

FIFTY NINTH LEGISLATURE - REGULAR SESSION

FIRST DAY

House Chamber, Olympia, Monday, January 10, 2005

The House was called to order at 12:00 Noon by Chief Clerk Nafziger.

The flag was escorted to the rostrum by the Joint Service Color Guard. The Chief Clerk led the Chamber in the Pledge of Allegiance. The House observed a moment of silence for the victims of the Southeast Asian tsunami. Prayer was offered by Father Bob Kenney, St. Michael's Parish, Olympia.

"Almighty and eternal God, we ask you to bless the people of the State of Washington with security, prosperity, generosity and peace.

We pray for he members of this legislature, who are entrusted to guard our political welfare. May they be enabled to discharge their duties with honesty and ability. May the light of divine wisdom direct the deliberations of these men and women, and be evident in all of their proceedings.

We pray that these representatives will be blessed with wisdom and strength of purpose in the exercise of their high office. May they provide clear direction and a sound ethical foundation for building a society marked by authentic justice and freedom, with unflinching respect for the dignity and rights of each individual.

We pray for these men and women; may they serve faithfully, and with personal integrity, the people who have chosen them as their representatives. May they remember the words of President Lyndon B. Johnson: "We are one nation and one people. Our fate as a nation and our future as a people rest not upon one citizen, but upon all citizens." We also pray that these representatives may remember the words of President Franklin D. Roosevelt: "Our strength is our unity of purpose."

Almighty and eternal God, bless these representatives with tranquility in the face of storms, encouragement in the face of frustration, and humility in the face of success.

We likewise commend to your unbounded mercy all citizens of the State of Washington. May we be preserved in union and in peace.

We pray to you, who are Lord and God, for ever and ever, Amen."

The Apollo Club Choir of Wenatchee sang "Washington My Home" and "Roll On Columbia".

The Chief Clerk requested that Representatives Kenney and McCune escort Chief Justice Gerry Alexander of the Supreme Court of the State of Washington to the Rostrum.

Definitions

Rule 1. "Absent" means an unexcused failure to attend.

"Term" means the two-year term during which the members as a body may act.

"Session" means a constitutional gathering of the house in accordance with Article 2 § 12 of the state Constitution.

"Committee" means any standing, conference, joint, or select committee as so designated by rule or resolution.

"Bill" means bill, joint memorial, joint resolution, or concurrent resolution unless the context indicates otherwise.

Chief Clerk to Call to Order

Rule 2. It shall be the duty of the chief clerk of the previous term to call the house to order and to conduct the proceedings until a speaker is chosen.

Election of Officers

Rule 3. The house shall elect the following officers at the commencement of each term: Its presiding officer, who shall be styled speaker of the house; a speaker pro tempore, who shall serve in absence or in case of the inability of the speaker; and a chief clerk of the house. Such officers shall hold office during all sessions until the convening of the succeeding term: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That any of these offices may be declared vacant by the vote of a constitutional majority of the house, the members voting viva voce and their votes shall be entered on the journal. If any office is declared vacant, the house shall fill such vacant office as hereinafter provided. In all elections by the house a constitutional majority shall be required, the members shall vote viva voce and their votes shall be entered on the journal. (Art. II § 27)

Powers and Duties of the Speaker

Rule 4. The speaker shall have the following powers and duties:

(A) The speaker shall take the chair and call the house to order precisely at the hour appointed for meeting and if a quorum be present, shall cause the journal of the preceding day to be read and shall proceed with the order of business.

(B) The speaker shall preserve order and decorum, and in case of any disturbance or disorderly conduct within the chamber or legislative area, shall order the sergeant at arms to suppress the same and may order the sergeant at arms to remove any person creating any disturbance within the house chamber or legislative area.

(C) The speaker may speak to points of order in preference to other members, arising from the seat for that purpose, and shall decide all questions of order subject to an appeal to the house by any member, on which appeal no member shall speak more than once without leave of the house.

(D) The speaker shall sign all bills in open session. (Art. II § 32)

(E) The speaker shall sign all writs, warrants, and subpoenas issued by order of the house, all of which shall be attested to by the chief clerk.

(F) The speaker shall have the right to name any member to perform the duties of the chair, but such substitution shall neither extend beyond adjournment nor authorize the representative so substituted to sign any documents requiring the signature of the speaker.

(G) The speaker, in open session, shall appoint committee chairs from the majority party of the house and shall appoint members to committees in the same ratio as the membership of the respective parties of the house, unless otherwise provided by law or house rules.

(H) The speaker shall serve as chair of the rules committee.

(I) The speaker shall have charge of and see that all officers, attaches, and clerks perform their respective duties.

(J) The speaker pro tempore shall exercise the duties, powers, and prerogatives of the speaker in the event of the speaker's death, illness, removal, or inability to act until the speaker's successor shall be elected.

Chief Clerk

Rule 5. The chief clerk shall perform the usual duties pertaining to the office, and shall hold office until a successor has been elected.

The chief clerk shall employ, upon the recommendation of the employment committee and, subject to the approval of the speaker, all other house employees; the hours of duty and assignments of all house employees shall be under the chief clerk's directions and instructions, and they may be dismissed by the chief clerk with the approval of the speaker. The speaker shall sign and the chief clerk shall countersign all payrolls and vouchers for all expenses of the house and appropriately transmit the same. In the event of the chief clerk's death, illness, removal, or inability to act, the speaker may appoint an acting chief clerk who shall exercise the duties and powers of the chief clerk until the chief clerk's successor shall be elected.

Duties of Employees

Rule 6. Employees of the house shall perform such duties as are assigned to them by the chief clerk. Under no circumstances shall the compensation of any employee be increased for past services. No house employee shall seek to influence the passage or rejection of proposed legislation.

Admission to the House

Rule 7. It shall be the general policy of the house to keep the chamber clear as follows:

(A) The sergeant at arms shall admit only the following individuals to the wings and adjacent areas of the house chamber for the period of time beginning one-half hour prior to convening and ending one-half hour following the adjournment of the house's daily session:

The governor or designees, or both;
Members of the senate;
State elected officials;
Officers and authorized employees of the legislature;
Former members of the house who are not advocating any pending or proposed legislation;
Representatives of the press;
Other persons with the consent of the speaker.

(B) Only members, pages, sergeants at arms, and clerks are permitted on the floor while the house is in session.

(C) Lobbying in the house chamber or in any committee room or lounge room is prohibited when the house or committee is in session unless expressly permitted by the house or committee. Anyone violating this rule will forfeit his or her right to be admitted to the house chamber or any of its committee rooms.

Absentees and Courtesy

Rule 8. No member shall be absent from the service of the house without leave from the speaker. When the house is in session, only the speaker shall recognize visitors and former members.

Bills, Memorials and Resolutions - Introductions

Rule 9. Any member desiring to introduce a bill shall file the same with the chief clerk. Bills filed by 10:00 a.m. shall be introduced at the next daily session, in the order filed: PROVIDED, That if such introduction is within the last ten days of a regular session, it cannot be considered without a direct vote of two-thirds (2/3) of all the members elected to each house with such vote recorded and entered upon the journal. (Art. II § 36)

Any member or member-elect may prefile a bill with the chief clerk commencing twenty (20) days before any session. Prefiled bills shall be introduced on the first legislative day.

All bills shall be endorsed with a statement of the title and the name of the member or members introducing the same. The chief clerk shall attach to all bills a substantial cover bearing the title and sponsors and shall number each bill in the order filed. All bills shall be printed unless otherwise ordered by the house.

Any bill introduced at any session during the term shall be eligible for action at all subsequent sessions during the term.

Reading of Bills

Rule 10. Every bill shall be read on three separate days: PROVIDED, That this rule may be temporarily suspended at any time by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of the members present; and that on and after the fifth day prior to the day of adjournment sine die of any session, as determined pursuant to Article II, Section 12 of the state Constitution or concurrent resolution, or on and after the third day prior to the day a bill must be reported from the house as established by concurrent resolution, this rule may be suspended by a majority vote.

(A) FIRST READING. The first reading of a bill shall be by title only, unless a majority of the members present demand a reading in full.

After the first reading the bill shall be referred to an appropriate committee.

Upon being reported out of committee, all bills shall be referred to the rules committee, unless otherwise ordered by the house.

The rules committee may, by majority vote, refer any bill in its possession to a committee for further consideration. Such referral shall be reported to the house and entered in the journal under the fifth order of business.

(B) SECOND READING. Upon second reading, the bill number and short title and the last line of the bill shall be read unless a majority of the members present shall demand its reading in full. The bill shall be subject to amendment section by section. No amendment shall be considered by the house until it has been sent to the chief clerk's desk in writing, distributed to the desk of each member, and read by the clerk. All amendments adopted during second reading shall be securely fastened to the original bill. All amendments rejected by the house shall be passed to the minute clerk, and the journal shall show the disposition of such amendments.

When no further amendments shall be offered, the speaker shall declare the bill has passed its second reading.

(C) SUBSTITUTE BILLS. When a committee reports a substitute for an original bill with the recommendation that the substitute bill do pass, it shall be in order to read the substitute the first time and have the same printed. A motion for the substitution shall not be in order until the second reading of the original bill.

(D) THIRD READING. Only the last line of bills shall be read on third reading unless a majority of the members present demand a reading in full. No amendments to a bill shall be received on third reading but it may be referred or recommitted for the purpose of amendment.

(E) SUSPENSION CALENDAR. Bills may be placed on the second reading suspension calendar by the rules committee if at least two minority party members of the rules committee join in such motion. Bills on the second reading suspension calendar shall not be subject to amendment or substitution except as recommended in the committee report. When a bill is before the house on the suspension calendar, the question shall be to adopt the committee recommendations and advance the bill to third reading. If the question fails to receive a two-thirds vote of the members present, the bill shall be referred to the rules committee for second reading.

(F) HOUSE RESOLUTIONS. House resolutions shall be filed with the chief clerk who shall transmit them to the rules committee. If a rules committee meeting is not scheduled to occur prior to a time necessitated by the purpose of a house resolution, the majority leader and minority leader by agreement may waive transmission to the rules committee to permit consideration of the resolution by the house. The rules committee may adopt house resolutions by a sixty percent majority vote of its entire membership or may, by a majority vote of its members, place them on the motions calendar for consideration by the house.

(G) CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS. Reading of concurrent resolutions may be advanced by majority vote.

Amendments

Rule 11. The right of any member to offer amendments to proposed legislation shall not be limited except as provided in Rule 10(E) and as follows:

(A) AMENDMENTS TO BE OFFERED IN PROPER FORM. The chief clerk shall establish the proper form for amendments and all amendments offered shall bear the name of the member who offers the same, as well as the number and section of the bill to be amended.

(B) COMMITTEE AMENDMENTS. When a bill is before the house on second reading, amendments adopted by committees and recommended to the house shall be acted upon by the house before any amendments that may be offered from the floor.

(C) SENATE AMENDMENTS TO HOUSE BILLS. A house bill, passed by the senate with amendment or amendments which shall change the scope and object of the bill, upon being received in the house, shall be referred to the appropriate committee and shall take the same course as for original bills unless a motion not to concur is adopted prior to the bill being referred to committee.

(D) AMENDMENTS TO BE GERMANE. No motion or proposition on a subject different from that under consideration shall be admitted under color of amendment; and no bill or resolution shall at any time be amended by annexing thereto or incorporating therein any other bill or resolution pending before the house.

(E) SCOPE AND OBJECT NOT TO BE CHANGED. No amendment to any bill shall be allowed which shall change the scope and object of the bill. This objection may be raised at any time an amendment is under consideration. The speaker may allow the person raising the objection and the mover of the amendment to provide brief arguments as to the merits of the objection. (Art. II § 38)

(F) NO AMENDMENT BY REFERENCE. No act shall ever be revised or amended without being set forth at full length. (Art. II § 37)

(G) TITLE AMENDMENTS. The subject matter portion of a bill title shall not be amended in committee or on second reading. Changes to that part of the title after the subject matter statement shall either be presented with the text amendment or be incorporated by the chief clerk in the engrossing process.

Final Passage

Rule 12. Rules relating to bills on final passage are as follows:

(A) RECOMMITMENT BEFORE FINAL PASSAGE. A bill may be recommitted at any time before its final passage.

(B) FINAL PASSAGE. No bill shall become a law unless on its final passage the vote be taken by yeas and nays, the names of the members voting for and against the same be entered on the journal of each house, and a majority of the members elected to each house be recorded thereon as voting in its favor. (Art. II § 22)

(C) BILLS PASSED - CERTIFICATION. When a bill passes, it shall be certified to by the chief clerk, said certification to show the date of its passage together with the vote thereon.

Hour of Meeting, Roll Call and Quorum

Rule 13. (A) HOUR OF MEETING. The speaker shall call the house to order each day of sitting at 10:00 A.M., unless the house shall have adjourned to some other hour.

(B) ROLL CALL AND QUORUM. Before proceeding with business, the roll of the members shall be called and the names of those absent or excused shall be entered on the journal. A majority of all the members elected must be present to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. In the absence of a quorum, seven members with the speaker, or eight members in the speaker's absence, having chosen a speaker pro tempore, shall be authorized to demand a call of the house and may compel the attendance of absent members in the manner provided in Rule 21(B). For the purpose of determining if a quorum be present, the speaker shall count all members present, whether voting or not. (Art. II § 8)

(C) The house shall adjourn not later than 10:00 P.M. of each working day. This rule may be suspended by a majority vote.

Daily Calendar and Order of Business

Rule 14. The rules relating to the daily calendar and order of business are as follows:

(A) DAILY CALENDAR. Business of the house shall be disposed of in the following order:

First: Roll call, presentation of colors, prayer, and approval of the journal of the preceding day.

Second: Introduction of visiting dignitaries.

Third: Messages from the senate, governor, and other state officials.

Fourth: Introduction and first reading of bills, memorials, joint resolutions, and concurrent resolutions.

- Fifth: Committee reports.
- Sixth: Second reading of bills.
- Seventh: Third reading of bills.
- Eighth: Floor resolutions and motions.
- Ninth: Presentation of petitions, memorials, and remonstrances addressed to the Legislature.
- Tenth: Introduction of visitors and other business to be considered.
- Eleventh: Announcements.

(B) UNFINISHED BUSINESS. The unfinished business at which the house was engaged preceding adjournment shall not be taken up until reached in regular order, unless the previous question on such unfinished business has been ordered prior to said adjournment.

(C) EXCEPTIONS. Exceptions to the order of business are as follows:

- (1) The order of business may be changed by a majority vote of those present.
- (2) By motion under the eighth order of business, a bill in the rules committee may be placed on the calendar by the affirmative vote of a majority of all members of the house.
- (3) House resolutions and messages from the senate, governor, or other state officials may be read at any time.

Motions

Rule 15. Rules relating to motions are as follows:

(A) MOTIONS TO BE ENTERTAINED OR DEBATED. No motion shall be entertained or debated until announced by the speaker and every motion shall be deemed to have been seconded. A motion shall be reduced to writing and read by the clerk, if desired by the speaker or any member, before it shall be debated and by the consent of the house may be withdrawn before amendment or action.

(B) MOTIONS IN ORDER DURING DEBATE. When a motion has been made and seconded and stated by the chair, the following motions are in order, in the rank named:

(1) Privileged motions:

- Adjourn
- Adjourn to a time certain
- Recess to a time certain
- Reconsider
- Demand for division
- Question of privilege
- Orders of the day

(2) Subsidiary motions:

- First rank: Question of consideration
- Second rank: To lay on the table
- Third rank: For the previous question
- Fourth rank: To postpone to a day certain
 - To commit or recommit
 - To postpone indefinitely
- Fifth rank: To amend

(3) Incidental motions:

Points of order and appeal

Method of consideration

Suspension of the rules

Reading papers

Withdraw a motion

Division of a question

(C) THE EFFECT OF POSTPONEMENT - MOTIONS TO POSTPONE OR COMMIT. Once decided, no motion to postpone to a day certain, to commit, or to postpone indefinitely shall again be allowed on the same day and at the same stage of the proceedings. When a question has been postponed indefinitely, it shall not again be introduced during the session. The motion to postpone indefinitely may be made at any stage of the bill except when on first reading.

(D) MOTIONS DECIDED WITHOUT DEBATE. A motion to adjourn, to recess, to lay on the table and to call for the previous question shall be decided without debate.

All incidental motions shall be decided without debate, except that members may speak to points of order and appeal as provided in Rule 22.

A motion for suspension of the rules shall not be debatable except that the mover of the motion may briefly explain the purpose of the motion and one member may briefly state the opposition to the motion.

(E) MOTION TO ADJOURN. A motion to adjourn shall always be in order, except when the house is voting or is working under the call of the house; but this rule shall not authorize any member to move for adjournment when another member has the floor.

Rule 16. The methods by which a member may exercise his or her right to debate are as follows:

(A) RECOGNITION OF MEMBER. When any member desires to speak in debate or deliver any matter to the house, the member shall rise and respectfully address the speaker and pause until recognized.

(B) ORDER OF SPEAKING. When two or more members arise at once, the speaker shall name the one who is to speak.

(C) LIMITATION OF DEBATE. No member shall speak longer than ten (10) minutes without consent of the house: PROVIDED, That on and after the fifth day prior to the day of adjournment sine die of any session, as determined pursuant to Article II, Section 12 of the state Constitution or concurrent resolution, or on and after the third day prior to the day a bill must be reported from the house as established by concurrent resolution, no member shall speak more than three (3) minutes without the consent of the house. No member shall speak more than twice on the same question without leave of the house: PROVIDED, That the chair of the committee or the mover of the question may close debate if it is consistent with Rule 18 (Previous Question).

Rules of Debate

Rule 17. The rules for debate in the house are as follows:

(A) QUESTION OF PRIVILEGE. Any member may rise to a question of privilege and explain a personal matter, by leave of the speaker, but the member shall not discuss any pending question in such explanations.

(B) WITHDRAWAL OF MOTION, BILL, ETC. After a motion is stated by the speaker or a bill, memorial, resolution, petition, or remonstrance is read by the clerk, it shall be deemed to be in possession of the house, but may be withdrawn by consent of the house at any time before decision or amendment.

(C) READING OF A PAPER. When the reading of any paper is called for and is objected to by any member, it shall be determined by a vote of the house.

(D) DISTRIBUTION OF MATERIALS. Any materials of any nature distributed to the members' desks on the floor shall be subject to approval by the speaker and shall bear the name of at least one member granting permission for the distribution. This shall not apply to materials normally distributed by the chief clerk.

(E) ORDER OF QUESTIONS. All questions, whether in committee or in the house, shall be propounded in the order in which they are named except that in filling blanks, the largest sum and the longest time shall be put first.

(F) DIVISION OF POINTS OF DEBATE. Any member may call for a division of a question which shall be divided if it embraces subjects so distinct that one being taken away a substantive proposition shall remain for the decision of the house; but a motion to strike out and to insert shall not be divided. The rejection of a motion to strike out and to insert one proposition shall not prevent a motion to strike out and to insert a different proposition.

(G) DECORUM OF MEMBERS. While the speaker is putting the question, no member shall walk across or out of the house; nor when a member is speaking shall any member entertain private discourse or pass between the speaking member and the rostrum.

(H) REMARKS CONFINED. A member shall confine all remarks to the question under debate and avoid personalities. No member shall impugn the motive of any member's vote or argument.

(I) EXCEPTION TO WORDS SPOKEN IN DEBATE. If any member be called to order for words spoken in debate, the person calling the member to order shall repeat the words excepted to and they shall be taken down in writing at the clerk's table. No member shall be held in answer or be subject to the censure of the house for words spoken in debate if any other member has spoken before exception to them shall have been taken.

(J) TRANSGRESSION OF RULES - APPEAL. If any member, in speaking or otherwise, transgresses the rules of the house the speaker shall, or any member may, call the member to order, in which case the member so called to order shall immediately sit down unless permitted to explain; and the house shall, if appealed to, decide the case without debate; if there be no appeal, the decision of the chair shall prevail.

If the decision be in favor of the member called to order, the member shall be at liberty to proceed; if otherwise, and the case shall require it, the member shall be liable to the censure of the house.

Ending of Debate - Previous Question

Rule 18. The previous question may be ordered by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of the members present on all recognized motions or amendments which are debatable.

The previous question is not debatable and cannot be amended.

The previous question shall be put in this form: "Representative _____ demands the previous question. As many as are in favor of ordering the previous question will say 'Aye'; as many as are opposed will say 'No'."

The results of the motion are as follows: If determined in the negative, the consideration goes on as if the motion had never been made; if decided in the affirmative it shall have the effect of cutting off all debate and bringing the house to a direct vote upon the motion or amendment on which it has been ordered: PROVIDED HOWEVER, That when a bill is on final passage or when the motion to postpone indefinitely is pending, one of the sponsors of the bill or the chair of the committee may have the privilege of closing debate after the previous question has been ordered.

If an adjournment is had after the previous question is ordered, the motion or proposition on which the previous question was ordered shall be put to the house immediately following the approval of the journal on the next working day, thus making the main question privileged over all other business, whether new or unfinished.

Voting

Rule 19. (A) PUTTING OF QUESTION. The speaker shall put the question in the following form: "The question before the house is (state the question). As many as are in favor say 'Aye'; and after the affirmative vote is expressed, "as many as are opposed say 'No'."

(B) ALL MEMBERS TO VOTE. Every member who was in the house when the question was put shall vote unless, for special reasons, excused by the house.

All motions to excuse a member shall be made before the house divides or before the call for yeas and nays is commenced; and any member requesting to be excused from voting may make a brief and verbal statement of the reasons for making such request, and the question shall then be taken without further debate.

Upon a division and count of the house on the question, only members at their desks within the bar of the house shall be counted.

(C) CHANGE OF VOTE. When the electric roll call machine is used, no member shall be allowed to vote or change a vote after the speaker has locked the roll call machine. When an oral roll call is taken, no member shall be allowed to vote or change a vote after the result has been announced.

(D) PRIVATE INTEREST. No member shall vote on any question which affects that member privately and particularly. A member who has a private interest in any bill or measure proposed or pending before the legislature shall disclose the fact to the house of which he is a member, and shall not vote thereon. (Art. II § 30)

(E) INTERRUPTION OF ROLL CALL. Once begun, the roll call may not be interrupted. No member or other person shall visit or remain at the clerk's desk while the yeas and nays are being called.

(F) YEAS AND NAYS - RECORDED VOTES. Upon the final passage of any bill, the vote shall be taken by yeas and nays and shall be recorded by the electric voting system: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That an oral roll call shall be ordered when demanded by one-sixth (1/6) of the members present. (Art. II § 21)

The speaker may vote last when the yeas and nays are called.

When the vote is by electric voting machine or by oral roll call on any question, it shall be entered upon the journal of the house. A recorded vote may be compelled by one-sixth (1/6) of the members present. A request for a recorded vote must be made before the vote is commenced.

(G) TIE VOTE, QUESTION LOSES. In case of an equal division, the question shall be lost.

(H) DIVISION. If the speaker is in doubt, or if division is called for by any member, the house shall divide.

Reconsideration

Rule 20. Notice of a motion for reconsideration on the final passage of bills shall be made on the day the vote to be reconsidered was taken and before the house has voted to transmit the bill to the senate.

Reconsideration of the votes on the final passage of bills must be taken on the next working day after such vote was taken: PROVIDED, That on and after the fifth day prior to the day of adjournment sine die of any session, as determined pursuant to Article II, Section 12 of the state Constitution, or concurrent resolution, or on and after the third day prior to the day a bill must be reported from the house as established by concurrent resolution, then reconsideration of votes on the final passage of bills must be taken on the same day as the original vote was taken.

A motion to reconsider an amendment may be made at any time the bill remains on second reading.

Any member who voted on the prevailing side may move for reconsideration or give notice thereof.

A motion to reconsider can be decided only once when decided in the negative.

When a motion to reconsider has been carried, its effect shall be to place the original question before the house in the exact position it occupied before it was voted upon.

Call of the House

Rule 21. One-sixth (1/6) of the members present may demand a call of the house at any time before the house has divided or the voting has commenced by yeas and nays.

(A) DOORS TO BE CLOSED. When call of the house has been ordered, the sergeant at arms shall close and lock the doors, and no member shall be allowed to leave the chamber: PROVIDED, That the rules committee shall be allowed to meet, upon request of the speaker, while the house stands at ease: AND PROVIDED FURTHER, That the speaker may permit members to use such portions of the fourth floor as may be properly secured.

(B) SERGEANT AT ARMS TO BRING IN THE ABSENTEES. The clerk shall immediately call a roll of the members and note the absentees, whose names shall be read and entered upon the journal in such manner as to show who are excused and who are absent without leave.

The clerk shall furnish the sergeant at arms with a list of those who are absent without leave, and the sergeant at arms shall proceed to bring in such absentees; but arrests of members for absence shall not be made unless ordered by a majority of the members present.

(C) HOUSE UNDER CALL. While the house is under a call, no business shall be transacted except to receive and act on the report of the sergeant at arms; and no other motion shall be in order except a motion to proceed with business under the call of the house, a motion to excuse absentees, or a motion to dispense with the call of the house. The motion to proceed with business under the call of the house and the motion to excuse absent members shall not be adopted unless a majority of the members elected vote in favor thereof. The motion to dispense with the call of the house may be adopted by a majority of the members present.

Appeal from Decision of Chair

Rule 22. The decision of the chair may be appealed from by any member, on which appeal no member shall speak more than once unless by leave of the house. In all cases of appeal, the question shall be: "Shall the decision of the chair stand as the judgment of the house?"

Standing Committees

Rule 23. The standing committees of the house and the number of members that shall serve on each committee shall be as follows:

(1. Agriculture & Natural Resources	13
2. Appropriations	27
3. Capital Budget	25
4. Children & Family Services	9
5. Commerce & Labor	9
6. Criminal Justice & Corrections	7

20. Transportation	27

Duties of Committees

Rule 24. House committees shall operate as follows:

(A) NOTICE OF COMMITTEE MEETING. The chief clerk shall make public the time, place and subjects to be discussed at committee meetings. All public hearings held by committees shall be scheduled at least five (5) days in advance and shall be given adequate publicity: PROVIDED, That when less than eight (8) days remain for action on a bill, the Speaker may authorize a reduction of the five-day notice period when required by the circumstances, including but not limited to the time remaining for action on the bill, the nature of the subject, and the number of prior hearings on the subject.

(B) COMMITTEE QUORUM. A majority of any committee shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business.

(C) SESSION MEETINGS. No committee shall sit while the house is in session without special leave of the speaker.

(D) DUTIES OF STANDING COMMITTEES.

(1) Only such bills as are included on the written notice of a committee meeting may be considered at that meeting except upon the vote of a majority of the entire membership of the committee to consider another bill.

(2) A majority recommendation of a committee must be signed by a majority of the entire membership of the committee in a regularly called meeting before a bill, memorial, or resolution may be reported out: PROVIDED, That by motion under the eighth order of business, a majority of the members elected to the house may relieve a committee of a bill and place it on the second reading calendar.

Majority recommendations of a committee can only be "do pass," "do pass as amended," or that "the substitute bill be substituted therefor and that the substitute bill do pass."

(3) Members of the committee not concurring in the majority report may prepare a written minority report containing a recommendation of "do not pass" or "without recommendation," which shall be signed by those members of the committee subscribing thereto, and submitted with the majority report.

(4) All committee reports shall be spread upon the journal. The journal of the house shall contain an exact copy of all committee reports, together with the names of the members signing such reports.

(5) Every vote to report a bill out of committee shall be taken by the yeas and nays, and the names of the members voting for and against, as well as the names of members absent, shall be recorded on the committee report. Any member may call for a recorded vote, which shall include the names of absent members, on any substantive question before the committee. A copy of all recorded committee votes shall be kept by the chief clerk and shall be available for public inspection.

(6) All bills having a direct appropriation shall be referred to the appropriate fiscal committee before their final passage. For purposes of this subsection, fiscal committee means the appropriations, capital budget, finance, and transportation committees.

(7) No standing committee shall vote by secret written ballot on any issue.

(8) During its consideration of or vote on any bill, resolution, or memorial, the deliberations of any standing committee of the house of representatives shall be open to the public.

(9) A standing committee to which a bill was originally referred shall, prior to voting the bill out of committee, consider whether the bill authorizes rule-making powers or requires the exercise of rule-making powers and, if so, consider:

(a) The nature of the new rule-making powers; and

(b) To which agencies the new rule-making powers would be delegated and which agencies, if any, may have related rule-making powers.

Standing Committees - Expenses - Subpoena Power

Rule 25. Regardless of whether the legislature is in session, members of the house may receive from moneys appropriated for the legislature, reimbursement for necessary travel expenses, and payments in lieu of subsistence and lodging for conducting official business of the house.

The standing committees of the house may have the powers of subpoena, the power to administer oaths, and the power to issue commissions for the examination of witnesses in accordance with the provisions of chapter 44.16 RCW. Before a standing committee of the house may issue any process, the committee chairperson shall submit for approval of the executive rules committee a statement of purpose setting forth the name or names of those subject to process. The process shall not be issued prior to approval by the executive rules committee. The process shall be limited to the named individuals.

Vetoed Bills

Rule 26. Veto messages of the governor shall be read in the house and entered upon the journal. It shall then be in order to proceed to reconsider the bill, refer it, lay it on the table, or postpone its consideration to a day certain.

The merits of the bill may be debated before the vote is taken, but the vote on a vetoed bill cannot be reconsidered.

In case of a bill containing several sections or items, one or more of which has been objected to by the governor, each section or item so objected to shall be voted upon separately by the house. Action by the house upon all vetoed bills shall be endorsed upon the bill and certified by the speaker.

Vetoed bills originating in the house, which have not been passed notwithstanding the veto of the governor, shall remain in the custody of the officers of the house until the close of the term, after which they shall be filed with the secretary of state.

Suspension of Compensation

Rule 27. (1) Any member of the house of representatives convicted and sentenced for any felony punishable by death or by imprisonment in a Washington state penal institution shall, as of the time of sentencing, be denied the legislative salary for future service and be denied per diem, compensation for expenses, office space facilities, and assistance. Any member convicted of a felony and sentenced therefor under any federal law or the law of any other state shall, as of the time of sentencing, be similarly denied such salary, per diem, expenses, facilities, and assistance if either (a) such crime would also constitute a crime punishable under the laws of Washington by death or by imprisonment in a state penal institution, or (b) the conduct resulting in the conviction and sentencing would also constitute a crime punishable under the laws of Washington by death or by imprisonment in a state penal institution.

(2) At any time, the house may vote by a constitutional majority to restore the salary, per diem, expenses, facilities, and assistance denied a member under subsection (1). If the conviction of a member is reversed, then the salary, per diem, and expense amounts denied the member since sentencing shall be forthwith paid, and the member shall thereafter have the rights and privileges of other members.

Smoking

Rule 28. Smoking of cigarettes, pipes, or cigars shall not be permitted at any public meeting of any committee of the house of representatives or within House facilities.

"No smoking" signs shall be posted so as to give notice of this rule.

Parliamentary Rules

Rule 29. The rules of parliamentary practice comprised in Reed's Parliamentary Rules shall govern all cases in which they are not inconsistent with the standing rules and orders of the house.

Standing Rules Amendment

Rule 30. Any standing rule may be rescinded or changed by a majority vote of the members elected: PROVIDED, That the proposed change or changes be submitted at least one day in advance in writing to the members together with notice of the consideration thereof. Any standing rule may be suspended temporarily by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of the members present except as provided in Rule 10.

Rules to Apply for Assembly

Rule 31. The permanent house rules adopted at the beginning of the term are to govern all acts of the house during the course of the term unless amended or repealed.

Legislative Mailings

Rule 32. The House of Representatives directs the house executive rules committee to adopt procedures and guidelines to ensure that all legislative mailings at public expense are for legitimate legislative purposes.

Liquor

Rule 33. The House of Representatives shall strictly adhere to the liquor laws of the state of Washington, including provisions relating to banquet and special occasion permits. The proper permits must always be obtained before consumption of liquor in any house facility.

Representative Kessler moved the adoption of the resolution.

Representatives Kessler and Armstrong spoke in favor of the adoption of the resolution.

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 4600 was adopted.

ELECTION OF THE SPEAKER

MOTIONS

Representative Morrell: "Thank you, Mr. Chief Clerk. Members of the House, honored guests, I am privileged to stand before you today to place the name of Representative Frank Chopp in nomination for Speaker of the Washington State House of Representatives.

In the six years since he was first nominated – and elected – as Speaker, Representative Chopp has exercised leadership by challenging us, both sides of the aisle, all the members of the House of Representatives to strive not only for common ground but for higher ground. Higher ground does not come easily and happens only when all voices and ideas are heard.

I spend time observing people. What are their values? Do their values match their actions? What is it in a person that drives their passion? I watch what happens when the going gets tough, people are angry at you, what do you do? Do you really listen to opposing views and try to come to an understanding of those views and how do you make your final decisions. After working with and watching Representative Chopp as a leader for the past several years I have concluded that his passion comes from his love of this State and its people. He listens to all sides trying to find the common ground to build upon and make final decisions. It is messy, not always perfect and sometimes it takes a lot more time than we may like but this exchange of ideas is what democracy is all about.

Whether in the minority, in the tie, or in the majority, he has always believed that the best way to make public policy is not by pitting one group of Washington citizens against another, but by building on the values and ideals that we all share and Representative Chopp holds dearly—health, prosperity, hope, security, strong families and communities, freedom, faith, knowledge, a bright future for our children, resourcefulness, dignity, respecting diversity, integrity, opportunity for all.

While recognizing that the differences we have are often very real and often very deep, Representative Chopp believes that we share more than we don't; that we have more in common than we don't; that whether we are from urban areas, suburban areas, rural areas, whether we're from Aberdeen or from Zillah, the best public policy we make is when we work together for a strong, unified Washington.

So it is with great pride and respect in this great House that I nominate Representative Frank Chopp to be Speaker of the House of Representatives.

Thank you Mr. Chief Clerk."

Representative Armstrong: "Thank you, Mr. Chief Clerk. I would like to nominate my good friend, the gentleman from the 15th Legislative District, Representative Bruce Chandler for the position of Speaker of the House of Representatives.

It is always good to return home, isn't it? This is a great place to be and I think that we have important work to do while in this great building. The reason I nominate or ask for your support for Representative Chandler is because we have a big job ahead of us and it takes a big, big person to fill the shoes of Speaker in the House of Representatives.

Representative Chandler and I first met four years ago when I first came to the Legislature. It was then that I learned that he had lived and worked in my district up at 25 Mile Creek; he worked as an orchard worker in an orchard up there. That is on Lake Chelan if any of you are familiar with Lake Chelan. From those humble roots, Representative Chandler moved to Granger and evidently married his wife Julie and bought a farm of his own and has farmed and worked hard ever since.

Representative Chandler knows what it is like to pay taxes and knows what it is like to sign the front of a check and knows what it is like to have people depending on you to fulfill their obligations and to make a living with your assistance.

Representative Chandler was born in Everett and lived in Snohomish County until he was 10 years old. His family moved to Louisiana. When you talked to Representative Chandler you will notice there is a little southern twinge in his voice. That Southern gentleman, I think comes through many times as you visit with him. He is truly a Southern gentleman and if you have ever heard the expression 'still waters run deep', that holds true from Representative Chandler.

He has the foresight to see that we as a State need to work together and great things can be accomplished when both sides of the aisle meet in the middle and do the work of the State.

After he attended school in Louisiana, he moved back to Washington State where he married his wife Julie. They bought a farm in Granger. Not many people know where Granger is, I'm not sure Representative Chandler knows.

A couple of things I like about him – I have already mentioned his Southern twinge. I also like his dry sense of humor. For the new people in this Chamber right now, if you do not have a sense of humor, it's been great knowing you.

I think we need a man with some business experience, with common sense and leadership abilities and the background to move our State ahead. Representative Chandler fits that bill. We need a man who is respected, who has integrity and who can bring us all together. I think Representative Chandler fits that bill.

Please join me in supporting Bruce Chandler as our next Speaker of the Washington State House of Representatives."

POINT OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Representative Chandler: "It is a great honor to be considered for one of the highest positions in the House of Representatives – Speaker. I truly appreciate the remarks of my good friend from the 12th District. In the interest of moving on to the urgent and important business of this Session, I would respectfully withdraw from the nomination. Thank you."

MOTIONS

Representative Kessler moved the nominations for the Office of Speaker of the House of Representatives be closed. The motion was carried.

Representative Kessler moved that Representative Frank Chopp be elected Speaker of the House of Representatives. The motion was carried.

Representative Morrell escorted Speaker-elect Frank Chopp to the Rostrum. Chief Justice Alexander administered the Oath of Office to Speaker Chopp.

SPEAKER'S COMMENTS

Speaker Chopp: "Thank you. Thank you for your kind words, and for your support. I'm proud to be the Speaker of a House of Representatives that includes many leaders. Let's recognize one of those leaders -- Representative Chandler. Congratulations on your election as the Republican leader. I look forward to working with you.

I also would like to recognize the Majority Leader, Lynn Kessler, who is not only a great partner with me, but who brings elegance and excellence to her position.

Ladies and gentlemen, members of the House. For years, House Democrats have pledged to be a constructive majority, building solutions to challenges that people in our state face every day. We've pledged to work constructively with leaders from both parties and from all parts of Washington. Look up at the roster of the 39 counties that surround our ceiling. That ring of counties was meant as a permanent reminder that each of us has been sent here by the people of this state to work together for the common good of all.

We have all come through a difficult election season. But people expect us to be partners, not partisans! They want us to focus on their problems and not on narrow politics.

Today, in this renewed House Chamber, a symbol of unity, House Democrats renew our pledge and we ask our colleagues to join us in working together for One Washington. Amid the flurry of ideas, differences of opinions, and crush of details, we must do our best to stay focused on what matters most to the people we serve. And they want us to see the challenges from their point of view.

We will focus on improving our schools so the potential of every child is recognized. It is not fair to ask students to reach high standards if we have not built the ladder for their success. We must help them succeed!

We will focus on revving up the state's economic engine so Washington's workers have good jobs with good benefits.

We will focus on extending the reach of health care so every child, worker and senior can get the health care they need.

And we must set the example for a more efficient and accountable government.

That is why we will do what the people have asked us to do for a long time: independent, performance audits for state government.

Each time I have come before you to open the Legislative Session I have spoken about three issues: education, jobs and health care. These issues remain the foundation of our agenda for the 59th Legislative Session.

EDUCATION

We need to invest in our public schools like our future depended on it ... because it does. Recent national studies have put us at 42nd out of 50 states in per-student spending. Our high school drop-out rate is close to 25%. And when students must meet the new standards to graduate, that rate could soar. Clearly, we need to do better than this if our children are to receive the education they need to get the jobs they want.

To help meet this challenge, I ask each of you to join together to move our school system forward, and to take this issue out of the partisan arena. Why is that? Well, it doesn't matter if a student is a Democrat or a Republican when it comes to passing tests at school. In a few years, for the first time in state history, students will be required to pass the WASL tests in order to graduate from high school.

In order to truly appreciate what this means, I have asked that a sample WASL test be distributed to your offices later this week. Take some time, take a look at it, and maybe even take the test. I'm not going to grade your answers, but I do want you to see this state requirement from the eyes of students, and their parents.

Now, this is probably the best time to introduce my daughter, Ellie, a sophomore in a public high school, who is taking the WASL tests later this year. And my wife, Nancy Long, who is such a great parental unit and wife. I hope that Nancy and I have done as good a job as my parents did when I was growing up.

My mom and dad raised 4 children in Washington State. Three of them chose a reputable profession and became teachers. My father left school to work in the coal mines in Roslyn after the 6th grade. My mother, Anne Brozovich Chopp, went back to get her high school diploma at Green River Community College when she was 65! And I'm proud to say she's here today.

My parents knew that education determines our future. This is why we must commit ourselves to making education our primary focus in 2005.

JOBS

We will continue our work to promote jobs throughout the state. We can continue to build regional strategies that will energize local economies. We can expand worker training so that the workforce is better aligned with the available jobs. We can help revitalize agriculture by building on our "Heart of Washington" and "Made in Washington" initiatives. We can help workers and products move faster and safer by improving transportation. We can help small businesses by streamlining rules and cutting red tape. Let's make Washington a job-resource state. Not a job out-sourcing state.

