEREAS, the COVID-19 disease, caused by a virus that spreads easily from person to person which may result in serious illness or death and has been classified by the World Health Organization as a worldwide pandemic, has broadly spread throughout Washington State and remains a significant health risk to all of our people, especially members of our most vulnerable populations; and

WHEREAS, during early stages of the COVID-19 pandemic, health professionals and epidemiological modeling experts indicated that the spread of COVID-19, if left unchecked, threatened to overwhelm portions of Washington's public and private health-care system; and

WHEREAS, health professionals and epidemiological modeling experts indicated that continued operation of schools could increase the spread of COVID-19 throughout Washington and would increase the threat to our residents and our health system; and

WHEREAS, to counter the threat of COVID-19 spread posed by continued operation of schools, in Emergency Proclamations 20-08, and 20-09, et seq., I prohibited public school districts, charter schools, and private schools from conducting in-person educational, recreational, and other K-12 school programs using school facilities, and also prohibited the Washington Center for Deaf and Hard of Hearing Youth, the Washington School for the Deaf, and the Washington State School for the Blind from conducting student educational and outreach services; and

WHEREAS, schools are the foundation of Washington’s communities, and in addition to traditional classroom education, schools provide a variety of vital services to students, families and communities that play a vital role in students’ ability to succeed, including academic supports, special education supports, health therapies, mental/behavioral supports, access to nutritious food, and other community services; and

WHEREAS, closing our schools was stressful for all Washingtonians, and was particularly difficult for children with heightened social, physical, developmental, or emotional needs, and those who rely on our schools to provide services, structure, and positive social interactions; and

WHEREAS, beyond COVID-19 infections, the pandemic caused other health concerns including an increase in emergency department visits related to mental health crisis for young children and adolescents since the pandemic started; and

WHEREAS, in-person learning has a broad range of benefits for children beyond educational instruction, including the development of social and emotional skills, and the absence of in-person learning may be particularly harmful for children living in poverty, children of color, English language learners, children with diagnosed disabilities, and young children, and can further widen inequities in our society; and

WHEREAS, although parents, students, school teachers, and administrators made tremendous efforts to continue to function through distance learning, and I recognize their extraordinary resilience, strength, adaptability, and courage, all agree that keeping our schools open benefits our children, families and communities; and

WHEREAS, a highly transmissible variant of the coronavirus, known as the “delta variant”, is currently causing an increase in cases predominantly among unvaccinated individuals, hospitalizations, and deaths around the country, has infected a few fully vaccinated individuals, and is increasingly the dominant strain of the virus in Washington State; and

WHEREAS on July 27, 2021, the United States Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) modified its face mask recommendations and now recommends, among other things, that everyone, including those people who are fully vaccinated, wear a mask indoors in public in locations of substantial or high transmission of the virus and universal indoor masking for all teachers, staff, students, and visitors to K-12 schools, regardless of vaccination status; and

WHEREAS, safely returning to in-person instruction in the fall 2021 is a priority, and the CDC continues to recommend that K-12 schools should be the last settings to close after all other mitigation measures have been employed, and the first to reopen when they can do so safely; and

WHEREAS, vaccination is the strongest protective measure against COVID-19 available, as demonstrated between February and June 2021, when 97% of COVID-19 cases, 96% of COVID-19 hospitalizations, and 93% of COVID-19 deaths in Washington State were in people not fully vaccinated, however, as of July 24, only 35% of 12-15 year-olds and 44% of 16-17 year-olds in Washington state were fully vaccinated and people under 12 years of age are not old enough to be vaccinated; and

WHEREAS, there is high mixing of vaccinated and unvaccinated people in schools, and vaccines are not available to children younger than 12 years of age;

WHEREAS, the nature of COVID-19 viral transmission, including both asymptomatic and symptomatic spread as well as the relatively high infectious nature, suggests it is appropriate to maintain a careful, flexible, and science-based approach to appropriate safety measures in our schools; and

WHEREAS, schools must continue to be prepared to be flexible to pivot in whole or in part to distance learning if there is a COVID-19 outbreak in their county or within their school community and to follow guidance from the Department of Health, the Department of Labor & Industries, and the Superintendent of Public Instruction to help mitigate risk to students, teachers, and the community; and

WHEREAS, the worldwide COVID-19 pandemic and its progression in Washington State continue to threaten the life and health of our people as well as the economy of Washington State, and remain a public disaster affecting life, health, property or the public peace; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Department of Health continues to maintain a Public Health Incident Management Team in coordination with the State Emergency Operations Center and other supporting state agencies to manage the public health aspects of the incident; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, through the State Emergency Operations Center, continues coordinating resources across state government to support the Department of Health and local health officials in alleviating the impacts to people, property, and infrastructure, and continues coordinating with the Department of Health in assessing the impacts and long-term effects of the incident on Washington State and its people; and

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Jay Inslee, Governor of the state of Washington, as a result of the above- noted situation, and under Chapters 38.08, 38.52 and 43.06 RCW, do hereby proclaim and order that a State of Emergency continues to exist in all counties of Washington State, that Emergency Proclamation 20-05 and all amendments thereto remain in effect as otherwise amended, and that, to help preserve and maintain life, health, property or the public peace pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(1)(h), Emergency Proclamations 20-08, and 20-09, et seq., are amended to prohibit any public, private, or charter school that provides education at any grade level from kindergarten through twelfth grade from providing in-person learning unless the school complies with the Department of Health’s requirements for K-12 schools found here, the Office of Superintendent of Public Instruction’s COVID-19 guidance found here, and the Department of Labor & Industries’ requirements and guidance, including, but not limited to, those for preventing COVID-19 found here.

I again direct that the plans and procedures of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan be implemented throughout state government. State agencies and departments are directed to continue utilizing state resources and doing everything reasonably possible to support implementation of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan and to assist affected political subdivisions in an effort to respond to and recover from the COVID-19 pandemic.

Violators of this order may be subject to criminal penalties pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(5).

This order goes into effect immediately and will remain in effect until the state of emergency, issued on February 29, 2020, pursuant to Proclamation 20-05, is rescinded, or until this order is amended or rescinded, whichever occurs first.

COVID-19 VACCINATION REQUIREMENT

WHEREAS, on February 29, 2020, I issued Proclamation 20-05, proclaiming a State of Emergency for all counties throughout Washington State as a result of the coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) outbreak in the United States and confirmed person-to-person spread of COVID-19 in Washington State; and

WHEREAS, as a result of the continued worldwide spread of COVID-19, its significant progression in Washington State, and the high risk it poses to our most vulnerable populations and our health care system, I have subsequently issued several amendatory proclamations, exercising my emergency powers under RCW 43.06.220 by prohibiting certain activities and waiving and suspending specified laws and regulations, including issuance of Proclamations 20-25, et seq., which limit Washingtonians’ ability to participate in certain activities unless certain conditions are met; and

WHEREAS, during early stages of the COVID-19 pandemic, health professionals and epidemiological modeling experts indicated that the spread of COVID-19, if left unchecked, threatened to overwhelm portions of Washington’s public and private health-care system; and

WHEREAS, to protect some of our most vulnerable populations – persons in health care facilities, long-term care facilities (which includes nursing homes), and similar congregate care facilities – and to protect our health and congregate care systems themselves, I issued several proclamations imposing heightened protections on workers, residents and visitors in those facilities; and

WHEREAS, although COVID-19 continues as an ongoing and present threat in Washington State, the measures we have taken together as Washingtonians over the past 18 months, including the willingness of most Washingtonians to take advantage of the remarkable, life-saving vaccines being administered throughout the state, have made a difference and have altered the course of the pandemic in fundamental ways; and

WHEREAS, after months of improving COVID-19 epidemiological conditions in Washington State, the emergence of highly contagious COVID-19 variants, including the “delta variant” that is at least twice as transmissible as the virus that emerged in late 2019, coupled with the continued significant numbers of unvaccinated people, have caused COVID-19 cases and hospitalizations to rise sharply among unvaccinated populations and have resulted in breakthrough infections in some fully vaccinated individuals; and

WHEREAS, COVID-19 vaccines are effective in reducing infection and serious disease, widespread vaccination is the primary means we have as a state to protect everyone, including persons who cannot be vaccinated for medical reasons, youth who are not eligible to receive a vaccine, immunocompromised individuals, and vulnerable persons including persons in health care facilities, long-term care facilities and other congregate care facilities from COVID-19 infections; and

WHEREAS, widespread vaccination is also the primary means we have as a state to protect our health care system, to avoid the return of stringent public health measures, and to put the pandemic behind us; and

WHEREAS, COVID-19 vaccinations have been available in Washington State from December 2020 to the present, and since April 15, 2021, all Washingtonians over the age of 16 have been eligible to receive free COVID-19 vaccinations from a wide variety of providers at many locations; and

WHEREAS, as of August 4, 2021, nearly 4.4 million Washingtonians, about 70% of those eligible and 58% of the total population, had initiated their vaccine series, leaving 2.1 million eligible Washingtonians who were unvaccinated; and

WHEREAS, according to the CDC, as of August 1, 2021, approximately 67% of staff in Washington state nursing homes were fully vaccinated; and

WHEREAS, healthcare workers face COVID-19 exposures in a variety of healthcare settings, with those involving direct patient care likely at higher risk; and

WHEREAS, COVID-19 vaccines are safe and effective. COVID-19 vaccines were evaluated in clinical trials involving tens of thousands of participants and met the U.S. Food & Drug Administration's rigorous scientific standards for safety, effectiveness, and manufacturing quality needed to support emergency use authorization; and, to date, more than 346 million doses of COVID-19 vaccines have been given in the United States with 8.2 million of those doses administered in Washington, and serious safety problems and long-term side effects are rare; and

WHEREAS, on July 6, 2021, the Office of Legal Counsel of the United State Department of Justice issued a legal opinion stating that federal and state governments were not prohibited by federal law from imposing vaccination mandates, even when the only vaccines available are those authorized under U.S. Food and Drug Administration Emergency Use Authorizations; and

WHEREAS, on July 26, 2021, approximately 60 medical groups, including the American Medical Association, the American College of Physicians, the American Academy of Pediatrics, the American Academy of Family Physicians, the American Nurses Association, the American Academy of Physician Assistants, the Association of Professionals in Infection Control and Epidemiology, the American Public Health Association, the Infectious Diseases Society of America LeadingAge, the National Hispanic Medical Association, the National Medical Association, and the Society of Infectious Disease Pharmacists, issued a memorandum supporting mandatory, universal vaccination of all public and private health care and long-term care workers, noting that such a requirement is the "fulfillment of the ethical commitment of all health care workers to put patients as well as residents of long-term care facilities first and take all steps necessary to ensure their health and well-being"; and on August 2, 2021, the Washington State Society of Post-Acute and Long-Term Care Medicine submitted a letter in support of the above noted July 26, 2021 memorandum; and

WHEREAS, on July 15, 2021, the American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists, together with the Society for Maternal-Fetal Medicine, posted a formal opinion stating that medical professionals have an ethical obligation to be vaccinated against COVID-19 to prevent the spread of harmful infectious diseases, and that women who are or may become pregnant should be vaccinated against COVID-19; and

WHEREAS, it is the duty of every employer to protect the health and safety of employees by establishing and maintaining a healthy and safe work environment and by requiring all employees to comply with health and safety measures; and

WHEREAS, state employees live in and provide services to the public in every county in our state, and many interact with the public on a regular basis, and they all interact with some portion of the community at large to varying degrees before and/or after state work hours; and

WHEREAS, to further our individual and collective duty to reduce the spread of COVID-19 in our communities, I am requiring all employees, on-site independent contractors, volunteers, goods and services providers, and appointees of designated state agencies to be fully vaccinated against COVID-19 on or before October 18, 2021; and

WHEREAS, the worldwide COVID-19 pandemic and its persistence in Washington State continue to threaten the life and health of our people as well as the economy of Washington State, and remain a public disaster affecting life, health, property or the public peace; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Department of Health continues to maintain a Public Health Incident Management Team in coordination with the State Emergency Operations Center and other supporting state agencies to manage the public health aspects of the incident; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, through the State Emergency Operations Center, continues coordinating resources across state government to support the Department of Health and local health officials in alleviating the impacts to people, property, and infrastructure, and continues coordinating with the state Department of Health in assessing the impacts and long-term effects of the incident on Washington State and its people; and

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Jay Inslee, Governor of the state of Washington, as a result of the above noted situation, and under Chapters 38.08, 38.52 and 43.06 RCW, do hereby proclaim and order that a State of Emergency continues to exist in all counties of Washington State, that Proclamation 20-05, as amended, remains in effect, and that, to help preserve and maintain life, health, property or the public peace pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(1)(h), and (3), I hereby prohibit, subject to the conditions, exceptions, and circumstances set forth below, the following activities:

1. Prohibitions. This order prohibits the following:
 - a. Any Worker from engaging in work for a State Agency after October 18, 2021 if the Worker has not been fully vaccinated against COVID-19;
 - b. Any State Agency from permitting any Worker to engage in work for the agency after October 18, 2021 if the Worker has not been fully vaccinated against COVID-19 and provided proof thereof to the agency;
 - c. Any Health Care Provider from failing to be fully vaccinated against COVID-19 after October 18, 2021; and
 - d. Any individual or entity that operates a Health Care Setting from permitting a Health Care Provider to engage in work for the individual or entity as an employee, contractor, or volunteer after October 18, 2021 if the Health Care Provider has not been fully vaccinated against COVID-19 and provided proof thereof to the individual or entity. Providers who do not work in a Health Care Setting must provide proof of vaccination to the operator of the facility in which the Provider works, if any, or, if requested, to a lawful authority. A lawful authority includes, but is not limited to, law enforcement, local health jurisdictions, and the state Department of Health.
2. Exemptions from Vaccine Requirement.
 - a. Health Care Providers and Workers for State Agencies are not required to get vaccinated against COVID-19 if they are entitled under the Americans With Disabilities Act (ADA), Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 (Title VII), the Washington Law Against Discrimination (WLAD), or any other applicable law to a disability-related reasonable accommodation or a sincerely held religious belief accommodation to the requirements of this order. Nothing herein precludes individuals or entities for which Health Care Providers work as employees, contractors, or volunteers and State Agencies from providing disability-related reasonable accommodations and religious accommodations to the requirements of this order as required by the laws noted above. As provided in the ADA, Title VII, and the WLAD, individuals or entities for which Health Care Providers work as employees, contractors, or volunteers and State Agencies are not required to provide such accommodations if they would cause undue hardship.
 - b. To the extent permitted by law, before providing a disability-related reasonable accommodation to the requirements of this order, individuals or entities for which Health Care Providers work as employees, contractors, or volunteers and State Agencies must obtain from the individual requesting the accommodation documentation from an appropriate health care or rehabilitation professional authorized to practice in the State of Washington stating that the individual has a disability that necessitates an accommodation and the probable duration of the need for the accommodation.
 - c. To the extent permitted by law, before providing a sincerely held religious belief accommodation to the requirements of this Order, individuals or entities for which Health Care Providers work as employees, contractors, or volunteers and State Agencies must document that the request for an accommodation has been made and the document must include a statement regarding the way in which the requirements of this order conflict with the religious observance, practice, or belief of the individual.
3. Acceptable Proof of Full Vaccination Against COVID-19: Where required above, Workers for State Agencies and Health Care Providers must provide proof of full vaccination against COVID-19 by providing one of the following:
 - a. CDC COVID-19 Vaccination Record Card or photo of the card;
 - b. Documentation of vaccination from a health care provider or electronic health record; or
 - c. State immunization information system record.
 Personal attestation is not an acceptable form of verification of COVID-19 vaccination.
4. Public and Private Entities and Employers May Exceed These Requirements: Nothing in this order prohibits individuals or entities employing or using the services of Health Care Providers and State Agencies from implementing requirements that exceed the requirements of this Order.
5. Definitions.
 - a. "Worker":
 - For purposes of this order, "worker" includes:
 - A person engaged to work as an employee, independent contractor, service provider, volunteer, or through any other formal or informal agreement to provide goods or services, whether compensated or uncompensated, but does not include a visitor or patron;
 - The director, secretary, or other executive officer of a State Agency;
 - A person appointed to serve on a board, commission, or similar body that is an executive cabinet agency listed at <https://www.governor.wa.gov/office-governor/office/executive-cabinet> or a small cabinet agency listed at <https://www.governor.wa.gov/office-governor/office/small-cabinet>.
 - The following exceptions apply to the definition of "worker":
 - Independent contractors, and any of their workers, are exempt from this order unless any provision of the contract to provide goods or services requires work to be performed in person and on site, regardless of frequency, whether other workers are present, or any contingent nature of that requirement.

- For any State Agency that is listed as an agency under the authority of a board, council, or commission at https://ofm.wa.gov/sites/default/files/public/publications/2021_State_Org_Chart.pdf and that is not also listed as an executive cabinet agency at <https://www.governor.wa.gov/office-governor/office/executive-cabinet> or a small cabinet agency at <https://www.governor.wa.gov/office-governor/office/small-cabinet>, only the State Agency’s compensated employees are “workers” subject to the requirements of this proclamation.

If located at a facility that is primarily used for the delivery of health-care services, such as a hospital, then the entire facility is a Health Care Setting. If located at a facility that is primarily used for another purpose, such as a pharmacy within a grocery store, school nurse’s office, or vaccination clinic within a business establishment, the Health Care Setting includes only the areas that are primarily used for the delivery of health care and the areas regularly occupied by Health Care Providers and people seeking care, but not the other areas of the facility.

- Department of Children, Youth & Families (DCYF)-licensed foster homes that do not primarily provide health care services;
- Research facilities where no health care is delivered to people;
- Veterinary health care settings;
- Animal control agencies; and
- Non-profit humane societies.

d. “State Agency” includes:

- Every agency listed at <https://www.governor.wa.gov/office-governor/office/executive-cabinet>;
- Every agency listed at <https://www.governor.wa.gov/office-governor/office/small-cabinet>; and
- Every agency under the authority of a board, council, or commission listed at https://ofm.wa.gov/sites/default/files/public/publications/2021_State_Org_Chart.pdf except the State Board for Community and Technical Colleges and the governing boards of four-year institutions of higher education.

- e. “Fully Vaccinated against COVID-19”: A person is fully vaccinated against COVID- 19 two weeks after they have received the second dose in a two-dose series of a COVID-19 vaccine authorized for emergency use, licensed, or otherwise approved by the FDA (e.g., Pfizer-BioNTech or Moderna) or two weeks after they have received a single-dose COVID-19 vaccine authorized for emergency use, licensed, or otherwise approved by the FDA (e.g., Johnson & Johnson (J&J)/Janssen.

ADDITIONALLY, the specific prohibitions in this Proclamation are severable and do not apply to the extent that compliance with a prohibition would violate (1) any U.S. or Washington constitutional provision; (2) federal statutes or regulations; (3) any conditions that apply to the state’s receipt of federal funding; (4) state statutes; or (5) applicable orders from any court of competent jurisdiction.

ADDITIONALLY, nothing in this Proclamation limits otherwise applicable requirements related to personal protective equipment, personnel training, and infection control policies and procedures.

I again direct that the plans and procedures of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan be implemented throughout state government. State agencies and departments are directed to continue utilizing state resources and doing everything reasonably possible to support implementation of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan and to assist affected political subdivisions in an effort to respond to and recover from the COVID-19 pandemic.

I continue to order into active state service the organized militia of Washington State to include the National Guard and the State Guard, or such part thereof as may be necessary in the opinion of The Adjutant General to address the circumstances described above, to perform such duties as directed by competent authority of the Washington State Military Department in addressing the outbreak. Additionally, I continue to direct the Department of Health, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, and other agencies to identify and provide appropriate personnel for conducting necessary and ongoing incident related assessments.

Violators of this order may be subject to criminal penalties pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(5). Further, if people fail to comply with the required facial coverings, social distancing and other protective measures while engaging in this phased reopening, I may be forced to reinstate the prohibitions established in earlier proclamations.

This order is effective immediately. Unless extended or amended, upon expiration or termination of this amendatory proclamation the provisions of Proclamation 20-25, et seq., will continue to be in effect until the state of emergency, issued on February 29, 2020, pursuant to Proclamation 20-05, is rescinded.

