S. R. HOLCOMB

CHIEF CLERK OF THE HOUSE

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

OF THE

THIRTY-EIGHTH LEGISLATURE

FIRST DAY

NOON SESSION

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,
OLYMPIA, WASH., Monday, January 14, 1963.

The Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives of the Thirty-seventh Legislature, S. R. Holcomb, called the House to order at 12:00 noon.

The flag was escorted to the rostrum by a Sergeant at Arms color guard.

Prayer was offered by Reverend Arthur A. Val-Spinosa of the St. Thomas Episcopal Church of Medina:

"Ladies and gentlemen, at this opening of the Thirty-eighth Legislature, I bid your prayers for these United States of America under God, indivisible, and for the several other legislative bodies that are meeting at this time. I bid your prayers for this state and the people residing in it, for the governor and executive officers, for the judiciary, for the Senate, and especially for your fellow state representatives from the several districts of this state, and for your families and theirs. I bid your prayers for personal vision to see justice in your deliberations, for courage to pursue it, for strength to fight for it, for guidance to distinguish party and self and party and people, and the wisdom at the time of need to understand the difference. Grant, gracious God, unto us, the representatives of this State of Washington, and to all of our constituents wisdom to perceive and know what things we ought to do and the strength and power faithfully to perform the same, so that, remembering the strict account we must give unto Thee, our ultimate judge, we may not turn away Thy favor by our sinful passions or by our private interests defeat Thy gracious counsels toward us. Because we put our full trust in Thy mercy, be with us evermore, as Thou wast with our fathers in their former days, so that men may see in Whose name we move and have our being, Thou who art the monarch, and maker, and judge of all men."

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand, and affixed the Seal of the State of Washington at Olympia, this fourteenth day of January, A.D., 1963.

VICTOR A. MEYERS,

Secretary of State.

(THE SEAL OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON—1889)

The roll was called, and all members were present.

The Sergeant at Arms was instructed to distribute to the members their election certificates.

The Honorable Robert T. Hunter, Justice of the Supreme Court of the State of Washington, administered the oath of office to all members of the House of Representatives.

RESOLUTION

Resolution by Mr. Schaefer:

Be It Resolved, That the rules which governed the House of Representatives during the Thirty-seventh Legislative Session of 1961 be adopted by this House as temporary rules until permanent rules be adopted, and that the Committee on Rules and Order be authorized and directed to formulate the permanent rules of the House for the present session, and that the Committee on Rules and Order act jointly with a like committee from the Senate to formulate joint rules.

On motion of Mr. Schaefer, the resolution was adopted.

Mr. Copeland demanded a call of the House and the demand was sustained.

CALL OF THE HOUSE

The Sergeant at Arms was instructed to lock the doors.

The Clerk called the roll, and all members were present.

On motion of Mr. Copeland, the House proceeded with business under the call of the House.

Nominations for Speaker of the House were declared to be in order.

The Chief Clerk recognized Mr. Schaefer.

Mr. Schaefer:

"Mr. Chief Clerk, Honorable Judge Hunter, my distinguished colleagues, ladies and gentlemen:

"We are embarking today on the thirty-eighth session of the Washington legislature. We know from past experience through the last few years that our state is continually growing and because of this we are having more complex problems and more demands for services. This session of the legislature we have been given a mandate by the people to produce adequate services for our people within a balanced budget, and to set out on this type of program we need the strongest possible leadership. To have strong leadership we must start at the top, the most important job in this House, the Speaker.

"I will place in nomination the name of a man whom we have served under and respect, and who, you who have served with him know, has the qualifications to handle this position. He has served many years in this House. He has been elected Speaker four times. He has treated all of us with fairness and integrity.

"At this time, it gives me great pleasure to nominate for the Speaker of this House for the thirty-eighth session of the legislature, Mr. John O'Brien. Thank you."

The Chief Clerk recognized Mr. Beierlein.

Mr. Beierlein:

"Mr. Chief Clerk, Honorable Judge Hunter of the Supreme Court, my distinguished colleagues, ladies and gentlemen:

"It is my profound privilege to second the nomination of a distinguished citizen of the state of Washington for Speaker of the House. Ladies and gentlemen of this House, I would like to urge you today to support John O'Brien for Speaker of this House and our leader. He is experienced. He is eminently fair. His decisions and his rulings are impartial. As you know, he has been a member of this House for a long time and, as my colleague, Mr. Schaefer, pointed out, he has had the distinction of being chosen by his own colleagues four successive times as Speaker of this House—an unprecedented event in the history of the state of Washington. In my opinion, this entitles him to the hallmark of greatness; and, with the rough road ahead in facing the most difficult problems in the history of the state of Washington, we need such a leader in this House. Thank you."

The Chief Clerk recognized Mr. Backstrom.

Mr. Backstrom:

"Mr. Chief Clerk, Honorable Judge Hunter, representatives of the state of Washington, ladies and gentlemen:

"As I look upon this very fine group, I think the people and the citizens of the state of Washington are to be complimented. I look upon you as a very fine group of representative people who will take the problems of the state of Washington in a very serious vein during this coming session. Then, too, as I think of the American heritage, I think it is incumbent upon us that we do our job in a responsible manner, which I know you all will. As we carry out our functions and face the complexities of the problems that we have in this state, I feel that experience in the Speaker's chair is necessary, and therefore I am happy to second the nomination of John O'Brien."

The Chief Clerk recognized Mr. Braun.

Mr. Braun:

"Mr. Chief Clerk, Honorable Justice Hunter, my distinguished colleagues, ladies and gentlemen:

"I also rise to second the nomination of John L. O'Brien as Speaker of this House. It has been my privilege to serve in this House three terms under the leadership of John L. O'Brien as Speaker. In those three terms, I have found John to be probably the most qualified for this position among our party. I hope that some of you men here today electing a Speaker will think seriously, not about your personal feelings, but about the welfare of the people of the state of Washington and the job they sent you here to do. Again I hope you will think seriously when you cast your vote, and that you will vote for John L. O'Brien as Speaker of the House."

The Chief Clerk recognized Mrs. Hurley.

Mrs. Hurley:

"Mr. Chief Clerk, Honorable Judge Hunter of the Supreme Court, ladies and gentlemen of the House:

"It is my privilege to take an important part today in the nominations for Speaker of the House. During the many sessions I have attended and participated in these elections, each has been exciting. Some have been tense. All have been important. But none has been more full of meaning for the people of our state than the choice we make today.

"We all realize, no matter what our political party, that the selection of Speaker is not something to be determined lightly, for on this decision depends the whole trend of legislation to be considered during this session. Will we have responsible expenditures, or thoughtful economies; increased governmental controls, or protection of individual freedom? Will we carry out the will of the people as indicated by the election of these new members I see all around me, or thwart their desires by clinging to the same old program? Those who do not accede to the wishes of the people this year may not be here next session to thwart them. On the choice we are about to make also depends the appointment of those who will share with the Speaker the responsibility of solving the present problems of the state and in preparing the way for a brighter and more prosperous outlook for the future. On this combination of leadership, their principles, their integrity and their wisdom, depends all we hold dear as a state and a nation.

"I recommend to you a man whose wisdom, governmental principles, personal integrity, prudence, and firmness of purpose qualify him to be selected as our presiding officer. He is congenial, fair in his dealings, and a man of his word. Let us recall for just one moment the oath of office we have just taken to serve the interests of the people of the state to the best of our ability. Your vote for a new Speaker will be your first opportunity to fulfill that oath.

"It is with every desire for what is best for the people of this state that I place in nomination the name of William S. Day for Speaker of the House."

The Chief Clerk recognized Mr. Kink.

Mr. Kink:

"Mr. Chief Clerk, Honorable Chief Justice, members of the House of Representatives:

"I rise to second the nomination of William S. Day as Speaker of this House. Mr. Day is personally known to me to be a successful and capable professional man well respected in his community. I also know him as a dedicated, sincere legislator who as speaker will conduct the affairs of this House fairly and without favoritism. Thank you."

The Chief Clerk recognized Mr. King.

Mr. King:

"Mr. Chief Clerk, Justice Hunter, ladies and gentlemen:

"I also rise to second the nomination of Bill Day for Speaker of the House. You have spoken about trials and tribulations we are faced with in this particular session. I have seen many of them, and the last is always the worst. I have seen lots of people come up here I thought just as educated and capable as Mr. Day or Mr. O'Brien for the job Mr. O'Brien has held, and I don't think the Speaker of the House has stumped or homestead rights to that particular position for all time. So that is one of the reasons that I am supporting Mr. Day, and I hope that you people will do likewise and give somebody else an opportunity to show what he has and what he can do."

The Chief Clerk recognized Mr. Canfield.

Mr. Canfield:

"Mr. Chief Clerk, Justice Hunter, honored guests, distinguished ladies and gentlemen of this House:

"The legislative times are times that are always important. Often they are troublous times. Today is no exception. We never fail to have problems here. The same ones come back from session to session with changing emphasis. We also have new problems from time to time. It is vital to have strong leadership and strong legislators with high ideals to meet these situations.

"It is my privilege today to nominate a man for Speaker of this House who is eminently qualified and universally respected for his personal character, for his knowledge of political practices, for his leadership, for his dedication to responsible government. We are most confident that his actions will be guided by knowledge and not ignorance, with wisdom and not irresponsibility, with decisiveness and not weakness, always keeping in mind a program to promote the progress and the best interests of this great state of Washington.

"And so, ladies and gentlemen of this House, I give to you in nomination for Speaker the name of the honorable representative of King County, Daniel J. Evans."

The Chief Clerk recognized Mr. Moos.

Mr. Moos:

"Mr. Chief Clerk, Honorable Judge Hunter, ladies and gentlemen of this House:

"I rise to concur in the remarks of my colleague from Yakima and to second the nomination of Representative Evans. We on this side of the aisle have had a wonderful opportunity to serve under his leadership, and certainly his leadership has been good leadership, as I look back at this fine group on this side, and we have grown under this leadership. You people have watched Representative Evans' ability to lead the minority party. You have known Representative Evans as an able and conscientious legislator. You have known him as a citizen and as a man and we, all of us as legislators and members of this House, are proud to know him as one of our colleagues. He has the ability to lead this House of Representatives in the direction I believe this state wants to be led. It is with a great deal of pride I second the nomination of Daniel J. Evans for Speaker of the House of Representatives."

There being no further nominations, the Chief Clerk announced that the nominations for Speaker of the House were closed.

MOTION FOR RECONSIDERATION

Mr. Schaefer, having voted on the prevailing side, moved that the House do now reconsider the vote by which Mr. Day was elected Speaker of the House.

POINT OF ORDER

The Chief Clerk recognized Mr. Copeland.

Mr. Copeland:

"I would like to have a ruling of the Chair as to whether the motion to reconsider on this particular matter is a valid motion."

RULING OF THE CHAIR

The Chair: (The Chief Clerk presiding)

"The authority of the Chief Clerk in presiding over this House of Representatives is limited to one thing. That is the election of a Speaker of the House of Representatives. A Speaker has been elected by your vote on the last ballot. Therefore, I do not consider it is within the Chief Clerk's authority to consider any other business now that a Speaker is elected. While the Chief Clerk is presiding the motion is declared out of order."

The Chief Clerk appointed Representatives Perry and Adams to escort Mr. Day to the rostrum where the Honorable Robert T. Hunter, Justice of the State Supreme Court, administered the oath of office to him.

The Speaker assumed the Chair.

The Speaker addressed the House with the following remarks:

"Mr. Chief Clerk, Honorable Judge Hunter and members of the House of Representatives:

"I am grateful as well as pleased by my election as Speaker of this great House—grateful because of the honor which you have rendered to me and the confidence you have placed in me—pleased because as Speaker of the House I shall preside during a period in which we must solve the all-important problems of living within our revenue, and that of formulating a redistricting plan which has bipartisan acceptance of this legislative body and is responsive to the best interests of the people of this state.

"Each of us, as a state representative, should serve the interests of his or her particular district as well as the interests of all the people of the state of Washington. As I view the Speaker's position, in addition to his responsibilities to the people of his district and the people of the state of Washington, he has an additional responsibility to each member of this House to provide that member an opportunity to express his views, privately as well as publicly.

"To that end, let me now invite every member of this body, regardless of party, regardless of previous disagreements, to contact me and make his opinions known. While I am Speaker of the House, minority opinions and discussion will always be permitted; however, the ultimate decision on legislation must, as always, reside with the majority.

"Each day we live brings changes which affect us in our public and private lives. Most of these changes constitute progress, and are brought about by increased knowledge based upon experience. The cumulative experience of the members of this House contains knowledge which can be utilized to bring about progress. I am, therefore, urging that this body critically examine its rules and procedures to determine whether changes are warranted and logically can be effected in the processes which bring about legislation.

"Constitutionally a legislative session is sixty days. In the past we have not always been able to abide by this constitutional requirement. I am asking that each of you assume a portion of the responsibility which will lead to our successfully accomplishing our work in the time allotted.

"The initial examination, rejection or passage of each measure introduced in the House is a task which of necessity must be performed by committee. It is essential to the orderly procedure of this body that bills without merit be rejected on a committee level, while important and necessary legislation be quickly passed upon and brought before the House for vote. This labor is of prime importance and requires the thoughtful consideration of each committee member. Because of the large number of committees which convene in this House, each representative must necessarily serve on more than one committee. However, considering the importance of committee action, it is obvious that committee assignments must be limited, insofar as practical, to permit each legislator sufficient time to devote to his respective committee assignments.

"In this brief acceptance speech, I have attempted to outline for your examination several of the problems which, as State Representatives, we must all consider. Each day of the session will bring before you issues of importance which will need your individual decision. It is for this reason that I am asking each of you to put aside any personal ambitions and partisan causes which you may have, and devote your time and efforts to a successful, responsible, and productive legislative session." (Applause)

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The Speaker recognized Mr. Evans.

Mr. Evans:

"Point of personal privilege, Mr. Speaker. I would first like to congratulate the new Speaker on his victory and on his speech, because I think it bodes well for this House of Representatives.

"I would like to address myself, however, more particularly to the members of this House and those in the galleries and those in the press, because we are embarking on a new era, a really new era. As most of you probably don't know, the Republican party during this last election for the House of Representatives polled over fifty-three percent of the popular vote in this state. Unfortunately, we elected only forty-eight out of ninety-nine Representatives, but I think it has been obvious since the last election, and certainly it's been obvious in the last few days, that the Democratic party was split and could not by themselves elect a Speaker. Rather than sit here for many days, as we could have, in a deadlock, we felt that it was our responsibility to take some action that would organize this body and set it on its course.

"The decision wasn't easy. We had three choices open to us: to sit still and hope we would have some support from the other side to elect a Republican Speaker, or to vote for either of the two candidates on your side of the aisle as they have been presented here today. May I say clearly and most emphatically that the decision was not made on a basis of personality. John O'Brien has served this House long and well and he is a good presiding officer, but the decision ultimately did not rest on personalities. The decision rested on a choice we had to make between two programs and two courses of action. We had to make our choice on the basis of the one we thought would help bring the principles and the ideals that we as Republicans have to the floor.

"In making this decision we, as you know, voted for Mr. Day. Going back a little bit, maybe the Democratic convention this year was a pretty good deciding point. We had to make a choice of you who walked out of the convention, and those who adopted a platform we felt was radical and in control of a radical element. We couldn't buy that kind of principles and that kind of ideas. We had to go to those who had the courage to walk out of a convention like that, rather than those who either advocated or tolerated the type of platform that the Democrats adopted this spring.

"While this choice was difficult and has many thorns in it, our future course isn't very difficult. Our future course is to provide—and this goes to every member of this House—our future course is to provide the best government we can and the best laws we can for the state of Washington, and we on this side of the aisle will advocate the principles that we hold dear—that individual liberty is the cornerstone of our democracy, that the local government which is closest to the people can best serve the people, that fiscal responsibility is not an end in itself but a means to an end, a means to give to our children a government that is free from debt caused by the spending sprees of their fathers.

"These are the principles we believe in, that we will advocate, and that we think have the best chance of being successful with the Speaker and the organization that we have just elected. To this end, we will devote our talent and resources, and we hope we will finish in sixty days."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The Speaker recognized Mr. O'Brien.

Mr. O'Brien:

"Mr. Speaker, fellow colleagues, ladies and gentlemen:

"This is a very unusual position, for the presumably majority party to be in a minority position. We think it is a very bad mistake for the Republican party to go to this low type of political maneuvering. In my opinion, it is absolutely politically dishonest and immoral. After all, we come here to Olympia to do a real job. There should be a code of ethics, even among legislators."

The Speaker:

"Mr. O'Brien, let's not impugn the motives of anyone."

Mr. O'Brien:

"I am not impugning anyone's motives. I am giving my viewpoint. First of all, I want to thank all the people on our side of the aisle who were so loyal. You have not only my admiration, but you have the admiration of all thinking Democrats in the state of Washington, and you can well be proud, because I think a price was paid here today and we are going to suffer by it.

"There is no question about it, in my opinion. Good government in the state of Washington has been hindered and handicapped, and the blame and the whole responsibility is going to be placed on the Republican party. I will be one that will help in doing this. We could have had a very harmonious session. You people and I have, in the past, taken care of our differences.

"I feel very sorry for the people who have supported me and who were planning to take a very active part in this legislature. It was rightfully theirs to have important committee chairmanships, and now this isn't going to happen. For myself, it doesn't mean too much. You people have been kind to me in the past and have given me all the honors any legislator could possibly have. I have been in a minority position in the past and I rather enjoyed it. When you are up on that rostrum you can't say very much. You have to be impartial and fair to everyone; but down here we can point out the deficiencies in your proposals.

"You talk about our political platform. Well, we didn't like your platform either, and I can tell you people right now you are in for the most interesting sixty days you have ever had. We are going to do it on a high level. We are not vindictive about this. You have asked for the responsibility, and you are going to have it.

"In closing I want to say to the people on our side, I am very sorry for what happened here today. We had our caucus. We had the contest for Speaker. We thought we had resolved it. However, during the last couple of sessions, we have had people on our side who just didn't feel they belonged to our party, even though they filed on the Democratic ticket. I believe there is one thing we should do here this session, Mr. Evans, and that is to get an oath of loyalty from each and every person who filed for a respective party position that they are going to abide by party principles and party caucuses. I think this is something that is most important. If you don't, it is going to destroy the two-party system. We are going to have people file on the Democratic ticket who will do nothing but plan to destroy the party. One gentleman in particular has been planning for months that the Democratic party had to go. He ran on our ticket. He was successful here today, and I certainly think next time Mr. Robert Perry should file on the Republican ticket. He doesn't belong on our ticket.

"I wish to thank each and every one of you who was so loyal not only to me but to our Democratic party. We are extremely sorry you people across the aisle saw fit to do this thing. Maybe you will regret it. Mr. Speaker, as minority leader, I will say let the chips fall where they may. Thank you very much."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The Speaker recognized Mr. Savage.

Mr. Savage:

"I want to speak on a point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. Savage:

"I want to be frank. I want to say a word in behalf of the past Speaker. In view of the things that have happened today, I feel we should give some appreciation for the work he has done for a period of several sessions.

"Mr. Speaker, I served in the House with John O'Brien several sessions before he became Speaker. He was elected Speaker because of his willing Democratic leadership. I would like to point out that democracy is a voluntary situation. Democracy is not something we force. If we are going to have a democracy, it means that we agree to abide by rules that are set down by the legislature. Surely we have some enforcement, but if we have to enforce everything, we are taking peoples' liberty and freedom away. That is not democratic. In France, where they have thirty-eight parties or so, and no party responsibility, they don't confine themselves.

"We were able to organize under John O'Brien as a Democratic leader. We were able to accomplish a great deal. I am sure I am speaking for many who appreciate John O'Brien's leadership in passing legislation to improve our education and our schools in general. He has done a tremendous job in the legislature the last few years on highway legislation and much legislation has passed this House in behalf of institutions. I hope these things aren't scuttled this time in the House. We appreciate the leadership John O'Brien has given us in helping to work this out.

"Now, I feel that party responsibility is part of democracy. The Democrats and the Republicans have the two-party system. I once in Congress heard Sam Rayburn say that one of the most solemn obligations to party are the members who are devoted to their Speaker. I don't blame the Republican party for taking advantage of an opportunity to get their program through and get control of the legislature, but I feel that the people who let the Democratic party down are to blame for this type of thing. I don't think they deserve very much consideration as Democrats, because if you are going to be a democracy, you have to voluntarily go along. It was a question of the caucus, of having decided who was going to be Speaker—"

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Perry:

"Point of order, Mr. Speaker."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Perry:

"Mr. Savage rose on a point of personal privilege to give Mr. O'Brien his eulogy. I don't believe what is now being discussed is relevant to the eulogy for Mr. O'Brien."

The Speaker:

"I am going to rule your point is well taken, Mr. Perry. Thank you, Mr. Savage."

The Speaker called for nominations for Speaker Pro Tempore of the House of Representatives.

The Speaker recognized Mr. Brouillet.

Mr. Brouillet:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Chief Justice Hunter, ladies and gentlemen of the House, and spectators:

"I now rise to make a nomination for Speaker Pro Tempore. I feel very strongly that the man I am about to nominate is well qualified and should be carefully considered for the position regardless of the outcome for Speaker. This is the second position in our organization. The name I would like to place in nomination is Mr. Keith Campbell of the Fifth Legislative District in Spokane. I think we should carefully consider the person we choose to be in the second place. Keith is eminently qualified, former chief justice of the Spokane County courts, former member of the Spokane County school board, as a member and president of that organization. I have had the privilege of serving with Keith, now starting the fourth legislative session in the House of Representatives. Keith has been a member of the Judicial Council and the Legislative Council. I would certainly urge and encourage you to support a man who I think will do a fair and impartial job, should the occasion arise."

The Speaker recognized Mr. Olsen.

Mr. Olsen:

"Mr. Speaker, Honorable Judge Hunter, ladies and gentlemen:

"I rise to second the nomination of Keith Campbell, Fifth District, Spokane County, as Speaker Pro Tem."

The Speaker recognized Mr. May.

Mr. May:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise to second the nomination of Keith Campbell from the eastern part of Washington. We think that Keith is very good Speaker material. I am very happy to second his nomination."

The Speaker recognized Mr. Adams.

Mr. Adams:

"Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of this assembly, friends in the gallery and on the sidelines:

"I think it is very appropriate that we recognize the ladies in this body and it is with a great deal of pleasure that I rise to nominate Miss Ella Wintler. Now, let me tell you that Miss Wintler has more seniority than anyone in this body on this floor.

She was sworn in today for her tenth session. She was first elected in 1939, and as far as I know she was defeated on only one occasion. (I am advised there is someone with a little more seniority; I didn't realize that.) However, she was defeated on only one occasion. That was the election of 1940 when the people of this district voted an "X". That was the time we had an "X" at the top of the ballot. Everyone knows her affectionately as Ella. When I was first elected I used to go over and get a great deal of advice from her and I always found it to be good. I have never known her, on account of her seniority, to ask for undue consideration for honors or committee appointments in this body. I think that it is fitting that we elect as Speaker Pro Tem, Miss Ella Wintler from the Forty-ninth District in Clark County."

The Speaker recognized Mrs. Swayze.

Mrs. Swayze:

"Mr. Speaker, Honorable Judge Hunter, ladies and gentlemen of the legislature:

"During the ten years I have served in this body, I have watched Miss Ella Wintler work for good government in the state of Washington in a very conscientious and determined manner, and by so doing she has endeared herself to the men and ladies of this body, to the Democrats as well as the Republicans. It is my privilege to second the nomination of Miss Ella Wintler for Speaker Pro Tem."

There being no further nominations, the Speaker declared the nominations for Speaker Pro Tempore of the House of Representatives be closed.

The Clerk called the roll, and Miss Wintler was elected Speaker Pro Tempore of the House of Representatives by the following vote: Mr. Campbell, 45; Miss Wintler, 54; absent or not voting, 0.

Those voting for Mr. Campbell were: Representatives Ackley, Anderson (Eric O.), Backstrom, Beck, Beierlein, Bergh, Bigley, Bozarth, Braun, Brouillet, Burtch, Campbell, Chatalas, Conner, DeJarnatt, Dootson, Gallagher, Garrett, Gleason, Grant, Haussler, Henry, Herr, Jolly, Klein, Litchman, May, McCormick, McElroy, McFadden, Moon, Mundy, O'Brien, O'Connell, O'Donnell, Olsen, Rogers, Rosenberg, Savage, Sawyer, Schaefer, Taylor, Uhlman, Wedekind, Witherbee—45.

Those voting for Miss Wintler were: Representatives Adams, Ahlquist, Andersen (James A.), Berentson, Brachtenbach, Canfield, Clark, Comfort, Copeland, Earley, Eberle, Eldridge, Evans, Flanagan, Folsom, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Hadley, Harris, Hawley, Hood, Huntley, Hurley, Johnston, Juelling, King, Kink, Kirk, Leland, Lewis, Lind, Lybecker, Lynch, Mahaffey, Mast, McCaffree, McDougall, Metcalf, Miles, Moos, Morphis, Morrissey, Newschwander, Odell, Perry, Pritchard, Reese, Siler, Smith, Swayze, Wang, Wintler, Young, Mr. Speaker—54.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The Speaker recognized Mr. Campbell.

Mr. Campbell:

"Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the House, I almost voted for Miss Wintler myself. She is a grand lady. She will do a wonderful job, and I know she has earned the respect and honor of everyone with whom she has served. I want to offer her my sincere and hearty congratulations."

The Speaker appointed Representatives Kirk and Siler to escort Miss Wintler to the rostrum where the Honorable Robert T. Hunter, Justice of the Supreme Court, administered the oath of office to her.

The Speaker recognized Miss Wintler.

Miss Wintler:

"Mr. Speaker, Honorable Justice Hunter, members of the House of Representatives:

"You know I love every one of you and I am most overcome by the honor which you have conferred upon me. I thank you profoundly."

The Speaker called for nominations for the office of Chief Clerk.

The Speaker recognized Mr. Braun.

Mr. Braun:

"Mr. Speaker, Honorable Judge Hunter, members of this assembly, ladies and gentlemen:

"It is a privilege to place a name in nomination as candidate for Chief Clerk on whom I am sure all of us can agree. I speak of Si Holcomb who has served this House for thirty-some years. We have a number of freshmen legislators here today. You will find that Si is one of your best friends in helping you any way he can. I found that true when I came here in 1957. To you older members of the House, I am sure I can't say anything you don't already know about Si Holcomb. Mr. Speaker, it is a privilege to place in nomination the name of Si Holcomb for Chief Clerk of the House."

The Speaker recognized Mr. Mast.

Mr. Mast:

"Mr. Speaker, illustrious Judge Hunter, distinguished guests, and honorable members of the House:

"It is a rare privilege for me to say a few words in behalf of Si Holcomb. Si Holcomb has served this House faithfully, honorably, and efficiently for many years as Chief Clerk. You know, one may compliment an individual upon the realization of some ambition or congratulate him upon receiving some honor, but far more deserving of commendation than either of these is the long, sustained and efficient service that Si Holcomb has rendered this House. Therefore, it is a great honor to me to second the nomination of Si Holcomb as Chief Clerk."

The Speaker recognized Mrs. Hurley.

Mrs. Hurley:

"Mr. Speaker, Honorable Judge Hunter, ladies and gentlemen of the House:

"It has been my happy privilege for many sessions to second the nomination of our beloved Si Holcomb as Chief Clerk. It is impossible to do justice to the sterling qualities of Si, who has done so much for us all. The unobtrusive devotion to duty, the perfection of his decisions, the courtesy of his service, all have made Si a revered and respected tradition of this House. It is with a feeling of just pride that I second the nomination of Si Holcomb for the position of Chief Clerk."

There being no further nominations, the Speaker declared the nominations for Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives to be closed.

The Clerk called the roll, and Mr. S. R. Holcomb was unanimously elected Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives by the following vote: Yeas, 99; nays, 0; absent or not voting, 0.

The Speaker announced that Mr. S. R. Holcomb, having received the unanimous vote of the House was elected Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives, and appointed Representatives Wedekind and Andersen (James A.) to escort Mr. Holcomb to the rostrum where the Honorable Robert T.

Hunter, Justice of the State Supreme Court, administered the oath of office to him.

The Speaker announced that nominations for Assistant Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives were in order.

The Speaker recognized Mr. King.

Mr. King:

"Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the House:

"It has been my privilege for a term or so to place in nomination a name as Assistant Chief Clerk. It is with a great deal of pleasure that I have that privilege again today. I think all of you know this man who has served well with Si in the past. I am sure he is going to serve that way in the future. We hope to see the smiling face of Mr. Sidney Snyder as Assistant Chief Clerk."

The Speaker recognized Mr. Burtch.

Mr. Burtch:

"Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the House:

"It is my pleasure to second the nomination of Mr. Sidney Snyder as Assistant Chief Clerk of the House. He has worked hard and well for the House of Representatives and he deserves your support."

There being no further nominations, the Speaker declared that the nominations for Assistant Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives were closed.

The Clerk called the roll, and Mr. Sidney R. Snyder was unanimously elected Assistant Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives by the following vote: Yeas, 99; nays, 0; absent or not voting, 0.

Those voting for Mr. Snyder were: Representatives Ackley, Adams, Ahlquist, Andersen (James A.), Anderson (Eric O.), Backstrom, Beck, Beierlein, Berentson, Bergh, Bigley, Bozarth, Brachtenbach, Braun, Brouillet, Burtch, Campbell, Canfield, Chatalas, Clark, Comfort, Conner, Copeland, DeJarnatt, Dootson, Earley, Eberle, Eldridge, Evans, Flanagan, Folsom, Gallagher, Garrett, Gleason, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Grant, Hadley, Harris, Haussler, Hawley, Henry, Herr, Hood, Huntley, Hurley, Johnston, Jolly, Juelling, King, Kink, Kirk, Klein, Leland, Lewis, Lind, Litchman, Lybecker, Lynch, Mahaffey, Mast, May, McCaffree, McCormick, McDougall, McElroy, McFadden, Metcalf, Miles, Moon, Moos, Morphis, Morrissey, Mundy, Newschwander, O'Brien, O'Connell, Odell, O'Donnell, Olsen, Perry, Pritchard, Reese, Rogers, Rosenberg, Savage, Sawyer, Schaefer, Siler, Smith, Swayze, Taylor, Uhlman, Wang, Wedekind, Wintler, Witherbee, Young, Mr. Speaker—99.

Hunter, Justice of the Supreme Court, administered the oath of office to him.

The Speaker announced that nominations for Sergeant at Arms were in order.

The Speaker recognized Mr. Sawyer.

Mr. Sawyer:

"Mr. Speaker, Mr. Chief Justice Hunter, fellow members of the legislature, I really rise to a point of personal privilege, because if you will notice in our new pictorial directory of the legislators, it says under Leonard A. Sawyer that he and his wife have four daughters. I want to correct that to four daughters and one son. In fact, I want to be the first to pass out cigars in this session of the legislature. If the pages would come over, I would appreciate their passing out the cigars and I especially want you to recognize that that blue thing on there means it's a boy.

"In a serious light, I am happy to see we have had two perfect coalitions prior to my nomination, because I would like to place in nomination the name of a long-time friend of mine and former seat-mate, Mr. Elmer Hyppa. You know that he served in the legislature two terms and had a good record, and since that time he has also served two sessions as your Sergeant at Arms. I think you all know him and remember when he was down here on crutches and still did a wonderful job. Last time, without crutches, he carried on and did an even better job. I am sure you are all proud of Elmer and he will have your support. Thank you very much."

The Speaker recognized Mr. Mundy.

Mr. Mundy:

"Mr. Speaker, Supreme Court Justice Hunter, distinguished guests, ladies and gentlemen of the House:

"I rise to second the nomination of Elmer Hyppa from Pierce County. Some of you may recall that Elmer was here as a member of this House in 1953, as Representative Sawyer so ably pointed out. I hope you will cast your vote for Elmer as Sergeant at Arms. Thank you."

The Speaker recognized Mr. Ahlquist.

Mr. Ahlquist:

"Mr. Speaker, Honorable Judge Hunter:

"I rise to second the nomination of Elmer Hyppa for Sergeant at Arms. I think all of us here are well acquainted with the fine way he has conducted his office and the fine help he has had in doing it. I am happy to second the nomination."

There being no further nominations, the Speaker declared the nominations for Sergeant at Arms of the House of Representatives to be closed.

On motion of Mr. Gorton, the absent members were excused, and the House proceeded with business under the call of the House.

SPEAKER'S PRIVILEGE

The Speaker:

"The new committee questionnaires have been placed on the desks of the members. You will note the Speaker is recommending that the number of committees be reduced from thirty-one to twenty-one. This new list of committees combines committees to which few bills were referred during the 1961 session and the names of some committees have been changed to conform to the state departments. An attempt will be made to reduce the number of members who serve on these, because in the last few sessions the committees have become too large and cumbersome. As a result, there will be fewer committees for each member. Members of Ways and Means, Highways, and Rules and Order committees will probably serve on only two other committees. Members not on the major committees will probably serve on not more than four committees. It is hoped that the members of the House will fill in the questionnaires and turn them in to the Chief Clerk's desk, so the business of the House can get under way. If you will get them in as rapidly as possible, we will attempt to get the committees squared away, so the House can proceed with its business."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. O'Brien:

“Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.”

The Speaker:

“State your point of order.”

Mr. O'Brien:

"Mr. Speaker, you have proposed a change in Rule 59. It appears to me that the rule change is incomplete in that you are reducing the number of committees but are not stipulating the number of members who are to serve on each committee. It is very hard under such conditions for the members of the House to vote intelligently on this rule. I am raising the point at this time as to whether or not this proposed resolution should be given greater consideration and referred to the committee that prepared it for the purpose of at least informing the members of this House how many members are going to serve on each committee."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"I am going to rule that the resolution is the introduction of a complete amendment to the rules of this House. After the reading of the resolution it will be open to amendment, and if you wish to suggest amendments, they will be considered."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. O'Brien:

"Mr. Speaker, further point of order. Then are we to believe that where a committee last session had twenty-one members, it will have twenty-one members this time? Do you want us to offer amendments stipulating the number of members on each committee?"

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"Well, of course, I think it is obvious, the way the membership of the different committees has been expanded over the last four sessions of this legislature, that the numbers designated for the committees has meant absolutely nothing to the previous Speaker. I am going to rule that your point is not well taken, Mr. O'Brien."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. O'Brien:

"Then, Mr. Speaker, I rise to another point of order. The rules call for one day's notice before we can consider an amendment to the rules. The notice was given to us last evening about 4:00 o'clock. One full day hasn't elapsed since the notice was given. What is your ruling, please?"

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"My ruling is that the notice was properly given."

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. Beck:

"Mr. Speaker, point of information."

The Speaker:

"State your point of information."

Mr. Beck:

"We are talking about a change in the rules. I haven't seen a copy of the amendments. Have they been distributed?"

The Speaker:

"Yes, they have, Mr. Beck."

Mr. Beck:

"I didn't receive a copy."

The Speaker:

"Further copies are available at the desk. You may send up for one."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Ackley:

"Mr. Speaker, another point of order. Rule 12 not only requires that one day's notice of the motion be given, but that the motion be presented in writing. This motion, it is my understanding, was not put on our desks until about 11:00 o'clock last night. I think that can hardly be one day's notice in writing. Therefore, we can't be in a position to consider this motion properly."

The Speaker:

"Mr. Ackley, that specific rule applies to the desk here, not to each member's desk."

Mr. Ackley:

"I will read the rule, if I may, Mr. Speaker. It says:

'Any standing rule or order of the house may be rescinded or changed by a majority vote of the members elected: Provided, One day's notice of the motion therefor be given, and the proposed change or changes in the rules be submitted in writing.'

"Now, is it your suggestion that that doesn't mean submitted to the members of the House, but merely submitted to the Clerk? Is that your ruling, Mr. Speaker?"

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"Any amendment that is placed on the desk of the Clerk is available for surveillance of any member of this House, Mr. Ackley, and I think it is obvious the rule was not intended to be so cumbersome as to require the material to be distributed and placed at the other ninety-eight desks in the House."

Mr. Ackley:

"If I may pursue this further—"

The Speaker:

"The amendment was placed on your desks later. You have had time to look at it."

Mr. Ackley:

"At 11:00 o'clock last night most of us were in bed, Mr. Speaker. We have had only this morning to look at it. I think for us to give this the consideration it deserves as to these serious changes in our rules, this should be deferred at least until later on today."

The Speaker:

"I am going to rule you are out of order, Mr. Ackley."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The Speaker recognized Mr. Perry.

Mr. Perry:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. Perry:

"My point is this, Mr. Speaker. I would like to explain to the members of this body that I think Mr. O'Brien, having served four terms as Speaker, would be very familiar with the ancient and traditional order of the first day of organization and all rules or temporary rules governing such. According to Thomas B. Reed who wrote these rules, it stipulates that on the first day there is no technical organization. The majority, having organized the body, proceeds to make the rules. It is quite obvious, if we in an arbitrary fashion wished, we could make just about any kind of rule changes we desired. Now, we are trying to make fair, impartial, and expeditious rules. As far as the points of inquiry and points of order that have been raised, there is no intention of provoking or in any manner delaying the organization of this group. There are parliamentary tactics we could go into, but within the limits of the time available to us to solve the problems of this state, I don't think there is too much room for that. However, on issues other than just specific points, we would be most happy to debate any time on any given point, but if the discussion is of a dilatory nature, let me assure you we will not entertain it. Thank you."

MOTION

Mr. Rogers moved that the consideration of Mrs. Hurley's resolution changing Rule 59 be made a special order of business at 4:00 p. m. today.

Debate ensued, Mr. Rogers speaking in favor of the motion and Mr. Perry speaking against it.

Mr. Uhlman demanded an oral roll call, and the demand was sustained.

Mr. Litchman demanded a call of the House, and the demand was sustained.

CALL OF THE HOUSE

The Sergeant at Arms was instructed to lock the doors.

The Clerk called the roll. Representative Wang was absent.

On motion of Mr. Moos, the absent member was excused, and the House proceeded with business under the call of the House.

The Speaker declared the question before the House to be Mr. Rogers' motion that consideration of Mrs. Hurley's resolution be made a special order of business at 4:00 p. m. today.

Debate ensued, Representatives Gorton and Evans speaking against the motion, and Representative Witherbee speaking in favor of the motion.

Mr. King demanded the previous question and the demand was not sustained.

POINT OF INQUIRY

The Speaker recognized Mr. Moon.

Mr. Moon:

"I rise to a point of inquiry, Mr. Speaker. If you don't specify the number of individuals or members who will serve on each committee, does this mean that should there be a deadlock in, say, the Rules Committee, which supposedly will be equally divided, the Speaker then would have the right to appoint another member to serve on this committee?"

The Speaker:

"No, sir. In case of a deadlock, the resolution would be lost."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Uhlman:

"I wonder if Representative Gorton will yield to a question?"

Mr. Gorton:

"Yes."

Mr. Uhlman:

"I would like to have you elaborate. Is it your interpretation that if we do not adopt specific numbers for the committees, it would be within the power of the Speaker to later appoint additional members to committees?"

Mr. Gorton:

"Mr. Uhlman, I feel that the Speaker will appoint all the committee memberships at one time, and those will be the last appointments. I feel that the question is really frivolous, because under any set of circumstances, as has happened previously, you can simply move that the rule be changed and one day later it is changed and the Speaker appoints another member anyway. As long as the Speaker has the majority of the House behind him, he can pretty well do what he wants in this regard, as has been evidenced by the career of the previous Speaker."

Further debate ensued, Mr. Uhlman speaking in favor of Mr. Rogers' motion.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Gorton:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Gorton:

"Mr. Speaker, Mr. Uhlman raised a serious question. It seems to me it might be well if the Speaker would rule on the question which has been raised. I ask the Speaker to rule as to whether or not this change would permit the Speaker, arbitrarily and without concurrence of the body, to make an appointment to a committee in mid-session when there has been no resignation from the committee."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"I am going to rule that I think it is within the Speaker's prerogative to make a committee change at any time. However, it is also within the prerogative of this body, as has been previously stated, to make a change in the rules at any time during the session, and if they feel that the Speaker has been arbitrary, of course they can make a change in the rules."

Further debate ensued, Representative Adams speaking against Mr. Rogers' motion.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

The Speaker recognized Mr. Smith:

Mr. Smith:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I would like to ask Mr. Evans to yield to a question, please."

The Speaker:

"Will you yield, Mr. Evans?"

Mr. Evans:

"Yes."

Mr. Smith:

"Possibly I have two questions. I can assure you I am very serious about obtaining this information. First, in the past, has it been the rule that the number of members of committees be left out, and does this grant permission to stack any committee if it is so desired?"

Mr. Evans:

"Well, my personal knowledge only goes back four sessions, all served under Mr. O'Brien. We have had the number of members specifically indicated, but in almost every session I have served, after a permanent Rule 59 was adopted, we had to amend it because we didn't have the right numbers on the committees. I think this is a reform in the number of members of committees and can stand as a permanent part of our rules from session to session, not needing amendments. Obviously, there is going to be a difference in the number of members serving on each committee from session to session as the needs and desires of the members change. As far as the so-called packing of any committee, the Speaker always has had the authority to appoint the members to the various committees. If he wishes to, he can appoint all he wants. This is not likely to happen, however."

Mr. Smith:

"Thank you, Mr. Evans, and since you have answered the question, may I bring forth a bit of comment? Certainly I am in agreement with reform any time it is proposed to bring about some improvement. My only question is that lacking information as to what was really proposed, I was just not in a position to give intelligent consideration. I think I can trust those who run the House of Representatives, but I doubt very seriously if I could explain that to the members of my district who elect me. I wish it were possible that those who are concerned about making changes were not so hasty and would be willing to give us just a mild suggestion of what they propose. Mr. Speaker, I can assure you I have no malice toward anybody, and I do not wish to needle, but I think the people of the state would be better informed if they knew what was about to take place. Thank you."

Further debate ensued on Mr. Rogers' motion that consideration of Mrs. Hurley's resolution be made a special order of business at 4:00 p. m., Representative Canfield speaking against the motion and Representative Rogers speaking for it.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Litchman:

"Mr. Speaker, I wonder if Mr. Gorton will yield to a question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield to question, Mr. Gorton?"

Mr. Gorton:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker."

Mr. Litchman:

"Mr. Gorton, I am not too familiar with the rules and practices under our thirty-eighth session of the legislature, but I would appreciate very much if you would answer a question pertaining to, say, public institutions. Two years ago on Institutions, we had seventeen members, as I recall. Now, if this resolution passes in its present form, does that mean that the Speaker at any time can change the number from five to perhaps thirty-five without the vote of this body?"

Mr. Gorton:

"Mr. Litchman, I think that question was asked directly of the Speaker in a request for a ruling, and the answer to the question is up to the Speaker and not to me. My own personal opinion is that Mr. Uhlman's point was a valid point, but it is a question that can most easily be deferred until the permanent rules are adopted. As you know, we are dealing with temporary rules with an amendment to the temporary rules. As soon as there is a Committee on Rules and Order, that committee will recommend permanent rules, and either the proposition that the Speaker should not make new appointments without the concurrence of the majority of the House will be included in those permanent rules, or Mr. Uhlman or anyone else can make such a motion. Personally, I would be inclined to support it, but the question you ask me has already been asked of the Speaker and he has ruled on it quite clearly."

Further debate ensued on Mr. Rogers' motion, Mr. Litchman speaking in favor of it.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Litchman:

"Mr. Speaker, I wonder if Mr. O'Brien would yield to a question?"

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"I am afraid you are out of order, after giving a speech, then asking for someone to yield to question."

Mr. Litchman:

"Is that the ruling of the Chair, that one who takes the floor and hasn't completed his statement cannot ask someone to yield to a question?"

The Speaker:

"It is the privilege of the Chair to so rule."

Further debate ensued, Representative Evans speaking against Mr. Rogers' motion.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mrs. Henry:

"Mr. Speaker, will Mr. Evans yield to a question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield, Mr. Evans?"

Mr. Evans:

"Certainly, lovely lady."

Mrs. Henry:

"Mr. Evans, we are now in the third day of our session and it is my belief we are far from being organized. Am I to believe that the committee on committees does not have any insight as to how many members there are going to be on the committees, and if so, when can we expect to organize this House?"

Mr. Evans:

"If you adopt this rule, you will give us the ability to go in and finish this job, and I am sure the rules will be presented to this House as soon as or sooner than they were two years ago, which was on the fourth day."

Further debate ensued, Representatives O'Brien and Rosenberg speaking in favor of Mr. Rogers' motion.

Mr. Wedekind demanded the previous question and the demand was sustained.

The Speaker stated that the question before the House was Mr. Rogers' motion that consideration of Mrs. Hurley's resolution amending Rule 59 be made a special order of business at 4:00 p. m. today.

The Clerk called the roll and the motion was lost by the following vote: Yeas, 43; nays, 55; absent or not voting, 1.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Ackley, Anderson (Eric O.), Backstrom, Beck, Beierlein, Bigley, Bozarth, Braun, Brouillet, Burtch, Campbell, Chatalas, Conner, DeJarnatt, Dootson, Gallagher, Garrett, Gleason, Grant, Haussler, Henry, Herr, Jolly, Klein, May, McElroy, McFadden, Moon, Mundy, O'Brien, O'Connell, O'Donnell, Olsen, Rogers, Rosenberg, Savage, Sawyer, Schaefer, Smith, Taylor, Uhlman, Wedekind, Witherbee—43.

Those voting nay were: Representatives Adams, Ahlquist, Andersen (James A.), Berentson, Berg, Brachtenbach, Canfield, Clark, Comfort, Copeland, Earley, Eberlee, Eldridge, Evans, Flanagan, Folsom, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Hadley, Harris, Hawley, Hood, Huntley, Hurley, Johnston, Jueling, King, Kink, Kirk, Leland, Lewis, Lind, Litchman, Lybecker, Lynch, Mahaffey, Mast, McCaffree, McCormick, McDougall, Metcalf, Miles, Moos, Morphis, Morrissey, Newschwander, Odell, Perry, Pritchard, Reese, Siler, Swayze, Wintler, Young, Mr. Speaker—55.

Those absent or not voting were: Representative Wang—1.

NOTICE OF RECONSIDERATION

Mr. Litchman, having voted on the prevailing side, served notice that he would move for reconsideration of the vote by which Mr. Rogers' motion had been lost, and requested that it be made a special order of business at 4:00 p. m. today.

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"In view of the duplication of the time in this and in the original motion, the motion to reconsider is out of order."

Mr. Litchman requested that his motion for reconsideration be changed to read 3:00 p. m. instead of 4:00 p. m.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Copeland:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Copeland:

"Mr. Litchman is combining two motions in one. If he wants to make a motion for reconsideration, he is entitled to, but he cannot combine it with a stated time."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"I am going to rule that Mr. Copeland's point is well taken."

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. Litchman:

"Mr. Speaker, may I inquire, then, as to the Speaker's ruling in regard to a motion for reconsideration such as mine? Does this have to be done immediately, in your opinion, or can it be done at a specific or specified time later in the day?"

The Speaker:

"The motion to reconsider is immediately in order, Mr. Litchman, not at any other time."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Uhlman:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Uhlman:

"Mr. Speaker, I call the attention of the House to Rule 43, the first paragraph:

'Notice of a motion for reconsideration on the final passage of bills may be made only on the day the vote to be reconsidered was taken.'

"Paragraph three states:

'An affirmative or negative vote . . . may be reconsidered only on the next working day after such vote has been taken.'

"The effect of Mr. Litchman's motion would be to delay further action on this motion until tomorrow."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"The motion is out of order at this time, Mr. Uhlman, unless it is made immediately, because the body has just voted down the motion to make this matter a special order of business at 4:00 o'clock this afternoon."

POINT OF ORDER

The Speaker recognized Mr. Evans.

Mr. Evans:

"I think it is in order to point out clearly to all members of the House listening that Mr. Uhlman conveniently left out three words which he knows would make his point of order inapplicable, when he said, 'An affirmative or negative vote on the final passage of bills' may be reconsidered on the next working day. Obviously this is not the final passage of a bill and the Speaker is correct in his ruling."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Schaefer:

"Mr. Speaker, will Mr. Evans yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield, Mr. Evans?"

Mr. Evans:

"Yes."

Mr. Schaefer:

"Mr. Evans, do you know approximately how many people will be on each committee? Would you give us some information on this?"

Mr. Evans:

"I don't know approximately. I can say this. It will be the attempt of the committee on committees to make the number serving on each committee conform as closely as possible to the desires of the members. Now, the desires of the members were collected yesterday. They have been tabulated. We have some idea of the members' desires. Obviously there are going to have to be some changes, but this is the goal in mind, to allow every member to serve on the committees on which he would like to serve."

Mr. Schaefer:

"You don't have any idea how many will be serving on each committee? Is that correct?"

Mr. Evans:

"I don't have an approximate number to give you, no."

Mr. Schaefer:

"How long do you think it will be before the House is presented with that?"

Mr. Evans:

"I think it depends to a large extent on how long you want to delay the proceedings this morning. If you would allow us the opportunity of getting a temporary rule in so we know what committees we are working with, we can prepare it. We had hoped to be recessed by about 11:30 so we could go in there and finish this job and present to you tomorrow a final rundown. When the final rules are adopted, it may be desirable to include the number of members in the rule, if this is what the House desires; but if you have delaying tactics like this for the remainder of the day, we obviously can't get the job done."

Mr. Schaefer:

"I don't know how you can say these are delaying tactics. All we want to know is approximately how many people will serve on each committee."

Debate ensued, Representative Perry speaking in favor of adoption of the resolution.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Ackley:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Ackley:

"Mr. Speaker, what proposition is Mr. Perry speaking on? What is before us, Mr. Speaker?"

The Speaker:

"The question is the adoption of the resolution before us."

Mr. Ackley:

"It hasn't been read, Mr. Speaker."

The Speaker:

"The resolution has been received. I am going to rule Mr. Perry's remarks are in order. We have allowed all the speakers great latitude. I think as long as we allow one man to digress—"

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Ackley:

"Point of order, Mr. Speaker. May I state my views on the point of order which I haven't yet expressed?"

The Speaker:

"You will be ruled out of order, Mr. Ackley."

Mr. Ackley:

"My point of order is that there is no motion before us. All the other gentlemen were speaking on the motion which was before us."

The Speaker:

"Mrs. Hurley, in order to satisfy Mr. Ackley, would you move again that the resolution be adopted?"

MOTION

Mrs. Hurley moved that the resolution amending Rule 59 of the temporary rules of the House be adopted.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Ackley:

"Point of order, Mr. Speaker."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order,"

Mr. Ackley:

"The resolution has not been read, Mr. Speaker. It is out of order to move its adoption until it has been read."

The Speaker:

"You interrupted the reading before. If you wish it read, the Clerk will read."

Mrs. Hurley's resolution amending Rule 59 of the temporary rules was read in full.

Mrs. Hurley again moved that the resolution be adopted.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Litchman:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Litchman:

"Am I right in my understanding that we are going to vote immediately on the resolution without consideration of the ten or twelve amendments that are on the desk?"

The Speaker:

"Certainly not."

The Speaker declared the House to be at ease.

"Reverend Clergy, Speaker Day, Chief Justice Ott, members of the Supreme Court, honored state officials, members of the state legislature of the state of Washington, ladies and gentlemen:

"The President, with your permission, should like at this time and on this particular momentous and auspicious occasion to state that he is delighted to be present and to congratulate those of you who have recently been chosen by the people of our lovely state to serve in the legislature of the state of Washington.

"The members of the Senate and the President are happy to visit the House of Representatives in a true spirit of cooperation and understanding. We have been saying that we have been received in the same true spirit.

"It is an ideal time for each of us to recall our duties and obligations to the citizens of the state of Washington. The eminent jurist, Louis Brandeis, once said, 'The greatest progress will perhaps be made if all of us can give larger thought to our duties than to our rights.'

"Perhaps reflection on the words of Justice Louis Brandeis could assist us in properly performing our duties during the 1963 Legislative Session, and, with the help of God, we can succeed in honorably discharging our responsibilities." (Applause.)

The President of the Senate:

"Members of the Legislature, ladies and gentlemen:

"With your permission, the President should like to indulge himself the great pleasure of introducing the lovely and radiant Mrs. Rosellini. Would you please stand in order that we may recognize you?" (Applause.)

The Sergeant at Arms of the House announced the arrival of Governor Albert D. Rosellini at the bar of the House, and the President instructed the committee to escort him to a seat on the rostrum. (Applause.)

The President of the Senate:

"Members of the Legislature, ladies and gentlemen:

"The President again with your permission should like to present a number of honored and invited guests. The President is sorry to announce that he joins with that vast group of honorable public servants who have in previous times been cut off from the microphone. We are having difficulty at this particular time with the microphone.

"First, would Insurance Commissioner Kueckelhan please stand?" (Applause.)

"And Commissioner Cole." (Applause.)

"Superintendent of Public Instruction Bruno." (Applause.)

"State Auditor Yelle." (Applause.)

"And my fraternity brother, the Honorable Tom Martin, State Treasurer." (Applause.)

"And over to the left, certainly as handsome and fine a group of jurists as you will find in the land:

"Chief Justice Ott, would you please stand?" (Applause)

"Justice Donworth." (Applause.)

"Justice Finley." (Applause.)

"Justice Rosellini." (Applause.)

"And with your indulgence for a moment, the President takes exceptional pride in presenting the newest, if not the youngest member of the Court, a former classmate at the University of Washington, Justice Hale." (Applause.)

"Justice Hunter." (Applause.)

"And Justice Hamilton." (Applause.)

"Were this a football game, the President would know how to stall out five minutes, but in lieu of that, the members of the Joint Session will please be at ease for approximately five minutes."

The President of the Senate called the Joint Session to order.

MOTION

Representative Hurley moved that the rules be suspended and that the Joint Session reconvene in the Senate chamber, because of the failure of the House public address system.

The motion was carried.

The President of the Senate instructed the committees of honor to escort Governor Rosellini, the Supreme Court Justices, and the elected state officials to the Senate chamber.

The President declared the Joint Session to be at ease for the purpose of retiring to the Senate chamber.

"Members of the Joint Session and ladies and gentlemen:

"Governor Rosellini, Speaker Day and the President wish to express our appreciation to you for your patience, your understanding, and your remarkably good sense of humor. One consoling feature of this particular situation is, today we are all joined in making history in the state of Washington. This is the first time in history that a Joint Session of the Washington Legislature has convened in the Senate chamber.

"At this particular time, the occasion for which we have gathered has come. It is with great pride and privilege that the President at this time presents His Excellency, the Honorable Albert D. Rosellini, Governor of the State of Washington." (Applause.)

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. Schaefer:

"Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask a question of the House. How can we refer these to committees that don't exist?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Schaefer, we are operating under the assumption that there will be committees such as these."

Mr. Schaefer:

"Mr. Speaker, I would think they would have to be assigned to the committees that exist under our temporary rules which we adopted the first day. If there are new committees formed, then they can be transferred to the new committees of the House."

The Speaker:

"We didn't expect to be delayed. We thought we were going to adopt the resolution."

Mr. Schaefer:

"We thought the number on each committee would be set forth in the resolution."

POINT OF ORDER

The Speaker recognized Mr. Copeland.

Mr. Copeland:

"Mr. Speaker, I would remind Mr. Schaefer that at the last session of the legislature, bills were referred to committee on the second and third days and it was not until the fourth day that the resolution for amendment to the temporary rules was adopted, so I think it is entirely within the province of the Speaker to assign those to committee at this time."

POINT OF ORDER

The Speaker recognized Mr. Schaefer.

Mr. Schaefer:

"Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask that you make a ruling, if you would, please, whether bills can be assigned to committees that don't exist."

RULING OF THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"The answer, Mr. Schaefer, in order to expedite House business, is that if these committees are not the committees which are adopted when we adopt our rules, the Speaker will reassign the bills to the proper committee."

INTRODUCTION AND FIRST READING OF BILLS, MEMORIALS, AND RESOLUTIONSHouse Bill No. 16, by Representative Mundy:

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The Speaker recognized Mr. Garrett.

Mr. Garrett:

"Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the House, I have a statement here I would like to read into the journal."

POSITION OF THE DEMOCRATIC MINORITY CAUCUS

The Republican Party by its irresponsible action in the election of a coalition Speaker of the House of Representatives has, and must accept, the responsibility for this session of the Legislature. The Republicans have, by their action, made the people of the State of Washington the unfortunate victims of a purely selfish partisan political maneuver. They have placed their own partisan interests ahead of the welfare of the state, and have made it impossible for the House of Representatives to function effectively this session. This is a typical example of the type of leadership that can be expected from the Republican Party.

The Democratic Party has been forced to accept the position of the minority party in the House of Representatives this session. In accepting our responsibilities as the Minority Party, we have elected John L. O'Brien as Minority Floor Leader and Keith H. Campbell as Minority Floor Whip. We pledge ourselves to do our utmost in carrying out the constructive and sound programs of the Democratic Party and in fulfilling our responsibility to the citizens of the State of Washington.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The Speaker recognized Mr. Evans:

Mr. Evans:

"Mr. Speaker, I don't think it is necessary and I don't intend to make any type of rebuttal. I think the action of the members on the floor the remainder of the session will determine whether the action was proper or not. We are not afraid to take our portion of the responsibility. I think we must remind all the members of the House that there are still fifty-one Democrats and forty-eight Republicans here. Maybe there are two minority parties; I don't know, but I do think there is a group willing to run a moderate House and to do it well. We ask the cooperation of all members of the House in order to organize and proceed with our business. I think we should leave to the remaining fifty-seven days of this legislature to determine whether the action was advisable or not."

Mr. Garrett moved the adoption of the following amendment to Mrs. Hurley's resolution:

On line 24 of the proposed amendment, after "Utilities" and before "and" insert "Aviation,"

Debate ensued, Representatives Garrett and Perry speaking in favor of the amendment.

Mr. Witherbee demanded an oral roll call, and the demand was sustained.

The Clerk called the roll, and the amendment was adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 95; nays, 3; absent or not voting, 1.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Ackley, Adams, Ahlquist, Anderson (Eric O.), Backstrom, Beck, Beierlein, Berentson, Bergh, Bigley, Bozarth, Brachtenbach, Braun, Brouillet, Burtch, Campbell, Canfield, Chatalas, Clark, Comfort, Conner, Copeland, DeJarnatt, Dootson, Earley, Eberle, Eldridge, Evans, Flanagan, Folsom, Gallagher, Garrett, Gleason, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Grant, Hadley, Harris, Haussler, Hawley, Henry, Herr, Hood, Hurley, Johnston, Jolly, Juelling, King, Kink, Kirk, Klein, Leland, Lind, Litchman, Lybecker, Lynch, Mahaffey, Mast, May, McCaffree, McCormick, McDougall, McElroy, McFadden, Miles, Moon, Moos, Morphis, Morrissey, Mundy, Newschwander, O'Brien, O'Connell, Odell, O'Donnell, Olsen, Perry, Pritchard, Reese, Rogers, Rosenberg, Savage, Sawyer, Schaefer, Siler, Smith, Swayze, Taylor, Uhlman, Wang, Wedekind, Wintler, Witherbee, Young, Mr. Speaker—95.

Those voting nay were: Representatives Andersen (James A.), Lewis, Metcalf—3.

Those absent or not voting were: Representative Huntley—1.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The Speaker recognized Mr. Hood.

Mr. Hood:

"Mr. Speaker, yesterday there were some very interesting and impassioned speeches made on the floor in which some interesting claims were made as to the progress of the House and its members. One particular statement was the great progress in bringing to this body the electric tote board (electric roll call). I am just a friendly banker who likes to get along with people, and I see that none of our freshmen have had one chance to grow in this legislature and learn how to use the tote board. If we are going to be flexible and fair, couldn't we please teach our freshmen how to use the tote board?"

Mr. Bozarth moved the adoption of the following amendment to the resolution by Mrs. Hurley:

On line 9 of the proposed amendment, following "Agriculture" insert "and Livestock"

Debate ensued, Representatives Bozarth and Perry speaking in favor of the amendment.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Litchman:

"Mr. Speaker, I wonder if Mr. Evans would yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Will Mr. Evans yield to question?"

Mr. Evans:

"Yes, I yield."

Mr. Litchman:

"Mr. Evans, do you concur in Mr. Perry's remarks?"

Mr. Evans:

"Mr. Perry's remarks? I think that if the people on the Agriculture Committee really want the words "and Livestock" on there, I don't think it is a vital amendment, but I think we are prepared to accept it."

Mr. Litchman:

"We can rely on that in asking for a voice call rather than an oral call?"

Mr. Evans:

"What difference does it make whether you have an oral call of the House or a division? The result is the same. I think we should expedite the business of the House, and I don't think it is proper to question every member of this House as to how they are going to vote beforehand. I have told you I think this is probably an amendment we can go for."

Mr. Witherbee demanded an oral roll call, and the demand was sustained. The Clerk called the roll.

POINT OF ORDER

The Speaker recognized Mrs. Henry.

Mrs. Henry:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mrs. Henry:

"I believe the Clerk has proceeded past one member who is not present in the chamber at this time. Mr. Gallagher did not answer the roll call."

The Speaker:

"Will the Sergeant at Arms bring in Mr. Gallagher?"

Mr. Gallagher returned to the chamber and the Clerk proceeded with the roll call.

Mr. Bozarth's amendment to the resolution by Mrs. Hurley was adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 96; nays, 2; absent or not voting, 1.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Ackley, Adams, Ahlquist, Anderson (Eric O.), Backstrom, Beck, Beierlein, Berentson, Bergh, Bigley, Bozarth, Brachtenbach, Braun, Brouillet, Burtch, Campbell, Canfield, Chatalas, Clark, Comfort, Conner, Copeland, DeJarnatt, Dootson, Earley, Eberle, Eldridge, Evans, Flanagan, Folsom, Gallagher, Garrett, Gleason, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Grant, Hadley, Harris, Haussler, Hawley, Henry, Herr, Hood, Hurley, Johnston, Jolly, Jueling, King, Kink, Kirk, Klein, Leland, Lind, Litchman, Lybecker, Lynch, Mahaffey, Mast, May, McCaffree, McCormick, McDougall, McElroy, McFadden, Metcalf, Miles, Moon, Moos, Morphis, Morrissey, Mundy, Newschwander, O'Brien, O'Connell, Odell, O'Donnell, Olsen, Perry, Pritchard, Reese, Rogers, Rosenberg, Savage, Sawyer, Schaefer, Siler, Smith, Swayze, Taylor, Uhlman, Wang, Wedekind, Wintler, Witherbee, Young, Mr. Speaker—96.

Those absent or not voting were: Representative Huntley—1.

Mr. Haussler:

"Members of the House, ladies and gentlemen, Mr. Speaker:

"The apples which are on your desk this morning are distributed with the compliments of Representative Bozarth and myself, the Cooperative Growers of Okanogan, and the cattlemen of Okanogan. I would like to draw your attention to the beautiful red color of the Okanogan-grown apples, the enticing aroma of the Okanogan-grown apples, and the delicious taste of the Okanogan-grown apples. In no other place but the sun-kissed valleys of Okanogan can apples like these be grown."

The Speaker recognized Mr. Clark.

Mr. Clark:

"We certainly appreciate these nice apples that come from central Washington. I assure you they are all right to eat. They won't hurt you and they are very good, but I would like to point out that had they come from the very beautiful valley of Yakima, they would be a little better and a little bit nicer. Thank you."

The Speaker recognized Mr. Chatalas.

Mr. Chatalas:

"Mr. Speaker, I come from Missouri and I would like to find that out, Mr. Clark."

The Speaker recognized Mr. Savage.

Mr. Savage:

"Ladies and gentlemen, I would like to say that we are very appreciative of these apples and they certainly are evidence for themselves, but when it comes to cattlemen, we think that steaks would be better proof of what the cattle amount to in Okanogan."

The Speaker recognized Mr. Bozarth.

Mr. Bozarth:

"Mr. Speaker, for the benefit of the Yakima people, these are not 'C' grade."

Mr. Schaefer moved the adoption of the following amendment to the resolution by Mrs. Hurley:

On line 10 of the proposed amendment, strike all of line 10 and insert "Banks, Financial Institutions, and Insurance."

The motion was lost, and the amendment was not adopted.

Mrs. Henry moved the adoption of the following amendment to the resolution by Mrs. Hurley:

Lewis, Lind, Lybecker, Lynch, Mahaffey, Mast, McCaffree, McCormick, McDougall, McElroy, Metcalf, Miles, Moos, Morphis, Morrissey, Newschwander, Odell, Perry, Pritchard, Reese, Siler, Swayze, Wang, Wintler, Young, Mr. Speaker—54.

Those absent or not voting were: Representative Huntley—1.

POINT OF INFORMATION

The Speaker recognized Mr. Wedekind.

Mr. Wedekind:

"I have been informed that the electric tote board is not working. Am I correct?"

The Speaker:

"The electric tote board works. However, the roll call forms necessary for its function at the present moment are not here. They will be here tomorrow."

Mr. Wedekind:

"It is not functioning at this time?"

The Speaker:

"No."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Mundy:

"I rise to a point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. Mundy:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Ladies and gentlemen of the House, in behalf of the Washington State sugar industry and the Washington State beet growers, there has been a small package placed on your desk this morning to give you a little sweetness in your day. This industry of ours is growing rapidly. In 1962, the total tonnage in the State of Washington was 1,310,000 tons. The total sugar produced in our state was 345,000,000 pounds produced last year. The return to the farmers was over $20 million. This is a $30 million industry of our state. The lime rock, the natural gas, transportation, and the total taxes paid, including federal taxes in our state, by this particular industry amounts to $2,250,000 annually. I hope that this small token and package that is on your desk this morning will sweeten your day for you. It is real sweet, I assure you."

SPEAKER'S PRIVILEGE

The Speaker observed in the south gallery the ninth grade Washington history class from the Sunset Junior High School, Highline No. 401, with their teachers, A. A. Marinaro and Ira Loree, and asked them to stand and be recognized.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The Speaker recognized Mr. Canfield.

Mr. Canfield:

"Mr. Speaker, since the Yakima valley has a parent plant of the Utah and Idaho Sugar Company, I would like to concur with Mr. Mundy's remarks. They were very sweet indeed."

Mr. Burtch moved the adoption of the following amendment to the resolution by Mrs. Hurley:

After line 12, insert a new line 13 as follows: "13 5 Claims, Auditing, and Printing". Renumber line 13 to read "14" and under "No. of Committee" strike "5" and insert "6" and renumber the remaining lines consecutively.

Those absent or not voting were: Representative Huntley—1.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Rosenberg:

"Mr. Speaker, point of parliamentary inquiry."

The Speaker:

"State your point."

Mr. Rosenberg:

"I am a little new here. I wanted to clarify, though I haven't seen anyone standing up on the floor after the demand for oral roll call, whether it is true that the demand for an oral roll call shuts off debate?"

The Speaker:

"No, Mr. Rosenberg, it does not cut off debate."

Mr. Witherbee moved the adoption of the following amendment to the resolution by Mrs. Hurley:

On line 18, after the word "Insurance" insert a comma and the words "Social Security, and Public Assistance".

Debate ensued, Representatives Chatalas, Savage, Witherbee, Olsen, and Burtch speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Ackley:

"My point is similar to that raised by Mr. Burtch. I wish to ask Representative Miles if he would yield to question."

The Speaker:

"Will Representative Miles yield to question?"

Mr. Miles:

"No."

The Speaker:

"He will not yield."

Further debate ensued, Representative Ackley speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment and Representative Perry speaking against its adoption.

Mr. Litchman moved the adoption of the following amendment to the resolution by Mrs. Hurley:

On line 25 of the proposed resolution, after "Order" add ", composed of 23 members"

Debate ensued, Representative Litchman speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Perry:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Perry:

"I believe Mr. Litchman asked for permission of the House to read an article. I don't know how the House would be disposed to grant such permission."

MOTION

Mr. Witherbee moved that Mr. Litchman be permitted to read the article. The motion was lost on a rising vote.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Litchman:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Litchman:

"In regard to a standing call or oral call under the call of the House, is it not true that each member must register his vote? As I recall, there are 98 present, and according to the Clerk only 94 or 95 apparently stood up. Consequently we are not complying, are we, with the rules under the call of the House?"

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"On a rising vote, there is no way of knowing, unless the names are called, whether every individual is standing by his desk."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Litchman:

"Point of order, Mr. Speaker."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Litchman:

"In regard to the same point of order, I believe the reading clerk indicated less than 98 members answered the roll call. When we first came under call, there were 98 members present. How could this be a true and effective roll call if everyone does not answer?"

The Speaker:

"There was no roll call. It was a division of the House."

Mr. Litchman:

"You are ruling that under a division of the House where no roll call is demanded, five or six might answer and this would constitute a proper division?"

The Speaker:

"The Chair would have no way of knowing unless there were a proper roll call."

POINT OF ORDER

The Speaker recognized Mr. Perry.

Mr. Perry:

"I would like to point out that Reed's Rules of Order indicates that on a voice vote members are considered present if they do not answer."

Representative Litchman continued his remarks in favor of the adoption of his amendment to the resolution by Mrs. Hurley.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. McCormick:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. McCormick:

"Under Rule 35 no member may speak longer than ten minutes without the consent of the House. I am sure Mr. Litchman has spoken longer than that."

The Speaker:

"Your point is well taken, Mr. McCormick. Mr. Litchman, I think you should have a minute, though, to close your remarks."

The Speaker recognized Mr. Olsen.

Mr. Olsen:

"I yield my time to Mr. Litchman."

The Speaker:

"Mr. Olsen, there is no provision for yielding time to a member."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. O'Brien:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order, Mr. O'Brien."

Mr. O'Brien:

"I didn't intend to get into this, but, Mr. Speaker, I am sure you know that the established precedent in this House over the years has been that when one member wishes to grant his time to another, we have always granted it. The precedent has been fully established here, and I think if you make such a decision, that Mr. Olsen can't grant his time to Mr. Litchman, you are being arbitrary and capricious in this matter. I think it is unfair, because over the years we have always granted this, and Mr. Holcomb knows this full well. Anyone can yield his time to another person; we recognize this as a prerogative of our membership. Certainly we shouldn't start this session by being arbitrary in this matter after we have been so kind in the past."

The Speaker:

"It is true, Mr. O'Brien, that when you were Speaker, you did allow this. However, it is not in the rules. And I make the decision, not Mr. Holcomb. Continue, Mr. Litchman."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Moon:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Moon:

"I would like to bring to the attention of the Speaker Rule 48, which says:

'Every member who was in the house when the question was put shall give his vote unless the house for special reasons shall excuse him.

'All motions to excuse a member shall be made before the house divides or before the call for yeas and nays is commenced; and any member requesting to be excused from voting may make a brief and verbal statement of the reasons for making such request, and the questions shall then be taken without further debate.' "

The Speaker:

"For what reason do you raise the point of order, Mr. Moon?"

Mr. Moon:

"This is on your previous ruling, Mr. Speaker. I tried to gain recognition at that time but wasn't able to."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"That rule provides for a roll call, but of course there is no way, unless there is a roll call, to determine that everyone is or is not at his seat."

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. Litchman:

"Mr. Speaker, I would like to inquire whether you are ruling in accordance with Rule 35 that I can't go on and speak for another ten minutes, inasmuch as Mr. Olsen has yielded his time, or is it your position you are giving me one more minute?"

The Speaker:

"The House can give you permission to continue. It is the desire of the House that you should have more time."