HEALTH CARE

Few issues we grapple with are as complex as health care. State government's role in health care is primarily as a purchaser. We can use our economic power to expand access to health insurance by allowing small businesses to join our purchasing pool. And we can correct a tremendous disservice to the future of our state --- represented by the 140,000 young people without health insurance. Who of us here would deny any child the health care they need and deserve? None of us would. So all of us should unite to make health care for every child in Washington a reality. Now is the time to start.

Another health care issue we will address in this session is mental health parity. If you or a family member has bipolar disease or other mental illness, your insurance plan covers fewer hospital days, limits your provider visits, imposes higher co-pays and deductibles, and lower annual and lifetime limits than the company would if you had diabetes or heart disease. Ending this discrimination is the fair thing to do, it is the right thing to do. Let's make parity the law!

Clearly, we have a long session ahead of us, and much work to do. I'm glad we get to do it here, in the true home of the people's House and not in a trailer in the parking lot where we have been for the past two years. Many of the best leaders Washington ever had did their work right here, in this room. The very desks where you sit were the desks of representatives who became great Washington leaders.

Warren Magnuson
Julia Butler Hansen
Joel Pritchard
Cal Anderson
George Fleming

And many others. The Washington we know today is the Washington their choices helped to make. We remember those great leaders with gratitude and pride.

I will close by asking: how do you want to be remembered as leaders -- know that if we do our best to work together, make government better, and focus on what matters most, we'll be remembered as adding to the honor of this great House.

Let's get to work."

POINT OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Representative Chandler: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. We would agree, Mr. Speaker, that this is a watershed moment in the life of Washington State. The decisions made over the next few weeks and months in this Chamber, and in the Chamber across the building, are going to be choices that we all will live with for a long, long time. In the interest of working toward the best future for all the people of Washington, we look forward to working with you, Mr. Speaker and with the other side of the aisle. Let me be the first to congratulate you on your election."

ELECTION OF SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE

Representative Dunshee: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I place in nomination the name of Representative John Lovick.

John Lovick started his life in a house with a dirt floor in Louisiana fifty years ago. Think about what Louisiana looked like fifty years ago. He rose serving in the Coast Guard, thirty years as a State Trooper and the Mill Creek City Council. That is an epic journey to get here. Through that journey he has learned grace, hard work and many other values which he brings to us -- class, civility, in the 44th a much better dresser than his seat mate, optimism, and an even hand.

We should be honored to have him – he is a symbol of what is good in America. And what is good in the State of Washington. He is a symbol we should be honored to serve with.

And so as we work on the issues of jobs, on health care and on strengthening our education system, he will guide us with an even hand. I am honored to place in nomination my friend, a good man, John Lovick."

MOTIONS

Representative Kessler moved that the nominations for the Office of Speaker Pro Tempore of the House of Representatives be closed. The motion was carried.

Representative Kessler moved that Representative John Lovick be elected to the position of Speaker Pro Tempore of the House of Representatives. The motion was carried.

Representative Dunshee escorted Speaker Pro Tempore-elect Lovick to the Rostrum. Chief Justice Alexander administered the Oath of Office to Speaker Pro Tempore Lovick.

SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE COMMENTS

Speaker Pro Tempore Lovick: "Thank you to the good representative for those kind words.

I'm honored by your confidence in me – and energized by the opportunity to serve. It's an honor because I stand on the shoulders of my mother and grandmother, who worked hard to give me a chance in life but never expected me to become elected to the House of Representatives or serve as Speaker Pro Tem.

My mother and grandmother taught me lessons more valuable than anything I learned in a classroom. They taught me to work hard and be held to the highest standards.

Each of you should expect no less of me today. And we should expect no less of each other. For new members – and for returning members who've been in the temporary House for two years – I want to welcome you back home to the real chamber of the peoples' House.

After a tough election season, it's time to get down to the peoples' work. Citizens hope we work together to solve their common problems. They want better schools, better jobs and better health care. The political rhetoric on this floor can get hot enough to melt steel. But I believe that comes from passion.

We're here because we want the same things – it's only HOW we get there that causes fights. No party or person has a monopoly on good ideas. Whenever I talk to another lawmaker, I learn something. So I believe we do our best work for the people when we work together – not as Democrats and Republicans, not as West Siders and East Siders, but as citizen-lawmakers who ran for office to make this a better place to live, work and raise a family.

The honorable gentleman from the Ninth District worked with the good chairwoman from the 46th District to pass Promise Scholarships into law.

The good representative from the Second District joined with the honorable chairwoman from the 34th District to pass our landmark Patients' Bill of Rights.

And the honorable representative from the 8th District was instrumental in helping the good chairman from the 43rd District break through 13 years of political gridlock to pass a transportation package.

We have paved the way in the past. With new leadership in the Senate and Governor's Office, the House is in the best position to take Washington state forward. We can shape the agenda for the next two years. I believe we should seize that opportunity. Let's show the Senate and Governor's Office how a team gets things done."

ELECTION OF THE CHIEF CLERK

Representative Sommers: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise to place the name of Rich Nafziger for Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives.

Rich has been with us as Chief Clerk for over a year now. I think that all of us have had a chance to get to know him. He has a wonderful background that he brings to this position. He has a background in a number of agencies of State government, he has a background in education, he has a background in private enterprise. So he understands the many circles and spheres which we also represent.

The job of Chief Clerk is a complex one. In fact, I have occasionally reflected about how inadequate the title of Chief Clerk is for this position. It is much more like CEO and sometimes I think a bit of magician – political magician. These talents, these abilities are what are needed to make this place run. I think Rich knows very well what it takes to make this place run well. It is understanding the institution, understanding the people, understanding the traditions, and also the changes that take place such as technological changes. I believe Rich will be a fine administrator. He has been fair and balanced. And I would hope that you would join me in supporting him for the position of Chief Clerk."

Representative Clements: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'd like to second that nomination. Members of the House, Rich has been a personal friend who goes back to about the time I didn't need hearing aids or glasses for this body. He has worked for different executives, especially governors, and has done a magnanimous job in a personal sense working with me on farm worker housing issues, as well as others. He has always been balanced and fair. But there is something more important that I've seen – this will be his second term as Chief Clerk. You see I'm the kind, compassionate conservative Whip on this side of the aisle and we have to contend with the egos and those things that relate to parking places, office space, the square inches and all of those things that I find not so important. But Mr. Nafziger and I found out that there are members in this body that have a different view.

So with that, and his ability to work around just creature comforts and the organization of this House as we come into this Session, in this beautiful facility that has been renovated, it gives me no greater pleasure than to nominate Rich Nafziger to help us in our duties as we go forth. Thank you."

MOTIONS

Representative Kessler moved that the nominations for the Office of Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives be closed. The motion was carried.

Representative Kessler moved that Richard Nafziger be elected to the position of Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives. The motion was carried.

Representative Dunshee escorted Chief Clerk-elect Nafziger to the Rostrum. Chief Justice Alexander administered the Oath of Office to Chief Clerk Nafziger.

CHIEF CLERK'S COMMENTS

Chief Clerk Nafziger: "Thank you Justice Alexander. Representatives Sommers and Clements, I appreciate very much your nominating comments. You are very kind.

I am truly honored to be here. And I am pleased that my family is here, too. I'd like to thank my wife Kristin Swenddal, and my daughters, Tess and Mia and my Mother-in-Law Dianne Swenddal for coming today, and for their steadfast support.

I also want to thank both the staff and the members of this great House for their hard work, and for sharing the special experience of making Washington history. In particular, I would like to recognize Deputy Chief Clerk Bill Wegeleben and Director of Facilities Sharon Hayward whose dedication enables our institution to function so smoothly.

Thank you very much for entrusting me with the administration of this institution, and for your devotion to the practice of democracy."

The Speaker thanked Chief Justice Alexander for administering the oaths of office and requested Representatives Kenney and McCune escort Chief Justice Alexander from the Chamber.

MESSAGES FROM THE SENATE

January 10, 2005

Mr. Speaker:

The Senate has adopted:

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 4400,

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 4401,

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 4402,

and the same is herewith transmitted.

SIGNED BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker signed:

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 4400,

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 4401,

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 4402,

The Senate appeared at the Chamber doors and requested admission. The Sergeant at Arms of the House and the Sergeant at Arms of the Senate escorted President of the Senate Brad Owen to the Rostrum. The Senators were invited to sit within the Chamber.

JOINT SESSION

The Speaker called the Joint Session to order. The Clerk called the roll of House members. The Clerk called the roll of Senate members. A quorum of the Legislature was present.

Mr. Speaker: "The first purpose of this joint session is to comply with the constitutional requirement of canvassing the vote for and against referenda and initiatives and for the constitutional elective officers."

MESSAGES FROM THE SECRETARY OF STATE

Mr. Speaker:

I, Sam Reed, Secretary of State of the State of Washington, do hereby certify that according to the provisions of RCW 29A.60.260, I have canvassed the returns of the 2,883,499 votes cast by the 3,514,078 registered voters of the state for and against the initiatives and referendum which were submitted to vote of the people at the state general election held on the 2nd day of November, 2004, as received from the County Auditors.

Initiative Measure No. 872

"Initiative Measure No. 872 concerns elections for partisan offices. This measure would allow voters to select among all candidates in a primary. Ballots would indicate candidates' party preference. The two candidates receiving most votes advance to the general election, regardless of party."

Yes	1,632,225

Initiative Measure No. 884

"Initiative Measure No. 884 concerns dedicating funds designated for educational purposes. This measure would create an education trust fund for smaller classes, extended learning programs, certain salary increases, preschool access, and expanded college enrollments and scholarships, funded by increasing retail sales tax by 1%."

Yes 1,102,996

Initiative Measure No. 892

"Initiative Measure No. 892 concerns authorizing additional "electronic scratch ticket machines" to reduce property taxes. This measure would authorize licensed non-tribal gambling establishments to operate the same type and number of machines as tribal governments, with a portion of tax revenue generated used to reduce state property taxes."

Yes 1,069,414

Referendum Measure No. 55

"The legislature passed Engrossed Second Substitute House Bill 2295 (E2SHB 2295) concerning charter public schools. This bill would authorize charter public schools and would set conditions on operations. Charter schools would be operated by qualified nonprofit corporations, under contracts with local education boards, and allocated certain public funds."

Yes 1,122,964

Initiative Measure No. 297

"Initiative Measure No. 297 concerns "mixed" radioactive and nonradioactive hazardous waste. This measure would add new provisions concerning "mixed" radioactive and nonradioactive hazardous waste, requiring cleanup of contamination before additional waste is added, prioritizing cleanup, providing for public participation and enforcement through citizen lawsuits."

Yes 1,812,581
No 810,795

I further certify that, according to the provisions of RCW 43.07.030, I have canvassed the returns of the votes cast at the state general election held on the 2nd day of November, 2004, for all federal, statewide, legislative and joint judicial offices, and that the votes cast for candidates for these offices are as follows:

SAM REED
Secretary of State

Mr. Speaker:

I, Sam Reed, pursuant to RCW 29A.64.061, do hereby file this amended abstract of the results for the Office of Governor at the November 2, 2004 general election. This amended abstract of votes is the result of a requested statewide hand recount of ballots cast for that office. Attached is a summary of the results as certified and transmitted by the county canvassing boards for the thirty-nine counties of the State of Washington pursuant to RCW 29A.64.061 and RCW 29A.64.070.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have set my hand and affixed the seal of the State of Washington this 30th day of December, 2004.

SAM REED

SPEAKER'S REMARKS

Speaker Chopp: "For the members information we'll spend approximately an hour on the issue before us prior to hearing the State of the State Address from Governor Locke. We have worked with the four caucuses involved here on the order of speakers and we will rotate between the four caucuses. While there are strong viewpoints on the issue before us I trust every member of the legislature will uphold the decorum of the institution and I very much thank you in advance for respectful consideration."

MOTION

Representative Armstrong moved that further consideration of the vote for the Office of Governor be deferred until Tuesday, January 25th, the 16th Legislative Day.

Representative Armstrong, Senator Johnson, Representative Priest, Senator Parlette, Representative Shabro, Senator Schmidt and Representative Rodne spoke in favor of the motion.

Representative Kessler, Senator Hargrove, Representative Dunshee, Senator Kastama, Representative Darneille, Senator Rockefeller and Representative Morris spoke against the motion.

POINT OF ORDER

Representative DeBolt: "Mr. Speaker, I feel that he's impugning the body because this is not a partisan issue. This is an issue that is taken up with every citizen of the State."

Representative Morris continued to speak against the motion.

Senator Roach spoke in favor of the motion.

POINT OF ORDER

Representative Schual-Berke: "I rise to a point of order, Mr. Speaker. I am concerned that I am hearing the good lady impugning the motives and behavior of other elected officials."

Senator Roach continued to speak in favor of the motion.

POINT OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Esser: " Mr. Speaker, could you please tell the body how many votes from each chamber, the Senate and the House, will be needed for this motion to carry?"

SPEAKER'S RULING

Speaker Chopp: "Neither the Joint Rules adopted by the House and Senate, nor Reed's Rules, which the House and Senate separately rely upon for guidance in answering parliamentary questions, address the issue of voting in a joint session.

The Speaker has therefore turned to several sources for guidance in deciding the standards that will govern the conduct of our joint session today.

These include Mason's Manual of Legislative Procedure, Article 3, Section 4 of our state constitution, records of a previous vote in joint session in 1941, and parliamentary common law.

Mason's, the parliamentary manual of the 49 other state legislatures, specifies the following in section 782:

When the two houses meet in a joint session, they, in effect, merge into one house where the quorum is a majority of the members of both houses, where the votes of members of each house have equal weight, and where special rules can be adopted to govern joint sessions or they can be governed by the parliamentary common law.

Article 3, section 4 of our state constitution provides that when two or more persons for election to a state constitutional office receive the highest and equal number of votes, one of them shall be chosen by the joint vote of both houses.

The only instance of a recorded roll call vote in joint session in our state's history occurred in 1941. In that case, a motion to refer an election protest to a special committee was defeated by a vote of 15 to 30 by members of the Senate and a vote of 30 to 68 by members of the House. The journal then states that the motion "having failed to receive the constitutional majority in both the Senate and the House, was declared lost."

One could interpret this as dicta, a simple statement of fact, or as a requirement that the votes necessary for passage of a motion in joint session are a constitutional majority of the members of the Senate plus a constitutional majority of the members of the House.

The Speaker rejects the last interpretation. It would be untenable to find that when sitting in joint session the vote of the members of one house could serve to make the vote of the members of the other house irrelevant.

The Speaker therefore finds and rules that the vote necessary to decide any question presented to the body in joint session is a majority of the combined membership of the House and Senate."

Senator Sheldon, Representative Ericksen and Senator Finkbiener spoke in favor of the motion.

Senator Brown spoke against the motion.

Representative Hunt demanded the previous question. The Speaker divided the Chamber and the demand was sustained.

MOTION

On motion of Representative Clements, Representatives Cox and Hankins were excused.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Benton: "Reed's Rules and Senate Rules require two-thirds majority vote to limit debate. Are we operating under that assumption here today as well, and was the vote sustained by two-thirds majority?"

SPEAKER'S RULING

Speaker Chopp: "The Speaker has said by previous statement there that it just takes a majority vote to demand or determine a question in a joint session. Thank you. Your point is not well taken."

Representative Armstrong (again) spoke in favor of the motion.

The Speaker stated the question before the House to be the motion to defer further consideration of the vote for the Office of Governor until Tuesday, January 25th, the 16th Legislative Day.

The Clerk called the roll of Senate members, and the vote on the motion to defer further consideration of the vote for the Office of Governor until Tuesday, January 25th, the 16th Legislative Day, was: Yeas - 24, Nays - 25, Absent - 0, Excused - 0.

Voting yea: Senators Benson, Benton, Brandland, Carrell, Deccio, Delvin, Esser, Finkbeiner, Hewitt, Honeyford, Johnson, McCaslin, Morton, Mulliken, Oke, Parlette, Pflug, Roach, Schmidt, Schoesler, Sheldon, Stevens, Swecker and Zarelli - 24.

Voting nay: Senators Berkey, Brown, Doumit, Eide, Fairley, Franklin, Fraser, Hargrove, Haugen, Jacobsen, Kastama, Keiser, Kline, Kohl-Welles, McAuliffe, Poulsen, Prentice, Pridemore, Rasmussen, Regala, Rockefeller, Shin, Spanel, Thibaudeau and Weinstein - 25.

The Clerk called the roll of House members, and the vote on the motion to defer further consideration of the vote for the Office of Governor until Tuesday, January 25th, the 16th Legislative Day, was: Yeas - 41, Nays - 55, Absent - 0, Excused - 2

Voting yea: Representatives Ahern, Alexander, Anderson, Armstrong, Bailey, Buck, Buri, Campbell, Chandler, Clements, Condotta, Crouse, Curtis, DeBolt, Dunn, Ericksen, Haler, Hinkle, Holmquist, Jarrett, Kretz, Kristiansen, McCune, McDonald, Newhouse, Nixon, Orcutt, Pearson, Priest, Roach, Rodne, Schindler, Serben, Shabro, Skinner, Strow, Sump, Talcott, Tom, Walsh and Woods - 41.

Voting nay: Representatives Appleton, Blake, Chase, Clibborn, Cody, Conway, Darneille, Dickerson, Dunshee, Eickmeyer, Ericks, Flannigan, Fromhold, Grant, Green, Haigh, Hasegawa, Hudgins, Hunt, Hunter, Kagi, Kenney, Kessler, Kilmer, Kirby, Lantz, Linville, Lovick, McCoy, McDermott, McIntire, Miloscia, Moeller, Morrell, Morris, Murray, O'Brien, Ormsby, Pettigrew, Quall, Roberts, Santos, Schual-Berke, Sells, Simpson, Sommers, Springer, B. Sullivan, P. Sullivan, Takko, Upthegrove, Wallace, Williams, Wood and Mr. Speaker - 55.

Excused: Representatives Cox and Hankins - 2.

The motion to defer further consideration of the vote for the Office of Governor until Tuesday, January 25th, the 16th Legislative Day failed to pass by the following vote: Yeas - 65, Nays - 80, Absent - 0, Excused - 2.

Having failed to receive a majority vote of the membership of the Joint Session, the motion was declared lost.

Mr. Speaker: "In view of the election results previously read, certified to by the Secretary of State, the Joint Session now declares the following qualified citizens to be the duly elected constitutional officers of the State of Washington:

Christine Gregoire Governor
Brad Owen Lieutenant Governor
Sam Reed Secretary of State
Mike Murphy State Treasurer
Brian Sonntag State Auditor
Rob McKenna Attorney General
Terry Bergeson Superintendent of Public Instruction
Mike Kreidler Insurance Commissioner
Doug Sutherland Commissioner of Public Lands

The Speaker and the President of the Senate are now signing the certificates of election for the duly elected constitutional officers.

Having discharged the constitutional requirement imposed upon the Speaker of the House, it is now my pleasure to call upon President of the Senate Brad Owen to preside over the Joint Session."

Mr. President: "This joint session has also been convened to receive the State of the State message from His Excellency, Governor Gary Locke, and to honor him for his many years of service to the people of Washington."

The President appointed a special committee to escort the Supreme Court Justices to the House Chamber: Representatives Priest, Roberts, Strow and Williams, and Senators Esser, Johnson, Kline and Rockefeller.

The President appointed a special committee to escort the statewide elected officials to the House Chamber: Representatives Green, Kretz, McCoy and Walsh, and Senators Eide, Haugen, Hewitt and Zarelli.

The President appointed a special committee to advise His Excellency, Governor Gary Locke that the Joint Session had assembled and to escort him and Mrs. Locke from his chambers to the House Chamber: Representative Serben and P. Sullivan, and Senators Parlette and Fraser.

The Supreme Court Justices arrived, were escorted to the floor of the House Chamber and were introduced: Chief Justice Gerry L. Alexander and Justices Charles W. Johnson, Barbara A. Madsen, Richard B. Sanders, Bobbe J. Bridge, Tom Chambers, Susan J. Owens, Mary Fairhurst and Jim Johnson.

The statewide elected officials arrived, were escorted to the floor of the House Chamber and were introduced: Secretary of State Sam Reed, State Treasurer Mike Murphy, State Auditor Brian Sonntag, Superintendent of Public Instruction Terry Bergeson, Commissioner of Public Lands Doug Sutherland and Insurance Commissioner Mike Kreidler. Attorney General-elect Rob McKenna was introduced.

The President introduced the members of the Diplomatic Corps: Kim, Jae-gouk, Consul General of The Republic of Korea and Dean of the Washington Consular Corps; Victor Lapatinskas, Consul of Lithuania; Jorge Madrazo, Consul of Mexico; Miguel Angel Velasquez, Consul of Peru and Vice President of the Consular Association of Washington; Dennis Leith, Her Majesty's Consul, United Kingdom; and Robert Chen, Director General, Taipei Economic and Cultural Office.

The Governor and Mrs. Locke arrived, were escorted to the Rostrum of the House and were introduced.

The flags were escorted to the rostrum by the Washington National Guard Joint Color Guard. The President led the Chamber in the Pledge of Allegiance. The prayer was offered by Reverend Jim Erlandson, Community of Christ, Olympia.

Reverend Erlandson: "Gracious Creator, we come before You giving reverence to You and the gifts You have given to us. We are a most fortunate people. We celebrate the beauty of our natural environment, the heritage of our mothers and fathers who pioneered this extraordinary part of the world, the liberty ensured us by our government, of the people, by the people and for the people. We give thanks to You for this awesome gift.

As this legislature of the State of Washington begins its 59th session, we come to You for Your blessing over this difficult and valuable endeavor. The women and men who have accepted responsibility for the governance of this state come here through much sacrifice and with positive intent to serve their neighbors and constituents wisely and honorably.

Gift them with clear vision to see to the depth of the issues with which they deal. Gift them with patience and tolerance that they might work together productively, governing with a spirit of cooperation for the common good. Provide them with strength to conquer the long days and nights of work and stress. Protect them in their travels and watch over their families while they serve their community.

Divine One, please bless this assembly and all those who work and support it, that the fruit of their labors may be bountiful and that the course set here may lead this state to even greater prosperity.

We pray humbly, Amen."

President Owen: "Before I introduce the Governor I want to say how much we will miss the incredible First Lady we have had in the State of Washington. Her assistance with children's issues, her support of the Governor on education, the things that she has done throughout his term of office and how she always comes in and brightens up a room. Ladies and Gentlemen, I would like to present to you, Mona Locke.

It is my distinct pleasure to introduce our Governor. He was an Eagle Scout, he had a distinguished career in public service prior to becoming the Governor, and he's been an excellent father to Emily, Dylan and now Madeline. We've had those times when we've been working brightened when he's brought the children into the Chamber. That was always a wonderful addition to the process and helps us focus on what we are doing here. It's my great honor to introduce His Excellency Governor Gary Locke."

STATE OF THE STATE ADDRESS

Governor Locke: "Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Honorable Chief Justice, distinguished Justices of the Washington State Supreme Court, statewide elected officials, members of the Washington State Legislature, members of the Consular Association, and people of our great state of Washington: It's been an honor and privilege to serve as governor these past eight years.

My service has been made possible by my family members' love and encouragement. I want to acknowledge them: My father, Jimmy Locke; my mother, Julie; my sister Marian Monwai and her husband Peter; my sister Jannie Chow and her husband Eddie; my brother Jeffrey Locke and his wife Doris; my sister Rita Yoshihara and her husband Joe; and my brother-in-law Judd Lee.

And it is with great pleasure and honor that I recognize and acknowledge my wife, Mona. Mona has been a tremendous First Lady for the state of Washington, as well as a loving, supportive wife, and an amazing, nurturing mother. She has been a dedicated champion for families and children across our state, especially in the area of early learning. She co-chaired the Governor's Commission on Early Learning and later helped establish a separate 501(c)(3) non-profit Foundation for Early Learning. She also spearheaded the Computers for Kids program, where Department of Corrections inmates have refurbished 20,000 surplus computers and donated them to schools across the state.

I'm not the only one saying goodbye today. Mona and I are leaving a city we truly love. And our children Emily, Dylan and Madeline are leaving the only town and only home they have ever known. We will all miss Olympia very much.

It was 22 years ago yesterday that I was sworn in as a member of the state House of Representatives. I sat where Representative Judy Clibborn now sits. And I can still spot a few of the people that were here when I started. Public service has been my life and my passion.

I am very proud of the progress we've made during my two terms as governor of the great state of Washington. From raising academic achievement to increasing family wage jobs; from restoring wild salmon runs to increasing sales of Washington agricultural harvests to foreign markets; from streamlining regulations to improving services to Washington citizens.

I'm especially proud because we've faced some formidable challenges. Challenges that seemed to come from every direction. A major earthquake. An energy crisis. Droughts. September 11th, and the constant challenge of improving homeland security. We survived, we rebounded, and we're charging ahead.

Just a couple of years ago, we were in the depths of some very tough economic times. We faced serious state budget shortfalls like 47 other states across America. Significant decisions had to be made, and we made them, using our Priorities of Government budgeting approach – an approach that should still be used regardless of the amount of resources available.

Now Washington state is showing clear signs of a strong economic recovery that is broad, deep and all across our state. Our unemployment rate has dropped by almost two percentage points since a year ago, twice as fast as the rest of America. We've gone in a short time from one of the highest unemployment rates in America to close to the national average! The new jobs that are being created are good jobs, too, paying much more than new jobs elsewhere in the nation.

It's policies we have enacted together that have helped spur this recovery, creating thousands of private sector jobs. Policies like:

- incentives for businesses to locate in rural Washington,
- the transportation improvement package, • and the acceleration of state construction projects.

We have Washington on track for a very bright future.

During my inaugural address in 1997 I shared with you the story of my family. My grandfather's work as a houseboy here in Olympia, receiving English lessons in exchange for his labor. My father's service in World War II and his participation in the Normandy invasion. My mother's wonderful work raising five children and learning English so she could become a US citizen – at the same time I was learning English in kindergarten.

I was struck on that first inaugural day that – after nearly one hundred years and three generations – my family had traveled the mile from the house where my Grandfather worked to the Governor's mansion. As I finish my term here at the end of that century mile, I am humbled to know that it was made possible by the hard work of so many members of the Locke family.

I will always remember my parents impressing upon us kids the values they felt were critical to a successful life: get a good education, work hard, and take care of others. They are the principles that I promised to uphold eight years ago. They are the principles that have guided my decisions during all my years as governor.

I have worked to ensure that Washington is a state that provides a quality education, creates opportunities for individuals who want to work hard, and takes care of its own. A state where individuals are given not only a chance to achieve success, but also the tools they need to flourish.

The most important tool we can provide is a quality education. As you've heard me say so many times, and as many of you have now begun to chant, education is the great equalizer. It offers opportunity and hope to all it touches. It is the key to a vital economy. It is the key to an enriching future for our children.

We've made great strides in raising academic achievement during the past seven years. In fact, our kids are making some of the biggest academic gains in America! This year's WASL results are proof. In 1997, only 48 percent of 4th graders met the state reading standard. This year, 74 percent passed. And in math, in 1997, 21 percent of 4th graders met the standard. This year, 60 percent passed.

There are other measures of success for Washington's schools. In states with similar numbers of students taking the test, Washington ranks FIRST in both math and verbal scores! And our students ranked third on the ACT college readiness exam, which is used by many of the private colleges in America. I am especially proud that Washington led the nation last year in reading scores for African-American fourth graders. African-American eighth graders in Washington scored better in math than in all but three states. We are closing the achievement gap.

But we know much more must be done in this area. We must continue to provide extra assistance to struggling schools and struggling students.

We have set high, rigorous standards for academic achievement for all students. Our standards are higher than most other states, because we know these are the skills students need to be successful in this global, high-tech, 21st century economy. And our students are still meeting these higher goals at a greater rate than those in the states with lower standards. We must stay the course. So we can't turn back and lower our standards or abandon these reforms. We must stay the course. There is too much at stake.

Our success in education is a product of the hard work of our students and the dedication of teachers, parents, and community members. We can't thank or reward our educators enough for nurturing, inspiring and molding our children. They deserve our recognition.

And in higher education, there are 17,000 more students attending our colleges and universities a year ago than seven years ago.

We have established many significant, life-changing programs, like our Promise Scholarships, which help high achieving students from middle and low-income families realize the American Dream of a college education. We developed Kindergarten Readiness Guidelines, working with the Superintendent of Public Instruction, recognizing that education begins at birth. And we have expanded job training and retraining programs, because we must also view education as life-long, continuing even through our adult and working years.

With record high school graduations over the next few years, we must add enrollments to our colleges and universities. Because tuition only provides a small amount of a university's budget, without extra dollars we will have to turn students away. As our economy improves, we want our kids to fill these new jobs, instead of businesses needing to hire workers from out of state. Education sets the foundation for individuals to succeed.

And with hard work a good, family-wage job should be the payoff. To ensure that such jobs are available, we must keep the businesses we have and attract new ones to our state. We must continue to cultivate a healthy, dynamic business climate. And we must also make sure that our workforce is protected and fairly compensated. The hard work of our labor force should not be exploited for the gain of a few, but instead for the profit of employers, employees, and society as a whole.

In just the last two years, nine national companies have chosen Washington over Oregon, Idaho and even California for major facilities, employing thousands. And Boeing airplanes still mean "Made in Washington." This is because the state of Washington is known for its innovation, competitiveness, quality of life and entrepreneurial spirit.

Recent studies by independent organizations confirm our success in improving our business climate. The Small Business Entrepreneurial Council ranked Washington the 4th friendliest business environment in the nation. A study by the conservative, anti-tax, Tax Foundation ranked Washington as having the ninth most business friendly tax climate.

Unfortunately, not all Washingtonians possess the capacity to support themselves. Some are physically sick, developmentally disabled or suffer from mental illness. Others have worked hard their entire lives, but have reached their retirement years and need a little extra help. And many children, through no fault of their own, are living in intolerable conditions.

It is our responsibility, as individuals and government, to help those who are in need. Even through tough budget times, we have maintained a safety net for those who are unable to take care of themselves, whether in institutions or community settings.

I am proud that we have taken great strides in broadening access to health care. We're one of the few states in the nation that provides health care to children from families with incomes up to 250% of the poverty level. Most states only provide up to 200 percent of the poverty level. We've made it convenient for seniors to purchase low-cost, American-made prescription drugs from Canada. And we're the only state with a real commitment to providing decent housing for migrant farm workers who harvest the food we put on our tables.

And if we are to continue our success in helping families move off of public assistance and become self-sufficient, we must maintain the emphasis on affordable child care and quality job training programs. It is one thing to be governor and guide the policies of state government. But it is the people who work in our agencies every day who really make government work. It's been my honor to work with so many incredibly talented, dedicated individuals in our state agencies – our directors, managers, line staff and members of the Governor's Office. Many of our state agencies have been ranked the very best in their respective fields. Many of our agency directors are leaders in their national associations. And they have each held themselves to the highest ethical standards.

The quality of our leaders is reflected in national rankings. And in the two evaluations done since I took office, Governing Magazine and Cornell University have each time named Washington among the four best-managed states in America.

No one goes into public service to get rich. Instead, the payoff is that every day you have the opportunity to help someone achieve a better life, whether it is helping someone in finding a job or finding loving, adoptive parents for an abandoned child.

It is important that in the politics of governing we not forget to recognize the dedication of these individuals, these great public servants, the public employees of the state of Washington. I thank our public employees for the outstanding work they do to promote the welfare of our state.

But government can only do so much. Our society depends on dedicated volunteers who give of their time and energy across our state. So many individuals and organizations put in countless hours volunteering in hospitals, schools, nursing homes, and other places of need. For example, in 1998, Superintendent of Public Instruction Terry Bergeson and I created the Washington Reading Corps for struggling readers in our elementary schools.

Since its inception, 75,000 struggling readers have made phenomenal reading progress thanks to 50,000 volunteer tutors. And our state's volunteer spirit has never been more evident than in recent weeks as individuals, businesses and non-profit organizations throughout our state have risen to the challenge of helping the tsunami victims in South Asia.

But there is always more that can be done. I encourage everyone in our state to share their gifts with their communities – to help take care of others. Take some time to help those who need assistance. Participate in the preservation and cleanup of our natural environment. Fight for the rights of oppressed groups in our society. Invest your time on behalf of others.

Our state is so diverse – in its geography, climate, culture, industries and communities. From Forks to Walla Walla; Point Roberts to Vancouver; and Long Beach to Colville – the people of this state possess a shared, irrepressible spirit. We all have a common goal: a strong and prosperous Washington, where everyone has a chance to succeed. I call upon the Legislature, the next governor, and all the people of our state to pull together to achieve this goal. My administration leaves you a stronger, healthier state poised for even greater things.

Eight years ago I was blessed with two titles of immense honor and responsibility: Governor, and a few months later, Dad. One title ends tomorrow. The other lasts forever.

Emily will soon turn 8. She misses her friends in Olympia very, very much. Dylan will soon turn 6. And Madeline is just 2 months old! Doesn't she have a lot of hair? Mona and I have been so touched all these years by the warmth, graciousness and well wishes of people all across our state. The books and quilts for the children and the letters, cards and emails. We can't thank you enough.

As we begin a new chapter of our life, Mona, myself, Emily, Dylan, and Madeline leave office with cherished memories that are sure to last at least through the next 100-year journey. Our family has been so blessed. We thank you from the bottom of our hearts – for the incredible privilege and honor – of serving you, the people of the state of Washington – for the opportunity to make Washington an even greater place to live, work and raise a family. Thank you very much. God Bless you all."

President Owen: "Governor, thank you for your excellent remarks.

The Governor has signed a document making a number of people in the State Washington Generals. Years ago, Lieutenant Governor John Cherberg, who served for thirty-two years, the longest serving Lieutenant Governor in the history of the nation, created the Washington Generals. We are now trying to raise the level of awareness on the work that they do – a charitable organization. We recently learned that Governor Locke is not a Washington General. Chuck Hardaway, Commanding General of the Washington Generals, if you would come forward and Governor, we would like to bestow upon you that of which you have bestowed upon many – the rank of Washington General. We know that you will be promoting the State of Washington in your years to come and we want to recognize your tremendous service to the people of the great State of Washington."

The President requested that the special committee come forward and escort His Excellency the Governor, Mrs. Locke and Emily, Dylan and Madeline Locke from the Rostrum.

The President requested that the special committee come forward and escort the statewide elected officials from the Chamber.

The President requested that the special committee come forward and escort the Supreme Court Justices from the Chamber.

On motion of Representative Kessler, the joint session was dissolved. President Owen thanked the House for its hospitality. The President called upon Speaker Chopp to preside.

The Speaker requested that the Sergeant at Arms escort President Owen and the Senators from the Chamber.

There being no objection, the House advanced to the eleventh order of business.

MOTION

On motion of Representative Kessler, the House adjourned until 9:55 a.m., January 12, 2005, the 3rd Day of the Regular Session.

Mr. Speaker:

The President has signed:

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 4400,

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 4401,

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 4402,

and the same are herewith transmitted.

Tom Hoemann, Secretary

The Senate appeared at the Chamber doors and requested admission. The Sergeant at Arms of the House and the Sergeant at Arms of the Senate escorted President of the Senate Brad Owen, President Pro Tempore Rosa Franklin, Majority Leader Lisa Brown and Minority Leader Bill Finkbeiner to seats on the Rostrum. The Senators were invited to sit within the Chamber.

JOINT SESSION

The Speaker (Representative Lovick presiding) called the Joint Session to order. The Clerk called the roll of House members. The Clerk called the roll of Senate members. A quorum of the Legislature was present.

The Speaker (Representative Lovick presiding) called upon President Owen to preside.

President Owen: "The purpose of the Joint Session is to administer the oath of office to statewide elected officials and to receive the inaugural address from Her Excellency, Governor Christine Gregoire."

The President appointed a special committee to escort the Supreme Court Justices to the House Chamber: Representatives Chase, Priest, Rodne and Upthegrove, and Senators Carrell, Doumit, McCaslin and Weinstein.

The President appointed a special committee to escort the statewide elected officials to the House Chamber: Representatives Kretz, Murray, B. Sullivan and Walsh, and Senators Delvin, Pflug, Pridemore and Poulsen.

The President appointed a special committee to advise Her Excellency, Governor Christine Gregoire, that the joint session had assembled and to escort her to the House Chamber: Representatives Kagi and Serben, and Senators Eide and Schmidt.

The Supreme Court Justices arrived, were escorted to the Floor of the House Chamber and were introduced: Chief Justice Gerry L. Alexander, and Justices Charles W. Johnson, Barbara A. Madsen, Richard B. Sanders, Bobbe J. Bridge, Tom Chambers, Susan J. Owens, Mary Fairhurst and Jim Johnson.

The statewide elected officials arrived, were escorted to the floor of the House and were introduced: Secretary of State Sam Reed, State Treasurer Mike Murphy, State Auditor Brian Sonntag, Superintendent of Public Instruction Terry Bergeson, Commissioner of Public Lands Doug Sutherland, Insurance Commissioner Mike Kreidler and Attorney General Rob McKenna.

The President introduced the special guests present in the Chambers: Governor Gary Locke, Oregon Governor Ted Kulongoski, Governor Mike Lowry, Governor Booth Gardner, Governor Al Rosellini, Congressman Jim McDermott, Former Lands Commissioner Jennifer Belcher, Former State Senator Betti Sheldon, Former Secretary of State Ralph Munro and Former Attorney General of Virginia Mary Sue Terry.

The President introduced the members of the Diplomatic Corps: H. Ronald Masnik, Consul of Belgium and President of the Consular Association of Washington; Daravuth Huoth, Consul of Cambodia; Frank Brozovich, Consul of Croatia, Solomon Tadesse, Consul General of Ethiopia; Jack Cowan, Consul of France; Enid Dwyer, Consul of Jamaica; Kazuo Tanaka, Consul General of Japan; Kim, Jae-gouk, Consul General of The Republic of Korea and Dean of the Washington Consular Corps; Victor Lapatinskas, Consul of Lithuania; Jorge Madrazo, Consul of Mexico; Miguel Angel Velasquez, Consul of Peru and Vice President of the Consular Association of Washington; Vladimir Volnov, Consul General of The Russian Federation; John Gokcen, Consul General of Turkey; Dennis Leith, Her Majesty's Consul, United Kingdom; Gary Furlong, Consul General of Uzbekistan; and Robert Chen, Director General, Taipei Economic and Cultural Office.

Governor Christine Gregoire and her husband Mike Gregoire and daughters Courtney and Michelle Gregoire arrived, were escorted to the Rostrum and were introduced.

The flags were escorted to the Rostrum by the Washington State Patrol Color Guard. The National Anthem was sung by Kathleen Murphy, sister of State Treasurer Mike Murphy. The prayer was offered by Father Michael J. Ryan, Holy Spirit Catholic Church, Kent.

Father Ryan: "As we begin to pray let us first open our minds and our hearts to the word of God as given to us in the ancient Hebrew scriptures: 'In the beginning when God created the heavens and the earth, the earth was a formless wasteland and darkness covered the abyss while a mighty wind swept over the waters. And then God said 'Let there be light' and there was light. God saw how good the light was and then he separated the light from darkness.'

My sisters and brothers, let us pray.

Creator God, you chose to bring light where there was darkness. May we, your precious people who gather here today, imitate you in choosing to bring light where there is still darkness. Give us the courage and the creative energy to choose the light rather than the darkness that comes from partisan allegiance instead of to one another. Free us from any adhesion to our own ideologies at the cost of shirking our ability to be honest and respectful in listening to each other as we make decisions that will affect the lives of the people of the State of Washington. Rather than hanging onto the confusing and the stress of these past weeks, let our historical memory honor the hopes and the dreams of the pioneers, whose sacrifice and commitment to the future of the State of Washington we now enjoy. May we imitate their unselfish spirit as we work together to provide a future for the generations that will follow us. Be with us God of Light and give us the courage to be light for one another and for all those who depend on that light. As in the beginning bless with your light, your light to Christine Gregoire, our new governor and her family, Mike, Courtney and Michelle; to all of you who are here and your families; and to the family of the State of Washington. Let there be light, let there be light. Amen."