Transfer or Discharge of Nursing Home Residents - COVID-19 Delta Variant

WHEREAS, on February 29, 2020, I issued Proclamation 20-05, proclaiming a State of Emergency for all counties throughout Washington State as a result of the coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) outbreak in the United States and confirmed person-to-person spread of COVID-19 in Washington State; and

WHEREAS, as a result of the continued worldwide spread of COVID-19, its significant progression in Washington State, and the high risk it poses to our most vulnerable populations and our health care system, I have subsequently issued several amendatory proclamations, exercising my emergency powers under RCW 43.06.220 by prohibiting certain activities and waiving and suspending specified laws and regulations, including issuance of Proclamations 20-25, et seq., which limit Washingtonians’ ability to participate in certain activities unless certain conditions are met; and

WHEREAS, during early stages of the COVID-19 pandemic, health professionals and epidemiological modeling experts indicated that the spread of COVID-19, if left unchecked, threatened to overwhelm portions of Washington’s public and private health-care system; and

WHEREAS, to protect some of our most vulnerable populations – persons in health care facilities, long-term care facilities (which includes nursing homes), and similar congregate care facilities – and to protect our health and congregate care systems themselves, I issued several proclamations imposing heightened protections on workers, residents and visitors in those facilities; and

WHEREAS, on March 31, 2020, the U.S. Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services issued a retroactive addition to waivers granted under Section 1135 of the Social Security Act, waiving specific federal regulations that will allow nursing homes to transfer or discharge residents to another long-term care facility for certain COVID-19 related cohorting purposes; and

WHEREAS, after months of improving COVID-19 epidemiological conditions in Washington State, the emergence of highly contagious COVID-19 variants, including the “Delta” variant that is at least twice as transmissible as the virus that emerged in late 2019, coupled with the continued significant numbers of unvaccinated people, have caused COVID-19 cases and hospitalizations to rise sharply among unvaccinated populations and have resulted in breakthrough infections in some fully vaccinated individuals, causing a fifth wave of infections that is as significant as the one in the 2020 fall and winter; and

WHEREAS, as of August 22, according to the Washington State Department of Health, 2021, COVID-19 related hospitalizations were the highest they have been since the beginning of the pandemic and are occurring across all age groups; and

WHEREAS, the Delta variant of COVID-19 is placing unprecedented demands on our health care system, requiring certain transfers or discharges of nursing home residents be expedited to allow grouping or cohorting residents in other long-term care facilities to reduce the spread of COVID-19, especially the new Delta variant, and relieve stress on the overburdened health care system; and

WHEREAS, to protect the life, health and safety of those members of our most vulnerable populations who are long term care residents, it is necessary to temporarily waive and suspend certain statutory and regulatory provisions limiting the ability to expedite their transfer or discharge to another long-term care facility; and

WHEREAS, the worldwide COVID-19 pandemic and its progression in Washington State continue to threaten the life and health of our people as well as the economy of Washington State, and remain a public disaster affecting life, health, property or the public peace; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Department of Health continues to maintain a Public Health Incident Management Team in coordination with the State Emergency Operations Center and other supporting state agencies to manage the public health aspects of the incident; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, through the State Emergency Operations Center, continues coordinating resources across state government to support the Department of Health and local health officials in alleviating the impacts to people, property, and infrastructure, and continues coordinating with the Department of Health in assessing the impacts and long-term effects of the incident on Washington State and its people.

NOW THEREFORE, I, Jay R. Inslee, Governor of the state of Washington, as a result of the above- noted situation, and under Chapters 38.08, 38.52 and 43.06 RCW, do hereby proclaim that a State of Emergency continues to exist in all counties of Washington State, that Proclamation 20-05 and all amendments thereto remain in effect as otherwise amended, and that Proclamations 20-05 is hereby amended to waive and suspend certain statutory and regulatory provisions that prevent, hinder, or delay action that is necessary to cope with the COVID-19 pandemic by temporarily expediting the ability to transfer or discharge nursing home residents to other long-term care facilities for specific COVID-19 related cohorting purposes, as provided herein.

I continue to direct that the plans and procedures of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan be implemented throughout state government. State agencies and departments are directed to continue utilizing state resources and doing everything reasonably possible to support implementation of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan and to assist affected political subdivisions in an effort to respond to and recover from the COVID-19 pandemic.

As a result of this event, I continue to order into active state service the organized militia of Washington State to include the National Guard and the State Guard, or such part thereof as may be necessary in the opinion of The Adjutant General to address the circumstances described above, to perform such duties as directed by competent authority of the Washington State Military Department in addressing the outbreak. Additionally, I continue to direct the Department of Health, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, and other agencies to identify and provide appropriate personnel for conducting necessary and ongoing incident related assessments.

FURTHERMORE, based on the above situation and under the provisions of RCW 43.06.220(2)(g), I also find that strict compliance with the following statutory and regulatory obligations and limitations will prevent, hinder, or delay certain transfers or discharges of nursing home residents to other long- term care facilities that are necessary to expedite the grouping or cohorting of residents to reduce the spread of COVID-19, especially the Delta variant, among our most vulnerable populations and to relieve stress on our health care system to meet the increased demand of addressing COVID-19 related illnesses, and that each statutory and regulatory provision or portion thereof as specified below is hereby waived and suspended until 11:59 p.m. on October 2, 2021:

1. RCW 74.42.450(6) in its entirety.
2. WAC 388-97-0140(1)(c)(ii) in its entirety.
3. WAC 388-97-0140(2) in its entirety.

Violators of this order may be subject to criminal penalties pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(5).

Signed and sealed with the official seal of the state of Washington on this 3rd day of September, A.D., Two Thousand and Twenty-One at Olympia, Washington.

PROCLAMATION BY THE GOVERNOR
AMENDING PROCLAMATIONS 20-05 and 20-25, et seq.

“WASHINGTON READY”

WHEREAS, on February 29, 2020, I issued Proclamation 20-05, proclaiming a State of Emergency for all counties throughout the state of Washington as a result of the coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) outbreak in the United States and confirmed person-to-person spread of COVID-19 in Washington State; and

WHEREAS, as a result of the continued worldwide spread of COVID-19, its significant progression in Washington State, and the high risk it poses to our most vulnerable populations and our health care system, I have subsequently issued several amendatory proclamations, exercising my emergency powers under RCW 43.06.220 by prohibiting certain activities and waiving and suspending specified laws and regulations, including issuance of Proclamation 20-25, et seq., which limits Washingtonians’ ability to participate in certain activities unless certain conditions are met; and

WHEREAS, during early stages of the COVID-19 pandemic, health professionals and epidemiological modeling experts indicated that the spread of COVID-19, if left unchecked, threatened to overwhelm portions of Washington’s public and private health-care system; and

WHEREAS, although COVID-19 continues to be an ongoing and present threat in Washington State, the measures we have taken together as Washingtonians over the past 18 months, including the willingness of many eligible Washingtonians to take advantage of the remarkable, life-saving vaccines being administered throughout the state, have made a difference and have altered the course of the pandemic in fundamental ways; and

WHEREAS, as of August 16, 2021, at least 69.3 percent of people 12 years of age and older and 59.1 percent of the total population have initiated vaccination, and at least 63.1 percent of people 12 years of age and older and 53.8 percent of the total population are fully vaccinated; and

WHEREAS, after months of improving COVID-19 epidemiological conditions in Washington State, the emergence of highly contagious COVID-19 variants, including the “Delta” variant that is at least twice as transmissible as the virus that emerged in late 2019, coupled with the continued significant numbers of unvaccinated people, has caused COVID- 19 cases and hospitalizations to rise sharply among unvaccinated populations, has resulted in breakthrough infections in some fully vaccinated individuals, and continue to rise; and

WHEREAS, over the past 18 months, health experts and epidemiological modeling experts, including those at the Department of Health, the United States Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), and our state universities, have gained critical knowledge regarding the spread of COVID-19, including a better understanding of the risks associated with certain activities and the measures that can be taken to reduce those risks; and

WHEREAS, we now know that several factors increase the risk for person-to-person COVID-19 transmission; such factors include

(1) the more that people and groups interact, (2) the longer those interactions last, (3) the closer the contact between individuals, (4) the denser the occupancy for indoor facilities, and (5) the lack of use of face coverings; and

WHEREAS, the CDC updated its face covering guidance on July 27, 2021 to recommend the use of face coverings indoors in areas of the U.S. where community transmission of the virus was considered high or substantial, and as of August 16, 2021 at least 85 percent of U.S. counties and all counties in Washington state meet the CDC criteria for high or substantial transmission; and

WHEREAS, the health officers representing all 35 local health jurisdictions in Washington state have joined together to recommend that all residents wear facial coverings when in indoor public settings where the vaccination status of those around you is unknown, to reduce the risk of COVID-19 to the public, including customers and workers, to help stem the increase in COVID-19 cases and hospitalizations in many parts of the state and decrease the spread of the highly contagious Delta variant; and

WHEREAS, given the substantial increase of community transmission of COVID-19, and to further our individual and collective duty to reduce the spread of COVID-19 in our state, it is necessary to again prohibit the use of indoor spaces without the use of a face covering; and

WHEREAS, the worldwide COVID-19 pandemic and its persistence in Washington State continue to threaten the life and health of our people as well as the economy of Washington State, and remain a public disaster affecting life, health, property or the public peace; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Department of Health continues to maintain a Public Health Incident Management Team in coordination with the State Emergency Operations Center and other supporting state agencies to manage the public health aspects of the incident; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, through the State Emergency Operations Center, continues coordinating resources across state government to support the Department of Health and local health officials in alleviating the impacts to people, property, and infrastructure, and continues coordinating with the state Department of Health in assessing the impacts and long-term effects of the incident on Washington State and its people; and

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Jay Inslee, Governor of the state of Washington, as a result of the above noted situation, and under Chapters 38.08, 38.52, and 43.06 RCW, do hereby proclaim and order that a State of Emergency continues to exist in all counties of Washington State, that Proclamation 20-05, as amended, remains in effect, and that, to help preserve and maintain life, health, property or the public peace pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(1)(h), Proclamation 20-25, et seq., remains in full force and effect, except as specifically amended by this Proclamation 20-25.15, as set out below.

FURTHERMORE, I hereby amend the provisions in 20-25, et seq., as they relate to face coverings to prohibit any individual from failing to wear a face covering as required by the Secretary of Health's face covering order and any subsequent amendments. I further prohibit any governmental, commercial, or nonprofit entity or private party from allowing any individual to enter or remain in any indoor space under their control unless the individual is in compliance with the Secretary of Health's face covering order and any subsequent amendments.

ADDITIONALLY, in furtherance of these prohibitions, and for general awareness:

1. The prohibition against entering or remaining in any indoor space without a face covering in prior versions of Proclamation 20-25 is hereby rescinded and replaced with the prohibition imposed in and pursuant to this version of Proclamation 20-25, which is titled Proclamation 20-25.15. The Secretary of Health's face covering order and any subsequent amendments are incorporated by reference.
2. Employers must comply with all conditions for operation required by the Washington State Department of Labor & Industries, including interpretive guidance, regulations and rules and Department of Labor & Industries-administered statutes.
3. Employers must notify their local health jurisdiction within 24 hours if they suspect COVID-19 is spreading in their workplace, or if they are aware of two or more employees who develop confirmed or suspected COVID-19 within a 14-day period.
4. Everyone is required to cooperate with public health authorities in the investigation of cases, suspected cases, outbreaks, and suspected outbreaks of COVID-19 and with the implementation of infection control measures pursuant to State Board of Health rule in WAC 246-101-425.

All mandatory guidelines for specific businesses and activities, which remain in effect except as modified by this Proclamation, may be found at the Governor's Office website, COVID-19 Resources and Information, and at COVID-19 Reopening Guidance for Businesses and Workers. Existing guidelines that require proof of vaccination for certain settings and activities remain in effect until such time as those guidelines are expressly modified.

ADDITIONALLY, in support and clarification of this proclamation:

1. General rule: General face covering requirements are found in the Secretary of Health's face covering order, and any subsequent amendments, as incorporated herein by reference.
2. Additional local restrictions may apply: Nothing in this proclamation or in the Secretary of Health's face covering order prevents any other individual or entity from imposing face covering or other restrictions or requirements in businesses or other locations within the scope of their legal authority.
3. Customers: Businesses are prohibited from allowing customers to enter or remain in an indoor space in a business unless the customer is wearing a face covering, in accordance with the Secretary of Health's face covering order. Businesses must post signage in a prominent location visible to customers at each entry informing customers of the face covering requirement.
4. Employees: All employees are required to wear a face covering indoors at the employee's worksite in accordance with the Secretary of Health's face covering order. Unless additional restrictions are imposed by the employer or a state or local authority, or face coverings are legally required at the specific worksite regardless of vaccination status, a fully vaccinated employee may work indoors without wearing a face covering at the employer's worksite in areas not generally accessible to the public and when no customers, volunteers, visitors, or non-employees are present as permitted by the Secretary of Health's face covering order, but only after the employee has either provided (a) proof of vaccination to the employer; or (b) a signed document attesting to the employee's fully vaccinated status, except as otherwise prohibited in Proclamation 21-14 et seq. (Vaccination Requirement). The option, if applicable, to provide a signed self-attestation may be done in hard copy or electronically.
5. Employers: Employers are required to provide a safe and healthy workplace and must assess hazards in their workplace and take appropriate steps to protect workers. COVID-19 remains a recognized hazard that continues to pose a significant risk to the health and life of employees. Employers must require that employees wear a face covering in accordance with the Secretary of Health's face covering order; to that end, employers:
 - a. Must choose a method of proof of vaccination, documented proof of vaccination or self-attestation (except as otherwise prohibited in Proclamation 21-14 et seq. (Vaccination Requirement)), and require such proof from every employee before those employees are permitted to work without wearing a face covering at the employer's worksite in areas not generally accessible to the public and when no customers, volunteers, visitors, or non-employees are present as permitted by the Secretary of Health's face covering order referenced above.
 - b. Notwithstanding (a) above, may require that employees wear a face covering while at the worksite in all areas regardless of vaccination status; and
 - c. May require vaccination as a condition of employment, except as prohibited by state or federal law.

ADDITIONALLY, in addition to guidance issued by the Department of Health and the Department of Labor & Industries, additional guidance for businesses, employees, and customers may be found here and is incorporated by reference, and such guidance may be updated periodically and all such updates are also incorporated by reference.

I again direct that the plans and procedures of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan be implemented throughout state government. State agencies and departments are directed to continue utilizing state resources and doing everything reasonably possible to support implementation of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan and to assist affected political subdivisions in an effort to respond to and recover from the COVID-19 pandemic.

I continue to order into active state service the organized militia of Washington State to include the National Guard and the State Guard, or such part thereof as may be necessary in the opinion of The Adjutant General to address the circumstances described above, to perform such duties as directed by competent authority of the Washington State Military Department in addressing the outbreak. Additionally, I continue to direct the Department of Health, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, and other agencies to identify and provide appropriate personnel for conducting necessary and ongoing incident related assessments.

Violators of this order may be subject to criminal penalties pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(5). Further, if people fail to comply, I may be forced to reinstate additional prohibitions established in earlier proclamations.

This order is effective August 23, 2021. Unless extended or amended, or upon termination of this amendatory proclamation, the provisions of Proclamation 20-25, et seq., will continue to be in effect until the state of emergency, issued on February 29, 2020, pursuant to Proclamation 20-05, is rescinded.

This order also supersedes Emergency Order 20-60, which is hereby rescinded, effective immediately.

21-14.1
COVID-19 VACCINATION REQUIREMENT

WHEREAS, on February 29, 2020, I issued Proclamation 20-05, proclaiming a State of Emergency for all counties throughout Washington State as a result of the coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) outbreak in the United States and confirmed person-to-person spread of COVID-19 in Washington State; and

WHEREAS, as a result of the continued worldwide spread of COVID-19, its significant progression in Washington State, and the high risk it poses to our most vulnerable populations and our health care system, I have subsequently issued several amendatory proclamations, exercising my emergency powers under RCW 43.06.220 by prohibiting certain activities and waiving and suspending specified laws and regulations, including issuance of Proclamations 20- 25, et seq., which limit Washingtonians' ability to participate in certain activities unless certain conditions are met; and

WHEREAS, during early stages of the COVID-19 pandemic, health professionals and epidemiological modeling experts indicated that the spread of COVID-19, if left unchecked, threatened to overwhelm portions of Washington's public and private health-care system; and

WHEREAS, to protect some of our most vulnerable populations—persons in health care facilities, long-term care facilities (which includes nursing homes), and similar congregate care facilities—and to protect our health and congregate care systems themselves, I issued several proclamations imposing heightened protections on workers, residents, and visitors in those facilities; and

WHEREAS, although COVID-19 continues as an ongoing and present threat in Washington State, the measures we have taken together as Washingtonians over the past 18 months, including the willingness of most Washingtonians to take advantage of the remarkable, life- saving vaccines being administered throughout the state, have made a difference and have altered the course of the pandemic in fundamental ways; and

WHEREAS, after months of improving COVID-19 epidemiological conditions in Washington State, the emergence of highly contagious COVID-19 variants, including the "Delta" variant that is at least twice as transmissible as the virus that emerged in late 2019, coupled with the continued significant numbers of unvaccinated people, have caused COVID- 19 cases and hospitalizations to rise sharply among unvaccinated populations and have resulted in breakthrough infections in some fully vaccinated individuals; and

WHEREAS, COVID-19 vaccines are effective in reducing infection and serious disease, and widespread vaccination is the primary means we have as a state to protect everyone, including persons who cannot be vaccinated for medical reasons, youth who are not eligible to receive a vaccine, immunocompromised individuals, and vulnerable persons including persons in health care facilities, long-term care facilities and other congregate care facilities from COVID-19 infections; and

WHEREAS, widespread vaccination is also the primary means we have as a state to protect our health care system, to avoid the return of stringent public health measures, and to put the pandemic behind us; and

WHEREAS, COVID-19 vaccinations have been available in Washington State from December 2020 to the present, and since April 15, 2021, all Washingtonians over the age of 16 have been eligible to receive free COVID-19 vaccinations from a wide variety of providers at many locations; and

WHEREAS, as of August 4, 2021, nearly 4.4 million Washingtonians, about 70% of those eligible and 58% of the total population, had initiated their vaccine series, leaving 2.1 million eligible Washingtonians who were unvaccinated; and

WHEREAS, according to the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), as of August 1, 2021, approximately 67% of staff in Washington state nursing homes were fully vaccinated; and

WHEREAS, healthcare workers face COVID-19 exposures in a variety of healthcare settings, with those involving direct patient care likely at higher risk; and

WHEREAS, COVID-19 vaccines are safe and effective. COVID-19 vaccines were evaluated in clinical trials involving tens of thousands of participants and met the U.S. Food & Drug Administration's (FDA) rigorous scientific standards for safety, effectiveness, and manufacturing quality needed to support emergency use authorization; and, to date, more than 346 million doses of COVID-19 vaccines have been given in the United States with 8.2 million of those doses administered in Washington, and serious safety problems and long-term side effects are rare; and

WHEREAS, on July 6, 2021, the Office of Legal Counsel of the United State Department of Justice issued a legal opinion stating that federal and state governments were not prohibited by federal law from imposing vaccination mandates, even when the only vaccines available are those authorized under the FDA's Emergency Use Authorizations; and

WHEREAS, on July 26, 2021, approximately 60 medical groups, including the American Medical Association, the American College of Physicians, the American Academy of Pediatrics, the American Academy of Family Physicians, the American Nurses Association, the American Academy of Physician Assistants, the Association of Professionals in Infection Control and Epidemiology, the American Public Health Association, the Infectious Diseases Society of America, LeadingAge, the National Hispanic Medical Association, the National Medical Association, and the Society of Infectious Disease Pharmacists, issued a memorandum supporting mandatory, universal vaccination of all public and private health care and long-term care workers, noting that such a requirement is the "fulfillment of the ethical commitment of all health care workers to put patients as well as residents of long-term care facilities first and take all steps necessary to ensure their health and well-being"; and on August 2, 2021, the Washington State Society of Post-Acute and Long-Term Care Medicine submitted a letter in support of the above noted July 26, 2021 memorandum; and

WHEREAS, on July 15, 2021, the American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists, together with the Society for Maternal-Fetal Medicine, posted a formal opinion stating that medical professionals have an ethical obligation to be vaccinated against COVID-19 to prevent the spread of harmful infectious diseases, and that women who are or may become pregnant should be vaccinated against COVID-19; and

