President Cherberg: "Honored and esteemed members of the Senate, ladies and gentlemen. It is truly a delightful pleasure to welcome the holdover Senators back for the Forty-ninth Legislative Session and it gives me great enjoyment to greet and welcome and congratulate the new members of the Senate and to also congratulate those of you who have been re-elected. REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "May I introduce the Honorable Judge Floyd V. Hicks who will administer the oath of office to our newly elected and re-elected Senators.

"Judge Hicks has just retired from the superior court of Pierce County after a long and distinguished career. At one time, Judge Hicks was a basketball coach and later entered the field of law, after completing law school following World War II and service as an air force officer.

ROLL CALL

The Acting Secretary called the roll of the following re-elected Senators and all were present: Senators Albert Bauer, R. Ted Bottiger, Paul H. Conner, Ellen Craswell, Alex A. Deccio, Marcus S. Gaspard, Jeannette Hayner, Bill Kiskaddon, Bob McCaslin, Dan McDonald, Jack Metcalf, E. G. "Pat" Patterson, Lowell Peterson, George L. Sellar, Alan Thompson, R. Lorraine Wojahn, Hal Zimmerman.

The Acting Sergeant at Arms escorted each of the newly re-elected members of the Senate to the bar of the Senate to receive the oath of office.

Former Justice Floyd Hicks of the Washington State Supreme Court thereupon administered the oath of office to each of the newly re-elected members.

The President presented to each of the newly re-elected Senators a certificate of election.

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT CONCERNING SENATOR PAUL H. CONNER

President Cherberg: "Ladies and gentlemen, I think with your indulgence, it would be proper for me to point out that this fine young gentleman, Senator Paul H. Conner, served in the 1957 session of the Washington State Senate. That's a closely guarded secret and most people don't know you served in that capacity. Later you returned to the House and served there with distinction for many years. Prior to that even, Paul had worked in the bill room for two years back in 1951 along with the Acting Secretary Snyder. Paul ran for re-election in 1958, I believe it was, and you won going away--right? I want to offer you the warmest congratulations and best wishes."

ROLL CALL

The Acting Secretary of the Senate called the roll of the following newly elected members of the Senate and all were present: Senators Cliff Bailey, Emilio Cantu, Arlie U. DeJarnatt, Avery Garrett, Stuart A. "Stu" Halsan, Stanley C. Johnson, Mike Kreidler, Gerald L. (Jerry) Saling, Lois J. Stratton.

The Acting Sergeant at Arms escorted each of the newly elected and appointed members of the Senate to the bar of the Senate to receive their oath of office.

Former Justice Floyd Hicks of the Washington State Supreme Court thereupon administered the oath of office to each of the newly elected members.

The President presented to each of the newly elected Senators a certificate of election.

ELECTION OF PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

REMARKS BY SENATOR BOTTIGER

Senator Bottiger: "I would like to place in nomination the name of Barney Goltz. Those of us that know Barney and have known him for some time are aware of his fairness. Some of you are not aware of the degree of the student he is of parliamentary procedure of the Senate, the House and Joint Rules, as well as Reeds and all other experts on the field. As Barney would say, it is necessary to re-elect him, because he already has the stationery printed, but more important, Barney brings with him Marguerite, who helps us with the social functions of the Senate. In all seriousness, Barney's rulings and his ability to master the procedures of the Senate are something that will serve us very well. Therefore, I am very pleased to nominate him for President Pro Tempore."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Vognilid, the nominations for President Pro Tempore were closed.

ROLL CALL

The Acting Secretary called the roll and Senator H. A. "Barney" Goltz was elected President Pro Tempore of the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 47; excused, 2.

Voting yea: Senators Bailey, Barr, Bauer, Bender, Benitz, Bottiger, Cantu, Conner, Craswell, Deccio, DeJarnatt, Fleming, Garrett, Gaspard, Goltz, Granlund, Halsan, Hansen, Hayner, Johnson, Kiskaddon, Kreidler, Lee, McCaslin, McDermott, McDonald, McManus, Metcalf, Moore, Newhouse, Owen, Patterson, Peterson, Pullen, Rasmussen, Rinehart, Saling, Sellar, Stratton, Talmadge, Thompson, Vognilid, von Reichbauer, Warnke, Williams, Wojahn, Zimmerman - 47.

Excused: Senator Bluechel. Guess - 2.

APPOINTMENT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE

The President appointed Senators Peterson and Newhouse as a committee of honor to escort Senator Goltz to the rostrum.

Former Justice Floyd Hicks of the Washington State Supreme Court administered the oath of office to Senator Goltz.

REMARKS BY SENATOR GOLTZ

Senator Goltz: "I would like to thank all of you for this honor and this responsibility. This is one of the times when voting 'aye' is voting me, so I appreciated that. I notice there is a glaring loophole in the oath, which says I only have to perform up to the standards of my ability, but I'll try to uphold that oath. Thank you."

ELECTION OF VICE PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

The President declared nominations to be open for Vice President Pro Tempore of the Senate.

REMARKS BY SENATOR McDERMOTT

Senator McDermott: "Mr. President, I would like to place the name of Slim Rasmussen in nomination for Vice President Pro Tempore of the Senate.

"Mr. President and members of the Senate, when Slim called me yesterday and asked me if I would be willing to do this, I was honored, frankly, because I sit next to him and I've learned a great deal from sitting here. Those of you who sit further away from him don't realize how much he really knows. All you have to do is go under his desk here and you'll find a file on everything you're about to do and if it isn't under his desk, it's in his office or in his basement at home. I think it is a real privilege for us to have someone who has been in the Legislature since 1945. He served in the House from 1945 to 1961 and then came over here in one of those redistricting—I don't know quite what to call it—but he was sent home for a couple of years and he was Mayor and then he came back to us and it would be an honor for all of us to have somebody with as much experience and good humor as Slim Rasmussen as our Vice President Pro Tempore."

REMARKS BY SENATOR PULLEN

Senator Pullen: "I think Senator McDermott has really hit the nail on the head when he talked about all of the paper work that Slim keeps near his desk. If you take a look at Slim during a typical legislative day, you will see that he is carefully reading the bills, he is carefully reading the amendments, and of course, he is well known for his style of interjecting a comment here or there. I once tried to make an estimate as to how much money he'd saved the taxpayers since 1945--simply by reading the bills, pointing out discrepancies in bill drafting, raising questions about something that perhaps will ultimately hurt the average citizen or the taxpayer. You know, it is pretty hard to estimate, but the estimate I did indicated that since 1945, he has saved the taxpayers very close to two-hundred and fifty million dollars, just by being a good legislator."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Vognild, the nominations for Vice President Pro Tempore were closed.

ROLL CALL

The Acting Secretary called the roll and Senator A. L. "Slim" Rasmussen was elected Vice President Pro Tempore of the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 47; excused, 2.

Voting yea: Senators Bailey, Barr, Bauer, Bender, Benitz, Bottiger, Cantu, Conner, Craswell, Deccio, DeJarnatt, Fleming, Garrett, Gaspard, Goltz, Granlund, Halsan, Hansen, Hayner, Johnson, Kiskaddon, Kreidler, Loe, McCaslin, McDermott, McDonald, McManus, Metcalf, Moore, Newhouse, Owen, Patterson, Peterson, Pullen, Rasmussen, Rinehart, Saling, Sellar, Stratton, Talmadge, Thompson, Vognild, von Reichbauer, Warnke, Williams, Wojahn, Zimmerman - 47.

Excused: Senator Bluechel, Guess - 2.

APPOINTMENT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE

The President appointed Senators McDermott and Pullen as a committee of honor to escort Senator Rasmussen to the rostrum.

Former Justice Floyd Hicks of the Washington State Supreme Court administered the oath of office to Senator Rasmussen.

REMARKS BY SENATOR RASMUSSEN

Senator Rasmussen: "Thank you for the vote of confidence and a real tough job to follow when Governor Cherberg--the million-dollar vote getter--leaves the chair and then Senator Goltz takes over and he has to leave, then I will assume the hard duties of the chair. Thank you for putting me in that position."

ELECTION OF SECRETARY OF THE SENATE

The President declared nominations to be open for the office of Secretary of the Senate.

REMARKS BY SENATOR THOMPSON

Senator Thompson: "Thank you, Mr. President, I wish to put the name of Sid Snyder in nomination for the position of Secretary of the Senate.

"As a relatively newcomer to the Senate and a long-time member of the House of Representatives, I guess I'm qualified to observe that we accomplish our purpose here with somewhat less verbiage than the other house and certainly no verbosity is required to enlist your support for Sid Snyder for this position. For those few of you who may not be familiar with his long history of association with this institution, let me recount it for you. He's an elevator operator who's risen to eminence. He began as an elevator operator here in 1949 and moved from there to the bill room where he eventually acted as bill room supervisor, but not of Senator Conner. Sid was supervisor of the House Bill Room. He was elected Assistant Chief Clerk in 1957, became Chief Clerk in 1965, moved across the rotunda in 1969 to become Secretary of the Senate, a position which he has served with efficiency, fairness and amiability ever since. We certainly can't ask for more than that and we are fortunate to have so much. I urge your support of Sid Snyder for this office."

REMARKS BY SENATOR McCASLIN

Senator McCaslin: "Thank you, Mr. President and ladies and gentlemen of the Senate. We drew straws over here to see who would say some nice words about Sid and I lost. I would just like to, seriously, compliment Sid Snyder. This is my fifth year now, and as a freshman, of course, you always looked around for people with sound advise and I always found it with Sid--regardless of what side of the aisle you're from--Sid's always got a word for you and you can depend on it. I'm very happy to see once again that Sid will be our secretary."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Vognild, the nominations for Secretary of the Senate were closed.

ROLL CALL

The Acting Secretary called the roll and Sid Snyder was elected Secretary of the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 47; excused, 2.

Voting yea: Senators Bailey, Barr, Bauer, Bender, Benitz, Bottiger, Cantu, Conner, Craswell, Deccio, DeJarnatt, Fleming, Garrett, Gaspard, Goitz, Granlund, Halsan, Hansen, Hayner, Johnson, Kiskaddon, Kreidler, Lee, McCaslin, McDermott, McDonald, McManus, Metcalf, Moore, Newhouse, Owen, Patterson, Peterson, Pullen, Rasmussen, Rinehart, Saling, Sellar, Stratton, Talmadge, Thompson, Vognild, von Reichbauer, Warnke, Williams, Wojahn, Zimmerman - 47.

Excused: Senator Bluechel, Guess - 2.

APPOINTMENT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE

The President appointed Senators DeJarnatt and McCaslin as a committee of honor to escort Sid Snyder to the rostrum.

Former Justice Floyd Hicks of the Washington State Supreme Court administered the oath of office to Sid Snyder.

REMARKS BY SID SNYDER

Sid Snyder: "Mr. President and members of the Senate and Senator Thompson and Senator McCaslin for those nice words. I was about to say this was probably the greatest thing that ever happened to me in the world, but I noticed my wife in the gallery, so I thought maybe I had better change my mind--she may disagree. I do want to thank you very kindly and express my deep appreciation for the fine help that we've had over the years. Any success we may have had reflects on them and their hard work that they've put in and that includes the nonpartisan staff, the partisan Democratic staff and the partisan Republican staff. We've always had great cooperation from them and the members have always been very fair to me and I certainly appreciate it. We hope to have a very successful session for all of you this session. Thank you."

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "Do you care to respond, Mrs. Snyder?"

"Members of the Senate, the President is very delighted with the slate you have selected this morning and looks forward with anticipation with working with you, Sid."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Deccio: "A point of personal privilege, Mr. President. I understand from listening to the comments that Senator Rasmussen first appeared on the scene in 1945, which makes that forty years ago. I think we ought to do two things this morning--number one, give him a standing ovation for having the perseverance he obviously has--and secondly to brighten our day by having him tell us what things were like in those days."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "Very good idea. Senator Rasmussen."

REMARKS BY SENATOR RASMUSSEN

Senator Rasmussen: "Thank you, Senator Deccio and Mr. President. I want to say it's been a short forty years and that there have been improvements made in the operation of the legislature--and I'm grateful. It used to be there were only three or four lobbyists and I notice we have about 560 of them registered in the book. They are outnumbering us, but they do not control the legislature and that's good. A lot of people in the public think they do, but I think mainly the biggest improvement has been made--as many of you may remember that did serve over in the House--where we used to do all of our letter writing at our desks. You would call the secretaries out and they would sit along side of you and you would write letters for a period of time. They had no offices, so I hope you all appreciate the improvement. I know the public thinks we have a better operation and they're the main people that we serve.

"Thank you for the opportunity to express my delight at being here for a short forty years and I hope the next forty years will be just as good."

ELECTION OF SERGEANT AT ARMS

The President declared nominations to be open for the office of Sergeant at Arms of the Senate.

REMARKS BY SENATOR RASMUSSEN

Senator Rasmussen: "Mr. President and members of the Senate. It gives me great pleasure to nominate Mr. Ole Scharparelli as Sergeant at Arms. Did I slay that name too, Mr. President?"

President Cherberg: "It's Orlando Francisco Scarpelli, not Scharparelli."

Senator Rasmussen: "Thank you, Mr. President. He'll make a good Sergeant at Arms. All of you are well acquainted with Orlando who has served as assistant here since 1967 to 1977, and served as assistant to the President of the Senate from 1977 on until we elected him the Sergeant at Arms. You all know his faithful, hard work--your constituents get your messages to you promptly. He maintains order and see that the Senate operates in a safe and sane manner. You do not know all the guards that you have watching over you--besides Sid's wife up in the gallery. We have other people that are keeping their eye on you and Sergeant Orlando will do that. I'm going to try that name again after I talk with Ole. Thank you, Mr. President."

REMARKS BY SENATOR McCASLIN

Senator McCaslin: "Mr. President and ladies and gentlemen of the Senate. I thought, maybe, we had a contest going there for awhile with the Scharparelli he came up with, but I'm glad Ole is back in there. Here's an old timer that's been around here for years and to the freshmen the past four years, he had always been extremely helpful and regardless of what you ask Ole to do, he gets the job done. He is dedicated, he's motivated and a very friendly gentlemen, so if any of the freshmen have not had an opportunity to meet Ole, I suggest that if you have a problem and he's around, he will certainly be glad to help you. Ole is kind of like Avis, you know--he always tries harder--and I think perhaps he has done such a good job in the past few years, he's moved up and bumped Hertz out. So welcome aboard again, Ole. We'll look forward to working with you the next four years."

REMARKS BY SENATOR DECCIO

Senator Deccio: "I can't help but remind the body that there are three descendants of Christopher Columbus in this body. One is Ole Scarpelli, and of course, one is myself, and the other is the Lieutenant Governor, so I'm just going to tell you--watch it."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Vognild, the nominations for Sergeant at Arms of the Senate were closed.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll and Ole Scarpelli was elected Sergeant at Arms of the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 47; excused, 2.

Newhouse, Owen, Patterson, Peterson, Pullen, Rasmussen, Rinehart, Saling, Sellar, Stratton, Talmadge, Thompson, Vognild, von Reichbauer, Warnke, Williams, Wojahn, Zimmerman - 47.
Excused: Senator Bluechel, Guess - 2.

APPOINTMENT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE

The President appointed Senators Rasmussen and McDonald as a committee of honor to escort Ole Scarpelli to the rostrum.

Former Justice Floyd Hicks of the Washington State Supreme Court administered the oath of office to Ole Scarpelli.

REMARKS BY OLE SCARPELLI

Ole Scarpelli: "Mr. President and Senators, I have enjoyed the privilege of serving the Senate for the past two years. Thank you for this vote of confidence and the honor and opportunity of serving you again."

President Cherberg: "Congratulations, Ole. We can all sleep more easily with you protecting us tonight."

SIGNED BY THE PRESIDENT

The President signed:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 102.

APPOINTMENT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE

The President announced the presence in the Senate Chamber of Capital Lakefair Queen, Anna Alexander, and appointed Senators Goltz and Johnson to escort the honored guest to the rostrum.

With permission of the Senate, business was suspended to permit Queen Anna to address the Senate and to welcome the members to Olympia.

The honored guest was escorted from the Senate Chamber and the committee was discharged.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator McDermott: "Mr. President and members of the Senate. Last night there was an awards banquet in Seattle in which they acknowledged the Sportsman of the Year, Chuck Knox. Some of you may not know that in 1937, the Man of the Year at that banquet was none other than Governor Cherberg. I think everybody ought to know that forty-two years ago when he was coach at the Cleveland High School, he was called Winningest Coach--right? I'm not sure if I have the words right, sir, your curriculum vitae is a little deficient in giving me the exact words. I think the members ought to know."

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "Thank you very much, Senator McDermott."

GOVERNOR'S ADDRESS

ADDRESS BY GOVERNOR SPELLMAN

Governor Spellman: "Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, esteemed members of the Supreme Court, statewide elected officials, members of the House and Senate, ladies and gentlemen: Four years ago I stood here with a song in my heart anticipating the future of the state of Washington. Our very distinguished presiding officer coaxed that song from my heart as he ended the ceremony and we talked about the sun that was going to come out tomorrow. Throughout some of the most difficult years in the history of the state of Washington, maintained the optimism, thinking the sun would come out and it did. The state of the state of Washington is very good. The prospects for the state of Washington are even better. We have entered into the period that has been anticipated since the first territorial Governor in all of the addresses that have ever been made--the Century of the Pacific has emerged. The state of Washington emerges as a leader in that new era of prosperity and amity between nations, with the state of Washington being in key position for the future of the United States.

"We have not kept our light hidden under a bushel basket. We have told the world of the grandeur and magnificence and the art that exists here in the state of Washington. Tourists from around the world are flocking in enjoying and adding to our economy. We have renewed friendships throughout the world and established new relationships with major nations of the world. The result will be indeed, prosperity for our children and their children to come. Perhaps even more importantly, a strengthening of the bonds of friendship and understanding between the people of the world, an enhancement of the peace that must exist in the world.

"We have acknowledged that the bedrock upon which the strength of the state of Washington will be built and prosperity and our trade is in the education of our children. We have spent many years analyzing the educational system of this state and the opportunities for enhancement of that system. We are now in a position where that constitutionally-mandated age-old duty of the state of Washington, to educate is being one hundred percent funded by the state of Washington. We must not, in our enthusiasm to get even better education, ignore higher education, which, even though it is not written specifically in the Constitution, is very much a part of the total educational system and of the state's duty to educate. Without education all of the dreams of this state will never be met. All of the opportunities will never be achieved. We have reaffirmed, sometimes under difficult circumstances, the commitment of the state of Washington to its blessed environment. We have embarked upon projects to maintain the quality of the water in the smallest brook to the great Puget Sound and to clean up the caustic wastes that have existed. We have, with vigor, gone forth to find them, identify them and do something about them. The people of this state will not be tolerant of anything other than clean water, clean air, clean land and an appreciation of the environment for which we are all stewards.

"Domestic tranquility--one of the reasons why governments exist. In the state of Washington we have contributed to the domestic tranquility by a new emphasis on management and proper structuring of our correctional system. We have acquired new facilities; we have reached a point now where with adequate space, we can separate those from society who should be separated from society and we can also have the programs for education and rehabilitation in a less crowded atmosphere. Domestic tranquility cannot exist if the government itself is in a shambles; if the government itself is in a state of chaos. We have made great progress in restoring to the state its own intermanagement. This is the first biennium in a very long time in which the state is really living within its revenue. There is no more borrowing of a month from the next biennium. The state is not borrowing for cash flow and it should never again; it need never again. The state now engages in generally-accepted accounting principles and it has for three years running, had audited financial statements for the first time in the history of the state and is one of the few states in the United States that has done that. These good practices allow us to analyze what we are doing, what we are achieving and to go forth. We have had a lot of management studies across the state in the last few years and without exception, we found out that the program wasn't as bad as everybody thought it was, but the data was lacking to analyze. The data was lacking to probe improvement. In tough times it is very difficult to put the dollars into the systems of a data because the people's needs are very great. It is important though that we do better in those areas; that we put the necessary dollars into the accounting and the data systems, so that we can do the better job in all areas of both schools and the environment.

"We have ceased the improper practice of using capital funds for operating expenses and before you is a six-year capital plan--a first in the history of the state--which allows us to think ahead. We will build the facilities necessary for the growth and the maintenance of a sound state. Statewide, the state of the state is very good. The state of the economy is strong. We have long awaited the day when we could say that and yet, even now, it is apparent that expenditure anticipation exceeds expenditure ability. I suspect that will always be the case. If we were to meet all of that pent-up anticipation for expenditures, we would have a pervasive, powerful, prying government that would dominate all and we would have families and taxpayers who were in a state of poverty, and an economy that was in a state of being dampered down. The answer to the problems of the state for a sound growth of its economy, its education, its environmental problems, is growth of jobs and economic development within the state.

"I have in the past, and I will not today, talk about economic development and jobs and the like. They are two old plights. The systems are there--the industrial revenue bonds program, the housing finance program, the tourism program, the world trade program. I will not linger on that, but it is important to acknowledge that there are pillars upon which the economy of this state will depend. They are agriculture, our natural resources industry—fishing and timber—the services we provide one another; technology and trade. Always, education must be added to any such group. To the extent any part of that group is ignored, it is likely the entire state suffers. Each part must be nurtured. Some parts need a great deal of nurturing and it seems to me it is our mutual task to make sure that occurs.

"Having presided over what was known as the Boeing—bust of the early 70s, I learned an important lesson and I have told it to economic development groups throughout the state for some time. I can't miss the opportunity to mention it again. That is that economic development and jobs programs are not something that we can have the luxury of turning our attention to only in bad times, as a matter of fact if we do, we are wasting money and we are wasting effort and we're not accomplishing anything. It is almost like a tribal ritual that whenever the economy goes bad and there's unemployment, we start committees, we start actions and we talk about it and when the adverse situation goes away we think we have solved the problem. Of course, the problem is solved without all those activities. It is important that we maintain a long-term commitment to jobs and economic development, year in and year out, in order to maintain the stability of the economy and the jobs and the families within the state of Washington.

"Certainly, no person in this room, even the freshmen, can help but take some pride in having hung in there during some very tough times. We cannot help but feel pride for working the difficult problems. I thank you; I thank you for your cooperation. I remember when our distinguished senior statesman, Senator Magnuson, stood here—not that long ago—and gave one of his secrets of success and that was that we should, if we didn't agree, disagree without being disagreeable. By and large we have been able to carry that out and I want to thank you for it. There are many people who have contributed to the common will of the state of Washington, many seated in front of us, and many in the various departments of state government. I will not enumerate. There is one person who I think has contributed a great deal, sometimes with some anonymity, and that is the first lady, of each Governor and she is there again today. Lois has been quietly—not always quietly—personally, made a tremendous impact, I think. She doggedly hung in there for the council against child abuse. She suffered some disappointment and then went directly to the legislature on the Council for Voluntary Action. The volunteer programs, and the recognition of the volunteers that have been here in these chambers, I think are an inspiration and, again, something that should not only exist in tough times, but should be nurtured and grow so there will be a place in good times and bad times. The food banks and the network of stores, and shippers and growers, who have served with the network for food distribution in the state—and the art of the northwest which were brought to the Governor's mansion—and the home that was established not just for the children and me, but for all of us—the Governor's home, it is something that I thank Lois for.

"I have been in government service, almost exactly to the day, eighteen years. I have enjoyed every day of it. The challenges sometimes seemed insurmountable, but the optimism was more than enough to carry through those tough times. I believe government is important. I believe it is a high calling. I believe it is a civilizing influence that keeps people working together for common goals. In this state it is a means by which we reach a consensus as to what tasks we shall take up mutually that cannot be done by individuals or cannot profitably be done by the private sector. It is a calling into which I hope many young people will come and will find the inspiration that will come from you here because it is a rare commodity in the world today and it is something I will always cherish, as I will the time I have served here as Governor. I have mentioned optimism two or three times in these remarks, and I think it is a most important asset that we can have here in the state of Washington, in our neighborhoods, our families and in our government. There are a lot of doom and gloomers, but there is everything to be optimistic about in the state of Washington. It is the most glorious place on the face of the earth in which to live; it has people who are energetic, who have always outperformed people in other parts of the country and it is sitting on the springboard of prosperity for generations to come. The world has changed its entire balance toward the Pacific Northwest.

"Washington is a state that has always had promise; it is achieving rapidly that full promise and I think we are just at the point of the preamble to the glorious future in this state.

"Lois and I wish, Booth and Jean Gardner the wisdom and the tenacity and the strength to continue to assist in achieving that destiny which is abundantly clear and magnificent for this state. It is time now to bid farewell and I cannot do so without saying how grateful I am to each of you for the contributions, for the consultations, for the actions that have occurred along the way. I, indeed, recall the first night we met Olympia, a concensus reached within our own family and that was that we shouldn't be doing this if we did not enjoy it, and we have enjoyed it. I am very excited about the future of this state. I'm also very excited about the future out there for Lois and myself. May God bless each of you and God bless the state of Washington."