GOVERNOR'S INAUGURAL ADDRESS

Governor Gregoire: "Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Mr. Chief Justice, distinguished justices of the court, honored officials, members of the Washington state legislature, members of the Consular Corps, and fellow citizens: I am honored and humbled to be your new governor, and to have the opportunity to lead the people of this great state.

As I stand here today, I am mindful that this opportunity – like all the opportunities in this state – are the legacy of those who came before us. And speaking of legacy – I am especially honored to have former governors Rosellini, Gardner, Lowry and Governor Locke here today. These are our state's foremost experts on the subject of legacy, and every person in this state owes them a debt of gratitude.

I certainly have many people to thank personally for the legacy I was given. I have my mom to thank. As you may know, she was a short order cook and I am very proud of her. I have her to thank for solid values – forgiveness, compassion, respect and caring – for my work ethic, and the love she provided me. She taught me to laugh and enjoy life. She also taught me one thing over and over again: the importance of education. I know her proudest moments came when I graduated from college and from law school.

I have Mr. Reis, my sixth grade English teacher, to thank. Vernon Reis opened the world to me through books. He taught me that while I was physically firmly planted in blue-collar Auburn, Washington in the 50s and early 60s, intellectually I could go anywhere, explore anything, and sample exciting new ideas simply by opening a book. Mr. Reis, will you please stand?

I have Fred Faber, a Moses Lake businessman, to thank. He was like a father to me, and made me a part of his family. Fred taught me to pursue my dreams – he even paid my tuition to attend law school – and generously and wisely taught me never to let barriers get in the way of your dreams. While he has passed away, his legacy lives warmly on in my memory and his family is my family. Allow me to introduce the Faber family.

I have Dr. Chris Griffith, an Olympia surgeon, to thank. In those dark days after I was diagnosed with breast cancer, I was truly blessed to have him for support, along with my family and church. This talented, compassionate, caring surgeon really gets it when it comes to bedside manner, and I can't imagine going through that terrible ordeal without him. When I called Dr. Griffith to ask him to come today and thank him again for his support, he wisely noted, "we are all patients at some time in our lives." Dr. Griffith could not be with us today; he is in surgery, quite likely saving another life.

I have Father Michael Ryan, who gave today's invocation, to thank. Father Mike baptized our daughter Michelle, and to this day, he likes to whisper to me, in a voice loud enough so she can always hear, that if the baptism didn't take, we can do it again. Like many of you, my spiritual life guides me, and Father Mike helped me transform my religion into a living faith. And Father Mike connected our family to one of the anchors in our lives – our church group. Father Mike, and our church group, will you please stand?

And, of course, I have my family to thank. I want to thank my wonderful husband and daughters, who, in the last year, have seen me through a bout with cancer, a long campaign, and two recounts. I would like you to meet the first First Gentleman of this state, Mike Gregoire. He is the best husband I could have asked for – an outstanding father to our two daughters, and proud veteran who served this country in Vietnam. He is retired now, and plans to invest his time in working to improve the lives of his fellow veterans. Our two daughters are Courtney, who is in her last semester at law school, and Michelle, a college sophomore. Mike and I like to say we are getting poorer by degrees. For all you parents of teenagers, I have some good news for you. If you are as fortunate as Mike and I, you can look forward to seeing your relationship change from a test of wills with a teen, to becoming the best of friends.

And finally, I'd like you to meet some members of my extended family. Some have come from as far away as Florida and North Dakota. I mention these vital people in my life because we all have a chance to have a positive influence in the lives of others. We all leave personal legacies for the people we know and love.

And as elected officials, we have a special obligation to leave an even larger legacy of opportunity, prosperity, and optimism. As we gather here today, it seems fitting to ask, what will our legacy be? Will we leave a legacy of holding government accountable, cutting through the red tape and breaking down the barriers that hinder business development? Will we leave a legacy of strong democratic institutions and faith in government? Will we work to provide health care for every child in this state? Will we dramatically lower our high school dropout rate, and help every young person fulfill his or her full potential?

That's exactly what I'm here to do – not alone, but together with all of you, Republican and Democrat alike. Think about the legacy we have inherited: Our agricultural products are among the finest in the world. We have Pacific Rim ports that are major economic engines for our state's thriving international trade. We are a global leader in aviation, high-tech, biotech, and health care. Our state is a magnet for smart, creative people, and we have well-trained workers, and well-educated scientists and entrepreneurs. We have fine universities, some on the leading edge of research and innovation, and one of the nation's best systems of community and technical colleges. In the last decade, our public schools and teachers have done heroic work to raise the academic achievement levels of our children. We have a rich and diverse cultural heritage, vibrant arts, and a spirit of openness and inclusion. We are also blessed with a unique legacy of natural resources and landscapes so beautiful they attract tourists from around the world. We have so much to be thankful for.

It's our responsibility to pass on what we inherited, not to squander it, but to build on it. And frankly, I worry about the legacy we may leave.

When citizens don't have confidence their tax dollars are being used efficiently and effectively, we have work to do.

When we lose 20 percent of our manufacturing jobs in five years, we have work to do. When half a million people have no health insurance, we have work to do.

When children start kindergarten already behind because they didn't get early education, we have work to do.

When a third of our high school students don't finish high school on time, we have work to do.

And when Hood Canal, Puget Sound, Lake Roosevelt, and the Spokane River are polluted, we have work to do.

This is not an easy time to lead. Much has been written about red states and blue states and the great political divide – not to mention the razor thin governor's race here. Many have asked how I can govern without a clear mandate from the voters. I believe the voters have given all of us a mandate – a mandate to overcome our differences, and to solve problems. Truly, the challenges we face are not Democratic challenges or Republican challenges. In fact, they are not political challenges at all; they are fiscal challenges, and educational challenges, and the challenges of figuring out how to take care of each other and create a future worthy of our children.

It is healthy to have differences of opinion about how to rise to these challenges. It is unhealthy to let those differences paralyze us. We can leave our legacy only if we are willing to change – to go beyond partisan labels, and to solve the problems facing Washingtonians. We can build the strength of the center of our political spectrum – that ground where left and right converge and move forward. This is the imperative of our election.

Our divisions are not nearly as deep as others may think. All of us basically want the same things: opportunity for our children, and prosperity for our families and communities. We want state government agencies that are accountable, efficient and effective. We want affordable health care and college tuition, and successful businesses that provide good jobs. We want a wholesome culture that makes the most of our diverse heritage. And we want a clean and sustainable environment that contributes to our quality of life.

Clearly the election recount ordeal of the last two months has challenged us, and among our challenges this session is election reform. We want every vote to count – and to be counted right the first time. I will, therefore, create a task force, chaired by Secretary of State Sam Reed, and former State Senator Betti Sheldon, to review our election process and report back to me and to the legislature with recommended reforms by March 1st. This task force will travel the state and listen carefully to suggestions from citizens on how we can move forward with improvements in our election system.

Speaking of what government must do better, I believe we all agree there is a need for change in Olympia. Change is here and more is coming. Let me give you an example of where we are headed. Today, businesses are regulated by, and pay taxes to multiple government agencies. They face a blizzard of paperwork, threats of penalties, different due dates, and different definitions of who has to pay what and do what. And if they have multiple locations or branches, government will multiply the number of forms and regulations they have to cope with. So I want to make my views about this perfectly clear: No business in Washington should have to put up with all of that. I believe that the vast majority of regulated businesses want to do the right thing, and we should make that easier instead of harder. I will propose legislation to establish a new government management accountability and performance approach in state government – GMAP for short. We must hold state agencies accountable. We will require agencies to be more effective and efficient in achieving results, and ensuring that public tax dollars are being spent wisely.

This is a significant challenge. And change involves measured risk. As Governor Booth Gardner once told me, if you are succeeding 10 times out of 10, you're not taking enough risk. So I want to say that I am willing to take risks, and willing to tolerate failure as long as we admit it, can learn from it and keep moving forward. I will challenge agency directors to take good risks, and to pursue innovative changes that make life better for business and for our citizens. There will be some failures, but we will learn from them and move on.

I will ask a lot of state employees because I intend to pay them fairly, and because I respect and admire them. In the Attorney General's office, I was proud that our employees contributed over $5,000 to tsunami relief efforts in 24 hours after that disaster struck. They didn't wait for the national appeals. They acted quickly, decisively and generously. They knew they couldn't single-handedly overcome the tragedy of the tsunami – but they united to do what they could, and they made a positive difference. We must do the same to address another overwhelming challenge – political gridlock and escalating prices in our health care system. There is just no reason why the richest nation in the world can't provide health care to all its people. This is a national problem that begs for a national solution. We can't truly solve this problem at the state level. But we can make a difference. We can expand access to affordable health insurance by providing a pooled state health plan to business, so they can afford to offer insurance to their employees. Every employee should have access to doctors like Chris Griffith. We can make prescription drugs more affordable by pooling our purchases. We can make importation of drugs from Canada legal. And we can set a goal of all our children having health care coverage by 2010.

We all are united in the knowledge that we need to get Washingtonians back to work. Since 2001, this state has lost nearly 100,000 jobs. Toward that end, I am proposing the creation of a Life Sciences Discovery Fund to finance new research in two areas: debilitating diseases, such as Parkinson's, Alzheimer's, and cancer – and improving the quality and yield of our agricultural crops. Our state has earned a special bonus because of our leadership in the national tobacco lawsuit. I want to combine those bonus dollars with private sector and foundation funding to create a $1 billion fund that has the potential to leave a huge legacy of better health, more and better crops, and new jobs and economic opportunity on both sides of the Cascades. It's been said that government doesn't create jobs, business does. For the most part, this is true. But government creates the environment in which businesses can excel and expand. Small businesses, like the one Fred Faber owned, are the backbone of our economy. I will propose tax relief for small and start-up enterprises. I will make state government a more aggressive and savvy player in economic development, and I will work to bring new jobs to the communities in this state that need them most. We must be ready to compete in a global economy. So I will challenge our Competitiveness Council to think globally so we can succeed locally, in every community and every corner of our state. A strong transportation system is essential to a thriving economy and we have important challenges throughout the state – be it freight mobility concerns in Eastern Washington or the viaduct and Lake Washington bridge issues in Seattle.

I am honored to have Oregon Governor Ted Kulongowski here today. We already have talked about working together to address our interstate bridge issues, and we plan to work together on many other issues in the years ahead. Like our neighbors in Oregon, we are all challenged by our commitment to high academic standards that prepare every student for good jobs in the 21st century. In 1993, we passed a sweeping education reform measure that has led to rigorous standards and real school improvement. The education reform act made our schools accountable for results. Now we need to make sure we have necessary funding to ensure we will get the results we're after. Because this need is urgent, I intend to name a broad-based bipartisan commission to find and propose efficiencies and long-term funding solutions – for early education, K – 12, and our colleges and universities. This is a very tall order. But education is the foundation on which our future must be built. We must provide early childhood education and coordinate our early learning programs so that every child starts kindergarten ready to learn. A mountain of research shows us that when kids start school already behind, many never catch up. That's why we must make sure that every child gets the early learning that is the foundation for a successful life. We know the positive power of teachers like Mr. Reis to help every child thrive. We also know the consequences when children lack that vital connection with a caring teacher. We cannot keep the faith with our children if we betray our commitments to their teachers. That's why we need to fund cost-of-living pay increases to teachers – something voters overwhelmingly supported.

We also need to address an educational emergency. Today, nearly a third of our high school students do not graduate on time, with their peers. High school dropouts earn half as much as graduates. They often are chronically unemployed and dependent on government help, and they are at higher risk to end up in our jails and prisons. That's why we will design our middle and high schools so no student gets lost in the crowd and disconnected from his or her own potential. And we can't stop with high school graduation. Today, our two- and four-year colleges are all bursting at the seams. We need to take down the no-vacancy signs that kept 1,500 students out of college last year. And we need to give families some certainty about the cost of college education so they can plan for the future.

Surely no issue unites us more than our appreciation for our military personnel who are bringing aid to devastated countries, defending us against terrorism, and fighting to make a free election possible in Iraq. When those soldiers come home – and we pray daily for their safe return – we must thank them and welcome them. Our state has a special relationship with our military services. Our military bases are an important part of our economy, and military retirees are a growing part of our population. We are all proud of that. But we can also do a better job of making sure that our veterans and their families get what they need and deserve from us. My administration will make that a very high priority, and I can assure you that Mike will remind me, probably often, of that commitment. I know that all I've talked about today adds up to a very ambitious agenda.

But we live in a time when anything less would be insufficient. We need to set an ambitious agenda, but at the same time, we need to be honest. We cannot achieve all our goals overnight. We will need enormous patience and persistence, not just for a single legislative session, but for the long term. We must not promise more than we can deliver. Governing involves tough choices between important programs – especially now, when we face a $1.8 billion budget shortfall. We will not be able to do all we want to do this year.

But we can make progress – on job creation and business growth, on improving our education system from early learning to graduate education, on health care, environmental protection and veterans' issues. These are all enormous challenges. And whether we are Democrat or Republican, old or young, rich or poor, these are our challenges. This will require change – change in the way we think about partisan politics, and change in the way we reach out to each other and reconcile our differences. As Gandhi so famously said, we must all "be the change we want to see in the world." If we want unity, we must all be unifiers. If we want accountability, each of us must be accountable for all we do. It is up to us to live up to the legacy that was left for us, and to leave a legacy that is worthy of our children and of future generations. We can do this. And we can start today.

Thank you very, very much. God bless all of you, and God bless our wonderful state."

RESOLUTION

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 2005-4604, By Representatives Ericks, Walsh, Green, Buri, Santos, Nixon, Hasegawa, Rodne, Pettigrew, Grant, Hunt, Sells, Linville, Chase, Eickmeyer, Darneille, Simpson, Lantz, Springer, Dunn, Haigh, Appleton, Upthegrove, Flannigan, Hudgins, Schual-Berke, Conway, Kessler, Morrell, Ormsby, Takko, Strow, Haler, Curtis, McCune, Roberts, Quall, B. Sullivan, Campbell, Jarrett, McIntire, Sommers, Kilmer, Clibborn, P. Sullivan and Williams

WHEREAS, Today, January 17, 2005, communities and neighborhoods all across our state and nation remember, celebrate, and honor the life and work of the Reverend Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.; and

WHEREAS, Dr. King's commitment to nonviolence was a model of selflessness and sacrifices made so that later generations would live freer and fuller lives in accordance with principles of our democracy and Constitutional guarantees; and

WHEREAS, The Reverend Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. advanced the goals of peace, justice, and equality with determination, faith, dignity, and courage in the face of life-threatening opposition; and

WHEREAS, Dr. King, born on January 15, 1929, in Atlanta, Georgia, was so violently taken from us on April 4, 1968, at the age of thirty-nine; and

WHEREAS, Dr. King's death was a tragic and irreconcilable loss for our nation and our world; and

WHEREAS, Dr. King was jailed several times throughout his nonviolent struggle to bring to all people the opportunity to live free of racial, ethnic, and religious discrimination; and

WHEREAS, Dr. King raised the consciousness of the nation and of our state to fundamental injustices and inequalities in American society, and moved us forward on the long and unfinished road to racial harmony and reconciliation; and

WHEREAS, The Reverend Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. fervently advocated nonviolent resistance and protest as the course to end segregation and racial discrimination in America, for which he was awarded the 1964 Nobel Peace Prize; and

WHEREAS, Dr. King was forever celebrated when the Congress of the United States established a permanent federal holiday to commemorate the date of his birth; and

WHEREAS, Dr. King's work and legacy were further recognized by the state of Washington, which honors his remembrance as a state holiday; and

WHEREAS, There is still much work to be done to ensure a color-blind society with full integration of the principles of our democracy;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the House of Representatives, on behalf of the people of our state, recognize the importance of the life and work of the Reverend Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. to the civil society and freedoms of the United States of America and of the state of Washington; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the House of Representatives call on the people of the state of Washington to study, reflect on, and celebrate Dr. King's life and ideals in order to fulfill his dream of civil and human rights for all people.

Representative Ericks moved the adoption of the resolution.

Representatives Ericks, Buri, Green, Nixon, Pettigrew, Walsh, Hasegawa and Dunn spoke in favor of the adoption of the resolution.

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 4604 was adopted.

There being no objection, the bills listed on the day's introduction sheet under the fourth order of business were referred to the committees so designated.

There being no objection, the House advanced to the eighth order of business.

There being no objection, the Committee on Education was relieved of further consideration of HOUSE BILL NO. 1042 and the bill was referred to the Committee on Children & Family Services.

There being no objection, the Committee on Juvenile Justice & Family Law was relieved of further consideration of HOUSE BILL NO. 1052, and the bill was referred to the Committee on Children & Family Services.

The House recessed until 11:40 a.m. at which time the House and Senate came together in Joint Session in the House Chambers to hear the State of the Judiciary.

The Sergeant at Arms announced the Senate had arrived. The Speaker (Representative Lovick presiding) instructed the Sergeant at Arms of the House and the Sergeant at Arms of the Senate to escort President of the Senate Brad Owen, President Pro Tempore Rosa Franklin, Majority Leader Lisa Brown and Minority Leader Bill Finkbeiner to seats on the Rostrum. The Senators were invited to seats within the Chamber.

JOINT SESSION

The Speaker (Representative Lovick presiding) called the Joint Session to order. The Clerk called the roll of House members. The Clerk called the roll of Senate members. A quorum of the Legislature was present.

The Speaker (Representative Lovick presiding) called upon President of the Senate Owen to preside.

The President appointed a special committee to escort the Supreme Court Justices to the Chamber: Representatives Appleton, Ericks, Priest and Rodne, and Senators Eide, Rockefeller, Carrell and Johnson.

The President appointed a special committee to escort the State elected officials to the Chamber: Representatives Kretz, Lantz, Takko and Walsh, and Senators Regala, Shin and Stevens.

The President appointed a special committee to advise her Excellency, Governor Christine Gregoire that the Joint Session had assembled and to escort her to the Chamber: Representatives Pettigrew and Serben, and Senators Franklin and Schmidt.

The President appointed a special committee to escort Chief Justice Gerry Alexander to the Chamber: Representatives McCune and Springer, and Senators Kline and Esser.

The Supreme Court Justices arrived, were escorted to the front of the Chamber and were introduced: Justice Charles W. Johnson, Justice Barbara A. Madsen, Justice Richard B. Sanders, Justice Bobbe Bridge, Justice Tom Chambers, Justice Susan Owens, Justice Mary Fairhurst and Justice Jim Johnson.

The State Elected Officials arrived, were escorted to the front of the Chamber and were introduced: Secretary of State Sam Reed, State Auditor Brian Sonntag, Superintendent of Public Instruction Terry Bergeson and Commission of Public Lands Doug Sutherland.

Governor Christine Gregoire arrived and was escorted to the Rostrum.

Supreme Court Chief Justice Gerry Alexander arrived, was escorted to the Rostrum and was introduced.

The flags were escorted to the Rostrum by Cub Scout Pack 205 from Centennial Elementary School, Olympia. The President led the Chamber in the Pledge of Allegiance. The prayer was offered by Reverend David James, St. John's Episcopal Church, Olympia.

STATE OF THE JUDICIARY

Chief Justice Gerry Alexander: "President Owen, Speaker Chopp, Governor Gregoire, state elected officials, members of the House and Senate, fellow justices, ladies and gentlemen. Good afternoon.

Let me first extend thanks to all of the members of the legislature for the warm welcome you have accorded me and my fellow justices on this and other occasions. I must tell you at the outset that I am delighted to be back with you in this grand old legislative building where I delivered my first state of the judiciary address four years ago.

As some of you may know, I was raised in Olympia and I have spent almost all of my adult life in this city. Having lived within sight of this building for all of these years has led me to have great affection for this magnificent building and the other buildings on this campus, including, of course, the Temple of Justice. I am so pleased that the Washington Legislature took the steps that it did to restore this building to its former glory. The Legislative Building is truly the centerpiece of the most beautiful state capitol campus in the land and it looks great. As a proud Washingtonian and Olympian, I thank you.

As you have undoubtedly observed, members of our court have been frequent guests in this building of late, what with various oath taking sessions, a State of the State message by former Governor Locke, and, of course, an inauguration and inaugural ball. The truth is that we enjoy being a part of these events, but we promise you now that the traditional opening rituals of this legislative session are behind us, we will recede into the Temple of Justice across the way and try to be less noticeable.

That, I suppose, is as it should be under the doctrine of separation of powers, one of the crown jewels of our form of government. I think, though, that it is a good thing for the branches of government to have contact such as we have had this past week or so, because our government functions better if the elected members of the three branches get acquainted with one another and gain a better appreciation of the role that each performs in our democracy.

Let me also thank the members of the legislature for inviting me to deliver this message on behalf of Washington's judiciary. We know that time is precious to all of you during a legislative session. We are also aware that you need not accord me this privilege. The state constitution requires only that the judges of the Supreme Court report to the governor in writing in January of each year on defects and omissions in the law. It does not require the Supreme Court to report to the legislature nor does it require you to provide us with that opportunity. But by a custom that has developed in recent years, the chief justice of the Washington Supreme Court has been invited to speak to the legislature every other year, on the state of our justice system. We are most grateful for that opportunity.

Relevant to that subject I would like to say a brief word about the court on which I sit, the State Supreme Court. We have, in my view, a very fine court and I am extremely proud of all of my colleagues and am very honored to have been elected by them to serve a second four-year term as chief justice.

I can tell you that all of us on our court are unified in our desire to work with our judicial colleagues around the state to deliver equal and quality justice to all in a system that is administered, in the words of our state constitution, "openly and without unnecessary delay." Our court is currently very experienced. All of us practiced law in this state early in our careers and collectively we have 117 years of judicial service. I am pleased to say also that the relationship between the justices is very collegial. At the same time, though, we are all free thinking individuals who come from a variety of backgrounds. Thus, it is not surprising that we are not unanimous on every issue that comes before us.

Although most of you are somewhat familiar with the veteran members of the Supreme Court, I would like to say a word about our newest member, Justice James Johnson. He was sworn in at a ceremony at our court a mere eight days ago. Justice James Johnson is a native Washingtonian who obtained his B.A. degree from Harvard. He then went on to law school at the University of Washington. Following law school Justice Johnson served a two-year stint as an officer in the United States Army. For the next 20 years he served with distinction as an assistant attorney general of the state of Washington. Since 1993 he has engaged in the private practice of law in Olympia. We welcome Justice James Johnson to our court and look forward to working with him in succeeding years.

Whenever a new person comes to the court it is a happy occasion, but it is always accompanied by a tinge of sadness. That is because when someone new comes on the court that means that a valued colleague has left to create an opening. So as delighted as we are to welcome Justice James Johnson, we will still miss our friend, Justice Faith Ireland, at our conference table. I have asked Justice Ireland to be here today and I would like her to stand so that you can join me in thanking her for her twenty-plus years of devoted service to the people of the state of Washington, as a superior court judge, Supreme Court justice, and nationally recognized leader in the area of judicial education-Justice Ireland.

Let me now, in my capacity as chief justice, speak to you more directly about the state of Washington's justice system. I can tell you right up front that the judicial branch of government is managing to keep its head above water, despite the many and increasing demands that have been placed upon it. This would not be true, of course, without the hard work and ingenuity of the many judicial officers of this state as well as the splendid employees of the judicial branch, including the excellent county clerks in each of our counties. I can honestly say that in my 32 years as a judge in this state, the judiciary has never been more skilled and hard working than it is right now.

I can't begin to convey to you the depth of my admiration for the outstanding work of the 208 full- and part-time judges of our district and municipal courts who hold forth in the towns, cities, and counties of our state and who manage caseloads made heavy with over two million new filings each year. Our state's 179 superior court judges are equally as dedicated and energetic, managing to stay on top of caseloads that are enriched each year by approximately a quarter million new filings. Collectively, our two levels of trial court entertain approximately one case filing for every 2.5 citizens each year-cases that run the gamut from a dispute over a parking or speeding citation to cases where the charge is aggravated murder in the first degree. On the civil side, they entertain small claims to cases that involve millions and, in some cases, billions of dollars and significant public issues.

I am also very proud of our appellate courts. I have already made reference to the court on which I sit, the Supreme Court. Let me say a word about our State Court of Appeals, which sits in divisions that are located in Seattle, Spokane, and Tacoma. This is a workhorse court which doesn't get near the credit that it deserves. Unlike the Supreme Court, it is without discretion to decline an appeal and it must take on all cases that are ripe for review. In 2004, that court managed to maintain its tradition of staying current despite an influx of approximately 4,400 appeals, personal restraint petitions, and other petitions.

I wish I could have invited every judicial officer in the state to be here today, but, as you can tell from my remarks, they have plenty of work to do at home. I did, though, ask a few judges to be here to represent all of our state's judges-allow me to introduce them to you. Representing the district and municipal court judges of our state is Judge Eileen Kato, of the King County District Court. Judge Kato is a very fine judge and is president of the District and Municipal Court Judges' Association. Judge Kato. Representing the superior courts, we have the very able Leonard Costello, president of the Superior Court Judges' Association. Judge Costello is a judge of the Kitsap County Superior Court. Judge Costello. Representing the 22 judges of our Court of Appeals, we have a veteran judge, Ken Kato of Division Three in Spokane. Judge Kato is standing in for Judge Elaine Houghton of Division Two in Tacoma, who is the chief presiding judge of the entire Court of Appeals. Judge Kato.

In past addresses to you, I have taken a few minutes to describe some of the really positive things that have taken place in the judicial branch over the last couple of years. I'm not going to do that today, not because there isn't much to talk about-there is. I could tell you, for instance, about court rules we have adopted to make our courts even more open to cameras and broadcast equipment and our court records more accessible to the public by electronic means. I could tell you also about the great work that some of our trial courts are doing, often on a shoestring, in developing and maintaining Unified Family Courts, and problem solving courts like drug courts and mental health courts. I could go on and on but I'm passing up that opportunity because I want to spend the remainder of my time talking to you about a serious problem that Washington's trial courts face, a problem that seriously inhibits the ability of those courts to deliver timely and quality justice to all of the persons who come before them-a problem that truly places justice in Washington in jeopardy.

The problem I am speaking about, in a nutshell, is the way we fund our trial courts and the extent to which we fund them. And, by the way, when I speak of trial courts I am talking about our superior courts, trial courts of general jurisdiction, and our district and municipal courts, trial courts of limited jurisdiction. There is, as you know, one or more superior court and district court in every county in our state and a municipal court in many, if not most, of our cities and towns.

As you probably know, since statehood our trial courts have largely been funded by local government, the counties and cities. Frankly, this funding mechanism worked well in the early days when courts had much less business and local government had fewer obligations. But as the work of courts has grown dramatically and counties have, at the same time, experienced greater budget challenges, the budgets of our state's trial courts have suffered-in some places more than others. While time does not permit me to recite at length all of the ill effects of this inadequate funding, I can tell you that some of our trial courts are no longer able to provide probation services, and many, if not most, are unable to offer programs that have proven effective elsewhere like adult and juvenile drug courts, mental health courts, and unified family courts. Furthermore, too many of our trial court jurisdictions are experiencing crowded court dockets which frequently results in the postponement of trials, particularly civil trials. In three of our four largest counties, the time to trial in civil cases is over twelve months. That, ladies and gentlemen, is too long for people to wait to have their disputes resolved. This may seem trivial, but I have to tell you that the funding situation has become so bad in many counties, including our largest and wealthiest county, King, that our trial courts do not have sufficient funds to even provide box lunches for jurors when the jury is deliberating on its verdict. This means that trial judges have to permit sequestered jurors to separate at mealtimes and then return to the jury room after they have obtained a meal at their own expense.

Now our trial judges have obviously known of the problems that they face in their own jurisdictions, but the scope of the problem statewide was not fully catalogued. Consequently, the judiciary of the state determined in 2002 that a comprehensive analysis of the way our state's trial courts are funded and the sufficiency of that funding should be carried out. To conduct the study the Board for Judicial Administration, which is made up of the leadership of all four court levels in Washington, created a broad based task force. It consisted not only of judges and court administrators, but others with an interest in our state's justice system. The task force included seven members of the legislature: Senators Adam Kline, Steve Johnson, Mike Hewitt, and Jim Kastama, and Representatives Pat Lantz, Lois McMahon and Ruth Kagi. We thank all of them for their service. The task force was chaired by a very distinguished attorney from Seattle, Wayne Blair, who is a past president of the Washington State Bar Association. Mr. Blair is here today and I would like him to stand and be recognized for the leadership he provided as chair of the task force. Mr. Blair. The task force was charged with focusing on trial court funding, both the structure of the funding and the amount necessary to adequately fund the trial courts and ensure long-term funding stability.

The task force completed its work in October 2004 when it issued its final report and executive summary-you have all been furnished with a copy of the report and you will receive the executive summary this week. While time will not permit me to summarize the report in great detail, I can tell you that the task force came to the conclusion, rather rapidly, that the way Washington's trial courts are funded is not very sound. As I have already indicated, these courts are largely locally funded with little financial support coming from state government. Because of a provision in the state constitution, the State is required to pay one-half of the salary of each superior court judge, but that is about it in the way of state funding. Currently Washington is 50th out of 50 states in terms of the percentage of state support for its trial courts if you include the cost of criminal prosecution and public defense.

A core finding of the task force is that there must be a rebalancing of responsibility for the funding of trial courts so that the state government, as opposed to local government, contributes in a more equitable way to the operations of the superior courts and the district and municipal courts. The report does not suggest, nor should it, that state government take over the entire responsibility for funding our trial courts, as our neighboring states of Oregon and California have done. Our state's populist traditions and a belief that government that is closest to the people is the best government, continues to suggest that counties and cities should share the cost of operating the trial courts within their jurisdiction. But it is also clear from the report that the state government should be contributing more toward the operations of its trial courts. I emphasize the words "its trial courts" because clearly the superior court is a state court, its judges being state elected officials with statewide jurisdiction. Our district courts, unlike the old justice of the peace courts, are also state courts. I am comfortable saying that because the legislature created these courts, you establish their number and location and their responsibilities and jurisdiction have been substantially increased in recent years.

The Board for Judicial Administration, after being presented with the task force report, spent considerable time reviewing its findings and recommendations. Eventually it developed a proposal for this, the 59th Legislature, to consider. Let me be clear—we understand that there are no quick fixes to the problems we see as a consequence of inadequate and unreliable funding for our trial courts. For over one hundred years, ever since statehood, our trial courts have been funded almost exclusively by local government and we know that this will not change overnight or even in one or two legislative sessions. It will take a long-term commitment from the judiciary and the legislature to rebalance the funding. We believe, though, that what we are proposing to you in this session is a reasonable first step.

Our first recommendations to you are in the area of trial court operations. We propose that state government undertake payment of one-half of the salary of our district court judges and elected municipal court judges. This would be consistent with what the state now provides for superior court judges and would be an important recognition of the increased stature of our important courts of limited jurisdiction which exist in every county of our state.

The other request in the area of trial court operations is that the State assume one-half of the costs for jurors. By that I mean one-half of the daily juror fee and mileage costs. I am sure you would agree with me that the right to trial by jury is one of the most sacred rights citizens of this nation possess. It is also a right that is guaranteed in civil and criminal cases by our state constitution. It seems only appropriate that the State should bear one-half of these costs that are now borne by counties and cities alone. In connection with this request, we are recommending that the minimum daily fee for jurors be increased from the present $10 to between $30 and $45 for the second or subsequent day of jury service. As I indicated in my first state of the judiciary address four years ago, the present minimum daily fee of $10, which was set in 1959, is woefully inadequate and, frankly, an embarrassment—it is not sufficient to reimburse jurors for the costs of parking in our larger cities, much less other out of pocket costs for things like child care that may be necessary. The argument I made four years ago for an increase in that fee is even more compelling today.

Now you may be asking yourself this question: if the State simply picks up costs already being borne by local government, how does that benefit our trial courts and allow them to deal with the problems caused by insufficient funding that have been identified in the task force report? That is a good question and one that is answered by our recommendation that one-half of the savings that counties realize as a consequence of the State's assumption of a portion of district court salaries and jury costs be set aside in local trial court improvement accounts. Decisions regarding expenditures from these accounts should be left to the sound discretion of the legislative body of the local government and should be available only for improvements to trial court operations.

The next proposal we make to you is not in the area of trial court operations. It is in the important area of public defense in criminal cases. Although the provision of public defense is, technically, a function of the executive branch, it is our trial courts that are in the best position to observe the work of our public defenders and, ultimately, it is courts that must determine if the state is meeting its constitutional obligation to provide effective counsel to indigent defendants in criminal cases. Unfortunately, our public defender systems in this state are not in good shape—I wish I could say otherwise, but I can't. Because almost the entire financial responsibility for providing counsel is being borne by local government, we have a situation where no two defender systems in Washington are the same. The result is that we have a crazy quilt of systems. Although the systems in some counties are better than in others, the most common feature that these systems share is public defender caseloads that are too large, a lack of training, improper supervision for public defenders, and, almost always, a lack of adequate support services. The system, in other words, is broken and in crisis. What I am saying to you is borne out by the findings of the Washington State Bar Association's Blue Ribbon Panel on Public Defense and the investigative series that was recently carried in the Seattle Times. That series of articles showed that while many dedicated persons work in our public defender offices, in too many of our jurisdictions defendants are poorly served by the system.

Without assistance from the State, our cash strapped counties and cities are unable to correct the problems that have been identified in the bar study and the Times' articles. That is why we are recommending to the legislature that the State invest $12,500,000 in the state's public defender systems in each year of the coming biennium. This money, we propose, should be distributed to the counties and cities on a formula, based largely on population and criminal filings. We recommend, though, that funding in the second year be contingent upon a showing by the jurisdiction that progress has been made in improving their system consistent with the long-ignored standards for public defense service that counties have been directed to develop pursuant to legislation passed by this body in 1989.

One might well ask at this point, why with all of the meritorious requests that are made to the legislature for funding should we be concerned about providing counsel to indigent defendants in criminal cases, when many of them will be found guilty of the crime with which they are charged or some lesser offense? The short answer is that the constitution we are all sworn to uphold guarantees the effective assistance of counsel to each defendant who is charged with a crime that carries with it a potential loss of liberty, regardless of the defendant's financial circumstances. Long before the famous United States Supreme Court case of Gideon v. Wainwright made that right binding on all of the states, as a matter of constitutional law, the legislature of this state recognized that responsibility. The year was 1909 when the 11th Legislature passed a statute, which said: Whenever a defendant shall be charged with a felony and "shall request the court to appoint counsel to assist in his defense" because "he is unable by reason of poverty to procure counsel, the court shall appoint counsel" to be paid at public expense.

Finally, we are also recommending to you that the state government phase in full funding of the cost of attorneys for the parents of children in termination proceedings. As you know, this legislature previously funded a four-year pilot project in which the State did ensure payment of these costs in the three pilot counties. This project has been immensely successful in moving these kinds of cases through the system more expeditiously than elsewhere and it has resulted in reducing the amount of time that the children, who are the subjects of these actions, spend in foster care. We also recommend that the State continue its efforts to improve the level of funding for civil legal services, consistent with the recommendations of the civil legal needs study that were approved by the Supreme Court's Task Force on Civil Equal Justice.

We recognize that what we are proposing will cost real money that the State is not now paying out. I wish, therefore, that we as judges could bring some money to the table so to speak. But, alas, as the judicial branch, we do not have the power to generate additional revenue. We do, however, collect a wide variety of fees at our trial courts. We believe that those fees, which have not been increased for some time, should be increased across the board and that other fees should be imposed for some services for which no fee is now imposed. If our recommendation in this regard is adopted by you, it will generate a substantial sum of money for the State that could assist in underwriting the costs of what we have proposed. We make this recommendation with a degree of reluctance because any increase in fees can, if it is too great, inhibit access to justice. We don't want to do that and we are satisfied that the increases we are proposing will not have that effect.

Let me close by saying that we know that this legislature will receive a myriad of requests to increase funding for a variety of governmental functions—for our common schools and universities, for public employee salaries, for corrections and for public assistance, and on and on. All of these proponents, I am sure, will have a legitimate case to make. I don't mean to tell you how to sort out all of these competing requests, other than to say that the provision of justice, on both the criminal and civil side, is a core function of government that should be adequately supported by all taxpayers, not just users of the system. The first building that was built on this campus, courtesy of a long ago appropriation from the legislature, was called the Temple of Justice and the first building that every county built after this state was organized was a county courthouse. This reflects the fact that provision of justice has been and always will be a priority for Washingtonians. In order for our state's judiciary to continue to provide the quality of justice that our citizens expect us to provide, we must make the recommendations I have outlined. We hope you will give these reasonable requests favorable consideration. Thank you for listening to me so courteously and for inviting me to present this address."

The President asked the special committee to escort Chief Justice Alexander from the Rostrum.

The President asked the special committee to escort the Governor from the Rostrum.

The President asked the special committee to escort the statewide elected officials from the Chamber.

The President asked the special committee to escort the Supreme Court Justices from the Chamber.

MOTION

On motion of Representative Kessler, the Joint Session was dissolved.

The President thanked the Speaker (Representative Lovick presiding) and members of the House for their hospitality, and returned the gavel to him.

The Speaker (Representative Lovick presiding) asked the Sergeant at Arms of the House and the Sergeant at Arms of the Senate to escort President of the Senate Owen, President Pro Tempore Franklin, Majority Leader Brown, Minority Leader Finkbeiner and members of the Senate from the Chamber.

There being no objection, the House advanced to the eleventh order of business.

MOTION

On motion of Representative Kessler, the House adjourned until 10:00 a.m., January 18, 2005, the 9th Day of the Regular Session.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

NINTH DAY, JANUARY 18, 2005

TENTH DAY

House Chamber, Olympia, Wednesday, January 19, 2005

The House was called to order at 10:00 a.m. by the Speaker (Representative Morris presiding). The Clerk called the roll and a quorum was present.

The flag was escorted to the rostrum by a Sergeant at Arms Color Guard, Pages Addie Provenzano and Jacob Alexander. The Speaker (Representative Morris presiding) led the Chamber in the Pledge of Allegiance. Prayer was offered by Pastor Anna Joy Grace, Unity Church of Olympia.

Reading of the Journal of the previous day was dispensed with and it was ordered to stand approved.

MESSAGES FROM THE SECRETARY OF STATE

Mr. Speaker:

We herewith respectfully transmit for your consideration a copy of Initiative to the Legislature Number 330, originally filed with this office on June 17, 2004. On December 28, 2004, the sponsor of the proposed initiative filed 18,854 petition sheets in support of the measure. We have completed our preliminary canvass of these petition sheets and have determined that they contain 319,169 signatures.

Accordingly, pursuant to the provisions of Article II, section 1 of the State Constitution, we are provisionally certifying Initiative to the Legislature Number 330 to you at this time. We expect to complete verification of signatures no later than February 4, 2005 and we will provide the Legislature with a final certification as soon as possible thereafter.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have set my hand and affixed the Seal of the State of Washington, this 18th day of January, 2005.

SAM REED
Secretary of State

Mr. Speaker:

We herewith respectfully transmit for your consideration a copy of Initiative to the Legislature Number 336, originally filed with this office on August 30, 2004. On December 30, 2004, the sponsor of the proposed initiative filed 17,609 petition sheets in support of the measure. We have completed our preliminary canvass of these petition sheets and have determined that they contain 300,776 signatures.

Accordingly, pursuant to the provisions of Article II, section 1 of the State Constitution, we are provisionally certifying Initiative to the Legislature Number 336 to you at this time. We expect to complete verification of signatures no later than February 4, 2005 and we will provide the Legislature with a final certification as soon as possible thereafter.