WHEREAS, it is the duty of every employer to protect the health and safety of employees by establishing and maintaining a healthy and safe work environment and by requiring all employees to comply with health and safety measures; and

WHEREAS, state employees live in and provide services to the public in every county in our state, and many interact with the public on a regular basis, and they all interact with some portion of the community at large to varying degrees before and/or after state work hours; and

WHEREAS, to further our individual and collective duty to reduce the spread of COVID-19 in our communities, I issued Proclamation 21-14 requiring all employees, on-site independent contractors, volunteers, goods and services providers, and appointees of designated state agencies to be fully vaccinated against COVID-19 on or before October 18, 2021; and

WHEREAS, child-care settings, K-12 schools, colleges, universities, and community colleges, (collectively, "educational settings") are foundations of Washington's communities and its future, and provide a variety of vital services to students, families, and communities, thereby making providing childcare services and in-person instruction in the fall 2021 a priority; and

WHEREAS, increasing vaccination rates at educational settings is the strongest protective measure against COVID-19 available and, together with masking, vital to providing in-person instruction in as safe a manner as possible; and

WHEREAS, on July 12, 2021, I issued Proclamation 20-12.4 prohibiting institutions of higher education from providing in-person instruction unless the institutions comply with specific requirements related to vaccination, masking, and operations; and

WHEREAS, on July 30, 2021, I issued Proclamation 20-9.4, prohibiting K-12 schools from providing in-person learning unless the schools comply with masking instructions provided by the Department of Health and the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction; and

WHEREAS, the sharp increase in COVID-19 cases and hospitalizations, primarily among unvaccinated populations but also in breakthrough infections in some fully vaccinated individuals, makes it vital to expand the vaccination requirement to workers in educational settings; and

WHEREAS, to provide additional clarity I am extending the prohibition to additional groups and providing additional guidance relating to the vaccination requirement imposed in Proclamation 21.14; and

WHEREAS, the worldwide COVID-19 pandemic and its persistence in Washington State continue to threaten the life and health of our people as well as the economy of Washington State, and remain a public disaster affecting life, health, property or the public peace; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Department of Health continues to maintain a Public Health Incident Management Team in coordination with the State Emergency Operations Center and other supporting state agencies to manage the public health aspects of the incident; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, through the State Emergency Operations Center, continues coordinating resources across state government to support the Department of Health and local health officials in alleviating the impacts to people, property, and infrastructure, and continues coordinating with the state Department of Health in assessing the impacts and long-term effects of the incident on Washington State and its people; and

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Jay Inslee, Governor of the state of Washington, as a result of the above noted situation, and under Chapters 38.08, 38.52 and 43.06 RCW, do hereby proclaim and order that a State of Emergency continues to exist in all counties of Washington State, that Proclamation 20-05, as amended, remains in effect, and that, to help preserve and maintain life, health, property or the public peace pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(1)(h), and (3), I hereby amend and supersede the prohibitions in 20-14 as set out below, subject to the conditions, exceptions, and circumstances also set forth below, for the following activities:

1. Prohibitions. This order prohibits the following:
 - a. Any Worker from engaging in work for a State Agency after October 18, 2021 if the Worker has not been fully vaccinated against COVID-19;
 - b. Any State Agency from permitting any Worker to engage in work for the agency after October 18, 2021 if the Worker has not been fully vaccinated against COVID-19 and provided proof thereof as required below;
 - c. Any Worker from engaging in work for the operator of an Educational Setting after October 18, 2021 if the Worker has not been fully vaccinated against COVID-19;
 - d. Any operator of an Educational Setting from permitting a Worker to engage in work for the operator after October 18, 2021 if the Worker has not been fully vaccinated against COVID-19 and provided proof thereof as required below;
 - e. Any Health Care Provider from failing to be fully vaccinated against COVID-19 after October 18, 2021; and
 - f. Any operator of a Health Care Setting from permitting a Health Care Provider to engage in work for the operator as an employee, contractor, or volunteer in their capacity as a Health Care Provider after October 18, 2021 if the Health Care Provider has not been fully vaccinated against COVID-19 and provided proof thereof as required below. Providers who do not work in a Health Care Setting must provide proof of vaccination to the operator of the facility in which the Provider works, if any, or, if requested, to a lawful authority. A lawful authority includes, but is not limited to, law enforcement, local health jurisdictions, and the state Department of Health.
2. Exemptions from Vaccine Requirement.
 - a. Disability and Religious Accommodations
 - Workers for State Agencies, Workers for operators of Educational Settings, and Health Care Providers are not required to get vaccinated against COVID-19 under this Order if they are unable to do so because of a disability or if the requirement to do so conflicts with their sincerely held religious beliefs, practice, or observance. Workers for State Agencies, Workers for operators of Educational Settings, and Health Care Providers are prohibited from claiming an exemption or accommodation on false, misleading, or dishonest grounds, including by providing false, misleading, or dishonest information to a State Agency, operator of an Educational Setting, or operator of a Health Care Setting when seeking an accommodation.
 - In implementing the requirements of this Order, State Agencies, operators of Educational Settings, and operators of Health Care Settings:
 - Must provide any disability-related reasonable accommodations and sincerely held religious belief accommodations to the requirements of this Order that are required under the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (ADA), the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 (Rehabilitation Act), Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 (Title VII), the Washington Law Against Discrimination (WLAD), and any other applicable law. As provided in the above- noted laws, State Agencies, operators of Educational Settings, and operators of Health Care Settings are not required to provide accommodations if they would cause undue hardship.
 - Must comply with the procedures required under the above-noted laws and any other applicable law when considering and deciding whether to provide accommodations;
 - Must, to the extent permitted by law, before providing a disability- related reasonable accommodation to the requirements of this order, obtain from the individual requesting the accommodation documentation from an appropriate health care or rehabilitation professional stating that the individual has a disability that necessitates an accommodation and the probable duration of the need for the accommodation;
 - Must, to the extent permitted by law, before providing a sincerely held religious belief accommodation to the requirements of this Order, document that the request for an accommodation has been made and include a statement in the document explaining the way in which the requirements of this order conflict with the sincerely held religious belief, practice, or observance of the individual;
 - Must, to the extent permitted by law, require an individual who receives an accommodation to take COVID-19 safety measures that are consistent with the recommendations of the state Department of Health for the setting in which the individual works; and

- Are prohibited from providing accommodations:
 - That they know are based on false, misleading, or dishonest grounds or information;
 - That they know are based on the personal preference of the individual and not on an inability to get vaccinated because of a disability or a conflict with a sincerely held religious belief, practice, or observance; or
 - Without conducting an individualized assessment and determination of each individual’s need and justification for an accommodation; i.e., “rubberstamping” accommodation requests.
- c. Any individual who is unable to get fully vaccinated against COVID-19 by October 18, 2021 due to the requirements of their participation in a COVID-19 vaccine clinical trial is exempt from this Order. Any such individual who is a Worker for a State Agency or a Worker for an operator of an Educational Setting must provide documentary proof of their participation in the COVID-19 vaccine clinical trial to any State Agency or operator of an Educational Setting for which they engage in work. Any such individual who is a Health Care Provider must provide documentary proof of their participation in the COVID-19 vaccine clinical trial to any operator of a Health Care Setting for which they engage in work as an employee, contractor, or volunteer in their capacity as a Health Care Provider. A State Agency, operator of an Educational Setting, or operator of a Health Care Setting is prohibited from permitting any such individual to engage in work for them after October 18, 2021 if the individual fails to provide such proof.
- d. Individuals who are too young to receive any COVID-19 vaccine, as authorized for emergency use, licensed, or otherwise approved by the FDA, are exempt from this Order. Any individual who becomes old enough to receive any COVID-19 vaccine, as authorized for emergency use, licensed, or otherwise approved by the FDA, while this Order is in effect must come into compliance with the requirements of this Order within 60 days of the day they became eligible. Any State Agency, operator of an Educational Setting, or operator of a Health Care Setting for which such an individual engages in work must also come into compliance with the requirements of this Order with respect to the individual by that deadline.
- 3. Proof of Full Vaccination Against COVID-19:
 - a. Where required above, Workers for State Agencies, Workers for operators of Educational Settings, and Health Care Providers must provide proof of full vaccination against COVID-19 by providing one of the following:
 - CDC COVID-19 Vaccination Record Card or photo of the card;
 - Documentation of vaccination from a health care provider or electronic health record;
 - State immunization information system record; or
 - For an individual who was vaccinated outside of the United States, a reasonable equivalent of any of the above.
 - b. A State Agency, operator of an Educational Setting, or an operator of a Health Care Setting must obtain a copy of or visually observe proof of full vaccination against COVID-19 for every individual who is engaged in work for them and required to provide such proof under this Order.
 - c. Personal attestation is not an acceptable form of verification of COVID-19 vaccination.
- 4. Election to Require Employers of Contractors to Assume Responsibility for Vaccination Verification and Accommodation Requirements
 - a. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Order, a State Agency, an operator of an Educational Setting, or an operator of Health Care Setting may elect to require the employer of a contractor who is subject to this Order to assume responsibility for the vaccination verification and accommodations requirements in this Order. This election may be made with respect to any or all of an employer’s contractor-employees who are subject to this Order.
 - b. If such an election is made, after October 18, 2021, the employer’s contractor- employees are prohibited from engaging in work for the State Agency, operator of the Educational Setting, or operator of the Health Care Setting, and the State Agency, operator of the Educational Setting, or operator of the Health Care Setting is prohibited from permitting such employee to engage in work for them, unless the following requirements are met:
 - By October 18, 2021, the employer must obtain a copy of or visually observe proof of full vaccination against COVID-19 for every current employee who is subject to the vaccination requirement in this Order;
 - The employer must obtain a copy of or visually observe proof of full vaccination against COVID-19 for every employee hired after October 18, 2021 who is subject to the vaccination requirement in this Order;
 - The employer must follow the requirements for granting disability and religious accommodations to its current and future employees that apply to State Agencies, operators of Educational Settings, and operators of Health Care Settings under this Order;
 - By October 18, 2021, the employer must submit to the State Agency, operator of the Educational Setting, or operator of the Health Care Setting a signed declaration in substantially the form prescribed in RCW 5.50.050 declaring that the employer has met the above requirements;
 - The employer must submit additional signed declarations upon the request of and by the date designated by the State Agency, operator of the Educational Setting, or operator of the Health Care Setting;
 - If an employer is also a contractor subject to this Order, the employer must include in their declaration that the employer is fully vaccinated against COVID-19 or is unable to get vaccinated because of a disability or a conflict between the vaccination requirement and their sincerely held religious beliefs, practice, or observance, as applicable; and
 - The employer must cooperate with any investigation or inquiry the State Agency, operator of the Educational Setting, or operator of the Health Care Setting makes into the employer’s compliance with these requirements, including by providing information and records upon request, except any information or records that the employer is prohibited by law from disclosing.

- c. Any State Agency, operator of an Educational Setting, or operator of Health Care Setting who makes the election above retains the right to investigate or inquire into the employer’s compliance with the above requirements, to obtain proof of vaccination directly from any contractor-employee, and to withdraw the election in whole or in part at any time.
5. Public and Private Entities and Employers May Exceed These Requirements: Nothing in this order prohibits State Agencies, operators of Educational Settings, and operators of Health Care Settings from implementing requirements that exceed the requirements of this Order.
6. Definitions.
 - a. “Worker”:
 - “Worker” includes:
 - A person engaged to work as an employee, on-site volunteer, or on-site contractor for a State Agency, an operator of an Educational Setting, or an operator of a Health Care Setting, as applicable;

 - A person appointed to serve on a board, commission, or similar body that is an executive cabinet agency listed at <https://www.governor.wa.gov/office-governor/office/executive-cabinet> or a small cabinet agency listed at <https://www.governor.wa.gov/officegovernor/office/small-cabinet>, the State Board for Community and Technical Colleges, a board of trustees for a community or technical college, or a governing board of a four-year institution of higher education.
 - The following exceptions apply to the definition of “Worker”:
 - Visitors and patrons are not Workers.
 - In Educational Settings:
 - o Students of, persons attending, and persons receiving services at or from an Educational Setting are not Workers.
 - o On-site contractors are not Workers if they do not work in places where students or persons receiving services are present.

 - For any State Agency that is listed as an agency under the authority of a board, council, or commission at https://ofm.wa.gov/sites/default/files/public/publications/2021_State_Org_Chart.pdf and that is not also listed as an executive cabinet agency at <https://www.governor.wa.gov/office-governor/office/executive-cabinet> or a small cabinet agency at <https://www.governor.wa.gov/officegovernor/office/small-cabinet>, other than the State Board for Community and Technical Colleges, the boards of trustees for community and technical colleges, and the governing boards of four-year institutions of higher education, only the State Agency’s compensated employees are “Workers” subject to the requirements of this proclamation.
 - b. “Contractor” includes any person who provides goods, services, or public works services pursuant to a contract with another person or entity, including, for purposes of this Order, a State Agency, an operator of an Educational Setting, or an operator of a Health Care Setting.  - e. “Health Care Setting” is any public or private setting that is primarily used for the delivery of in-person health care services to people, except as specifically exempted below. If located at a facility that is primarily used for the delivery of health-care services, such as a hospital, then the entire facility is a Health Care Setting. If located at a facility that is primarily used for another purpose, such as a pharmacy within a grocery store, school nurse's office, or vaccination clinic within a business establishment, the Health Care Setting includes only the areas that are primarily used for the delivery of health care, but not the other areas of the facility.

"Health Care Setting" includes, but is not limited to:

- Ambulatory surgical facilities;
- Urgent care centers; and
- Hospice care centers.

"Health Care Setting" does not include:

- Settings where sports and spectator events or other gatherings are held (including when credentialed athletic trainers are providing care to players), other than areas primarily used for the delivery of health care services, such as designated first aid areas (which are Health Care Settings);
- Department of Children, Youth & Families (DCYF)-licensed foster homes that do not primarily provide health care services;
- Research facilities where no health care is delivered to people;
- Veterinary health care settings;
- Animal control agencies; and
- Non-profit humane societies.

d. "State Agency" includes:

- Every agency listed at <https://www.governor.wa.gov/officegovernor/office/executive-cabinet>;
- Every agency listed at <https://www.governor.wa.gov/officegovernor/office/small-cabinet>; and
- Every agency under the authority of a board, council, or commission listed at https://ofm.wa.gov/sites/default/files/public/publications/2021_State_Org_Chart.pdf.

e. "Educational Setting" includes:

- All public and private universities, colleges, community colleges, and technical colleges and private career/vocational schools subject to licensure by the Workforce Training & Education Coordinating Board; received the second dose in a two-dose series of a COVID-19 vaccine (e.g., Pfizer-BioNTech or Moderna) or a single-dose COVID-19 vaccine (e.g., Johnson & Johnson (J&J)/Janssen) authorized for emergency use, licensed, or otherwise approved by the FDA or listed for emergency use or otherwise approved by the World Health Organization.

- f. “On-site volunteer” and “on-site contractor” includes:
 - A volunteer or contractor who is reasonably likely or contractually obligated to engage in or in fact engages in work while physically present at a building, facility, jobsite, project site, unit, or other defined area owned, leased, occupied by, or controlled by a State Agency, an operator of an Educational Setting, or an operator of a Health Care Setting.
- “On-site volunteer” and “on-site contractor” does not include:
 - A volunteer or contractor who is reasonably likely or contractually obligated to engage in or in fact engages in work during which they are physically present at a site for only a short period of time and any moments of close physical proximity to others on site are fleeting. Examples include contractors delivering supplies by truck to a construction site where they remain physically distanced from others on the site or a driver for a contracted shipping and delivery service briefly entering a site to pick up parcels for shipping.
- g. “Operator of an Educational Setting” and “operator of a Health Care Setting” do not include clients, patients, patrons, customers, or similar individuals served by Worker for a State Agency, Worker for an Educational Setting, or Health Care Provider.

ADDITIONALLY, the specific prohibitions in this Proclamation are severable and do not apply to the extent that compliance with a prohibition would violate (1) any U.S. or Washington constitutional provision; (2) federal statutes or regulations; (3) any conditions that apply to the state’s receipt of federal funding; (4) state statutes; or (5) applicable orders from any court of competent jurisdiction.

ADDITIONALLY, nothing in this Proclamation limits otherwise applicable requirements related to personal protective equipment, personnel training, and infection control policies and procedures.

I again direct that the plans and procedures of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan be implemented throughout state government. State agencies and departments are directed to continue utilizing state resources and doing everything reasonably possible to support implementation of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan and to assist affected political subdivisions in an effort to respond to and recover from the COVID-19 pandemic.

I continue to order into active state service the organized militia of Washington State to include the National Guard and the State Guard, or such part thereof as may be necessary in the opinion of The Adjutant General to address the circumstances described above, to perform such duties as directed by competent authority of the Washington State Military Department in addressing the outbreak. Additionally, I continue to direct the Department of Health, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, and other agencies to identify and provide appropriate personnel for conducting necessary and ongoing incident related assessments.

Violators of this order may be subject to criminal penalties pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(5). Further, if people fail to comply with the required facial coverings, social distancing and other protective measures while engaging in this phased reopening, I may be forced to reinstate the prohibitions established in earlier proclamations.

This order is effective immediately. Unless extended or amended, upon expiration or termination of this amendatory proclamation the provisions of Proclamation 20-25, et seq., will continue to be in effect until the state of emergency, issued on February 29, 2020, pursuant to Proclamation 20-05, is rescinded.

Signed and sealed with the official seal of the state of Washington on this 20th day of August, A.D., Two Thousand and Twenty-One at Olympia, Washington.

PROCLAMATION BY THE GOVERNOR
AMENDING PROCLAMATIONS 20-05, 20-12, et seq., AND 20-25, et seq.