MOTION

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Fleming: "Mr. President and members of the body, I would like to ask Senator McDermott a question, since I voted on this measure and it affects me personally, I want to make sure I voted in the right way. Will Senator McDermott yield to a question? If one votes 'no' on this measure do they get the old per diem or do they get the new per diem?"

Senator McDermott: "Senator Fleming, there is no provision in the law for treating people on the basis of their votes when they arrive at the pay window."

Senator Fleming: "Would that be unconstitutional, if we did something like that? Do you know? You know, lay lawyer that you are."

Senator McDermott: "I think it would require some changes--something, I'm not quite sure what we'd have to change to make people's words match their actions."

Senator Fleming: "Thank you, Mr. President, because it did affect me personally, I thought it was a point of personal privilege and nobody hears when these kinds of things happen, so maybe in the future, if it's not unconstitutional maybe we ought to make sure that those who don't want it don't get it."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator McDonald: "Mr. President and fellow members of the Senate. It seems that Senator Vognild and myself share a special covenant being floor leaders, not only to examine the tight Aristotelian logic of each other's arguments, but as well to kind of be keepers of the history of floor leaders past, as well as those present. One of those previous floor leaders was Senator Shinpoch, the mild mannered Senator from Renton, that we all know and loved--who we thought was going to leave forever, but we find we have him to kick around for another four years.

"At the end of the 1984 session, a very sharp-eyed photographer from the Seattle Times caught Senator Shinpoch in one of his more famous following day poses--and on the front page of the Seattle Times. Now it was questionable whether Senator Shinpoch was looking very closely at the inside of his eyelids or sobbing gently to himself. I chose the former and it says 'Senator Shinpoch slept here.' It has him on the top of his desk, about 2 o'clock in the morning trying to keep a quorum together, but was caught there and I thought it was extremely appropriate. I'm going to give that to Senator Vognild as a memento of floor leaders past. A special crew will be in here this afternoon to laminate it into the top of your desk so that all of posterity will know about people in the past. Thank you."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Goltz: "What is the date on that newspaper?"

Senator McDonald: "Well, it was the day after the session of 1984."

Senator Goltz: "1984--it's hard to believe that we were in session that long. I thought we always got out of here at a timely time and manner."

There being no objection, the President advanced to Senate to the fifth order of business.

GOVERNOR'S INAUGURAL ADDRESS

Governor Gardner: "Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Mr. Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, members of the Legislature, honored elected officials and fellow citizens of Washington State:

"Ninety-six years ago, at his inauguration as Washington's first governor, Elisha Ferry said: 'With resources superior to those of any equal area, with a population as enterprising as it is courageous, with a climate which commends itself to all who experience it, occupying a position at the gateway of Oriental and Occidental commerce of the future, there is no reason why the state of Washington should not rank among the most prominent State of the Union, nor why our people should not enjoy the priceless blessings of prosperity, health and happiness.'

"Looking back over our state's first century, we can see that Governor Ferry had good reason for his optimism. He saw accurately that the state's key location, its abundant resources and its enterprising population would result in growth and prosperity. Now, as we stand on the brink of Washington's second century, we must keep Elisha Ferry's flame of optimism alive as we accept the responsibilities of governance. They include: A responsibility to turn over a clean and safe environment to our children; A responsibility to provide our children with the best education possible; And a responsibility to diversify and expand our economy, bringing jobs to the unemployed, food to hungry and a stable and predictable revenue base to support basic state services.

"The burden of these responsibilities is compounded by serious problems that we face as a state. Nearly 200,000 of our citizens who want work cannot find it. Much of our abundant agricultural harvest has no market. Our timber industry faces high transportation costs to the fastest growing markets, a strong dollar that limits our exports, and competition from cheap foreign imports and faster growing Southern timber. Overfishing and poor management have vastly depleted our salmon resources to the point that only the strongest action has any chance to restore the fishery to its former success. Pollution threatens our shellfish harvests. Roads, bridges and public buildings are in critical need of repair at a time when our revenue base simply will not permit us to address all our needs. Many people have lost confidence in the ability of our public schools and institutions of higher learning to provide quality education. For too long, these problems have been pushed ahead of us, and now it's collection day. These problems are not an indictment, but our failure to begin to solve them would be.

"The challenges we face are difficult, but difficulty is an excuse that history never accepts. And we do have the chance—a golden opportunity—to make history here in Washington State. History lies in transforming Washington into the Gateway of the Future. We must work to solve our immediate problems, but we must also begin to think and to reach beyond the next four years. We must begin to put in place the foundation for our second century. We can begin by utilizing our greatest asset—one which is too often overlooked—our people.

"Adam Smith first observed that the real wealth of nations is in their people and nowhere is that more true than here in our state of Washington. This can be seen in our gleaming cities where, with tremendous pride, the people have put together the resources to create nationally famous landmarks such as the Space Needle and the Pike Place Market in Seattle, Riverfront Park and the Opera House in Spokane, and the Pantages Theater and the Tacoma Dome in my home town. The tremendous resources of our people can be found every evening as hundreds of volunteer boards gather in communities all across the state. These volunteer organizations give meaning to the word community. Without volunteers, in this age of limited resources and government cutbacks, thousands of our poor, handicapped and elderly citizens would not be able to participate in the life of the greater community that most of us take for granted.

"We must utilize yet another of our unnoticed assets—the energy and talents of the people who work in state and local governments. Their efforts can provide the firm foundation for a state community built on cooperation and trust between government and citizens. I want to take a moment to talk directly to my fellow state employees. In the week since the election, I've seen the hard work and dedication to the common good that I expected. I want you to know that I have faith and confidence in you. Our challenge, working together, is to make the people of this state proud of their government. We must also have cooperation here in the halls of this legislature, and between the legislative and executive branches of government. We have with us a host of pressing problems. I can as Governor address those problems, but I cannot solve them without the help and support of the legislature. In each house, is an aisle which separates the two political parties. Between the two houses, there is a corridor which separates them. One floor in this building separates the executive from the legislative branch of government. These barriers can be passageway as we join our talents in serving the people and doing their business. Those things which unite us are far greater than those barriers which separate us. Never has it been more essential for state government to be united. Every responsible economist is predicting some tight times in the state for the next two years. Government must set some priorities which acknowledge these forecasts. Here are mine: First, we must develop an approach to economic growth which will give us a diversified economy base on the realities of a post industrial world; Second, we must sustain necessary services to help those in need and to protect the public health and safety; Third, we must end the practice of pushing our problems into the future and onto the shoulders of our children, whether the subject is pensions, or repairs to our infrastructure; Fourth, we must create a budget reserve large enough to absorb unanticipated drops in revenue without having to resort to session after session and service cuts to balance the budget. In my mind, these are the things that are most important and an area in which I'm most hopeful something can be accomplished.

"These are our immediate objectives, but we need to do more. We must start by tending to those things which will provide the foundation for our future. We must start with education, the environment and economic development--even if funding limitations do not allow us to do all that we would like.

"In education, I want to achieve excellence at all levels and in every classroom of our K-12 and Higher Education systems. There is much that needs to be done. Responsible studies, such as the one done by the Washington Roundtable and the 3609 Commission, point to the needs. What is not evident is the means to pay for excellence. Today, state government cannot afford to do all that it should in education system. But we must begin the process. We must demonstrate our commitment to improving the schools. A place to begin is to double the preschool enrollment of those children who are identified as being at-risk, and I will propose legislation that will accomplish this by the end of the biennium. No area of government was hit harder during the recession of the last four years than higher education. When hard times come, our universities and community colleges are the easiest place to cut tax dollars--but it is not the wisest area to cut. The economic development of this state will rely on our commitment to rebuild our higher education system. In the next four years, my efforts will center on expanding the tax base through expansion and diversification of the economy. As the economy expands, we must make the commitment to the improvement of higher education. If we continue to face difficult times in the coming two years, we must recognize that higher education cannot tolerate more cuts.

"Next I want to talk about Puget Sound and the state's other vital water resources. I am determined to stop further pollution. Our efforts can begin in this biennium by strengthening our ability to identify pollution sources and by agreeing on a long-term plan against which all action of the state and local governments can be measured. I will propose legislation enhancing the ability of the Puget Sound Water Quality Authority to achieve these results. I will also ask you to approve legislation that will immediately improve the Department of Ecology's ability to monitor and enforce restrictions on wastewater discharge into the Sound and other waterways.

"Finally, Commerce and Economic Development. I see economic development as the best long-term answer to the financial problems that plague this state. In the short-term, there are things we can and must do. A strategic plan for economic development must be developed for our state. I will take the lead in developing this plan. But local economic development groups, the business community, labor and environmental interests must take their part if the plan is going to be realistic. Once we have this plan, I will have the Department of Commerce and Economic Development organized and ready to carry out with the highest professionalism and commitment. There is no graphic reminder of the need for economic development than what is happening today in towns like Raymond and Shelton, where people have been forced out of employment due to mill closures and our changing economy. Many are people who have spent ten, twenty even thirty years in a job and now find that their skills may not be needed again, at least in the foreseeable future. It is not enough to tell these people to wait until the economy booms again. It's not going to be easy for towns like Raymond and Shelton, but there are a couple of things we can do. Our state economic development strategy must explicitly address the needs of these communities. As we recruit new jobs from other states and other parts of the world, we must match them to the resources of our communities in economic distress. No action will be more important to the future of the entire state than a targeted recruitment of new industries for communities in need. I will propose legislation creating a process to designate hard hit communities as economically distressed area. Funds from the Job Training Partnership Act and Community Economic Revitalization Board will be directed toward these communities.

"These are two further subjects we must address. First, health care costs. We can begin now to contain the rising cost of health care. Next to education, these costs are higher than inflation. We must join with the private sector to bring these costs under control. I will ask you to approve several measures to give the state the authorities and structures it needs to contain health care costs.

"Finally, we must search for other ways to save tax dollars without sacrificing vital services. When I become Pierce County Executive, I was faced with a government deeply in debt and workers demoralized by a system that failed to recognize their value. At that time, I had the authority to reorganize government. This allowed me to restructure the county agencies, eliminate duplication and unnecessary management, and make each employee's work more meaningful. We were also able to improve service to the citizens.

"It is time state government does the same. I will work with the legislature, and support legislation, to streamline state government. It is the only way to turn the rhetoric of government efficiency into action. Our times are difficult, but they offer great opportunity. It is in times like these that people work best together, take risks with new ideas and fresh approaches, and lay solid groundwork for better times. As I mentioned at the beginning of this address, we are standing at the brink of the state's second century. I believe we can and should use the time between now and the celebration of this anniversary in a spirit of Rediscovery, Rededication and Renewal--Rediscovery of our rich heritage and the many valuable resources we have in our state--Rededication to the spirit of cooperation, working together and sharing together that has characterized this state's greatest moments since the pioneer days--And Renewal of our institutions of government, to make them responsive to the needs of the future. We should spend the next four years actively preparing for our second century.

"The Age of the Pacific is upon us. The focus of the world is moving away from the European continent; it is turning toward the nations and states of the Pacific Rim. And we are the natural gateway to the Pacific, and to the bright economic future that it holds. We can make this our future. It will take the same strong effort that our pioneer ancestors used to transform a wilderness into the Evergreen State. There will be mistakes along the way, but we will be making progress if each mistake we make is a new one.

"I am honored today to take up these challenges. I hope that all of you--legislators, state employees and officials, and the citizens throughout this state--will join with me in a commitment to our future. Washington will become the Gateway of the Future. We have it within our power. Let us match our power to the possibilities of progress and build our Gateway of the Future. Let's get to work. Thank you."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Talmadge, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 3041 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Pullen: "I simply have a technical question about how the code reviser will ultimately handle the codification of these explanatory notes. In the bill, I see a number of explanatory notes that are distributed throughout the whole bill and I find them very convenient and very helpful because they give some explanation as to the nature of the changes in the bill, but I don't think I have ever seen these structurally in any bill before.

"Do you know if the code reviser intends to take the explanatory notes out after the bill becomes law or will they permanently be codified as part of the law?"

Senator Talmadge: "Senator, I think they will be permanently codified. We gave the authority to the code reviser in the original authorization to that office to put explanatory notes into the code and they've been doing that more since we gave them the authority dealing with double amendments. Now this is something that I, too, agree is helpful and I believe it will be a permanent part of the code. It's usually placed as a footnote to the softbound version of the R.C.W.'s that are distributed to the members and to the public."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Senate Bill No. 3041.

CONFLICT OF INTEREST

RULE 1. A legislator has a personal interest which is in conflict with the proper discharge of legislative duties if the legislator has reason to believe or expect that a direct monetary gain or a direct monetary loss will be derived by reason of the legislator's official activity.

However, a legislator does not have a personal interest which is in conflict with the proper discharge of legislative duties if no benefit or detriment accrues to the legislator as a member of a business, profession, occupation, or group, to a greater extent than to any other member of such business, profession, occupation, or group.

CODE OF ETHICS

In order to maintain legislative integrity and secure the public interest the following Code of Ethics is adopted for legislators:

(a) Actions which destroy independence of judgment as a legislator:

(1) A legislator shall not vote on or influence legislation in committee or on the floor of either house, where the legislator has a personal interest which is in conflict with the proper discharge of legislative duties.

(2) A legislator shall not accept any gratuity or compensation for services rendered in connection with legislative employment other than legislative salary.

(3) A legislator shall not ask, receive, or agree to receive anything of value upon any understanding that the legislator's vote, opinion, judgment, or action will be influenced thereby.

(4) A legislator shall not solicit, receive, or accept a gift, favor or service under circumstances where it could be reasonably inferred that such action would influence the legislator in the discharge of legislative duties, or was a reward.

(5) A legislator shall not accept any remuneration other than legislative compensation for legislative advice or assistance.

(6) A legislator shall not appear before any department of state government for compensation that is contingent upon action by that department of state government unless the fee is set or approved by that department.

(b) Actions which involve undue influence upon any state agency, court, or governmental subdivision:

(1) A legislator shall not represent clients for compensation in proceedings or hearings before state agencies, boards or commissions involving claims of state employees.

(2) A legislator, singularly or through others, shall not use or attempt to use improper means to influence a state agency, board or commission.

(3) A legislator may use an official title or stationery in connection with a matter or proceeding before a state agency, board or commission, only if done without compensation, in connection with legislative duties.

(4) A legislator shall not represent any claimant for compensation in any claim placed before the legislature.

(5) A legislator shall not receive compensation for an appearance before a state agency as an expert witness.

(c) Actions which constitute an abuse of official position or a violation of public trust:

(1) A legislator shall not accept employment, or engage in any business, or be involved in any activity which one might reasonably expect would require the disclosure of privileged information gained by virtue of holding legislative office.

(2) A legislator shall not enter into any contract with a state agency involving services or property, unless the contract is made after public notice and competitive bidding; except in cases where public notice and competitive bidding are not required, the contract or agreement shall be filed with the Board of Ethics.

EMPLOYEE RESTRICTIONS

RULE 2. Section 1. A legislative employee shall not accept any gratuity or compensation for services rendered in connection with legislative employment other than legislative salary. A legislative employee shall not accept any employment, in addition to legislative employment, which would impair the employee's independence of judgment. Except within the scope of employment, a legislative employee shall not provide any service to a lobbyist or any other person.

Section 2. A legislative employee shall not use or attempt to use the employee's official position to (1) personally obtain any privilege, exemption, special treatment or any other thing of value, or (2) obtain any such benefit for others except as required to perform duties within the scope of employment.

Section 3. A legislative employee shall not accept or solicit anything of value for personal benefit or for the benefit of others under circumstances in which it can be reasonably inferred that the legislative employee's independence of judgment is impaired or is intended as a reward for any official action.

Section 4. MOTION

On motion of Senator Vognild, the rules were suspended, Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 107 was advanced to second reading and read the second time.

MOTION

Senator McDonald moved that the following amendment by Senators McDonald and Deccio be adopted:

On page 7, line 220, after "committees.", strike the language through line 221 and insert the following:

"The report of a free conference committee must have the signatures of five of the six members of the committee."

Debate ensued.

Senator McDermott demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McDermott: "Senator McDonald, in looking at this amendment, I wonder if it is your intention that this apply to all bills, including revenue and appropriation acts?"

Senator McDonald: "That is our intention."

Senator McDermott: "So it would be your intention that the minority could tie up the legislature if we used the conference committee provision on the appropriations act?"

Senator McDonald: "That is not my intention, Senator McDermott. Clearly, we have talked about bipartisan cooperation. We are twenty-two members, you are twenty-seven, and it would be our intention, clearly, to work with you to the best interests of the people of the state."

Senator McDermott: "My feeling was that there's only really one bill that has to go out of here, and that's the budget and taxes to support it. Everything else I'd be willing to support five members on a conference committee signing it. But I think--given the experience we had in 1981 around here--I think it's a little bit much to ask that we give that kind of power to one part of the legislature when, clearly, there's no way out of it except to run another bill and just never go to a conference committee. There are ways around it, but if you're talking about substantive issues, it seems to me that makes some sense to have five members. We did it for many years and had no problem, until we got to the budget."

Senator McDonald: "Senator McDermott, it seems to me that substantive issues are what we are talking about. If you're going to have it only on fluff bills and not on ten billion dollars worth of expenditures, I, clearly, am opposed to it. It seems to me that we've got tremendous opportunity for abuse if we can totally rewrite a bill without any view from the minority. That's what we want to protect, not only for ourselves, but for minorities in the future. I hope that we will get that opportunity. Thank you."

Further debate ensued.

MOTION

Senator Bluechel moved that the following amendment to the amendment be adopted:

On page 7, line 220, after "committee" add "except on the general fund and capital budget bill"

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McDermott: "Senator Bottiger, if there is a dispute between the Houses on the rules, will it go to a conference committee?"

Senator Bottiger: "Senator McDermott, until we have some rules there aren't any conference committees."

Senator McDonald demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on adoption of the amendment by Senator Bluechel to the amendment.

The Secretary called the roll and the motion by Senator Bluechel failed and the amendment to the amendment was not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 23; nays, 25; excused, 1.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Goltz, the rules were suspended, Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 107 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the resolution was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Lee: "Senator Goltz, every once in awhile a bill comes along that is sponsored by a member of this body and when it finally passes it bears little resemblance to its original--and in fact may be 180 degrees opposed to the person's original intent. It happened to Senator Hansen last year and to me in 1982. Is there anything in the joint rules that helps to clarify that as far as the general public would be concerned, when the prime sponsorship of a bill gets changed other than to the sponsor's intent?"

Senator Goltz: "I do not believe there is anything in the joint rules as they are before you which would prevent, for example, a title only bill to carry content which the sponsor of that title only bill could not vote for. I do not believe there is anything in the joint rules that would prevent the amendatory process to proceed where the intent of the bill might be changed in the absence of a scope and object ruling or something of that kind. And the recourse that members have under those circumstances is to themselves vote against their own bill, and secondly, to put into the record--the Journal--a statement which would give their own accounting of their reasons for doing so."

Senator Lee: "So your answer to that question, is that the permission for a particular Journal entry by a member would cover that circumstance and that's where the public should be instructed to go to clarify an issue of that sort."

Senator Goltz: "That would be the course that I would take."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 107.

MOTION

Senator Wojahn moved that the following resolution be adopted:

SENATE FLOOR RESOLUTION 1985-8

by Senators Wojahn, Bottiger, Rasmussen, Gaspard, Granlund, Johnson, Bailey, Barr, Bauer, Bender, Benitz, Bluechel, Cantu, Conner, Craswell, Deccio, DeJarnatt, Fleming, Garrett, Goltz, Guess, Halsan, Hansen, Hayner, Kiskaddon, Kreidler, Lee, McCaslin, McDermott, McDonald, McManus, Metcalf, Moore, Newhouse, Owen, Patterson, Peterson, Pullen, Rinehart, Saling, Sellar, Stratton, Talmadge, Thompson, Vognil, von Reichbauer, Warnke, Williams, Zimmerman; Lieutenant Governor John A. Cherberg; Sid Snyder, Secretary of the Senate; Bill Gleason, Assistant Secretary of the Senate; Ole Scarpelli, Sergeant at Arms

WHEREAS, Tacoma citizen Floyd V. Hicks was recently labeled by that city's News Tribune headline as "a retiring sort of guy"; and

WHEREAS, Headlines of this kind are, by their brevity, capable of all sorts of misinterpretation; and

WHEREAS, The Washington State Senate shares with all journalists everywhere an impeccable concern for absolute accuracy, fairness and objectivity;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Senate fully endorses the sobriquet "a retiring sort of guy" for the following reasons and upon the following authority:

The dictionary defines a "guy" as a brace or a guide that holds something else in place, as in "guy wire." Judge Hicks' career, though often blown about by the fickle winds of change, braces itself against any course other than absolute honesty in thought and deed. His implacable one-man war against insincerity in many ways guides the rest of us.

To "retire," says the dictionary, is to withdraw to a private place. As applied to our friend, it is not to be confused with such meanings as withdraw, retreat, give up an active public life or remove from active service. While we grant Judge Hicks' right now to choose still another, more private vocation, his public career and personality serve as too much of a tonic in our lives ever to be left on the shelf. His combination of candor, wit, and integrity are a refreshing elixir to our lives which we will sip wherever his newest career takes him.

AND BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the Secretary of the Senate shall transmit a copy of this resolution to the following persons: Prosser native Hicks; Central Washington State College and semi-pro basketball star Hicks; Lacey schools and St. John coach Hicks; Army Air Corps serviceman Hicks; Floyd V. Hicks, Esq., Attorney at Law, Tacoma; Judge Floyd Hicks, Superior Court of the State of Washington in and for the County of Pierce; the Honorable Floyd V. Hicks, M. C., Rayburn House Office Building, Washington D. C.; Justice Floyd V. Hicks, Supreme Court, Temple of Justice, Olympia; citizen Floyd Hicks, wherever you may be and wherever you may go; and to your partner, Jeanne, with our abiding affection and esteem.

MOTION

MOTION

Senator Bottiger moved that the Senate comply with the request of the Governor and return the aforementioned nominations to him.

REMARKS BY SENATOR BOTTIGER

Senator Bottiger: "Mr. President and members of the Senate, the Governor has requested back a series of appointments which you will find on your desk, and also a second message from the Governor reappointing some of those people and in some cases replacing the former appointees with other nominees which would be appropriately referred to our committees. This is not a new custom by any means. On January 16, 1981, I had the pleasure of moving to comply with the request of Governor Spellman that pending nominations before this body be returned to him--in a spirit of cooperation.

"I made a couple of comments for the Journal then, pointing out to the Governor that in that instance he was only withdrawing and not renominating. So there was a created vacancy, and suggesting that there could be problems which we found when Governor Ray did the same thing back in 1977. Governor Gardner has picked up that problem and has the appointments already back in line, so with the single reference we will have filled any vacancy. There will be no problems with quorums on any boards that I'm aware of. In the Journal, also, I read the very kind remarks of Senator Hayner thanking me for my spirit of cooperation and, also, from Senator von Reichbauer thanking me for my spirit of cooperation with, the then, Governor Spellman, and I'm sure that I will have their cooperation now."

MOTION

Senator McDonald moved that the question be divided and the name of Shani Taha, nominated as a member of the Council for Post Secondary Education, be considered separately.

REMARKS BY SENATOR McDONALD.

Senator McDonald: "Mr. President and members of the Senate, I don't know how to exactly attack this problem, but I guess each individual on this is separate and unique. The problem is generic, however. Senator Bottiger mentioned the fact that names were withdrawn before, but never has it been that we have waited for two years for confirmation of many of these people. Those were nominations made in the interim and Shani Taha has been serving--and serving well--on the Council for Post Secondary Education.

"Now a little history on Miss Taha--a member of the minority community--most importantly, a very, very wise woman in the ways of government--and she has been in government for a long time. She's been in government back in New York. She came to us, and I remember, as a member of the Seattle King County Drug Commission where she was staff for that and many other commissions in the human services area. She is very sharp. She was, also, then moved to the department head and finally moved to the county executive and right hand person to the county executive--both in Spellman's administration and Dunlap's administration. She is a Republican, but it appears to me that the Governor has talked about bi-partisan cooperation. They have talked about talent--about people knowing the ins and outs of government--and clearly, Miss Taha fits that category. She's capable; she fully justifies your vote for her confirmation, and if, indeed, we do divide the question that would be what I would intend to do--to have us look at that confirmation."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bottiger: "Senator McDonald, I'm curious and wondering how many of these divisions you propose to make?"

Senator McDonald: "Well, I'm not sure, but clearly there is one."

REMARKS BY SENATOR BOTTIGER

Senator Bottiger: "Mr. President, speaking against dividing the question. We did not do that in 1981 when we clearly had a majority and could have done that. We were withdrawing, as I mentioned in my remarks, some very close and personal friends, and yet we voted almost unanimously in this body to give Governor Spellman the authority to administer a new administration. We could have simply refused to do it--having the majority--and we did not do it then. I would ask you to vote to not divide the question and to comply with the request of the Governor."