Mr. Litchman completed his remarks, after which Representatives Evans and Burtch spoke.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Litchman:

"Mr. Speaker, point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point, Mr. Litchman."

Mr. Litchman:

"I would like to clarify my statement. I was possibly misunderstood by Mr. Evans and other members. When I used the terms, 'sell-out' or 'buy-out' or 'trade,' I am not referring to money necessarily. There are other things beside money, intrinsic things as well as extrinsic things. I know some facts, however, which I don't have to bring to your attention today. I would say offhand, Mr. Evans, that you are undoubtedly correct; that most of you people on the other side of the aisle are members of the Association of Washington Industries and I think possibly they have pretty good control over your party. When I say 'buy-out' or 'sell-out' I am not referring to money. On the other hand, I am aware, of my personal knowledge, that private power entered into this fight. They controlled Olympia, and they spent $35,000 for Mr. Perry and others to get elected two years ago. I understand the amount is in excess of one hundred or two hundred thousand dollars now. Mr. Perry is an employee of private power, directly or indirectly, and has been in their employ for two or three years. So don't kid me who is being bought and who is being sold. The point I wish to make is that the words 'sell' and 'buy' don't necessarily mean money. Most of the time they don't. But the dissident members of my own party who, for their own personal gain—even for a committee chairmanship—are displaying a form of buying and selling legislators. This happens all the time, but when the minority buys the majority and pays no attention to the minority, there is complete anarchy, and I don't like it. I might say, before you people support others like Mr. Perry—he is the only one I know of—I hope you look at his record very thoroughly and look at the record of each and every one of us. I think you will come to the conclusion, Mr. Perry, that you made a serious mistake in coming to the state of Washington. I think you should check his record over a period of ten years and check his record in California.”

MOTION

Mr. Savage moved that the rules be suspended, the House dispense with further business under the call of the House, and the House recess until 4:00 p. m.

The Speaker:

“Do you move that we dispense with the call of the House? That would have to be the first motion, Mr. Savage.”

Mr. Savage:

“I moved first to suspend the rules.”

The Speaker:

“It is not necessary to suspend the rules.”

Mr. Savage:

“I will do that if necessary, but my thought is that if we are not going to adopt the last part of the motion and recess until 4:00 o'clock, I do not wish to lift the call of the House. I think we should agree to both of them, or neither one. That is why I moved to suspend the rules.”

The Speaker:

“The motion to suspend the rules requires a two-thirds vote. Are you aware of that?”

Mr. Savage:

“The whole motion would take two-thirds, but I think everyone would be in favor of lunch.”

The motion was lost.

The Speaker declared the question before the House to be the adoption of Mr. Litchman's amendment to the resolution by Mrs. Hurley.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Ackley:

“Mr. Speaker, would Mr. Evans yield to question?”

The Speaker:

“Does this question pertain to the amendment on the desk?”

Mr. Ackley:

“Yes, it does.”

The Speaker:

“Will Mr. Evans yield?”

Mr. Evans:

“Yes, if it pertains to the amendment.”

Mr. Ackley:

“Yesterday we inquired whether or not you had decided how many members would be on the various committees. You said you had not yet done so, as I recall. My question is now: Can you tell us how many members are to be on the Rules and Order Committee? Has that been decided?”

Mr. Evans:

“Let me say this, that since the question was asked yesterday, changes have been made in several of the committees in order to allow members to serve on the committee of their choice. It has been necessary to increase the numbers of some, and I suspect there are some committees that will have to be reduced because of the desires of the members. I don't think that a firm commitment of the number of members on Rules has been made. We should like to be fair and flexible."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Savage:

"Would the gentleman who just spoke yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield, Mr. Perry?"

Mr. Perry:

"I will yield."

Mr. Savage:

"I was just wondering how, when we have been kept at revising the temporary rules for more than a day, we are ever going to get the regular rules permanently adopted and accomplish anything in the House?"

Mr. Perry:

"Well, Mr. Savage, my answer to that would be that the decision to become dilatory rests with you and Mr. O'Brien. I am sorry to mention any names, but it rests with a group of people in this House and I am sure we all know who they are. When you say, 'How can we do this?' you can rest assured we will do this, believe me."

Mr. Witherbee demanded an oral roll call, and the demand was sustained.

Further debate ensued, Mr. O'Brien speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment.

MOTIONS

Mr. Campbell moved that the House dispense with further business under the call of the House. The motion was lost.

Mr. Beierlein moved that Mr. Campbell be excused from the call of the House. The motion was carried.

Further debate ensued, Mr. Garrett speaking in favor of the adoption of Mr. Litchman's amendment to the resolution by Mrs. Hurley.

The Clerk called the roll, and the amendment was not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 45; nays, 53; absent or not voting, 1.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Ackley, Anderson (Eric O.), Backstrom, Beck, Beierlein, Bergh, Bigley, Bozarth, Braun, Brouillet, Burtch, Campbell, Chatalas, Conner, DeJarnatt, Dootson, Gallagher, Garrett, Gleason, Grant, Haussler, Henry, Herr, Jolly, Klein, Litchman, May, McElroy, McFadden, Moon, Mundy, O'Brien, O'Connell, O'Donnell, Olsen, Rogers, Rosenberg, Savage, Sawyer, Schaefer, Smith, Taylor, Uhlman, Wedekind, Witherbee—45.

Those voting nay were: Representatives Adams, Ahlquist, Andersen (James A.), Berentson, Brachtenbach, Canfield, Clark, Comfort, Copeland, Earley, Eberle, Eldridge, Evans, Flanagan, Folsom, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Hadley, Harris, Hawley, Hood, Hurley, Johnston, Jueling, King, Kink, Kirk, Leland, Lewis, Lind, Lybecker, Lynch, Mahaffey, Mast, McCaffree, McCormick, McDougall, Metcalf, Miles, Moos, Morphis, Morrissey, Newschwander, Odell, Perry, Pritchard, Reese, Siler, Swayze, Wang, Wintler, Young, Mr. Speaker—53.

Those absent or not voting were: Representative Huntley—1.

On motion of Mr. Perry, the House dispensed with further business under the call of the House.

The Speaker declared the question before the House to be the adoption of the resolution by Mrs. Hurley, as amended.

Debate ensued, Representatives Perry and Hurley speaking in favor of adoption of the resolution.

MOTION

On motion of Mr. Perry, the House recessed until 5:00 p. m.

AFTERNOON SESSION

The Speaker called the House to order at 5:00 p. m.

The Clerk called the roll. Representative Huntley, who was absent, was excused.

The House resumed consideration of the resolution by Mrs. Hurley amending Rule 59 of the temporary rules of the House.

Mr. Litchman moved the adoption of the following amendment:

On line 25 of the proposed resolution, after "Order" add " , composed of twenty members"

MOTION

Mr. Perry moved that Mr. Litchman's amendment be tabled without taking the resolution with it.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. O'Brien:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order, Mr. O'Brien."

Mr. O'Brien:

"It appears according to all leading parliamentary authorities, including Reed's, that you cannot lay an amendment on the table without taking the main motion with it. If you lay something on the table, you can't very well consider the main motion while it is on the table, and the custom has been in the House of Representatives, based on Reed's Rules, that it is not right to lay anything on the table according to our present rules, because of the fundamental purpose. If you have a main motion, you can't lay something on the table that the members would like to have considered as a part of the main question."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"Mr. O'Brien, there is a precedent for this type of a motion. Speaker Yantis in 1933 on the 52nd day, page 550: Mr. Healy moved that the amendment be laid on the table without taking the bill with it; the question was put and the body sustained it. Speaker Hodde, whom I am sure many of the people on our side of the aisle revere, made such a ruling. A member moved that the amendment be laid on the table without taking the bill with it; the question was put and the body sustained the motion. So I am going to rule that the motion is in order. I so rule."

Mr. Witherbee demanded an oral roll call, and the demand was sustained.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Ackley:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Ackley:

"My point of order is this. This requires a suspension of the rules. We are operating under temporary rules which are the same rules we used last session. Under the rules we used last session, this point was brought up several times and was not allowed. We have already adopted temporary rules, being the rules of last session. I don't think you can go back to prior sessions for precedent. Since you are using the rules of last session, this would require a two-thirds vote, because it would be a suspension of the rules."

The Speaker:

"Which House rule are you referring to, Mr. Ackley? Are you referring to Rule 12?"

Mr. Ackley:

"Rule 12 requires that a suspension of rules be by two-thirds of the members present."

The Speaker:

"We are not suspending the rule."

Mr. Ackley:

"Am I not correct, Mr. Speaker? Did we not adopt a resolution which said that our temporary rules, until the permanent rules of the thirty-eighth session were adopted, would be the rules of the thirty-seventh session? Is that correct?"

The Speaker:

"This is the thirty-eighth session."

Mr. Ackley:

"Yes, but our temporary rules until we adopt permanent rules for the thirty-eighth session are the rules, permanent rules of the thirty-seventh session. We passed a resolution to that effect."

The Speaker:

"Yes."

Mr. Ackley:

"Under the rules of the thirty-seventh session, there is a provision that unless the House rules show something different than Reed's Rules, or are contradictory to Reed's Rules, then Reed's Rules of order prevail. I refer to section 114 of Reed's Rules, 'To Lay on the Table,' and I will read it, Mr. Speaker, if you like:

"This motion is practically a motion to suspend the consideration of a question during the pleasure of the House. It carries with it all questions connected with the special question on which it is moved. If it be moved on the main question, then all amendments go with it; if moved on the amendment, then the main question goes on the table also. This is upon the very solid ground that you can not go on with an amendment when the main subject is no longer before the House, and can not go on with the main question when there exist amendments liable to be called up at the pleasure of the House. When a question laid upon the table is again called up, it comes up before the assembly precisely as it was prior to the motion to lay it on the table, with all the amendments and motions then pending; but the motion to take from the table is not a privileged motion."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"Mr. Ackley, the established precedent of this House in a number of sessions other than the two that I have named here say that the motion is in order. I am going to rule that the motion is in order."

POINT OF ORDER

The Speaker recognized Mr. Ackley.

Mr. Ackley:

"Mr. Speaker, may I make this point, which I am not sure the Speaker understood. Perhaps I didn't express it clearly enough. It is that regardless of precedent of other years, under the precedent of the 1961 session, the thirty-seventh session of the legislature, and under the rules that were established at that time as were put in force by Mr. O'Brien—and he made rulings on this precise point—this was not allowed. We were then operating under those rules. We are today operating under the same rules by virtue of the fact that we have already passed a resolution saying that the temporary rules of this session, which we are operating under today, are the same rules that we operated under during the 1961 session, and unless you have some precedent during that session, I think that your ruling is entirely incorrect."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"I think it is within the prerogative of the Speaker to rule differently from the previous Speaker with the same evidence at hand. I am still going to rule the motion is in order."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Savage:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Savage:

"The right motion to suppress an amendment is the motion to postpone indefinitely, which is a debatable motion and can be done with a majority, but the motion to table is a privileged motion without debate. It is a killing motion without debate and really requires a two-thirds vote, and if you are going to kill the amendment, the right motion is to postpone indefinitely so people can talk about it and explain it before it is killed. That is the difference in the two motions. This is a very important difference because the motion to postpone indefinitely leaves us the opportunity to debate and only takes a majority."

The Speaker:

"The Speaker is well aware of that. However, one of the reasons for making this motion on the basis of previous precedent is that it will expedite the business at hand in this House."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Schaefer:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point."

Mr. Schaefer:

"Under the House rules of the 1961 session, Mr. Speaker, it is my understanding that Rule 47, page 310, indicated that the rules of parliamentary practice in Reed's Parliamentary Rules would govern in all cases in which they are not inconsistent with standing rules and orders of this House. I'd like to understand how you would interpret this with your ruling at this time."

The Speaker:

"The Speaker has made his ruling and you may appeal the decision of the Chair if you so desire."

Mr. Olsen demanded a call of the House, and the demand was sustained.

The Sergeant at Arms was instructed to lock the doors.

The Clerk called the roll. Mr. Huntley was absent.

On motion of Mr. Gorton the absent member was excused, and the House proceeded with business under the call of the House.

SPECIAL ORDER OF BUSINESS

Having been made a special order of business to immediately follow the eighth order of business today, the Speaker declared the question before the House to be the adoption of the resolution by Mrs. Hurley to amend Rule 59 of the temporary rules of the House.

Mr. Litchman moved the adoption of the following amendment:

On line 25, after "Order" add ", composed of 20 members"

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Litchman:

"Mr. Speaker, I wonder if Mr. Evans would yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Evans, will you yield to question?"

Mr. Evans:

"Yes, if it's on the amendment."

Mr. Litchman:

"Yes. Mr. Evans, now that you are one of the leaders of the majority, is it your promise to leave the numbers on each committee the same throughout the whole session, especially in regard to Rules?"

Mr. Evans:

"I don't consider myself a leader of the majority. I am the leader of our party. We have forty-eight members in the House. That is as far as it goes. In answer to your question as to the numbers on the committees, I am sure when we get down to the permanent rules, it is up to the body of the House to determine what should be done. I suspect that the best solution is to not put the numbers in this rule, but I am sure that the Speaker and the members of the House would agree that after permanent rules are adopted that part of those permanent rules, I think it is Rule 12—a different rule entirely, should be that the membership of standing committees should not be changed after permanent rules are adopted without the consent of the House, which would fix the number of members on each committee."

Mr. Litchman:

"Is it my understanding then, Mr. Evans, that you would propose this or, if it weren't proposed by you, you would support it?"

Mr. Evans:

"Yes. There is no attempt being made here to try to leave the numbers on each committee so flexible that the Speaker could pack a committee on a moment's notice. All that is being done, as we have tried to point out for a good many hours now, is to adopt a temporary rule which would allow us to appoint members to the various committees. Once that is done, the permanent rule will be proposed and adopted. I am sure one of the proposals for the permanent rules would include this provision, that any changes would be adopted by the House."

Mr. Litchman:

"Also, will you recognize the forty-five or more Democrats who have elected John O'Brien as their minority leader, Keith Campbell as their minority whip, Avery Garrett as caucus leader, and Ann O'Donnell as secretary? Do you recognize this body politic?"

Mr. Evans:

"I only recognize our own caucus. I understand from some of the publicity that you have chosen to form a fourth caucus of your own."

Mr. Litchman:

"I might say I am Speaker of that caucus."

Mr. Evans:

"I suspect you may have a majority of one."

Mr. Litchman:

"Sometimes a majority of one is extremely strong. You haven't answered my question. Do you recognize there is a faction comprised of some forty-five members on this side of the aisle?"

Mr. Evans:

"I recognize there are fifty-one Democrats on the other side of the aisle. I recognize forty-eight Republicans on this side of the aisle. That is the way we were elected. As far as the organization of the House is concerned, as you very well know the Speaker of the House is elected by ninety-nine members. They made that decision on Monday. As for the internal organization of the two political parties, I think that is up to each party. I don't attempt to go into your caucus, and no Democrats have attempted to come into ours. I think that is the way it should be left."

Mr. Litchman:

"Mr. Evans, you will agree there is a coalition type of government here in Olympia, will you not, and that it is made up of the majority of the Republicans with a few Democrats?"

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Moos:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Moos:

"Mr. Speaker, I don't believe we have to have our floor leader cross-examined on the floor by a big city attorney. I believe he should speak on his amendment and keep his remarks to the amendment, so we can proceed here."

The Speaker:

"Mr. Evans doesn't have to answer questions, of course, if he doesn't want to, but I would appreciate, Mr. Litchman, if you would keep your remarks to the amendment."

Debate ensued, Representative Litchman speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Copeland:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Copeland:

"Mr. Litchman is certainly wandering far afield from his amendment in which he attempts to specify the number of people on the Rules Committee. If he, in all good and clear conscience, feels this is a reasonable number, something that is adequate, I think he should debate the merits of the amendment."

YEILDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Litchman:

"I should like to ask Mr. Evans a question. I don't know whether you care to answer or not, Mr. Evans, I think somebody in the House should answer. Regardless of what you give us, for the record, Mr. Evans, will you agree that if the Democrats control this House two years from now, and you are in the minority, will you accept without complaint the same treatment in regard to committees and patronage, the right to caucus and to make decisions, as you have given us? I wonder, Mr. Evans, if you would answer that question, because I think it is an extremely fair one. In other words, if the shoe were on the other foot, what would your position then be? Apparently Mr. Evans doesn't wish to answer the question. Is there any other fearless leader who will answer that very fair question?"

The Speaker:

"Will Mr. Evans yield?"

Mr. Evans:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Litchman, you didn't give me much time to respond. I don't think it is a matter of answering your question. You are posing a very hypothetical question, because we fully expect, as we have done in the last few elections, to gain more members and control the House. I am sure we would be fair and flexible, but it might be much harder if this type of thing keeps going on for the next few days over Saturday and Sunday. As far as the operation of the House is concerned, you know very well that the majority—and this goes back into history a long, long time—the majority makes the decisions. Now, we don't have to go through this temporary rules change. We can appoint committees today on the basis of the existing committee structure. All that is being attempted is a revision based on what we think is a better alignment of committee structure, something that will improve the efficiency of the House and you are attempting to deny the majority the ability to make this reform. Now, if this is what you wish to do, that is fine. We can go ahead and appoint every member to committees throughout the House on the basis of the existing rules. We don't have to be held up. We are just trying to make a reform and you are trying to deny this."

Mr. Litchman concluded his remarks on adoption of the amendment. Further debate ensued, Representatives Perry and Evans speaking against adoption of the amendment, and Representative O'Brien speaking in favor of it.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The Speaker recognized Mr. Garrett.

Mr. Garrett:

"Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the House, I have a resolution that was allowed to by the previous speaker. I would like, with your permission, to read the said resolution."

With the permission of the House, the following resolution adopted by the Democratic caucus was read into the journal:

WHEREAS, The Republican Party, by assuming the control of the organization of the House of Representatives, in consort with a small number of Coalitionists who have bolted their party, is in fact the majority party in this 38th Session of the Legislature; and

WHEREAS, History is replete with clear and convincing evidence of the dangers and defects of coalitionist governments which are founded on factionalism and the attendant deterioration of the legislative process and totally inept and ineffective legislative procedures; and

WHEREAS, The Democratic Party, unified and loyal to its traditions, has assumed the role of the minority party, and with this posture will present its legislative programs and will review the program of the Republican Coalition, and will, as necessity dictates, offer constructive criticisms and suggestions and will support all worthwhile legislation which may be put forth, and continue to offer our own constructive Democratic programs; and

WHEREAS, The Democratic minority is deeply concerned as to the precedent which the Republican Coalition is establishing by not giving equal representation on the important Rules Committee, a precedent which may be long enduring and destructive of the regular legislative processes;

Now, Therefore, We, the undersigned Democratic members of the House of Representatives, comprising the minority party thereof, do hereby subscribe to this pronouncement of position and policy and, ever-mindful of our tremendous responsibility and public trust, do enjoin the majority party comprised of Republicans and Coalitionists to accept this statement with full faith and confidence that we shall, to a man, abide by the principle enunciated herein.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The Speaker recognized Mr. Evans.

Mr. Evans:

"Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the House:

"I don't have much to say in comment on the resolution. I don't think it needs very much comment. Mr. Garrett mentioned the posture of the minority. I would hope that in the previous terms I have served in this House, always as a member of the minority and to this day as a member of the minority party, our posture has not been one of delay and harrassment such as we have seen in the last couple of days. A simple motion was made to allow some reform. This motion has been blocked. I think the full responsibility is on your shoulders for the fact that committee assignments have not been released. It is obvious to everyone sitting in the gallery that committee assignments could have been made much earlier than this. I think the posture of the minority is pretty clear. The reasons for it I must allude to again. Unfortunately, last spring in Bellingham, the radical left of your party tore the party apart, and I hope that the same thing is not happening to our legislature today."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The Speaker recognized Mr. Bergh.

Mr. Bergh:

"I rise to a point of personal privilege. I want the record to read that my signing of the resolution by Mr. Garrett was generally in agreement with it, with the exception of the wording 'have bolted their party'. I did not agree any member of this House had bolted his party. With that one exception, I did, however, endorse the resolution."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The Speaker recognized Mr. Burtch.

Mr. Burtch:

"Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the House:

"I served in the last session as a freshman legislator. At that time the Republican party was the minority party. They were given every consideration by us. They were informed right from the very beginning of the number of committee assignments there would be, how many committee positions they would be given. They were allowed to make their own free choice as to the committee positions they would assign to their members. They were informed all through the organization of the House. They have not given us this same right, this same privilege. So they cannot blame us for the fact that we have had to fight for our rights. They have forced it upon us. As I have said before to the Republican party, it is quite obvious to the citizens of the state of Washington that it has been the Democratic party who has had the constructive programs and has made the state grow. You can look at the Republican platform. It is meaningless and full of generalities. It has always been this way and always will be this way. I make no apology for the Democratic program. I am proud of the things we have done for the state of Washington. I hope the coalition here today will allow us to organize the Democratic group so we can get on with the business of this House and try to do a job for the state of Washington."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The Speaker recognized Mr. Witherbee.

Mr. Witherbee:

"Mr. Speaker I rise to a point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. Witherbee:

"Mr. Speaker, I deeply resent the remarks made on the other side of the aisle that the Democratic party is controlled by the radical left. I think that the people in this House of Representatives on both sides of the aisle are not radical. I think they are good, sound legislators. Certainly we disagree on philosophy, but when a legislator, the majority floor leader, gets up and calls the other party radicals, he is being somewhat irresponsible. I deeply resent the fact that it is being implied that we forty-five Democrats who signed this resolution are radicals. Now, the other day, we were severely criticized because one of our members maybe got a little bit off-base. Well, I deeply resent this. Certainly I am willing to compromise and willing to try to work this thing out. We have tried and we are still willing. I was hopeful that today after some discussions we had cleared the air somewhat and we would stop this name-calling. I am deeply shocked that some of the members on the other side of the aisle who I feel are really responsible legislators would be a party to such a charge."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Ackley:

"Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask Miss Wintler if she would yield to a question?"

The Speaker:

"Does Miss Wintler yield to a question?"

Miss Wintler:

"I do not yield."

Further debate ensued, Representatives Ackley and Klein speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment.

Mrs. Henry demanded an oral roll call, and the demand was sustained.

Further debate ensued, Representative Litchman speaking in behalf of adoption of his amendment.

MOTIONS

On motion of Mrs. Hurley, the House dispensed with further business under the call of the House.

On motion of Mrs. Hurley, the House recessed until 5:00 p. m.

SECOND AFTERNOON SESSION

The Speaker called the House to order at 5:00 p. m.

The Clerk called the roll. Representative Mahaffey, who was excused, was absent.

MOTIONS

Mrs. Hurley moved that the House recess until 8:00 p. m.

Mr. Beck moved to amend the motion to read 12:00 noon, Monday, January 21, 1963.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,
OLYMPIA, WASH., Saturday, January 19, 1963.

The Speaker called the House to order at 11:00 a. m.

The Clerk called the roll. Representative Newschwander, who was excused, was absent.

The flag was escorted to the rostrum by a Sergeant at Arms color guard.

Prayer was offered by the Reverend Walter A. MacArthur of the First Methodist Church of Olympia.

Mr. Witherbee demanded a call of the House, and the demand was sustained.

CALL OF THE HOUSE

The Sergeant at Arms was instructed to lock the doors.

The Clerk called the roll. Representative Newschwander was absent.

On motion of Mr. Moos, the absent member was excused and the House proceeded with business under the call of the House.

The reading clerk proceeded to read the journal of the proceedings of the previous day. Mrs. Hurley moved that further reading be dispensed with and the journal be ordered to stand approved. Mr. Witherbee objected to the journal's not being read.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Ackley:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order, Mr. Ackley."

Mr. Ackley:

"My point of order is that this motion requires a suspension of the rules and, therefore, a two-thirds vote. I cite Rule 10, which gives the order of business, and the second order of business is the reading of the journal of the preceding day."

The Speaker:

"Mr. Ackley, I believe your point is well taken. In order to suspend the reading of the journal, it will take a two-thirds vote."

The motion by Mrs. Hurley was lost on a rising vote. The reading clerk continued with the reading of the journal of the proceedings of the previous day.

On motion of Mr. Witherbee, the rules were suspended, further reading was dispensed with, and the journal was ordered to stand approved.

The Speaker stated the question before the House to be the amendment by Mr. Litchman to the resolution by Mrs. Hurley amending Rule 59 of the temporary rules of the House.

MOTION

On motion of Mr. Perry, consideration of the resolution by Mrs. Hurley was made a special order of business after the eighth order of business today.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

The Speaker recognized Mr. Rogers.

Mr. Rogers:

"Mr. Speaker, is this the proper time, under the fourth order of business, to give notice of the submission of a resolution on a change of the rules, or is it properly done under the eighth order of business, 'Introduction and First Reading of Bills, Memorials, and Resolutions?'"

The Speaker:

"This is the proper time to give notice."

NOTICE OF AMENDMENT TO TEMPORARY RULES

Mr. Rogers:

"In conformance with House Rule No. 12, I hereby give notice that I will move to amend Rule 3 of the temporary House rules as follows:

"Be It Resolved, By the House of Representatives, that Rule 3 be amended as follows:

"Add to subsection (f) the following:

"In appointing the committee members to committees, the Speaker shall name members in the same ratio as the membership of the respective parties in the House. Committee members will be selected by each party's caucus. The majority party caucus will select all committee chairmen.

"Members of the Rules Committee will be selected in the same manner and same ratio as provided above, and the Speaker will serve as chairman of the Rules Committee.

"Interim committee memberships will be elected by the respective caucuses, on a basis of statutory and geographical representation; otherwise, the same ratio between the parties will prevail in the caucus election of interim committee members.

"Patronage will be divided proportionately by the party caucuses, following as closely as possible the ratio between the parties.

"Seating will be on a seniority basis, from front to back, with the members having the longest legislative service entitled to the seats closer to the front."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Rogers:

"Mr. Speaker, point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. Rogers:

"I would like to request that the individual party caucuses, if they desire additional copies of this resolution, obtain them from me. I would like to have them available so they can read them and so they can be considered by the caucuses of each party. I am offering this proposition as a means of finding our way out of the wilderness here in this session. This is a long-range change in our rules which is designed to bring party responsibility to the state of Washington. It is designed to set down some guidelines by which the Speaker can appoint the members of these committees in conformity with the will of the people expressed at the election. I feel very strongly that members of responsibility on both sides of the aisle will give this matter their earnest consideration, and when the proposed rule change comes before this body, they will be ready, willing, and able to vote for the good of the entire state of Washington and for the orderly progress of the legislative process, which seems to be somewhat stalled at the present time."

Resolution by Representatives Garrett, Brouillet, and Copeland:

WHEREAS, It has been the custom for many years that the House of Representatives arrange and pay for a group picture of all members thereof, to be properly mounted and framed, in order that said picture may be hung in the legislative halls; and

WHEREAS, A certain procedure is necessary in order to designate whom the photographer shall be:

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, By the House of Representatives, that the Speaker appoint a committee of three House members to consider and recommend to the House the official photographer for the 38th regular session of the legislature.

On motion of Mr. Brouillet, the resolution was adopted.

APPOINTMENT OF COMMITTEE

Under the provisions of the resolution, the Speaker appointed Representatives Garrett, O'Connell, and Copeland to consider and recommend the official photographer for the Thirty-eighth session of the legislature.

SPECIAL ORDER OF BUSINESS

Consideration of the resolution amending Rule 59 of the temporary rules by Mrs. Hurley having been made a special order of business immediately following the eighth order of business, the Speaker announced that the question before the House was the amendment by Mr. Litchman to line 25 of the resolution by Mrs. Hurley.

MOTIONS

On motion of Mr. Kink, the House dispensed with further business under the call of the House.

On motion of Mr. Perry, the House recessed until 2:00 p. m.

AFTERNOON SESSION

The Speaker called the House to order at 2:00 p. m.

The Clerk called the roll. Representative Wang, who was excused, was absent.

MOTION

On motion of Mr. Perry, the House recessed until 3:00 p. m.

SECOND AFTERNOON SESSION

The Speaker called the House to order at 3:00 p. m.

The Clerk called the roll. Representative Uhlman, and Representative Wang who was excused, were absent.

SPEAKER'S PRIVILEGE

The Speaker observed within the bar of the House former State Representatives Clayton Farrington and Wilbur H. Hendershot of Thurston County, and appointed Representatives Schaefer and Sawyer to conduct them to a seat on the rostrum beside the Speaker.

The Speaker observed within the bar of the House former State Representative Ernest R. Leber of Pacific and Grays Harbor counties and appointed Representatives King and Burch to conduct him to a seat on the rostrum beside the Speaker.

The House was declared to be at ease.

The Speaker called the House to order.

The Speaker declared the question before the House to be the adoption of the amendment by Mr. Litchman to the resolution amending Rule 59 of the temporary rules of the House by Mrs. Hurley.

The Speaker recognized Mr. Gorton.

Mr. Gorton:

"Mr. Speaker, I have examined all the amendments on the desk to the resolution by Mrs. Hurley, and I find that they are frivolous, dilatory, and useless in nature and impeding the organization of this House."

On motion of Mr. Perry, all amendments to the resolution by Mrs. Hurley in the possession of the Chief Clerk were tabled without taking the resolution with them.

STATEMENTS FOR THE JOURNAL

As soon as Mr. Perry made his motion to table the amendments I stood and requested recognition for the purpose of demanding an oral roll call, but the Speaker refused to recognize me.

C. G. WITHERBEE
31st District

Before the voice vote on Mr. Perry's motion to table all the amendments on the desk, without taking the amendment to House Rule 59 with them, I was on my feet, for the purpose of calling for a point of order. If I had been recognized for this purpose, I would have asked for the rule by which the Speaker had made his ruling, and would have then referred to House Rule 47 and House Rule 12.

MILDRED E. HENRY
17th District

As soon as Mr. Perry made his motion to table all of the amendments to Representative Hurley's resolution which were in the possession of the Chief Clerk, I was on my feet calling for recognition to make the following points of order: That such a motion was out of order because it would require a suspension of the rules and a two-thirds vote. This motion did not have a two-thirds vote and was passed contrary to the rules of this House as adopted by the coalition group in control; further, that such a motion was out of order in that, by the rules, a motion to lay an amendment on the table carries the main resolution with it unless the rules are suspended; that although I was on my feet clearly seeking recognition, I was ignored completely by the Speaker contrary to my constitutional rights as a duly elected member of this legislature; that I continued standing on my feet seeking recognition during the time that Mr. Perry made a subsequent motion to adopt Mrs. Hurley's resolution and Mr. Moos made a motion to adjourn. Despite this I was never recognized by the Speaker. The previous question had never been called for.

At the time of Mr. Perry's motion to table all the amendments to Mrs. Hurley's resolution, I had two amendments on the Clerk's desk which had never been read by the reading clerk and were not before the House.

Furthermore, as soon as Mr. Perry made his motion, I stood and demanded recognition for the purpose of demanding a roll call vote, but the Speaker refused to recognize me.

After the vote on Mr. Perry's motion and before the result was announced, I demanded a division. This demand was ignored by the Speaker.

NORMAN B. ACKLEY
31st District

The Speaker declared the question before the House to be the adoption of the resolution by Mrs. Hurley amending Rule 59.

The resolution was adopted.

STATEMENTS FOR THE JOURNAL

Just before the final vote on the motion for adoption of the resolution by Mrs. Hurley I stood and requested recognition for the purpose of demanding an oral roll call, but the Speaker refused to recognize me.

C. G. WITHERBEE

Just before the final vote on the adoption of the resolution by Mrs. Hurley amending House Rule 59, I stood and called for recognition for the purpose of demanding a roll call vote. The Speaker refused to recognize me. The previous question had never been called for.

After the vote had been taken on the final passage of Mrs. Hurley's resolution amending House Rule 59, and before the result of the oral vote had been announced, I demanded a division. The Speaker ignored my demand.

WILLIAM S. DAY, Speaker.

EIGHTH DAY

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,
OLYMPIA, WASH., Monday, January 21, 1963.

The Speaker called the House to order at 12:00 noon.

The Clerk called the roll and all members were present.

The flag was escorted to the rostrum by a Sergeant at Arms color guard.

Prayer was offered by the Reverend Arthur Anderson of the Gloria Dei Lutheran Church of Olympia.

MOTION

On motion of Mr. Perry, the reading of the journal of the previous day was made a special order of business following the eighth order of business today.

SPEAKER'S PRIVILEGE

The Speaker observed in the south gallery seventy school children from Cle Elum with their teachers, Mr. Woolly, Mr. Finnegan, and Mrs. Young, and asked them to stand and be recognized.

PETITIONS, MEMORIALS AND REMONSTRANCES

Remonstrance to the Legislature, by Representatives Ackley, Garrett, and Burtch:

Civilized men live by their laws, by the constitutions, statutes, and rules of order which they have developed over long periods of history to assure that all men receive equal and constant protection from arbitrary, capricious, and unfair actions of mobs or despots.

Those who, for temporary expediency, flaunt the law must therefore reject civilization, decency, order, and respect.

On the sixth day of the Thirty-eighth Session of the Legislature of the State of Washington this House of Representatives, whose members should show by example and precept their dedication to the maintenance of a government of laws and an allegiance to the Constitution they have sworn to uphold, violated the Constitution of the State of Washington, rejected its own House Rules, and rode roughshod over the indisputable rights of the members of the Minority Democratic Party.

Specifically, this House, through its Speaker, violated Article II, Section 21, of the State Constitution which requires that the yeas and nays of the members be entered on the journal on the demand of one-sixth of the members. This constitutional right can only be accorded by the Speaker's recognition of a member who seeks to invoke it. The Speaker's deliberate refusal to recognize the many members of the minority party who, prior to the vote on Mr. Perry's motions to table the amendments and to adopt the Resolution by Mrs. Hurley, demanded recognition in order to invoke this constitutional right, was an open violation of the Constitution. The guilt for the Speaker's unlawful actions must be shared equally by all the members of the coalition who upheld them.

Mr. Gorton's statement that all of the amendments were frivolous was palpably untrue. Most of the amendments were offered to specify the number of members to serve on the standing committees. This has been done in every previous Session of this House. Can it be honestly said that such long-established procedures and precedents are frivolous?

Further, Mr. Perry's motion to table the amendments without taking the resolution with them was contrary to the Rules of this House and to the rules of every legislative body in this nation. Had his motion been limited to the amendment under consideration it would only have been contrary to Reed's Parliamentary Rule 114, which, by virtue of House Rule 47, is determinative of the question. However, the motion was to lay on the table all of the amendments on the desk. This included more than thirty amendments which had not yet been read and were not before the House, and could not, by any imaginable stretching of any parliamentary rules ever devised, be acted upon by the body. The kindest thing that can be said about this motion is that it must have required a suspension of the rules and could not be passed except by a two-thirds vote which it did not receive.

Further, the House, acting through its Speaker, refused to recognize the many members of the minority party who were seeking recognition to state the obvious points of order; to debate the issues raised by the motion before debate was closed by a two-thirds vote for the previous question, as required by House Rule 41; to demand a roll call vote, and to demand a call of the House.

A division was called for, loud and clear, prior to the announcement of the results of the votes on both motions, but the Speaker refused to put the division before the body, contrary to House Rule 50. The Resolution was adopted on final passage by voice vote contrary to House Rule 49, which requires a record vote of the yeas and nays on final passage.

In short, the entire Rule Book was thrown out the window, and mob rule prevailed within this legislative hall, designed as it was to house a civilized, orderly, deliberative body. The coalition, composed of men whose duty it is to make laws which govern all the citizens of this state, ruthlessly crushed the rules which they had made to govern their own conduct.

The fact that these actions were planned and practiced in advance as a part of a secret conspiracy compounds the treachery.

Such anarchy, such wholesale violations of our Constitution and rules, such total disregard for the rights of the minority, cannot be permitted to continue during the remainder of this legislative session and will not be permitted to continue.

A record will be kept of each violation of the rules of this House and of each violation of the Constitution of this State if any hereafter occur, and the legality of any actions which may be taken as the result of any improper procedure here, may be subjected to court review either during the legislative session or thereafter.

Let us now, in honor and order, proceed to accomplish the business of this House.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Ackley:

"Mr. Speaker, I request that the remonstrance be included in the journal."

The Speaker:

"It shall be so ordered. That is a part of the order of business in any event."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The Speaker recognized Mr. Litchman.

Mr. Litchman:

"I rise to a point of personal privilege, Mr. Speaker. I have some personal remarks for the record. I wonder if I could include them at a later time. I have them in writing and I would like to have them included in the journal."

The Speaker:

"I believe that will be all right."

STATEMENT FOR THE JOURNAL

I understand committee assignments have been made. If the events of last Saturday ever occur again, I wish to point out that I will not attend any committee meetings nor accept any committee assignments. It is my intention if dictatorial action prevails, to boycott the results of the Resolution passed last Saturday.

I speak now as an attorney, as an individual Democrat, and as a fellow human being. I cannot speak for my Democratic Party as I have not been so delegated.

I will boycott committee meetings if rule and order does not prevail. To attend them would be to condone the events of last Saturday wherein the majority Republican Party violated the laws of our state, the Constitution of our state, some sixteen points of parliamentary procedure of Reeds and our House Rules by adopting the committee selection Resolution by use of dictatorial methods.

The Republican Party should be severely condemned for taking part in such dictatorial action in complete defiance to the Constitution of our State, Article II, Section 21 and Section 9.

We legislators expect the citizens of our state to obey the laws we pass; why cannot we then observe our own laws?

The dictatorial methods used last Saturday by the Republican Party is an affront to this body politic.

I further give notice that at sometime in the future, if dictatorial action prevails, I will move to set aside every bill, law, or resolution that passes this legislature unless—

The Majority Republican Party apologizes publicly for its dictatorial actions and indicates to this House of Representatives that such action shall not reoccur again and that they will obey our Rules and the Constitution of our Sovereign State of Washington.

My dear friends on the other side of the aisle, I treasure my eight years of service with each and every one of you. We have our political differences, but I respect each and every one of you. I know you to be men and women of honesty and integrity. I beseech you, each and every one of you, to get your Party, the Republican Party, to apologize, not to the Democratic Party but to this House of Representatives, and to state further that you will abide by our own rules and laws of our state.

As an attorney and fellow human being, I deplore totalitarianism and dictatorial forms of government such as Hitler's Germany, Mussolini's Italy, Castro's Cuba, and others. I am sure you agree. Let us not, for the sake of power, try to use the ends to justify the means. The Republican Party could have, by use of Rule 32 and Reeds, cut off debate and eliminated further delay. We Democrats were fighting for fair treatment, such as we have afforded you in the past.

I am sure that the Republican Party members were worn out and forlorn last Saturday. There is not one of you whom I personally know that advocates dictatorial control or advocates violation of our laws and Constitution. On reflection, I am sure that there is not one of you who condones the means used by passing the resolution pertaining to committee assignments.

I do hope and pray that the Republican Party will reconsider their action of Saturday last. I therefore beseech all of you that if dictatorial action prevails, to boycott our committee assignments until such time as the Republican Party apologizes to the House and indicates to the rest of us that this type of dictatorial action will never occur again.

I further urge that we now dismiss any prior misunderstandings and attend to the business of the House. Democracy must remain resolute!

Thank you.

FIRST READING OF SENATE BILLS

The following was read first time by title and acted upon as indicated:

Senate Bill No. 77, by Senators Foley and Dore:

An Act relating to the expenses and costs of the legislature; making appropriations therefor, and declaring an emergency.

On motion of Mrs. Hurley, the rules were suspended and Senate Bill No. 77 was advanced to second reading and read the second time in full.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Rogers:

"Mr. Speaker, I would like to address a question to Representative Evans, if I may, please."

The Speaker:

"Will Representative Evans yield to question?"

Mr. Evans:

"Yes."

Mr. Rogers:

"This is the bill passed by the Senate, as I understand it, and I do not find it in my book. However, that is perfectly all right. I would like to know, and I think the other members of the body would like to know, how these sums compare with the sums appropriated by the last legislature for its operation. I think this rather important."

Mr. Evans:

"Well, I think the proper time for discussion of that would be on third reading. I think, in answer to your question, if you feel it is more important to discuss it now, I would yield to my compatriot, Mr. Canfield, who I think has the figures."

Mr. Rogers:

"Mr. Speaker, it seems to me we must decide this on second reading if we wish to keep possible our right of amendment on second reading. If it goes to third reading and is simply discussed and then someone would wish to offer an amendment, we would have to suspend the rules to revert back to second reading. Now, I was particularly hopeful we could have discussion of these amounts now as to how they compare. I know personally that the voters told me something on November 6. I want to know if we are spending more money than we did two years ago."

The Speaker recognized Mr. Canfield.

Mr. Canfield:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Ladies and gentlemen, particularly Mr. Rogers:

"It is a little difficult to lay down the exact dollar figure. We are not absolutely sure about the dollar figure, but here is the important thing. We are insisting or requesting, whichever is the proper word, that our expenses this session be somewhat less than during the past session and, according to the figures I have at hand, it will be approximately $7,000.00 less than during the past session."

On motion of Mrs. Hurley, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 77 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of Senate Bill No. 77, and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas, 98; nays, 1; absent or not voting, 0.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Ackley, Adams, Ahlquist, Andersen (James A.), Anderson (Eric O.), Backstrom, Beck, Beierlein, Berentson, Bergh, Bigley, Bozarth, Brachtenbach, Braun, Brouillet, Burtch, Campbell, Canfield, Chatalas, Clark, Comfort, Conner, Copeland, DeJarnatt, Dootson, Earley, Eberle, Eldridge, Evans, Flanagan, Folsom, Gallagher, Garrett, Gleason, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Grant, Hadley, Harris, Haussler, Hawley, Henry, Herr, Hood, Huntley, Hurley, Johnston, Jolly, Juelling, King, Kink, Kirk, Leland, Lewis, Lind, Litchman, Lybecker, Lynch, Mahaffey, Mast, May, McCaffree, McCormick, McDougall, McElroy, McFadden, Metcalf, Miles, Moon, Moos, Morphis, Morrissey, Mundy, Newschwander, O'Brien, O'Connell, Odell, O'Donnell, Olsen, Perry, Pritchard, Reese, Rogers, Rosenberg, Savage, Sawyer, Schaefer, Siler, Smith, Swayze, Taylor, Uhlman, Wang, Wedekind, Wintler, Witherbee, Young, Mr. Speaker—98.

Those voting nay were: Representative Klein—1.

Senate Bill No. 77, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed.

There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

On motion of Mrs. Hurley, Senate Bill No. 77 was ordered immediately transmitted to the Senate.

SPECIAL ORDER OF BUSINESS

The reading of the journal of the previous day having been made a special order of business immediately following the eighth order of business, the Speaker declared the business before the House to be the reading of the journal.

MOTION

On motion of Mrs. Hurley, the House recessed until 2:30 p.m.

AFTERNOON SESSION

The Speaker called the House to order at 2:30 p. m.

The Clerk called the roll. Representative Adams was absent.

The Speaker declared the business before the House to be the reading of the journal of the previous day.

MOTION

On motion of Mr. Garrett, the reading clerk read only that portion of the second afternoon session after the House had been declared to be at ease and was again called to order.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Moon:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Moon:

"Mr. Speaker, I wish to inquire on two points of order. First, the journal doesn't show who made the motion declaring the question before the House to be the adoption of Mrs. Hurley's resolution amending Rule 59; and, secondly, I would like to ask for your ruling as to whether or not this is the final form of the journal."

The Speaker:

"To begin with, the motion was made by Mrs. Hurley that the resolution be adopted several days preceding the action."

Mr. Moon:

"In answer to my second question, would you tell me if this is to be the final form of the journal?"

The Speaker:

"Up to this point it is."

Mr. Moon:

"The reason I am asking this is that it was my recollection that Mrs. Hurley's resolution was amended to change the Agriculture Committee to the Committee on Agriculture and Livestock. Now, I am a veterinarian, and livestock is pretty important to me. I hope this committee will not be the Agriculture Committee but the Committee on Agriculture and Livestock."

The Speaker:

"That amendment was adopted and the journal will so show."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The Speaker recognized Mr. Burtch.

Mr. Burtch:

"Mr. Speaker, I have a point of personal privilege. I have a statement that I have given the Chief Clerk which I would like inserted in Saturday's minutes. He has it on his desk at the present time."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mrs. Henry:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of personal privilege also."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mrs. Henry:

"I, too, have a statement on the Chief Clerk's desk which I would respectfully ask to have inserted in the journal for the sixth day."

The Speaker:

"It shall be entered."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The Speaker recognized Mr. Ackley.

Mr. Ackley:

"Mr. Speaker, I have the same point of personal privilege. I have a series of statements for the journal that are on the Clerk's desk to be inserted in the journal."

The Speaker:

"They shall be inserted."

POINT OF ORDER

The Speaker recognized Mr. Uhlman.

Mr. Uhlman:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order. I am not sure if it overlaps the point of order made by the Representative from Snohomish county. I note that the excerpt from the journal simply states that the resolution was adopted. Would the Speaker clarify whether or not it was adopted as amended?"

The Speaker:

"It was adopted as amended. It has to be."

POINT OF ORDER

The Speaker recognized Mr. Schaefer.

Mr. Schaefer:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order to amplify the question asked by Mr. Uhlman. According to the record, it says that the motion was to have the resolution amending Rule 59 adopted, but not the amendment to Rule 59 as amended. I understand Aviation and Livestock were added."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"If the resolution was adopted, it would have to be adopted as amended, and that is the way it was adopted, Mr. Schaefer."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The Speaker recognized Mr. Garrett.

Mr. Garrett:

"Mr. Speaker, I would like to be sure that the resolution was not amended to show Aviation and Livestock, as someone referred to it, but that the amendments were made in the proper position."

The Speaker:

"They were, sir."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The Speaker recognized Mr. Witherbee.

Mr. Witherbee:

"Mr. Speaker, I have a statement which I would like to have included in the journal."

The Speaker:

"You may."

POINT OF INFORMATION

The Speaker recognized Mr. Klein.

Mr. Klein:

"Mr. Speaker, it is my recollection that Mr. Perry made a motion for the adoption of Mrs. Hurley's resolution. I would ask that the Speaker advise us as to whether that recollection is correct."

The Speaker:

"No. Mr. Perry made a motion to lay the amendments on the table."

Mr. Klein:

"Did he not make another motion after that one passed?"

The Speaker:

"No. The motion had already been made on a preceding day by Mrs. Hurley."

POINT OF INQUIRY

The Speaker recognized Mr. Litchman.

Mr. Litchman:

"Mr. Speaker, I have a point of inquiry and request a ruling in regard to several instances that arose Saturday. One is in regard to a motion, I believe by Mr. Perry, to table amendments. As I recall, at that time there were some ten or twenty or more amendments on the table and there was one amendment before the House for, as I recall, setting the number of members at 20. Now, I would like a ruling so I can find out what is going to happen in the future as to whether a motion to table amendments can summarily take with it all of the amendments on the desk, in spite of the fact they had not been read, and as to whether the motion to table takes with it the main matter before the House. Could you give us a ruling on that for clarification of your prior ruling?"

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"The ruling is that all the amendments pending before the House and all the amendments on the desk were tabled."

POINT OF INFORMATION

The Speaker recognized Mr. Litchman.

Mr. Litchman:

"Is it the position of the Chair, then, that no matter how many amendments are on the table, when the motion is made to table all amendments, they don't have to read them, and this would take all the amendments without the main motion?"

The Speaker:

"Yes."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. O'Brien:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. O'Brien:

"Mr. Speaker, we would like to have you reconsider this ruling, because there are four sections of Reed's pertaining to the rights of members and the right on this request to lay on the table, and it is quite clear. We think that before we go on with this legislative session this should be clarified. This decision you just made is a major one whereby you can, with one motion, lay all the amendments on the table and destroy the rights of members, which are inherent, to have this privilege of expressing their ideas of corrections to the main motion. It is most important that we don't get ourselves bound up in something that we will later regret, because in Reed's, Section 131, it says:

"In all modern assemblies the right to originate and the right to amend are undisputed."

"This is most serious, and that is why I appeal to you to reconsider this. It is most important that the rights of members be protected. It appears to me this side would have no objection at all if you brought Mrs. Hurley's resolution before the House again and we acted upon it in the way that it should have been acted upon, without this motion to lay all pending amendments on the table. This sets a very bad precedent, and if you bring Mrs. Hurley's resolution to the floor of the House again and desire to have twenty-one committee chairmanships, we would have absolutely no objection to it. I firmly believe you should take that action all over again for the purpose of handling this in the right manner to give us and your advisers full time to consider this all-important procedural matter, because certainly I don't think you, in all fairness, would like to bind this House of Representatives in the future days of this session to this very stringent rule. You would be arbitrarily cutting off all rights of members to debate and present their requests."

The Speaker:

"The subject before the House, of course, is the reading of the journal at the moment, and I don't think that this proposition is before it."

Mr. O'Brien:

"May I rise to another point of order?"

The Speaker:

"Certainly."

Mr. O'Brien:

"It is before the House to this degree, that this journal is going to be printed and bound and it will be a permanent record of this legislature, so the ruling you make today will be binding on future sessions of this legislature and the future days of this session. It is a permanent part of these deliberations. If you make the ruling that you are going to honor this motion to lay on the table all future amendments, maybe ten, fifteen, or twenty at a time, one motion cutting off debate—something we have never allowed—you are establishing a precedent by your ruling to the degree that it would be binding, unless later you wish to reverse your ruling, and I know you wouldn't want to do that. To that degree it is most important that we don't make it an indelible part of this record that the minority party can be cut off at any time from debate on most crucial issues."

The Speaker:

"A motion was made to begin with. There is nothing in Reed's that says a motion cannot be modified, and it was substantiated by a majority of the people in this House, so I am going to allow the ruling to stand."

POINT OF INFORMATION

The Speaker recognized Mr. Uhlman.

Mr. Uhlman:

"Mr. Speaker, speaking on the approval by this body of the House journal, with regard to your statements a moment ago, is it the Speaker's contention that at this point, then, another motion need not be made to move the passage or adoption of a bill that is amended? The Speaker, in prior statements, stated that he was relying on the motion to adopt made by Mrs. Hurley prior to the adoption of the amendments. Now, all of the rules of parliamentary procedure in Reed's or House rules require an additional motion whereby the maker of the motion moves to adopt the resolution or bill as amended. Now, if the Speaker's former statements are true, he would be in defiance and contrary to all rules of parliamentary procedure."

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. Evans:

"Mr. Speaker, point of information."

The Speaker:

"State your point of information."

Mr. Evans:

"It seems to me we are on the approval of Saturday's journal. I don't know that anybody has indicated that they wish a correction made. It seems to me that is the only thing that is properly before us. If anybody wishes a correction made or wishes a statement to be inserted, I think that is properly before us. Other than that, nothing is before us."

The Speaker declared the House to be at ease.

The Speaker called the House to order.

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"At this time the Speaker would like to explain his ruling. Under Reed's Rule 49, Duties of Members, it states:

"The duties of each member are based upon the considerations which arise from his being a component part of the assembly, which desires to act together and which, in order to act together, must come to some agreement."

"And going down to the last paragraph of Rule 49 of Reed's:

"In short, as the object and purpose of an assembly is to enable men to act together as a body, each member ought to so conduct himself as to facilitate the result, or at least so as not to hinder it."

"We all know how long we debated this particular issue. There are specific rules that apply to organization of a body. Now, I don't know how I will rule under other circumstances, but as to organization I made this ruling, and Reed's 52, I believe, explains alterations of rules, and that is what we were considering. Rule 52 states:

"While it concerns certain kinds of assemblies to adopt a set of rules at once, yet it is not possible to make such a set of rules complete and perfect at once. After experience modifications are almost always found to be necessary. Such modifications the assembly is always competent to make. Such changes can be made by a majority. This is true even if the rules already adopted provide that two-thirds or any larger number alone shall make changes. The assembly can not deprive itself of power to direct its method of doing business. It is like a man promising himself that he will not change his own mind.' "

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

The Speaker recognized Mr. Litchman.

Mr. Litchman:

"Mr. Speaker, point of parliamentary inquiry regarding another rule. I am quite concerned about Rule 35, the right of members to speak. You have indicated just now that there must be a way of running an assembly. I fully agree with you, but one rule we have had for many years in this House provides that no member shall speak more than twice on the same question, but the chairman of the committee or the mover of the question may close the debate. Now, there was a motion for an amendment before the House at this time and I was not afforded the right to close the debate. If the Speaker's last ruling prevails, it would seem that if anybody makes a motion to table, he not only prevents the House from learning about any amendments that might be on the desk or before the body but, furthermore, the mover of the question would not have an opportunity to even close the debate. Therefore, the majority could ramrod any legislation through regardless of how many amendments were made. Furthermore, Reed's No. 110 provides one could use the question of consideration. The question of consideration cuts off debate but at least the amendments are read. Is it your ruling as Speaker of the House that Rule 35 does not apply where someone makes the motion to table?"

The Speaker:

"Of course it is. That is obvious. You have been allowed a great deal of latitude yourself on the floor. I think the Speaker's ruling, if understood, was that the particular motions allowed here were in regard to organization, and that is going to stand."

POINT OF ORDER

Mrs. Henry:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mrs. Henry:

"Mr. Speaker, you have ruled that the majority prevailed and the amendment became adopted. Is that not correct?"

The Speaker:

"No, it is not correct. I ruled that the majority prevailed and the amendments were laid on the table."

Mrs. Henry:

"No, that the majority prevailed and that the amendment to House Rule 59 was adopted by a majority vote?"

The Speaker:

"That is correct."

Mrs. Henry:

"I would like to call your attention to House Rule 49. I see nowhere in the journal where ayes and nays were counted. How, therefore, can you rule that a majority prevailed?"

The Speaker:

"Would you repeat that point?"

Mrs. Henry:

"I said, I draw your attention to House Rule 49 which provides that the yeas and nays shall be recorded. We had a voice vote, if you recall, Mr. Speaker. How can you, without yeas and nays, say the majority prevailed and the amendment to House Rule 59 was adopted?"

The Speaker:

"I believe that is the privilege of the Speaker on a voice vote."

POINT OF ORDER

The Speaker recognized Mr. Evans.

Mr. Evans:

"Mr. Speaker, just in order to clarify the answer to Mrs. Henry's inquiry, I remember very clearly last session, because I was involved in an identical situation, and the ruling from our previous Speaker was that this roll call was not necessary on a floor resolution but only on something similar to a House Joint Resolution or House joint Memorial or a House Bill that were subject to a first, second, and third reading. The Speaker did make that ruling last session. I remember it very clearly."

Mrs. Hurley moved that further reading of the journal of the previous day be dispensed with and the journal stand approved.

Miss O'Donnell demanded an electric roll call, and the demand was sustained.

The Clerk called the roll, and the motion to approve the journal for the previous day was carried by the following vote: Yeas, 57; nays, 41; absent or not voting, 1.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Ahlquist, Andersen (James A.), Berentson, Bergh, Brachtenbach, Braun, Canfield, Clark, Comfort, Copeland, Dootson, Earley, Eberle, Eldridge, Evans, Flanagan, Folsom, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Hadley, Harris, Hawley, Hood, Huntley, Hurley, Johnston, Jueling, King, Kink, Kirk, Leland, Lewis, Lind, Lybecker, Lynch, Mahaffey, Mast, McCaffree, McCormick, McDougall, Metcalf, Miles, Moos, Morphis, Morrissey, Newschwander, O'Connell, Odell, Perry, Pritchard, Reese, Siler, Swayze, Wang, Wintler, Young, Mr. Speaker—57.

Those voting nay were: Representatives Ackley, Anderson (Eric O.), Backstrom, Beck, Beierlein, Bigley, Bozarth, Brouillet, Burtch, Campbell, Chatalas, Conner, DeJarnatt, Gallagher, Garret, Gleason, Grant, Haussler, Henry, Herr, Jolly, Klein, Litchman, May, McElroy, McFadden, Moon, Mundy, O'Brien, O'Donnell, Olsen, Rogers, Rosenberg, Savage, Sawyer, Schaefer, Smith, Taylor, Uhlman, Wedekind, Witherbee—41.

Those absent or not voting were: Representative Adams—1.

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. Sawyer:

"Mr. Speaker, point of information."

The Speaker:

"State your point of information."

Mr. Sawyer:

"I understand the journal has been approved now. I was just wondering if this is the journal as read by the Clerk, or a later interpretation by the Speaker?"

The Speaker:

"The Speaker has no intention of changing the journal."

POINT OF INQUIRY

The Speaker recognized Mr. Burtch.

Mr. Burtch:

"Mr. Speaker, point of inquiry. I notice you referred to Rule 52 when you said that the House is able to modify its ruling at any time it so desires. Of course, standing Rule No. 12 requires notice to be given, but I am wondering if you will clarify to me the difference between modifying the rules and suspending the rules, so I will know how to react? It is my understanding that what happened yesterday was actually a suspension of the rules and not a modification."

The Speaker:

"I believe it is pretty obvious that the resolution in its entirety was a modification of the rules, not a suspension of the rules."

The Speaker declared the House to be at ease.

The Speaker called the House to order.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The Speaker recognized Mr. Garrett.

Mr. Garrett:

"Mr. Speaker, I cannot accept this appointment on the Rules and Order Committee without first consulting the Democratic caucus, and I am sure that many other members who received these appointments are in the same position. I now request that you grant us a recess to go into caucus so that the Democratic party can discuss their approval of these various chairmanships and the membership on Rules and Order."

The Speaker:

"Mr. Garrett, you may discuss the appointments with anyone you please. The Speaker has just read his appointments."

MOTION

On motion of Mr. Perry, the House adjourned until 11:00 a.m., Tuesday, January 22, 1963.

WILLIAM S. DAY, Speaker.

S. R. HOLCOMB, Chief Clerk.

NINTH DAY

MORNING SESSION

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,
OLYMPIA, WASH., Tuesday, January 22, 1963.

The Speaker called the House to order at 11:00 a. m.

The Clerk called the roll. Representative McCormick, who was excused, was absent.

The flag was escorted to the rostrum by a Sergeant at Arms color guard.

Prayer was offered by the Reverend Arthur Anderson of the Gloria Dei Lutheran Church of Olympia.

SPEAKER'S PRIVILEGE

The Speaker observed in the south gallery members of the auxiliary to the Washington State Medical Association representing eleven counties, and asked them to stand and be recognized.

The Speaker declared the House to be at ease.

The Speaker called the House to order.

The Speaker declared the business before the House to be the reading of the journal for the previous day.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Beierlein:

"Mr. Speaker, point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. Beierlein:

"Mr. Speaker, I must respectfully decline my appointment as vice chairman of the Banking and Insurance Committee. Believing in the importance of the two party system for responsible government, and being of the belief that coalition government is not in the best interests of the state, I must respectfully decline the vice chairmanship of the Banking and Insurance Committee."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"Mr. Beierlein, considerable time has already been spent on debate and negotiations pertaining to the organization of the House, including of course committee appointments, and we are all familiar with the oath we have taken. All of us took this oath. Appointing the committees is a special responsibility assigned to the Speaker under Rule 3. I have attempted to be fair and have tried not to let personal bickering influence the appointments. As far as you ladies and gentlemen on the floor are concerned, the caucus action which is attempting to prevent you from serving either as chairmen or members of committees is forcing you to take a position that has never occurred in the House of Representatives before. Appointments as committee chairmen and vice chairmen have been made on the basis of individual interest and talent. In addition, in considering the members of committees, your individual requests were considered. It is the individual responsibility of each appointee to determine whether he or she is fit to accept his or her responsibility and this must not be left up to caucus action. It would be unfortunate to allow this caucus to deprive the House of the valued services of many of its distinguished members. If I were you, I would think this over for a few days. Then if, as individuals, you are still convinced that the committee assignments are not exactly as they should be, in the interest of the best functioning of this House, you may come and see me and we will discuss your wishes on the matter. As far as the Speaker is concerned, the committee organization under the temporary rules will stand as they are for the time being. However, the Speaker has the right to make changes before the permanent rules are adopted and that is going to be my ruling on the request of any individual member in the House."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The Speaker recognized Mr. Beierlein.

Mr. Beierlein:

"Mr. Speaker, in declining the vice chairmanship, I want to make it clear I am not declining service on the committee. Now, my reason for declining a chairmanship or vice chairmanship is simply this. I know from experience, twenty-four years in this House, that the chairman of course can stifle a committee or bills, and if the chairman should happen to decline, I know that a vice chairman could very well, if he wanted to, not work for the best interests of the state. Of course it is my fundamental belief that the party in control has the responsibility and the power to have the legislation that they want, so why should I occupy a position where I, in the final analysis, do not have any influence? But I am perfectly willing to serve in any capacity as a member of any committee that you assign to me. I did not get my requests, but I am perfectly happy with it and I will do my best to serve in the interests of my district and the state of Washington."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Witherbee:

"Mr. Speaker and ladies and gentlemen of the House, I feel—"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Witherbee, for what purpose do you rise?"

Mr. Witherbee:

"I would like to say—"

The Speaker:

"The matter before us is the reading of the journal of the previous day."

Mr. Witherbee:

"I would like to have some remarks inserted in the journal for yesterday."

The Speaker:

"Do you move that the remarks be inserted in the journal for the preceding day?"

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Witherbee:

"Mr. Speaker, point of parliamentary inquiry."

The Speaker:

"State your point of parliamentary inquiry."

Mr. Witherbee:

"Is it not the policy of the House that when members want remarks inserted in the journal that we merely get up on a point of personal privilege and ask for the remarks to be inserted?"

The Speaker:

"That is true. You are asking that these remarks be inserted in the journal of the preceding day? I believe it is within the prerogative of the House to do so if you wish to make a motion. The Chair will entertain a motion."

Mr. Witherbee:

"I don't desire to make a motion, Mr. Speaker. Under the point of personal privilege, I merely want to say—"

The Speaker:

"You did not ask for a point of personal privilege. State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. Witherbee:

"My point of personal privilege, Mr. Speaker, is that I do not wish to accept the committee appointment as chairman that was given to me yesterday, for this reason. I would like to say that this is my third term in the House of Representatives and I have never served on Social Security and Public Assistance. That has not been my main interest in this legislature, although I am certainly vitally interested in all legislation that comes before this body. This has not been my so-called field that I have worked in, and never having served on the committee even as a member, it was quite shocking to me yesterday when I was appointed chairman. I don't think in the light of the remarks you made that you tried to pick the most qualified person for these jobs. I certainly am not the most qualified, never having served on the committee before."

The Speaker:

"Mr. Witherbee, the Speaker has explained his ruling. The ruling is going to stand. In the explanation I said that if there were any reasonable changes to be made they would receive consideration. That is the ruling."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Bigley:

"Mr. Speaker, point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. Bigley:

"Mr. Speaker, I believe in the importance of the two party system. I believe that the coalition has the responsibility here. I think the coalition should follow the custom which has been established of having the chairmanships of the committees and the control of this House. Therefore, I respectfully decline the appointment as chairman of Higher Education."

The Speaker:

"The Speaker's ruling will apply in this instance also."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Olsen:

"Mr. Speaker, point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. Olsen:

"I, too, wish to decline the appointment that was given to me as vice chairman of the Committee on Natural Resources, Lands, and Buildings. In the fourteen years I have served down here in the legislature, I have never been on that committee. It would not be to the best of my ability to serve on that committee. There are other committees that I would be more qualified to serve on. Under the present organization of the House, I wish to decline because I could not serve to the best of my ability on that particular committee as vice chairman."

The Speaker:

"The same ruling will apply."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Campbell:

"Mr. Speaker, point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. Campbell:

"I have been appointed vice chairman of the Judiciary Committee. I think no one in this House is so naive as not to know that the vice chairmanship of any committee is nothing but an honorary position at best. Now, I have worked long and hard on the Legislative Council with both Republicans and Democrats, both members of the House and of the Senate, and that is specifically by law a bipartisan council. It is the most wonderful thing in the world to work cooperatively with the Senators and members of the House. But when it comes to organizing the House of Representatives, I, too, believe in the two party system and I believe most sincerely that not only should the chairmen of committees be members of the majority but also the vice chairmen, so that there can be no misunderstanding at any time of who is in control, and we over here, the forty-four regular Democrats, know that the Republicans and the coalition are in control of this House and, therefore, it is a matter of plain, simple, old-fashioned Americanism, which believes in the two party system of government, that the Republican coalition should have both the chairmanships and the vice chairmanships. When it comes to committee assignments, I am most happy to work on the committees that have been assigned. I will certainly do everything within my power to be a good, energetic, sincere, devoted, hard-working legislator on every committee. I do have one reservation much the same as the one of Mr. Witherbee. I can't for the world imagine why I was put on Social Security and Public Assistance. I have never served on that committee. I am a self-employed attorney. I don't belong to any pension system as such. I am not so interested in security. If there is an opportunity to be bumped off that committee and put on one of those of my choice, I would certainly appreciate it, but I respectfully decline the honor of a vice chairmanship."

The Speaker:

"The previous ruling of the Speaker will hold in this instance as well."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. May:

"Mr. Speaker, point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. May:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Members of the House, it is with a great deal of regret that I decline the chairmanship of the Committee on Labor and Industrial Insurance. My vote for Mr. O'Brien was not pro-O'Brien nor anti-Day but an anti-coalition vote. I told you last fall and many times since that I could not go along with a coalition. Now you are asking me to participate in one. This I cannot do in good conscience. I do not cross party lines nor picket lines. I will serve this state and you to the best of my ability on any committee you wish me to, but I cannot serve as committee chairman or vice chairman in a coalition government. The newspapers point out nearly every day that the coalition was formed to bring responsible government to this state. If this is the case, I say let the coalition party take full responsibility and full control and full credit for this session of the legislature. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The Speaker:

"The Speaker's previous ruling will stand in this instance. You are the chairman of the Labor committee, Mr. May."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. McElroy:

"Mr. Speaker, I have a point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. McElroy:

"I most respectfully decline the appointment of vice chairman of the Committee on Constitution, Elections, and Apportionment, because as a member of the minority party in this House and considering the other assignments to this committee, my service as vice chairman might well preclude effective performance of my duties. Now, in addition to that, I do want to assure the Speaker that I want to serve on this committee. I do sincerely believe that there is a serious job confronting this legislative body and I want to participate in resolving some of the problems that this committee will be confronted with. However, with the appointment of the chairman on this committee, I feel that my effectiveness on the committee as vice chairman is going to be nil. I therefore most respectfully ask that my declination be accepted."

The Speaker:

"The previous ruling of the Speaker will stand in this instance also."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Rosenberg:

"Mr. Speaker, point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege, Mr. Rosenberg."

Mr. Rosenberg:

"I find I, too, must decline the Speaker's appointment as vice chairman of Highways. I realize I am on a little shaky ground here. As second vice chairman, I'm not certain I am really declining anything. However, the point is that Highways has been one of my main interests in this legislature. I think I have served Highways effectively. I hope to continue to do so as a committee member, so my only reason for declining this is the basic principle involved here, the basic principle which has made this country the greatest the world has ever known, the two party system. I don't like to be known as a prefixed Democrat, as we have come to be known here. If you want to use a prefix in front of the kind of Democrat I consider myself, you would have to call me a "proud" Democrat. I am proud of my party. I am proud of its accomplishments, its aims and its hopes. I think we have served our country well in the Democratic party and I will continue, in spite of this action, to serve the best interest of the state and the best interests of the legislature to the best of my ability. But I want to respectfully decline the position. Thank you."

The Speaker:

"The previous ruling of the Speaker will stand in this instance."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Sawyer:

"Mr. Speaker and ladies and gentlemen of the House, —"

The Speaker:

"Do you have a point of personal privilege?"

Mr. Sawyer:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker, a point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. Sawyer:

"It is with a great deal of regret that I wish to decline the nomination to vice chairman of Licenses. I realize that whether Mr. O'Brien or whether Mr. Day was elected Speaker, this is my position. So it is with a great deal of regret I decline this nomination, but I do not decline, as our Speaker has indicated, because of caucus ruling. I do this because of a very deep sense of responsibility and I wish to serve notice on the Republicans at this time that if during the session you fail in your coalition, which I hope you don't, but if you do, we on this side will be very happy and delighted to move back in and assume the full control of this House and also the full responsibility, and I think that is something that the people in control have to realize. When you grab the plum, there is also the responsibility to go with it. Now I, as the previous speakers have mentioned, will continue to serve on this committee. I hope I can. I am interested in this committee. I feel I can be of service to the House, but not as vice chairman, because I do not feel that I will be in any position of authority in this session of the legislature. Thank you."

The Speaker:

"The previous ruling of the Speaker will stand."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The Speaker recognized Mr. Smith.

Mr. Smith:

"Point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. Smith:

"First of all, I would like to thank the Speaker for appointing me chairman of the Local Government Committee. Under normal circumstances, I would consider it indeed an honor to serve as chairman of this committee the very best I could. However, because we observe it is not a normal session, I feel that as chairman I could not exert the type of leadership that will bring out the best the committee can do. I have been chairman of committees previously in this legislature and those who have served with me can certainly say I was just, fair, and equal. Party lines were nothing to me and I only considered the will of the members concerned. I feel that if I were to serve as chairman of the committee, I should be able to exert the feelings and thoughts and ideas I have towards the success of this committee. Because of the fact that I do not feel this would be possible, my being a member of the minority party, I must respectfully decline to do so."

The Speaker:

"The Speaker's previous ruling will stand."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Wedekind:

"Mr. Speaker, point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege, Mr. Wedekind."

Mr. Wedekind:

"In line with what the speakers before me have said, and while I am ready and willing to serve with what humble ability I have as one of the members, I must respectfully decline the appointment as chairman of the Fisheries, Game, and Game Fish Committee. As a member of the minority party in this House, I would have no control over its actions and, therefore, I would not be able to serve on this committee as its leader to the best of my ability."

The Speaker:

"The Speaker's previous ruling will stand."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Brouillet:

"Mr. Speaker, point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. Brouillet:

"I, too, must respectfully decline appointment as vice chairman of the Education Committee, because I feel in that position I would have no influence over the final outcome of this committee. I will, however, continue to serve on this committee and because I have been chairman of this committee for the past four years and during the last two years have directed the interim committee study of various facets of public education, from time to time I will take it upon myself to point out to the coalition and the people of the state in what areas such as junior colleges and school apportionment this coalition is not serving the people to their best interests, and in this position I will continue to be on the committee and to give them, to the best of my ability, my findings during the past two years. But I do not feel I can take this honorary title at this time."

The Speaker:

"The Speaker's previous ruling will stand."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Klein:

"Mr. Speaker, point of parliamentary inquiry."

The Speaker:

"State your point of parliamentary inquiry."

Mr. Klein:

"It is my understanding the Speaker said his ruling in this regard was based on Rule 3 of the temporary rules of this House. Is that correct?"

The Speaker:

"That was one of the considerations, yes."

Mr. Klein:

"What are the other considerations then, Mr. Speaker?"

The Speaker:

"Your oath of office—I enumerated them in my explanation."

Mr. Klein:

"Mr. Speaker, I have read and reread Rule 3. I find no reference to the Speaker appointing chairmen or vice chairmen of any committees."

The Speaker:

"I believe that the gentleman will agree that the chairman and vice chairman is an integral part of any committee, and subsection (f) under Rule 3 states specifically that the Speaker shall appoint all the standing and special committees."

Mr. Klein:

"Yes, I see that he appoints the members of standing and special committees."

The Speaker:

"And members, of course, include the entire committee, which does include the chairman and vice chairman."