RESOLUTION

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 2005-4603, By Representatives Fromhold, Chopp, Williams, Conway, Dickerson, Green, Darneille, Ericks, P. Sullivan, Wallace, Moeller, Murray, Appleton, Sommers, McIntire, Pettigrew, McCoy, Cody, Quall, Eickmeyer, Grant, Linville, Hunt, Miloscia, Hasegawa, Ormsby, Lovick, B. Sullivan and Schual-Berke

WHEREAS, Vancouver, Washington, is highly honored as one of only six cities in the nation selected to host regional celebrations this year commemorating the sixtieth anniversary of the end of World War II; and

WHEREAS, Our city of Vancouver will join Boston, Chicago, San Antonio, San Diego, and Tampa in hosting special observances to salute the six decades that have passed since World War II ended; and

WHEREAS, On May 8th of this year, we will remember V-E Day, 1945--the official end of the war in Europe; and

WHEREAS, On August 15th of this year, we will remember V-J Day, 1945--the official end of the war in the Pacific; and

WHEREAS, As one of its 2005 Celebrate Freedom programs, the Vancouver National Historic Reserve for the four days of August 25th through 28th will host and manage what will be the nation's largest World War II commemoration; and

WHEREAS, Cohosting the commemoration will be the National Park Service and the City of Vancouver; and

WHEREAS, In addition to honoring veterans of World War II, our Pacific Northwest commemoration will also praise men and women who served overseas or on the home front during the Korean War, the Vietnam War, or the military action in the Middle East; and

WHEREAS, The Vancouver National Historic Reserve helps superintend our region's impressive military history, which includes the earliest United States Army presence here in the Pacific Northwest, dating back one hundred fifty-six years; and

WHEREAS, Vancouver was at least a temporary hometown for more than 40,000 people during World War II when they came to our region to build aircraft carriers and cargo vessels at the Kaiser Shipyards; and

WHEREAS, Vancouver's own Pearson Field got off the ground one hundred years ago and is now the oldest continuously operating airfield in the country; and

WHEREAS, A key mission of the World War II commemorations in Vancouver and other honored cities is to educate today's younger Americans about the sacrifices made by their parents, grandparents, great-grandparents, and other citizens; and

WHEREAS, Lt. Col. Bob Hagen, Department of Defense Coordinator for our Northwest commemoration of the sixtieth anniversary of the end of World War II, emphasizes that this special celebration of "the Greatest Generation" will help make sure the men and women of the World War II era "know that a grateful nation continues to remember their service and sacrifices through the years"; and

WHEREAS, People who were born or came of age in the years since the World War II era can only imagine the elation that flooded military personnel and civilians in the United States and the other allied nations sixty years ago;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the House of Representatives of the State of Washington salutes the dedication of citizens, organizations, and communities involved in this commemoration of the 60th anniversary of the end of World War II; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That copies of this resolution be immediately transmitted by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives to the Vancouver National Historic Reserve, the National Park Service, and the City of Vancouver.

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 4603 was adopted.

WHEREAS, Nearly eight thousand eight hundred men and women of the Washington National Guard comprised of Air National Guard and Army National Guard continue to serve the country as guardians of American interests at home and abroad; and

WHEREAS, These recognized leaders in state, regional, and national preparedness who reside in every legislative district throughout Washington volunteer their time and personal efforts to serve the needs of the people of Washington state; and

WHEREAS, The Washington National Guard continues to answer the state's call in response to fire fighting, flood relief support, and other emergency efforts threatening public and private lands, and in protecting lives in both civil and natural disasters; and

WHEREAS, The Washington National Guard continues its promotion of positive lifestyles and activities for Washington's youth through involvement and support in highly effective drug prevention programs with school-aged children and community-based organizations; and

WHEREAS, The Washington National Guard continues an active participation in the state's counter-drug efforts by providing soldiers, airmen, and specialized equipment in support of seventy local, state, and federal law enforcement agencies; and

WHEREAS, The Washington National Guard adds value to communities by providing armories for public use that includes important community outreach programs and youth activities. The Washington National Guard continues to build upon these readiness centers/armories throughout the state to enhance education, add to quality of life, and increase economic vitality; and

WHEREAS, A majority of the major units and members of the Washington National Guard continue their federal active duty service in support of Operations Noble Eagle, Enduring Freedom, and Iraqi Freedom, conducting critical missions supporting the nation in the war on terrorism with dedication, valor, and courage, and at great personal risk and sacrifice; and

WHEREAS, Particular honor and reverence are due the memory of those Washington Guardsmen who paid the full measure of sacrifice, laying down their lives in the battle for freedom and liberty; and

WHEREAS, The families of guardsmen and women called to active duty are continuing their lives in support of their loved ones, with great hardship and challenge;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Washington State House of Representatives express its thanks and appreciation to the devoted families and dedicated employers of our Washington National Guard soldiers and airmen for their support without which the Washington National Guard's missions could not be successful; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the Washington State House of Representatives recognize the value and dedication of a strong Washington National Guard to the viability, economy, safety, security, and well-being of this state, both through the outstanding performance of its state emergency and disaster relief mission, and through the continued benefit to local communities by the presence of productively employed, drug-free, and well-equipped and trained Guard units and the readiness center/armories that house them; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That copies of this resolution be immediately transmitted by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives to The Adjutant General of the Washington National Guard, the Governor, the Secretaries of the Army and Air Force, and the President of the United States.

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 2005-4610, By Representatives Sommers, Hankins, Grant, Hunt, Ahern, Alexander, Anderson, Appleton, Armstrong, Bailey, Blake, Buck, Buri, Campbell, Chandler, Chase, Chopp, Clements, Clibborn, Cody, Condotta, Conway, Cox, Crouse, Curtis, Darneille, DeBolt, Dickerson, Dunn, Dunshee, Eickmeyer, Ericks, Ericksen, Flannigan, Fromhold, Green, Haigh, Haler, Hasegawa, Hinkle, Holmquist, Hudgins, Hunter, Jarrett, Kagi, Kenney, Kessler, Kilmer, Kirby, Kretz, Kristiansen, Lantz, Linville, Lovick, McCoy, McCune, McDermott, McDonald, McIntire, Miloscia, Moeller, Morrell, Morris, Murray, Newhouse, Nixon, O'Brien, Orcutt, Ormsby, Pearson, Pettigrew, Priest, Quall, Roach, Roberts, Rodne, Santos, Schindler, Schual-Berke, Sells, Serben, Shabro, Simpson, Skinner, Springer, Strow, B. Sullivan, P. Sullivan, Sump, Takko, Talcott, Tom, Upthegrove, Wallace, Walsh, Williams, Wood and Woods

WHEREAS, Dee R. Hooper started working for the State of Washington as an engineering aide with the Department of General Administration in December of 1962; and Dee Hooper was project manager for the 1976 Legislative Building Structural and Earthquake Repairs; and

WHEREAS, Dee Hooper was the first person to be selected to serve the House of Representatives and Senate jointly in the capacity of legislative facilities director; and

WHEREAS, In that capacity, Dee Hooper created a unique system for the planning, coordination, and completion of all House and Senate construction projects, including remodel of the House Office Building hearing rooms and member offices, the John A. Cherberg Office Building hearing rooms, the Institutions Building, the refurbishing of the media houses, and the painting of the Legislative Building for the state's centennial; and

WHEREAS, Dee Hooper has been an integral part of the remodel or refurbish planning for the Pritchard Library, the Mod 1 and Mod 2 buildings, the Newhouse Building member offices, the John A. Cherberg Office Building member offices, the John O'Brien Office Building hearing room upgrades, and the Legislative Building Rehabilitation Project; and

WHEREAS, Throughout the decades of projects, Dee has maintained an archive of architectural and contractor-related documents related to each and every project and has become the historian emeritus of such precious documents not available anywhere else; and

WHEREAS, The House of Representatives and Senate have relied on Dee Hooper to act with integrity and diligence on their behalf with contractors, vendors, historical preservationists, architects, artisans, and agencies; and

WHEREAS, While maintaining a Herculean Legislative work schedule, Dee Hooper has also been an integral part of the Inaugural Ball planning committees for the last nine inaugurations; and

WHEREAS, Dee Hooper served as host state and staff coordinator for the national conventions of the Council on State Governments in 1978, the National Conference of State Legislatures in 1985, and the American Legislative Exchange Council in 1991; and

WHEREAS, In the face of severe damage from the 2001 Nisqually earthquake, the state and its legislature chose not just to repair the damage but to invest 118 million dollars to update the building to serve the societal and technical requirements that accompany our entry into a new century; and

WHEREAS, The Legislative Building is a majestic structure of granite, sandstone, and marble, crowned with a 278-foot marble dome, one of the 10 grandest in the world; and

WHEREAS, Dee Hooper delayed his retirement in order to be an integral part of the renovation of the Legislative Building, a building he loves so very much, devoting countless hours of time, including evenings, weekends, and holidays, to ensure that the monumental task was completed in the allotted two and one-half years; and

WHEREAS, Under Dee Hooper's leadership, over 7,000 pieces of furniture and 3,000 boxes were moved out of and back into the Legislative Building, and over 325 work stations were relocated, all coordinated between 15 different interim locations;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That Dee R. Hooper be acknowledged for his superior contributions to the grace and dignity of the Washington State Capitol Campus, the same grace and dignity he brought to work each day; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That Dee Hooper be congratulated on his retirement from over four decades of public service, and in pursuing future endeavors he is wished the very best.

Representative Sommers moved the adoption of the resolution.

Representatives Sommers and Hankins spoke in favor of the adoption of the resolution.

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 4610 was adopted.

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 2005-4609, by Representatives Takko, Springer, Santos, Ericks, Haigh, Chase, P. Sullivan, Ahern, Alexander, Anderson, Appleton, Armstrong, Bailey, Blake, Buck, Buri, Campbell, Chandler, Chopp, Clements, Clibborn, Cody, Condotta, Conway, Cox, Crouse, Curtis, Darneille, DeBolt, Dickerson, Dunn, Dunshee, Eickmeyer, Ericksen, Flannigan, Fromhold, Grant, Green, Haler, Hankins, Hasegawa, Hinkle, Holmquist, Hudgins, Hunt, Hunter, Jarrett, Kagi, Kenney, Kessler, Kilmer, Kirby, Kretz, Kristiansen, Lantz, Linville, Lovick, McCoy, McCune, McDermott, McDonald, McIntire, Miloscia, Moeller, Morrell, Morris, Murray, Newhouse, Nixon, O'Brien, Orcutt, Ormsby, Pearson, Pettigrew, Priest, Quall, Roach, Roberts, Rodne, Schindler, Schual-Berke, Sells, Serben, Shabro, Simpson, Skinner, Sommers, Strow, B. Sullivan, Sump, Talcott, Tom, Upthegrove, Wallace, Walsh, Williams, Wood and Woods

WHEREAS, On December 26, 2004, one of the most devastating natural disasters in recent history brought modern civilization to its knees and unspeakable grief to our hearts; and

WHEREAS, An earthquake, 9.0 in magnitude, centered underwater off the coast of the Indonesian island of Sumatra, triggered a tsunami that traveled at speeds of up to 500 miles per hour and 40 feet in height, devastating the coastal areas of Indonesia, Sri Lanka, India, Thailand, Malaysia, and the Maldives; and

WHEREAS, The disaster was felt as far away as Somalia, where nine people died; and

WHEREAS, An estimated 212,611 people lost their lives, including 18 Americans, and 6,245 people are still missing, including 17 Americans presumed dead; and

WHEREAS, Governments, corporations, relief agencies, and individuals worldwide have come together to pledge more than $5 billion to the relief and recovery effort; and

WHEREAS, UNICEF, Save The Children, and the Red Cross are international organizations that provide medical and basic need disaster relief services to underdeveloped and disaster-stricken regions; and

WHEREAS, More than 1 million children were orphaned, displaced, injured, or otherwise affected by the disaster and UNICEF has deemed these children the "Tsunami Generation"; and

WHEREAS, Children are among the most vulnerable in this disaster; many have been orphaned or separated from their parents, making them susceptible to exploitation, abuse, or criminal trafficking, making current efforts by UNICEF and Save The Children to register, support, and keep such children safe of paramount importance; and

WHEREAS, We also recognize Save The Children for its ongoing relief efforts setting up temporary camps and providing water, food, shelter, medicine, and protection from disease to both children and adults who were victimized by the tsunami; and

WHEREAS, Recognizing the need to reopen schools in South Asia and reestablish a daily routine for children, Education International established a tsunami relief program to provide assistance directly to teachers, students, and schools in the affected areas, which allowed schools in Sri Lanka to reopen January 10th;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Washington State House of Representatives honor and support the Red Cross, Save The Children, and UNICEF for their work to aid the victims of the tsunami and to protect the "Tsunami Generation" from further trauma; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That copies of this resolution be immediately transmitted by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives to Washington state chapters of the Red Cross, UNICEF, and Save The Children.

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 4609 was adopted.

The Speaker assumed the chair.

HOUSE BILL NO. 1064, By Representatives Miloscia, Nixon, Haigh, Shabro, Green, Hunt, Priest, Linville, Armstrong, Simpson, Bailey, Kenney, Haler, Springer, Chase, Quall, Murray, Wallace, McDermott, Upthegrove, Kilmer, Moeller, Kessler, Appleton, Williams, McCoy, Blake, Dickerson, Conway, Tom, P. Sullivan, Kagi, Morris, Wood, McIntire, Lantz, Hudgins, Ericks, Darneille, Clibborn, Morrell, Takko, O'Brien, Ormsby, McDonald and B. Sullivan

Improving government performance and accountability.

The bill was read the second time. There being no objection, Substitute House Bill No. 1064 was substituted for House Bill No. 1064 and the substitute bill was placed on the second reading calendar.

SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1064 was read the second time.

With the consent of the House, amendment (006) was withdrawn.

Representative Haigh moved the adoption of amendment (007):

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that:

- (1) Citizens demand and deserve accountability of public programs. Public programs must continuously improve in quality, efficiency, and effectiveness in order to increase public trust;
- (2) Washington state government and other entities that receive tax dollars must continuously improve the way they operate and deliver services so citizens receive maximum value for their tax dollars;
- (3) An independent citizen advisory board is necessary to ensure that government services, customer satisfaction, program efficiency, and management systems are world class in performance; and
- (4) Fair, independent, professional performance audits of state agencies by the state auditor are essential to improving the efficiency and effectiveness of government.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 43.09 RCW to read as follows:

For purposes of sections 3 through 8 of this act:

- (1) "Board" means the citizen advisory board created in section 3 of this act.
- (2) "Draft work plan" means the work plan for conducting performance audits of state agencies proposed by the board and state auditor after the statewide performance review.
- (3) "Final performance audit report" means a written document jointly released by the citizen advisory board and the state auditor that includes the findings and comments from the preliminary performance audit report.
- (4) "Final work plan" means the work plan for conducting performance audits of state agencies adopted by the board and state auditor.
- (5) "Performance audit" means an objective and systematic assessment of a state agency or any of its programs, functions, or activities by an independent evaluator in order to help public officials improve efficiency, effectiveness, and accountability. Performance audits include economy and efficiency audits and program audits.
- (6) "Preliminary performance audit report" means a written document prepared after the completion of a performance audit to be submitted for comment before the final performance audit report. The preliminary performance audit report must contain the audit findings and any proposed recommendations to improve the efficiency, effectiveness, or accountability of the state agency being audited.
- (7) "State agency" or "agency" means a state agency, department, office, officer, board, commission, bureau, division, institution, or institution of higher education. "State agency" includes all offices of executive branch state government elected officials.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 43.09 RCW to read as follows:

- (1) The citizen advisory board is created to improve efficiency, effectiveness, and accountability in state government.
- (2) The board shall consist of ten members as follows:
 - (a) One member shall be the state auditor, who shall be a nonvoting member;
 - (b) One member shall be the legislative auditor, who shall be a nonvoting member;
 - (c) One member shall be the director of the office of financial management, who shall be a nonvoting member;
 - (d) Four of the members shall be selected by the governor as follows: Each major caucus of the house of representatives and the senate shall submit a list of three names. The lists may not include the names of members of the legislature or employees of the state. The governor shall select a person from each list provided by each caucus; and
 - (e) The governor shall select three citizen members who are not state employees.
- (3) The board shall elect a chair. The legislative auditor, the state auditor, and the director of the office of financial management may not serve as chair.
- (4) Appointees shall be individuals who have a basic understanding of state government operations with knowledge and expertise in performance management, quality management, strategic planning, performance assessments, or closely related fields.
- (5) Members selected under subsection (2)(d) and (e) of this section shall serve for terms of four years, with the terms expiring on June 30th on the fourth year of the term. However, in the case of the initial members, two members shall serve four-year terms, two members shall serve three-year terms, and one member shall serve a two-year term, with each of the terms expiring on June 30th of the applicable year. Appointees may be reappointed to serve more than one term.
- (6) The joint legislative audit and review committee shall provide clerical, technical, and management personnel to the board to serve as the board's staff.
- (7) The board shall meet at least once a quarter and may hold additional meetings at the call of the chair or by a majority vote of the members of the board.
- (8) The members of the board shall be compensated in accordance with RCW 43.03.220 and reimbursed for travel expenses in accordance with RCW 43.03.050 and 43.03.060.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. A new section is added to chapter 43.09 RCW to read as follows:

The board shall establish an annual assessment and performance grading program. The program shall consist of conducting annual performance assessments and grading state agency performance. Assessments shall be implemented on a phased-in schedule. Initial areas to be assessed shall include quality management, productivity and fiscal efficiency, program effectiveness, contract management and oversight, internal audit, internal and external customer satisfaction, statutory and regulatory compliance, and technology systems and on-line services. As part of this program, the board shall:

- (1) Consult with and seek input from elected officials, state employees including frontline employees, and professionals with a background in performance management for establishing the grading standards. In developing the criteria, the board shall consider already developed best practices and audit criteria used by government or nongovernment organizations. Before the assessment, the agencies shall be given the criteria for the assessment and the standards for grading;

(2) Contract or partner with public or private entities that have expertise in public sector reviews and/or technical expertise in individual assessment areas to perform the assessments and grading of all state agencies. The board may contract or partner with more than one entity for different assessment areas; and

(3) Submit the results of the assessment and grading program to the governor, the office of financial management, appropriate legislative committees, and the public by December 15th of each year. The results of the annual assessments and performance grading shall be posted on the internet.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. A new section is added to chapter 43.09 RCW to read as follows:

(1) The board and the state auditor shall work together regarding performance audits of state government.

(a) The board shall establish criteria for performance audits. Agencies shall be audited using criteria that include generally accepted government auditing standards as well as legislative mandates and performance objectives established by state agencies and the legislature. Mandates include, but are not limited to, agency strategies, timelines, program objectives, and mission and goals as required in RCW 43.88.090.

(b) Using the criteria developed in (a) of this subsection, the state auditor shall contract for a statewide performance review to be completed within one year of contracting as a preliminary to a draft work plan for conducting performance audits. The board and the state auditor shall develop a schedule and common methodology for conducting these reviews.

(c) The board and the state auditor shall develop the draft work plan for performance audits based on input from citizens, state employees, including front line employees, state managers, chairs and ranking members of appropriate legislative committees, the joint legislative audit and review committee, public officials, and others. The draft work plan may include a list of agencies, programs, or systems to be audited on a timeline decided by the board and the state auditor based on a number of factors including risk, importance, and citizen concerns. When putting together the draft work plan, there should be consideration of all audits and reports already required. On average, audits shall be designed to be completed within a six-month period.

(d) Before adopting the final work plan, the board shall consult with the legislative auditor and other appropriate oversight and audit entities to coordinate work plans and avoid duplication of effort in their planned performance audits of state government agencies. The board shall defer to the joint legislative audit and review committee work plan if a similar audit is included on both work plans for auditing. The final work plan must be agreed upon by the board and the state auditor.

(e) The state auditor shall contract out for performance audits. In conducting the audits, agency front-line employees and internal auditors should be involved.

(f) All audits must include consideration of reports prepared by other government oversight entities.

(g) The audits may include:

(i) Identification of programs and services that can be eliminated, reduced, consolidated, or enhanced;

(ii) Identification of funding sources to the state agency, to programs, and to services that can be eliminated, reduced, consolidated, or enhanced;

(iii) Analysis of gaps and overlaps in programs and services and recommendations for improving, dropping, blending, or separating functions to correct gaps or overlaps;

(iv) Analysis and recommendations for pooling information technology systems used within the state agency, and evaluation of information processing and telecommunications policy, organization, and management;

(v) Analysis of the roles and functions of the state agency, its programs, and its services and their compliance with statutory authority and recommendations for eliminating or changing those roles and functions and ensuring compliance with statutory authority;

(vi) Recommendations for eliminating or changing statutes, rules, and policy directives as may be necessary to ensure that the agency carry out reasonably and properly those functions vested in the agency by statute;

(vii) Verification of the reliability and validity of agency performance data, self-assessments, and performance measurement systems as required under RCW 43.88.090;

(viii) Identification of potential cost savings in the state agency, its programs, and its services;

(ix) Identification and recognition of best practices;

(x) Evaluation of planning, budgeting, and program evaluation policies and practices;

(xi) Evaluation of personnel systems operation and management;

(xii) Evaluation of state purchasing operations and management policies and practices; and

(xiii) Evaluation of organizational structure and staffing levels, particularly in terms of the ratio of managers and supervisors to nonmanagement personnel.

(h) The state auditor must solicit comments on preliminary performance audit reports from the audited state agency, the office of the governor, the office of financial management, the board, the chairs and ranking members of appropriate legislative committees, and the joint legislative audit and review committee for comment. Comments must be received within thirty days after receipt of the preliminary performance audit report unless a different time period is approved by the state auditor. All comments shall be incorporated into the final performance audit report. The final performance audit report shall include the objectives, scope, and methodology; the audit results, including findings and recommendations; conclusions; and identification of best practices.

(i) The final performance audit reports shall be submitted to the board and the governor by the state auditor. The board and the state auditor shall jointly release final performance audit reports to the citizens of Washington and the appropriate legislative committees. Final performance audit reports shall be posted on the internet.

(j) For institutions of higher education, the board shall consider the reviews and standards of nationally or regionally recognized accreditation organizations, including accreditations of hospitals licensed under RCW 70.41 and ambulatory care facilities.

(2) The citizen board created under RCW 44.75.030 shall be responsible for performance audits for transportation related agencies as defined under RCW 44.75.020.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. A new section is added to chapter 43.09 RCW to read as follows:

If the legislative authority of a local jurisdiction requests a performance audit of programs under its jurisdiction, the state auditor has the discretion to conduct such a review under separate contract and funded by local funds.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. A new section is added to chapter 43.88 RCW to read as follows:

In addition to the authority given the state auditor in RCW 43.88.160(6), the state auditor is authorized to contract for and oversee performance audits pursuant to section 4 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. A new section is added to chapter 43.09 RCW to read as follows:

By June 30, 2007, and each four years thereafter, the joint legislative audit and review committee shall contract with a private entity for a performance audit of the performance audit program established in section 4 of this act and the board's responsibilities under the performance audit program.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. A new section is added to chapter 43.09 RCW to read as follows:

The audited agency is responsible for follow-up and corrective action on all performance audit findings and recommendations. The audited agency's plan for addressing each audit finding and recommendation shall be included in the final audit report. The plan shall provide the name of the contact person responsible for each action, the action planned, and the anticipated completion date. If the audited agency does not agree with the audit findings and recommendations or believes action is not required, then the action plan shall include an explanation and specific reasons.

For agencies under the authority of the governor, the governor may require periodic progress reports from the audited agency until all resolution has occurred.

For agencies under the authority of an elected official other than the governor, the auditor and the board may require periodic reports of the action taken by the audited agency until all resolution has occurred.

The board may request status reports on specific audits or findings.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. A new section is added to chapter 2.56 RCW to read as follows:

The office of the administrator for the courts is encouraged to conduct performance audits of courts under the authority of the supreme court, in conformity with criteria and methods developed by the board for judicial administration that have been approved by the supreme court. In developing criteria and methods for conducting performance audits, the board for judicial administration is encouraged to consider quality improvement programs, audits, and scoring. The judicial branch is encouraged to submit the results of these efforts to the chief justice of the supreme court or his or her designee, and with any other applicable boards or committees established under the authority of the supreme court to oversee government accountability.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. Each biennium the legislature shall appropriate an amount equal to two one-hundredths of one percent of the total general fund state appropriation in that biennium's omnibus operating appropriations act for purposes of the performance review, performance audits, and activities of the board authorized by this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, or support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and takes effect immediately."

Correct the title.

Representative Armstrong moved the adoption of amendment (008) to amendment (007):

On page 1, beginning on line 18 of the amendment, strike all of sections 2 through section 12 and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 43.09 RCW to read as follows:

For purposes of sections 4 through 6 of this act:

- (1) "Board" means the citizen accountability advisory board created in section 4 of this act.
- (2) "Performance audit" means an objective and systematic assessment of a state agency or agencies or any of its programs, functions, or activities by an independent auditor in order to help improve agency efficiency, effectiveness, and accountability. Performance audits include economy and efficiency audits and program audits.
- (3) "State agency" or "agency" means a state agency, department, office, officer, board, commission, bureau, division, institution, or institution of higher education. "State agency" includes all elective offices in the executive branch of state government. This includes state agencies and programs as well as those programs and activities that cross agency lines.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 43.09 RCW to read as follows:

The state auditor is authorized to conduct performance audits under the provisions of this act. The auditor may contract for performance audits as the state auditor may determine.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. A new section is added to chapter 43.09 RCW to read as follows:

- (1) A citizen accountability advisory board is created to provide advice to the state auditor on performance audits of state government.
- (2) The board shall consist of seven members as follows:
 - (a) One member shall be selected by the state auditor;
 - (b) One member shall be selected by the chair of the joint legislative audit and review committee;
 - (c) Four members shall be selected by the governor as follows: Each major caucus of the house of representatives and the senate shall submit a list of three names. The lists may not include the names of members of the legislature. The governor shall select a person from each list provided by each caucus; and
 - (d) One member shall be selected by the governor.
- (3) The board shall elect a chair.
- (4) Appointees shall be individuals who have a basic understanding of state government operations with knowledge and expertise in performance management, quality management, strategic planning, performance assessments, or closely related fields.
- (5) Members shall serve for terms of four years, with the terms expiring on June 30th of the fourth year of the term. However, in the case of the initial members, two members shall serve four-year terms, two members shall serve three-year terms, and one member shall serve a two-year term, with each of the terms expiring on June 30th of the applicable year. Appointees may be reappointed to serve more than one term.
- (6) The state auditor's office shall provide staff assistance to the board.
- (7) The board shall meet at least once a quarter and may hold additional meetings at the call of the chair or by a majority vote of the members of the board. The meetings are subject to the provisions of chapter 42.30 RCW.
- (8) The members of the board shall be compensated in accordance with RCW 43.03.220 and reimbursed for travel expenses in accordance with RCW 43.03.050 and 43.03.060.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. A new section is added to chapter 43.09 RCW to read as follows:

The board shall establish an annual assessment and performance grading program. The program shall consist of conducting annual performance assessments and grading state agency performance. Assessments shall be implemented on a phased-in schedule. Initial areas to be assessed shall include quality management, productivity and fiscal efficiency, program effectiveness, contract management and oversight, internal audit, internal and external customer satisfaction, statutory and regulatory compliance, and technology systems and online services. As part of this program, the board shall:

(1) Consult with and seek input from elected officials, state employees including front-line employees, and professionals with a background in performance management for establishing the grading standards. In developing the criteria, the board shall consider already developed best practices and audit criteria used by government or nongovernment organizations. Before the assessment, the agencies shall be given the criteria for the assessment and the standards for grading;

(2) Contract or partner with public or private entities that have expertise in public sector reviews and/or technical expertise in individual assessment areas to perform the assessments and grading of all state agencies. The board may contract or partner with more than one entity for different assessment areas; and

(3) Submit the results of the assessment and grading program to the governor, the office of financial management, appropriate legislative committees, and the public by December 15th of each year. The results of the annual assessments and performance grading shall be posted on the internet.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. A new section is added to chapter 43.09 RCW to read as follows:

(1) The state auditor shall establish criteria and protocols for performance audits. Agencies shall be audited using criteria that include generally accepted government auditing standards as well as legislative mandates and performance objectives established by state agencies. Mandates include, but are not limited to, agency strategies, timelines, program objectives, and mission and goals as required in RCW 43.88.090.

(2) Using the criteria developed in subsection(1) of this section, the state auditor shall complete a statewide performance review as a preliminary to a work plan for conducting performance audits. The state auditor shall develop a schedule and common methodology for conducting performance audits.

(3) In developing the work plan, the state auditor shall consider input from the board, citizens, state employees, state managers, the joint legislative audit and review committee, public officials, and others. The work plan may include a list of agencies, programs, or systems to be audited on a timeline decided by the state auditor based on a number of factors including risk, importance, and citizen concerns. All audits shall be designed to be completed within a six-month period.

(4) Before adopting the final work plan, the state auditor shall consult with the legislative auditor and other appropriate oversight and audit entities to coordinate work plans and avoid duplication of effort in their planned performance audits of state government. The state auditor shall defer to the joint legislative audit and review committee work plan if a similar audit is included on both work plans for auditing.

(5) In conducting the audits, agency front-line employees and internal auditors should be involved. The audits may include:

- (a) Identification of programs and services that can be eliminated, reduced, consolidated, or enhanced;
- (b) Identification of funding sources to the state agency, to programs, and to services that can be eliminated, reduced, consolidated, or enhanced;
- (c) Analysis of gaps and overlaps in programs and services and recommendations for improving, dropping, blending, or separating functions to correct gaps or overlaps;
- (d) Analysis and recommendations for pooling information technology systems used within the state agency, and evaluation of information processing and telecommunications policy, organization, and management;
- (e) Analysis of the roles and functions of the state agency, its programs, and its services and their compliance with statutory authority and recommendations for eliminating or changing those roles and functions and ensuring compliance with statutory authority;
- (f) Recommendations for eliminating or changing statutes, rules, and policy directives as may be necessary to ensure that the agency carry out reasonably and properly those functions vested in the agency by statute;
- (g) Verification of the reliability and validity of agency performance data, self-assessments, and performance measurement systems as required under RCW 43.88.090;
- (h) Identification of potential cost savings in the state agency, its programs, and its services;
- (i) Identification and recognition of best practices;
- (j) Evaluation of planning, budgeting, and program evaluation policies and practices;
- (k) Evaluation of personnel systems operation and management;
- (l) Evaluation of state purchasing operations and management policies and practices; and
- (m) Evaluation of organizational structure and staffing levels, particularly in terms of the ratio of managers and supervisors to nonmanagement personnel.

(6) The state auditor's performance audit work plan shall be updated at least annually.

(7) The state auditor must provide the preliminary performance audit reports to the audited state agency for comment. The auditor also may seek input on the preliminary report from other appropriate officials. Comments must be received within thirty days after receipt of the preliminary performance audit report unless a different time period is approved by the state auditor. The final performance audit report shall include the objectives, scope, and methodology; the audit results, including findings and recommendations; the agency's response; conclusions; and identification of best practices.

(8) The state auditor shall provide final performance audit reports to the citizens of Washington, the governor, the board, the joint legislative audit and review committee, the appropriate legislative committees, and other appropriate officials. Final performance audit reports shall be posted on the internet.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. A new section is added to chapter 43.88 RCW to read as follows:

The audited agency is responsible for follow-up and corrective action on all performance audit findings and recommendations. The audited agency's plan for addressing each audit finding and recommendation shall be included in the final audit report. The plan shall provide the name of the contact person responsible for each action, the action planned, and the anticipated completion date. If the audited agency does not agree with the audit findings and recommendations or believes action is not required, then the action plan shall include an explanation and specific reasons.

The office of financial management shall require periodic progress reports from the audited agency until all resolution has occurred. The office of financial management is responsible for achieving audit resolution. The office of financial management shall annually report by December 31st the status of performance audit resolution to the appropriate legislative committees and the state auditor. The legislature shall consider the performance audit results in connection with the state budget process. The state auditor may request status reports on specific audits or findings.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. A new section is added to chapter 43.09 RCW to read as follows:

If a local governmental entity requests a performance audit of its activities, the state auditor has the discretion to conduct such a review under separate contract with the auditor and funded by local funds.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. RCW 43.88.160 and 2002 c 260 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

This section sets forth the major fiscal duties and responsibilities of officers and agencies of the executive branch. The regulations issued by the governor pursuant to this chapter shall provide for a comprehensive, orderly basis for fiscal management and control, including efficient accounting and reporting therefor, for the executive branch of the state government and may include, in addition, such requirements as will generally promote more efficient public management in the state.

(1) Governor; director of financial management. The governor, through the director of financial management, shall devise and supervise a modern and complete accounting system for each agency to the end that all revenues, expenditures, receipts, disbursements, resources, and obligations of the state shall be properly and systematically accounted for. The accounting system shall include the development of accurate, timely records and reports of all financial affairs of the state. The system shall also provide for central accounts in the office of financial management at the level of detail deemed necessary by the director to perform central financial management. The director of financial management shall adopt and periodically update an accounting procedures manual. Any agency maintaining its own accounting and reporting system shall comply with the updated accounting procedures manual and the rules of the director adopted under this chapter. An agency may receive a waiver from complying with this requirement if the waiver is approved by the director. Waivers expire at the end of the fiscal biennium for which they are granted. The director shall forward notice of waivers granted to the appropriate legislative fiscal committees. The director of financial management may require such financial, statistical, and other reports as the director deems necessary from all agencies covering any period.

(2) Except as provided in chapter 43.88C RCW, the director of financial management is responsible for quarterly reporting of primary operating budget drivers such as applicable workloads, caseload estimates, and appropriate unit cost data. These reports shall be transmitted to the legislative fiscal committees or by electronic means to the legislative evaluation and accountability program committee. Quarterly reports shall include actual monthly data and the variance between actual and estimated data to date. The reports shall also include estimates of these items for the remainder of the budget period.

(3) The director of financial management shall report at least annually to the appropriate legislative committees regarding the status of all appropriated capital projects, including transportation projects, showing significant cost overruns or under-runs. If funds are shifted from one project to another, the office of financial management shall also reflect this in the annual variance report. Once a project is complete, the report shall provide a final summary showing estimated start and completion dates of each project phase compared to actual dates, estimated costs of each project phase compared to actual costs, and whether or not there are any outstanding liabilities or unsettled claims at the time of completion.

(4) In addition, the director of financial management, as agent of the governor, shall:

(a) Develop and maintain a system of internal controls and internal audits comprising methods and procedures to be adopted by each agency that will safeguard its assets, check the accuracy and reliability of its accounting data, promote operational efficiency, and encourage adherence to prescribed managerial policies for accounting and financial controls. The system developed by the director shall include criteria for determining the scope and comprehensiveness of internal controls required by classes of agencies, depending on the level of resources at risk.

Each agency head or authorized designee shall be assigned the responsibility and authority for establishing and maintaining internal audits following the standards of internal auditing of the institute of internal auditors;

(b) Make surveys and analyses of agencies with the object of determining better methods and increased effectiveness in the use of manpower and materials; and the director shall authorize expenditures for employee training to the end that the state may benefit from training facilities made available to state employees;

(c) Establish policies for allowing the contracting of child care services;

(d) Report to the governor with regard to duplication of effort or lack of coordination among agencies;

(e) Review any pay and classification plans, and changes thereunder, developed by any agency for their fiscal impact: PROVIDED, That none of the provisions of this subsection shall affect merit systems of personnel management now existing or hereafter established by statute relating to the fixing of qualifications requirements for recruitment, appointment, or promotion of employees of any agency. The director shall advise and confer with agencies including appropriate standing committees of the legislature as may be designated by the speaker of the house and the president of the senate regarding the fiscal impact of such plans and may amend or alter the plans, except that for the following agencies no amendment or alteration of the plans may be made without the approval of the agency concerned: Agencies headed by elective officials;

(f) Fix the number and classes of positions or authorized employee years of employment for each agency and during the fiscal period amend the determinations previously fixed by the director except that the director shall not be empowered to fix the number or the classes for the following: Agencies headed by elective officials;

(g) Adopt rules to effectuate provisions contained in (a) through (f) of this subsection.

(5) The treasurer shall:

(a) Receive, keep, and disburse all public funds of the state not expressly required by law to be received, kept, and disbursed by some other persons: PROVIDED, That this subsection shall not apply to those public funds of the institutions of higher learning which are not subject to appropriation;

(b) Receive, disburse, or transfer public funds under the treasurer's supervision or custody;

(c) Keep a correct and current account of all moneys received and disbursed by the treasurer, classified by fund or account;

(d) Coordinate agencies' acceptance and use of credit cards and other payment methods, if the agencies have received authorization under RCW 43.41.180;

(e) Perform such other duties as may be required by law or by regulations issued pursuant to this law.

It shall be unlawful for the treasurer to disburse public funds in the treasury except upon forms or by alternative means duly prescribed by the director of financial management. These forms or alternative means shall provide for authentication and certification by the agency head or the agency head's designee that the services have been rendered or the materials have been furnished; or, in the case of loans or grants, that the loans or grants are authorized by law; or, in the case of payments for periodic maintenance services to be performed on state owned equipment, that a written contract for such periodic maintenance services is currently in effect; and the treasurer shall not be liable under the treasurer's surety bond for erroneous or improper payments so made. When services are lawfully paid for in advance of full performance by any private individual or business entity other than equipment maintenance providers or as provided for by RCW 42.24.035, such individual or entity other than central stores rendering such services shall make a cash deposit or furnish surety bond coverage to the state as shall be fixed in an amount by law, or if not fixed by law, then in such amounts as shall be fixed by the director of the department of general administration but in no case shall such required cash deposit or surety bond be less than an amount which will fully indemnify the state against any and all losses on account of breach of promise to fully perform such services. No payments shall be made in advance for any equipment maintenance services to be performed more than twelve months after such payment. Any such bond so furnished shall be conditioned that the person, firm or corporation receiving the advance payment will apply it toward performance of the contract. The responsibility for recovery of erroneous or improper payments made under this section shall lie with the agency head or the agency head's designee in accordance with regulations issued pursuant to this chapter. Nothing in this section shall be construed to permit a public body to advance funds to a private service provider pursuant to a grant or loan before services have been rendered or material furnished.

(6) The state auditor shall:

(a) Report to the legislature the results of current post audits that have been made of the financial transactions of each agency; to this end the auditor may, in the auditor's discretion, examine the books and accounts of any agency, official, or employee charged with the receipt, custody, or safekeeping of public funds. Where feasible in conducting examinations, the auditor shall utilize data and findings from the internal control system prescribed by the office of financial management. The current post audit of each agency may include a section on recommendations to the legislature as provided in (c) of this subsection.

(b) Give information to the legislature, whenever required, upon any subject relating to the financial affairs of the state.

(c) Make the auditor's official report on or before the thirty-first of December which precedes the meeting of the legislature. The report shall be for the last complete fiscal period and shall include determinations as to whether agencies, in making expenditures, complied with the laws of this state. ~~((The state auditor is authorized to perform or participate in performance verifications and performance audits as expressly authorized by the legislature in the omnibus biennial appropriations acts or in the performance audit work plan approved by the joint legislative audit and review committee. The state auditor, upon completing an audit for legal and financial compliance under chapter 43.09 RCW or a performance verification, may report to the joint legislative audit and review committee or other appropriate committees of the legislature, in a manner prescribed by the joint legislative audit and review committee, on facts relating to the management or performance of governmental programs where such facts are discovered incidental to the legal and financial audit or performance verification. The auditor may make such a report to a legislative committee only if the auditor has determined that the agency has been given an opportunity and has failed to resolve the management or performance issues raised by the auditor. If the auditor makes a report to a legislative committee, the agency may submit to the committee a response to the report. This subsection (6) shall not be construed to authorize the auditor to allocate other than de minimis resources to performance audits except as expressly authorized in the appropriations acts or in the performance audit work plan. The results of a performance audit conducted by the state auditor that has been requested by the joint legislative audit and review committee must only be transmitted to the joint legislative audit and review committee.))~~

(d) Be empowered to take exception to specific expenditures that have been incurred by any agency or to take exception to other practices related in any way to the agency's financial transactions and to cause such exceptions to be made a matter of public record, including disclosure to the agency concerned and to the director of financial management. It shall be the duty of the director of financial management to cause corrective action to be taken within six months, such action to include, as appropriate, the withholding of funds as provided in RCW 43.88.110. The director of financial management shall annually report by December 31st the status of audit resolution to the appropriate committees of the legislature, the state auditor, and the attorney general. The director of financial management shall include in the audit resolution report actions taken as a result of an audit including, but not limited to, types of personnel actions, costs and types of litigation, and value of recouped goods or services.

(e) Promptly report any irregularities to the attorney general.

(f) Investigate improper governmental activity under chapter 42.40 RCW.

(7) The joint legislative audit and review committee may:

(a) Make post audits of the financial transactions of any agency and management surveys and program reviews as provided for in chapter 44.28 RCW as well as performance audits and program evaluations. To this end the joint committee may in its discretion examine the books, accounts, and other records of any agency, official, or employee.