REMARKS BY SENATOR von REICHBAUER

Senator von Reichbauer: "Just to respond to the remarks by Senator Bottiger. At the time, prior to the beginning of the session, one of the members of his 25-member caucus announced publicly that he would not support that proposal, so he did not have the clear majority in public at that time."

REMARKS BY SENATOR DECCIO

Senator Deccio: "Thank you, Mr. President. Speaking in favor of the proposal to divide, Governor Gardner has been in our caucus two or three times. And on no less than a couple of occasions, he has indicated very clearly that he was very interested in keeping on good people on the boards and commissions, regardless of party. This individual, I think, makes it a completely different kind of a case because this individual has been serving for two years. Are we on this side of the aisle to understand that the Governor really didn't mean what he said when he wanted to keep good people on boards and commissions? If we don't get the opportunity to vote on this separately, I think that's what he was really telling us. And I think the air ought to be cleared on the issue--and I think this is a good way to do it. I urge your support for the division."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "Senator Bottiger, the President calls your attention to Rule 31. The President believes that there are two distinct motions left after the division, therefore the division is granted."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the motion by Senator Bottiger that all the nominees be returned to the Governor, at his request, with the exception of Shani Taha.

The motion by Senator Bottiger carried and all the appointments were returned to the Governor, with the exception of Shani Taha.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the motion by Senator McDonald to not return the nomination of Shani Taha to the Governor.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator McDonald: "Mr. President, I wonder if the proper motion would be to confirm Shani Taha?"

President Cherberg: "That's not before the Senate, Senator."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator McDonald: "Then is the motion before us whether to return to the Governor Shani Taha's name?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "Yes. Are there any further remarks?"

REMARKS BY SENATOR McDONALD

Senator McDonald: "Mr. President and fellow members of the Senate, it seems to me once again, reiterating, that Miss Taha is very capable. She knows her job, has demonstrated her knowledge of government and her abilities, and clearly should be somebody that the Governor should consider for confirmation, and this body to consider for confirmation. That would be my intent that the body do consider Miss Taha for confirmation as she should have been for the last two years. I think it's extremely important that we keep the sanctity of this process and not make it a mockery as I believe it has been for the last two years. I hope you will vote with me to give that signal to the Governor and to this body."

MOTION

Senator Bluechel moved that the Shani Taha be confirmed by the Senate.

REMARKS BY SENATOR BOTTIGER

Senator Bottiger: "Mr. President, there is a pending motion of equal rank, and I think Senator Bluechel's motion is out of order."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "The President believes that the remarks by Senator Bottiger are correct."

REMARKS BY SENATOR LEE

Senator Lee: "Mr. President and ladies and gentlemen, some of you may recall that I chided you--not necessarily gently but rather directly--about the day before session was to be completed last year, about the fact that you, indeed, had left a disproportionate number of female appointees who had already been recommended by the respective committees, to be confirmed by the full body of the Senate. This was one of those names. Now we could have chosen all of them. We did not choose to do so. In fact, Governor Gardner has done a good job in reappointing many of those individuals. However, this is a particularly significant one, because not only is it an extremely capable woman, but she is an extremely capable black woman--one of those that all of us have good respect for and who is a leader, not only in her own community, but in the state as a whole. And to allow this one to slip by the wayside without giving the Governor an additional opportunity to place on the reappointment list which he has not had the opportunity to do at this point in time. I think would be a crime and a disgrace and that we should retain this particular appointment to allow that opportunity to take place."

REMARKS BY SENATOR VOGNILD

Senator Vognild: "Thank you Mr. President and members of the Senate. Listening to Senator Lee's remarks, I think, made me feel I had to stand up and say something. I believe that it is unfortunate that this is before this body. I believe it's a rather transparent attempt to somehow make the press and the people believe that the majority party is going to vote against women and minorities. I think the selection of this individual was unfortunate. The majority party here had asked that we respond to our Governor--that we return all. This one was selected. I doubt very much if it's going to fool anybody and it's not going to change my vote."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator McDonald: "It seems to me that the motion is divided--that Miss Taha's name is before us and that now we should be voting whether she should be confirmed or not confirmed. It seems that Senator Bluechel's motion would be in order."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "Senator McDonald, with all due respect, your request for the division of the question--the question was divided. The first portion has been acted upon. The motion now before the Senate is that the nomination of Shani Taha be returned to the Governor."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator McDonald: "So a positive vote will return the appointment to the Governor, and a negative vote will keep it before us?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "It would keep it in the possession of the committee considering the appointment."

REMARKS BY SENATOR BOTTIGER

Senator Bottiger: "I would just like to add something--and I'm sure you have thought of it, Senator McDonald. If you force us to vote not to confirm, she is ineligible for appointment to another position. If we simply return it, and she's as qualified as you've indicated she is and based on Governor Gardner's past record of, candidly, not paying too much attention to politics on appointments, it may very well be she would be eligible for something else."

REMARKS BY SENATOR NEWHOUSE

Senator Newhouse: "Mr. President, ladies and gentlemen. I believe Senator Bottiger is raising a bit of a red herring. Obviously, if such a change in appointments was contemplated, she could resign her present position and be appointed. Let me say about the subject involved here that really, the principle we are talking about is continuity of our boards and commissions--and we stagger terms of all of these boards and commissions, so we will have continuity in government. And what happens with this procedure when the majority party has for years refused to consider, not just confirm, but consider in open vote, all these nominees to boards and commissions, we have created a situation, where if the Governor can withdraw him and appoint new members, we're going to lack that continuity which is so vital to good government. I think it's a bad practice. I think it's wrong."

REMARKS BY SENATOR GASPARD

Senator Gaspard: "Mr. President and members of the Senate, I think Governor Gardner has been very careful in his recommendations to us and his appointments that he has made thus far. He has been very careful in not upsetting any quorum requirements for any boards or commissions before us. He has been very deliberate in his process of nominating people to serve state government. He has appointed Republicans, Democrats and Independents to serve on those department heads and boards and commissions. I find it a bit ironic that in the spirit that Governor Gardner has put these appointments to us, that he is looking for a spirit of cooperation. But I think what he is probably going to see today, that spirit of cooperation is interpreted by the other side of the aisle as being a one-way street. You want the Governor to cooperate with you, but you don't want to cooperate with the Governor. It is his right and his prerogative to make the type of appointments that he sees as being in the best interests for the state of Washington. He has presented us with a list of appointees that will assure that the flow and transition is smooth, that we don't interrupt any type of a quorum position on those boards and commissions.

"Now out of the gubernatorial appointments that were handled in the Education Committee, for example, out of that committee, we had a total of sixty-four appointments recommended by the Education Committee. Twenty of those appointments did not get out of committee, and out of those twenty appointments, thirteen of them were made in 1984--and some were made after the session was over, too. But, if you remember, in 1984, we had a sixty day session, where we had to deal with the Excellence in Education package. As you can recall, that became a major item for this legislature, and in many cases we adopted many good proposals. But I think the record, as a majority party handling a Governor's request on gubernatorial appointments from another party, has been one that has been very good, very admirable, and I don't think we have anything to apologize for. We have appointed and confirmed a majority of Governor Spellman's appointees. Now we have a new Governor who wants a new team. He's asking for cooperation and I hope that you'll give that cooperation."

REMARKS BY SENATOR BENITZ

Senator Benitz: "Mr. President and members of the Senate, to set the record straight. In 1981, when I was chairman of the Higher Education Committee, we confirmed, down to the last four--they came in very late. You all know what the problem is--the problem is the majority party here in the Senate, that has refused to do it, and now you're blaming us for politics. You have to take the brunt of it. It is not good government and I want you to understand that."

REMARKS BY SENATOR von REICHBAUER

Senator von Reichbauer: "Mr. President and members of the Senate. Senator Bottiger referred to the 1981 session of the legislature where he and I and others discussed this same issue during the transition between the Spellman administration and the Ray administration. I had the honor to serve with Senator Bottiger, Senator Hayner, Senator Goltz and others on a select committee on confirmations. In the process of that committee, we made many modifications to the procedures and policies of this body. There are a lot of abuses to the system of this body. We had individuals who claimed they had PhD's, who didn't. So we added a questionnaire to be certified, notarized--so that we could find out if people, indeed, had the educational background they claimed. We provided oaths of office at that time. We made other procedural changes including policy-making positions that had not been included, such as the Chief of the Washington State Patrol and the head of the National Guard--and replaced such non policy-making positions as the Ambulance Review Board from confirmation process.

"But we also included another item. The item of fixed dates to have individuals who are brought before this body to be brought before the respective committees and to be reviewed in public. Unfortunately, that did not pass and we've had to return to the system where we have individuals who are appointed to major positions, Senator Gaspard, not just minor positions--major positions--like UTC. The majority of the UTC were not confirmed. Major positions on the WSU and UW Board of Regents were not confirmed. And these positions are the most sought after positions in state government. But they were held over--some for two and one-half years. Surely there was time in that period for that to be done. I think the system has been politicized and abused. The question is not this body versus the Governor. The fault lies with the system that the Senate has. The Senate had got to either participate in the concept of advice and consent or get rid of it. It's a mockery to have in our State Constitution the reference to this body's responsibility of advice and consent if we do not participate. And to participate, we have to have fixed time periods and we've failed. We failed as a body. The argument is not with Governor Gardner, it is with ourselves."

REMARKS BY SENATOR TALMADGE

Senator Talmadge: "Mr. President and members of the Senate, brave words, indeed, from Senator von Reichbauer. But as I recall, serving on that select committee, also, we had a provision in the bill that required the Senate to consider a nomination given by the Governor, and if the nomination was not considered during the legislative session, then, in fact, that nomination would be returned to the Governor and would be considered a lack of confirmation for that appointment. As I remember, Senator von Reichbauer was one of the people who spoke out against that provision out here in 1981, while working for the removal of that provision in the House of Representatives. There were many of us that supported that quite vigorously and quite actively. I think it's a very important provision. I certainly agree that that's the way we should go, but the fact of the matter is we have here the usual early in the session--particularly in a transition session--controversy about gubernatorial appointments that's really much ado about nothing. This was something we did for Governor Spellman as Senator Bottiger has pointed out. We're simply doing the same thing for Governor Gardner as he has requested. It's no more than that--no much more--no little more than that--and we should simply get on with the business of the Senate rather than wasting all this time."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Deccio: "Mr. President, would you explain, for the benefit of the body, the motion that is before us?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "The question before the Senate is the motion that the appointment of Shani Taha be returned to the Governor. A vote 'yea' will return the appointment to the Governor. A vote 'no' will keep it in the possession of the committee considering her appointment."

REMARKS BY SENATOR RINEHART

Senator Rinehart: "Thank you Mr. President and members of the Senate. An examination of the list of names withdrawn and the list of names resubmitted will suggest the rationale for treatment of appointees to the Council for Postsecondary Education. Most of the proposals before both bodies this session call for a restructuring in the determination of that particular body, so the practical approach is to maintain a quorum for that body, but not necessarily to extend its life beyond the time that it's already assumed it's going to have. Personalities aside and individuals aside, that's the rationale from the higher education point of view."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Deccio: "Mr. President, if Miss Taha's name goes back to the committee, then that name is still under consideration by the committee with the possibility of bringing it back out on the floor at a later time?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "Yes, Senator."

Senator Deccio demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the motion that the appointment of Shani Taha be returned to the Governor.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll and the motion by Senator Bottiger carried by the following vote: Yeas, 27; nays, 20; absent, 1; excused, 1.

SENATE BILL NO. 3012, by Senators Talmadge, Moore, Conner, Wojahn, Williams, Rasmussen and Peterson

Enacting penalties and procedures to prevent harassment.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Talmadge, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3012 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 3012 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

Senator Pullen moved that the following amendment by Senators Pullen, Barr, Benitz, Rasmussen, Zimmerman, McCaslin and Metcalf be adopted:

On page 2, line 26, after "order" delete everything up to "(3)" on page 3, line 1, and renumber accordingly.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Talmadge: "Senator Pullen, my understanding of this section is that it is simply a restatement of already existing authority under Senate Bill No. 3782 and parallel to the authority given in the Domestic Violence Protection Act to remove the firearm of someone who is potentially a harasser or someone who might, as was the case here in Olympia, use such firearms to do serious injury or death to another individual. If this section is simply duplicative of already existing authority, I have no objection to your amendment.

"But I think it is particularly important where someone is clearly a danger--and there is probable cause to assert that that person is going to go out and do harm--that there be some authority in the courts to remove the firearm under these circumstances. If that authority is preserved, under existing law, I have no disagreement with taking this particular section out, but I do want to make sure that the authority is there someplace to deal with the problem."

Senator Pullen: "If this section of law comes out, it will not affect the current authority of the courts. The courts will retain all their current inherent powers to make appropriate pre-trial orders. However, this does deal with a different section of law than some of the sections of law that were contained in Senate Bill 3782 which included civil matters and matters dealing with domestic violence. So it is a different section of law and arguably there was a need in Senate Bill 3782 to deal with those sections of law and include those civil matters. Here we are dealing with purely criminal matters, so there is that difference."

Senator Talmadge: "Mr. President and members of the Senate, if I might continue. As I said in my question to Senator Pullen, this particular section was designed to make clear already existing authority under Senate Bill 3782 and to parallel the authority already given in the Domestic Violence Protection Act to temporarily remove the firearm where there is probable cause to believe that the harasser--the individual who is the problem--may, in fact, use that deadly weapon against the victim--the person who has been harassed repeatedly. With Senator Pullen's assurance, and I know he is one that looks very carefully at issues relating to firearms, that authority exists in law already to deal with the problem of the potential criminal who will use the firearms to harass, primarily women, I would join him in his amendment, but we will look, of course, very carefully at that to make sure that that authority is preserved and available to law enforcement to deal with the problem of the person who is the victim of long-term personal harassment."

Senator Bottiger: "Senator Pullen, my problem with your answer was that it was so qualified that if it's written up in the Journal, I, candidly, don't think I'll be able to understand what you said. I want you to read the new Section 4 which says that there has already been--new Section 4, Sub 1--an instance of violence in using harassment with a firearm. Pending the trial, and while this person charged with having harassed his wife, or in the case of Evergreen--his girlfriend--with a firearm, and he's out on parole, can the court then say, 'you may not carry a firearm, you must surrender your firearms under Subsection 2?'"

Senator Pullen: "The answer to your question is if they have the authority to do that now, that authority will be retained."

Senator Bottiger: "So you're not willing to say that they have the authority now?"

Senator Pullen: "It's my understanding that under circumstances at arraignment, courts have made orders relative to felon's use or possession of firearms, in the past. I cannot speak to all the crimes that has covered. I cannot speak to all the situations that has covered, but we're not, in this bill, attempting to limit the court's authority, nor by adoption of this amendment, are we attempting to add any new restrictions on the court."

Senator Bottiger: "Then, Senator Pullen, what harm does it do to leave it in? Realizing that under New Section 4, Sub 1, we're only talking about somebody that's been charged, and under 3, the court has probable cause to believe that he's going to do it again. Why not leave it in and let the courts say 'that as a condition of getting out on bail or on personal recognizance you must surrender your firearms, so you don't go out and do it again?'"

Senator Pullen: "The danger in leaving it in is we're not really sure of the ramifications of what this might do beyond what's already been discussed on the floor. This is a new section of law. This could be sending a message to the court beyond, perhaps, what we intend to send them. The courts could interpret this as some additional authority that they do not now have. I feel that it is the first time we will have specifically said this in law and the groups that support the right to keep and bear arms did not have a chance to testify on what all the other implications might be during committee hearings. They may have been invited, but some of them, perhaps, could not make it there. I don't know why they weren't there, but there was no testimony on this. We're not sure what all the implications are, so the safest thing, if we want to support the right of citizens to keep and bear arms, is to take it out."

Further debate ensued.

Senator Pullen demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on adoption of the amendment by Senators Pullen, Barr, Benitz, Rasmussen, Zimmerman, McCaslin and Metcalf.

Senator Hansen: "Absolutely not. All that is, is they are assessing themselves--collected by the PUD's--this minimal fee to enable the commission to hire the expertise to put their case before the BPA."

Senator McDermott: "It's your opinion then that this will have no effect on the general ratepayer in the state of Washington because of the establishment of this commission?"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Deccio: "Senator Gaspard, is this going to make it more difficult to find someone if you increase the amount of experience?"

Senator Gaspard: "No, that question was asked in committee and the response was 'no.' Under current statute, they have to have ten years. And this is consistent with the legislation being proposed in the House. It will most likely have a good chance of succeeding over here, too. What this would really do is to get more applicants, because the tenure requirement was very difficult. I think they were only able to draw three people originally to look at. This would be a reduction from the current tenure, but an increase from the floor that the select committee had recommended. They thought that going up to where we are now, they would still get a good group of people to select from."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the Committee on Education amendment.

The motion by Senator Gaspard carried and the committee amendment was adopted.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Deccio: "Senator McDonald, would you tell us how it feels to be fifty?"

Senator McDonald: "I'm sure you're much closer to that than I am although maybe farther away on the other end. Forty-one is the number of years. As I remember, a year ago Governor Cherberg gave me a very glowing remark about the process of aging at age forty, and it doesn't feel all that bad."

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. A new section is added to Title 54 RCW to read as follows:

It shall be in the public purpose for all public utility districts to engage in economic development programs. In addition, public utility districts may contract with nonprofit corporations in furtherance of this and other acts relating to economic development."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Pullen: "Senator Lee, you discussed port districts and I can understand how port districts want to be involved in economic development programs. But you also talked about public utility districts which is really the subject of your amendment. It's not clear to me how or why a public utility district would be involved in economic development."

Senator Lee: "Senator Pullen, I know that you and I both come from areas which do not have public utility districts as such. We either have private utilities or municipal utilities providing our electrical power. In the case of public utility districts, particularly in the rural portions of the state, it is an extremely important part of their activity. In fact, Grant County uses their low public power since they have their own generating facilities, as one of their assets in promoting that particular area. This is just simply one of the things that our constitution--the way it is written--really only allows municipalities, including public utility districts, to do what we specifically permit them to do. This simply adds the ability to contract with nonprofit corporations to be a public purpose as it already is for some of the other agencies."

Further debate ensued.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 3551, by Senator McDermott

Clarifying the tax statutes as a result of Bond v. Burrows 103 Wn. 2d 153 (1984).

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

On motion of Senator McDermott, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 3551 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Pullen: "You simply said this was a clarifying bill, Senator McDermott. Could you clarify what it clarifies? Are we, for example, making any B & O taxes permanent that are now temporary?"

Senator McDermott: "The answer to that question is 'yes.' The bill, as it was originally written, left those questions for the decision of this legislature. The courts have taken the decisions out of our hands. We have to make them permanent."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator McDermott, as I read the poop sheet, it says that this would continue until June of 1985--the surcharge. Is that correct?"

Senator McDermott: "If this bill is not enacted, the surcharges will go off in June, 1985."

Senator Rasmussen: "But, it will give us a six month collection period?"

Senator McDermott: "We will have the taxes until June, 1985."

Senator Rasmussen: "Would this then help to relieve the shortage of sales tax revenue, because of the previous law--amounted to around $56 million--so we should probably leave the surtax on and collect the difference? Then we vote 'no' on this bill?"

Senator McDermott: "If you vote 'no,' you'll create another hole in the budget. The budget was built anticipating this money. Now, the Department of Revenue has raised questions about whether it can be collected."

Senator Rasmussen: "Well, Senator McDermott, if the law is still that they can collect it up until June, that will give us a little cushion. I can't see where it will leave a hole in the budget."

Senator McDermott: "It leaves a hole in the budget for the next two years. If it's not implemented, we will wind up suddenly having another hole in the budget in 1985-87."

Senator Rasmussen: "I frankly don't understand. If we continue to collect the surcharge, that will amount to how much?"

Senator McDermott: "I don't have the exact figures here as to what it means in the next biennium. It's tens of millions of dollars. I'm not sure of the right figure."

Senator Rasmussen: "We will collect extra millions of dollars?"

Senator McDermott: "Yes."

Senator Rasmussen: "And that will make up for what we lost?"

Senator McDermott: "Yes."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Bluechel, further consideration of Senate Bill No. 3551 was deferred.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator McDonald: "Mr. President and fellow members of the Senate. I just want to bring to everybody's attention the fact that we have introduced 430 Title Only Bills. Now, we were very much in favor of the cutoff resolution--the one that made this a short period of time, so that we could get our agenda set. I just want to bring to the attention of the body and everybody else present that the agenda isn't set. We have 430 vehicles in which we can write virtually anything. In fact, anything. That does seem an inordinate amount of flexibility and we simply have not cut off anything at this date."

REMARKS BY SENATOR BOTTIGER

Senator Bottiger: "Senator McDonald, we have, in fact, cut off things. We are operating on a tight schedule. We have four weeks now for committee chairmen to get bills out of their committee--a week later to get them out of the Senate and conversely to the House. Obviously, a Title Only is a vehicle to handle problems that arise after the introduction date. They are seldom used, but they are there in case an emergency comes up. As for example, one just came up yesterday in King County. The King County Council called up and we were urgently searching for a title that would resolve the problem for them."

REMARKS BY SENATOR HAYNER

Senator Hayner: "Mr. President and ladies and gentlemen of the Senate. We have no doubt that Title Only Bills serve a good purpose, Senator. Obviously, we always have emergencies and we have to take care of them. But in the sixteen more or less committees that we have--if you had ten Title Onlys in each one, that would be 160. This is an ordinate number of Title Onlys and I can't imagine what we're going to have to face. It sounds like we may go to July."

MOTION

At 11:25 a.m., on motion of Senator Vognild, the Senate recessed until 11:55 a.m.

SECOND MORNING SESSION

The Senate was called to order at 11:57 a.m. by President Cherberg.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Lee and there being no objection, the amendment was withdrawn.

MOTION

Senator Pullen moved the following amendments by Senators Pullen, Rasmussen, Moore, Patterson, Metcalf and McCaslin be considered and adopted simultaneously:

On page 1, section 1, line 9, after "development," insert "Nothing contained in this section shall authorize a city to give any money, or property, or lend its money or credit to, or in the aid of, any individual, association, company, or corporation."

On page 1, section 2, line 15, after "development," insert "Nothing contained in this section shall authorize a county to give any money, or property, or lend its money or credit to, or in the aid of, any individual, association, company, or corporation."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Deccio: "Senator Pullen, I don't see how this could affect it, but I'm going to ask the question anyway. Would this, in any way, interfere with the development of industrial revenue bonds on the part of any city or county?"

Senator Pullen: "I would say 'no'--particularly based on some recent Supreme Court decisions. For example, the State Supreme Court upheld the constitutionality of the State Housing Finance Commission and in that decision the Supreme Court indicated there is considerable flexibility with industrial revenue bonds. For one thing, it's debatable whether industrial revenue bonds really are moneys that are public moneys. The Supreme Court in the decision dealing with the State Housing Finance Commission ruled that it was constitutional, even though the moneys were going to those who were not poor and were not infirm. So I would say that it should have no effect on the industrial revenue bonds."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendments by Senators Pullen, Rasmussen, Moore, Patterson, Metcalf and McCaslin.

The motion by Senator Pullen failed and the amendments were not adopted.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Pullen: "Mr. President, a point of order. It appears to me that this bill is in violation of Rule 25 of the Senate Rules, in that it embraces more than one subject in the title. The dual subject is Cities as one subject and Counties as another subject. I would ask the President to rule the bill out of order pursuant to Rule 25."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "Senator Pullen, in reply to your remarks, the President believes that this is a constitutional question and the President only deals with important decisions and leaves the constitutional questions to the Supreme Court."

Senator Pullen: "I think I would wholeheartedly concur if a person had asked you for a constitutional ruling. However, I was asking for a ruling pursuant to Rule 25. And I guess my question would be why do we have Rule 25 in the Senate Rules if it's not something on which we're to be governed?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "The President believes that Rule 25 is just sort of a reminder not to have more than one subject in a bill."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Warnke, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3214 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 3127, by Senators Moore, Newhouse and Stratton

Authorizing the assistant state treasurer to serve on the state investment board.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Thompson, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 3127 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McDonald: "Senator Thompson, sorry I didn't talk about this before. But since we were very much involved in the investment board setup, is it the intent of this legislation that the Treasurer, whenever it is at all possible for him to be at that meeting, that he would be there, and it would only be if he was out of town that the Assistant Treasurer would be...?"

Senator Thompson: "I am pleased to have the opportunity to respond to that question, specifically. It would be the intent to preserve the original appointment, responsibilities of the appointment, so that the State Treasurer would, in every instance, attend, appear and handle those responsibilities and only on those rare occasions when he just cannot possibly be present that the Assistant Treasurer would assume that responsibility."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McCaslin: "Senator Moore, what is your opinion of this piece of legislation?"