Mr. Klein:

"I call the Speaker's attention to the provisions of Reed's Rules on selection of chairmen and the language therein states that the committees select their own chairmen. Does the Speaker care to rule on that?"

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"It has been the precedent in this House, Mr. Klein, as long as I have known anything about this legislature and even before that, that the Speaker named the chairmen and vice chairmen of the committees. I so rule, Mr. Klein."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Klein:

"I call the Speaker's attention to Rule 65. The last portion of that rule reads:

"In practice the dominant party announces to the minority the number of places they can have on the committees, and each party selects its own members by the aid of a nominating committee." I call the Speaker's attention to this and also Rule 71, as it dovetails with Rule 65 on organization."

The Speaker:

"The Speaker ruled the other day on Reed's Rule 52 that a body could establish the organizational procedure under the rule of a majority, and we have so proceeded and this ruling is going to stand in regard to organization."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Uhlman:

"Mr. Speaker, point of parliamentary inquiry."

The Speaker:

"State your point."

Mr. Uhlman:

"Is it then your ruling, Mr. Speaker, that the right of the minority to nominate its own members pursuant to Rule 65 will not be followed by this Speaker and this body?"

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"It was the attempt of the Speaker to give you this opportunity and you saw fit to reject all of the opportunities to do so. Consequently, the Speaker was forced to act in this manner. Further, in regard to Rule 65, it has always been the custom in the Congress to do this, but it has never been a custom here."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mrs. Gleason:

"Mr. Speaker, point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mrs. Gleason:

"I must respectfully decline the appointment as chairman of the Committee on Commerce and Economic Development. I have served on this committee every session down here and, also, on the legislative interim committee during the past two years. I am very desirous to serve as a member of this committee, but I, too, believe in the two party system and it is my belief that I am a member of the minority party and will not be able to handle this chairmanship."

The Speaker:

"The Speaker's previous ruling on this particular issue will stand in this instance also. You are the chairman, Mrs. Gleason."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Goldsworthy:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. Goldsworthy:

"I want to brighten your day a little bit by saying that I very gratefully accept my responsibility in taking my committee chairmanship."

The Speaker:

"Thank you, sir."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Haussler:

"Mr. Speaker, point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. Haussler:

"Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the House, I want to respectfully decline the vice chairmanship of Public Utilities, Aviation, and Transportation. I certainly appreciate the honor that you have given to a freshman legislator and the meaning of this committee to my constituents at home, but for the reasons that have been stated previously, I again must say I respectfully decline to serve as vice chairman. I will be most happy and will be most diligent in my work to serve as a member of this committee. I thank you."

The Speaker:

"The Speaker's previous ruling will apply in this instance. You are the vice chairman, Mr. Haussler."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Burtch:

"Mr. Speaker, point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. Burtch:

"I am glad to hear one of our members here on the left of me is willing to accept this chairmanship. I hope that they will also accept the rest of these chairmanships that we are willing to give them and to take this responsibility."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. McFadden:

"Mr. Speaker, I also want to reiterate what others on our side have said."

The Speaker:

"Are you rising to a point of personal privilege?"

Mr. McFadden:

"Personal privilege, yes."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. McFadden:

"It is the same as all the others. My resignation is on the rostrum there and although I want to serve on this committee, I don't want the responsibility that has been given me in this case, because I am in the minority party."

The Speaker:

"The Speaker's previous ruling will stand in this instance also, Dr. McFadden."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Adams:

"Mr. Speaker, I want to assure Dr. McFadden that I will gratefully share the honors and duties and everything else on that committee. Chances are there will be nothing in that committee whatsoever that we can't fully agree on, so, Dr. McFadden, I don't believe you ought to leave me hanging in the air this way."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Conner:

"Mr. Speaker, point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. Conner:

"Mr. Speaker, I would like to submit my resignation as chairman of the Public Institutions Committee. I do so with a great amount of reluctance. However, I realize that the vice chairman, Mrs. Kirk, feels as I do on these matters of state institutions and, therefore, since I have gone along with our minority caucus in the matter of organization of the House, from this point on I feel if I were not to continue to do so, I would be joining Mr. Hawley in Hawleywood."

The Speaker:

"The Speaker's previous ruling will stand in this case. Mr. Conner, you are the chairman."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. O'Brien:

"Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the House—"

The Speaker:

"Do you have a point of personal privilege?"

Mr. O'Brien:

"Personal privilege, Mr. Speaker."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. O'Brien:

"My point of personal privilege pertains to the appointment given to me on the Committee on State Government, Military Affairs, and Civil Defense. As a member of the minority party in this House, I don't believe I would be able to effectively perform the duties of this office to the best of my ability, because in times gone by, the Speaker of this House has always had committee chairmen of the majority party. In past procedure we always met with our various committee chairmen to work out the overall policy of the House. It appears in this instance that the coalition party has taken full control of the operation of the House of Representatives and that the Speaker should have members of the coalition to serve on the various committees as chairmen. By doing that you can operate more efficiently and in a more business-like manner, because you think alike; your program is identical. For that reason, it is my position that to follow past custom, we should hold to this pattern of administration. That is the only way you can operate efficiently in this House of Representatives. You do this by making a minority party. We are sorry we weren't given the opportunity to make our own nominations, like the minority party was given on all occasions in the past, which is, of course, what Reed's 65 holds. Since you didn't see fit to do this particular thing for the benefit of the minority party, it just seems to me that in all fairness, since you people are willing to assume all of the responsibility, and there is absolutely nothing wrong with your doing that, you should take these chairmanships. According to our rules, you have appointed us as members of committees, even though we didn't like to serve on them. I know in my instance I asked for four committees. I got one of my own selection. Nevertheless, Mr. Speaker, I am willing to do my utmost to serve on the various committees that you, in your good judgment, assigned me to work on, and we are certainly going to do all in our power to do the best we can for the people of the great state of Washington. But that is our position, and I hope that you reconsider your ruling, because to operate this House efficiently and well, you should have all the committee chairmen working with the majority, the coalition party of this House of Representatives, and only on that basis can you have good government."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Evans:

"Mr. Speaker, point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. Evans:

"I am not going to decline any committee chairmanships or vice chairmanships, because I don't have any. I think we have strayed a little under point of personal privilege. I hope the House will allow me the privilege of speaking. Mr. May made a reference this morning to the fact that he does not like to cross party lines or cross picket lines. It sounds to me like there may be a strike going on with people refusing to accept responsibility on any of these committees. Party responsibility is subservient to the needs of the people of the state. I think that every member of this House would agree that we don't have Democratic highways or Republican highways. We don't have Democratic fish or Republican fish. We don't have Democratic schools or Republican schools. We don't even have Democratic banks or Republican banks. Most of our committees deal with the problems of the people of this state on a bipartisan or nonpartisan basis. There are very few issues where we have party lines dividing us on issues. Generally they are divided on many other lines. Now, two years ago, some members on our side were appointed to committee chairmanships. Mrs. Kirk didn't refuse to serve as chairman of the Memorials Committee. Miss Wintler didn't refuse to serve as vice chairman of State Government. I don't think any member on this side would have refused any responsibility given to them by the Speaker.

"I just have this statement to make. Now that this House has finally been organized, now that the excitement of the clash between the two factions in this legislative body has subsided, at least for the time being and we hope for the duration of the session, may I express the hope that all of us will settle down to the business we came here to transact. For us Republicans, let me say that we realize we are here for serious business, and there certainly is no point in anyone acting like the little boy who wants to take his baseball and bat and go home if the game isn't played the way he wants. From now on, we Republicans would like to get started on the serious business we face, the job of providing on a reasonable basis for the needs of the state of Washington for the next two years, within the present financial structure of this state. I would like to add, also, that as members of the coalition which organized this legislative body, we Republicans recognize that we must share the responsibility for the legislation which is enacted into law at this session. We welcome the chance to share in the responsibility of making decisions for our state. In arriving at those decisions which we must share in making, I pledge to the members of this House and to the voters of this state, that we Republicans will be governed solely by what we believe to be in the best interest of the state of Washington, and not by considerations of what we believe to be the best for our party. In other words, we are perfectly willing to chuck politics out of the window and get down to the serious business of being lawmakers and, if the gentlemen across the aisle who are hugging to their bosoms their new-found weapon of 'minority status' will give us a chance, to legislate rather than to sit here and vegetate."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"The Speaker would like to state at this time that the Speaker's previous ruling stands in relation to the point of Mr. O'Brien as chairman of State Government."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Litchman:

"Mr. Speaker, point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. Litchman:

"I would like to state, Mr. Speaker and ladies and gentlemen of the House, that there is not one Democrat over here on this side of the aisle who will work for the state of Washington harder than each one of us. We have participated very freely as majority members since I have been here in the past four years and we will continue to act in an honorable way, accepting all of our responsibility, but since time immemorial, the party in power has assumed leadership, as other speakers have indicated, and under the Republican coalition, you people on the other side apparently have refused. You have given us about half or less of the committee chairmanships and vice chairmanships. We would gladly accept our responsibility and all of it, if we had won, but as one other speaker indicated, we have not won. We have lost and the Republican party either has not won—and this is the point I want to make clear: It is the Republican majority with some dissident Democrats that have caused this legislature to be turned over to a coalition government. This is the thing that we can never condone down here. A short while ago, a week ago, I walked out of my own caucus. I made a motion at that time to exclude from our own caucus the dissident members of our own party. I refused to have anything to do with them. I stayed out of that caucus approximately one week until a motion was made and accepted to exclude the dissidents. I will not have a part of a coalition government one way or another. Now when Mr. May made his statements a short while ago about not accepting responsibility, here is a labor man who for years has been devoted to the members of labor. He is serving in the legislature for his second term and he would do an excellent job if he were in the majority, but he is not. Therefore, how can he serve effectively as chairman of that committee when it is stacked against him? It wouldn't be right. To reiterate once again, our problem down here is this primarily. We cannot accept at any time a coalition form of government. Otherwise we will be playing musical chairs for years. This is a democracy. We are going to accept Mr. Day as Speaker. We have so indicated. We are going to accept the fact that a coalition government is in control down here. We do not want this to happen again. Therefore we must exclude ourselves from any participation in the coalition. I take exception to Mr. Evans' words to the extent that we don't want to accept responsibility. We do. We deplore the coalition type of government. We will never be a part of it, and I might state, too, that yesterday before the caucus read its resolution, I was willing to go so far to preserve democracy without thwarting the will of the people, I was going so far as to move we even boycott, and this is a severe word, boycott actually serving on any committee or even assisting in serving on any committee or taking over the keys of any committee. As I said before, the reason for this attempted boycott would be to preserve democracy in the House."

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. Evans:

"Point of information, Mr. Speaker."

The Speaker:

"State your point of information."

Mr. Evans:

"Well, I see it is too late now. I wanted to remind Mr. Litchman that the television cameras had run out of film and if he wanted to wait a while, they would reload."

MOTION

On motion of Mrs. Hurley, the reading of the journal of the proceedings of the previous day was dispensed with and the journal was ordered to stand approved.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Sawyer:

"Mr. Speaker, point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. Sawyer:

"Mr. Speaker, in regard to Mr. Evans' remarks, I think the whole nub of all the conversation—we can talk forever, but what bothers us on this side of the aisle is very simple. The Republican party has a program which is going to be crammed down our throats and we want it to be known as a Republican party program and not as a bipartisan program. In other words, if you are going to do it to us, at least accept the label and don't try to hide behind the label of bipartisanship."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Moon:

"Mr. Speaker, point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. Moon:

"I would like to make reference to Mr. Evans' remarks. Mr. Evans, being the man in charge of the Republicans over there, has stated that the Republicans would like to take on this responsibility and they would take on this responsibility. I humbly request, Mr. Speaker, that you honor this request of the Republicans and give to them these chairmanships and these vice chairmanships. Thank you."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Burtch:

"Mr. Speaker, point of personal privilege and I will make this very short."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege, sir."

Mr. Burtch:

"In answer to Mr. Evans, it is true that we do not have Democratic schools. We have schools built by Democrats. It is true we do not have Democratic highways. We have highways built by Democrats. And the reason for this is that we have assumed the responsibility that goes with control."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Ackley:

"Mr. Speaker, point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. Ackley:

"Mr. Speaker, I don't think it has been pointed out sufficiently to the members of this House exactly what we are talking about here, when we talk about effective control of committees, and I will not go through all of them, but I will point, for example, to the Public Utilities, Aviation, and Transportation Committee on which Mr. Haussler declined to serve as chairman. May I point out that on that committee there are five regular Democrats out of fifteen, or, in other words, there is two to one control by the coalition on this very important committee, one in which the Democrats have had a traditional interest supporting public power. And I suggest to you that there is a valid point. We are being asked to assume responsibility where we would have absolutely no control. Responsibility and control must go together. You have the control; you take the responsibility."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Copeland:

"Mr. Speaker, point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. Copeland:

"I think it would be well to point out to Mr. Ackley and other members of the House that in the arrangement of a legislative body where we have a Senate and House, oftentimes we build in checks and balances, and for your information, Mr. Ackley, I would like to point out that the Committee on Public Utilities in the Senate where there are nineteen members has only four who are Republicans."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Savage:

"Mr. Speaker, point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. Savage:

"I have served in the House fourteen years. Ten of those years I have served as chairman of various committees. I feel that I can't serve to my best capacity if I am not chairman. The Speaker has honored me by recognizing me as one of the loyal Democrats and not bothered me with having to resign or decline any chairmanships, but I would like to say also that I do believe in the two party system. I have to disagree with my good friends across the aisle and say that government is by parties in the United States, and we believe in the two party system. In Germany, they have the Nazi party. They had one party and the people had no choice. In Russia, they have the Communist party and the people have no choice. In America, we have the two party system. We, as American people, have to understand the two party system and accept our responsibility in a two party system. It is only because a few individuals refused to abide by the caucus of the majority that we have this coalition. The people who took power were a minority of the caucus. They tried to get control through the caucus and were not favored by the majority opinion, so they bolted and said, 'We are going to control the House anyway,' and this is what the people ought to understand in the state of Washington, that they are not the loyal Democrats. They joined the Republicans to form a coalition. I don't think Mr. Evans should approve that or have any criticism of the two party system. When we again have a proper and honorable majority in the Democratic party, we will all accept our responsibility."

MOTION

On motion of Mr. Gorton, House Bill No. 13 and House Bill No. 17 were referred to the Committee on Water Resources and Pollution Control.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The Speaker recognized Mr. Evans.

Mr. Evans:

"Mr. Speaker, I would request insertion in the journal of a statement from our caucus."

The Speaker:

"You may insert it in the journal."

STATEMENT FOR THE JOURNAL

Legislatures are convened to legislate; to transmit the will of the people into the laws that will govern them. No majority in any legislative body can long tolerate wilful delay, dilatory tactics or continued obstructionism from any source. Otherwise the legislative process becomes a mockery and the will of the people thwarted.

On the first day of the thirty-eighth session of the Washington State Legislature in the House of Representatives the losers in the battle for the speakership made it clear they would refuse to honor the decision of the House. They publicly announced a policy of delay and obstruction, conceived in a spirit of vengeance and contrary to the orderly conduct of business, and proceeded to put this policy into effect.

All legislative bodies must operate under rules and of necessity one of the first orders of business for any legislature is to adopt its rules. Moreover, each legislature retains the power to modify and alter its rules when it becomes necessary. Such a modification became necessary in this House when it was determined that the thirty-one committees of the House which had been authorized under the old rules were unwieldy and should be reduced in number so they might consider more effectively the matters to be brought before the legislature.

Accordingly, on the third day of the legislative session a resolution was regularly introduced to amend temporary Rule 59 and reduce the number of standing committees from thirty-one to twenty-one. As is made clear in temporary Rule 12 any standing rule may at any time be rescinded or changed by a majority vote of the members elected. And, as stated in Reed's Rule 52 changes in the rules may be made by a majority and that "the assembly cannot deprive itself of power to direct its method of business. It is like a man promising himself that he will not change his own mind."

Immediately upon the introduction of the resolution to change Rule 59 the House was subjected to a deliberate attempt to delay and obstruct. What was called a filibuster by Mr. Litchman, a participant, was begun in an effort to prevent the majority of the members of the House and the Speaker from organizing and carrying on legislative business. These tactics continued unabated through the sixth day of the session, notwithstanding the exercise of great patience and forbearance by the Speaker and the bipartisan majority in an effort to come to an agreement with the obstructionists. At this time more amendments remained on the Speaker's desk than were there on the third day when the filibuster began.

Reasonable and responsible men can tolerate unwarranted delay only so long. Finally it becomes necessary for a duly constituted majority, operating under the rules of the body, to act so that the will of the people is no longer thwarted and so that the business of the legislature may proceed.

The adoption of the temporary rules or an amendment to the temporary rules does not bind the legislature from further change. Upon the adoption of the permanent rules further changes may be made, should a majority of the members of the House see fit. Furthermore, changes may be made at any time during the session should the majority so order.

The procedures followed on Saturday evening to break the filibuster and end the tactics of obstruction were amply covered by precedent and fully in accord with the rules of this body and the Constitution of this state. The rights of the minority have been and will continue to be scrupulously observed. But in our concern for the rights of the minority we must not be blinded to the rights and duties of the majority. Politically motivated charges of violation of rules come with ill grace from those who by their actions have unconscionably delayed and obstructed the business of the House.

The duty of the House is to organize the House and to legislate. It would be recreant in its duties and unworthy of the trust reposed in it by the citizens of this state if it allowed itself to be deterred in this purpose. As is well stated in Reed's Rule 49 ". . . the object and purpose of an assembly is to enable men to act together as a body, each member ought so to conduct himself as to facilitate the result, or at least so as not to hinder it."

It is now time for responsible men to be about the business of this House and the business of the state. We invite all members of the House to join together in this effort.

MOTION

On motion of Mr. Andersen (James A.), House Bill No. 20 was rereferred to the Committee on Judiciary.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The Speaker recognized Mr. Mahaffey.

Mr. Mahaffey:

"Mr. Speaker, I would like the privilege of having some remarks of mine on the Education Committee included in the journal today."

The Speaker:

"You may have them included."

STATEMENT FOR THE JOURNAL

Regardless as to how the action of the floor of the House progresses, I hope that as in the four sessions of my experience, peace and harmony will prevail in the Education Committee. There is no partisanship in the interest in our public schools. We all agree that public education is Washington's wisest investment and that sound legislation for stronger schools will make a stronger state.

Of course there will be disagreement on legislation asked for, but such disagreement will be based on philosophy as to what is best for our children, not on political party platform.

Both parties recognize that the best guarantee of our freedoms in America rest with having a literate and an articulate citizenry. The only guarantee that we can continue to have our republican representative government function, is to educate all the children of all the people.

We want the best for our children that they may be equipped to carry on better than we have been able to do. We adults want our children to have the blessings that we have had in America—a strong school system, the best of teachers and equipment is what we all want for our boys and girls.

There will be a difference of opinion as to what is necessary for the most efficient operation of the schools—school building construction, purchasing of school books and equipment, fringe benefits for teachers, pension plans and salary schedules—these matters will receive much deliberation.

A more conservative approach will be made to these school problems than has been the case for several sessions, but I am confident the results will be good, sound and for the best development of our most important natural resource—our children. I am sure that the committee will be agreed upon one thing, and that is that the heart of our educational process is the classroom teacher.

MOTION

On motion of Mr. Lewis, House Bill No. 31 was rereferred to the Committee on Labor and Industrial Insurance.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Litchman:

"Mr. Speaker, point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. Litchman:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Ladies and gentlemen of the House, a short while ago a number of people were quite concerned about accepting and rejecting committee chairmanships. I wasn't here but I don't recall that the Speaker appointed anybody to the chairmanship and vice chairmanship of the Wild Life Committee. I think most of our members would be very happy to serve in either capacity."

The Speaker:

"Suggestion received, Mr. Litchman."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Ackley:

"Mr. Speaker, point of parliamentary inquiry."

The Speaker:

"State your point of parliamentary inquiry."

Mr. Ackley:

"My point of parliamentary inquiry is that earlier this morning you made several rulings concerning certain declinations to committee appointments, that is, committee chairmanships and vice chairmanships which were declined, and you ruled that you could not accept the declinations and that your appointments stood. My point of parliamentary inquiry, Mr. Speaker, is: How do you intend to enforce your ruling?"

The Speaker:

"My ruling, to begin with, was that we were doing this under the temporary rules and that changes could be made if it was indicated through examination by individuals, and I have no intention of forcing people to serve unless it becomes necessary in the pressing business of this legislature, and of course I have a prerogative to censure any member. I hope this will not be necessary, Mr. Ackley."

Mr. Ackley:

"Mr. Speaker, I call to your attention the provision of the state Constitution which requires a two-thirds vote to censure any member. I don't believe it is within the prerogative of the Speaker to again deliberately violate our Constitution."

The Speaker:

"I haven't decided that yet. We will cross that bridge when we come to it."

"Mr. Speaker and members of the House, there are being placed on your desks now some Yakima valley apples. Last week we had apples from the north country. Those of us from the fourteenth and fifteenth districts were concerned that those apples were perhaps raised under adverse conditions of the icy winds from the north country, so we would like to have you enjoy these apples, which of course come from the beautiful Yakima valley, blessed with sunshine. At various times you have had bills before this body concerning the grading standards of apples. Those of us from the fourteenth and fifteenth are entirely unconcerned with those grading standards because there is really only one grade from the valley, and that is extra-fancy. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

POINT OF INFORMATION

The Speaker recognized Mr. Litchman.

Mr. Litchman:

"Mr. Speaker, I would like to inquire, if one does not ask that additional bills be printed, how many at a later date would we print if the bills run out? Do you have any idea as to the answer to that question?"

The Speaker:

"Thirteen hundred is the original amount."

Mr. Litchman:

"If they run out and there is a tremendous request for additional bills, how many additional bills would the printer print? The reason I ask is because I wonder if it would be better to ask that additional bills be printed first rather than wait until they run out?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Litchman, the answer to that, I believe, is that if the printer prints these when the type is set, the cost is much less than it would be at a later date to reset the type."

Conforming state law to federal law in relation to irrigation and reclamation districts.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Mrs. Hurley, the rules were suspended, House Bill No. 17 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Representatives Ahlquist, Mundy, and Flanagan spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

The Speaker recognized Mr. Ackley.

Mr. Ackley:

"Would Representative Mundy yield to a question?"

The Speaker:

"Will Representative Mundy yield?"

Mr. Mundy:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker, I will gladly yield."

Mr. Ackley:

"Mr. Mundy, I have been reading over this bill trying to understand what the changes are. I spoke with you briefly about it a few minutes ago and it was my understanding this does not in any way affect the policy of having family-sized farm units, and now I see that language stricken out on page 1, lines 23, 24, and 25. It does strike, it seems to me, the words 'of sufficient acreage for the support of an average-sized family at a suitable living level'. I am wondering just what the import of striking that language is."

Mr. Mundy:

"Representative Ackley, and members of the House, if you recall, in the 1957 session here of this House, the state legislature in that session adopted the land limitation act of the Columbia Basin Project. When Harold Ickes was Secretary of the Interior some years ago, the Columbia Basin Project was originally designed and set up for family-sized farm units of approximately forty acres of land, but during the period since those years, with the cost of farm machinery, the cost of tilling forty acres, as the result of buying various expensive pieces of farm machinery, it was decided by the farmers, by the irrigation district directors, and the people that the land limitation act of forty acres was not conducive. So in 1957 the legislature changed the act to provide the ownership of one hundred sixty acres.

"Now in answer to your specific question about what is being deleted, it deletes out the amount of ownership which was passed in 1957. The amount of ownership now is a community interest of a husband and wife in not more than one hundred sixty acres per person. We are not enlarging the ownership, Representative Ackley, in fee simple—that is exclusive of leasing rights on the project—other than the fact that an individual may own one hundred sixty acres of tillable, irrigable lands. Does that answer your question, sir?"

Mr. Ackley:

"I think so. You mean that federal standards have been changed from forty acres to one hundred sixty acres, and the federal standards would still be applicable under this law?"

Mr. Mundy:

"That is correct. We changed that in the year 1957 here in the legislature. At that time, the state of Washington passed the act first and the Congress, in the succeeding session of Congress, passed the federal law to comply with the state law. Here, today, what we are doing is asking that the state of Washington pass this act to comply with the federal law which was passed last October. I can assure you that the acreages are not being increased in this instance other than what was passed here in 1957 to provide for one hundred sixty acres per individual."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Ackley:

"I have one other question. I don't understand, on page 6 of the bill, paragraph (4), the language which refers to federal law 'as it now exists or may hereafter be enacted' and the language 'or may hereafter be enacted' is stricken. I don't understand the reason that language is stricken."

The Speaker:

"Do you care to answer, Mr. Mundy?"

Mr. Mundy:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Paul LeMargie, Solicitor General of the Department of Interior, who prepared the original draft of this legislation had that inserted, and Mr. Dick White, code reviser, asked that it be included in each repeal in order to conform with the Columbia Basin Project Act, because he thought it would be applicable and should be included."

Representative Savage spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of House Bill No. 17, and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas, 94; nays, 0; absent or not voting, 5.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Ackley, Adams, Ahlquist, Andersen (James A.), Anderson (Eric O.), Backstrom, Beck, Beierlein, Berentson, Bergh, Bigley, Bozarth, Brachtenbach, Braun, Brouillet, Burtch, Canfield, Chatalas, Clark, Comfort, Conner, Copeland, DeJarnatt, Dootson, Earley, Eberle, Eldridge, Evans, Flanagan, Folsom, Gallagher, Garrett, Gleason, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Grant, Hadley, Harris, Haussler, Hawley, Henry, Herr, Hood, Huntley, Hurley, Johnston, Jueling, King, Kink, Kirk, Klein, Leland, Lewis, Lind, Litchman, Lybecker, Lynch, Mahaffey, Mast, May, McCaffree, McCormick, McDougall, McElroy, McFadden, Metcalf, Miles, Moon, Moos, Morrissey, Mundy, Newschwander, O'Brien, O'Connell, Odell, O'Donnell, Olsen, Perry, Pritchard, Rogers, Savage, Sawyer, Schaefer, Siler, Smith, Swayze, Taylor, Uhlman, Wang, Wedekind, Wintler, Witherbee, Young, Mr. Speaker—94.

WILLIAM S. DAY, Speaker.

S. R. HOLCOMB, Chief Clerk.

SIXTEENTH DAY

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,
OLYMPIA, WASH., Tuesday, January 29, 1963.

The Speaker called the House to order at 11:00 a. m.

The Clerk called the roll. Representative O'Donnell, who was excused, was absent.

The flag was escorted to the rostrum by a Sergeant at Arms color guard.

Prayer was offered by the Reverend Teddy Turner of the First Christian Church of Olympia.

The reading clerk proceeded to read the journal of the proceedings of the previous day. On motion of Mr. Gorton, further reading was dispensed with and the journal was ordered to stand approved.

SPEAKER'S PRIVILEGE

The Speaker declared the House to be at ease.

The Speaker called the House to order.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Mundy:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. Mundy:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Ladies and gentlemen of the House, in recognition of your vote of last week on House Bill No. 17 in regard to the Columbia Basin irrigation legislation, in behalf of the Washington State Reclamation Association and as one of the co-sponsors, I want to say the cigars and candy being passed out today is for the fine consideration given that piece of legislation and in letting the Senate know we are over here working and have passed the first bill over to the Senate side."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The Speaker recognized Mr. O'Brien.

Mr. O'Brien:

"Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the House, it has been customary for many years—as a matter of fact, it has become a precedent now—that one of our most able and esteemed Senators has come to the House of Representatives each legislative session and made a presentation to the pages of the House. Certainly he is a man of great generosity, and one who I know has the highest respect of not only the members of the Senate but also the members of the House. So at this time, Mr. Speaker, the Honorable David Cowen has again brought gifts for the pages of this House and we would like to take a few minutes of your time, not only to present the honorable Senator from Spokane, but we would also like to have the pages come from the bar of the House and receive these gifts. May we have that privilege?"

The Speaker:

"You surely may. Would the pages come in, and would Representatives Hurley and Evans escort Senator Cowen to the bar of the House, please?"

Representatives Hurley and Evans escorted Senator Cowen to the rostrum.
Senator Cowen:

"Mr. Speaker, members of the House. It is with a great deal of pleasure that I come before this body. Twenty-nine years ago, I sat down there in the front seat, and it's like old home week every time I come back. I would like to have Representative, and former Speaker, John O'Brien present the watches to the pages. It has been a custom of mine to do this each session of the legislature since early in my career. I was the one who started the uniforms for the pages. My uniforms were a great deal prettier than these you buy them. Maybe one of these days we will have to change them. Now, Representative O'Brien, would you present the watches to the pages?"

Representative O'Brien presented watches to the House pages.

The Speaker:

"The Speaker would like to say we certainly appreciate the Dean of the Senate continuing this humanitarian and benevolent service to the state of Washington. Thank you, Senator."

The special committee escorted Senator Cowen from the floor of the House.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Flanagan:

"Mr. Speaker, point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. Flanagan:

"I would also like to express my appreciation to all the members of the House for allowing House Bill No. 17 to be advanced and passed last week and making these advantages available to the water users of the Columbia Basin project at an early date, so I have joined with Representative Mundy in passing out the cigars and candy."

SPEAKER'S PRIVILEGE

The Speaker:

"At this time, I would like to recognize within the bar of the House the distinguished mother of one of our fine representatives from Snohomish and Island counties, Mr. Dick Taylor. Would his mother please rise and be recognized by the House?"

The Speaker observed in the south gallery from the forty-seventh district in Renton, the Mayor of Renton, Frank Aliment, Councilmen Walter Reid and Henry Pedersen, Councilwoman Jeanette Dahlquist, City Clerk Helmie Nelson, City Treasurer Dorothy Gossett, and Deputy City Clerk Gwen Marshall, and asked them to stand and be recognized.

NOTICE OF AMENDMENT TO RULES

In accordance with House Rule No. 12, Mrs. Hurley gave notice that on the next working day amendments would be offered to House Rules No. 7, 10, 18, 19, 20, 59, 60, 64, 65, 78, and 81.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. O'Brien:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. O'Brien:

"It appears that one of the members of the House has on his desk a tape recorder. I would like to have you make a ruling on whether or not this is proper legislative procedure. We have never had anything like this before in the House of Representatives. If the Rules and Order Committee desires to record everything that goes on here, that is all right. You can amend the rules and make that type of decision. But for one member to act as a Gestapo to record what he wants, and not record other things, seems to me to violate the decorum of the House. We have never had this happen in the history of the state, where there is a tape recorder right on a member's desk. I would like to have you make a ruling whether or not you feel such a practice should be condoned, or whether or not the Rules and Order Committee should record all proceedings."

The Speaker:

"Mr. O'Brien, because of the nature of your request, I am going to defer my ruling until tomorrow. I will rule tomorrow on your point of order."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The Speaker recognized Mr. Perry.

Mr. Perry:

"Mr. Speaker, seeing as I am the one who is being referred to, I would like a moment to make a statement. I rise to a point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. Perry:

"Let me say this. I would be most happy if everyone here would put one on his desk. I think that everything we do should be subject to the scrutiny of the body politic and the state of Washington. I think a great many things that have transpired here are of tremendous public interest, and they have not been brought forth because the news media can't devote their whole newspaper to what happens here because of the international situation and the press of other news that has to be reported. I use this tape recorder to follow the past day's proceedings, to see what has been said here, to examine the validity of the arguments and the amendments. This is not used in an attempt to spy upon any member of the House, because what we do here is public knowledge and anything you don't intend to have published, printed, or recorded shouldn't be said. I would appreciate your consideration in this. I think this is a good, useful tool of legislation. I think it can be used to recall what has been said in heated debate. For instance, sometimes I don't know what Mr. Ackley has said. He makes some tremendous statements. I respect his intellectual capacity, as well as that of Mr. Uhlman and many others who may not agree with me in what we do. I would appreciate your consideration."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The Speaker recognized Mr. Bergh.

Mr. Bergh:

"I rise to a point of personal privilege, Mr. Speaker. I personally resent a remark made by a colleague in this House referring to any other member using a Gestapo-like tactic. I feel it is strictly out of order. It is personally to me very revolting."

The Speaker:

"I believe your point is well taken."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Morphis:

"Mr. Speaker, point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. Morphis:

"During the course of the early days of the session, I had a portable recorder, as many of you know. It was for the recreation of myself and my family and was not used with any malicious intent. It was not in any way a Gestapo maneuver. Anyone who knows me knows I have been very friendly to everyone and have no ulterior motives whatsoever. I do hope, Mr. Speaker, you will rule this is correct and proper."

The Speaker:

"It will be any member's prerogative to present any arguments regarding this point of order before convening tomorrow."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Ackley:

"Mr. Speaker, I wonder if Mr. Perry would yield to a question?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Perry, will you yield to question?"

Mr. Perry:

"Yes, I will."

Mr. Ackley:

"Mr. Perry, I don't know very much about these electronic recorders but I have had people tell me it is possible to doctor the tapes and change the sequence, or to eliminate certain portions, so that a person who heard a tape wouldn't get a true record. Do you think that is true, Mr. Perry?"

Mr. Perry:

"Yes, it is possible. However, this is an instrument of great utility and I hope consideration will be given to its use."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Witherbee:

"Mr. Speaker, would Mr. Perry yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield, Mr. Perry?"

Mr. Perry:

"I would be most happy to."

Mr. Witherbee:

"I don't intend to impugn your motives at all, but I wish to point out that we have a journal clerk who takes the record of the proceedings of this House and are you—I hate to put it in these words, but it is the only way I know of stating it—are you implying that maybe the journal clerk is not taking a true record?"

Mr. Perry:

"No. What I am doing, for the information of you gentlemen, is recording speeches of interest to me personally which I think the people have a right to know the substance of. I am in no way reflecting on the journal clerk. I would like to make that clear. I think many times excellent speeches are made by people in this House that are never repeated which I feel the people in their constituencies would be very interested in hearing."

The Speaker:

"I believe, in further answer to your question, that the journal does not include all the debate."

POINT OF ORDER

The Speaker recognized Mr. Johnston.

Mr. Johnston:

"Mr. Speaker, I notice that the committee's resolution on the proposed changes in the rules which was delivered to my desk is incomplete. There is a blank page. I think the items should be rechecked to be sure that each member has a correct copy of the proposed changes. I wouldn't want anybody to have an incorrect statement on these matters."

The Speaker:

"We will have the Clerk recheck them."

MOTION

On motion of Mr. Huntley, House Bill No. 46 was rereferred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

POINT OF INFORMATION

The Speaker recognized Mr. Savage.

Mr. Savage:

"Mr. Speaker, I have first a point of information. Do we have to serve notice of amendments to the rules if we are going to amend the permanent rules when we are adopting them? Does this require a notice?"

The Speaker:

"Are you referring to the rules now before the House to be amended, or other rules?"

Mr. Savage:

"I was thinking of the permanent rules. One that I am thinking of is Rule No. 3 which authorizes the Speaker to appoint all the committees, and the other is Rule No. 59 that names the committees."

The Speaker:

"You would have to give written notice."

NOTICE OF AMENDMENT TO RULES

Mr. Savage served notice that on the next working day he would move to amend House Rule No. 3 and House Rule No. 59, and that the proposed amendments would be presented in writing later today.

POINT OF INFORMATION

The Speaker recognized Mr. Schaefer.

Mr. Schaefer:

"Mr. Speaker, point of information on the rule changes that are being presented by the Rules and Order Committee for tomorrow. Will the members have an opportunity to consider each amendment separately or will we have to consider them as a whole?"

The Speaker:

"You can offer any amendments as we go through them."

Mr. Schaefer:

"We won't vote on the amendment to Rule 7 separately, for example?"

The Speaker:

"We will vote on each amendment to this amendment separately, but you will vote on the rule changes as a whole. This is a resolution on which you will vote."

MOTION

On motion of Mrs. Henry, the reading clerk was instructed to read the proposed resolution adopting the temporary rules as permanent rules with certain amendments, as follows:

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Ackley:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Ackley:

"I didn't understand your ruling in regard to Mr. Savage's question as to whether we need give notice of amendments to these proposed amendments to the rules or other proposed amendments to the rules."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"My ruling is that tomorrow this entire resolution will be before the body, and at that time you will not have to give notice to amend the resolution; but if this resolution is adopted, it will then make the temporary rules the permanent rules, and if you wish to amend the permanent rules, you will have to give twenty-four hours' notice."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Witherbee:

"Mr. Speaker, point of parliamentary inquiry."

The Speaker:

"State your point of parliamentary inquiry."

Mr. Witherbee:

"Mr. Speaker, I am somewhat confused. On the first page is an amendment to Rule 19 and on the second page one to Rule 20. I wonder if the Speaker would care to make a ruling on this? I notice it is talking about the subcommittee on claims, auditing, and printing."

The Speaker:

"Mr. Witherbee, I think you are out of order because this is not properly before the House at this time."

Mr. Witherbee:

"I realize that, but what I would like to do is get something straight in my mind so I can properly assess these amendments."

The Speaker:

"If you will come to the Speaker's office immediately after the session, we will clarify it for you."

Mr. Witherbee:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

SECOND READING OF BILLS

House Concurrent Resolution No. 4, by Representatives Schaefer, O'Brien, and Copeland (by Legislative Council request):

Requiring that bills have fiscal notes prior to public hearing or committee action.

The resolution was read the second time in full.

Mr. Ackley moved the adoption of the following amendment:

On page 1, line 6, after "decreasing state" insert "or local"

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Schaefer:

"Mr. Ackley, would you yield to a question?"

The Speaker:

"Will Mr. Ackley yield?"

Mr. Ackley:

"Yes."

Mr. Schaefer:

"In reviewing this with you, I concurred in your remarks that local government should be considered also as far as this resolution is concerned. However, it was brought to my attention—and I think this is something neither you nor I considered—that there was some question about the period of time it might take to get the information. Now, this bill gives the budget agency thirty-six hours to prepare this for the House, unless an unusual period of time is needed, and they have indicated they could do this within that period of time. If you go down to each local agency, can we obtain the information in time to consider it? That is my only question. Do you think we will be able to?"

Mr. Ackley:

"I think it would present a problem, but I don't think it does away with any of the responsible reasons for our considering this. I think that the Association of Washington Cities, the Association of Counties, and the Association of County Elected Officials, the County Commissioners, and all the various state-wide associations, including those of sewer and water districts, would have this information for us in time for us to consider it. And as you know, farther down in this resolution is a provision that its requirements can be waived by a vote of the majority of the members, in case the information weren't forthcoming. I assume if they didn't get the information up here in time, we could waive. This would give them an opportunity at least."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Comfort:

"Mr. Ackley, would you yield to further question?"

The Speaker:

"Will Mr. Ackley yield to question?"

Mr. Ackley:

"Yes."

Mr. Comfort:

"I might say I am in sympathy with your remarks, but I note the section you are now amending refers to state or local revenue, which means income, yet your remarks were addressed to liabilities, which are different from income. Do you think your amendment that you are presently proposing here would demand fiscal notes relative to fiscal liabilities, such as increase of pension plans, on a local unit or do you have a further amendment on this?"

Mr. Ackley:

"Yes, there is another amendment on the desk that does the same thing for the section on page 2, which refers to state or local expenditures. I would try to make it consistent, yes."

The amendment was adopted.

Mr. Ackley moved the adoption of the following amendment:

On page 2, line 5, after "which state" and before "revenues" insert "or local"

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Comfort:

"Mr. Speaker, would Mr. Ackley yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield to question, Mr. Ackley?"

Mr. Ackley:

"Yes."

Mr. Comfort:

"Mr. Ackley, is this the amendment you were referring to relative to my previous question?"

Mr. Ackley:

"Yes, it is."

Mr. Comfort:

"It is the intent of your amendment that when we impose a further liability on a local unit of government, a fiscal note would be attached to the bill setting forth an estimate of this further liability?"

Mr. Ackley:

"Yes, it is."

The amendment was adopted.

House Concurrent Resolution No. 4 was ordered engrossed.

On motion of Mrs. Hurley, the rules were suspended, Engrossed House

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Chatalas:

"Mr. Speaker, point of parliamentary inquiry."

The Speaker:

"State your point of parliamentary inquiry."

Mr. Chatalas:

"Is it necessary to demand an electric roll call on final passage in the future?"

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"On a concurrent resolution, only a voice vote is required on final passage unless there is money involved."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Ackley:

"Mr. Speaker, point of parliamentary inquiry."

The Speaker:

"State your point of parliamentary inquiry."

Mr. Ackley:

"I would like clarification, so we will know what the precedents are in this session, of your ruling on the inquiry by Mr. Chatalas. I call the Speaker's attention to Rule 49 of the rules of this House, which says:

"Upon the final passage of any bill, memorial, or resolution, the vote shall be taken by yeas and nays and shall be recorded by the electric voting system."

"Is it your ruling that with a concurrent resolution as distinguished from a resolution, this rule does not apply? I might also ask, if on a concurrent memorial, does this rule not apply? The rule says 'any resolution'."

POINT OF ORDER

The Speaker recognized Mr. Evans.

Mr. Evans:

"Mr. Speaker, I think if Mr. Ackley would refer to Joint Rule No. 15, the last paragraph clearly points out the procedure on concurrent resolutions."

POINT OF ORDER

The Speaker recognized Mr. Uhlman.

Mr. Uhlman:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order. I point out to Representative Evans that the House is not in joint session with the Senate at this time. The joint rules would not be applicable."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"I believe the answer is contained in the joint rules, which state that a concurrent resolution may be adopted without a roll call:

"Provided, however, That concurrent resolutions authorizing investigations, and authorizing the expenditure or allocation of any money must be adopted by roll call, and the yeas and nays recorded in the journal."

"We have had three previous concurrent resolutions adopted in this session by a voice vote, and it has been a practice in previous sessions."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Moon:

"Mr. Speaker, I would like to make a parliamentary inquiry."

The Speaker:

"State your point of parliamentary inquiry."

Mr. Moon:

"You have just read this rule under our joint rules. I would like to ask, as Mr. Uhlman did, does this rule apply while we are in session as we are now, or do the joint rules apply when we are in joint session?"

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"They apply to any session of the House, Mr. Moon."

Mr. Garrett:

"Yes, Representative Andersen."

Mr. Andersen:

"Representative Garrett, the operative language of your resolution certainly seems appropriate to a lot of us on this side of the aisle, but I think a few of the 'whereas' clauses stick in the craw a little bit. By voting for the resolution, do we accept the 'whereas' clauses as verity?"

"The chairman reports that the committee of the whole has, according to order, had under its consideration such a matter, and has made progress therein; the chairman rises, the speaker resumes the chair, the chairman informs him that the committee has gone through the business referred to it and that he is ready to make report.

"Bills appropriating money may be considered in the committee of the whole House and when so considered no change in the amount appropriated shall be made outside of the committee of the whole."

Amend Rule 78 as follows:

Strike all of the material after "Rules Committee" on line 2 of the second paragraph, and insert a period.

Amend Rule 81 as follows:

"Rule 81. Amendment to any bill, resolution or memorial may be offered when the same is on its second reading.

"No amendments to a bill shall be received on its third reading, but it may be referred or recommitted for the purpose of amendment.

"No amendment to the general appropriation bill, commonly known as the budget, adding any new item, or items, thereto not incorporated in the bill as reported by the ways and means committee, or the committee of the whole, shall be adopted except by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the representatives elected."

MOTION

Mr. Rogers, having given notice on a preceding day that he would offer amendments to House Rule 3, moved that the House do now consider his resolution amending House Rule 3 as follows:

Resolution by Mr. Rogers:

Be It Resolved, By the House of Representatives, that House Rule 3 be amended as follows:

Add to subsection (f) the following:

"In appointing the committee members to committees, the Speaker shall name members in the same ratio as the membership of the respective parties in the House. Committee members will be selected by each party's caucus. The majority party caucus will select all committee chairmen.

"Members of the Rules Committee will be selected in the same manner and same ratio as provided above, and the Speaker will serve as chairman of the Rules Committee.

"Interim committee memberships will be elected by the respective caucuses, on a basis of statutory and geographical representation; otherwise, the same ratio between the parties will prevail in the caucus election of interim committee members.

"Patronage will be divided proportionately by the party caucuses, following as closely as possible the ratio between the parties.

"Seating will be on a seniority basis, from front to back, with the members having the longest legislative service entitled to the seats closer to the front."

MOTION

Mr. Savage moved to substitute, in place of the resolution by Mr. Rogers, the following amendments to House Rules No. 3 and 59:

Amend House Rule 3 as follows:

Strike all of subsection (f) and substitute the following:

"(f) The speaker shall have the right to appoint the ceremonial committees; conference committees; and special committees, with the exception of special committees on patronage and seating. He shall act as chairman of the committee on rules and order."

Amend House Rule 59 as follows:

The present Rule 59 shall be designated subsection (d), and three new subsections, designated (a), (b), and (c), shall be inserted, to read as follows:

"(a) The standing committees of the House shall be established by the respective caucuses of the two major political parties on the nearest possible ratio to the membership of the House. However, the major party of the House shall have at least one majority on all standing committees. The ratio shall be worked out by the chief clerk, and the respective caucuses shall be notified not less than twenty days prior to the convening of the next regular legislative session.

"The majority party caucus shall select all standing committee chairmen, with the exception of the committee on rules and order. Past service and experience will be considered when selecting committee chairmen.

"(b) The respective party caucuses shall each elect three members to constitute their patronage committees. The majority party shall designate the proportion of patronage to be allowed the minority. Both party caucuses shall also name three members to constitute their seating committees.

"(c) Interim committee members shall be elected by the respective caucuses on a basis of statutory and geographical representation. However, the same ratio between the majority and minority parties shall prevail in the interim committee memberships as designated for standing committee appointments."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Copeland:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Copeland:

"Mr. Rogers made a motion that we consider his resolution. That particular motion has not carried this body. I think it is entirely out of order for Mr. Savage to request a substitute at this time."

MOTIONS

On motion of Mr. Perry, consideration of the resolution by Mr. Rogers was deferred and made a special order of business immediately following the consideration of the resolution amending the rules by the Rules and Order Committee.

Mr. Burtch moved that consideration of the resolution by the Rules and Order Committee be postponed until such time as the Committee on Rules and Order had an opportunity to study the resolution by Mr. Rogers.

The motion by Mr. Burtch was lost on a rising vote.

Mr. Uhlman moved that consideration of the resolution by the Committee on Rules and Order be divided to consider separately the proposed amendments to Rule 7, Rule 10, Rule 18, Rule 19, Rule 20, Rule 59, Rule 60, Rule 64, Rule 65, Rule 78, and Rule 81.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Evans:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Evans:

"I don't believe we have the resolution before us. Notice has been given, but Mrs. Hurley hasn't stated the motion."

The Speaker:

"The Speaker has stated that the question before the House is the adoption of the resolution by the Committee on Rules and Order."

Debate ensued, Representatives Uhlman and Eldridge speaking in favor of the motion.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Moon:

"Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask if Mr. Eldridge would yield to a question?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Eldridge, would you yield to question?"

Mr. Eldridge:

"No."

The motion by Mr. Uhlman to consider the proposed amendments to the rules separately was carried.

The Speaker declared the question before the House to be the adoption of proposed amendments to the temporary House rules by the Committee on Rules and Order.

On motion of Mrs. Hurley, the following amendment by the Committee on Rules and Order to House Rule No. 7 was adopted:

Amend Rule 7 as follows:

In line 3, strike "those present and"

Mrs. Hurley moved the adoption of the following amendment by the Committee on Rules and Order to House Rule No. 10:

Strike all of Rule 10 and substitute the following:

"ORDER OF BUSINESS

Rule 10. Business shall be disposed of in the following order:

First—Call of the roll, presentation of the flag, and prayer.

Second—Reading of the journal of the preceding day.

Third—Reports of standing committees.

Fourth—Reports of special committees.

Fifth—Messages from the senate, governor, and other state officials.

Sixth—Introduction and first reading of bills, memorials, and resolutions.

Seventh—Presentation of petitions, memorials, and remonstrances addressed to the legislature.

Eighth—Propositions and motions.

Ninth—Second reading of bills.

Tenth—Third reading of bills.

Eleventh—Other business to be considered.

Twelfth—Announcements of committee meetings."

Debate ensued, Representative Copeland speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Witherbee:

"Mr. Speaker, will Mr. Copeland yield to a question?"

The Speaker:

"Will Mr. Copeland yield?"

Mr. Copeland:

"Yes."

Mr. Witherbee:

"Mr. Copeland, did I understand you right? You said in your remarks that debate was a proper thing to come before this body?"

Mr. Copeland:

"I did."

Mr. Witherbee:

"I am happy to know that, because we will have some debate today."

Mr. Copeland:

"Thank you, Mr. Witherbee. We will be ready."

The motion was carried and the amendment by the Committee on Rules and Order to House Rule No. 10 was adopted.

Mrs. Hurley moved the adoption of the following amendment by the Committee on Rules and Order to House Rule No. 18:

Amend Rule 18 as follows:

"Rule 18. It shall be in order for the subcommittee on claims, auditing, and printing of the ways and means committee to report at any time, if no motion is before the House. This subcommittee may report to the house without notice by handing its report to the chief clerk."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Burtch:

"Mr. Speaker, I wonder if Representative Evans would yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Would you yield to question, Mr. Evans?"

Mr. Evans:

"Yes."

Mr. Burtch:

"Mr. Evans, I wonder if you could explain this particular rule to me? It concerns me somewhat that we are setting a dangerous precedent in letting a subcommittee report to the House. It seems to me that it could follow that later other subcommittees could report to the House and all a chairman would have to do is to refer a particular pet bill to the subcommittee and it would come to the House without proper consideration."

Mr. Evans:

"This doesn't set any precedent. I think members of the House well know the reports of the Claims, Auditing, and Printing Committee to the House are routine reports. The only change that is being made in this rule is that the Claims, Auditing, and Printing Committee has been placed under the Ways and Means Committee. I don't think it sets any precedent at all. Reporting of subcommittees of standing committees to the House on matters of real import would require another change in the House rules and that would require that a majority of the members of the House would agree to it."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Witherbee:

"Mr. Speaker, point of parliamentary inquiry."

The Speaker:

"State your point of parliamentary inquiry."

Mr. Witherbee:

"Mr. Speaker, I attempted yesterday to make an inquiry on this very rule change. I would like to have a ruling from the Speaker, if possible, on this. If I recall, several days past, this proposed subcommittee made a report to this House and the report was accepted by this House. Going back a bit, at the time that we adopted the temporary rules consolidating committees, for all intents and purposes this subcommittee disappeared as a committee of this House because it was not spelled out in any way as to where this committee would be. Now, I am rather concerned at this point that we should set a precedent in this House of accepting the report of a subcommittee which at that time had actually no legal standing with this body. This disturbs me greatly. I would like to know, if we approve this now, will we go back and make legal an action which I very seriously consider to have been an illegal action of this body?"

The Speaker:

"Your question goes to the temporary rules. It is perfectly within the prerogative of this body to make any rules concerning any committee or subcommittee, Mr. Witherbee."

Debate ensued, Representative Canfield speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment to Rule 18.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Litchman:

"Mr. Speaker, I wonder if Mr. Canfield would yield to a question?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Canfield, would you yield to a question?"

Mr. Canfield:

"Is it on this subject, Mr. Litchman?"

Mr. Litchman:

"Yes. It is regarding Rule 18. From what I gather, your intention is to not change Rule 18 whatsoever as far as procedure is concerned. You are merely, in effect, substituting this subcommittee on Claims, Auditing, and Printing of the Ways and Means Committee for the old committee? Is that correct?"

Mr. Canfield:

"I think that is the general idea, yes."

Further debate ensued, Representative Litchman arguing against adoption of the amendment to Rule 18.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Litchman:

"Mr. Speaker, I wonder if Representative King would yield to a question?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. King, would you yield to question?"

Mr. King:

"If it is on the subject matter, yes."

Mr. Litchman:

"Could you answer my question, Mr. King? If no one has any intention to deceive the members on this side of the aisle—and certainly no one is impugning anybody's motives at this time or any other time—Mr. King, could you explain to us who the members are of this particular subcommittee?"

Mr. King:

"Yes, Mr. Litchman, I can. If you had noticed the other morning who signed the claim for your travel expenses, you would know the members were those five members of the Ways and Means Committee."

Mr. Litchman:

"Could you read who those members are? I was so anxious to cash my check, I didn't notice."

Mr. King:

"Myself as chairman, Mr. Canfield, Mr. Kink, Mr. Goldsworthy, and Mr. Backstrom."

Mr. Litchman:

"One more question. Is it your intention as chairman of the committee, as the previous Speaker has done in the past, to leave this subcommittee on Claims, Auditing, and Printing as it is now? Will these selected people continue to operate in that capacity for the rest of the term or is it your intention to change the membership?"

Mr. King:

"This particular committee will not be changed during the balance of this session. Later on there might be some small claims from the Senate side for which a different committee will be set up."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Burtch:

"Mr. Speaker, I wonder if Mr. King would yield to another question?"

The Speaker:

"Do you yield to another question, Mr. King?"

Mr. King:

"Yes, if it's on the same subject."

Mr. Burtch:

"It is on the same subject. It is my understanding that the auditing of the internal expenditures of the House was the function of the auditing part of this committee. Is the auditing, the auditing of the expenses of this House?"

Mr. King:

"That is part of it. We also have the printing and supplies that come before our committee. Your mileage is one consideration."

Mr. Burtch:

"The assertion was made that this is not an important committee. I believe that it is important."

Mr. King:

"Your wages are not included. That is already taken care of by Central Budget well ahead."

Further debate ensued, Representatives Ackley and O'Brien speaking against adoption of the amendment to Rule 18, and Representatives Canfield, Gorton, and King speaking for the adoption of the amendment.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Witherbee:

"Mr. Speaker, will Mr. Canfield yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Canfield, do you yield to question?"

Mr. Canfield:

"If it is on the subject, Mr. Witherbee."

Mr. Witherbee:

"Mr. Canfield, maybe I am somewhat dense. When I asked my question originally on this subject matter, I didn't get the answer I was looking for. You said the intent of this rule change is that this subcommittee report directly to the House; or do they report, as a subcommittee, to the Ways and Means Committee, and the Ways and Means Committee will report to the House of Representatives?"

Mr. Canfield:

"I think probably you had better direct that question to the chairman of the committee."

Mr. Witherbee:

"Mr. Speaker, will Mr. King yield?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. King, will you yield?"

Mr. King:

"Mr. Speaker, in answer to this question, this committee is set up primarily to carry on this function with no responsibility to carry it back to the committee before they bring it to the House."

Further debate ensued, Representatives Witherbee and Klein speaking against adoption of the amendment to Rule 18, and Representative King speaking for adoption.

The motion was carried and the amendment by the Committee on Rules and Order to House Rule No. 18 was adopted on a rising vote.

On motion of Mrs. Hurley, the following amendment by the Committee on Rules and Order to House Rule No. 19 was adopted:

Amend Rule 19 as follows:

"Rule 19. The supervisor of enrolling shall act as the clerk of the subcommittee on claims, auditing, and printing of the ways and means committee for the enrolling of bills."

On motion of Mrs. Hurley, the following amendment by the Committee on Rules and Order to House Rule No. 20 was adopted:

Amend Rule 20 as follows:

"Rule 20. The supervisor of engrossing shall act as the clerk of the subcommittee on claims, auditing, and printing of the ways and means committee for the engrossing of bills."

Mrs. Hurley moved the adoption of the following amendment by the Committee on Rules and Order to House Rule No. 59:

Amend Rule 59 as follows:

Rule 59. Strike everything after "follows:" and insert:

"No. of Committee	Name of Committee	No. of Members
1	Agriculture and Livestock.....	18
2	Banking and Insurance.....	21
3	Commerce and Economic Development.....	21
4	Constitution, Elections, and Apportionment.....	28

13	Medicine, Dentistry, and Drugs.....	11
14	Natural Resources, Parks, Capitol Buildings and Grounds.....	11

Mr. Savage moved the adoption of the following amendment to the amendment:

On page 2, Rule 59, after line 21, add the following:

"22 Subcommittee on Appropriations..... 21
23 Subcommittee on Revenue and Taxation..... 20"

Debate ensued, Representatives Savage and Schaefer speaking in favor of the amendment to the amendment, and Representatives King and Canfield speaking against it.

Mr. Olsen demanded an oral roll and the demand was sustained.

Further debate ensued, Representative Ackley speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment to the amendment, and Representatives Morrissey and Ahlquist speaking against it.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mrs. Henry:

"Mr. Speaker, will Mr. King yield to a question?"

The Speaker:

"Will Mr. King yield to question?"

Mr. King:

"Yes, if it is on the subject matter."

Mrs. Henry:

"It is, Mr. King. Did you state you are going to appoint your subcommittee on Revenue and Taxation today at your committee meeting?"

Mr. King:

"Yes."

Mrs. Henry:

"Another question, then. Would you have any objection to amending Mr. Savage's amendment as to the number you have appointed, and letting the House know exactly how many will serve?"

Mr. King:

"I am not saying I will go with Mr. Savage's amendment. The committee as set up is only a small committee. If a number of bills come in, we may have to increase it. We don't want to overwork any of the members, and we may have to ask for additional volunteers."

Further debate ensued, Mrs. Henry speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment to the amendment.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Smith:

"Mr. Speaker, will Mr. Campbell yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Campbell, do you yield to question?"

Mr. Campbell:

"Yes, I do."

Mr. Smith:

"Mr. Campbell, do you have information on this subject you would like to give us?"

Mr. Campbell:

"Yes, I do. I have been trying for an hour to get the floor."

The Speaker:

"The Speaker couldn't see you, Mr. Campbell."

Further debate ensued, Representative Campbell speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment to the amendment.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Moos:

"Mr. Speaker, will Mr. Savage yield to a question?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Savage, do you yield to a question?"

Mr. Savage:

"I would be very happy to yield."

Mr. Moos:

"Representative Savage, I understand you are a former Congressman from this state. Isn't it true, Congressman Savage, that in the United States Congress, revenue and taxation bills are handled by the Ways and Means Committee?"

Mr. Savage:

"That is true. The Ways and Means Committee has only two functions in Congress. They handle the revenue and taxation and they are the committee on committees. The Democrats and Republicans divide into a committee on committees for their respective caucuses. I'd like to say, in closing this answer, that I hope when the ladies and gentlemen on the floor refer to this as the Savage amendment, they are smiling."

Further debate ensued, Representative Morphis speaking against adoption of Mr. Savage's amendment to the amendment to Rule 59.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Schaefer:

"Mr. Speaker, would Mr. King yield to a question, please?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. King, would you yield to another question?"

Mr. King:

"If it is on the subject matter, yes."

Mr. Schaefer:

"Yes, it is. Mrs. Henry asked you how many people were going to be on this committee. You said it was very small. I wonder if at this time you could tell us the number and who will serve on it."

Mr. King:

"Mr. Henry Backstrom is the chairman. We have nine members on the committee and expect to add more."

Further debate ensued, Representatives Chatalas, Backstrom, and O'Brien speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment to the amendment to Rule 59, and Representative Clark speaking against its adoption.

Mr. Juelling demanded the previous question and the demand was sustained.

Representative Savage closed the debate on the question before the House.

The Clerk called the roll on the adoption of the amendment by Mr. Savage to the amendment by the Rules and Order Committee to House Rule No. 59. The motion was lost, and the amendment was not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 44; nays, 55; absent or not voting, 0.

Those voting nay were: Representatives Adams, Ahlquist, Andersen (James A.), Berentson, Brachtenbach, Canfield, Clark, Comfort, Copeland, Earley, Eberle, Eldridge, Evans, Flanagan, Folsom, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Hadley, Harris, Hawley, Hood, Huntley, Hurley, Johnston, Juelling, King, Kink, Kirk, Leland, Lewis, Lind, Lybecker, Lynch, Mahaffey, Mast, McCaffree, McCormick, McDougall, Metcalf, Miles, Moos, Morphis, Morrissey, Newschwander, O'Connell, Odell, Perry, Pritchard, Reese, Siler, Swayze, Wang, Wintler, Young, Mr. Speaker—55.

MOTIONS

On motion of Mr. Moos, the House dispensed with further business under the call of the House.

On motion of Mr. Perry, the House recessed until 1:15 p. m.

AFTERNOON SESSION

The Speaker called the House to order at 1:15 p. m.

The Clerk called the roll and all members were present.

SPEAKER'S PRIVILEGE

The Speaker observed within the bar of the House former State Representative Lincoln E. Shropshire of Yakima county and appointed Representatives Lynch and Brachtenbach to conduct him to a seat on the rostrum beside the Speaker.

Mr. Witherbee demanded a call of the House and the demand was sustained.

CALL OF THE HOUSE

The Sergeant at Arms was instructed to lock the doors.

The Clerk called the roll and all members were present.

On motion of Mr. Moos, the House proceeded with business under the call of the House.

The Speaker declared the question before the House to be the consideration of the amendment by the Rules and Order Committee to House Rule No. 59.

Mr. Ackley moved the adoption of the following amendment to the amendment:

On page 2, Rule 59, after line 21, add the following:

"The committee chairmen and vice chairmen shall be elected by the committee members."

Debate ensued, Representative Ackley arguing in behalf of the adoption of the amendment to the amendment.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Canfield:

"Mr. Speaker, will Mr. Ackley yield to a question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield to question, Mr. Ackley?"

Mr. Ackley:

"Yes."

Mr. Canfield:

"Mr. Ackley, a little earlier, before the recess, you spoke very eloquently in support of the motion by Mr. Rogers and Mr. Savage. It appears to me you should reconcile your present remarks with the remarks you made previously, because the two amendments are certainly not alike."

Mr. Ackley:

"We weren't permitted to debate the amendments by Mr. Savage and Mr. Rogers. I am certain that if I made any remarks, they were addressed to other amendments rather than the ones you are talking about, because those haven't been before us, Mr. Canfield."

The motion was lost and the amendment was not adopted.

Mr. Rogers moved adoption of the following amendment to the amendment, to Rule 59 by the Committee on Rules and Order:

On page 2, Rule 59, amend Rule 59 as follows:

The present Rule 59 shall be designated subsection (d), and three new subsections, designated (a), (b), and (c), shall be inserted, to read as follows:

"(a) The standing committees of the house shall be established by the respective caucuses of the two major political parties on the nearest possible ratio to the membership of the house. However, the major party of the house shall have at least one majority on all standing committees. The ratio shall be worked out by the chief clerk, and the respective caucuses shall be notified not less than twenty days prior to the convening of the next regular legislative session.

"The majority party caucus shall select all standing committee chairmen, with the exception of the committee on rules and order. Past service and experience will be considered when selecting committee chairmen. The speaker shall serve as chairman of the rules committee.

"(b) The respective party caucuses shall each elect three members to constitute their patronage committees. The majority party shall designate the proportion of patronage to be allowed the minority. Both party caucuses shall also name three members to constitute their seating committees.

"(c) Interim committee members shall be elected by the respective caucuses on a basis of statutory and geographical representation. However, the same ratio between the majority and minority parties shall prevail in the interim committee memberships as designated for standing committee appointments."

Debate ensued, Representative Rogers speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment to the amendment.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Eldridge:

"Mr. Speaker, would Mr. Rogers yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Would you yield to question, Mr. Rogers?"

Mr. Rogers:

"Yes."

Mr. Eldridge:

"Mr. Rogers, is this what we commonly term 'scalping'?"

Mr. Rogers:

"No, Representative Eldridge, this is the exercise of the right of each member of this body to make amendments to bills, resolutions, and propositions as they are presented to us. I feel that I have a perfect right to offer an amendment. I think it is very important that we have a record vote on the matter of appointing committees in a fair and just manner. The purpose of my amendment is to provide the House of Representatives with a more fair means of appointing committees than we now have. We now subject ourselves to the will of one individual in this matter, and I would be hopeful that we would place the responsibility for committee appointments in the hands of the caucuses of the two parties so that both Republicans and Democrats of the legislature can serve to advance themselves by serving their party caucuses well. I think, Representative Eldridge, that the day will come, and not too far in the future, when this body decides that it will appoint its committees in this eminently fair manner."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Perry:

"Mr. Speaker, I wonder if Mr. O'Brien would yield to a question?"

Mr. O'Brien:

"Yes."

Mr. Perry:

"What is your disposition, Mr. O'Brien, toward this?"

Mr. O'Brien:

"I am absolutely in favor of this amendment. The time has come when we must recognize the fact that the party caucuses must take the full responsibility for selecting committee chairmen as an overall policy of this House. I know the problems I had, having been elected Speaker on many occasions, particularly with members wanting privileges. It was sometimes very difficult for me to meet their requests, but I was able to do so fairly well. This House is very large and there are many problems. Sometimes if you can't honor a person's request in one area, you can in another. I think this proposal is long overdue, and never again in the history of the state of Washington should we be confronted with this type of situation. This is a reform movement that I am heartily in favor of. I think every thinking legislator should approve this regardless of whether you are Republican or Democrat and I believe the thinking people of the state of Washington would admire us if we were to adopt such a procedure. It is the same type of procedure that Congress utilizes. They select their various committee chairmen, their Speaker and their officers, their floor leaders, and everything else that goes along with it to protect and uphold the two-party system. This is one way that we could do it in the House of Representatives. We should not again subject ourselves to the situation that is in effect here now. I think that this proposal by Mr. Rogers and Mr. Savage is certainly a step forward, and that by all means we should give it our most serious consideration, because this is the only solution. Just a little while ago someone said that in every adversity there was an equivalent seed of success. I think this session is going to show the needs specifically of this type of a rule to govern future legislators. This is good legislation. It is something we badly need in the House of Representatives, and I am sure that you people will give this your most serious consideration."

Further debate ensued, Representative Savage speaking in favor of the adoption of Mr. Rogers' amendment to the amendment by the Committee on Rules and Order to Rule No. 59.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Andersen (James A.):

"Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask if Mr. O'Brien would yield to a question?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. O'Brien, would you yield to a question?"

Mr. O'Brien:

"Yes, sir."

Mr. Andersen:

"Mr. O'Brien, it has occurred to me that your words have been fluent, your mannerisms have been eloquent, your language persuasive. You referred to these reforms as being long overdue. If this is true, Mr. O'Brien, why have you not made these reforms during the preceding four sessions you have been Speaker of this House?"

Mr. O'Brien:

"Well, Mr. Andersen, I was able to put our organization together here in a high manner, if you recall. We never had any trouble, as a matter of fact, during the four sessions that I was Speaker because I recognized the minority as such and I recognized the majority as such. We always had a very fine working agreement. On our side, I was able to do the utmost with the committee on committees. I didn't care whom you appointed to committees. We accepted them in most instances. There were minor changes but they were only minor. On our side, I had the committee on committees that worked very closely with me. As a matter of fact, all Speakers have had a committee on committees; your present Speaker has had a committee on committees. Back through the ages, all Speakers have been so advised. The chairmanships are more or less announced by the Speaker after they have been worked over by the committee on committees. I didn't attempt to run this by myself. I always had the advice of those who I thought were the most capable on my side. Of course, in times gone by, I always had the advantage of advice from your side in the overall management of this House. It wasn't a great problem for me to set up the House of Representatives. But this has happened because of the chaotic condition that exists here today. I was fortunate, it is true, in that I had great loyalty among people who were on our side, and perhaps some other Speaker in times to come can develop the same kind of loyalty. But I still think this is the way it should be done. Since you asked me the question, Mr. Andersen, I am in favor of it. I know the problems I have had. Even though we were successful, I had some grave problems, and I wouldn't want any Speaker to go through the things I went through because it is a very difficult situation, I can assure you. All of us are individualists. We want certain things, certain committee assignments."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Andersen (James A.):

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Andersen:

"I rise to the point of order that Mr. O'Brien is not answering the question or speaking to the question I asked, which is why, if this reform is overdue, he was not a party to instituting it. Those were his words. He is not answering the question I asked. He is giving another speech."

Mr. O'Brien:

"I will answer directly. When Mr. Rogers approached me, I gave this my whole-hearted support immediately."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Lind:

"Mr. Speaker, would Mr. Rogers yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Will Mr. Rogers yield to question?"

Mr. Rogers:

"Yes."

Mr. Lind:

"Mr. Rogers, did I understand you a moment ago to state that Republican members were advanced by their work in the legislature, while Democrats were advanced by good work in the party caucus?"

Mr. Rogers:

"I am sorry if I misspoke. I meant to apply the same rules of conduct to the advancement of Republican members as to the advancement of Democratic members in line with party responsibility. The party caucus would be able to reward the active, intelligent, and aggressive members of their party in line with seniority or whatever other rules they desired to lay down for the advancement of their members. I do not think there is any difference in this amendment as it affects Republicans or Democrats."

Further debate ensued, Representative Rogers speaking in favor of the adoption of his amendment to the amendment.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Pritchard:

"Mr. Speaker, I would like first to ask Mr. Rogers a question, if I might."

The Speaker:

"Will Mr. Rogers yield to question?"

Mr. Rogers:

"Yes."

Mr. Pritchard:

"Mr. Rogers, are you disappointed with your committee assignments?"

Mr. Rogers:

"Mr. Speaker, I would be most happy to answer that question in this manner. I asked for appointment on four committees in this House. I was selected for each of the committees which I asked for and I am not making this a personal matter as it relates to myself or anyone else. I am thinking about some long-range reform which perhaps will protect some other freshman when he comes along into this House, so he won't have to walk into the Speaker's office hat in hand and plead or beg for some appointment. I will say again, Mr. Speaker, in deference to you, that I want to thank you for receiving the committee appointments that I asked for. I appreciated it very much, but I am thinking about others who might follow."

Further debate ensued, Representative Pritchard speaking against adoption of Mr. Rogers' amendment to the amendment.

Mr. Olsen demanded an electric roll call and the demand was sustained.

Further debate ensued, Representative Schaefer speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment to the amendment, and Representative Canfield speaking against its adoption.

Mr. Beierlein demanded the previous question, and the demand was sustained.

POINT OF INFORMATION

The Speaker recognized Mr. Clark.

Mr. Clark:

"Mr. Speaker, will you explain to us what we are voting on?"

The Speaker:

"We are voting on the adoption of Mr. Rogers' amendment to the amendment by the Committee on Rules and Order to Rule 59."

The Clerk called the roll on the adoption of the amendment by Mr. Rogers to the amendment by the Committee on Rules and Order to House Rule No. 59. The motion was lost, and the amendment to the amendment was not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 44; nays, 55; absent or not voting, 0.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Ackley, Anderson (Eric O.), Backstrom, Beck, Beierlein, Bergh, Bigley, Bozarth, Braun, Brouillet, Burtch, Campbell, Chatalas, Conner, DeJarnatt, Dootson, Gallagher, Garrett, Gleason, Grant, Haussler, Henry, Herr, Jolly, Klein, Litchman, May, McElroy, McFadden, Moon, Mundy, O'Brien, O'Donnell, Olsen, Rogers, Rosenberg, Savage, Sawyer, Schaefer, Smith, Taylor, Uhlman, Wedekind, Witherbee—44.

Those voting nay were: Representatives Adams, Ahlquist, Andersen (James A.), Berentson, Brachtenbach, Canfield, Clark, Comfort, Copeland, Earley, Eberle, Eldridge, Evans, Flanagan, Folsom, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Hadley, Harris, Hawley, Hood, Huntley, Hurley, Johnston, Jueling, King, Kink, Kirk, Leland, Lewis, Lind, Lybecker, Lynch, Mahaffey, Mast, McCaffree, McCormick, McDougall, Metcalf, Miles, Moos, Morphis, Morrissey, Newschwander, O'Connell, Odell, Perry, Pritchard, Reese, Siler, Swayze, Wang, Wintler, Young, Mr. Speaker—55.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE

I believe this measure would be more appropriate, and perhaps I would be in favor of it, near the end of this session.