Higher Education

WHEREAS, on February 29, 2020, I issued Proclamation 20-05, proclaiming a State of Emergency for all counties throughout Washington State as a result of the coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) outbreak in the United States and confirmed person-to-person spread of COVID-19 in Washington State; and

WHEREAS, as a result of the continued worldwide spread of COVID-19, its persistence in Washington State, and the high risk it continues to pose to our most vulnerable populations, I have subsequently issued several amendatory proclamations, exercising my emergency powers under RCW 43.06.220 by prohibiting certain activities and waiving and suspending specified laws and regulations; and

WHEREAS, the COVID-19 disease, caused by a virus that spreads easily from person to person, which may result in serious illness or death and has been classified by the World Health Organization as a worldwide pandemic, continues to persist in the state of Washington; and

WHEREAS, despite an increase in infections, hospitalizations, and deaths in the latter half of 2020, Washington State has avoided overwhelming the state's health care systems throughout this pandemic by implementing rigorous safety and prevention measures, such as physical distancing, masking, social and economic prohibitions and, since December 2020, the administration of vaccinations to prevent infection with the coronavirus that causes COVID-19 symptoms; and

WHEREAS, the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) and the Washington State Department of Health (DOH) have determined that the COVID-19 vaccines that have received emergency approval, or full approval, by the U.S. Food & Drug Administration are safe and effective against infection with the coronavirus that causes COVID-19; and

WHEREAS, everyone age 12 and older is currently eligible to receive a vaccination against the coronavirus causing COVID-19 symptoms, and Washington health care providers, in collaboration with public health and other community partners, have successfully administered millions of vaccine doses, but have millions more doses to administer, and it is necessary to achieve the highest rate of vaccination of the United States population as possible; and

WHEREAS, on March 13, 2020, in recognition of experts' warnings that continued normal operation of public and private universities, colleges, community colleges, and technical colleges could increase the spread of COVID-19 throughout Washington State, I issued Emergency Proclamation 20-12 prohibiting public and private universities, colleges, community colleges, and technical colleges from conducting in-person classroom instruction and lectures related to all educational programs; and

WHEREAS, the prohibitions in Proclamation 20-12 expired on April 24, 2020, but public and private universities, colleges, community colleges, and technical colleges remained in modified operation, which included remote learning and certain programs for essential workers; and

WHEREAS, Washington's public and private universities, colleges, community colleges, and technical colleges are an important part of our economy and are vital to the educational, social, and economic needs of Washingtonians; and

WHEREAS, using remote learning to replace most classroom instruction creates challenges to access for many Washingtonians; and

WHEREAS, the progression of COVID-19 in Washington State shows ethnic disparities in health impacts which are likely to increase ethnic disparities in access and success in post-secondary education, requiring the State and all of our campuses and programs to understand how these challenges affect our students and to work to minimize these impacts; and

WHEREAS, although public and private universities, colleges, community colleges, and technical colleges made tremendous efforts to continue to function through remote learning, in-person learning benefits Washington; and

WHEREAS, the nature of COVID-19 viral transmission, including both asymptomatic and symptomatic spread as well as the relatively high infectious nature, suggests it is appropriate to provide in-person learning at public and private universities, colleges, and technical schools only through a science-based approach that incorporates safety, sanitation, and physical distancing guidelines; and

WHEREAS, during the initial return to campus in the fall of 2020, there were more than 35 COVID-19 outbreaks linked to public and private institutions of higher education, and some higher education institutions have seen a substantial increase in COVID-19 positive cases that are tied to both congregate living arrangements, including fraternities and sororities, and also large social gatherings of students, thereby triggering the need to increase safety measures to address these outbreaks; and

WHEREAS, I issued Proclamations 20-12.1 and 20-12.2 to permit Washington's public and private universities, colleges, community colleges, and technical colleges to resume in-person instruction, lectures and similar educational gatherings, provided that extensive safety requirements were implemented, and to impose certain safety requirements on shared housing; and

WHEREAS, the widespread availability of safe and effective COVID-19 vaccinations makes it appropriate to lift legally-mandated safety requirements for public and private universities, colleges, community colleges, and technical colleges that have committed to implementing vaccination requirements on their campuses; and

WHEREAS, the worldwide COVID-19 pandemic and its progression in Washington State continue to threaten the life and health of our people as well as the economy of Washington State, and remain a public disaster affecting life, health, property or the public peace, and

WHEREAS, students attending public and private universities, colleges, community colleges, and technical colleges are largely in the age demographic with the highest rate of COVID-19 cases and the lowest rate of vaccinations of those over the age of 18, which, taken with the foregoing, justifies continuing to mandate certain safety measures for public and private universities, colleges, community colleges, and technical colleges that choose not to implement vaccination requirements on their campuses; and

WHEREAS, after months of improving COVID-19 epidemiological conditions in Washington State, the emergence of highly contagious COVID-19 variants, including the "delta" variant that is at least twice as transmissible as the virus that emerged in late 2019, coupled with continued significant numbers of unvaccinated people, have caused COVID-19 cases and hospitalizations to rise sharply among unvaccinated populations, have resulted in breakthrough infections in some fully vaccinated individuals, and continue to rise; and

WHEREAS, we now know that several factors increase the risk for person-to-person COVID-19 transmission; such factors include (1) the more that people and groups interact, (2) the longer those interactions last, (3) the closer the contact between individuals, (4) the denser the occupancy for indoor facilities, and (5) the lack of use of face coverings; and

WHEREAS, COVID-19 vaccines are effective in reducing infection and serious disease, widespread vaccination is the primary means we have as a state to protect everyone, including persons who cannot be vaccinated for medical reasons, youth who are not eligible to receive a vaccine, immunocompromised individuals, and vulnerable persons including persons in health care facilities, long-term care facilities and other congregate care facilities from COVID-19 infections; and

WHEREAS, widespread vaccination is also the primary means we have as a state to protect our health care system, to avoid the return of stringent public health measures, and to put the pandemic behind us; and

WHEREAS, COVID-19 vaccines were first available in Washington State in December 2020, and since April 15, 2021, all Washingtonians over the age of 16 have been eligible to receive free COVID-19 vaccinations from a wide variety of providers at many locations; and

WHEREAS, COVID-19 vaccines are safe and effective. COVID-19 vaccines were evaluated in clinical trials involving tens of thousands of participants and met the U.S. Food & Drug Administration's rigorous scientific standards for safety, effectiveness, and manufacturing quality needed to support emergency use authorization and now even full authorization in some circumstances; and, to date, more than 346 million doses of COVID-19 vaccines have been given in the United States with 8.2 million of those doses administered in Washington, and serious safety problems and long-term side effects are rare; and

WHEREAS, it is the duty of every employer to protect the health and safety of employees by establishing and maintaining a healthy and safe work environment and by requiring all employees to comply with health and safety measures; and

WHEREAS, on August 9, 2021, due, in part, to the above described conditions, I issued Proclamation 21- 14, which prohibits, with limited exceptions, certain workers from continuing to engage in their work after October 18, 2021 unless that worker is fully vaccinated, and also prohibits certain employers from continuing to employ any worker from engaging in work for that employer unless the worker is fully vaccinated by October 18, 2021; and

WHEREAS, DOH continues to maintain a Public Health Incident Management Team in coordination with the State Emergency Operations Center and other supporting state agencies to manage the public health aspects of the incident; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, through the State Emergency Operations Center, continues coordinating resources across state government to support DOH and local health officials in alleviating the impacts to people, property, and infrastructure, and continues coordinating with DOH in assessing the impacts and long-term effects of the incident on Washington State and its people.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Jay Inslee, Governor of the state of Washington, as a result of the above- noted situation, and under Chapters 38.08, 38.52 and 43.06 RCW, do hereby proclaim and order that a State of Emergency continues to exist in all counties of Washington State, that Proclamation 20-05 and all amendments thereto remain in effect as amended, and that, to help preserve and maintain life, health, property or the public peace pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(1)(h), Proclamations 20-05 and 20- 12, et seq., and 20-25, et seq., continue in effect except as amended herein, to allow for in-person classroom instruction, lectures and similar educational gatherings at public and private universities, colleges, community colleges, and technical colleges (referred to hereafter collectively as institutions of higher education, or IHEs), provided certain requirements are and continue to be satisfied.

FURTHERMORE, IHEs that do not have fully vaccinated campuses are prohibited from providing in-person classroom instruction, lectures and similar educational gatherings, except when they implement, follow, and enforce the requirements specified below. IHEs with fully vaccinated campuses are wholly exempt from this proclamation and encouraged, but not required, to follow DOH's COVID-19 recommendations for higher education.

IHEs WITH FULLY VACCINATED CAMPUSES

An IHE has a fully vaccinated campus and is exempt from this proclamation when it meets all of the following requirements:

- By October 18, 2021, the IHE is in full compliance with Proclamation 21-14.1 et seq. (Vaccination Requirement).
- The IHE implements a policy requiring all of its students who participate in or attend IHE courses, operations, or other activities in person at IHE locations to be fully vaccinated against COVID-19, subject to any medical exemptions required by law and any religious exemptions the IHE provides.
 - For purposes of this proclamation, a person is fully vaccinated against COVID-19 two weeks after they have received the second dose in a two-dose series of a COVID-19 vaccine authorized for emergency use by the FDA (e.g., Pfizer-BioNTech or Moderna) or two weeks after they have received a single-dose COVID-19 vaccine authorized for emergency use by the FDA (e.g., Johnson & Johnson (J&J)/Janssen). For purposes of this proclamation, an IHE may consider a person fully vaccinated against COVID-19 two weeks after they have received all recommended doses of a COVID-19 vaccine that is listed for emergency use by the World Health Organization (WHO).
- The IHE implements a policy and procedure to verify the vaccination status of students who are not exempt from the vaccination requirement:
 - The IHE must verify the vaccination status of all students by obtaining or observing documentary proof of full vaccination, such as a CDC vaccination card, documentation of vaccination from a health care provider, or a state immunization information system record, or obtaining a hard copy or electronically signed self-attestation from the student. Any student self-attestation must include the following information:
 - The dates when each dose of the COVID-19 vaccine was administered to the student;
 - Language stating that the student is attesting to the truthfulness of their self- attestation and will be subject to disciplinary action if their self-attestation is determined to be untruthful in violation of the IHE's code of conduct or equivalent; and
 - Language stating that the IHE and state and local public health officials may require further verification of the student's vaccination status, including observing the student's CDC vaccination card, state immunization information system record, or other documentation.
- The IHE implements a policy requiring every student, staff member, and faculty member who claims an exemption to the vaccination requirements in this Order and Proclamation 21-14.1 et seq. and every volunteer, contractor, and visitor to wear a face covering at IHE locations in accordance with the Secretary of Health's face covering order and to comply with any applicable L&I workplace safety requirements. For people claiming exemptions to the Secretary of Health's face covering order, the IHE's policy must include putting in place other safety measures to protect the safety of the exempt people and others.

REQUIREMENTS FOR IHEs WITHOUT FULLY VACCINATED CAMPUSES

An IHE without a fully vaccinated campus must meet all of the following requirements:

Campus Safety

- By October 18, 2021, be in full compliance with Proclamation 21-14.1 et seq. (Vaccination Requirement).
- Adhere to all federal, state and local public health and workplace safety requirements;
- Develop a comprehensive COVID-19 infection control plan incorporating the requirements below, applicable workplace safety requirements, and best practices in CDC and DOH guidance for IHEs, and make available a copy of the plan at each location on campus;
- Implement a policy and procedure requiring all fully vaccinated students who participate in or attend IHE courses, operations, or other activities in person at IHE locations to provide documentary proof of full vaccination. The IHE must obtain or observe documentary proof of full vaccination, such as a CDC vaccination card, documentation of vaccination from a health care provider, or a state immunization information system record, or obtain a hard copy or electronically signed self-attestation from the student. Any student self-attestation must include the following information:

- The dates when each dose of the COVID-19 vaccine was administered to the student;
- Language stating that the student is attesting to the truthfulness of their self-attestation and will be subject to disciplinary action if their self-attestation is determined to be untruthful in violation of the IHE's code of conduct or equivalent; and
- Language stating that the IHE and state and local public health officials may require further verification of the student's vaccination status, including viewing the student's CDC vaccination card, state immunization information system record, or other documentation;
- The IHE must presume all persons on campus are unvaccinated until proof of vaccination is provided.
- Enforce compliance with the Secretary of Health's face covering order and L&I's requirements inside IHE facilities;
- To the extent permitted by law, require all students, regardless of vaccination status, to wear face coverings when meeting with a faculty member for office hours or similar purposes, if requested by the faculty member;
- Maintain minimum physical distancing, whenever possible, of three feet between all non-household members indoors on campus, including students, faculty, staff, volunteers, contractors, and visitors, and where physical distancing cannot be maintained, implement administrative or engineering controls to minimize exposure;
- Implement and maintain hand washing policies to ensure frequent and adequate hand washing and maintain adequate supplies;
- Implement and maintain adequate sanitization protocols consistent with CDC's Cleaning and Disinfecting Your Facility guidance and Guidance for Institutions of Higher Education \(IHEs\) and the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency's list of disinfectants for COVID-19;
- Implement and maintain a self-certification COVID-19 screening program for students and personnel consistent with DOH's Guidance for Daily COVID-19 Symptom Screening of Staff and Guests;
- Develop response protocols for students, personnel, and visitors reporting symptoms and/or confirmed to have COVID-19;
- If students or personnel are experiencing any known COVID-19 symptoms, are confirmed to have COVID-19, or have been exposed to a confirmed case of COVID-19, require them to follow the direction of the local health jurisdiction and, to the extent not inconsistent with that direction, DOH's Evaluation and Management of Persons with New Unexplained Symptoms of COVID-19, What to do if you were potentially exposed to someone with COVID-19, and What to do if you have confirmed or suspected COVID-19 and CDC's What to Do If You Are Sick guidance;
- Make diligent efforts to monitor and enforce compliance with the requirements of this proclamation by students and personnel within the institution's disciplinary authority and procedures and any other applicable authority;
- Develop a plan with the relevant local health jurisdiction to address the isolation and quarantine needs of any personnel and students who have confirmed or suspected COVID-19 or exposure to an individual confirmed to have COVID-19 and are unable to isolate or quarantine in their usual place of residence; and
- Assess recognized hazards, including COVID-19, as part of the ongoing requirement to provide a safe and healthy workplace and, where appropriate, take additional steps to protect unvaccinated employees. Appropriate steps could include but are not limited to maximizing fresh air and providing a mask that is more protective than a cloth face covering. These should be considered as part of the IHE's comprehensive infection control plan.

Student Worker and Personnel Support

- Provide student workers and personnel with PPE such as gloves, goggles, face shields, and/or masks as appropriate or required for student workers/personnel not working alone (e.g. any public-facing job and/or those whose responsibility includes operating within physical distancing limits), and shut down or suspend any activity if PPE cannot be provided;
- Comply and require compliance with L&I requirements for face coverings and the Secretary of Health's face covering order as applicable to the workplace except where this order is more stringent;
- Comply with all applicable laws providing protections for high risk workers, including, but not limited to, the Health Emergency Labor Standards Act; and
- Educate students and personnel on symptom detection, sources of high risk to COVID-19, prevention measures, and leave benefits/policies.

Visitor Expectations

- Post visible entry point signage for students, personnel, and visitors describing shared on-campus responsibilities and requirements, including those regarding proper hygiene and sanitization, physical distancing and face coverings, staying home if feeling sick, information on how and when to report concerns, and other information as appropriate or required.

Food Services

- Implement floor markings to promote physical distancing;
- Post signs to remind patrons of physical distancing and face covering requirements and to use hand sanitizer;
- Complete routine sanitization of high-touch surfaces and shared resources (e.g., door handles, points of sales); and
- Enforce compliance with the Secretary of Health’s face covering order and L&I’s requirements inside IHE food service facilities

FURTHERMORE, if a conflict exists between this proclamation (20-12.5) and proclamation 21-14.1 et seq., the provisions of proclamation 21-14.1 et seq., shall control.

I again direct that the plans and procedures of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan be implemented throughout state government. State agencies and departments are directed to continue utilizing state resources and doing everything reasonably possible to support implementation of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan and to assist affected political subdivisions in an effort to respond to and recover from the COVID-19 pandemic.

I continue to order into active state service the organized militia of Washington State to include the National Guard and the State Guard, or such part thereof as may be necessary in the opinion of The Adjutant General to address the circumstances described above, to perform such duties as directed by competent authority of the Washington State Military Department in addressing the outbreak. Additionally, I continue to direct the Department of Health, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, and other agencies to identify and provide appropriate personnel for conducting necessary and ongoing incident related assessments.

This Proclamation, and the prohibitions and orders contained herein are effective immediately and will remain in effect until rescinded or otherwise amended. Violators of this order may be subject to criminal penalties pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(5).

PROCLAMATION BY THE GOVERNOR
AMENDING PROCLAMATIONS 20-05 and 20-25, et seq.

“WASHINGTON READY”

WHEREAS, on February 29, 2020, I issued Proclamation 20-05, proclaiming a State of Emergency for all counties throughout the state of Washington as a result of the coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) outbreak in the United States and confirmed person-to-person spread of COVID-19 in Washington State; and

WHEREAS, as a result of the continued worldwide spread of COVID-19, its significant progression in Washington State, and the high risk it poses to our most vulnerable populations and our health care system, I have subsequently issued several amendatory proclamations, exercising my emergency powers under RCW 43.06.220 by prohibiting certain activities and waiving and suspending specified laws and regulations, including issuance of Proclamation 20- 25, et seq., which limits Washingtonians’ ability to participate in certain activities unless certain conditions are met; and

WHEREAS, during early stages of the COVID-19 pandemic, health professionals and epidemiological modeling experts indicated that the spread of COVID-19, if left unchecked, threatened to overwhelm portions of Washington’s public and private health-care system; and

WHEREAS, although COVID-19 continues to be an ongoing and present threat in Washington State, the measures we have taken together as Washingtonians over the past 18 months, including the willingness of many eligible Washingtonians to take advantage of the remarkable, life-saving vaccines being administered throughout the state, have made a difference and have altered the course of the pandemic in fundamental ways; and

WHEREAS, as of August 16, 2021, at least 69.3 percent of people 12 years of age and older and percent of the total population have initiated vaccination, and at least 63.1 percent of people 12 years of age and older and 53.8 percent of the total population are fully vaccinated; and

WHEREAS, after months of improving COVID-19 epidemiological conditions in Washington State, the emergence of highly contagious COVID-19 variants, including the “Delta” variant that is at least twice as transmissible as the virus that emerged in late 2019, coupled with the uncontinued significant numbers of unvaccinated people, has caused COVID-19 cases and hospitalizations to rise sharply among unvaccinated populations, has resulted in breakthrough infections in some fully vaccinated individuals, and continue to rise; and

WHEREAS, over the past 18 months, health experts and epidemiological modeling experts, including those at the Department of Health, the United States Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), and our state universities, have gained critical knowledge regarding the spread of COVID-19, including a better understanding of the risks associated with certain activities and the measures that can be taken to reduce those risks; and

WHEREAS, we now know that several factors increase the risk for person-to-person COVID-19 transmission; such factors include (1) the more that people and groups interact, (2) the longer those interactions last, (3) the closer the contact between individuals, (4) the denser the occupancy for indoor facilities, and (5) the lack of use of face coverings; and

WHEREAS, the CDC updated its face covering guidance on July 27, 2021 to recommend the use of face coverings indoors in areas of the U.S. where community transmission of the virus was considered high or substantial, and as of August 16, 2021 at least 85 percent of U.S. counties and all counties in Washington state meet the CDC criteria for high or substantial transmission; and

WHEREAS, the health officers representing all 35 local health jurisdictions in Washington state have joined together to recommend that all residents wear facial coverings when in indoor public settings where the vaccination status of those around you is unknown, to reduce the risk of COVID-19 to the public, including customers and workers, to help stem the increase in COVID-19 cases and hospitalizations in many parts of the state and decrease the spread of the highly contagious Delta variant; and

WHEREAS, on August 20, 2021, I issued Proclamation 20.25.15 amending Proclamation 20- 25, et. seq., by reinstating prohibitions against use of indoor spaces without the use of a face covering; and

WHEREAS, given the substantial increase of community transmission of COVID-19, and to further our individual and collective duty to reduce the spread of COVID-19 in our state, it is necessary to continue to prohibit the use of indoor spaces without the use of a face covering, and to clarify that local government agencies, officials, and authorities and landlords are prohibited from preventing or prohibiting any person or business or other entity in their jurisdictions and tenants in their properties, respectively, from imposing face covering requirements on or requiring proof of vaccination from any worker, customer, or other person or taking or threatening to take any adverse action of any kind against any person or business or other entity or tenant for imposing face covering requirements on or requiring proof of vaccination from any worker, customer, or other person; and

WHEREAS, the worldwide COVID-19 pandemic and its persistence in Washington State continue to threaten the life and health of our people as well as the economy of Washington State, and remain a public disaster affecting life, health, property or the public peace; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Department of Health continues to maintain a Public Health Incident Management Team in coordination with the State Emergency Operations Center and other supporting state agencies to manage the public health aspects of the incident; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, through the State Emergency Operations Center, continues coordinating resources across state government to support the Department of Health and local health officials in alleviating the impacts to people, property, and infrastructure, and continues coordinating with the state Department of Health in assessing the impacts and long-term effects of the incident on Washington State and its people; and

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Jay Inslee, Governor of the state of Washington, as a result of the above noted situation, and under Chapters 38.08, 38.52, and 43.06 RCW, do hereby proclaim and order that a State of Emergency continues to exist in all counties of Washington State, that Proclamation 20-05, as amended, remains in effect, and that, to help preserve and maintain life, health, property or the public peace pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(1)(h), Proclamation 20-25, et seq., remains in full force and effect, except as specifically amended by this Proclamation 20- 25.16, as set out below.

FURTHERMORE, I hereby amend the provisions in 20-25, et seq., as they relate to face coverings to prohibit any individual from failing to wear a face covering as required by the Secretary of Health's face covering order and any subsequent amendments. I further prohibit any governmental, commercial, or nonprofit entity or private party from allowing any individual to enter or remain in any indoor space under their control unless the individual is in compliance with the Secretary of Health's face covering order and any subsequent amendments.

ADDITIONALLY, in furtherance of these prohibitions, and for general awareness:

1. The prohibition against entering or remaining in any indoor space without a face covering in prior versions of Proclamation 20-25 is hereby rescinded and replaced with the prohibition imposed in and pursuant to this version of Proclamation 20-25, which is titled Proclamation 20-25.15. The Secretary of Health's face covering order and any subsequent amendments are incorporated by reference.
2. Employers must comply with all conditions for operation required by the Washington State Department of Labor & Industries, including interpretive guidance, regulations and rules and Department of Labor & Industries-administered statutes.
3. Employers must notify their local health jurisdiction within 24 hours if they suspect COVID-19 is spreading in their workplace, or if they are aware of two or more employees who develop confirmed or suspected COVID-19 within a 14-day period.
4. Everyone is required to cooperate with public health authorities in the investigation of cases, suspected cases, outbreaks, and suspected outbreaks of COVID-19 and with the implementation of infection control measures pursuant to State Board of Health rule in WAC 246-101-425.
5. All mandatory guidelines for specific businesses and activities, which remain in effect except as modified by this Proclamation, may be found at the Governor's Office website, COVID-19 Resources and Information, and at COVID-19 Reopening Guidance for Businesses and Workers. Existing guidelines that require proof of vaccination for certain settings and activities remain in effect until such time as those guidelines are expressly modified.