Senator Moore: "Well, it's just a nice housekeeping piece of legislation that we had to have because oftentimes the State Treasurer is out of town and we do have trouble getting a quorum. We have only nine voting members, and when the Treasurer is gone that means that we're skating one person short on the ice. We really need the ability to have the Assistant Treasurer participate, and you'll notice we haven't made any other exceptions. That's the only one."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Lee: "Senator Thompson, I notice that in two other instances where a person appointed by other individuals--in other words, an appointee by the Governor--for example, and an appointee by the Superintendent of Public Instruction--that those persons are then subject to confirmation by the Senate. And that that is not the case in this particular section for a designee to be serving. Was this point brought up in your committee at all? Was the question even asked?"

Senator Thompson: "That was not considered by the committee, Senator Lee."
Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Deccio: "Senator Moore, this is probably one of the most important boards we have and I'm glad you're on it. I guess my curiosity forces me to ask, why is it that the State Treasurer--since this should be his primary responsibility, can't make these meetings?"

Senator Moore: "Well, it's by coincidence. It seems to me that most of the time, and since we only have four meetings a year, it's very possible, that he is in New York, where he goes somewhat frequently to sign bonds and that sort of thing. It has just worked out that way. It just makes it easier for us to do business and I don't think we're depreciating the quality of the board any, because we have so many checks and balances there now, between the advisory committee, the voting members and a few people that are very intent on seeing that the right thing is done, that I feel it's a good idea."

Senator Deccio: "I can understand your reasoning. My next question is, if the Treasurer is out of town and the Assistant Treasurer takes over, then does that not mean that he takes over the responsibilities of the State Treasurer and then would he not be able to make the meetings? If the Treasurer is gone, then the Assistant has to take over that Department. Would that mean that he would be so busy that he wouldn't be able to make the meetings either--that he would pass that along to somebody else?"

Senator Moore: "No, he cannot pass it on to anybody else. It's one or the other and nobody else."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Senate Bill No. 3127 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 42; nays, 5; excused, 2.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 3525, by Senators Warnke, Fleming, Lee, Halsan, Cantu, McDonald, Williams, Moore, Newhouse and Vognild

Regulating the sale of kosher foods.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Warnke, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3525 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 3525 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

On motion of Senator Warnke, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3525 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Warnke, I want to open up a little factory and I want to create kosher style whatever in my factory. To whom would I apply in order to have approval for kosher, and would I have to spell it a certain way? I'm concerned--because would I have to go to New York, Massachusetts or could I apply here--and from what branch would I apply?"

Senator Warnke: "I am not a member of the Jewish faith, but I imagine that you would contact the Rabbi or a member of the Jewish faith and they would then, in turn, instruct you in those spices or those methods of preparations of foods which make them kosher."

Senator Rasmussen: "You're not sure, though?"

Senator Warnke: "No, I am not sure of which exact person you would contact, but I assume it would be the Rabbi."

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Warnke, one more question. I had an opportunity one time to visit a place and one of their specialities was bread products. Would this, also, extend to a certain type of roll that is made in all bakeries--whatever the public demands. Would you have to get a license for that type of roll?"

Senator Warnke: "This bill does not speak to licensing."

Senator Rasmussen: "Well, it makes it illegal, doesn't it? How would you make it legal--if you couldn't license?"

Senator Warnke: "It is not a licensing bill. It is a labeling bill."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Pullen: "Senator Warnke, I wondered what the penalty was for violating the labeling provision?"

Senator Warnke: "I believe the first offense--it's a gross misdemeanor and the reason for the gross misdemeanor--the bill was worked with, I think, the county district attorneys--prosecuting attorneys office in Seattle--and because of knowingly and willfully selling, it is a gross misdemeanor rather than a misdemeanor."

Further debate ensued.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 3525 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 44; nays, 3; excused, 2.

Voting nay: Senators DeJarnatt, Patterson, Rasmussen - 3.

Excused: Senators Peterson, Wojahn - 2.

MOTION FOR RECONSIDERATION

Having served prior notice, Senator Hayner moved to reconsider the vote by which Senate Bill No. 3551 passed the Senate on February 8, 1985.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Guess: "Senator Bottiger, I was present when Mr. Farrell talked to us, and there were several other things that he wanted that we must do. One was that we should put a $200 million rainy day fund in there, so they could make sure they got their money. The other thing was--he said that we'd better pass an income tax.

You remember when Glenn Pascall asked him why an income tax is so romantic when Oregon's got one and they're in as bad shape as we are."

Senator Bottiger: "I think what he said was broaden your tax base. He suggested as one way to broaden that--an income tax. He also recommended not tying it to the federal tax rate as Oregon did, because then congressional reductions in the federal income tax affect the local state tax."

Senator Guess: "Have we improved our bond rating since he came?"

Senator Bottiger: "We have gone off the watch list and of the five points that were set out for us--three have been accomplished. We got rid of the 25th month. We budgeted within our means. We used conservative revenue forecasts--this was for the last two years. And we will be ending this budget without having had any special sessions or any tax increases for two years."

Senator Guess: "What is the interest rate and what do they want to charge us now--instead of 8.5?"

Senator Bottiger: "We could have gotten--had we stayed in the group of states we were in--8.75% instead of 9.31%."

Further debate ensued.

Senator McDonald demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Moore, I'm a little concerned with this bill, because it looks like the shark after the little fish. We'll know someday about that, but my other question has to do with--will this increase the ability of people to have one-stop shopping? Let me explain. I can go into Sears Roebuck--buy my shoes, my pants or my socks, then I can buy my insurance from Senator Deccio there at All State--then I can buy my stocks there. Will I be able, now, to deposit my five dollars and draw it out of Sears Roebuck?"

Senator Moore: "No, not under present law."

Senator Rasmussen: "Even if they buy a little bank in South Dakota and have their credit card operations running out of there--it will be a branch bank?"

Senator Moore: "Senator, as you know, in America under deregulation, almost anything is possible and you may very well be on a good track."

Senator Rasmussen: "Thank you, Senator Moore, sounds like it might be a good bill. One-stop shopping for everything as long as the sharks are fighting the sharks and not the little fish."

Senator Moore: "You will recall yesterday, Senator Rasmussen, I said that a bank was a bank was a bank, and that's true all over. Banks are run for the benefit of the owner of the banks and the customers are something that are not necessarily to be preyed upon, but they're fair game and there's no way we are going to be able to cure that."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Zimmerman: "Senator Rinehart, I haven't studied the makeup of most of the present boards of regents--I mean boards of trustees of the regional universities. Are they generally located within that region or are they generally appointed on a statewide basis and thereby do not have any connection to the regional basis?"

Senator Rinehart: "I hesitate to answer a question when I don't have the specific numbers in front of me. I am assured from the testimony we heard this summer that there is a need for additional representation. I'd be happy to get the specific numbers for you on current boards."

Senator Zimmerman: "I would assume, in most cases, most of the trustees would be from the general area from which they serve. Eastern would have more eastern people. Western would have more from the northwest part of the state. I was just curious how widespread the representation was--just simply on the basis of whether they function in a region and, therefore, their representation would not logically be that way. On the other hand, I assume they are appointed on the total statewide basis."

Senator Rinehart: "As always, your assumptions are logical and my assumption is that they are also correct, but I'd be happy to get the specific numbers for you."

The President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Senate Bill No. 3133.

MOTION

Senator Vognild, moved that the rules be suspended, and House Joint Resolution No. 12 be advanced to second reading and placed on the second reading calendar.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Pullen: "I don't have any specific objection, but this is a constitutional amendment and I realize it's a motion to suspend the rules. But perhaps the maker of the motion would make a brief statement as to why something as important as a constitutional amendment is being handled in this way."

Senator Bottiger: "Mr. President, Senator Pullen, this identical constitutional amendment was on your calendar. When we found out the House was going to pass their version, we put our version back into the Rules Committee so it has already been on the calendar. We don't intend to run it today until everybody has had a chance to discuss it in caucus."

The President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be the motion by Senator Vognild to suspend the rules and to advance House Joint Resolution No. 12 to second reading.

The motion by Senator Vognild carried and House Joint Resolution No. 12 was advanced to second reading and placed on the second reading calendar.

There being no objection, the President Pro Tempore advanced the Senate to the sixth order of business.

MOTION

Senator Guess moved that the following amendments be considered simultaneously and adopted:

On page 1, line 10, after "than" strike "one hundred twenty degrees Fahrenheit (or forty-nine degrees Celsius)" and insert "~~((one hundred twenty degrees Fahrenheit (or forty-nine degrees Celsius)))~~ one hundred forty degrees Fahrenheit (or sixty degrees Celsius)"

On page 1, line 19, after "than" strike "one hundred twenty degrees Fahrenheit (or forty-nine degrees Celsius)" and insert "~~((one hundred twenty degrees Fahrenheit (or forty-nine degrees Celsius)))~~ one hundred forty degrees Fahrenheit (or sixty degrees Celsius)"

On page 2, line 11, after "than" strike "one hundred twenty degrees Fahrenheit" and insert "~~((one hundred twenty degrees Fahrenheit))~~ one hundred forty degrees Fahrenheit"

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Deccio: "Senator Williams, it doesn't seem to me to be that much difference between 120 and 140 degrees. If you're going to get up to 160 or 180 or 200, I could understand. But if there are some arguments, both from the energy saving point of view and from a matter of cleanliness, that 120 degrees is too low. To repeat my initial question, how much difference is there between 120 and 140?"

Senator Williams: "Senator Deccio, I don't have the statistics right at hand, but as Senator Rinehart indicated we went through extensive hearings in both the Senate and the House, at which expert testimony was given to us which showed the critical difference between 120 and starting to go up to higher temperatures.

"We could bring that material before us, I suppose, and go through the whole process before this body again, but the legislature was convinced last time that that information was the kind of information that was dependable--that the 120 degree limit was what was prudent in terms of preventing extensive burns, particularly to children and those who are handicapped or unable to handle themselves under those circumstances. So at this time, all I can say is that the preponderance of evidence that was given to us--both in the House and Senate committees and the legislature itself, was convinced that that was an appropriate temperature setting at that time. What I am saying again, to make an arbitrary change here on the floor without hearing that kind of testimony again before the committee, I think, is unwise for us to do."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Barr: "Senator Williams, I know that you have a better memory than mine. Didn't this apply to new heaters only--new installations?"

Senator Williams: "It was not retroactive, let's put it that way."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Bottiger, further consideration of Senate Bill No. 3206 was deferred.

MOTION

At 10:36 a.m., on motion of Senator Vognild, the Senate recessed until 11:35 a.m.

Senator Talmadge: "I have not seen the fiscal note on the bill, Senator, although it would just continue in existence the program that is already in place. The only thing that deals with fiscal issues in this particular bill is the authority given to the department to distribute moneys to those programs, and that's money that is not necessarily state money, but rather federal money--and private money in some circumstances."

"(5) 'Specially commissioned Washington peace officer,' for the purposes of this act, means any officer, whether part-time or full-time, compensated or not, commissioned by a general authority Washington law enforcement agency to enforce some or all of the criminal laws of the state of Washington, who does not qualify under this chapter as a general authority Washington peace officer for that commissioning agency, specifically including reserve peace officers, and specially commissioned full-time, fully compensated peace officers duly commissioned by the states of Oregon or Idaho or any such peace officer commissioned by a unit of local government of Oregon or Idaho. A reserve peace officer is an individual who is an officer of a Washington law enforcement agency who does not serve such agency on a full-time basis but who, when called by the agency into active service, is fully commissioned on the same basis as full-time peace officers to enforce the criminal laws of the state."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Pullen, the following amendment by Senators Pullen and Talmadge was adopted:

On page 5, after line 19, insert the following new section, and renumber the remaining sections accordingly:

"NEW SECTION, Sec. 9. A specially commissioned Washington peace officer who has successfully completed a course of basic training prescribed or approved for such officers by the Washington state criminal justice training commission may exercise any authority which the special commission vests in the officer, throughout the territorial bounds of the state, outside of the officer's primary territorial jurisdiction under the following circumstances:

MOTION

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Vognild: "Senator Talmadge, as I am reading this bill, I do have some concerns. I'm reading on page 3, sub 7, which talks to Indian tribal peace officers--and apparently refers back to page 2, sub 5--'specially commissioned Washington peace officers.' My question is, under this bill, will that particular officer be allowed to enforce the laws of the tribe or only the laws of the state of Washington?"

Senator Talmadge: "They would be entitled, under this bill, Senator, to enforce both--provided that they met the qualifications that appear in a subsequent section of the bill which requires them to be trained by the Washington State Criminal Justice Training Commission. They would--in other words--must have gone through the training process that we provide for all sworn officers in the state of Washington, and if they have not done so, then they would not be entitled to enforce anything other than tribal regulations, as I understand it."

Senator Vognild: "To follow up on it, you're telling me that they will be entitled to enforce anyway in the state of Washington, the laws of the tribal government?"

Senator Talmadge: "If a mutual aid agreement has been entered into. In other words, if the law enforcement authority of a particular county or particular city that might have contact with tribal authorities had entered into that kind of agreement and those officers had gone through training by the Criminal Justice Training Commission of the state of Washington."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Vognild, further consideration of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3273 was deferred.

There being no objection, the Senate resumed consideration of Substitute Senate Bill No. 3228 and the pending amendment by Senators Rasmussen, Stratton, Craswell, Pullen, Metcalf, Johnson and Deccio on page 3, line 16, deferred February 15, 1985.

Senator Rasmussen demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on adoption of the amendment by Senators Rasmussen, Stratton, Craswell, Pullen, Metcalf, Johnson and Deccio on page 3, line 16.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll and the motion by Senator Rasmussen failed and the amendment was not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 13; nays, 33; excused, 3.

Voting yea: Senators Benitz, Cantu, Craswell, Deccio, Garrett, Guess, Johnson, McCaslin, McDonald, Metcalf, Pullen, Rasmussen, Stratton - 13.

Voting nay: Senators Barr, Bauer, Bender, Bluechel, Bottiger, Conner, DeJarnatt, Fleming, Gaspard, Granlund, Halsan, Hansen, Hayner, Kiskaddon, Kreidler, Lee, McDermott, McManus, Moore, Newhouse, Owen, Patterson, Rinehart, Saling, Sellar, Talmadge, Thompson, Vognild, von Reichbauer, Warnke, Williams, Wojahn, Zimmerman - 33.

Excused: Senators Bailey, Goltz, Peterson - 3.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Talmadge, the following Committee on Judiciary amendment was adopted:

On page 6, after line 18, insert the following:

*Sec. 2, Section 2, chapter 219, Laws of 1984 and RCW 46.20.599 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Whenever any person is arrested for a violation of RCW 46.61.502 or 46.61.504, the arresting officer shall, at the time of arrest, confiscate the person's Washington state license or permit to drive, if any, and issue a temporary license to replace any confiscated license or permit.

(2) Within twenty-four hours of the arrest, the arresting officer shall transmit any confiscated license or permit to the department with a report indicating the date and location of the arrest.

(3) Any temporary license issued under this section shall be dated with the same expiration date as the confiscated license or permit. A temporary license shall be valid only until the sooner of:

(a) Its expiration date; or

(b) The suspension, revocation, or denial by judicial or administrative action for any reason of the license, permit, or privilege to drive of the person holding the temporary license.

(4) The department shall return, replace, or authorize renewal of any confiscated license or permit that has not been suspended or revoked for any reason upon notification:

(a) By the law enforcement agency that made the arrest that a charge has not been filed for the offense for which the license or permit was confiscated;

(b) By the prosecuting authority of the jurisdiction in which the offense occurred that the charge has been dropped or changed to other than one for which confiscation is required under this section; or

(c) By the court in which the case has been or was to be heard that prosecution on the charge has been deferred, that the charge has been dismissed, or that the person charged has been found not guilty of the charge; or

(d) By a court that the person has been convicted of the offense for which the license or permit was confiscated, but the suspension or revocation of the license or permit has been stayed pending appeal of the conviction.

(5) Upon notification by the court of acceptance of deferred prosecution, the department shall issue or reissue, as appropriate, to an otherwise eligible petitioner a license containing a confidential symbol or notation specifically for law enforcement officers to identify the petitioner as participating in a deferred prosecution program. Upon successful completion of the deferred prosecution program, the department, if requested by the petitioner, shall reissue a license without the confidential symbol or notation. A law enforcement officer shall notify the prosecutor of any violation of RCW 46.61.502 or 46.61.504 or any other offense involving alcohol or drugs. The failure of the petitioner to secure such license within thirty days of notification by the court constitutes grounds for suspension of the driving privilege.

(6) If a temporary license issued under this section expires before the department receives notification under subsection (4) of this section, the department shall authorize the driver to seek renewal of the license. If the driver is qualified for renewal, the department shall issue a new temporary license with the same expiration date as the driver would have received had his or her license or permit not been confiscated.

((6)) (7) Upon receipt of a returned or replaced confiscated license from the department, the driver shall return any temporary license in his or her possession or shall sign an affidavit that the temporary license has been lost, stolen, or destroyed.

((7)) (8) No temporary license issued under this section is valid to any greater degree than the confiscated license or permit that it replaces.

((8)) (9) The department shall provide courts and law enforcement agencies with the appropriate temporary license and notice forms for use under this section.

~~((9) This section shall expire on December 31, 1985.)~~

MOTION

On motion of Senator Talmadge, the following Committee on Judiciary amendment was adopted:

On page 11, line 35, after "46.29.490," insert "As a condition of granting a deferred prosecution petition, the court may order the petitioner to make restitution."

MOTION

Senator Talmadge moved that the following Committee on Judiciary amendment be adopted:

On page 13, beginning with line 17, strike all of section 22, renumber the remaining sections consecutively, and correct internal references accordingly.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Hansen: "Senator Talmadge, say an alcoholic goes down to the liquor store and buys a Texas fifth and tries to drink it all--is the state going to be liable then for selling him more liquor than he could hold?"

Senator Talmadge: "Senator Hansen, the answer would be, under present law, the state would, in fact, be liable in my judgment, if they served or sold to a person who was obviously intoxicated or who was a minor and that person went out and caused damage on the highways or elsewhere. The standard has to be that the person has to be obviously intoxicated or they have to be a minor before the liability arises. The liability arises because there is a liquor board rule in the state's statutes that there is no one who is obviously intoxicated or a minor can be served."

Senator Hansen: "Now, say a private party--an individual has the liquor available and is not running herd on everyone that is there--now some individual happens to drink too much and happens to go out and gets into trouble--to go back and nail that individual that was running the party, I think we're carrying it a little bit too far."

Senator Talmadge: "Senator, that's the second amendment--the one that follows this one. The Supreme Court of the state of Washington in the Wilson case says that the social provider--non commercial provider--of alcohol who provides alcohol to someone at a party, even if they are intoxicated or a minor, is not liable, at least at this time, under the laws of the state of Washington. The second of these two amendments addresses that issue, but there is no, at present at least--if the Wilson case is correct--no civil liability for the social provider of alcoholic beverages that I am aware of."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Hayner, there is probably merit in what you say, but my question is--the average bartender or the average host--would they know what the common law was or would if it was put in law saying this is it and then was circulated to all the bartenders, so they become familiar with it--that this is the law. Would this not be a better approach than just depending on a common law which all depends on whatever court is hearing it?"

Senator Hayner: "I don't think there's any doubt, Senator Rasmussen, that every commercial seller in the state knows exactly what the common law is."

Further debate ensued.

MOTION

On motion of Senator von Reichbauer, Senator Saling was excused.

Further debate on the committee amendment ensued.

Senator Rasmussen demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

It used to be five percent for the state, five percent for the horsemen and five percent for the pursers association and it was changed to four percent for the state and five and a half for the two other entities. I insisted that we add additional money, so that the state take is brought back up to where it was."

Half of that money is for the health and welfare benefits for the people who work at the track. It provides dental and health care and other benefits which are not otherwise available."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Williams, the appointment of Richard Watson as Director of the Washington State Energy Office was confirmed.

APPOINTMENT OF RICHARD WATSON

The Secretary called the roll. The appointment was confirmed by the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 45; absent, 2; excused, 2.

Voting yea: Senators Bailey, Bauer, Bender, Benitz, Bluechel, Bottiger, Cantu, Conner, Deccio, DeJarnatt, Fleming, Garrett, Gaspard, Goltz, Granlund, Guess, Halsan, Hansen, Hayner, Johnson, Kiskaddon, Kreidler, Lee, McCaslin, McDonald, McManus, Metcalf, Moore, Newhouse, Owen, Patterson, Pullen, Rasmussen, Rinehart, Saling, Sellar, Stratton, Talmadge, Thompson, Vognild, von Reichbauer, Warnke, Williams, Wojahn, Zimmerman - 45.

Excused: Senators McDermott, Peterson - 2.

SECOND READING

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 103, by Senators Granlund, Zimmerman, McCaslin, Garrett, DeJarnatt and Bailey

Establishing procedures for the adoption of county home rule charters.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Vognild, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Joint Resolution No. 103 was substituted for Senate Joint Resolution No. 103 and the substitute resolution was placed on second reading and read the second time.

Senator Pullen moved that the following amendment be adopted:

On page 2, line 16, after "simplify" insert "and make attractive to the voters as well as rewarding to the taxpayers"

Debate ensued.

The President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senator Pullen.

The motion by Senator Pullen failed and the amendment was not adopted.

MOTION

Senator Pullen moved that the following amendment by Senators Pullen, Hayner, Benitz and McCaslin be adopted:

On page 2, line 15, after "be:" strike the balance of the language and insert: "Shall a temporary commission be established to draft five alternate home-rule charters for consideration and possible adoption by county voters?"

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Pullen, in reading this language, where it states 'to simplify,' do you think that's an attempt to bamboozle the people--that any commission would simplify anything?"

Senator Pullen: "Senator Rasmussen, I don't think any commission could or would simplify anything. Whether it's an attempt to bamboozle the people or not, I can't say, but I do believe that the word 'simplify' is a very leading word and would make the proposed ballot title very unfair."

Senator Rasmussen: "My second question would be--doesn't the present law give the authority to the attorney general to draft the titles for ballot measures?"

Senator Pullen: "Yes, it does."

Senator Rasmussen: "Are we indirectly attempting to change the present law?"

Senator Pullen: "Well, Senator Rasmussen, I don't think we can change a law with a resolution clause in a proposed constitutional amendment. That's one of the puzzling things about the wording in the constitutional amendment. The legislature is resolving what the ballot title should be, but that is not establishing the ballot title by law. We would need a separate bill to do that and there is no separate bill before us."

Further debate ensued.

MOTION

Senator Guess moved that the following amendment to the amendment be adopted:

On line 2 of the amendment, after "be" insert ", in addition to existing procedures," and on line 3, strike "established to"

MOTION

On motion of Senator Bottiger, further consideration of Substitute Senate Joint Resolution No. 103 was deferred.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 3182, by Senators Bauer, Wojahn, Gaspard, Halsan and Kreidler

Allowing reentering public employees to restore withdrawn contributions to retirement system.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Gaspard, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3182 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 3182 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

On motion of Senator Pullen, the following amendment was adopted:

On page 4, line 25, after "age" and before "however," strike "sixty-five," and insert "sixty-five."

Senator Bailey moved that the following amendment be adopted:

On page 6, following line 14, insert the following:

"(b) There is hereby appropriated for the biennium ending June 30, 1987, fifty million dollars from the general fund to the department of retirement systems for the liability created by this act. Of this amount, thirty-five million dollars shall be deposited in the public employees retirement fund and fifteen million dollars shall be deposited in the teachers' retirement fund."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Bauer, I note here in the budget brief that we reverted forty-seven million in 1981-1983 and we anticipate reverting forty-two million in 1983-1985 to the pension accrual account. My question is--it goes on to say that the budget proposal of two hundred and two million for the public employees retirement system--PERS, three hundred and fifty-eight million for the teachers' retirement system and three hundred-eighty seven million for the law enforcement and fire fighters retirement system. These amounts will provide a two hundred and forty million increase over 1983-1985.

"My question would be--if we vote this fifty million, what's the difference? We're going to have another--about eight hundred million that we are going to vote anyway that would just be a part of it--just put it in there a little bit in advance--earn interest--"

Senator Bauer: "Well, Senator, I will accept that as a question. If we're going to attribute to this particular issue fifty million dollars--but it's really not fifty million for this issue--maybe a couple million for this issue and the other belongs to our accountability to the entire pension system, so be it, but let's understand that's what the situation is. Let's understand that this state owes to the pension system--if all of those people live to their ripe old age--a lot of money and we have to add that each year. We never fund a pension system by our individual contribution and the state's contribution on an annual basis. That's why we have to put these lump sums in periodically, because the people live a long time--and until we do something about that whole issue, it is going to remain that way. We're not addressing that here, we're addressing equity here. So let's just put in that portion which we put in for everybody else at that appropriate time and that's 2.8 million and I believe that's way, way on the high side."

Further debate ensued.

Senator Deccio demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

The President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on adoption of the amendment by Senator Bailey.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll and the amendment by Senator Bailey was not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 21; nays, 26; excused, 2.

Voting yeas: Senators Bailey, Barr, Benitz, Bluechel, Cantu, Craswell, Deccio, Guess, Hayner, Johnson, Kiskaddon, Loe, McCaslin, McDonald, Metcalf, Newhouse, Patterson, Pullen, Saling, Sellar, von Reichbauer - 21.

