REPORT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE

The Special Committee appointed under the terms of HCR 17, appeared at the bar of the House and reported that they had notified the Governor that the Legislature was organized and ready for business.

The report was received and the committee was discharged.

MESSAGE FROM THE SENATE

January 13, 1986

Mr. Speaker:

The Senate has adopted:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 124,

and the same is herewith transmitted.

Sidney R. Snyder, Secretary.

The House reverted to the fourth order of business.

INTRODUCTION AND FIRST READING

SCR 124 by Senators Bottiger, Fleming, Hayner and Sellar

Providing for the reintroduction of measures introduced during the 1985 legislative sessions.

On motion of Mr. J. King, the rules were suspended and Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 124 was advanced to second reading and read the second time in full.

On motion of Mr. J. King, the rules were suspended, the second reading considered the third, and the resolution was placed on final passage.

POINT OF PARLIAMENTARY PROCEDURE

Mr. Barrett: "Mr. Speaker, the intent of Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 124 seems to be that all bills be placed at this moment at the position they were when we sine died at the end of the regular and special session. Is that the intent, that all bills, as of this moment, will be placed as they were at the time of sine die?"

The Speaker: "The answer to your question, Representative Barrett, is 'No.'"

Mr. Barrett: "If the wording does not mean what I had interpreted it to mean, Mr. Speaker, may I ask, before we vote, that it be explained to us what the wording does mean?"

The Speaker: "This resolution is almost boiler-plate language for every resolution that has passed since I've been here. With the exception of those bills--our closing resolution indicated the status of various bills; we were authorized in that closing resolution for the Executive Rules Committee to rerefer bills to various committees, which has been the custom here. We, in fact, have done that. That would explain and clarify the issue."

Mr. Barrett spoke in favor of the resolution.

POINT OF PARLIAMENTARY PROCEDURE

Mr. G. Nelson: "The official document that determines the status of measures on this opening day would be the Status Report of January 13, 1986. As a point of parliamentary inquiry, I ask for the members of this body where the Status Report would be and whether or not we can wait until we get the Status Report before determining the best action on this resolution?"

The Speaker: "It is my understanding, Representative Nelson, that the tape is broken at the State Printer and they are definitely trying to get those taken care of and the Assistant Chief Clerk is checking to see if we have a master copy."

Mr. G. Nelson: "Which document will take precedent for the advisement of the public at large and the legislature, the Status Report, the official document of House and Senate, or the resolution that we are about to vote on?"

The Speaker: "The document will be found in the Journal, which is the official document of this House. Whatever the Journal shows at the end of the day--the Journal reflects the official policy of the body."

Mr. G. Nelson: "Mr. Speaker, I think I understood the answer, but it wasn't the answer to my question because the Status Report determines the situation on measures at the beginning of the working day, not at the end of the working day as would the Journal."

The Speaker: "The official document which locates where various bills are would be the Journal, not the Status Sheet."

Mr. G. Nelson: "Mr. Speaker, am I led to believe that the Journal at the close of the last working day, which was June 12, 1985, would determine the status of all measures at gavel time, which was noon January 13, 1986?"

The Speaker: "With the qualifications that I gave to Representative Barrett previously."

The resolution was adopted.

MESSAGE FROM THE SENATE

January 13, 1986

INTRODUCTION AND FIRST READING

SCR 125 by Senators Bottiger, Fleming, Hayner and Sellar

Establishing cutoff dates for 1986 regular session of the legislature.

MOTION

On motion of Mr. J. King, the rules were suspended and Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 125 was advanced to second reading and read the second time in full.

Mr. Ballard moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 1, lines 22 and 28 and page 2, lines 2, 9, and 13 following "budgets," insert "bills dealing with tort reform."

Representatives Ballard and Brough spoke in favor of the amendment and Mr. J. King spoke against it.

On motion of Mr. Hastings, the following remarks by Representative J. King were ordered inserted into the Journal:

Mr. J. King: "I'm going to ask people to oppose the amendment. Just like swallows coming back to Capistrano, several things always happen the first day of the session: One of them is that the voting machine never works in spite of the fact that it was working the night before at midnight, and the second thing that has happened is that one side or the other always wants to amend the cut-off. Let me be very clear, we want to deal with this issue. The fact that we have had dealings and have had dealings all year long, the fact that we spent an entire day last week on the floor of this House trying, with all sincerity, to deal with what looks to us to be an insurance crisis. We will deal with it; we want to deal with it now. We don't want to give ourselves any excuse to delay this. I would point out that this body could delay or could amend the cutoff at any point in the session, but we are anxious to get on with this business and deal with it right away. Please vote no on this needless amendment."

A division was called.

On motion of Mr. Tilly, the following remarks by Representative Barrett were ordered placed in the Journal:

Mr. Barrett: "I would urge that we do not bump this bill. I think the message has to be said loud and clear right now that this is not going to be a session of sixty days of sweetness and light. The minority party may not have the votes to stop anything that is going to happen, and may not have the votes to put on some vital issues so paramount to the people of our state, but we are not going to cave in and give any endorsement to bills like this one that make no recognition that this body will not have time enough in the schedule that has been presented, there will not be time to address all of the issues that are so important. I refer to tort reform which the majority party said today that if it doesn't make it through in a certain time, to hell with it, it's gone. I refer to the other issues and I think it's time that we said from this side of the aisle that we are going to help set the agenda. If we can't help set the agenda for this session, then we aren't going to vote to run everything down our own throats. I would ask you to vote no on this motion to bump."

Mr. J. King spoke in favor of the motion.

Mr. Ballard demanded an oral roll call vote and the demand was sustained.

The Clerk called the roll on the motion to suspend the rules and place Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 125 on final passage, and the motion failed to receive two-thirds majority by the following vote: Yeas, 53; nays, 42; absent, 1; excused, 2.

Voting nay: Representatives Addison, Allen, Ballard, Barnes, Barrett, Betzoff, Bond, Brooks, Brough, Chandler, Dobbs, Doty, Fuhrman, Hankins, Holland, Isaacson, Lewis, Long, Lundquist, May, Nealey, Nelson G, Padden, Patrick, Prince, Sanders, Schmidt, Schoon, Silver, Smith C, Smith L, Taylor, Thomas, Tilly, van Dyke, Van Luven, Vander Stoep, Walker, Williams B, Williams J, Wilson S, Winsley - 42.

GOVERNOR'S STATE OF THE STATE ADDRESS

Governor Gardner: "Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Mr. Chief Justice, distinguished Justices of the Supreme Court, members of the Legislature, honored elected officials and fellow citizens of Washington State.

"The state of our state is stable: The economy is holding, although not growing as rapidly as we would like; government is maintaining, though not expanding, vital programs; unemployment has stabilized and even declined, though many people are going back to work for lower salaries than they earned in the past; and the timber industry has restructured into a leaner, more efficient operation and seems to have leveled off in its employment. Things are stable but stability has never been good enough for the people of this state. People want progress.

"A year ago I delivered my first address before you as a rookie governor. It was a speech filled with optimism and with priorities. Those priorities remain today: A clean and safe environment; the best possible educational system; jobs for the unemployed and underemployed; and stable growth for our economy. I have spent a great deal of time in the past year talking with the people who pay the bills for government--the taxpayers. They share the goals which I have outlined, but they also had another message: Get rid of waste and duplication in government. Governors in the past have spent the majority of their time formulating policy and talking to the Legislature and the people. But when it came time to implement policy, they turned it over to state employees and left them to their own devices.

"Our approach has been different. My experience in the private sector taught me that you don't make policy decisions until you really understand how the business runs. I've spent countless hours over the past year dropping in on agency offices unannounced, talking with people who are responsible for carrying out policy and delivering services to the people of this state, and talking to the managers I have selected to run these agencies. I have instructed the managers to make these agencies as lean and effective as they can, and the results so far have been impressive. The Department of Labor and Industries was long thought to be totally unmanageable, but Dick Davis has done an outstanding job bringing that agency under control. By tightening up eligibility requirements in vocational rehabilitation to prevent abuse, the department is projecting a savings of 175 million dollars over an 18-month period. Bud Shinpoch applied business techniques from the private sector to the Department of Revenue and saved more than a million dollars in operating costs. Now he's working for the same kind of efficient operation in the Department of Social and Health Services. His proposal is to reduce the number of supervisors from about 2,862 to about 1,532, putting an additional 1,330 people at the service-delivery level where they are desperately needed.

"Our state productivity program has blossomed under new enlightened management. For example, the Department of Labor and Industries had received a total of only 15 suggestions in two years. In 1985, the department received 255 suggestions that will produce a savings of about $750,000. That experience shows what a tremendous resource we have in our state employees. When given proper support and challenged by leaders who really care about improving state services, they do quality work. Yet we have a long way to go in giving proper support to employees at the service delivery level, employees who carry excessive workloads and lack adequate clerical and word processing support. Bringing efficiency to state government requires a broad approach. The lines of communication between the people and decision-makers in state government are clogged. To fix the problem will take action akin to open-heart surgery.

"State government consists of more than 400 agencies, boards and commissions. Since 1982, more than 50 new boards, commissions and agencies have been established. The trend has been to create a new board, commission or agency for every new program. Attempts to control the growth have failed. Sunset review was established to try to eliminate unneeded commissions and agencies, yet growth continued. Taken as a whole, this hodgepodge, defies rational management, creates confusion in people's minds and results in duplication of effort. Then there is the question of authority and responsibility.

"When people elected a governor in November of 1984, they thought they were picking someone to run government. What they got was a Governor who is responsible for less than half the money and less than half of the state employees. Of the nearly 100 separately budgeted agencies, only 35 report directly to the Governor. Most of the rest report to a commission. Our high school civics classes taught us that there were three branches of government: The Executive, the Judicial and the Legislative. Today government has a fourth branch: The Commission. Commissions are composed of people who make major decisions about the life of our citizens, yet you never have the opportunity to vote for them or, probably, even to know who they are. A major difference between a commission and the Governor is that if the people aren't satisfied with the job the Governor does, you can fire him--as the third Governor in five years. I'm proof of that--but you can't fire a commission.

"The problems I have outlined with the operation of government must be solved before the people will be willing to trust us with new initiatives. My goal by the end of the year is to be able to look each citizen in the eye and tell them: Like everything else, Government is not perfect, but we are doing a good job with your tax dollars.

"The heart of my legislative program this year is a package of bills to reshape state government. It took nearly 100 years for government to get in its current condition. We can't change it in a single session but we will begin the process. Given the problems, our goals are clear:

1. To create a streamlined and responsive state government that is accountable to the public.
 2. To improve citizen accessibility and understanding of state government.
 3. To enhance the effectiveness of existing agency operations and procedures.
- Given these goals, we will focus our efforts on the following objectives:
1. We will reduce the number of agencies through consolidations along functional lines.
 2. We will ensure that key functions of state government are performed by agencies managed by executives appointed by the Governor.
 3. We will give line managers greater administrative authority and a greater role in decisions.

"Harry Truman had a sign on his desk that said: 'The Buck Stops Here.' I like that idea and think the people want to know where the buck stops in this state. It is true that the ultimate responsibility for any operation of state government rests with the Governor. In turn, the Governor must build and lead a team that is able to delegate responsibility and is willing to live with the consequences. There will be mistakes...but there can be tremendous accomplishments. The challenge of a good manager is to accept the blame for the mistakes and to share the credit for the accomplishments.

"Now, let's get to the specifics. Government reorganization is not a single-session project. It is an unending process, but we must have a strong beginning this year--a beginning that accomplishes the goals I outlined a moment ago. I am recommending to the Legislature that the Governor be given direct responsibility for the administration of the Department of Transportation, the Department of Game and the Department of Parks and Recreation. This would include appointing the director of these agencies. In each case, the commissions would be retained, but their role would be focused on policy issues and serving as a link with constituencies actively involved with the areas.

"While I am recommending that the responsibility for the selection of the director go immediately to the Governor, I am also recommending that a process be established to review the statutes pertaining to each of the three areas and the 1987 session of the Legislature would be charged with passing legislation to clear up any conflicts between the commissions and the directors.

"In addition to requesting a clear line of authority to these agencies, I intend to propose several other major changes. Twenty-four state agencies have less than 10 fulltime employees. In such cases, administrative overhead consumes a disproportionate share of the agency's budget. When economic times get tough and across-the-board cuts are made, the small agencies do not have the flexibility to absorb a 10 percent cut without serious damage to the program.

"To begin with, I will be asking for the elimination of at least 10 boards and commissions. These are commissions that have either outlived their usefulness, that have never been utilized or that duplicate other entities in government.

"Next, I propose the merger of certain functions of state government to provide more flexibility. I will propose that the Department of Emergency Management, the Office of Archaeology and Historic Preservation and the Fire Protection Board be eliminated as separate government agencies and their functions transferred to the Department of Community Development. Also, that the Board of Accountancy, the Cemetery Board and the Board of Pharmacy be transferred to the Department of Licensing; and that the Commission for Vocational Education be allowed to terminate through the Sunset process, and that a new State Board for Vocational Education, substantially reduced in size, be established with the Governor as chairman and the Superintendent of Public Instruction and the State Community College Director as members.

"We will start by tackling the obvious issues this session, while continuing to pull together more information about how elements of government can be made more efficient. There will be those who will oppose these efforts. They will try to use scare tactics. They will talk about politics creeping into government and they will say the commissions are needed in their current role as a protection. My response to that is this: Do we really need to protect government from the people?

"Today we have annual legislative sessions, monthly legislative meetings, professional legislative staffs, open meetings, an aggressive press corps and public access to information. These are things that did not exist when commissions were first formed. I hope the members of this Legislature will have courage to look harshly on the arguments of the special interests when they come in opposition to these changes in government. These are bold steps, but they are only the beginning in what promises to be a long battle to bring the organization of government into the Twentieth Century. I am confident that this Legislature will join with me in an effort to make government more efficient and accountable to the people. After these first steps are taken, I will work with the Legislature to keep going and take even more action than I am offering today. It took nearly 100 years for government to get in the shape it is in today. We won't turn it around in one 60-day legislative session. I intend to pursue government reorganization methodically until the job is done. We will take on the task in manageable pieces.

"Government reorganization is a critical issue this session, but there are other issues that must be addressed. Legislative leaders and I have worked long and hard to achieve a workable agreement on financing efforts to protect and improve water quality throughout this state, and have developed a responsible compromise. It is imperative that the water quality financing plan be approved this session. We also have a comparable worth agreement for your ratification. Our supplemental budget provides money for street kids, for respite care for the elderly, for education of the handicapped and for day care assistance for low-income families. Safe, affordable day care has become a necessity in thousands of single-parent and two-income families, and I will ask you to approve several measures which were recommended by the statewide day care task force.

"Two other governors and I worked all of last year to achieve a solution to our three states being the only repositories in the nation for low-level nuclear waste. Before it adjourned last month, Congress passed the bill which we had presented to it. I will send you legislation to implement our state's responsibility for policing this new national system. In the past year, there has been great concern over what state government is doing to help in-state businesses grow and prosper. I share that concern. Several departments have been working for months to implement a simplified business licensing system, and I have included funds in the supplemental budget to continue this process. We also have tried to expedite state reviews necessary for permits and we have brought agencies together through the economic development cabinet to help cut red tape.

"As I look back over the past year, my greatest frustration as Governor has been the state's inability to provide adequate resources necessary to make substantial improvements in education. Education--both the common schools and higher education--has more responsibility for the future well-being of our people and communities than any other part of state government. In the past year, I have spent one day a month in the primary and secondary schools. I am acutely aware of the commitment to learning that exists throughout this state. I am equally aware of the continuing problems that exist, ranging from levy equity and restrictive state funding, to school employee salaries and the tremendous building needs in communities such as Selah and Bremerton.

"In condensing my school experiences over the past year into a brief summary, I am impressed with:

1. The complexity of the teaching process. There are many different levels of learning going on in a single classroom. As a result, the teaching process also becomes a management process. Teachers must motivate children to learn and to be creative, using many of the same techniques a manager would use to motivate his employees.

2. The diversity of the school system, which delivers many services to the communities, all the way from food and health resources to transportation and education. The schools also play a vital role in the socialization of our young--the learning and development of ideas, instincts and social skills--skills that will guide students through life.

3. The enthusiasm each community has for their children having a positive experience in the school system. They like students who are challenging and hard-working, and they like teachers who challenge their students, who teach creatively and who include the patrons of the school system into the development of new curriculum. This all adds up to a good school system.

"Throughout this state we have good school systems. If you doubt it, go see for yourself. Ultimately, however, our success is going to rely on our ability to attract and retain quality teachers. It will also rely on our ability to get children off to a positive start. Therefore, I've included funds in the supplemental budget for the early childhood education program, to give those most at risk a fighting chance when they are starting out.

"Finally, I am proposing legislation to make the appointment of the State School Board a Governor's appointment with ratification by the Senate. The current system of appointing members of the State Board is so obscure and removed from the people of this state that few understand it. It is my hope that this change will lead to a more intense and visible discussion about the future of education in this state. We have an equally great challenge in higher education. Our major universities are in danger of losing hard-won ground both in their programs and facilities. The need for additional resources must be addressed, at the same time that we look at the questions of who goes where, who pays for what and what they get for their money. A vital and prosperous future relies on answering these questions and meeting these needs. There is much more that should be done. The problem is that today, in this era of limited resources, there are simply not the resources at hand to begin major new initiatives in education. The people of this state are going to have to make some hard decisions about how much commitment they are going to put into the educational system.

"I have outlined an agenda for this legislative session. It will be a short, 60-day session. If we accomplish the goals I have outlined, this will be one of the most productive sessions in the history of the state. With reorganization and water quality, we are taking major initiatives that will affect the people of this state for generations. To do less is a commitment to the status quo.... We have a great number of challenges ahead of us. We have an even greater number of opportunities. As a government, we must be lean, efficient and flexible. As a people, we must be understanding, compassionate and willing to break new ground.

"I hope this session can be the beginning of something very special in this state—not politics as usual, but government as it can be.

"Thank you."

MESSAGE FROM SECRETARY OF STATE

January 24, 1986

The Honorable Wayne Ehlers
Speaker of the House of Representatives
Legislature of the State of Washington
Olympia, Washington
Dear Mr. Speaker:

As required by Article II, Section 1 of the State Constitution and RCW 29.79.200, we herewith respectfully transmit the certification of the sufficiency of Initiative to the Legislature 90, a copy of the full, true and complete text of which was certified to you on January 13, 1986.