ADDITIONALLY, in support and clarification of this proclamation:

1. General rule: General face covering requirements are found in the Secretary of Health's face covering order, and any subsequent amendments, as incorporated herein by reference.
2. HEREBY AMENDED TO READ - Additional local restrictions may apply: Nothing in this proclamation or in the Secretary of Health's face covering order prevents any other individual or entity from imposing face covering or other restrictions or requirements in businesses or other locations within the scope of their legal authority. In addition, local government agencies, officials, and authorities and landlords are prohibited from preventing or prohibiting any person or business or other entity in their jurisdictions and tenants in their properties, respectively, from imposing face covering requirements on or requiring proof of vaccination from any worker, customer, or other person and are further prohibited from taking or threatening to take any adverse action of any kind against any person or business or other entity or tenant for imposing face covering requirements on or requiring proof of vaccination from any worker, customer, or other person. Adverse actions prohibited by this section include, but are not limited to, denying, suspending, withholding, or terminating a contract, patronage, funding, or benefits, declining to rent or lease property, increasing rental rates, and eviction.

3. Customers: Businesses are prohibited from allowing customers to enter or remain in an indoor space in a business unless the customer is wearing a face covering, in accordance with the Secretary of Health’s face covering order. Businesses must post signage in a prominent location visible to customers at each entry informing customers of the face covering requirement.
4. Employees: All employees are required to wear a face covering indoors at the employee’s worksite in accordance with the Secretary of Health’s face covering order. Unless additional restrictions are imposed by the employer or a state or local authority, or face coverings are legally required at the specific worksite regardless of vaccination status, a fully vaccinated employee may work indoors without wearing a face covering at the employer’s worksite in areas not generally accessible to the public and when no customers, volunteers, visitors, or non-employees are present as permitted by the Secretary of Health’s face covering order, but only after the employee has either provided (a) proof of vaccination to the employer; or (b) a signed document attesting to the employee’s fully vaccinated status, except as otherwise prohibited in Proclamation 21-14 et seq. (Vaccination Requirement). The option, if applicable, to provide a signed self-attestation may be done in hard copy or electronically.
5. Employers: Employers are required to provide a safe and healthy workplace and must assess hazards in their workplace and take appropriate steps to protect workers. COVID-19 remains a recognized hazard that continues to pose a significant risk to the health and life of employees. Employers must require that employees wear a face covering in accordance with the Secretary of Health’s face covering order; to that end, employers:
 - a. Must choose a method of proof of vaccination, documented proof of vaccination or self-attestation (except as otherwise prohibited in Proclamation 21-14 et seq. (Vaccination Requirement)), and require such proof from every employee before those employees are permitted to work without wearing a face covering at the employer’s worksite in areas not generally accessible to the public and when no customers, volunteers, visitors, or non-employees are present as permitted by the Secretary of Health’s face covering order referenced above.
 - b. Notwithstanding (a) above, may require that employees wear a face covering while at the worksite in all areas regardless of vaccination status; and
 - c. May require vaccination as a condition of employment, except as prohibited by state or federal law.

ADDITIONALLY, in addition to guidance issued by the Department of Health and the Department of Labor & Industries, additional guidance for businesses, employees, and customers may be found here and is incorporated by reference, and such guidance may be updated periodically and all such updates are also incorporated by reference.

I again direct that the plans and procedures of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan be implemented throughout state government. State agencies and departments are directed to continue utilizing state resources and doing everything reasonably possible to support implementation of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan and to assist affected political subdivisions in an effort to respond to and recover from the COVID-19 pandemic.

I continue to order into active state service the organized militia of Washington State to include the National Guard and the State Guard, or such part thereof as may be necessary in the opinion of The Adjutant General to address the circumstances described above, to perform such duties as directed by competent authority of the Washington State Military Department in addressing the outbreak. Additionally, I continue to direct the Department of Health, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, and other agencies to identify and provide appropriate personnel for conducting necessary and ongoing incident related assessments.

Violators of this order may be subject to criminal penalties pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(5). Further, if people fail to comply, I may be forced to reinstate additional prohibitions established in earlier proclamations.

This order is effective immediately. Unless extended or amended, or upon termination of this amendatory proclamation, the provisions of Proclamation 20-25, et seq., will continue to be in effect until the state of emergency, issued on February 29, 2020, pursuant to Proclamation 20-05, is rescinded.

PROCLAMATION BY THE GOVERNOR
AMENDING PROCLAMATIONS 20-05 and 20-25, et seq.

“WASHINGTON READY”

WHEREAS, on February 29, 2020, I issued Proclamation 20-05, proclaiming a State of Emergency for all counties throughout the state of Washington as a result of the coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) outbreak in the United States and confirmed person-to-person spread of COVID-19 in Washington State; and

WHEREAS, as a result of the continued worldwide spread of COVID-19, its significant progression in Washington State, and the high risk it poses to our most vulnerable populations and our health care system, I have subsequently issued several amendatory proclamations, exercising my emergency powers under RCW 43.06.220 by prohibiting certain activities and waiving and suspending specified laws and regulations, including issuance of Proclamation 20-25, et seq., which limits Washingtonians' ability to participate in certain activities unless certain conditions are met; and

WHEREAS, during early stages of the COVID-19 pandemic, health professionals and epidemiological modeling experts indicated that the spread of COVID-19, if left unchecked, threatened to overwhelm portions of Washington's public and private health-care system; and

WHEREAS, although COVID-19 continues to be an ongoing and present threat in Washington State, the measures we have taken together as Washingtonians over the past 18 months, including the willingness of many eligible Washingtonians to take advantage of the remarkable, life-saving vaccines being administered throughout the state, have made a difference and have altered the course of the pandemic in fundamental ways; and

WHEREAS, as of August 16, 2021, at least 69.3 percent of people 12 years of age and older and 59.1 percent of the total population have initiated vaccination, and at least 63.1 percent of people 12 years of age and older and 53.8 percent of the total population are fully vaccinated; and

WHEREAS, after months of improving COVID-19 epidemiological conditions in Washington State, the emergence of highly contagious COVID-19 variants, including the “Delta” variant that is at least twice as transmissible as the virus that emerged in late 2019, coupled with the continued significant numbers of unvaccinated people, has caused COVID-19 cases and hospitalizations to rise sharply among unvaccinated populations, has resulted in breakthrough infections in some fully vaccinated individuals, and continue to rise; and

WHEREAS, over the past 18 months, health experts and epidemiological modeling experts, including those at the Department of Health, the United States Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), and our state universities, have gained critical knowledge regarding the spread of COVID-19, including a better understanding of the risks associated with certain activities and the measures that can be taken to reduce those risks; and

WHEREAS, we now know that several factors increase the risk for person-to-person COVID-19 transmission; such factors include (1) the more that people and groups interact, (2) the longer those interactions last, (3) the closer the contact between individuals, (4) the denser the occupancy for indoor facilities, and (5) the lack of use of face coverings; and

WHEREAS, the CDC updated its face covering guidance on July 27, 2021 to recommend the use of face coverings indoors in areas of the U.S. where community transmission of the virus was considered high or substantial, and as of August 16, 2021 at least 85 percent of U.S. counties and all counties in Washington state meet the CDC criteria for high or substantial transmission; and

WHEREAS, the health officers representing all 35 local health jurisdictions in Washington state have joined together to recommend that all residents wear facial coverings when in indoor public settings where the vaccination status of those around you is unknown, to reduce the risk of COVID-19 to the public, including customers and workers, to help stem the increase in COVID-19 cases and hospitalizations in many parts of the state and decrease the spread of the highly contagious Delta variant; and

WHEREAS, on August 20, 2021, I issued Proclamation 20.25.15 amending Proclamation 20-25, et. seq., by reinstating prohibitions against use of indoor spaces without the use of a face covering; and

WHEREAS, on September 3, 2021, I issued Proclamation 20-25.16 amending Proclamation 20-25, et. seq., to clarify that local government agencies, officials, and authorities and landlords are prohibited from preventing or prohibiting any person or business or other entity in their jurisdictions and tenants in their properties, respectively, from imposing face covering requirements on or requiring proof of vaccination from any worker, customer, or other person or taking or threatening to take any adverse action of any kind against any person or business or other entity or tenant for imposing face covering requirements on or requiring proof of vaccination from any worker, customer, or other person; and

WHEREAS, given the substantial increase of community transmission of COVID-19, the spread of COVID-19 attributable to large outdoor events, and the Secretary of Health's issuance of an amended face covering order requiring face coverings to be worn at outdoor events and gatherings attended by 500 or more people, it is necessary to amend Proclamation 20-25, et. seq. to incorporate the Secretary of Health's outdoor face covering requirements;

WHEREAS, the worldwide COVID-19 pandemic and its persistence in Washington State continue to threaten the life and health of our people as well as the economy of Washington State, and remain a public disaster affecting life, health, property or the public peace; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Department of Health continues to maintain a Public Health Incident Management Team in coordination with the State Emergency Operations Center and other supporting state agencies to manage the public health aspects of the incident; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, through the State Emergency Operations Center, continues coordinating resources across state government to support the Department of Health and local health officials in alleviating the impacts to people, property, and infrastructure, and continues coordinating with the state Department of Health in assessing the impacts and long-term effects of the incident on Washington State and its people; and

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Jay Inslee, Governor of the state of Washington, as a result of the above noted situation, and under Chapters 38.08, 38.52, and 43.06 RCW, do hereby proclaim and order that a State of Emergency continues to exist in all counties of Washington State, that Proclamation 20-05, as amended, remains in effect, and that, to help preserve and maintain life, health, property or the public peace pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(1)(h), Proclamation 20-25, et seq., remains in full force and effect, except as specifically amended by this Proclamation 20- 25.16, as set out below.

FURTHERMORE, I hereby amend the provisions in 20-25, et seq., as they relate to face coverings to prohibit any individual from failing to wear a face covering as required by the Secretary of Health's face covering order and any subsequent amendments. I further prohibit any governmental, commercial, or nonprofit entity or private party from allowing any individual to enter or remain in any indoor space under their control unless the individual is in compliance with the Secretary of Health's face covering order and any subsequent amendments. I further prohibit any organizer of an outdoor event or gathering attended by 500 or more people from allowing any individual to be in attendance unless the individual is in compliance with the Secretary of Health's face covering order and any subsequent amendments.

ADDITIONALLY, in furtherance of these prohibitions, and for general awareness:

1. The face covering requirements in prior versions of Proclamation 20-25 are hereby rescinded and replaced with the requirements imposed in and pursuant to this version of Proclamation 20-25. The Secretary of Health's face covering order and any subsequent amendments are incorporated by reference.
2. Employers must comply with all conditions for operation required by the Washington State Department of Labor & Industries, including interpretive guidance, regulations and rules and Department of Labor & Industries-administered statutes.
3. Employers must notify their local health jurisdiction within 24 hours if they suspect COVID-19 is spreading in their workplace, or if they are aware of two or more employees who develop confirmed or suspected COVID-19 within a 14-day period.
4. Everyone is required to cooperate with public health authorities in the investigation of cases, suspected cases, outbreaks, and suspected outbreaks of COVID-19 and with the implementation of infection control measures pursuant to State Board of Health rule in WAC 246-101-425.
5. All mandatory guidelines for specific businesses and activities, which remain in effect except as modified by this Proclamation, may be found at the Governor's Office website, COVID-19 Resources and Information, and at COVID-19 Reopening Guidance for Businesses and Workers. Existing guidelines that require proof of vaccination for certain settings and activities remain in effect until such time as those guidelines are expressly modified.

ADDITIONALLY, in support and clarification of this proclamation:

1. General rule: General face covering requirements are found in the Secretary of Health's face covering order, and any subsequent amendments, as incorporated herein by reference.
2. Additional local restrictions may apply: Nothing in this proclamation or in the Secretary of Health's face covering order prevents any other individual or entity from imposing more restrictive face covering or requirements in businesses or other locations within the scope of their legal authority. In addition, local government agencies, officials, and authorities and landlords are prohibited from preventing or prohibiting any person or business or other entity in their jurisdictions and tenants in their properties, respectively, from imposing face covering requirements on or requiring proof of vaccination from any worker, customer, or other person and are further prohibited from taking or threatening to take any adverse action of any kind against any person or business or other entity or tenant for imposing face covering requirements on or requiring proof of vaccination from any worker, customer, or other person. Adverse actions prohibited

The entity, private party, or organizer must post signage in a prominent location visible to customers at each entry informing customers of the face covering requirement.
 4. Employees: All employees are required to comply with the Secretary of Health's face covering order at the employee's worksite. Unless additional restrictions are imposed by the employer or a state or local authority, or face coverings are legally required at the specific worksite regardless of vaccination status, an employee may work outdoors without wearing a face covering unless they are working at an outdoor event or gathering attended by 500 or more people, and a fully vaccinated employee may work indoors without wearing a face covering at the employer's worksite in areas not generally accessible to the public and when no customers, volunteers, visitors, or non-employees are present as permitted by the Secretary of Health's face covering order, but only after the employee has either provided (a) proof of vaccination to the employer; or (b) a signed document attesting to the employee's fully vaccinated status, except as otherwise prohibited in Proclamation 21-14 et seq. (Vaccination Requirement). The option, if applicable, to provide a signed self-attestation may be done in hard copy or electronically.
 5. Employers: Employers are required to provide a safe and healthy workplace and must assess hazards in their workplace and take appropriate steps to protect workers. COVID-19 remains a recognized hazard that continues to pose a significant risk to the health and life of employees. ADDITIONALLY, in addition to guidance issued by the Department of Health and the Department of Labor & Industries, additional guidance for businesses, employees, and customers may be found here and is incorporated by reference, and such guidance may be updated periodically and all such updates are also incorporated by reference.

I again direct that the plans and procedures of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan be implemented throughout state government. State agencies and departments are directed to continue utilizing state resources and doing everything reasonably possible to support implementation of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan and to assist affected political subdivisions in an effort to respond to and recover from the COVID-19 pandemic.

I continue to order into active state service the organized militia of Washington State to include the National Guard and the State Guard, or such part thereof as may be necessary in the opinion of The Adjutant General to address the circumstances described above, to perform such duties as directed by competent authority of the Washington State Military Department in addressing the outbreak. EMERGENCY PROCLAMATION BY THE GOVERNOR

Tenancy Preservation – A Bridge to E2SSB 5160

WHEREAS, on February 29, 2020, I issued Proclamation 20-05, proclaiming a State of Emergency for all counties throughout the state of Washington as a result of the coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) outbreak in the United States and confirmed person-to-person spread of COVID-19 in Washington State; and

WHEREAS, the COVID-19 disease, caused by a virus that spreads easily from person to person which may result in serious illness or death and has been classified by the World Health Organization as a worldwide pandemic, continues to persist throughout Washington State; and

WHEREAS, the COVID-19 pandemic caused a sustained global economic slowdown, and an economic downturn throughout Washington State with unprecedented numbers of layoffs and reduced work hours for a significant percentage of our workforce due to substantial reductions in business activity impacting our commercial sectors that support our State's economic vitality, including severe impacts to the large number of small businesses that make Washington State's economy thrive; and

WHEREAS, many in our workforce were impacted by these layoffs and substantially reduced work hours, and economic hardship disproportionately affected low and moderate income workers resulting in lost wages and potentially the inability to pay for basic household expenses, including rent; and

WHEREAS, members of our workforce who are unable to pay rent due to the COVID-19 pandemic face an increased risk of being evicted from their homes, and the resulting increases in life, health and safety risks; and

WHEREAS, to avoid unnecessary and avoidable economic hardship to landlords, property owners, and property managers who are economically impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic, tenants, residents, and renters who are not materially affected by COVID-19 should and must continue to pay rent; and

WHEREAS, under RCW 59.12 (Unlawful Detainer), RCW 59.18 (Residential Landlord-Tenant Act), and RCW 59.20 (Manufactured/Mobile Home Landlord-Tenant Act), tenants seeking to avoid default judgment in eviction hearings must appear in court in order to avoid losing substantial rights to assert defenses or access legal and economic assistance; and

WHEREAS, as Washington state recovers from the COVID-19 pandemic, the Legislature intends to provide housing stability through passage of Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill (E2SSB) 5160, Chapter 115, Laws of 2021, which bolsters tenant protections, and it further intends to preserve tenancies through passage of Engrossed Substitute House Bill (ESHB) 1236, Chapter 212, Laws of 2021, which enumerates allowable grounds for eviction under residential landlord-tenant law; and

WHEREAS, while almost 4.5 million Washingtonians have become fully vaccinated to limit the severity and spread of COVID-19, the state needs more of its residents to become vaccinated before this pandemic emergency will end; and

WHEREAS, currently, COVID-19 vaccines are authorized only for people 12 years of age and older, so children under 12 years of age cannot yet be vaccinated and must rely on low levels of community transmission and health measures including face coverings, physical distancing, and hand hygiene to reduce their risk for COVID-19; and

WHEREAS, genomic sequencing shows that variants of concern that are more transmissible and may cause more severe disease, including Alpha, Gamma, and Delta, now represent the majority of new COVID-19 cases in Washington state; and

WHEREAS, vaccination rates vary across the state, leaving communities with low vaccination rates at risk for ongoing transmission of COVID-19 and unvaccinated people in these communities at risk for illness, hospitalization, and death from COVID-19; and

WHEREAS, during the 2021 legislative session, the Legislature appropriated hundreds of millions of dollars from the federal American Rescue Plan Act (ARPA) in rental assistance, but the program to disperse those funds is still in its early stages of operation; and

WHEREAS, although tremendous progress has been made, at this time, neither the eviction resolution pilot program nor the right to counsel program as provided by E2SSB 5160 are operational statewide; and

WHEREAS, data from the Census Bureau Pulse Survey released on August 30, 2021, shows that 129,997 renters, or 8% of all Washington renters, are behind on rent. Over 55,000 of those households have children under the age of 18; and

WHEREAS, the state of Washington has implemented a Roadmap to Recovery to assist businesses restart and to increase hiring, yet unemployment remains roughly 5% with slow recovery in significant industry sectors; and

WHEREAS, the U.S. Department of Justice, Office of the Associate Attorney General, encourages courts to consider eviction diversion strategies that can help families avoid the disruption and damage caused by eviction, and directs courts to federal resources to help them navigate this crisis.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Jay Inslee, Governor of the state of Washington, as a result of the above- noted situation, and under Chapters 38.08, 38.52 and 43.06 RCW, do hereby proclaim that a State of Emergency continues to exist in all counties of Washington State, that as of the date of this proclamation the majority of available rental assistance funding has not yet been distributed, and that because full implementation of Senate Bill 5160 has not yet occurred, Proclamation 20-05 et seq. and 21-09, are hereby amended to temporarily impose certain prohibitions and shall continue to preserve residential tenancy until 11:59 p.m. on October 31, 2021, as provided herein.

I again direct that the plans and procedures of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan be implemented throughout State government. State agencies and departments are directed to continue utilizing state resources and doing everything reasonably possible to support implementation of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan and to assist affected political subdivisions in an effort to respond to and recover from the COVID-19 pandemic.

I continue to order into active state service the organized militia of Washington State to include the National Guard and the State Guard, or such part thereof as may be necessary in the opinion of The Adjutant General to address the circumstances described above, to perform such duties as directed by competent authority of the Washington State Military Department in addressing the outbreak. Additionally, I continue to direct the Washington State Department of Health, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, and other agencies to identify and provide appropriate personnel for conducting necessary and ongoing incident related assessments.

ACCORDINGLY, based on the above noted situation and under the provisions of RCW 43.06.220(1)(h), and to help preserve and maintain life, health, property or the public peace, except where federal law requires otherwise, through 11:59 p.m. on October 31, 2021, I hereby prohibit the following activities related to residential dwellings in Washington State.