W. J. O'CONNELL,
28th District.

The Speaker declared the question before the House to be Mrs. Hurley's motion to adopt the amendment by the Committee on Rules and Order to House Rule No. 59.

The motion was carried and the amendment was adopted on a rising vote.

Mrs. Hurley moved the adoption of the following amendment by the Committee on Rules and Order to House Rule No. 60:

Strike all of Rule 60 and substitute the following:

"Rule 60. Standing committees shall act upon all referred bills, memorials, and resolutions. A majority recommendation of a committee must be signed by a majority of the entire membership of the committee before a bill, memorial, or resolution may be reported out. Majority recommendations of a committee can only be 'do pass', 'do pass as amended', or that 'the attached substitute bill be substituted therefor and that the substitute bill do pass.' Minority reports, 'do not pass' or 'without recommendation', may be submitted with the majority report. The journal of the house shall contain an exact copy of all committee reports, together with the names of the members signing such reports: PROVIDED, That a majority of the members elected to the house may require a committee to report a bill back to the house at any time."

Mr. Schaefer moved the adoption of the following amendment to the amendment to Rule No. 60:

On page 2, Rule No. 60, line 4, before "before" insert "in a regularly and duly called meeting of the committee, where notice of the bills to be considered has been given"

Debate ensued, Representatives Schaefer and Evans speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment to the amendment.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Copeland:

"Mr. Speaker, would Mr. Schaefer yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Will Mr. Schaefer yield to question?"

Mr. Schaefer:

"Certainly."

Mr. Copeland:

"Mr. Schaefer, you are dealing with only one small phase of the proposed rule change in No. 60. Are we to assume that you are in general agreement with the provisions in the balance of the material, concerning the majority recommendations and so forth?"

Mr. Schaefer:

"No, I have another amendment to follow, Mr. Copeland, that deals with the minority report. This has to do only with the first part. I will offer another amendment which I hope you will consider separately."

Mr. Copeland:

"Could we hear that amendment so we may be able to make a decision on this one you are offering?"

Mr. Schaefer:

"I don't think it will have any effect on this one."

Mr. Copeland:

"You have no intention of tampering with the provision that the majority must sign the bill out 'do pass'?"

Mr. Schaefer:

"No."

Debate ensued, Representatives Johnston, Smith, Ackley, Moon, and Schaefer speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment to the amendment, and Representatives Hurley and Rosenberg speaking against its adoption.

Mr. Olsen demanded an electric roll call and the demand was sustained.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Evans:

"Mr. Speaker, would Mr. Schaefer yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Schaefer, do you yield to question?"

Mr. Schaefer:

"Certainly."

Mr. Evans:

"Is it your understanding of the way our committee system works that the committee operates under the same rules as the House?"

Mr. Schaefer:

"I would think so, yes."

Mr. Evans:

"Would you agree that a majority of the committee could decide to discuss a bill even though no notice had been given, just the same way a majority of the House could do the same thing?"

Mr. Schaefer:

"I think it would have to be in the rules to apply as far as the committee is concerned. You would have to put an amendment to this amendment if you wanted to make a majority able to do this, or it would be a suspension of the rules. I think, to protect each individual member, you should have a suspension of the rule."

Mr. Lewis moved the adoption of the following amendment to Mr. Schaefer's amendment:

At the end of the amendment, after "given" add "or when a majority of the members present vote to consider additional bills"

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Ackley:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Ackley:

"My point of order is that Mr. Lewis is offering an amendment to an amendment to an amendment and is, therefore, out of order. Our rules only permit amendments to amendments and nothing further."

The Speaker:

"Your point is well taken, Mr. Ackley."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Comfort:

"Would Mr. Schaefer yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield to question, Mr. Schaefer?"

Mr. Schaefer:

"Yes."

Mr. Comfort:

"I believe you stated that before a committee could consider a bill, previous notice would have to be given. In other words, if a committee had listed four bills on the docket and had run through them very quickly, would they have to recess for the morning or could they consider other bills even though no notice were given? As I understand your amendment, there could be no signing out of the bill except in a regularly called meeting for that purpose. If my interpretation is correct, I might be inclined to think we have no problem here."

Mr. Schaefer:

"I think that is a correct interpretation. You could probably consider the bills the way the language is. The intention was that you could not pass a bill out. I was thinking of the comment made by Mrs. Hurley and the other speakers. I think they could consider a bill, as Mr. Comfort has indicated."

Further debate ensued, Representatives Klein, O'Brien, and Evans speaking in favor of the amendment to the amendment.

MOTION

On motion of Mr. Schaefer, the House deferred further consideration of amendments to House Rule No. 60, and the consideration of the amendments was made a special order of business at 3:00 p. m. today.

Mrs. Hurley moved the adoption of the following amendment by the Committee on Rules and Order to House Rule No. 64:

Amend Rule 64 as follows:

"Rule 64. Upon a bill being committed to a committee of the whole house, the bill shall be read and debated by sections, leaving the title to be considered last.

"The body of the bill shall not be defaced or interlined, and all amendments (noting the line and page) shall be duly entered on a separate paper by the clerk, as the same shall be agreed to by the committee, and so reported to the house.

"No roll call shall be taken in committee of the whole, and no record of proceedings except its report shall be placed in the journal.

"A motion that the committee of the whole rise shall always be in order, and shall be decided without debate.

"After a report, the bill shall be subjected again to debate and amendment by sections."

Mr. Klein moved the adoption of the following amendment to the amendment to Rule No. 64:

On page 3, Rule 64, line 11, strike all of the third paragraph.

Debate ensued, Representative Klein speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment to the amendment, and Representative McDougall speaking against its adoption.

Mr. Olsen demanded an electric roll call and the demand was sustained.

Further debate ensued, Representatives Ackley, Klein, and Uhlman speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment to the amendment, and Representatives Gorton, Johnston, Copeland, Canfield, and Lewis speaking against its adoption.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Klein:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Klein:

"I think the issue before us is whether we record our yeas and nays on the journal while in the committee of the whole. I have not attacked the committee of the whole procedure here, as such, in this amendment, and all the speakers have lost sight of this. They are speaking of free discussion, and I have no quarrel with that.

I just want the yeas and nays of our considerations recorded so the people can exercise their right to know."

The Speaker:

"Mr. Lewis, you may continue."

Representative Lewis completed his comments.

Mr. Olsen demanded the previous question and the demand was sustained.

The Clerk called the roll on the adoption of the amendment by Mr. Klein to the amendment by the Committee on Rules and Order to House Rule No. 64. The motion was lost, and the amendment to the amendment was not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 45; nays, 54; absent or not voting, 0.

Those voting nay were: Representatives Adams, Ahlquist, Andersen (James A.), Berentson, Brachtenbach, Canfield, Clark, Comfort, Copeland, Earley, Eberle, Eldridge, Evans, Flanagan, Folsom, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Hadley, Harris, Hawley, Hood, Huntley, Hurley, Johnston, Jueling, King, Kink, Kirk, Leland, Lewis, Lind, Lybecker, Lynch, Mahaffey, Mast, McCaffree, McCormick, McDougall, Metcalf, Miles, Moos, Morphis, Morrissey, Newschwander, Odell, Olsen, Pritchard, Reese, Siler, Swayze, Wang, Wintler, Young, Mr. Speaker—54.

Mr. Ackley moved the adoption of the following amendment to the amendment by the Committee on Rules and Order to House Rule No. 64:

On page 3, Rule 64, line 11, after the period following "without debate" add the following: "No bills shall be referred to or considered by the committee of the whole except by a two-thirds vote of all the members duly recorded in the journal."

Debate ensued, Representative Ackley speaking in favor of adoption of his amendment to the amendment.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Copeland:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Copeland:

"I believe Mr. Ackley has an amendment to the amendment. I wish he would confine his remarks only to his amendment."

Mr. Ackley:

"I was doing that, Mr. Speaker. If I may proceed, I will explain why I was."

Mr. Copeland:

"Mr. Speaker, I apologize. I am unable to follow Mr. Ackley's line of reasoning."

The Speaker:

"You may proceed, Mr. Ackley."

Representative Ackley continued his remarks.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Copeland:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Copeland:

"I hate to do this to Mr. Ackley, but it is now 3:00 p. m. and we do have a special order of business."

The Speaker:

"Your point is well taken. You will be given the floor, Mr. Ackley, after the business on special order."

SPECIAL ORDER OF BUSINESS

The hour of 3:00 p. m. having arrived, the Speaker declared the question before the House to be the special order of business, consideration of amendments to House Rule No. 60.

On motion of Mr. Schaefer, his amendment previously before the House to line 4 of the amendment by the Committee on Rules and Order to House Rule No. 60 was withdrawn and the following amendment to the amendment was substituted therefor:

On page 2, line 2, of the amendment by the Committee on Rules and Order to House Rule 60, beginning with "A majority recommendation" strike all the material down to and including the period following "out" and substitute the following: "No bill may be considered except at a regularly called meeting of a committee except upon the vote of a majority of the entire membership of the committee to consider said bill. A majority recommendation of a committee must be signed by a majority of the entire membership of the committee in a regularly called meeting before a bill, memorial, or resolution may be reported out."

Debate ensued, Representative Schaefer speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment to the amendment.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Uhlman:

"Mr. Speaker, I wonder if Representative Schaefer would yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield to question, Mr. Schaefer?"

Mr. Schaefer:

"Certainly."

Mr. Uhlman:

"Would it be your construction, then, that if any committee report on a bill were signed by a member after the meeting had adjourned, it would not fulfill the requirements of this rule that it should be signed at a regularly and duly called meeting? Is that correct, the report must be signed by the members while the committee is still in progress, the way you construe it?"

Mr. Schaefer:

"My construction, Mr. Uhlman, is that they would have to sign in the committee room. They could not circulate the report. I think they could come up and sign it afterwards, as long as the bill was duly considered at a regular meeting."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Kink:

"Mr. Speaker, would Mr. Schaefer yield to a question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield to a question, Mr. Schaefer?"

Mr. Schaefer:

"Yes."

Mr. Kink:

"Mr. Schaefer, under your amendment, if I understand correctly, if a majority does not approve a bill, it could come out?"

Mr. Schaefer:

"I think it would come out without recommendation. If you read the rule on further, if you have a majority of the members of the committee, you could bring up a bill for consideration. Then you follow the procedure on the third page, Mr. Kink, as to 'do pass,' 'do not pass' or 'do pass as amended'."

The motion was carried and the amendment was adopted.

Mr. Schaefer moved the adoption of the following amendment to the amendment to Rule 60:

On page 3, line 5, of proposed amendment by the Committee on Rules and Order to House Rule 60, after the period following "report" insert the following: "Members of the committee not concurring in the majority report may prepare a written minority report containing a different recommendation, which shall be signed by those members of the committee subscribing thereto. All committee reports shall be spread upon the journal."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Canfield:

"Mr. Speaker, will Mr. Schaefer yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield to question, Mr. Schaefer?"

Mr. Schaefer:

"Certainly."

Mr. Canfield:

"Does this part coincide exactly with the prior amendment as to method of signing? Would they also have to sign these other reports during the session of the committee or could they be picked up after adjournment?"

Mr. Schaefer:

"I think it would be applicable."

Mr. Canfield:

"You think it would be consistent in both amendments?"

Mr. Schaefer:

"I think it would, Mr. Canfield."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

The Speaker recognized Mr. Klein.

Mr. Klein:

"Mr. Speaker and ladies and gentlemen, and particularly my colleague, Mr. Schaefer, I wonder if you might not reconsider your interpretation of this and, perhaps, with the consent of the House and yourself, we might allow twenty-four hours for the preparation of a statement as to a person's reasons for proposing the particular action, because few of us are able to come to a meeting prepared with even a paragraph of why we take most actions. I think your amendment is one of the finest things we can do to make our legislative journal meaningful, instead of relatively sterile, so that unless they happen to be acquainted with the issues, it doesn't mean very much to the general public. I'm sure the courts would recognize it and it would help everyone concerned."

Mr. Schaefer:

"Mr. Klein, I think that is a good idea and that we should allow additional time. You could, if you desire, offer such an amendment."

Mr. Evans:

"I think this is not a bad amendment if they want to come up with a different recommendation in a minority report, but if it can't be done in the committee meeting, there is always the opportunity, of course, to submit one's reasons for the journal and have them duly entered in the journal. This is the privilege of any member or group of members at any time."

The motion was carried, and Mr. Schaefer's amendment to page 3, line 5 of the amendment by the Committee on Rules and Order to House Rule No. 60 was adopted.

Mr. Rogers moved the adoption of the following amendment to the amendment to Rule 60:

On page 3, line 2 of the amendment by the Committee on Rules and Order to House Rule No. 60, after the comma following "amended," and before "or" insert "rerefer to another committee."

Debate ensued, Representatives Rogers and Rosenberg speaking in favor of the adoption of the amendment to the amendment, and Representative Ackley speaking against its adoption.

The motion was lost, and the amendment was not adopted.

The Speaker declared the question before the House to be the adoption of the amendment by the Committee on Rules and Order to House Rule 60 as amended.

Mr. Litchman demanded an electric roll call, and the demand was sustained.

The Clerk called the roll on the adoption of the amendment by the Committee on Rules and Order to House Rule No. 60 as amended, and the amendment as amended was adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 97; nays, 2; absent or not voting, 0.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Ackley, Adams, Ahlquist, Andersen (James A.), Anderson (Eric O.), Backstrom, Beck, Beierlein, Berentson, Bergh, Bigley, Bozarth, Brachtenbach, Braun Brouillet, Burtch, Campbell, Canfield, Chatalas, Clark, Comfort, Conner, Copeland, DeJarnatt, Dootson, Earley, Eberle, Eldridge, Evans, Flanagan, Folsom, Gallagher, Garrett, Gleason, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Grant, Hadley, Harris, Haussler, Hawley, Henry, Herr, Hood, Huntley, Hurley, Johnston, Jolly, Juelling, King, Kink, Kirk, Klein, Leland, Lewis, Lind, Litchman, Lybecker, Lynch, Mahaffey, Mast, May, McCaffree, McCormick, McDougall, McElroy, McFadden, Metcalf, Miles, Moon, Moos, Morphis, Morrissey, Mundy, Newschwander, O'Brien, O'Connell, Odell, Olsen, Perry, Pritchard, Reese, Rogers, Rosenberg, Savage, Sawyer, Schaefer, Siler, Swayze, Taylor, Uhlman, Wang, Wedekind, Wintler, Witherbee, Young, Mr. Speaker—97.

Those voting nay were: Representatives O'Donnell, Smith—2.

The House resumed consideration of the amendment by the Committee on Rules and Order to House Rule No. 64.

The Speaker declared the question before the House to be the adoption of the amendment by Mr. Ackley to line 11 of the amendment by the Committee on Rules and Order to House Rule No. 64.

Debate ensued, Representatives Ackley and Burtch speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment to the amendment, and Representative Hurley speaking against its adoption.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Litchman:

"Mr. Speaker, before I make any remarks, I wonder if Mrs. Hurley would yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Mrs. Hurley, would you yield to question?"

Mrs. Hurley:

"I believe not, thank you."

Mr. Litchman:

"I wonder if one of my judicial friends on the other side would yield regarding an interpretation which I think is not political."

The Speaker:

"To whom are you directing the question?"

Mr. Litchman:

"Mr. Comfort."

Mr. Comfort:

"I will yield. State your question, Mr. Litchman."

Mr. Litchman:

"I am quite concerned to have some attorney interpret Rule 81, which ties in with my remarks on this rule. Rule 81 as amended would provide that no amendment could be made to a budget bill on the floor of the House unless two-thirds of the people present approved it? Is that correct?"

Mr. Comfort:

"Mr. Litchman, I think some words of Mr. O'Brien are coming back to me. I am just writing out an amendment to Rule 81, striking therefrom 'the ways and means committee, or' which I think will clarify this. In direct answer to your question, I believe that Rule 81 and the proposed amendment would apply to both within the committee of the whole and outside the committee of the whole. Is that your question?"

Mr. Litchman:

"Yes. Your answer is that it would apply and, therefore, it would take a two-thirds vote to amend the budget on the floor and in the committee of the whole?"

Mr. Comfort:

"And within the committee of the whole. That is why I am going to propose an amendment so that an amendment can be made by a simple majority within the committee of the whole."

Further debate ensued, Representatives Litchman and Evans speaking against adoption of Mr. Ackley's amendment to the amendment to Rule 64. Mr. Olsen demanded an electric roll call, and the demand was sustained.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Burtch:

"Mr. Speaker, I wonder if Representative Evans would yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Representative Evans, do you yield to question?"

Mr. Evans:

"Yes."

Mr. Burtch:

"I am not sure I followed you. Did you say in effect that even though Rule 65 might pass, Rule 81 would allow us to amend the appropriations bill by a two-thirds vote?"

Mr. Evans:

"The amendment is pretty clear. After the committee of the whole report is adopted by the House, then the bill is before the House and an amendment adding any new item or items as distinguished from changing or amending any existing item could be done by an affirmative two-thirds vote of the members."

Mr. Burtch:

"Are you just talking about shifting funds from one place to another in Rule 81?"

Mr. Evans:

"Not shifting funds. Adding a new item or items to the budget, a totally new line item."

Mr. Burtch:

"How could you do that without shifting funds from one item to another?"

Mr. Evans:

"I think that if you wanted to add new items to the budget, you could create a budget larger than the one the committee reported. Then if the House saw fit to adopt such an amendment, they would have to find the money to pay for it."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Klein:

"Mr. Speaker, would Mr. Copeland yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield, Mr. Copeland?"

Mr. Copeland:

"Yes."

Mr. Klein:

"I agree with Mr. Litchman that I would certainly not prefer to have a two-thirds vote to take a matter into the committee of the whole, but as long as it is going to take two-thirds in other respects, that seems only fair. Now, as I understand the proposals here, looking at these rules together that the Republican coalition has got, it is going to take two-thirds even to have an amendment read before it can be considered. Is that true, Representative Copeland?"

Mr. Copeland:

"This is not on the subject of Mr. Ackley's amendment, but with the leave of the House we will go ahead and debate the whole subject matter. Now, all this two-thirds provision is, is to permit the addition of a new item or items, commonly called line items, to the budget. Let's make one thing clear. For all intents and purposes, what we are doing here is adopting an anti-pork-barrel act of 1963."

Mr. Klein:

"I wonder if I could have my question answered. When we come out of the committee of the whole, thereafter to have an amendment considered or even read, it will require a two-thirds vote of the House before it can be read?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Klein, we are debating an amendment by Mr. Ackley to House Rule 64 now. Will you hold your questions on House Rule 81 until we are on that part?"

Mr. Klein:

"I think it is pertinent to our consideration of this particular rule."

The Speaker:

"Mr. Copeland, do you yield?"

Mr. Copeland:

"Yes, will you restate your question?"

Mr. Klein:

"When we come out of the committee of the whole, will it not take two-thirds of this House even to have an amendment read?"

Mr. Copeland:

"The answer to that is that you could have it read providing it is a new item or items to the budget, and it would require a two-thirds vote in order to pass it. I think this makes good, logical sense because, undoubtedly, in the committee of the whole the particular line item has already come up and been discussed and decided in the negative. If at some later time there should be some new information or maybe some new revenue, or if there were an oversight, then I should think it would be within the prerogative of the body to go ahead and adopt the item by a two-thirds vote. This is the interpretation that the Senate places on it and that we are placing on it. It is only a safeguard and a safety valve."

The Speaker declared the question before the House to be the adoption of Mr. Ackley's amendment to line 11 of the amendment by the Committee on Rules and Order to House Rule No. 64.

The Clerk called the roll on the adoption of the amendment by Mr. Ackley, and the amendment was not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 41; nays, 58; absent or not voting, 0.

Those voting nay were: Representatives Adams, Ahlquist, Andersen (James A.), Berentson, Brachtenbach, Canfield, Clark, Comfort, Copeland, Earley, Eberle, Eldridge, Evans, Flanagan, Folsom, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Hadley, Harris, Hawley, Hood, Huntley, Hurley, Johnston, Jueling, King, Kink, Kirk, Leland, Lewis, Lind, Litchman, Lybecker, Lynch, Mahaffey, Mast, McCaffree, McCormick, McDougall, McElroy, Metcalf, Miles, Moos, Morphis, Morrissey, Newschwander, O'Connell, Odell, Perry, Pritchard, Reese, Rosenberg, Siler, Swayze, Wang, Wintler, Young, Mr. Speaker—58.

The Speaker declared the question before the House to be the adoption of the amendment by the Committee on Rules and Order to House Rule No. 64.

Mr. Ackley demanded an electric roll call, and the demand was sustained.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Sawyer:

"Mr. Speaker, I have a point of inquiry on Rule No. 64 prior to its adoption here. It says that no roll call shall be taken in the committee of the whole and no record except its report shall be placed in the journal. Now, we were talking about minority reports in Rule 60. Are we allowed a minority report on the committee of the whole?"

The Speaker:

"No."

MOTION

Mr. Sawyer moved that further consideration of the adoption of the amendment by the Committee on Rules and Order to Rule No. 64 be set over for ten minutes. The motion was lost on a rising vote.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Klein:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Klein:

"Mr. Speaker, a few minutes ago the Republican coalition across the aisle refreshed our recollections when I had a suggestion to make regarding the amendment by my colleague, Mr. Schaefer. He stated we would have the privilege of putting in the record our minority reports on committee action. I think it was pretty clearly understood that we would certainly be accorded time to do this—I assume twenty-four hours or so—after the actual meeting. Now—"

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Andersen (James A.):

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Andersen:

"I don't believe Mr. Klein is speaking to a point of order. I think he is filibustering to escape a vote of the body."

The Speaker:

"Your point is well taken."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Smith:

"Mr. Speaker, point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. Smith:

"Mr. Speaker, I would like to admonish the members of the House at this time that we are engaged in a great democratic process and by some of our actions and some of our votes, it would seem that we are bent upon destroying that freedom of action and fair play and justice. I don't think this is a subject we should take so lightly. I don't think this is something where we would like to have the shoe on the other foot. I think in our haste to make certain we are able to control things, we ought to stop and think a little more about whether or not this action is good for today and for fifty years from today. I heard members of the majority coalition say of one proposition we were voting on that this was a real good proposition, it has merit, but could we just consider it next time? I am forced to say, gentlemen, if it is good two years from now, certainly it is good today, and may I quote from that noted person, Martin Luther King, when he said, 'The time is always right to be right'. We seem to have forgotten that now. I don't wish to see members of the majority coalition destroy the future of some bright young men who I see on the other side of the aisle, some of them the finest young men I have ever met, by the action you are taking here now, which will preclude their holding the prominent offices in the future which they should. I feel we ought to think about that. Thank you very much."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Burtch:

"Mr. Speaker, I have a point of parliamentary inquiry."

The Speaker:

"State your point of parliamentary inquiry."

Mr. Burtch:

"In Rule 64 it says no roll call shall be taken in the committee of the whole. Does that mean that if there were only five here at the time, you can go into a committee of the whole? How do you determine if you have a constitutional majority?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Burtch, in answer to your question, it would require a majority of the House to be present in the committee of the whole."

Mr. Burtch:

"Mr. Speaker, how would you determine that without a roll call?"

The Speaker:

"By a standing and voice vote, I imagine."

POINT OF ORDER

The Speaker recognized Mr. Evans.

Mr. Evans:

"I think, to clarify Mr. Burtch's question, it obviously takes a majority of the members to go into a committee of the whole and since we would not be in a committee of the whole at the time that vote is taken, an electric roll call on going into the committee of the whole would be proof there was a quorum here."

The Clerk called the roll on the adoption of the amendment by the Committee on Rules and Order to House Rule No. 64, and the amendment was adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 56; nays, 43; absent or not voting, 0.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Adams, Ahlquist, Andersen (James A.), Berentson, Brachtenbach, Canfield, Clark, Comfort, Conner, Copeland, Earley, Eberle, Eldridge, Evans, Flanagan, Folsom, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Hadley, Harris, Hawley, Hood, Huntley, Hurley, Johnston, Jueling, King, Kink, Kirk, Leland, Lewis, Lind, Lybecker, Lynch, Mahaffey, Mast, McCaffree, McCormick, McDougall, Metcalf, Miles, Moos, Morphis, Morrissey, Mundy, Newschwander, O'Connell, Odell, Perry, Pritchard, Reese, Siler, Swayze, Wang, Young, Mr. Speaker—56.

Those voting nay were: Representatives Ackley, Anderson (Eric O.), Backstrom, Beck, Beierlein, Bergh, Bigley, Bozarth, Braun, Brouillet, Burtch, Campbell, Chatalas, DeJarnatt, Dootson, Gallagher, Garrett, Gleason, Grant, Haussler, Henry, Herr, Jolly, Klein, Litchman, May, McElroy, McFadden, Moon, O'Brien, O'Donnell, Olsen, Rogers, Rosenberg, Savage, Sawyer, Schaefer, Smith, Taylor, Uhlman, Wedekind, Wintler, Witherbee—43.

Mrs. Hurley moved the adoption of the following amendment by the Committee on Rules and Order to House Rule No. 65:

Amend Rule 65 as follows:

"Rule 65. The previous question is not in order in a committee of the whole House; nor can this committee adjourn as others may; but upon motion, the committee may rise at any time, whereupon the House shall resume.

"The chairman reports that the committee of the whole has, according to order, had under its consideration such a matter, and has made progress therein; the chairman rises, the speaker resumes the chair, the chairman informs him that the committee has gone through the business referred to it and that he is ready to make report.

"Bills appropriating money may be considered in the committee of the whole House and when so considered no change in the amount appropriated shall be made outside of the committee of the whole."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. O'Brien:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. O'Brien:

"In the term 'bills appropriating money' does that mean the highway budget bill along with your general appropriation bill? Is it your ruling it includes the highway appropriation bill?"

The Speaker:

"The language is broad. It says 'bills appropriating money'."

Mr. O'Brien:

"I had presumed that meant only the general fund appropriation bill, although the language doesn't tie it in. This one pertains to bills appropriating money and the other proposed amendment ties it down rather stringently to amendments to the general appropriation bill."

The Speaker:

"You will notice that this is discretionary, not mandatory. It does not say 'shall be considered'. It says 'may be considered'."

Mr. O'Brien:

"That is true. Would it be your interpretation then that the highway appropriation bill could be considered along with the general appropriation bill?"

The Speaker:

"Any bill may be considered in the committee of the whole if the body so desires, including the highway bill."

Mr. Burch moved the adoption of the following amendment to the amendment by the Committee on Rules and Order to House Rule No. 65:

On page 3, Rule 65, line 10, after "so considered" strike the remainder of the paragraph and insert "shall be reported to the House and shall again be subjected to debate and amendment by sections."

Debate ensued, Representative Burch speaking in favor of adoption of his amendment to the amendment.

At the request of Mr. O'Brien, the reading clerk reread Mr. Burch's proposed amendment to the amendment.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. O'Brien:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise to another point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. O'Brien:

"The last paragraph of Rule 64 states that after the report of the committee of the whole, the bill shall again be subject to debate and amendment by sections. It appears that we have already approved that."

The Speaker:

"That is not correct. This is a special proviso in regard to bills appropriating money. The other section would apply to any bill considered in the committee of the whole."

Mr. O'Brien:

"Rule 64 doesn't state that. It says 'after a report'. In other words, any report."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"Rule 65 makes a specific exception to that in regard to bills appropriating money. Rule 64 would apply to all other bills considered by the committee of the whole."

Further debate ensued, Representatives Ackley and Burtch speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment to the amendment, and Representative Andersen (James A.) speaking against its adoption.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Morrissey:

"Mr. Speaker, point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. Morrissey:

"The Golden Delicious apples that were placed on your desks a few moments ago came from the Yakima Valley Traffic Association. After a meeting of the Judiciary Committee this morning in which a fine piece of legislation by myself and Mr. Bergh was summarily killed by the lawyers in the House, I felt a little reluctant and was going to be choosy and see that the apples only went on certain desks, but I forgave people easily. We hope you will enjoy the apples and that they will keep you going until dinner time."

Mr. Olsen demanded an oral roll call, and the demand was sustained.

The Clerk called the roll on the amendment by Mr. Burtch to the amendment by the Committee on Rules and Order to Rule 65. The motion was lost, and the amendment was not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 44; nays, 55; absent or not voting, 0.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Ackley, Anderson (Eric O.), Backstrom, Beck, Beierlein, Bergh, Bigley, Bozarth, Braun, Brouillet, Burtch, Campbell, Chatalas, Conner, DeJarnatt, Dootson, Gallagher, Garrett, Gleason, Grant, Haussler, Henry, Herr, Jolly, Klein, Litchman, May, McElroy, McFadden, Moon, Mundy, O'Brien, O'Donnell, Olsen, Rogers, Rosenberg, Savage, Sawyer, Schaefer, Smith, Taylor, Uhlman, Wedekind, Witherbee—44.

Those voting nay were: Representatives Adams, Ahlquist, Andersen (James A.), Berentson, Brachtenbach, Canfield, Clark, Comfort, Copeland, Earley, Eberle, Eldridge, Evans, Flanagan, Folsom, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Hadley, Harris, Hawley, Hood, Huntley, Hurley, Johnston, Juelling, King, Kink, Kirk, Leland, Lewis, Lind, Lybecker, Lynch, Mahaffey, Mast, McCaffree, McCormick, McDougall, Metcalf, Miles, Moos, Morphis, Morrissey, Newschwander, O'Connell, Odell, Perry, Pritchard, Reese, Siler, Swayze, Wang, Wintler, Young, Mr. Speaker—55.

Mr. Litchman moved the adoption of the following amendment to the amendment by the Committee on Rules and Order to House Rule No. 65:

On page 3, Rule 65, line 12, after "whole" and before the period, insert ", except by majority vote of the House of Representatives"

Debate ensued, Representative Litchman speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment to the amendment.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Litchman:

"Mr Speaker, would Mr. Copeland yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Copeland, will you yield?"

Mr. Copeland:

"Yes."

Mr. Litchman:

"Mr. Copeland, I might be entirely wrong in my intpretation of Rule 65 as proposed. Would you state whether or not I am correct in my interpretation or whether I am wrong, and if I am wrong, will you tell me why I am wrong?"

Mr. Copeland:

"I am having a difficult time trying to sort out which interpretation you are currently offering. You would have to be more specific before I could answer the question."

Mr. Litchman:

"I am asking you to interpret the words 'no change in the amount appropriated shall be made outside of the committee of the whole'. What do those words mean?"

Mr. Copeland:

"You are quite familiar, of course, with the operation of the committee of the whole. You know that, as provided in Reed's and also in House Rule 65, after the report the bill can be subject again to debate and amendment by sections. Now the one difference we are making with regard to appropriations bills is that they may go into the committee of the whole, and once they have been resolved by the committee of the whole, rather than going back over all the material that the majority has rejected, the committee report will come out. This will be the one final draft and it will be up for final passage or adoption at that time. All you are doing is eliminating things that would ultimately be entirely repetitious. It eliminates the possibility of a double filibuster, and I think you are probably familiar with those, having taken part in several."

Mr. Litchman:

"Thank you, Mr. Copeland. I don't think you quite answered my question. I hate to belabor this, but as I understand your interpretation, once the committee of the whole makes a decision, it must be either rejected or passed, and no amendments whatsoever can be made despite the fact that one hundred percent of us might desire to make a change at a later date?"

Mr. Copeland:

"There is an inconsistency in your thinking. If one hundred percent of us wanted to make a change, we would do it in the committee of the whole before the report was made."

Mr. Litchman:

"I am talking about when it comes on the floor."

Mr. Copeland:

"To get back to good logic rather than fuzzy thinking, when it comes out on the floor, two-thirds can move that any rule be suspended. This you know."

Further debate ensued, Representative Litchman continuing his argument in favor of adoption of his amendment to the amendment.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Copeland:

"Mr. Speaker, point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. Copeland:

"I don't want Mr. Litchman impugning my motives. I have said before that a majority has a right to make decisions inside the committee of the whole. Now, it would be absolutely stupid to make an assumption that this body, after making a majority decision, would two seconds later turn around and change their mind. Obviously these people are good, honest, hard-working individuals who are going to do the best job in considering these things that is possible. The majority will always have an opportunity to go ahead and write any report they want to. This is the way legislative government works. I don't appreciate Mr. Litchman's impugning my motives by saying I am advocating anything other than that."

Further debate ensued, Representative Litchman completing his remarks in favor of adoption of the amendment to the amendment, and Representative Perry speaking against its adoption.

On motion of Mr. Olsen, Mr. Witherbee was excused from further proceedings under the call of the House in order to see his dentist.

Further debate ensued, Representative O'Brien speaking in favor of the adoption of the amendment by Mr. Litchman to the amendment to Rule No. 65.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. King:

"Mr. Speaker, would Mr. O'Brien yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield to question, Mr. O'Brien?"

Mr. O'Brien:

"Yes."

Mr. King:

"Do you support the Governor's budget?"

Mr. O'Brien:

"That is neither here nor there, Mr. King. I have been elected as a member of this legislature. I reserve the right to analyze each and every item in that budget. If items come out I don't like, as a member elected to duly represent not only the people of my district but the people of the state of Washington, I reserve the right to offer amendments in any way I see fit, and I hope you do, too."

Further debate ensued, Representative King speaking in opposition to the adoption of Mr. Litchman's amendment to the amendment.

Mr. Olsen demanded an electric roll call, and the demand was sustained.

Further debate ensued, Representative Ackley speaking in behalf of the amendment by Mr. Litchman to the amendment.

The Clerk called the roll on the adoption of the amendment by Mr. Litchman to the amendment by the Committee on Rules and Order to House Rule No. 65. The motion was lost, and the amendment was not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 43; nays, 55; absent or not voting, 1.

Those voting nay were: Representatives Adams, Ahlquist, Andersen (James A.), Berentson, Brachtenbach, Canfield, Clark, Comfort, Copeland, Earley, Eberle, Eldridge, Evans, Flanagan, Folsom, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Hadley, Harris, Hawley, Hood, Huntley, Hurley, Johnston, Jueling, King, Kink, Kirk, Leland, Lewis, Lind, Lybecker, Lynch, Mahaffey, Mast, McCaffree, McCormick, McDougall, Metcalf, Miles, Moos, Morphis, Morrissey, Newschwander, O'Connell, Odell, Perry, Pritchard, Reese, Siler, Swayze, Wang, Wintler, Young, Mr. Speaker—55.

Those absent or not voting were: Representative Witherbee—1.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Beierlein:

"Mr. Speaker, would Mr. O'Brien answer a question?"

The Speaker:

"Would you yield to question, Mr. O'Brien?"

Mr. O'Brien:

"Yes."

Mr. Beierlein:

"Mr. O'Brien, in my recollection, since 1939 we have had one meeting of the committee as a whole in this assembly here. I think you were a member at that time and the one who presided over that committee as a whole. Is that right?"

Mr. O'Brien:

"The last time we had a committee of the whole was in 1951, and I presided as chairman of the committee of the whole. That is the last occasion on which we have had a committee of the whole."

Mr. Brouillet moved the adoption of the following amendment to the amendment by the Committee on Rules and Order to Rule No. 65:

On page 3, Rule 65, line 10, after "money" and before "may" insert "except appropriations for public schools"

Debate ensued, Representative Brouillet speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment to the amendment, and Representative Canfield speaking against its adoption.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Kink:

"Mr. Speaker, would Mr. Brouillet answer a question?"

The Speaker:

"Would you yield to question, Mr. Brouillet?"

Mr. Brouillet:

"Yes."

Mr. Kink:

"Representative Brouillet, do you concur with the Governor's budget on education?"

Mr. Brouillet:

"No."

Miss O'Donnell demanded an electric roll call, and the demand was sustained.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Burtch:

"Mr. Speaker, I wonder if Representative Kink would yield to a question?"

The Speaker:

"Representative Kink, would you yield to question?"

Mr. Kink:

"Not at this time, Mr. Speaker."

Further debate ensued, Representative O'Brien speaking in favor of the adoption of the amendment by Mr. Brouillet to the amendment to House Rule No. 65, and Representatives Evans and Moos speaking against the amendment.

Mr. Olsen demanded the previous question, and the demand was sustained.

The Clerk called the roll on the adoption of the amendment by Mr. Brouillet to the amendment by the Committee on Rules and Order to House Rule No. 65. The motion was lost, and the amendment was not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 44; nays, 54; absent or not voting, 1.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Ackley, Anderson (Eric O.), Backstrom, Beck, Beierlein, Bergh, Bigley, Bozarth, Braun, Brouillet, Burtch, Campbell, Chatalas, Conner, DeJarnatt, Dootson, Gallagher, Garrett, Gleason, Grant, Haussler, Henry, Herr, Jolly, Klein, Litchman, May, McElroy, McFadden, Moon, Mundy, O'Brien, O'Connell, O'Donnell, Olsen, Rogers, Rosenberg, Savage, Sawyer, Schaefer, Smith, Taylor, Uhlman, Wedekind—44.

Further debate ensued, Representative Burtch speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment to the amendment.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Pritchard:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Pritchard:

"I don't believe Representative Burtch is speaking on the amendment."

Mr. Burtch:

"Oh yes, I am, Mr. Speaker."

The Speaker:

"You may continue on the amendment, Mr. Burtch."

Further debate ensued, Representatives Burtch, Ackley, Klein, and Smith speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment to the amendment, and Representative Pritchard speaking against its adoption.

"Yes."

Mr. Pritchard:

"Representative O'Donnell, am I to believe you are not pleased with your Governor Rosellini's budget?"

Miss O'Donnell:

"Representative Pritchard, my statement was that we have not had a chance in appropriations committee to begin looking over the budget. I am not in a position to make a statement right now on the floor that I either agree or disagree."

Mr. Pritchard:

"At this point, you don't think the budget is too low?"

Miss O'Donnell:

"At this point we in the committee haven't had a chance to go over it. If you ask in fifty days, I may be able to answer."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Chatalas:

"Mr. Speaker, will Representative Smith yield to a question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield to question, Mr. Smith?"

Mr. Smith:

"Yes, I will."

Mr. Chatalas:

"Do you think the Governor's budget is fair?"

Mr. Smith:

"I would like to answer that. I think the people who framed the Constitution of the United States did a wonderful job separating the legislative, executive, and judicial branches. We are not here just to accept what the Governor asks for. We are here so we might pass judgment on it and pass our own budget. It doesn't matter whether that Governor is Democrat or Republican. I am not at the beck and call of this Governor or anybody else. I feel most of the members feel likewise, unless they are too economy minded."

The Clerk called the roll on the adoption of the amendment by Miss O'Donnell to the amendment by the Committee on Rules and Order to House Rule No. 65. The motion was lost and the amendment was not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 43; nays, 55; absent or not voting, 1.

Strike all of the material after "Rules Committee" on line 2 of the second paragraph, and insert a period.

The motion was carried and the amendment was adopted.

Mrs. Hurley moved the adoption of the following amendment by the Committee on Rules and Order to House Rule No. 81.

Amend Rule 81 as follows:

"Rule 81. Amendment to any bill, resolution or memorial may be offered when the same is on its second reading.

"No amendments to a bill shall be received on its third reading, but it may be referred or recommitted for the purpose of amendment.

"No amendment to the general appropriation bill, commonly known as the budget, adding any new item, or items, thereto not incorporated in the bill as reported by the ways and means committee, or the committee of the whole, shall be adopted except by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the representatives elected."

Mr. Comfort moved the adoption of the following amendment to the amendment by the Committee on Rules and Order to House Rule No. 81:

On page 4, line 7, of proposed Rule 81, after "reported by" and before "the committee" strike "the ways and means committee, or"

Debate ensued, Representative Comfort speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment to the amendment.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Ackley:

"Mr. Speaker, would Mr. Comfort yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Comfort, will you yield to question?"

Mr. Comfort:

"Yes."

Mr. Ackley:

"Mrs. Hurley and other members of your side have told us that this is just a committee like the other committees of the House when we refer to the committee of the whole. Is it your intention to treat the committee of the whole as a little bit different from an ordinary committee, separate it from other committees in the House by divorcing it from the Ways and Means Committee?"

Mr. Comfort:

"The purpose of the amendment is to provide that within the committee of the whole an amendment can be passed by the majority. That is the sole purpose of the amendment to the amendment."

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. O'Brien:

"Mr. Speaker, will you have the reading clerk read the proposed amendment by Mr. Comfort incorporated in the amendment to the rule so we will have the language of it?"

The Speaker instructed the reading clerk to reread the proposed amendment to House Rule 81, incorporating Mr. Comfort's amendment thereto.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. O'Brien:

"Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask Mr. Comfort a question."

The Speaker:

"Mr. Comfort, do you yield to question?"

Mr. Comfort:

"Yes."

Mr. O'Brien:

"Mr. Comfort, this language is different from the Senate rule on this same subject. Do you have the Senate rules?"

Mr. Comfort:

"I understand, Mr. O'Brien, that this language that I am striking therefrom will at least make it different. The only purpose, if I may explain, for my proposing this, is that I thought the manner in which the amendment had been proposed to this body would require a two-thirds vote to amend a general appropriation bill within the committee of the whole with respect to additional items to those reported by the Ways and Means Committee to this body, and I did not think this would be in order.

It is just a grammatical change so that a majority could amend the general appropriation bill as reported by the Ways and Means Committee within the committee of the whole."

Further debate ensued, Representatives O'Brien and Ackley speaking in opposition to the amendment to the amendment, and Representative Canfield speaking for it.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Litchman:

"Mr. Speaker, I may wish to make a motion to defer further action on House Bill 70, but perhaps it won't be necessary if Dr. Adams will yield to a question."

The Speaker:

"Do you yield to question, Dr. Adams?"

Mr. Adams:

"Yes, I would be glad to."

Mr. Litchman:

"Thank you, Dr. Adams. I wonder, is there any necessity to pass this bill back into Rules at this time without further deliberation by the members of this House? It is my understanding that the nursing associations are in approval with this bill, but there are several considerations which have come to my attention. I wonder if the public is protected by it. Would you have any objection if I moved to defer further discussion of this bill until Monday?"

Mr. Adams:

"I have no objection. This bill, however, I might inform you, is the result of two years' study, since we had so much controversy in this area last session, you recall, by the private nurses, graduate nurses, hospitals, and so forth. They have all agreed to it now. This is the first time I have been able to come in with a bill of this type and say that everybody has made friends and are perfectly satisfied as far as the bill is concerned. If you have some question concerning protection of the public and want further discussion next Monday, that is up to you."

Mr. Litchman:

"Dr. Adams, can you answer the question as to whether the public is going to be insured that there will be proper supervision for each and every one of these licensed practical nurses?"

Mr. Adams:

"As far as that portion is concerned, we passed this two years ago but we put a cut-off date on it. In other words, they have been doing this now for the past two years, and we have to make some change or this cut-off date will become effective on, I think, the first of April. Now, as far as training is concerned, these people have a fairly good course that comes under vocational training. A great many of these licensed practical nurses have gone back and taken this course, and all the new ones coming out have it. You will see in here, also, that they are under the supervision of physicians and graduate nurses, and I think the public is as well protected as we can set it up by statute. After all, you have to put some dependence on individuals. They are very well trained for the type of work that they are permitted to do by law. I don't believe there is any need to carry this over from that point of view. Now, if you have some other point of view you want to consider, I would be glad to discuss it with you."

MOTION

Mr. Litchman moved that the House defer further consideration of House Bill No. 70, and that the bill be ordered held for Tuesday's second reading calendar.

Mr. Litchman:

"Mr. Speaker, I wonder if Dr. Adams would yield to one more question?"

The Speaker:

"I am going to rule you are out of order. There is opportunity for that on third reading."

Mr. Litchman's motion to defer consideration on House Bill No. 70 was lost, and the bill was passed to the Committee on Rules and Order for third reading.

House Bill No. 114, by Representatives Adams and McFadden (by Department of Licenses request):

Repealing certain midwifery provisions.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Litchman:

"Mr. Speaker, point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. Litchman:

"Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the House, I want to take this opportunity to point out to all of you that our press relations have been pretty poor, in some areas of this town and in Seattle, at least. I want to point out to the Speaker, the Republican party, the dissidents and the coalition, and the natural Democrats, or whatever we call ourselves, that I think we are all cooperating. I think the Speaker has done an excellent job. We are all underway. We are meeting every day and tending to our business and answering our letters, and frankly I think we are in a comparable position with two years or four years ago.

"I do want to point out to you that last Friday in one of the Seattle papers there was a great deal of news pertaining to the federal government, and on the next page there was a great deal of news pertaining to what was going on in the statehouse. I have an unlisted number and I received a call from an irate constituent who had never talked to a representative before. He said, 'Is this Representative Litchman?' I said, 'Yes, it is.' 'Well,' he said, 'I want to talk to you. I've got a few things on my mind.' I said, 'Go ahead.' He went on to tell me what a deplorable situation there is with respect to highways, how the welfare people were not getting enough money, and the schools are in a bad situation. I listened for about five minutes while he proceeded to tell me how much money was being spent on the military and soldiers and so forth. I tried to explain that he had read the wrong column and was referring to the federal Congress. He went on in spite of that, and after about ten minutes, I managed to get in a word. 'Have you closed, Mr. Jones?' 'Yes, I have,' he said. I said, 'May I get in one short statement? I happen to be a member of the House of Representatives. We don't have these problems. These are problems pertaining to the federal government, so kindly call your Congressman, Congressman Pelly.' He was very upset and hung up. The point I want to make is that somehow we've got to get across that we are not the federal government. We are the House of Representatives in Olympia. Thank you."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Huntley:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Huntley:

"I think you will find that the words 'American Seat Belt Council' which Mr. Lind's amendment follows have been stricken by a committee amendment adopted by the House last week."

The Speaker:

"Your point is well taken."

With the consent of the House, Mr. Lind withdrew his amendment.

Mr. Litchman moved the adoption of the following amendment to House Bill No. 21:

On page 1, section 1, line 12, after "front seats" and before "thereof" insert "and back seats"

Debate ensued, Representative Litchman speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment.

POINT OF ORDER

The Speaker:

"Mr. Litchman, do back tail lights have anything to do with rear seat belts?"

Mr. Litchman:

"What I was trying to do was explain the subsequent amendment I intend to offer."

The Speaker:

"Let's keep to this one."

Further debate ensued, Representative Litchman completing his remarks, Representative McCormick speaking in opposition to adoption of the amendment, and Representative Comfort speaking in its favor.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Canfield:

"Mr. Speaker, would one of the sponsors yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. McCormick, would you yield to question?"

Mr. McCormick:

"Yes, sir."

Mr. Canfield:

"Mr. McCormick, my question is this. This bill has to do with the installation of seat belts. It doesn't say you have to use them. I wonder if having them in there in any guarantee of safety. Is the next step going to be compulsory use of seat belts?"

Mr. McCormick:

"No, it is not. I think we have a great education problem with the American driver."

Further debate ensued, Representative Beierlein speaking in opposition to adoption of the amendment.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Chatalas:

"Mr. Speaker, will Mr. McCormick yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield to question, Mr. McCormick?"

Mr. McCormick:

"Yes."

Mr. Chatalas:

Mr. McCormick:

"I certainly do."

SPEAKER'S PRIVILEGE

The Speaker:

"The Speaker would like to remind the members of the proper decorum of the House. It is difficult to hear when the members are speaking. Let's give the speakers an opportunity to be heard."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Uhlman:

"Mr. Speaker, point of parliamentary inquiry."

The Speaker:

"State your point of parliamentary inquiry, sir."

Mr. Uhlman:

"Mr. Speaker, will you explain your practice in the future on a demand for division by the members of the House. A demand was distinctly made before the Speaker announced the result of the last vote. The rules provide that if a division is demanded, the Speaker shall order it."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"Your point is well taken. However, the Speaker felt that the nays were twice as loud as the yeas, and that a division was not needed. In the future, I will comply with a demand for division."

Mr. Litchman moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 1, following section 1, add a new section as follows:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. The above section shall apply to the following: side rear view mirrors located on the driver's side of the vehicle, rear tail lights of a size or amperage to be determined by the society of automotive engineers, dual windshield wipers and safety glass for all windows."

Debate ensued, Representative Litchman speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment, and Representatives McCormick, Wang, and Savage speaking against its adoption.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Litchman:

"Mr. Speaker, point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. Litchman:

"I feel to some extent my motives have been impugned. I assure Mr. McCormick that in my opinion my amendments have not been ridiculous. The use of unbreakable glass in the windshield certainly is a safety factor. The use of a side rear view mirror is certainly a safety factor. The other matters I have included in this amendment are safety factors. I resent a little bit the innuendoes made by Mr. Savage that these amendments are ridiculous. I am trying to improve the bill if it passes. I think it will pass, but I do wish to make a point that when we consider legislation, we should always consider things not piecemeal but also any other amendments that apply."

Mr. Johnston demanded the previous question, and the demand was sustained.

The motion was lost, and the amendment was not adopted.

On page 1, section 1, line 8, after "after" strike "July 1, 1963" and insert "January 1, 1964."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Ackley:

"Mr. Speaker, would Mr. Lewis yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Lewis, will you yield to question?"

Mr. Lewis:

"Yes."

Mr. Ackley:

"Mr. Lewis, I have been reading the committee amendment that is under discussion here, and it occurs to me that unless some commas are inserted in this amendatory language, this might be interpreted to mean something other than was intended. Under the committee amendment, it would read 'shall be recorded by the grantor after having been reviewed as to form by the grantee at the expense of the grantee' and 'at the expense of the grantee' could be construed to refer to the reviewing as to form, rather than to the recording as I think is intended. I would suggest a change in the amendment by the addition of commas to avoid that interpretation. Do you think that is a good idea?"

Mr. Lewis:

"I think, Mr. Ackley, this is the intent of the amendment, and I would only comment that those of us who are not lawyers greatly appreciate your comments. I think your suggestion is proper, and if you would like to propose an addition, I would be glad to accept it, Mr. Ackley."

On motion of Mr. Ackley, the following amendment to the committee amendment to section 1, line 9 was adopted:

Amend the amendment by the Committee on Natural Resources, Parks, Capitol Buildings and Grounds to section 1, line 9, by inserting a comma before "after" in line 2 and following "grantee" in line 3 of the mimeographed amendment.

Mr. Newschwander:

"Yes, sir."

Mr. O'Connell:

"Is that going to work undue hardship on these people?"

Mr. Newschwander:

Mr. Newschwander:

"Yes, sir."

Mr. Burtch:

"Will you explain the effect of striking section 10 on page 2? I am concerned about that particular thing."

Mr. Newschwander:

"As far as I am aware, there is no concern in connection with those you are talking about. At the present time they are able to practice in college but not in the hospitals."

Mr. Burtch:

"By this bill you are just keeping them from practicing in hospitals? They would still be able to practice in colleges?"

Mr. Newschwander:

"At the present time, to practice in a college you do not need a state dental license because you are a student, but in the hospitals you are more or less on your own under a licensed dentist."

Debate ensued, Representatives Newschwander and McFadden speaking in favor of passage of the bill.

The Speaker (Mr. Johnston presiding):

"Would Dr. Adams yield?"

Mr. Adams:

"Yes, I will try to answer your question, sir."

Mr. Klein:

"Dr. Adams, would it be fair to say that what your remarks amount to is that you subscribe to the idea that the best rule on this is simply to act as reasonable, prudent people would under like circumstances?"

Mr. Adams:

"You mean as far as our voting on the bill?"

Mr. Klein:

"No, as to the suggestion of Mr. Litchman. You are taking the position, as I understand it, that it is best not to write in the specific number of people that they should supervise?"

Mr. Adams:

"Yes, I think many of these technical things can hardly be put into legislation. I think that is true in many areas."

The Speaker resumed the Chair.

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"Will you yield, Dr. Adams?"

Mr. Adams:

"Yes."

Mr. Backstrom:

"I want to ask if this bill precludes policemen from rendering services?"

Mr. Adams:

"Well, of course, in emergency situations, I think anyone can officiate at birth. I came almost to doing it myself one time in an elevator."

YEILDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Ackley:

"Mr. Speaker, would Representative Savage yield to a question?"

The Speaker:

"Representative Savage, would you yield to question?"

Mr. Savage:

"I know better, but I will anyway."

Mr. Ackley:

"Representative Savage, this is a serious question. I am a legislator who comes from an urban community in Seattle and King county. I know we don't have any problems because we have adequate doctors and facilities. However, as I understand, in your district there are some areas up in the Olympic mountains that are hard to get to in the winter time. I am just wondering if there might be some need now or in the future for some midwives up in some of the little mountain communities in your district, and whether by voting this we might be precluding some attention someone might need sometime. I know Dr. McFadden lives in that district and I feel certain his fellow doctors are capable to give medical attention to everybody, but sometime, maybe in the winter when the snows are deep in the mountains, they might not be able to get up there in time. I wondered if this might pose a problem in your district."

Mr. Savage:

"Mr. Speaker, I am surprised that it was a serious question. I think there is some possibility. The Twenty-fourth District takes in practically the entire Olympic mountains and there are several Indian reservations. I think there will be occasions when it will be difficult to get a doctor in in some kinds of weather or to get to a hospital, but I should think perhaps that would come under the emergency clause Dr. Adams spoke of. I would hope that would be the case. If it did not, then I think, Mr. Ackley, you have a very serious point, and I would like to hear from the doctors on that, because there are some very remote regions there and some reservations. I just hope it would come under the emergency part."

Mr. McFadden:

"Well, I have been practicing thirty years in your area and we have never had any occasion to have anybody delivered by a midwife. As far as I know, there are none."

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of House Bill No. 114, and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas, 94; nays, 2; absent or not voting, 3.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Ackley, Adams, Ahlquist, Andersen (James A.), Anderson (Eric O.), Backstrom, Beck, Beierlein, Berentson, Bergh, Bigley, Bozarth, Brachtenbach, Braun, Burtch, Campbell, Canfield, Chatalas, Clark, Comfort, Conner, Copeland, DeJarnatt, Dootson, Earley, Eberle, Eldridge, Evans, Flanagan, Folsom, Gallagher, Garrett, Gleason, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Grant, Hadley, Harris, Haussler, Hawley, Henry, Herr, Hood, Huntley, Hurley, Johnston, Jolly, Jueling, Kink, Kirk, Leland, Lewis, Lind, Litchman, Lybecker, Lynch, Mahaffey, Mast, May, McCaffree McCormick, McDougall, McElroy, McFadden, Metcalf, Miles, Moon, Moos, Morphis, Morrissey, Mundy, Newschwander, O'Brien, O'Connell, Odell, O'Donnell, Olsen, Perry, Pritchard, Reese, Rogers, Rosenberg, Savage, Schaefer, Siler, Smith, Swayze, Taylor, Uhlman, Wang, Wedekind, Witherbee, Young, Mr. Speaker—94.

Those voting nay were: Representatives Brouillet, Sawyer—2.

Those absent or not voting were: Representatives King, Klein, Wintler—3.

House Bill No. 114, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed.

There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

House Bill No. 141, by Representatives Henry, Schaefer, and Huntley:

Excluding residency provision from policemen covered by civil service in cities and towns.

On motion of Mr. Gorton, the rules were suspended, the second reading considered the third, and House Bill No. 141 was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued, Representatives Henry, Beierlein, and Schaefer speaking in favor of passage of the bill, and Representative Metcalf speaking against its passage.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Comfort:

"Mr. Speaker, would Representative Schaefer yield to question, please."

The Speaker:

"Representative Schaefer, would you yield to question?"

Mr. Schaefer:

"Certainly."

Mr. Comfort:

"It is my understanding that this bill serves two purposes: No. 1, it cuts off the one year residency; No. 2, it eliminates any residency whatsoever."

Mr. Schaefer:

"It cuts off the one year residency requirement as far as residing within the city. I feel it would still apply in the county and state of Washington."

Mr. Comfort:

"This will allow you to obtain personnel outside the city?"

Mr. Schaefer:

"That is correct."

Mr. Comfort:

"It does cut out any city residency?"

Mr. Schaefer:

"That is correct."

Further debate ensued, Representatives Hawley and Litchman speaking in favor of passage of the bill.

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of House Bill No. 141, and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas, 96; nays, 1; absent or not voting, 2.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Ackley, Adams, Ahlquist, Andersen (James A.), Anderson (Eric O.), Backstrom, Beck, Beierlein, Berentson, Bergh, Bigley, Bozarth, Bratchenbach, Braun, Brouillet, Burtch, Campbell, Canfield, Chatalas, Clark, Comfort, Conner, Copeland, DeJarnatt, Dootson, Earley, Eberle, Eldridge, Evans, Flanagan, Folsom, Gallagher, Garrett, Gleason, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Grant, Hadley, Harris, Haussler, Hawley, Henry, Herr, Hood, Huntley, Hurley, Johnston, Jolly, Juelling, Kink, Kirk, Klein, Lewis, Lind, Litchman, Lybecker, Lynch, Mahaffey, Mast, May, McCaffree, McCormick, McDougall, McElroy, McFadden, Miles, Moon, Moos, Morphis, Morrissey, Mundy, Newschwander, O'Brien, O'Connell, Odell, O'Donnell, Olsen, Perry, Pritchard, Reese, Rogers, Rosenberg, Savage, Sawyer, Schaefer, Siler, Smith, Swayze, Taylor, Uhlman, Wang, Wedekind, Wintler, Witherbee, Young, Mr. Speaker—96.

Those voting nay were: Representative Metcalf—1.

Those absent or not voting were: Representatives King, Leland—2.

House Bill No. 141, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed.

There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

My vote against House Bill No. 141 was not against the intent of the bill, but merely a protest against the emergency clause which was tacked on this bill. This bill was not "necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, safety, the support of the state government and its existing public institutions."

JACK METCALF,
38th District.

APPOINTMENT OF COMMITTEE CHAIRMEN

The Speaker made the following statement concerning appointment of committee chairmen:

On January 21, 1963, acting under the authority of subsection (f) of House Rule No. 3, which provides that the Speaker shall appoint all standing and special committees, I announced my committee selections appointing thereto certain representatives as chairman.

Some members of the House have refused to accept these chairman assignments as delegated to them, thereby failing in their responsibilities as representatives to facilitate the objects and purposes of this assembly.

Inasmuch as these few representatives have refused to fulfill their obligations as chairman of important committees and the progress of this 38th legislative session is threatened, I am herewith rescinding the appointments previously made on the basis of nonperformance of duty.

I do this out of necessity and not desire. The chairman assignments were made in good faith and are excellent appointments of well qualified legislators. However, the best interests of the state of Washington and thereby the people require I make the following chairman assignment changes:

Rescind the appointment of Mr. Wedekind as Fisheries, Game, and Game Fish chairman and appoint Mr. Mast as chairman.

Rescind the appointment of Mr. Bigley as Higher Education chairman and appoint Mr. Folsom as chairman.

Rescind the appointment of Mr. May as Labor and Industrial Insurance chairman and appoint Mr. McCormick as chairman.

Rescind the appointment of Mr. Smith as Local Government chairman and appoint Mr. Hawley as chairman.

Rescind the appointment of Mr. Conner as Public Institutions chairman and appoint Mrs. Kirk as chairman.

Rescind the appointment of Mr. Witherbee as Social Security and Public Assistance chairman and appoint Dr. Newschwander as chairman.

Rescind the appointment of Mr. O'Brien as State Government chairman and appoint Mr. Lybecker as chairman.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The Speaker recognized Mr. Garrett:

Mr. Garrett:

"Mr. Speaker, we will prepare a statement to be read into the journal in answer to the Speaker relative to some of the Democrats shirking their duties."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The Speaker recognized Mr. Evans.

Mr. Evans:

"Mr. Speaker, I would just like to notify the Speaker that we wish also to have the privilege of preparing a statement for the journal tomorrow regarding committee chairmanship appointments."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Chatalas:

"Mr. Speaker, point of parliamentary inquiry."

The Speaker:

"State your point of parliamentary inquiry."

Mr. Chatalas:

"Mr. Speaker, I wish to inquire whether or not Mr. McCormick will retain his position on the Committee on Rules and Order, in light of his appointment to a committee chairmanship. This would be contrary to long-standing precedent in this House."

The Speaker:

"There is precedent for such a move and, under the circumstances, he will retain his position on the Rules and Order Committee."

MOTION

On motion of Mrs. Hurley, the House recessed until 7:45 p. m.

EVENING SESSION

The Speaker called the House to order at 7:45 p. m.

The Clerk called the roll, and all members were present.

JOINT SESSION

The Sergeant at Arms of the House announced the arrival of the Senate at the bar of the House.

The Speaker invited the Senators to seats within the House, and instructed the Sergeants at Arms of the Senate and the House to escort the Lieutenant Governor to a seat on the rostrum.

The Lieutenant Governor (President of the Senate) presided.

The Lieutenant Governor called the joint session to order.

The Secretary of the Senate called the roll of the Senate, and all members were present.

The Clerk of the House called the roll of the House, and all members were present.

The Lieutenant Governor:

"Mr. Speaker, President Pro Tem Riley, members of the Washington state legislature, ladies and gentlemen:

"The purpose of this joint session of the legislature is to view a film entitled 'Washington State, Land of Contrast'. I am sure many members of the legislature join with the President in expressing the thought that this is the understatement of the thirty-eighth legislative session.

"Here to narrate this particular film is Mr. Mark Evans of Washington, D. C. Mr. Evans is a renowned television and radio executive who is currently doing an hour program on television in the East entitled 'Opinion in the Capitol'. In addition, Mr. Evans is vice president of Metromedia Association, Inc., a television and radio company. Mr. Evans, on occasion, has given the narration on this film to audiences exceeding seven thousand people, one in particular in Constitution Hall in Washington, D. C. This film is soon to be shown on television throughout the states of New York, Washington, and Kansas, and in the California area.

"It is with great pride that the President at this time presents Mr. Mark Evans." (Applause.)

Mr. Evans:

"Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, distinguished members of this august body, I bring you greetings from the District of Columbia. I have a trade that I have been asked to offer to you, your reorganization problems for the problems of filibustering in the Senate of the United States. (Applause.)

"I am not unmindful of the honor which is mine here tonight to show you a film of which I am very proud. The flight I made from Washington, D. C. for this specific purpose was and is a small effort indeed compared to the thrill of showing you this film which I had the pleasure of making this last summer, and to show it in this, I think, the most beautiful capitol building in all the world, and I have seen most of them. (Applause.) I profusely apologize, not for what is in the film, but for what of necessity was left out of the film. I am sure you can appreciate the monumental task of trying to depict a state such as yours on celluloid. It is almost impossible, because you don't have one state; you have about seven different geographical states. I have previously made films of the Soviet Union and many other unusual places, but I have never enjoyed making one more than I did this one. This was the first of its type of any of the states of the Union. We came out here at the request of the Geographic Society because of the great world's fair which you had, and we thoroughly enjoyed it. I am a television commentator and executive and this lecturing business is an avocation, and I am very happy to be doing it. One of my purposes is to show, on behalf of my company, that we believe in the beauties of your state and are desirous of perpetrating those beauties. If there is anything wrong with your state in my estimation, it is the lack of zeal on the part of your people in selling your state to the federal union. There are many things about which I am sure you are going to disagree in your meeting of the legislature of the state of Washington, and I thought it might be well for you to find something on which you are completely unified. I think that is your love of one of the great and, I think, most beautiful state in the Union. I have a running love affair with the Evergreen state. I hope you will re-evaluate what you have as you see the film. I have yet to show it to an audience when I haven't been besieged with people who make the declaration of their avowed purpose hereafter to see for themselves the majesty of the Evergreen state. Thank you very much." (Applause.)

The film "Washington State, Land of Contrast" was then shown with narration by Mr. Evans.

The Lieutenant Governor:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Evans. The resounding reception of your film and your narration certainly is indication of the opinion of the members of the legislature of you and your film."

FIRST READING OF SENATE BILLS

The following were read first time by title and acted upon as indicated:

Engrossed Senate Bill No. 39, by Senators Talley, Donohue, and Raugust:
An Act relating to municipalities of the second, third, and fourth class and adding a new section to chapter 35.21 RCW.

Referred to Committee on Local Government.

Senate Bill No. 152, by Senators Gallagher, Thompson, Jr., and Peterson (by departmental request):

An Act relating to the use of waterways for purposes other than navigation; authorizing the department of natural resources to issue use permits under certain conditions when approved by specified governmental bodies, agencies, or individuals; and adding a new section to chapter 79.01 RCW.

Referred to Committee on Natural Resources, Parks, Capitol Buildings and Grounds.

Engrossed Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 3, by Senators McCutcheon, Hallauer, and Dore:

Deferring dissolution of world fair corporation.

Referred to Committee on Rules and Order.

POINT OF INFORMATION

The Speaker recognized Mr. Olsen.

Mr. Olsen:

"Mr. Speaker, did you refer Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 3 to the Rules Committee? May I speak on that?"

The Speaker:

"The bill is in the Rules Committee. The bill isn't properly before us. You can move to have the bill rereferred to another committee."

MOTION

Mr. Olsen moved that Engrossed Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 3 be rereferred to the Committee on State Government, Military and Veterans Affairs, and Civil Defense.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Copeland:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Copeland:

"We are on the eleventh order of business. This motion is in improper order to be considered."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"I rule that a motion to rerefer the bill would be in order under this order of business."

Debate ensued, Representative Olsen speaking in favor of his motion, and Representative Perry speaking against the motion.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Adams:

"Mr. Speaker, would Mr. Olsen yield to a question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield, Mr. Olsen?"

Mr. Olsen:

"Certainly Doctor."

Mr. Adams:

"Mr. Olsen, I recall the legislative council made an honest effort to get information regarding the world's fair and wrote several letters. They received practically a brush-off, and didn't get any answer until they invoked the question of subpoena; they were going to subpoena these people to get information. Did you at that time put up as earnest a plea to get them to give this interim body of the legislature the information which they desired, and if not, why not?"

Mr. Olsen:

"Dr. Adams, I certainly can answer that. At all times, the records of the world's fair commission and the cooperation of the world's fair commission were open to the legislative council. Any time they wanted to come up and look at the fair's financial statements and books, they were there. Now, to bring all those records from the Seattle office and turn them over to the legislative council, when they were being used day in and day out, was impossible, but you had your attorney up there and an attorney from the attorney general's office, plus an accountant from the attorney general's office. They were up and looked over the fair's books and reported back to the legislative council."

Further debate ensued, Representatives Adams and Lybecker speaking against the motion to rerefer Engrossed Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 3 to the Committee on State Government, Military and Veterans Affairs, and Civil Defense.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Schaefer:

"Mr. Speaker, point of parliamentary inquiry."

The Speaker:

"State your point of parliamentary inquiry."

Mr. Schaefer:

"I am wondering whether now all House concurrent resolutions and all Senate concurrent resolutions will go directly to the Rules Committee?"

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"They can be referred to any standing committee in the House, Mr. Schaefer."

Further debate ensued, Representative Copeland speaking against the motion, and Representative Beck speaking in its favor.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. O'Brien:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. O'Brien:

"Rule 78 states:

"The first reading of a bill shall be by title only, unless a majority of the members present demand a reading in full. After the first reading, bills are referred to committees unless they are committee bills, in which event they go direct to the Rules Committee."

"In other words, it appears to me that bills and resolutions should be referred to committee unless they are committee bills, in which event they go directly to Rules and Order Committee. Any divergence from this rule appears to be arbitrary and not within our House rules. I would like to have you give this serious consideration because only in very unusual situations do you refer matters to the Rules Committee."

The Speaker:

"Mr. O'Brien, on January 18, House Concurrent Resolution No. 4 was referred directly to the Rules and Order Committee."

Mr. O'Brien:

"Notwithstanding that, it appears to require a suspension of the rules for a Speaker to refer a matter directly to Rules and Order. Resolutions come out of Rules and Order Committee, that is true."

The Speaker:

"We have a motion before us now to rerefer the bill. If it is the will of the body to refer the bill to another committee, this will be carried out when we vote on the motion."

Mr. Perry demanded an electric roll call, and the demand was sustained.

Further debate ensued, Representatives Olsen and O'Brien speaking in favor of the motion, and Representative Andersen (James A.) speaking against the motion.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Smith:

"Mr. Speaker, point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege, Mr. Smith."

Mr. Smith:

"I think Mr. Andersen is impugning my motives. I am a member of the State Government Committee. I assure Mr. Andersen that I make my decisions. Nobody says how I shall vote."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

The Speaker recognized Mr. Pritchard.

Mr. Pritchard:

"Mr. Smith, are you objecting to being called an O'Brien Democrat?"

Mr. Smith:

"When I became a Democrat, I didn't even know Mr. O'Brien."

Further debate ensued, Representatives Mahaffey and Jueling speaking against the motion.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The Speaker recognized Mr. May.

Mr. May:

"I am amused at some of the things that are happening. First, I want to say I am not an O'Brien Democrat. I am a Democrat, period, and I am getting a little sick of some of the insinuations of certain people. This is supposed to be a nonpartisan issue, yet before Mr. Olsen even designated what committee he wanted to refer this to, the old thumb over here was going down for a no vote. If this is good legislation, you have to show me."

Further debate ensued, Representative Sawyer speaking in favor of the motion.

Mr. Morphis demanded the previous question.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Ackley:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Ackley:

"I didn't hear you make a ruling on Mr. O'Brien's point of order regarding Rule 78, which requires that a bill on first reading be sent to a committee. I request that you make a ruling."

POINT OF ORDER

The Speaker recognized Mr. Gorton.

Mr. Gorton:

"Mr. Ackley has answered his own point of order. Rule 78 speaks of the first reading of a bill. This isn't a bill, it is a concurrent resolution."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Ackley:

"Mr. Speaker, continuing with this point of order, I would like Mr. Gorton or Mr. Speaker or anybody to point out the rule which permits a concurrent resolution or memorial or any other matter to be treated differently from a bill and to be sent directly to the Rules Committee. I have been unable to find such a rule as a precedent for this unprecedented action."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"Rule 78 reads as follows:

'The first reading of a bill shall be by title only, unless a majority of the members present demand a reading in full. After the first reading, bills are referred to committees unless they are committee bills, in which event they go direct to the Rules Committee.'

"The Rules Committee is a committee."

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. Ackley:

"Then is it the Speaker's ruling, Mr. Speaker, that the Rules Committee is a regular standing committee of this House and is it the intention of the Speaker as chairman of that committee to hold hearings on this bill that is referred to it as other committees would do?"

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"In answer to the first portion of your two-pronged question, the Rules Committee is a standing committee of this House. In answer to the second part as to whether we will hold public hearings, the answer is no."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Beck:

"Mr. Speaker, would Mr. Mahaffey yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Would you yield to question, Mr. Mahaffey?"

Mr. Mahaffey:

"Yes."

Mr. Beck:

"Mr. Mahaffey, you stated this world's fair commission had to be wound up by February 15. Did you read this material which has been distributed? If I read it correctly, I understood it was April 30 and I see no need for speed. Would you inform me as to the proper dates?"

Mr. Mahaffey:

"I will have to refer to Mr. Olsen on what our final decision was at the last meeting. Our commission lasts until April 30."

Mr. Beck:

"That is the date I got from reading the report. Would Mr. Olsen answer the question? I am trying to get the answer as to whether the need for speed is so urgent."