(b) Give information to the legislature or any legislative committee whenever required upon any subject relating to the performance and management of state agencies.

(c) Make a report to the legislature which shall include at least the following:

(i) Determinations as to the extent to which agencies in making expenditures have complied with the will of the legislature and in this connection, may take exception to specific expenditures or financial practices of any agencies; and

(ii) Such plans as it deems expedient for the support of the state's credit, for lessening expenditures, for promoting frugality and economy in agency affairs, and generally for an improved level of fiscal management.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. A new section is added to chapter 41.04 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Each state agency shall, within available funds, develop and implement a quality management program to improve the quality, efficiency, and effectiveness of the public services it provides through business process redesign, employee involvement, and other quality management techniques. Each agency shall ensure that front-line agency employees are engaged in the program and shall provide employees with the training necessary for successful implementation of efforts toward quality improvement.

(2) Each agency shall, within available funds, ensure that its quality management program:

(a) Identifies immediate-term and near-term opportunities to improve services and reduce costs;

(b) Identifies goals and uses strategic business planning and performance measures to establish priorities and measure progress toward meeting them. Each state agency shall develop performance measures to assess customer satisfaction, agency progress toward accomplishing outcomes specified in the agency budget under RCW 43.88.090, and the impact of initiatives instituted under the quality management program as a whole;

(c) Reports the results of its quality management program on a regular basis. Each agency shall ensure that its report specifies improved outcomes for public service and efficiency. Any agency in its report may describe methods of measuring customer and stakeholder satisfaction, of engaging agency employees in the program, and of assessing the extent to which business practices have been changed to improve quality, efficiency, and effectiveness;

(d) Evaluates the results of its quality, service, and management improvement programs and assesses program effects upon leadership, information and analysis, strategic planning, human resource development and management, process improvement, business results, and customer focus and satisfaction; and

(e) Develops a plan for quality improvement, documenting efforts made up to the date of the report and addressing all matters enumerated in this subsection.

(3) State agencies whose chief executives are appointed by the governor shall report program results to the governor on a regular basis. State agencies whose chief executives are elected officials other than the governor shall report program results to the elected official on a regular basis.

(4) Each state agency shall integrate efforts made under this section with quality management programs undertaken under executive order or other authority. The office of the secretary of state, the department of social and health services, and the department of corrections shall develop and implement a complete quality management program by June 30, 2007. The office of insurance commissioner, the department of natural resources, and four-year institutions of higher education shall develop and implement a complete quality management program by June 30, 2008. All other state agencies shall develop and implement a complete quality management program by June 30, 2006.

(5) Starting in 2008 and at least once every three years thereafter, the office of the secretary of state, the department of social and health services, and the department of corrections shall apply for the Washington state quality award, or an equivalent outside quality assessment, for potential recognition. Starting in 2010 and at least once every three years thereafter, the office of insurance commissioner, the department of natural resources, and four-year institutions of higher education, or their subdivisions, or both, shall apply for the Washington state quality award or an equivalent outside quality assessment, for potential recognition. Starting in 2007 and at least once every three years thereafter, all other state agencies or their subdivisions, or both, shall apply for the Washington state quality award or an equivalent outside quality assessment, for potential recognition. Every subdivision of a state agency with three thousand or more full-time equivalent employees must complete an application in each three-year period.

(6) For purposes of this section, "state agency" means those state agencies within the executive branch of government including institutions of higher education.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. A new section is added to chapter 44.04 RCW to read as follows:

The senate and the house of representatives shall each develop and implement quality management programs as described under section 10 of this act by June 30, 2007, and shall report the results of these efforts to the leadership of each major political party caucus within its respective chamber.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. A new section is added to chapter 2.04 RCW to read as follows:

The supreme court is encouraged to develop and implement quality management programs, as described under section 10 of this act, for the judicial branch of government, by June 30, 2007, and shall report the results of these efforts to the chief justice. The programs may be implemented directly by the supreme court or may be delegated to the administrator for the courts.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. A new section is added to chapter 41.04 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Local governments are encouraged to develop and implement quality management programs as described in section 10 of this act.

(2) For purposes of this section, "local government" includes every county, city, town, special district, municipal corporation, and quasimunicipal corporation in the state.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. A new section is added to chapter 43.09 RCW to read as follows:

Funding for these performance audits shall be equal to two one-hundredths of one percent of the state's total general fund state budget for each biennium."

Definitions

Rule 1. "Absent" means an unexcused failure to attend.

"Term" means the two-year term during which the members as a body may act.

"Session" means a constitutional gathering of the house in accordance with Article 2 § 12 of the state Constitution.

"Committee" means any standing, conference, joint, or select committee as so designated by rule or resolution.

"Bill" means bill, joint memorial, joint resolution, or concurrent resolution unless the context indicates otherwise.

Chief Clerk to Call to Order

Rule 2. It shall be the duty of the chief clerk of the previous term to call the house to order and to conduct the proceedings until a speaker is chosen.

Election of Officers

Rule 3. The house shall elect the following officers at the commencement of each term: Its presiding officer, who shall be styled speaker of the house; a speaker pro tempore, who shall serve in absence or in case of the inability of the speaker; and a chief clerk of the house. Such officers shall hold office during all sessions until the convening of the succeeding term: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That any of these offices may be declared vacant by the vote of a constitutional majority of the house, the members voting viva voce and their votes shall be entered on the journal. If any office is declared vacant, the house shall fill such vacant office as hereinafter provided. In all elections by the house a constitutional majority shall be required, the members shall vote viva voce and their votes shall be entered on the journal. (Art. II § 27)

Powers and Duties of the Speaker

Rule 4. The speaker shall have the following powers and duties:

(A) The speaker shall take the chair and call the house to order precisely at the hour appointed for meeting and if a quorum be present, shall cause the journal of the preceding day to be read and shall proceed with the order of business.

(B) The speaker shall preserve order and decorum, and in case of any disturbance or disorderly conduct within the chamber or legislative area, shall order the sergeant at arms to suppress the same and may order the sergeant at arms to remove any person creating any disturbance within the house chamber or legislative area.

(C) The speaker may speak to points of order in preference to other members, arising from the seat for that purpose, and shall decide all questions of order subject to an appeal to the house by any member, on which appeal no member shall speak more than once without leave of the house.

(D) The speaker shall sign all bills in open session. (Art. II § 32)

(E) The speaker shall sign all writs, warrants, and subpoenas issued by order of the house, all of which shall be attested to by the chief clerk.

(F) The speaker shall have the right to name any member to perform the duties of the chair, but such substitution shall neither extend beyond adjournment nor authorize the representative so substituted to sign any documents requiring the signature of the speaker.

(G) The speaker, in open session, shall appoint committee chairs from the majority party of the house and shall appoint members to committees in the same ratio as the membership of the respective parties of the house, unless otherwise provided by law or house rules.

(H) The speaker shall serve as chair of the rules committee.

(I) The speaker shall have charge of and see that all officers, attaches, and clerks perform their respective duties.

(J) The speaker pro tempore shall exercise the duties, powers, and prerogatives of the speaker in the event of the speaker's death, illness, removal, or inability to act until the speaker's successor shall be elected.

Chief Clerk

Rule 5. The chief clerk shall perform the usual duties pertaining to the office, and shall hold office until a successor has been elected.

The chief clerk shall employ, upon the recommendation of the employment committee and, subject to the approval of the speaker, all other house employees; the hours of duty and assignments of all house employees shall be under the chief clerk's directions and instructions, and they may be dismissed by the chief clerk with the approval of the speaker. The speaker shall sign and the chief clerk shall countersign all payrolls and vouchers for all expenses of the house and appropriately transmit the same. In the event of the chief clerk's death, illness, removal, or inability to act, the speaker may appoint an acting chief clerk who shall exercise the duties and powers of the chief clerk until the chief clerk's successor shall be elected.

Duties of Employees

Rule 6. Employees of the house shall perform such duties as are assigned to them by the chief clerk. Under no circumstances shall the compensation of any employee be increased for past services. No house employee shall seek to influence the passage or rejection of proposed legislation.

Admission to the House

Rule 7. It shall be the general policy of the house to keep the chamber clear as follows:

(A) The sergeant at arms shall admit only the following individuals to the wings and adjacent areas of the house chamber for the period of time beginning one-half hour prior to convening and ending one-half hour following the adjournment of the house's daily session:

The governor or designees, or both;

Members of the senate;

State elected officials;

Officers and authorized employees of the legislature;

Former members of the house who are not advocating any pending or proposed legislation;

Representatives of the press;

Other persons with the consent of the speaker.

(B) Only members, pages, sergeants at arms, and clerks are permitted on the floor while the house is in session.

(C) Lobbying in the house chamber or in any committee room or lounge room is prohibited when the house or committee is in session unless expressly permitted by the house or committee. Anyone violating this rule will forfeit his or her right to be admitted to the house chamber or any of its committee rooms.

Absentees and Courtesy

Rule 8. No member shall be absent from the service of the house without leave from the speaker. When the house is in session, only the speaker shall recognize visitors and former members.

Bills, Memorials and Resolutions - Introductions

Rule 9. Any member desiring to introduce a bill shall file the same with the chief clerk. Bills filed by 10:00 a.m. shall be introduced at the next daily session, in the order filed: PROVIDED, That if such introduction is within the last ten days of a regular session, it cannot be considered without a direct vote of two-thirds (2/3) of all the members elected to each house with such vote recorded and entered upon the journal. (Art. II § 36)

Any member or member-elect may prefile a bill with the chief clerk commencing twenty (20) days before any session. Prefiled bills shall be introduced on the first legislative day.

All bills shall be endorsed with a statement of the title and the name of the member or members introducing the same. The chief clerk shall attach to all bills a substantial cover bearing the title and sponsors and shall number each bill in the order filed. All bills shall be printed unless otherwise ordered by the house.

Any bill introduced at any session during the term shall be eligible for action at all subsequent sessions during the term.

Reading of Bills

Rule 10. Every bill shall be read on three separate days: PROVIDED, That this rule may be temporarily suspended at any time by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of the members present; and that on and after the fifth day prior to the day of adjournment sine die of any session, as determined pursuant to Article II, Section 12 of the state Constitution or concurrent resolution, or on and after the third day prior to the day a bill must be reported from the house as established by concurrent resolution, this rule may be suspended by a majority vote.

A bill may be returned to second reading for the purpose of amendment by a suspension of the rules: PROVIDED, That on and after the fifth day prior to the day of adjournment sine die of any session, as determined pursuant to Article II, section 12 of the state Constitution or concurrent resolution, or on and after the third day prior to the day a bill must be reported from the house as established by concurrent resolution, this rule may be suspended and a bill returned to second reading for the purpose of amendment by a majority vote.

(A) FIRST READING. The first reading of a bill shall be by title only, unless a majority of the members present demand a reading in full.

After the first reading the bill shall be referred to an appropriate committee.

Upon being reported out of committee, all bills shall be referred to the rules committee, unless otherwise ordered by the house.

The rules committee may, by majority vote, refer any bill in its possession to a committee for further consideration. Such referral shall be reported to the house and entered in the journal under the fifth order of business.

(B) SECOND READING. Upon second reading, the bill number and short title and the last line of the bill shall be read unless a majority of the members present shall demand its reading in full. The bill shall be subject to amendment section by section. No amendment shall be considered by the house until it has been sent to the chief clerk's desk in writing, distributed to the desk of each member, and read by the clerk. All amendments adopted during second reading shall be securely fastened to the original bill. All amendments rejected by the house shall be passed to the minute clerk, and the journal shall show the disposition of such amendments.

When no further amendments shall be offered, the speaker shall declare the bill has passed its second reading.

(C) SUBSTITUTE BILLS. When a committee reports a substitute for an original bill with the recommendation that the substitute bill do pass, it shall be in order to read the substitute the first time and have the same printed. A motion for the substitution shall not be in order until the second reading of the original bill.

(D) THIRD READING. Only the last line of bills shall be read on third reading unless a majority of the members present demand a reading in full. No amendments to a bill shall be received on third reading but it may be referred or recommitted for the purpose of amendment.

(E) SUSPENSION CALENDAR. Bills may be placed on the second reading suspension calendar by the rules committee if at least two minority party members of the rules committee join in such motion. Bills on the second reading suspension calendar shall not be subject to amendment or substitution except as recommended in the committee report. When a bill is before the house on the suspension calendar, the question shall be to adopt the committee recommendations and advance the bill to third reading. If the question fails to receive a two-thirds vote of the members present, the bill shall be referred to the rules committee for second reading.

(F) HOUSE RESOLUTIONS. House resolutions shall be filed with the chief clerk who shall transmit them to the rules committee. If a rules committee meeting is not scheduled to occur prior to a time necessitated by the purpose of a house resolution, the majority leader and minority leader by agreement may waive transmission to the rules committee to permit consideration of the resolution by the house. The rules committee may adopt house resolutions by a sixty percent majority vote of its entire membership or may, by a majority vote of its members, place them on the motions calendar for consideration by the house. No more than one resolution per day may be scheduled for consideration by the house except by mutual agreement of the majority leader and minority leader: PROVIDED, That this limit does not apply to resolutions necessary for the operation of the house nor to resolutions scheduled for consideration on pro forma session days.

(G) CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS. Reading of concurrent resolutions may be advanced by majority vote.

Amendments

Rule 11. The right of any member to offer amendments to proposed legislation shall not be limited except as provided in Rule 10(E) and as follows:

(A) AMENDMENTS TO BE OFFERED IN PROPER FORM. The chief clerk shall establish the proper form for amendments and all amendments offered shall bear the name of the member who offers the same, as well as the number and section of the bill to be amended.

(B) COMMITTEE AMENDMENTS. When a bill is before the house on second reading, amendments adopted by committees and recommended to the house shall be acted upon by the house before any amendments that may be offered from the floor.

(C) SENATE AMENDMENTS TO HOUSE BILLS. A house bill, passed by the senate with amendment or amendments which shall change the scope and object of the bill, upon being received in the house, shall be referred to the appropriate committee and shall take the same course as for original bills unless a motion not to concur is adopted prior to the bill being referred to committee.

(D) AMENDMENTS TO BE GERMANE. No motion or proposition on a subject different from that under consideration shall be admitted under color of amendment; and no bill or resolution shall at any time be amended by annexing thereto or incorporating therein any other bill or resolution pending before the house.

(E) SCOPE AND OBJECT NOT TO BE CHANGED. No amendment to any bill shall be allowed which shall change the scope and object of the bill. This objection may be raised at any time an amendment is under consideration. The speaker may allow the person raising the objection and the mover of the amendment to provide brief arguments as to the merits of the objection. (Art. II § 38)

(F) NO AMENDMENT BY REFERENCE. No act shall ever be revised or amended without being set forth at full length. (Art. II § 37)

(G) TITLE AMENDMENTS. The subject matter portion of a bill title shall not be amended in committee or on second reading. Changes to that part of the title after the subject matter statement shall either be presented with the text amendment or be incorporated by the chief clerk in the engrossing process.

Final Passage

Rule 12. Rules relating to bills on final passage are as follows:

(A) RECOMMITMENT BEFORE FINAL PASSAGE. A bill may be recommitted at any time before its final passage.

(B) FINAL PASSAGE. No bill shall become a law unless on its final passage the vote be taken by yeas and nays, the names of the members voting for and against the same be entered on the journal of each house, and a majority of the members elected to each house be recorded thereon as voting in its favor. (Art. II § 22)

(C) BILLS PASSED - CERTIFICATION. When a bill passes, it shall be certified to by the chief clerk, said certification to show the date of its passage together with the vote thereon.

Hour of Meeting, Roll Call and Quorum

Rule 13. (A) HOUR OF MEETING. The speaker shall call the house to order each day of sitting at 10:00 A.M., unless the house shall have adjourned to some other hour.

(B) ROLL CALL AND QUORUM. Before proceeding with business, the roll of the members shall be called and the names of those absent or excused shall be entered on the journal. A majority of all the members elected must be present to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. In the absence of a quorum, seven members with the speaker, or eight members in the speaker's absence, having chosen a speaker pro tempore, shall be authorized to demand a call of the house and may compel the attendance of absent members in the manner provided in Rule 21(B). For the purpose of determining if a quorum be present, the speaker shall count all members present, whether voting or not. (Art. II § 8)

(C) The house shall adjourn not later than 10:00 P.M. of each working day. This rule may be suspended by a majority vote.

Daily Calendar and Order of Business

Rule 14. The rules relating to the daily calendar and order of business are as follows:

(A) DAILY CALENDAR. Business of the house shall be disposed of in the following order:

First: Roll call, presentation of colors, prayer, and approval of the journal of the preceding day.

Second: Introduction of visiting dignitaries.

Third: Messages from the senate, governor, and other state officials.

Fifth: Committee reports.

Sixth: Second reading of bills.

Seventh: Third reading of bills.

Eighth: Floor resolutions and motions.

Ninth: Presentation of petitions, memorials, and remonstrances addressed to the Legislature.

Tenth: Introduction of visitors and other business to be considered.

Eleventh: Announcements.

(B) UNFINISHED BUSINESS. The unfinished business at which the house was engaged preceding adjournment shall not be taken up until reached in regular order, unless the previous question on such unfinished business has been ordered prior to said adjournment.

(C) EXCEPTIONS. Exceptions to the order of business are as follows:

(1) The order of business may be changed by a majority vote of those present.

(2) By motion under the eighth order of business, a bill in the rules committee may be placed on the calendar by the affirmative vote of a majority of all members of the house.

(3) House resolutions and messages from the senate, governor, or other state officials may be read at any time.

Motions

Rule 15. Rules relating to motions are as follows:

(A) MOTIONS TO BE ENTERTAINED OR DEBATED. No motion shall be entertained or debated until announced by the speaker and every motion shall be deemed to have been seconded. A motion shall be reduced to writing and read by the clerk, if desired by the speaker or any member, before it shall be debated and by the consent of the house may be withdrawn before amendment or action.

(B) MOTIONS IN ORDER DURING DEBATE. When a motion has been made and seconded and stated by the chair, the following motions are in order, in the rank named:

(1) Privileged motions:

Adjourn

Adjourn to a time certain

Recess to a time certain

Reconsider

Demand for division

Question of privilege

Orders of the day

(2) Subsidiary motions:

First rank: Question of consideration

Second rank: To lay on the table

- Third rank: For the previous question
- Fourth rank: To postpone to a day certain
 - To commit or recommit
 - To postpone indefinitely
- Fifth rank: To amend

(3) Incidental motions:

- Points of order and appeal
- Method of consideration
- Suspension of the rules
- Reading papers
- Withdraw a motion
- Division of a question

(C) THE EFFECT OF POSTPONEMENT - MOTIONS TO POSTPONE OR COMMIT. Once decided, no motion to postpone to a day certain, to commit, or to postpone indefinitely shall again be allowed on the same day and at the same stage of the proceedings. When a question has been postponed indefinitely, it shall not again be introduced during the session. The motion to postpone indefinitely may be made at any stage of the bill except when on first reading.

(D) MOTIONS DECIDED WITHOUT DEBATE. A motion to adjourn, to recess, to lay on the table and to call for the previous question shall be decided without debate.

All incidental motions shall be decided without debate, except that members may speak to points of order and appeal as provided in Rule 22.

A motion for suspension of the rules shall not be debatable except that the mover of the motion may briefly explain the purpose of the motion and one member may briefly state the opposition to the motion.

(E) MOTION TO ADJOURN. A motion to adjourn shall always be in order, except when the house is voting or is working under the call of the house; but this rule shall not authorize any member to move for adjournment when another member has the floor.

Rule 16. The methods by which a member may exercise his or her right to debate are as follows:

(A) RECOGNITION OF MEMBER. When any member desires to speak in debate or deliver any matter to the house, the member shall rise and respectfully address the speaker and pause until recognized.

(B) ORDER OF SPEAKING. When two or more members arise at once, the speaker shall name the one who is to speak.

(C) LIMITATION OF DEBATE. No member shall speak longer than ten (10) minutes without consent of the house: PROVIDED, That on and after the fifth day prior to the day of adjournment sine die of any session, as determined pursuant to Article II, Section 12 of the state Constitution or concurrent resolution, or on and after the third day prior to the day a bill must be reported from the house as established by concurrent resolution, no member shall speak more than three (3) minutes without the consent of the house. No member shall speak more than twice on the same question without leave of the house: PROVIDED, That the chair of the committee or the mover of the question may close debate if it is consistent with Rule 18 (Previous Question).

Rules of Debate

Rule 17. The rules for debate in the house are as follows:

(A) QUESTION OF PRIVILEGE. Any member may rise to a question of privilege and explain a personal matter, by leave of the speaker, but the member shall not discuss any pending question in such explanations.

(B) WITHDRAWAL OF MOTION, BILL, ETC. After a motion is stated by the speaker or a bill, memorial, resolution, petition, or remonstrance is read by the clerk, it shall be deemed to be in possession of the house, but may be withdrawn by consent of the house at any time before decision or amendment.

(C) READING OF A PAPER. When the reading of any paper is called for and is objected to by any member, it shall be determined by a vote of the house.

(D) DISTRIBUTION OF MATERIALS. Any materials of any nature distributed to the members' desks on the floor shall be subject to approval by the speaker and shall bear the name of at least one member granting permission for the distribution. This shall not apply to materials normally distributed by the chief clerk.

(E) ORDER OF QUESTIONS. All questions, whether in committee or in the house, shall be propounded in the order in which they are named except that in filling blanks, the largest sum and the longest time shall be put first.

(F) DIVISION OF POINTS OF DEBATE. Any member may call for a division of a question which shall be divided if it embraces subjects so distinct that one being taken away a substantive proposition shall remain for the decision of the house; but a motion to strike out and to insert shall not be divided. The rejection of a motion to strike out and to insert one proposition shall not prevent a motion to strike out and to insert a different proposition.

(G) DECORUM OF MEMBERS. While the speaker is putting the question, no member shall walk across or out of the house; nor when a member is speaking shall any member entertain private discourse or pass between the speaking member and the rostrum.

(H) REMARKS CONFINED. A member shall confine all remarks to the question under debate and avoid personalities. No member shall impugn the motive of any member's vote or argument.

(I) EXCEPTION TO WORDS SPOKEN IN DEBATE. If any member be called to order for words spoken in debate, the person calling the member to order shall repeat the words excepted to and they shall be taken down in writing at the clerk's table. No member shall be held in answer or be subject to the censure of the house for words spoken in debate if any other member has spoken before exception to them shall have been taken.

(J) TRANSGRESSION OF RULES - APPEAL. If any member, in speaking or otherwise, transgresses the rules of the house the speaker shall, or any member may, call the member to order, in which case the member so called to order shall immediately sit down unless permitted to explain; and the house shall, if appealed to, decide the case without debate; if there be no appeal, the decision of the chair shall prevail.

If the decision be in favor of the member called to order, the member shall be at liberty to proceed; if otherwise, and the case shall require it, the member shall be liable to the censure of the house.

Ending of Debate - Previous Question

Rule 18. The previous question may be ordered by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of the members present on all recognized motions or amendments which are debatable.

The previous question is not debatable and cannot be amended.

The previous question shall be put in this form: "Representative _____ demands the previous question. As many as are in favor of ordering the previous question will say 'Aye'; as many as are opposed will say 'No'."

The results of the motion are as follows: If determined in the negative, the consideration goes on as if the motion had never been made; if decided in the affirmative it shall have the effect of cutting off all debate and bringing the house to a direct vote upon the motion or amendment on which it has been ordered: PROVIDED HOWEVER, That when a bill is on final passage or when the motion to postpone indefinitely is pending, one of the sponsors of the bill or the chair of the committee may have the privilege of closing debate after the previous question has been ordered.

If an adjournment is had after the previous question is ordered, the motion or proposition on which the previous question was ordered shall be put to the house immediately following the approval of the journal on the next working day, thus making the main question privileged over all other business, whether new or unfinished.

Voting

Rule 19. (A) PUTTING OF QUESTION. The speaker shall put the question in the following form: "The question before the house is (state the question). As many as are in favor say 'Aye'; and after the affirmative vote is expressed, "as many as are opposed say 'No'."

(B) ALL MEMBERS TO VOTE. Every member who was in the house when the question was put shall vote unless, for special reasons, excused by the house.

All motions to excuse a member shall be made before the house divides or before the call for yeas and nays is commenced; and any member requesting to be excused from voting may make a brief and verbal statement of the reasons for making such request, and the question shall then be taken without further debate.

Upon a division and count of the house on the question, only members at their desks within the bar of the house shall be counted.

(C) CHANGE OF VOTE. When the electric roll call machine is used, no member shall be allowed to vote or change a vote after the speaker has locked the roll call machine. When an oral roll call is taken, no member shall be allowed to vote or change a vote after the result has been announced.

(D) PRIVATE INTEREST. No member shall vote on any question which affects that member privately and particularly. A member who has a private interest in any bill or measure proposed or pending before the legislature shall disclose the fact to the house of which he is a member, and shall not vote thereon. (Art. II § 30)

(E) INTERRUPTION OF ROLL CALL. Once begun, the roll call may not be interrupted. No member or other person shall visit or remain at the clerk's desk while the yeas and nays are being called.

(F) YEAS AND NAYS - RECORDED VOTES. Upon the final passage of any bill, the vote shall be taken by yeas and nays and shall be recorded by the electric voting system: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That an oral roll call shall be ordered when demanded by one-sixth (1/6) of the members present. (Art. II § 21)

The speaker may vote last when the yeas and nays are called.

When the vote is by electric voting machine or by oral roll call on any question, it shall be entered upon the journal of the house. A recorded vote may be compelled by one-sixth (1/6) of the members present. A request for a recorded vote must be made before the vote is commenced.

(G) TIE VOTE, QUESTION LOSES. In case of an equal division, the question shall be lost.

(H) DIVISION. If the speaker is in doubt, or if division is called for by any member, the house shall divide.

Reconsideration

Rule 20. Notice of a motion for reconsideration on the final passage of bills shall be made on the day the vote to be reconsidered was taken and before the house has voted to transmit the bill to the senate.

Reconsideration of the votes on the final passage of bills must be taken on the next working day after such vote was taken: PROVIDED, That on and after the fifth day prior to the day of adjournment sine die of any session, as determined pursuant to Article II, Section 12 of the state Constitution, or concurrent resolution, or on and after the third day prior to the day a bill must be reported from the house as established by concurrent resolution, then reconsideration of votes on the final passage of bills must be taken on the same day as the original vote was taken.

A motion to reconsider an amendment may be made at any time the bill remains on second reading.

Any member who voted on the prevailing side may move for reconsideration or give notice thereof.

A motion to reconsider can be decided only once when decided in the negative.

When a motion to reconsider has been carried, its effect shall be to place the original question before the house in the exact position it occupied before it was voted upon.

Call of the House

Rule 21. One-sixth (1/6) of the members present may demand a call of the house at any time before the house has divided or the voting has commenced by yeas and nays.

(A) DOORS TO BE CLOSED. When call of the house has been ordered, the sergeant at arms shall close and lock the doors, and no member shall be allowed to leave the chamber: PROVIDED, That the rules committee shall be allowed to meet, upon request of the speaker, while the house stands at ease: AND PROVIDED FURTHER, That the speaker may permit members to use such portions of the fourth floor as may be properly secured.

(B) SERGEANT AT ARMS TO BRING IN THE ABSENTEES. The clerk shall immediately call a roll of the members and note the absentees, whose names shall be read and entered upon the journal in such manner as to show who are excused and who are absent without leave.

The clerk shall furnish the sergeant at arms with a list of those who are absent without leave, and the sergeant at arms shall proceed to bring in such absentees; but arrests of members for absence shall not be made unless ordered by a majority of the members present.

(C) HOUSE UNDER CALL. While the house is under a call, no business shall be transacted except to receive and act on the report of the sergeant at arms; and no other motion shall be in order except a motion to proceed with business under the call of the house, a motion to excuse absentees, or a motion to dispense with the call of the house. The motion to proceed with business under the call of the house and the motion to excuse absent members shall not be adopted unless a majority of the members elected vote in favor thereof. The motion to dispense with the call of the house may be adopted by a majority of the members present.

Appeal from Decision of Chair

Rule 22. The decision of the chair may be appealed from by any member, on which appeal no member shall speak more than once unless by leave of the house. In all cases of appeal, the question shall be: "Shall the decision of the chair stand as the judgment of the house?"

Standing Committees

Rule 23. The standing committees of the house and the number of members that shall serve on each committee shall be as follows:

1. Appropriations	29
2. Capital Budget	29
3. Children & Family Services	9
4. Commerce & Labor	7
5. Criminal Justice & Corrections	7
6. Economic Development, Agriculture & Trade	23

20. Transportation

Committee members shall be selected by each party's caucus. The majority party caucus shall select all committee chairs.

Duties of Committees

Rule 24. House committees shall operate as follows:

(A) NOTICE OF COMMITTEE MEETING. The chief clerk shall make public the time, place and subjects to be discussed at committee meetings. All public hearings held by committees shall be scheduled at least five (5) days in advance and shall be given adequate publicity: PROVIDED, That when less than eight (8) days remain for action on a bill, the Speaker may authorize a reduction of the five-day notice period when required by the circumstances, including but not limited to the time remaining for action on the bill, the nature of the subject, and the number of prior hearings on the subject.

(B) COMMITTEE QUORUM. A majority of any committee shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business.

(C) SESSION MEETINGS. No committee shall sit while the house is in session without special leave of the speaker.

(D) DUTIES OF STANDING COMMITTEES.

(1) Only such bills as are included on the written notice of a committee meeting may be considered at that meeting except upon the vote of a majority of the entire membership of the committee to consider another bill.

(2) A majority recommendation of a committee must be signed by a majority of the entire membership of the committee in a regularly called meeting before a bill, memorial, or resolution may be reported out: PROVIDED, That by motion under the eighth order of business, a majority of the members elected to the house may relieve a committee of a bill and place it on the second reading calendar.

Majority recommendations of a committee can only be "do pass," "do pass as amended," or that "the substitute bill be substituted therefor and that the substitute bill do pass."

(3) Members of the committee not concurring in the majority report may prepare a written minority report containing a recommendation of "do not pass" or "without recommendation," which shall be signed by those members of the committee subscribing thereto, and submitted with the majority report.

(4) All committee reports shall be spread upon the journal. The journal of the house shall contain an exact copy of all committee reports, together with the names of the members signing such reports.

(5) Every vote to report a bill out of committee shall be taken by the yeas and nays, and the names of the members voting for and against, as well as the names of members absent, shall be recorded on the committee report. Any member may call for a recorded vote, which shall include the names of absent members, on any substantive question before the committee. A copy of all recorded committee votes shall be kept by the chief clerk and shall be available for public inspection.

(6) All bills having a direct appropriation shall be referred to the appropriate fiscal committee before their final passage. For purposes of this subsection, fiscal committee means the appropriations, capital budget, finance, and transportation committees.

(7) No standing committee shall vote by secret written ballot on any issue.

(8) During its consideration of or vote on any bill, resolution, or memorial, the deliberations of any standing committee of the house of representatives shall be open to the public.

(9) A standing committee to which a bill was originally referred shall, prior to voting the bill out of committee, consider whether the bill authorizes rule-making powers or requires the exercise of rule-making powers and, if so, consider:

(a) The nature of the new rule-making powers; and

(b) To which agencies the new rule-making powers would be delegated and which agencies, if any, may have related rule-making powers.

Standing Committees - Expenses - Subpoena Power

Rule 25. Regardless of whether the legislature is in session, members of the house may receive from moneys appropriated for the legislature, reimbursement for necessary travel expenses, and payments in lieu of subsistence and lodging for conducting official business of the house.

The standing committees of the house may have the powers of subpoena, the power to administer oaths, and the power to issue commissions for the examination of witnesses in accordance with the provisions of chapter 44.16 RCW. Before a standing committee of the house may issue any process, the committee chairperson shall submit for approval of the executive rules committee a statement of purpose setting forth the name or names of those subject to process. The process shall not be issued prior to approval by the executive rules committee. The process shall be limited to the named individuals.

Vetoed Bills

Rule 26. Veto messages of the governor shall be read in the house and entered upon the journal. It shall then be in order to proceed to reconsider the bill, refer it, lay it on the table, or postpone its consideration to a day certain.

The merits of the bill may be debated before the vote is taken, but the vote on a vetoed bill cannot be reconsidered.

In case of a bill containing several sections or items, one or more of which has been objected to by the governor, each section or item so objected to shall be voted upon separately by the house. Action by the house upon all vetoed bills shall be endorsed upon the bill and certified by the speaker.

Vetoed bills originating in the house, which have not been passed notwithstanding the veto of the governor, shall remain in the custody of the officers of the house until the close of the term, after which they shall be filed with the secretary of state.

Suspension of Compensation

Rule 27. (1) Any member of the house of representatives convicted and sentenced for any felony punishable by death or by imprisonment in a Washington state penal institution shall, as of the time of sentencing, be denied the legislative salary for future service and be denied per diem, compensation for expenses, office space facilities, and assistance. Any member convicted of a felony and sentenced therefor under any federal law or the law of any other state shall, as of the time of sentencing, be similarly denied such salary, per diem, expenses, facilities, and assistance if either (a) such crime would also constitute a crime punishable under the laws of Washington by death or by imprisonment in a state penal institution, or (b) the conduct resulting in the conviction and sentencing would also constitute a crime punishable under the laws of Washington by death or by imprisonment in a state penal institution.

(2) At any time, the house may vote by a constitutional majority to restore the salary, per diem, expenses, facilities, and assistance denied a member under subsection (1). If the conviction of a member is reversed, then the salary, per diem, and expense amounts denied the member since sentencing shall be forthwith paid, and the member shall thereafter have the rights and privileges of other members.

Smoking

Rule 28. Smoking of cigarettes, pipes, or cigars shall not be permitted at any public meeting of any committee of the house of representatives or within House facilities.

"No smoking" signs shall be posted so as to give notice of this rule.

Parliamentary Rules

Rule 29. The rules of parliamentary practice comprised in Reed's Parliamentary Rules shall govern all cases in which they are not inconsistent with the standing rules and orders of the house.

Standing Rules Amendment

Rule 30. Any standing rule may be rescinded or changed by a majority vote of the members elected: PROVIDED, That the proposed change or changes be submitted at least one day in advance in writing to the members together with notice of the consideration thereof. Any standing rule may be suspended temporarily by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of the members present except as provided in Rule 10.

Rules to Apply for Assembly

Rule 31. The permanent house rules adopted at the beginning of the term are to govern all acts of the house during the course of the term unless amended or repealed.

Legislative Mailings

Rule 32. The House of Representatives directs the house executive rules committee to adopt procedures and guidelines to ensure that all legislative mailings at public expense are for legitimate legislative purposes.

Liquor

Rule 33. The House of Representatives shall strictly adhere to the liquor laws of the state of Washington, including provisions relating to banquet and special occasion permits. The proper permits must always be obtained before consumption of liquor in any house facility.

On page 1, beginning on line 13, strike all of section 2 and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. As used in this chapter, "tax preference" means a state preference either for the creation, expansion, or continuation of a state tax, the base of a state tax, or the rate of a state tax, or for the creation, expansion, or continuation of an exemption, exclusion, or deduction from the base of a state tax, a credit against a state tax, a deferral of a state tax, or a reduced state tax rate."

POINT OF ORDER

Representative Hunt requested a scope and object ruling on the amendment (018) to House Bill No. 1069.

SPEAKER'S RULING

Mr. Speaker: "House Bill No. 1069 is entitled an act relating to "performance audits of tax preferences." The bill creates a citizen commission to develop a schedule for periodic review of tax preferences and requires the Joint Legislative Audit and Review Committee to conduct the actual review of tax preferences according to specified criteria.

As noted in the bill report, "tax exemptions, exclusions, deductions, credits, deferrals, and preferential rates are known as tax preferences." The Department of Revenue publishes a report on tax preferences every four years. And, in 1982 the Legislature enacted legislation that initiated a sunset review of tax preferences. This department report and prior legislation are limited to the commonly understood definition of tax preferences quoted above.

Amendment (018), however, attempts to expand the definition of tax preference to include tax legislation unrelated to exemptions, exclusions, deductions, credits, deferrals and preferential rates. In so doing, the amendment goes beyond the statutory and commonly accepted definition of tax preferences, and is therefore beyond the scope and object of the bill.

Representative Hunt, the point of order is well taken."

Representative Roach moved the adoption of amendment (013):

On page 2, strike lines 4 through 18, and insert the following:

"(a) one member is the chair of the joint legislative audit and review committee, who is a nonvoting member; and

(B) six members appointed by the governor as follows:

(I) one person representing small businesses with fewer than fifty employees;

(II) one person representing large businesses with fifty or more employees;

(III) one person representing agriculture;

(IV) one person representing labor;

(V) one tax specialist from a public university; and

(VI) one tax specialist from the private sector.

(3)(a) appointees representing small and large businesses must be filled from lists of nominees submitted by statewide business organizations representing a cross-section of industries.

(B) the appointee representing agriculture must be filled from lists of nominees submitted by statewide organizations representing agricultural businesses.

(C) the appointee representing labor must be filled from lists of nominees submitted by statewide labor organizations representing a cross-section of industries."

Representatives Roach and Orcutt spoke in favor of the adoption of the amendment.

Representatives McIntire and Conway spoke against the adoption of the amendment.

The amendment was not adopted.

Representative Orcutt moved the adoption of amendment (014):

On page 3, line 16, after "law," insert "the small business credit for the business and occupation tax, sales and use tax exemptions for food and prescription drugs, property tax relief for retired persons, and property tax valuations based on current use,"

Representatives Orcutt and McIntire spoke in favor of the adoption of the amendment.

The amendment was adopted.

With the consent of the House, amendment (015) was withdrawn.

Representatives Orcutt and McIntire spoke in favor of the adoption of the amendment.

The amendment was adopted.

Representative Ahern moved the adoption of amendment (011):

On page 4, after line 10, insert the following:

"(e) The extent to which terminating the tax preference may have negative effects on the category of taxpayers that currently benefit from the tax preference, and the extent to which resulting higher taxes may have negative effects on employment and the economy;"

Reletter the following subsections accordingly.

Representatives Ahern and McIntire spoke in favor of the adoption of the amendment.

The amendment was adopted.

Representative Ahern moved the adoption of amendment (012):

On page 4, after line 10, insert the following:

"(e) The extent to which the tax preference may provide unintended benefits to an individual, organization, or industry other than those the legislature intended;"

Reletter the following subsections accordingly.

Representatives Ahern and McIntire spoke in favor of the adoption of the amendment.

The amendment was adopted.

With the consent of the House, amendment (017) was withdrawn.