STATEMENT OF INTENT:

It is the intent of this order to bridge the operational gap between the eviction moratorium enacted by prior proclamations and the protections and programs subsequently enacted by the Legislature, and to reduce uncertainty as the state implements post-COVID-19 long-term housing recovery strategies contained in legislative enactments such as E2SSB 5160. To that end, any ambiguities contained in this proclamation shall be resolved by applying the processes, timelines, and definitions established in E2SSB 5160.

Furthermore, because the Legislature answered the call to help thousands of landlords and tenants who have endured great hardship during this pandemic by appropriating hundreds of millions of dollars (which are not yet fully disbursed to local communities) and establishing thorough and thoughtful programs to address the ongoing housing crisis (which programs are not yet operational statewide), I respectfully ask that local jurisdictions, rental assistance programs, eviction resolution pilot programs, housing advocacy organizations, courts, landlords, and tenants work collaboratively, patiently, and in good faith to enable the Legislature's remarkable efforts to be effectuated.

- If based in whole or in part on any arrears (rent owed) that accrued due to COVID-19 from February 29, 2020 through July 31, 2021, landlords, property owners, and property managers (collectively, landlords) are prohibited from serving or enforcing, or threatening to serve or enforce, any notice requiring a tenant to vacate any dwelling, including but not limited to an eviction notice, notice to pay or vacate, unlawful detainer summons or complaint, notice of termination of rental, or notice to comply or vacate until both (1) a rental assistance program and an eviction resolution pilot program as contemplated by Section 7 of E2SSB 5160 have been implemented and are operational in the county in which the rental property is located; and (2) a tenant has been provided with, and has, since the effective date of this order, rejected or failed to respond within 14 days of receipt of such notice to an opportunity to participate in an operational rental assistance program and an operational eviction resolution pilot program provided by E2SSB 5160.
 - Attestation to program implementation shall be provided by each county rental assistance grant recipient to the Department of Commerce, and by each eviction resolution pilot program to the Administrative Office of the Courts, Office of Civil Legal Aid, and the Office of Financial Management, and such attestations shall be posted to the local county or court public-facing website.
 - Tenants must respond to landlords regarding establishing reasonable repayment plans and participate in eviction resolution programs per the timelines established in SB 5160.
 - Landlords and tenants are encouraged to address payment of rent through September 30, 2021, as part of the eviction resolution pilot program process.

- There is a presumption that any rent payment made on or after August 1, 2021, is applied to current rent before applying toward arrears.
- Each rental assistance program is authorized to share the application status of a tenant with the tenant’s landlord.
- For purposes of this order, an operational rental assistance program means a program located in the county in which the rental property is located, is receiving or able to receive applications for rental assistance from eligible renters and landlords, is currently disbursing or is able to disburse funds, and remains open throughout the time period of this order.
- For purposes of this order, an operational eviction resolution pilot program means a program that complies with the provisions of Section 7 of E2SSB 5160, is located in the county in which the property is located, is serving or is able to serve pilot program clients, and is located in a jurisdiction in which a standing judicial order of the relevant superior court exists. If an out-of-county resolution program is accepting out-of-county applications, a tenant and landlord may agree, but are not required, to use an operational eviction resolution program located in a different county.
- In addition, both the in-county rental assistance programs and the eviction resolution pilot program must be accessible to persons with limited English proficiency (including access to appropriate professional interpreter services) and either accessible to persons with disabilities or able to serve persons with disabilities by providing a reasonable accommodation.

ENFORCEABLE DEBT (February 29, 2020 through July 31, 2021)

- If based in whole or in part on any arrears that accrued due to COVID-19 from February 29, 2020 through July 31, 2021, landlords are prohibited from treating any unpaid rent or other charges related to a dwelling as an enforceable debt or obligation that is owing or collectable, where such non-payment was, in whole or in part, a result of the COVID-19 crisis, until such time as the landlord and tenant have been provided with an opportunity to resolve nonpayment of rent through a rental assistance program and an eviction resolution pilot program as provided by Section 7 of E2SSB 5160. This prohibition includes attempts to collect, or threats to collect, independently or through a collection agency, by filing an unlawful detainer or other judicial action, by withholding any portion of a security deposit, by reporting to credit bureaus, or by any other means.

FUTURE RENT OWED (August 1, 2021 through October 31, 2021)

- For rent accruing on August 1, 2021, or thereafter, it is the expectation that tenants will pay rent in full, negotiate a lesser amount or a payment plan with the tenant’s landlord, or actively seek rental assistance if assistance is needed. For rent accruing on August 1, 2021, or thereafter, and unless an exception or other state law allows for eviction, landlords are prohibited from serving or enforcing, or threatening to serve or enforce, any notice requiring a tenant to vacate any dwelling, including but not limited to an eviction notice, notice to pay or vacate, unlawful detainer summons or complaint, notice of termination of rental, or notice to comply or vacate, if, unless otherwise permitted by this order or under state law, a tenant has (1) made full payment of rent; or (2) made a partial payment of rent based on their individual economic circumstances as negotiated with the landlord; or (3) has a pending application for rental assistance that has not been fully processed; or (4) resides in a jurisdiction in which the rental assistance program is anticipating receipt of additional rental assistance resources but has not yet started their program or the rental assistance program is not yet accepting new applications for assistance.
- There is a presumption that any rent payment made on or after August 1, 2021, is applied to current rent before applying toward arrears.
- A landlord is not required to accept partial payment of rent but is required to offer a tenant a reasonable repayment plan under this order and pursuant to Section 4 of E2SSB 5160.
- A rental assistance program is authorized to share the application status of a tenant with the tenant’s landlord.

LATE FEES (February 29, 2020 through October 31, 2021)

- Landlords are prohibited from assessing, or threatening to assess, late fees for the non- payment or late payment of rent or other charges related to a dwelling where such non- payment or late payment occurred due to COVID-19 on or after February 29, 2020, through October 31, 2021.

RENT INCREASES (February 29, 2020 through October 31, 2021)

- While this order does not prohibit rent increases, any rent notice increases that were prohibited pursuant to Proclamation 20-19 et seq., continue to be prohibited and may not be retroactively imposed. Any rent increases issued within the effective dates of this order must conform to RCW 59.18.140. Landlords accepting funds through state and/or federal rent assistance program may be prohibited from increasing rents as part of state or local program guidelines.

WRITTEN NOTICE OF RESOURCES AND PROGRAMS (February 29, 2020 through October 31, 2021)

- For rent owed that accrued due to COVID-19 on or after February 29, 2020, landlords are prohibited from serving or enforcing, or threatening to serve or enforce, any notice requiring a resident to vacate any dwelling, including but not limited to an eviction notice, notice to pay or vacate, unlawful detainer summons or complaint, notice of termination of rental, or notice to comply or vacate without first providing the tenant with written notice of the funding resources and programs established in E2SSB 5160. The written material may be provided in hard copy or electronically. Links to these materials

REASONABLE REPAYMENT PLANS (February 29, 2020 through October 31, 2021)

- For rent owed that accrued due to COVID-19 on or after February 29, 2020, landlords are prohibited from serving or enforcing, or threatening to serve or enforce, any notice requiring a resident to vacate any dwelling, including but not limited to an eviction notice, notice to pay or vacate, unlawful detainer summons or complaint, notice of termination of rental, or notice to comply or vacate if the landlord has made no attempt to establish a reasonable repayment plan with the tenant per E2SSB 5160, or if they cannot agree on a plan and no local eviction resolution pilot program per E2SSB 5160 exists.
- “Reasonable repayment plan” has the same meaning as “reasonable schedule for repayment,” as defined in Section 4 of E2SSB 5160, and means a repayment plan or schedule for unpaid rent that does not exceed monthly payments equal to one-third of the monthly rental charges during the period of accrued debt.
- Tenants must respond to landlords within 14 days of the landlord's offer, per the timeline established in E2SSB 5160.
- If a tenant fails to accept the terms of a reasonable repayment plan or if the tenant defaults on any rent owed under a repayment plan, a landlord must first provide notice to the tenant informing the tenant of the eviction resolution pilot program, and then follow the procedures provided by E2SSB 5160, before filing an unlawful detainer action. The pilot program must be operational at the time the notice is sent and must be able to provide the tenant with an opportunity to participate in the program.

PERMISSIBLE UNLAWFUL DETAINER ACTIONS

- Excepting the prohibitions stated herein, all other allowable evictions under ESHB 1236 and the current Residential Landlord-Tenant Act (RCW 59.18) and Manufactured/Mobile Home Landlord-Tenant Act (RCW 59.20) may proceed as otherwise allowed by law.

LOCAL LAW ENFORCEMENT

- Local law enforcement entities are prohibited from serving, threatening to serve, or otherwise acting on eviction orders affecting any dwelling unless the eviction order, including a writ of restitution, contains a finding that the landlord has complied with this order and the unlawful detainer action is permitted under this order.

COMMUNICATIONS

- Nothing in this order precludes a landlord from engaging in customary and routine communications with tenants. “Customary and routine” means communication practices that were in place prior to the issuance of Emergency Proclamation 20-19 on March 18, 2020, but only to the extent that those communications reasonably notify a tenant of upcoming rent that is due; provide notice of community events, news, or updates; document a lease violation; are related to negotiating a reasonable repayment plan or other program provided by E2SSB 5160; or are otherwise consistent with this order. Within these communications and parameters, landlords may provide information to tenants regarding financial resources, including coordinating with tenants in applying for rent assistance through the state's Emergency Rent Assistance Program (ERAP) or an alternative rent assistance program, and to provide tenants with information on how to engage with them in discussions regarding reasonable repayment plans as described in this order.
- Tenants must respond to landlords regarding establishing reasonable repayment plans and participation in eviction resolution programs per the timelines established in SB 5160.

RETALIATION

- Landlords are prohibited from retaliating against individuals for invoking their rights or protections under Proclamations 21-09 et seq., Proclamations 20-19 et seq., or any other state or federal law providing rights or protections for residential dwellings.

RIGHT TO COUNSEL

- Nothing in this order modifies the requirement in Section 8 of E2SSB 5160 that a court must appoint an attorney for an indigent tenant in an unlawful detainer proceeding while this order is in effect.

- This order and these prohibitions do not apply to emergency shelters where length of stay is conditioned upon a resident's participation in, and compliance with, a supportive services program. Emergency shelters should make every effort to work with shelter clients to find alternate housing solutions. In addition, this order and these prohibitions do not apply to long-term care facilities licensed or certified by Department of Social and Health Services; transient housing in hotels and motels; “Airbnbs”; motor homes; RVs; public lands; and camping areas.

FURTHERMORE, this order acknowledges, applauds, and reflects gratitude to the immeasurable contribution to the health and well-being of our communities and families made by the landlords, property owners, and property managers subject to this order.

Violators of this order may be subject to criminal penalties pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(5).

This proclamation is effective immediately. Signed and sealed with the official seal of the state of Washington on this 24th day of September, A.D., Two Thousand and Twenty-One at Olympia, Washington.

PROCLAMATION BY THE GOVERNOR
AMENDING PROCLAMATIONS 20-05 and 20-14

21-14.2
COVID-19 VACCINATION REQUIREMENT

WHEREAS, on February 29, 2020, I issued Proclamation 20-05, proclaiming a State of Emergency for all counties throughout Washington State as a result of the coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) outbreak in the United States and confirmed person-to-person spread of COVID-19 in Washington State; and

WHEREAS, as a result of the continued worldwide spread of COVID-19, its significant progression in Washington State, and the high risk it poses to our most vulnerable populations and our health care system, I have subsequently issued several amendatory proclamations, exercising my emergency powers under RCW 43.06.220 by prohibiting certain activities and waiving and suspending specified laws and regulations, including issuance of Proclamations 20- 25, et seq., which limit Washingtonians' ability to participate in certain activities unless certain conditions are met; and

WHEREAS, during early stages of the COVID-19 pandemic, health professionals and epidemiological modeling experts indicated that the spread of COVID-19, if left unchecked, threatened to overwhelm portions of Washington's public and private health-care system; and

WHEREAS, to protect some of our most vulnerable populations—persons in health care facilities, long-term care facilities (which includes nursing homes), and similar congregate care facilities—and to protect our health and congregate care systems themselves, I issued several proclamations imposing heightened protections on workers, residents, and visitors in those facilities; and

WHEREAS, although COVID-19 continues as an ongoing and present threat in Washington State, the measures we have taken together as Washingtonians over the past 18 months, including the willingness of most Washingtonians to take advantage of the remarkable, life- saving vaccines being administered throughout the state, have made a difference and have altered the course of the pandemic in fundamental ways; and

WHEREAS, after months of improving COVID-19 epidemiological conditions in Washington State, the emergence of highly contagious COVID-19 variants, including the "Delta" variant that is at least twice as transmissible as the virus that emerged in late 2019, coupled with the continued significant numbers of unvaccinated people, have caused COVID- 19 cases and hospitalizations to rise sharply among unvaccinated populations and have resulted in breakthrough infections in some fully vaccinated individuals; and

WHEREAS, COVID-19 vaccines are effective in reducing infection and serious disease, and widespread vaccination is the primary means we have as a state to protect everyone, including persons who cannot be vaccinated for medical reasons, youth who are not eligible to receive a vaccine, immunocompromised individuals, and vulnerable persons including persons in health care facilities, long-term care facilities and other congregate care facilities from COVID-19 infections; and

WHEREAS, widespread vaccination is also the primary means we have as a state to protect our health care system, to avoid the return of stringent public health measures, and to put the pandemic behind us; and

WHEREAS, COVID-19 vaccinations have been available in Washington State from December 2020 to the present, and since April 15, 2021, all Washingtonians over the age of 16 have been eligible to receive free COVID-19 vaccinations from a wide variety of providers at many locations; and

WHEREAS, as of August 4, 2021, nearly 4.4 million Washingtonians, about 70% of those eligible and 58% of the total population, had initiated their vaccine series, leaving 2.1 million eligible Washingtonians who were unvaccinated; and

WHEREAS, according to the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), as of August 1, 2021, approximately 67% of staff in Washington state nursing homes were fully vaccinated; and

WHEREAS, healthcare workers face COVID-19 exposures in a variety of healthcare settings, with those involving direct patient care likely at higher risk; and

WHEREAS, COVID-19 vaccines are safe and effective. COVID-19 vaccines were evaluated in clinical trials involving tens of thousands of participants and met the U.S. Food & Drug Administration's (FDA) rigorous scientific standards for safety, effectiveness, and manufacturing quality needed to support emergency use authorization; and, to date, more than 346 million doses of COVID-19 vaccines have been given in the United States with 8.2 million of those doses administered in Washington, and serious safety problems and long-term side effects are rare; and

WHEREAS, on July 6, 2021, the Office of Legal Counsel of the United State Department of Justice issued a legal opinion stating that federal and state governments were not prohibited by federal law from imposing vaccination mandates, even when the only vaccines available are those authorized under the FDA's Emergency Use Authorizations; and

WHEREAS, on July 26, 2021, approximately 60 medical groups, including the American Medical Association, the American College of Physicians, the American Academy of Pediatrics, the American Academy of Family Physicians, the American Nurses Association, the American Academy of Physician Assistants, the Association of Professionals in Infection Control and Epidemiology, the American Public Health Association, the Infectious Diseases Society of America, LeadingAge, the National Hispanic Medical Association, the National Medical Association, and the Society of Infectious Disease Pharmacists, issued a memorandum supporting mandatory, universal vaccination of all public and private health care and long-term care workers, noting that such a requirement is the "fulfillment of the ethical commitment of all health care workers to put patients as well as residents of long-term care facilities first and take all steps necessary to ensure their health and well-being"; and on August 2, 2021, the Washington State Society of Post-Acute and Long-Term Care Medicine submitted a letter in support of the above noted July 26, 2021 memorandum; and

WHEREAS, on July 15, 2021, the American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists, together with the Society for Maternal-Fetal Medicine, posted a formal opinion stating that medical professionals have an ethical obligation to be vaccinated against COVID-19 to prevent the spread of harmful infectious diseases, and that women who are or may become pregnant should be vaccinated against COVID-19; and

WHEREAS, it is the duty of every employer to protect the health and safety of employees by establishing and maintaining a healthy and safe work environment and by requiring all employees to comply with health and safety measures; and

WHEREAS, state employees live in and provide services to the public in every county in our state, and many interact with the public on a regular basis, and they all interact with some portion of the community at large to varying degrees before and/or after state work hours; and

WHEREAS, to further our individual and collective duty to reduce the spread of COVID-19 in our communities, I issued Proclamation 21-14 requiring all employees, on-site independent contractors, volunteers, goods and services providers, and appointees of designated state agencies to be fully vaccinated against COVID-19 on or before October 18, 2021; and

WHEREAS, child-care settings, K-12 schools, colleges, universities, and community colleges, (collectively, "educational settings") are foundations of Washington's communities and its future, and provide a variety of vital services to students, families, and communities, thereby making providing childcare services and in-person instruction in the fall 2021 a priority; and

WHEREAS, increasing vaccination rates at educational settings is the strongest protective measure against COVID-19 available and, together with masking, vital to providing in-person instruction in as safe a manner as possible; and

WHEREAS, on July 12, 2021, I issued Proclamation 20-12.4 prohibiting institutions of higher education from providing in-person instruction unless the institutions comply with specific requirements related to vaccination, masking, and operations; and

WHEREAS, on July 30, 2021, I issued Proclamation 20-9.4, prohibiting K-12 schools from providing in-person learning unless the schools comply with masking instructions provided by the Department of Health and the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction; and

WHEREAS, the sharp increase in COVID-19 cases and hospitalizations, primarily among unvaccinated populations but also in breakthrough infections in some fully vaccinated individuals, makes it vital to expand the vaccination requirement to workers in educational settings; and

WHEREAS, to provide additional clarity and ease of administration I am extending the prohibition to additional groups relating to the vaccination requirement imposed in Proclamation 21.14 and 21-14.1; and

WHEREAS, the worldwide COVID-19 pandemic and its persistence in Washington State continue to threaten the life and health of our people as well as the economy of Washington State, and remain a public disaster affecting life, health, property or the public peace; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Department of Health continues to maintain a Public Health Incident Management Team in coordination with the State Emergency Operations Center and other supporting state agencies to manage the public health aspects of the incident; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, through the State Emergency Operations Center, continues coordinating resources across state government to support the Department of Health and local health officials in alleviating the impacts to people, property, and infrastructure, and continues coordinating with the state Department of Health in assessing the impacts and long-term effects of the incident on Washington State and its people; and

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Jay Inslee, Governor of the state of Washington, as a result of the above noted situation, and under Chapters 38.08, 38.52 and 43.06 RCW, do hereby proclaim and order that a State of Emergency continues to exist in all counties of Washington State, that Proclamation 20-05, as amended, remains in effect, and that, to help preserve and maintain life, health, property or the public peace pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(1)(h), and (3), I hereby amend and supersede the prohibitions in 20-14 as set out below, subject to the conditions, exceptions, and circumstances also set forth below, for the following activities:

1. Prohibitions. This order prohibits the following:
 - a. Any Worker from engaging in work for a State Agency after October 18, 2021 if the Worker has not been fully vaccinated against COVID-19;
 - b. Any State Agency from permitting any Worker to engage in work for the agency after October 18, 2021 if the Worker has not been fully vaccinated against COVID-19 and provided proof thereof as required below;
 - c. Any Worker from engaging in work for the operator of an Educational Setting after October 18, 2021 if the Worker has not been fully vaccinated against COVID-19;