Sincerely,
RALPH MUNRO, Secretary of State

CERTIFICATION OF INITIATIVE TO THE LEGISLATURE 90

Pursuant to Article II, Section 1 of the Washington State Constitution, RCW 29.79.200, and WAC 434-79-010, the Office of the Secretary of State has caused the signatures submitted in support of Initiative to the Legislature 90 to be examined in the following manner:

(1) It was determined that 211,299 signatures were submitted by the sponsors thereof. A random sample of 21,238 signatures was taken from those submitted;

(2) Each sampled signature was examined to determine the following: (a) if the signer was a registered voter of the state at the address indicated on the petition; (b) if the signature was reasonably similar to the one appearing on the record of that voter; (c) if the same signature appeared more than once in the sample. We found 17,682 valid signatures, 3,494 signatures invalid due to nonregistration or improper form, and 62 pairs of duplicated signatures in the sample;

(3) We calculated an allowance for the chance of error of sampling (89) by multiplying the square root of the number of invalid signatures by 1.5;

(4) We estimated the upper limit of the number of signatures on the initiative petition which were invalid (35,652) by dividing the sum of the number of invalid signatures in the sample and the allowance for the chance error of sampling by the sampling ratio;

(5) We determined the maximum allowable number of pairs of signatures on the petition (9,400) by subtracting the sum of 110% of the number of signatures required by Article II, Section 1 of the Washington State Constitution (166,247) and the estimate of the upper limit of the number of invalid signatures on the petition from the number of signatures submitted;

(6) We determined the expected value of the maximum number of pairs of signatures in the sample (95) by multiplying the square of the sampling ratio by the maximum allowable number of pairs of signatures on the initiative petition;

(7) We determined the acceptable number of pairs of signatures in the sample (78) by subtracting 1.65 times the square root of the expected number of pairs of signatures in the sample from the expected number of pairs of signatures in the sample; and

(8) Since the number of pairs of signatures in the sample is less than the acceptable number of pairs of signatures in the sample, I hereby declare Initiative to the Legislature 90 to be sufficient.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of the State of Washington to be affixed this 24th day of January, 1986.

(Seal) RALPH MUNRO, Secretary of State

Mr. Addison: "Representative Jacobsen, I guess for legislative intent, I'm wondering, would the legislation prohibit the use of these automatic calling devices for getting out the vote?"

Mr. Addison: "How about polling for political candidates prior to an election?"

Mr. Jacobsen: "That would be all right; that is not sales, goods or services."

SECOND READING

ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 126, by Committee on Ways & Means (originally sponsored by Senators McDermott, Fleming, Rinehart and Lee)

Ratifying comparable worth agreement.

The bill was read the second time. Committee on Ways & Means recommendation: Majority, do pass as amended. (For amendment, see Journal, 17th Day, January 29, 1986.)

On motion of Mr. Braddock, the committee amendment was adopted.

Mr. Tilly moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 1, after line 19 insert:

"WHEREAS, It is the intent of the contract that the legislature shall retain ultimate authority over the decision whether a new comparable worth evaluation methodology is used by the state personnel board and the higher education personnel board and whether those boards adopt a new comparable worth line based on all jobs; and"

Mr. Tilly spoke in favor of the amendment, and Mr. Braddock spoke against it.

On motion of Mr. Padden, the following remarks by Representative Braddock were ordered spread upon the Journal:

Mr. Braddock: "I would submit that all of us want to be certain that we tie this agreement down as much as possible, but I would also submit that we have made it very clear, abundantly clear, in our letters and in our conversation, our testimony, our questions over the past week that if they create an all new job line, which has the potential of exceeding the $482 million figure, that they would know very well and without any doubt, that they would be violating the intent of this legislature. That, I believe, is abundantly clear and we have made it clear over the past week. They would know that. This legislature would retain the ability outside this contract, I believe, to respond to such an action. I believe that we let these authorities do a lot with our salary levels now, that we don't even approve every year. We do not, every year, approve every adjustment in salaries in individual departments. We have established intent very well; it's very clear what the intent of this legislation is and for that reason, I believe, this is unnecessary and I encourage the members to vote no."

Representative Tilly spoke again in favor of the amendment.

Representative B. Williams spoke for the amendment, and Representative Belcher opposed it.

On motion of Mr. Padden, the following remarks by Representative Belcher were ordered spread upon the Journal:

Ms. Belcher: "I think the concern over where the line is drawn is really a fascinating question, particularly considering the fact that this body passed a law in 1983 that did not define the line at all. You left it totally open and the implementation up to the Department of Personnel and Higher Education Personnel Board. What you gain in this contractual agreement is a definition of that line; a very specific definition of that line. There is nothing in the contractual agreement that would authorize the Department of Personnel to change that line without legislative authorization. This body could, at any time, take action to direct the Personnel Board either to leave the line where it is or to change it, but there is absolutely no authority in the contract that would change the responsibility to the State Personnel Board. We don't need this language; it simply muddies the issue."

Representatives Grimm and Niemi opposed the amendment, and Representative Bond spoke in favor of it.

A division was called.

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on adoption of the amendment by Representative Tilly to page 1, line 19 of Engrossed Substitute Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 126, and the amendment was not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 43; nays, 55.

Voting yea: Representatives Addison, Ballard, Barnes, Barrett, Betrozoff, Bond, Brooks, Brough, Chandler, Dobbs, Doty, Fuhrman, Hankins, Hastings, Holland, Isaacson, Lewis, Long, Lundquist, May, Miller, Nealey, Nelson G, Padden, Patrick, Prince, Sanders, Schmidt, Schoon, Silver, Smith C, Smith L, Taylor, Thomas, Tilly, van Dyke, Van Luvan, Vander Stoep, Walker, West, Williams B, Williams J, Wilson S - 43.

Voting nay: Representatives Allen, Appelwick, Armstrong, Basich, Baugher, Belcher, Braddock, Brekke, Bristow, Cole, Crane, Day, Dellwo, Ebersole, Fisch, Fisher, Gallagher, Grimm, Hargrove, Haugen, Hine, Jacobsen, King J, King P, King R, Kremen, Leonard, Locke, Lux, Madsen, McMullen, Nelson D, Niemi, Nutley, O'Brien, Peery, Rayburn, Rust, Sayan, Scott, Smitherman, Sommers, Sutherland, Tanner, Todd, Unsoeld, Valle, Vekich, Waik, Wang, Wilson K, Wineberry, Winsley, Zellinsky, and Mr. Speaker - 55.

Ms. Silver moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 1, after line 19 insert:

"WHEREAS, The contract provides that the state is not obligated to spend more than $482.4 million dollars to provide comparable worth adjustments provided in the contract, except for any additional costs resulting from future general salary increases; and"

Ms. Silver spoke in favor of the amendment, and Mr. Braddock opposed it.

On motion of Mr. Padden, the following remarks by Representative Braddock were ordered spread upon the Journal:

Mr. Braddock: "I, again, rise to urge the members to vote no on this amendment. I do so because I think, as we stated before, we did a good job of clarifying what the intent was in our work this week and I would read from a letter--this is a letter that has been signed by the parties to the contract. All parties signed this; all parties testified before us on this issue. It says, 'In any event, the overall cost of the contract of the state is not more than $482.4 million....' It states that very clearly. I believe that provides sufficient intent in addition to the other discussions we had with the parties of this contract in the committee meetings. I believe we have established it well and this is not needed."

Representatives B. Williams, Ballard and Taylor spoke in favor of the amendment, and Representatives Belcher and Hine spoke against it.

A division was called.

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on adoption of the amendment by Representative Silver to Engrossed Substitute Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 126, and the amendment was not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 44; nays, 54.

Voting yea: Representatives Addison, Ballard, Barnes, Barrett, Betrozoff, Bond, Brooks, Brough, Chandler, Dobbs, Doty, Fuhrman, Hankins, Hastings, Holland, Isaacson, Lewis, Long, Lundquist, May, Miller, Nealey, Nelson G, Padden, Patrick, Prince, Sanders, Schmidt, Schoon, Silver, Smith C, Smith L, Taylor, Thomas, Tilly, van Dyke, Van Luven, Vander Stoep, Walker, West, Williams B, Williams J, Wilson S, Winsley - 44.

Voting nay: Representatives Allen, Appelwick, Armstrong, Basich, Baugher, Belcher, Braddock, Brekke, Bristow, Cole, Crane, Day, Dellwo, Ebersole, Fisch, Fisher, Gallagher, Grimm, Hargrove, Haugen, Hine, Jacobsen, King J, King P, King R, Kremen, Leonard, Locke, Lux, Madsen, McMullen, Nelson D, Niemi, Nutley, O'Brien, Peery, Rayburn, Rust, Sayan, Scott, Smitherman, Sommers, Sutherland, Tanner, Todd, Unsoeld, Valle, Vekich, Walk, Wang, Wilson K, Wineberry, Zellinsky, and Mr. Speaker - 54.

Mr. Hastings moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 2, line 1 following "parties" insert "; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That nothing in this act is intended to remove the peoples right of referendum on this act"

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Appelwick: "Mr. Speaker, would you please rule on the scope and object of this amendment?"

SPEAKER'S RULING

The Speaker: "Representative Appelwick, the amendment deals with the people's right of referendum. The people's right of referendum is contained in Article II, section 1 of the State Constitution. Referendum powers apply only to bills enacted by the legislature. Concurrent resolutions are not subject to referendum; they deal with matters essentially relating to the legislative branch. Therefore, your point is well taken."

POINT OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Hastings: "Mr. Speaker, there may be some doubt that a resolution is something other than a bill as referenced in the Constitution. Is there someplace--case law, for instance--that has proven that resolutions are something other than what is referenced in the Constitution?"

The Speaker: "I think you just heard it. I ruled it."

Mr. Hastings: "Mr. Speaker, I asked if there is case law."

The Speaker: "No, not to my knowledge."

Mr. Hastings: "Mr. Speaker, that is precisely the reason why this is offered and I think that this issue is important enough---"

The Speaker: "I'm sorry, Representative Hastings, I ruled on that matter and the ruling still holds."

Engrossed Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 126 as amended by the House was passed to Committee on Rules for third reading.

HOUSE BILL NO. 1703, by Representatives Niemi, Brough, Allen, Belcher, Fisher, Miller, Cole, Hine and Unsoeld; by request of Governor Gardner

The Speaker called the House to order.

Mr. Braddock spoke in favor of the committee amendments and they were adopted.

Mr. Barnes moved adoption of the following amendment:

Total Appropriation	$	45,910,000

The appropriations in this section are subject to the following conditions and limitations: ~~((1) $2,578,000 of the general fund appropriation and $1,365,000 of the special fund salary increase revolving fund appropriation are provided solely for a salary increase for those job classifications tied to salary survey benchmarks falling 8 ranges or more below the January 1, 1985, actual average comparable worth line as calculated under the formula of $983.72 + ($3.28 x points) and rounded to the nearest Step G or equivalent step for shortened ranges. However, a job classification shall receive an increase only if its salary range as of January 1, 1985, is also 8 or more ranges less than the salary range of that classification as calculated under the aforementioned formula using the evaluation points of that classification as adopted by the respective personnel board. The adjustments shall take place July 1, 1985, and July 1, 1986, and shall equal $75 a year for all affected classes and employees.~~

~~(2) $350,000 of the general fund—state appropriation shall be used solely by the office of the governor to hire an independent consultant with expertise in developing and evaluating public employee job classification systems and implementing comparable worth. The consultant shall:~~

~~(a) Review the Willis methodology;~~

~~(b) Update job class specifications for all job classes with incumbents that have not been reviewed for the past five years;~~

~~(c) Develop a new benchmark and indexing structure which reflects the evaluated worth of the job classes; and~~

~~(d) Evaluate the job class specifications for the implementation of comparable worth.~~

~~(3) The department of personnel and the higher education personnel board shall provide any assistance needed by the consultant to perform the activities in subsection (2) of this section. Both the state personnel board and higher education personnel board must submit joint reports to the legislature on the progress to date in implementing the consultant's recommendations no later than January 1, 1986, and July 1, 1986. On January 1, 1987, both boards shall submit a final report to the legislature.~~

~~(4) $150,000 of the general fund—state appropriation shall be used solely for the office of the governor to allocate to agencies that provide technical assistance to the consultant hired under subsection (2) of this section.~~

~~(5) $23,612,000 of the general fund appropriation and $17,815,000 of the special fund salary increase revolving fund appropriation are provided for the settlement of all claims of all plaintiffs and class members of American Federation of State, County, and Municipal Employees, et al. v. State of Washington, et al., Cause Nos. C82-4657, 84-3569, and 84-3590 and the~~

~~implementation of comparable worth pursuant to RCW 28B.16.116 and RCW 41.06.155. The settlement shall result in complete discharge of all claims of any nature whatsoever of all plaintiffs and class members. It is the intent of the legislature that salary adjustments for affected class members not exceed the adjustment calculated using the average actual comparable worth salary line as applied to the Willis evaluation points of the affected job classification and adopted by the state personnel board and the higher education personnel board. The governor as the chief executive officer of the state, with the assistance of the attorney general, is authorized to seek a proposed settlement. However, any such settlement is tentative and subject to legislative ratification. $100,000 of the general fund appropriation is provided solely for the office of the governor to retain any special consultants or negotiators to work with the attorney general in seeking a settlement of American Federation of State, County, and Municipal Employees, et al. v. State of Washington, et al., within the terms of the appropriation as set out in this subsection. If a tentative settlement is reached within the terms of the appropriation within this subsection, the governor and the attorney general shall jointly present a report on the tentative settlement to the legislature no later than January 1, 1986, for ratification. No funds shall be released before January 1, 1987, and until such time as stipulated final judgment is entered under the terms of the tentative settlement ratified by the legislature. The appropriation provided for settlement in this subsection shall lapse if no proposal is brought before the legislature before January 1, 1986, if the tentative settlement brought before the legislature is not ratified by the legislature during the 1986 legislative session, or if stipulated final judgment is not entered before June 30, 1986.~~

~~(6) The department of personnel and the higher education personnel board shall report to the legislature by January 1, 1986, with a report identifying those job classifications not covered by the lawsuit that would be entitled to receive adjustments under the average actual comparable worth line. The report shall include recommendations regarding implementation of comparable worth adjustments for these affected job classes.~~

~~(7) To facilitate payment of salary increases from special funds, the state treasurer is directed to transfer sufficient income from each special fund to the special fund salary and insurance contribution increase revolving fund hereby created in accordance with schedules provided by the office of financial management)) The appropriations shall be expended to effect a state-wide uniform percentage salary increase for all certificated personnel employed in the common schools of the state, effective July 1, 1986. In providing this salary increase, the legislature recognizes that education is a profession that is, to a large extent, predominantly female. This salary increase is intended to implement comparable worth.~~

~~NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, the support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect immediately.~~

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. R. King: "Mr. Speaker, I believe this amendment, which changes from an appropriation to the Governor to implement the comparable worth to an appropriation to the Superintendent of Public Instruction for a general salary increase for teachers, is well beyond the scope and object of this bill."

SPEAKER'S RULING

The Speaker: "Representative King, the Speaker has looked at the title of House Bill 1703 and the floor amendment by Representative Barnes and finds that the title refers to the issue of comparable worth to state employees. This particular floor amendment broadens that interpretation to include all certified personnel in the public schools, the common schools, the salary increase. It is the Speaker's view that it broadly widens the interpretation of the title. Your point is well taken."

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. Padden: "I'm trying to understand your ruling, Mr. Speaker. Are you saying that comparable worth is not applied to everyone?"

The Speaker: "No. I just said this particular amendment is beyond the scope and object. It talks about a general salary increase."

The bill was ordered engrossed and passed to Committee on Rules for third reading.

The House advanced to the eighth order of business.

Re: Comparable Worth Agreement
Dear Representative Grimm:

Thank you for your letter of January 21 in which you request an interpretation of certain of the agreement's language to better understand the intent of the parties. We provide the following in answer to your questions.

Initially we note that underlying each of your questions is how the agreement will, in fact, be administered. Let us indicate at the outset that the overriding intent of the parties is that the agreement be administered in as fair, equitable and consistent a manner as possible by the state and, in particular, the two personnel systems. With this principle in mind, we address each of the questions.

As you may know, the two personnel systems have, using the Willis methodology, evaluated almost all job classifications which have a large number of employees that can be expected to qualify for comparable worth adjustment. In the Department of Personnel system, approximately seventy-eight percent of the employees are in job classifications which have been evaluated, and the corresponding number for the Higher Education Personnel system is approximately eighty-two percent. We recognize that all remaining jobs could not, with a high degree of accuracy, be evaluated by the implementation date of April 1, 1986. Therefore, we intended that the two personnel systems would use the best data available to them on the effective date of April 1. In other words, to determine which job classifications qualify for a comparable worth adjustment and to determine their range entitlements after April 1, 1986, the personnel boards would use the evaluated worth of the job classes where available. Because all benchmark jobs have been evaluated, determination for the remaining classes would be through benchmark-indexing. It is expected that the two personnel systems will do a limited number of additional evaluations prior to the effective date of the agreement to make necessary adjustments and provide direction for certain job classes. It was the intent of the parties that no job classification at or above the comparable worth line would receive any increase pursuant to the agreement.

You next address paragraph 2(B) of the agreement. Because all jobs have not been studied, the current actual average comparable worth line is drawn based on the evaluated worth and actual salaries of benchmark jobs only. Should the personnel board, during the term of the agreement complete evaluations on all jobs, it would be up to the two personnel boards to adopt a new line. At that point, the all jobs line would be used for continued implementation under the agreement. Please note that an all jobs line, by the agreement must, like the benchmark line, be based on January 1, 1985 actual salaries. The parties did not necessarily expect a new line to be drawn but intended in paragraph 2(B) to address such a possibility. In any event, the overall cost of the contract to the state is not more than $482.4 million. This figure does not include monies that are a part of any general salary increase used to maintain comparable worth pursuant to paragraph 4 of this agreement. By referencing the "Willis" points in the agreement, the parties simply were referring to the current methodology used in calculating comparable worth but did not intend to require the personnel boards to be locked into any particular methodology.

In answer to your third question, the parties did not intend to restrict or enhance the work or jurisdiction of the personnel boards. It is expected that there may be classes established or abolished and class series restructured during the term of the agreement. As a result of such board actions, comparable worth classification entitlement reflecting the new classification should be addressed in the normal course of the boards' actions.

We hope this sufficiently addresses the matters you have raised. Thank you for allowing us to answer your questions.

Re: Comparable Worth Agreement
Dear Representative Grimm:

In a letter dated January 28, 1986, you requested an interpretive letter regarding the Agreement dated December 31, 1985, and, in specific, the parties' intent with respect to the use of the term "appropriated" in paragraph 3(G).