Voting nay: Senators Bauer, Bender, Bottiger, Conner, DeJarnatt, Fleming, Garrett, Gaspard, Goltz, Granlund, Halsan, Hansen, Kreidler, McManus, Moore, Owen, Rasmussen, Rinehart, Stratton, Talmadge, Thompson, Vognild, Warnke, Williams, Wojahn, Zimmerman - 26.
Excused: Senators McDermott, Peterson - 2.

MOTION

Senator Bottiger moved the following amendments by Senators Bottiger, McDermott, Bauer and Zimmerman be considered simultaneously and adopted:

On page 6, line 11, after "Sec. 6" insert "(a)"

On page 6, following line 14, insert the following:

"(b) There is hereby appropriated for the biennium ending June 30, 1987, two million eight hundred thousand dollars from the general fund to the department of retirement systems for the increased contributions required of the state by this act. Of this amount, one million two hundred thousand dollars shall be deposited in the public employees' retirement fund and one million six hundred thousand dollars shall be deposited in the teachers' retirement fund."

Debate ensued.

The President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendments by Senators Bottiger, McDermott, Bauer and Zimmerman.

The motion by Senator Bottiger carried and the amendments were adopted.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Pullen, the following amendment was adopted:

On page 1, following line 4, add a new section as follows:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that in the past public employees and teachers who had terminated employment, withdrawn their retirement contributions, and subsequently returned to public employment or teaching either did not receive proper notification of the procedure to reinstate their withdrawn contributions or they did not fully understand the limitation on such reinstatement. In 1973, the legislature recognized this fact and provided an extraordinary reinstatement period for such employees. Further in 1983, the legislature established clear notification procedures for the proper notification of the reinstatement policy for all such returning employees. Therefore, it is the intent of this 1985 act to provide one last opportunity for reinstatement of withdrawn contributions to those who may have not been properly informed or misunderstood the reinstatement procedure."

Re-number the remaining sections consecutively.

On motion of Senator Bottiger, the following title amendment was adopted:

On page 1, line 3 of the title, after "making" delete "an appropriation" and insert "appropriations"

On motion of Senator Gaspard, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3182 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Deccio: "Senator Bauer, I indicated, in discussing this bill with one of the representatives of the WEA, that this would be the last time that we would ever run this kind of legislation after these people are picked up. Would you agree that that would be the case?"

Senator Bauer: "I hope so, Senator."

Senator Deccio: "You hope so? I was assured that this would be the last time the request would be made."

Senator Bauer: "I will speak for myself, Senator. It's the last time as far as I'm concerned."

Senator Deccio: "I just wanted to make that a matter of record."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3182 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 36; nays, 10; absent, 1; excused, 2.

Voting yea: Senators Barr, Bauer, Bender, Benitz, Bottiger, Conner, Deccio, DeJarnatt, Fleming, Garrett, Gaspard, Goltz, Granlund, Halsan, Hansen, Johnson, Kreidler, Lee, McManus, Metcalf, Moore, Owen, Patterson, Pullen, Rasmussen, Rinehart, Saling, Stratton, Talmadge, Thompson, Vognild, von Reichbauer, Warnke, Williams, Wojahn, Zimmerman - 36.

Voting nay: Senators Bailey, Bluechel, Cantu, Craswell, Guess, Hayner, Kiskaddon, McCaslin, McDonald, Sellar - 10.

Absent: Senator Newhouse - 1.

Excused: Senators McDermott, Peterson - 2.

ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 3182, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Vognild, Senate Bill No. 3273 held its place on the second reading calendar.

On motion of Senator Vognild, the Senate advanced to the eighth order of business.

MOTION

Senator Warnke moved that the following resolution be adopted:

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Kiskaddon: "Senator Warnke, if we vote for this resolution, would those of you from Montana go back to Montana?"

Senator Warnke: "Well, we've had offers many times--many of us on the floor of the Senate and the House--to go other places--not to go quite back to Montana, but I've been asked to go several places."

The President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of Senator Resolution 1985-17.

The motion by Senator Warnke carried and the resolution was adopted.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Wojahn, her name will be included as a sponsor of Senate Resolution 1985-17.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Vognild, because of our late convening for committee meetings, what is our afternoon schedule? Are we going to work on the floor or are we just going to go to committee meetings in the afternoon?"

Senator Vognild: "Thank you for asking, Senator. On Tuesday and again on Thursday, there will be no floor action beyond reading in reports. That will be the only floor action on Tuesday and Thursday. Wednesday will be a full day of action."

On page 1, beginning on line 19, after "than" strike "one hundred twenty degrees Fahrenheit (or forty-nine degrees Celsius)" and insert "~~((one hundred twenty degrees Fahrenheit (or forty-nine degrees Celsius)))~~ one hundred thirty degrees Fahrenheit (or 54.4 degrees Celsius)"

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Williams: "Mr. President, a point of order. I'd like to raise the question of scope and object on the amendment. The bill, itself, has a title which refers to multi-unit residences and limits the bill to that. The content of the bill was designed to relieve multi-unit residences with central heating systems or central water systems from compliance with the act. The previous amendment--and even this amendment--both deal with a change in the temperature of the original act which then flows to individual hot water tanks which are in, not only multi-unit residences, but in single family residences, as well.

"I have a certain sympathy, I guess, with the discussion that might occur over changing of the temperature, but I think it ought to occur in the context of the committee hearing and I think the present amendment--to change the over-all temperature in the statute goes beyond the scope and object of the bill."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Vognild, further consideration of Senate Bill No. 3206 was deferred.

SECOND READING

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 12, by Representatives Peery, R. King, Wang, Walker, C. Smith, Patrick, Chandler, Ebersole, Valle, McMullen, O'Brien, Belcher, Lux, Ballard, B. Williams, Hargrove, K. MOTION

On motion of Senator Warnke, the rules were suspended, House Joint Resolution No. 12 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the resolution was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Deccio: "Senator Warnke, what investments are the industrial insurance trust funds limited to now?"

Senator Warnke: "I believe they're limited, now, to non-debt investments."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Newhouse: "Senator Vognild, this is a very important bill and the wording of the constitutional amendment refers to an industrial insurance trust fund—the department has several funds. Is it your understanding that this would allow the investment of all of the several funds of the industrial insurance, including medical aid supplement and all that?"

Senator Vognild: "Yes, Senator Newhouse, I have checked with our staff attorneys and we have checked, also, with the department. They feel that language is broad. It will accomplish what we intend to accomplish and that is the total funds reserved—that are held by the department—can be invested."

Further debate ensued.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of House Joint Resolution No. 12 and the resolution passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 48; nays, 1.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 3576, by Senators Hansen, Barr, Goltz and Newhouse

Revising provisions relating to the Lake Osoyoos water project.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Hansen, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 3576 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McDermott: "Senator Barr, as I read this bill, section 2—it says it is the intent of the legislature in enacting RCW 43.21A.450 that total capital costs for said project be shared equally by Washington State and British Columbia. The stricken language is annual operation and maintenance costs which leaves me with the implication that the state is responsible for the operation of this dam. Did I understand your speech correctly that the state will not be responsible, but the irrigation district will be responsible for the operation of this dam?"

Senator Barr: "Thank you for letting me clarify that, Senator McDermott. You read the language correctly and the language does say the state will be responsible for it, but what I was saying was that if there are costs—and I anticipate that there will be very little cost—they will be responsible for the costs. In essence, there will be very little or no costs for operation, because the irrigation district, in talking with them just a couple of days ago, told me they have always looked after it and they will keep an eye on it and probably the department won't be putting much money into it, if any."

Senator McDermott: "Can you tell me the cost of the dam itself?"

Senator Barr: "I think we put in three million dollars, if my memory doesn't fail me, and I think the Canadians are putting in--I believe--it's a little more than that for their half. I believe three million four hundred thousand, or something like that."

Senator McDermott: Is that three million dollars in the capital budget or is it out of the existing--?"

Senator Barr: "It was out of Referendum 39, I believe. I can't remember--37, 38, or 39 referendum monies that we authorized for that purpose. I believe it was Referendum 39--well don't trust my memory of which referendum--38, I guess it was."

Further debate ensued.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Bottiger, further consideration of Senate Bill No. 3576 was deferred.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 3189, by Senators Thompson, Granlund, Kreidler, McManus, DeJarnatt, Garrett and Vogtild

Allowing payroll deductions for political action committees of public employee organizations.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Thompson, the following Committee on Governmental Operations amendment was adopted:

On page 2, line 17, after "committees" strike all matter down through "government" on line 19 and insert "duly registered with the public disclosure commission and/or the federal election commission"

MOTION

Senator Zimmerman moved that the following amendment by Senators Zimmerman and Bailey be adopted:

On page 2, line 19, after "government" and before the period insert "PROVIDED, That contributions from any employee organization shall not be accepted or deposited in a campaign depository unless the employee organization or association files an affidavit with the campaign treasurer and the Public Disclosure Commission stating that all contributions from the individual members of the organization or association were voluntarily made in support of the said candidate or issue"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Thompson: "Senator Zimmerman, I was unprepared for this amendment and I'm a little confused as to its purpose. Would it be necessary, under the language of this amendment, to alter the affidavit from election to election and from issue to issue?"

Senator Zimmerman: "It would be my assumption that each election, each candidate, each issue, would need a separate requirement--yes."

Further debate ensued.

Senator Deccio demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

The President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on adoption of the amendment by Senators Zimmerman and Bailey.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll and the motion by Senator Zimmerman failed and the amendment was not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 21; nays, 28.

Voting yea: Senators Bailey, Barr, Benitz, Bluechel, Cantu, Craswell, Deccio, Guess, Hayner, Johnson, Kiskaddon, Lee, McCaslin, McDonald, Metcalf, Newhouse, Patterson, Saling, Sellar, von Reichbauer, Zimmerman - 21.

Voting nay: Senators Bauer, Bender, Bottiger, Conner, DeJarnatt, Fleming, Garrett, Gaspard, Goltz, Granlund, Halsan, Hansen, Kreidler, McDermott, McManus, Moore, Owen, Peterson, Pullen, Rasmussen, Rinehart, Stratton, Talmadge, Thompson, Vognild, Warnke, Williams, Wojahn - 28.

MOTION

Senator Zimmerman moved that the following amendment by Senators Zimmerman and Bailey be adopted:

On page 2, line 35, insert the following:

"NEW SECTION, Sec. 2. This act shall be submitted to the people for their adoption and ratification, or rejection, at the next succeeding general election to be held in this state, in accordance with Article II, section 1 of the state Constitution, as amended, and the laws adopted to facilitate the operation thereof."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Deccio: "Senator Thompson, exactly, mechanically how would this money be deducted from the employee's payroll check?"

Senator Thompson: "In the same way that it is presently, Senator Deccio."

Senator Deccio: "Excuse me, Senator Thompson, I don't know how that's done either. I guess I want to know--"

Senator Thompson: "If the payroll deduction has permission or instruction to do so--has to be submitted in writing and signed by the employee and its accomplished by the data processing means that check the process."

Senator Deccio: "Well, then the deduction is made from the department that issues those checks. If that's the case, then there's no fiscal note attached to this bill? I'm sure there is some cost to the state."

Senator Thompson: "We've had an estimate, Senator Deccio, from OFM that it would cost in the range of sixteen thousand dollars and we also had a verbal message from them that it would probably cost more to produce a refined fiscal note than it would to carry out the purpose of the act."

Senator Deccio: "You aren't answering my question. There is no fiscal note attached to the bill?"

Senator Thompson: "It will cost, they estimate, around sixteen thousand dollars. To produce a refined fiscal note would cost more, they say, than the cost of the bill."

Senator Deccio: "I never heard that before, but I think here's a case where the taxpayers are going to pay the cost, whether it's a dollar or whether it's sixteen thousand dollars or a hundred and fifty thousand dollars. I can't imagine it's going to cost that little to deal with payroll deductions from twenty-five thousand employees. I think that that is a fictional fiscal note. We aren't really being told because nobody has told this body how much it's going to cost. Nevertheless, the taxpayers of the state of Washington are going to foot this bill to allow this deduction by the state employees unions to put this money into their coffers to be used for campaign funds. I think that should be noted."

Further debate ensued.

Senators Bottiger, Talmadge and Peterson demanded the previous question and the demand was sustained.

Senator Zimmerman demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll and the motion by Senator Zimmerman failed and the amendment was not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 21; nays, 28.

Voting yea: Senators Bailey, Barr, Benitz, Bluechel, Cantu, Craswell, Deccio, Guess, Hayner, Johnson, Kiskaddon, Lee, McCaslin, McDonald, Metcalf, Newhouse, Patterson, Saling, Sellar, von Reichbauer, Zimmerman - 21.

Voting nay: Senators Bauer, Bender, Bottiger, Conner, DeJarnatt, Fleming, Garrett, Gaspard, Goltz, Granlund, Halsan, Hansen, Kreidler, McDermott, McManus, Moore, Owen, Peterson, Pullen, Rasmussen, Rinehart, Stratton, Talmadge, Thompson, Vognild, Warnke, Williams, Wojahn - 28.

MOTION

Senator Metcalf moved that the following amendment by Senators Metcalf, McDonald and Sellar be adopted:

On page 2, line 17, after "deductions" insert ", if authorized annually in writing by the employee."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Pullen: "Senator Thompson, you spoke to the issue of making annual authorizations, but you didn't speak to whether the authorization should be in writing. It would seem logical that such an authorization should be in writing and signed by the employee. I assume that many other deductions, at the present time, are made in writing and are signed by the employee, but I really don't see that spelled out in the bill even with regard to deductions other than political action committee deductions. It would seem to me that it would be appropriate to put somewhere in the bill--perhaps in the language that prefaces all these subsections--the fact that deductions should be in writing. That only makes common sense that the deductions should be in writing and it should be signed by the employee. You didn't speak to that issue and I just wondered if you had any objection to getting some language in the bill that would specify that the deductions should be in writing and signed by the employee?"

Senator Thompson: "Thank you, Senator Pullen. Responding to your question, the payroll divisions of any state agency are prohibited from making any payroll deduction without the written or signed authorization of the employee requesting it. That's a part of general law and affects deductions for the credit union, parking fees, savings bonds, or board, lodging or uniforms, professional contributions, medical care, life insurance and all such other payroll deductions. They must be authorized in writing, as this would be, also. You could not just simply call up the payroll department and say 'start taking some money out of my payroll.' It just wouldn't work that way. It would be illegal and contrary to law."

Further debate ensued.

The President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senators Metcalf, McDonald and Sellar.

The motion by Senator Metcalf failed and the amendment was not adopted on a rising vote.

MOTION

Senator Deccio moved that the following amendment by Senators Deccio, Zimmerman and Sellar be adopted:

On page 2, line 17, after "commission" insert "provided the employee designate the political party or candidate of his choice"

Debate ensued.

Senator Deccio demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

The President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on adoption of the amendment by Senators Deccio, Zimmerman and Sellar.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll and the motion by Senator Deccio failed and the amendment was not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 21; nays, 28.

Voting yea: Senators Bailey, Barr, Benitz, Bluechel, Cantu, Craswell, Deccio, Guess, Hayner, Johnson, Kiskaddon, Lee, McCaslin, McDonald, Metcalf, Newhouse, Patterson, Saling, Sellar, von Reichbauer, Zimmerman - 21.

Voting nay: Senators Bauer, Bender, Bottiger, Conner, DeJarnatt, Fleming, Garrett, Gaspard, Goltz, Granlund, Halsan, Hansen, Kreidler, McDermott, McManus, Moore, Owen, Peterson, Pullen, Rasmussen, Rinehart, Stratton, Talmadge, Thompson, Vognild, Warnke, Williams, Wojahn - 28.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Thompson, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3189 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Pullen: "Senator Thompson, I just wanted to clarify for the record the comment you made earlier in the debate concerning the National Rifle Association and the Audubon Society. As I understand the bill, as it is now before us, and with the adoption of the committee amendment, a voluntary political action committee could be established and they could raise funds by the check-off method with those political action committees supporting special areas of interest, such as opposition to gun control, support of gun control, or opposition to abortion or support of abortion and candidates or issues that would deal with abortion or gun control. Is that correct?"

Senator Thompson: "That's the clear intent of this bill and I'm pleased that it is. It's a wide open provision for that kind of political activity."

Further debate ensued.

The President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3189.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Lee: "Senator Vognild, didn't we just last week or the week before move those out of Ways and Means to Governmental Operations--some of those? I just wonder why, now, they wanted them back when we thought they should have stayed where they were?"

Senator Vognild: "Senator Lee, these bills were referred to a committee for a public hearing on the content of the bill, which is our normal operation here. They have appropriations and, therefore, with the approval of the subcommittee on business, having the public hearings, they were then referred to Ways and Means in what is, I believe, our normal operation."

Senator Lee: "Well, usually we have a committee report that refers them to a committee. I just wondered why we were using this extraordinary procedure?"

Senator Vognild: "We were trying to save some time."

Senator Lee: "Mr. President, I'm not voicing an objection, but I am pointing out that this kind of procedure is taking place and that we will be watching this kind of thing, because we do have rules and that's what they're for."

Senator Vognild: "I might point out to Senator Lee that I have not moved a single bill on this floor that was not approved by your leadership."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Bottiger: "Senator Thompson has temporarily left the floor, but I've got his attention. I just wanted to mention, Senator Thompson, in your negotiations that you have probably the ultimate threat to make sure that Oregon is reasonable. I've mentioned to you before that we could change the name of the Washington Public Power Supply System to the Oregon Public Power Supply System and there's nothing they could do about it."

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 3798, by Senators McDermott, Zimmerman, Thompson, Lee, Bender and Talmadge

Providing for the financing of local public works.

MOTION

On motion of Senator McDermott, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3798 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 3798 and the substitute bill was advanced to second reading and read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Pullen moved the following amendment be adopted:
On page 3, line 33, after "Make" strike "low-interest or interest-free"

JOURNAL OF THE SENATE

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Barr: "Senator McDermott, speaking to the amendment here, what was the purpose behind the interest free—I was about to suggest an oral amendment to just cross off the interest free part and make it low interest only, so could you explain—?"

Senator McDermott: "In looking at this bill and the work that the Public Works Board did—that's been working the last couple of years—there are a number of areas of this state, for instance, places like Raymond where there is no local ability or there's less local ability because of all the unemployment to even pay back the basic principal. As Senator Deccio said, there are places in this state who need industry—who need to repair the public works—and have very limited ability—they have no ability to pay interest on their loans. We'll be lucky to get the loan back, so it was for that reason we left them the flexibility of having both low interest and no interest loans."

Senator Barr: "Senator McDermott, I assume that it was looked into about lending the state's credit with interest free loans issued. That's of no concern to you?"

Senator McDermott: "It was the opinion of our attorneys that it was not a problem for us to do this."

REMARKS BY SENATOR BOTTIGER

Senator Bottiger: "Mr. President, on that score, this state has regularly lent and given, by grants, to the units of local government, monies. We share taxes with them. Senator Pullen's argument that the constitution prohibits the lending of the state's credit applies to persons—the individual company or corporation—but clearly does not apply to units of local government."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senator Pullen.

The motion by Senator Pullen failed and the amendment was not adopted.

MOTION

Senator Talmadge moved the following amendment be adopted:

On page 8, after line 14, insert the following:

"NEW SECTION, Sec. 14. FEASIBILITY STUDY. The department shall study the feasibility of innovative financing and development alternatives, such as joint development or privatization, by which local governments may provide needed public services to users. The study shall be conducted on an expeditious basis, making maximum use of available expertise. The department shall report to the board and the legislature on the study's conclusions and recommendations as soon as practicable. The sum of $75,000, or as much thereof as may be necessary, is appropriated for the biennium ending June 30, 1987, from the public works trust fund to the department of community development for the purpose of this study."

Renumber the sections consecutively.

Debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senator Talmadge.

The motion by Senator Talmadge carried and the amendment was adopted.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Talmadge, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3798 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bottiger: "Senator McDermott, Section 7, as I read this—the money would be placed in a public assistance account, but it would be subject to legislative appropriation—public works trust account?"

Senator McDermott: "Yes, and would be subject to appropriation."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Gaspard: "Senator McDermott, in the proposal we have before us, we are changing the tax on sewers from a B & O tax to a utility tax. Is it the intent to calculate the utility tax on sewage collection in the same manner as it was calculated when it was a B & O tax?"

Senator McDermott: "Yes, the Department of Revenue will do that by regulation."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Barr: "Senator McDermott, There is one point that needs clearing up in my mind before I can vote for this bill and if Senator McDermott would be so kind to--because he specifically said fifty percent costs--maybe he didn't use the word cost-sharing, but I've been looking through this bill and I can't see where this is spelled out in there and I think it's important because of the broadness that Senator Rasmussen mentioned and if this was spelled out as a cost-sharing effort, maybe I could vote for it. You referred to that, but I can't see it in there."

Senator McDermott: "Senator Barr, what I was saying was if there were given out on a fifty fifty match--that is state loan plus money from the local level--and upon a fifty fifty match basis, it would amount to one billion dollars over the next ten years. It is not spelled out in the bill that it has to be done on that basis, because there are some areas of the state--as we talked about earlier--where they are barely able to pay back a loan of a hundred percent of a project, so we wanted to give the flexibility to the Public Works Board to make the best deal they can. All the people on the board have an interest in how that money is spent and will do everything they can to squeeze the most that they can get out of the monies. There's not that much--given the amount that we're talking about."

"In answer to part of what Slim said, of the two billion dollars that was originally decided was unfunded, the Round Table in this state has looked at and they pared it down to one billion dollars necessary in the next five years, some of it in exceedingly economically distressed areas and for that reason we didn't want to put in a requirement. We argued back and forth in the committee last year, actually, and again this year on that issue and we wanted to leave that flexibility."

Further debate ensued.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3798 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 33; nays, 16.

Voting yea: Senators Bailey, Barr, Bauer, Bender, Bluechel, Bottiger, Conner, Deccio, DeJarnatt, Fleming, Gaspard, Goltz, Guess, Hansen, Kiskaddon, Kreidler, Lee, McDermott, McDonald, Moore, Patterson, Peterson, Rinehart, Saling, Sellar, Talmadge, Thompson, Vognild, von Reichbauer, Warnke, Williams, Wojahn, Zimmerman - 33.

Voting nay: Senators Benitz, Cantu, Craswell, Garrett, Granlund, Halsan, Hayner, Johnson, McCaslin, McManus, Metcalf, Newhouse, Owen, Pullen, Rasmussen, Stratton - 16.

ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 3798, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

There being no objection, the President reverted the Senate to the third order of business.

(2) Excess levies authorized under this section or under RCW 84.52.052 shall not be used directly or indirectly to increase the average salary or fringe benefits for certificated or classified personnel in any school district: PROVIDED, That any school district may expend excess levy funds to provide increases in salary and fringe benefits for classified or certificated personnel whose salary and fringe benefits are provided wholly from local school district excess levies in a percentage not to exceed the respective average percentage increases in the salary and fringe benefit levels for classified and certificated employees of the district funded with state appropriated funds: PROVIDED FURTHER, That those contracts which have been negotiated prior to July 1, 1977 by those school districts for such school year shall not be abrogated by this section. Certificated personnel shall include those persons employed by a school district in a teaching, instructional, administrative or supervisory capacity and who hold positions as certificated personnel as defined under RCW 28A.01.130, as now or hereafter amended, and every school district superintendent, and any person hired in any manner to fill a position designated as, or which is in fact, that of deputy superintendent or assistant superintendent. Classified personnel shall include those persons employed by a school district other than certificated personnel as defined in this section in a capacity for which certification is not required.

(5) Any district (~~which is qualified to exceed the maximum dollar amount permitted under subsection (1) of this section during calendar year 1982~~) is authorized to exceed the levy limitations imposed by subsection (1) for taxes to be collected during calendar years ~~((1983)) 1986~~ through ~~((1990)) 1994~~ as follows:

(a) The dollar amount of levy qualification for taxes to be collected in 1983 shall be the same as the maximum qualification for 1982.

(b) For every district which qualifies to exceed the limitations in subsection (1) of this section during calendar year 1982, a "base year levy percentage" shall be established. This levy percentage shall be equal to the percent a district's levy qualification during calendar year 1982 is of the prior 1980-81 school fiscal year's basic education allocation and state allocation for categorical programs.

(c) The base year levy percentage shall be reduced in even increments beginning in calendar year 1984 but excluding calendar years 1986 through 1989. The incremental reduction for levies collected in 1984 and 1985 shall equal one-seventh of the percentage points the base year levy percentage exceeds the amount authorized in subsection (1) of this section. For excess levies to be collected in calendar years 1986 through 1989, the levy qualification percentage shall be equal to the greater of: (i) The district's levy percentage for calendar year 1985, (ii) the 1985 average levy qualification percentage for all districts in the state, or (iii) the 1985 average levy qualification percentage for all districts in the educational service district of the district.