Mr. Olsen:

"The only reason for the February 15 date is that the auditors have to have a cut-off date when to give the final report to the CPA's. There are private CPA's auditing the books; and then it will be a while before we get the audit from the state auditor. That is the second audit and that won't be available for a while. The private auditors who have been auditing the books ever since the fair started have to have a cut-off date and that is why February 15 is stated. As far as liquidation is concerned, we had hoped that by the date of April 30, 1964, the final business would be taken care of. If you will read the report, you will see that April 30, 1964, is in the report."

POINT OF ORDER

The Speaker recognized Mr. Morphis:

Mr. Morphis:

"Mr. Speaker, I believe a demand has been made for the previous question."

The demand for the previous question was not sustained, on a rising vote.

Further debate ensued, Representatives Klein, Chatalas, and Witherbee speaking in favor of the motion, and Representative Litchman speaking against the motion.

MOTION

On motion of Mr. Campbell, the House deferred further consideration of Mr. Olsen's motion to rerefer Engrossed Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 3 to the Committee on State Government, Military and Veterans Affairs, and Civil Defense, and the motion was made a special order of business at 11:30 a. m. today.

SPEAKER'S PRIVILEGE

The Speaker recognized within the bar of the House Mr. Maury A. Wills, and appointed Representatives Hurley, May, Odell, and Johnston to escort him to a position on the rostrum.

The Speaker instructed the reading clerk to read the following statement:

"Maury A. Wills played minor league ball at Seattle and Spokane. At Spokane he came to be a very popular shortstop and moved up to the parent Los Angeles Dodgers team. He has made his home at Spokane for eight years and rose to national prominence in the 1961 season leading the Dodgers to the national league championship and performing in an outstanding manner in the world series.

"In 1962 Maury received even greater acclaim by setting a new base stealing record (104 bases in one season). Innumerable honors have been bestowed on Maury including, but not limited to, the following: Associated Press, Athlete of the Year; National League, Most Valuable Player; Sporting News and Look Magazines Player of the Year; The Hickok Award as No. 1 Professional Athlete (Gold Belt Buckle—$10,000); California Athlete of the State Award; Sid Mercer Award; Van Heusen Award; Los Angeles Dodgers Most Popular Player; Inland Empire Athlete of the Year Award.

"On February 4, 1963 at the Sportswriters annual banquet in Spokane, Maury presented a Distinguished Citizen Award given pursuant to a resolution passed by the Senate and proposed by Senator James Keefe. The award was presented by Lieutenant Governor Cherberg and Senator Keefe.

"Maury A. Wills announced February 4, 1962, that he intended to make Spokane his permanent home."

Mr. Wills:

"Mr. Speaker, members of the House of Representatives, ladies and gentlemen:

"It is indeed an honor to come here and visit with you this morning. I have received many awards all over the country which I have appreciated very much, but being invited heretoday is just like frosting on the cake, so to speak, and without frosting to me cake is just cake. I am indeed honored.

"My family and I came to the state of Washington in 1957 to play the season in Seattle with the Rainiers before we moved over to God's country in Spokane. (Applause.) We broke into organized baseball back in 1951 in the Dodgers' organization and, having a family on the way then, by the time we got to Spokane we had five children. Throughout my minor league career, my wife and I had continuously searched for a place where we could settle down and call home. We traveled to many places, but not until we got to Spokane here in the state of Washington did we find a place that we felt would be beneficial to us and to which we could be beneficial, too. They have tried to lure me on many occasions down to Los Angeles to live, but believe me they can't pry us away with a crowbar. We are just tickled to death to be citizens of the state of Washington, and Spokane in particular.

"Again I want to thank you for having me over here. I just hope and pray you will find it fitting to invite me back again some time. Thank you very much."

The Speaker instructed the special committee to escort Mr. Wills from the House chamber.

MOTION

On motion of Mr. Ackley, the House granted permission to use the House chamber for a public hearing on February 15, 1963, to consider bills endorsed by the Joint Committee on Urban Area Government.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The Speaker recognized Mr. Garrett:

Mr. Garrett:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I would like to read a statement into the journal, about which I informed you yesterday."

The Speaker:

"Proceed, Mr. Garrett."

Mr. Garrett:

"We, the members of the Democratic caucus of the House of Representatives, would like to compliment and commend the Speaker and his Republican coalition for finally recognizing, after twenty-three days, the importance of the two-party system to our state by assuming the duties, obligations, and responsibilities of the majority. We also would like to applaud their belated realization of the importance of an active and constructive minority party.

"For the last twenty-three days, we Democrats have met our responsibilities and have fulfilled our obligations to the people by serving as constructive committee members and as an active minority party. Having been elected as Democrats, we chose to remain such according to the responsibility imposed on us by the electorate. We will continue to do our job, to offer constructive legislation, and to point out any and all of the deficiencies of the Republican program which will inevitably be adopted by this House majority of the Republican coalition.

"Irresponsible and arbitrary statements accompanied the Speaker's misleading charges against certain members of the Democratic caucus when he reluctantly agreed to appoint committee chairmen from the ranks of the majority party now in control of this House of Representatives. It is the considered opinion of the members of the Democratic caucus that such capricious action is most certainly not in keeping with the high office of the Speaker of the House of Representatives.

"The record of the journal of the House of Representatives should accurately reflect the unanimous approval by the members of the Democratic caucus of this assembly for the Speaker's belated decision, on the twenty-third day of this session, to appoint members of the majority party to positions as committee chairmen. The members of the Democratic caucus endorse this welcome change of attitude on the part of the Speaker and applaud his reversal of a prior position as one that will restore to the House of Representatives the traditional responsibilities bestowed upon the majority party by parliamentary procedures of the American two-party system of government. The record is now clear as to the fact that the membership of the Democratic caucus of the House of Representatives is in fact the minority party in this assembly, and has been since the first day of this session. The delays in organizing this House must be borne by the Republican coalition.

"It should also be reflected in the record of these proceedings that the Speaker was fully informed by the membership of the Democratic caucus of its determination to decline the proffered committee chairmanships because we could not participate in the Republican-dominated coalition. Despite this knowledge concerning the stand of the Democratic caucus and the reasons therefor, the Speaker proceeded with his plans to nominate Democratic members of the House as chairmen of certain committees without any pretense of prior consultation with the nominees. This arbitrary abuse of the Speaker's prerogatives in itself is a fundamental violation of the right conferred upon members of this assembly to serve the public interest to the maximum extent of their abilities as legislators. Although the Speaker has the undisputed authority under the rules of the House to appoint committees, the power to name committee chairmen is one that rests precariously upon custom and usage in this legislative body. An examination of the history of chairmanship appointments in this House will reveal that Speakers formerly made such appointments only after consultations with the members so nominated in order to ascertain their individual desires of service. Custom and usage was not followed in the present Speaker's capricious appointments of Democrats who were to serve the Republican coalition as committee chairmen of committees dominated by members of the Republican coalition. And yet, when they rightfully declined these posts, the Speaker elected to malign them with charges of nonperformance of duties.

"The refusal of the minority party to supply the majority party with members to occupy the meaningless billets as committee chairmen is certainly consistent with the parliamentary practice of the United States House of Representatives. No one can argue that the minority party in either house of the Congress is offered chairmanships of committees. In our own state, during the 1947 and 1953 session of this legislature when the Republican Party controlled the House of Representatives by reason of legitimate mandate from the electorate, no Democratic members were appointed to act as committee chairmen. Surely it is now obvious to every citizen that this House of Representatives is securely controlled by the Republican Party and its coalition; therefore, it is only reasonable to require the majority party to utilize its own membership in these positions of great responsibility.

"There should be no doubt whatsoever that the Democratic caucus of this House of Representatives has voluntarily accepted the fact that the Republican coalition has assumed complete control. It is the steadfast determination of the Democratic caucus, however, that all credit for the final legislative record of this assembly should be awarded to the Republican coalition—including any possible blame for that record.

"The record should also be made abundantly clear concerning the position of the Democratic caucus as to its responsibilities for the functioning of this legislative body. From the outset, the members of the Democratic caucus announced their determination to function as a minority party and to participate to the fullest extent in the legislative organization of this assembly as committee members. At no time has any member of the Democratic caucus refused to serve and contribute his full talents and experience as a member of any committee of this House!

"While it cannot approve of the long delay in assumption of the responsibility in organizing this House by the majority party, the Democratic caucus desires to restate its firm intention to participate in the orderly proceedings of the House of Representatives and in the operations of its several committees. It intends to do so while occupying the traditional role of the minority party. With two-party responsibility once again operating within the framework of the House of Representatives, the Democratic caucus willingly undertakes to carry on with the legislative business of this great assembly.

"We further restate our position that at any time the Republican coalition, recognizing the evils of alien coalition government and the benefits of our traditional American two-party system, wishes to undo its tragic blunder, we, the loyal Democrats, will assume full responsibility and control of this House, including chairmanships of all standing committees, a majority of the Committee on Rules and Order, and the Speakership of the House of Representatives."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The Speaker recognized Mr. Evans.

Mr. Evans:

"Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the House, I too have a statement for insertion in the journal which I mentioned yesterday. It is as follows:

"I am surprised and shocked that the Democratic caucus would persist in its position of preventing competent people from assuming responsibilities they could ably discharge as committee chairmen and vice chairmen. The public refusal of the responsibilities of the duties of office by the action of the Democratic caucus, the continued indifference to the necessary work of the legislature and the insistence that an imagined party prerogative must come before the constitutional mandates for legislative action are simply incredible to the average citizen who is more interested in smooth and orderly process of government than in the public tantrums of a supposedly responsible political party.

"As was well stated in the current issue of the Seattle Argus, 'The logic of the incessant intramural harangue among the Democrats at a time when there is serious business to be transacted is strikingly similar to that of the man who shaves his head to get even with the barber for a lousy haircut.'

"But equally serious and in the long run perhaps even more destructive of the legislative process are the very strong indications that the governor has used his influence to help prevent committee chairmen and vice chairmen from taking their positions. If this has in fact been happening, it is a most serious and unwarranted interference in legislative affairs by the executive. Any attempt by the executive to arrogate to itself the prerogatives of the legislative branch of government is destructive of our constitutional system of government and runs contrary to the doctrine of the separation of powers.

"On Monday of this week the former majority leader, Mr. Litchman, stated that 'I think we are all cooperating. I think the Speaker has done an excellent job. We are all underway . . . and frankly I think we are in a comparable position with two years or four years ago.' It seems a strange commentary for the former majority leader to stand up on the floor and preach cooperation and then for the members of his party to refuse to fulfill their obligations as chairmen and vice chairmen of important committees and by their neglect of duty to threaten the progress of the legislative session.

"Since our vote for the Speaker on the first day of the session, there has been no question but that we Republicans have assumed responsibility and are working with other members of this House who share our interest in good government. The legislative reforms and improvements which have been initiated this session and which we fully support are positive evidence of our determination to do the job for which we were elected.

"It is time to get down to business. Injured pride is no excuse for legislative neglect. Partisanship is no substitute for citizenship. Those who have newly assumed the responsibilities of leadership in the committees will now be able to act promptly and vigorously to forward the work of this House. I call on all members, regardless of political party, to work together with our duly elected and appointed officers for the best interests of all citizens. We Republicans are proud of our work in this legislature and are willing to let the accomplishments of this session stand as our record."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Ackley:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Ackley:

"My point of order concerns the Speaker's ruling that this concurrent resolution can be treated other than as a bill. I refer to Joint Rule No. 15 on page 232 of the rules in the legislative manual, which states:

'Joint memorials, joint resolutions, and concurrent resolutions, up to and including the signing thereof by the presiding officer of each house, shall be subject to the rules governing the course of bills.'

"And then our House Rule No. 78, which states:

'The first reading of a bill shall be by title only, unless a majority of the members present demand a reading in full. After the first reading, bills are referred to committees unless they are committee bills, in which event they go direct to the Rules Committee.'

"I request that the Speaker rule on whether or not these two rules construed together do not require that on the first reading of this concurrent resolution it may be referred to a committee before going to the Rules Committee."

POINT OF ORDER

The Speaker recognized Mr. Perry.

Mr. Perry:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order. I believe the Speaker has previously ruled on the exact subject matter before you at this time. If you wish to appeal the ruling of the Speaker, that is something else again."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"I shall restate my ruling for the gentleman's benefit. Rule 78 states that after first reading, bills are referred to committees. Now it doesn't say that after the first reading, bills must be referred to any specific committee. It only says that if they are committee bills, they go directly to the Rules Committee. This is the way I ruled before, and this is the way I am ruling again. It is within the prerogative of this House to refer any bill to the Rules Committee, and committee bills must go directly to the Rules Committee."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Ackley:

"Is it the Speaker's ruling, then, that any bill on first reading can be referred directly to the Rules Committee, thus by-passing established committee procedure in this House?"

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"It is possible, yes."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Klein:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Klein:

"Is it then the Speaker's ruling that we will no longer observe the language referred to by Mr. Ackley in Rule 15 of the Joint Rules of the House and Senate, insofar as they relate to concurrent resolutions?"

The Speaker:

"I think that is hypothetical."

Mr. Klein:

"No, it is precisely on this point, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Ackley called to your attention House Rule 78 and also the language in Joint Rule 15 dealing with concurrent resolutions. He asked that they be construed together."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"It specifically says in the joint rule that they shall be subject to rules governing the course of bills, and Rule 78 governs the course of bills, and I have ruled on that."

POINT OF INFORMATION

The Speaker recognized Mr. Moon.

Mr. Moon:

"I understand your ruling was that it is within the prerogative of this House to refer a bill to the Rules Committee, and as I interpret it, you have used your prerogative as Speaker to do this and not given the House the prerogative."

The Speaker:

"The House has the prerogative to rerefer the bill at this particular time, Mr. Moon, if they would allow us to get to the question."

The Clerk called the roll on Mr. Olsen's motion to rerefer Engrossed Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 3 to the Committee on State Government, Military and Veterans Affairs, and Civil Defense, and the motion was lost by the following vote: Yeas, 38; nays, 54; absent or not voting, 7.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Ackley, Anderson (Eric O.), Backstrom, Beck, Beierlein, Bigley, Bozarth, Braun, Brouillet, Burtch, Campbell, Chatalas, Conner, Dootson, Gallagher, Garrett, Gleason, Grant, Haussler, Hawley, Herr, Jolly, Klein, Mast, May, McFadden, Moon, Mundy, O'Brien, O'Donnell, Olsen, Rosenberg, Savage, Sawyer, Schaefer, Taylor, Wedekind, Witherbee—38.

Those voting nay were: Representatives Adams, Ahlquist, Andersen (James A.), Berentson, Bergh, Brachtenbach, Canfield, Clark, Comfort, Copeland, Earley, Eberle, Eldridge, Evans, Flanagan, Folsom, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Hadley, Harris, Hood, Huntley, Johnston, Jueling, King, Kink, Kirk, Leland, Lewis, Lind, Litchman, Lybecker, Lynch, Mahaffey, McCaffree, McDougall, McElroy, Metcalf, Miles, Moos, Morrissey, Newswander, O'Connell, Odell, Perry, Pritchard, Reese, Rogers, Siler, Swayze, Wang, Wintler, Young, Mr. Speaker—54.

Those absent or not voting were: Representatives DeJarnatt, Henry, Hurley, McCormick, Morphis, Smith, Uhlman—7.

POINT OF ORDER

The Speaker recognized Mr. Leland.

Mr. Leland:

"Mr. Speaker, do the rules provide that if you are in your seat you must vote?"

The Speaker:

"We are not under the call of the House, Mr. Leland."

MOTION

Mr. Ackley moved that Engrossed Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 3 be rereferred to the Committee on Commerce and Economic Development.

Debate ensued, Representative Ackley speaking in favor of the motion, and Representative Perry speaking against the motion.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Ackley:

"Mr. Speaker, point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. Ackley:

"Mr. Speaker, Mr. Perry has impugned my motives. I am simply seeking to send this to a committee where it belongs. I have no thought of any sort of dilatory tactics nor have I ever pursued dilatory tactics before this House. I think Mr. Perry should retract his statement. This is made in good faith, and if Mr. Perry intends to impugn my motives, I would like him to be called to order."

The Speaker:

"You may continue, Mr. Perry."

Further debate ensued, Representatives Perry and Moos speaking against the motion, and Representative Olsen speaking in its favor.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Hadley:

"Mr. Speaker, will Representative Lewis yield to a question?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Lewis, will you yield to question?"

Mr. Lewis:

"Yes."

Mr. Hadley:

"Mr. Lewis, I am new here and I know you live in Olympia. It seems to me I have read somewhere that there have been hearings on this particular item. Could you advise me?"

Mr. Lewis:

"Mr. Hadley, yes, I have some information. A hearing was held over in the Senate last week on this matter. I can't give you the exact day, but it was a small evening hearing held by Senator Durkan, who has the subcommittee on revenue and taxation, a subcommittee of the Senate Ways and Means Committee. At this meeting there were several of the world's fair commissioners present. I believe Representative Sawyer said he was there. There was also a representative from the attorney general's office who had worked with the commission throughout the fair, and it was as the result of this hearing that Senators McCutcheon, Hallauer, and Dore started this resolution. It has had speedy service in the Senate. We all recognize the deadline. I don't think we are trying to besmirch anybody's name. We merely want to make sure we don't delay this resolution beyond February 15, which would in effect kill it."

Further debate ensued, Representative Savage speaking in favor of the motion.

Mr. Ackley's motion to rerefer Engrossed Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 3 to the Committee on Commerce and Economic Development was lost.

MOTION

Mr. Rogers moved that permission be granted to use the House chamber for a public hearing on Senate Bill No. 175 on February 14, 1963 at 7:30 p. m.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Canfield:

"Mr. Speaker, will Mr. Rogers yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Will Representative Rogers yield to question?"

Mr. Rogers:

"Yes."

Mr. Canfield:

"I was wondering, Mr. Rogers, in view of the tremendous interest which seems to be evident in these Sunday closure bills, are you going to consider at this hearing other related bills?"

Mr. Rogers:

"Well, Senator Kupka came over a little while ago and asked me to make this motion for permission of the House to use the House chamber. He said Senate Bill 175 would be under consideration. I do not know if other measures will be considered."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Leland:

"Mr. Speaker, I wonder if Representative Rogers would yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Do you yield to question, sir?"

Mr. Rogers:

"Yes."

Mr. Leland:

"Mr. Rogers, if my memory serves me right, February 14th is the night for the public hearing on financing the Puget Sound ferries in Hearing Room No. 2. In view of the desirability of attending both these hearings, I wonder if it might be appropriate for you to talk with Senator Kupka and see if a different date might be arranged. I hate to see two such important meetings conflicting on the same night."

Mr. Rogers:

"I, too, recognize that there is a conflict, and I particularly want to attend the hearing on the ferry matter. Senator Kupka asked me to make this motion, and I would be glad to talk with him, if you desire, and perhaps he can suggest another day."

With the consent of the House, Mr. Rogers withdrew his motion.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Litchman:

"Mr. Speaker, point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. Litchman:

"Mr. Speaker and ladies and gentlemen of the House, for the good of the order, I think that perhaps the Speaker should be requested to interrupt the members of this body when they impugn the motives of other legislators. I am responsible, I think, for some accusations being made. They are made every day and the longer I sit here, the more unpleasant it becomes. I sit here as a member of this House, not especially as a Democrat, but as a resident of the state of Washington and as a representative of my district. It is a pleasure for me to join in with my fellow Democrats because I was elected as one. On the other hand, I have a duty to sit with my Republican friends as well, and to do the best I can for the people of the state of Washington. Time and time again, just because somebody moves to defer action on a bill or because somebody has an amendment, they are accused of dilatory tactics. Today I disagreed with Representative Olsen when he was attempting to put this bill into another committee because, in the interest of expediency, I thought it was the wrong thing to do. The principle of referring a bill to committee is an excellent one, and I think ninety-nine times out of one hundred, it should be followed, but in this particular case I opposed my good friend, Representative Olsen. Some other members got up and impugned his motives. It is not even a pleasure at times to sit amongst this august body because of the accusations that are being made over and over. Members of the coalition are inferring that we minority Democrats are trying to use delaying tactics and not trying to pass any legislation, and to this I say, ridiculous. We did not have a calendar today and we did not have one Monday, so I don't see how we can be accused of delaying tactics. We have a principle to argue down here and many of us have felt these principles have been abused. We feel we have fought for something right, a principle that goes far beyond this House and involves the Constitution of this state and of the United States. We have been acting in all sincerity, yet time and time again our motives have been impugned. My motives were impugned when I offered an amendment to Mr. McCormick's bill, in all sincerity, which I had discussed with other members of the Highway Committee. I think Representative O'Brien's motives have been impugned. At one time and another, we have inferred that Representative Evans is trying to do one thing or another, and perhaps he isn't. I like my friends on the other side of the aisle, and I like my friends on this side of the aisle. We are down here for a purpose. Let's live together and get along with one another and be kind hearted to one another. It's fine to argue merits of a bill, and it's fine to argue principles, but I ask the Speaker, and I hope the rest of you will join hands in asking the Speaker, to interrupt a speaker on the floor who is impugning the motives or accusing another legislator. I am not saying I am not at fault, because I am. I have done it many times, but it seems to be getting worse and worse. I do beseech all of you to restrain yourselves if you can. I will try to make Mr. McCormick's bill apply so I'll stay in my seat and not jump up and shout something I really don't intend to. Thank you very kindly."

MOTION

On motion of Mr. Copeland, the House recessed until 10:00 a. m.

SECOND MORNING SESSION

The Speaker called the House to order at 10:00 a. m.

The Clerk called the roll. Representative Beierlein, previously excused, was absent.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNORSPECIAL MESSAGE TO THE THIRTY-EIGHTH LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON

February 7, 1963.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the State of Washington.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

The need for public parks, recreation sites and open spaces has never been greater, and this fact is receiving increased attention throughout our nation. The federal government, as a result of extensive studies of the outdoor recreation situation, has created an Outdoor Recreation Bureau. In the Federal Housing Act of 1961 there were provisions for open space grants. Proposals also have been made for major new federal park and recreation programs.

The states of New York, New Jersey, and Wisconsin have authorized investments of from fifty million dollars to seventy-five million dollars in outdoor recreation programs. Our neighboring states of California, Oregon, and Hawaii have laid the ground work for similar action in this field by conducting extensive studies of recreational needs and resources.

The pressing need for related endeavors here in our own state has been evident for some time. One of the basic needs, for example, is recreation facilities for our working population. It's a well established fact that happy, healthy workers are highly productive workers. This is important in our attempts to enlarge existing industry, bring new payrolls into our state—and, in general, create jobs for the thousands who are moving into Washington every year.

Early in 1962, I appointed an inter-agency committee comprised of the directors of the six state agencies that have major responsibilities concerning land use. Within the time limitations that existed, this committee has compiled extensive information from state agencies and the public in an effort to provide the most complete picture possible of outdoor recreational resources, and the need for them in our state of Washington.

The report of this committee now is being printed and bound by the state printer. A copy of the report will be in the hands of every legislator by Monday, February 11th. I regret that I am unable to furnish you with the report today, but the tremendous workload placed upon the state printer, primarily because of new work related to legislative documents, has prevented this.

The legislative package that I present to you today includes four bills that would provide for a far-reaching program for the development of outdoor recreation resources in the state of Washington. This program calls for the acquisition of areas to fit the future needs by our citizens for outdoor recreation facilities. Please understand, that this program can be implemented without any additional taxation.

The initial emphasis of this program is placed on securing property related to our water and marine sports and recreation use. The order and timing of the objectives of this program are dictated by the growing scarcity as well as the rapid rise in value of waterfront property. I am advised by the property tax section of the tax commission that purchases of desirable waterfront sites on both fresh water and salt water now sell for prices that are 200 percent to 600 percent above prevailing prices of 1952-1953. Furthermore, there are many instances of even faster rising prices.

The program I am presenting for your consideration will provide approximately three million dollars of income for the purchase of such waterfront property during the next biennium. This approximately three million dollars will be made available by using marine gas tax monies collected from the sale of gasoline used by boats on Washington waters.

I further submit, in separate legislation, that a proposal be placed before the people at the general election in November of 1964 asking their approval to authorize the issuance of bonds, the total of which would not exceed ten million dollars. This issuance would occur during the period from January 1, 1965, to December 31, 1970.

I wish to emphasize that although I would prefer a program that functions on a pay-as-you-go basis, money for such a plan is not now available. Therefore, keeping in mind the decided inflationary trend of the real estate market, I feel certain that any interest payments that result from a bonding measure will be more than offset by the anticipated rise in the cost of real property over the years.

The proposed outdoor recreation bonds would have, as security, the same source that now is being used to secure and retire the bonds issued for the state's participation in the world's fair.

These world's fair bonds are being retired from license fees payable by corporations. But these fees bring revenue in excess of the need for such bond retirement. Furthermore, the excess increases steadily with each repayment. Therefore, it is this existing and growing excess revenue that would be used to support the bonding proposal if issuance of the outdoor recreation bonds are approved by the voters. Schedules showing this method of bonding to be practical have been developed and will be presented to the legislature for study.

Thus, the combined effect of my fiscal proposals will provide three million dollars for acquisition and development of outdoor recreation sites in the next biennium, approximately six million dollars during the 1965-1967 biennium, approximately six to seven million dollars in the 1967-1969 biennium, and seven to eight million dollars in the 1969-1971 biennium.

It is my intention that all funds secured by a vote of the people be dedicated to site acquisition and development. It is my further intention that the estimated three million dollars received from the marine gas tax be devoted exclusively during the 1963-1965 biennium to the acquisition and development of waterfront property. Thereafter, the question of possible use of all or part of marine gas funds for operational purposes is a proper one for succeeding legislatures to decide.

I further propose, in separate legislation, that a Washington Outdoor Recreational Development Board be established. This board would be empowered to authorize the allocation of funds to participating agencies for the acquisition, construction, development, and improvement of outdoor recreational facilities.

This same piece of legislation would provide for the establishment of an outdoor recreational fund and for state participation in related federal programs.

The board that I propose would be broadly representative of all levels of government as well as outdoor recreational clubs or associations and of private enterprises related to the area of outdoor recreation.

This should be clearly understood, that in establishing this Outdoor Recreational Development Board, we would in no way be creating another government agency. This board would make use of resources and personnel of existing state agencies.

I also want to emphasize that there is a possibility of obtaining federal matching funds related to outdoor recreation. There already is a bill before Congress on this matter. Whenever such funds are made available, we in the state of Washington, through a board such as the one I am suggesting, would be in a position to take immediate advantage of the situation.

This program offers the people of Washington an effective, well-reasoned approach to securing proper sites in a businesslike way. I wish to emphasize that it is not a crash program that would generate unwise purchasing, but rather is a program that covers a reasonable period and would enable logical selection of sites and proper timing for negotiations for their purchase.

Washington has the opportunity to begin now on outdoor recreational development while such a project is still economical and while the basic resources still are relatively available. Washington state has a vast recreational potential that can promote prosperity, health, and pleasure for our citizens.

I commend this program to you for approval.

ALBERT D. ROSELLINI, Governor.
State of Washington.

MOTION

On motion of Mrs. Gleason, authority was granted for the use of the House chamber for a public hearing on Senate Bill No. 175 at 7:30 p. m., Tuesday, February 19, 1963.

RESOLUTION

Resolution by Representative Litchman:

Known as the Lynch, Litchman Resolution.

WHEREAS THE FOLLOWING FACTS ARE TRUE:

That the third house and its members have been recognized for their devotion to good government and to legislation;

That since the annals of Washington State History, Ulcer Gulch has been reserved for the third house;

That due to present legislative demands, the size of the third house has expanded to such an uncomfortable size that Ulcer Gulch space is now inadequate;

That furthermore, Representative Lynch and other members of her sex are often harassed by shrieks and whistles as they attempt to walk between the House and the Senate, and that this type of action is undignified; and

That Representative Litchman and other members of his sex are often cornered, threatened, cajoled, and glad-handed as they attempt to visit the Senate, all leading to further undignified mannerisms;

That Ulcer Gulch is not a meeting place conducive to discussions or to lending dignity;

That the third house is composed of many leading citizens of our state, and because of their sincere devotion to good government are certainly entitled to decent quarters befitting their profession where they can meet their legislative friends in a dignified manner, where legislators can meet with the third house and sit down over a drink of coffee or tea and relax;

That relaxation or a place to relax is badly needed and important to all our health;

That the South reception room is a very suitable quarters for use of lobbyists which lends dignity to this august body and the third house;

Therefore, Be It Resolved, That the Speaker appoint Representative Lynch, Representative Litchman, and others to recommend to this august body the use of the South reception room or such other room that will lend dignity to this House, as well as provide a place for legislators to relax with their lobbyist friends; and that regulations be established whereby the third house will regulate their own conduct as well as defray costs of upkeep.

Mr. Litchman moved adoption of the resolution.

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. Canfield:

"Mr. Speaker, point of information."

The Speaker:

"State your point of information."

Mr. Canfield:

"I wonder if this Lynch-Litchman bill is with a large 'L' or small?"

The resolution was adopted on a rising vote.

MOTIONS

On motion of Mr. King, House Bill No. 167 was rereferred to the Committee on Local Government.

Mr. Schaefer moved that House Bill No. 195 be rereferred to the Committee on Judiciary.

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"The motion is out of order at the moment, since this bill is on the second reading calendar. You can make the motion when the bill is before us on the calendar."

SECOND READING OF BILLS

The House resumed consideration of House Bill No. 8 on second reading.

House Bill No. 8, by Representatives Wang, Mundy, and Olsen:

Relating to real estate brokers, their associates, and salesmen and the supervision and licensing thereof.

The Speaker declared the question before the House to be the adoption of the following amendment by Mr. Ackley:

On page 25, section 27, following line 14, add a new subsection as follows:

"(19) Discriminating against any person or persons with respect to the sale, lease, or rental of real estate, or the listing or showing for sale, lease or rental of real estate, because of the race, creed, color, religion or national origin of said person or persons."

Mr. Ackley demanded a call of the House, and the demand was sustained.

CALL OF THE HOUSE

The Sergeant at Arms was instructed to lock the doors.

The Clerk called the roll. Representative Beierlein was absent.

On motion of Mr. Copeland, the absent member was excused and the House proceeded with business under the call of the House.

At the request of Mr. Smith, the Speaker declared the House to be at ease for five minutes.

The Speaker called the House to order.

Debate ensued, Representative Ackley speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment, and Representatives Perry and Witherbee speaking against its adoption.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Andersen (James A.):

"Mr. Speaker, would Representative Earley yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield to question, Representative Earley?"

Mr. Earley:

"Yes."

Mr. Andersen:

"Representative Ackley has stated, Mr. Earley, that this amendment he has introduced is his own idea and is not introduced at the request of any group. Now, I realize that civil rights are extremely important in your district and that you are familiar with this area. I would like to ask you: in your opinion, is this amendment good civil rights legislation? I would appreciate your explaining it to me."

Mr. Earley:

"Thank you, Mr. Andersen. Mr. Ackley stated this is a simple, one-sentence amendment. Actually, I think it is a one-sentence insult to the negroes of the state of Washington. I don't know whether this is an attempt to kill good legislation which is going to be on the floor later on in the session. This will have the effect of destroying most of the hard work on good, sound legislation, and I don't think, Mr. Andersen, that you can include in one sentence enough meat to substitute for eight pages in present House Bill No. 23. I personally have faith in the Rules Committee to do what is right on our civil rights legislation. I think this amendment is a bad one, and I think it should be voted down. This will have the effect of killing five bills, one good real estate bill and four good housing bills."

Further debate ensued, Representatives Wang, Mundy, Evans, Leland, and Pritchard speaking against adoption of the amendment and Representatives Litchman and Smith speaking in its favor.

Mr. Kink demanded the previous question, and the demand was sustained. The Speaker instructed the Clerk to call the roll.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Ackley:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order, Mr. Ackley."

Mr. Ackley:

"May I have the privilege of closing debate such as has been afforded on previous occasions?"

The Speaker:

"The previous question has been demanded and the demand has been sustained."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Ackley:

"Mr. Speaker, point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"You may have your point of personal privilege as soon as the Clerk calls the roll."

Mr. Ackley:

"Mr. Speaker, I will not vote until I get my point of personal privilege. I asked for it before the Clerk started the roll call."

The Speaker:

"Mr. Ackley, if you refuse to answer it is within the prerogative of the House to excuse you from the call of the House."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Ackley:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Ackley:

"My point of order is that I addressed the Speaker on a point of personal privilege before the roll call was started. Is it the Speaker's ruling that members cannot state a point of personal privilege before the roll call is started, and then the Speaker can interfere by directing the Clerk to call the roll?"

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"The Speaker rules that the minute clerk has it in the minutes that I had called for the roll call. Technically, you are out of order. However, it is within the discretion of the Speaker with regard to matters of personal privilege, which have been quite badly abused by many of the members this session, to permit you to speak. You are technically out of order; however, I am going to allow you to speak for a reasonable time."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Ackley:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I appreciate your fairness in this matter. On the point of personal privilege, ladies and gentlemen, I am surprised that Mr. Leland would rise to impugn my motives on this matter. I think he knows where I stand and I don't think his questioning of my sincerity is worthy of an answer. However, when he starts to say that I am bringing forward an amendment that has no relationship to the bill, this is a point that should be answered. This is the most phony kind of statement I ever heard in my life. Now, we have in this bill, gentlemen, already eighteen different reasons for suspension or revocation of a real estate broker's or salesman's license. There are eighteen different wrongful acts which the statute says that if the broker or salesman violates, his license can be revoked or suspended. These are things like fraud, making false statements, continuing to sell real estate under conditions whereby the interests of the public are endangered after the director has ordered in writing that they be stopped, accepting other than cash for earnest money, taking compensation from both parties without making the facts known, and falsifying all sorts of things. Now, you gentlemen all know that if the real estate broker or salesman commenced an act of discrimination, on the basis of—"

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Copeland:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Copeland:

"Mr. Ackley was granted time for a point of personal privilege and if he would confine his remarks to the personal privilege aspect, it would obviously be correct, but I think he is wandering far afield and is now discussing the general merits of the amendment."

The Speaker:

"You may continue with your point of personal privilege, Mr. Ackley."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Ackley:

"Thank you. Mr. Copeland, I was trying to relate this to Mr. Leland's suggestion that I had for some sort of personal aggrandizement put in this amendment which bore no relationship to the subject matter of this bill. I was just suggesting that it did bear on and have a very valid relationship to the subject matter of this bill, that being that we are simply adding one more wrongful act to a list of eighteen that we already have, which would make the broker's license or salesman's license subject to suspension or revocation, and if you follow my reasoning here, Mr. Copeland, this amendment is germane to the licensing bill. It should be in the licensing bill, and certainly it isn't any insult to the negro race if we require, as another reasonable ground for suspension, the act of discrimination on the part of the real estate man. Now, if they are not going to discriminate, their license won't be suspended, and the fact that this is a one-sentence amendment, I suggest, does not mean it is not a good one. If it isn't effective, then why all the fuss? If it is going to be effective, then one sentence is all we need."

Mr. Beierlein appeared at the bar of the House.

The Clerk called the roll on Mr. Ackley's amendment to House Bill No. 8. The motion was lost, and the amendment not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 24; nays, 75; absent or not voting, 0.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Ackley, Anderson (Eric O.), Bigley, Brouillet, Burtch, Chatalas, DeJarnatt, Dootson, Gallagher, Garrett, Gleason, Grant, Klein, Litchman, Mast, May, McFadden, O'Brien, O'Donnell, Savage, Sawyer, Smith, Uhlman, Wedekind—24.

Those voting nay were: Representatives Adams, Ahlquist, Andersen (James A.), Backstrom, Beck, Beierlein, Berentson, Bergh, Bozarth, Brachtenbach, Braun, Campbell, Canfield, Clark, Comfort, Conner, Copeland, Earley, Eberle, Eldridge, Evans, Flanagan, Folsom, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Hadley, Harris, Haussler, Hawley, Henry, Herr, Hood, Huntley, Hurley, Johnston, Jolly, Jueling, King, Kink, Kirk, Leland, Lewis, Lind, Lybecker, Lynch, Mahaffey, McCaffree, McCormick, McDougall, McElroy, Metcalf, Miles, Moon, Moos, Morphis, Morrissey, Mundy, Newschwander, O'Connell, Odell, Olsen, Perry, Pritchard, Reese, Rogers, Rosenberg, Schaefer, Siler, Swayze, Taylor, Wang, Wintler, Witherbee, Young, Mr. Speaker—75.

Mr. Hadley moved the adoption of the following amendment to House Bill No. 8:

On page 15, section 17, line 15, after "(RCW 18.85.150)" strike all of the material down to and including the period and double parentheses on page 16, line 5, and insert "The director may issue a temporary salesman's permit pending examination, to any applicant who, in his opinion, is qualified, except for the examination provided for in this chapter, when a satisfactory credit and character report shall have been made by the employing broker upon a form to be supplied by the director, with full responsibility for such temporary salesmen to rest with the employing broker, no temporary permit thus granted to be transferable from the originating broker to any other broker. The application fee for such temporary permit shall be five dollars which shall not be refunded for any cause, nor shall such application fee be considered any part of any license or examination fee. The examination fee for an applicant for a temporary permit shall be fifteen dollars, no part of which shall be refunded for any cause. Such temporary permits shall be valid only until the results of the next examination for licensees are available, which in no event shall be longer than six months. The director, however, shall not require any such applicant to take such examination until at least sixty days have elapsed after the issuance of the temporary permit. Only one temporary permit shall be issued to any one person. No person issued a temporary permit who fails to take or pass the examination shall be entitled to have returned any fees previously paid. Failure to take the examination next following the sixty-day period after issuance of the temporary permit shall cause forfeiture of the temporary permit and of any and all fees paid."

Debate ensued, Representatives Hadley and Eberle speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment, and Representatives Wang and Mundy speaking against its adoption.

Mr. Odell demanded an electric roll call, and the demand was sustained.

Further debate ensued, Representative Bergh speaking against adoption of the amendment.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Comfort:

"Mr. Speaker, would Mr. Bergh yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield, Mr. Bergh?"

Mr. Bergh:

"Yes."

Mr. Comfort:

"In these multiple instances you speak of, what happens to the real estate broker under whom these people were working?"

Mr. Bergh:

"In many cases the real estate broker was left holding the bag and in this situation, he was subjected to undue hardship also. He is not always able to screen out these people."

Mr. Comfort:

"May I ask whether the deletion asked for is for the protection of the broker or the public?"

Mr. Bergh:

"Both of them."

Further debate ensued, Representative Clark speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Schaefer:

"Mr. Speaker, would Mr. Hadley yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Would you yield to question?"

Mr. Hadley:

"Yes."

Mr. Schaefer:

"I would like to know, Mr. Hadley, whether other realtors in southwest Washington would agree with the amendment you have offered?"

Mr. Hadley:

"Mr. Schaefer, I am ashamed to say I can't really say. I have the greatest admiration for people in the real estate profession, but I think perhaps one of the difficulties with the bill is that in the eight years it has been studied, the members of the public have not had a say, and I can't help but feel that we are worrying too much about what a temporary salesman will do. I am an insurance broker. If I hire a solicitor to go down the street, and he is asked to charge $100,000 worth of insurance, and he comes back and forgets to do it, I am responsible for this man. I have to take the loss. I think we should leave the same proposition in the real estate bill. The broker is completely responsible for the actions of his solicitors. Let's not close it up and make it impossible for young people eager to succeed in business to go in and give it a try."

Further debate ensued, Representative Olsen speaking against adoption of the amendment.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Ackley:

"Mr. Speaker, will Mr. Hadley yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield to another question, Mr. Hadley?"

Mr. Hadley:

"Yes."

Mr. Ackley:

"Mr. Hadley, I wonder if you could tell me approximately how many or what percentage of real estate salesmen who have permanent licenses now began their practice with temporary licenses?"

Mr. Hadley:

"Mr. Ackley, I am ashamed to say again that I can't answer that specifically. This is the way I started. I would presume in this generation that the majority of the existing real estate salesmen or brokers started in this fashion since this last act"

The Clerk called the roll on the adoption of Mr. Hadley's amendment to House Bill No. 8. The motion was lost, and the amendment not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 43; nays, 56; absent or not voting, 0.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Ackley, Ahlquist, Andersen (James A.), Berentson, Bigley, Brouillet, Burtch, Canfield, Clark, Comfort, Copeland, DeJarnatt, Dootson, Earley, Eberle, Eldridge, Flannagan, Gorton, Grant, Hadley, Haussler, Hood, Jueling, Klein, Leland, Lind, Mahaffey, May, McCaffree, McDougall, McFadden, Metcalf, Moon, Moos, Morphis, Odell, Pritchard, Reese, Savage, Sawyer, Schaefer, Smith, Uhlman—43.

Those voting nay were: Representatives Adams, Anderson (Eric O.), Backstrom, Beck, Beierlein, Bergh, Bozarth, Brachtenbach, Braun, Campbell, Chatalas, Conner, Evans, Folsom, Gallagher, Garrett, Gleason, Goldsworthy, Harris, Hawley, Henry, Herr, Huntley, Hurley, Johnston, Jolly, King, Kink, Kirk, Lewis, Litchmann, Lybecker, Lynch, Mast, McCormick, McElroy, Miles, Morrissey, Mundy, Newschwander, O'Brien, O'Connell, O'Donnell, Olsen, Perry, Rogers, Rosenberg, Siler, Swayze, Taylor, Wang, Wedekind, Wintler, Witherbee, Young, Mr. Speaker—56.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. O'Brien:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. O'Brien:

"It appears under our rules that you would have to move for reconsideration immediately."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

House Bill No. 8 was ordered engrossed and passed to the Committee on Rules and Order for third reading.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Taylor:

"Mr. Speaker, point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. Taylor:

"I have two points. May I deal with them at the same time?"

The Speaker:

"Surely."

Mr. Taylor:

"I have been a little concerned. I know there is no problem as far as being seen back here, but can you hear me all right? I have been worrying about this for a month, sitting back in this corner.

"The second point of my personal privilege is that I would like to have you direct the Sergeant at Arms, Mr. Elmer Hyppa, to stand please. I wish to call to the attention of the House that today is Mr. Hyppa's birthday. I know all of us want to join in offering him congratulations." (Applause.)

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Schaefer:

"Mr. Speaker, I would like to rise on a point of personal privilege, if I may."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. Schaefer:

"I think we have a historical date here, the first day in the history of Washington where we have had a 'Day of Controversy.' This is the day that was set out by the calendar as the day to consider controversial legislation. I think all of you people present and those in the galleries looked forward to coming here at 9:00 o'clock to observe this controversial legislation. I had a bill today. I hope it wasn't too controversial. I know others had bills to be considered today. I might say that we have only five more Thursdays left for controversial legislation. The other days are going to be left up to a consent calendar, and if we debate, I wonder if we are going to be accused of filibustering in this House. I hope not. I want to close my remarks by saying that it seems the coalition has assigned this day 'Save Thursday for Controversy'."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Haussler:

"Mr. Speaker, I also have a point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege, Mr. Haussler."

Mr. Haussler:

"Apples, Mr. Speaker. Ladies and gentlemen of the House, I recently received a little letter that I would like to read to you right now, if you so desire, Mr. Speaker.

"Representative Joe D. Haussler, Representative of Appleland, U.S.A.

"Dear Mr. Haussler:

"The palates of the girls in the steno pool have been watering ever since the day apples from the Okanogan valley were distributed to the Representatives the first week of the session. We understand that the best apples in the state of Washington are raised in Okanogan county and especially by you, Mr. Haussler. We, the undersigned, therefore do hereby appeal to you to submit again proof of the high quality of the Okanogan valley apples as compared to the Yakima apples previously submitted to the steno pool, and we are confident that if we can again sample those apples, we will say they outrank any other apples grown in this state.

"Respectfully,

"Thirteen Members of the Steno Pool."

"Ladies and gentlemen of the House, I want you to know I struggled manfully against the lobbying of these thirteen fair ladies, but I failed miserably and they have their apples. Thank you."

Mr. Lind:

"In your discussion a moment ago, you suggested that this power which you are asking for was for the protection of the public at large. I ask you, don't you think the public at large through their taxes should continue to pay for this, particularly in view of the fact that another committee of which you are a member, the Agriculture and Livestock Committee, reported out a 'do pass' on a bill which would, in fact, remove the inspection fee on slaughter houses and make this fee a tax-paid fee, again because the public at large is being protected?"

Mr. Moon:

"Mr. Lind, I suggest you reread the amendment I proposed and you will then have an understanding of it. Its proposal only allows the charging of fees for licensing and for permits. It does not allow any charge to be made for inspection. This is the reason that I proposed the amendment. I believe the public at large benefits from these inspections and should pay for these inspections. I don't believe that the industry that is the objective of these regulations should pay for them. This is the purpose of my amendment and I believe it is also the purpose of Mr. Hood's amendment."

Further debate ensued, Representative Adams, speaking against adoption of the amendment by Mr. Hood.

Mr. Witherbee moved that the House defer further consideration of House Bill No. 150, and that it be ordered held for next Thursday's second reading calendar.

The motion was lost.

With the consent of the House, Mr. Hood withdrew his amendment.

House Bill No. 150 was ordered engrossed and passed to Committee on Rules and Order for third reading.

Mr. Olsen:

"Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask Mr. King a question."

The Speaker:

"Mr. King, will you yield to question?"

Mr. King:

Mr. King:

"Mr. Olsen, I have looked it over and I know it carries an appropriation. Immediately after the Judiciary Committee puts its amendments on, I will ask for rereferral to our committee."

The motion was carried, and the amendment was adopted.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Witherbee:

"Mr. Speaker, will Mr. Rosenberg yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Will Mr. Rosenberg yield to question?"

Mr. Rosenberg:

"Certainly."

Mr. Witherbee:

"Mr. Rosenberg, it states in this bill that bail forfeiture is one of the things that is to be reported in this compact. Of course, I understand, Mr. Rosenberg, that you probably can't amend this compact. It has to be approved in the same language by all the states, but did the committee discuss this at all? I intend to vote for this bill, but I am worried about this bail forfeiture. I don't think that bail forfeiture is necessarily an admission of guilt, and I am opposed to the inclusion of that feature."

Mr. Rosenberg:

"Bail forfeitures are not considered convictions in this state. Unless we were to change our own statutes to require that bail forfeitures were considered as convictions, this compact would make no change. The bill provides that whatever the conviction in other states would be, regardless of their penalties or point systems, this wouldn't matter in our state because of the fact that it only takes effect as if the offense had been committed here and the conviction had taken place here."

Further debate ensued, Representative Huntley speaking in favor of passage of the bill.

Mr. Beck demanded the previous question, and the demand was sustained.

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of House Bill No. 144, and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas, 95; nays, 1; absent or not voting, 3.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Metcalf:

"Mr. Speaker, will Representative Burtch yield to two questions?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield to two questions?"

Mr. Burtch:

"Yes."

Mr. Metcalf:

"A few days ago I gave an impassioned denunciation of emergency clauses. On that bill that day perhaps it was justified, according to Representatives Schaefer and Beierlein. We amended this bill, House Bill No. 188, the other day to add an emergency clause, and for the record, Representative Burtch, you did say, did you not, that due to court action no law now exists and we really do need this immediately? Is that correct?"

Mr. Burtch:

"I would say we need it immediately, yes."

Mr. Metcalf:

"Thank you. That satisfies any objections I may have on that score. One further question. People in my area are rather skittish about secret meetings and that sort of thing. I would now ask you, is your name really Jack or John? If it is the latter, are you the leader of any particular group or society?" (Laughter.)

Mr. Burtch:

"Well, I don't think it is John or you people on that side would vote with me."
(Applause.)

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Schaefer:

"Mr. Speaker, would Mr. Miles yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Will Mr. Miles yield to question?"

Mr. Miles:

"Yes."

Mr. Schaefer:

"Mr. Miles, as one of the sponsors of this bill, do you feel the emergency clause is necessary also?"

Mr. Miles:

"The emergency clause is necessary, primarily because we have an interim in which offenses might be committed which would not be covered, and then come June we would take care of everyone under the statute. Criminal laws of this nature must be made immediately applicable or they should not be passed."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Lewis:

"Mr. Speaker, would Mr. Miles yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Miles, do you yield to another question?"

Mr. Miles:

"Yes."

Mr. Lewis:

"Mr. Miles, I would like to know if this is the first bill with your signature before the legislature?"

Mr. Miles:

"Yes, it is, Mr. Lewis, and for that reason I had for some time considered urging you to vote against it. I feel there has been a conspiracy going on here."

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed House Bill No. 188, and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas, 93; nays, 2; absent or not voting, 4.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Ackley, Adams, Ahlquist, Andersen (James A.), Anderson (Eric O.), Backstrom, Beck, Beierlein, Berentson, Bergh, Bigley, Bozarth, Brachtenbach, Braun, Brouillet, Burtch, Campbell, Canfield, Chatalas, Clark, Comfort, Copeland, DeJarnatt, Dootson, Earley, Eberle, Eldridge, Evans, Flanagan, Folsom, Gallagher, Garrett, Gleason, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Grant, Harris, Haussler, Hawley, Henry, Herr, Hood, Huntley, Hurley, Johnston, Juelling, King, Kink, Kirk, Klein, Leland, Lewis, Lind, Lybecker, Lynch, Mahaffey, Mast, May, McCaffree, McCormick, McDougall, McElroy, McFadden, Metcalf, Miles, Moon, Moos, Morphis, Morrissey, Mundy, Newschwander, O'Brien, O'Connell, Odell, O'Donnell, Olsen, Perry, Pritchard, Reese, Rogers, Rosenberg, Savage, Schaefer, Siler, Smith, Swayze, Taylor, Wang, Wedekind, Wintler, Witherbee, Young, Mr. Speaker—93.

Those voting nay were: Representatives Conner, Uhlman—2.

Those absent or not voting were: Representatives Hadley, Jolly, Litchman, Sawyer—4.

Engrossed House Bill No. 188, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed.

There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

House Bill No. 204, by Representatives Flanagan, Bozarth, and Reese (by departmental request):

Supplementing law relating to public livestock markets.

On motion of Mr. Gorton, the rules were suspended, the second reading considered the third, and House Bill No. 204 was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued, Representatives Flanagan and Bozarth speaking in favor of passage of the bill.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Ahlquist:

"Mr. Speaker, would Representative Bozarth yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield to question, Representative Bozarth?"

Mr. Bozarth:

"Yes, I think I know what it is going to be."

Mr. Ahlquist:

"You say this gives the director the opportunity to set the dates for sale of livestock. I am wondering if that is extending his power to such sales as individual buyers who are buying for specific packing houses? Do they have to do this, or can they set a date which is more economical for them to buy in cooperation with livestock producers of that area?"

Mr. Bozarth:

"For existing sales agencies the dates are already set, and in the event anyone wishes to start a new agency, then it is necessary to get a date from the director, so it won't conflict with existing dates."

Mr. Ahlquist:

"Does that apply to the individual buyer or the so-called auction yards?"

Mr. Bozarth:

"That applies to both. The individual buyer usually patronizes the livestock auctions on regular dates. In the event someone wanted to post a date of sale in the same town or vicinity, it would probably be denied by the director of agriculture because it would probably interfere with existing sales that have previously been established."

Further debate ensued, Representative Reese speaking in favor of passage of the bill.

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of House Bill No. 204, and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas, 96; nays, 0; absent or not voting, 3.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Ackley, Adams, Ahlquist, Andersen (James A.), Anderson (Eric O.), Backstrom, Beck, Beierlein, Berentson, Bergh, Bigley, Bozarth, Brachtenbach, Braun, Brouillet, Burtch, Campbell, Canfield, Chatalas, Clark, Comfort, Conner, Copeland, DeJarnatt, Dootson, Earley, Eberle, Eldridge, Evans, Flanagan, Folson, Gallagher, Garrett, Gleason, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Grant, Hadley, Harris, Haussler, Hawley,

Henry, Herr, Hood, Huntley, Hurley, Johnston, Jolly, Juelling, King, Kink, Kirk, Klein, Leland, Lewis, Lind, Lybecker, Lynch, Mahaffey, Mast, May, McCaffree, McCormick, McDougall, McElroy, McFadden, Metcalf, Miles, Moon, Moos, Morphis, Morrissey, Mundy, Newschwander, O'Brien, O'Connell, Odell, O'Donnell, Olsen, Perry, Pritchard, Reese, Rogers, Rosenberg, Savage, Schaefer, Siler, Swayze, Taylor, Uhlman, Wang, Wedekind, Wintler, With-erbee, Young, Mr. Speaker—96.

Those absent or not voting were: Representatives Litchman, Sawyer, Smith—3.

House Bill No. 204, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed.

There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

SPEAKER'S PRIVILEGE

The Speaker observed in the south gallery eighteen Boy Scouts from the 37th District in Seattle, and asked them to stand and be recognized.

House Bill No. 225, by Representatives Moon, Berentson, and Brachtenbach (by departmental request):

Providing for slaughter or destruction of certain diseased animals and indemnity therefor.

On motion of Mr. Gorton, the rules were suspended, the second reading considered the third, and House Bill No. 225 was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued, Representative Moon speaking in favor of passage of the bill.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Canfield:

"Mr. Speaker, would Representative Moon yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Would you yield to question, Dr. Moon?"

Mr. Moon:

"Yes, I will."

Mr. Canfield:

"Is it true, Mr. Moon, that there is considerable opposition to this bill?"

Mr. Moon:

"Well, yes, Mr. Canfield. Along in this back row we have Representatives Brachtenbach, Berentson, and others along with myself, all first termers this year, but I think the opposition will be slight in spite of that."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mrs. Hurley:

"Mr. Speaker, will Mr. Moon yield to another question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield?"

Mr. Moon:

"Yes."

Mrs. Hurley:

"This applies to any animal, Mr. Moon, that has a contagious, infectious or communicable disease. This could apply to my house cat if she had a cold. Isn't that true?"

Mr. Moon:

"That is true. However, I don't believe in such a situation the director of agriculture would want to enter into an agreement with the U. S. Department of Agriculture to eradicate your cat."

Mr. Perry demanded the previous question, and the demand was sustained.

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of House Bill No. 225, and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas, 96; nays, 0; absent or not voting, 3.

House Bill No. 275, by Representatives Rosenberg, Mundy, and McDougall:

Providing for certification back to and vesting of title in counties, cities and towns of unneeded state highway routes.

On motion of Mr. Gorton, the rules were suspended, the second reading considered the third, and House Bill No. 275 was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued, Representatives Rosenberg and McDougall speaking in favor of passage of the bill.

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of House Bill No. 275, and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas, 96; nays, 0; absent or not voting, 3.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Ackley, Adams, Ahlquist, Andersen (James A.), Anderson (Eric O.), Backstrom, Beck, Beierlein, Berentson, Bergh, Bigley, Bozarth, Brachtenbach, Braun, Brouillet, Burtch, Campbell, Canfield, Chatalas, Clark, Comfort, Conner, Copeland, DeJarnatt, Dootson, Earley, Eberle, Eldridge, Evans, Flanagan, Folsom, Gallagher, Garrett, Gleason, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Grant, Hadley, Harris, Haussler, Hawley, Henry, Herr, Hood, Huntley, Hurley, Johnston, Jolly, Juelling, King, Kink, Kirk, Klein, Leland, Lewis, Lind, Lybecker, Lynch, Mahaffey, Mast, May, McCaffree, McCormick, McDougall, McElroy, McFadden, Metcalf, Miles, Moon, Moos, Morphis, Morrissey, Mundy, Newschwander, O'Connell, Odell, O'Donnell, Olsen, Perry, Pritchard, Reese, Rogers, Rosenberg, Savage, Schaefer, Siler, Smith, Swayze, Taylor, Uhlman, Wang, Wedekind, Wintler, Witherbee, Young, Mr. Speaker—96.

Those absent or not voting were: Representatives Litchman, O'Brien, Sawyer—3.

House Bill No. 275, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed.

There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Beck:

"Mr. Speaker, point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. Beck:

"Mr. Speaker, I have just been handed a calendar for the week of February 11 to 16. Now, as one who takes this business of legislating here in Olympia this session very seriously, and one who takes pride in his attendance and in acting on all bills, I would like to express my opposition to the manner in which the front row leadership has set up this calendar. This morning I had four committee meetings going on, three at the same time. Next week at four different times I have committee meetings going on at the same time. Now we had some would-be statesman tell us we had to sit in our seats just like a bunch of school children and we had to be there and wait until the bills were passed to us before we could even excuse ourselves to go in and report at another committee meeting. I do hope, in your wisdom, you will see fit to arrange this calendar so that we are able to attend the meetings you have scheduled and assigned to us."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The Speaker recognized Mr. Copeland.

Mr. Copeland:

"Mr. Speaker, I feel a great sense of responsibility for this calendar. I apologize to Mr. Beck. In the case of this morning, however, let me point out that there were two subcommittees meeting on Appropriations. Now obviously these have to be worked in. Now, as far as the balance of the program is concerned, we can't arrange this many committees with so many members and not have some conflicts."

The Speaker recognized Mr. Beck.

Mr. Beck:

"I wouldn't mind the conflicts, but I take great pride in reading these bills and I try to understand them and act intelligently on them. I don't want the committee chairman to tell me I can't come in after the committee has adjourned and sign the bill. That is the part I am objecting to. I would like a ruling from the Speaker on this issue."

The Speaker:

"Mr. Beck, this seems like a matter that is not necessarily for the floor. This is between the committee chairman and yourself. If you will come into the Speaker's office, I will make every effort to make it possible for you to attend these meetings."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Brachtenbach:

"Mr. Speaker, point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. Brachtenbach:

"Mr. Speaker, I have been advised by a number of members of the House that having had my name on a bill, not as a primary sponsor, a certain obligation attaches to me concerning cigars and candy. Now, at the time I was asked to sign this bill as a housekeeping bill certain of passage, I wasn't advised of that obligation. I would like something more than an informal ruling by the Speaker on that obligation."

The Speaker:

"I believe the obligation is yours, sir."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Ackley:

"Mr. Speaker, point of parliamentary inquiry."

The Speaker:

"State your point of parliamentary inquiry."

Mr. Ackley:

"It has to do with the point Mr. Beck referred to and you asked him to come into your office. This is a matter which, as I recall, came about as the result of a rule change which this House adopted requiring that committee reports be signed in committee meetings. This is a matter with which all of us have had some difficulty because of a number of conflicts. It becomes more difficult to resolve these conflicts when, after we have, perhaps, heard the first part of the discussion at one meeting and then go to another meeting, we can't come back to sign a bill we may be in favor of after the meeting is over. I suggest it is a matter that should be resolved by the leadership and perhaps another rule change made to alleviate the difficult situations."

The Speaker recognized Mr. Uhlman.

Mr. Uhlman:

"Mr. Speaker, I refer to the new Rule 60 which was recently passed which states:

'No bill may be considered except at a regularly called meeting of a committee except upon the vote of a majority of the entire membership of the committee to consider said bill. A majority recommendation of a committee must be signed by a majority of the entire membership of the committee in a regularly called meeting before a bill, memorial, or resolution may be reported out.'

"Now, in the Judiciary Committee, Representative Andersen has construed this, and rightly, I think, to mean that any measure cannot be signed unless it is signed in a regularly called meeting. I believe this is causing some hardship, and I think Representative Beck has an excellent point here. I think this thing should be decided here on the floor. The Speaker ought to decide whether or not there should be a new rule change. This is a very restrictive thing. Representative Beck has an excellent point."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"No one has questioned the fact that he has an excellent point. The Chair is going to defer ruling until such time as the problem can be properly worked out."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The Speaker recognized Mr. Campbell.

Mr. Campbell:

"Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the House, carrying this just one step further, I notice that on the 13th of February, Social Security is going to have a public hearing. I have talked to the chairman about one of the bills of which I am a sponsor and told him I couldn't be there. Now I look on the calendar and see four bills of which I am the sponsor. We had scheduled the Governor's reception on the 12th, but seeing that a number of the people on the other side of the aisle are going to be out making speeches on Lincoln's Birthday, the Governor graciously consented to change it to the 13th. On the 13th, also, there is a dinner sponsored by the dairy society. I don't see how the people on this committee, including myself, can get to this particular meeting at 7:30 and still go to this dinner and to the Governor's reception. I hope that at least one meeting can be cancelled out."

The Speaker recognized Mr. Huntley.

Mr. Huntley:

"Mr. Speaker, this isn't anything new. It has been going on as long as I have been down here. Of course, that hasn't been too long. In the 1961 session I had three committees that met at the same hour during the entire session. I didn't complain about it because I realized the problem. You have a lot of committees and a lot of people to take care of. I knew that the Speaker, Representative O'Brien, was working out the committees the best way possible, so I didn't complain. It's just one of those things you have to work out, I think, and fit it into your own program so that you attend the committee you think most important to you that particular day."

The Speaker recognized Mr. Beck.

Mr. Beck:

"In reply to my distinguished colleague across the aisle, in the 1961 session, Mr. Huntley, you were permitted to come into the committee room after the committee had adjourned and sign the bill out. That is all I am asking for permission to do."

The Speaker recognized Mr. Andersen (James A.).

Mr. Andersen:

"Mr. Speaker, we have had a number of speakers here complaining about conflicts in their schedules, and as Representative Huntley has pointed out, this has been something the House of Representatives has been faced with since the day it was organized. As my own point of personal privilege, I would like to express my appreciation for the leadership here in preparing a weekly schedule so the members can see what their schedule is going to be for the coming week. We are thus able to complain about it and get it worked out. I think this is a fine change. I commend the efforts of the leadership and the people who have gone to the trouble for the first time in the three sessions I have been down here to work out an intelligent and comprehensive schedule so we know where we are and where we are going."

The Speaker recognized Mr. Canfield:

Mr. Canfield:

"I would like to suggest to Representative Beck that the Speaker has indicated that this problem can be worked out. The reason I am speaking, Mr. Speaker, is that this problem came up in the Ways and Means Committee yesterday. We had quite a number of bills and some of the people were anxious to get away. It is difficult sometimes to get these signatures just the way we would like to have them. I want to say again, Mr. Beck, that the Speaker is a reasonable man and I am sure we will take this into account and it will be worked out in a satisfactory manner."

SPEAKER'S PRIVILEGE

The Speaker:

"At this time, the Speaker would like to recognize within the bar of the House, Congressman Tom Pelly of the First District, who is serving his sixth term. It is interesting to note that Congressman Pelly was just elected by a 40,000 majority."

The Speaker appointed Representatives Evans and Pritchard to escort Congressman Pelly to a position of honor upon the rostrum.

Mr. Pelly:

"Mr. Speaker, first let me express my great appreciation for the courtesy afforded me this morning in interrupting your heavy schedule. I shall be very brief. I think that first I should carry the message that I have from our Washington state delegation—greetings—and especially from your former colleagues, Congresswoman May and Congresswoman Hansen.

"Mr. Speaker, the problems of government are very difficult in these days, and I think, if I might suggest it, these difficulties did not arise out of any particular era, but it seems to me that probably the equilibrium between the national and state governments has probably upset and caused more difficulty than maybe anything else, going way back fifty years ago or more when the Sixteenth Amendment to the United States Constitution was adopted, and it is interesting to go back and realize that when the national government preempted the principal source of income and made so much of the problem you are struggling with today, Senator Byrd—not the present senator, but the father of the present senator—urged that there be a limitation in the income tax to a maximum rate of ten percent, and others opposed this suggestion on the basis of the fact that if you established a maximum of ten percent, it would be an open invitation for the spenders to raise the rates up to ten percent. It was never anticipated those rates would exceed two percent. Now, Mr. Speaker, the President of the United States has urged that the maximum rate be cut from ninety-one percent to sixty-five percent. So it does indicate something of the way that the national government has taken the main sources of income and increased your problem. Incidentally, today being a day in which we look back to the Great Emancipator, Abraham Lincoln, it is interesting to recall that in his day the average tax per capita was $1.50, which was two percent of the national income. Today the average national tax runs very much higher. Actually, in 1914, the first year of the income tax, the average per capita tax was $2.41 and today it is $241.00, which is twenty-three percent of the national income. All this has increased the difficulties under which you try to finance the programs with which you are confronted.

"Mr. Speaker, in thinking about this problem and your difficulty, I come to you as one who believes that the best government is the government that is closest to the people where they have an opportunity to have more voice in the decisions over their affairs and I know one of your greatest problems is education, and the thought occurs to me today that if local communities do not meet their special difficulties and pass levies, the pressure is greatly increased here and then in turn on the national level. Now, Mr. Speaker, it is true that there are constitutional responsibilities upon this body to provide adequate education to every child, and here again the federal government has increased your difficulty, because in the late thirties the Supreme Court of the United States decided that under Article I of the Constitution, the national government had a responsibility for the general welfare, so there is a gray zone as to who is responsible for some of the programs that heretofore had been considered exclusively those of the states. So today, in coming before you, I would point out first of all that if it is necessary to go to the federal government and the people do not meet their necessary public services on the local level, then you are going to lose a great deal of the voice and influence that the people normally should have over their programs.

"However, Mr. Speaker, in dwelling on these things today, I may suggest that possibly, it being Lincoln's birthday, we think in terms of his philosophy when he said that the government should only do things for people that they couldn't do for themselves, and again I am thinking of a President one hundred years later, Mr. Speaker, President Kennedy, when he said that people should not ask what the government should do for them but, rather, what they could do for their government.

I feel, Mr. Speaker, that if the leaders and the political leadership of this nation and this state would respond to that, they would find that the American people and the people that we represent would be glad to forego benefits in the national interest.

"So, in concluding, again I wish to thank you for this great courtesy, and, Mr. Speaker, may I say that what I have said is said purely as coming from an individual who recognizes fully the problems that you have. It has been a great pleasure for me to be here today. Thank you." (Applause.)

The Speaker requested that the special committee escort Congressman Pelly from the bar of the House.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Rogers:

"Mr. Speaker, point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. Rogers:

"I would like to bring to the attention of the House that one of our colleagues, a colleague of Mr. Beck and myself, Mr. Wang, found it necessary to go to the hospital in Bremerton yesterday for a brief time. He has been taken home now, and his doctor advises him he should stay off his feet for a few days. As you will recall, he injured his leg, broke a bone in his leg and developed some complications therefrom, and he is now at home and is going to stay there three or four days. I presume that arrangements have been made for Mr. Wang to be excused from the session."

The Speaker:

"They have, sir."

SPEAKER'S PRIVILEGE

The Speaker observed in the south gallery eight students from the Porter Grade School in Elma with Mrs. Bill Hurley, their adviser, and asked them to stand and be recognized.

RESOLUTIONS

Resolution by Representatives Witherbee, Garrett, and O'Brien:

WHEREAS, A serious labor-management relations problem presently exists because of the long-protracted disagreement between the Boeing Company on the one hand and the International Association of Machinists and the Aeronautical Industrial District Lodge No. 751, on the other; and

WHEREAS, Repeated efforts of the National Labor Relations Board and Federal Conciliation Service to successfully mediate this dispute have resulted in failure, necessitating the President of the United States to invoke the provisions of the Taft-Hartley Act to prevent a strike; and

WHEREAS, The speedy and successful settlement of this labor-management dispute is of major concern to every American citizen, involving as it does an important segment of the American missile program, and is of particular importance to the people of the State of Washington, and to its Legislature; and

WHEREAS, The continued failure of mediation efforts will seriously jeopardize the economy of the State of Washington, including King County—the recognized "jet capital of the world:"

Now Therefore, Be It Resolved, That the House of Representatives hereby calls upon both labor and management to conscientiously continue their attempts to reach agreement and thereby attain a settlement of the current dispute that seriously threatens the economic well-being of the State of Washington;

And Be It Further Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States, the National Labor Relations Board, the Boeing Company, the International Association of Machinists, and the Aeronautical Industrial District Lodge No. 751.

On motion of Mr. Witherbee, the resolution was adopted.

Resolution of Representative Goldsworthy:

WHEREAS, The mental and physical health of the members of this House of Representatives is of paramount importance during this session of the Legislature; and

WHEREAS, Noted medical authorities claim that a calm and unhurried attitude toward life is a desirable attribute to mental and physical well-being; and

WHEREAS, During this legislative session the air has been pierced on innumerable occasions by a sort of electronic flatulence caused by various members blowing into their microphones; and

WHEREAS, Under the present state of affairs a member before speaking must blow to know and each member before speaking knows to blow; and

WHEREAS, Each member is knowing there is already too much blowing in the House Chamber and in addition is knowing that continued blowing is sowing the seeds of declining mental and physical fitness;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, That this House go on record as urging each member upon being recognized by the Speaker to restrain from blowing but instead to either count to five or else take a deep breath, knowing that this procedure, if faithfully followed, will clear the mind, sharpen the tongue, relax the eardrums of all members, improve the physical and mental alertness of the House and prevent any member from being mistaken for a big wind.

On motion of Mr. Goldsworthy, the resolution was adopted.

Resolution by Representative Evans:

WHEREAS, Today, Tuesday, February 12, 1963, is the 154th anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln, and

WHEREAS, As the sixteenth President of the United States, Abraham Lincoln served through the most trying and difficult days in the history of our Republic and under his inspired leadership the Union was preserved and the slave set free, and

WHEREAS, Lincoln always placed the good of his country over personal gain and the demands of citizenship over the pleasures of partisanship, and

WHEREAS, Lincoln believed that the individual has a God-given dignity and that government exists to be the servant of the individual and not his master, and

WHEREAS, Lincoln held to the following basic principles and beliefs, which are the foundation of our American form of government:

(a) that the individual has the right and capacity to govern himself, to set his own goals, and to make his way to them without the restraints of dictatorship or paternalism;

(b) that the basic function of government is to maintain an environment in which the individual can freely develop powers of mind, heart and body with which his Creator endowed him;

(c) that government should do for the people only the things they cannot do for themselves;

(d) that the federal government should act only when the people are not served adequately by state or local governments; that the system of the separation of powers and of checks and balances is necessary to prevent a monopoly of power in any branch of government;

(e) that there should be special privilege to none and equal opportunity to all citizens;

(f) that the government must prudently weigh needs against resources, put first things first, rigorously tailor means to ends, and understand the difference between words and deeds, as the future will be built by those who work for it—not by those who only promise it.

WHEREAS, Lincoln believed in responsible men and responsible government and opposed those whose concern with selfish political interests would hamper and distort those ends, and

WHEREAS, The life and character of Lincoln have provided a supreme guide and inspiration for all men of good will, devoted to the principles of freedom and self-government, and

WHEREAS, All men of whatever political persuasion should reflect upon the character and leadership provided by Lincoln and fervently pray that in the present day and in the years to come we might once again be blessed with leadership of the type given by Abraham Lincoln,

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, That the House of Representatives of the Thirty-eighth Legislature of the state of Washington commemorate, observe and reflect upon the life and contributions of Abraham Lincoln to our nation and to its people.

Mr. Evans moved the adoption of the resolution.

Debate ensued, Representatives Evans, O'Brien, DeJarnatt, and Savage commenting thereon.

The motion was carried and the resolution was adopted.

Resolution by Representative Smith:

WHEREAS, Abraham Lincoln was a man loyal to the ideal that a free government is the result of a free people and through his determination made that ideal a reality; and

WHEREAS, The name of Abraham Lincoln has stood as a symbol of simple honesty and the ability to put principle above expediency; and

WHEREAS, The years of subsequent American History have but added honor to his name; and

WHEREAS, The reputation, thought, deeds, and ideals of Abraham Lincoln have stood, a rock-like example for all American youth to revere and to follow;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives that it shall this day, on the anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln, honor him as befits the high place he holds in the hearts of all Americans.