The parties intended the term "appropriate" to mean "pay," "allocate," "provide," or "expend" monies necessary to achieve comparable worth as set forth in the Agreement. Thus, the parties did not intend to identify or to limit the sources of these funds, nor to adopt a definition of "appropriated" in the technical sense as used in legislative budget actions. The necessary monies, i.e. $10 million annually as set forth in paragraph 3(G), are to be comprised of all funds whether technically appropriated or nonappropriated, budgeted or nonbudgeted, or any combination of these funds. This intent of the parties is illustrated by the fact that following the term "appropriated" the parties made specific reference to both general and special fund monies, i.e. all monies, from whatever source.

We hope this clarifies the language of the Agreement and answers the question as set forth in your letter.

Sincerely,

Rebecca L. Bogard, Governor's Legislative Counsel;
George D. Masten, AFSCME International Vice President and Chief Negotiator;
Gary Moore, WFSE Executive Director

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Grimm yielded to question by Mr. Tilly.

Mr. Tilly: "Representative Grimm, is it correct to say that the total cost of compensation under the terms of this settlement will not exceed $482.4 million?"

Mr. Grimm: "Yes, Representative Tilly, assuming the number of state employees and their status as of April 1, 1986."

Mr. Tilly: "May the members voting on this measure rely on $482.4 million as the maximum financial exposure in ratifying this agreement?"

Mr. Grimm: "Yes, Representative Tilly, assuming the number of state employees and their status as of April 1, 1986."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Grimm yielded to question by Mr. Braddock.

Mr. Braddock: "Representative Grimm, can you tell me, was it your intent and the intent of the parties to the agreement, that the legislature retain final authority over the state personnel boards, including over their decision whether or not to adopt a new comparable worth evaluation methodology or a new comparable worth line?"

Mr. Grimm: "I'm glad you asked that question, Representative Braddock. Yes, it was quite definitely my intent and the intent of the parties, that the legislature retain its full present legal authority over the state personnel boards. While the agreement mentions that the two personnel boards could adopt a new comparable worth line based on all jobs, it was not my intent, nor the intent of the parties, to enhance the authority of the boards nor to limit the power of the legislature to define the boards' authority."

On motion of Mr. Hastings, the following remarks by Representative B. Williams were ordered spread upon the Journal:

Mr. B. Williams: "I urge you not to ratify this agreement because there are two issues: One, this is a contract. It is not a bill. Two, it is not pay equity, it is pay inequity that is administered under the terms of this contract. We have before this body today, an issue, not an act, not an item, not a section of a bill, not a part of a bill, not a bill, not a law to be passed by the legislature. Instead we have what is a carefully orchestrated and choreographed issue. This issue we call a resolution today. It was necessary that this resolution be carefully orchestrated and very carefully choreographed because, I believe, the flaws in the contract are very obvious. In my opinion, without all this orchestration, there would be no resolution before us today. This resolution ratifies an agreement reached between the governor's office and one--one--of our public unions. This agreement stands for many good and many laudable issues, and I doubt very seriously if anyone on the floor can say that they are against pay equity, but this contract does not achieve pay equity.

"There is really, to me, only one positive factor in the action which we are about to witness. That factor is a whole lot of people are going to get an increase in salary, not dealing with whether they are low-paid and not dealing with whether they are male or female. You know, everybody likes to see people get money, but I think that's where our agreement ends.

"Let's examine the resolution briefly. A majority of the general public sincerely believe that comparable worth is equal pay for equal work. They also believe just as sincerely that the ratification of this document will relieve many of the injustices which have been done to women, women who work hard and long, but do not receive just compensation on an equal basis as men performing the same work. That is federal law and that has been implemented in the State of Washington. Many people believe that this agreement applies to predominately low-paid female jobs and we are going to bring them back. This agreement does not do that.

"In much of the press and by many of the proponents, this has been referred to as pay equity. How is it pay equity? If you are a secretary, under the terms of this agreement, and you work for the Department of Personnel, you will receive $243 a month more than if you are a secretary doing a similar job at the University of Washington. Why is that clear? Because we have two different boards that evaluate under the Willis System in a different manner and come up with different results. If you are a secretary in the K-12 educational system, it doesn't apply. That is not comparable worth. How does it apply when we look at the top fifty-seven paid job classes in state government, occupied predominately by men and we see that people receiving $2700 a month or more, fifty out of those fifty-seven job classes are getting an increase. One of those, $850 a month increase. Is that comparable worth? Is that pay equity? I don't think so. How is it that of those jobs evaluated by the Higher Education Personnel Board, eighty-eight percent of the jobs evaluated are below the average line? How is it that those evaluated by the Department of Personnel System, over seventy-five percent are below the average? That is simply not comparable worth. That is simply state employees who have figured out the system and know how to do the evaluation. The significant difference between those who get the increase and those who do not are two things: One, if you are in a job which is a blue-collar job or is a highly professional job or outdoors, a high degree of safety, your job will be down-graded. The other significant difference: If you were evaluated by the Willis team, your points are lower than if you were evaluated by state employees using the Willis terminology. We can even see in the same job that was evaluated by two different teams, the Willis team and the state employees using the Willis logic, the point system went up, thereby increasing their salaries.

"You know, we have been told that this agreement will cost us $482.4 million and I read this contract--there is no limit in the contract. We've been told that this resolution will not cost us more than $482.4 million and it's not in there. This contract is very similar to another contract which we entered into, the largest contract the State of Washington authorized--marine power--a contract which was a design and build, no checks and balances; a contract in which we ended up in court, which our attorneys told us we could win, but we settled out of court. We won in court. We won, so instead, with a contract five times that of the ferry, enough to build thirty super ferries, we settled. Maybe we better not win too many lawsuits.

"I think another major point to look at is that this contract has got to trigger a tax increase. We all know, particularly on the Ways and Means Committee, that there is not an extra $482.4 million lying around. There are only two methods of funding this. As the governor says, we are in the era of subtraction, which means if you take $482.4 million for something, it's coming away from something else. If it comes away from something else, the only places it can come from are our K-12 teachers' salaries and higher education, because the governor is committed to the social programs. The only other alternative here is to go through and raise taxes. I submit to you that when you look at the contract, it is fatally flawed. In the space of twenty-four hours we had numerous amendments to it. The more time we looked at it, the more flaws we see in the contract. The contract, which cannot be changed, is not the way for the legislature to go. We have, in the Ways and Means Committee, a supplemental budget. We can appropriate funds to implement comparable worth the way the legislature believes comparable worth is--that is to bring predominately low-paid, male and female, jobs up, but not to give a general salary increase to those highly-paid top state officials. I urge a no vote."

Representatives Hastings, Isaacson, Vander Stoep, Padden, L. Smith and Bond spoke against passage of the resolution, and Representatives Miller, Braddock and J. King spoke in favor of it.

Mr. Crane demanded the previous question and the demand was not sustained.

Representatives Van Luven, Taylor and C. Smith spoke against the resolution, and Representatives Allen and Brough spoke in favor of it.

POINT OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Lewis: "Mr. Speaker, based on your decision yesterday, I'm asking whether or not this issue should be before us in light of Article VIII, subsection (3) of the State Constitution, 'Special Indebtedness, how authorized.?'"

The Speaker: "The Speaker does not make rulings on constitutional questions. Yesterday a reference (was made) that was only to indicate the difference between a bill and a concurrent resolution in terms of one being an internal measure and the other being a bill."

Representatives Silver and Lundquist spoke against the resolution.

Mr. Crane demanded the previous question and the demand was sustained.

Mr. Grimm closed debate, speaking in favor of the resolution.

WHEREAS, It takes only one seed or one person to make a difference. This spring, the Young Storytellers for Peace intend to do just that. They will fly to the Soviet Union to begin planting the seeds of world peace through the powers of an ancient art--storytelling. By weaving magical fairy tales and folklore dear to Russians and Americans alike, the children will do what we adults have found so difficult to do--create lasting friendships with the Soviet people and open the doors to improved communication, understanding and trust. The trip they will be making is the first of its kind; and

WHEREAS, The Young Storytellers consist of a group of twenty-seven children, ages nine through fourteen, who were selected because of their commitment to the program and their superior ability to communicate verbally and nonverbally at a level that moves and motivates listeners. Twenty-five of the storytellers are from Washington State and two are Montana residents; and

WHEREAS, The storytellers from the State of Washington are: Jennifer Brown, Lindsay Burch, Colin James Callahan, Christine Carter, Aaron Cato, Kirsten Chandler, Colleen Conner, Paul R. Dunn, Britt Marie Ericson, Crista Gregory, Elaine Hales, Jake Jardine, Paul Anthony Kriloff, Shawn McCully, Heidi Mezich, Rebecca Osman, George Pappas, Shoshanna Press, Erin Quirk, Monica Ricarte, Justin Rice, Carol

Ricketts, Rasila Schroeder, Brian Sollom and Kathleen Whitesel; and the storytellers from the State of Montana are: Jenny Brown and Catnip Frederick; and

WHEREAS, All of the Young Storytellers undergo an intensive ten-week training in the art of storytelling, learning how to deliver stories with expression and feeling so that their listeners not only hear the stories but also feel them as well. They receive instruction in Russian language, culture and history; and

WHEREAS, The Young Storytellers have already proved to be an inspiration to their communities. Many of their teachers are incorporating Russian studies into their lesson plans. Community groups and hospital patients visited by the Young Storytellers have often commented on how touched they are by the stories and by their tellers; and

WHEREAS, Young Storytellers for Peace is a program of Storytell International, a Washington nonprofit, tax-exempt corporation. Founder and director of Young Storytellers for Peace is Michale Gabriel, a professional storyteller and communications consultant. Prior to her founding Young Storytellers, Ms. Gabriel was development director of the Henry M. Jackson School of International Studies at the University of Washington and was coordinator of Children's Services and Public Library Programming in Southfield, Michigan. An adjunct instructor in storytelling at Western and Central Washington Universities, she is the founder and director of "Storyforms" performances and seminars in Seattle; and

WHEREAS, Through a series of trips to the United Soviet Socialist Republic and negotiations with Soviet officials, Ms. Gabriel has won the support of the Moscow Peace Committee, the Soviet organization responsible for coordinating all peace activities and exchanges, the Moscow Youth Committee, the Leningrad Friendship Committee and the school systems in Moscow, Odessa and Leningrad; and

WHEREAS, Storytelling transcends cultural, political, religious and social boundaries and captivates hearts. Through story we can celebrate our humanity, express our common goals and experience one another in a way that touches us deeply;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the House of Representatives publicly applauds the peace efforts of the Young Storytellers for Peace and recognizes their investment in a future in which the people of the two super powers may live together in peace without war.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That copies of this Resolution be immediately transmitted by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives to each member of Young Storytellers for Peace and to their Founder and Director, Ms. Michale Gabriel.

"Sec. 1. Section 75.20.100, chapter 12, Laws of 1955 as last amended by section 75, chapter 46, Laws of 1983 1st ex. sess. and RCW 75.20.100 are each amended to read as follows:

In the event that any person or government agency desires to construct any form of hydraulic project or perform other work that will use, divert, obstruct, or change the natural flow or bed of any ~~((river or stream or that will utilize any))~~ of the salt or fresh waters of the state ~~((or materials from the stream beds))~~, such person or government agency shall, before commencing construction or work thereon and to ensure the proper protection of fish life, secure the written approval of the department ~~((having jurisdiction of the site))~~ of fisheries or the department of game as to the adequacy of the means proposed for the protection of fish life. This approval shall not be unreasonably withheld. The ~~((appropriate))~~ department of fisheries or the department of game shall grant or deny approval within forty-five calendar days of the receipt of a complete application and notice of compliance with any applicable requirements of the state environmental policy act, made in the manner prescribed in this section. The applicant may document receipt of application by filing in person or by registered mail. A complete application for approval shall contain general plans for the overall project, complete plans and specifications of the proposed construction or work within the mean higher high water line in salt water or within the ordinary high water line in fresh water, and complete plans and specifications for the proper protection of fish life. The forty-five day requirement shall be suspended if (1) after ten working days of receipt of the application, the applicant remains unavailable or unable to arrange for a timely field evaluation of the proposed project; (2) the site is physically inaccessible for inspection; or (3) the applicant requests delay. Immediately upon determination that the forty-five day period is suspended, the ((appropriate)) department of fisheries or the department of game shall notify the applicant in writing of the reasons for the delay. Approval is valid for a period of up to five years from date of issuance. The permittee must demonstrate substantial progress on construction of that portion of the project relating to the ((hydraulic permit)) approval within two years of the date of issuance. If ((approval is denied, the appropriate)) either the department of fisheries or the department of game denies approval, that department shall provide the applicant, in writing, a statement of the specific reasons why and how the proposed project would adversely affect fish life. Protection of fish life shall be the only ground upon which approval may be denied or conditioned. Chapter 34.04 RCW applies to any denial of project approval, conditional approval, or requirements for project modification upon which approval may be contingent. If any person or government agency commences construction on any hydraulic works or projects subject to this section without first having obtained written approval of the ((appropriate)) department of fisheries or the department of game as to the adequacy of the means proposed for the protection of fish life, or if any person or government agency fails to follow or carry out any of the requirements or conditions as are made a part of such approval, the person or director of the agency is guilty of a gross misdemeanor. If any such person or government agency is convicted of violating any of the provisions of this section and continues construction on any such works or projects without fully complying with the provisions hereof, such works or projects are hereby declared a public nuisance and shall be subject to abatement as such.

For the purposes of this section and section 2 of this 1986 act, 'bed' shall mean ((that portion of a river or stream and the shorelands within ordinary high water lines)) the land below the ordinary high water lines of state waters. This definition shall not include irrigation ditches, canals, storm water run-off devices, or other artificial watercourses except where they exist in a natural watercourse that has been altered by man.

The phrase 'to construct any form of hydraulic project or perform other work' shall not include the act of driving across an established ford. Driving across streams or on wetted stream beds at areas other than established fords requires approval. Work within the ordinary high water line of state waters to construct or repair a ford or crossing requires approval.

For each application, the department(s) of fisheries and the department of game shall mutually agree on ((which one)) whether the department of fisheries or the department of game shall administer the provisions of this section, in order to avoid duplication of effort. The department designated to act shall cooperate with the other department in order to protect all species of fish life found at the project site. If ((a)) the department of fisheries or the department of game receives an application concerning a site not in its jurisdiction, it shall transmit the application to the ((appropriate)) other department within three days and notify the applicant.

In case of an emergency arising from weather or stream flow conditions or other natural conditions, the department of fisheries or department of game, through their authorized representatives, shall issue immediately upon request oral ((permits to a riparian owner or lessee)) approval for removing any obstructions, repairing existing structures, restoring stream banks, or to protect property threatened by the stream or a change in the stream flow without the necessity of obtaining a written ((permit)) approval prior to commencing work. Conditions of an oral ((permit)) approval shall be reduced to writing within thirty days and complied with as provided for in this section. Oral approval shall be granted immediately upon request, for a stream crossing during an emergency situation.

This section shall not apply to the construction of any form of hydraulic project or other work which diverts water for agricultural irrigation or stock watering purposes authorized under or recognized as being valid by the state's water codes. These irrigation or stock watering diversion projects shall be governed by section 2 of this 1986 act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. In the event that any person or government agency desires to construct any form of hydraulic project or other work that diverts water for agricultural irrigation or stock watering purposes and when the construction or other work will use, divert, obstruct, or change the natural flow or bed of any river or stream or will utilize any waters of the state or materials from the stream beds, the person or government agency shall, before commencing construction or work thereon and to ensure the proper protection of fish life, secure a written approval from the department of fisheries or the department of game as to the adequacy of the means proposed for the protection of fish life. This approval shall not be unreasonably withheld. The department of fisheries or the department of game shall grant or deny the approval within forty-five calendar days of the receipt of a complete application and notice of compliance with any applicable requirements of the state environmental policy act, made in the manner prescribed in this section. The applicant may document receipt of application by filing in person or by registered mail. A complete application for an approval shall contain general plans for the overall project, complete plans and specifications of the proposed construction or work within ordinary high water line, and complete plans and specifications for the proper protection of fish life. The forty-five day requirement shall be suspended if (1) after ten working days of receipt of the application, the applicant remains unavailable or unable to arrange for a timely field evaluation of the proposed project; (2) the site is physically inaccessible for inspection; or (3) the applicant requests delay.

Immediately upon determination that the forty-five day period is suspended, the department of fisheries or the department of game shall notify the applicant in writing of the reasons for the delay.

An approval shall remain in effect without need for periodic renewal for projects that divert water for agricultural irrigation or stock watering purposes and that involve seasonal construction or other work. The permittee must notify the appropriate agency at least two working days before commencing the construction or other work within the area covered by the approval.

The permittee must demonstrate substantial progress on construction of that portion of the project relating to the approval within two years of the date of issuance. If either the department of fisheries or the department of game denies approval, that department shall provide the applicant, in writing, a statement of the specific reasons why and how the proposed project would adversely affect fish life. Protection of fish life shall be the only ground upon which approval may be denied or conditioned. Issuance, denial, conditioning, or modification shall be appealable to the hydraulic appeals board established in RCW 43.21B.005 within thirty days of the notice of decision. The burden shall be upon the department of fisheries or the department of game to show that the denial or conditioning of an approval is solely aimed at the protection of fish life.

The department granting approval may, after consultation with the permittee, modify an approval due to changed conditions. The modifications shall become effective unless appealed to the hydraulic appeals board within thirty days from the notice of the proposed modification. The burden is on the department issuing the approval to show that changed conditions warrant the modification in order to protect fish life.

A permittee may request modification of an approval due to changed conditions. The request shall be processed within forty-five calendar days of receipt of the written request. A decision by the department that issued the approval may be appealed to the hydraulic appeals board within thirty days of the notice of the decision. The burden is on the permittee to show that changed conditions warrant the requested modification and that such modification will not impair fish life.

If any person or government agency commences construction on any hydraulic works or projects subject to this section without first having obtained written approval of the department of fisheries or the department of game as to the adequacy of the means proposed for the protection of fish life, or if any person or government agency fails to follow or carry out any of the requirements or conditions as are made a part of such approval, the person or director of the agency is guilty of a gross misdemeanor. If any such person or government agency is convicted of violating any of the provisions of this section and continues construction on any such works or projects without fully complying with the provisions hereof, such works or projects are hereby declared a public nuisance and shall be subject to abatement as such.

For each application, the department of fisheries and the department of game shall mutually agree on whether the department of fisheries or the department of game shall administer the provisions of this section, in order to avoid duplication of effort. The department designated to act shall cooperate with the other department in order to protect all species of fish life found at the project site. If the department of fisheries or the department of game receives an application concerning a site not in its jurisdiction, it shall transmit the application to the other department within three days and notify the applicant.