 - f. Any operator of a Health Care Setting from permitting a Health Care Provider to engage in work for the operator as an employee, contractor, or volunteer in their capacity as a Health Care Provider after October 18, 2021 if the Health Care Provider has not been fully vaccinated against COVID-19 and provided proof thereof as required below. Providers who do not work in a Health Care Setting must provide proof of vaccination to the operator of the facility in which the Provider works, if any, or, if requested, to a lawful authority. A lawful authority includes, but is not limited to, law enforcement, local health jurisdictions, and the state Department of Health.
2. Exemptions and Exceptions.
 - a. Disability and Religious Accommodations
 - Workers for State Agencies, Workers for operators of Educational Settings, and Health Care Providers are not required to get vaccinated against COVID-19 under this Order if they are unable to do so because of a disability or if the requirement to do so conflicts with their sincerely held religious beliefs, practice, or observance. Workers for State Agencies, Workers for operators of Educational Settings, and Health Care Providers are prohibited from claiming an exemption or accommodation on false, misleading, or dishonest grounds, including by providing false, misleading, or dishonest information to a State Agency, operator of an Educational Setting, or operator of a Health Care Setting when seeking an accommodation.
 - In implementing the requirements of this Order, State Agencies, operators of Educational Settings, and operators of Health Care Settings:
 - Must provide any disability-related reasonable accommodations and sincerely held religious belief accommodations to the requirements of this Order that are required under the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (ADA), the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 (Rehabilitation Act), Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 (Title VII), the Washington Law Against Discrimination (WLAD), and any other applicable law. As provided in the above-noted laws, State Agencies, operators of Educational Settings, and operators of Health Care Settings are not required to provide accommodations if they would cause undue hardship.
 - Must comply with the procedures required under the above-noted laws and any other applicable law when considering and deciding whether to provide accommodations;
 - Must, to the extent permitted by law, before providing a disability-related reasonable accommodation to the requirements of this order, obtain from the individual requesting the accommodation documentation from an appropriate health care or rehabilitation professional stating that the individual has a disability that necessitates an accommodation and the probable duration of the need for the accommodation;

- Must, to the extent permitted by law, before providing a sincerely held religious belief accommodation to the requirements of this Order, document that the request for an accommodation has been made and include a statement in the document explaining the way in which the requirements of this order conflict with the sincerely held religious belief, practice, or observance of the individual;
 - Must, to the extent permitted by law, require an individual who receives an accommodation to take COVID-19 safety measures that are consistent with the recommendations of the state Department of Health and the Department of Labor & Industries for the setting in which the individual works; and
 - Are prohibited from providing accommodations:
 - That they know are based on false, misleading, or dishonest grounds or information;
 - That they know are based on the personal preference of the individual and not on an inability to get vaccinated because of a disability or a conflict with a sincerely held religious belief, practice, or observance; or
 - Without conducting an individualized assessment and determination of each individual’s need and justification for an accommodation; i.e., “rubberstamping” accommodation requests.
- b. Any individual who is unable to get fully vaccinated against COVID-19 by October 18, 2021 due to the requirements of their participation in a COVID-19 vaccine clinical trial is exempt from this Order. Any such individual who is a Worker for a State Agency or a Worker for an operator of an Educational Setting must provide documentary proof of their participation in the COVID-19 vaccine clinical trial to any State Agency or operator of an Educational Setting for which they engage in work. Any such individual who is a Health Care Provider must provide documentary proof of their participation in the COVID-19 vaccine clinical trial to any operator of a Health Care Setting for which they engage in work as an employee, contractor, or volunteer in their capacity as a Health Care Provider. A State Agency, operator of an Educational Setting, or operator of a Health Care Setting is prohibited from permitting any such individual to engage in work for them after October 18, 2021 if the individual fails to provide such proof.
- c. Individuals who are too young to receive any COVID-19 vaccine, as authorized for emergency use, licensed, or otherwise approved by the FDA, are exempt from this Order. Any individual who becomes old enough to receive any COVID-19 vaccine, as authorized for emergency use, licensed, or otherwise approved by the FDA, while this Order is in effect must come into compliance with the requirements of this Order within 60 days of the day they became eligible. Any State Agency, operator of an Educational Setting, or operator of a Health Care Setting for which such an individual engages in work must also come into compliance with the requirements of this Order with respect to the individual by that deadline.
- d. Individuals who reside in countries other than the United States of America who are unable to get vaccinated against COVID-19 with reasonable effort and expense are exempt from this Order.
- e. Workers for the Office of the Attorney General, the Office of the Commissioner of Public Lands and the Department of Natural Resources, the Office of Insurance Commissioner, the Office of the Lieutenant Governor, and the Office of Superintendent of Public Instruction, as defined below to be limited to on-site contractors for these Agencies, are prohibited from engaging in work for these State Agencies after the date specified by the respective State Agency, but in no case later than November 30, 2021, if the Worker has not been fully vaccinated against COVID-19. These State Agencies are prohibited from permitting any Worker to engage in work for the agency after such date if the Worker has not been fully vaccinated against COVID-19 and provided proof thereof as required below.
3. Proof of Full Vaccination Against COVID-19:
- a. Where required above, Workers for State Agencies, Workers for operators of Educational Settings, and Health Care Providers must provide proof of full vaccination against COVID-19 by providing one of the following:
 - CDC COVID-19 Vaccination Record Card or photo of the card;

 - b. A State Agency, operator of an Educational Setting, or an operator of a Health Care Setting must obtain a copy of or visually observe proof of full vaccination against COVID-19 for every individual who is engaged in work for them and required to provide such proof under this Order.
 - c. Personal attestation is not an acceptable form of verification of COVID-19 vaccination.
4. Election to Require Employers of Contractors to Assume Responsibility for Vaccination Verification and Accommodation Requirements
- a. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Order, a State Agency, an operator of an Educational Setting, or an operator of Health Care Setting may elect to require the employer of a contractor who is subject to this Order to assume responsibility for the vaccination verification and accommodations requirements in this Order. This election may be made with respect to any or all of an employer’s contractor- employees who are subject to this Order.
 - b. If such an election is made, after October 18, 2021, the employer’s contractor- employees are prohibited from engaging in work for the State Agency, operator of the Educational Setting, or operator of the Health Care Setting, and the State Agency, operator of the Educational Setting, or operator of the Health Care Setting is prohibited from permitting such employee to engage in work for them, unless the following requirements are met:
 - By October 18, 2021, the employer must obtain a copy of or visually observe proof of full vaccination against COVID-

- 19 for every current employee who is subject to the vaccination requirement in this Order;
- The employer must obtain a copy of or visually observe proof of full vaccination against COVID-19 for every employee hired after October 18, 2021 who is subject to the vaccination requirement in this Order;
 - The employer must follow the requirements for granting disability and religious accommodations to its current and future employees that apply to State Agencies, operators of Educational Settings, and operators of Health Care Settings under this Order;
 - By October 18, 2021, the employer must submit to the State Agency, operator of the Educational Setting, or operator of the Health Care Setting a signed declaration in substantially the form prescribed in RCW 5.50.050 declaring that the employer has met the above requirements;
 - The employer must submit additional signed declarations upon the request of and by the date designated by the State Agency, operator of the Educational Setting, or operator of the Health Care Setting;
 - If an employer is also a contractor subject to this Order, the employer must include in their declaration that the employer is fully vaccinated against COVID- 19 or is unable to get vaccinated because of a disability or a conflict between the vaccination requirement and their sincerely held religious beliefs, practice, or observance, as applicable; and
 - The employer must cooperate with any investigation or inquiry the State Agency, operator of the Educational Setting, or operator of the Health Care Setting makes into the employer’s compliance with these requirements, including by providing information and records upon request, except any information or records that the employer is prohibited by law from disclosing.
- c. Any State Agency, operator of an Educational Setting, or operator of Health Care Setting who makes the election above retains the right to investigate or inquire into the employer’s compliance with the above requirements, to obtain proof of vaccination directly from any contractor-employee, and to withdraw the election in whole or in part at any time.
- 5. Public and Private Entities and Employers May Exceed These Requirements: Nothing in this order prohibits State Agencies, operators of Educational Settings, and operators of Health Care Settings from implementing requirements that exceed the requirements of this Order.
- 6. Definitions.
 - a. “Worker”:
 - “Worker” includes:

If located at a facility that is primarily used for another purpose, such as a pharmacy within a grocery store, school nurse’s office, or vaccination clinic within a business establishment, the Health Care Setting includes only the areas that are primarily used for the delivery of health care, but not the other areas of the facility.

Tenancy Preservation – A Bridge to E2SSB 5160

WHEREAS, on February 29, 2020, I issued Proclamation 20-05, proclaiming a State of Emergency for all counties throughout the state of Washington as a result of the coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) outbreak in the United States and confirmed person-to-person spread of COVID-19 in Washington State; and

WHEREAS, the COVID-19 disease, caused by a virus that spreads easily from person to person which may result in serious illness or death and has been classified by the World Health Organization as a worldwide pandemic, continues to persist throughout Washington State; and

WHEREAS, the COVID-19 pandemic caused a sustained global economic slowdown, and an economic downturn throughout Washington State with unprecedented numbers of layoffs and reduced work hours for a significant percentage of our workforce due to substantial reductions in business activity impacting our commercial sectors that support our State's economic vitality, including severe impacts to the large number of small businesses that make Washington State's economy thrive; and

WHEREAS, many in our workforce were impacted by these layoffs and substantially reduced work hours, and economic hardship disproportionately affected low and moderate income workers resulting in lost wages and potentially the inability to pay for basic household expenses, including rent; and

WHEREAS, members of our workforce who are unable to pay rent due to the COVID-19 pandemic face an increased risk of being evicted from their homes, and the resulting increases in life, health and safety risks; and

WHEREAS, to avoid unnecessary and avoidable economic hardship to landlords, property owners, and property managers who are economically impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic, tenants, residents, and renters who are not materially affected by COVID-19 should and must continue to pay rent; and

WHEREAS, under RCW 59.12 (Unlawful Detainer), RCW 59.18 (Residential Landlord-Tenant Act), and RCW 59.20 (Manufactured/Mobile Home Landlord-Tenant Act), tenants seeking to avoid default judgment in eviction hearings must appear in court in order to avoid losing substantial rights to assert defenses or access legal and economic assistance; and

WHEREAS, as Washington state recovers from the COVID-19 pandemic, the Legislature intends to provide housing stability through passage of Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill (E2SSB) 5160, Chapter 115, Laws of 2021, which bolsters tenant protections, and it further intends to preserve tenancies through passage of Engrossed Substitute House Bill (ESHB) 1236, Chapter 212, Laws of 2021, which enumerates allowable grounds for eviction under residential landlord-tenant law; and

WHEREAS, while over 4.5 million Washingtonians have become fully vaccinated to limit the severity and spread of COVID-19, the state needs more of its residents to become vaccinated before this pandemic emergency will end; and

WHEREAS, currently, COVID-19 vaccines are authorized only for people 12 years of age and older, so children under 12 years of age cannot yet be vaccinated and must rely on low levels of community transmission and health measures including face coverings, physical distancing, and hand hygiene to reduce their risk for COVID-19; and

WHEREAS, genomic sequencing shows that variants of concern that are more transmissible and may cause more severe disease, including Alpha, Gamma, and Delta, now represent the majority of new COVID-19 cases in Washington state; and

WHEREAS, vaccination rates vary across the state, leaving communities with low vaccination rates at risk for ongoing transmission of COVID-19 and unvaccinated people in these communities at risk for illness, hospitalization, and death from COVID-19; and

WHEREAS, during the 2021 legislative session, the Legislature appropriated hundreds of millions of dollars from the federal American Rescue Plan Act (ARPA) in rental assistance, but the program to disperse those funds is still in its early stages of operation; and

WHEREAS, although tremendous progress has been made, at this time, neither the eviction resolution pilot program nor the right to counsel program as provided by E2SSB 5160 are operational statewide; and

WHEREAS, data from the Census Bureau Pulse Survey released on August 30, 2021, shows that 129,997 renters, or 8% of all Washington renters, are behind on rent. Over 55,000 of those households have children under the age of 18; and

WHEREAS, the state of Washington has implemented a Roadmap to Recovery to assist businesses restart and to increase hiring, yet unemployment remains roughly 5% with slow recovery in significant industry sectors; and

WHEREAS, the U.S. Department of Justice, Office of the Associate Attorney General, encourages courts to consider eviction diversion strategies that can help families avoid the disruption and damage caused by eviction, and directs courts to federal resources to help them navigate this crisis.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Jay Inslee, Governor of the state of Washington, as a result of the above- noted situation, and under Chapters 38.08, 38.52 and 43.06 RCW, do hereby proclaim that a State of Emergency continues to exist in all counties of Washington State, that as of the date of this proclamation the majority of available rental assistance funding has not yet been distributed, and that because full implementation of Senate Bill 5160 has not yet occurred, Proclamation 20-05 et seq. and 21-09, et seq., are hereby amended to temporarily impose certain prohibitions and shall continue to preserve residential tenancy until 11:59 p.m. on October 31, 2021, as provided herein.

I again direct that the plans and procedures of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan be implemented throughout State government. State agencies and departments are directed to continue utilizing state resources and doing everything reasonably possible to support implementation of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan and to assist affected political subdivisions in an effort to respond to and recover from the COVID-19 pandemic.

I continue to order into active state service the organized militia of Washington State to include the National Guard and the State Guard, or such part thereof as may be necessary in the opinion of The Adjutant General to address the circumstances described above, to perform such duties as directed by competent authority of the Washington State Military Department in addressing the outbreak. Additionally, I continue to direct the Washington State Department of Health, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, and other agencies to identify and provide appropriate personnel for conducting necessary and ongoing incident related assessments.

ACCORDINGLY, based on the above noted situation and under the provisions of RCW 43.06.220(1)(h), and to help preserve and maintain life, health, property or the public peace, except where federal law requires otherwise, through 11:59 p.m. on October 31, 2021, I hereby prohibit the following activities related to residential dwellings in Washington State.

STATEMENT OF INTENT:

It is the intent of this order to bridge the operational gap between the eviction moratorium enacted by prior proclamations and the protections and programs subsequently enacted by the Legislature, and to reduce uncertainty as the state implements post-COVID-19 long-term housing recovery strategies contained in legislative enactments such as E2SSB 5160. To that end, any ambiguities contained in this proclamation shall be resolved by applying the processes, timelines, and definitions established in E2SSB 5160.

Furthermore, because the Legislature answered the call to help thousands of landlords and tenants who have endured great hardship during this pandemic by appropriating hundreds of millions of dollars (which are not yet fully disbursed to local communities) and establishing thorough and thoughtful programs to address the ongoing housing crisis (which programs are not yet operational statewide), I respectfully ask that local jurisdictions, rental assistance programs, eviction resolution pilot programs, housing advocacy organizations, courts, landlords, and tenants work collaboratively, patiently, and in good faith to enable the Legislature's remarkable efforts to be effectuated.

- If based in whole or in part on any arrears (rent owed) that accrued due to COVID-19 from February 29, 2020 through July 31, 2021, landlords, property owners, and property managers (collectively, landlords) are prohibited from serving or enforcing, or threatening to serve or enforce, any notice requiring a tenant to vacate any dwelling, including but not limited to an eviction notice, notice to pay or vacate, unlawful detainer summons or complaint, notice of termination of rental, or notice to comply or vacate until both (1) a rental assistance program and an eviction resolution pilot program as contemplated by Section 7 of E2SSB 5160 have been implemented and are operational in the county in which the rental property is located; and (2) a tenant has been provided with, and has, since July 1, 2021, rejected or failed to respond within 14 days of receipt of such notice to an opportunity to participate in an operational rental assistance program and an operational eviction resolution pilot program provided by E2SSB 5160.

- Attestation to program implementation shall be provided by each county rental assistance grant recipient to the Department of Commerce, and by each eviction resolution pilot program to the Administrative Office of the Courts, Office of Civil Legal Aid, and the Office of Financial Management, and such attestations shall be posted to the local county or court public-facing website.
- Tenants must respond to landlords regarding establishing reasonable repayment plans and participate in eviction resolution programs per the timelines established in SB 5160.
- Landlords and tenants are encouraged to address payment of rent through September 30, 2021, as part of the eviction resolution pilot program process.
- There is a presumption that any rent payment made on or after August 1, 2021, is applied to current rent before applying toward arrears.
- Each rental assistance program is authorized to share the application status of a tenant with the tenant's landlord.
- For purposes of this order, an operational rental assistance program means a program located in the county in which the rental property is located, is receiving or able to receive applications for rental assistance from eligible renters and landlords, is currently disbursing or is able to disburse funds, and remains open throughout the time period of this order.
- For purposes of this order, an operational eviction resolution pilot program means a program that complies with the provisions of Section 7 of E2SSB 5160, is located in the county in which the property is located, is serving or is able to serve pilot program clients, and is located in a jurisdiction in which a standing judicial order of the relevant superior court exists. If an out-of-county resolution program is accepting out-of-county applications, a tenant and landlord may agree, but are not required, to use an operational eviction resolution program located in a different county.
- In addition, both the in-county rental assistance programs and the eviction resolution pilot program must be accessible to persons with limited English proficiency (including access to appropriate professional interpreter services) and either accessible to persons with disabilities or able to serve persons with disabilities by providing a reasonable accommodation.

ENFORCEABLE DEBT (February 29, 2020 through July 31, 2021)

- If based in whole or in part on any arrears that accrued due to COVID-19 from February 29, 2020 through July 31, 2021, landlords are prohibited from treating any unpaid rent or other charges related to a dwelling as an enforceable debt or obligation that is owing or collectable, where such non-payment was, in whole or in part, a result of the COVID-19 crisis, until such time as the landlord and tenant have been provided with an opportunity to resolve nonpayment of rent through a rental assistance program and an eviction resolution pilot program as provided by Section 7 of E2SSB 5160. This prohibition includes attempts to collect, or threats to collect, independently or through a collection agency, by filing an unlawful detainer or other judicial action, by withholding any portion of a security deposit, by reporting to credit bureaus, or by any other means.

FUTURE RENT OWED (August 1, 2021 through October 31, 2021)

- For rent accruing on August 1, 2021, or thereafter, it is the expectation that tenants will pay rent in full, negotiate a lesser amount or a payment plan with the tenant's landlord, or actively seek rental assistance if assistance is needed. For rent accruing on August 1, 2021, or thereafter, and unless an exception or other state law allows for eviction, landlords are prohibited from serving or enforcing, or threatening to serve or enforce, any notice requiring a tenant to vacate any dwelling, including but not limited to an eviction notice, notice to pay or vacate, unlawful detainer summons or complaint, notice of termination of rental, or notice to comply or vacate, if, unless otherwise permitted by this order or under state law, a tenant has (1) made full payment of rent; or (2) made a partial payment of rent based on their individual economic circumstances as negotiated with the landlord; or (3) has a pending application for rental assistance that has not been fully processed; or (4) resides in a jurisdiction in which the rental assistance program is anticipating receipt of additional rental assistance resources but has not yet started their program or the rental assistance program is not yet accepting new applications for assistance.
- There is a presumption that any rent payment made on or after August 1, 2021, is applied to current rent before applying toward arrears.
- A landlord is not required to accept partial payment of rent but is required to offer a tenant a reasonable repayment plan under this order and pursuant to Section 4 of E2SSB 5160.
- A rental assistance program is authorized to share the application status of a tenant with the tenant's landlord.

LATE FEES (February 29, 2020 through October 31, 2021)

- Landlords are prohibited from assessing, or threatening to assess, late fees for the non-payment or late payment of rent or other charges related to a dwelling where such non-payment or late payment occurred due to COVID-19 on or after February 29, 2020, through October 31, 2021.

RENT INCREASES (February 29, 2020 through October 31, 2021)

- While this order does not prohibit rent increases, any rent notice increases that were prohibited pursuant to Proclamation 20-19 et seq., continue to be prohibited and may not be retroactively imposed. Any rent increases issued within the effective dates of this order must conform to RCW 59.18.140. Landlords accepting funds through state and/or federal rent assistance program may be prohibited from increasing rents as part of state or local program guidelines.

WRITTEN NOTICE OF RESOURCES AND PROGRAMS (February 29, 2020 through October 31, 2021)

- For rent owed that accrued due to COVID-19 on or after February 29, 2020, landlords are prohibited from serving or enforcing, or threatening to serve or enforce, any notice requiring a resident to vacate any dwelling, including but not limited to an eviction notice, notice to pay or vacate, unlawful detainer summons or complaint, notice of termination of rental, or notice to comply or vacate without first providing the tenant with written notice of the funding resources and programs established in E2SSB 5160. The written material may be provided in hard copy or electronically. Links to these materials may also be found on the Washington state Attorney General Office's website.