(d) ~~((For excess levies to be collected in calendar year 1990, the maximum dollar amount which may be levied by or for any school district shall not exceed the amount authorized in subsection (1) of this section:))~~ For excess levies to be collected in calendar years 1990 through 1994, the levy qualification percentage shall be that calculated pursuant to (c) of this subsection reduced in each year by an increment equal to one-fifth of the percentage points that the levy qualification percentage in (c) of this subsection exceeds the levy qualification percentage in subsection (1) of this section. For excess levies to be collected in calendar year 1994, the maximum dollar amount which may be levied by or for any school district shall not exceed the amount authorized in subsection (1) of this section. The provisions of this subsection shall not apply to excess levies to be collected after calendar year ((1990)) 1994.

(6) For the purpose of subsection (1) of this section, the superintendent of public instruction may grant local school districts authority to exceed the levy limitations imposed by said subsections: PROVIDED, That said limitations can only be exceeded by an amount that will insure local school districts the ability to raise a total excess levy dollar amount per annual average full time equivalent student which when combined with the basic education allocation is equal to but does not exceed one hundred and six percent for levies to be collected in 1980 and thereafter of the previous school year's comparable dollars per annual average full time equivalent student: PROVIDED FURTHER, That for levies to be collected in 1980 and thereafter any school district receiving authority to exceed the levy limitation and whose enrollment is declining at a rate of at least four percent, or three hundred full time equivalent students, whichever is less, from the immediately preceding school year, may, in addition to the increase above, further increase its levy by an amount equal to fifty percent of the enrollment decline multiplied by the previous school year's comparable dollars per annual full time equivalent student. The provisions of this subsection (6) shall only apply to excess levies for collection prior to calendar year 1983.

(7) The superintendent of public instruction shall develop rules and regulations and inform school districts of the pertinent data necessary to carry out the provisions of this section."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Newhouse: "Senator Rinehart, on page 6 of your amendment, the ESD's average and the statewide average--would you tell us what the statewide average, for instance, is now and what some of the ESD averages are?"

Senator Rinehart: "The statewide average is at eighteen percent. There is a range among educational service districts from fourteen, I believe, to twenty-five."

Senator Newhouse: "And would the statewide average include those districts which have no levy?"

Senator Rinehart: "Senator Newhouse, you're describing districts who have no local levies?"

Senator Newhouse: "Yes."

Senator Rinehart: "Logic and a quick conference suggests that if a local district currently has no local levies, then obviously they would not be calculated in the number which describes the local levy percentage."

Senator Newhouse: "It seems to me they should. Thank you."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Hayner: "Senator Gaspard, since the statewide average is now eighteen percent, how many districts do we have that are beneath that eighteen percent? Do you have that figure?"

Senator Gaspard: "There are a total of eighty-one non-grandfather levy capacity districts and out of that eighty-one, twelve are first-class districts and sixty-nine are second-class districts--and that's out of a total of two hundred and ninety-nine school districts in the state of Washington."

Further debate ensued.

Senator Metcalf demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Pullen: "Mr. President, it appears to me that the amendment expands the scope and object of the bill. I would direct your attention to section 1 of the bill which is a very, very simple adjustment to the law. It merely provides for a two-year extension of the levy lid phase and formula. However, the proposed amendment greatly expands the scope and object. It provides three alternate methods for calculating the districts' levy percentage. These are major revisions to the formula which involves potential radical changes and very significant changes to the result that can occur for the allowable percentage and I note on page 6 of the proposed amendment we have substantial changes to subsections (c) and (d). It really changes the bill from a rather simple two-year slide to a rather extensive change in philosophy.

"The President has always ruled--when he is determining whether scope and object is exceeded--upon the content of the amendment and if one looks at the content, it is clear, instead of having a simple two-year slide, we are making a rather significant change in philosophy. Therefore, I would submit that the amendment does expand the scope and object of the bill."

Debate ensued.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Vognild, further consideration of Senate Bill No. 3612 was deferred.

President Pro Tempore Goltz assumed the chair.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 3778, by Senators Gaspard and Bauer (by Superintendent of Public Instruction request)

Revising the basic education formula.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Gaspard, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3778 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 3778 and the substitute bill was advanced to second reading and read the second time.

Senator Gaspard moved that the following amendment be adopted:

On page 4, beginning on line 1, strike all the material through "act" on line 2, and insert "This act shall take effect if funds are appropriated in the state operating appropriations act for the 1985-87 biennium for the purposes of this act. If funds are not so appropriated for the purposes of this act, this act shall be null and void in its entirety"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Craswell: "Senator Gaspard, do you recall what the total fiscal impact of this bill is for this biennium and for six years?"

Senator Gaspard: "Yes. Currently, the basic funding for education has gone on a fifty certificated staff to a thousand students ratio. What we propose in the bill is to go to fifty-one to a thousand in the second year of the biennium and that cost is approximately nineteen to twenty million dollars."

Senator Craswell: "Does that include the vocational ed?"

Senator Gaspard: "No, the legislation we have before us does not include vocational education staff. That is handled in another bill that came out of committee."

The President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senator Gaspard.

The motion by Senator Gaspard carried and the amendment was adopted.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Gaspard, the rules were suspended. Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3778 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bluechel: "Senator Gaspard, is this bill the result of a direct recommendation from either the 3609 Committee or the Round Table Committee with specific recommendations?"

Senator Gaspard: "I think the bill that we have before us, as far as the vehicle we used, is one recommended by the Superintendent of Public Instruction. I believe the school administrators had one that went beyond it. They wanted to go to fifty-five to a thousand certificated staff and that was to be phased in over the next five years. Maybe, if I can refer to Senator Bauer or Senator Benitz about the 3609 recommendations. They talked about classroom size, but primarily the classroom size and the blocking of K through 3, if I remember correctly, but let me refer to Senator Bauer or Senator Benitz on the 3609 recommendation."

REMARKS BY SENATOR BAUER

Senator Bauer: "Yes, the 3609 Committee recommended class size reduction as a high priority, but did not recommend to go above fifty per thousand for that purpose. The concept they support, but not the vehicle, by going to fifty-one per thousand. They maintain that we should stick at fifty per thousand and in order to generate more money for the basic education program--to have some kind of a power equalizer levy out there--to pick up fifty million dollars and put it into the basic program and that was the vehicle--they were going to generate the money. But, yes, the 3609 Committee has high priority to reduce class size."

Further debate ensued.

Senators Bauer, Talmadge and Peterson demanded the previous question and the demand was sustained on a rising vote.

The President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3778.

There being no objection, the Senate resumed consideration of Senate Bill No. 3612 and the pending amendment by Senators Rinehart, McDonald, Barr, Vognild, Kiskaddon and Moore on page 1, after line 3, deferred earlier today.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "In ruling upon the point of order raised by Senator Pullen, the President finds that Senate Bill No. 3612 is a measure extending the Levy Lid Act phase down and establishes the levy percentages local school districts are authorized to use in upcoming years.

"The amendment proposed by Senators Rinehart, McDonald, Barr, Vognild, Kiskaddon and Moore, also extends the Levy-lid Act phase down and establishes levy percentages local school districts may use.

"The President, therefore, finds that the proposed amendment does not change the scope and object of the bill and that the point of order is not well taken."

The amendment was ruled in order.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on adoption of the amendment by Senators Rinehart, McDonald, Barr, Vognild, Kiskaddon and Moore.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Gaspard, the following Committee on Education amendment was adopted:

On page 2, strike all material on line 27 and insert a new section to read as follows:

~~“(This section shall be effective September 1, 1982.)”~~

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. Section 1 of this act shall be effective September 1, 1986.”

On motion of Senator Gaspard, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3527 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Pullen: “Senator Gaspard, the digest indicates that a fiscal note for this bill has been requested, but I don’t see any information anywhere indicating what the fiscal impact is. Could you indicate what the fiscal impact of this bill actually is?”

Senator Gaspard: “Yes, Senator, I do believe a fiscal impact has been requested, but none has been submitted as yet. There should not be any fiscal impact at all. This is reinstating the law as it was prior to, I think, about 1982 the law was changed. We had such a ratio in the statutes and the reason for putting it in at that time--it went in--if I remember correctly, in the ’70s, sponsored by Senator Bauer--it was to relieve some of the concerns about the early childhood education in the blocks of K-3 that we ought to have smaller classroom sizes in that block rather than have them in the upper grades--and then the legislation passed. I think, in about 1977 and we saw some good movement then of having smaller classrooms in those lower blocks.

"Then in 1982--I believe my dates are correct--the law was changed and that provision was eliminated and what we have seen since then is a shift of classroom size being larger in the K-3 block than what they had been in the other grades. So, this is recognizing the emphasis that has been placed in K-3 and all the recommendations from the 3609 Committee and the Business Round Table and Dr. Goodlad and almost every education expert has said those early blocks of education in the early grades are very important to have small classroom sizes. This is why we decided to go back to the measure we had prior to 1982."

Senator Pullen: "I guess I am still uncertain as to what the fiscal impact is because the bill, as I understand it, would reduce the allowable pupil/teacher ratio from twenty-five to one--to twenty to one, and how can you not have a significant fiscal impact if you go from twenty-five to one to twenty to one?"

Senator Gaspard: "No, it doesn't change the certificated staff ratio as we fund it at all. It would be a different distribution for local school districts to make of their current staff."

Senator Pullen: "Well, if they are at the limit for the grades four through twelve, there is no way they can redistribute the staff without upsetting the ratio somewhere else. I guess what I'm saying is--if you go from twenty-five to one to twenty to one in grade K-3, you're upsetting the balance somewhere else and there's got to be a fiscal impact and the fiscal note has been requested. I still have yet to hear what the fiscal impact is."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Barr: "I would like to ask Senator Bauer a question as it relates to this. I think he said something about a small school exemption. Now where is that in the bill and what kind of schools does it apply to, because I want to reemphasize that we must all, in this body, think very, very seriously about adopting the golden rule--as my part of the state has done. If you don't send the money with it, don't do it. Now if this bill doesn't meet that criteria, then we should not pass it."

Senator Bauer: "Senator Barr, in response to your question. On page 2, starting with line 8--'the State Board of Education shall adopt rules and regulations and insure compliance.' On page 12--'school districts which may be deemed unable to practically meet the student/teacher ratio requirements of this section by virtue of a small number of students may have an exemption.'"

"Your second question was the funding of it. We passed a bill here that allows us to go to fifty-one per thousand, which is about a nineteen million dollar impact--and that money would be available for that purpose. All of the studies indicate that we should lower those classes in those earlier grades and they all make that a high priority. We should not force that on a district if they don't have the funds and there is no way of shifting the teachers around to do that. We don't want to do that--we want to put the money in it--we have done that with the fifty-one per thousand."

"Now, my school district in 1976 hired seven brand new primary teachers to comply with this law when they originally passed it--seven brand new teachers--they didn't shift teachers around. Of course, they had more money in those days to deal with. Can you believe the consequences that might have had to have seven brand new primary teachers in lowering classroom sizes ten years ago in the first, second and third grades? Those kids are graduating from high school today, this year, next year, last year, and I'm sure that had a very positive impact. I agree with Senator Barr, we don't want to ask that district to do something that is impossible, but we're going to put the money out there if we're going to ask them to do that. We'll have a delay of one year on this bill if the money doesn't come out until the second year of the biennium on that fifty-one per thousand--we can have a delay of one year on this bill so it matches."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3527.

Senator Thompson: "There would be a charge if there was a charge."

Senator Rasmussen: "If they do the copying? I'm saying if you use the records and you do the copying yourself."

WHEREAS, The economic vitality of the Pacific Northwest depends on the port system; and

WHEREAS, No incentive for diversion of vessels or cargoes to foreign ports should exist, and current patterns of commerce should not be disturbed; and

WHEREAS, The ability to rapidly move cargo from a variety of ports in times of emergency is necessary for national security; and

WHEREAS, The imposition of user fees for the recovery of costs on federal navigation projects would cause the diversion of vessels and cargoes to foreign ports, would distort current patterns of commerce, would cause ports to cease operations and disrupt economic development in the area, and would restrict the number of available ports in time of emergency;

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Zimmerman, you referred to a number of counties that had changed their form of government. Do you know which counties they are?"

Senator Zimmerman: "Yes, King, Clallam, Whatcom, Snohomish and Pierce. Those are the ones--five western Washington counties."

Senator Rasmussen: "It would seem then, Senator Zimmerman, we are making a rather useless gesture in proposing this constitutional amendment which will cost a lot of money to get on the ballot--and the people rejected it already. I think it was a vote of three to one in all counties. If the counties are able to change their form of government already and you cited some of the biggest ones and, of course, the most able one is Pierce County, wouldn't it seem this is an unnecessary gesture to throw something out on the ballot that is going to cost a lot of money and the people are going to reject?"

Senator Zimmerman: "Senator Rasmussen, it may seem like an unnecessary gesture. The point is--it is simply an alternative to what has been the previous method and we hope would provide, at the least, the choices of the five possible charters to just be an alternative. It's just a choice. It would be a simple matter of whether we want to provide an easier and--perhaps what we assume a little better thought out--and avoid some of the possible rancor that has resulted in some of the past debates and failures and actions of the freeholders."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senator Craswell.

The motion by Senator Craswell failed and the amendment was not adopted.

MOTION

Senator Guess moved that the following amendment by Senators Guess and McCaslin be adopted:

On page 1, line 16, after "records," insert "Each charter shall clearly indicate that the State of Washington retains the right to pass preemptive legislation superseding all conflicting local ordinances."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator McCaslin, I noticed that you are a sponsor of this legislation and you are also a sponsor of this amendment to clarify the legislation you sponsored?"

Senator McCaslin: "That's correct."

Senator Rasmussen: "You still stand by that?"

Senator McCaslin: "I'm going to vote for this amendment, Senator."

Senator Rasmussen: "And you support it? You have reviewed it carefully?"

Senator McCaslin: "Yes, sir."

Senator Rasmussen: "Thank you, Senator McCaslin. As a sponsor, I'd like to know what you found wrong with it that you needed to correct--and now that you have corrected it with this amendment, I'm going to support it also."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senators Guess and McCaslin.

The motion by Senator Guess carried and the amendment was adopted.

On page 2, line 3, strike "Such authority" and insert "This authority and that provided in RCW 36.60.030"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Pullen: "Senator Peterson, the language that I had an interest in is on page 2, lines 11 through 13--the last three lines of the bill, where it says the legislative authority of such other county must consent by resolution to the proposed plan of the originating county which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld. I don't think I've ever seen such language in a statute before. Is there a concern there we're trying to take care of--by that particular language--or is there some particular understanding of what is meant by saying that the county shall not unreasonably withhold its consent? I see Senator Hansen is going to answer that."

Senator Hansen: "Senator Pullen, I believe what this means is we have two rail districts to form--one in Lincoln County and one in Douglas County. The spur would go through a portion of Grant County to tie into the main line. And this was there just strictly to request that Grant County not take opposition unless they had a strong mind to keep that rail from coming through that portion of Grant County."

On motion of Senator Peterson, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3467 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Senator Bauer: "I think that was added in committee. It wasn't part of the original intent, but I don't see anything wrong with it."

Senator Rasmussen: "What it says is that the County Treasurer may charge and collect a fee of $3.00 per parcel so that the individual who's paying his assessment will be paying an additional $3.00 for the county service."

Senator Bauer: "This is to offset the additional cost to the counties for the services they provide. I see no problem with that."

Senator Bauer: "I'm not sure there's a plan to that effect in the making."

Senator Rasmussen: "I don't like that part of it. I don't mind the payment in installments, but I don't see any reason to give another $3.00."

Changing provisions relating to business corporations.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Pullen: "Senator Talmadge, among these 'interested transactions' referred to, would that include the provisions that allow an officer of the corporation to get a loan from the corporation, which is now prohibited by law--as I understand it?"

Senator Talmadge: "Loans from the corporation are not prohibited by law, if I recall, Senator Pullen. You might give me the specific page and line number that you're looking at. There has to be circumstances specifically defined in which some sort of financial transaction between a director and a corporation are permitted."

Senator Pullen: "Actually, it's a very large bill and I'm trying to find the location at this time."

Senator Talmadge: "The section you may be referring to would be Section 5, which is the transaction between a director and a corporation on page 4 of the bill. This specifies the circumstances under which the director is liable for such transaction. And then Section 6 follows it up with defining an 'interested shareholder transaction' involving a corporation."

Senator Pullen: "I see in the digest--it's the second paragraph from the end--it talks about the basic tests for validity of loans to directors. It says 'the basic tests for validity of loans to directors is that either (1) the particular loan is approved by a majority of the shareholders or by the board of directors after specific finding that the loan benefits the corporation, or (2) the loan is pursuant to a general plan approved by the board as being of benefit to the corporation.'"

Senator Talmadge: "Yes, that's correct. That's the understanding."

Senator Pullen: "And what section of the bill is that language in?"

Senator Talmadge: "I believe the section relating to director transactions is Section 5 and shareholder transactions is Section 6 of the bill."

Senator Pullen: "Was there any testimony--potential concern--with regard to loans to directors or officers of the corporation? Was there anyone who expressed any worry that this could lead to potential abuses?"

Senator Talmadge: "No, in fact, there wasn't. This language in Sections 5 and 6 is more stringent than is the case under present law. It requires approval, as was indicated in the digest, by the shareholders or by the board of directors subject to notification of the benefit to the board and to the shareholders with respect to the transaction. What we are attempting to do here is, in fact, make the standard for such transactions more stringent than is the present standard in corporations law."

Is that a better press day? What's it all about?"

Senator Metcalf: "Thank you, Senator Moore. I do commend you for the help and cooperation in the past. It has been outstanding and I have commended you on the floor of the Senate for that. This, by the way, was no surprise whatsoever. I don't know about Senator Bottiger--and to you, Senator Bottiger, I will say that before 1:00 o'clock, I informed Senator Vognild today, that we would resist any motion to take this up today. This has nothing to do with the press, Senator Moore. This is a question of 'let's go home for the week-end--let's let the people speak--let's listen to the people--our constituents.'

"To Senator Fleming, I say, we're not in the majority. But let's hope the people are in the majority on this issue on this floor now. Let's hold it until Tuesday. Senator Talmadge said in the paper this morning that if this comes out, he'll have as many amendments as he can think of--and maybe others will have, too. Let's give everybody time to get prepared. We know it's coming and on Tuesday, let's move on this issue. That's the answer to the question. I think that that's the proper procedure. I hope it won't be a filibuster on Tuesday. I think we can handle it quickly and rationally. But let's wait until Tuesday."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Zimmerman, by your amendments, are you eliminating the collection of any money until we look at the revised plans?"

Senator Zimmerman: "No."

Senator Rasmussen: "We're going to have the money collected?"

Senator Zimmerman: "The money collection, according to the way I read the bill, is going to start before this. There will be money going into the trust fund before we come back in session."

Senator Rasmussen: "Let me ask you this further question. In the event that the legislature decides not to go forward with the plan, how would that money be refunded?"

Senator Zimmerman: "I guess Senator McDermott is better able to explain that than I. I would let him handle that one."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator McDermott, would you yield? You heard the question."

Senator McDermott: "The tax that begins on October 1 is the cigarette tax and we'll collect the cigarette tax only. The physicians tax and hospital tax does not begin until July 1, 1986, after we've been back in session and reaffirmed that that is the basis on which we want to fund the program. If we come back and decide we don't want to have the program, we will have cigarette tax money only and at that time we will have discussions out here on the floor what to do with it. I'm pretty sure we won't give it back to the cigarette smokers, however."

Senator Rasmussen: "I have a further question, Senator McDermott. As I read the bill, it authorizes the employment of staff--no limit on the amount of staff--and so we will have those people--and that money, are they going to fund that out of the $1 million from the general fund?"

Senator McDermott: "Yes, the general fund puts in the first $1 million. That money will be repaid to the general fund out of the cigarette tax money collected. So there's no loss to the general fund by the beginning planning stages."

Senator Rasmussen: "My further question relates to--why can't the Ways and Means Committee, with the help of this supposed committee, study the plan further and make it more clear where we're going? There are a number of questions--the number of people covered and we're all floating around in a sea of sympathy, but why can't the Ways and Means Committees of both the House and Senate--with the help of this appointed committee, study the problem and then bring back a solution to it?"

Senator McDermott: "Senator Rasmussen, my intention of making this board, was to make a board of people with expertise to actually deal with these things. There will be periodic reports to the legislative committee. The Ways and Means and the Senate will keep on top of this on a regular basis. I think that the actual planning ought to be done by a staff and people who have more expertise than most of us--in planning health plans."

Senator Rasmussen: "Thank you, Senator. I will try and elucidate on some of my questions later, Mr. President."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendments by Senator Zimmerman.

The motion by Senator Zimmerman carried and the amendments were adopted.

(1) An undefined percentage of the population of this state does not have reasonable access to affordable basic health care services;

(2) This lack of access to affordable basic health care is detrimental to the health of individuals and to the public welfare and often results in substantial expenditures for emergency and remedial health care, often at the expense of health care providers, health care facilities, and all purchasers of health care, including the state;

(3) Identification and greater use of existing health care systems has significant potential to reduce the growth of health care costs incurred by the people of this state including low-income pregnant women who are an especially vulnerable population as are their children; and

(4) As declared in RCW 70.39.010, health care is a right of the people and one of the primary purposes for which governments are established.

The purpose of this chapter is to establish a program providing assistance for access to affordable basic health care for low-income persons through the identification and use of existing health care systems. This chapter is intended to establish an appropriate mechanism that will foster the entrepreneurial abilities of health care providers in many communities to join together in helping to address the need for access to affordable health care that exists among some residents of the state. The legislature intends that the study conducted under section 4 of this act be operated in a fiscally prudent manner and that the program emphasize referral to existing low-cost primary and preventive health care services.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. As used in this chapter:

(1) "Washington basic health plan" or "plan" means a study of the existing health care systems that serve low-income people on a free, copayment, or sliding fee schedule and development of a procedure for referral of qualified individuals to these systems.

(2) "Commission" means the hospital commission of the state of Washington as created by chapter 70.39 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. The commission shall employ such staff as are necessary to fulfill the responsibilities and duties created by this chapter, such staff to be subject to the civil service law, chapter 41.06 RCW. In addition, the commission may contract with third parties for services necessary to carry out its activities where this will promote economy, avoid duplication of effort, and make use of available expertise. Any such contractor or consultant shall be prohibited from releasing, publishing, or otherwise using any information made available to it under its contractual responsibility without specific permission of the commission. The commission may call upon other agencies of the state to provide available information as necessary to assist the commission in meeting its responsibilities under this chapter, which information shall be supplied as promptly as circumstances permit. The commission may create committees from its membership, and may appoint such ad hoc advisory committees as it deems necessary.

The commission may apply for and receive and accept grants, gifts, and other payments, including property and service, from any governmental or other public or private entity or person, and may make arrangements as to the use of these receipts, including the undertaking of special studies and other projects relating to health care costs and access to health care.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. The commission shall, in cooperation with local public health officials:

(1) Determine what basic health care services are available to people living in all areas of the state;

(2) Determine the amount of per capita or family income that is presently used to determine eligibility of low-income people for free or sliding fee schedule basic health care services;

(3) Study the economic, social, and demographic characteristics of the populations served by the respective systems, including documentation of previous health care coverage which may have been lost through loss of employment or eligibility;

(4) Analyze the administrative structures of health care providers and methods used by them in financing health care, including the availability of private health care insurance and copayment programs;

(5) Require reports from health care providers in gathering the data necessary to implement the plan;

(6) Minimize costs to local government, health care systems, and the commission by coordinating study requirements with existing reporting requirements of state and local agencies;

(7) Monitor state resident access to adequate and necessary health care services and determine the extent of any unmet needs for such services or lack of access that may exist; and

(8) Provide a free referral service to those requesting information on the availability of free, sliding fee schedule or copayment basic health care.

In addition to the cooperative efforts of the commission and local public health officials delineated in this section, the commission shall enlist and receive the assistance of such health care providers as public hospitals, community clinics, nonprofit hospitals, health care professionals engaged in independent practice, and managed health care systems.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. Each public health district shall collect, consistent with the framework developed by the commission, and report on the needs of low-income people for and the use of free, copayment, or sliding fee health care in the respective local public health district. Each district shall establish a toll-free line to assist persons seeking such health care by providing referrals to local providers of such care. This toll-free number shall also be used in the collection of data on the needs of the community for basic health care. The availability and purpose of this toll-free telephone number shall be communicated to all citizens within the boundaries of the public health district.

Sec. 6. Section 12, chapter 51, Laws of 1967 ex. sess. as last amended by section 7, chapter 25, Laws of 1984 and RCW 70.05.070 are each amended to read as follows:

The local health officer, acting under the direction of the local board of health or under direction of the administrative officer appointed under RCW 70.05.040, if any, shall:

(1) Enforce the public health statutes of the state, rules and regulations of the state board of health and the secretary of social and health services, and all local health rules, regulations and ordinances within his jurisdiction;

(2) Take such action as is necessary to maintain health and sanitation supervision over the territory within his jurisdiction;

(3) Control and prevent the spread of any dangerous, contagious or infectious diseases that may occur within his jurisdiction;

(4) Inform the public as to the causes, nature, and prevention of disease and disability and the preservation, promotion and improvement of health within his jurisdiction;

(5) Prevent, control or abate nuisances which are detrimental to the public health;

(6) Attend all conferences called by the secretary of social and health services or his authorized representative;

(7) Collect such fees as are established by the state board of health or the local board of health for the issuance or renewal of licenses or permits or such other fees as may be authorized by law or by the rules and regulations of the state board of health.