In case of an emergency arising from weather or stream flow conditions or other natural conditions, the department of fisheries or department of game, through their authorized representatives, shall issue immediately upon request oral approval for removing any obstructions, repairing existing structures, restoring stream banks, or to protect property threatened by the stream or a change in the stream flow without the necessity of obtaining a written approval prior to commencing work. Conditions of an oral approval shall be reduced to writing within thirty days and complied with as provided for in this section."

Representatives Vekich, Nealey and Doty spoke in favor of the amendment, and it was adopted.

The Clerk read the following amendment by Representatives Nealey and Doty:

POINT OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Todd: "This day--February 12--is a special day for me. It's the day that I celebrate the birth of one of my relatives, Abraham Lincoln. My great, great, great aunt, Mary Todd Lincoln, the wife of our sixteenth President of the United States, is my connection to Abraham Lincoln.

"All of us as Americans have our own special connections to Abe Lincoln. He has meant so much to our nation, our heritage and our history. Abraham Lincoln was truly a great man. In every part of his life, he provided examples of those qualities that make men great--honesty, hard work, commitment, compassion and sacrifice.

"We remember his boyhood, growing up in a log cabin, which he helped build with his father on the wild Indiana frontier. He studied by fire light and would walk for miles just to borrow a book.

"We remember his early years as a legislator in the Illinois General Assembly. There he first spoke out against slavery, declaring, 'The institution of slavery is founded on both injustice and bad policy.' We remember his early debates against Stephen Douglas over the Kansas-Nebraska Act, a law that allowed settlers to take slaves into the new territories. Mr. Lincoln vehemently opposed this law, believing our founding fathers, through the Declaration of Independence, meant to prevent the spread of slavery.

"Mr. Lincoln, in fact, patterned his political beliefs on ideals expressed in the Declaration of Independence. He once said: 'I have never had a feeling, politically, that did not spring from the sentiments embodied in the Declaration of Independence....' More than anything else, however, we remember Abraham Lincoln as the President who reunited the United States of America. Faced with a crisis that no other president has ever known, including a war that saw more than 600,000 Americans die on their own soil, he demonstrated what seemed like limitless courage and an unshakable faith in democracy. In his Gettysburg address, which lasted a mere three minutes, he summed up the qualities that are the very foundation of our country. He began: 'Four score and seven years ago, our fathers brought forth on this continent, a new nation, conceived in liberty, and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal...' and he concluded '...that government of the people, by the people, for the people shall not perish from the earth.'

"Abraham Lincoln, who could have easily given into bitterness and hatred over the war, led the nation in forgiving the south. Some of the most compassionate words ever spoken were in his second inaugural address when he asked for 'malice toward none, with charity for all.'

"When we look back on the life of Abraham Lincoln and the troubled times he faced, we are forced to reflect on our own lives and the problems facing this state, this country and this earth. Slavery still exists in the form of apartheid in South Africa. Democracy still struggles to be a reality in many countries, as we have seen in the Philippine elections. And division of war, like that between the North and South, has never left this world. In fact, it has gotten much, much worse, with the ability to destroy ourselves many times over. Let's never forget that these evils can be overcome, but only with great sacrifice. Abraham Lincoln dedicated his life, and finally, gave his life for the ideals of freedom, democracy and peace. This soft-spoken man has taught us so much. Let us never forget."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. J. King: "Mr. Speaker, I would ask you to rule on the scope and object of this amendment."

SPEAKER'S RULING

The Speaker: "Substitute House Bill 1758 deals with consolidation of administrative functions of state licensing agencies. The amendment amends the business license center act to expand the duties of the center. The duties of the business license center are a different subject than consolidation of agency administrative functions. Your point is well taken, Representative King."

On motion of Ms. Belcher, the following amendment to the title was adopted: On page 1, line 3 of the title after "18.04.215," strike "18.04.320."

The bill was ordered engrossed and passed to Committee on Rules for third reading.

On motion of Mr. Padden, the following remarks by Representative Lux were ordered spread upon the Journal:

Mr. Lux: "I had hoped that this bill would never get this far. I had hoped that I wouldn't have to make a decision on something that is as confusing and as compounding as this bill, but here I am. Unfortunately, we only have two buttons up here. We should have a third button and it should be: 'Stick it in your ear.' My confusion with this particular legislation is that I haven't had the time to read all the material I've been given and I would like to postpone this for three or four weeks until we have time to go through all the material. Seriously, the understanding that I have is that art films, festivals and X-rated movies are not in this bill. X-rated movies are those that depict conception and how we bring life on the planet and the movies that we are talking about deal with Rambo and Zambo and how you to blow the blood and the guts up against the wall. As far as I'm concerned I don't really care. I think we shouldn't be making these kinds of decisions down here."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. J. King: "Mr. Speaker, I would ask you to rule on this amendment as to the scope and object."

SPEAKER'S RULING

The Speaker: "House Rule 12(D) provides that no amendment shall be allowed which shall change the scope and object of the bill. The Speaker has examined SHB 1992 and the amendment. The bill restricts certain state investments in business firms doing business in any country having an apartheid policy. The bill is limited to this single purpose. The amendment would expand the list of prohibited investments to include investments in business firms doing business in any country having a policy of discrimination as defined in the amendment. This new definition would go beyond the subject of countries practicing an official policy of apartheid. Therefore, the Speaker finds this amendment changes the scope of Substitute House Bill No. 1992. Your point is well taken, Representative King."

Mr. Vander Stoep: "I wanted to follow up first on some of the fiscal questions. The state pension investor, as well as the fellow that came from Harvard, agreed that there would be some initial cost with the passage of this bill. The Harvard economist estimated that over the first four years we would likely see about a $4.5 million cost to the pension fund, but that would be the cost set out over four years. Then you get into the realm of speculation of what it might cost beyond that. Some people think it will cost up to a billion dollars; some people think it won't cost anything. I don't claim to be an expert on the subject, but I do have four years' experience with the stock and the bond market, and my guess from reading a lot of journals, a lot of professional analyses, is that more and more companies are coming out of South Africa. Last year twenty-five U.S. companies closed down their South African operations because of the turmoil there. If that continues, then you can't legitimately argue that this bill will cost us a billion dollars because the longer it goes on, the more U.S. companies that come out of South Africa, the less this bill is going to have an effect on the options available to the state pension funds. I don't buy the billion dollar argument. In fact, if you believe the billion dollar argument, you have to believe that apartheid is going to stay as the official policy and U.S. companies are going to stay in South Africa for the next twenty-five years. I don't believe that's the case.

"The second argument against this bill is that the blacks in South Africa are better off; they are better off than blacks in a number of other countries throughout Africa, but it seems to me that is an irrelevant argument for this bill. The fact that South Africa has rich mineral resources, has a strong economy, I don't think is relevant to the political question which this bill attempts to address. The political question is that this country has an official government policy which does not allow equal voting rights, equal representation in its government. That's the point.

"Another argument against this bill is that it's unfair. That it picks out one example of discrimination throughout the world and there are a lot of other examples, in the Soviet Union and other places where people are repressed and this bill only addresses one of those. That's true, it does only address one particular racial policy and my answer to that is--and it's not a perfect answer but it's the only answer I can give--if you want to come forth with a bill that's going to do something about repression in the Soviet Union or another country around the world that will have some effect, I'll vote for it.

"A fourth reason to vote against this bill is that you are playing into the hands of communism; that the communists are licking their chops, particularly the Soviet Union is licking its chops to get a hold on South Africa, but then you get into a matter of philosophy. My philosophy is that the best bulwark against communism is a government that recognizes the inalienable rights that are contained within our Bill of Rights and this government doesn't do that.

"A fifth argument is that it won't help; it's only a drop in the bucket and it won't make a lot of difference. On its face that argument is true; this will only be a small, very small step in terms of putting pressure on the government in South Africa, but is there anybody here who is willing to argue tonight that the collective pressure of Western governments in the last several years has not had any effect in South Africa? I don't think there's anybody who could make that argument. I think anyone looking at it objectively would have to say that the collective pressure that has been put on that government has made a great deal of difference.

"Finally, there's been a comparison made tonight to slavery. I think that is accurate. I think this is an example of a government policy, a racist policy, that says the people are denied basic human political rights because of their race, which is very similar to a situation that occurred in the United States a hundred years ago. This is the major reason we honor Abraham Lincoln; this is the main reason my great-grandfather fought in the Union Army and it's the main reason that throughout history Americans have been willing to risk their lives, if necessary, to fight against racist governments. In this case we are not asking anybody to fight or give their life; we're only asking that the state's taxpayers aren't going to put their money in companies that invest in this government. I would urge you to support the bill."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Locke yielded to question by Mr. G. Nelson.

Mr. G. Nelson: "Representative Locke, radio and television stations in this state broadcast programming on behalf of charitable organizations. Such activities include telethons, public service announcements and paid advertisements which utilize the facilities of broadcast stations. Is it the intent of SHB 1726 that merely because stations broadcast such programming, radio and television stations will be required to register under the provisions of this bill?"

Mr. Locke: "When a station broadcasts a telethon, public service announcement or other programming on behalf of an organization, the station is not operating as either a charitable organization or an independent fundraiser under this act. It is not the intention of this act to require stations to register in these instances. The charitable organization on whose behalf the programming is broadcast, however, will be required to register and report these activities. I should point out an obvious exception. If the station is raising funds for itself, or if the station operates a charitable organization, then the station would be considered a charitable organization under the act and would need to register with respect to those activities."

Mr. G. Nelson: "Is it the intent of the bill that the programming we just mentioned be exempt from the disclosure requirements of the act?"

Mr. Locke: "No, it is not the intent of the bill to exempt those organizations which are sponsoring the broadcast from disclosing the information which is required by the Charitable Solicitations Act. Persons answering the telephones or making solicitation calls will be required to comply with the bill's disclosure requirements."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Ms. Brough: "Representative Barrett, I'm not one hundred percent sure, because when I called over to find out what definition we had for 'community action agencies,' which is what I was looking for in this amendment--this is the RCW that covers that definition--it is my understanding that anybody who receives public funds that is nonprofit, who is involved with this, is defined in that RCW. But I'm not sure if the Shriners come in under that or not."

NEW SECTION, Sec. 4. A new section is added to chapter 27.12 RCW to read as follows:

An intercounty rural library district shall be dissolved, and a separate rural county library district established in each of the counties within which the intercounty rural library district was located, upon the adoption of a resolution providing for such by the county legislative authority in each of the counties within which the intercounty rural library district is located: PROVIDED, That such action shall not be taken unless it is requested by resolution of the board of trustees of the intercounty rural library district. The boundaries of each rural county library so created shall be the same as those portions of the intercounty rural library district in that county. Prior to the adoption of these resolutions, the county legislative authority of each of these counties, acting as the respective boards of trustees of the rural county library districts that will be created upon the dissolution of the intercounty rural library district, shall have entered into a contract creating a regional library out of the rural county library districts. The contract creating the regional library shall be adopted, in all other respects, under the provisions of RCW 27.12.080.

Indebtedness of the intercounty rural library district shall remain in effect. Excess property tax levies authorized to retire voter approved general obligation indebtedness of an intercounty rural library district shall continue to be imposed and applied to retire the general obligation indebtedness. Where regular property tax levies are necessary to retire nonvoter approved general obligation indebtedness of the intercounty rural library district, regular property tax levies shall continue to be imposed within the boundaries of the dissolved intercounty rural library district at a rate necessary to retire the indebtedness, but not exceeding a rate that the intercounty rural library district otherwise could have imposed.

The maximum regular property tax rate that each of these newly created rural county library districts may impose in the initial year of their existence shall be equal to the regular property tax levy rate that the intercounty rural library district could have imposed in the year in which it is dissolved, not including any proration that would have occurred, less any levy rate continued to be imposed in the boundaries of the dissolved intercounty rural library district to retire any nonvoter approved general obligation indebtedness of the dissolved intercounty rural library district that still remains outstanding.

Where property tax levies of such an intercounty rural library district have been imposed, but not collected, the tax collections shall be distributed to the regional library. The assets and liabilities of the intercounty rural library district shall become assets and liabilities of the regional library.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 5. The local governance study commission created in RCW 43.63A.252 shall undertake a study of the financing of those junior taxing districts subject to the proration of property taxes pursuant to RCW 84.52.010. The study shall examine the extent to which those districts are dependent either directly or indirectly on property tax revenues, the impact of prorating of property taxes on the ability of those districts to maintain acceptable levels of services, and the need for a diversified resource base for such districts in anticipation of lessened or negative growth in property values. If the study reveals the existing funding mechanism to be inadequate to meet the long-term financing needs of the services provided by those districts, then alternative proposals shall be recommended to the legislature concerning the provision and financing of those services, and those junior taxing districts are put on notice that, due to extreme limitations in the availability of regular property taxing authority for junior taxing districts, these recommendations may involve significant changes from the status quo. The commission shall report its findings by December 1, 1986.

Sec. 6. Section 84.09.030, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 as last amended by section 9, chapter 203, Laws of 1984 and RCW 84.09.030 are each amended to read as follows:

POINT OF INQUIRY

Ms. Unsoeld yielded to question by Mr. B. Williams.

Mr. B. Williams: "Representative Unsoeld, I am confused. What specifically does this amendment do?"

Ms. Unsoeld: "To the rest of the bill, which I believe you understand, this adds the study by the Local Governance Commission, and it allows the library district that currently has been formed as a multi-county district--rather than to have to face the full effect of proration throughout its five counties--and only at the request of the library board, it permits the counties to 'atomize' the district by county. For the purpose of reestablishing the taxing district, the governance is re-formed as the intercounty library, which is really what they are now, but it would permit the proration effect to take place in only one or in less counties than the entire library district of five counties."

Ms. Brough spoke again in favor of the amendment, and it was adopted.

On motion of Ms. Unsoeld, the following amendment to the title of the bill was adopted:

On page 1, line 1 of the title, after "government;" strike the remainder of the title and insert "amending RCW 84.09.030; adding a new section to chapter 27.12 RCW; adding a new section to chapter 84.55 RCW; adding a new chapter to Title 39 RCW; creating new sections; and providing an expiration date."

Any member, regardless of his age or years of service may be retired by the disability board, subject to approval by the director as hereinafter provided, for any disability incurred in the line of duty which has been continuous since his discontinuance of service and which renders him unable to continue his service. No disability retirement allowance shall be paid until the expiration of a period of six months after the discontinuance of service during which period the member, if found to be physically or mentally unfit for duty by the disability board following receipt of his application for disability retirement, shall be granted a disability leave by the disability board and shall receive an allowance equal to his full monthly salary and shall continue to receive all other benefits provided to active employees from his employer for such period. However, if, at any time during the initial six-month period, the disability board finds the beneficiary is no longer disabled, his disability leave allowance shall be canceled and he shall be restored to duty in the same rank or position, if any, held by the beneficiary at the time he became disabled. Applications for disability retirement shall be processed in accordance with the following procedures:

(2) If the examination shows, to the satisfaction of the disability board, that the member is physically or mentally disabled from the further performance of duty, that such disability was incurred in the line of duty, and that such disability has been continuous from the discontinuance of service, the disability board shall enter its written decision and order, accompanied by appropriate findings of fact and by conclusions evidencing compliance with this chapter as now or hereafter amended, granting the member a disability retirement allowance; otherwise, if the member is not found by the disability board to be so disabled, the application shall be denied pursuant to a similar written decision and order, subject to appeal to the director in accordance with RCW 41.26.200: PROVIDED, That in any order granting a duty disability retirement allowance, the disability board shall make a finding that the disability was incurred in line of duty.

(3) Every order of a disability board granting a duty disability retirement allowance shall forthwith be reviewed by the director except the finding that the disability was incurred in the line of duty. The director may affirm the decision of the disability board or remand the case for further proceedings, or the director may reverse the decision of the disability board if the director finds the disability board's findings, inferences, conclusions, or decisions are:

- (a) In violation of constitutional provisions; or
- (b) In excess of the statutory authority or jurisdiction of the disability board; or
- (c) Made upon unlawful procedure; or
- (d) Affected by other error of law; or
- (e) Clearly erroneous in view of the entire record as submitted and the public policy contained in this chapter; or
- (f) Arbitrary or capricious.

(4) Every member who can establish, to the disability board, that he is physically or mentally disabled from the further performance of duty, that such disability was incurred in the line of duty, and that such disability will be in existence for a period of at least six months may waive the six-month period of disability leave and be immediately granted a duty disability retirement allowance, subject to the approval of the director as provided in subsection (3) above.

However, if, at any time during the initial six-month period, the disability board finds the beneficiary is no longer disabled, the disability leave allowance shall be canceled and the member shall be restored to duty in the same rank or position, if any, held by the member at the time the member became disabled. Applications for disability retirement shall be processed in accordance with the following procedures:

(1) Any member who believes he or she is, or is believed to be, physically or mentally disabled shall be examined by such medical authority as the disability board shall employ, upon application of the member, or a person acting in the member's behalf, stating that the member is disabled, either physically or mentally: PROVIDED, That no such application shall be considered unless the member or someone acting in the member's behalf, in case of the incapacity of a member, has filed the application within a period of one year from and after the discontinuance of service of the member.

(2) If the examination shows, to the satisfaction of the disability board, that the member is physically or mentally disabled from the further performance of duty, that such disability was not incurred in the line of duty, and that such disability had been continuous from the discontinuance of service, the disability board shall enter its written decision and order, accompanied by appropriate findings of fact and by conclusions evidencing compliance with this chapter, granting the member a disability retirement allowance. (3) Every order of a disability board granting a nonduty disability retirement allowance shall forthwith be reviewed by the director except the finding that the disability was not incurred in the line of duty. The director may affirm the decision of the disability board or remand the case for further proceedings, or the director may reverse the decision of the disability board if the director finds the disability board's findings, inferences, conclusions, or decisions are:

- (a) In violation of constitutional provisions; or
- (b) In excess of the statutory authority or jurisdiction of the disability board; or
- (c) Made upon unlawful procedure; or
- (d) Affected by other error of law; or
- (e) Clearly erroneous in view of the entire record as submitted and the public policy contained in this chapter; or
- (f) Arbitrary or capricious.

(4) Every member who can establish to the disability board that the member is physically or mentally disabled from the further performance of duty, that such disability was not incurred in the line of duty, and that such disability will be in existence for a period of at least six months, may waive the six-month period of disability leave and be immediately granted a nonduty disability retirement allowance, subject to the approval of the director as provided in subsection (3) of this section.

(1) Each activated county noxious weed control board shall consist of five voting members who shall, at the board's inception, be appointed by the county legislative authority and elected thereafter by the property owners subject to the board in accordance with section 4 of this 1986 act. The board members shall not receive a salary but shall be compensated for actual and necessary expenses incurred in the performance of their official duties.

(2) The elected members of the board shall represent the same districts designated by the county legislative authority in appointing members to the board at its inception. ((Members of the board shall be elected at least thirty days prior to the expiration of any board member's term of office.