REASONABLE REPAYMENT PLANS (February 29, 2020 through October 31, 2021)

- For rent owed that accrued due to COVID-19 on or after February 29, 2020, landlords are prohibited from serving or enforcing, or threatening to serve or enforce, any notice requiring a resident to vacate any dwelling, including but not limited to an eviction notice, notice to pay or vacate, unlawful detainer summons or complaint, notice of termination of rental, or notice to comply or vacate if the landlord has made no attempt to establish a reasonable repayment plan with the tenant per E2SSB 5160, or if they cannot agree on a plan and no local eviction resolution pilot program per E2SSB 5160 exists.
 - “Reasonable repayment plan” has the same meaning as “reasonable schedule for repayment,” as defined in Section 4 of E2SSB 5160, and means a repayment plan or schedule for unpaid rent that does not exceed monthly payments equal to one-third of the monthly rental charges during the period of accrued debt.
 - Tenants must respond to landlords within 14 days of the landlord's offer, per the timeline established in E2SSB 5160.
 - If a tenant fails to accept the terms of a reasonable repayment plan or if the tenant defaults on any rent owed under a repayment plan, a landlord must first provide notice to the tenant informing the tenant of the eviction resolution pilot program, and then follow the procedures provided by E2SSB 5160, before filing an unlawful detainer action. The pilot program must be operational at the time the notice is sent and must be able to provide the tenant with an opportunity to participate in the program.

PERMISSIBLE UNLAWFUL DETAINER ACTIONS

- Excepting the prohibitions stated herein, all other allowable evictions under ESHB 1236 and the current Residential Landlord-Tenant Act (RCW 59.18) and Manufactured/Mobile Home Landlord-Tenant Act (RCW 59.20) may proceed as otherwise allowed by law.

LOCAL LAW ENFORCEMENT

- Local law enforcement entities are prohibited from serving, threatening to serve, or otherwise acting on eviction orders affecting any dwelling unless the eviction order, including a writ of restitution, contains a finding that the landlord has complied with this order and the unlawful detainer action is permitted under this order.

COMMUNICATIONS

- Nothing in this order precludes a landlord from engaging in customary and routine communications with tenants. “Customary and routine” means communication practices that were in place prior to the issuance of Emergency Proclamation 20-19 on March 18, 2020, but only to the extent that those communications reasonably notify a tenant of upcoming rent that is due; provide notice of community events, news, or updates; document a lease violation; are related to negotiating a reasonable repayment plan or other program provided by E2SSB 5160; or are otherwise consistent with this order. Within these communications and parameters, landlords may provide information to tenants regarding financial resources, including coordinating with tenants in applying for rent assistance through the state's Emergency Rent Assistance Program (ERAP) or an alternative rent assistance program, and to provide tenants with information on how to engage with them in discussions regarding reasonable repayment plans as described in this order.
- Tenants must respond to landlords regarding establishing reasonable repayment plans and participation in eviction resolution programs per the timelines established in SB 5160.

RETALIATION

- Landlords are prohibited from retaliating against individuals for invoking their rights or protections under Proclamations 21-09 et seq., Proclamations 20-19 et seq., or any other state or federal law providing rights or protections for residential dwellings.

RIGHT TO COUNSEL

- Nothing in this order modifies the requirement in Section 8 of E2SSB 5160 that a court must appoint an attorney for an indigent tenant in an unlawful detainer proceeding while this order is in effect.

- This order and these prohibitions do not apply to emergency shelters where length of stay is conditioned upon a resident’s participation in, and compliance with, a supportive services program. Emergency shelters should make every effort to work with shelter clients to find alternate housing solutions. In addition, this order and these prohibitions do not apply to long-term care facilities licensed or certified by Department of Social and Health Services; transient housing in hotels and motels; “Airbnbs”; motor homes; RVs; public lands; and camping areas.

FURTHERMORE, this order acknowledges, applauds, and reflects gratitude to the immeasurable contribution to the health and well-being of our communities and families made by the landlords, property owners, and property managers subject to this order.

Violators of this order may be subject to criminal penalties pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(5).

This proclamation is effective immediately. Signed and sealed with the official seal of the state of Washington on this 30th day of September, A.D., Two Thousand and Twenty-One at Olympia, Washington.

Large Event COVID-19 Vaccine Verification

WHEREAS, on February 29, 2020, I issued Proclamation 20-05, proclaiming a State of Emergency for all counties throughout Washington State as a result of the coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) outbreak in the United States and confirmed person-to-person spread of COVID-19 in Washington State; and

WHEREAS, as a result of the continued worldwide spread of COVID-19, its significant progression in Washington State, and the high risk it poses to our most vulnerable populations and our health care system, I have subsequently issued several amendatory proclamations, exercising my emergency powers under RCW 43.06.220 by prohibiting certain activities and waiving and suspending specified laws and regulations, including issuance of Proclamation 20-25, et seq., which limit Washingtonians' ability to participate in certain activities unless certain conditions are met; and

WHEREAS, during early stages of the COVID-19 pandemic, health professionals and epidemiological modeling experts indicated that the spread of COVID-19, if left unchecked, threatened to overwhelm portions of Washington's public and private health-care system; and

WHEREAS, although COVID-19 continues as an ongoing and present threat in Washington State, the measures we have taken together as Washingtonians over the past 18 months, including the willingness of most Washingtonians to take advantage of the remarkable, life-saving vaccines being administered throughout the state, have made a difference and have altered the course of the pandemic in fundamental ways; and

WHEREAS, after months of improving COVID-19 epidemiological conditions in Washington State, the emergence of highly contagious COVID-19 variants, including the "Delta" variant that is at least twice as transmissible as the virus that emerged in late 2019, coupled with the continued significant numbers of unvaccinated people, caused COVID-19 cases and hospitalizations to rise sharply among unvaccinated populations and resulted in breakthrough infections in some fully vaccinated individuals; and, while cases and hospitalizations are currently decreasing, both exceeded the prior peak levels experienced in December 2020 and remain high; and

WHEREAS, over the past 20 months, health experts and epidemiological modeling experts, including those at the Department of Health, the United States Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), and our state universities, have gained critical knowledge regarding the spread of COVID-19, including a better understanding of the risks associated with certain activities and the measures that can be taken to reduce those risks; and

WHEREAS, we now know that several factors increase the risk for person-to-person COVID-19 transmission; such factors include (1) the more that people and groups interact, (2) the longer those interactions last, (3) the closer the contact between individuals, (4) the denser the occupancy for indoor facilities, (5) the lack of use of face coverings, and (6) the increased risk of transmission from unvaccinated individuals; and

WHEREAS, Large Events, as defined herein, present a heightened risk of COVID-19 transmission because (1) Large Event participants and attendees spend extensive periods of time physically close to large numbers of people, (2) the frequency and total duration of close contact among participants and attendees is increased, thereby increasing the risk that respiratory particles will be transmitted between participants and attendees, (3) Large Events draw participants and attendees from wide geographical areas, often including participants and attendees from other states and countries who may be infected with more infectious COVID-19 variants, and (4) effective contact tracing may be difficult due to the potential for uncontrolled mixing among large groups of attendees who are unlikely to be together again; and

WHEREAS, on August 20, 2021, I issued Proclamation 20-25.15 amending Proclamation 20-25, et seq., by reinstating prohibitions against use of indoor spaces without the use of a face covering; and

WHEREAS, on September 13, 2021, I issued Proclamation 20-25.17 amending Proclamation 20-25, et seq., to prohibit (1) any individual from failing to wear a face covering as required by the Secretary of Health's face covering order and any subsequent amendments, (2) any governmental, commercial, or nonprofit entity or private party from allowing any individual to enter or remain in any indoor space under their control unless the individual is in compliance with the Secretary of Health's face covering order and any subsequent amendments, and (3) any organizer of an outdoor event or gathering attended by 500 or more people from allowing any individual to be in attendance unless the individual is in compliance with the Secretary of Health's face covering order and any subsequent amendments; and

WHEREAS, COVID-19 vaccines are effective in reducing infection and severe disease, and widespread vaccination is the primary means we have as a state to protect everyone, including persons who cannot be vaccinated for medical reasons, youth who are not eligible to receive a vaccine, immunocompromised individuals, and vulnerable persons including persons in healthcare facilities, long-term care facilities and other congregate care facilities from COVID-19 infections; and

WHEREAS, widespread vaccination is also the primary means we have as a state to protect our health care system, to avoid the return of stringent public health measures, and to put the pandemic behind us; and

WHEREAS, COVID-19 vaccinations have been available in Washington State from December 2020 to the present, and since April 15, 2021, all Washingtonians over the age of 16 have been eligible to receive free COVID-19 vaccinations from a wide variety of providers at many locations; and

WHEREAS, as of October 11, 2021, according to the Washington State Immunization Information System, more than 4.9 million Washingtonians, at least 75 percent of those eligible and 64 percent of the total population, had initiated their vaccine series, leaving about 1.6 million eligible Washingtonians unvaccinated; and

WHEREAS, COVID-19 vaccines are safe and effective. COVID-19 vaccines were evaluated in clinical trials involving tens of thousands of participants and met the U.S. Food & Drug Administration's (FDA) rigorous scientific standards for safety, effectiveness, and manufacturing quality needed to support emergency use authorization; and, to date, more than 406 million doses of COVID-19 vaccines have been given in the United States with 9.3 million of those doses administered in Washington, and serious safety problems and long-term side effects are rare; and

WHEREAS, on July 6, 2021, the Office of Legal Counsel of the United State Department of Justice issued a legal opinion stating that federal and state governments were not prohibited by federal law from imposing vaccination mandates, even when the only vaccines available are those authorized under the FDA's Emergency Use Authorizations; and

WHEREAS, the worldwide COVID-19 pandemic and its persistence in Washington State continue to threaten the life and health of our people as well as the economy of Washington State, and remain a public disaster affecting life, health, property or the public peace; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Department of Health continues to maintain a Public Health Incident Management Team in coordination with the State Emergency Operations Center and other supporting state agencies to manage the public health aspects of the incident; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, through the State Emergency Operations Center, continues coordinating resources across state government to support the Department of Health and local health officials in alleviating the impacts to people, property, and infrastructure, and continues coordinating with the state Department of Health in assessing the impacts and long-term effects of the incident on Washington State and its people; and

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Jay Inslee, Governor of the state of Washington, as a result of the above noted situation, and under Chapters 38.08, 38.52 and 43.06 RCW, do hereby proclaim and order that a State of Emergency continues to exist in all counties of Washington State, that Proclamation 20-05, as amended, remains in effect, and that, to help preserve and maintain life, health, property or the public peace pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(1)(h), and (3), I hereby prohibit, subject to the conditions, exceptions, and circumstances set forth below, the following activities:

1. Prohibitions. This order prohibits the following:
 - a. Any individual 12 years of age or older from attending a Large Event in person unless the individual has (1) been fully vaccinated against COVID-19 and provided proof thereof to the Large Event Organizer, or (2) received a negative result from an FDA-approved molecular (e.g., PCR) or antigen COVID-19 test performed on a specimen collected from the individual within the 72 hours preceding the individual's attendance at the Large Event and provided proof thereof to the Large Event Organizer;
 - b. Any Large Event Organizer from allowing any individual 12 years of age or older to attend a Large Event in person, unless the individual has (1) been fully vaccinated against COVID-19 and provided proof thereof to the Large Event Organizer, or (2) received a negative result from an FDA-approved molecular (e.g., PCR) or antigen COVID-19 test performed on a specimen collected from the individual within the 72 hours preceding the individual's attendance at the Large Event and provided proof thereof to the Large Event Organizer; and,

Any Large Event Organizer from conducting a Large Event without first notifying the Large Event attendees of the vaccination and testing requirements of this Order, including notifying individuals of the acceptable forms of proof of full vaccination and a negative test result. Every public communication regarding the Large Event, including any reservation and ticketing system, must include notice that proof of COVID-19 vaccination or a negative COVID-19 test will be required to attend the event.

- a. A CDC COVID-19 Vaccine Record Card;
- b. Documentation of vaccination from a health care provider or electronic health record;
- c. A state immunization information system record. For individuals vaccinated in Washington, this may include a Certificate of COVID-19 Vaccination or QR code from MyIRMobile (<https://myirmobile.com>), a Washington Department of Health partner website for immunization records; or
- d. For an individual who was vaccinated outside of the United States, a reasonable equivalent of any of the above.

Personal attestation is not an acceptable form of proof of COVID-19 vaccination. Additional proof of an individual's identity, such as a driver's license, is not required under this Order.

- 3. Acceptable Proof of a Negative COVID-19 Test Result. Where required above, individuals attending a Large Event must provide proof of a negative COVID-19 test result by presenting the original, a copy, or a photo of a document or other communication from the test provider or laboratory that shows:
 - a. The first and last names of the individual tested;
 - b. The type of test performed (must be molecular or antigen);
 - c. The date the specimen was collected (must be within the 72 hours preceding the individual's participation in or attendance at the Large Event); and
 - d. A negative result.

Personal attestation is not an acceptable form of proof of a negative COVID-19 test result. Additional proof of an individual's identity, such as a driver's license, is not required under this Order.

- 4. Large Event Organizers May Exceed These Requirements. Nothing in this order prohibits Large Event Organizers from implementing requirements that exceed the requirements of this Order.
- 5. Definitions.
 - a. "Fully Vaccinated against COVID-19": A person is fully vaccinated against COVID-19 two weeks after they have received the second dose in a two-dose series of a COVID-19 vaccine (e.g., Pfizer-BioNTech or Moderna) or a single-dose COVID-19 vaccine (e.g., Johnson & Johnson (J&J)/Janssen) authorized for emergency use, licensed, or otherwise approved by the FDA or listed for emergency use or otherwise approved by the World Health Organization.
 - b. "Large Event" means (1) any ticketed or preregistered assembly of 10,000 or more individuals at an outdoor venue that has defined entrances and exits, or (2) any ticketed or preregistered assembly of 1,000 or more individuals at an indoor venue that has defined entrances and exits. Event staff and volunteers are not included in the attendee count.
 - c. "Large Event" does not include any assembly operated, managed, conducted, controlled, or supervised by a public, private, or charter K-12 educational organization or a religious or faith-based organization.
 - d. "Large Event Organizer" means any governmental, commercial, or nonprofit entity or private party that operates, organizes, manages, conducts, controls, or supervises, in whole or in part, any Large Event.

I again direct that the plans and procedures of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan be implemented throughout state government. State agencies and departments are directed to continue utilizing state resources and doing everything reasonably possible to support implementation of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan and to assist affected political subdivisions in an effort to respond to and recover from the COVID-19 pandemic.

I continue to order into active state service the organized militia of Washington State to include the National Guard and the State Guard, or such part thereof as may be necessary in the opinion of The Adjutant General to address the circumstances described above, to perform such duties as directed by competent authority of the Washington State Military Department in addressing the outbreak. Additionally, I continue to direct the Department of Health, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, and other agencies to identify and provide appropriate personnel for conducting necessary and ongoing incident related assessments.

Violators of this order may be subject to criminal penalties pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(5).

This order is effective at 12:01 am on November 15, 2021. Unless extended or amended, upon expiration or termination of this proclamation the provisions of Proclamation 20-25, et seq., will continue to be in effect until the state of emergency, issued on February 29, 2020, pursuant to Proclamation 20-05, is rescinded.

20-80.1

DOC – Prison Commitments

WHEREAS, on February 29, 2020, I issued Proclamation 20-05, proclaiming a State of Emergency for all counties throughout Washington State as a result of the coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) outbreak in the United States and confirmed person-to-person spread of COVID-19 in Washington State; and

WHEREAS, as a result of the continued worldwide spread of COVID-19, its significant progression in Washington State, and the high risk it poses to our most vulnerable populations, I have subsequently issued several amendatory proclamations, exercising my emergency powers under RCW 43.06.220 by prohibiting certain activities and waiving and suspending specified laws and regulations; and

WHEREAS, the COVID-19 disease, caused by a virus that spreads easily from person to person which may result in serious illness or death and has been classified by the World Health Organization as a worldwide pandemic, continues to broadly spread throughout Washington State, significantly increasing the threat of serious associated health risks statewide; and

WHEREAS, after months of improving COVID-19 epidemiological conditions in Washington State, the emergence of highly contagious COVID-19 variants, including the “Delta” variant that is at least twice as transmissible as the virus that emerged in late 2019, coupled with the continued significant numbers of unvaccinated people, have caused COVID-19 cases and hospitalizations to rise sharply among unvaccinated populations and have resulted in breakthrough infections in some fully vaccinated individuals; and, while cases and hospitalizations are currently decreasing, both remain high and exceed the prior peak levels experienced in December 2020; and

WHEREAS, language in RCW 72.02, RCW 70.48, and RCW 36.63 require counties to transfer, and the Department of Corrections (DOC) to receive, newly committed individuals from the county jails in which they reside prior to commitment to a state correctional facility; and

WHEREAS, on December 17, 2020, I issued Proclamation 20-80, which waived and suspended portions of the transfer statutes referenced above, to allow for a brief pause on the intake of new incarcerations for 18 days to assist with controlling the spread of COVID-19 in DOC facilities; and

WHEREAS, in light of the highly transmissible Delta variant and impacts of COVID-related strain on those who reside in close quarters, uninterrupted intake of new incarcerations may reduce DOC’s ability to curb the spread of COVID-19 in its facilities, making it necessary to again waive and suspend portions of the same transfer statutes; and

WHEREAS, the worldwide COVID-19 pandemic and its progression in Washington State continue to threaten the life and health of our people as well as the economy of Washington State, and remain a public disaster affecting life, health, property or the public peace; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Department of Health continues to maintain a Public Health Incident Management Team in coordination with the State Emergency Operations Center and other supporting state agencies to manage the public health aspects of the incident; and

WHEREAS, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, through the State Emergency Operations Center, continues coordinating resources across state government to support the Department of Health and local health officials in alleviating the impacts to people, property, and infrastructure, and continues coordinating with the Department of Health in assessing the impacts and long-term effects of the incident on Washington State and its people.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Jay Inslee, Governor of the state of Washington, as a result of the above- noted situation, and under Chapters 38.08, 38.52 and 43.06 RCW, do hereby proclaim that a State of Emergency continues to exist in all counties of Washington State, that Proclamation 20-05 and all amendments thereto remain in effect, and that Proclamations 20-05 and 20-80 are amended to waive or suspend specified statutes that prevent, hinder or delay necessary action in coping with the unprecedented demands being placed on our health care system by the COVID-19 pandemic and to prohibit certain activities to help preserve and maintain life, health, property or the public peace by retaining individuals recently committed to a state correctional facility in a county jail to allow for a temporary suspension of new intakes at the two state prison reception centers.

I again direct that the plans and procedures of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan be implemented throughout state government. State agencies and departments are directed to continue utilizing state resources and doing everything reasonably possible to support implementation of the Washington State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan and to assist affected political subdivisions in an effort to respond to and recover from the COVID-19 pandemic.

I continue to order into active state service the organized militia of Washington State to include the National Guard and the State Guard, or such part thereof as may be necessary in the opinion of The Adjutant General to address the circumstances described above, to perform such duties as directed by competent authority of the Washington State Military Department in addressing the outbreak. Additionally, I continue to direct the Department of Health, the Washington State Military Department Emergency Management Division, and other agencies to identify and provide appropriate personnel for conducting necessary and ongoing incident related assessments.

FURTHERMORE, based on the above situation and under the provisions of RCW 43.06.220(2)(g), I also find that strict compliance with the following statutory and regulatory obligations or limitations will risk reducing the availability of essential services and prevent, hinder, or delay the response to the COVID-19 pandemic State of Emergency under Proclamation 20-05, and that the portion or language of each statutory and regulatory provision specified below is hereby waived and suspended, from 12:01 a.m. on October 25, 2021, through 11:59 p.m. on November 5, 2021:

1. RCW 72.02.230 – in its entirety;
2. RCW 70.48.240 – in its entirety;
3. RCW 36.63.255 – in its entirety;
4. RCW 72.02.200 - only the words: “receiving and”; and

FURTHERMORE, in recognition of the above findings, and to help preserve and maintain life, health, property or the public peace under RCW 43.06.220(1)(h), I prohibit, beginning 12:01 a.m. on October 25, 2021, through 11:59 p.m. on November 5, 2021:

- 1) All public agencies from transporting any individual to a state correctional facility without the advance permission of the Department of Corrections, and
- 2) The Department of Corrections from receiving any individual from any public agency without receiving advance notice and providing advance permission for the transport of that individual to a state correctional facility.

Nothing in this proclamation is intended or may be relied upon to create a right or benefit, substantive or procedural, enforceable at law by any person.

Violators of this of this order may be subject to criminal penalties pursuant to RCW 43.06.220(5).

Signed and sealed with the official seal of the state of Washington on this 19th day of October, A.D., Two Thousand and Twenty-One at Olympia, Washington.