On motion of Mr. Smith, the resolution was adopted.

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"The Speaker wishes to express his interpretation of a provision in the new permanent House Rule 60 as requested by Mr. Beck and other House members.

"The subcommittee of the House Committee on Rules and Order, in preparing the permanent Rule 60, sought to avoid the practice in former sessions where bills were circulated among members on the floor and subsequently reported to the House without being considered by a quorum of the committee.

"The Speaker interprets the intent of the rule to mean that when a committee quorum is present, the committee has jurisdiction to consider bills before it; and when a bill has been approved for passage, any member not in attendance at the meeting may come in subsequently, concur, and sign a recommendation authorized by the committee in the meeting."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Clark:

"Mr. Speaker, point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. Clark:

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. O'Brien:

"Mr. Speaker, would Mr. Leland yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield to question, Mr. Leland?"

Mr. Leland:

"Yes."

Mr. O'Brien:

"Mr. Leland, how much is this going to cost the state of Washington?"

Mr. Leland:

"The total cost, Mr. O'Brien, will depend on the number of years taken to complete the program. In other words, if it was done in a ten-year program as specified by the bill on a crash basis, as you will note, I believe it spells out that the total cost to the state would be, in round figures, between five and six million dollars over the ten years. The other would be federal money. I presume you are familiar with this bill, Mr. O'Brien, as it is a Legislative Council bill. I am sure you are quite familiar with it."

Mr. O'Brien:

"That is the reason I asked the question, Mr. Leland. I am very familiar with it and I know how much it is going to cost over a period of ten years. I wonder whether or not the Ways and Means Committee is going to review this particular measure. It is going to cost some money and I certainly believe the Ways and Means Committee should have the opportunity to look into this important matter."

Mr. Leland:

"Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the House, let me say by way of answer to Mr. O'Brien and to other members of the House, that this bill was introduced two years ago and carried a specific appropriation with it and was lost because of the appropriation and the shortage of funds. The bill was considered to have sufficient merit and be of sufficient advantage to the state that the Legislative Council voted to take this on as a council study, and recommended the bill's passage without an appropriation. Now, the purpose of the bill is to establish as a state policy the desirability of this program. Furthermore, because it is a continuing program, the appropriation should be handled by a specific line item. I would urge that this be handled in that manner so that we can get this over to the Senate and get statewide and legislative-wide recognition of this program. I might say that in the opinion of many people, this is the most important bill of this session of the legislature because it offers one of the few opportunities to create new jobs, to create a new economic base, and to give our state a shot in the arm. For that reason I would urge that you support both the amendment that is before you and the bill in general when it comes before you."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Schaefer:

"Mr. Speaker, will Mr. Leland yield to another question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield to another question, Mr. Leland?"

Mr. Leland:

"Yes."

Mr. Schaefer:

"Mr. Leland, don't you feel that we are kind of misrepresenting this bill to the people if we don't put the appropriation on it that it needs? Don't you think that should be done at the present time and the money expended out of the appropriation now? If you put through the legislation now and then two years from now ask for the money, I think the legislature in the future will be lead to believe that we didn't feel this legislation was of sufficient importance to warrant any money this session. Don't you think it ought to be one big package?"

Mr. Leland:

"I think I have also answered this in that we hope to pass this bill as it is without additional appropriation as a policy desirable for this state. Since it is a continuing program that wouldn't be completed in one biennium, I think it is more or less splitting hairs to talk about appropriations other than the outline I have already given about going before the Appropriations Committee and seeking a specific line item. As a matter of fact, if we pass this bill and embark upon this program, ten years represents a crash program and it will be before the Appropriations Committee from session to session. They may decide to slow it down. For all intents and purposes, this program would have to come before this body every two years anyway, so I don't think there is anything in the way of misrepresentation. Quite the contrary. This is one program that would be reviewed constantly every two years by the legislature."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Klein:

"Mr. Speaker, I wonder if Dr. Adams would yield to a question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield to question, Dr. Adams?"

Mr. Adams:

"I will try."

Mr. Klein:

"Dr. Adams, it seems to me that in House Bill 79 we are trying to provide a reservoir of information of geological data and so forth that is very much related to the preceding bill that we considered, House Bill 12 on second reading. I note in House Bill 12 that a provision for sending reports to the state office where they can serve the very purpose you are trying to achieve in House Bill 79 is being deleted. Isn't this inconsistent? Wouldn't it be well now at this time in House Bill 79 to beef up what has been the law for so many years but apparently has not been carried out, to provide this information to our state geologist here?"

Mr. Adams:

"Mr. Speaker, I would like to defer to my colleague, Mr. Johnston, who is much more familiar with the previous bill you mentioned."

The Speaker:

"Before you answer, Mr. Johnston, I would like to remind the House that we have an amendment on the desk that we are supposed to be discussing, not the bill. However, you may answer the question, Mr. Johnston."

Mr. Johnston:

"Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the House, I was wondering how far we had wandered off the amendment. I wasn't sure we knew what we were talking about. However, Mr. Klein has raised a point that is entitled to be explained, because in House Bill 12 we are merely eliminating a provision in our location laws that required us to dig what they call a discovery hole on the surface and substitute for that geophysical and geochemical discovery processes. Now the antiquated hole-digging philosophy of locating a claim, of course, has passed away a long time ago. It is looked down on and the government doesn't recognize it any more. Now, Mr. Klein was concerned about the question of making these geophysical reports to the county and to the state departments, which is a good question. When we considered this matter we were surprised to find that those reports were not being filed with the state. The departments said they hadn't received them and didn't want them and no one had asked for them. I said I couldn't understand that and the answer they gave was to the effect that one who is conducting a geophysical and geological survey for his own account looking for a discovery or for a geological location isn't likely to give that information to the public. They don't give it out because it costs them money and they consider it confidential. They just file stereotyped reports that have no meaning at all. Now, this bill we are talking about is an entirely different matter, a well planned geological and topographical survey of the entire mineral area and watersheds of the state of Washington and has to do with attracting new industry here and these reports will be a vital part of the assets of this state to bring new industry here."

The Speaker declared the question before the House to be adoption of the committee amendment on page 2, section 4.

The motion was carried and the amendment was adopted.

"Will you yield to question, Mr. Hawley?"

Mr. Hawley:

"Yes."

Mr. Litchman:

"I would like to ask whether you are familiar with this amendment and other similar amendments Mr. Leland is proposing and would like to vote on them today or would you like to defer action on them until tomorrow or some other day?"

Mr. Hawley:

SPEAKER'S PRIVILEGE

The Speaker recognized within the bar of the House the American Dairy Princess, Miss Sandra Tibeau, and appointed Representatives Beierlein and Bigley to conduct her to a position on the rostrum.

Mr. Beierlein:

"Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen, I have the unusually pleasant task this morning of presenting this young lady, the National Dairy Princess. I am extremely proud of her because she comes from my town, Auburn, and the people of Auburn are tremendously proud of her achievement. Sandy was chosen from thirty-five thousand girls throughout the United States for this honor, and she has traveled from one end of this country to another and even to some foreign countries. She has spoken before Chambers of Commerce, Kiwanis Clubs, and other civic organizations, and has appeared on radio and television constantly during this time. She has brought fame and recognition to the state of Washington, and as Sandy graces these sacred legislative halls this morning, she brings us honor. SPEAKER'S PRIVILEGE

The Speaker recognized within the bar of the House Senor Miguel Otero of Santiago, Chili, executive secretary of the Santiago Bar Association and of the International Jurist Association, professor of law, master of comparative law, in charge of the student exchange program for the University of Chili, and appointed Representatives Dootson and Klein to escort him to a position on the rostrum.

Senor Otero:

"Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the House, I feel honored and privileged to be able to address the House of the state of Washington. To me this is a wonderful opportunity to renew my faith and my complete belief that America is a wonderful country whose real wealth is in the nature of its people, because here in the state of Washington I have found friendship and understanding and, above all, a desire to make one feel comfortable and a part of the state. I believe that if each and every one of us who come from down south of the border was granted the opportunity to come to this wonderful country and know you people, our relations would improve far more than anything in the foreign programs is able to accomplish. I believe that the main problems which we face now between Latin America and the United States are based not on economical problems but on misunderstanding and ignorance. I think too many of us know very little about your country, about the way you live and the way you feel and about the similar problems we face everywhere. They believe that you are something out of space; that you have no problems; that you have no human side. On the other side, here in America they have a general belief of what Latin America should be or what it is. They do not recognize there are twenty-one different countries, each one different from the other. You cannot have the same pattern for every one of them. This is our main problem. I think when we have the opportunity to see each other and to talk to each other, we will find everyone has problems. Life is not easy anywhere. When we all realize that, there would be no misunderstanding between our governments and our peoples. I sincerely wish that these exchange programs that are taking place more and more between your country and us will continue and develop in such a way that when you care to go to South America, you will find everyone there is willing to have you and will grant you the same hospitality that we have been receiving here in your wonderful country. If any of you should ever come to Santiago, Chile, I and every one of the people I know in Chile would be most happy to extend to you the same cordiality and hospitality that you have granted me. Thank you very much." (Applause.)

The Speaker instructed the special committee to escort Senor Otero from the House chamber.

MOTION

On motion of Mr. Moos, House Bill No. 59 was rereferred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

RESOLUTION

Resolution by Representatives Brouillet, Grant, Campbell, and DeJarnatt:

WHEREAS, Public statements have recently appeared quoting the Republican-dominated coalition leadership and its legislators in charge of the Ways and Means Committee of the House of Representatives as having said that they would closely study proposed education spending amounts but that no specific promises about increases could be made; and

WHEREAS, The Honorable Louis Bruno, Superintendent of Public Instruction of the State of Washington, has expressed deep concern that the thirty-eighth legislative session will not provide adequate funds to meet the increased enrollment of some fifty thousand boys and girls who will be entering our schools during the next two years and that it will not maintain the present high level of quality of the education in our public schools; and

WHEREAS, The appropriation requests for the University of Washington, Washington State University, and the three state colleges have caused equally deep concern among the echelons of higher learning in our state; and

WHEREAS, House Democratic legislators consider people to be our nation's greatest resource and believe that the United States can function successfully as a democracy only as long as its citizens are educated to their fullest potential as participating members of our free society; and

WHEREAS, We endorse the continued acceptance of the paramount financial responsibility of the state in education as set forth in our State Constitution, by providing for the increased number of school age children, by providing better incentives to attract and hold for our schools the best educators possible;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, That the Democratic membership of the House of Representatives respectfully urges that the Republican-dominated coalition leadership of this assembly reconsider its reported decision and appropriate the necessary funds and the revenues needed for the support of the common schools, the University of Washington, Washington State University, and the three state colleges, thereby avoiding a tragic sacrifice of the thousands of young people who are seeking an adequate education in a dynamic and expanding technological economy, particularly since the best way to strengthen our society is to invest in the continuing improvement of our hitherto excellent program of education.

Mr. Brouillet moved the adoption of the resolution.

Mr. Gorton moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 2, beginning on line 5, strike the entire paragraph and insert:

"Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, That the House condemn the tragic failure of Governor Rosellini to recommend even sufficient appropriations for education to continue state-supported educational programs at their current level and call upon him to revise his budget to call for first things first."

SECOND READING OF BILLS

The House resumed consideration of House Bill No. 176 on second reading.

House Bill No. 176, by Representatives O'Brien, King, and Canfield (by Legislative Budget Committee request):

Enlarging the legislative budget committee.

The Speaker stated the question before the House to be Mr. Burtch's motion to adopt the following amendment:

On page 1, section 1, beginning on line 12, after "appointed by the" strike "speaker of the house" and insert "[speaker of the house] respective major party caucuses"

Debate ensued, Representatives Burtch and Witherbee speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment, and Representatives Canfield and Perry speaking against its adoption.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Schaefer:

"Mr. Speaker, would Mr. Perry yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield to question, Mr. Perry?"

Mr. Perry:

"Yes, I will yield to question."

Mr. Schaefer:

"Mr. Perry, you stated on the floor of the House that the Rules Committee had been considering the amendment to the House Rules proposed by Mr. Rogers. Has it been brought up before the Rules Committee for consideration?"

Mr. Perry:

"No, it hasn't been brought up for consideration before the Rules Committee yet, because this isn't the most pressing matter before the body."

Further debate ensued, Representative Klein speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Chatalas:

"Mr. Speaker, will Mr. O'Brien yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield to question, Mr. O'Brien?"

Mr. O'Brien:

"Yes, I will."

Mr. Chatalas:

"Mr. O'Brien, I notice your name is on this bill. I would like to ask you what you think about this particular amendment?"

Mr. O'Brien:

"Mr. Chatalas, I believe it is a good amendment."

Further debate ensued, Representative O'Brien speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Adams:

"Mr. Speaker, would Mr. O'Brien yield to a question?"

The Speaker:

"Would you yield to a question, Mr. O'Brien?"

Mr. O'Brien:

"Yes."

Mr. Adams:

"If I heard this amendment properly—it may be I didn't—would this mean that if this amendment passed that the majority party caucus would appoint all the members of both parties?"

Mr. O'Brien:

"That isn't the intent of the amendment. Each party would appoint its own three members."

At the request of Representative Adams, the Speaker instructed the reading clerk to reread the amendment.

Further debate ensued, Representative Ackley speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment, and Representative Hurley speaking against its adoption.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Huntley:

"Mr. Speaker, I am wondering if my good friend, Representative Ackley, would yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield to question, Mr. Ackley?"

Mr. Ackley:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker."

Mr. Huntley:

"Representative Ackley, a few days ago, as I recall, many of the members of your group refused positions of leadership when they decided they didn't want to be committee chairmen. Now, I am just wondering whether, if you were appointed to this important committee, you would serve. Would you accept the appointment?"

Mr. Ackley:

"Thank you, Mr. Huntley. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in answering Mr. Huntley's question, I would like to say that all of us on this side of the aisle will accept appointments to responsible interim committees. These committees serve a purpose. They look into matters that the legislature can't do while it is in session during the two months we are down here. Now, this is an entirely different matter from the minority Democratic caucus position on refusing to accept committee chairmanships and vice chairmanships. I am sure you know, Mr. Huntley, having been down here longer than I have, that the minority party traditionally does not have chairmanships and vice chairmanships of the committees. The reason is that it doesn't have control of those committees. Because it can't have control, it can't be asked to assume responsibility, because the two, responsibility and control, must go together. You and the coalition which controls this House were seeking to divorce those two, responsibility and control, which must go together, like love and marriage. Until we have control, we cannot assume responsibility, because we can't have effective responsibility without control. Now, in the budget committee, there isn't really a question of control, because there is equal representation between both parties, at least under this bill, and it doesn't seek to change that. It simply seeks to change the responsibility of the initial appointments so that we would have the right to name the members we think are the most effective to serve on these committees, and we frankly don't trust the responsibility or judgment of the man in the Speaker's position to make those appointments in the manner we would think most fair."

Further debate ensued, Representatives Canfield and Smith speaking against adoption of the amendment, and Representatives Uhlman and Schaefer speaking in its favor.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Olsen:

"Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask a question of Mr. Evans."

The Speaker:

"Mr. Evans, would you yield to question?"

Mr. Evans:

"Yes."

Mr. Olsen:

"Mr. Evans, having been the leader of the minority party for many years in the past, how did you handle these appointments from your representation on these interim committees in the past?"

Mr. Evans:

"Generally the leadership of the party did it. The party caucus in very, very few cases—in fact at no time I can remember—accomplished this."

Further debate ensued, Representative Evans speaking in opposition to the adoption of the amendment, and Representatives Moon, O'Brien, and Rogers speaking in its favor.

Mr. Mundy demanded the previous question, and the demand was sustained.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Ackley:

"Mr. Speaker, point of parliamentary inquiry."

The Speaker:

"State your point of parliamentary inquiry."

Mr. Ackley:

"My point of parliamentary inquiry is whether a roll call has been demanded."

The Speaker:

"Yes, an electric roll call."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

The Speaker recognized Mr. Burtch.

Mr. Burtch:

"Mr. Speaker, may I have the privilege of closing debate?"

Debate ensued, Representative Morphis speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment, and Representative Canfield speaking against its adoption.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Beck:

"Mr. Speaker, may I ask a question of Mr. Canfield?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Canfield, will you yield to question?"

Mr. Canfield:

"I will be glad to, if it is on the subject."

Mr. Beck:

"Mr. Canfield, are you implying that the Sixth Congressional District has no one who would be competent to go on the budget committee?"

Mr. Canfield:

"I made no such implication. If you understood, I said that these members were elected on the basis of competency."

Further debate ensued, Representatives Beck and Ackley speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment.

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. Witherbee:

"Mr. Speaker, point of information. Is the electric roll call machine out of order?"

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Ackley:

"Mr. Speaker, would Mr. Johnston yield to a question?"

The Speaker:

"Would you yield to a question, Mr. Johnston?"

Mr. Johnston:

"Yes."

Mr. Ackley:

"Mr. Johnston, as I read this bill, in addition to the remarks you made about it, you are deleting from the present provisions of the law the requirement that these notices of work and discovery and so forth that are required to be filed with the county auditors be filed in duplicate, and the county auditors forward them to the state department of conservation. What is the reason for deleting that, may I inquire?"

Mr. Johnston:

"Mr. Ackley, that is a good question. We investigated that provision which we put in the law when we passed it two years ago, and we find that the county clerks do not forward this information to the state. We also found that the state department doesn't care to have it, because they say it is useless and doesn't have any value to them. These geophysical and geochemical surveys are quite complicated and only a minimum amount of information is filed. Unless a detailed report were given it probably would have no value anyhow and naturally these fellows who are spending a great deal of money to make these geological surveys just don't turn in that information. It was suggested to us by the department that it could be eliminated."

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed House Bill No. 12, and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas, 88; nays, 6; absent or not voting, 5.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Adams, Ahlquist, Andersen (James A.), Anderson (Eric O.), Backstrom, Beck, Beierlein, Berentson, Bergh, Bigley, Bozarth, Brachtenbach, Braun, Brouillet, Burtch, Canfield, Chatalas, Clark, Comfort, Conner, Copeland, DeJarnatt, Dootson, Earley, Eberle, Eldridge, Evans, Flanagan, Folsom, Gallagher, Garrett, Gleason, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Hadley, Harris, Hawley, Henry, Herr, Hood, Huntley, Hurley, Johnston, Jolly, Juelling, King, Kink, Kirk, Leland, Lewis, Lind, Litchman, Lybecker, Lynch, Mahaffey, McCormick, McDougall, McElroy, Metcalf, Miles, Moon, Moos, Morphis, Morrissey, Mundy, Newschwander, O'Brien, O'Connell, Odell, O'Donnell, Olsen, Perry, Pritchard, Reese, Rogers, Rosenberg, Savage, Sawyer, Schaefer, Siler, Swayze, Taylor, Uhlman, Wedekind, Wintler, Witherbee, Young, Mr. Speaker—88.

Debate ensued, Representatives Ahlquist and Jolly speaking in favor of passage of the bill.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Andersen (James A.):

"Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask any one of the sponsors to explain why we are being asked to increase the per diem. I don't suppose anybody is supposed to ask questions about an agricultural bill, but I would like to know what they do that justifies the increase, particularly from $10.00 to $25.00."

The Speaker recognized Mr. Mundy.

Mr. Mundy:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Ladies and gentlemen of the House, in direct answer to Mr. Andersen, in the larger irrigation districts of our state, the Columbia Basin, the Yakima valley, and the Wenatchee valley, these directors usually meet once a month and it is usually an all day meeting. They go over the irrigation district assessment rolls, study the amounts in the respective irrigated lands, meet in regard to drainage problems and any other problems having to do with the project. These men are people in responsible positions, because they are actually the representatives of each water user and land owner in the irrigation district. I think this is not out of line. Of course, in smaller districts where the directors meet only for two or three hours in an evening, it is within the discretion of the irrigation district directors to scale their per diem down to $8.00 or $10.00 a meeting."

Further debate ensued, Representative Canfield speaking in favor of passage of the bill.

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of House Bill No. 93, and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas, 87; nays, 7; absent or not voting, 5.

Those voting nay were: Representatives Beierlein, Dootson, Hadley, Lewis, McFadden, Metcalf, Rogers—7.

On motion of Mr. Gorton, the rules were suspended, the second reading considered the third, and House Bill No. 158 was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued, Representatives Eldridge and Mundy speaking in favor of passage of the bill.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Comfort:

"Mr. Speaker, will Mr. Eldridge yield to question, please?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Eldridge, will you yield to question?"

Mr. Eldridge:

"Yes."

Mr. Comfort:

"Mr. Eldridge, I am assuming without fully knowing that the drainage and diking districts have the power of eminent domain."

Mr. Eldridge:

"Yes, that is right."

Mr. Comfort:

"I am assuming again that this bill if passed would extend those powers of eminent domain. I would like to know if this is true and, if so, precisely in what respect any powers of eminent domain will be extended."

Mr. Eldridge:

"We are not extending any privileges they do not have now. The statutes governing both the diking districts and the drainage districts would apply to any joint venture that they might go into. The problem arises where you have a diking district superimposed over a drainage district and they want to enlarge a ditch or increase the size of the pump or build a higher dike. Under the present statutes they have this implied power. We want to firm it up so there is no question about it."

Mr. Comfort:

"If I may ask one further question, then I think I will be satisfied. Line 11 of the bill indicates these powers may be exercised when it is deemed 'necessary or beneficial'. Does this increase the power of eminent domain so it can be exercised on a showing that the improvement is beneficial, even though it might not be necessary?"

Mr. Eldridge:

"I think this is a power that is granted, but in my experience in working with these two types of districts, you have pretty hard-headed farmers as commissioners, and to my knowledge this has not been abused. This will take care of a situation that will make it much easier to operate in the best interests of the people involved in these particular areas."

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of House Bill No. 158, and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas, 93; nays, 2; absent or not voting, 4.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Litchman:

"Mr. Speaker, I wonder if Mr. Reese would yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Reese, will you yield to question?"

Mr. Reese:

"Yes."

Mr. Litchman:

"Mr. Reese, I want to say I am in favor of this bill, but has any consideration been given by you as sponsor of this bill to having school elections in the same year or at the same time as general elections to avoid excessive election costs such as we have recently experienced in Seattle in the amount of about $125,000?"

Mr. Reese:

"Yes, Mr. Litchman, I believe that has been considered, but it is not within the scope of this bill. I believe another bill has already been introduced to that effect."

Mr. Litchman:

"Mr. Reese, I wonder if you would be interested at this time to defer further action on this bill and perhaps provide an amendment to the bill so that we in Seattle and other areas wouldn't have to pay such fabulous costs for these elections?"

Mr. Reese:

"I wouldn't be willing to defer action on this bill. I feel this body will have the opportunity to decide this issue at a later time in another bill."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Witherbee:

"Mr. Speaker, will Mr. Brouillet yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Brouillet, will you yield to question?"

Mr. Brouillet:

"Yes."

Mr. Witherbee:

"Mr. Brouillet, here where it mentions directors, are these actual geographical districts?"

Mr. Brouillet:

"Yes, particularly the consolidated districts which combine many small districts. To maintain a director for the district, they are geographical districts. The bill does not, however, apply to director districts."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Mast:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. Mast:

"Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the House, during the first twenty days of this session, I heard a lot of fluent and eloquent oratory. I sat back here kind of quiet and didn't say anything, but I was very much concerned. I heard a lot of name calling by innuendo and otherwise, and I became apprehensive about what might happen in committee meetings. So this being Valentine's Day, I would like to do a little name calling myself. We heard a number of torrid remarks by a former and distinguished Speaker that almost developed into fireballs. However, my apprehensions about the committee meetings has been dispelled by at least two of the members. I want to say that in the two committees on which I serve with the honorable John O'Brien he has shown a very sincere desire to cooperate with these two committees to the fullest extent, and that his sage information and advice have helped us to get out certain bills that were good for the people of the state of Washington. I would also like personally to commend Mr. Max Wedekind for the very valuable assistance he has given me on the committee of which I am chairman. I have very little knowledge about fisheries, although I do have some about game. He has in all cases assisted me and advised me in a very honorable manner to move out these bills expeditiously. I would like to give to both of these gentlemen my valentines."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The Speaker recognized Mr. Evans:

Mr. Evans:

"As long as we are giving out valentines, and I can't be as eloquent as Mr. Mast, but let me give to you, John, a personal valentine in the form of a small poem.

Rose are red,
Violets are blue.
We like our Speaker,
But we like you, too."

EXPLANATION OF VOTE

The Speaker recognized Mr. Copeland.

Mr. Copeland:

"Mr. Speaker, I have an entry for the journal that several people have signed and rather than take the time to read it, I will submit it to the Clerk to enter into the journal."

The Speaker:

"You may do so."

STATEMENT FOR THE JOURNAL

We, the undersigned members of the House of Representatives, voted against the so-called Civil Rights Amendment, introduced by Mr. Ackley, to H. B. 8 for the following reasons:

1. H. B. 8 is a licensing bill, the product of eight years of work, which has as its sole purpose the strengthening of the law on licensing real estate brokers and promoting higher ethics in the real estate profession. H. B. 8 has nothing to do with civil rights or housing discrimination. To inject the amendment by Mr. Ackley into this bill would serve no useful purpose nor would it be at all relevant to the purposes for which the bill was drafted.

2. Adequate civil rights legislation cannot be had by one sentence amendments introduced on the floor of the House. It is an insult to all minority groups to attempt to legislate on civil rights in this makeshift fashion. Only comprehensive civil rights legislation of the type which has already been introduced and upon which full scale hearings have been scheduled will be adequate to solve the problems of discrimination. It was conceded by the sponsor of the amendment that no civil rights organization or minority groups interested in eliminating discrimination in housing were sponsoring the amendment. Furthermore, no committee hearings had been held on the amendment nor had it been available for committee consideration.

3. The quickest way to kill any civil rights legislation is to pass ill-considered legislative riders. To have adopted Rep. Ackley's amendment would have not only meant the end of any civil rights legislation this session but also the end of much needed legislation in the real estate profession. Legislation in both of these fields is too important to be killed by one sentence, one shot, backdoor amendments.

4. Good conscience and a genuine concern for the rights of all citizens demand that civil rights legislation in the field of housing be considered this session. Now that the grandstand play is completed we pledge ourselves to do all that we possibly can to see to it that adequate civil rights legislation in the field of housing discrimination is acted upon by the House this session.

Resolution by Representatives Evans and Hurley:

WHEREAS, The internal security of the United States is of paramount importance in our world wide struggle with communism; and

WHEREAS, Important and necessary legislation has been passed by our federal Congress, consistent with our national goals in protecting the United States against the menace of internal communist subversion; and

WHEREAS, The McCarran Internal Security Act is an example of legislation enacted to combat the communist menace; and

WHEREAS, At the Democratic State Convention of 1962 held in Bellingham the McCarran Internal Security Act was condemned by the party platform as "a threat to freedom of thought and action under the Constitution of the United States and it was urged that there be an immediate revision of its several provisions which no longer are consistent with our national goals;" and

WHEREAS, The vast majority of the citizens of this state—both Democratic and Republican—repudiate this view and support the McCarran Internal Security Act and other measures designed to meet the threat of communism;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, That this House of Representatives of the Washington State Legislature go on record as endorsing the McCarran Internal Security Act and declare its provisions to be consistent with the national interest of guarding this Nation against the dangers of communist subversion.

Mr. Evans moved the adoption of the resolution.

Mr. Moos demanded an electric roll call, and the demand was sustained.

Debate ensued, Representatives Evans and Hurley speaking in favor of adoption of the resolution.

Mr. Perry demanded a call of the House, and the demand was sustained.

CALL OF THE HOUSE

The Sergeant at Arms was instructed to lock the doors.

The Clerk called the roll, and all members were present except Representatives Campbell, Rosenberg, and Wang.

On motion of Mr. Copeland, the absent members were excused and the House proceeded with business under the call of the House.

Mr. Rosenberg appeared at the bar of the House.

SPEAKER'S PRIVILEGE

The Speaker observed in the south gallery seventy-five students from the St. Patrick's School in Tacoma, accompanied by Sister Aquinata and Sister Bernadine, and asked them to stand and be recognized.

The Speaker observed in the north gallery the eighth grade from the Holy Cross School in Tacoma, including the nephew of Representative Comfort, and asked them to stand and be recognized.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Comfort:

"Mr. Speaker, point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. Comfort:

"I would like to say we are happy to have these school children with us today, but I would also like to announce to the House that two of the Sisters who brought the students from St. Patrick's are former teachers of mine. I think they are down to check up on me."

Mr. Beck demanded the previous question on the resolution by Mr. Evans and Mrs. Hurley, and the demand was not sustained.

Further debate ensued, Representatives Moon and Litchman speaking in opposition to the resolution, and Representative Evans speaking in its favor.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Rogers:

"Mr. Speaker, point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. Rogers:

"The cigars and candy which were passed out here today came from the Allied Daily Newspapers of the state of Washington with the compliments of Mr. Lew Selvidge. I might state that the treats we are enjoying are not based on the passage or rejection of any legislation pending before this body but, rather, these treats are offered to sweeten the disposition of the members of the House."

Further debate ensued, Representative Uhlman speaking against adoption of the resolution.

MOTION

Mr. Sawyer moved that the House defer further consideration of the resolution by Mr. Evans and Mrs. Hurley, and that it be ordered to hold its place on the sixth order of business on February 16.

Mr. Klein demanded an electric roll call, and the demand was sustained.

The Clerk called the roll on the motion by Mr. Sawyer to defer consideration of the resolution, and the motion was lost by the following vote: Yeas, 43; nays, 54; absent or not voting, 2.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Ackley, Anderson (Eric O.), Backstrom, Beck, Beierlein, Bergh, Bigley, Bozarth, Braun, Brouillet, Burtch, Chatalas, Conner, DeJarnatt, Dootson, Gallagher, Garrett, Gleason, Grant, Haussler, Henry, Herr, Jolly, Klein, Litchman, May, McElroy, McFadden, Moon, Mundy, O'Brien, O'Donnell, Olsen, Rogers, Rosenberg, Savage, Sawyer, Schaefer, Smith, Taylor, Uhlman, Wedekind, Witherbee—43.

Those voting nay were: Representatives Adams, Ahlquist, Andersen (James A.), Berentson, Brachtenbach, Canfield, Clark, Comfort, Copeland, Earley, Eberle, Eldridge, Evans, Flanagan, Folsom, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Hadley, Harris, Hawley, Hood, Huntley, Hurley, Johnston, Jueling, King, Kink, Kirk, Leland, Lewis, Lind, Lybecker, Lynch, Mahaffey, Mast, McCaffree, McCormick, McDougall, Metcalf, Miles, Moos, Morphis, Morrissey, Newschwander, O'Connell, Odell, Perry, Pritchard, Reese, Siler, Swayze, Wintler, Young, Mr. Speaker—54.

Those absent or not voting were: Representatives Campbell, Wang—2.

Mr. Beck demanded the previous question, and the demand was not sustained.

Further debate ensued, Representative Ackley speaking against adoption of the resolution, and Representative Perry speaking for its adoption.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Ackley:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Ackley:

"Mr. Speaker, my point of order is that the sentence which Mr. Perry is quoting is not the subject matter of the resolution, and therefore it is out of order at this time. If he wants to open up the whole platform to debate, I suggest that he needs a little broader resolution."

The Speaker:

"Mr. Litchman gave quite a dissertation on an act not included in this resolution just a few minutes ago. I think you can continue, Mr. Perry."

Further debate ensued, Representatives Perry and Lewis speaking in favor of adoption of the resolution.

Mr. Uhlman moved adoption of the following amendment to the resolution:

Following line 15, after "communism;" add a new section as follows: "and
"WHEREAS, The tactics and methods of the John Birch Society are equally inimical to the continuity of our free democratic society and should also be heartily repudiated;"

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Beck:

"Mr. Speaker, point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. Beck:

"Would the Republican Whip yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"No, sir. That isn't a proper point of personal privilege."

Mr. Beck:

"Then I appeal to the Republican Whip. You have put on a good show here and disrupted the orderly proceedings of the House for almost one solid hour for the benefit of the Central Committee Chairman and your party in the gallery. It is time to stop this and get on with the business of the House."

The Speaker:

"Mr. Beck, will you come to order?"

Mr. Beck:

"I am tired of the proceeding that is going on in the House."

The Speaker:

"I have asked you to come to order. Will you take your seat, please?"

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Andersen (James A.):

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order, Mr. Andersen."

Mr. Andersen:

"My point of order, Mr. Speaker, is that as a member of this legislative, deliberative body, Mr. Beck is out of order. He is not confining himself to the question. He is not speaking on a point of personal privilege as it is defined in the rules of this body. He is engaging in personalities, which is specifically prohibited by the rules. He is impugning the motives of other members of the body, which is likewise specifically prohibited by the rules. I ask that the Chair call him to order."

The Speaker:

"Your point is well taken. The Speaker has called Mr. Beck to order."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Gorton:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Gorton:

"Mr. Speaker, I do not believe Mr. Uhlman's amendment is relevant to the resolution. It is therefore improper as a part of the resolution."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"It appears your point is well taken, as the resolution concerns itself with the Democratic platform and the McCarran Internal Security Act. This is completely foreign material concerning the John Birch Society. I rule the amendment is not germane."

Mr. Uhlman appealed from the decision of the Speaker.

Mr. Uhlman demanded an electric roll call, and the demand was sustained.

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. Copeland:

"Mr. Speaker, would you explain what the question is and what effect our vote will have?"

The Speaker:

"The question is: Shall the decision of the Chair be the judgment of the House? The vote of yea sustains the position of the Speaker."

The Clerk called the roll on the question of whether the House would sustain the ruling of the Speaker on the amendment by Mr. Uhlman, and the House sustained the Speaker's decision by the following vote: Yeas, 65; nays, 32; absent or not voting, 2.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Adams, Ahlquist, Andersen (James A.), Beierlein, Berentson, Bergh, Bozarth, Brachtenbach, Braun, Canfield, Clark, Comfort, Copeland, Earley, Eberle, Eldridge, Evans, Flanagan, Folsom, Gleason, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Hadley, Harris, Haussler, Hawley, Hood, Huntley, Hurley, Johnston, Jueling, King, Kink, Kirk, Leland, Lewis, Lind, Lybecker, Lynch, Mahaffey, Mast, McCaffree, McCormick, McDougall, EcElroy, Metcalf, Miles, Moon, Moos, Morphis, Morrissey, Mundy, Newschwander, O'Connell, Odell, Perry, Pritchard, Reese, Rogers, Rosenberg, Siler, Swayze, Wintler, Young, Mr. Speaker—65.

Those absent or not voting were: Representatives Campbell, Wang—2.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Moon:

"Mr. Speaker, point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. Moon:

"Mr. Speaker, I wonder if Mr. Lewis would yield to a question?"

The Speaker:

"Would you yield to question, sir?"

Mr. Lewis:

"No."

Mr. Kink demanded the previous question, and the demand was not sustained.

Further debate ensued, Representatives Smith, May, and O'Brien speaking against adoption of the resolution by Mr. Evans and Mrs. Hurley.

Mr. Kink demanded the previous question, and the demand was sustained on a rising vote.

The Clerk called the roll on the resolution by Mr. Evans and Mrs. Hurley, and the resolution was adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 77; nays, 20; absent or not voting, 2.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Adams, Ahlquist, Andersen (James A.), Beck, Beierlein, Berentson, Bergh, Bozarth, Brachtenbach, Braun, Brouillet, Canfield, Clark, Comfort, Conner, Copeland, Earley, Eberle, Eldridge, Evans, Flanagan, Folsom, Gallagher, Gleason, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Hadley, Harris, Haussler, Hawley, Henry, Herr, Hood, Huntley, Hurley, Johnston, Jolly, Jueling, King, Kink, Kirk, Leland, Lewis, Lind, Lybecker, Lynch, Mahaffey, Mast, May, McCaffree, McCormick, McDougall, McElroy, McFadden, Metcalf, Miles, Moos, Morphis, Morrissey, Mundy, Newschwander, O'Connell, Odell, Perry, Pritchard, Reese, Rogers, Rosenberg, Sawyer, Schaefer, Siler, Smith, Swayze, Taylor, Wintler, Young, Mr. Speaker—77.

Those voting nay were: Representatives Ackley, Anderson (Eric O.), Backstrom, Bigley, Burtch, Chatalas, DeJarnatt, Dootson, Garrett, Grant, Klein, Litchman, Moon, O'Brien, O'Donnell, Olsen, Savage, Uhlman, Wedekind, Witherbee—20.

Those absent or not voting were: Representatives Campbell, Wang—2.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Burtch:

"Mr. Speaker, point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. Burtch:

"I wonder if I might have an opportunity to express my views on why I voted as I did. I tried to get the floor before, but I was not recognized."

The Speaker:

"It wasn't because the Speaker was trying to make any prejudiced decisions. I was trying to recognize everyone. If you have a statement you would like to insert in the journal, it may be done."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The Speaker recognized Mr. Chatalas.

Mr. Chatalas:

"I would like to have the same opportunity to put in the journal why I voted against this."

The Speaker:

"That privilege is granted to anyone who so wishes."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Savage:

"Mr. Speaker, point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. Savage:

"I have heard a lot of talk about impugning peoples' motives, and I think this was a case of real impugning of peoples' motives and characters and one thing and another here in several ways. In the first place, in putting in this kind of a resolution and putting them on a spot, and secondly, in cutting off debate before many of us had an opportunity to talk about this resolution. There are a lot of things about it I would have liked to have talked about and asked questions about. I think it is far less than fair to chop off debate like this after a few people have had their say."

The Speaker:

"The demand for the previous question was sustained by the House, sir."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Dootson:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. Dootson:

"My good friend, Mr. Lewis, stated that we on the Democratic side of the House, because of the policy statement in the Democratic platform, were bound to the Democratic platform in regard to financial contributions. I would like to state at this time that I turned all of the money back to the Democratic party. I turned all of the money back to every contributor. I have never yet accepted one single penny from anybody, and I am not bound in the least by this Democratic platform. Furthermore, I wish to say that that policy in the Democratic platform is no more or less than political blackmail. I was opposed to that platform in that respect. I think it is a terrible statement. I would go out at any time to oppose such a statement, and I am not bound by it. The head of our party, Thomas Jefferson—and if you go to the Jefferson Memorial in Washington, D. C. you can look up and see these words—said, 'I swear eternal hatred against every form of tyranny over the mind of man.' I must say this part of the Democratic platform is no more or less than tyranny over those members of the Democratic party who wish to accept those contributions.

"But let me say again, there are some good provisions in this platform, and one of them, I think, is this provision in regard to the Walter McCarran Act. I think I have perhaps exhausted my personal privilege, but I would like to remind people of something President Eisenhower said. He said that people in this country are not so much against the Russian form of government, but it is the Russian economic system, and if we opposed the Russian form of government, we should learn what it is and that it is designed in a very similar manner to the manner in which our form of government was originally designed, which is a bicameral system. It is very similar to the system in England at the present time. If we wish to oppose a form of government, I would suggest you oppose such dictatorships as exist in Spain, where we have consorted with Franco, or the one in Portugal, or those in the Latin American countries. Yet you say this is a free country. I suggest that if you set yourselves up as a free people that you commence to pass some laws in regard to freedom. This legislature up to the present time has passed only more restrictive laws, and has not passed one single law yet which liberated the individual. I say to you, examine the Russian system. It is its economic system that you are opposed to; it is not the political system, and if you think it is, then you should examine that political system first."

MOTION

On motion of Mr. Perry, the House dispensed with further proceedings under the call of the House.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Chatalas:

"Mr. Speaker, point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. Chatalas:

"On the same subject on which Mr. Dootson just spoke, I would like to remind this assembly here that I have received money from the Democratic party with absolutely no strings attached. I would like to remind this body once more that the coalition Democrats have received exactly the same amount as I have and the rest of you. Thank you."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Klein:

"Mr. Speaker, point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. Klein:

"It is simply, Mr. Speaker, that I wanted to invite the members' attention to the Senate Judiciary Committee report at the time this act they are condemning was adopted in 1950, containing the names and the testimony of very prominent Republicans, people who were Republican nominees for President of the United States, calling this one of the greatest threats since the passage of the alien sedition laws. It is here on my desk, if you want to read it, and it is by scholars who have given it a great deal of thought."

EXPLANATIONS OF VOTE

I voted against the resolution by Mr. Evans and Mrs. Hurley on February 15 because I think the McCarran Act should be amended. However, the McCarran Act is a good piece of legislation.

ERIC O. ANDERSON,
21st District.

I voted "No" on the Resolution by Mrs. Hurley and Mr. Evans because I considered it strictly a political gimmick by the sponsors and the House Republican-coalition group to intrude into the internal affairs of the Democratic party.

JOHN BIGLEY,
30th District.

STATEMENTS FOR THE JOURNAL

This resolution by Mr. Evans and Mrs. Hurley was introduced purely and simply as a political football to harass and embarrass the Democratic party. It is now the 33rd legislative day and the joint rules have not even been adopted. Altogether too much time has been spent in useless political oratory. It is time to get down to the business at hand.

WES C. UHLMAN,
32nd District.

I am one hundred percent against the principles of the communist party. The resolution declares that the Democrats are communists—this I deplore. The McCarran Act can stand revision. There is a clear question of infringement of the Fifth Amendment. As an attorney, I sincerely believe that "no person . . . shall be compelled in any criminal case to be a witness against himself." I still adhere to the principles of the Constitution of the United States. The McCarran Act is ninety-eight percent good. There are, however, some changes that can be made for the protection of those human beings who are merely accused of being communists. I deplore guilt by association. This the Republican party has done.

MARK LITCHMAN,
45th District.

The resolution offered by Mrs. Hurley and Mr. Evans was an affront to the Democratic party and loyal citizens who are proud to claim membership in that party. I voted against the resolution because I do not believe that any useful purpose was served by the adoption of the resolution. I consider myself a loyal American and believe firmly in the economic system that has made this country strong. The Republican coalition, by offering such a resolution, demonstrated once again that the House of Representatives is in complete chaos. The greed for power that was displayed the first day of this session (when the Renegade Democrats joined with the Republican party) still casts its shadow on these legislative halls.

The responsibility of this legislature to enact meaningful legislation for the benefit of the citizens of the state of Washington has been delayed by the irresponsible actions of the Republican-controlled coalition. The resolution by Mr. Evans and Mrs. Hurley was an excellent example of the dilatory procedures that have been used freely by the coalition in this session.

GARY GRANT,
47th District.

I requested the permission to insert in the journal a statement regarding my vote against the resolution which was introduced by Mr. Evans and Mrs. Hurley.

As everyone knows, I voted against this resolution. I did so primarily because I have not read the McCarran Internal Security Act and, in all deference to members of this body, I do not think too many members in the House of Representatives this legislative session have read it.

Now this resolution said, in part, that we should "go on record" as declaring the "provisions (of this act) to be consistent with the national interest of guarding this Nation against the dangers of Communist subversion."

There were twenty of us here who voted against this resolution. While I must speak for myself, several factors entered into my personal decision.

In 1950, President Truman vetoed the McCarran Act, the act dealing with the internal security of this country. This veto was overridden, as was our position in this House of Representatives today, by a majority in Congress.

Mr. Truman, in vetoing the measure, said he did so because the resolution contains many different legislative proposals with only one thing in common. This was that they were all represented to be anti-communist. He also added that, when the many complicated pieces of the bill are analyzed in detail, the act would not hurt the communists, it would help them.

I do not want to be placed in a position where, in future years, it might be said that I aided the Communist party.

Mr. Truman's stand was not an isolated one. He received support from this nation's press, he received support from Republicans, he received support from Democrats, from magazines, from newspapers.

The Washington Evening Star said the whole atmosphere surrounding the vote at that time of this twentieth century was one of political panic. This newspaper is a conservative Republican paper.

The paper felt that the leaders of the people were running from the people. It added that the leaders did so because the people had become an unruly, unreasoning mob and that the only way to appease this mob was to prove that you were just as scared, or even more scared, than the next fellow.

Some of us, who took the stand we did, did so because we did not choose to close our ears to reason and did not choose to run.

If all of us here have read this act in question, this is commendable. Few of us have. I am hardly in a position to take the stand that the provisions of this act are consistent with the national interest in combatting Communism if President Truman didn't take this stand.

Mr. Truman had the services of these agencies in making his decision: The Department of Justice, the Department of Defense, the Central Intelligence Agency, and the Department of State.

If Mr. Evans or Mrs. Hurley has these resources at hand, please let me know. I don't.

In all honesty, I am not afraid to say that the resolution could do more harm than good. It puts each of us in a position of taking a stand on something we have not even studied and something, since it was contained in the Democratic platform, entirely out of keeping with the business at hand here in the House.

This resolution is a smoke screen. And this smoke screen appeals to the emotions in an attempt to cloud the failures of the people within the Republican-dominated coalition in this thirty-eighth legislative session. It came at a time when members of the GOP central committee sat in our balcony.

That this legislative body should allow the spectre of Al Canwell and his cronies and the ghost of Joseph McCarthy to haunt these halls is a black mark on the Washington House of Representatives.

CHARLES MOON,
39th District.

I am a Democrat and I believe in liberty. We are free Americans and we enjoy the liberty of exercising those traditional rights guaranteed in our Constitution. We are a people that enjoys equality before the law. We are a nation that enjoys the precious freedom to speak, write, worship, vote, and assemble in accordance with individual conscience. There are many aspects of the McCarran Internal Security Act that threaten freedom of thought just as there are many aspects of that law that protect our liberties.

I object to tactics such as the Evans-Hurley Resolution, because the language is couched in such a way as to convey the impression that any person who believes that a law should be revised is made suspect. These tactics are designed to elevate the Internal Security Act to the plateau upon which rests our Constitution, our flag, and our country. President Truman saw fit to veto the Internal Security Act in 1950, because he said there were provisions in it that would actually help the communists. He pointed out that instead of striking blows at communism, the bill would strike blows at our liberties and at America's position in the forefront of those nations working for freedom in the world. It seems to me that free citizens should be able to ask for revisions in the Act without being branded as un-American.

In a free country men are punished for their crimes they commit, but never for their opinions. This concept is fundamental to freedom, not because it protects the few unorthodox citizens from the majority, but because freedom of expression is basically for the benefit of the majority. It protects the right to criticize and criticism often leads to progress. None of us in this House of Representatives oppose the prevention of sabotage, espionage or any other acts that endanger our national security. That is not the point, as the sponsors of this resolution know very well. President Truman found that the McCarran Act contained provisions that would attempt to curb the simple expression of opinion—distasteful opinion to be sure to the majority of our people. He said that the Act would make a mockery of our Bill of Rights.

In these United States of America we need not fear the expression of ideas—we do, however, need to fear their suppression! Resolutions such as this—motivated by the vulgar opportunism of super patriotism—are prime examples of attempted suppression of ideas. Resolutions such as this strike effective blows at the freedom to hold differing opinions on important issues! Decent citizens of both political parties should resent this shabby attempt to "censure" the Democratic party of our state for expressing its opinion on the need for revisions to any law, particularly one that was vetoed by the President of the United States! WILLIAM "BILL" CHATALAS, 33rd District.

Mr. Olsen:

The Speaker:

"Permission is granted."

Century 21 Exposition, America's Space Age World's Fair
Seattle, Washington, U.S.A.—April 21-October 21, 1962
February 13, 1963

The Honorable Members

Washington State House of Representatives
Olympia, Washington

GENTLEMEN:

The attached memorandum was made a part of the minutes of the World's Fair Commission Meeting held February 12, 1963, at 5:00 p.m.

Inasmuch as it pertains to matters which have been before the House, it was felt that the total text would be of interest to the members of the House.

Sincerely yours,
Ray Olsen

February 12, 1963

Modified Liquidation Plan

When the World Fair Commission at its meeting on January 28th approved the appointment of three Liquidating Trustees and the dissolution of the Fair Corporation by February 15th unless otherwise directed by the Legislature, it followed the applicable statutes for the liquidation of a nonprofit corporation. The date of February 15th was selected to provide a cutoff date with a final audit by the State Auditor and Hasken & Sells and thereby have available for the Members of the Legislature prior to adjournment a complete audit of all fiscal matters of the Fair Corporation.

Presently demands have been made upon the Fair Corporation by the City of Seattle for rental payments totalling $916,838.65. Members of the Legislature and Departments of State Government are anxious to have the State reimbursed for $867,000.00 which was paid by the State from bond funds to acquire the site of the Federal Science Building. Various governmental agencies are requesting conferences for the purpose of collecting additional taxes which have been contested by the Fair Corporation. Meetings must be held at an early date concerning the disposition of the Monorail (April 1st is the deadline), the disposition of the Sky Ride and the settlement of claims for the National Guard Armory. During this interim period the Liquidating Trustees would represent the Corporation (i.e., the State) in those business and financial matters where leadership is necessary, and then subject to the approval of the World's Fair Commission, make such decisions as deemed in the best interest of the State.

There now appears to be considerable concern by some members of the Legislature as to—

1. The text of the final audit.

2. The eventual settlement of all financial claims.
3. The wisdom of three Liquidating Trustees, with approval of the World's Fair Commission, of making business and financial decisions for the eventual wind-up of all corporate matters.

and, inasmuch as the appointment of the present World's Fair Commissioners expires on April 30th and many of these matters will not be disposed of for some period much later than April 30th, it is suggested that—

1. The World's Fair Commission delay the dissolution until March 15th unless otherwise advised by the Legislature.
2. That the auditors be instructed to complete their audit, using February 15th as a cutoff date and submit their report to the Legislature before adjournment.
3. That in the matters of liquidation the Legislature consider a plan whereby (a) either the terms of the present World's Fair Commission be extended with such modification in the make-up of the Commission as may be desirable, or (b) that a separate entity within the framework of the State Government act in behalf of the Fair Corporation, or (c) that consideration be given to creating a new entity to act on behalf of the Corporation.

Whatever is the wish of the Legislature, they are assured of the full cooperation of the World's Fair Commission, Corporation, Officers and Staff. It is to be noted that an early decision is desirable because of the number of pressing matters presently before the Commission.

EDWARD E. CARLSON.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Beck:

"Mr. Speaker, point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. Beck:

"Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the House, for those of you who heard stories on the radio and press this morning that I was introducing a bill today calling for reapportionment—I did have a bill drawn up but I have withdrawn it because our distinguished colleague, Representative McCaffree, has introduced one. We have been down here now for five weeks and one of the most difficult issues we are going to have to resolve is the redistricting. I don't think it is fair to wait until the last days of the session to introduce something we will have to act on in haste, because whatever we adopt at this session, we are going to have to live with it for some time. Now, as long as the lady across the aisle has introduced a bill, I have withdrawn mine. We now have a bill in front of us dealing with reapportionment. The bill is substantially Initiative 211. We will be asked to make up our minds and decide if this is what we want. I urge your serious consideration of this bill. Let's get a bill on the floor of the House which the Constitution, Elections, and Apportionment Committee comes up with, so that we can look at this problem intelligently and not have to act in haste. Thank you very kindly."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Pritchard:

"Mr. Speaker, point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. Pritchard:

"I think it is only fair when Mr. Beck talks about putting in this bill and the committee not working that he realize that the Committee on Constitution, Elections, and Apportionment has been working hard. If Mr. Beck checked with Mr. Rogers, who is chairman of one of the subcommittees, he would realize we have been working and working hard on this problem, and it isn't that we need a bill here to start working. I think, Mr. Beck, you are in error when you infer we have not been working because this bill has not been in."

The Speaker recognized Mr. Beck.

Mr. Beck:

"May I answer Mr. Pritchard? This morning I received on my desk a memorandum from the chairman of the subcommittee from the Third Congressional District stating that I could come and discuss with him the redistricting of the Third Congressional District. I thank you very kindly. This is the first information I have had concerning redistricting in the five weeks we have been here."

The Speaker recognized Mr. Pritchard.

Mr. Pritchard:

"As long as we are having a little scrimmage here, Mr. Beck, if you don't have any better communication than that with a person from your own district, I don't think there is anything we can do. Mr. Rogers comes from your district and he is chairman of this subcommittee. I don't think it is necessary to imply you are just getting the word now. I am sure you can get the word from your own district better than that."

The Speaker:

"Will you yield to question, Mr. Huntley?"

Mr. Huntley:

"I will try."

Mr. Canfield:

"Mr. Huntley, without discussing the particular arguments that have been presented, my question is specifically this. If teachers are employed to teach driver training after school, or before school, or during the summer vacation—which may be a wise thing, I am not entering into that—what effect would that possibly have on the budget requirements for the various school districts?"

Mr. Huntley:

"None whatsoever. This is paid for entirely separate from your general fund budget. That is one question I would like to ask Mr. Brouillet, whether he would prefer to have these rural school districts run a double set of busses every night and take that out of the bus budget?"

Mr. Brouillet:

"Mr. Speaker, may I answer that?"

The Speaker:

"Yes."

Mr. Brouillet:

"Mr. Huntley, in all deference, this is being done right now. Most districts run an activity bus for students whether they are retained after school by the teacher or participate in sports. This is quite standard in the state of Washington among many rural schools."

Today we have had before us a calendar that was supposed to be noncontroversial. In the thirty-four days of this legislative session, we haven't passed very many bills. I think we should get busy and bump some of these and get them out of here and put them on final passage. I think it's about time we stopped this foolishness and got down to work. Again I apologize for putting the call on, but this was to bring to your attention very forcibly that we have a job to do. We are in a Saturday session. This is a day when normally along about this time we are not in session. If it's important enough to be in a Saturday session, it's important enough for a third reading calendar, which we don't have."

Mr. O'Brien:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker (Mr. Evans presiding):

"State your point of order."

Mr. O'Brien:

"Mr. Speaker, a motion to suspend the rules isn't debatable. The policy in the past was to let one person speak on each side, limiting it to two only, in order to explain the position of the sponsor and of somebody on the other side. That has been the custom, but I think if you will check these rules, you will find the motion to suspend the rules isn't debatable."

The Speaker:

"I think your point is well taken. The Speaker, feeling that since it is Saturday it is time to be a little charitable, has permitted debate. You may continue, Mr. Perry."

Mr. Litchman:

"Yes."

Mr. Adams:

"Did you talk to Dr. Heynes or any of the others on extending this date?"

Mr. Litchman:

"Not on this particular amendment, but I did discuss this type of thing with Dr. Sandgren and Dr. Heynes some years ago, and I was led to believe this type of legislation was extremely important to our state to allow out-of-staters to practice if they were qualified."

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

State of Washington, Executive Department,
Olympia, February 19, 1963.

To the Honorable, The House of Representatives of the State of Washington.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

I wish to talk to you today about matters primarily related to public education.

I know that each of you is aware that during the past few years, the quality of instruction in our schools has improved immeasurably. During this same period, teachers' salaries and their quest for professional recognition have taken a well deserved and unprecedented rise.

You will recall that in my first two messages to the 38th Legislature I stressed the fact that the primary concern of this administration continues to lie in the field of public education. I emphasized then—and repeatedly since then—that the balanced budget I submitted to you would allocate 75 percent of all new general fund revenue to common schools and higher education. Furthermore, I have promised that this administration would continue to seek new sources of revenue for public education.

I am pleased to report that we now appear to have found the means by which additional funds can be made available to public education.

During the past several weeks intensive discussions were held upon our initiative with the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare about Federal regulations related to payment of certain welfare funds. This involved a new interpretation of these Federal regulations.

We have just received verbal assurance that this new interpretation can be applied in our State, and that written confirmation of this will be forthcoming.

Therefore, I am able at this time to inform you that the State of Washington is eligible to receive an additional six million dollars in Federal funds to be used by the Department of Public Assistance. This, in turn, will free an identical amount of state general funds, without impairing our Public Assistance programs.

This will result from a change in procedure that will permit us to use money from the Federal Government's program of Medical Assistance to the Aged, and apply this money to programs for citizens who need Nursing Home care, but who at the same time would qualify for Old Age Assistance, Aid to the Blind, and Disability Assistance.

To repeat, this procedural change will result in an additional six million dollars to our State from the Federal Government, and thus make available six million dollars in state general funds.

Concerning the allocation of this six million dollars, I respectfully suggest that one million dollars be given to the Department of Public Assistance to assure continuance of State medical care service to children in foster homes and those covered under our program of Aid to Dependent Children.

I further suggest that the remaining balance of five million dollars of the six million dollars be allocated to public education for such important areas as increased OASI payments, predetermined salary increases, and the educational enrichment programs.

I might also suggest that a portion of this could be applied to the establishment of such worthwhile programs as the proposed Research Center for retarded children at the University of Washington.

I would like to take this opportunity to explain some widely misunderstood facts concerning my budget proposals for education.

I refer the members of the Legislature to Page 428 of the Budget Document. The information contained on that page shows clearly that the estimated revenues of the school districts of the state will be 15 million dollars more than the estimated total expenditures of the school districts.

In connection with this, I emphasize that our figures for school district revenues include the same level of excess levies that were approved in the school districts for the present biennium, and also that the school district expenditures are based on cost levels of the 1962-63 school year as estimated by the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Keeping these facts in mind, it becomes evident that if school districts will approve local excess levies to the same extent that they did for the present biennium, then some 15 million dollars more will be available to them than would be required for anticipated enrollment increases, based on today's cost levels.

Add to this the five million dollars made possible through our efforts to obtain additional Federal welfare funds, and we have a total of 20 million dollars available to help resolve some of the problem areas in the field of education.

I commend this information and suggestions to you for your approval and action.

ALBERT D. ROSELLINI, Governor,
State of Washington.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Litchman:

"Mr. Speaker, point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. Litchman:

"I tried to get the floor to make a motion pertaining to Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 6. I assume I was not recognized for that purpose?"

The Speaker:

"You are correct. The bill is no longer in the possession of the House. It is of course in order to make a motion to take the bill from the committee."

MOTION

Mr. Litchman moved that the rules be suspended, Engrossed Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 6 be taken from the Committee on Constitution, Elections, and Apportionment, and placed at the end of the second reading calendar for today.

Debate ensued, Representative Litchman speaking in favor of the motion, and Representative Gorton speaking against it.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. O'Brien:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. O'Brien:

"A motion to suspend the rules is not debatable."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Gorton:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order. Mr. Litchman moved to take the bill from committee, which doesn't require suspension of the rules."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"Rule 77 states that every bill shall be read on three separate days unless the House deems it expedient to suspend the rule, so it would require a suspension of the rules."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Perry:

"Mr. Speaker, I ask for a point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. Perry:

"Well, there seems to be an attempt on the part of some people to limit the freedom of speech and to keep other persons from talking at times when they don't want to hear what is going to be said. I wanted to point out to the body that the way the bill stands it carries no appropriation with it, and it will require about two hundred thousand dollars. I feel there is a great deal of sentiment for this bill, but we have to do this in an orderly way. If you remember, a couple of weeks ago a resolution came in concerning the World's Fair Corporation. There was a great deal of emotion; this bill was debated three days in the Senate and shot over here. An emotional fever pitch was attached to it. We took this in and looked at it and brought the people in and discussed it with them, and we are coming to an orderly agreement. This was not done in the height of an emotional peak or in an attempt to seek publicity but in an attempt to do a job for the people of this state in an orderly, intelligent, business-like fashion. I wish to assure you this proposition will not be buried."

Miss O'Donnell requested an electric roll call, and the demand was sustained.

The Clerk called the roll on Mr. Litchman's motion to suspend the rules, take Engrossed Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 6 from the Committee on Constitution, Elections, and Apportionment, and place the resolution at the end of the second reading calendar. The motion was lost by the following vote: Yeas, 29; nays, 70; absent or not voting, 0.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Beck, Bigley, Braun, Brouillet, Burtch, Campbell, Chatalas, Conner, Gallagher, Grant, Haussler, Henry, Herr, Jolly, Klein, Litchman, May, McFadden, Moon, Mundy, O'Brien, O'Donnell, Rogers, Savage, Sawyer, Schaefer, Taylor, Uhlman, Wedekind—29.

Those voting nay were: Representatives Ackley, Adams, Ahlquist, Andersen (James A.), Anderson (Eric O.), Backstrom, Beierlein, Berentson, Bergh, Bozarth, Brachtenbach, Canfield, Clark, Comfort, Copeland, DeJarnatt, Dootson, Earley, Eberle, Eldridge, Evans, Flanagan, Folsom, Garrett, Gleason, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Hadley, Harris, Hawley, Hood, Huntley, Hurley, Johnston, Juelling, King, Kink, Kirk, Leland, Lewis, Lind, Lybecker, Lynch, Mahaffey, Mast, McCaffree, McCormick, McDougall, McElroy, Metcalf, Miles, Moos, Morphis, Morrissey, Newschwander, O'Connell, Odell, Olsen, Perry, Pritchard, Reese, Rosenberg, Siler, Smith, Swayze, Wang, Wintler, Witherbee, Young, Mr. Speaker—70.

"Each company treats this differently, but I would say that in the majority, yes, there is a correlation. If a person has three or four accidents which are not his or her fault, it would influence underwriting, but the point of this amendment is that it won't influence underwriting anyway, because the insurance companies are still going to get this information and they are entitled to it, and if they don't get it, it will affect the issuance of the contract."

Mr. Leland:

"I think there is no question that if you are a careful driver, and we give the public the protection of careful driving, your insurance will be less; but if we do not give protection to the public at large and allow the less careful drivers or accident-prone drivers to submerge or hide themselves among the driving public at large, all of us are going to pay the penalty rather than those who cause the problem."

"Mr. Speaker, I wonder if Mr. Lewis would yield to a question?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Lewis, will you yield to a question?"

Mr. Lewis:

"Yes."

Mr. Savage:

"Mr. Lewis, I realize this is a very important and serious bill, but there is one problem in dealing with retraining that I wonder if you folks had gone into. We have folks 63 or 64 years old, almost old enough to retire, and under our rapidly changing economy they lose their jobs. I know there is a problem involved when these people are ordered to take retraining and are at an age where about the time they finish the training they would be ready to retire. Would this type of person be cut off from any type of relief if they could not be retrained? I wondered if you have gone into that question."

Mr. Lewis:

"Mr. Savage, the intent of the bill is merely to provide that in the event a person is recommended for training through the cooperative effort of the department of public assistance and vocational rehabilitation department and he doesn't accept this training, then he would not be further qualified for public assistance. Now eligibility for training is worked out between the two departments. This is an entirely separate matter which is not within the intent of this bill."

SPEAKER'S PRIVILEGE

The Speaker observed in the south gallery seven students from Upper Columbia Academy of Spokane, with Mr. Glen Dana, Dean of Men, and asked them to stand and be recognized.

Engrossed House Bill No. 303, by Representatives Pritchard, Campbell, and Mahaffey:

Requiring high school physical training.

On motion of Mr. Moos, the rules were suspended, the second reading considered the third, and Engrossed House Bill No. 303 was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued, Representative Pritchard speaking in favor of passage of the bill.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Comfort:

"Mr. Speaker, would Mr. Pritchard yield to question, please?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Pritchard, will you yield to question?"

Mr. Pritchard:

"Yes, I will."

Mr. Comfort:

"Mr. Pritchard, is there a possibility that if we passed this bill that I, as a parent, for reasons of my own, desiring my child to take a full academic load and not take physical training, would be compelled to allow my child to have physical training?"

Mr. Pritchard:

"Yes, you would, the same as if you didn't want your child to take mathematics or some other part of the school curriculum. You could not make that determination by yourself. However, if there is a physical disability or some religious reason, you will find that most school boards will excuse the student."

Further debate ensued, Representatives Comfort, Morphis, and Ackley speaking against passage of the bill, and Representative Brouillet speaking in its favor.

Mr. Moos demanded the previous question, and the demand was not sustained, on a rising vote.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Schaefer:

"Mr. Speaker, will Mr. Brouillet yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Brouillet, will you yield to a question?"

Mr. Brouillet:

"Yes."

Mr. Schaefer:

"Mr. Brouillet, you say the parents write quite a few of these letters. I was wondering, for my own benefit before I vote, how many such letters you receive or how major a problem this is?"

Mr. Brouillet:

"There are a couple of factors involved. You get a lot of these letters, particularly on Monday morning. The main problem is the morale factor. You can't have John or Jane staying on the sidelines when there is nothing wrong with them, while all the other kids are splashing in the pool or doing calisthenics. Many schools have health assistants so that if there is really something wrong they are not going to be required to take P.E. You can't have students being excused simply because Jane doesn't want to get her hair messed up on Monday morning or early in the day. That is the purpose of the bill, to eliminate these cases when there is no legitimate excuse."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Chatalas:

"Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask Mr. Brouillet a hypothetical question, if I may."

The Speaker:

"Will you yield to a hypothetical question, Mr. Brouillet?"

Mr. Brouillet:

"Yes."

Mr. Chatalas:

"Suppose my child gets sick overnight and I don't have time to go to the doctor and get a letter that he has been sick. Is he going to be forced to take gym the next morning, even though I know my child has been sick the night before?"

Mr. Brouillet:

"No, I don't think that would happen. I can't speak for all the P.E. teachers in the state, but if a person would say his child had been sick overnight, I am sure it would be honored. Again, many schools have a health department where the children can be examined. We want to get away from the cases where there is no legitimate excuse, as I said before."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Smith:

Mr. Speaker, would Mr. Pritchard yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Pritchard, will you yield to question?"

Mr. Pritchard:

"Yes, I will yield."

Mr. Smith:

"Would you say this is such a great problem that the school boards and the school administration officials could not take care of it?"

Mr. Pritchard:

"Mr. Smith, they could take care of it if we hadn't specifically left these high school students out. If you are a grade school student, you take gym unless you have a reason not to, but for some reason we left high school students out. It is in high school that the girls start worrying about their hair, and the boys would rather sit around in their cars than get out and stretch their muscles."

Mr. Smith:

"You did say the school boards can't take care of it at the present time?"

Mr. Pritchard:

"I said they cannot. They have to have this bill. They have asked for it."

Further debate ensued, Representatives Metcalf, Campbell, and Mahaffey arguing in favor of passage of the bill.

Mr. Olsen demanded the previous question, and the demand was sustained.

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed House Bill No. 303, and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas, 70; nays, 28; absent or not voting, 1.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Adams, Ahlquist, Andersen (James A.), Anderson (Eric O.), Backstrom, Beck, Berentson, Bergh, Bigley, Brachtenbach, Braun, Brouillet, Burtch, Campbell, Canfield, Chatalas, Clark, Conner, Copeland, DeJarnatt, Eberle, Eldridge, Folsom, Gallagher, Garrett, Gleason, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Grant, Hadley, Harris, Hawley, Henry, Johnston, King, Kink, Kirk, Leland, Lewis, Lind, Litchman, Lybecker, Lynch, Mahaffey, Mast, May, McCormick, McDougall, McElroy, Metcalf, Miles, Moon, Moos, Mundy, O'Brien, O'Connell, O'Donnell, Olsen, Perry, Pritchard, Savage, Sawyer, Schaefer, Siler, Swayze, Taylor, Wang, Wedekind, Wintler, Witherbee—70.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Metcalf:

"Mr. Speaker, point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. Metcalf:

"Mr. Speaker, this is the thirty-eighth legislative session. This is the thirty-eighth day of the thirty-eighth legislative session. This number, thirty-eight, is an interesting number. Many remember the thirty-eighth parallel in Korea and the squabble there. In order that the members may have more pleasant thoughts, Mr. Jack Dootson, Mr. Dick Taylor, and I, representing the thirty-eighth legislative district, Snohomish and Island counties, on this thirty-eighth day of this thirty-eighth session are responsible for the cigars and candies passed out to you. I believe Representative Taylor has a couple of further comments on this."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Taylor:

"Mr. Speaker, point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. Taylor:

"We are proud, Mr. Speaker and members of this House, of the political heritage of those of us who represent the thirty-eighth district. With your indulgence this morning, I would like to tell you a little bit about some of the people who have represented the thirty-eighth district on the state and national level. We had Governor Hartley, who served here two terms and who, I believe, presided over the change from the old Capitol to the new Capitol. Governor Hartley came from Everett. We have the current United States Senator, Henry Jackson, who served as Congressman and is now the junior senator from this state of Washington; and the beloved Governor Wallgren, who served as a Congressman and in the Senate; and, of course, our current Congressman, Jack Westland. It is a privilege to come from this district, Mr. Speaker. Thank you for your attention."

The Speaker recognized Mr. Dootson.

Mr. Dootson:

"Mr. Speaker, I hadn't intended to say anything in this regard until Dick got through. It seems to me, in mentioning all the outstanding people who came from the thirty-eighth district, he failed to mention the fact that there are some in the legislature at the present time, although I realize there is quite a difference of opinion regarding this."

The Speaker observed in the south gallery forty Skagit County 4-H Junior Leaders and their advisers, and asked them to stand and be recognized.

The Speaker:

"Mr. Evans, would you yield to a question?"

Mr. Evans:

"I am not saying we necessarily will hold it until the fifty-fifth day to pass it over to the Senate. I am sure that the Senate has joined in the hearings on the budget. Most of the hearings on the budget have been joint hearings. I am sure there is good liaison between the Ways and Means Committees of the two houses. There is a lot of work to be done on the budget by both houses and I think this is what we are trying to do, allow time for some good discussion to be had."

Further debate ensued, Representative Perry speaking against adoption of the amendment.

Mr. Witherbee demanded an electric roll call, and the demand was sustained.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. O'Brien:

"Mr. Speaker, will Mr. Evans yield to a question?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Evans, will you yield to another question?"

Mr. Evans:

"Yes."

Mr. O'Brien:

"Mr. Evans, in your memory, can you tell me when we ever took a budget bill and placed it on the calendar for only one hour's consideration?"

Mr. Evans:

"Yes, I think either the 1957 or 1959 session. It surely didn't take much longer than an hour to have the budget bill out and passed."

Mr. O'Brien:

"You must have been in complete agreement with it. I don't recall that, Mr. Evans, at all."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Ackley:

"Mr. Speaker, would Mr. James Andersen yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Andersen, will you yield to question?"

Mr. Andersen (James A.):

"No."

The Clerk called the roll on the amendment to House Concurrent Resolution No. 8. The motion was lost, and the amendment was not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 43; nays, 55; absent or not voting, 1.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Ackley, Anderson (Eric O.), Backstrom, Beck, Beierlein, Bergh, Bigley, Bozarth, Braun, Brouillet, Burch, Campbell, Chatalas, Conner, DeJarnatt, Dootson, Gallagher, Garrett, Grant, Haussler, Henry, Herr, Jolly, Klein, Litchman, May, McElroy, McFadden, Moon, Mundy, O'Brien, O'Donnell, Olsen, Rogers, Rosenberg, Savage, Sawyer, Schaefer, Smith, Taylor, Uhlman, Wedekind, Witherbee—43.