(8) Take such measures as he deems necessary in order to promote the public health, to participate in the establishment of health educational or training activities, and to authorize the attendance of employees of the local health department or individuals engaged in community health programs related to or part of the programs of the local health department.

(9) Enter into such contractual arrangements with the hospital commission as are necessary to accomplish the goals and aims of chapter 70.-- RCW (sections 1 through 5 of this 1985 act.

Sec. 7. Section 16, chapter 5, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. as last amended by section 18, chapter 288, Laws of 1984 and RCW 70.39.150 are each amended to read as follows:

To properly carry out its authority the commission shall:

(1) Compile and maintain all relevant financial, accounting, and patient discharge data in order to have available the statistical information necessary to properly conduct rate review and approval. Such data shall include necessary operating expenses, appropriate expenses incurred for charity care and for rendering services to patients who do not pay, all properly incurred interest charges, and reasonable depreciation expenses based on the expected useful life of the property and equipment involved. The commission shall define and prescribe by rule and regulation the types and classes of charges which cannot be changed except as provided by the procedure contained in RCW 70.39.160 and it shall also obtain from each such hospital a current rate schedule as well as any subsequent amendments or modifications of that schedule as it may require. So far as possible, the commission shall compile and maintain the same patient discharge data with respect to all patients as that required under the federal medicare program and the uniform billing procedures applicable to third-party payers.

(2) Permit any hospital subject to the provisions of this chapter to charge reasonable rates which will permit the hospital to render necessary, effective, and efficient service in the public interest.

(3) Take into account, in the determination of reasonable rates under this section, that it is its obligation to assure access to necessary, effective, economically viable, and efficient hospital health care capability throughout the state, rather than the solvency or profitability of any individual hospital subject to this chapter except where the insolvency of a hospital would seriously threaten the access of the rural public to basic health care services.

(4) Take into account, in the determination of reasonable rates under this section for each hospital, the recommendations of appropriate area-wide and state comprehensive health planning agencies to ensure compliance with Washington comprehensive health planning law, chapter 70.38 RCW.

(5) Permit any hospital, whether proprietary, district, public, or not-for-profit, to retain the excess of its revenues, if any, that exceed the actual cost of providing services, generated as a result of cost-effective practices, if the hospital charges do not exceed rates permitted by the commission.

(6) On or before October 1 of each year, after notice and public hearing, and in full consideration of the intent and purpose of this chapter as expressed in RCW 70.39.010, adopt a target dollar amount of total state-wide hospital revenue for the ensuing calendar year. To set the target amount, the commission shall develop a standard methodology that considers such factors as changes in the economy, affordability of hospital care, cost of hospital-purchased goods, numbers and age of the population, technology, and severity of illness of hospital patients. The commission shall endeavor, in establishing rates, to assure that total hospital revenues do not exceed the target amount for the applicable year.

(7) Enter into such contracts or other arrangements as may be necessary to accomplish the goals and aims of chapter 70.— RCW (sections 1 through 5 of this 1985 act).

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. The results of the commission's studies under section 4 of this act, together with any recommendations for legislation, shall be forwarded to the legislature on or before September 15, 1986.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. The sum of dollars, or as much thereof as may be necessary, is appropriated for the biennium ending June 30, 1987, from the general fund to the Washington state hospital commission for the purposes of this act. Included in this amount shall be dollars which will be used to fund staff in each public health district sufficient to conduct their responsibilities as specified by this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. Sections 1 through 5 of this act shall constitute a new chapter in Title 70 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, the support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect immediately."

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. A new section is added to chapter 70.39 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Not later than October 1, 1985, the commission shall determine the regional average percentage of the budgets of hospitals reflecting charity care by the hospitals in each region during their most recent complete fiscal year. For purposes of this section, the state shall be divided into four regions with the same boundaries as the four health service areas established pursuant to RCW 70.38.085. In no event may the commission make the initial of such annual determinations later than necessary for integration into the hospital and rate review process for hospital fiscal years beginning on or after January 1, 1986.

(2) Information submitted by hospitals for commission review for each hospital fiscal year beginning on or after January 1, 1986, shall indicate, consistent with the definitions promulgated by the commission pursuant to this chapter, the amount of charity care to be provided during the forthcoming fiscal year. Each hospital may also submit semiannual reports indicating the status of charity care.

(3) The Washington basic health plan trust account for charity care is established in the treasury. All revenues received under sections 2, 3, and 4 of this act shall be deposited in the trust account.

(4) Quarterly, beginning April 1, 1986, each hospital which has provided less charity care than the commission has determined to be the applicable regional average pursuant to this chapter shall be assessed an amount determined by the commission to be the cost of such care had it been provided by the hospital during the preceding quarter. The assessments shall be deposited in the Washington basic health plan trust account for charity care.

(5) Quarterly, beginning July 1, 1986, each hospital which has provided more charity care than the commission has determined to be the regional average pursuant to this chapter shall receive, upon application, a distribution from the trust account which the commission in its sole discretion has determined to be equitable and reasonably reflective of each hospital's charity care effort relative to the regional need, but which shall not exceed seventy percent of its cost of the charity care provided in excess of the regional average. Quarterly distributions shall be made to the limit of trust resources, consistent with prudent management thereof. The commission may reduce any proposed distributions in recognition of any requirements of the federal Hill-Burton program under 42 U.S.C. Sec. 291, or any tax-supported revenues received to subsidize hospital operations, except those specifically designated by the legislature to subsidize medical education.

(6) In its annual review of hospital budgets, the commission shall review reports submitted under and assessments levied and distributions received under this section. The commission may reconcile assessments and distributions through rates established for the year following the year for which the reconciliation is provided.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 70.39 RCW to read as follows:

Effective July 1, 1986, the commission shall assess against each hospital an annual charge equal to one percent of the hospital's gross annual operating costs for the provision of hospital services for its last fiscal year ending on or before June 30 of the preceding calendar year, less revenue received from the department of social and health services under provisions of chapter 74.09 RCW, and the costs of services carried as charity care. A hospital that does not charge any fees for services rendered to patients may apply for a waiver of the annual assessment fee from the commission. One-twelfth of the assessment shall be payable each month to the department of revenue and all such payments shall be deposited in the basic health plan trust account of the state treasury.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 82.04 RCW to read as follows:

Effective July 1, 1986, there is levied and shall be collected from every person engaging in the business of practicing medicine as defined in chapter 18.57 or 18.71 RCW, other than a health maintenance organization as defined in chapter 48.46 RCW, for the act or privilege of engaging in business activities, as a part of the tax imposed by the provisions of RCW 82.04.290, an additional tax equal to the gross income of the business activity multiplied by the rate of one percent. Revenue received from the department of social and health services under the provisions of chapter 74.09 RCW and the amount of professional liability insurance premiums paid during the reporting period may be deducted from revenues subject to the additional tax. Such deductions may not reduce revenues subject to the basic tax imposed by RCW 82.04.290. The department of revenue shall deposit the revenues collected under this section in the basic health plan trust account of the state treasury.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. A new section is added to chapter 82.24 RCW to read as follows:

Effective October 1, 1985, there is hereby levied and there shall be collected by the department of revenue from the persons mentioned in and in the manner provided by this chapter, an excise tax upon the sale, use, consumption, handling, possession, or distribution of cigarettes in an amount equal to the rate of four mills per cigarette. PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Pullen: "I guess I would object if that's the implementing bill for SJR 124. I would suggest we do SJR 124 first, because it would be improper to do an implementing bill without having a constitutional amendment having been authorized."

REMARKS BY SENATOR BOTTIGER

Senator Bottiger: Mr. President--Senator Pullen. I can remember two years ago we ran the constitutional amendment and you wouldn't vote for it until you got the implementing bill. Now we're running the implementing bill and then we'll run the constitutional amendment."

Senator Pullen: "Very accurately. I always, always request the constitutional amendment go first, because that's the basis on which you draw an implementing bill. If you try to do an implementing bill first, you're passing a law without constitutional authority."

On motion of Senator Hansen, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Joint Resolution No. 124 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Hansen, I read in the previous bill that they'll draw their own rules and regulations--the commodity commissions. Could you tell us how much money we're talking about in the commodity commissions? There are a number of them.

Senator Hansen: "I think there are six commissions and they draw up--set their own budget--as to how much they want to spend on this hosting. The people are assessed this amount of money--taken from their checks--that goes into this account. Then it would be the commission that would set the rules as to how they would spend this money for hosting for the sale of their products. As far as actual dollars, I don't know that. Probably Irv or someone like that would have a better handle on that."

Senator Rasmussen: "I've got one more question. Can a producer withdraw from the commission if they like or are they all assessed?"

Senator Hansen: "They are all assessed."

Senator Rasmussen: "There's no way they can get out of it?"

Senator Hansen: "The assessments are voted on by the producers and it takes the percentages needed to pass that commission and that's how the dollar is set. Now, they can't go over that dollar limit that was voted on by the people."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Substitute Senate Joint Resolution No. 124.

On motion of Senator Moore, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3458 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Hayner: "Senator Conner, I think the idea of some sort of education for these people is a good one, but I'm also concerned about the cost to the Department of Licensing setting up these kinds of courses in all the rural areas and all over the state or contracting out for it. What is going to be the cost of this? Was there a fiscal note on it?"

Senator Conner: "There wasn't any requested. There is a course going a week from Saturday in this area, and there's one going--I believe--this Saturday in Spokane. So there are a number of areas where they are putting in this type of a program. There are many other states which have this type of program for the elderly, feeling that they need to be looking at the law and get some idea of perhaps what their shortcomings might be, or what they're not doing as far as regular driving. But I do think--along with other states--that a move in this direction--we should be attempting to do so, and the senior citizens of this state are strongly in favor of this measure."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Zimmerman: "Senator Conner, the bill says, 'successfully completing the course.' Would there be a testing--some measurement of progress--to show that they have learned something, rather than just getting a certificate for having taken the course? I guess I'm getting at the the actual measurement of ability that would show improvement."

Senator Conner: "I'm told that they would have successfully completed the course on the day it is given."

Senator Zimmerman: "You don't think there should be some measure of having a test or do you assume that there is a test? Does 'successfully completed' mean that there was a test involved?"

Senator Conner: "That's my understanding. And as I say, this has been going on in other states and as a result the retired persons organization in this state felt it would be good for this state as well."

Senator Zimmerman: "It would seem logical that there be a test involved to have some measurement."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Deccio: "Senator Conner, the way I read this bill, if someone over the age of 55 had a DWI and three speeding tickets--took this course--they would be eligible for a ten percent discount, which does not really make any sense. Would you care to respond to that?"

Senator Conner: "I couldn't respond to that."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Newhouse: "Senator Bottiger, in your amendment changing 'shall' to 'may,' is there anything in present law that would prohibit an insurance company--if it were a good practice--to give such a discount now, without the bill?"

Senator Bottiger: "There was a question raised as to whether that was a legitimate group within the existing insurance code. There is one insurance company that does this now. There is another that says, 'we think it's a good idea, but we think the law ought to be clear.'"

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Conner, will all insurance companies recognize this course or is it put on by certain insurance companies?"

Senator Conner: "There are tests of this type being put on now. There's one in Spokane and there's going to be one in this community next week, and it's being put on by the retired persons organization in this state. Now, there are insurance companies that don't want this and have talked to me and oppose it, but yet it makes sense to me where one company does have this type of program and where you went through these types of tests, I think it would be good, not only for the companies, but it would be pretty good for the individual to find out what his ability is as far as being a safe driver."

Senator Rasmussen: "A further question. In the event that a senior citizen does not pass this test, does that include the implied ten percent more on your insurance rather than a ten percent discount?"

Senator Conner: "I couldn't answer that."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Grossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3458.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3458 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 36; nays, 12; excused, 1.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Zimmerman: "Senator Bottiger, you mentioned the possibility that we had covered other corporations in the state by passage of a bill previously. Do you see the need for any additional legislation that could be involved as far as corporations taking over a variety of other types? We're reading currently of the interstate efforts from the Boone Pickens situation as far as Phillips and other kinds of takeovers. Are we in a position to do anything about those for this state?"

Senator Bottiger: "We have a couple of other pieces of legislation. Senator Talmadge has mentioned one--Senate Bill No. 3580. I wish Congress would address themselves to this because of the amount of money being sucked up in the money supply by letters of credit, and the absolute--what appears to me--black-mail by some of these takeover artists should be addressed by somebody, because I hope no one is--I hope--naive enough to think that somebody isn't going to pay on that Phillips deal, and it's probably going to be you and I, if we happen to use Phillips products."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Senate Bill No. 3427.

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Senate Bill No. 3427 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 48; excused, 1.

On motion of Senator Thompson, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3386 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Saling: "Senator Thompson, my purpose in asking a question is to clarify legislative intent concerning the term 'disciplining' on page 2, line 19. Employees often increase the quality of their work by constructive criticism from their supervisors. This may be viewed as 'disciplining' by the employee. Does 'disciplining' as used in subsection (f) include all warnings and criticisms of an employee?"

Senator Thompson: "No, Senator Saling, it does not. 'Disciplining' as the word is used in subsection (f) means something that goes beyond verbal censure. In line 19, it refers to some action which changes the status of the employee, such as suspension, demotion, transfer or similar action that has an impact beyond just criticism or warning. It is used in conjunction with the term 'final action' and it is our intent that this be some sort of action that very specifically alters the employee's status."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Talmadge: "Senator Thompson, some government agencies have taken the position that attorney-client privilege can be used to require executive session about any decision that could conceivably result in litigation, no matter how remote the possibility of litigation. I take it that Section 1 (h) of the bill is designed to allow executive sessions for discussion with legal counsel on existing litigation or litigation that is reasonably believed by the agency to soon result, if such discussions will result in adverse legal or financial consequences to the agency."

Senator Thompson: "Your understanding of that provision is correct."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rinehart: "Senator Thompson, does Section 2 contemplate that the presiding officer can more than once announce an extension of an executive session?"

Senator Thompson: "Yes, Senator Rinehart, so long as each time the presiding officer announces a new time when the executive session will be concluded. The purpose, of course, is to give the public guidance and assurance that if it returns to the meeting place at the time announced by the presiding officer, the citizens won't miss the open session which follows."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 3386.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 3386 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 48; nays, 1.

Voting nay: Senator Pullen - 1.

SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 3386, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

MOTION

Senator Rinehart moved that the following Committee on Education amendment be adopted:

On page 10, at the beginning of line 16, strike "state's community colleges, the"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Metcalf: "Senator Rinehart, on the summary that we have here--the summary of the proposed committee amendment--is that the amendment that you moved? This says, 'relating to community colleges' ability to charge tuition fee is eliminated.' That sounds like a substantive change."

Senator Rinehart: "However, it is not."

Senator Metcalf: "Thank you, I hope."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the Committee on Education amendment.

The motion by Senator Rinehart carried and the committee amendment was adopted.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Rinehart, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 4185 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Voting yeas: Senators Bailey, Barr, Bauer, Bender, Benitz, Bluechel, Bottiger, Cantu, Conner, Craswell, Deccio, DeJarnatt, Fleming, Garrett, Gaspard, Goltz, Granlund, Guess, Halsan, Hansen, Hayner, Johnson, Kiskaddon, Kreidler, Lee, McCaslin, McDermott, McManus, Metcalf, Moore, Newhouse, Owen, Patterson, Peterson, Pullen, Rasmussen, Rinehart, Saling, Sellar, Stratton, Talmadge, Thompson, Vognild, von Reichbauer, Warnke, Williams, Wojahn, Zimmerman - 48.

On page 2, line 18, after "year" insert "A disabled voter is defined as a voter with a permanent and significant physical disability, including sight loss, hearing loss, paralysis, loss of limbs, and respiratory impairment"

Debate ensued.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Pullen, the following amendment to the amendment was adopted:

On line 3 of the amendment, after "including" insert ", but not limited to," and after "hearing loss" insert ", paralysis," and after "loss of" insert "one or more" and after "limbs," strike "and" and insert "or"

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senator Pullen, as amended.

The motion by Senator Pullen carried and the amendment, as amended, was adopted.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Thompson, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3854 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Talmadge: "Senator Pullen, I didn't get a chance to ask this question prior to the time we took action on your amendment, but I trust that the language of your amendment is intended to be in the disjunctive--intended to be not in the conjunctive to require all of those particular aspects of disability before a person is deemed to be a disabled voter."

Senator Pullen: "It's definitely in the disjunctive and it so states. In fact, in my own handwriting I have an 'or' written in there to make sure that it clearly was disjunctive."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bottiger: "Senator Pullen, in the very rural areas, as you well know considering the district you represent, there are people who in some cases are so far out we allow them to vote by mail ballot. But in those districts which still do not have a mail ballot--someone is just over 65--maybe lacks transportation--or the polling place is so far away--that they've discovered that with snow and everything else, it's more convenient. They meet the test every other way, but I'm asking you about convenience. In a rural area, which has bad weather conditions, could these older people still apply for an absentee ballot?"

Senator Pullen: "If they meet the age requirement in the bill."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3854 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 46; nays, 3.

Voting nay: Senators Barr, McDonald, Newhouse - 3.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 3024, by Senator Barr

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Hansen, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3024 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 3024 and the substitute bill was advanced to second reading and read the second time.

On motion of Senator Newhouse, the following amendment by Senators Newhouse, Barr and Hansen was adopted:

On page 7, after line 21, insert the following:

The county sheriff or brand inspector shall examine the animals by brand, tattoo, or other identifying characteristics and attempt to ascertain ownership. If the animal is marked with a brand or tattoo which is registered with the director of agriculture, the brand inspector or county sheriff shall furnish this information and other pertinent information to the person holding the animals who in turn shall send the notice required in RCW 16.04.020 to the animals' owner of record by certified mail.

If the county sheriff or the brand inspector determines that there is no apparent damage to the property of the person retaining the animals, or if the person sustaining the damage contacts the county sheriff or brand inspector to have the animals removed from his or her property, such animals shall be removed in accordance with chapter 16.13 RCW. Such removal shall not prejudice the property owner's ability to recover damages through civil suit.

Sec. 17. Section 7, chapter 31, Laws of 1893 and RCW 16.04.050 are each amended to read as follows:

On motion of Senator Newhouse, the following title amendment was adopted:

MOTION

On motion of Senator Hansen, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3024 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Barr, I notice that first this bill establishes what a lawful fence is and then it also provides where there is a partition fence. Now, one of those wealthy cattlemen alongside of my scrubland decides he wants to put in a partition fence, then I have to share in it and if we can't agree, we have two weeks and then they can go to court--and collect attorney fees. Is that very fair? One person with two or three thousand acres of land is going to fence it and then wants me to share in the cost of that fence. They're well able to bear the burden and I'm not. I was wondering why that was put in the bill?"

Senator Barr: "I'm glad you brought that to the body's attention, Senator Rasmussen, because I think in the substitute part of it, that was deleted and so you're right in line with other people's concerns."

Senator Rasmussen: "Thank you. That's not in the bill any more then? I found it in my bill and didn't notice that it was taken out."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3024 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 47; nays, 2.

Voting nay: Senators Pullen, Rasmussen - 2.

ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 3024, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

At 2:45 p.m., on motion of Senator Vognild, the Senate was declared to be at ease.

The Senate was called to order at 3:40 p.m. by President Cherberg.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 3596, by Senators Granlund, Kiskaddon, Talmadge, Deccio and Kreidler (by Office of Financial Management request)

Changing provisions relating to the state criminal justice information system.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Granlund, the following Committee on Ways and Means amendment was adopted:

On page 5, beginning on line 22, strike all of section 7

Senator Pullen moved that the following amendment be adopted:

On page 5, line 21, add a new subsection (3) as follows:

"(3) The corrections standards board shall keep records on all sentencings above or below the standard range defined by chapter 9.94A RCW. As a minimum, the records shall include the name of the offender, the crimes for which the offender was sentenced, the name and county of the sentencing judge, and the deviation from the standard range. Such records shall be made available to public officials upon request."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Talmadge: "Would you object to the idea of an amendment to this amendment that would make it the Sentencing Guidelines Commission as opposed to the Corrections Standards Board which only deals with standards in jails?"

Senator Pullen: "Not at all. I think that would be most desirable."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Talmadge, the following amendment to the amendment was adopted:

On the first line of the amendment, strike "Corrections Standards Board" and insert "Sentencing Guidelines Commission"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Newhouse: "Senator Talmadge, I had the same concern you did. But now how is the Sentencing Guidelines Commission to have knowledge of these sentences above or beyond the standard range? It happens in every court in the state, I suppose. Are they required to report to anyone, or how in the world can they be collected unless someone has that authority?"

Senator Talmadge: "I think they'll probably have to acquire it from the court administrator's office. That would be my best guess, as to where that data would be available. It would either be in the judicial information system or in the criminal justice information system--one of the two. I assume on this issue that Senator Pullen is looking simply for someone to acquire it from one or more of the information systems that already exist. My understanding is that we do that already with respect to juvenile offenders, where we found, much to everyone's surprise, the judges departed, in the vast majority of cases, above the guidelines rather than below."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senator Pullen, as amended.

The motion by Senator Pullen carried and the amendment, as amended, was adopted.

MOTIONS

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Fleming: "Senator Moore, recognizing that the state banks would like to be able to use this bill to help them be more competitive, would SeaFirst now be one of those banks that are able to charge the upper limit, since (1) they are owned by the Bank of Cal and (2) maybe their operations for credit cards have been moved out of the state--I'm not sure whether they have or not. Would they be one of those that these local banks would have to compete with--with this larger amount?"

Senator Moore: "Any bank in the state would be blanketed in by this. This was promoted by one individual bank, but the rest will benefit from it."

Senator Fleming: "O.K. But if this bill did not pass, which banks in the state would be beneficiary to do what the out-of-state banks do? In other words, would SeaFirst be able to charge this higher rate whether this bill passed or not--or are they already charging it since, maybe, their operations have moved out of state?"

Senator Moore: "It is my understanding that they are one of the ones that are not charging a higher rate and they are as low as anybody in the state."

Senator Fleming: "So they would be able to take advantage of it?"

Senator Moore: "They would be able to take advantage, yes."

Further debate ensued.

MOTION

On page 1, line 20 after "(4)" insert "The patrol shall collect such information as will enable it to retrieve immediately the following information about a missing child: Name, date of birth, social security number, fingerprint classification, relevant physical descriptions, and known associates and locations. Access to the preceding information shall be available to appropriate law enforcement agencies, and to parents and legal guardians, when appropriate."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Talmadge: "Senator Bluechel, I certainly have no problem with the accumulation of that kind of data about the child, because I think it would be helpful. The question I have is--to what degree would the State Patrol have to affirmatively go out and seek that information out--such as known associates and locations and fingerprints, if such information were not readily available to the State Patrol?"

Senator Bluechel: "If the fingerprints aren't available, they are simply not available, but if they're taken in one of these registration drives such as some of the PTAs are putting on or some of the community groups, then we would have to assume that they are available. If I read the remainder of the bill, which I believe is your bill, it says the information shall include pictures, bulletins, training sessions, reports and biographical materials. What we're trying to do here is point out what is most important in this group. There may be other material and there may be some of this missing, but we're trying to make the file as complete as possible to fit in with the national file and any other files other states might have."

Senator Talmadge: "I just wanted to make sure we didn't have to send a state trooper out to the location to do an investigation to come up with the data such as associates, locations, etc."

Senator Bluechel: "Senator Talmadge, you're approaching another one of the bills that was in your committee where there was actually a system set up to train local agencies to take this kind of data. This is not in this bill, but this goes as far as it reads in the amendment here."

Senator Talmadge: "But would it require the State Patrol to affirmatively send out an investigator to acquire the data, or could the State Patrol simply rely on the information sent to it by the local law enforcement agency indicating that the State Patrol would like to have the things enumerated in your amendment?"

Senator Bluechel: "The instructions to the local agencies would be to provide this data if available. We are missing--as I mentioned one of the bills that did not pass out of committee would have taken care of that particular problem. There is nothing in this bill that says the State Patrol has to go out and get it itself. What we are doing here is trying to set up a statewide structure that goes into the local police agency where they all operate on the same basis."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senator Bluechel.

The motion by Senator Bluechel carried and the amendment was adopted.

Relating to water rights.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Hansen, Substitute Senate Bill No. 4424 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 4424 and the substitute bill was advanced to second reading and read the second time.

On motion of Senator Hansen, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 4424 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Talmadge: "Senator Hansen, were these people actually denied the water rights or did they simply fail because of the time deadline?"