RESOLUTIONS

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO.2005-4611, by Representative Buck

WHEREAS, Matthew Johnson was born at Holloman Air Force Base, Alamogordo, New Mexico, in 1988; and

WHEREAS, Matthew Johnson grew up in Alamogordo, Crete, Greece, and Brinnon, Washington, where he attended the Brinnon School District for elementary school and junior high, and currently attends Quilcene High School where he is a sophomore; and

WHEREAS, Matthew Johnson is carrying a 3.95 GPA and has a career goal of becoming an Air Force fighter pilot; and

WHEREAS, Matthew Johnson is participating in many high school activities, including Students Against Destructive Decisions, WSMC Math Competition, Knowledge Bowl Team/Competition, Junior Varsity Basketball, and serving as a Page for Representative Jim Buck in the 2005 Washington State Legislature; and

WHEREAS, Matthew Johnson is a member of the National Junior Honor Society, Future Business Leaders of America, and the German Club, was on the 2004 Honor Roll (Superintendent's List), received the annual German Award, Science Award, and Math Award for top academics, as well as the President's Award for Educational Excellence, was named the High School's Student of the Month for January 2004, and has participated in VFW and Daughters of the American Revolution essay contests, receiving recognition at the local and regional levels; and

WHEREAS, Matthew Johnson is a member of South Jefferson Mobile Search and Rescue and for the last four and a half years his primary, most time-consuming and rewarding activity after school, family, and community service activity has been his participation as a leader in the Civil Air Patrol; and

WHEREAS, Matthew Johnson is the Cadet Commander of the Port Angeles Composite Squadron, has competed in the state Drill Team Competition for three years and the National Competition in 2003, routinely participates in aerospace and leadership training and activities, and has accumulated more than 770 hours in training in and instructing Emergency Services skills and in participating in searches for missing aircraft; and

WHEREAS, Matthew Johnson, while in the Civil Air Patrol Cadet Program, has been the Cadet Commander for the last year at the Port Angeles Composite Squadron which draws its membership from the Olympic Peninsula, where together with his staff, he sets the goals, coordinates the meeting schedule and activities, makes cadet assignments, and arranges for senior member support when necessary, and his other Cadet Program activities include community Color Guards and parades, the state Color Guard Competition, and the state Drill Team Competition (three years), serving as the Drill Team Commander twice, and competing on the Pacific Region Drill Team at the National Cadet Competition in Dayton, Ohio, in 2003; and

WHEREAS, Matthew Johnson has completed Winter Encampment, Airman Leadership School, and Pacific Region Cadet Leadership School, and served as a staff officer at two subsequent encampments, serving as the Officer In Charge of Communications and as a Flight Commander where he lead his flight in performing to a superior level to be recognized as the Warrior Flight for the Encampment, and he has also completed the National Honor Guard Academy (Camp Pendleton, VA) and the Washington Wing Flight Encampment (Ephrata, WA); and

WHEREAS, Matthew Johnson's Aerospace Education activities in Civil Air Patrol include volunteer work at the McChord AFB Open House, Arlington Fly-In, Collings Foundation's B-17 and B-24 three-day visits to Port Angeles, and Port Angeles' Airport Days (three years), organizing and performing parking lot duty, crowd control, and other support services for the crews; and

WHEREAS, Matthew Johnson has participated in the Aerospace Education Excellence Awards Program, helped to start an Aerospace Club, was a member of the Port Angeles' 2002 EAA Wild Blue Wonders Team (Team Captain) and attended the Abbotsford Airshow (2002, 2004, British Columbia), and has received a B-24 flight, soloed in a glider, and started flight instruction toward his Private Pilot's License; and

WHEREAS, Matthew Johnson, through three years of consistent participation at monthly state and squadron-level training weekends and through personal initiative (approximately 200 hours), has completed the training and evaluations for five Civil Air Patrol Emergency Services qualifications: Ground Team Member, Urban Direction Finding, Mission Radio Operator, Flight Line Marshaller, and Mission Staff Assistant, and has contributed approximately another 200 hours serving as an instructor and exercise coordinator for monthly state-level training weekends for two and a half years; and

WHEREAS, Matthew Johnson was a member of the winning Ground Team in the state's 2001 CAP Ground Team Competition; has participated for four years in Operation Seahawk, an annual Harbor Defense/Port Security exercise involving the US Navy, Army, Air Force, Coast Guard, and Canadian land and naval forces; in 2003, as the Cadet Commander of Operation Seahawk, was responsible for tracking, assigning, and preparing cadets for the various around-the-clock exercise scenarios for a week; and in 2004, served as the special advisor to the Cadet Commander; and

WHEREAS, Matthew Johnson organized a CAP Emergency Services display for the Clallam County Department of Emergency Services' Emergency Services Fair, has helped locate three nondistress signals (signals tracked to an aircraft or boat which did not have an emergency), and has participated in four annual exercises conducted by both National CAP and the United States Air Force designed to evaluate the Washington CAP's ability to perform its missions, but the pinnacle of Matthew Johnson's CAP activities has been the 370+ hours of Search and Rescue services he has contributed through CAP on eight missions requested by the Air Force Rescue Coordination Center to locate missing aircraft and their passengers and to track down Emergency Locator Transmitter signals which could turn out to be aircraft accidents; and

WHEREAS, Matthew Johnson was awarded the 2003 Washington Wing Emergency Services Support Member of the Year Award and has been nominated for the Washington Wing Cadet Commander of the Year Award and the Air Force Association Outstanding Cadet Award for his accomplishments and performance in 2004; and

WHEREAS, Matthew Johnson's Civil Air Patrol awards and decorations include the Air Search and Rescue Ribbon with four bronze clusters, Find Ribbon, Recruiting Ribbon with cluster, National Cadet Special Activities Ribbon, National Cadet Competition Ribbon with Bronze Star, Solo Wings, Ground Team Badge, Marksman 1st Class Marksmanship Badge, Model Rocketry Badge, the Mitchell Award, and the Earhart Award which is earned by only about 5% of all CAP cadets; and

WHEREAS, Matthew Johnson, together with his father and brother, has recently formed Tyr Arms, LLC, which markets cutlery, sporting goods, and emergency services equipment, while in his free time, Matthew is a typical teenager who enjoys watching DVDs, playing video and computer games, and learning poker, especially Texas Hold'em;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the House of Representatives of the state of Washington honor and congratulate Matthew Johnson for his character, dedication, hard work, maturity, and leadership in achieving these many outstanding and significant accomplishments; and

RESOLUTIONS

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 2005-4614, By Representatives McCoy, Kenney, Wood, Santos, Conway, Condotta, Appleton, Clibborn, Miloscia, Lovick, Hunt, Blake, Pettigrew, Chase, Springer, B. Sullivan, Ormsby, Sells, Cody, Fromhold, Takko, Rodne, Ericksen, Skinner, Hankins, Pearson, Buri, Kirby, Orcutt, Quall, Kessler, Eickmeyer, Williams, Ericks, Haigh, Murray, Upthegrove, Roberts, Kilmer, Wallace, Darneille, Grant, Hasegawa and Linville

WHEREAS, Our nation was founded upon the notion that freedom and equality are inseparable; and

WHEREAS, The fight for freedom and equality is celebrated each February as our nation recognizes Black History Month; and

WHEREAS, Black Americans survived nearly 400 years of slavery and human bondage, earning their freedom with President Abraham Lincoln's Emancipation Proclamation only to face another century of segregation and discrimination in the South; and

WHEREAS, In February 1926, Carter G. Woodson founded Black History Month in the hope that Americans would learn about forgotten chapters of our nation's history and develop mutual respect for people of all colors, races, and creeds; and

WHEREAS, As a free state, Washington became home to many black pioneers, including Civil War veterans like William Stewart and leaders like George Washington Bush, the first Black American to serve in the Washington Territorial Legislature; and

WHEREAS, George Washington Bush headed to the Northwest seeking a place free of prejudice with his wife and family, homesteaded a 640-acre parcel that later became Bush Prairie, now known as Tumwater; and

WHEREAS, George Washington Bush founded the city of Centerville, now known as Centralia, and single-handedly saved the city from bankruptcy and starvation during the closing of iron works and local lumber mills, by providing food for the local citizens and making "interest free" loans to residents of the community; and

WHEREAS, Representatives Charles Stokes and Marjorie Pitter King were the first Black American man and woman to serve in the legislature following the proclamation of Washington statehood, and Charles Z. Smith was the first Black American to serve on the Washington State Supreme Court; and

WHEREAS, The Washington State Legislature is honored to have among its former members the following elected Black American representatives and senators: Sam Smith, Michael Ross, Peggie Joan Maxie, George Fleming, Bill Smitherman, Jesse Wineberry, Vivian Caver, and Dawn Mason; and

WHEREAS, Black Americans have made significant contributions to Washington State history in several fields, including: Civil rights leader Edwin T. Pratt; poet Mona Lake Jones; artists Jacob Lawrence and James Washington; historian Esther Mumford; and musicians Quincy Jones, Ernestine Anderson, and Jimi Hendrix;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Washington State House of Representatives recognize February 2005, as Black History Month, in recognition of Americans of African descent who have contributed to America; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the members of the Washington State House of Representatives do hereby recognize and appreciate the many benefits of Black History Month to our citizenry and to our culture in general and that we urge all citizens of the State of Washington to join with us in taking the opportunity this month to explore this rich history and expand our world view; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That copies of this resolution be immediately transmitted by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives to the Chair of the Washington State Commission on African-American Affairs.

Representative McCoy moved the adoption of the resolution.

Representatives McCoy, Ericksen and Pettigrew spoke in favor of the adoption of the resolution.

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 2005-4620, By Representatives Clements and Haigh

WHEREAS, The 4-H Youth Development Program of Washington State University has helped young people in Washington develop useful "life skills" since it was established in 1902; and

WHEREAS, The program centers on teaching young people to become productive members of society by fostering self-esteem, communication, and decision-making skills; and

WHEREAS, Over 75,000 young people and 8,300 adult volunteers throughout Washington participated in 4-H Youth Development Programs in 2004; and

WHEREAS, These programs helped participants learn about a wide variety of subjects including science, family living, applied arts, and government activism; and

WHEREAS, These programs work with traditional community clubs and reach youth through urban groups, special interest groups, nutrition programs, after school programs, camping, and interagency learning experiences; and

WHEREAS, More than 300 4-H members from around the state are currently visiting the State Capitol as part of an annual statewide education program titled "4-H Know Your Government"; and

WHEREAS, The 4-H Know Your Government Program focused this year on the judicial system and better understanding the issues related to preserving one's personal rights and how courts may pivot on political happenings; and

WHEREAS, 4-H will continue its dedication to empower young people to become active global citizens and realize the value, significance, and responsibility of taking part in local, regional, state, national, and international community issues;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Washington State House of Representatives recognize the 4-H Youth Development Program for its many contributions to the youth of Washington and the betterment of our communities; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That a copy of this resolution be immediately transmitted by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives to Pat BoyEs, the State 4-H Director for the Washington State University 4-H Youth Development Program.

Representatives Condotta and Orcutt spoke in favor of the adoption of the amendment.

Representative Sommers spoke against the adoption of the amendment.

The amendment was not adopted.

Representative Sump moved the adoption of amendment (021):

On page 3, beginning on line 29, strike all of section 5 and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. The legislature finds that this act codifies executive order 00-01 which requires the use of apprentices on certain public works projects. The legislature further finds that executive order 00-01 is currently in full force and effect.

The legislature further finds that Article II, section 1(b) of the state Constitution reserves to the people the power to file a referendum petition against any act, bill, law, or any part thereof, passed by the legislature. There is an exception to the people's power of referendum, however. When the legislature declares that an act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety, or the support of the state government and its existing public institutions, the people's right of referendum is set aside, and the act may take effect sooner than ninety days after the adjournment of the session at which it was enacted.

The legislature notes that the state supreme court has said, "This court is required to grant considerable deference to the Legislature's determination that an emergency exists, giving it every favorable presumption and deferring to its judgment unless it is obvious that the declaration of emergency is false." CLEAN v. State, 130 Wn.2d 782, 812 (1996) (finding the Seattle baseball stadium was an emergency). In his concurring opinion in Washington State Labor Council v. Reed, 149 Wn.2d 48, 62 (2003) (upholding the people's right to vote on Referendum Measure No. 53), Justice Chambers noted, "The critical question is whether the legislature has encroached upon the constitutional authority reserved to the people."

The legislature further finds that, under the circumstances surrounding this act, no reason exists to cause this bill to take effect sooner than the normal ninety days after the session ends, in that no benefit will be gained or burden avoided by codifying the existing apprenticeship program. The apprenticeship program is currently in place by virtue of executive order 00-01. Codifying an executive order to create by statute an identical ongoing program is clearly not an emergency and is not needed to protect public peace, health, or safety, nor is it necessary to support the state government and existing public institutions. The only effect of putting an emergency clause on this legislation would be to proscribe the public's constitutional power of referendum, and that the legislature should not and must not do."

Correct the title.

Representatives Sump, Ericksen, Orcutt and Armstrong spoke in favor of the adoption of the amendment.

Representatives Conway and Kessler spoke against the adoption of the amendment.

An electronic roll call vote was demanded and the demand was sustained.

The Speaker stated the question before the House to be adoption of amendment (021) to Substitute Senate Bill No. 5097.

HOUSE BILL NO. 1194, having received the necessary constitutional majority, was declared passed.

POINT OF ORDER

Representative Chandler: "Mr. Speaker. At what point does a member lose his right to debate?"

SPEAKER'S RULING

Mr. Speaker: "Representative Chandler, your point of order is out of order because you cannot interrupt a roll call. The rules of the House say that once a roll call has been started we must complete it. I will adjust the point of order there. I thought the previous speaker had already spoken before; I thought we had quite a bit of debate on the issue. I was moving forward. So please vote, as under the House rules everyone present is required to vote."

The House stood at ease until 12:50 p.m. at which time the House reconvened for a joint session with the Senate.

JOINT SESSION

The Speaker (Representative Lovick presiding) called the House to order.

The Sergeant at Arms announced that the Senate had arrived. The Speaker (Representative Lovick presiding) requested that the Sergeant at Arms of the House and the Sergeant at Arms of the Senate escort President Pro Tempore Rosa Franklin, Majority Leader Lisa Brown and Minority Leader Bill Finkbeiner to seats on the Rostrum. The Senators were invited to seats within the Chamber.

The Speaker (Representative Lovick presiding) called upon President Pro Tempore Franklin to preside over the Joint Session.

President Pro Tempore Franklin called the Joint Session to order. The Clerk called the roll of the House and Senate and a quorum was present.

President Pro Tempore Franklin introduced the statewide elected officials: Governor Christine Gregoire, Secretary of State Sam Reed, State Treasurer Mike Murphy, Insurance Commissioner Mike Kreidler and Attorney General Rob McKenna.

The Clerk called the roll of the former members who were in attendance: Art Brown, Jerry Ellis, Phyllis Erickson, Bill Garson, Barbara Granlund, Audrey Gruger, Steve Hargrove, Denny Heck, Lorraine Hine, Joan Houchen, Brock Jackley, Sue Karahalios, Richard King, Louise Miller, Val Ogden, Paul Sanders, Ray Schow, Dean Sutherland, Joe Taller, Mike Todd, Shirley Winsley, William Young, Former Secretary of State Ralph Munro, and Former House Sergeant at Arms Ross Young.

The Flags were escorted to the Rostrum by the Washington State Patrol Color Guard. President Pro Tempore Franklin led the Chamber in the Pledge of Allegiance.

President Pro Tempore Franklin announced the purpose of the joint session was to conduct memorial services in memory of departed former members of the Legislature. President Pro Tempore Franklin turned the gavel over to Speaker Pro Tempore Lovick to conduct the service.

The Invocation was offered by Reverend Anna Joy Grace, Unity Church of Olympia: "Spirit of Life, we come together this afternoon from all across our beautiful and great state of Washington to honor and remember those who have given committed and dedicated service to this State and their home communities through their membership in this Legislature.

We represent the rich variety of people, points of view, and sacred faith traditions of our vibrant State. Today, we join together as one in the spirit of love, compassion, and appreciation as we honor the memories of our colleagues, friends and family members. We recognize that we are together on this profound journey of life with all its sorrows and joys, its stumblings and triumphs, its mystery and wisdom. Together, as community, we bless and heal, we teach and learn, we uplift and help one another.

It is in profound gratitude that we honor past members of this Legislature who have made their transition this year, passing from the experience of this earthly life. While we sorrow and grieve at their loss, we also rejoice that our lives have been touched by these dear ones. Our hearts are healed as we remember them. We find ourselves deepened, enriched and lifted up, encouraged and strengthened.

We are so grateful for each of these dear ones: dedication to service for the greater good, for their willingness to take on the often difficult mantle of leadership; for the great time, energy and effort they gave to their work; for their ability to live up to their ideals; for their willingness to give of themselves; and most of all for their love of family, friends, community and state.

This afternoon we open ourselves to this time of memorial, this time of honor, this time of coming together as community. As we begin let us share in the ideas of this beautiful poem: 'I am standing upon the seashore. A ship at my side spreads her white sails to the morning breeze and starts for the blue ocean. She is an object of beauty and strength. I stand and watch her until at length she hangs like a speck of white cloud where the sea and sky come to mingle with each other.

Then someone at my side says: "There, she is gone!"

"Gone where?"

"Gone from my sight. That is all. She is just as large in mast and hull and spar as she was when she left my side and she is just as able to bear her load of living freight to her destined port. Her diminished size is in me not in her. And just at the moment when someone at my side says: 'There, She is gone!' There are other eyes watching her coming and other voices ready to take up the glad shout: 'Here she comes!' And that is dying.'

Amen."

The Intern Ensemble Choir performed "Swing Low Sweet Chariot". The choir was made up of House and Senate interns and directed by Dorian Waller.

Speaker Pro Tempore Lovick: "We are assembled today to pay tribute to the lives and services of the distinguished former members of the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Washington who have passed from among us. On behalf of the people of our State, the Fifty Ninth Legislature of the State of Washington conveys its respects to those deceased legislators who once sat in the hallowed chambers of the House and Senate, answered roll calls on sometimes critical perplexing bills, attended committee meetings and above all else, served to the best of their abilities in order to make our state a better and more enjoyable place to live. While their journey in this is completed, their achievements, records and valued services have been recorded in the journals of the Senate and House, and are now and forevermore a permanent part of the history of the State of Washington.

We express our sympathies to the bereaved families and their friends, and also share with them on this memorable occasion the fond and happy memories of these legislators, who served well beyond their call of duty and responsibilities, and truly loved this great State of Washington. They have indeed left a legacy of dedicated service that will remain forever etched in our hearts, our memories and our legislative records."

Speaker Pro Tempore Lovick and President Pro Tempore Franklin called the roll of the deceased former members of the Senate and House of Representatives:

Rabbi Seth Goldstein, Temple Beth Hatfiloh, Olympia offered the Memorial Prayer: "El Maleh Rachamin, God full of compassion, we assemble here today, in the seat of our government, to honor the memory of those who have given of themselves to serve this great State, and who have subsequently gone to their eternal home. At this time, we recall the work of the Jewish poet, Hillel Bavli, who wrote these words:

This is my prayer to you, my gentle God—
 Let me not stray from my life's course
 Let not my spirit fall into decay,
 And may it never cease to thirst for you.
 And for the energizing dew
 That you have sprinkled on it
 Ever since my life was new.
 And let my heart be open to
 The downtrodden, and to the orphaned life,
 And to all who stumble
 And to one entangled and hidden sorrows,
 And to one who struggles in the dark.
 And bless my eyes, and let me merit
 To behold the human beauty in this world.
 Deepen my senses, widen their grasp
 So they absorb a green and flowering
 And budding world, and take from it
 The secret blossoming within a silence.
 Grant me with strength to yield
 The best of fruits. Let my life grow
 A wealth of word and deed, steeped
 In the fountain of my being,
 Without my measuring all things
 For only what they have to offer me.
 And when my day shall come,
 Let me slip into the land of night,
 Without asking anything of others
 Or from you, God.

We come from a variety of faith traditions and beliefs, Yet what we all share is the pain which comes from grief, the emptiness which comes from loss. And, we all recognize that although each individual life is short in the grand view of the cosmos, life itself continues and animates the universe. "A wealth of word and deed," writes the poet, and indeed, it is in this that our lives touch the eternal. While our time on earth is limited, our words and our deeds ensure that we live on. Our words and deeds – how we touch and move others – have life beyond the course of our natural life spans.

How true this is for those who serve the greater good, who serve as leaders of our communities and of our state. For their actions affect us all. Those who serve in positions of leadership ensure that with their words and deeds we are all uplifted; through their service, we all benefit. The mantle of leadership is a sometimes heavy one to bear, and in honoring the memory of those who served our state, we honor too the commitment they made and the service they gave. For this State, and all its citizens, have benefited from the lives they led.

Our time here on earth teaches us many things. We learn that loss, pain and grief are a part of our human existence. Yet we learn too that so is healing, hope and love. It is love that sustains us in the face of death, and it is love that aids us during the grieving process. As we come together as a community to remember those who served this community, may we support each other in strength. May we draw on the gift of memory to enliven us. May we be inspired by the work of those who have come before us to continue to strive for justice and righteousness. May we follow their great example of public service and concern for the general welfare.

At times of grief we turn to the Eternal Source of All. We pray that the souls of those who have departed from this world be bound up in the bond of life. We pray for your blessing of comfort over those who mourn loss. May our deeds be worthy of the memory of those lawmakers we remember here today. Zichronom liveracha, may their memory be for a blessing. Amen."

The Legislative Choir sang "Till We meet Again". The Washington State Patrol offered a ceremonial salute of 17 bells and "Taps" by SPC Nicole Lee.

Reverend Rick Murray of the First Presbyterian Church of Yakima gave the closing prayer: "We are grateful for this good day which you have made. Glad to be in this place of governance – where decisions are made and vital leadership is given to this great State. Today we have remembered those who have gone before, who strove to do justice and love mercy, who made every effort to govern wisely, who gave with energy, intelligence, imagination and love to the work of governing.

We now honor friends who have worked before us, worked along side of us, we miss them, and yet we also walk in the legacy that they leave us. We remember our own call to service and to love, our own desire to leave a legacy of leadership, service, and concern for the people we represent.

Help us to remember our calling, be with us as we continue to serve our state, the people of our districts, and remind us of your values. Truth, life, justice and mercy are all woven into the fabric of what we need to be about as we move about. Give us eyes to see, hearts to feel, and minds to know the priorities that are Your priorities.

I pray in the name of Father, Son and Holy Spirit. Amen."

Washington State Patrol Sergeant Keith Huntley played "Amazing Grace" on the bagpipes.

Speaker Pro Tempore Lovick returned the gavel to President Pro Tempore Franklin who thanked the members of the Memorial Committee and everyone who participated in the day's ceremony.

On motion of Representative Kessler, the Joint Session was dissolved. President Pro Tempore Franklin turned the gavel over to Speaker Pro Tempore Lovick who asked the Sergeant at Arms of the House and Senate to escort President Pro Tempore Franklin, Majority Leader Brown and Minority Leader Finkbeiner from the Rostrum, and the Senators from the floor of the House.

There being no objection, the House advanced to the eleventh order of business.

MOTION

On motion of Representative Kessler, the House adjourned until 10:00 a.m., February 18, 2005, the 40th Day of the Regular Session.

FRANK CHOPP, Speaker

RICHARD NAFZIGER, Chief Clerk
THIRTY NINTH DAY, FEBRUARY 17, 2005

FORTIETH DAY

House Chamber, Olympia, Friday, February 18, 2005

The House was called to order at 10:00 a.m. by the Speaker (Representative Lovick presiding). The Clerk called the roll and a quorum was present.

The flag was escorted to the rostrum by the Nisei Veterans' Committee Color Guard. The Speaker (Representative Lovick presiding) led the Chamber in the Pledge of Allegiance. Prayer was offered by Chaplain Joseph Yoshihara, former Governor Gary Locke's brother-in-law.

The Speaker (Representative Lovick presiding) introduced the members of the Nisei Veterans' Committee Color Guard: George Morihiro, 442nd Regimental Combat Team veteran; Paul Minato, Military Intelligence Service - Pacific; Mas Odoi, 442nd Regimental Combat Team veteran; Art Yorozu, Military Intelligence Service - Pacific; and Dale Kaku, Nisei Veterans Committee Commander, and recognized other members of the committee.

Reading of the Journal of the previous day was dispensed with and it was ordered to stand approved.

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 2005-4622, by Representatives Santos, Hasegawa, Talcott, Hankins, Skinner, Darneille, Hunter, Haler, Chase, B. Sullivan, McCoy, Wallace, Nixon, Hunt, P. Sullivan, Lovick, Blake, Ericks, Murray, Kilmer, Schual-Berke, Moeller, Jarrett, Takko, Dickerson, Dunn, Springer, Sells, Holmquist, Conway, Strow, Kirby, Kretz, McDonald, Clibborn, Roberts, Kenney, McDermott, O'Brien, Bailey, Simpson and Kagi

WHEREAS, On February 19, 1942, President Franklin D. Roosevelt issued Executive Order 9066, which authorized the forced assembly, evacuation, and internment of approximately 12,000 Japanese-Americans residing in the state of Washington; and

WHEREAS, The order for assembly and detention at Camp Harmony in Puyallup, Washington, prior to evacuation and subsequent internment caused Japanese-Americans from the state of Washington to lose millions of dollars in property and assets, to suffer immeasurable physical and psychological damage, and to be deprived of their constitutional liberties without due process of law; and

WHEREAS, The alleged purpose of this drastic course of action was to prevent Japanese-Americans, all of whom were deemed disloyal and untrustworthy, from committing acts of espionage and sabotage against the United States during the period of its involvement in World War II; and

WHEREAS, An overwhelming number of Japanese-Americans from the state of Washington responded to questions of their loyalty and patriotism by volunteering from within barbed wire camps to serve in the United States Military Intelligence Service and the United States Army's 442nd Regimental Combat Team, the latter of which became the most decorated unit of its size in American history with seven Presidential Unit Citations, 21 Congressional Medals of Honor, 52 Distinguished Service Crosses, 1 Distinguished Service Medal, 588 Silver Stars, 4,000 Bronze Stars, 9,486 Purple Hearts, and a total of 18 decorations from France and Italy; and

WHEREAS, A few equally patriotic Japanese-Americans, such as Gordon Hirabayashi, then a student at the University of Washington, were willing to face imprisonment to seek justice by challenging the constitutionality of the evacuation and internment orders; and

WHEREAS, Through the fact-finding work of the Commission on Wartime Relocation and Internment of Civilians, the United States Congress later found "there was no military or security reason for the internment" of individuals of Japanese ancestry but "was caused by racial prejudice, war hysteria, and a failure of political leadership"; and

WHEREAS, Japanese-American internees from the state of Washington endured economic, physical, and psychological hardship and suffered in silence for more than forty years before the state of Washington provided monetary redress and reparations to municipal and state employees;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the House of Representatives, along with the people of Washington, pause to acknowledge the sixty-third anniversary of the signing of Executive Order 9066 as well as the sixtieth anniversary of the conclusion of World War II in September 1945, to recognize the Japanese-American internees and WWII veterans from the state of Washington, to honor their patience, heroism, sacrifice, and patriotic loyalty, and to remember the lessons and blessings of liberty and justice for all; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That copies of this resolution be immediately transmitted by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives to the Nisei Veterans Committee, the Military Intelligence Service - Northwest Association, and the Japanese-American Citizens League.

Representative Santos moved the adoption of the resolution.

Representative Santos: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I am very proud and humbled to stand before you, sir, as we recognize the sixty-third anniversary of the signing of Executive Order 9066 - the Presidential Directive that authorized the mass evacuation, relocation and internment during World War II of more than 120,000 Japanese-Americans including 12,000 from the State of Washington from communities as far flung as Asotin to Yakima, from Seattle to Spokane, from Bellingham to Vancouver. Of those who were evacuated from the West Coast, more than two thirds were American born citizens and nearly 25 percent were children under the age of 15. According to the records kept by the War Relocation Authority, Washington State was the second most likely state of birth for many of these young Japanese-Americans. Yet the United States government - in a panic from the attack on its shores - felt that the security of this nation depended on the immediate removal of these young citizens. As many of you who have served with me these past seven years know, one of the youngsters was my mom, then a tender-aged nine-year-old. At the same time, her uncle, my great uncle George S. Miyaoka was serving in the United States Army as a proud member of the 442nd Regimental Combat Team - an all Japanese-American unit; one of the several segregated military units employed during World War II, and the most highly decorated unit of its size in all of American military history. What was he fighting for? I think President Truman said it best in a White House ceremony honoring the exceptional exploits of the Japanese American Armed Services by noting and I'm going to paraphrase 'you fought not only the enemy but racial prejudice and you won. Keep up that fight and we'll make this country and the constitution stand for what we claim it stands for - that is the welfare of all of the people at all of the time.' And that is why this Washington State House of Representatives pauses in our deliberations today to recognize the meaning of our rights and our freedoms. And to recognize the sacrifices of those who secured those precious liberties for us. That is why I am so proud to have some of the surviving members of the 442nd and the Military Intelligence Service joining with us today, providing our color guard and providing us with a reminder of why we are all here. Just barely adults when they joined the service, many of them enlisting directly from the internment camps where they had been imprisoned, these men are now living in their golden years. But this year we are going to recognize the 60th anniversary of the ending of World War II and we are very quickly losing these brave soldiers. I can certainly name a few and I'm sure that you can as well.

My former seat mate, Kip Tokuda sought to ensure that we do not lose the stories that are so valuable to our history as a people, as a state, as a nation. And that is why we created the Civil Liberties Public Education Fund to capture those stories. I want to commend my good friend from the 35th District for her work on collecting the oral stories and oral histories of the World War II veterans. I know the good gentleman from the 10th District is also working on preserving the oral histories of the women who served during World War II. These are important stories, we have had the Tuskegee Airmen, we have had the Filipino veterans, we have the Navaho code talkers - these are stories of heroes whom we cannot forget.

And so, Mr. Speaker, as I begin to conclude, I would like to just note a few of those notable achievements and I would like to read with your permission the citation of one decorated hero: 'For gallantry in action on 18 July 1944 in the vicinity of Colle Salvetti, Italy when his company was halted by two machine guns less than one hundred yards away, Pfc. Miyaoka voluntarily advanced to destroy one of the guns under continual fire from a machine gun, a machine pistol and supporting sniper fire, he crept and crawled, utilizing the scant cover offered by the rolling ground to within twenty yards of the gun. As the enemy squads started to withdraw as Pfc. Miyaoka neutralized the machine gun nest with a fragmentation grenade, he shot and killed three of the enemy, wounded one and captured one. After sending the prisoner to rear, he personally bandaged the wounded enemy.'

This is not an uncommon story of the brave men who are sitting in the gallery and who are sitting in our communities at home. The 442nd deployed in Europe were responsible in part for the liberation of Dachau. They were responsible for saving the Texas Lost Battalion. The Military Intelligence Service and Merrill's Marauders were deployed in the Pacific using language skills that were key to our victory in the Pacific, as members of the Allied Translator and Interpreter Services. On VJ Day in the Pacific, there were more than 3,000 American-born Japanese. That's why collectively they earned seven Presidential Unit Citations, 21 Congressional Medals of Honor, 52 Distinguished Service Crosses, 588 Silver Stars, 4,000 Bronze Stars, 9,500 Purple Hearts and 18 decorations from France and Italy.

These are our American heroes, Mr. Speaker. I hope that today we will recall President Truman's words and ensure that their victory and the meaning of their victory is never lost. Let their sacrifices never be forgotten. So, Mr. Speaker, I urge the adoption of this resolution."

Representative Strow: "Mr. Speaker, on November 19, 1942 the President of the United States issued Executive Order 9066 allowing for the internment of nearly 120,000 Japanese-Americans living in the United States, nearly two thirds of those were US citizens. Those interned were forced to sell their property at very short notice, leave their homes and report to the camps and there, sometimes, were separated from their families. Now it is true for historical record that some Italian-Americans and German-Americans were also interned during the war. However, there was a difference in that either they or close family member or in some cases someone with a similar name showed up on the list of fascist sympathizers or Nazi party members. Japanese-Americans were interned solely because of their ancestry and the color of their skin.

Now not all Japanese-Americans were interned during the war. Many served with distinction in our Armed Forces including the all Japanese-American 442nd Regimental Combat Team who were key to our military success on the Italian mainland. Also the majority of the Japanese-American population in Hawaii were not interned because it was unfeasible to lock up more than half of the population of the Hawaiian Islands.

It is clear that not all our citizens received equal justice during World War II. On August 10, 1988 another American President signed Public Law No. 100-383 providing redress for the surviving Japanese-American internees. Mr. Speaker, if I may quote that president: "Yet no payment can make up for those lost years. So what is most important in this bill has less to do with property than with honor for here we admit a wrong, for here we reaffirm our commitment as a nation to equal justice under the law."

Today, Mr. Speaker, I believe we are here to reaffirm our commitment as a nation and as a state to equal justice under the law and thus I urge adoption of this resolution."

Representative Hasegawa: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I am just so tickled to have representatives of our community and the 442nd here today to help us reflect on the meaning of Executive Order 9066 and hopefully there is a teaching lesson we can learn from this executive order. But before we get into that, I want to just pay respect to my parents, my mom, Mine "Minnie" Hasegawa. Obviously, this has a much more profound effect than I even recognized. I want to recognized my father, Hiroshi "Hiro" Hasegawa, my grandmother, my grandparents, my grandfather, my uncles and aunts and everybody who was interned during that period. They were all sent to Minidoka War Relocation Camp, concentration camp. Before they went there, they were sent to Camp Harmony which is now the Puyallup Fair Grounds. If you go visit the Puyallup Fair Grounds now you'll see a memorial, a sculpture by Professor Emeritus of Art, George Tsutakawa in the Northeast corner of that fair grounds memorializing the fact that this was their congregation point; they were all housed on the Puyallup Fair Grounds while they were building the camps around the country.

Many of my friends and relatives later went on to serve this country in the military intelligence service as was previously noted. And in the 442nd. They served also in Korea.

I was born shortly after the war and in that context I was a baby boomer and there was something strange going on in our community. Nobody every talked about what happened during World War II. So consequently, there was a possibility that whole episode would go buried and unnoticed, and I am so grateful to this body to keep this in the public eye - to keep this conversation. This is a teaching moment. I also want to recognize many of the folks who stood by the Japanese American community during those hard times. Floyd Schmoie of the American Friends Service Committee went to Japan after the devastating bombings to help clean and help the citizens of that country. Reverend Emery Andrews who was the pastor of Japanese Baptist Church were I grew up; we affectionately called him Andy. He stood by the community; he went to Minidoka and actually lived out there for a while to minister to the internees. After that period of time, when I was growing up, I was involved with the Japanese Baptist Church and we had a boy scout troop there, Troop 53. Little did I know at that time that the adults in that troop were largely veterans of World War II. You can imagine how hard we were driven as a troop but they taught us traditional family values, they taught us hard work and there's another word in Japanese called gaman. Gaman means 'suck it up', don't complain, just do what you have to do. So those life lessons have stayed with me my whole life.

The most important lesson I learned from our community was how to work as a team, to work collectively, to help us uplift each other as a community. So these lessons laid the foundation for me and developed that sense of social justice that I now fight so hard to achieve in this great country. And it also crafted the lens through which I view Executive Order 9066. On January 12 of this year the University of Washington and the Densho project hosted a lecture by historian Greg Robinson. And part of that lecture was quoted in the Nissai Veteran's Committee Newsletter and if I may read from that: 'Roosevelt stated flatly that Asians' should be excluded from citizenship and property rights enjoyed by Whites. He subscribed to the prevailing theory of Social Darwinism which held that each race was marked by immutable characteristics. Privately he spoke of the Japanese as a savage race and of the undesirability of mixing blood.' So what is the lesson to be learned from that? Hatred, bigotry, racism is antisocial behavior and is just wrong. It has horrible consequences as we can see. So as I stood before you and spoke on Martin Luther King, Jr.'s celebration day, I said it wasn't about the man, the person or the individual ... we weren't hero worshipping. We were here to reflect on the principles and values that he stood for and fought for and died for. So similarly we need to look at Executive Order 9066 not as an isolated individual event but we need to reflect on it for the principles it represents and use it as a teaching tool. So what is the teaching point here? We have to look at the world around us and ask ourselves are we living in a world free of hatred, bigotry and racism? Are we interacting with the world from a position of mutual respect and dignity rather than oppressive power? Are we respecting the civil and human rights of all the people of the United States and the world? Remembering Executive Order 9066 makes us think about those things.

There is a second teaching point though - are we working to build a world of mutual cooperation and mutual uplift or are we building a world that is oppressive, full of destructive competition and oppression? So I want to thank this body for really paying the respect to the principles that EO 9066 brings our attention to and for helping a good thing come out of the Japanese American experience that our whole community and country suffered through because we are still feeling the pains of that. So with that, Mr. Speaker, I urge your adoption of this resolution."

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 4622 was adopted.

POINT OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Representative Kagi: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Two days ago in Colville, Washington, a Child Protective Services worker was brutally attacked with a machete and a two-by-four. Fortunately, her wounds were not life-threatening and she is recovering, and is planning to return to work within a week. Her attacker didn't stop until he was shot by a deputy sheriff.

I want to take a moment to just recognize the courageous work that our Child Protective Services workers do, and to recognize that this is the most serious attack, certainly that I remember. But reading in the newspaper, it is not unusual for CPS workers to be threatened and to receive death threats. So we, I think, need to look at this incident and realize that our Child Protective Services workers are not only out there knocking on doors in our communities trying to make sure children are safe but we need to pay attention to the need to protect our own workers and their safety.

I called the area manager of the Colville office yesterday because some of us wanted to send flowers to the Child Protective Services worker and I was told that she really didn't want to receive flowers. She asked that if we wanted to do something, we send toys for the children who have experienced tremendous trauma, to help them move forward. So we will send toys along with our best wishes for her recovery and our hope that these children will recover from the tremendous tragedy that they have experienced.

I would like to send my thanks to her and to all the CPS workers across the State that do their best to protect our children. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Sullivan, Sump, Takko, Talcott, Tom, Upthegrove, Wallace, Walsh, Williams, Wood and Woods

WHEREAS, It is our responsibility to educate our children to be not only good students and workers, but also good citizens, parents, and leaders; and

WHEREAS, The House of Representatives welcomes children into the House Chamber every Presidents' Day so they may witness the legislative process; and

WHEREAS, Children need a first-hand look at their democracy because they, as voters and lawmakers, will soon take the reins of the state; and

WHEREAS, It is our duty to make good decisions to leave Washington state better than we found it, as our parents and grandparents worked hard to build the schools, roads, cities, and institutions that exist today; and

WHEREAS, We welcome to the House of Representatives the children here today, the high school students serving as pages, and the college students working as interns, and we hope their experience here inspires them to stay informed and involved in their democracy;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the House of Representatives recognize and celebrate the children, youth, and students of Washington state; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the House of Representatives encourage all the citizens of Washington to celebrate children on Children's Day and throughout the year by spending more quality time with children and emphasizing their special place in our lives.

Representative P. Sullivan moved the adoption of the resolution.

Representatives P. Sullivan, Hinkle and Roberts spoke in favor of the adoption of the resolution.

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 2005-4625, by Representatives Sells, Ahern, Alexander, Anderson, Appleton, Armstrong, Bailey, Blake, Buck, Buri, Campbell, Chandler, Chase, Chopp, Clements, Clibborn, Cody, Condotta, Conway, Cox, Crouse, Curtis, Darneille, DeBolt, Dickerson, Dunn, Dunshee, Eickmeyer, Ericks, Ericksen, Flannigan, Fromhold, Grant, Green, Haigh, Haler, Hankins, Hasegawa, Hinkle, Holmquist, Hudgins, Hunt, Hunter, Jarrett, Kagi, Kenney, Kessler, Kilmer, Kirby, Kretz, Kristiansen, Lantz, Linville, Lovick, McCoy, McCune, McDermott, McDonald, McIntire, Miloscia, Moeller, Morrell, Morris, Murray, Newhouse, Nixon, O'Brien, Orcutt, Ormsby, Pearson, Pettigrew, Priest, Quall, Roach, Roberts, Rodne, Santos, Schindler, Schual-Berke, Serben, Shabro, Simpson, Skinner, Sommers, Springer, Strow, B. Sullivan, P. Sullivan, Sump, Takko, Talcott, Tom, Upthegrove, Wallace, Walsh, Williams, Wood and Woods

WHEREAS, Washington is the only state named for an American president, George Washington, the father of our country, and as such we Washingtonians hold the presidency and presidents in special regard; and

WHEREAS, For many years our state and nation have set aside the third Monday in February to celebrate Presidents' Day, which honors former presidents of the United States of America; and

WHEREAS, Both February 12th, the actual birthday of President Abraham Lincoln, and February 22nd, the actual birthday of President George Washington, were kept and observed, until nineteen seventy-one, as the anniversaries of the births of these two great American presidents; and

WHEREAS, Presidents' Day for many citizens remains a time for specifically honoring the accomplishments of Washington, the first American president, and Lincoln, the sixteenth American president; and

WHEREAS, Even until his death in seventeen ninety-nine, George Washington's birthday was actually celebrated by many of his fellow citizens on February 11th because colonial America at the time of his birth in seventeen thirty-two was still using the Julian, "Old Style" calendar, instead of the Gregorian, "New Style" calendar; and

WHEREAS, The designation of February 22nd as President Washington's birthday came to pass because the Gregorian calendar added eleven days to the old date to make the calendar year line up with the astronomical year; and

WHEREAS, It was in nineteen sixty-eight that federal legislation, the "Monday Holidays Act," was passed to install the Presidents' Day celebration that we have come to know and respect; and

WHEREAS, Although traditionalists cling to the notion that Presidents' Day remains a time for celebrating the specific legacies of Presidents Washington and Lincoln, nontraditionalists are very welcome to embrace the fact that former Presidents John Adams, Thomas Jefferson, John Quincy Adams, Martin Van Buren, Andrew Johnson, Ulysses Grant, James Garfield, and Teddy Roosevelt, as well as the presidents of later decades, are honored in a good many National Park Service commemorations; and

WHEREAS, In nineteen eighty-five the Washington State Legislature singled out the third Monday in February as a day for commemorating the births of Presidents Washington and Lincoln; and

WHEREAS, In anticipatory celebration of this diverse, wonderful land of ours, which has been fashioned into a priceless, multicultural quilt, thanks to the children of scores of the world's nations, almost a fifth of our forty-three American presidents, the first eight presidents, did not start out in life as Americans because there was no America when they were born; and

WHEREAS, No Presidents' Day celebration would be complete without appropriate recognition for the invaluable service of the First Ladies in our American presidential history; and

WHEREAS, The term "First Lady" was first used in eighteen seventy-seven in describing the nonelected but very important "public office" held by Lucy Ware Webb Hayes, the wife of our nineteenth president, Rutherford B. Hayes;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the House of Representatives of the State of Washington salute and celebrate Presidents' Day 2005, a time for recognizing and paying tribute to the tireless dedication of our former presidents; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That copies of this Resolution be immediately transmitted by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives to the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction for effective distribution among the schools of the state of Washington to help strengthen the knowledge of our presidents on the part of our young people, any one of whom could in fact grow up to be President.