The nomination and election of elected board members shall be conducted by the board at a public meeting held in the section where board memberships are about to expire. PROVIDED: That such nominations and elections may be held in another section of the county at the request of the county board and subject to approval by the state weed board. Elections at such meetings shall be by secret ballot, cast by the landowners residing in the section where an election for a board member is being conducted. The nominee receiving the majority of votes cast shall be deemed elected, and if there is only one nomination, said nominee shall be deemed elected unanimously.

Notice of such nomination and election meeting shall be published at least twice in a weekly or daily newspaper of general circulation in said section with last publication occurring at least ten days prior to the meeting:))

The board shall elect from its members a chairman and such other officers as may be necessary.

(4) In case of a vacancy occurring in any elected position on a county noxious weed control board, the county legislative authority of the county in which such board is located shall appoint a qualified person to fill the vacancy for the unexpired term.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. A new section is added to chapter 17.10 RCW to read as follows:

(1) The purpose of this section is to place county noxious weed control board elections in substantial conformance with general election law for nonpartisan primaries and elections, while retaining differing requirements for eligibility to vote.

Each county weed board shall prepare and maintain a list of presumed eligible voters for the board, and shall forward a copy of this list, and any updated list, to the county auditor. The auditor may make deletions or additions to this list of presumed eligible voters as he or she sees fit.

Ballots for noxious weed control board elections shall be separate from ballots for other elections. Any person who appears at his or her polling place during a weed board election, whose name appears on the list of presumed eligible voters, or who in the opinion of the election officials presents sufficient documentation to establish his or her eligibility to vote, shall be given a noxious weed control board ballot and allowed to vote.

(3) Voting by absentee ballot shall be allowed as provided in this section. Any person who is on the list of presumed eligible voters of a county noxious weed control board may request and receive an absentee ballot by mail or in person at the county auditor's office. Voting by absentee ballot shall otherwise be governed by the provisions of chapter 29.36 RCW.

(4) Primaries shall be held as applicable to select two candidates for the general election ballot in the manner provided in chapter 29.21 RCW, except the primary shall be held as needed for a general election held annually. Declarations of candidacy shall be filed as required by RCW 29.18.025, 29.18.030, and 29.18.050 and shall be governed by the other provisions of Title 29 RCW not in conflict with this section and RCW 17.10.050. Each person who files a declaration of candidacy for membership on a county noxious weed control board shall be engaged in the primary production of agricultural products.

(5) The term of office of each elected voting member of a county noxious weed control board shall begin on the first day of January following his or her election and qualification. In the case of a person who is such a member of a board on the effective date of this act and whose term of office would otherwise expire before the end of the calendar year of the year the term expires, the term of office of such a person is hereby extended to the end of that calendar year."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Grimm yielded to question by Mr. Day.

Mr. Day: "Representative Grimm, is the distribution formula in section 9 of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 4519 intended to be binding and, if not, to what extent does it deviate from the formula?"

Mr. Grimm: "Representative Day, the formula is intended to provide somewhat flexible guidelines for the distribution of money. It is stated in section 1 of the bill that the intent is for the funds to be distributed upon an equitable basis for the protection of the state's water, taking into account certain local factors. It is intended the deviations from the formula in this bill be small; that they be made only when clearly necessary to carry out the intent of the bill and that over the life of the program, the total distribution will come out very close to the percentages specified in the bill. For example, under (2) of section 9, the Department of Ecology could distribute somewhat less than twenty percent for underground water in any given year after taking into account the required factors, but over the period from July 1, 1987 until June 30, 1995, the funds for underground water should average out close to twenty percent. Of course, two-thirds of this twenty percent is firmly guaranteed to the Spokane-Rathdrum Prairie Aquifer."

Mr. Day spoke in favor of the bill.

On motion of Mr. Dellwo, the following letter was ordered spread upon the Journal:

February 14, 1986

Honorable Dennis A. Dellwo
 Honorable Bill Day
 House of Representatives
 Olympia, Washington

Dear Representatives Dellwo & Day:

This letter is to clarify and reinforce the Department of Ecology's understanding of the distribution formula in section 9 of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill 4519.

While it is true that the language in Section 9 does not mandate any spending to fund the categories identified, I do want to emphasize that the department is committed to ensuring that any funds appropriated from the water quality account will be spent in accordance with the bill's formula.

For example, Subsection 2 states that as for all the funds available in the water quality account, "not more than twenty percent (will be used) for water pollution control activities that prevent or mitigate pollution of underground waters and facilities that protect federally designated sole source aquifers with at least two-thirds for the Spokane-Rathdrum Prairie Aquifer." This means that it is the Department's intention to spend twenty percent of all funds available for the activities outlined in subsection 2; and further, to allocate at least two-thirds of those funds for protection of the Spokane aquifer. These funds will be available to Spokane to match other funds as they are generated locally.

I hope this letter answers your concern and reassures you of our desire to achieve clean water for all of Washington state.

Sincerley,
 Andrea Beatty Riniker, Director
 Department of Ecology.

Representatives Dellwo and Braddock spoke in favor of the bill, and Representatives Lundquist, Taylor and G. Nelson spoke against it.

Mr. Crane demanded the previous question and the demand was sustained.

Mr. Grimm closed debate, speaking again in favor of the bill.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Armstrong: "Mr. Speaker, I must request, since I have a member of the judiciary in my family, whether it would be a conflict of interest for me to vote on this bill?"

SPEAKER'S RULING

The Speaker: "This is a dilemma that many people have in a citizen legislature, Representative Armstrong. We all have relatives employed in something pertaining to the bills in the legislature. Our rule has been in the past and this would be consistent with the Speaker's ruling that unless a person has an immediate or particular interest, specifically--I remember one of the former Representatives, Helen Fancher, owned a specific piece of property which we were dealing with in a bill. If the bill had passed, the state would acquire that piece of land. It was very clear that she had a specific and particular interest and she was excused. That has only happened in two or three occasions during my career here. So, Representative Armstrong, we appreciate your concern, but since no one in this class is treated any differently than anyone else in this class, your point for being excused is denied."

On page 11, line 9, after "this" strike "1985" and insert "1986"

On page 11, beginning on line 11, strike all material down to and including line 34 on page 13 and insert the following:

"Sec. 7, Section 53, chapter 177, Laws of 1980 as last amended by section 17, chapter 361, Laws of 1985 and RCW 74.46.530 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The department shall establish for individual facilities return on investment allowances composed of two parts: A financing allowance and a variable return allowance, except that this section shall not apply to energy retrofit improvements funded under section 2 of this 1986 act.

(a) The financing allowance shall be determined by multiplying the net invested funds of each facility by .11, and dividing by the contractor's total patient days. If a capitalized addition or retirement of an asset will result in a different licensed bed capacity during the ensuing period, the prior period total patient days used in computing the financing and variable return allowances shall be adjusted to the anticipated patient day level.

(b) In computing the portion of net invested funds representing the net book value of tangible fixed assets, the same assets, depreciation bases, lives, and methods referred to in RCW 74.46.330, 74.46.350, 74.46.360, and 74.46.370, including owned and leased assets, shall be utilized, except that the capitalized cost of land upon which the facility is located and such other contiguous land which is reasonable and necessary for use in the regular course of providing patient care shall also be included. In the case of leased facilities where the net invested funds are unknown or the contractor is unable to provide necessary information to determine net invested funds, the secretary shall have the authority to determine an amount for net invested funds based on an appraisal conducted according to RCW 74.46.360(1).

(c) In determining the variable return allowance:

(i) The department will first rank all facilities in numerical order from highest to lowest according to their average per diem allowable costs for the sum of the administration and operations and property cost centers for the previous cost report period.

(ii) The department shall then compute the variable return allowance by multiplying the appropriate percentage amounts, which shall not be less than one percent and not greater than four percent, by the total prospective rate for each facility, as determined in RCW 74.46.450 through 74.46.510. The percentage amounts will be based on groupings of facilities according to the rankings as established in subparagraph (1)(b)(i) of this section. Those groups of facilities with lower per diem costs shall receive higher percentage amounts than those with higher per diem costs.

(d) The sum of the financing allowance and the variable return allowance shall be the return on investment for each facility, and shall be added to the prospective rates of each contractor as determined in RCW 74.46.450 through 74.46.510.

(e) In the case of a facility which was leased by the contractor as of January 1, 1980, in an arm's-length agreement, which continues to be leased under the same lease agreement, and for which the annualized lease payment, plus any interest and depreciation expenses associated with contractor-owned assets, for the period covered by the prospective rates, divided by the contractor's total patient days, minus the property cost center determined according to RCW 74.46.510, is more than the return on investment allowance determined according to subsection (1)(d) of this section, the following shall apply:

(i) The financing allowance shall be recomputed substituting the fair market value of the assets as of January 1, 1982, as determined by the department of general administration through an appraisal procedure, less accumulated depreciation on the lessor's assets since January 1, 1982, for the net book value of the assets in determining net invested funds for the facility. A determination by the department of general administration of fair market value shall be final unless the procedure used to make such determination is shown to be arbitrary and capricious.

(ii) The sum of the financing allowance computed under subsection (1)(e)(i) of this section and the variable allowance shall be compared with the annualized lease payment, plus any interest and depreciation expenses associated with contractor-owned assets, for the period covered by the prospective rates, divided by the contractor's total patient days, minus the property cost center rate determined according to RCW 74.46.510. The lesser of the two amounts shall be called the alternate return on investment allowance.

(iii) The return on investment allowance determined according to subsection (1)(d) of this section or the alternate return on investment allowance, whichever is greater, shall be the return on investment allowance for the facility and shall be added to the prospective rates of the contractor as determined in RCW 74.46.450 through 74.46.510.

(f) In the case of a facility which was leased by the contractor as of January 1, 1980, in an arm's-length agreement, if the lease is renewed or extended pursuant to a provision of the lease, the treatment provided in subsection (1)(e) of this section shall be applied except that in the case of renewals or extensions made subsequent to April 1, 1985, reimbursement for the annualized lease payment shall be no greater than the reimbursement for the annualized lease payment for the last year prior to the renewal or extension of the lease.

(2) An energy retrofit improvement installed by a contractor under section 2 of this 1986 act shall not be included in the computation for financing allowance under this section, except as provided in section 2 of this 1986 act.

(3) In the event that the department of health and human services disallows the application of the return on investment allowances to nonprofit facilities, the department shall modify the measurements of net invested funds used for computing individual facility return on investment allowances as follows: Net invested funds for each nonprofit facility shall be multiplied by one minus the ratio of equity funds to the net invested funds of all nonprofit facilities.

~~((3))~~ (4) Each biennium, beginning in 1985, the secretary shall review the adequacy of return on investment allowances in relation to anticipated requirements for maintaining, reducing, or expanding nursing care capacity. The secretary shall report the results of such review to the legislature and make recommendations for adjustments in the return on investment rates utilized in this section, if appropriate."

Ms. Brekke: "Representative Nelson, you were referring to the UTC and page 1, line 16 would affect the UTC, but your amendment seems to apply to both UTC and the cities. Would you clarify for me what your amendment is intended to do?"

Mr. G. Nelson: "The amendment strikes the words in both sections that says, 'shall allow for' and puts in 'shall consider.' Both places--section 1 where the city or county is doing its own refuse collection, or section 2 where you are, in fact, having a franchisee within the city or county who is now trying to get a certificate of operation from the Utilities and Transportation Commission. The wording there today is in such a fashion as far as its location, to require or to, in fact, mandate. That's what the discussion was here earlier on the previous amendment, that by simply changing the words that I have indicated in this amendment, you eliminate the indication that you are only going to give a certificate if the hauler allows for the diversion of material."

Representatives Brekke and Rust opposed the amendments, and Mr. G. Nelson spoke again in favor of them.

Ms. Brekke: "It is my intention that the cities and counties be open to proposals from public or private enterprise to provide for a diversion of materials and the waste reduction through recycling. Substitute House Bill No. 1731 was read the second time.

Mr. Crane moved adoption of the following amendment by Representatives Crane, Patrick, Armstrong, K. Wilson and G. Nelson:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. Section 15, chapter 155, Laws of 1979 and RCW 13.32A.010 are each amended to read as follows:

The legislature finds that within any group of people there exists a need for guidelines for acceptable behavior and that, presumptively, experience and maturity are better qualifications for establishing guidelines beneficial to and protective of individual members and the group as a whole than are youth and inexperience. The legislature further finds that it is the right and responsibility of adults to establish laws for the benefit and protection of the society; and that, in the same manner, the right and responsibility for establishing reasonable guidelines for the family unit belongs to the adults within that unit. The legislature further finds that, because the time during which juveniles are maturing toward adulthood can be very difficult for them and their families, parents should have legal access to assistance from courts and service delivery systems for the purpose of resolving crisis situations involving their children. The legislature reaffirms its position stated in RCW 13.34.020 that the family unit is the fundamental resource of American life which should be nurtured and, that it should remain intact in the absence of compelling evidence to the contrary.

Sec. 2. Section 21, chapter 155, Laws of 1979 as amended by section 5, chapter 298, Laws of 1981 and RCW 13.32A.070 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) An officer taking a child into custody under RCW 13.32A.050 may, at his or her discretion, transport the child to the home of a responsible adult who is other than the child's parent where the officer reasonably believes that the child will be provided with adequate care and supervision and that the child will remain in the custody of such adult until such time as the department can bring about the child's return home or an alternative residential placement can be agreed to or determined pursuant to this chapter. An officer placing a child with a responsible adult other than his or her parent shall immediately notify the department's local community service office of this fact and of the reason for taking the child into custody.

(2) A law enforcement officer acting (~~reasonably and~~) in good faith pursuant to this chapter in taking or failing to take a child into custody or in releasing a child to a person other than a parent of such child is immune from civil or criminal liability for such action.

(3) A person other than a parent of such child who receives a child pursuant to this chapter and who acts reasonably and in good faith in doing so is immune from civil or criminal liability for the act of receiving such child. Such immunity does not release such person from liability under any other law including the laws regulating licensed child care and prohibiting child abuse.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. The legislature finds that the related problems of juvenile runaways and juvenile prostitution have reached serious levels, that parents need support in setting limits on the unsupervised late night activities of their children, and that a state-wide curfew would address these areas of concern. The adoption of a curfew is intended to protect our state's children from others and themselves and is not criminal or punitive in nature.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. A new section is added to chapter 13.32A RCW to read as follows:

(1) As used in this section the following definitions apply:

(a) 'Direct route' means the shortest path of travel selected to reach a destination within an hour of departure without detours or additional stops at any other destinations along the way.

(b) 'Emergency' means, but is not limited to, fire, natural disaster, an automobile accident, or obtaining immediate medical care for the minor or a member of the minor's immediate family.

(c) 'Employment' does not mean any activity or business conducted in violation of the laws of the state or its political subdivisions.

(d) 'Minor' means any person sixteen years of age or younger.

(e) 'Operator' means, but is not limited to, any agent or employee having control of the premises open for business.

(f) 'Public place' means any street, alley, highway, park, or plaza, used or open to members of the public or any public building, place of business, amusement, or entertainment facility.

(2) A law enforcement officer may stop and detain a minor, obtain his or her name, age, and the address of his or her parent or legal guardian and take the minor into custody if the minor is in or on any public place between the hours of 12:00 a.m. and 5:00 a.m. unless:

(a) The minor is accompanied by a parent, legal guardian, or a person twenty-one years or older who is authorized by the minor's parent or legal guardian to accompany the minor;

(b) The minor is traveling by direct route to or from a youth activity sponsored by an educational institution or a recognized nonprofit or religious organization;

(c) The minor is in a motor vehicle and engaged in interstate travel, with consent of a parent or legal guardian, through the state;

(d) The minor is traveling by direct route to or from his or her place of employment;

(e) The minor is on the sidewalk of his or her legal residence or on the sidewalk of either next door neighbor; or

(f) The minor is involved in an emergency concerning his or her safety or welfare or that of his or her family.

(3) An officer taking a minor into custody may, at his or her discretion, transport the child home or to a law enforcement station that is reasonably close to the place where the minor was taken into custody. The child may be held in temporary custody at such station for a reasonable period of time. It is the responsibility of law enforcement staff to contact the child's parent or guardian to arrange for the release of the minor. Minors held pursuant to this section shall be held in a nonsecure waiting area separate from areas holding confined adults. Minors taken into custody under this section who do not meet the criteria in RCW 13.32A.050 (1) through (4) shall not be transported to a facility licensed by the department of social and health services under this chapter.

(4) Nothing in this section affects the authority of any political subdivision to make regulations concerning the conduct of minors in public places by ordinance or other local law that local ordinance or law restricts curfew hours to at least the extent required by this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. A new section is added to chapter 13.32A RCW to read as follows:

It shall be unlawful for any owner or operator of a premises open for business to permit any minor on the premises if any such minor is subject to being taken into custody under RCW 13.32A.070. Any violation of this section shall be a misdemeanor.

Sec. 6. Section 31, chapter 155, Laws of 1979 as last amended by section 10, chapter 257, Laws of 1985 and RCW 13.32A.170 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The court shall hold a fact-finding hearing to consider a proper petition and may approve or deny alternative residential placement giving due weight to the intent of the legislature that families, absent compelling reasons to the contrary, shall remain together and that parents have the right to place reasonable rules and restrictions upon their children. The court may appoint legal counsel and/or a guardian ad litem to represent the child and advise parents of their right to be represented by legal counsel. The court may approve an order stating that the child shall be placed in a residence other than the home of his or her parent only if it is established by a preponderance of the evidence that:

(a) The petition is not capricious;

(b) The petitioner, if a parent or the child, has made a reasonable effort to resolve the conflict;

(c) The conflict which exists cannot be resolved by delivery of services to the family during continued placement of the child in the parental home; and

(d) Reasonable efforts have been made to prevent or eliminate the need for removal of the child from the child's home and to make it possible for the child to return home.

The court may not grant a petition filed by the child or the department if it is established that the petition is based only upon a dislike of reasonable rules or reasonable discipline established by the parent.

(2) The order approving out-of-home placement shall direct the department to submit a disposition plan for a three-month placement of the child that is designed to reunite the family and resolve the family conflict. Such plan shall delineate any conditions or limitations on parental involvement. In making the order, the court shall further direct the department to make recommendations, as to which agency or person should have physical custody of the child, as to which parental powers should be awarded to such agency or person, and as to parental visitation rights. The court may direct the department to consider the cultural heritage of the child in making its recommendations.

(3) The hearing to consider the recommendations of the department for a three-month disposition plan shall be set no later than fourteen days after the approval of the court of a petition to approve alternative residential placement. Each party shall be notified of the time and place of such disposition hearing.