SPEAKER'S PRIVILEGE

The Speaker observed in the north gallery the oldest pioneer in the Puyallup valley, who shopped at the first store in Washington at Steilacoom, Mrs. Maida Jackson, grandmother of Representative Lewis' wife, and asked her to stand and be recognized.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Ackley:

"Mr. Speaker, point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. Ackley:

"My point of personal privilege concerns the question I was attempting to ask Mr. Andersen as chairman of the Judiciary Committee. It relates to the matter we are discussing. I have four bills presently in the Judiciary Committee. They have been there now for four weeks. I have been attempting to get the chairman to place them on the calendar. I got a note this morning that all four of them—at least three of the four—will be on the calendar in the Judiciary Committee for March 1, which happens to be the forty-seventh day. You are now passing a rule that bills can't be considered after the fiftieth day. I think this is a complete attempt on the part of Mr. Andersen and on the part of the coalition to prevent any consideration of these bills which I consider to be very important bills."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Andersen (James A.):

"Mr. Speaker, point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. Andersen:

"Mr. Ackley is not the only member of the Judiciary Committee. Mr. Ackley is not the only member of this House who has bills in the Judiciary Committee. Because of the excessive number of bills, we have had to assign priorities to bills which we consider the most important to the people of the state, not with respect to who authored them but with respect to the content of the bills. I would point out a couple of things. One is that the Judiciary Committee has been meeting every morning at 8:30, including Saturday. We started right at the outset of the organization. When the members have asked to have their bills put on and be heard, we have tried to accommodate them. In each case, so far as I know, we have scheduled the bills for which we have been asked to be heard. I would like to point out, with due respect to my good friend, Norman Ackley, that if everybody in our committee spent as much time in the committee talking and asking questions as Mr. Ackley has, I certainly doubt we would have gotten over three or four bills out of the committee to this date. Fortunately, a number of our bills are out of committee. We are all working hard. If all the members of the committee, including some standing on the floor and pleading about how hard they are working, were in the committee working—"

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. O'Brien:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. O'Brien:

"Mr. Andersen is impugning the motives and discussing personalities of members, which is specifically against our rules."

The Speaker:

"I believe your point is well taken. However, I would like to point out that this has been done numerous times on the floor. I would also like to point out to the House that each member is taking too much latitude with points of personal privilege. I think we should confine the use of personal privilege to its original intent and nothing else."

On motion of Mr. Gorton, the rules were suspended, House Concurrent Resolution No. 8 was advanced to third reading, the second reading was considered the third, and the resolution was placed on final passage.

House Concurrent Resolution No. 8 was adopted on a rising vote.

On motion of Mr. Gorton, House Concurrent Resolution No. 8 was immediately transmitted to the Senate.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The Speaker recognized Mr. Garrett.

Mr. Garrett:

"Mr. Speaker, I have a statement I would like to read into the journal. May I do so under this order of business?"

The Speaker:

"Yes, sir."

STATEMENT FOR THE JOURNAL

The Democratic Party of the State of Washington at its 1962 state convention at Bellingham declared the following statements in its preamble:

"We reaffirm our belief that the Democratic Party heritage of concern for the welfare of all the people, for the basic principles of freedom, and for the will to employ our intelligence, our imagination, and our hearts in meeting the problems of this country will continue to establish the American example for the world to follow.

"We reaffirm our faith in the Constitution and the Bill of Rights.

"The Democratic Party speaks out against the tactics and negativism of those extremists who have lost faith in our American democratic processes and traditions. We particularly deplore their cynical and insincere use of such reasonable sentiments as anticommunism, patriotism and religion as a mask for their attack on progressive and liberal legislation and our cherished institutions, and their subversion and distortion of time-honored principles in order to teach a doctrine of bigotry and hate.

"We pledge ourselves to the preservation and extension of equality, freedom of speech, freedom of worship, and the unhampered right to vote and assemble according to the dictates of individual conscience. These rights and freedoms must be held without regard to race, creed, color, national origin, or economic status.

"We again pledge the Democratic Party to promote the public interest ahead of all private interest and to favor public or private free enterprise over any private monopoly and to cherish and fight for human rights before property rights.

"We pledge ourselves to expanding opportunities for all Americans.

"Dedicated to these principles, the Democratic Party will work toward freedom, prosperity, and a world free of fear and want."

Article II, Section 32, of the Washington State Constitution declares:

"A frequent recurrence to fundamental principles is essential to the security of individual right and the perpetuity of free government."

We, the members of the Democratic Caucus of the House of Representatives, commend our Democratic Party of the State of Washington for its forthright statement of fundamental principles and its definitions of the goals of our American democracy both at home and throughout the world.

"As I recall from hearing your last sentence, it would be impossible for the people to vote in, or accept or adopt, a proposal for an additional function of metro if they had in fact turned it down once. Is that correct?"

Mr. Gorton:

"No, it is only impossible for the people's vote to be voided during that period of time."

At the request of Mr. Uhlman, the Speaker instructed the reading clerk to reread the last sentence of Mr. Gorton's amendment.

Mr. Jueling demanded an electric roll call, and the demand was sustained.

Mr. Klein moved adoption of the following amendment to Mr. Gorton's amendment:

Strike the period following "election" on the last line and insert "unless it has been authorized by a subsequent vote of the people."

Debate ensued, Representative Klein speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment to the amendment, and Representative Smith speaking against its adoption.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Perry:

"Mr. Speaker, will Mr. Klein yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Klein, will you yield to question?"

Mr. Klein:

"Yes."

Mr. Perry:

"In the event your amendment to the amendment were adopted, if the people again rejected the proposal at a subsequent election which had been called for within the three-year period, would you have to wait for three more years?"

Mr. Klein:

"Yes, unless there was another subsequent vote of the people that approved it."

MOTION

Mr. Morphis moved that the House defer further consideration of House Bill No. 367 on second reading, and that the bill be ordered held for the second reading calendar on Saturday.

Debate ensued, Representative Morphis speaking in favor of the motion, and Representative Eberle speaking against it.

The motion was lost.

The Speaker stated the question before the House to be the adoption of Mr. Klein's amendment to the amendment by Mr. Gorton.

The motion was lost, and the amendment was not adopted.

House Bill No. 20, by Representatives Gorton and Campbell (by Legislative Council request):

Extension of law against discrimination to those engaged in the business of handling real estate; providing for trial de novo on appeals.

Mr. Schaefer demanded a call of the House, and the demand was sustained.

CALL OF THE HOUSE

The Sergeant at Arms was instructed to lock the doors.

The Clerk called the roll. Representatives Beierlein, Chatalas, Gleason, Henry, Klein, Pritchard, and Rogers were absent.

Mr. Klein and Mr. Beierlein appeared at the bar of the House.

Mr. Gorton moved that the absent members be excused, and the House proceed with business under the call of the House.

The motion was lost on a rising vote.

The Sergeant at Arms was instructed to bring in the absent members.

Mrs. Gleason, Mrs. Henry, and Mr. Pritchard appeared at the bar of the House.

Mr. Copeland moved that the absent members be excused and the House proceed with business under the call of the House.

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. O'Brien:

"Mr. Speaker, point of information. Who are the absent members?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Chatalas and Mr. Rogers."

The motion was carried.

House Bill No. 20 was read the second time by sections.

Mr. Adams moved adoption of the following amendment:

Beginning on page 1, section 1, line 14, strike all of sections 1 through 6 down to and including line 32 on page 6, and renumber the remaining sections accordingly.

Mr. Mundy demanded an aye and nay voice vote.

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"Mr. Mundy, I am going to rule that the request would be automatic unless otherwise desired by the House."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. O'Brien:

"Mr. Speaker, point of parliamentary inquiry."

The Speaker:

"State your point of parliamentary inquiry."

Mr. O'Brien:

"I would like to have the Speaker make a ruling on this motion to strike out several sections. If the House votes in an affirmative or negative manner, would that preclude the House from then offering amendments to these particular sections?"

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"Yes, it would."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Comfort:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Comfort:

"I believe there are some amendments to these sections. Do not members have the right to attempt to amend the particular section and make it a better section prior to the motion to strike being in order?"

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"The answer to your point of order is that if there are other amendments to these sections on the desk, the House has the right to consider them first, according to Reed's No. 144.

POINT OF ORDER

The Speaker recognized Mr. Adams.

Mr. Adams:

"Mr. Speaker, I want to say that my amendment was there before any of the other amendments, if that has any bearing. It was the first amendment placed on the desk."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"No, sir, Reed's Rule No. 147 states as follows:

"Whenever a motion to strike out a paragraph is pending, it is in order for the assembly to amend the paragraph, its friends being entitled to perfect it before the vote on striking it out is taken. This is because if the motion to strike out is negated, it is equivalent to an adoption of the words of the paragraph by the assembly, and it can not then be modified. Hence it must be amended before the vote on striking out, if at all."

The Speaker recognized Mr. Adams.

Mr. Adams:

"Will my amendment still be in order afterwards?"

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"Yes, sir. After the amendments to these individual sections have been acted upon, then your amendment will be in order."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Perry:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of parliamentary inquiry."

The Speaker:

"State your point of parliamentary inquiry."

Mr. Perry:

"Would it be in order, if it were the will of the majority of the body, to entertain Dr. Adams' amendment? Would it be contrary to the existing rules if the majority decided in the affirmative?"

The Speaker:

"I believe the only way that could be accomplished would be to appeal the ruling of the Chair, and by so doing reverse the ruling."

Mr. Perry:

"That isn't quite what I had in mind. All these rules are predicated on the will of the majority. If the majority decided they wanted to entertain this at this specific time, is that entertainable or is it out of order?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Perry, it would appear to me that to properly rule on Dr. Adams' amendment, I would have to follow the criterion set down in Reed's Rule No. 147, which I read before, and the only way my ruling could be reversed is if the majority would wish to appeal that ruling."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Uhlman:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Uhlman:

"Mr. Speaker, is it not correct that this House, in adopting its own rules, adopted Reed's Rules where our own House rules are silent. Thus Reed's Rules are the rules of this House, and to change Reed's Rule No. 147 would require a suspension of the rules and a two-thirds vote of this body. Is that not correct?"

The Speaker:

"No. In order to change the rules, any rule, you have to have a twenty-four hour notice and a majority vote of the body."

Mr. Uhlman:

"Mr. Speaker, I am talking about suspending the rules requiring a two-thirds vote."

The Speaker:

"To suspend the rules requires a two-thirds vote."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Schaefer:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Schaefer:

"On the same point that Mr. Uhlman was talking about, in order to clarify this, if Reed's rules are applicable here and we don't want to consider any other amendments before we considered the one offered by Dr. Adams, we would have to suspend the rules. Is that not correct?"

The Speaker:

"That is correct."

Mr. Earley moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 2, section 1, beginning on line 2, after "amusement," strike all the matter down to the semicolon on line 6 and insert "and in [publicly assisted] housing because of race, creed, color, or national origin"

Debate ensued, Representative Earley speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Ackley:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Ackley:

"At the beginning of Mr. Earley's remarks, he demanded an electric roll call. The Speaker was otherwise occupied and didn't put it to the body."

The Speaker:

"It wasn't proper at that point. He was speaking on the amendment at that time. It would be proper for anyone else to demand an electric roll call. It would be proper for him to do it now."

Mr. Moos demanded an electric roll call, and the demand was sustained.

The Clerk called the roll on the adoption of the amendment by Mr. Earley to page 2, section 2 of House Bill No. 20. The motion was carried, and the amendment was adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 78; nays, 20; absent or not voting, 1.

Mr. Chatalas appeared at the bar of the House.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Ackley, Andersen (James A.), Anderson (Eric O.), Backstrom, Beck, Beierlein, Berentson, Bergh, Bigley, Bozarth, Braun, Brouillet, Burtch, Campbell, Canfield, Chatalas, Comfort, Conner, Copeland, DeJarnatt, Dootson, Earley, Eberle, Eldridge, Evans, Flanagan, Gallagher, Garrett, Gleason, Goldsworthy, Grant, Hadley, Haussler, Hawley, Henry, Herr, Hood, Huntley, Hurley, Jolly, Juelling, King, Kink, Klein, Lewis, Litchman, Lybecker, Lynch, Mast, May, McCormick, McDougall, McElroy, McFadden, Metcalf, Moon, Moos, Morphis, Mundy, Newschwander, O'Brien, O'Connell, Odell, O'Donnell, Olsen, Perry, Pritchard, Rosenberg, Sawyer, Schaefer, Smith, Swayze, Taylor, Uhlman, Wedekind, Wintler, Young, Mr. Speaker—78.

Those voting nay were: Representatives Adams, Ahlquist, Brachtenbach, Clark, Folsom, Gorton, Harris, Johnston, Kirk, Leland, Lind, Mahaffey, McCaffree, Miles, Morrissey, Reese, Savage, Siler, Wang, Witherbee—20.

Mr. Moos demanded an electric roll call, and the demand was sustained.

Further debate ensued, Representative Litchman speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Adams:

"Mr. Speaker, point of parliamentary inquiry."

The Speaker:

"State your point of parliamentary inquiry."

Mr. Adams:

"Mr. Earley, by his amendments, is scalping this bill. In effect, he is putting in House Bill No. 23, which is his bill. I don't believe that is permissible under our rules."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"The amendments are in order. He is only using part of the wording from the other bill."

Further debate ensued, Representative Adams speaking against adoption of the amendment.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Moos:

"Mr. Speaker, will Representative Earley yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Representative Earley, will you yield to question?"

Mr. Earley:

"No."

Mr. Moos:

"I would like this one particular question answered. If I placed my personal house for sale and was going to sell it myself, would the amendment being proposed permit me to sell that house to any person of my choice or is the choice being determined here?"

The Speaker recognized Mr. Comfort.

Mr. Comfort:

"Mr. Speaker, if I may answer that question, and if I understand Mr. Earley's amendment correctly, as I think I do, I believe that you would be able to sell your house to whomsoever you desire, the same as anybody who is in the brokerage business would be able to deal with anybody with whom he desired, and those engaged in placing people in public houses would be able to place whomsoever they desired. All would be treated equally as long as no one discriminated in their choice on the basis of race, creed color, or national origin."

Further debate ensued, Representative Klein speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Canfield:

"Mr. Speaker, will Mr. Comfort yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Comfort, will you yield to question?"

Mr. Comfort:

"Yes."

Mr. Canfield:

"Your explanations are usually so lucid that I am reluctant to ask again, but did you say a person could sell to whomsoever he wished, as long as he didn't discriminate?"

Mr. Comfort:

"That is correct, Mr. Canfield."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Moon:

"Mr. Speaker, would Mr. Comfort yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Comfort, will you yield to another question?"

Mr. Comfort:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker."

Mr. Moon:

"Mr. Comfort, the question that bothers me right at the moment is this: If I owned a home, would I not be able to discriminate in selling this home to someone who was an alcoholic? Is this correct?"

Mr. Comfort:

"That is not my interpretation. I refer you to page 2 of the bill. The whole intent of the bill, I believe, has to do with discrimination solely on the basis of creed, color, or national origin."

The Clerk called the roll on adoption of the amendment by Mr. Earley to page 2, section 2. The motion was carried, and the amendment was adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 62; nays, 36; absent or not voting, 1.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Ackley, Andersen (James A.), Anderson (Eric O.), Backstrom, Beck, Beierlein, Berentson, Bigley, Bozarth, Brouillet, Burtch, Campbell, Chatalas, Comfort, Copeland, DeJarnatt, Dootson, Earley, Eldridge, Flanagan, Gallagher, Garrett, Gleason, Grant, Hadley, Haussler, Hawley, Henry, Herr, Hood, Hurley, Johnston, Jolly, King, Kink, Klein, Lewis, Litchman, Mast, May, McCormick, McFadden, Metcalf, Moon, Newschwander, O'Brien, O'Connell, O'Donnell, Perry, Pritchard, Reese, Rosenberg, Savage, Sawyer, Schaefer, Smith, Taylor, Uhlman, Wedekind, Wintler, Witherbee, Mr. Speaker—62.

Those voting nay were: Representatives Adams, Ahlquist, Bergh, Brachtenbach, Braun, Canfield, Clark, Conner, Eberle, Evans, Folsom, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Harris, Huntley, Juelling, Kirk, Leland, Lind, Lybecker, Lynch, Mahaffey, McCaffree, McDougall, McElroy, Miles, Moos, Morphis, Morrissey, Mundy, Odell, Olsen, Siler, Swayze, Wang, Young—36.

Those absent or not voting were: Representative Rogers—1.

Debate ensued, Representative Earley speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment.

Mr. Chatalas demanded an electric roll call, and the demand was sustained.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Adams:

"Mr. Speaker, would Mr. Earley yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Earley, will you yield to question?"

Mr. Earley:

"Yes."

Mr. Adams:

"I see in line 21 that there is a reference to personal property. Does that go beyond real property? Do you want to tie in personal property? What does 'personal property' cover?"

Mr. Earley:

"House trailer, camper, tent, I presume."

The Clerk called the roll on adoption of the amendment by Mr. Earley to page 3, section 3. The motion was carried, and the amendment was adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 64; nays, 34; absent or not voting, 1.

Those absent or not voting were: Representative Rogers—1.

Mr. Earley moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 4, section 3, beginning on line 21, strike all the matter down to and including the comma following "persons" on line 24, and insert:

"['Publicly assisted] 'Housing' includes any building, structure or portion thereof which is used or occupied or is intended to be used or occupied as the home, residence or sleeping place of one or more persons, ['

Debate ensued, Representatives Earley and Litchman speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment.

Mr. Chatalas demanded an electric roll call, and the demand was sustained.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Chatalas:

"Mr. Speaker, will Mr. Earley yield to a question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield to question, Mr. Earley?"

Mr. Earley:

"Yes."

Mr. Chatalas:

"Mr. Earley, a little while ago you said that personal property included such things as trailers. I would like to know if it includes boats?"

Mr. Earley:

"A boat is certainly personal property."

The Clerk called the roll on the adoption of the amendment by Mr. Earley to page 4, section 3 of House Bill No. 20. The motion was carried, and the amendment was adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 74; nays, 24; absent or not voting, 1.

The Speaker:

"Mr. Earley, will you yield to question?"

Mr. Earley:

"Yes."

Mr. Brachtenbach:

"I am having difficulty voting on these amendments, not knowing where they are heading entirely. Am I correct in my assumption that if all your amendments are adopted, we will have substantially your House Bill 23?"

Mr. Earley:

"I would say no. This is not the same bill as House Bill 23, as you will see when all of the amendments come up before the House."

Mr. Brachtenbach:

"Could I ask an additional question? In what respect will it differ?"

Mr. Earley:

"The principle difference from House Bill No. 23 is that the trial by jury portion of this bill will remain, and nothing about photographs is included."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Adams:

"Mr. Speaker, may I ask Mr. Earley a question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield to question, Mr. Earley?"

Mr. Earley:

"Yes."

Mr. Adams:

"Then down to and through section 6, it will be practically identical with the same portion of your House Bill 23?"

Mr. Earley:

"I would say quite similar in some respects."

Mr. Adams:

"Isn't it practically identical? It has the same material."

Mr. Earley:

"I did get some of the information out of House Bill 23, yes."

The Clerk called the roll on the adoption of the amendment by Mr. Earley to page 6, section 4 of House Bill No. 20. The motion was carried, and the amendment was adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 74; nays, 24; absent or not voting, 1.

Those absent or not voting were: Representative Rogers—1.

Mr. Smith moved that the rules be suspended, House Bill No. 20 be advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill be placed on final passage.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Comfort:

"Mr. Speaker, I believe I have an amendment on the desk dealing with lines 18 and 19. I would like to ask whether or not that would have precedence so that we might be able to perfect the section we are dealing with presently."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Litchman:

"Mr. Speaker, Mr. Smith moved to suspend the rules, well knowing there was an amendment on the desk. In conformity to the Speaker's ruling held not too long ago that one can suspend the rules at any time and move a bill from second to third or third to second, isn't this motion in order?"

The Speaker:

"Your point of order can be easily answered, Mr. Litchman. I did not recognize the motion. There was an amendment just about to be read. There was confusion as to Mr. Smith's intent."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Litchman:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of parliamentary inquiry then. Assuming Mr. Smith was recognized and did move to suspend the rules, and there were amendments on the desk, would not the motion taken precedence over any amendments on the desk?"

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"Yes. Under a suspension of the rules. Of course, a motion to suspend the rules would have to carry by a two-thirds vote.

Mr. Litchman:

"Is it the Speaker's position, then, that Mr. Smith was not recognized for that particular purpose, for moving to suspend the rules?"

The Speaker:

"That is correct."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Adams:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Adams:

"I don't think the motion would be in order. We haven't completed the second reading. We haven't read the title. How can you move that the second reading be considered the third when you haven't completed the second reading?"

The Speaker:

"When we suspend the rules, which takes a two-third majority, we can do anything."

On motion of Mr. Comfort, the following amendment was adopted:

On page 6, section 4, beginning on line 17, after "purchaser" insert a period and strike all of the matter down to and including the period on line 19.

Mr. Witherbee moved that House Bill No. 20 be rereferred to the Committee on Rules and Order.

Debate ensued, Representative Witherbee speaking for the motion, and Representative Smith speaking against the motion.

Mr. Ackley demanded an electric roll call, and the demand was sustained.

Further debate ensued, Representative Litchman speaking against the motion.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mrs. Henry:

"Mr. Speaker, parliamentary inquiry."

The Speaker:

"State your point of parliamentary inquiry."

Mrs. Henry:

"If this bill should be rereferred at this time, would it not go back into Rules and keep its status, and if it were to come out again, it would be on the second reading calendar?"

The Speaker:

"That is correct."

Further debate ensued, Representatives Henry and Earley speaking in opposition to the motion.

Mr. Olsen demanded the previous question, and the demand was sustained.

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. Burtch:

"Mr. Speaker, would you explain what we are voting on?"

The Speaker:

"We are voting on the motion that House Bill No. 20 be rereferred to the Rules and Order Committee."

Mr. Burtch:

"Thank you."

Beginning on page 1, section 1, line 14, strike all of sections 1 through 6 down to and including line 32 on page 6, and renumber the remaining sections accordingly.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mrs. Hurley:

"Mr. Speaker, I wonder if Dr. Adams would submit to a question?"

The Speaker:

"Dr. Adams, will you submit to a question?"

Mr. Adams:

"I will try to answer it."

Mrs. Hurley:

"Dr. Adams, if your amendment were not adopted and this bill should become law, how would it affect me if I were a person who had a room to rent in my house and the only people who applied to rent my room were an Indian woman, a negro woman, and a Japanese woman? How could I escape violation of the law?"

Mr. Adams:

"You would have to cook up some good excuse for not renting the room without referring to any of the things you have mentioned. You would have to tell them you would have to think about it a while, being very careful, or that maybe you wouldn't rent it now; or that your son is coming pretty soon and you will put him in there for thirty to sixty days, or something of that type, before you put it back on the market to rent."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Litchman:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Litchman:

"I call your attention to Reed's Rule No. 136 which says that if an amendment is decided in the affirmative, it later cannot be stricken out. One must go back and move to reconsider to wipe out the amendments that have been adopted. What Dr. Adams is attempting to do here is to strike most of the amendments of Mr. Earley."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Adams:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Adams:

"I have been given to understand by the Chair before that this amendment would be considered. At that time there was no objection from anyone on the floor of the House. I think that has the effect of making my amendment in order. Had there been an objection at the time, I think it probably would have been in order, but there was no objection at the time the ruling was made."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"The Speaker ruled that Dr. Adams' amendment could not be considered first because of these other amendments, and that it would be in order to consider it later. I am going to hold to that ruling."

Further debate ensued, Representative Litchman speaking against adoption of the amendment.

Miss O'Donnell demanded the previous question, and the demand was sustained.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Schaefer:

"Mr. Speaker, I would like to have permission to include a statement in the record concerning my vote."

STATEMENT FOR THE JOURNAL

Today this House had the opportunity to promote justice in the state of Washington. Today this House had an opportunity to uphold the immortal words of Tom Paine—"My country is the world; my countrymen are all mankind." Today this House lost an opportunity to provide the nation and the world with a working model of a more perfect free society. It is bitter folly that we failed.

To the uninitiated observers of today's session in this House, it undoubtedly appeared that the cause of equal justice under the law for all citizens was being championed by an over-whelming majority of legislators. The mere fact that the measure under consideration—House Bill 20—grew stronger with the adoption of each amendment would have conveyed such an erroneous impression. The record should be clear on this point. We who sat on this floor and genuinely voted repeatedly to create a bill that would make the dream of equal rights to a place to live a reality saw the issue very clearly! Voting with us to liberalize the proposed anti-discrimination act were many elected representatives of the people who gleefully sat with tongue-in-cheek and thereby abetted the ignoble cause of ruinous bigotry. They were strangling the bill by strengthening its provisions. They ingloriously killed it when they finally showed their true colors and emerged from behind the tattered banner of equal justice and cast their votes against immediate consideration of the bill on final passage. They have interred it in the graveyard of the Rules Committee and we will look in vain for tears of grief.

And so the Party of Lincoln failed once more to muster its ranks and support the barricade of justice for all of our citizens and for free men everywhere. Let us hope that it will not be too many years before this House shall courageously extend its vision to all mankind—regardless of race, color, creed, or national origin. Let us hope that we shall soon get on with the great task of promoting justice and equality throughout our state.

On page 4, section 9, subsection (4), line 32, after "gas well" and before "when performed" insert "or any surface or underground mine or mineral deposit"

On page 6, section 9, strike all of subsection (12) and substitute the following: "(12) Any person working on his own property, whether occupied by him or not, and any person working on his residence, whether owned by him or not;"

On page 6, section 9, subsection (15), line 18, after "compensation" and before the period insert "or as an employee with wages as his sole compensation"

EDWARD M. MORRISSEY, Chairman.

We concur in this report: W. J. (Joe) Beierlein, William "Bill" Chatalas, Gordon Herr, Elmer E. Johnston, Alfred E. Leland, Ann T. O'Donnell, Leonard A. Sawyer, Max Wedekind, William E. Young.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Mr. Morrissey, the committee amendments to page 4 were adopted.

On motion of Mr. Miles, the committee amendment to page 6, section 9, subsection (12), was adopted.

On motion of Mr. Morrissey, the committee amendment to page 6, section 9, subsection (15) was adopted.

Mr. Miles moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 1, section 1, beginning on line 7, after "a bid to," strike all of the material down to and including "any part thereof" on line 10 and insert "undertake home improvements, remodeling, or alterations"

Debate ensued, Representative Miles speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment, and Representative Andersen (James A.) speaking against its adoption.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Huntley:

"Mr. Speaker, would Representative Andersen yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Representative Andersen, will you yield to question?"

Mr. Andersen (James A.):

"Yes, indeed."

Mr. Huntley:

"I have a note in my bill book that licensing of contractors is contrary to federal law where federal money is in the contract. Now, would that affect our highway contracts?"

Mr. Andersen:

"This is not a licensing bill. This is a registration bill. You will probably recall in past sessions the fight was whether you want a registration bill or a licensing bill. In fact, I am opposed to a licensing bill, and I think the industry itself that is proposing this bill is also opposed to a licensing bill for the most part, but this is not a licensing bill and will not affect the area you are talking about."

Further debate ensued, Representative Lind speaking for adoption of the amendment, and Representative Herr speaking against its adoption.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Comfort:

"Mr. Speaker, would Representative Andersen yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Representative Andersen, would you yield to question?"

Mr. Andersen (James A.):

"I would be pleased to."

Mr. Comfort:

"Representative Andersen, I have long been confused as to the relative distinction between registration and licensing. I have always thought that the prime distinction was that under a licensing bill the conditions must be met in order for a person to do business, whereby under registration bills, one is merely placed in a certain category. Is that distinction a valid one?"

Mr. Andersen:

"I believe it is completely valid, Representative Comfort. This bill simply requires that certain information be filed with the state so it is available to the prospective home owner or persons dealing with home improvement contracts. Also, the home improvement contractor or other contractor must post very small bonds and have liability insurance."

Mr. Comfort:

"Keeping in mind that you have long been opposed to a licensing bill, and keeping in mind this distinction between a licensing and registration bill, I would call your attention to section 2 which states it is unlawful for any person to engage in certain types of business unless they comply with this so-called registration act. Would not that section make this pretty close to a licensing bill?"

Mr. Andersen:

"No, I don't think so. I think you have to enforce a registration bill in some fashion. I don't know how you could enforce it unless you say it is unlawful to proceed without registering. I don't think that makes it licensing. There is no board passing on who can be a contractor and who cannot and no administrative hierarchy set up to handle it. Maybe you think it is a licensing bill, Representative Comfort, but I do not."

Further debate ensued, Representative Witherbee speaking against adoption of the amendment.

Mr. Grant demanded the previous question, and the demand was sustained.

The motion was lost on a rising vote, and the amendment was not adopted.

Mr. Hadley moved adoption of the following amendment to House Bill No. 89:

On page 3, section 5, beginning on line 27, strike all of section 5 and renumber the remaining sections accordingly.

Debate ensued, Representative Hadley speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment, and Representative Andersen (James A.) speaking against its adoption.

Mr. Brouillet demanded the previous question, and the demand was sustained.

The motion was lost, and the amendment was not adopted.

House Bill No. 89 was ordered engrossed and passed to Committee on Rules and Order for third reading.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Morrissey:

"Mr. Speaker, point of parliamentary inquiry."

The Speaker:

"State your point of parliamentary inquiry."

Mr. Morrissey:

"This bill as amended now has a fiscal note attached to it. Should it not go to Ways and Means?"

The Speaker:

"The bill is now in the possession of the Rules Committee. It will have to come out again. If it does come out, it can be referred to Ways and Means. It is no longer in the possession of the House at this time."

The House resumed consideration of House Bill No. 311 on second reading.

House Bill No. 311, by Representatives Goldsworthy, Jolly, and Moos:

Establishing standards for and regulating warehousemen and shippers of agricultural commodities.

The Speaker declared the question before the House to be adoption of the following amendment by Mr. Ackley:

On page 25, section 44, beginning on line 17, after "employee" strike "who shall be guilty of any neglect of duty"

The motion was carried, and the amendment was adopted.

House Bill No. 311 was order engrossed and passed to Committee on Rules and Order for third reading.

WHEREAS, The maximum security unit at Eastern State Hospital was specially constructed for the confinement of the criminally insane; and

WHEREAS, The advent of new concepts and techniques of psychiatry have resulted in the abandonment of such building for such purposes; and

WHEREAS, The criminally insane person is now confined in the general population of the state hospital; and

SECOND READING OF BILL

Mr. Hood moved adoption of the following amendment:

On line 9 after "not exceed" strike the balance of the sentence and insert "$2.50 (two dollars and fifty cents)."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Adams:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Adams:

"The area which Mr. Hood is amending has been stricken previously. An amendment adopted February 9th struck the line which he is now attempting to amend and, therefore, his amendment is not in order."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"Mr. Hood, it would appear that on the 9th of February, the House adopted an amendment which, in effect, changed the language from line 7 on. Therefore, it would be necessary to reconsider the prior amendment if this is to be changed. Your amendment is out of order."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Hood:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order. What I was attempting to do was amend the amendment. Possibly I made a technical error."

The Speaker:

"In order to accomplish that, you would have to reconsider the amendment as adopted, and then on reconsideration an amendment to the amendment could be adopted by action of this House."

Mr. Hood:

"Mr. Speaker, with your permission and the permission of the House, I will withdraw my amendment and will attempt to do to this bill what should be done on third reading."

MOTION

Mrs. Henry moved that Engrossed House Bill No. 150 be made a special order of business at the end of today's third reading calendar.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Kink:

"Mr. Speaker, point of parliamentary inquiry."

The Speaker:

"State your point of parliamentary inquiry."

Mr. Kink:

"Will House Bill 150 still be on second reading?"

The Speaker:

"Yes, it will, until it is advanced."

The motion by Mrs. Henry to make Engrossed House Bill No. 150 a special order of business at the end of today's third reading calendar was carried.

THIRD READING OF BILLS

Engrossed House Bill No. 155, by Representatives Andersen (James A.), Ackley, and Comfort (by executive request):

"I think everyone else in this House heard it, Mr. Speaker."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Copeland:

"Mr. Speaker, point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. Copeland:

"Ladies and gentlemen of the House, I want to explain, first of all, that we have a calendar for Friday which includes committee meetings starting at 11:00 o'clock. We are already fifteen minutes late. There are people down here to testify on particular issues important to all the people of the state of Washington. We can't very well arbitrarily refuse to allow these committees recognition. This afternoon the Highways committee and Ways and Means committee have heavy loads. We have memorial services at 2:00 o'clock. This is a very unusual day in the operation of this House. Before we adjourn, you will all be asked to clear your desks so this House will be in order for the memorial services. I realize we are handling a heavy calendar, but this was not done without consultation with the leadership on the other side. I cleared it with the Speaker, Mr. O'Brien, and Mr. Garrett. I am sorry we have had this misunderstanding this morning, but this is only in the interest of orderly operation of this House on this very unusual day."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. O'Brien:

"Mr. Speaker, point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. O'Brien:

"It is true Mr. Copeland told me about these other meetings, but in no way, shape, or form did I agree with the procedure. In times gone by, we have excused committee members to meet visiting groups who have come down here for the primary purpose of being heard."

MOTION

On motion of Mr. Copeland, the House recessed until 1:45 p. m.

MEMORIAL TRIBUTE

Senator Morgan

(A tribute written by a famous woman writer and Legislator—Eva Anderson)

We pause, in the midst of a busy day—at a time of crisis in state and nation—to honor our recently-departed fellow legislators.

Enshrined on the Roll of Memory today, are the names of twenty-seven men and one woman. They, too, once sat in these legislative halls even as you and I now sit here. As the clock on the wall ticked, and the calendar days flitted past with kaleidoscopic swiftness, they, too, dreamed of building a better world. But when the reaper declares that "Life's session is ended," no mortal can stay the clock for a single instant. No one can say, "Give me a few more minutes; a few more hours. My bill didn't pass."

Eventually, for all, TIME ITSELF RUNS OUT.

THOSE FIRST STEPS IN IMMORTALITY, WHICH EVERY HUMAN CRAVES, MUST BE TAKEN NOW.

Those whom we honor today used some of Life's shining hours, we know, for Humanity and for the State of Washington. To them, we are deeply grateful.

To you in the galleries—friends and relatives of our comrades—we extend our warmest sympathy. Upon you, falls the great burden of this loneliness.

Here and now, may you and I—all of us—rededicate our own lives to perpetuating their dream:

"The dream of a brotherhood coming to birth
The dream of a Christ for a Christlike earth."

IN MEMORIAM

In tribute to the memories of these distinguished former members of the Senate and House who have passed from among us, we, the memorialists of the Thirty-eighth Session, convey the respects of the Washington State Legislature, and present our memorials to be preserved in the Book of Memory, in the custody of the Secretary of State:

"Yes."

Mr. Klein:

"Representative Beck, did the committee consider this in relation to water and sewer districts?"

Mr. Beck:

"Yes, it did, Mr. Klein, but the provisions in the fire districts are different than water or sewer districts. When you lay down pipes for sewer or water districts, they are implanted in the ground. You cannot move them. But where you have a fire station or fire truck that is annexed to the city, that is movable. This has the concurrence of the attorney general's office and others involved. According to the attorneys, it is in good form."

The Speaker (Mr. Kink presiding):

"Would you yield to question, Representative Huntley?"

Mr. Huntley:

"I'm afraid not this afternoon."

Mr. Goldsworthy:

"Perhaps someone else will. I meant it seriously. Mr Huntley stated in his remarks that these gentlemen after a certain age were no longer effective out on the roads at these one hundred mile-per-hour speeds and had to be relegated to desk positions. I wonder if we are not losing a wealth of experience by not letting them take certain office positions behind the desk."

The Speaker recognized Mr. Beck.

Mr. Beck:

"In answer to your question, Mr. Goldsworthy, we have very few state patrolmen sitting behind desks. These men are out on the highways working. There are a very limited number of desk jobs where they can be put."

Further debate ensued, Representatives Savage, Chatalas, Mahaffey, and Huntley speaking in favor of passage of the bill.

"Mr. Speaker, would Mr. Hood yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Hood, will you yield to question?"

Mr. Hood:

"Yes."

Mr. Ackley:

"Representative Hood, perhaps this is two questions. Is my understanding correct that these are volunteer firemen who receive no pay, and that the life insurance that would be allowed under this would have no limitation whatever?"

Mr. Hood:

"All that is available under this group plan is $5,000 per individual."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Moos:

"Will you yield to question, Mr. Hood?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield to another question, Mr. Hood?"

"Does this mean that noncertified employees will have a total of six months accumulated sick leave which they can apply against any illness that comes while they are in this employment?"

I have talked generally with Mr. Ford about several other things in this bill, and my understanding was that Mr. Ford would primarily go on the recommendation of the local port districts if it fell within the general philosophy of the state association. I can conceive of no possible reason why Mr. Ford would object to our being able to increase our members to a five-member board if our people so indicate their desire by a vote."

"Mr. Speaker, point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. Canfield:

"Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen, these pears being passed around are a gift from all the pear growers of the state. There are many thousands of varieties of pears. This one is called D'Anjou. Pears are grown in many areas of the state. They grow some very fine pears in Mrs. Henry's district, which I believe has one of the largest pear orchards in the world. They are also grown in the Wenatchee area, Chelan county, and up in the Okanogan country. We hope you enjoy them."

On motion of Mr. Comfort, the following amendment was adopted:

On page 5, add a new section following section 8 as follows:

The two commissioners at large must be residents of the district and shall be nominated and elected at the same time and in the same manner as the other commissioners, except that they shall be designated on their declarations of candidacy and on the ballot as commissioners at large.

"If the proposition is carried by a majority vote, then five days after the election the commission shall consist of five members.

"At the same general election the names of the candidates for commissioners at large shall be printed on the ballot and voted on, but the election of commissioners at large shall be contingent upon the adoption of the proposition for a commission of five members. The two candidates for commissioners at large receiving the highest number of votes shall be elected, and shall take office five days from their election. The one receiving the highest number of votes shall hold office for six years from the first day of January next and the other shall hold office for four years from that date.

"A successor to a commissioner at large whose term is about to expire, shall be elected at the general election next preceding such expiration, for a term of six years." Renumber section 9 to read "Sec. 10."

On motion of Mr. Gorton, the rules were suspended, the second reading considered the third, and House Bill No. 273 was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued, Representative Rosenberg speaking in favor of passage of the bill.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Smith:

"Mr. Speaker, would Mr. Rosenberg yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Rosenberg, will you yield to question?"

Mr. Rosenberg:

"Yes."

Mr. Smith:

"The first question I would like to ask, Mr. Rosenberg, is this: Is this bill designed to make it less easy for an individual to go into the trucking business? Does it try to make it more difficult?"

Mr. Rosenberg:

"It would make it more difficult."

Mr. Smith:

"My second question is this: Is this bill designed to give the big trucker an advantage over the smaller trucker, if he wants to get into the business?"

Mr. Rosenberg:

"No, I think not. It has been proved many, many times that the smaller operator who will give the service has a great advantage over the bigger operator who doesn't think he has to give service."

Further debate ensued, Representative Smith speaking against passage of the bill, and Representative Anderson (Eric O.) speaking in its favor.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Siler:

"Mr. Speaker, would Mr. Rosenberg yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Rosenberg, will you yield to question?"

Mr. Rosenberg:

"Yes."

Mr. Siler:

"Mr. Rosenberg, is there anywhere in this act a grandfather clause or other device that would blanket in those who already had the permit?"

Mr. Rosenberg:

"That is one thing I should have mentioned. This act will not in any way affect present permit holders."

Further debate ensued, Representative Wang speaking in favor of passage of the bill.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Comfort:

"Mr. Speaker, would Mr. Rosenberg yield to another question?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Rosenberg, will you yield to question?"

Mr. Rosenberg:

"Yes."

Mr. Comfort:

"Mr. Rosenberg, in talking about this bill, you referred to rate cutting and that this would help ameliorate this problem. Is this illegal rate cutting?"

Mr. Rosenberg:

"This is illegal and it is extremely difficult to enforce because there are so many ways it can be done. For instance, they can put on the bill of lading that they are hauling one thousand pounds for a certain shipper, when in reality they are hauling two thousand pounds."

Mr. Comfort:

"If they are caught illegally cutting rates, does this take away their franchise?"

Mr. Rosenberg:

"No, very seldom is their franchise taken away, but they are subject to fine or penalty."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Ahlquist:

"Mr. Speaker, will Mr. Rosenberg yield to a question?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Rosenberg, will you yield?"

Mr. Rosenberg:

"Yes."

Mr. Ahlquist:

"If a small trucker were operating in a limited area and certain shippers using this small truck line wished it to expand into an area already being served by a long distance hauler, could the small hauler get a license to go another seventy-five miles or thereabouts to give further service to the man he is hauling for? Would this cut that off?"

Mr. Rosenberg:

"It will make it more difficult, Mr. Ahlquist, although under the hearing procedure, a hearing may be set up and they can come in with their attorneys, and if they can show that the shipper is not being serviced by the long distance hauler in the manner which he desires, a permit can be granted. This would not preclude that, but it would make it more difficult."

Mr. Perry demanded the previous question, and the demand was sustained.

Mrs. Gleason:

"I think you would, Representative Lind, if you had talked to people or case workers within these agencies. It is going to be a decision of the department, when anyone asks for help, whom they can take and whom they can't."

The Speaker called on Mr. Garrett to preside.

"Mr. Speaker, would Mr. Andersen yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Andersen, will you yield to question?"

Mr. Andersen (James A.):

"Yes."

Mr. Chatalas:

"Mr. Andersen, there is one thing I would like to ask. There was an objection to this, I believe, by the highway department. Has that been cleared up?"

Mr. Andersen:

"That is a good question. Representative Witherbee called the highway department and they withdrew any objections they had. On the other hand, Representative Huntley, who raised the point the other day, has given me a letter which was filed with him in which they expressed opposition to the passage of House Bill No. 89 and cited one bad experience with the California licensing law, which I consider completely ungermane. I think the highway department is sticking its nose into something that does not concern them at all. It has nothing to do with highway appropriations. These people to my knowledge have not come before the license committee which, I think, considered this on three separate occasions. I have never had the opportunity to discuss it with them. In brief, Representative Chatalas, I think their objection is completely ridiculous, has nothing to do with the bill, and that this isn't any of their business."

Mr. Olsen demanded the previous question, and the demand was not sustained.

Further debate ensued, Representative Miles speaking against passage of the bill, and Representative Perry speaking in its favor.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Andersen (James A.):

"Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. Andersen:

"My point of personal privilege is this: During the course of debate, I stated that so far as I knew the objections of the state highway commission had not been given to the license committee. Since I stated that, I find that the same objection I had seen, dated yesterday, had been given to the committee and the committee had seen fit to check with the highway commission which had withdrawn its objection."

MOTION

On motion of Mr. Litchman, Engrossed House Bill No. 89 was ordered transmitted immediately to the Senate.

House Bill No. 94, by Representatives Beierlein, Wang, and Bozarth (by Highway Interim Committee request):

Providing state aid to school districts for driver education courses.

Debate ensued, Representatives Beierlein, Wang, and Evans speaking in favor of passage of the bill, and Representative Gorton speaking against its passage.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Reese:

"Mr. Speaker, will Representative Beierlein yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Representative Beierlein, will you yield to question?"

Mr. Beierlein:

"I'll try."

Mr. Reese:

"Would you turn to page 2, line 23? Does this mean that parochial schools will get state aid for driver's education?"

Mr. Beierlein:

"Yes, I understand they will, although I am not sure about that at the moment. Perhaps someone else can answer your question."

The Speaker recognized Mr. Comfort.

Mr. Comfort:

"I believe I can answer that question, because I concerned myself with analyzing this matter. There will be no funds distributed to private schools, as I understand it. However, if there is a sufficient demand within the community from students who are not attending public schools, the school district will have to hold instruction after school hours or on Saturday. The funds will go directly to the public school system, but the services will be available to members attending private or parochial schools through the public schools."

Further debate ensued, Representative Reese speaking against passage of the bill, and Representatives Bozarth, Lybecker, Huntley, and Leland speaking for the measure.

Mr. Olsen demanded the previous question, and the demand was sustained.

EXPLANATIONS OF VOTE

I voted against House Bill No. 94 because I oppose subsidization of driver training costs from general school funds.

I am one hundred percent in favor of driver training to be paid for out of forfeitures, fines, and costs.

MARK LITCHMAN,
45th District.

The Speaker granted me permission to place in the record the reasons for my vote for House Bill No. 94, the Driver Training Bill.

My vote was to permit school districts to give a course in driver training in the secondary schools of the district, either during school hours or out of the school day. Part of the cost of the course to be paid for out of fine moneys to be distributed by the State Superintendent of Schools at about the rate of thirty dollars per student. Any additional cost of the course would have to be from tuition or paid for out of school district funds.

There is no question as to the fact that young people should be given some instruction in common sense driving. All people must be made to realize that when a person gets behind the wheel of an automobile they are in charge of a lethal weapon. Two hundred horses charging down the highway is a killing monster if not under control. Good judgment and understanding of how high speed is very difficult, almost impossible, to control in an emergency must be made apparent to all drivers of cars. Good manners and unselfishness are as important on the highway as on the sidewalk.

All of these things can be taught by word of mouth and visual aids. Respect for the rights of others and right social attitudes are taught in our schools from the kindergarten through the high school.

The fantastic claims made by the proponents of this measure are not possible even with the best of teachers and materials. However, if a small advance can be made in getting young and old to realize the tremendous responsibility driving an auto entails, then it may be worth the try.

I voted for this House Bill No. 94, but I hope school boards will put the course after school hours, on Saturdays, or in summer school. This is so that our high school students with an already overloaded schedule will not be loaded down with more work. Maybe driver education will help people to live longer, but if they have to sacrifice taking subjects which will help their lives to be more profitable, then will it be worth while?

I also hope that the difference in cost between the thirty dollars and what the course will actually cost will be paid for by the student. The school budget is already overburdened and I doubt if people would vote a special levy just for the course in "driver training", as valuable as it may be.

AUDLEY F. MAHAFFEY,
46th District.

Mr. Mundy:

Mr. O'Brien:

"Perhaps someone else will. All I want is information. Why, if this is such good legislation and everyone is for it, hasn't it been enacted in the past?"

Mr. Mundy:

"In my humble opinion, Representative O'Brien, it was because of the members of the legal profession who have sat in this body over the years."

Mr. O'Brien:

"Mr. Gorton, perhaps you could answer more fully. Could you also tell me how many states have similar types of legislation?"

Mr. Gorton:

"I cannot answer the latter question, but I am sure that with similar bills in the past, it has been the majority feeling in the Senate and House that the provisions were too stringent against the person who was borrowing, that he could lose his house too quickly. Now the period has been lengthened considerably in this bill."

Further debate ensued, Representatives Klein and Comfort speaking in favor of passage of the bill.

Mr. Kink demanded the previous question, and the demand was sustained.

The Speaker:

"Mr. Goldsworthy, will you yield to question?"

Mr. Goldsworthy:

"I suppose so."

Mr. Witherbee:

"I am curious. Is this disposal of real property or what is it?"

Mr. Goldsworthy:

"When the state aeronautics commission can get one of these airports, which they can get for nothing, there are two regulations set up, one by the state and one by the federal government, which are conflicting. The federal government says that if anything on the property, such as timber, is sold, the money has to be used for that particular airport, and the state regulation says that the money has to go into the general fund. This makes it possible to comply with the federal regulation so the money will go to the particular airport."

MR. SPEAKER:

We, a majority of your Committee on Constitution, Elections, and Apportionment, to whom was referred House Joint Resolution No. 14, prescribing sixty day residence requirement for presidential election, have had the same under consideration, and we respectfully report the same back to the House with the recommendation that it do pass with the following amendment:

Beginning on page 1, line 25, after "That" strike all the material down to and including the period on line 7, page 2, and insert the following: "persons meeting all qualifications for voting hereinbefore set forth except for residence may vote for presidential electors or for the offices of President and Vice President of the United States if they have been bona fide residents of the state of Washington for at least sixty days immediately preceding a presidential election under such terms and conditions as may be established by law."

SLADE GORTON, Chairman,

We concur in this report: Frank Buster Brouillet, Arlie U. DeJarnatt, Jack Dootson, Daniel J. Evans, Avery Garrett, Edward F. Harris, Joe D. Haussler, Elmer C. Huntley, Mrs. Joseph E. Hurley, Chet King, Dick J. Kink, Gus Lybecker, Bob McDougall, Drennan "Mac" McElroy, James L. McFadden, Jack Metcalf, Donald W. Moos, Joel M. Pritchard, Jack H. Rogers, Arnold S. Wang.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

The Speaker:

"Will you yield to question, Mrs. McCaffree?"

Mrs. McCaffree:

"Yes, Mr. Lind."

Mr. Lind:

"Mrs. McCaffree, I was wondering whether you could tell us how they propose to separate these votes for the presidential race from the other races on the ballot?"

Mrs. McCaffree:

"I think this would be set up by the county auditor's office. They would probably have to have paper ballots for this particular part of an election."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Smith:

"Mr. Speaker, would Mr. Gorton yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Gorton, will you yield to question?"

Mr. Gorton:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker."

Mr. Smith:

"Mr. Lind asked part of the question I wanted to know about. Am I right in my understanding that even though this were passed by a vote of the people, we would have to make a specific law setting up the mechanics of how it would be done?"

Mr. Gorton:

"Mr. Smith, you are entirely correct. This constitutional amendment is not self-executing. If it should pass next time, we would have to pass a law here in the legislature directing how this is to be done."

Further debate ensued, Representative Gorton speaking in favor of passage of the resolution, and Representative Witherbee speaking against its passage.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Ahlquist:

"Mr. Speaker, would Mr. Gorton yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Gorton, will you yield to question?"

Mr. Gorton:

"Yes."

Mr. Ahlquist:

"In case this were passed by the people and we in the legislature passed the rules under which these people would vote, I presume then it would be the duty of the state legislature to make a sufficient appropriation to each and every county to cover the additional expenses rather than putting on these counties a further burden as we have been doing for sessions on end?"

Mr. Gorton:

"Mr. Ahlquist, I expect the expense would be so small, it would be negligible. It would be a matter only of each county's printing a small number of paper ballots. I am sure we would not make an appropriation. It is impossible to estimate the cost, but it would be minimal."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Beck:

"Mr. Speaker, would Mr. Gorton yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Gorton, will you yield to another question?"

Mr. Gorton:

"I will, Mr. Speaker."

Mr. Beck:

"Mr. Gorton, what safeguards are there in this measure to prevent a person who has been living in this state for only sixty days from voting twice, here and back in his home district where he came from?"

Mr. Gorton:

"Exactly the same safeguards we have right now. There is a considerable problem. I know of one person who has reported to me that he is still registered in three different places in one county in the state of Washington because the auditors are not careful enough to remove his name from one place when he has moved to another. It would, of course, be a felony for a person to vote twice."

Further debate ensued, Representatives Gorton and Leland speaking in favor of passage of the resolution.

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed House Joint Resolution No. 14, and the resolution passed the House by the following vote: Yeas, 78; nays, 13; absent or not voting, 8.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Ackley, Andersen (James A.), Anderson (Eric O.), Backstrom, Beck, Beierlein, Berentson, Bigley, Bozarth, Brachtenbach, Braun, Brouillet, Burtch, Chatalas, Conner, Copeland, DeJarnatt, Dootson, Eberle, Eldridge, Evans, Flanagan, Folsom, Gallagher, Garrett, Gleason, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Grant, Hadley, Harris, Haussler,

MR. SPEAKER:

We, a majority of your Committee on Social Security and Public Assistance, to whom was referred House Bill No. 187, requiring deductions from a recipient's future public assistance payments when he fails to give timely notice of intention to leave rented premises, have had the same under consideration, and we respectfully report the same back to the House with the recommendation that it do pass with the following amendments:

On line 12, section 1, after "proper notice" and before the period insert ": Provided, That this section shall not be construed to require the department of public assistance to pay rent in those instances where pursuant to the provisions of Title 74 and the rules and regulations promulgated thereto, the department would not be required to include rent within the assistance grant"

On page 1, add new sections following section 1 as follows:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. If any portion or all of the foregoing section is found to be not in conformity with the federal social security act, such conflicting portion or section is hereby declared to be inoperative to the extent that it is so in conflict.

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. There is added to chapter 26, Laws of 1959 and to chapter 74.04 RCW a new section to read as follows:

"In any case where a person has been a recipient for six months or more and has failed to pay his rent for a period of sixty days, the owner of the premises may apply to the department for payment.

"Upon receipt of the application, the department shall investigate the circumstances and, if satisfied that rent is due and owing for a period of at least two months, shall thereupon pay the rent: Provided, That no more than one two-month rental period in any twelve-month period shall be paid by the department under this section.

"Any rental paid by the department under this section shall be deducted from future payments to the recipient: Provided, That no more than twenty percent of any payment to the recipient may be deducted for this purpose."

On lines 1 and 2, strike all of the title and insert the following: "AN ACT Relating to public assistance and adding new sections to chapter 26, Laws of 1959 and to chapter 74.04 RCW."

CHARLES E. NEWSCHWANDER, Chairman,
ROBERT F. BRACHTENBACH, Vice Chairman.

We concur in this report: H. Maurice Ahlquist, Eric O. Anderson, C. W. "Red" Beck, Thomas L. Copeland, Mrs. Marian C. Gleason, Mrs. Joseph E. Hurley, Harry B. Lewis, Marjorie Lynch, W. J. O'Connell.

Mr. Newschwander moved that the committee amendments be not adopted.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Schaefer:

"Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask Dr. Newschwander a question."

The Speaker:

"Dr. Newschwander, will you yield to question?"

Mr. Newschwander:

"Yes, sir."

Mr. Schaefer:

"Has the committee considered at all these new amendments we have on our desks?"

Mr. Newschwander:

"No, sir."

Mr. Schaefer:

"Then do you know how the committee would feel about them?"

Mr. Newschwander:

"I have talked to the people and they are willing to go along with it."

Mr. Schaefer:

"All the people?"

Mr. Newschwander:

"The majority of the people on the committee."

Debate ensued, Representatives Newschwander, Canfield, and Leland speaking in favor of the motion to not adopt the committee amendments, and Representative Witherbee speaking against the motion.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Witherbee:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Witherbee:

"Perhaps this should be a parliamentary inquiry. We had a 'do pass' report come out of committee with certain amendments. Now the chairman of the committee comes before the House and asks us not to pass the committee amendments. Doesn't this actually negate the 'do pass' report, unless we had another one out of the committee? This is reversing the entire action of the committee. I would like to have a ruling on that, Mr. Speaker."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"The House has the prerogative to accept or reject any committee amendment. I rule that the committee amendments are properly before us for acceptance or rejection. The motion may be a negative motion, but the committee amendments are properly before us as they were on the bill when it was signed out 'do pass'. The motion is in order."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Rosenberg:

"Mr. Speaker, point of parliamentary inquiry."

The Speaker:

"State your point of parliamentary inquiry."

Mr. Rosenberg:

"Would not another motion to adopt the committee amendments have precedence over the negative motion?"

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"The answer to that is yes. However, no one has made such a motion."

MOTION

Miss O'Donnell moved that House Bill No. 187 be rereferred to the Committee on Social Security and Public Assistance.

Debate ensued, Representative O'Donnell speaking in favor of the motion, and Representative Newschwander speaking against the motion.

Mr. Chatalas demanded an electric roll call, and the demand was sustained.

Further debate ensued, Representatives Litchman and Beierlein speaking in favor of the motion, and Representative Johnston speaking against the motion.

Mr. Olsen demanded the previous question, and the demand was sustained.

The Clerk called the roll on the motion to rerefer House Bill No. 187 to the Committee on Social Security and Public Assistance, and the motion was lost by the following vote: Yeas, 41; nays, 47; absent or not voting, 11.

PRESENTATION OF GAVELS

The Speaker appointed Representatives Lynch and Swayze to escort the Speaker Pro Tem, Miss Ella Wintler, to the rostrum.

The Speaker recognized within the bar of the House former State Representative Frank C. Jackson from King county, and appointed Representatives Odell and McCaffree to escort him to a seat on the rostrum.

Mr. Jackson:

"Mr. Speaker, members of the House of Representatives of the state of Washington, I feel it is a real honor and privilege to come here today and to say a few words and to perform a duty which I have enjoyed in times past. I was a member of the 1907 House and I think there is only one other man, Harry Rhodes of Seattle, who is a survivor of that House. I get no satisfaction from that; I wish there were many who still survived. In the 1909 session, I sought the speakership, but I didn't quite make it. I then became the chairman of a caucus and floor leader of fifty-one members of the House, and I was optimistic enough to think maybe I had done better than being Speaker. Anyway, I rationalized it that way.

"I feel that as I grow older I value more and more the experiences I had with the legislature. I want to make one suggestion. I have here a manual of the 1961 session which was presented to me. I am sorry I don't have available copies of every manual and journal and other information that I ought to have saved. May I suggest to you that you value these things, because some day you will want to refer to them and you will want some of the information they contain. May I urge you to save them.

"However, I did not come here to make a speech. I am a little embarrassed just now, because I have two gifts and I am perplexed as to whether to present the one to the lady first or to the Speaker, who of course is the highest in rank. The Speaker has very gallantly said to the lady first, so I will take pleasure in doing that.

"Miss Wintler, I want to congratulate you, my good friend, as the Speaker Pro Tem of this House. You have been honored, and I think you richly deserve it. Twenty-five years—think of it—representing her district and coming down here. I think that it is a record and I am proud that we have women in our legislature. It gives me great pleasure, today, to present to you a gavel which to me is a symbol of the high office to which you have been elected and a tool which you will use as you preside, and, I hope, a keepsake which you will treasure and hand down to others. I want to say to you that this gavel was made in the free enterprise shop of J. W. Wheeler, a good friend of mine. I used to make them myself for many years, but I had to abandon that when I sold my big house, so I have had to depend on others. It gives me great pleasure to present this to you today."

Miss Wintler:

"Thank you very much."

Mr. Jackson:

"Mr. Speaker, you, sir, are in your third session and second extra session. Maybe if I had waited three sessions and two extra sessions, it might have been easier for me to be elected Speaker back there. I believe this is the highest honor that any man serving in the legislature can receive because he is elected by the majority of the members of the House of Representatives. I think you deserve this high honor and credit for being so elected. I wish you well, as I wish Miss Wintler well. It gives me great pleasure, and I feel it is an honor, to hand you this gavel which is inscribed with a silver band with your name and office on it. I trust it will be a symbol of the responsibilities and honors of your office. I think you have performed well in this position, and I admire you for your excellent operation in carrying on the procedures of this House. I hope you may continue to serve well."

The Speaker:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Jackson. This is a beautiful thing and I am sure it will be cherished and kept as an honored symbol of this office."

The Speaker directed the committees of honor to escort Miss Wintler and Mr. Jackson from the rostrum.

RESOLUTIONS

Resolution by Representative Savage:

WHEREAS, Miss Sandra Lee Tibeau, a native daughter of the State of Washington, is National Dairy Princess; and

WHEREAS, Miss Tibeau earlier this month thrilled the House of Representatives with an inspiring speech in behalf of the dairy industry; and

WHEREAS, It was reported by radio this morning that Miss Tibeau was injured yesterday evening in an auto accident on her way to keep another speaking engagement in California as Dairy Princess;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, By the House of Representatives, that we hereby express our best wishes to Miss Tibeau for a speedy and happy recovery from such injuries as she may have sustained; and

Be It Further Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives shall forthwith forward to Miss Tibeau a copy of this resolution.

On motion of Mr. Savage, the resolution was adopted.

Resolution by Representatives Morphis, Litchman, and Ackley:

WHEREAS, Reverend David A. Neufeld, a Seventh Day Adventist minister, appeared and spoke at a House hearing on February 19, 1963 in opposition to Senate Bill 175 which would prohibit retail sales on Sunday; and

WHEREAS, On the morning of February twenty-third, less than one week after so speaking, the Central Seventh Day Adventist Church in Seattle valued at $175,000 was totally destroyed by fires which were set in three different places; and

WHEREAS, Every indication is that the fires were set by arsonists yet still unknown; and

WHEREAS, The right of all Americans to speak out freely in favor or against any measure without fear of reprisal to their person or property is a cornerstone upon which our republic was founded; and

WHEREAS, Reprisals against or intimidation of public-minded persons who speak or desire to speak before our legislative hearings would tend to frighten our citizens from speaking freely before such hearings; and

WHEREAS, Testimony freely given at legislative hearings is extremely valuable in enabling members of the legislature to ascertain the desires of the people they represent;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, By the House of Representatives, that the State Fire Marshal, the Chief of Police and the Chief of the Fire Department of the City of Seattle, and the Board Against Discrimination are authorized and directed and the Federal Bureau of Investigation is requested to make an investigation into the possibility of any relationship between the appearance of The Reverend David A. Neufeld and his speaking in opposition to Senate Bill 175 which would prohibit retail sales on Sunday and the subsequent destruction of the Central Seventh Day Adventist Church by fires of an incendiary origin; and

Be It Further Resolved, That the State Fire Marshal, the Chief of Police and the Chief of the Fire Department of the City of Seattle, and the Board Against Discrimination are directed and the Federal Bureau of Investigation is requested to report their findings as soon as possible to the House of Representatives.

Mr. Morphis moved adoption of the resolution.

Mr. Moos moved that the resolution be laid on the table.

The motion was carried on a rising vote.

Resolution by Representatives Juelling, Backstrom, and Reese:

WHEREAS, The various agencies of this state have requested travel expenses amounting to fourteen million, seven hundred eight thousand three hundred eighty-eight dollars; and

WHEREAS, This requested sum represents an increase of almost three million dollars over the amount of travel expense budgeted for the 1959-1961 biennium and approximately one million five hundred thousand dollars over the amount of travel expense budgeted for this current biennium; and

WHEREAS, Such increases in travel expense appear to be unwarranted particularly in view of the critical financial situation of state government; and

WHEREAS, A thirty percent reduction in the travel expense request of the various state agencies, except the state patrol, whose travel budget also includes normal patrol operations, would result in an overall reduction in the governor's budget of three million nine hundred fifty-five thousand seven hundred sixty-six dollars, of which approximately two and four-tenths million dollars would accrue to the state general fund;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, By the House of Representatives, that in its deliberations on the budget bill for the 1963-1965 biennium, the House Ways and Means Committee shall adopt and recommend to this body a thirty percent cut in the travel allowance of each agency except the state patrol.

Mr. Jueling moved adoption of the resolution.

Mr. Burtch moved that the House defer further consideration of the resolution, and that the resolution be ordered to hold its place on the calendar of the next working day.

Debate ensued, Representatives Burtch and Canfield speaking in favor of the motion to defer consideration.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Ackley:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Ackley:

"My point of order is that this resolution is out of order. It is contrary to House rules, and the committee procedure which is established by the House rules, which requires that bills on first reading be sent to a committee and reported back out by a committee, and, then, the House, if it wishes, may make amendments. Now, this is an entirely different procedure from what we are used to in this House. If we in the House can adopt a resolution directing a committee as to what action it will take, this will burden our process further. This would set a dangerous precedent to allow members to introduce resolutions directing committees how to act on bills that are before them. I think the resolution is out of order, and I ask the Speaker for a ruling."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"This resolution would not have the force of law. It is a floor resolution. It would be a recommendation to the committee, Mr. Ackley. The resolution is in order."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Brouillet:

"Mr. Speaker, would Mr. Jueling yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Representative Jueling, will you yield to question?"

Mr. Jueling:

"Yes."

Mr. Brouillet:

"Mr. Jueling, if some of us support your resolution and additional moneys are made available for education, I assume that you will withdraw your opposition to House Bill No. 269 and put your name on the committee report."

Mr. Jueling:

"You and I have a different philosophy of government, Mr. Brouillet. You spend the money and then find the money, and I like to find the money and then spend it."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Litchman:

"Mr. Speaker, will Mr. Jueling yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Jueling, will you yield to question?"

Mr. Jueling:

"Yes."

Mr. Litchman:

"I appreciate the fact that you are extremely interested in cutting costs where they can be cut, and perhaps I will support your resolution. I don't serve on the Ways and Means Committee and I don't think that within a day I will be able to vote properly on this matter. Why isn't this matter being taken up in Ways and Means Committee, rather than on the floor of the House? Is there any particular reason to air this in public today or tomorrow or the next day?"

Mr. Jueling:

"No particular reason except we thought this would probably be the best way to call it to the attention of everybody."

MOTION

Mr. Klein moved that the resolution by Representatives Jueling, Backstrom, and Reese be referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Jueling:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Jueling:

"Does Mr. Burtch have a motion before the House?"

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"Yes, the first motion is the motion by Mr. Burtch. His motion is in order, and the other motion is not in order."

Mr. Grant demanded the previous question on the motion by Mr. Burtch to defer consideration of the resolution, and the demand was sustained.

The motion was carried.

Mr. Burtch:

"Yes. If you will read RCW 46.20.250, you will find that when you have forfeited bail for a charge of drunken driving, and then get subsequent convictions for drunken driving, that prior forfeiture will act as a prior conviction for the purpose of imposing penalties. This is already in the law. My amendment clarifies it so that your forfeiture of bail will not act as an original conviction."

"Mr. Burtch, will you yield to another question?"

"Mr. Burtch, is the effect of your amendment such that there would not only be a suspension of the license suspension while the appeal is going on, but even if the conviction is sustained and there was a suspension for one year, that one-year period would then relate back to the original conviction, so the man may not have any actual suspension at all, or does your amendment say that the suspension would begin on the day on which the appeal was denied?"

Mr. Burtch:

"That is right. The suspension will begin on the day the appeal was denied. It is exactly the same as the last part of RCW 46.56.150."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Young:

"Mr. Speaker, point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. Young:

"The cigars and chocolates recently distributed were in appreciation of the small bill which was passed with my signature on it last Saturday. The cigars and candy were not produced in the Forty-third districts, but in neighboring districts. I will say that the page who distributed the products is a home-grown product of the Forty-third, our daughter, Karen."

MOTION

On motion of Mr. Copeland, the House recessed until 11:15 a. m.

SECOND MORNING SESSION

The Speaker called the House to order at 11:15 a. m.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The Speaker recognized Mr. Smith.

Mr. Smith:

"Mr. Speaker, I rose before the bill was referred to Rules to ask whether this simple little housekeeping bill couldn't be boosted. I was going to ask the question while it was before us. I think you understood what I was going to do."

The Speaker:

"It is in Rules now."

Senate Bill No. 92, by Senators Riley, Mardesich, and Dore: Extending daylight saving time.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

Mr. Rosenberg moved adoption of the following amendment:

On line 9, after "[September]" and before "in" strike "October" and insert "August"

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Rogers:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Rogers:

"I rise to a point of order on the amendment offered by Representative Rosenberg. The Constitution of the state of Washington says that no amendment shall change the scope and object of a bill. Now Representative Rosenberg's amendment exactly reverses the scope and object of this bill. The object of this bill is to extend daylight saving time. The amendment would limit daylight saving time. I think it is an unquestionable violation of the state Constitution."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"No, sir. The intent of the bill is to set a new termination date for daylight saving time and all this does is to alter it in a different direction. It is within the prerogative of the House to set the termination date at any time it may wish. I rule the amendment is in order."

Debate ensued, Representatives Rosenberg and Moos speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment, and Representatives Litchman, Clark, Young, Lybecker, and Andersen (James A.) speaking against its adoption.

Mr. Eldridge demanded the previous question, and the demand was sustained.

Mr. Ackley demanded an electric roll call, and the demand was sustained.

The Clerk called the roll on the adoption of the amendment by Mr. Rosenberg. The motion was lost, and the amendment was not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 22, nays 70; absent or not voting, 7.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Bozarth, Braun, Brouillet, Earley, Flanagan, Folsom, Goldsworthy, Hadley, Hood, Huntley, Jolly, King, McElroy, McFadden, Moon, Moos, Morphis, O'Connell, Reese, Rosenberg, Savage, Siler—22.

Engrossed Senate Bill No. 120, by Senators Henry, Peterson, and Greive: Regulating optometry.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Mr. Rogers, the following amendment was adopted:

On page 2, section 3, beginning on line 5 after "board" and before "an appointee's" on line 6, strike "in the middle of" and insert "during"

Mr. Rogers moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 3, section 9, line 16, strike the period following "board" and insert "Provided, However, That the board's rule making power shall be limited in its regulatory activities to the provisions of the optometry board act."

Debate ensued, Representatives Rogers and Adams speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Klein:

"I would like to ask the chairman of the committee or Mr. Rogers whether it isn't rather obvious that this is the situation regardless of the addition of your proposed amendment. Obviously they can't make regulations in regard to other matters. I see no reason for such language. It looks to me as if this were something in the nature of the preceding amendment, when Dr. Adams was talking about dilatory action, where you may have cleaned up the English a little bit but did nothing to affect the subsequent nature of the bill."

Mr. Rogers:

"Answering Mr. Klein's question, this amendment simply ties down the regulatory powers of the duly created board so the board cannot go beyond the provisions of the law nor can they make rules or regulations which would be a repeal of the present law."

MOTION

On motion of Mr. Rogers, the House deferred further consideration of Senate Bill No. 120 on second reading, and the bill was ordered placed at the end of today's second reading calendar.

Senate Bill No. 157, by Senators Gissberg and Mardesich:

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Copeland:

"Mr. Speaker, point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. Copeland:

"This morning, ladies and gentlemen, there was placed on your desks a can of peas from the fair valley of Walla Walla, and I thought this might be an opportunity to brighten your day. These peas were delivered to Representative Ahlquist and me by visiting members from our Chamber of Commerce as an extension of our friendship and as a courtesy to all our pea-picking friends."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Ahlquist:

"Mr. Speaker, I wish to rise to a point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. Ahlquist:

"I wish to concur in the remarks of Representative Copeland. I think you all saw the movie here at the beginning of this session showing Representative Copeland in the pea operation. Undoubtedly these peas are not only from the Walla Walla Chamber of Commerce and our very fine territory, but they might also have been grown on the land of our representative."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Kink:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. Kink:

"I wish to call attention to the cans of salmon, cigars, and candy which have been passed out with the compliments of the Puget Sound Salmon Cannery Association and others in appreciation of the passage of House Bill 404 a few days ago."

Senate Bill No. 291, by Senators Washington, Hess, and Raugust (by departmental request):

Permitting change in sign designation of state highway routes.

Engrossed Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 6, by Senator Greive:

Providing for investigation of political campaign contributions.

House of Representatives,
Olympia, Wash., February 20, 1963.

MR. SPEAKER:

We, a majority of your Committee on Constitution, Elections, and Apportionment, to whom was referred Engrossed Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 6, providing for investigation of political campaign contributions, have had the same under consideration, and we respectfully report the same back to the House with the recommendation that it do pass with the following amendment:

Beginning on page 1, line 5, strike the remainder of the concurrent resolution and substitute the following:

"Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, By the Senate, the House of Representatives concurring, that the Legislative Council shall explore and evaluate the existence, nature and operation of political campaign contributions to individual candidates and groups of candidates, including contributions and funds raised by individuals, political parties, subdivisions and committees thereof, lobbyists, individuals and committees independent of political parties, and including contributions and funds raised and/or disbursed by incumbent officeholders and candidates for public office, and contributions and funds from all other groups which attempt to influence partisan elections or legislation, including contributions raised by fund-raising dinners and by any other means; and

"Be It Further Resolved, That all candidates for any partisan federal, state and state legislative office in the state of Washington voted upon in the 1960 and 1962 primary and general elections, as well as all other individuals and groups enumerated in the foregoing paragraph are requested to cooperate with the Legislative Council, and to disclose to the Council such knowledge as they may possess concerning such funds and contributions; and

"Be It Further Resolved, That the Legislative Council shall report to the Thirty-ninth Legislature its findings and recommendations, which report shall be a public document."

SLADE GORTON, Chairman,
MARY ELLEN McCAFFREE, Vice Chairman.