Representative Sells moved the adoption of the resolution.

Representatives Sells and Haler spoke in favor of the adoption of the resolution.

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 2005-4605, By Representatives DeBolt and Woods

WHEREAS, Rotary International, founded on February 23, 1905, in Chicago, Illinois, is the world's first and one of the largest nonprofit service organizations; and

WHEREAS, There are over 1.2 million Rotary club members comprised of professional and business leaders in over 31,000 clubs in more than 165 countries; and

WHEREAS, The Rotary motto "Service Above Self" inspires members to provide humanitarian service, encourage high ethical standards, and promote goodwill and peace in the world; and

WHEREAS, Rotary funds club projects and sponsors volunteers with community expertise to provide medical supplies, health care, clean water, food production, job training, and education to millions in need, particularly in developing countries; and

WHEREAS, Rotary in 1985 launched Polio Plus and spearheaded efforts with the World Health Organization, the United States Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, and UNICEF to immunize the children of the world against polio; and

WHEREAS, Polio cases have dropped by 99 percent since 1988 and the world stands on the threshold of eradicating the disease; and

WHEREAS, Rotary is the world's largest privately funded source of international scholarships and promotes international understanding through scholarships, exchange programs, and humanitarian grants; and

WHEREAS, More than 35,000 students from 110 countries have studied abroad since 1947 as Rotary Ambassadorial Scholars; and

WHEREAS, Rotary's Group Study Exchange Program has helped more than 46,000 young professionals explore their career fields in other countries; and

WHEREAS, 8,000 secondary-school students each year experience life in another country through Rotary's Youth Exchange Program; and

WHEREAS, There are over 12,000 Rotary club members in more than 190 clubs throughout this state sponsoring service projects to address such critical issues as poverty, health, hunger, illiteracy, and the environment in their local communities and abroad;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Washington State House of Representatives encourage all citizens to join in recognizing Rotary International for 100 years of service to improving the human condition in local communities around the world.

Representative DeBolt moved the adoption of the resolution.

Representatives DeBolt and Kessler spoke in favor of the adoption of the resolution.

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 4605 was adopted.

On page 1, after line 3, insert the following:

"Sec. 1. RCW 43.185.060 and 1994 c 160 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

Organizations that may receive assistance from the department under this chapter are local governments, local housing authorities, regional support networks established under chapter 71.24 RCW, nonprofit community or neighborhood-based organizations, federally recognized Indian tribes in the state of Washington, and regional or statewide nonprofit housing assistance organizations.

Eligible organizations must have an organizational quality management system equivalent to the Malcolm Baldrige national quality program in place by July, 2007.

Organizations that receive assistance from the department, as well as any identified subcontractors, must commit to pay, to all employees, hourly wages that are at least equal to or greater than $7.85 for all work performed in 2005. In succeeding years, this minimum hourly wage shall increase as follows:

(1) $8.35 in 2006;

(2) $8.85 in 2007;

(3) $9.35 in 2008;

(4) $9.85 in 2009;

(5) $10.35 in 2010;

MESSAGE FROM THE SENATE

February 16, 2005

Mr. Speaker:

The Senate has passed SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1014, with the following amendment::

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. RCW 10.73.170 and 2003 c 100 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

~~(1) ((On or before December 31, 2004, a person in this state who has been convicted of a felony and is currently serving a term of imprisonment and who has been denied postconviction DNA testing may submit a request to the state Office of Public Defense, which will transmit the request to the county prosecutor in the county where the conviction was obtained for postconviction DNA testing, if DNA evidence was not admitted because the court ruled DNA testing did not meet acceptable scientific standards or DNA testing technology was not sufficiently developed to test the DNA evidence in the case. On and after January 1, 2005, a person must raise the DNA issues at trial or on appeal.~~

~~(2) The prosecutor shall screen the request. The request shall be reviewed based upon the likelihood that the DNA evidence would demonstrate innocence on a more probable than not basis. The prosecutor shall inform the requestor and the state Office of Public Defense of the decision, and shall, in the case of an adverse decision, advise the requestor of appeals rights. Upon determining that testing should occur and the evidence still exists, the prosecutor shall request DNA testing by the Washington state patrol crime laboratory. Contact with victims shall be handled through victim/witness divisions.~~

~~(3) A person denied a request made pursuant to subsections (1) and (2) of this section has a right to appeal his or her request within thirty days of denial of the request by the prosecutor. The appeal shall be to the attorney general's office. If the attorney general's office determines that it is likely that the DNA testing would demonstrate innocence on a more probable than not basis, then the attorney general's office shall request DNA testing by the Washington state patrol crime laboratory.~~

~~(4) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, any biological material that has been secured in connection with a criminal case prior to July 22, 2001, may not be destroyed before January 1, 2005.)~~ A person convicted of a felony in a Washington state court who currently is serving a term of imprisonment may submit to the court that entered the judgment of conviction a verified written motion requesting DNA testing, with a copy of the motion provided to the state office of public defense.

(2) The motion shall:

(a) State that:

(i) The court ruled that DNA testing did not meet acceptable scientific standards; or

(ii) DNA testing technology was not sufficiently developed to test the DNA evidence in the case; or

(iii) The DNA testing now requested would be significantly more accurate than prior DNA testing or would provide significant new information;

(b) Explain why DNA evidence is material to the identity of the perpetrator of, or accomplice to, the crime, or to sentence enhancement; and

(c) Comply with all other procedural requirements established by court rule.

(3) The court shall grant a motion requesting DNA testing under this section if such motion is in the form required by subsection (2) of this section, and the convicted person has shown the likelihood that the DNA evidence would demonstrate innocence on a more probable than not basis.

(4) Upon written request to the court that entered a judgment of conviction, a convicted person who demonstrates that he or she is indigent under RCW 10.101.010 may request appointment of counsel solely to prepare and present a motion under this section, and the court, in its discretion, may grant the request. Such motion for appointment of counsel shall comply with all procedural requirements established by court rule.

(5) DNA testing ordered under this section shall be performed by the Washington state patrol crime laboratory. Contact with victims shall be handled through victim/witness divisions.

(6) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, upon motion of defense counsel or the court's own motion, a sentencing court in a felony case may order the preservation of any biological material that has been secured in connection with a criminal case, or evidence samples sufficient for testing, in accordance with any court rule adopted for the preservation of evidence. The court must specify the samples to be maintained and the length of time the samples must be preserved.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, or support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and takes effect immediately."

On page 1, line 1 of the title, after "testing;" strike the remainder of the title and insert "amending RCW 10.73.170; and declaring an emergency."

and the same is herewith transmitted.

HOUSE BILL NO. 1054, By Representatives Lantz, Priest and Morrell

Enacting the revised Uniform Arbitration Act.

The bill was read the second time.

On motion of Representative Lantz, Substitute House Bill No. 1054 was substituted for House Bill No. 1054 and the substitute bill was placed on the second reading calendar.

SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1054 was read the second time.

There being no objection, the rules were suspended, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Representatives Lantz and Priest spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

COLLOQUY

Representative Priest: "Does subsection (1) of section 21, as amended, mean that an arbitrator cannot award punitive damages or other exemplary relief unless, under the applicable law, a court hearing the same claim could award such relief?"

Representative Lantz: "Yes. The key question is what is the applicable law. If Washington law applied to the issues in dispute, Washington common law does not recognize punitive damages so neither a trial court nor an arbitrator could award them on the basis. Where a specific Washington statute applied to the issues in dispute and provided for punitive or exemplary damages, (for example the consumer protection act), the trial court and therefore the arbitrator could award damages under that statute.

If the arbitration is in Washington, but the substantive law of another state is applied to the issues in dispute (for example, the contract contains a choice of law provision), then the issue of punitive and exemplary damages is controlled by the law of that other state."

Representative Priest: "Does subsection (2) of section 21, as amended, mean that an arbitrator cannot award attorney fees and other reasonable expenses of arbitration unless, under the applicable law, a court hearing the same claim could award such relief?"

Representative Lantz: "Yes. The analysis parallels the analysis for punitive and exemplary damages I just explained."

The Speaker stated the question before the House to be the final passage of Substitute House Bill No. 1054.

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of Substitute House Bill No. 1054 and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas - 95, Nays - 0, Absent - 0, Excused - 3.

SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1054, having received the necessary constitutional majority, was declared passed.

Enacting the Uniform Mediation Act.

The bill was read the second time.

On motion of Representative Lantz, Substitute House Bill No. 1055 was substituted for House Bill No. 1055 and the substitute bill was placed on the second reading calendar.

SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1055 was read the second time.

Representative Lantz moved the adoption of amendment (038):

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. TITLE. This act may be cited as the Uniform Mediation Act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. DEFINITIONS. In this chapter:

- (1) "Mediation" means a process in which a mediator facilitates communication and negotiation between parties to assist them in reaching a voluntary agreement regarding their dispute.
- (2) "Mediation communication" means a statement, whether oral or in a record or verbal or nonverbal, that occurs during a mediation or is made for purposes of considering, conducting, participating in, initiating, continuing, or reconvening a mediation or retaining a mediator.
- (3) "Mediator" means an individual who conducts a mediation.
- (4) "Nonparty participant" means a person, other than a party or mediator, that participates in a mediation.
- (5) "Mediation party" means a person that participates in a mediation and whose agreement is necessary to resolve the dispute.
- (6) "Person" means an individual, corporation, business trust, estate, trust, partnership, limited liability company, association, joint venture, government; governmental subdivision, agency, or instrumentality; or public corporation, or any other legal or commercial entity.
- (7) "Proceeding" means:
 - (a) A judicial, administrative, arbitral, or other adjudicative process, including related prehearing and posthearing motions, conferences, and discovery; or
 - (b) A legislative hearing or similar process.
- (8) "Record" means information that is inscribed on a tangible medium or that is stored in an electronic or other medium and is retrievable in perceivable form.
- (9) "Sign" means:
 - (a) To execute or adopt a tangible symbol with the present intent to authenticate a record; or
 - (b) To attach or logically associate an electronic symbol, sound, or process to or with a record with the present intent to authenticate a record.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. SCOPE. (1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (2) or (3) of this section, this chapter applies to a mediation in which:

(a) The mediation parties are required to mediate by statute or court or administrative agency rule or referred to mediation by a court, administrative agency, or arbitrator;

(b) The mediation parties and the mediator agree to mediate in a record that demonstrates an expectation that mediation communications will be privileged against disclosure; or

(c) The mediation parties use as a mediator an individual who holds himself or herself out as a mediator or the mediation is provided by a person that holds itself out as providing mediation.

(2) This chapter does not apply to a mediation:

(a) Conducted by a judge who might make a ruling on the case; or

(b) Conducted under the auspices of:

(i) A primary or secondary school if all the parties are students; or

(ii) A correctional institution for youths if all the parties are residents of that institution.

(3) If the parties agree in advance in a signed record, or a record of proceeding reflects agreement by the parties, that all or part of a mediation is not privileged, the privileges under sections 4 through 6 of this act do not apply to the mediation or part agreed upon. However, sections 4 through 6 of this act apply to a mediation communication made by a person that has not received actual notice of the agreement before the communication is made.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. PRIVILEGE AGAINST DISCLOSURE; ADMISSIBILITY; DISCOVERY. (1) Except as otherwise provided in section 6 of this act, a mediation communication is privileged as provided in subsection (2) of this section and is not subject to discovery or admissible in evidence in a proceeding unless waived or precluded as provided by section 5 of this act.

(2) In a proceeding, the following privileges apply:

(a) A mediation party may refuse to disclose, and may prevent any other person from disclosing, a mediation communication;

(b) A mediator may refuse to disclose a mediation communication, and may prevent any other person from disclosing a mediation communication of the mediator; and

(c) A nonparty participant may refuse to disclose, and may prevent any other person from disclosing, a mediation communication of the nonparty participant.

(3) Evidence or information that is otherwise admissible or subject to discovery does not become inadmissible or protected from discovery solely by reason of its disclosure or use in a mediation.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. WAIVER AND PRECLUSION OF PRIVILEGE. (1) A privilege under section 4 of this act may be waived in a record or orally during a proceeding if it is expressly waived by all parties to the mediation and:

(a) In the case of the privilege of a mediator, it is expressly waived by the mediator; and

(b) In the case of the privilege of a nonparty participant, it is expressly waived by the nonparty participant.

(2) A person that discloses or makes a representation about a mediation communication which prejudices another person in a proceeding is precluded from asserting a privilege under section 4 of this act, but only to the extent necessary for the person prejudiced to respond to the representation or disclosure.

(3) A person that intentionally uses a mediation to plan, attempt to commit, or commit a crime, or to conceal an ongoing crime or ongoing criminal activity is precluded from asserting a privilege under section 4 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. EXCEPTIONS TO PRIVILEGE. (1) There is no privilege under section 4 of this act for a mediation communication that is:

(a) In an agreement evidenced by a record signed by all parties to the agreement;

(b) Made during a session of a mediation which is open, or is required by law to be open, to the public;

(c) A threat or statement of a plan to inflict bodily injury or commit a crime of violence;

(d) Intentionally used to plan a crime, attempt to commit or commit a crime, or to conceal an ongoing crime or ongoing criminal activity;

(e) Sought or offered to prove or disprove a claim or complaint of professional misconduct or malpractice filed against a mediator;

(f) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (3) of this section, sought or offered to prove or disprove a claim or complaint of professional misconduct or malpractice filed against a mediation party, nonparty participant, or representative of a party based on conduct occurring during a mediation; or

(g) Sought or offered to prove or disprove abuse, neglect, abandonment, or exploitation in a proceeding in which a child or adult protective services agency is a party, unless the public agency participates in the child or adult protection mediation.

(2) There is no privilege under section 4 of this act if a court finds, after a hearing in camera, that the party seeking discovery or the proponent of the evidence has shown that the evidence is not otherwise available, that there is a need for the evidence that substantially outweighs the interest in protecting confidentiality, and that the mediation communication is sought or offered in:

(a) A criminal court proceeding involving a felony; or

(b) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (3) of this section, a proceeding to prove a claim to rescind or reform or a defense to avoid liability on a contract arising out of the mediation.

(3) A mediator may not be compelled to provide evidence of a mediation communication referred to in subsection (1)(f) or (2)(b) of this section.

(4) If a mediation communication is not privileged under subsection (1) or (2) of this section, only the portion of the communication necessary for the application of the exception from nondisclosure may be admitted. Admission of evidence under subsection (1) or (2) of this section does not render the evidence, or any other mediation communication, discoverable or admissible for any other purpose.

(5) Records of mediation communications that are privileged under this chapter are exempt from the requirements of chapter 42.17 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. PROHIBITED MEDIATOR REPORTS. (1) Except as provided in subsection (2) of this section, a mediator may not make a report, assessment, evaluation, recommendation, finding, or other communication regarding a mediation to a court, administrative agency, or other authority that may make a ruling on the dispute that is the subject of the mediation.

(2) A mediator may disclose:

(a) Whether the mediation occurred or has terminated, whether a settlement was reached, attendance, and efforts to schedule a mediation ordered by a court, administrative agency, or other authority that may make a ruling on the dispute;

(b) A mediation communication as permitted under section 6 of this act; or

(c) A mediation communication evidencing abuse, neglect, abandonment, or exploitation of an individual to a public agency responsible for protecting individuals against such mistreatment.

(3) A communication made in violation of subsection (1) of this section may not be considered by a court, administrative agency, or arbitrator.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. CONFIDENTIALITY. Unless subject to chapter 42.30 RCW, mediation communications are confidential to the extent agreed by the parties or provided by other law or rule of this state.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. MEDIATOR'S DISCLOSURE OF CONFLICTS OF INTEREST; BACKGROUND. (1) Before accepting a mediation, an individual who is requested to serve as a mediator shall:

(a) Make an inquiry that is reasonable under the circumstances to determine whether there are any known facts that a reasonable individual would consider likely to affect the impartiality of the mediator, including a financial or personal interest in the outcome of the mediation and an existing or past relationship with a mediation party or foreseeable participant in the mediation; and

(b) Disclose any such known fact to the mediation parties as soon as is practical before accepting a mediation.

(2) If a mediator learns any fact described in subsection (1)(a) of this section after accepting a mediation, the mediator shall disclose it as soon as is practicable.

(3) At the request of a mediation party, an individual who is requested to serve as a mediator shall disclose the mediator's qualifications to mediate a dispute.

(4) A person that violates subsection (1) or (2) of this section is precluded by the violation from asserting a privilege under section 4 of this act.

(5) Subsections (1) through (3) of this section do not apply to an individual acting as a judge.

(6) This chapter does not require that a mediator have a special qualification by background or profession.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. PARTICIPATION IN MEDIATION. An attorney or other individual designated by a party may accompany the party to and participate in a mediation, except that if the dispute being mediated is the subject of pending proceedings under chapter 12.40 RCW, then a party may not be represented by an attorney in mediation unless the party may be represented by an attorney in the proceedings under chapter 12.40 RCW. A waiver of participation given before the mediation may be rescinded.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. RELATION TO ELECTRONIC SIGNATURES IN GLOBAL AND NATIONAL COMMERCE ACT. This chapter modifies, limits, or supersedes the federal electronic signatures in global and national commerce act (15 U.S.C. Sec. 7001 et seq.), but this chapter does not modify, limit, or supersede section 101(c) of that act or authorize electronic delivery of any of the notices described in section 103(b) of that act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. UNIFORMITY OF APPLICATION AND CONSTRUCTION. In applying and construing this chapter, consideration should be given to the need to promote uniformity of the law with respect to its subject matter among states that enact it.

Sec. 13. RCW 42.17.310 and 2003 c 277 s 3 and 2003 c 124 s 1 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(1) The following are exempt from public inspection and copying:

(a) Personal information in any files maintained for students in public schools, patients or clients of public institutions or public health agencies, or welfare recipients.

(b) Personal information in files maintained for employees, appointees, or elected officials of any public agency to the extent that disclosure would violate their right to privacy.

(c) Information required of any taxpayer in connection with the assessment or collection of any tax if the disclosure of the information to other persons would (i) be prohibited to such persons by RCW 84.08.210, 82.32.330, 84.40.020, or 84.40.340 or (ii) violate the taxpayer's right to privacy or result in unfair competitive disadvantage to the taxpayer.

(d) Specific intelligence information and specific investigative records compiled by investigative, law enforcement, and penology agencies, and state agencies vested with the responsibility to discipline members of any profession, the nondisclosure of which is essential to effective law enforcement or for the protection of any person's right to privacy.

(e) Information revealing the identity of persons who are witnesses to or victims of crime or who file complaints with investigative, law enforcement, or penology agencies, other than the public disclosure commission, if disclosure would endanger any person's life, physical safety, or property. If at the time a complaint is filed the complainant, victim or witness indicates a desire for disclosure or nondisclosure, such desire shall govern. However, all complaints filed with the public disclosure commission about any elected official or candidate for public office must be made in writing and signed by the complainant under oath.

(f) Test questions, scoring keys, and other examination data used to administer a license, employment, or academic examination.

(g) Except as provided by chapter 8.26 RCW, the contents of real estate appraisals, made for or by any agency relative to the acquisition or sale of property, until the project or prospective sale is abandoned or until such time as all of the property has been acquired or the property to which the sale appraisal relates is sold, but in no event shall disclosure be denied for more than three years after the appraisal.

(h) Valuable formulae, designs, drawings, computer source code or object code, and research data obtained by any agency within five years of the request for disclosure when disclosure would produce private gain and public loss.

(i) Preliminary drafts, notes, recommendations, and intra-agency memorandums in which opinions are expressed or policies formulated or recommended except that a specific record shall not be exempt when publicly cited by an agency in connection with any agency action.

(j) Records which are relevant to a controversy to which an agency is a party but which records would not be available to another party under the rules of pretrial discovery for causes pending in the superior courts.

(k) Records, maps, or other information identifying the location of archaeological sites in order to avoid the looting or depredation of such sites.

(l) Any library record, the primary purpose of which is to maintain control of library materials, or to gain access to information, which discloses or could be used to disclose the identity of a library user.

(m) Financial information supplied by or on behalf of a person, firm, or corporation for the purpose of qualifying to submit a bid or proposal for (i) a ferry system construction or repair contract as required by RCW 47.60.680 through 47.60.750 or (ii) highway construction or improvement as required by RCW 47.28.070.

(n) Railroad company contracts filed prior to July 28, 1991, with the utilities and transportation commission under RCW 81.34.070, except that the summaries of the contracts are open to public inspection and copying as otherwise provided by this chapter.

(o) Financial and commercial information and records supplied by private persons pertaining to export services provided pursuant to chapter 43.163 RCW and chapter 53.31 RCW, and by persons pertaining to export projects pursuant to RCW 43.23.035.

(p) Financial disclosures filed by private vocational schools under chapters 28B.85 and 28C.10 RCW.

(q) Records filed with the utilities and transportation commission or attorney general under RCW 80.04.095 that a court has determined are confidential under RCW 80.04.095.

(r) Financial and commercial information and records supplied by businesses or individuals during application for loans or program services provided by chapters 43.163, 43.160, 43.330, and 43.168 RCW, or during application for economic development loans or program services provided by any local agency.

(s) Membership lists or lists of members or owners of interests of units in timeshare projects, subdivisions, camping resorts, condominiums, land developments, or common-interest communities affiliated with such projects, regulated by the department of licensing, in the files or possession of the department.

(t) All applications for public employment, including the names of applicants, resumes, and other related materials submitted with respect to an applicant.

(u) The residential addresses or residential telephone numbers of employees or volunteers of a public agency which are held by any public agency in personnel records, public employment related records, or volunteer rosters, or are included in any mailing list of employees or volunteers of any public agency.

(v) The residential addresses and residential telephone numbers of the customers of a public utility contained in the records or lists held by the public utility of which they are customers, except that this information may be released to the division of child support or the agency or firm providing child support enforcement for another state under Title IV-D of the federal social security act, for the establishment, enforcement, or modification of a support order.

(w)(i) The federal social security number of individuals governed under chapter 18.130 RCW maintained in the files of the department of health, except this exemption does not apply to requests made directly to the department from federal, state, and local agencies of government, and national and state licensing, credentialing, investigatory, disciplinary, and examination organizations; (ii) the current residential address and current residential telephone number of a health care provider governed under chapter 18.130 RCW maintained in the files of the department, if the provider requests that this information be withheld from public inspection and copying, and provides to the department an accurate alternate or business address and business telephone number. On or after January 1, 1995, the current residential address and residential telephone number of a health care provider governed under RCW 18.130.040 maintained in the files of the department shall automatically be withheld from public inspection and copying unless the provider specifically requests the information be released, and except as provided for under RCW 42.17.260(9).

(x) Information obtained by the board of pharmacy as provided in RCW 69.45.090.

(y) Information obtained by the board of pharmacy or the department of health and its representatives as provided in RCW 69.41.044, 69.41.280, and 18.64.420.

(z) Financial information, business plans, examination reports, and any information produced or obtained in evaluating or examining a business and industrial development corporation organized or seeking certification under chapter 31.24 RCW.

(aa) Financial and commercial information supplied to the state investment board by any person when the information relates to the investment of public trust or retirement funds and when disclosure would result in loss to such funds or in private loss to the providers of this information.

(bb) Financial and valuable trade information under RCW 51.36.120.

(cc) Client records maintained by an agency that is a domestic violence program as defined in RCW 70.123.020 or 70.123.075 or a rape crisis center as defined in RCW 70.125.030.

(dd) Information that identifies a person who, while an agency employee: (i) Seeks advice, under an informal process established by the employing agency, in order to ascertain his or her rights in connection with a possible unfair practice under chapter 49.60 RCW against the person; and (ii) requests his or her identity or any identifying information not be disclosed.

(ee) Investigative records compiled by an employing agency conducting a current investigation of a possible unfair practice under chapter 49.60 RCW or of a possible violation of other federal, state, or local laws prohibiting discrimination in employment.

(ff) Business related information protected from public inspection and copying under RCW 15.86.110.

(gg) Financial, commercial, operations, and technical and research information and data submitted to or obtained by the clean Washington center in applications for, or delivery of, program services under chapter 70.95H RCW.

(hh) Information and documents created specifically for, and collected and maintained by a quality improvement committee pursuant to RCW 43.70.510 or 70.41.200, or by a peer review committee under RCW 4.24.250, regardless of which agency is in possession of the information and documents.

- (ii) Personal information in files maintained in a data base created under RCW 43.07.360.
- (jj) Financial and commercial information requested by the public stadium authority from any person or organization that leases or uses the stadium and exhibition center as defined in RCW 36.102.010.
- (kk) Names of individuals residing in emergency or transitional housing that are furnished to the department of revenue or a county assessor in order to substantiate a claim for property tax exemption under RCW 84.36.043.
- (ll) The names, residential addresses, residential telephone numbers, and other individually identifiable records held by an agency in relation to a vanpool, carpool, or other ride-sharing program or service. However, these records may be disclosed to other persons who apply for ride-matching services and who need that information in order to identify potential riders or drivers with whom to share rides.
- (mm) The personally identifying information of current or former participants or applicants in a paratransit or other transit service operated for the benefit of persons with disabilities or elderly persons.
- (nn) The personally identifying information of persons who acquire and use transit passes and other fare payment media including, but not limited to, stored value smart cards and magnetic strip cards, except that an agency may disclose this information to a person, employer, educational institution, or other entity that is responsible, in whole or in part, for payment of the cost of acquiring or using a transit pass or other fare payment media, or to the news media when reporting on public transportation or public safety. This information may also be disclosed at the agency's discretion to governmental agencies or groups concerned with public transportation or public safety.
- (oo) Proprietary financial and commercial information that the submitting entity, with review by the department of health, specifically identifies at the time it is submitted and that is provided to or obtained by the department of health in connection with an application for, or the supervision of, an antitrust exemption sought by the submitting entity under RCW 43.72.310. If a request for such information is received, the submitting entity must be notified of the request. Within ten business days of receipt of the notice, the submitting entity shall provide a written statement of the continuing need for confidentiality, which shall be provided to the requester. Upon receipt of such notice, the department of health shall continue to treat information designated under this section as exempt from disclosure. If the requester initiates an action to compel disclosure under this chapter, the submitting entity must be joined as a party to demonstrate the continuing need for confidentiality.
- (pp) Records maintained by the board of industrial insurance appeals that are related to appeals of crime victims' compensation claims filed with the board under RCW 7.68.110.
- (qq) Financial and commercial information supplied by or on behalf of a person, firm, corporation, or entity under chapter 28B.95 RCW relating to the purchase or sale of tuition units and contracts for the purchase of multiple tuition units.
- (rr) Any records of investigative reports prepared by any state, county, municipal, or other law enforcement agency pertaining to sex offenses contained in chapter 9A.44 RCW or sexually violent offenses as defined in RCW 71.09.020, which have been transferred to the Washington association of sheriffs and police chiefs for permanent electronic retention and retrieval pursuant to RCW 40.14.070(2)(b).
- (ss) Credit card numbers, debit card numbers, electronic check numbers, card expiration dates, or bank or other financial account numbers, except when disclosure is expressly required by or governed by other law.
- (tt) Financial information, including but not limited to account numbers and values, and other identification numbers supplied by or on behalf of a person, firm, corporation, limited liability company, partnership, or other entity related to an application for a liquor license, gambling license, or lottery retail license.
- (uu) Records maintained by the employment security department and subject to chapter 50.13 RCW if provided to another individual or organization for operational, research, or evaluation purposes.
- (vv) Individually identifiable information received by the work force training and education coordinating board for research or evaluation purposes.
- (ww) Those portions of records assembled, prepared, or maintained to prevent, mitigate, or respond to criminal terrorist acts, which are acts that significantly disrupt the conduct of government or of the general civilian population of the state or the United States and that manifest an extreme indifference to human life, the public disclosure of which would have a substantial likelihood of threatening public safety, consisting of:
 - (i) Specific and unique vulnerability assessments or specific and unique response or deployment plans, including compiled underlying data collected in preparation of or essential to the assessments, or to the response or deployment plans; and
 - (ii) Records not subject to public disclosure under federal law that are shared by federal or international agencies, and information prepared from national security briefings provided to state or local government officials related to domestic preparedness for acts of terrorism.
- (xx) Commercial fishing catch data from logbooks required to be provided to the department of fish and wildlife under RCW 77.12.047, when the data identifies specific catch location, timing, or methodology and the release of which would result in unfair competitive disadvantage to the commercial fisher providing the catch data. However, this information may be released to government agencies concerned with the management of fish and wildlife resources.

(yy) Sensitive wildlife data obtained by the department of fish and wildlife. However, sensitive wildlife data may be released to government agencies concerned with the management of fish and wildlife resources. Sensitive wildlife data includes:

(i) The nesting sites or specific locations of endangered species designated under RCW 77.12.020, or threatened or sensitive species classified by rule of the department of fish and wildlife;

(ii) Radio frequencies used in, or locational data generated by, telemetry studies; or

(iii) Other location data that could compromise the viability of a specific fish or wildlife population, and where at least one of the following criteria are met:

(A) The species has a known commercial or black market value;

(B) There is a history of malicious take of that species; or

(C) There is a known demand to visit, take, or disturb, and the species behavior or ecology renders it especially vulnerable or the species has an extremely limited distribution and concentration.

(zz) The personally identifying information of persons who acquire recreational licenses under RCW 77.32.010 or commercial licenses under chapter 77.65 or 77.70 RCW, except name, address of contact used by the department, and type of license, endorsement, or tag. However, the department of fish and wildlife may disclose personally identifying information to:

(i) Government agencies concerned with the management of fish and wildlife resources;

(ii) The department of social and health services, child support division, and to the department of licensing in order to implement RCW 77.32.014 and 46.20.291; and

(iii) Law enforcement agencies for the purpose of firearm possession enforcement under RCW 9.41.040.

(aaa)(i) Discharge papers of a veteran of the armed forces of the United States filed at the office of the county auditor before July 1, 2002, that have not been commingled with other recorded documents. These records will be available only to the veteran, the veteran's next of kin, a deceased veteran's properly appointed personal representative or executor, a person holding that veteran's general power of attorney, or to anyone else designated in writing by that veteran to receive the records.

(ii) Discharge papers of a veteran of the armed forces of the United States filed at the office of the county auditor before July 1, 2002, that have been commingled with other records, if the veteran has recorded a "request for exemption from public disclosure of discharge papers" with the county auditor. If such a request has been recorded, these records may be released only to the veteran filing the papers, the veteran's next of kin, a deceased veteran's properly appointed personal representative or executor, a person holding the veteran's general power of attorney, or anyone else designated in writing by the veteran to receive the records.

(iii) Discharge papers of a veteran filed at the office of the county auditor after June 30, 2002, are not public records, but will be available only to the veteran, the veteran's next of kin, a deceased veteran's properly appointed personal representative or executor, a person holding the veteran's general power of attorney, or anyone else designated in writing by the veteran to receive the records.

(iv) For the purposes of this subsection (1)(aaa), next of kin of deceased veterans have the same rights to full access to the record. Next of kin are the veteran's widow or widower who has not remarried, son, daughter, father, mother, brother, and sister.

(bbb) Those portions of records containing specific and unique vulnerability assessments or specific and unique emergency and escape response plans at a city, county, or state adult or juvenile correctional facility, the public disclosure of which would have a substantial likelihood of threatening the security of a city, county, or state adult or juvenile correctional facility or any individual's safety.

(ccc) Information compiled by school districts or schools in the development of their comprehensive safe school plans pursuant to RCW 28A.320.125, to the extent that they identify specific vulnerabilities of school districts and each individual school.

(ddd) Information regarding the infrastructure and security of computer and telecommunications networks, consisting of security passwords, security access codes and programs, access codes for secure software applications, security and service recovery plans, security risk assessments, and security test results to the extent that they identify specific system vulnerabilities.

(eee) Information obtained and exempted or withheld from public inspection by the health care authority under RCW 41.05.026, whether retained by the authority, transferred to another state purchased health care program by the authority, or transferred by the authority to a technical review committee created to facilitate the development, acquisition, or implementation of state purchased health care under chapter 41.05 RCW.

(fff) Proprietary data, trade secrets, or other information that relates to: (i) A vendor's unique methods of conducting business; (ii) data unique to the product or services of the vendor; or (iii) determining prices or rates to be charged for services, submitted by any vendor to the department of social and health services for purposes of the development, acquisition, or implementation of state purchased health care as defined in RCW 41.05.011.

(ggg) Records of mediation communications that are privileged under chapter 7.-- RCW (sections 1 through 12 and 20 through 23 of this act).

(2) Except for information described in subsection (1)(c)(i) of this section and confidential income data exempted from public inspection pursuant to RCW 84.40.020, the exemptions of this section are inapplicable to the extent that information, the disclosure of which would violate personal privacy or vital governmental interests, can be deleted from the specific records sought. No exemption may be construed to permit the nondisclosure of statistical information not descriptive of any readily identifiable person or persons.

(3) Inspection or copying of any specific records exempt under the provisions of this section may be permitted if the superior court in the county in which the record is maintained finds, after a hearing with notice thereof to every person in interest and the agency, that the exemption of such records is clearly unnecessary to protect any individual's right of privacy or any vital governmental function.

(4) Agency responses refusing, in whole or in part, inspection of any public record shall include a statement of the specific exemption authorizing the withholding of the record (or part) and a brief explanation of how the exemption applies to the record withheld.

Sec. 14. RCW 5.60.070 and 1993 c 492 s 422 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) If there is a court order to mediate, a written agreement between the parties to mediate, or if mediation is mandated under RCW 7.70.100, then any communication made or materials submitted in, or in connection with, the mediation proceeding, whether made or submitted to or by the mediator, a mediation organization, a party, or any person present, are privileged and confidential and are not subject to disclosure in any judicial or administrative proceeding except:

- (a) When all parties to the mediation agree, in writing, to disclosure;
- (b) When the written materials or tangible evidence are otherwise subject to discovery, and were not prepared specifically for use in and actually used in the mediation proceeding;
- (c) When a written agreement to mediate permits disclosure;
- (d) When disclosure is mandated by statute;
- (e) When the written materials consist of a written settlement agreement or other agreement signed by the parties resulting from a mediation proceeding;
- (f) When those communications or written materials pertain solely to administrative matters incidental to the mediation proceeding, including the agreement to mediate; or
- (g) In a subsequent action between the mediator and a party to the mediation arising out of the mediation.

(2) When there is a court order, a written agreement to mediate, or when mediation is mandated under RCW 7.70.100, as described in subsection (1) of this section, the mediator or a representative of a mediation organization shall not testify in any judicial or administrative proceeding unless:

- (a) All parties to the mediation and the mediator agree in writing; or
- (b) In an action described in subsection (1)(g) of this section.

(3) Beginning on January 1, 2006, this section governs only mediations pursuant to a referral or an agreement made before January 1, 2006. Mediations pursuant to a referral or an agreement made on or after January 1, 2006, are governed by chapter 7.-- RCW (sections 1 through 12 and 20 through 23 of this act).

Sec. 15. RCW 5.60.072 and 1991 c 321 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

Notwithstanding the provisions of RCW 5.60.070 and chapter 7.-- RCW (sections 1 through 12 and 20 through 23 of this act), when any party participates in mediation conducted by a state or federal agency under the provisions of a collective bargaining law or similar statute, the agency's rules govern questions of privilege and confidentiality.

Sec. 16. RCW 7.75.050 and 1984 c 258 s 505 are each amended to read as follows:

Regardless of any provision to the contrary in chapter 42.17 RCW, all memoranda, work notes or products, or case files of centers established under this chapter are confidential and privileged and are not subject to disclosure in any judicial or administrative proceeding unless the court or administrative tribunal determines that the materials were submitted by a participant to the center for the purpose of avoiding discovery of the material in a subsequent proceeding. ((Any communication relating to the subject matter of the resolution made during the resolution process by any participant, mediator, or any other person is a privileged communication and is not subject to disclosure in any judicial or administrative proceeding unless all parties to the communication waive the privilege. The foregoing privilege and limitation on evidentiary use does not apply to any ~~communication of a threat that injury or damage may be inflicted on any person or on the property of a party to the dispute, to the extent the communication may be relevant evidence in a criminal matter.)~~ In all other respects, chapter 7.-- RCW, (sections 1 through 12 and 20 through 23 of this act), shall govern the privilege and confidentiality to be accorded to communications made in conjunction with a mediation conducted by a dispute resolution center established under this chapter.

Sec. 17. RCW 26.09.015 and 1991 c 367 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) In any proceeding under this chapter, the matter may be set for mediation of the contested issues before or concurrent with the setting of the matter for hearing. The purpose of the mediation proceeding shall be to reduce acrimony which may exist between the parties and to develop an agreement assuring the child's close and continuing contact with both parents after the marriage is dissolved. The mediator shall use his or her best efforts to effect a settlement of the dispute.

(2) Each superior court may make available a mediator. The mediator may be a member of the professional staff of a family court or mental health services agency, or may be any other person or agency designated by the court. In order to provide mediation services, the court is not required to institute a family court.

~~(3)(a) Mediation proceedings under this chapter shall be (held in private and shall be confidential. The mediator shall not testify as to any aspect of the mediation proceedings. This subsection shall not apply to postdecree mediation required pursuant to a parenting plan))~~ governed in all respects by chapter 7.-- RCW (sections 1 through 12 and 20 through 23 of this act), except as follows:

(i) Mediation communications in postdecree mediations mandated by a parenting plan are admissible in subsequent proceedings for the limited purpose of proving:

(A) Abuse, neglect, abandonment, exploitation, or unlawful harassment as defined in RCW 9A.46.020(1), of a child;

(B) Abuse or unlawful harassment as defined in RCW 9A.46.020(1), of a family or household member as defined in RCW 26.50.010(2); or

(C) That a parent used or frustrated the dispute resolution process without good reason for purposes of RCW 26.09.184(3)(d).

(ii) If a postdecree mediation-arbitration proceeding is required pursuant to a parenting plan and the same person acts as both mediator and arbitrator, mediation communications in the mediation phase of such a proceeding may be admitted during the arbitration phase, and shall be admissible in the judicial review of such a proceeding under RCW 26.09.184(3)(e) to the extent necessary for such review to be effective.

(b) None of the exceptions under (a)(i) and (ii) of this subsection shall subject a mediator to compulsory process to testify except by court order for good cause shown, taking into consideration the need for the mediator's testimony and the interest in the mediator maintaining an appearance of impartiality. If a mediation communication is not privileged under (a)(i) of this subsection or that portion of (a)(ii) of this subsection pertaining to judicial review, only the portion of the communication necessary for the application of the exception may be admitted, and such admission of evidence shall not render any other mediation communication discoverable or admissible except as may be provided in chapter 7.-- RCW (sections 1 through 12 and 20 through 23 of this act).

(4) The mediator shall assess the needs and interests of the child or children involved in the controversy and may interview the child or children if the mediator deems such interview appropriate or necessary.