(4) If the court approves or denies a petition for an alternative residential placement, a written statement of the reasons shall be filed. If the court denies a petition requesting that a child be placed in a residence other than the home of his or her parent, the court shall enter an order requiring the child to remain at or return to the home of his or her parent. The order may include the requirement that the child abide by a written list of reasonable rules while the order is in effect.

(5) If the court denies the petition, the court shall impress upon the party filing the petition of the legislative intent to restrict the proceedings to situations where a family conflict is so great that it cannot be resolved by the provision of in-home services.

(6) A child who fails to comply with a court order directing that the child remain at or return to the home of his or her parent shall be subject to contempt proceedings, as provided in this chapter, but only if the noncompliance occurs within ninety calendar days after the day of the order.

Sec. 7. Section 33, chapter 155, Laws of 1979 as last amended by section 2, chapter 188, Laws of 1984 and RCW 13.32A.190 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Upon making a dispositional order under RCW 13.32A.180, the court shall schedule the matter on the calendar for review within three months, advise the parties of the date thereof, appoint legal counsel and/or a guardian ad litem to represent the child at the review hearing, advise parents of their right to be represented by legal counsel at the review hearing, and notify the parties of their rights to present evidence at the hearing. Where resources are available, the court shall encourage the parent and child to participate in mediation programs for reconciliation of their conflict.

(2) At the review hearing, the court shall approve or disapprove the continuation of the dispositional plan in accordance with the goal of resolving the conflict and reuniting the family which governed the initial approval. The court shall determine whether reasonable efforts have been made to reunify the family and make it possible for the child to return home. The court is authorized to discontinue the placement and order that the child return home if the court has reasonable grounds to believe that the parents have displayed concerted efforts to utilize services and resolve the conflict and the court has reason to believe that the child's refusal to return home is capricious. If out-of-home placement is continued, the court may modify the dispositional plan.

Out-of-home placement may not be continued past one hundred eighty days from the day the review hearing commenced. The court shall order that the child return to the home of the parent at the expiration of the placement. If continued out-of-home placement is disapproved, the court shall enter an order requiring that the child return to the home of the child's parent. The order may include the requirement that the child abide by a written list of reasonable rules while the order is in effect.

Sec. 8. Section 2, chapter 160, Laws of 1913 as last amended by section 29, chapter 354, Laws of 1985 and RCW 13.04.030 are each amended to read as follows:

The juvenile courts in the several counties of this state, shall have exclusive original jurisdiction over all proceedings:

(1) Under the interstate compact on placement of children as provided in chapter 26.34 RCW;

(5) Relating to juveniles alleged or found to have committed offenses, traffic infractions, or violations as provided in RCW 13.40.020 through 13.40.230, as now or hereafter amended, unless:

(a) The juvenile court transfers jurisdiction of a particular juvenile to adult criminal court pursuant to RCW 13.40.110, as now or hereafter amended; or

(b) The statute of limitations applicable to adult prosecution for the offense, traffic infraction, or violation has expired; or

(c) The alleged offense or infraction is a traffic, fish, boating, or game offense or traffic infraction committed by a juvenile sixteen years of age or older and would, if committed by an adult, be tried or heard in a court of limited jurisdiction, in which instance the appropriate court of limited jurisdiction shall have jurisdiction over the alleged offense or infraction: PROVIDED, That if such an alleged offense or infraction and an alleged offense or infraction subject to juvenile court jurisdiction arise out of the same event or incident, the juvenile court may have jurisdiction of both matters: PROVIDED FURTHER, That the jurisdiction under this subsection does not constitute 'transfer' or a 'decline' for purposes of RCW 13.40.110(1) or subsection (5)(a) of this section: PROVIDED FURTHER, That courts of limited jurisdiction which confine juveniles for an alleged offense or infraction may place juveniles in juvenile detention facilities under an agreement with the officials responsible for the administration of the juvenile detention facility in RCW 13.04.035 and 13.20.060;

(6) Under the interstate compact on juveniles as provided in chapter 13.24 RCW; and

(7) Relating to termination of a diversion agreement under RCW 13.40.080 as now or hereafter amended, including a proceeding in which the divertee has attained eighteen years of age.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 9. A new section is added to chapter 13.32A RCW to read as follows:

(1) A parent of a minor who (a) has been a reported runaway, or (b) has been unable to resolve conflict with the parent after counseling from either family reconciliation services or other formal counseling services initiated by either the parent or minor may file a petition with the court requesting that the minor be ordered to reside in the home of the parent.

(2) A minor who has been unable to resolve conflict with his or her parent or parents after counseling from either family reconciliation services or other formal counseling services initiated by either the minor or his or her parent or parents may file a petition with the court requesting that the parent or parents be ordered to allow the child to reside in the home of the parent or parents.

(3) The department shall, when requested and to the extent possible within existing budgetary constraints, assist a parent or minor in the filing of a petition under subsection (1) or (2) of this section.

(4) A petition under subsection (1) of this section shall request an order for the minor to be required to reside in the home of the parent and may request a specific list of rules by which the minor will be expected to abide.

(5) The filing of a petition to order a minor to reside in the home of the parent under subsection (1) of this section is not dependent upon the court having prior jurisdiction over the minor.

(6) A petition under subsection (2) of this section shall request an order for the parent or parents of a minor to reside in the home of the parent or parents and may request a specific list of rules by which the parent or parents will be expected to abide.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 10. A new section is added to chapter 13.32A RCW to read as follows:

NEW SECTION, Sec. 11. A new section is added to chapter 13.32A RCW to read as follows:

(1) The court shall hold a fact-finding hearing to consider a petition and may approve or deny the petition to order the child to reside in the home of the parent, giving due weight to the intent of the legislature that families, absent compelling reasons to the contrary, shall remain together and that parents have the right to place reasonable rules and restrictions upon their children. The court may appoint legal counsel or a guardian ad litem, or both, to represent the child and may advise parents of their right to be represented by legal counsel. The court may approve an order stating that the child shall be required to reside in the home of his or her parent only if it is established by a preponderance of the evidence that:

(3) The order may include: (a) The requirement that the minor reside or be allowed to reside in the home of his or her parent or parents; (b) the requirement that the minor and his or her parent or parents abide by a written list of rules while the order is in effect; (c) a specific period of time for the order to be in effect; and (d) requirements for the family to attend counseling if deemed of value by the judge to resolve the family conflict. (4) A party in the order who fails to comply with a court order directing that the minor reside or be allowed to reside in the home of his or her parent or parents shall be subject to contempt proceedings, as provided in this chapter, but only if the noncompliance occurs within the time stipulated in subsection (3)(c) of this section. The contempt proceedings shall be in accordance with RCW 13.32A.250.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. The legislature finds that accurate representation of the provisions of chapters 13.04, 13.32A, 13.34, and 74.13 RCW by affected parts of the criminal justice and child care systems to members of the public is of foremost importance. It further finds that effective implementation of the legislative intent of these provisions by the affected agencies is necessary in order to strengthen the family unit.

There shall be created a committee charged with overseeing implementation and administration of chapters 13.04, 13.32A, 13.34, and 74.13 RCW. The committee shall be composed of the following individuals:

(1) Two parents who have had experience in dealing with the juvenile authorities at some time during the period between June 1, 1984, and January 31, 1986, and have demonstrable familiarity with the juvenile code. One of the parents shall be selected by the speaker of the house of representatives and the other shall be selected by the majority leader of the senate;

(2) Two members of the house of representatives, one from each major political party, selected by the speaker of the house of representatives;

(3) Two members of the senate, one from each major political party, selected by the majority leader of the senate; and

(4) One representative from each of the following: (a) The judiciary, (b) law enforcement, (c) the division of children and family services of the department of social and health services, and (d) private nonprofit service providers.

The committee established under this section shall meet at least four times each year. Citizen members shall be reimbursed for travel expenses as provided in RCW 43.03.050 and 43.03.060.

The committee shall monitor the implementation and administration of chapters 13.04, 13.32A, 13.34 and 74.13 RCW by affected agencies in all regions of the state. To this end, the committee may inquire into instances where it is alleged that a law enforcement officer, school employee, department employee, judge, or juvenile court employee has either misrepresented a provision of the cited chapters or has failed to follow any such provision.

The oversight committee shall be granted access to all relevant information necessary to monitor behavior of agencies and/or employees.

The oversight committee shall report its findings and make recommendations regarding implementation of the chapters cited in this section in a report submitted to the judiciary committees of the house of representatives and the senate before the 1988 regular session of the legislature. The report shall include an evaluation of the need for specialized, structured residential homes for serious behaviorally or emotionally disturbed or hard to place juveniles, an evaluation of services currently being offered to families in conflict, and the resources necessary to support mandated or recommended services.

The oversight committee, unless recreated by the legislature, shall cease to exist after submitting the report required under this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. The legislature finds that there is evidence of failure to implement and enforce juvenile justice laws due to resource limitations within the various units of government charged with responsibility for such implementation and enforcement.

Therefore, commencing with the effective date of this act, and continuing through such time as further legislative direction is enacted into law, any person legally responsible for implementation or enforcement of any provision of chapter 13.04, 13.32A, 13.34, or 74.13 RCW who is unable to implement or enforce any such provision due to insufficient available resources, including but not limited to personnel, facilities, services, or programs, shall file a report on the situation as soon as possible with the oversight committee created under section 12 of this act or, if the oversight committee has ceased to exist, to the judiciary committees of the house of representatives and the senate. Any such report shall include a documented description of the situation and the reason or reasons for failure to implement or enforce the provision in question.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. Section 12 of this act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, the support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect immediately."

Mr. Jacobsen moved adoption of the following amendment by Representatives Jacobsen and Appelwick to the Crane amendment:

On page 20, line 16 of the amendment after "services." insert "The committee shall consider the establishment of a residential school to address the needs of children who, pursuant to law, may be ordered into an alternative residential placement. A residential school may be funded and operated, in whole or in part by private contributions."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Armstrong: "Mr. Speaker, I would like to request a ruling on the scope and object of this amendment."

SPEAKER'S RULING

The Speaker: "Representative Armstrong, the Speaker has examined the Crane amendment and the amendment to that amendment and the bill. It calls for a committee to be set up. The amendment indicates that one of the activities of the committee is to look at the juvenile justice code. The Speaker finds that the amendment to the amendment is within the scope and object and is in order."

Mr. Jacobsen spoke in favor of the amendment to the amendment, and it was adopted.

Mr. Tilly moved adoption of the following amendment by Representatives Tilly, K. Wilson, Fuhrman, Patrick, Bristow, West and Chandler to the Crane amendment:

On page 24 after line 16, insert the following:

"Sec. 17. Section 1, chapter 198, Laws of 1969 ex. sess. as last amended by section 9, chapter 303, Laws of 1985 and RCW 10.31.100 are each amended to read as follows:

A police officer having probable cause to believe that a person has committed or is committing a felony shall have the authority to arrest the person without a warrant. A police officer may arrest a person without a warrant for committing a misdemeanor or gross misdemeanor only when the offense is committed in the presence of the officer, except as provided in subsections (1) through (5) of this section.

(1) Any police officer having probable cause to believe that a person has committed or is committing a misdemeanor or gross misdemeanor, involving physical harm or threats of harm to any person or property or the unlawful taking of property or involving the use or possession of cannabis, or use or possession of liquor by a minor, shall have the authority to arrest the person.

(2) A police officer shall arrest and take into custody, pending release on bail, personal recognizance, or court order, a person without a warrant when the officer has probable cause to believe that:

(a) An order has been issued of which the person has knowledge under RCW 10.99.040(2), 10.99.050, 26.09.060, chapter 26.26 RCW, or chapter 26.50 RCW restraining the person and the person has violated the terms of the order restraining the person from acts or threats of violence or excluding the person from a residence; or

(b) The person is eighteen years or older and within the preceding four hours has assaulted that person's spouse, former spouse, or a person eighteen years or older with whom the person resides or has formerly resided and the officer believes: (i) A felonious assault has occurred; (ii) an assault has occurred which has resulted in bodily injury to the victim, whether the injury is observable by the responding officer or not; or (iii) that any physical action has occurred which was intended to cause another person reasonably to fear imminent serious bodily injury or death. Bodily injury means physical pain, illness, or an impairment of physical condition. When the officer has probable cause to believe that spouses, former spouses, or other persons who reside together or formerly resided together have assaulted each other, the officer is not required to arrest both persons. The officer shall arrest the person whom the officer believes to be the primary physical aggressor. In making this determination, the officer shall make every reasonable effort to consider: (i) The intent to protect victims of domestic violence under RCW 10.99.010; (ii) the comparative extent of injuries inflicted or serious threats creating fear of physical injury; and (iii) the history of domestic violence between the persons involved.

(3) Any police officer having probable cause to believe that a person has committed or is committing a violation of any of the following traffic laws shall have the authority to arrest the person:

(a) RCW 46.52.010, relating to duty on striking an unattended car or other property;

(b) RCW 46.52.020, relating to duty in case of injury to or death of a person or damage to an attended vehicle;

(c) RCW 46.61.500 or 46.61.530, relating to reckless driving or racing of vehicles;

(d) RCW 46.61.502 or 46.61.504, relating to persons under the influence of intoxicating liquor or drugs;

(e) RCW 46.20.342, relating to driving a motor vehicle while operator's license is suspended or revoked;

(f) RCW 46.61.525, relating to operating a motor vehicle in a negligent manner.

(4) A law enforcement officer investigating at the scene of a motor vehicle accident may arrest the driver of a motor vehicle involved in the accident if the officer has probable cause to believe that the driver has committed in connection with the accident a violation of any traffic law or regulation.

(5) Any police officer having probable cause to believe that a person has committed or is committing a violation of RCW 88.02.025 shall have the authority to arrest the person.

(6) Except as specifically provided in subsections (2), (3), and (4) of this section, nothing in this section extends or otherwise affects the powers of arrest prescribed in Title 46 RCW.

(7) No police officer may be held criminally or civilly liable for making an arrest pursuant to RCW 10.31.100(2) if the police officer acts in good faith and without malice."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Armstrong: "Mr. Speaker, I request a ruling on the scope and object of this amendment."

SPEAKER'S RULING

The Speaker: "The Speaker has examined the bill and the floor amendment by Representative Crane. Substitute House Bill 1731 deals with the juvenile justice statutes and when children may be taken into custody under this act. The amendment to the amendment deals with the authority of the police officers and warrants for arrest. Also there is a difference in the title. This amendment would expand the scope and object of the bill. Your point is well taken, Representative Armstrong."

The Speaker stated the question before the House to be the amendment by Representative Crane and others as amended.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Crane yielded to question by Mr. D. Nelson.

Mr. D. Nelson: "Representative Crane, I notice that there are some exceptions to the curfew which runs from 12 a.m. to 5 a.m. I'm looking for an exception that would cover a case that I'm familiar with, because it occurred when I was a minor and that case might take this kind of scenario: When three buddies, 16-year-olds, jump in their car, one of them has a driver's license, and they leave at 4 a.m. to go fishing because the sun comes up at about 5 a.m. and that's the best fishing time. Would this amendment allow those kids to go out on a fishing trip by themselves and not violate the curfew?"

Mr. Crane: "Representative Nelson, I don't think we just exactly took care of fishing trips, and I would believe it would be, in some degree, within the discretion of the officer, but I don't believe there is any specific exception."

Representatives D. Nelson, Braddock and Niemi spoke against the amendment as amended, and Representatives Crane, Patrick, Van Luven and G. Nelson spoke in favor of it.

The legislature finds that certain kinds of telephone solicitation are increasing and that these solicitations interfere with the legitimate privacy rights of the citizens of the state. A study conducted by the utilities and transportation commission, as directed by the forty-ninth legislature, has found that the level of telephone solicitation in this state is significant to warrant regulatory action to protect the privacy rights of the citizens of the state. It is the intent of the legislature to clarify and establish the rights of individuals to reject unwanted telephone solicitations.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 80.36 RCW to read as follows:

(1) As used in this section, 'telephone solicitation' means the unsolicited initiation of a telephone call by a commercial or nonprofit company or organization to a residential telephone

(c) Calls limited to polling or soliciting the expression of ideas, opinions, or votes; or

(d) Business-to-business contacts.

For purposes of this section, each individual real estate agent or insurance agent who maintains a separate list from other individual real estate or insurance agents shall be treated as a company or organization. For purposes of this section, an organization as defined in RCW 29.01.090 or 29.01.100 and organized pursuant to RCW 29.42.010 shall not be considered a commercial or nonprofit company or organization.

(2) A person making a telephone solicitation must identify him or herself and the company or organization on whose behalf the solicitation is being made and the purpose of the call within the first thirty seconds of the telephone call.

(3) If, at any time during the telephone contact, the called party states or indicates that he or she does not wish to be called again by the company or organization or wants to have his or her name and individual telephone number removed from the telephone lists used by the company or organization making the telephone solicitation, then:

(a) The company or organization shall not make any additional telephone solicitation of the called party at that telephone number within a period of at least one year; and

(b) The company or organization shall not sell or give the called party's name and telephone number to another company or organization: PROVIDED, That the company or organization may return the list, including the called party's name and telephone number, to the company or organization from which it received the list.

(4) A violation of subsection (2) or (3) of this section is punishable by a fine of up to one thousand dollars for each violation.

(5) The attorney general may bring actions to enforce compliance with this section. For the first violation by any company or organization of this section, the attorney general shall notify the company with a letter of warning that the section has been violated. An action under this section shall be instituted for the second and subsequent violations by a company or organization.

(6) A person aggrieved by a violation of this section may bring a civil action in superior court to enjoin future violations, to recover damages, or both. The court shall award damages of at least one hundred dollars for each individual violation of this section. If the aggrieved person prevails in a civil action under this subsection, the court shall award the aggrieved person reasonable attorneys' fees and cost of the suit.

(7) The utilities and transportation commission shall by rule ensure that telecommunications companies inform their residential customers of the provisions of this section. The notification may be made by (a) annual inserts in the billing statements mailed to residential customers, or (b) conspicuous publication of the notice in the consumer information pages of local telephone directories."

In 1984 they logged over 312,700 medical visits providing services to people who would otherwise be unable to receive adequate accessible medical treatment. Located throughout the state, they can be found in cities such as Wenatchee, Spokane, Pasco, Walla Walla, Mt. Vernon, Grandview, just to name a few. They are funded by a variety of sources and are regarded as one of the most cost-efficient health care providing systems within the state. In recognition of their important role and desired participation in this program, certain assurances have been provided for in this legislation. On page 2, line 31 it indicates, 'The department shall seek to obtain a large number of contracts with providers of health services to medicaid recipients. The department shall ensure that publicly supported community health centers and providers in rural areas, who show serious intent and apparent capability to participate in the project as managed health care systems are seriously considered as providers in the project.' We did receive assurances from the Department of Social and Health Services during the time this was considered in committee that they will fully cooperate in this endeavor."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Sutherland yielded to question by Mr. Ebersole.