We concur in this report: Frank Buster Brouillet, Damon R. Canfield, Thomas L. Copeland, Arlie U. DeJarnatt, Jack Dootson, Daniel J. Evans, Avery Garrett, Edward F. Harris, Mrs. Joseph E. Hurley, Gus Lybecker, Bob McDougall, Drennan "Mac" McElroy, James L. McFadden, Jack Metcalf, Donald W. Moos, Charles E. Newschwander, W. J. O'Connell, Robert A. Perry, Joel M. Pritchard, Jack H. Rogers, Arnold S. Wang.

Mr. Gorton moved adoption of the committee amendment.

The resolution was read the second time in full.

Mr. Litchman moved adoption of the following amendment to the committee amendment:

On line 19 after "means" and before "; and" insert "and to inquire into the expenditures of private power interests for lobbying expenses and campaign contributions, and whether said expenses are considered as costs of doing business in obtaining rate increases from the public service commission"

Debate ensued, Representative Litchman speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment to the amendment.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. McCormick:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. McCormick:

"Mr. Speaker, he is not speaking on this amendment."

The Speaker:

"Mr. Litchman, please confine your remarks to the amendment."

Further debate ensued, Representative Litchman completing his argument, and Representative Gorton speaking against adoption of the amendment to the amendment.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Litchman:

"Mr. Speaker, I wonder if Mr. Gorton would yield to a question?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Gorton, will you yield to question?"

Mr. Gorton:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker."

Mr. Litchman:

"Mr. Gorton, in all deference to you and your committee, I don't see anything in here which goes beyond an investigation of candidates for public office. My amendment would go beyond, and would include investigation into other matters pertaining, perhaps, to officials. Am I incorrect? Would this also apply to any influence attempted to be made on the governor, secretary of state, or public service commission?"

Mr. Gorton:

"Mr. Litchman, as I said in my previous speech, this whole matter came up in the Senate over a problem relating to campaign contributions. Everyone knows this is one of the major and serious problems in society. What we have here is the broadest possible resolution dealing with campaign contributions. To try to include six or eight other things relating to one industry's rate structures within the civil service commission is simply absurd. If you want the legislative council to discuss these matters, you can put a resolution in for that purpose."

Further debate ensued, Representatives Perry and Leland speaking against adoption of the amendment to the amendment, and Representatives Klein and Ackley speaking in favor of its adoption.

Mr. Moos demanded the previous question.

With the consent of the House, Mr. Litchman withdrew his amendment to the amendment.

Mr. Litchman moved adoption of the following amendment to the committee amendment:

On line 19 after "means" and before "; and" insert "and to inquire into the expenditures of lobbying groups for lobbying expenses, campaign contributions, obtaining rate increases, and whether said expenses are considered as costs of doing business in obtaining rate increases from the public service commission."

Debate ensued, Representative Litchman speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment to the amendment, and Representative Gorton speaking against its adoption.

Mr. Eldridge demanded the previous question, and the demand was sustained.

Mr. Litchman demanded an electric roll call, and the demand was sustained.

The Clerk called the roll on adoption of the amendment by Mr. Litchman to the committee amendment. The motion was lost, and the amendment to the committee amendment was not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 34; nays, 57; absent or not voting, 8.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Ackley, Anderson (Eric O.), Backstrom, Beck, Beierlein, Bigley, Bozarth, Braun, Brouillet, Burtch, Chatalas, DeJarnatt, Dootson, Gallagher, Garrett, Grant, Haussler, Henry, Jolly, Klein, Litchman, McFadden, Moon, Mundy, O'Brien, O'Donnell, Olsen, Rosenberg, Savage, Schaefer, Smith, Taylor, Uhlman, Wedekind—34.

Those voting nay were: Representatives Adams, Ahlquist, Andersen (James A.), Berentson, Brachtenbach, Clark, Comfort, Conner, Copeland, Earley, Eberle, Eldridge, Evans, Flanagan, Folsom, Gleason, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Hadley, Harris, Hawley, Hood, Huntley, Hurley, Johnston, Juelling, King, Kink, Kirk, Leland, Lewis, Lind, Lybecker, Lynch, Mahaffey, Mast, May, McCaffree, McCormick, McDougall, McElroy, Metcalf, Miles, Moos, Morphis, Morrissey, O'Connell, Odell, Perry, Pritchard, Reese, Siler, Swayze, Wang, Wintler, Young, Mr. Speaker—57.

Those absent or not voting were: Representatives Bergh, Campbell, Canfield, Herr, Newschwander, Rogers, Sawyer, Witherbee—8.

Mr. Rogers moved adoption of the following amendment to the committee amendment:

On line 5 after "concurring, that" strike the remainder of the amendment and insert the following: "there is created a commission to investigate campaign expenditures to explore and evaluate the existence, nature, and operation of political campaign contributions whether to an individual or group of candidates, including contributions and funds raised by any political party or subdivision or committee thereof, lobbyists or those representing matters before the Legislature, who shall not be protected by their professional confidences, or by any committee independent of any political party or by industry or by labor, and including contributions raised by fund raising dinners and by all other means together with lists of donors and/or ticket purchasers; the three members of the Commission shall consist of the heads of the political science departments of the University of Washington and Washington State University and one justice of the Supreme Court to be selected by majority vote of the Supreme Court justices; and

"Be It Further Resolved, That all candidates for any partisan federal, state and state legislative office in the state of Washington voted upon in the 1960 and 1962 primary and general elections, as well as all other individuals and groups enumerated in the foregoing paragraph are requested to cooperate with the Commission, and to disclose to the Commission such knowledge as they may possess concerning such funds and contributions; and

"Be It Further Resolved, That the Legislative Council shall work in cooperation with the Commission and shall provide necessary funds for its operations from its regular appropriation to enable the Commission to report to the Thirty-ninth Legislature its findings and recommendations, which report shall be a public document."

Debate ensued, Representative Rogers speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment to the amendment.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Hood:

"Mr. Speaker, would Representative Rogers yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Rogers, will you yield to question?"

Mr. Rogers:

"Yes."

Mr. Hood:

"Mr. Rogers, there are two things about your amendment that I am curious about. Do you know the names of the heads of the departments of political science, and do you know their party affiliations?"

Mr. Rogers:

"Mr. Speaker, I am going to reveal that I am most ignorant and unbiased. I know that Professor Hugh Bone is head of the political science department at the University of Washington. I have a daughter who is attending that school and I happen to know that man's name. Now, I do not know the head of the department at Washington State University at Pullman, and of course the supreme court justices are nonpartisan. The political affiliations of the other men I know nothing about."

Further debate ensued, Representative Gorton speaking against adoption of the amendment to the amendment, and Representative Dootson speaking in its favor.

Mr. Moos demanded the previous question, and the demand was sustained.

Miss O'Donnell demanded an electric roll call, and the demand was sustained.

The Clerk called the roll on the adoption of the amendment by Mr. Rogers to the committee amendment. The motion was lost, and the amendment to the committee amendment was not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 41; nays, 54; absent or not voting, 4.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Ackley, Anderson (Eric O.), Backstrom, Beck, Beierlein, Bigley, Bozarth, Braun, Brouillet, Burtch, Campbell, Chatalas, Conner, DeJarnatt, Dootson, Gallagher, Garrett, Gleason, Grant, Haussler, Henry, Herr, Jolly, Klein, Litchman, May, McElroy, McFadden, Moon, Mundy, O'Brien, O'Donnell, Olsen, Rogers, Rosenberg, Savage, Sawyer, Schaefer, Smith, Taylor, Wedekind—41.

Those voting nay were: Representatives Adams, Ahlquist, Andersen (James A.), Berentson, Bergh, Brachtenbach, Clark, Comfort, Copeland, Earley, Eberle, Eldridge, Evans, Flanagan, Folsom, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Hadley, Harris, Hawley, Hood, Huntley, Hurley, Johnston, Jueling, King, Kink, Kirk, Leland, Lewis, Lind, Lybecker, Lynch, Mahaffey, Mast, McCaffree, McCormick, McDougall, Metcalf, Miles, Moos, Morphis, Morrissey, O'Connell, Odell, Perry, Pritchard, Reese, Siler, Swayze, Wang, Wintler, Young, Mr. Speaker—54.

Those absent or not voting were: Representatives Canfield, Newschwander, Uhlman, Witherbee—4.

The Speaker declared the question before the House to be the adoption of the committee amendment to Engrossed Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 6.

Debate ensued, Representative Gorton speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Klein:

"Mr. Speaker, will Mr. Gorton yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Gorton, will you yield to question?"

Mr. Gorton:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker."

Mr. Klein:

"Mr. Gorton, speaking of the bipartisan nature of the legislative council, is it fair to assume it will be about as bipartisan as the Rules Committee, which is composed of eighteen members, only four of which are regular Democrats? Will there be the same proportions?"

Mr. Gorton:

"Mr. Klein, I don't have the appointments to the council from either house. The way I count it, the Rules Committee is composed of nine members from each party. If you check the statute books, you will see that ten of the twenty-one members of the council are appointed by the Senate, over which we have no control, and the others by the House, but that there shall be no more than twelve members from any political party."

Further debate ensued, Representative Beck speaking against adoption of the committee amendment.

Mr. Ackley moved adoption of the following amendment to the committee amendment:

Beginning on line 5, after "that" strike "the Legislative Council" and insert "a committee composed of eight members, two of which shall be selected by each respective party caucus of the senate and the house"

Debate ensued, Representative Ackley speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment to the amendment.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

The Speaker recognized Representative O'Donnell.

Miss O'Donnell:

"Mr. Speaker, I wonder if the former chairman of the legislative council, Mr. O'Brien, would yield to a question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield to question, Mr. O'Brien?"

Mr. O'Brien:

"Yes, I will, Mr. Speaker."

Miss O'Donnell:

"Mr. O'Brien, do you think the legislative council could do an adequate investigative job in relation to this?"

Mr. O'Brien:

"Under normal operating conditions they could. We, like many others on the Democratic side here, are a little concerned that perhaps the legislative council won't be set up in the true bipartisan spirit under which it has operated in the past. Of course, I believe that Mr. Rogers' amendment had a great deal of merit, because, certainly, by bringing in an outside committee, you have people looking at this objectively and impartially. There is no question about it."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Andersen (James A.):

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Andersen:

"My point of order is that I would remind Mr. O'Brien, as he reminded me the other day, that he is not speaking in answer to the question posed to him."

Mr. O'Brien:

"Well, Mr. Andersen, I didn't complete my answer to Miss O'Donnell. I was interrupted, and of course, Mr. Andersen, I tried to secure the floor previously and wasn't able to. But in direct answer to the question, Mr. Andersen, the legislative council could do it, but also it would be well if the legislative council were to appoint a commission. That has been done in the past. We have had advisory groups on special projects. This would be a special project of tremendous importance to the people of our state, because certainly campaign expenditures are going way out of line. It costs too much money to run for office and to get people elected to public office today. There should be some limitation. The legislative council has gone into this field previously, but we haven't been successful in having our recommendations adopted. I think you need a fresh look at it, and an outside commission working under the legislative council, it seems to me, would be far more effective than the legislative council doing it themselves. With the legislators involved, you and I both know there is going to be selfishness and concern by the members who get on this special committee of the legislative council to conduct this examination. Certainly, I don't think you are going to get a true picture by having the legislative council do it, because of the factor which is involved—that the council could be dominated by the coalition and Republicans and you wouldn't have impartiality at all. You would have personality factors becoming involved and other things. All of us who have conducted examinations know that you can run them along a certain vein. So I believe the legislative council could do the job, but I firmly believe that an outside commission could do it a lot better."

Mr. Kink demanded the previous question, and the demand was sustained.

Mr. Gallagher demanded an electric roll call, and the demand was sustained.

The Clerk called the roll on adoption of the amendment by Mr. Ackley to the committee amendment. The motion was lost, and the amendment to the committee amendment was not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 42; nays, 53; absent or not voting, 4.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Ackley, Anderson (Eric O.), Backstrom, Beck, Beierlein, Bergh, Bigley, Bozarth, Brouillet, Burtch, Campbell, Chatalas, Conner, DeJarnatt, Dootson, Gallagher, Garrett, Gleason, Grant, Haussler, Henry, Herr, Jolly, Klein, Litchman, May, McElroy, McFadden, Moon, Mundy, O'Brien, O'Donnell, Olsen, Rogers, Rosenberg, Savage, Sawyer, Schaefer, Smith, Taylor, Uhlman, Wedekind—42.

Those voting nay were: Representatives Adams, Ahlquist, Andersen (James A.), Berentson, Brachtenbach, Braun, Clark, Comfort, Copeland, Earley, Eberle, Eldridge, Evans, Flanagan, Folsom, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Hadley, Harris, Hawley, Hood, Huntley, Hurley, Johnston, Jueling, King, Kink, Kirk, Leland, Lewis, Lind, Lybecker, Lynch, Mahaffey, McCaffree, McCormick, McDougall, Metcalf, Miles, Moos, Morphis, Morrissey, O'Connell, Odell, Perry, Pritchard, Reese, Siler, Swayze, Wang, Wintler, Young, Mr. Speaker—53.

Those absent or not voting were: Representatives Canfield, Mast, Newschwander, Witherbee—4.

The Speaker declared the question before the House to be the adoption of the committee amendment to Engrossed Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 6.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Smith:

"Mr. Speaker, would Mr. Gorton yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Gorton, will you yield to question?"

Mr. Gorton:

"Yes."

Mr. Smith:

"Using the legislative council as a investigating agency, do you know approximately how much it would cost the council to do a thorough job? Could that job be done within its present appropriation or would a special appropriation have to be made for that purpose?"

Mr. Gorton:

"I think Mr. O'Brien answered your question pretty well. He thought the council could do well if he were chairman. I think they could do it right."

Mr. Smith:

"In other words, the appropriation would not be increased?"

Mr. Gorton:

"That is correct."

Mr. Eldridge demanded the previous question, and the demand was sustained.

Mr. Grant demanded an electric roll call, and the demand was sustained.

The Clerk called the roll on the adoption of the committee amendment to Engrossed Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 6. The motion was carried, and the amendment was adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 68, nays, 28; absent or not voting, 3.

Those absent or not voting were: Representatives Canfield, Newschwander, Witherbee—3.

Mr. Gorton moved that the rules be suspended, Engrossed Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 6, as amended by the House, be advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill be placed on final passage.

Mr. Perry demanded an electric roll call and the demand was sustained.

The Clerk called the roll on the motion to advance Engrossed Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 6, as amended by the House, to third reading and final passage, and the motion was carried by the following vote: Yeas, 92; nays, 4; absent or not voting, 3.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Adams, Ahlquist, Andersen (James A.), Anderson (Eric O.), Backstrom, Beck, Beierlein, Berentson, Bergh, Bigley, Bozarth, Brachtenbach, Braun, Brouillet, Campbell, Chatalas, Clark, Comfort, Conner, Copeland, DeJarnatt, Dootson, Earley, Eberle, Eldridge, Evans, Flanagan, Folsom, Gallagher, Garrett, Gleason, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Hadley, Harris, Haussler, Hawley, Henry, Herr, Hood, Huntley, Hurley, Johnston, Jolly, Juelling, King, Kink, Kirk, Klein, Leland, Lewis, Lind, Litchman, Lybecker, Lynch, Mahaffey, Mast, May, McCaffree, McCormick, McDougall, McElroy, McFadden, Metcalf, Miles, Moon, Moos, Morphis, Morrissey, Mundy, O'Brien, O'Connell, Odell, O'Donnell, Olsen, Perry, Pritchard, Reese, Rogers, Rosenberg, Savage, Sawyer, Schaefer, Siler, Smith, Swayze, Taylor, Wang, Wedekind, Wintler, Young, Mr. Speaker—92.

Those voting nay were: Representatives Ackley, Burtch, Grant, Uhlman—4.

Those absent or not voting were: Representatives Canfield, Newschwander, Witherbee—3.

The Speaker declared the question before the House to be Engrossed Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 6, as amended by the House, on third reading and final passage.

Mr. Eldridge demanded the previous question, and the demand was not sustained on a rising vote.

Mr. Eldridge demanded an electric roll call, and the demand was sustained.

Debate ensued, Representative Savage speaking against adoption of the resolution.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Copeland:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Copeland:

"Mr. Savage has wandered far afield on the subject matter at hand. I suggest he confine his remarks to Engrossed Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 6.

The Speaker:

"Your point is well taken."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Savage:

"I would like to ask a point of information from the gentleman on the floor, Mr. Copeland."

"I have answered your question. This bill was an innocent bystander in the shooting. The bill should stand on its own legs, and the bill itself is all right. They sent it over here and let's not send it back. I don't think they'd shoot at it any more, but nevertheless, I don't think it is necessary to send it back just to correct one word."

On page 1, section 1, line 12, after the period following "frequency" and before "The director" insert "Said point system shall be weighted upon convictions for the following violations: Speed—too fast for conditions; negligent driving reduced from drunken or reckless; negligent driving; hit and run (unattended vehicle); passing stopped school bus; violating license restrictions; any individual violation that has resulted directly in an accident."

Debate ensued, Representative Berentson speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment, and Representative Beierlein speaking against its adoption.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Rosenberg:

"Will Mr. Berentson yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Berentson, will you yield to question?"

Mr. Berentson:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker."

Mr. Rosenberg:

"Mr. Berentson, as I understand this amendment, this would restrict the accumulation of points under these specific violations?"

Mr. Berentson:

"Yes. In effect, what we have done is remove from the list of violations that could accumulate points, certain things, such as being apprehended for exceeding the speed limit in small city speed traps, or perhaps going five or ten miles over the limit. We feel that this would remove the nuisance factor from the bill."

Further debate ensued, Representatives Rosenberg and Evans speaking against adoption of the amendment, and Representatives Ackley, Schaefer, and Comfort speaking for its adoption.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Bozarth:

"Mr. Speaker, will Mr. Huntley yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Huntley, will you yield to question?"

Mr. Huntley:

"I yield."

Mr. Bozarth:

"What effect would passing this amendment have on the bill as a whole?"

Mr. Huntley:

"In my considered opinion, it takes the insides out of the bill. I could use a different name for it. If you are going to have a point system bill, I think it is necessary to leave the present language in the bill."

Mr. Mast demanded an electric roll call, and the demand was sustained.

Further debate ensued, Representatives Beck and Rosenberg speaking against adoption of the amendment.

Mr. Conner demanded the previous question, and the demand was sustained.

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. Comfort:

"Mr. Speaker, point of information. Is it not true that under the amendment as it was read, any violation that was involved in or resulted in an automobile accident would have points assigned to it?"

The Speaker:

"The amendment includes any violation that has resulted directly in an accident."

The Clerk called the roll on adoption of the amendment by Mr. Berentson to House Bill No. 95. The motion was lost, and the amendment was not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 38; nays, 60; absent or not voting, 1.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Ackley, Backstrom, Brachtenbach, Brouillet, Clark, Comfort, DeJarnatt, Dootson, Earley, Eberle, Flanagan, Gleason, Grant, Hadley, Herr, Hurley, Jueling, Klein, Lewis, Lind, Litchman, Lynch, May, McCaffree, McDougall, Miles, Morrissey, Newschwander, Odell, Perry, Reese, Sawyer, Schaefer, Smith, Swayze, Taylor, Uhlman, Witherbee—38.

Those voting nay were: Representatives Adams, Ahlquist, Andersen (James A.), Anderson (Eric O.), Beck, Beierlein, Berentson, Bergh, Bigley, Bozarth, Braun, Burtch, Campbell, Canfield, Chatalas, Conner, Copeland, Eldridge, Evans, Folsom, Gallagher, Garrett, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Harris, Haussler, Hawley, Henry, Hood, Huntley, Johnston, Jolly, King, Kink, Kirk, Leland, Lybecker, Mahaffey, Mast, McCormick, McElroy, McFadden, Metcalf, Moon, Morphis, Mundy, O'Brien, O'Connell, O'Donnell, Olsen, Pritchard, Rogers, Rosenberg, Savage, Siler, Wang, Wedekind, Wintler, Young, Mr. Speaker—60.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

Mr. Ackley moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 1, line 27, after "compensation shall" strike "not exceed fifty dollars per day" and insert "be a reasonable amount as determined by the court"

The motion was carried on a rising vote, and the amendment was adopted. House Bill No. 237 was ordered engrossed.

Mr. Gorton moved that the rules be suspended, Engrossed House Bill No. 237 be advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill be placed on final passage.

The motion was carried on a rising vote.

Debate ensued, Representatives Litchman and Andersen (James A.) speaking in favor of passage of the bill.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Ahlquist:

"Mr. Speaker, I wonder whether Representative Andersen would yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Andersen, will you yield to question?"

Mr. Andersen (James A.):

"Yes."

Mr. Ahlquist:

"In these cases you outlined where an indigent needs an attorney, those are in the county which has jurisdiction over that case?"

Mr. Andersen:

"Yes."

Mr. Ahlquist:

"In that case, if this is open ended, our county of Walla Walla which houses the state penitentiary could have a very large burden if the inmates decided to appeal their many cases."

Mr. Andersen:

"I appreciate your concern, Mr. Ahlquist, but I think you will find that all these appeals are with reference to the court of the county in which the man is charged. In other words, if he is charged in King, Clark, or Pierce county, his appeal is taken in the county courts there and the funds for that particular appeal would come from the counties where he was charged."

Further debate ensued, Representatives Burtch, Comfort, and May speaking in favor of passage of the bill.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. King:

"Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask Mr. Litchman to yield to question."

The Speaker:

"Mr. Litchman, will you yield to question?"

Mr. Litchman:

"Yes, I yield."

Mr. King:

"Mr. Litchman, in drawing up the bill with the open end for the judges in the various counties, is there any estimate of how much this is going to cost the various counties of the state?"

Mr. Litchman:

"Not to my knowledge. I believe the county judge is going to be governed to a great extent by what is in the budget. If he doesn't want to, he doesn't have to give you five cents. This would be discretionary with the judges."

Mr. King:

"Mr. Klein, do you have figures on that?"

The Speaker recognized Mr. Klein.

Mr. Klein:

"Representative King and ladies and gentlemen of the House, an estimate was made by our supreme court that this would not exceed $10,000 a biennium. They thought that would be ample."

Mr. Kink demanded the previous question, and the demand was sustained.

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed House Bill No. 237, and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas, 83; nays, 15; absent or not voting, 1.

EXPLANATIONS OF VOTE

"I voted "yea" on the motion to indefinitely postpone House Bill No. 375 because this bill was badly drafted for many reasons. I do, however, believe in recovery by the state for moneys advanced against an estate where there are no surviving spouses or children who are heirs and residents. Obviously the state should recover against third persons, foreigners, etc.

MARK LITCHMAN,
45th District.

I voted to indefinitely postpone House Bill No. 375, because of the vicious lien clause in it. I would wholeheartedly support a recovery clause.

JOE D. HAUSSLER,
1st District.

"It is unlawful for any person who is under the influence of or affected by the use of intoxicating liquor or of any narcotic drug to drive or be in actual physical control of any vehicle upon the public highways.

"In any criminal prosecution for a violation of the provisions of this section relating to driving a vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, the amount of alcohol in the defendant's blood at the time alleged as shown by chemical analysis of the defendant's blood, urine, breath, or other bodily substance shall give rise to the following presumptions:

"If there was at that time 0.05 percent or less by weight of alcohol in the defendant's blood, it shall be presumed that the defendant was not under the influence of intoxicating liquor;

"If there was at that time in excess of 0.05 percent but less than [0.15] 0.10 percent by weight of alcohol in the defendant's blood, such fact shall not give rise to any presumption that the defendant was or was not under the influence of intoxicating liquor, but such fact may be considered with other competent evidence in determining the guilt or innocence of the defendant;

"If there was at that time [0.15] 0.10 percent or more by weight of alcohol in the defendant's blood, it shall be presumed that the defendant was under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

"The foregoing provisions of this section shall not be construed as limiting the introduction of any other competent evidence bearing upon the question whether or not the defendant was under the influence of intoxicating liquor. Nothing herein contained shall be construed as requiring any person to submit to a chemical analysis of his blood, and the refusal to submit to such an analysis shall not be admissible in evidence in any criminal prosecution for a violation of the provisions of this section or in any civil action.

"It is unlawful for any person who is an habitual user of or under the influence of any narcotic drug or who is under the influence of any other drug to a degree which renders him incapable of safely driving a vehicle to drive a vehicle upon the public highways. The fact that any person charged with a violation of this section is or has been entitled to use such drug under the laws of this state shall not constitute a defense against any charge of violating this section.

"Upon the first conviction for the violation of the provisions of this section the court shall impose a fine of not less than fifty dollars or more than five hundred dollars and not less than five days or more than one year in jail, and shall, in addition thereto, suspend the operator's license of such person for not less than thirty days. Upon second conviction for a violation of the provisions of this section within a period of five years, the court shall impose a fine of not less than one hundred dollars or more than one thousand dollars and not less than thirty days or more than one year in the county jail, and neither the fine nor the jail sentence so imposed shall be suspended, and shall, in addition thereto, suspend the operator's license of such person for not less than sixty days after the termination of such jail sentence. Upon any subsequent conviction for a violation of the provisions of this section within a period of five years, the court shall impose a fine of not less than one hundred dollars or more than one thousand dollars and not less than thirty days or more than one year in the county jail, and neither the fine nor the jail sentence so imposed shall be suspended, and shall, in addition thereto, revoke the operator's license.

"A conviction of a person for the violation of a municipal ordinance which would also be an offense under this section shall be equivalent to a conviction under this section for the purpose of determining the number of prior convictions of such person.

"In any case provided for in this section, RCW 46.20.250 and 46.52.100 where a driver's license is to be revoked or suspended, such revocation or suspension shall be stayed and shall not take effect until after the determination of any appeal from the conviction which may lawfully be taken, but in case such conviction is sustained on appeal such revocation or suspension shall take effect as of the date that the conviction becomes effective for other purposes; it being the intent and purpose of this section that licenses shall remain in full force and effect during the period that any appeal is pending."

Mr. Leland:

"Representative Ahlquist, perhaps you can explain this for me. As I understand it, in talking about the Columbia Basin, actually, in effect, the federal government owns or controls it; and if this compact is entered into, then the states of the compact may, in effect, claim it and will have the benefit of it; whereas, in the absence of this compact, there is nothing to prevent California from entering into an agreement with the federal government and getting some of the Columbia diverted to California. I wonder if you might answer that?"

Mr. Ahlquist:

"Mr. Speaker, in answer to Mr. Leland's question, the federal government by law has control over the so-called navigable rivers in conjunction, in certain cases, with the various states. The Columbia and Snake rivers are navigable rivers. Therefore, by federal law, they have control of those rivers. The federal government does not need to ask the state of Washington or any other state for permission to do anything on those rivers. Now, through a compact, as has been done all over the United States, we can join with other states in protection of our state's rights and have the full benefit of the rivers and our water rights, and we can do it better than if we fight it out alone."

Further debate ensued, Representative Ahlquist speaking against the motion to indefinitely postpone House Bill No. 43, and Representatives Schaefer, Savage, and Klein speaking for the motion.

Mr. Kink demanded the previous question, and the demand was sustained.

The Clerk called the roll on the motion to indefinitely postpone House Bill No. 43, and the motion was lost by the following vote: Yeas, 41; nays, 57; absent or not voting, 1.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Ackley, Anderson (Eric O.), Backstrom, Beck, Bergh, Bigley, Bozarth, Braun, Brouillet, Burtch, Chatalas, DeJarnatt, Dootson, Folsom, Garrett, Grant, Hadley, Haussler, Henry, Herr, Jolly, Klein, Litchman, McDougall, McElroy, McFadden, Moon, Mundy, O'Brien, O'Donnell, Olsen, Reese, Rogers, Rosenberg, Savage, Sawyer, Schaefer, Smith, Taylor, Uhlman, Wedekind—41.

Those voting nay were: Representatives Adams, Ahlquist, Andersen (James A.), Berentson, Brachtenbach, Campbell, Canfield, Clark, Comfort, Conner, Copeland, Earley, Eberle, Eldridge, Evans, Flanagan, Gallagher, Gleason, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Harris, Hawley, Hood, Huntley, Hurley, Johnston, Juelling, King, Kink, Kirk, Leland, Lewis, Lind, Lybecker, Lynch, Mahaffey, Mast, May, McCaffree, McCormick, Metcalf, Miles, Moos, Morphis, Morrissey, Newschwander, O'Connell, Odell, Perry, Pritchard, Siler, Swayze, Wang, Wintler, Witherbee, Young, Mr. Speaker—57.

Those absent or not voting were: Representative Beierlein—1.

MOTION

Mr. Burtch moved that House Bill No. 43 be rereferred to the Committee on Judiciary.

QUESTION OF CONSIDERATION

Mr. Copeland raised a question of consideration on the motion by Mr. Burtch to rerefer House Bill No. 43 to the Committee on Judiciary.

Mr. Perry demanded an electric roll call, and the demand was sustained.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. O'Brien:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. O'Brien:

"I would like the Speaker to rule on whether or not a question of consideration can be raised on such a motion. It appears from Reed's that a question of consideration can only be raised on the main motion. This isn't the main question."

The Speaker:

"Mr. O'Brien, there has been no debate begun. The question of consideration has been raised on the request to rerefer, which is the question before us. I think it is properly in order."

Mr. O'Brien:

"Mr. Speaker, Reed's rather clearly states that the question of consideration cannot be raised against the motion to commit. The motion to commit is different from the main question here. The main question would be the bill itself."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"Reed's 110 specifically states that the question of consideration may be raised even against a bill ordered by the assembly to be proceeded with at a fixed time, or against an order of the day, or even against a conference report. It seems to be quite broad. I believe the question of consideration is in order on this motion."

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. Adams:

"Mr. Speaker, will you explain the vote on the electric roll call?"

The Speaker:

"A vote 'aye' means we will not consider Mr. Burtch's motion. A vote 'nay' means we will consider his motion."

The Clerk called the roll on the question of consideration on the motion to refer House Bill No. 43 to the Committee on Judiciary, and the House refused to consider the motion by the following vote: Yeas, 59, nays, 39; absent or not voting, 1.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Adams, Ahlquist, Andersen (James A.), Berentson, Bergh, Brachtenbach, Canfield, Clark, Conner, Copeland, Earley, Eberle, Eldridge, Evans, Flanagan, Folsom, Gleason, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Hadley, Harris, Hawley, Hood, Huntley, Hurley, Johnston, Jueling, King, Kink, Kirk, Leland, Lewis, Lind, Lybecker, Lynch, Mahaffey, Mast, May, McCaffree, McCormick, McElroy, Metcalf, Miles, Moos, Morphis, Morrissey, Mundy, Newschwander, O'Connell, Odell, Perry, Pritchard, Reese, Siler, Swayze, Wang, Wintler, Young, Mr. Speaker—59.

Those voting nay were: Representatives Ackley, Anderson (Eric O.), Backstrom, Beck, Bigley, Bozarth, Braun, Brouillet, Burtch, Campbell, Chatalas, Comfort, DeJarnatt, Dootson, Gallagher, Garrett, Haussler, Henry, Herr, Jolly, Klein, Litchman, McDougall, McFadden, Moon, O'Brien, O'Donnell, Olsen, Rogers, Rosenberg, Savage, Sawyer, Schaefer, Smith, Taylor, Uhlman, Wedekind, Witherbee—39.

Those absent or not voting were: Representative Beierlein—1.

Mr. Klein offered the following amendment:

On page 1, section 1, line 16, after the word "Washington" and before the colon, insert the following: "subject to the following limitations, conditions, qualifications and directives: (1) the Compact Commission and member states shall provide upstream storage in the upstream areas sufficient to reduce the annual flood stage of the Columbia River at The Dalles, Oregon to a flow of 600,000 cubic feet per second; (2) the Compact Commission and member states agree to be bound by any findings under Article VIII of the Compact that pollution does exist and shall forthwith correct or abate such pollution within one year from the date of said findings or this Compact shall be null and void; (3) the Compact Commission and member states agree that any approval of member states to division of waters out of the Columbia Basin as provided in Article VII shall be made by the legislatures of the member states; (4) the Compact Commission and member states agree that recommendations on prior allocation as provided for in Article VI shall be made only by the unanimous affirmative vote of all commissioners from member states"

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"The Speaker is going to rule that this amendment is out of order. It is out of order for the reason that it amends a compact which, as two of the speakers mentioned previously, is not an ordinary bill, it is a treaty. The effect of an amendment to an interstate compact or treaty would be a rejection of the compact. The power of the legislature to accept or reject a compact with other states cannot be abrogated, but at the same time this House lacks the power to amend a compact. The question before us is 'Do we accept and approve the compact?' or 'Do we reject the compact?' Hinds precedent in Congress as to treaties holds to this conclusion. The amendment is out of order, and any other amendments are out of order."

House Bill No. 43 was passed to Committee on Rules and Order for third reading.

MOTIONS

On motion of Mr. Copeland, the House dispensed with further business under the call of the House.

On motion of Mr. Copeland, the House recessed until 7:30 p. m.

The Speaker called the House to order at 7:30 p. m.

The Clerk called the roll. Representatives Chatalas, Henry, Kink, Litchman, and O'Donnell, and Representatives Beierlein and Clark who were excused, were absent.

Mr. Burtch demanded a call of the House, and the demand was sustained.

CALL OF THE HOUSE

The Sergeant at Arms was instructed to lock the doors.

The Clerk called the roll. Representatives Beierlein, Chatalas, Clark, Henry, Kink, Litchman, and O'Donnell were absent.

Mr. Moos moved that the absent members be excused and the House proceed with business under the call of the House.

The motion was carried on a rising vote.

Miss O'Donnell, Mrs. Henry, Mr. Chatalas, and Mr. Kink appeared at the bar of the House.

MOTION

Mr. Klein moved that the Rules and Order Committee be discharged of House Bill No. 43 and that the bill be returned to the floor of the House for purpose of making an amendment.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Copeland:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Copeland:

"Would not this require a suspension of the rules?"

The Speaker:

"The motion to discharge the Rules and Order Committee of a bill does not require a suspension of the rules."

Mr. Perry demanded an electric roll call, and the demand was sustained.

The Speaker declared the House to be at ease until 8:30 p. m.

The Speaker called the House to order.

The Speaker declared the question before the House to be Mr. Klein's motion that the Rules and Order Committee be discharged of House Bill No. 43, and that the bill be returned for the purpose of making an amendment.

Mr. Witherbee raised the question of a quorum and a roll call was ordered.

The Clerk called the roll. Representatives Beierlein and Clark, who were excused, were absent.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Evans:

"Mr. Speaker, point of parliamentary inquiry."

The Speaker:

"State your point of parliamentary inquiry."

Mr. Evans:

"The motion that Mr. Klein has in front of us appears to me to have two parts, one of which would require a suspension of the rules. Could you rule as to whether we require a suspension of the rules for the motion that is before us?"

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"The motion is in two parts. The first part is to move House Bill No. 43 back to the floor and discharge the Rules and Order Committee of it. The second part is that it be returned to second reading for the purpose of making an amendment. The bill was referred to the Rules Committee for third reading, so it would appear to the Speaker that unless the question were divided, the total motion as it now stands would require a suspension of the rules in order to return the bill to second reading. Someone may request that the question be divided."

Mr. O'Brien offered a substitute motion that the Committee on Rules and Order be relieved of House Bill No. 43, and that it be placed on today's second reading calendar.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Evans:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Evans:

"Mr. Speaker, the bill is in Rules Committee for third reading. If you are going to take it back to the second reading calendar today, will that require a suspension of the rules?"

The Speaker:

"That is correct."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. O'Brien:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. O'Brien:

"Mr. Speaker, Rule No. 9, daily calendar, provides that a bill in the rules committee may be placed on the calendar by the affirmative vote of a constitutional majority of all members of the House."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"It has already been on the calendar once. You can place it on the calendar without a suspension of the rules, but you can't change its position."

Mr. O'Brien amended his motion to read that the rules be suspended, the Committee on Rules and Order be relieved of House Bill No. 43, and that the bill be placed on today's second reading calendar.

Mr. Eldridge demanded an electric roll call, and the demand was sustained.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Uhlman:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Uhlman:

"Mr. Speaker, are we not now on the ninth order of business? Wouldn't this particular motion be proper under the eighth order of business, and would it not first require a suspension of rules to revert back to the eighth order of business?"

The Speaker:

"The motion is to suspend the rules."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Ackley:

"Mr. Speaker, point of parliamentary inquiry."

The Speaker:

"State your point of parliamentary inquiry."

Mr. Ackley:

"Mr. Speaker, my point of parliamentary inquiry is this. Is it true that under the procedure that has been adopted here, members of this side of the House must have a two-thirds vote in order to get this bill back here for second reading and in order to present the fifteen amendments they had prepared and ready for second reading, which the Speaker ruled out of order on the basis that the bill before us was a treaty and, therefore, could not be amended?"

The Speaker:

"There were four amendments that we had in our possession on the desk and no others. The only portion of the bill that these amendments pertained to was the portion which I declared to be not amendable. There were not fifteen amendments at any time. There were no amendments on the desk pertaining to other sections which were amendable."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Ackley:

"Mr. Speaker, I request permission to insert in the journal the amendments which were prepared."

The Speaker:

"They were not on the desk. If I granted that permission, I would have to grant permission to anyone to put in the journal any amendment he had in his pocket. I don't think that is proper."

Mr. Ackley:

"I request permission to insert a statement in the journal concerning today's proceedings."

The Speaker:

"That permission is granted."

POINT OF INFORMATION

The Speaker recognized Mr. Schaefer.

Mr. Schaefer:

"In connection with the question asked by Mr. Ackley, you say you had only four amendments on the desk. Did you ask for any further amendments?"

The Speaker:

"I asked the chief clerk if there were any other amendments on the desk. He said there were not."

POINT OF ORDER

Mrs. Henry:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mrs. Henry:

"I refer you to Rule 60 which states that a majority of the members elected to the House may require a committee to report a bill back to the House at any time. We are now on the second reading of bills, so would it not be placed before us on second reading, Mr. Speaker? What is your ruling on that?"

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"We have already covered that, Mrs. Henry. You can report the bill back at any time, but the bill has been passed to the Rules Committee for third reading and it is on third reading. To take it back to second reading requires a suspension of the rules and that is what the motion was."

POINT OF ORDER

The Speaker recognized Mrs. Henry.

Mrs. Henry:

"Mr. Klein's motion was not to suspend the rules and he did not withdraw his motion."

The Speaker:

"Mr. O'Brien offered a substitute motion."

Mrs. Henry:

"Did he substitute it or offer a motion when we had one pending?"

The Speaker:

"He stated he was offering a substitute motion. Do you care to withdraw the substitute motion, Mr. O'Brien?"

Mr. O'Brien:

"I will withdraw it if you will recognize Rule 60."

The Speaker:

"I recognize that. The only thing is that if it comes out, it will be on third reading."

The Speaker stated the question before the House to be Mr. Klein's motion that the Rules and Order Committee be discharged of House Bill No. 43, and that the bill be returned to the floor of the House for the purpose of making an amendment.

The Clerk called the roll, and the motion was lost by the following vote: Yeas, 43; nays, 54; absent or not voting, 2.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Ackley, Anderson (Eric O.), Backstrom, Beck, Bergh, Bigley, Bozarth, Braun, Brouillet, Burtch, Campbell, Chatalas, Conner, DeJarnatt, Dootson, Gallagher, Garrett, Grant, Haussler, Henry, Herr, Jolly, Klein, Litchman, May, McDougall, McElroy, McFadden, Moon, Mundy, O'Brien, O'Donnell, Olsen, Rosenberg, Savage, Sawyer, Schaefer, Smith, Taylor, Uhlman, Wedekind, Wintler, Witherbee—43.

Those voting nay were: Representatives Adams, Ahlquist, Andersen (James A.), Berentson, Brachtenbach, Canfield, Comfort, Copeland, Earley, Eberle, Eldridge, Evans, Flanagan, Folsom, Gleason, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Hadley, Harris, Hawley, Hood, Huntley, Hurley, Johnston, Jueling, King, Kink, Kirk, Leland, Lewis, Lind, Lybecker, Lynch, Mahaffey, Mast, McCaffree, McCormick, Metcalf, Miles, Moos, Morphis, Morrissey, Newschwander, O'Connell, Odell, Perry, Pritchard, Reese, Rogers, Siler, Swayze, Wang, Young, Mr. Speaker—54.

Those absent or not voting were: Representatives Beierlein, Clark—2.

STATEMENT FOR THE JOURNAL

At the time House Bill No. 43 came before the House on second reading for the purpose of the submission of amendments in accordance with the rules, the members of the Democratic minority had prepared fifteen amendments to the bill, four of which were on the Clerk's desk. The remaining eleven were ready to be offered, and would have been sent to the desk while the House was considering the first four amendments.

The Speaker, however, ruled that the amendments on the desk were out of order because they were attempts to amend a treaty, citing Hinds Precedents relating to congressional amendments to treaties. In making this ruling the Speaker ignored Article I, Section 10, of the United States Constitution, which prohibits states from making any treaties. The Compact, which is the subject of House Bill 43, is not a treaty, and the refusal of the Speaker to permit the House to vote on the amendments was a violation of Article II, Section 21 of the Washington State Constitution, and of Rule 80 of the House Rules, which makes all bills subject to amendment on second reading, section by section.

Thereupon the Speaker assigned the bill to Rules Committee on third reading without permitting the House to consider the first four amendments which were on the desk, or permit them to be read, and also without calling for further amendments, thereby denying the House its right of considering the remaining eleven amendments which had been prepared by Representatives Ackley, Savage, Jolly, Burtch, Klein, DeJarnatt, O'Brien, Brouillet, Garrett, Moon, and Litchman. Three of these amendments concerned Sections 3, 4, and 9 of the bill, which sections were completely outside the Compact itself and would not, even under the Speaker's ruling, have been excluded from consideration of the House.

Immediately after the Speaker's ruling, eighteen members of the Democratic minority arose demanding recognition for the purposes of presenting further amendments, appealing the Speaker's decision, and presenting pertinent points of order. The Speaker refused to recognize any of these members but, instead, recognized the Republican Whip who moved to dispense with the call of the House and, immediately afterward, for a recess.

The foregoing actions of the Speaker were arbitrary, illegal, unruly, and unconstitutional.

"Yes."

Mr. Smith:

"Mr. Andersen, without Mr. Ackley's amendment, would this take away the right of the parents to give permission for their daughter or son to get married if they were younger than seventeen?"

Mr. Andersen:

"Yes. What would happen as a practical matter is that you would have a weeping mother wringing her hands, and a youngster with a tear stained handkerchief, and a father looking embarrassed going before the judge and saying, 'Judge, we have a pregnant daughter. We ask you to give permission for her to get married.' The judge can give the permission. The parents don't have the right. They have the right to appeal to the judge."

Mr. Smith:

"I don't mean in cases where it is necessary. I mean where in the judgment of the parents they would not mind their daughter's getting married."

Mr. Andersen:

"Yes. It takes away that right."

Further debate ensued, Representative Smith speaking for adoption of the amendment to the amendment, and Representatives Burtch and Brachtenbach speaking against its adoption.

The motion was lost, and the amendment to the committee amendment was not adopted.

Mr. Ackley moved adoption of the following amendment to the committee amendment:

At the end of the committee amendment, following "showing of necessity" add "or desirability"

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Ackley:

"Mr. Speaker, would Mr. Hood yield to a question?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Hood, will you yield to question?"

Mr. Hood:

"Yes."

Mr. Ackley:

"Apparently the coast guard is not going to issue numbers on boats except in navigable waters. Many waters in this state are not termed navigable waters within the coast guard's definition. If your bill goes through, it will be unlawful for any boat without one of these numbers to operate on any of the waters of this state."

Mr. Hood:

"Mr. Ackley, considering the extent of our shoreline and the ease of transporting boats from one location to another, it seems to me the coast guard is the only logical agency to have records of all boats in all waters. I can't see where you are going to have any other board of jurisdiction, unless you set up another great big bureau in the state with terrific cost to the state and expense to the boat owners of the state of Washington."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Moon:

"Mr. Speaker, would Mr. Bergh yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield to question, Mr. Bergh?"

Mr. Bergh:

"Yes."

Mr. Moon:

"Mr. Bergh, the proponents of this bill apparently want things to remain as they are, in status quo. If this is so, what is the purpose of this bill?"

Mr. Bergh:

"The only thing I could say to answer that, Mr. Moon, is read the bill. There are a good number of new sections. You will find there is considerable change in the status quo."

Further debate ensued, Representative Chatalas speaking in favor of the motion.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Kink:

"Mr. Speaker, would Representative Chatalas yield to a question?"

The Speaker:

"Do you yield to question, Representative Chatalas?"

Mr. Chatalas:

"Yes, sir."

Mr. Kink:

"Do you own a boat?"

Mr. Chatalas:

"I do not."

Mr. Kink:

"Are you in the boat business?"

Mr. Chatalas:

"I am not, sir, and furthermore, you don't have to be a boat owner to want to have regulations for the people of the state of Washington. We are elected to take care of all the people of the state of Washington, Mr. Kink."

Further debate ensued, Representative Canfield speaking against the motion to indefinitely postpone.

Mr. Beck demanded the previous question, and the demand was sustained.

The Clerk called the roll on the motion to indefinitely postpone House Bill No. 481, and the motion was lost by the following vote: Yeas, 36; nays, 61; absent or not voting, 2.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Litchman:

"Mr. Speaker, would Mr. Ackley yield to a question?"

The Speaker:

"Would you yield to question, Mr. Ackley?"

Mr. Ackley

"Yes, sir."

Mr. Litchman:

"Mr. Ackley, on page 223 the committee provided an amendment, I believe at your insistence. Would one be deprived of a deficiency if one defaults on a chattel mortgage?"

Mr. Ackley:

"Mr. Litchman, it is my understanding the amendment was offered to prevent the seller from repossessing an automobile or other goods sold on terms similar to your conditional sales contract now, and then getting a deficiency judgment in addition. It is not my understanding that this would apply to anything other than the case of purchase money securities. If you go down and get a loan from the bank on your car and get a chattel mortgage, it is not my understanding that it would be any different than it is now. I think you could get a deficiency judgment on that sort of chattel mortgage but not on conditional sales contracts."

Mr. Litchman:

"Would it be correct to say your amendment denies deficiencies only on the conditional sales contracts?"

Mr. Ackley:

"That is my understanding."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Litchman:

"Mr. Speaker, would Mr. Andersen yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Andersen, will you yield to question?"

Mr. Andersen (James A.):

"Yes."

Mr. Litchman:

"Mr. Andersen, is that your statement too, for the record? It is quite important."

Mr. Andersen:

"My understanding, I believe, is the same as Mr. Ackley's. The purpose of the amendment was to delete the deficiency judgment in purchase money transactions where such a thing could be abused in the opinion of the committee and where it was not desirable at this time without a lot of additional study to permit deficiency judgments."

Mr. Litchman:

"You are not trying to deny a deficiency judgment against one who has a chattel mortgage?"

Mr. Andersen.

"I believe I have answered that as fully as I can."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Litchman:

"Mr. Speaker, would Mr. Gorton yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Gorton, will you yield to question?"

Mr. Gorton:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker."

Mr. Litchman:

"I think Mr. Ackley answered my question, but I wonder if others concur in it. Do you, Mr. Gorton?"

Mr. Gorton:

"Yes, Mr. Litchman, I do."

Debate ensued, Representative Kirk speaking in favor of passage of the bill.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Comfort:

"Mr. Speaker, would Mrs. Kirk yield to question, please?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield to question, Mrs. Kirk?"

Mrs. Kirk:

"Yes."

Mr. Comfort:

"It appears to me we are reducing the period of time in which a delinquent taxpayer can redeem his land by whatever period of time would exist between the date of sale and the execution of the deed. What is the normal time between those two times?"

Mrs. Kirk:

"Mr. Comfort, about five days. They would like to have the cutoff day before the date of the sale. It works a hardship on the treasurer when they have somebody come in the day of the sale and ask for the property to be taken off the list."

Mr. Comfort:

"Do they believe they will get better prices on the sale by doing this?"

Mrs. Kirk:

"I believe that is the reason for it."

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of House Bill No. 135, and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas, 79; nays, 18, absent or not voting, 2.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE

I voted against House Bill No. 311 because of the provisions in section 9 (7) which allow a warehouseman to file a policy of insurance with the Department of Agriculture in lieu of a warehouseman's bond. The Commissioner of Insurance has advised me that this procedure would not provide the protection given under a bond and specifically would not protect the depositor of commodities from theft or other misappropriation by the warehouseman. The example of a Billie Sol Estes is too fresh in my mind to approve legislation which fails to give the depositor this protection he needs.

ELMER C. HUNTLEY,
9th District.

SLADE GORTON, Chairman,
MARY ELLEN MCCAFFREE, Vice Chairman.

We concur in this report: Henry Backstrom, Damon R. Canfield, Arlie U. DeJarnatt, Jack Dootson, Joe D. Haussler, Mrs. Joseph E. Hurley, Chet King, Dick J. Kink, Gus Lybecker, Bob McDougall, Drennan "Mac" McElroy, James L. McFadden, Jack Metcalf, Donald W. Moos, Robert A. Perry, Joel M. Pritchard, Jack H. Rogers, Arnold S. Wang.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

Mr. Gorton moved adoption of the committee amendment.

QUESTION OF QUORUM

Mr. Smith:

"Mr. Speaker, I raise a question of quorum.

The Speaker:

"It appears obvious to the Speaker that there are fifty members present."

MOTION

On motion of Mr. Copeland, the House deferred further consideration of the second reading calendar, and the bills were ordered to hold their place immediately following today's third reading calendar.

THIRD READING OF BILLS

Engrossed House Bill No. 297, by Representatives Campbell, Hood, and Moos:

Insuring fire district personnel.

On motion of Mr. Copeland, the rules were suspended and Engrossed House Bill No. 297 was returned to second reading for the purpose of amendment.

SECOND READING OF BILLS

Mr. Copeland moved the adoption of the following amendment:

On page 4, line 27 of the engrossed bill, being page 4, line 28 of the printed bill, after "fire districts" and before the period insert ", but not to exceed ten thousand dollars coverage per covered employee, and not more than fifty percent of the cost of such insurance shall be borne by the employer fire district"

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Comfort:

"Mr. Speaker, will Mr. Copeland yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield to question, Mr. Copeland?"

Mr. Copeland:

"Yes, sir."

Mr. Comfort:

"Mr. Copeland, as I heard the amendment read, it distinctly prohibited the fire district from contributing more than fifty percent of the cost. That might not have been your intent, but this is how I heard it. Would you explain whether or not that is the intent of the amendment?"

Mr. Copeland:

"The intent is to allow them to pay up to fifty percent of the cost."

Mr. Comfort:

"Therefore, the intent of the amendment is to prohibit the fire district that is now paying the full cost from continuing to do so?"

Mr. Copeland:

"The fire district currently paying the full cost is paying on the basis of the five thousand dollar policy. They cannot buy over that at the present time because of the statutory limitation. This would allow an additional five thousand dollars to be purchased."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Litchman:

"Mr. Speaker, will Mr. Copeland yield to another question?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Copeland, will you yield to another question?"

Mr. Copeland:

"Yes."

Mr. Litchman:

"Mr. Copeland, I attended the hearing on House Bill 297, and as I remember it your amendment did not come up before the committee. Some of the members of the committee are somewhat concerned whether the fire personnel want this amendment."

Mr. Copeland:

"I took this matter up with Mr. Ed Gardner. I did not consult all the volunteer firemen in the state."

Mr. Litchman:

"I appreciate that. His answer was that he favored this?"

Mr. Copeland:

"That is correct."

Debate ensued, Representative Pritchard speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. O'Brien:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. O'Brien:

"The remarks by Mr. Pritchard are completely out of order. He is in violation of House rules. He is impugning a member's motives and entering into personalities."

Mr. Pritchard:

"Mr. Speaker, I was stating facts, not impugning motives."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Litchman:

"Mr. Speaker, point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"State your point of personal privilege."

Mr. Litchman:

"Mr. Speaker, I think Mr. Pritchard's remarks are totally uncalled for. I do not represent one single volunteer fireman in the state. I am not retained by one single volunteer fireman. Undoubtedly this amendment is a good one, but whether I am paid or not I think is immaterial. I was merely inquiring whether Mr. Copeland had taken this up with the volunteer firemen and his admission was that he had not actually taken it up with the fire district personnel."

Further debate ensued, Representatives Mundy and Harris speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment.

Mr. Kink demanded the previous question, and the demand was sustained.

Mr. Litchman demanded an electric roll call, and the demand was sustained.

Those voting nay were: Representative Klein—1.

Those absent or not voting were: Representatives Adams, Ahlquist, Anderson (Eric O.), Backstrom, Beierlein, Braun, Hood, Lybecker, May—9.

Engrossed House Bill No. 297 was ordered reengrossed.

On motion of Mr. Gorton, the rules were suspended, Reengrossed House Bill No. 297 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued, Representatives Campbell, Moos, Savage, and Klein speaking in favor of passage of the bill.

Mr. Beck demanded the previous question, and the demand was sustained.

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of Reengrossed House Bill No. 297 and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas, 91; nays, 0; absent or not voting, 8.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Ackley, Ahlquist, Andersen (James A.), Anderson (Eric O.), Backstrom, Beck, Berentson, Bergh, Bigley, Bozarth, Brachtenbach, Brouillet, Burtch, Campbell, Canfield, Chatalas, Clark, Comfort, Conner, Copeland, DeJarnatt, Dootson, Earley, Eberle, Eldridge, Evans, Flanagan, Folsom, Gallagher, Gleason, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Grant, Hadley, Harris, Haussler, Hawley, Henry, Herr, Huntley, Hurley, Jolly, Juelling, King, Kink, Kirk, Klein, Leland, Lewis, Lind, Litchman, Lynch, Mahaffey, Mast, May, McCaffree, McCormick, McDougall, McElroy, McFadden, Metcalf, Miles, Moon, Moos, Morphis, Morrissey, Mundy, Newschwander, O'Brien, O'Connell, Odell, O'Donnell, Olsen, Perry, Pritchard, Reese, Rogers, Rosenberg, Savage, Schaefer, Siler, Smith, Swayze, Taylor, Uhlman, Wang, Wedekind, Wintler, Witherbee, Young, Mr. Speaker—91.

Those absent or not voting were: Representatives Adams, Beierlein, Braun, Garrett, Hood, Johnston, Lybecker, Sawyer—8.

Reengrossed House Bill No. 297, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed.

There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

THIRD READING OF BILLS

Engrossed House Bill No. 6, by Representatives Olsen, Hawley, and McCormick:

Relating to group hospitalization and medical aid for public employees and their dependents.

On motion of Mr. Copeland, the rules were suspended and Engrossed House Bill No. 6 was returned to second reading for the purpose of amendment.

SECOND READING OF BILLS

Mr. Copeland moved adoption of the following amendment:

In section 1, line 12 of the engrossed and printed bill, after "plans" and before the period insert ": Provided, That the contributions of any department, division or separate agency of the state government and school districts shall be limited to not to exceed fifty percent of any premium therefor, or five dollars per month per employee covered, whichever is less"

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Wedekind:

"Mr. Speaker, I wonder if Representative Copeland would yield to a question?"

The Speaker:

"Representative Copeland, will you yield to question?"

Mr. Copeland:

"Yes."

Mr. Wedekind:

"What will placing this limit of five dollars per month do to the ferry system, which has had health and welfare systems ever since it was purchased where they pay twelve dollars and fifty cents?"

Mr. Copeland:

"It is my understanding it would have no effect on that. You will note that cities and counties have been completely omitted because they have statutory authority also. It is my understanding this would have no force and effect in those instances. We are only granting additional authority to those currently not covered."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Witherbee:

"Mr. Speaker, would Mr. Copeland yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Copeland, will you yield to question?"

Mr. Copeland:

"Yes."

Mr. Witherbee:

"Tom, I am not necessarily opposed to this amendment, but I am concerned whether we have a conflict here with the committee amendment to line 8."

Mr. Copeland:

"No, sir. I see no conflict in that. All the committee amendment does is add 'all or a part' of it. I see no conflict at all."

The motion was carried and the amendment was adopted.

"Mr. Siler, would you yield to question?"

Mr. Siler:

"Yes."

Mr. Litchman:

"Mr. Siler, yesterday I thought six years was a pretty fair time and now you are reducing it to two. Is there any particular reason for that?"

"In the matter of a child being discharged from an institution, we are considering to some extent, at least, his rehabilitation. Considerable objection to this has been raised, and I think legitimately, because it is a long time for a child to be under the gun."

MR. SPEAKER:

We, a majority of your Committee on Constitution, Elections, and Apportionment, to whom was referred House Bill No. 467, authorizing cancellation of voter's registration for nonresidence at registered address, have had the same under consideration, and we respectfully report the same back to the House with the recommendation that it do pass with the following amendment:

On page 1, section 1, beginning on line 11, after "the address" and before "and that" on line 12, strike "as given on his registration record" and insert "given on the registration record of the voter in question"

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Smith:

"Mr. Speaker, would Mr. Uhlman yield to a couple of questions?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Uhlman, would you yield to two questions?"

Mr. Uhlman:

"Yes."

Mr. Smith:

"Mr. Uhlman, what I am wondering is whether in your amendment or anywhere in the bill there is a provision for a certain length of time for the registered voter to respond, or do you just chop him off?"

Mr. Uhlman:

"Representative Smith, I don't believe so. There is a provision for written protest and a hearing where an individual's vote is challenged, but that is a different provision. In my opinion, it would not apply to this."

Mr. Smith:

"My second question is, what prompted this sort of thing? Do we have any great problem with people being off the rolls?"

Mr. Uhlman:

"I am not a sponsor of this bill. As a matter of fact, I am not entirely enthused with it. I suggest that one of the sponsors could tell you what prompted the piece of legislation."

Mr. Smith:

"I would be happy if one of the sponsors could answer the question, Mr. Speaker."

The Speaker recognized Mr. Moos.

Mr. Moos:

"Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the House, and particularly Mr. Smith, there are many cases where better than twenty percent of the rolls in many precincts are what we call dead wood. In areas where you have paper ballots, by law you must print one hundred ten percent of the registered voters. If a third of them are dead wood, it is an added expense. It is also an added expense to a candidate, mailing to people who are no longer living in the precinct. This was drawn by Ken Gilbert in the Secretary of State's office, who felt it would give us a better election law."

Mr. Gorton moved adoption of the following amendment to the amendment:
On line 3, after "shall cause" and before "notice" strike "personal"

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Hawley:

"Mr. Speaker, may I ask Mr. Gorton a question?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Gorton, will you yield to question?"

Mr. Gorton:

"I do."

Mr. Hawley:

"Mr. Gorton, do we not have a bill in here where we challenge the vote of people?"

Mr. Gorton:

"Yes, Mr. Hawley, you are correct. However, that is quite different from cleaning the dead wood off the rolls."

Mr. Hawley:

"Don't we have another bill where either party could go in up to 6:00 p. m. and get a list of people who haven't voted?"

Mr. Gorton:

"Yes, that was the preceding bill which we are going to be discussing again."

Mr. Hawley:

"Don't you think that between these two bills, you will find whether they are dead wood or not?"

Mr. Gorton:

"Certainly you will find it out. But you can't do anything about it. This bill permits you to do something about the dead wood."

The motion was carried, and the amendment to the amendment was adopted.

MOTIONS

Mr. Witherbee moved that House Bill No. 467 be indefinitely postponed.

Debate ensued, Representatives Witherbee and Smith speaking in favor of the motion, and Representatives Perry, McElroy, Morphis, Olsen, and Campbell speaking against the motion.

REMONSTRANCE TO THE LEGISLATURE

Remonstrance by Representatives Klein, Savage, and Henry:

QUESTION OF CONSIDERATION

Mr. Evans raised the question of consideration with regard to the remonstrance to the legislature.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Ackley:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order, Mr. Ackley."

Mr. Ackley:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. My point of order is that our rules permit remonstrances to be read in. A remonstrance is simply a protest. Further, the question of consideration could not be raised until the remonstrance is before us. The Clerk has not completed reading the remonstrance. I suggest we are up against some fundamental principles here, probably some principles embedded in both the United States and state Constitution. I call attention of this body to Article I, Section 32 of the Constitution of this state, 'Fundamental Principles':

'A frequent recurrence to fundamental principles is essential to the security of individual right and the perpetuity of free government.' This happens to be the section immediately preceding the section regarding the recall of elective officers. I call attention to Article I, Section 5, relating to freedom of speech, stating that every person in this state has a right to free speech, and the United States Constitution, the First Amendment, protects the right of people to petition for redress of grievances. Now a remonstrance, as defined in the Webster's Dictionary, is nothing but a protest, to present and urge reasons in opposition. If we are going to be prevented from reading in our protest for actions that happened here, we are not only violating our rules but we are violating these fundamental constitutional rights. And certainly the question of consideration can't be raised until the matter is before us, and it is not before us until the Clerk has concluded, and even then it can't be raised. Otherwise we are abridging the right of free speech to remonstrate and protest."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"The right of free speech does not require that this body listen to anything and everything. Enough has been read so that we understand the material that is before us. The question of consideration is in order, and the majority of the House may decide the question."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. O'Brien:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. O'Brien:

"Mr. Speaker, we didn't ask the House to act on this proposition at all. Nowhere in Reed's rules or the House rules is there a requirement for action by this assembly on this type of proposition. This isn't a proposition for action by this House. Therefore, the question of consideration is absolutely out of order. All this is, is the right of members to insert in the journal their attitudes or protests or remonstrances to the action taken the other day, and that is all it is. Since the beginning of statehood, legislators have always had the right to insert in the journal their particular feelings relevant to their obligations and duties as members, particularly when those rights have been infringed, and what this protest amounts to is a statement regarding the actions taken here the other day. Certainly, if it isn't taken this way or admitted in this particular fashion, it should be admitted under the rights and duties of members to insert in the journal their position and attitude when their rights have been infringed upon. That is all we want at this time, that this remonstrance be inserted in the journal. It requires absolutely no action by this assembly."

The Speaker:

"I think it is a question for the majority of this body to decide, Mr. O'Brien."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Evans:

"Mr. Speaker, point of personal privilege."

The Speaker:

"The gentleman from King, Mr. Evans."

Mr. Evans:

"To answer Mr. O'Brien, I don't think this is a question of inserting something in the journal. I think the question is, does this House on this floor today want to consider this thing? I think that is something for the body to decide and decide without debate."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Schaefer:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Schaefer:

"I don't believe all the members have had the opportunity to read this remonstrance to the legislature. I think they ought to have an opportunity to read it. I don't think any of us were pleased with the action that happened on the forty-sixth day. I think they ought to have an opportunity to read this before they vote on it. I suggest we should finish listening to the remonstrance."

The Speaker:

"This is a matter for the House to decide."

Mr. Anderson (Eric O.) demanded an electric roll call, and the demand was sustained.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Ackley:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order, Mr. Ackley."

Mr. Ackley:

"Will Mr. Evans yield to question on a point of order?"

Mr. Evans:

"No."

Mr. Ackley:

"My point of order, Mr. Speaker, is that the remonstrance requires and permits no action by this body. Then how can this body decide whether to consider it or not? It is not an action which requires the consideration of this body."

The Speaker:

"The question of consideration has been raised, and it is a matter for the majority to decide. An electric roll call has been demanded."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Uhlman:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Uhlman:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker. I wonder if the clerk could read the matter we are going to be voting on now. I would like to know what we are voting on."

The Speaker:

"The matter we are voting on is the question of consideration. It is not debatable."

Mr. Uhlman:

"Is it not in order that the members know what they are voting on before they vote on it?"

The Speaker:

"It was already almost completely read when the question of consideration was raised. I think if you had been listening you would know what you are voting on."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Metcalf:

"Mr. Speaker, point of parliamentary inquiry."

The Speaker:

"State your point of parliamentary inquiry."

Mr. Metcalf:

"Would you explain exactly what we are voting on, and what an 'aye' and 'nay' vote does on this."

The Speaker:

"An 'aye' vote upholds the question of consideration and means the body will not consider the matter. A 'no' vote means the body will consider it."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Ackley:

"Mr. Speaker, point of parliamentary inquiry."

The Speaker:

"State your point of parliamentary inquiry."

Mr. Ackley:

"The matter before us is the matter that has been read until now. I take it that the question of consideration would not affect the reading of that part of the remonstrance which has not yet been read. How can we consider that?"

The Speaker:

"The question of consideration was raised on the remonstrance. The Speaker will start the electric roll call on the question of consideration."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Klein:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"You can't interrupt the roll call, Mr. Klein."

The Clerk called the roll on the question of consideration of the remonstrance by Representatives Klein, Savage, and Henry, and the House refused to consider the remonstrance by the following vote: Yeas, 55; nays, 0; absent or not voting, 44.

Those voting yeas were: Representatives Adams, Ahlquist, Andersen (James A.), Berentson, Brachtenbach, Canfield, Clark, Comfort, Copeland, Earley, Eberle, Eldridge, Evans, Flanagan, Folsom, Gleason, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Hadley, Harris, Hawley, Hood, Huntley, Hurley, Johnston, Juelling, King, Kink, Kirk, Leland, Lewis, Lind, Lynch, Mahaffey, Mast, McCaffree, McCormick, McDougall, Metcalf, Miles, Moos, Morphis, Morrissey, Newschwander, O'Connell, Odell, Perry, Pritchard, Reese, Siler, Swayze, Wang, Wintler, Young, Mr. Speaker—55.

Those absent or not voting were: Representatives Ackley, Anderson (Eric O.), Backstrom, Beck, Beierlein, Bergh, Bigley, Bozarth, Braun, Brouillet, Burtch, Campbell, Chatalas, Conner, DeJarnatt, Dootson, Gallagher, Garrett, Grant, Haussler, Henry, Herr, Jolly, Klein, Litchman, Lybecker, May, Mc-Elroy, McFadden, Moon, Mundy, O'Brien, O'Donnell, Olsen, Rogers, Rosenberg, Savage, Sawyer, Schaefer, Smith, Taylor, Uhlman, Wedekind, Witherbee—44.

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"The House refuses by its vote to consider the remonstrance before us, and it will not be inserted in the journal."

SECOND READING OF BILLS

The House resumed consideration of House Bill No. 422 on second reading.

House Bill No. 422, by Representatives Metcalf, Lewis, and Braun:

Affecting provisions for the declaration and affidavit of political candidacy.

The Speaker declared the question before the House to be the adoption of the following committee amendment:

On page 1, line 22, following "and" strike "that I actually reside and maintain my abode within such precinct;"

Debate ensued, Representative Gorton speaking for the adoption of the amendment, and Representative Smith speaking against its adoption.

SPEAKER'S PRIVILEGE

The Speaker recognized within the bar of the House a delegation from the Oregon legislature consisting of Senator Ben Musa, president of the Senate, Representative Catherine Musa, chairman of the Rules Committee, Senator Harry Bowen, immediate past president of the Senate, and Mr. Dale Henderson, secretary of the Senate, and appointed Representatives Wintler, Henry, Siler and Kink to escort them to a position of honor on the rostrum.

The House resumed consideration of House Bill No. 422 on second reading.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Moon:

"Mr. Speaker, I wonder if Mr. Gorton would yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield to question, Mr. Gorton?"

Mr. Gorton:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker."

Mr. Moon:

"Mr. Gorton, I wonder if this measure would allow legislators an opportunity to try to mislead the voters? More specifically, could a legislator, for instance, who lived on a rural route in Everett use an address in Mukilteo?"

Mr. Gorton:

"Mr. Speaker, this has nothing to do with anyone's being misled at all. It has to do with a situation which arose which Mr. Gilbert would like to correct, in which he misadvised a candidate for office as to the address he should use. It has to do with a candidate who lives in his district and is registered in the precinct in which he lives and has a mailing address which is different. It has nothing to do with misleading voters at all."

MOTION

On motion of Mr. Copeland, the House recessed until 1:00 p. m.

AFTERNOON SESSION

The Speaker called the House to order at 1:00 p. m.

The Clerk called the roll. Representatives Beierlein and Lybecker, who were excused, were absent.

SPEAKER'S PRIVILEGE

The Speaker recognized within the bar of the House the Honorable Daniel K. Inouye, United States Senator from Hawaii, and appointed Representatives Hurley and Kink to escort him to a position of honor on the rostrum.

The Speaker:

"In addition to being United States Senator, Senator Inouye has also been a member of the Congress of the United States. He is an honored and decorated World War II hero, and I understand a perfect gentleman. We would like to hear a word from the gentleman right now."

Senator Inouye:

"Mr. Speaker, members of the House, I bring you greeting from the state of Hawaii and from our governor, Mr. Burns, and from the Speaker of our House. I have been asked to convey to you our very best wishes and Godspeed in your deliberations. I realize that you have much to do, so, although in the Senate of United States there is no limitation to speaking, I suppose there is a rule here in this House and I will stay within that rule. In closing, may I once again bid all of you Aloha."

The Speaker directed the special committee to conduct Senator Inouye from the House chamber.

The Speaker declared the House to be at ease.

The Speaker called the House to order.

SECOND READING OF BILLS

The House resumed consideration of House Bill No. 422 on second reading.

House Bill No. 422, by Representatives Metcalf, Lewis, and Braun:

Affecting provisions for the declaration and affidavit of political candidacy.

The Speaker declared the question before the House to be adoption of the committee amendment to page 1, line 22.

Mr. Litchman demanded an electric roll call, and the demand was sustained.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Smith:

"Mr. O'Brien, would you yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield to question, Mr. O'Brien?"

Mr. O'Brien:

"Yes."

Mr. Smith:

"Mr. O'Brien, would you say that this amendment we are voting on would make it possible to legally put this information on the application for candidacy?"

Mr. O'Brien:

"Possibly. Apparently the problem occurred in the last election when the secretary of state's office prepared an application for one legislator with an address placed thereon. The candidate signed it and then later an issue was raised that this was the improper address. So that, apparently, is the reason this bill was prepared. The secretary of state's office doesn't have any particular interest in this bill."

Debate ensued, Representatives Uhlman and O'Donnell speaking against adoption of the amendment, and Representatives Gorton and Moon speaking for its adoption.

The Clerk called the roll on the adoption of the committee amendment. The motion was carried, and the amendment was adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 62; nays, 32; absent or not voting, 5.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Ahlquist, Beck, Berentson, Bergh, Bozarth, Brachtenbach, Braun, Canfield, Clark, Comfort, Conner, Copeland, Dootson, Earley, Eberle, Eldridge, Evans, Flanagan, Folsom, Gleason, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Hadley, Harris, Haussler, Hawley, Hood, Huntley, Hurley, Jolly, Jueling, King, Kink, Kirk, Leland, Lind, Lynch, Mahaffey, Mast, McCaffree, McCormick, McDougall, McElroy, Metcalf, Miles, Moon, Moos, Morphis, Mundy, Newschwander, O'Connell, Odell, Perry, Pritchard, Reese, Rosenberg, Swayze, Wang, Wedekind, Wintler, Young, Mr. Speaker—62.

Those voting nay were: Representatives Ackley, Adams, Andersen (James A.), Anderson (Eric O.), Bigley, Brouillet, Burtch, Campbell, Chatalas, DeJarnatt, Gallagher, Garrett, Grant, Henry, Herr, Klein, Litchman, May, McFadden, Morrissey, O'Brien, O'Donnell, Olsen, Rogers, Savage, Sawyer, Schaefer, Siler, Smith, Taylor, Uhlman, Witherbee—32.

Those absent or not voting were: Representatives Backstrom, Beierlein, Johnston, Lewis, Lybecker—5.