(5) Any agreement reached by the parties as a result of mediation shall be reported to the court and to counsel for the parties by the mediator on the day set for mediation or any time thereafter designated by the court.

Sec. 18. RCW 35.63.260 and 1998 c 119 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Prior to filing an appeal of a final decision by a hearing examiner involving a conditional or special use permit application requested by a party that is licensed or certified by the department of social and health services or the department of corrections, the aggrieved party must, within five days after the final decision, initiate formal mediation procedures in an attempt to resolve the parties' differences. If, after initial evaluation of the dispute, the parties agree to proceed with a mediation, the mediation shall be conducted by a trained mediator selected by agreement of the parties. The agreement to mediate shall be in writing and subject to ~~(RCW 5.60.070)~~ chapter 7.-- RCW (sections 1 through 12 and 20 through 23 of this act). If the parties are unable to agree on a mediator, each party shall nominate a mediator and the mediator shall be selected by lot from among the nominees. The mediator must be selected within five days after formal mediation procedures are initiated. The mediation process must be completed within fourteen days from the time the mediator is selected except that the mediation process may extend beyond fourteen days by agreement of the parties. The mediator shall, within the fourteen-day period or within the extension if an extension is agreed to, provide the parties with a written summary of the issues and any agreements reached. If the parties agree, the mediation report shall be made available to the governing jurisdiction. The cost of the mediation shall be shared by the parties.

- (2) Any time limits for filing of appeals are tolled during the pendency of the mediation process.
- (3) As used in this section, "party" does not include county, city, or town.

Sec. 19. RCW 48.43.055 and 2002 c 300 s 6 are each amended to read as follows:

Each health carrier as defined under RCW 48.43.005 shall file with the commissioner its procedures for review and adjudication of complaints initiated by health care providers. Procedures filed under this section shall provide a fair review for consideration of complaints. Every health carrier shall provide reasonable means allowing any health care provider aggrieved by actions of the health carrier to be heard after submitting a written request for review. If the health carrier fails to grant or reject a request within thirty days after it is made, the complaining health care provider may proceed as if the complaint had been rejected. A complaint that has been rejected by the health carrier may be submitted to nonbinding mediation. Mediation shall be conducted under (~~(mediation rules similar to those of the American arbitration association, the center for public resources, the judicial arbitration and mediation service, RCW 7.70.100))~~ chapter 7.-- RCW (sections 1 through 12 and 20 through 23 of this act, or any other rules of mediation agreed to by the parties. This section is solely for resolution of provider complaints. Complaints by, or on behalf of, a covered person are subject to the grievance processes in RCW 48.43.530.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 20. CAPTIONS NOT LAW. Captions used in this act are not any part of the law.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 21. SEVERABILITY CLAUSE. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 22. APPLICATION TO EXISTING AGREEMENTS OR REFERRALS. (1) This chapter governs a mediation pursuant to a referral or an agreement to mediate made on or after January 1, 2006.

(2) If all parties agree in a signed record or a record of proceeding reflects such an agreement by all parties, then this chapter governs a mediation pursuant to a referral or an agreement to mediate whenever made.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 23. EFFECTIVE DATE. This act takes effect January 1, 2006.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 24. Sections 1 through 12 and 20 through 23 of this act constitute a new chapter in Title 7 RCW."

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 2005-4630, By Representative Schual-Berke

WHEREAS, Hadassah, the Women's Zionist Organization of America, was founded in 1912 by Henrietta Szold and has since blossomed into the largest Zionist organization, the largest Jewish organization, and the largest women's membership organization in the United States; and

WHEREAS, Hadassah now has more than 300,000 members in 1,200 chapters across the United States; and

WHEREAS, For more than ninety years Hadassah has carried out a proud tradition of mitzvot, or good deeds, that have improved health, relieved suffering, educated minds, and inspired hearts in every state of the Union and in Israel; and

WHEREAS, Hadassah has served as an international leader in humanitarian relief, from its earliest life-saving efforts in Palestine to the current Hadassah Tsunami Relief Fund, which is saving lives today; and

WHEREAS, Hadassah hospitals, community health centers, and outpatient clinics, maintained through the generosity and leadership of Hadassah, provide state-of-the-art health care to nearly one million patients each year regardless of race, religion, creed, or national origin and serve as a model of peaceful coexistence in the Middle East, often treating the most critically wounded in that region's ongoing conflicts; and

WHEREAS, Hadassah programs throughout the United States are engaged in vital health education programs on breast cancer and osteoporosis, voter registration efforts, humanitarian relief efforts to distressed communities, Jewish education, and advocacy to promote mutual understanding and partnerships between the people of the United States and Israel; and

WHEREAS, The first Seattle chapter of Hadassah was founded in 1913 by Mrs. Gisell Herzog, and the Pacific Northwest Region of Hadassah now has over 3,000 members enriching our region; and

WHEREAS, The Pacific Northwest Chapter of Hadassah is taking part in a nationwide effort of more than 300,000 Hadassah women to visit their legislators on March 2, 2005, to discuss issues of concern;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the House of Representatives of the State of Washington congratulate Hadassah for more than 90 years of service and honor the spirit, the history, and the ongoing contributions of Hadassah to the people of Washington and the world; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That copies of this resolution be immediately transmitted to the Hadassah national offices in New York and Washington, D.C. and the Seattle Chapter of Hadassah in Seattle as an expression of our esteem.

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 4630 was adopted.

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 2005-4633, By Representatives Ahern, Hudgins, Rodne, Nixon, Serben, Talcott and Kristiansen

WHEREAS, In a great day for democracy, millions of Iraqis risked death on Sunday, January 30, 2005, to vote for a 275-member Transitional National Assembly in a free, democratic election, and although there were more than 100 attacks on polling stations by terrorists, the Iraqis voted; and

WHEREAS, In their first free elections in more than 50 years, millions of Iraqis turned out to vote with great enthusiasm and determination, and election day brought hope and happiness to the streets of Baghdad and cities and towns throughout the nation of Iraq; and

WHEREAS, The Iraqis continue to face many difficult challenges, and the United States is committed to supporting the Iraqis in their pursuit of democracy; and

WHEREAS, Several Iraqi leaders have publicly stated they want their political process to be inclusive of Iraq's complex mosaic of faiths and peoples and the United States supports this process of inclusiveness; and

WHEREAS, On election day, the people of Iraq spoke to the world through their elections of their desire for democracy and freedom; and

WHEREAS, Hundreds of thousands of people from around the world helped make this day possible, including our American military forces and the forces of our coalition nations, national and international relief agencies, and tens of thousands of citizens from nations around the world who came to help build a free and independent nation of Iraq;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the House of Representatives of the state of Washington commend the Iraqi people and those from around the world who helped the recent election take place, and are working to build a vibrant democracy in the Middle East.

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 4633 was adopted.

WHEREAS, The mission of the Boy Scouts of America is to prepare young people to make moral and ethical choices over their lifetimes by instilling in them the values and principles of the Scout Oath and Laws; and

WHEREAS, From its beginning, the concept of Scouting has grown and spread throughout the world to become the largest voluntary youth movement in the world; and

WHEREAS, For more than ninety years, the Boy Scouts of America has complemented youth education with a program that teaches our youth the skills, morals, and values that will help them throughout their lifetimes; and

WHEREAS, The Scout Law teaches Scouts to be "trustworthy, loyal, helpful, friendly, courteous, kind, obedient, cheerful, thrifty, brave, clean, and reverent"; and

WHEREAS, The Boy Scouts of America has reached a historic membership milestone with the addition of over one hundred million members; and

WHEREAS, In Washington State, there are over one hundred thousand youths involved in the Boy Scouts of America, and nationally there are over four million members ranging from Tiger Cubs to Eagle Scouts; and

WHEREAS, Youths from every ethnic, religious, and economic background in suburbs, farms, and cities know and respect each other as they participate in the Boy Scouts program; and

WHEREAS, With the support of over one million two hundred thousand adult volunteers nationwide, the Boy Scouts of America passes on to today's youth the same principles, aims, and ideals that have been part of Scouting since 1910; and

WHEREAS, At the dawn of the new millennium, the Boy Scouts of America look forward to continue building upon nine decades of instilling in youth the strong values and morals that will make a difference in the lives of millions in the new century;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the House of Representatives applaud the effort and work of the six Washington State Councils of the Boy Scouts of America, and also applaud the positive programs that the Boy Scouts of America provide for our youth; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the House of Representatives encourage all agencies of state government to recognize the service and benefits that are provided by the Boy Scouts of America and work with Scouting and other youth organizations for the purpose of improving our communities; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That copies of this resolution be immediately transmitted by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives to the National Boy Scouts of America Office; the Western Region Office of the Boy Scouts of America; and to the Boy Scout Councils serving Washington State.

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 4636 was adopted.

Allowing off-road vehicles on nonhighway roads.

The bill was read the second time.

Representative Hinkle moved the adoption of amendment (045):

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that off-road recreational vehicles (ORVs) provide opportunities for a wide variety of outdoor recreation activities. The legislature further finds that the limited amount of ORV recreation areas presents a challenge for ORV recreational users, natural resource land managers, and private landowners. The legislature further finds that many nonhighway roads provide opportunities for ORV use and that these opportunities may reduce conflicts between users and facilitate responsible ORV recreation. However, restrictions intended for motor vehicles may prevent ORV use on certain roads, including forest service roads. Therefore, the legislature finds that local, state, and federal jurisdictions should be given the flexibility to allow ORV use on nonhighway roads they own and manage or for which they are authorized to allow public ORV use under an easement granted by the owner. Nothing in this act authorizes trespass on private property.

Sec. 2. RCW 46.09.010 and 1972 ex.s. c 153 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

The provisions of this chapter shall apply to all lands in this state. Nothing in this chapter (~~((43.09 RCW)), RCW ((67.32.050, 67.32.080, 67.32.100, 67.32.130 or 67.32.140))~~ 79A.35.040, 79A.35.070, 79A.35.090, 79A.35.110, and 79A.35.120 shall be deemed to grant to any person the right or authority to enter upon private property without permission of the property owner.

Sec. 3. RCW 46.09.120 and 2003 c 377 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

- (1) It is a traffic infraction for any person to operate any nonhighway vehicle:
 - (a) In such a manner as to endanger the property of another;
 - (b) On lands not owned by the operator or owner of the nonhighway vehicle without a lighted headlight and taillight between the hours of dusk and dawn, or when otherwise required for the safety of others regardless of ownership;
 - (c) On lands not owned by the operator or owner of the nonhighway vehicle without an adequate braking device or when otherwise required for the safety of others regardless of ownership;
 - (d) Without a spark arrester approved by the department of natural resources;
 - (e) Without an adequate, and operating, muffling device which effectively limits vehicle noise to no more than eighty-six decibels on the "A" scale at fifty feet as measured by the Society of Automotive Engineers (SAE) test procedure J 331a, except that a maximum noise level of one hundred and five decibels on the "A" scale at a distance of twenty inches from the exhaust outlet shall be an acceptable substitute in lieu of the Society of Automotive Engineers test procedure J 331a when measured:

- (i) At a forty-five degree angle at a distance of twenty inches from the exhaust outlet;
 - (ii) With the vehicle stationary and the engine running at a steady speed equal to one-half of the manufacturer's maximum allowable ("red line") engine speed or where the manufacturer's maximum allowable engine speed is not known the test speed in revolutions per minute calculated as sixty percent of the speed at which maximum horsepower is developed; and
 - (iii) With the microphone placed ten inches from the side of the vehicle, one-half way between the lowest part of the vehicle body and the ground plane, and in the same lateral plane as the rearmost exhaust outlet where the outlet of the exhaust pipe is under the vehicle;
- (f) On lands not owned by the operator or owner of the nonhighway vehicle upon the shoulder or inside bank or slope of any nonhighway road or highway, or upon the median of any divided highway;
- (g) On lands not owned by the operator or owner of the nonhighway vehicle in any area or in such a manner so as to unreasonably expose the underlying soil, or to create an erosion condition, or to injure, damage, or destroy trees, growing crops, or other vegetation;
- (h) On lands not owned by the operator or owner of the nonhighway vehicle or on any nonhighway road or trail, when these are restricted to pedestrian or animal travel; ~~(and)~~
- (i) On any public lands in violation of rules and regulations of the agency administering such lands; and
 - (j) On a private nonhighway road in violation of section 3 of this act.

(2) It is a misdemeanor for any person to operate any nonhighway vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or a controlled substance.

(3)(a) Except for an off-road vehicle equipped with seat belts and roll bars or an enclosed passenger compartment, it is a traffic infraction for any person to operate or ride an off-road vehicle on a nonhighway road without wearing upon his or her head a motorcycle helmet fastened securely while in motion. For purposes of this section, "motorcycle helmet" has the same meaning as provided in RCW 46.37.530.

(b) Subsection (3)(a) of this section does not apply to an off-road vehicle operator operating on his or her own land.

(c) Subsection (3)(a) of this section does not apply to an off-road vehicle operator operating on agricultural lands owned or leased by the off-road vehicle operator or the operator's employer.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. A new section is added to chapter 46.09 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Except as otherwise provided in this section, it is lawful to operate an off-road vehicle upon a nonhighway road and in parking areas serving designated off-road vehicle areas if the state, federal, local, or private authority responsible for the management of the nonhighway road authorizes the use of off-road vehicles.

(2) Operations of an off-road vehicle on a nonhighway road under this section is exempt from licensing requirements of RCW 46.16.010 and vehicle lighting and equipment requirements of chapter 46.37 RCW.

(3) It is unlawful to operate an off-road vehicle upon a private nonhighway road if the road owner has not authorized the use of off-road vehicles.

(4) Nothing in this section authorizes trespass on private property.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. A new section is added to chapter 46.09 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Except as specified in subsection (2) of this section, no person under sixteen years of age may operate an off-road vehicle on or across a highway or nonhighway road in this state.

(2) Persons under sixteen years of age may operate an off-road vehicle on a nonhighway road designated for off-road vehicle use under the direct supervision of a person eighteen years of age or older possessing a valid license to operate a motor vehicle under chapter 46.20 RCW.

Sec. 6. RCW 46.16.010 and 2003 c 353 s 8 and 2003 c 53 s 238 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(1) It is unlawful for a person to operate any vehicle over and along a public highway of this state without first having obtained and having in full force and effect a current and proper vehicle license and display vehicle license number plates therefor as by this chapter provided.

(2) Failure to make initial registration before operation on the highways of this state is a misdemeanor, and any person convicted thereof must be punished by a fine of no less than three hundred thirty dollars, no part of which may be suspended or deferred.

(3) Failure to renew an expired registration before operation on the highways of this state is a traffic infraction.

(4) The licensing of a vehicle in another state by a resident of this state, as defined in RCW 46.16.028, evading the payment of any tax or license fee imposed in connection with registration, is a gross misdemeanor punishable as follows:

(a) For a first offense, up to one year in the county jail and a fine equal to twice the amount of delinquent taxes and fees, no part of which may be suspended or deferred;

(b) For a second or subsequent offense, up to one year in the county jail and a fine equal to four times the amount of delinquent taxes and fees, no part of which may be suspended or deferred;

(c) For fines levied under (b) of this subsection, an amount equal to the avoided taxes and fees owed will be deposited in the vehicle licensing fraud account created in the state treasury;

(d) The avoided taxes and fees shall be deposited and distributed in the same manner as if the taxes and fees were properly paid in a timely fashion.

(5) These provisions shall not apply to the following vehicles:

(a) Motorized foot scooters;

(b) Electric-assisted bicycles;

(c) Off-road vehicles operating on nonhighway roads under section 4 of this act;

(d) Farm vehicles if operated within a radius of fifteen miles of the farm where principally used or garaged, farm tractors and farm implements including trailers designed as cook or bunk houses used exclusively for animal herding temporarily operating or drawn upon the public highways, and trailers used exclusively to transport farm implements from one farm to another during the daylight hours or at night when such equipment has lights that comply with the law;

~~((e))~~ (e) Spray or fertilizer applicator rigs designed and used exclusively for spraying or fertilization in the conduct of agricultural operations and not primarily for the purpose of transportation, and nurse rigs or equipment auxiliary to the use of and designed or modified for the fueling, repairing, or loading of spray and fertilizer applicator rigs and not used, designed, or modified primarily for the purpose of transportation;

~~((f))~~ (f) Fork lifts operated during daylight hours on public highways adjacent to and within five hundred feet of the warehouses which they serve: PROVIDED FURTHER, That these provisions shall not apply to vehicles used by the state parks and recreation commission exclusively for park maintenance and operations upon public highways within state parks;

~~((g))~~ (g) "Special highway construction equipment" defined as follows: Any vehicle which is designed and used primarily for grading of highways, paving of highways, earth moving, and other construction work on highways and which is not designed or used primarily for the transportation of persons or property on a public highway and which is only incidentally operated or moved over the highway. It includes, but is not limited to, road construction and maintenance machinery so designed and used such as portable air compressors, air drills, asphalt spreaders, bituminous mixers, bucket loaders, track laying tractors, ditchers, leveling graders, finishing machines, motor graders, paving mixers, road rollers, scarifiers, earth moving scrapers and carryalls, lighting plants, welders, pumps, power shovels and draglines, self-propelled and tractor-drawn earth moving equipment and machinery, including dump trucks and tractor-dump trailer combinations which either (i) are in excess of the legal width, or (ii) which, because of their length, height, or unladen weight, may not be moved on a public highway without the permit specified in RCW 46.44.090 and which are not operated laden except within the boundaries of the project limits as defined by the contract, and other similar types of construction equipment, or (iii) which are driven or moved upon a public highway only for the purpose of crossing such highway from one property to another, provided such movement does not exceed five hundred feet and the vehicle is equipped with wheels or pads which will not damage the roadway surface.

Exclusions:

"Special highway construction equipment" does not include any of the following:

Dump trucks originally designed to comply with the legal size and weight provisions of this code notwithstanding any subsequent modification which would require a permit, as specified in RCW 46.44.090, to operate such vehicles on a public highway, including trailers, truck-mounted transit mixers, cranes and shovels, or other vehicles designed for the transportation of persons or property to which machinery has been attached.

(6) The following vehicles, whether operated solo or in combination, are exempt from license registration and displaying license plates as required by this chapter:

(a) A converter gear used to convert a semitrailer into a trailer or a two-axle truck or tractor into a three or more axle truck or tractor or used in any other manner to increase the number of axles of a vehicle. Converter gear includes an auxiliary axle, booster axle, dolly, and jeep axle.

(b) A tow dolly that is used for towing a motor vehicle behind another motor vehicle. The front or rear wheels of the towed vehicle are secured to and rest on the tow dolly that is attached to the towing vehicle by a tow bar.

Sec. 7. RCW 46.37.010 and 1997 c 241 s 14 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) It is a traffic infraction for any person to drive or move or for the owner to cause or knowingly permit to be driven or moved on any highway any vehicle or combination of vehicles which is in such unsafe condition as to endanger any person, or which does not contain those parts or is not at all times equipped with such lamps and other equipment in proper condition and adjustment as required in this chapter or in regulations issued by the chief of the Washington state patrol, or which is equipped in any manner in violation of this chapter or the state patrol's regulations, or for any person to do any act forbidden or fail to perform any act required under this chapter or the state patrol's regulations.

(2) Nothing contained in this chapter or the state patrol's regulations shall be construed to prohibit the use of additional parts and accessories on any vehicle not inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter or the state patrol's regulations.

(3) The provisions of the chapter and the state patrol's regulations with respect to equipment on vehicles shall not apply to implements of husbandry, road machinery, road rollers, or farm tractors except as herein made applicable.

(4) No owner or operator of a farm tractor, self-propelled unit of farm equipment, or implement of husbandry shall be guilty of a crime or subject to penalty for violation of RCW 46.37.160 as now or hereafter amended unless such violation occurs on a public highway.

(5) It is a traffic infraction for any person to sell or offer for sale vehicle equipment which is required to be approved by the state patrol as prescribed in RCW 46.37.005 unless it has been approved by the state patrol.

(6) The provisions of this chapter with respect to equipment required on vehicles shall not apply to motorcycles or motor-driven cycles except as herein made applicable.

(7) This chapter does not apply to off-road vehicles used on nonhighway roads.

(8) This chapter does not apply to vehicles used by the state parks and recreation commission exclusively for park maintenance and operations upon public highways within state parks.

~~((9))~~ (9) Notices of traffic infraction issued to commercial drivers under the provisions of this chapter with respect to equipment required on commercial motor vehicles shall not be considered for driver improvement purposes under chapter 46.20 RCW.

~~((10))~~ (10) Whenever a traffic infraction is chargeable to the owner or lessee of a vehicle under subsection (1) of this section, the driver shall not be arrested or issued a notice of traffic infraction unless the vehicle is registered in a jurisdiction other than Washington state, or unless the infraction is for an offense that is clearly within the responsibility of the driver.

~~((11))~~ (11) Whenever the owner or lessee is issued a notice of traffic infraction under this section the court may, on the request of the owner or lessee, take appropriate steps to make the driver of the vehicle, or any other person who directs the loading, maintenance, or operation of the vehicle, a codefendant. If the codefendant is held solely responsible and is found to have committed the traffic infraction, the court may dismiss the notice against the owner or lessee.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, or support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and takes effect July 1, 2005."

Correct the title.

Representative Ericksen moved the adoption of amendment (058) to amendment (045):

On page 4 of the amendment, line 6, after "under" strike "sixteen" and insert "thirteen"

On page 4 of the amendment, line 8, after "under" strike "sixteen" and insert "thirteen"

Representatives Ericksen and B. Sullivan spoke in favor of the adoption of the amendment to the amendment.

Division was demanded. The Speaker divided the House. The result was 72 - YEAS; 23 -NAYS. The amendment to the amendment was adopted.

Representative Ericksen moved the adoption of amendment (059) to amendment (045):

On page 4 of the amendment, after line 12, insert:

"(3) This section does not apply to a person operating an off-road vehicle on private property."

Representative Ericksen spoke in favor of the adoption of the amendment.

Representative B. Sullivan spoke against the adoption of the amendment.

The amendment was not adopted.

The question before the House was the adoption of amendment (045) as amended.

Representative Hinkle spoke in favor of adoption of the amendment as amended.

The amendment as amended was adopted. The bill was ordered engrossed.

There being no objection, the rules were suspended, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Representatives Hinkle and B. Sullivan spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

The Speaker stated the question before the House to be the final passage of Engrossed House Bill No. 1003.

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed House Bill No. 1003 and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas - 90, Nays - 6, Absent - 0, Excused - 2.

Voting yea: Representatives Ahern, Alexander, Anderson, Appleton, Armstrong, Bailey, Blake, Buck, Buri, Campbell, Chandler, Chase, Clements, Clibborn, Condotta, Conway, Cox, Crouse, Curtis, Darneille, DeBolt, Dickerson, Dunn, Eickmeyer, Ericks, Ericksen, Fromhold, Grant, Green, Haigh, Haler, Hankins, Hasegawa, Hinkle, Holmquist, Hunter, Jarrett, Kagi, Kessler, Kilmer, Kirby, Kretz, Kristiansen, Lantz, Linville, Lovick, McCoy, McCune, McDermott, McDonald, McIntire, Miloscia, Moeller, Morrell, Morris, Newhouse, Nixon, O'Brien, Orcutt, Ormsby, Pearson, Pettigrew, Priest, Quall, Roach, Roberts, Rodne, Santos, Schindler, Schual-Berke, Sells, Serben, Shabro, Skinner, Sommers, Springer, Strow, B. Sullivan, P. Sullivan, Sump, Takko, Talcott, Tom, Upthegrove, Wallace, Walsh, Williams, Wood, Woods and Mr. Speaker - 90.

Voting nay: Representatives Cody, Dunshee, Hudgins, Hunt, Murray and Simpson - 6.

Excused: Representatives Flannigan and Kenney - 2.

ENGROSSED HOUSE BILL NO. 1003, having received the necessary constitutional majority, was declared passed.

HOUSE BILL NO. 1272, By Representatives Dunshee, Jarrett, Linville, Nixon, Hunt, Rodne, Strow, Tom, McDermott, Sommers, Appleton, Simpson, Dickerson, Lovick, Hasegawa, Sells, Cody, Morrell, Chase, Hudgins, B. Sullivan, Schual-Berke, Williams, Lantz, Kilmer, Moeller, Roberts, Upthegrove, McCoy, Hunter, Darneille, Miloscia, Green, O'Brien, P. Sullivan, Anderson, Kenney, Murray, Wallace, Ormsby, Haigh, Kagi and McIntire

Requiring public buildings to be built using high-performance green building standards.

The bill was read the second time.

Representative Dunshee moved that Substitute House Bill No. 1272 be substituted for House Bill No. 1272 and the substitute bill be placed on the second reading calendar. Representative Dunshee spoke in favor of the motion. The motion was adopted.

SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1272 was read the second time.

Representative Dunshee moved the adoption of amendment (071):

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. (1) The legislature finds that public buildings can be built and renovated using high-performance methods that save money, improve school performance, and make workers more productive. High-performance public buildings are proven to increase student test scores, reduce worker absenteeism, and cut energy and utility costs.

(2) It is the intent of the legislature that state-owned buildings and schools be improved by adopting recognized standards for high-performance public buildings and allowing flexible methods and choices in how to achieve those standards. The legislature also intends that public agencies and public school districts shall document costs and savings to monitor this program and ensure that economic, community, and environmental goals are achieved each year, and that an independent performance review be conducted to evaluate this program and determine the extent to which the results intended by this chapter are being met.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. The definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(1) "Department" means the department of general administration.

(2) "High-performance public buildings" means high-performance public buildings designed, constructed, and certified to a standard as identified in this chapter.

(3) "Institutions of higher education" means the state universities, the regional universities, The Evergreen State College, the community colleges, and the technical colleges.

(4) "LEED silver standard" means the United States green building council leadership in energy and environmental design green building rating standard, referred to as silver standard.

(5)(a) "Major facility project" means: (i) A construction project larger than five thousand gross square feet of occupied or conditioned space as defined in the Washington state energy code; or (ii) a building renovation project when the cost is greater than fifty percent of the assessed value and the project is larger than five thousand gross square feet of occupied or conditioned space as defined in the Washington state energy code.

(b) "Major facility project" does not include: (i) Projects for which the department, public school district, or other applicable agency and the design team determine the LEED silver standard or the Washington sustainable school design protocol to be not practicable; or (ii) transmitter buildings, pumping stations, hospitals, research facilities primarily used for sponsored laboratory experimentation, laboratory research, or laboratory training in research methods, or other similar building types as determined by the department. When the LEED silver standard is determined to be not practicable for a project, then it must be determined if any LEED standard is practicable for the project. If LEED standards or the Washington sustainable school design protocol are not followed for the project, the public school district or public agency shall report these reasons to the department.

(6) "Public agency" means every state office, officer, board, commission, committee, bureau, department, and public higher education institution.

(7) "Public school district" means a school district eligible to receive state basic education moneys pursuant to RCW 28A.150.250 and 28A.150.260.

(8) "Washington sustainable school design protocol" means the school design protocol and related information developed by the state board of education and the office of the superintendent of public instruction, in conjunction with school districts and the school facilities advisory board.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. (1) All major facility projects of public agencies receiving any funding in a state capital budget, or projects financed through a financing contract as defined in RCW 39.94.020, must be designed, constructed, and certified to at least the LEED silver standard. This subsection applies to major facility projects that have not entered the design phase prior to the effective date of this section and to the extent appropriate LEED silver standards exist for that type of building or facility.

(2) All major facility projects of any entity other than a public agency or public school district receiving any funding in a state capital budget must be designed, constructed, and certified to at least the LEED silver standard. This subsection applies to major facility projects that have not entered the grant application process prior to the effective date of this section and to the extent appropriate LEED silver standards exist for that type of building or facility.

(3)(a) Public agencies, under this section, shall monitor and document ongoing operating savings resulting from major facility projects designed, constructed, and certified as required under this section.

(b) Public agencies, under this section, shall report annually to the department on major facility projects and operating savings.

(4) The department shall consolidate the reports required in subsection (3) of this section into one report and report to the governor and legislature by September 1st of each even-numbered year beginning in 2006 and ending in 2016. In its report, the department shall also report on the implementation of this chapter, including reasons why the LEED standard was not used as required by section 2 (5)(b) of this act. The department shall make recommendations regarding the ongoing implementation of this chapter, including a discussion of incentives and disincentives related to implementing this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. (1) All major facility projects of public school districts receiving any funding in a state capital budget must be designed and constructed to at least the LEED silver standard or the Washington sustainable school design protocol. To the extent appropriate LEED silver or Washington sustainable school design protocol standards exist for the type of building or facility, this subsection applies to major facility projects that have not received project approval from the superintendent of public instruction prior to: (a) July 1, 2006, for volunteering school districts; (b) July 1, 2007, for class one school districts; and (c) July 1, 2008, for class two school districts.

(2) Public school districts under this section shall: (a) Monitor and document appropriate operating benefits and savings resulting from major facility projects designed and constructed as required under this section for a minimum of five years following local board acceptance of a project receiving state funding; and (b) report annually to the superintendent of public instruction. The form and content of each report must be mutually developed by the office of the superintendent of public instruction in consultation with school districts.

(3) The superintendent of public instruction shall consolidate the reports required in subsection (2) of this section into one report and report to the governor and legislature by September 1st of each even-numbered year beginning in 2006 and ending in 2016. In its report, the superintendent of public instruction shall also report on the implementation of this chapter, including reasons why the LEED standard or Washington sustainable school design protocol was not used as required by section 2(5)(b) of this act. The superintendent of public instruction shall make recommendations regarding the ongoing implementation of this chapter, including a discussion of incentives and disincentives related to implementing this chapter.

(4) The state board of education, in consultation with the superintendent of public instruction, shall develop and issue guidelines for administering this chapter for public school districts. The purpose of the guidelines is to define a procedure and method for employing and verifying compliance with the LEED silver standard or the Washington sustainable school design protocol.

(5) The superintendent of public instruction shall utilize the school facilities advisory board as a high-performance buildings advisory committee comprised of affected public schools, the state board of education, the superintendent of public instruction, the department, and others at the superintendent of public instruction's discretion to provide advice on implementing this chapter. Among other duties, the advisory committee shall make recommendations regarding an education and training process and an ongoing evaluation or feedback process to help the superintendent of public instruction and the state board of education implement this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. On or before January 1, 2009, the department and the superintendent of public instruction shall summarize the reports submitted under sections 3(4) and 4(3) of this act and submit the individual reports to the legislative committees on capital budget and ways and means for review of the program's performance and consideration of any changes that may be needed to adapt the program to any new or modified standards for high-performance buildings that meet the intent of this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. (1)(a) The department, in consultation with affected public agencies, shall develop and issue guidelines for administering this chapter for public agencies. The purpose of the guidelines is to define a procedure and method for employing and verifying activities necessary for certification to at least the LEED silver standard for major facility projects.

(b) The department and the office of the superintendent of public instruction shall amend their fee schedules for architectural and engineering services to accommodate the requirements in the design of major facility projects under this chapter.

(c) The department and the office of the superintendent of public instruction shall procure architecture and engineering services consistent with chapter 39.80 RCW.

(d) Major facility projects designed to meet standards identified in this chapter must include building commissioning as a critical cost-saving part of the construction process. This process includes input from the project design and construction teams and the project ownership representatives.

(e) As provided in the request for proposals for construction services, the operating agency shall hold a preproposal conference for prospective bidders to discuss compliance with and achievement of standards identified in this chapter for prospective respondents.

(2) The department shall create a high-performance buildings advisory committee comprised of representatives from the design and construction industry involved in public works contracting, personnel from the affected public agencies responsible for overseeing public works projects, the state board of education, the office of the superintendent of public instruction, and others at the department's discretion to provide advice on implementing this chapter. Among other duties, the advisory committee shall make recommendations regarding an education and training process and an ongoing evaluation or feedback process to help the department implement this chapter.

(3) The department and the state board of education shall adopt rules to implement this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. A new section is added to chapter 28A.150 RCW to read as follows:

(1) In adopting implementation rules, the state board of education, in consultation with the superintendent of public instruction and the department of general administration, shall review and modify the current requirement for an energy conservation report review by the department of general administration as provided in WAC 180-27-075.

(2) In adopting implementation rules, the state board of education, in consultation with the superintendent of public instruction shall:

(a) Review and modify the current requirements for value engineering, constructability review, and building commissioning as provided in WAC 180-27-080;

(b) Review private and public utility providers' capacity and financial/technical assistance programs for affected public school districts to monitor and report utility consumption for purposes of reporting to the superintendent of public instruction as provided in section 4 of this act;

(c) Coordinate with the department of general administration, the state board of health, the department of ecology, federal agencies, and other affected agencies as appropriate in their consideration of rules to implement this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. A new section is added to chapter 28B.10 RCW to read as follows:

Institutions of higher education must comply with high-performance public building requirements under sections 1 through 3 and 6 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. A new section is added to chapter 28A.150 RCW to read as follows:

Public school districts must comply with high-performance public building requirements under sections 1, 2, 4, 6, and 7 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. A member of the design or construction teams may not be held liable for the failure of a major facility project to meet the LEED silver standard or other LEED standard established for the project as long as a good faith attempt was made to achieve the LEED standard set for the project.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. A new section is added to chapter 39.04 RCW to read as follows:

For purposes of determining compliance with chapter 39.-- RCW (sections 1 through 6, 10, and 12 through 14 of this act), the department of general administration shall credit the project for using wood products with a credible third party sustainable forest certification or from forests regulated under chapter 76.09 RCW, the Washington forest practices act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. Except as provided in this section, affordable housing projects funded out of the state capital budget are exempt from the provisions of this chapter. On or before July 1, 2008, the department of community, trade, and economic development shall identify, implement, and apply a sustainable building program for affordable housing projects that receive housing trust fund (under chapter 43.185 RCW) funding in a state capital budget. The department of community, trade, and economic development shall not develop its own sustainable building standard, but shall work with stakeholders to adopt an existing sustainable building standard or criteria appropriate for affordable housing. Any application of the program to affordable housing, including any monitoring to track the performance of either sustainable features or energy standards or both, is the responsibility of the department of community, trade, and economic development. Beginning in 2009 and ending in 2016, the department of community, trade, and economic development shall report to the department as required under section 3(3)(b) of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. It is the intent and an established goal of the LEED program as authored by the United States green building council to increase demand for building materials and products that are extracted and manufactured locally, thereby reducing the environmental impacts and to support the local economy. Therefore, it is the intent of the legislature to emphasize this defined goal and establish a priority to use Washington state based resources, building materials, products, industries, manufacturers, and other businesses to provide economic development to Washington state and to meet the objectives of this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. The joint legislative audit and review committee, or its successor legislative agency, shall conduct a performance review of the high-performance buildings program established under this chapter.

(1) The performance audit shall include, but not be limited to:

(a) The identification of the costs of implementation of high-performance building standards in the design and construction of major facility projects subject to this chapter;

(b) The identification of operating savings attributable to the implementation of high-performance building standards, including but not limited to savings in energy, utility, and maintenance costs;

(c) The identification of any impacts of high-performance buildings standards on worker productivity and student performance; and

(d) An evaluation of the effectiveness of the high-performance building standards established under this chapter, and recommendations for any changes in those standards that may be supported by the committee's findings.

(2) The committee shall make a preliminary report of its findings and recommendations on or before December 1, 2010, and a final report on or before July 1, 2011.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. Sections 1 through 6, 10, and 12 through 14 of this act constitute a new chapter in Title 39 RCW."

Representatives Dunshee and Jarrett spoke in favor of the adoption of the amendment.

The amendment was adopted.

By the adoption of amendment (071), amendment (075) was ruled out of order.

The bill was ordered engrossed.

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 28A.230 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Each school district, at least one month before the presentation in any classroom, assembly, lecture series, or other group setting, of information regarding sex education or other matters pertaining to sexual conduct, shall:

(a) Provide written notice to the parents, guardians, or other custodians of the students who are the intended audience of such presentation; and

(b) Make the curricula and all related materials available for inspection by parents, guardians, and other custodians.

(2) No student may be permitted to attend or participate in a class, assembly, lecture, or other setting in which information regarding sex education or sexual conduct is presented unless the student's parent, guardian, or other custodian consents in writing.

(3) The notice required under this section must include:

(a) The date, time, and location of the scheduled presentation to students;

(b) A sampling of the curriculum that is a fair representation of the information to be provided to students;

(c) The places and times when the curriculum and materials will be available for inspection or viewing; and

(d) An explanation that no student will be allowed to participate in or attend a presentation of the information without written consent from a parent, guardian, or other custodian.

(4) The consent form required under this section must include a means for a parent, guardian, or other custodian to indicate whether the parent, guardian, or custodian:

(a) Has inspected or reviewed the curriculum; and

(b) Consents to the student's participation in the class, assembly, lecture, or other setting.

Sec. 4. RCW 28A.230.070 and 1994 c 245 s 7 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The life-threatening dangers of acquired immunodeficiency syndrome (AIDS) and its prevention shall be taught in the public schools of this state. AIDS prevention education shall be limited to the discussion of the life-threatening dangers of the disease, its spread, and prevention. Students shall receive such education at least once each school year beginning no later than the fifth grade.

(2) Each district board of directors shall adopt an AIDS prevention education program which is developed in consultation with teachers, administrators, parents, and other community members including, but not limited to, persons from medical, public health, and mental health organizations and agencies so long as the curricula and materials developed for use in the AIDS education program either (a) are the model curricula and resources under subsection (3) of this section, or (b) are developed by the school district and approved for medical accuracy by the office on AIDS established in RCW 70.24.250. If a district elects to use curricula developed by the school district, the district shall submit to the office on AIDS a copy of its curricula and an affidavit of medical accuracy stating that the material in the district-developed curricula has been compared to the model curricula for medical accuracy and that in the opinion of the district the district-developed materials are medically accurate. Upon submission of the affidavit and curricula, the district may use these materials until the approval procedure to be conducted by the office of AIDS has been completed.

(3) Model curricula and other resources available from the superintendent of public instruction may be reviewed by the school district board of directors, in addition to materials designed locally, in developing the district's AIDS education program. The model curricula shall be reviewed for medical accuracy by the office on AIDS established in RCW 70.24.250 within the department of social and health services.

(4) Each school district shall, at least one month before teaching AIDS prevention education in any classroom, conduct at least one presentation during weekend and evening hours for the parents and guardians of students concerning the curricula and materials that will be used for such education. The parents and guardians shall be notified ~~((by the school district of the presentation and that the curricula and materials are available for inspection))~~ according to the procedures in section 3 of this act. No student may ~~((be required to))~~ participate in AIDS prevention education ~~((if))~~ unless the student's parent or guardian ~~((, having attended one of the district presentations, objects))~~ consents in writing to the participation.

(5) The office of the superintendent of public instruction with the assistance of the office on AIDS shall update AIDS education curriculum material as newly discovered medical facts make it necessary.

(6) The curriculum for AIDS prevention education shall be designed to teach students which behaviors place a person dangerously at risk of infection with the human immunodeficiency virus (HIV) and methods to avoid such risk including, at least:

- (a) The dangers of drug abuse, especially that involving the use of hypodermic needles; and
- (b) The dangers of sexual intercourse, with or without condoms.

(7) The program of AIDS prevention education shall stress the life-threatening dangers of contracting AIDS and shall stress that abstinence from sexual activity is the only certain means for the prevention of the spread or contraction of the AIDS virus through sexual contact. It shall also teach that condoms and other artificial means of birth control are not a certain means of preventing the spread of the AIDS virus and reliance on condoms puts a person at risk for exposure to the disease."

SECOND SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1152 was read the second time.

With the consent of the House, amendment (084) was withdrawn.

Representative Kagi moved the adoption of amendment (139):

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that parents are their children's first and most important teachers, caregivers, and decision makers. The legislature also recognizes that many parents are employed or in school and must seek services in their communities to assist with the care and support of their children. Welfare reform requires parents with low incomes to enter the work force while their children are young, increasing parents' need for the support of such resources. In seeking out resources in their communities to provide care and support for their children, parents throughout the state need and deserve to have the best possible information to help inform their choices about the care and education of their children.

The legislature also finds that research on brain development in young children establishes that early experiences are important to children's emotional, social, physical, and cognitive development. Research also shows a clear and compelling connection between the quality of children's early childhood care and education experiences and later success in school and in life.