Mr. Ebersole: "Representative Sutherland, we sometimes on this floor have to trust the opinions of those who know about these things. I, as Chair of Education Committee, have some misgivings about this bill in terms of what it will do to the trust lands and to the common school construction fund in the long run. In your opinion, as Chair of Natural Resources, do you think that this is in the best interest of the trust lands?"

Mr. Sutherland: "Representative Ebersole, House Bill 508 has actually been before this body for about a year now and last year we didn't pass it because there were a number of considerations on it. During the last year I've had the opportunity to review it quite a bit. I think there are some things that point out that it is a direct benefit to the trust and to the trust lands, in fact. I'd like to point out that the impact of what we are looking at here in dollars to the common school construction fund, above what the Department of Natural Resources is currently doing, would be a benefit cash flow to the trust of, from forecasts, $58.5 million. The trees that we are talking about here now, eighty-three percent of the dollar volume for new trees, are going to go to the common school construction fund. That tells me that it's good for the trust. How much just for the land? The land that we are talking about is in white wood--old growth--and it needs to be harvested and turned into good productive high-valued second growth timber, which will be of even greater benefit for the trust. So, I think, when you are looking at whether or not it's in the best interest of the trust and the trust lands, the way the Natural Resources Committee and the Ways & Means Committee have revised this bill, it is definitely in the best interest of the trusts."

Representatives Rust, D. Nelson and Belcher spoke against passage of the bill, and Representatives Sayan, Basich and Vander Stoep spoke in favor of it.

Mr. Crane demanded the previous question and the demand was sustained.

HOUSE BILL NO. 1389, by Representatives Jacobsen, Appelwick, Ballard and Lux

Requiring needs assessment and certificate of need review for air and land ambulance services.

The bill was read the second time. Committee on Social & Health Services recommendation: Majority, do pass with the following amendment:

On page 4, line 13 strike "or replacement"

On motion of Ms. Brekke, the committee amendment was adopted.

Ms. Leonard moved adoption of the following amendment by Representatives Leonard and Ballard:

On page 4, after line 22 insert:

"NEW SECTION, Sec. 5. This 1986 act does not apply to the construction of emergency landing facilities by any regional tertiary care hospital that made an application for a conditional land use permit prior to December 1, 1984."

Renumber the remaining sections consecutively.

Representatives Leonard, Ballard and Fisch spoke in favor of the amendment, and Mr. Zellinsky spoke against it.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Ms. Leonard yielded to question by Mr. Locke.

Mr. Locke: "Representative Leonard, your amendment says that it does not apply to the construction of emergency landing facilities. Does that mean that the facility must be restricted for actual emergencies or would this amendment allow that once an emergency landing facility is built, that the facility could then handle nonemergency landings by helicopters?"

Ms. Leonard: "Representative Locke, it is the intent of the language that the facility be used only for emergency landings as is currently the practice. I support the process of the certificate of need for any other kinds of transport or for the use of the helicopters generally, as has been suggested in the bill. This amendment was strictly to allow this hospital to construct that landing pad so that those emergency landings could be made safely. It is to further insure the safeness of the landings for emergency use only."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Ballard yielded to question by Ms. Schmidt.

Ms. Schmidt: "Representative Ballard, the MAST helicopter system is an important safety element in our community. I'm concerned as to what would happen in an emergency with a flight into a hospital with a heliport, and can it land safely? Will they be allowed to use those heliports? Will this make it easier or more difficult or allow them to continue operations?"

Mr. Ballard: "Representative Schmidt, any hospital that has a heliport that is designed for emergency flights will accept those flights whether they are MAST or any other kind of private helicopters. So under no circumstances where it is an emergency, as long as they can land safely would they be denied access to land."

Ms. Schmidt: "Could you also explain to me what would occur in a nonemergency, using MAST?"

Mr. Ballard: "As far as children go, there is a private field nearby an on a nonemergency routine transfer they would use if it was not an emergency. All the hospitals throughout the state that have a heliport that would accept either emergency or nonemergency would not be changed under the conditions of this bill."

Ms. Schmidt spoke in favor of the amendment and it was adopted.

The bill was ordered engrossed. On motion of Mr. Appelwick, the rules were suspended, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Representatives Jacobsen, Brekke, Smitherman and Ballard spoke in favor of passage of the bill, and Representatives Dobbs, Zellinsky, Lundquist, Barrett and Barnes spoke against it.

Mr. Jacobsen spoke again in favor of the bill.

Mr. Crane demanded the previous question and the demand was sustained.

HOUSE BILL NO. 1825, by Representatives Vekich, Basich, McMullen, Peery and May; by request of Department of Community Development

Authorizing the use of the local hotel/motel tax to develop strategies to expand tourism.

POINT OF INQUIRY

The City of Westport wanted the bill and they were actually asked by their hotels and motels to come to the legislature, so I get the feeling that there was some cooperative effort of how the money would be spent."

Representatives Smitherman, L. Smith and Isaacson spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

Mr. Crane demanded the previous question and the demand was not sustained.

Mr. G. Nelson opposed passage of the bill, and Mr. Basich spoke again in favor of it.

THIRD READING

ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1731, by Committee on Judiciary (originally sponsored by Representatives K. Wilson, Lewis, Day, Winsley, Braddock, Bristow, Scott, Tilly and P. King)

Revising provisions on juveniles.

The bill was read the third time and placed on final passage.

Representatives K. Wilson, Crane, Patrick and G. Nelson spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Crane yielded to question by Mr. Appelwick.

Mr. Appelwick: "Representative Crane, you were the sponsor of the amendment that added the curfew portion to the bill. In section 4(2)(d) it says that a minor who is traveling by direct route to or from his or her employment is exempt from the curfew. Is it your intent as the sponsor of the amendment, that paper carriers who are on their paper routes delivering papers during the curfew period would be exempt under this section of the law?"

Mr. Crane: "Yes, Representative Appelwick, it would be my intent that they would be exempt, and also children going to and from skiing or going fishing as Representative Nelson indicated."

Mr. Appelwick spoke in favor of the bill, and Mr. Braddock spoke against it.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Crane yielded to question by Mr. May.

Mr. May: "Representative Crane, just assume for a minute that I still have a sixteen-year-old son. If he went with the car to a school dance that ends at midnight and he and his girlfriend stop for a pizza and a coke, is he breaking the law?"

Mr. Crane: "He wouldn't be breaking the law, but he could be detained under the curfew unless he's there with permission. You would have to read the exceptions directly and put them into your own thought pattern because, of course, we can't take care of every possible instance here. There would be police discretion in these matters. I wouldn't expect them to take the time to pick them up and take them home on every occasion. If they are there and they have the permission of their parents, or if they are with an adult, then they would have no trouble."

Mr. R. King opposed passage of the bill, and Mr. Ebersole spoke in favor of it.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Crane yielded to question by Ms. Long.

Ms. Long: "Representative Crane, I have three sons who often used to go skiing. They were 12, 15 and 18. They would go night skiing sometimes and get home after midnight. Other times they left early in the morning and went up to Mt. Baker skiing. Would they be caught under this kind of law?"

Mr. Crane: "I think the answer to that, and it isn't a perfect answer, but I'm quite sure the police officers would not arrest young people going to the ski areas if they are on the direct route to the ski area. This bill doesn't take care of that specifically, and I would have no objection to attempting to change the language in conference or in the Senate to that extent. I understand your concerns and we do have these exceptions which are difficult to fit into the exceptions we have in the bill. I think we are worrying about something that isn't going to happen."

Representatives Wineberry and Vekich opposed the bill, and Representatives Van Luvan and Taylor spoke in favor of it.

Mr. Hargrove demanded the previous question and the demand was sustained.

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1731, and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas, 73; nays, 24; absent, 1.

(1) After filing a notice of a claim with the director, in addition to any other penalty provided by law, any person aggrieved by a violation of this chapter or any rule adopted under this chapter may bring suit in any court of competent jurisdiction of the county in which the claim arose, or in which either the plaintiff or respondent resides, without regard to the amount in controversy and without regard to exhaustion of any alternative administrative remedies provided in this chapter. No such action may be commenced later than three years after the date of the violation giving rise to the right of action. In any such action the court may award to the prevailing party, in addition to costs and disbursements, reasonable attorney fees at trial and appeal.

(2) In any action under subsection (1) of this section, if the court finds that the respondent has violated this chapter or any rule adopted under this chapter, it may award damages up to and including an amount equal to the amount of actual damages, or statutory damages of five hundred dollars per plaintiff per violation, whichever is greater, or other equitable relief.

~~((3) Without regard to any other remedy otherwise provided in this chapter, any person having a claim against the farm labor contractor for any violation of this chapter may bring suit upon the surety bond or security deposit filed by the contractor pursuant to RCW 19.30.040; in any court of competent jurisdiction of the county in which the claim arose, or in which either the claimant or contractor resides. An action upon the bond or security deposit shall be commenced by serving and filing the complaint within three years from the date of expiration or cancellation of the bond, or in the case of a security deposit, within three years of the date of the expiration or revocation of the license. A copy of the complaint in any such action shall be served upon the director at the time of commencement of the action and the director shall maintain a record, available for public inspection, of all suits so commenced. Such service shall constitute service on the farm labor contractor and the surety for suit upon the bond and the director shall transmit the complaint or a copy thereof to the contractor at the address listed in his or her application and to the surety within forty-eight hours after it has been received. The surety upon the bond may, upon notice to the director and the parties, tender to the clerk of the court having jurisdiction of the action an amount equal to the claims thereunder or the amount of the bond less the amount of judgments, if any, previously satisfied therefrom and to the extent of such tender the surety upon the bond shall be exonerated. A claimant against the bond or security deposit shall be entitled to damages under subsection (2) of this section. If the actions commenced and pending at any one time exceed the amount of the bond then unimpaired, the claims shall be satisfied from the bond in the following order:~~

~~(a) Wages, including employee benefits;~~

~~(b) Damages imposed under subsection (2) of this section;~~

~~(c) Any costs and attorney's fees claimant may be entitled to recover.~~

~~If any final judgment impairs the liability of the surety upon the bond so furnished so that there is not in effect a bond undertaking in the full amount prescribed by the director, the director shall suspend the license of such contractor until the bond liability in the required amount unimpaired by unsatisfied judgment claims has been furnished. If such bond becomes fully impaired, a new bond must be furnished.~~

~~If the farm labor contractor has filed other security with the director in lieu of a surety bond, any person having an unsatisfied final judgment against the contractor for any violation of this chapter may execute upon the security deposit held by the director by serving a certified copy of the unsatisfied final judgment by registered or certified mail upon the director. Upon the receipt of service of such certified copy, the director shall pay or order paid from the deposit, through the registry of the court which rendered judgment, towards the amount of the unsatisfied judgment. The priority of payment by the director shall be the order of receipt by the director, but the director shall have no liability for payment in excess of the amount of the deposit.))~~

NEW SECTION. Sec. 19. A new section is added to chapter 19.30 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Any person, having a claim for wages pursuant to this act or RCW 49.52.050 et seq. may bring suit upon the surety bond or security deposit filed by the contractor pursuant to RCW 19.30.040, in any court of competent jurisdiction of the county in which the claim arose, or in which either the claimant or contractor resides: PROVIDED, That the right of action shall not be included in any suit or action against the farm labor contractor but must be exercised independently after first procuring a judgment, decree or other form of adequate proof of liability established after notice and hearing under RCW 19.30.160. The filing of such an action against the farm labor contractor tolls the three-year statute of limitations referred to in RCW 19.30.170.

(2) The right of action is assignable in the name of the director or any other person, and must be included with an assignment of a wage claim, any other appropriate claim, or of a judgment thereon.

(3) An action upon the bond or security deposit shall be commenced by serving and filing the complaint within three years from the date of expiration or cancellation of the bond, or in the case of a security deposit, within three years of the date of expiration or revocation of the license.

(4) A copy of the complaint in any such action shall be served upon the director at the time of commencement of the action and the director shall maintain a record, available for public inspection, of all suits so commenced. Such service shall constitute service on the farm labor contractor and the surety for suit upon the bond and the director shall transmit the complaint or a copy thereof to the contractor at the address listed in his or her application and to the surety within forty-eight hours after it has been received.

(5) The surety upon the bond may, upon notice to the director and the parties, tender to the clerk of the court having jurisdiction of the action an amount equal to the claims or the amount of the bond less the amount of judgments, if any, previously satisfied therefrom and to the extent of such tender the surety upon the bond shall be exonerated.

(6) If the actions commenced and pending at any one time exceed the amount of the bond then unimpaired, the claims shall be satisfied from the bond in the order that judgment was rendered.

(7) If any final judgment impairs the liability of the surety upon the bond so furnished so that there is not in effect a bond undertaking in the full amount prescribed by the director, the director shall suspend the license of such contractor until the bond liability in the required amount unimpaired by unsatisfied judgment claims has been furnished. If such bond becomes fully impaired, a new bond must be furnished.

(8) If the farm labor contractor has filed other security with the director in lieu of a surety bond, any person having an unsatisfied final judgment against the contractor for any violation of this chapter may execute upon the security deposit held by the director by serving a certified copy of the unsatisfied final judgment by registered or certified mail upon the director. Upon the receipt of service of such certified copy, the director shall pay or order paid from the deposit, through the registry of the court which rendered judgment, towards the amount of the unsatisfied judgment. The priority of payment by the director shall be the order of receipt by the director, but the director shall have no liability for payment in excess of the amount of the deposit.

ESSB 3228 Prime Sponsor, Committee on Human Services & Corrections: Changing language in the natural death act. Reported by Committee on Social & Health Services

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendment:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. Section 2, chapter 112, Laws of 1979 and RCW 70.122.010 are each amended to read as follows:

The legislature finds that adult persons have the fundamental right to control the decisions relating to the rendering of their own ~~((medical))~~ health care, including the decision to have life-sustaining ~~((procedures))~~ treatment withheld or withdrawn in instances of a terminal condition.

The legislature further finds that modern medical technology has made possible the artificial prolongation of human life beyond natural limits.

The legislature further finds that, in the interest of protecting individual autonomy, such ~~((prolongation of life))~~ postponement of the moment of death for persons with a terminal condition may cause loss of patient dignity, and unnecessary pain and suffering, while providing nothing medically necessary or beneficial to the patient.

The legislature further finds that there exists considerable uncertainty in the medical and legal professions as to the legality of terminating the use or application of life-sustaining ~~((procedures))~~ treatment where the patient has voluntarily and in sound mind evidenced a desire that such ~~((procedures))~~ treatment be withheld or withdrawn.

In recognition of the dignity and privacy which patients have a right to expect, the legislature hereby declares that the laws of the state of Washington shall recognize the right of an adult person to make a written directive instructing such person's physician to withhold or withdraw life-sustaining ~~((procedures))~~ treatment in the event of a terminal condition.

The legislature further recognizes that a person in a terminal condition may not have executed such a written directive and that therefore there is a need to establish a means of authorizing the withholding or withdrawing of life-sustaining treatment in the absence of a written directive.

The legislature further recognizes that in the absence of controversy, the court is normally not the proper forum in which to make decisions regarding life-sustaining treatment.

To avoid needless suffering and loss of dignity and to avoid treatment that is not desired by a person in a terminal condition, the legislature declares this chapter to be in the interest of the public health and welfare.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 70.122 RCW to read as follows:

This chapter shall not be construed as providing the exclusive means by which individuals, their legal representatives or next of kin as identified in section 5(2) of this act, may make decisions regarding their health treatment nor limiting the means provided by existing case law.

Sec. 3. Section 3, chapter 112, Laws of 1979 and RCW 70.122.020 are each amended to read as follows:

Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions contained in this section shall apply throughout this chapter.

(1) 'Attending physician' means the physician selected by, or assigned to, the patient who has primary responsibility for the treatment and care of the patient.

(2) 'Directive' means a written document voluntarily executed by the declarer in accordance with the requirements of RCW 70.122.030.

(3) 'Health facility' means a hospital as defined in RCW ~~((70.36.020(7) or))~~ 70.41.020(2), a nursing home as defined in RCW ~~((70.36.020(8)))~~ 18.51.010, or a home health agency or hospice agency as defined in RCW 70.126.010.

(4) 'Life-sustaining ~~((procedure))~~ treatment' means any medical or surgical ~~((procedure or intervention which utilizes mechanical or other))~~ care that uses artificial means to sustain, restore, or ((supplant)) replace a vital function, which, when applied to a qualified patient, would serve only to ((artificially prolong)) postpone the moment of death ((and where, in the judgment of the attending physician, death is imminent whether or not such procedures are utilized)). 'Life-sustaining ~~((procedure))~~ treatment' shall not include the administration of medication or the performance of any medical ~~((procedure))~~ or surgical care or the provision of nutrition and hydration for comfort care deemed necessary to alleviate pain.

(5) 'Physician' means a person licensed under chapters 18.71 or 18.57 RCW.

(6) 'Qualified patient' means a patient diagnosed and certified in writing to be afflicted with a terminal condition by two physicians one of whom shall be the attending physician, who have personally examined the patient.

(7) 'Terminal condition' means ~~((an incurable))~~ a condition caused by injury, disease, or illness, ((which, regardless of the application of life-sustaining procedures, would)) that, within reasonable medical judgment, ((produce)) is incurable and will cause death, and where the application of life-sustaining ((procedures)) treatment serves only to postpone the moment of death ((of the patient)).

(8) 'Adult person' means a person ~~((attaining))~~ who has attained the age of majority as defined in RCW 26.28.010 and 26.28.015.

Sec. 4. Section 4, chapter 112, Laws of 1979 and RCW 70.122.030 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Any adult person may execute a directive directing the withholding or withdrawal of life-sustaining ~~((procedures))~~ treatment in a terminal condition. The directive shall be signed by the declarer in the presence of two witnesses not related to the declarer by blood or marriage and who would not be entitled to any portion of the estate of the declarer upon declarer's decease under any will of the declarer or codicil thereto then existing or, at the time of the directive, by operation of law then existing. In addition, a witness to a directive shall not be the attending physician, an employee of the attending physician or a health facility in which the declarer is a patient, or any person who has a claim against any portion of the estate of the declarer upon declarer's decease at the time of the execution of the directive. The directive, or a copy thereof, shall be made part of the patient's medical records retained by the attending physician, a copy of which shall be forwarded to the health facility upon ~~((the withdrawal of life-sustaining procedures))~~ admission. The directive shall be essentially in the following form, but in addition may include other specific directions:

DIRECTIVE TO PHYSICIANS

Directive made this _____ day of _____ (month, year).

I _____, being of sound mind, wilfully, and voluntarily make known my desire that my life shall not be artificially prolonged and that I be permitted to die naturally under the circumstances set forth below, and do hereby declare that:

(a) If at any time I should have an incurable injury, disease, or illness certified to be a terminal condition by two physicians, and where the application of life-sustaining ~~((procedures))~~ treatment would serve only to artificially ~~((prolong))~~ postpone the moment of my death ~~((and where my physician determines that my death is imminent whether or not life-sustaining procedures are utilized))~~, I direct that such ~~((procedures))~~ treatment, including but not limited to a respirator, antibiotics, cardiopulmonary resuscitation, and dialysis, be withheld or withdrawn ~~((and that I be permitted to die naturally))~~.

(b) In the absence of my ability to give directions regarding the use of such life-sustaining ~~((procedures))~~ treatment, it is my intention that this directive shall be honored by my family and physician(s) as the final expression of my legal right to refuse medical or surgical ~~((treatment))~~ care and I accept the consequences ~~((from))~~ of such refusal.

(c) If I have been diagnosed as pregnant and that diagnosis is known to my physician, this directive shall have no force or effect during the course of my pregnancy.

(d) I understand the full import of this directive and I am emotionally and mentally competent to make this directive.

(e) I understand that I can add or delete from or otherwise change the wording of this directive before I sign it, and that I may amend or revoke this directive at any time.

(2) Prior to effectuating a directive the diagnosis of a terminal condition, including a detailed description of the diagnostic criteria used, by two physicians shall be ~~((verified))~~ entered in writing, attached to the directive, and made a permanent part of the patient's medical records.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 5. A new section is added to chapter 70.122 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Life-sustaining treatment as defined in RCW 70.122.020 that would otherwise be applied to a qualified patient may be withheld or withdrawn according to subsections (2), (3), and (4) of this section if:

(a) The qualified patient is incapable of expressing his or her wishes as to the withholding or withdrawal of life-sustaining treatment;

(b) It is determined by the attending physician that the qualified patient has a terminal condition as defined in RCW 70.122.020(7); and

(c) There is certification in writing of such qualified patient's terminal condition by at least one additional physician with relevant qualifications, consulting specifically to assess the terminal condition after having personally examined the patient.

(2) If a qualified patient's condition has been determined to meet the conditions set forth in subsection (1) of this section and no directive has been executed according to RCW 70.122.030, life-sustaining treatment may be withheld or withdrawn upon the direction and under the supervision of the attending physician after the physician has obtained authorization from a member of one of the following classes of persons in the following order of priority:

(a) The appointed guardian of the qualified patient, if any;

(b) The individual, if any, to whom the qualified patient has given a durable power of attorney that encompasses the authority to make health care decisions pursuant to section 12 of this act;

(c) The qualified patient's spouse;

(d) Children of the qualified patient who are at least eighteen years of age;

(e) Parents of the qualified patient;

(f) Adult brother(s) and sister(s) of the qualified patient.

If the physician seeking authority to withhold or withdraw life-sustaining treatment from a qualified patient makes reasonable efforts to locate and secure authorization from a competent person in the first or succeeding class and finds no such person available, authorization may be given by any person in the next class in the order of descending priority. However, no person under this section shall have the power to authorize the withholding or withdrawal of life-sustaining treatment from a qualified patient, (i) if a person of higher priority under this section has refused to give such authorization, or (ii) if there are two or more individuals in the same class and the decision is not unanimous among all available members of that class.

(3) Before any person described in subsection (2) of this section authorizes the physician to withhold or withdraw life-sustaining treatment from a qualified patient, he or she must first determine in good faith that the qualified patient, if competent, would choose to forego life-sustaining treatment. If such a determination cannot be made, the decision to authorize the physician to withhold or withdraw life-sustaining treatment may be made only after determining that foregoing life-sustaining treatment is in the qualified patient's best interests.

(4) If none of the persons described in subsection (2) of this section are available, then life-sustaining treatment may be withheld or withdrawn from a qualified patient upon the direction and under the supervision of the attending physician only after the attending physician determines in good faith that the conditions set forth in subsections (1) and (3) of this section have been met.

Sec. 6. Section 6, chapter 112, Laws of 1979 and RCW 70.122.050 are each amended to read as follows:

No physician or health facility ~~((which)) that~~, acting in good faith in accordance with the requirements of this chapter, ~~((causes the withholding or withdrawal of))~~ withholds or withdraws life-sustaining ((procedures)) treatment from a qualified patient, shall be subject to civil liability ((therefrom)) unless otherwise negligent. No ~~((licensed))~~ health personnel, acting under the direction of a physician, who participates in good faith in the withholding or withdrawal of life-sustaining ~~((procedures))~~ treatment in accordance with the provisions of this chapter shall be subject to any civil liability unless otherwise negligent. No physician, or health facility or its agents, or ((licensed)) health personnel acting under the direction of a physician, who participates in good faith in the withholding or withdrawal of life-sustaining ~~((procedures))~~ treatment in accordance with the provisions of this chapter shall be guilty of any criminal act or of unprofessional conduct.

Sec. 7. Section 7, chapter 112, Laws of 1979 and RCW 70.122.060 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Prior to ~~((effectuating a))~~ the withholding or withdrawal of life-sustaining ((procedures)) treatment from a qualified patient pursuant to the directive, the attending physician shall make a reasonable effort to determine that the directive complies with RCW 70.122.030 and, if the patient is mentally competent, that the directive and all steps proposed by the attending physician to be undertaken are currently in accord with the desires of the qualified patient.

(2) The directive shall be conclusively presumed, unless revoked, to be the directions of the patient regarding the withholding or withdrawal of life-sustaining ~~((procedures))~~ treatment. No physician, and no ~~((licensed))~~ health personnel acting in good faith under the direction of a physician, shall be criminally or civilly liable for failing to effectuate the directive of the qualified patient pursuant to this subsection. ~~((If the physician refuses to effectuate the directive, such physician shall make a good faith effort to transfer the qualified patient to another physician who will effectuate the directive of the qualified patient.))~~ An attending physician, health care provider, or health facility that chooses not to comply with the directive shall as promptly as practicable take all reasonable steps to transfer care of the qualified patient to another physician, health care provider, or health care facility. Such physician or health care provider shall not be subject to discrimination, disciplinary action, or harassment of any kind from his or her employer for the exercise of that choice.

Sec. 8. Section 8, chapter 112, Laws of 1979 and RCW 70.122.070 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The withholding or withdrawal of life-sustaining ~~((procedures))~~ treatment from a qualified patient pursuant to the patient's directive in accordance with the provisions of this chapter shall not, for any purpose, constitute a suicide.

(2) The making of a directive pursuant to RCW 70.122.030 shall not restrict, inhibit, or impair in any manner the sale, procurement, or issuance of any policy of life insurance, nor shall it be deemed to modify the terms of an existing policy of life insurance. No policy of life insurance shall be legally impaired or invalidated in any manner by the withholding or withdrawal of life-sustaining ~~((procedures))~~ treatment from an insured qualified patient, notwithstanding any term of the policy to the contrary.

(3) No physician, health facility, or other health provider, and no health care service plan, insurer issuing disability insurance, self-insured employee welfare benefit plan, or nonprofit hospital service plan, shall require any person to execute a directive as a condition for being insured for, or receiving, health care services.

Sec. 9. Section 10, chapter 112, Laws of 1979 and RCW 70.122.080 are each amended to read as follows:

The act of withholding or withdrawing life-sustaining ~~((procedures))~~ treatment from a qualified patient, when done pursuant to a directive described in RCW 70.122.030 ((and which causes the death of the decedent)) or the procedures authorized in this chapter, shall not be construed to be an intervening force or to affect the chain of proximate cause between the conduct of ~~((any person))~~ anyone that placed the declarer in a terminal condition and the death of the declarer.

Sec. 10. Section 9, chapter 112, Laws of 1979 and RCW 70.122.090 are each amended to read as follows:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. Section 19, chapter 1, Laws of 1973 as last amended by section 1, chapter 265, Laws of 1979 ex. sess. and RCW 42.17.190 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Every legislator and every committee of the legislature shall file with the commission quarterly reports listing the names, addresses, and salaries of all persons employed by the person or committee making the filing for the purpose of aiding in the preparation or enactment of legislation or the performance of legislative duties of such legislator or committee during the preceding quarter. The reports shall be made in the form and the manner prescribed by the commission and shall be filed between the first and tenth days of each calendar quarter: PROVIDED, That the information required by this subsection may be supplied, insofar as it is available, by the chief clerk of the house of representatives or by the secretary of the senate on a form prepared by the commission.

(2) Unless authorized by subsection (3) of this section or otherwise expressly authorized by law, no public funds may be used directly or indirectly for lobbying: PROVIDED, This does not prevent officers or employees of an agency from communicating with a member of the legislature on the request of that member; or communicating to the legislature, through the proper official channels, requests for legislative action or appropriations which are deemed necessary for the efficient conduct of the public business or actually made in the proper performance of their official duties: PROVIDED FURTHER, That this subsection does not apply to the legislative branch.

(3) Any agency, not otherwise expressly authorized by law, may expend public funds for lobbying, but such lobbying activity shall be limited to (a) providing information or communicating on matters pertaining to official agency business to any elected official or officer or employee of any agency or (b) advocating the official position or interests of the agency to any elected official or officer or employee of any agency: PROVIDED, That public funds may not be expended as a direct or indirect gift or campaign contribution to any elected official or officer or employee of any agency. For the purposes of this subsection, the term 'gift' means a voluntary transfer of any thing of value without consideration of equal or greater value, but does not include informational material transferred for the sole purpose of informing the recipient about matters pertaining to official agency business: PROVIDED FURTHER, That this section does not permit the printing of a state publication which has been otherwise prohibited by law.

(4) No elective official or any employee of his or her office or any person appointed to or employed by any public office or agency may use or authorize the use of any of the facilities of a public office or agency, directly or indirectly, in any effort to support or oppose an initiative to the legislature. 'Facilities of a public office or agency' has the same meaning as in RCW 42.17.130. The provisions of this subsection shall not apply to the following activities:

(a) Action taken at an open public meeting by members of an elected legislative body to express a collective decision, or to actually vote upon a motion, proposal, resolution, order, or ordinance, or to support or oppose an initiative to the legislature so long as (i) any required notice of the meeting includes the title and number of the initiative to the legislature, and (ii) members of the legislative body or members of the public are afforded an approximately equal opportunity for the expression of an opposing view;

(b) A statement by an elected official in support of or in opposition to any initiative to the legislature at an open press conference or in response to a specific inquiry;

(c) Activities which are part of the normal and regular conduct of the office or agency.

(5) Each state agency, county, city, town, municipal corporation, quasi-municipal corporation, or special purpose district which expends public funds for lobbying shall file with the commission, except as exempted by ~~((subsection (4)))~~ (d) of this ~~((section))~~ subsection, quarterly statements providing the following information for the quarter just completed:

(a) The name of the agency filing the statement;

(b) The name, title, and job description and salary of each elected official, officer, or employee who lobbied, a general description of the nature of the lobbying, and the proportionate amount of time spent on the lobbying;

(c) A listing of expenditures incurred by the agency for lobbying including but not limited to travel, consultant or other special contractual services, and brochures and other publications, the principal purpose of which is to influence legislation;

(d) For purposes of this subsection ~~((4) of this section)~~ the term 'lobbying' does not include:

(i) Requests for appropriations by a state agency to the office of financial management pursuant to chapter 43.88 RCW nor requests by the office of financial management to the legislature for appropriations other than its own agency budget requests;

(ii) Recommendations or reports to the legislature in response to a legislative request expressly requesting or directing a specific study, recommendation, or report by an agency on a particular subject;

(iii) Official reports including recommendations submitted to the legislature on an annual or biennial basis by a state agency as required by law;

(iv) Requests, recommendations, or other communication between or within state agencies or between or within local agencies;

(v) Any other lobbying to the extent that it includes:

(A) Telephone conversations or preparation of written correspondence;

(B) In-person lobbying on behalf of an agency of no more than four days or parts thereof during any three-month period by officers or employees of that agency and in-person lobbying by any elected official of such agency on behalf of such agency or in connection with the powers, duties, or compensation of such official: PROVIDED, That the total expenditures of non-public funds made in connection with such lobbying for or on behalf of any one or more members of the legislature or state elected officials or public officers or employees of the state of Washington do not exceed fifteen dollars for any three-month period: PROVIDED FURTHER, That the exemption under this subsection is in addition to the exemption provided in (A) of this subsection;

(C) Preparation or adoption of policy positions.

The statements shall be in the form and the manner prescribed by the commission and shall be filed within one month after the end of the quarter covered by the report.

~~((5))~~ (6) In lieu of reporting under subsection ~~((4))~~ (5) of this section any county, city, town, municipal corporation, quasi municipal corporation, or special purpose district may determine and so notify the public disclosure commission, that elected officials, officers, or employees who on behalf of any such local agency engage in lobbying reportable under subsection ~~((4))~~ (5) of this section shall register and report such reportable lobbying in the same manner as a lobbyist who is required to register and report under RCW 42.17.150 and 42.17.170. Each such local agency shall report as a lobbyist employer pursuant to RCW 42.17.180.

((4)) (7) The provisions of this section do not relieve any elected official or officer or employee of an agency from complying with other provisions of this chapter, if such elected official, officer, or employee is not otherwise exempted.

((7)) (8) The purpose of this section is to require each state agency and certain local agencies to report the identities of those persons who lobby on behalf of the agency for compensation, together with certain separately identifiable and measurable expenditures of an agency's funds for that purpose. This section shall be reasonably construed to accomplish that purpose and not to require any agency to report any of its general overhead cost or any other costs which relate only indirectly or incidentally to lobbying or which are equally attributable to or inseparable from nonlobbying activities of the agency.

The public disclosure commission may adopt ((regulations)) rules clarifying and implementing this legislative interpretation and policy.*

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The purpose of this chapter is to further the public interest, welfare, and safety by providing for the protection and promotion of safety in the operation of watercraft on the rivers of this state.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) 'Watercraft' means every type of watercraft used as a means of transportation on a river, including but not limited to power boats, drift boats, open canoes, rafts, decked canoes, and kayaks.

(2) 'Carrying passengers for hire' means carrying passengers by watercraft for valuable consideration, whether given directly or indirectly or received by the owner, agent, operator, or other person having an interest in the watercraft. This shall not affect trips where expenses for food, transportation, or incidentals are shared by participants on an even basis. Anyone receiving compensation for skills or money for amortization of equipment shall be considered to be carrying passengers for hire. Individuals licensed under chapter 77.32 RCW and acting as a fishing guide are exempt from this chapter.

(3) 'Operate' means to navigate or otherwise use a watercraft.

(4) 'Operator' means any person operating the watercraft or performing the duties of a pilot or guide for one or more watercraft in a group.

(5) 'Passenger' means every person on board a watercraft who is not an operator.

(6) 'Rivers of the state' means those rivers and streams, or parts thereof, within the boundaries of this state.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. The owner and operator of a watercraft shall be jointly and severally liable for any injury or damage caused by the operation of a watercraft in violation of this chapter. There shall be a presumption that the watercraft is being operated with the knowledge and consent of the owner if, at the time of injury or damage, the watercraft is under the control of the owner, the owner's spouse, parent, sibling, offspring, or other member of the owner's immediate family.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. (1) No person may operate any watercraft in a manner that interferes with other watercraft or with the free and proper navigation of the rivers of this state.

(2) Every operator of a watercraft shall at all times operate the watercraft in a careful and prudent manner and at such a speed as to not endanger the life, limb, or property of any person.

(3) No watercraft may be loaded with passengers or cargo beyond its safe carrying capacity taking into consideration the type and construction of the watercraft and other existing operating conditions. In the case of inflatable rafts, safe carrying capacity in whitewater shall be considered as less than the United States Coast Guard capacity rating for each watercraft. This subsection shall not apply in cases of an unexpected emergency on the river.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. (1) Watercraft proceeding downstream have the right of way over watercraft proceeding upstream.

(2) In all cases, watercraft not under power have the right of way over motorized craft underway.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. (1) No person may operate on the rivers of this state a watercraft carrying passengers for hire unless the person has been issued a valid Red Cross standard first aid card or at least its equivalent.

(2) This section does not apply to a person operating a watercraft on the navigable waters of the United States in this state and who is licensed by the United States Coast Guard for the type of watercraft being operated.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. While carrying passengers for hire on whitewater river sections in this state, the operator and owner shall:

(1) If using inflatable boats, use only boats with three or more separate air chambers;

(2) Ensure that all passengers and operators are wearing a securely fastened United States Coast Guard approved type III or type V life jacket in good condition;

(3) Ensure that each watercraft has on it a spare type III or type V life jacket in good repair;

(4) Ensure that each watercraft has on it a bagged throwable line with a floating line and bag;

(5) Ensure that each watercraft has on it an adequate first-aid kit;

(6) Ensure that each watercraft has a spare propelling device;

(7) Ensure that a repair kit and air pump are accessible to inflatable watercraft; and

(8) Ensure that equipment to prevent and treat hypothermia is accessible to all watercraft on a trip.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. (1) Boat operators and passengers on any trip carrying passengers for hire shall refrain from the use of alcohol during the course of a trip on a whitewater river section in this state.

(2) Any boat carrying passengers for hire on any whitewater river section in this state must be accompanied by at least one other watercraft under the supervision of the same operator or owner.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. Whitewater river sections include but are not limited to:

(1) Green river above Flaming Geyser state park;

(2) Klickitat river above the confluence with Summit creek;

(3) Methow river below the town of Carlton;

NEW SECTION, Sec. 10. (1) When, as a result of an occurrence that involves a watercraft or its equipment, a person dies or disappears from a watercraft, the operator shall notify the nearest sheriff's department, state patrol office, coast guard station, or other law enforcement agency of:

- (a) The date, time, and exact location of the occurrence;
- (b) The name of each person who died or disappeared;
- (c) A description of the watercraft; and
- (d) The names and addresses of the owner and operator.

(2) When the operator of a boat cannot give the notice required by subsection (1) of this section, each person on board the boat shall either give the notice or determine that the notice has been given.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 11. (1) Every peace officer of this state and its political subdivisions has the authority to enforce this chapter. Wildlife agents of the department of game and fisheries patrol officers of the department of fisheries, through their directors, the state patrol, through its chief, county sheriffs, and other local law enforcement bodies, shall assist in the enforcement. In the exercise of this responsibility, all such officers may stop any watercraft and direct it to a suitable pier or anchorage for boarding.

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendment:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. It is the policy of the legislature to encourage competition by reducing the government's role in price setting.