Senator Hansen: "Just over the time deadline and since they had the water rights, they thought they were secure and they didn't have any staff on the irrigation district. When they found out about this adjudication and one individual filed for a well right and found out that the irrigation district hadn't even filed for their total water rights, so if you went into the adjudication process, there would be 1,100 acres setting out there high and dry without any water rights, so what we're doing is just opening the window long enough to let them jump through."

Senator Talmadge: "So they'll get a fair chance to have it go up or down depending upon the merit?"

Senator Hansen: "Yes."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bottiger: "Senator Hansen, is this restricted just to the Yakima?"

Senator Hansen: "That's right. We opened the window just for the Yakima Basin and there had to be a water right before 1900 in order to qualify."

Senator Bottiger: "Are there other areas that might, also, have fallen into the same trap?"

Senator Hansen: "I doubt it very much. We opened this window in about 1978 for a period, and by that time everyone that we figured knew about it, and there were about 300 that jumped through that window."

Senator Bottiger: "My brother-in-law is the ditchmaster for the Entiat irrigation system. I'm going to call him and make sure he didn't miss this, too. And if he did, I'll fix it in the House."

Senator Hansen: "And I'll help you."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 4424.

Establishing a state agricultural finance commission.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Goltz, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3378 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 3378 and the substitute bill was advanced to second reading and read the second time.

On motion of Senator Hansen, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3378 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Deccio: "Senator Fleming, how will the commission deal with marginal accounts? Does it have to be somebody that has A-Number One credit in order to get these loans? Where do you cap off those folks who can go down to the bank and borrow money at the regular rate?"

Senator Fleming: "Senator Deccio, basically, what the commission will do--it will set up rules and regulations and make deals through the banking institutions and these particular loan requirements that will be set up will be no different than the other requirements. They will go through a process, and what this allows them to do is just to apply for these--just as they would--just like in industrial revenue bonds. There are some requirements set up on the federal level of the purchase of land up to $250,000, etc., but the requirements would be set up by the commission. Secondly, the banking institutions themselves--they are all for this. Originally, like on the housing finance, they were concerned that there might be some competition, but that is not the case. They would establish these rules and regulations as to how or the level of the cap in terms of the agricultural community."

Senator Deccio: "So then the commission would set the guidelines and not leave it to the banks? The banks, most of the time, if you don't need any money, they'll give you all you want and if you need it, they won't give you any. I'd hate to see this kind of a program put into that kind of a position."

Senator Fleming: "They would establish the criteria, etc. and the loans would be handled just like any other loans with financial institutions. The commission, itself, would not be making the loans. They would be made through the normal process."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Guess: "Senator Fleming, you mentioned 250,000. Do you mean acres? I can't go buy a farm. I need $1 million two. Can I go buy a farm?"

Senator Fleming: "These are to help you finance--not to finance your entire package. It's dollars. There are those individuals now--you see it is difficult for young farmers to get into the business--to make the kinds of loans--so these loans would help them do that kind of thing--not make the whole purchase."

Further debate ensued.

MOTION

On motion of Senator von Reichbauer, Senator Lee was excused.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator McDonald: "Mr. President, how many votes are required for the passage of this bill?"

MOTION

On motion of Senator Vognild, further consideration of Substitute Senate Bill No. 3378 was deferred.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Talmadge, I see in the background material--let me explain--we have a problem in Pierce County. Our county auditor consolidated a precinct and made it a 900 person precinct--from 700 to 900--which is contrary to state law. The county council has told him that he must reduce it to within the state law. Does this give any extra authority to the county auditor to move on his own?"

Senator Talmadge: "No, Senator Rasmussen. The only thing that this bill permits the county auditor to do is that under those circumstances where a city annexes county territory, the auditor could adjust the boundaries to reflect that annexation of territory by the county authority, within state law."

Senator Rasmussen: "Within state law?"

Senator Talmadge: "Within state law, correct."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Hansen: "Mr. President a point of personal privilege. I personally want to thank this Senate for the support they have given the agricultural community in our economic development packages that make this possible. This is the first step. Thank you."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Stratton: "Mr. President a point of personal privilege. I have different emotions about all of this because I need to tell you that I am losing my young, attractive male secretary on April 10. He is going on a three week translation tour to the People's Republic of China and he will be gone for six weeks, so I enjoyed their visit here, but I am sorry to lose my secretary to them. PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Granlund: "Mr. President a point of personal privilege. Senator Rasmussen, I know that you would not intentionally impugn my motives or misinterpret any kind of conversation that we may have had. We may have joked in the dining room--as I remember we did have a conversation. At no time do I remember using the words, 'I was trapped.' I think the record should show that. Thank you."

REMARKS BY SENATOR RASMUSSEN

Senator Rasmussen: "My apologies to Senator Granlund. When I interpreted your conversation, I merely said that sometimes you do get trapped and I'm sorry if that's impugning your motives. Everybody's motives on this floor are as pure as the drifted snow--until they get out to the people. That's what counts. I'm very sorry, Senator Granlund. You and I have been friends ever since you've been here and we want to continue."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

President Cherberg: "The normal procedure would be--you have given notice and your notice of reconsideration would be considered tomorrow."

Senator Hansen: "Tomorrow would be fine."

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 3333, by Senators Warnke, Vognild, Sellar, Wojahn, Goltz, Bottiger, Fleming, Deccio, Moore, Stratton, Peterson, Lee, Thompson, Hansen, Conner, Barr, Garrett, Owen, Kreidler, Granlund, McManus, Gaspard, Bauer, DeJarnatt, McDermott, Halsan, Guess, Bender and Metcalf

Regulating motorcycle dealers' franchises.

MOTIONS

Senator Cantu moved that the following amendment be adopted:

On page 7, line 20, after "distributor" strike the semi-colon and insert "and except in those instances where a dealer orders motorcycles in sufficient numbers to qualify for volume discounts"

On motion of Senator Warnke, the following amendment to the amendment was adopted:

On line 4 of the amendment after "discounts" insert "and as long as discounts are available to all dealers"

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senator Cantu, as amended.

The motion by Senator Cantu carried and the amendment, as amended, was adopted.

MOTION

Senator McDonald moved that the following amendment be adopted:

On page 10, line 10, strike all of NEW SECTION. Section 6, through line 23 on page 11 and renumber the remaining sections consecutively.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Warnke, on line 38, that kind of bothers me. How do you make a determination whether it's injurious to the public welfare for the proposed dealer to be established or relocated? On page 10, line 36--that's the part that Senator McDonald is proposing to eliminate with his amendment. Would we go to DSHS and have them make a determination on public welfare? It bothers me as to how you would make that determination."

Senator Warnke: "I believe, in this section, we're talking about the competition between dealers and whether or not a distributor may overload an area. In speaking of the public welfare, they are talking about the flooding of the market and forcing that person out of business and how that will affect the market place for the purchaser of a motorcycle."

Senator Rasmussen: "Under the Dealer's Act, I don't think you have the public welfare in there. As I understand it, if General Motors or American Motors or Chrysler or any of them come in and relieve you of your dealership, they then have to pay you for your stock and your costs involved in setting up, but I don't think they have public welfare in there. This is a strange provision. Could we amend this, also, to include prohibiting Nordstroms from coming in alongside the Bon and Fredericks? Competition is terrific."

Senator Warnke: "I'm not sure that that would fit under this section of the code in dealing with the Motor Vehicle Franchise Act, if we went to Nordstroms."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Talmadge: "Senator Warnke, the concern I have about the section to which Senator McDonald refers is the issue of antitrust liability--not only for the individual manufacturer involved but also for the state--in light of some of the recent cases that have imposed antitrust liability on states that sanction anticompetitive behavior. What I am curious about is whether or not you have some kind of legal opinion from your staff or the Attorney General's office with respect to the issue of antitrust liability for the individual manufacturers or for the state in this particular area?"

Senator Warnke: "There was testimony from the Attorney General's office and from the FDC in which they questioned the possibility. Neither of them said it was. One of the things we are doing in the act--I believe it's section 12 or 13--we are asking for LBC and for us, too, to look at the entire franchise act, including this particular bill, over the next year or so and possibly with the Judiciary Committee be able to answer those types of questions at the next session of the legislature."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senator McDonald.

The motion by Senator McDonald failed and the amendment was not adopted on a rising vote.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Vognild, further consideration of Substitute Senate Bill No. 3333 was deferred.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McDonald: "Senator Granlund, one of the things I wish we had here was a fiscal note. Does this have a fiscal impact on local governments at all?"

Senator Granlund: "No, there is no fiscal impact on local governments. One of the things I didn't mention would be that the Corrections Standards Board will monitor this and there is no fiscal impact to them, because they are doing that type of thing with the jails and our correctional facilities anyway."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Granlund, I haven't had a chance to read the bill yet and I'm sorry. It provides that the juvenile may be detained in an adult facility. Does that mean that they would have a separate cell, or can they be put in the tank?"

Senator Granlund: "No. I'm sorry you didn't hear my statement. They must be out of sight and sound of an adult while they are being detained for 24 hours only."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 4229.

Debate ensued.

MOTION

Senator McDonald moved that the following amendment to the amendment be adopted:

Strike everything in the amendment after "15" in line 1 of the amendment

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Warnke: "Senator Bottiger, on the amendment, if we have no severability clause in the bill at all and a portion of the bill is declared invalid, is not the whole bill declared invalid then?"

Senator Bottiger: "I believe that would be up to the court as to whether or not the intent of the legislature is still there without the portion declared invalid by the court or by a gubernatorial veto, then submitted to the court. I can't answer that question—I think it would be up to the judges."

Senator Warnke: "Exactly my comments, Senator Bottiger. How would they ever know the intent of the legislature if we take the severability clause out? It would seem to me the court would interpret that we did not mean to have one there."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment to the amendment by Senator McDonald.

The motion by Senator McDonald carried and the amendment to the amendment was adopted.

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Thompson, on page 4, section 5, it says--'general obligation bonds may be issued by the city or town for the purpose of providing all or part of the cost of purchasing, acquiring or constructing a public utility or making any additions or betterments thereto or extensions thereof.' The court in the WPPSS case ruled that the people did not have an opportunity to vote on those bonds that were issued for the nuclear plants and therefore couldn't be required to pay. This would indicate that you may issue bonds for betterment or additions. Does that not include nuclear plants? What limitations are there?"

Senator Thompson: "To the limitations described in the bill--as you just read it."

Senator Rasmussen: "But this is another section of the bill. This includes betterment or additions. If you want to add an addition and add a nuclear plant, you could do it without a vote of the people and they would be liable for the WPPSS bonds which the court ruled on."

Senator Thompson: "I don't read it that way, Senator Rasmussen."

SENATE BILL NO. 3792, by Senators Moore, Sellar and Wojahn (by Department of General Administration request)

Modifying provisions relating to banks and banking.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Moore, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3792 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 3792 and the substitute bill was advanced to second reading and read the second time.

On motion of Senator Pullen, the following amendment by Senators Pullen, Moore and Lee was adopted:

On page 1, after line 19, insert a new section as follows, and renumber the remaining sections accordingly:

"NEW SECTION, Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 30.04 RCW to read as follows:

Each person making a deposit in a bank or trust company shall be given a receipt that shall show or in conjunction with the deposit slip can be used to trace the name of the bank or trust company, the name of the account, the account number, the date, and the amount deposited. If specifically requested by the depositor when making the deposit, the receipt must expressly show the name of the bank or trust company, the date, the amount deposited, plus either the name of the account or the account number or both the name of the account and the account number."

On motion of Senator Moore, the following title amendment was adopted:

On page 1, line 2 of the title, after "adding" strike "a new section" and insert "new sections"

On motion of Senator Moore, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3792 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Talmadge: "Senator Moore, I was particularly interested in section 4 of the bill which permits the loans to officers of the bank. If I read that section right, the bank could make a loan to one of its corporate officers in the amount of 5% of the bank's capital, an unimpaired surplus or $25,000 whichever is larger--and up to the maximum amount of a half million dollars. Is that correct?"

Senator Moore: "That's correct, providing the 5% rule pertains."

Senator Talmadge: "What justification was given for the need to make loans of a half million dollars to the directors of the corporation, particular bank holding company or bank officers?"

Senator Moore: "It's a penalty, in my opinion, to preclude the right of anybody to borrow from an institution within limits, even if they are an officer or director. I was once an officer and director and stockholder in a savings and loan and I couldn't borrow any money, not even to finance my house, and I think that this is somewhat of a hardship."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3792.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 4129, by Senator McCaslin (by Corrections Standards Board request)

Revising certain work-release provisions.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Granlund, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 4129 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Pullen: "Senator McCaslin, could you explain on page 2, lines 25 and 26--why we are changing the period from one-fourth to one-third for the reduction of the prisoner's sentence for good conduct?"

Senator McCaslin: "I think that's bringing it into conformance. I think they've allowed one-fourth for work release and for good time and they are combining the two now, so they are the same. Isn't that right, Senator Granlund? Go ahead, Senator Granlund."

Senator Granlund: "What they are doing is--now work release has only one-fourth good time and those other prisoners that are in county jails have one-third, and the Corrections Standards Board would like to see that uniform and they are asking that we bring the one-fourth up to one-third. It's not combined."

Senator Pullen: "I understand that if you're in jail and you're behind the bars, but your behavior is good, then one-third could be knocked off your sentence. This has that if you're out on work release, one-fourth could be knocked off, but with any consideration given to the fact that a prisoner may enjoy being out on work release and would much prefer being out on work release and having one-fourth knocked off rather than being cooped up in the jail and having one-third being knocked off.

"In other words, it seems like the work release prisoners are getting a dual benefit. In one case, they get out to work and get out of jail and then they get one-third knocked off besides. So, it almost seems they're getting a dual benefit. It seems to me there might have been some logic to the one-fourth in connection with work release, because they are getting the privilege of work release, and then you knock off one-fourth and that's a privilege, too, but not quite as much as the one-third. It, perhaps, seems like the old law was logical."

Senator Granlund: "Senator Pullen, I think we're getting into philosophical reasons and I will yield back to Senator McCaslin if he'd like to continue the conversation. I think it's a perfectly appropriate thing for the Correction Standards Board to be asking and I would suggest that we support it."

Senator McCaslin: "I think you have to read (e) and (f) together. Let me read from the bill--'with court approval the prisoner's sentence may be reduced'--it doesn't say it has to be, Senator Pullen--'by one-third if the prisoner's conduct, diligence and general attitude merits the reduction.' They have to merit the reduction. Now (f), 'if the work release prisoner violates the conditions of custody or employment, the prisoner shall be returned to the sentencing court--the sentencing court may require the prisoner to spend the remainder of the sentence in actual confinement and may cancel any earned reduction of the sentence.' So, I think they are well covered, Senator Pullen."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Senate Bill No. 4129.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bottiger: "Senator Warnke, if an employer has not filed and there is an injury, does the director retain his discretion to impose the penalty for someone who is not discovered, in fact, until there is an injury.?"

Senator Warnke: "It's at the discretion of the director and it says the director 'may,' so under that circumstance I really don't know what the director would do."

Senator Bottiger: "But he retains the ability to make the fine in that case."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McDermott: "Senator Warnke, what's the penalty for not paying the industrial insurance premium?"

Senator Warnke: "I don't know at this moment. I'll walk off the floor and see if I can get it."

Senator McDermott: "Maybe we can set this bill down. I'd like to know why we are exempting anybody."

REMARKS BY SENATOR VOGNILD

Senator Vognild: "Maybe I can help a little with this. We're not really letting anybody off free on this. What we're doing is asking those who are out there that either didn't know they were supposed to file, or maybe they just didn't file for some reason. This notice goes out saying that you can come in and correct this mistake without a penalty, but you have to come in and correct it. If the department goes out and finds them, then there is no correction on it and they're not let off from anything. It's asking people to comply."

Further debate ensued.

Creating the crime of vagrancy.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Talmadge, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3154 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 3154 and the substitute bill was advanced to second reading and read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Pullen moved that the following title amendment be adopted:

On page 1, line 1 of the title after "of" strike "vagrancy" and insert "disorderly conduct"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Moore: "Senator Pullen, do you consider disorderly conduct more violent than vagrancy or less so?"

Senator Pullen: "I believe in the generic sense it would be considered more so."

Senator Moore: "I just want to be sure of that. Otherwise, I would consider offering an amendment to the bill rather than the title."

Senator Pullen: "In the bill, Senator Moore, if you take a look at line 16, it defines disorderly as a misdemeanor as the penalty and the new underlined language in subsection (d) has included a new item which falls under the definition of disorderly conduct. Disorderly conduct and vagrancy are two different things. If we have an act relating to vagrancy which would then set forth the penalty for disorderly conduct it could be construed as having a subject matter that does not fit the title."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the title amendment.

The motion by Senator Pullen carried and the title amendment was adopted.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Talmadge, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3154 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator McDonald: "I wasn't quick enough on this, I'm sorry, but this question, I think, is important to the body. Senator Pullen's amendment did amend the title before the semicolon. He changed vagrancy to disorderly conduct. It probably is not a major amendment, but it raises a major constitutional question. In your opinion, can we amend the title before the semicolon, thereby changing the scope, basically, of the bill? For instance, you could have an act relating to education and amend it to be higher education in some cases. That's a question that I would pose to you."

REMARKS BY SENATOR PULLEN

Senator Pullen: "Senator McDonald should be commended for his interest in such matters. I think the President could have days and days of interesting study of this issue. Of course, the President, traditionally, has not made constitutional rulings, but there are a few extra issues here. No. 1, this is a substitute bill rather than the original bill. That's one factor to consider. No. 2, this amendment was more in the nature of a correction rather than a change in philosophy or approach. No. 3, had the amendment not been adopted, it's possible that the subject matter of the bill would not conform to the title. Under our rules, it is essential, as well as under the constitution, that the subject matter do conform with the title of the bill. This was an unusual amendment. It was not an amendment that attempted to adjust the title in some sinister way. It was more an amendment needed to correct the title so that the subject matter of the bill fit the title. That would be a much different situation than where one would take a bill and try to change the enacting clause for some other reason."

Further debate ensued.

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "The adoption of the amendment was untimely, but the President can see no difficulty or any problem attached to the adoption of the amendment. After all, this was describing disorderly conduct as a misdemeanor in the bill."

Further debate ensued.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3154 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote:

Yeas, 49.

Voting yea: Senators Bailey, Barr, Bauer, Bender, Benitz, Bluechel, Bottiger, Cantu, Conner, Craswell, Deccio, DeJarnatt, Fleming, Garrett, Gaspard, Goltz, Granlund, Guess, Halsan, Hansen, Hayner, Johnson, Kiskaddon, Kreidler, Lee, McCaslin, McDermott, McDonald, McManus, Metcalf, Moore, Newhouse, Owen, Patterson, Peterson, Pullen, Rasmussen, Rinehart, Saling, Sellar, Stratton, Talmadge, Thompson, Vognild, von Reichbauer, Warnke, Williams, Wojahn, Zimmerman - 49.

ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 3154, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Fleming: "Senator McDermott, can you assure me that this will be the last time I'll have to vote on this measure?"

Senator McDermott: "I have been here for a number of years and as we send legislation over to the House of Representative--we all pray together."

Senator Fleming: "Mr. President, then I guess I'll have to vote 'maybe.'"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Cantu: "Senator Warnke, the definition of 'lifetime membership' seems to be one that concerns the members of the industry and I'm wondering if you would explain to us the definition of a lifetime contract under this bill?"

Senator Warnke: "This bill prohibits lifetime contracts, but in order to be able to handle that issue, it simply says that there is no definition of long term contracts. Contracts are limited to three years, but if they extend past three years the person who is buying the service must initial that portion of the contract which, specifically, deals with the length of the contract over three years. We have worked this bill very closely with members of the industry and the consumers and they find it acceptable."

Further debate ensued.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 3165, by Senators Bottiger, Thompson, Vognild, Bauer, von Reichbauer and Bailey

Creating new superior court judicial positions.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Talmadge, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3165 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 3165 and the substitute bill was advanced to second reading and read the second time.

On motion of Senator Talmadge, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3165 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Talmadge, I think this is the first time we've used this approach. Is this to get around Initiative 62?"

Senator Talmadge: "No, it's the second time we've used this approach. We used it in 1980 when we authorized five new judicial positions for King County and required the approval of the King County Council for those new positions."

Senator Rasmussen: "It works, then?"

Senator Talmadge: "It does."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Guess: "Senator Talmadge, it says a fiscal note is requested. Could you give us an idea how much it's going to cost us?"

Senator Talmadge: "The state will have to bear its one-half share of the salaries of those judicial positions. I think for the year that would be approximately $120,000. That's just a guess. I don't have the fiscal note in front of me."

Senator Guess: "Who is requesting this--King County or the attorneys in King County?"

Senator Talmadge: "King County is not in this bill--Pierce County, Snohomish County and Clark County--and the testimony came from the legislative authorities and the judicial officers in those counties."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Guess: "Do you think we've got enough money to pay for this, Senator Rasmussen?"

Senator Rasmussen: "I don't know. I'm not on the County Council now. As far as the state is concerned, we have unlimited money."

Senator Guess: "Did you have anything to do with requesting this?"

Senator Rasmussen: "No."

Senator Guess: "Did they come to you and ask for it?"

Senator Rasmussen: "No."

Senator Guess: "Are you going to give it to them?"

Senator Rasmussen: "They have to assume the cost if they want them, and I was very glad to hear Senator Talmadge explain that."

Senator Guess: "They will only assume the counties' cost and not the state's costs. It's going to cost the state $120,000 and the county $120,000."

Senator Rasmussen: "We went through Governor Gardner's budget and it would look like there was going to be a slight surplus there, and so I think the state could handle it all right."

Senator Guess: "Thank you, Senator. You made up my mind."

Senator Deccio: "Senator Kreidler, on page 2, line 25--that deals with penalties that are now in the federal law?"

Senator Kreidler: "The first amendment there was a substitute in there of the new sub (f), which specifies what is current federal law and does not have any penalties relative to a nursing home charging more for a private patient than for a state patient."

Senator Deccio: "So, then they would not be limited to charging private patient rates which might be more than the Medicaid rates?"

Senator Kreidler: "That is correct."

Senator Deccio: "Then the second one requires that the department maintain a list. What does sub (3) do?"

Senator Kreidler: "A nursing home is required to maintain a list of people who have requested admission to that nursing home. They have to maintain that list for one year upon the request and it is a preference list for who will be admitted to the nursing homes to make sure that state patients are not bypassed by private patients who can be charged more."

Senator Deccio: "One more question. These were not presented in committee. I was just wondering why?"

Senator Kreidler: "At the time, I wasn't sure of the support and opposition. I had an opportunity to talk to the proponents along with some of the people who might have problems with it. I received assurances from both parties and decided to offer it as a floor amendment."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McDonald: "Senator Deccio, you have some expertise in this area, obviously. Could you enlighten me at all on the severity of some of the complaints that have been lodged that would result in this bill?"

Senator Deccio: "I think the body needs to know that this bill was brought to us by some advocacy groups who were concerned, not about the murders, rapes, harassments, robberies, dope, etc. They're only concerned about staff. None of the evidence we got indicated, as Senator Kreidler says, that people were being deprived of their rights. I don't think that's happening at all. Sure, the department didn't oppose it, because--though they didn't like it--how is a department going to come before a committee and oppose a bill before a committee?"

"There's $50,000 appropriated in this bill and I think it's $50,000 wasted. We're saying that we don't trust the Department of Corrections--we don't like the way they're running the prisons. I think if that's the case, the Governor ought to remove the Secretary. We're appealing to the whims of some of those folks down there. When one inmate files two hundred complaints, I think we ought to take a look at that. To do what we're seeing here is just going to appeal to mischief in terms of those people who would like to keep themselves busy and they do it in this way--by filing complaints. There were really no hard problems that came before the committee."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 3503.

No, I think this is just saying to the Lottery Commission, 'we are going to take some of this money and use it for economic development'--that is all we're going to say. POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Halsan: "Senator Hayner, if we're going to be giving all this money for economic development purposes and not really knowing where it goes, would you support my Senate Joint Resolution No. 104 to amend the provisions of lending the state's credit, so we could engage in economic development activity?"

MOTION

At 11:56 a.m., on motion of Senator Vognild, the Senate recessed until 1:30 p.m.

AFTERNOON SESSION

The Senate was called to order at 1:30 p.m. by President Cherberg.

There being no objection, the President advanced the Senate to the sixth order of business.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 3786, by Senators DeJarnatt and Owen

Establishing misdemeanor offense for theft of shopping carts.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Vognild, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3786 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 3786 and the substitute bill was advanced to second reading and read the second time.

On motion of Senator Vognild, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3786 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Lee: "Senator Talmadge, I always thought it was illegal to steal anyone else's property. Would this be a good vehicle to add things such as towels from hotels, books from libraries, etc.? I guess what I am asking is--do we need specific laws for this kind of thing?"

Senator Talmadge: "A vehicle so to speak, Senator Lee? My understanding is that it is already, obviously, a crime to steal someone else's property and if you stole a shopping cart, that would be treated under the theft statute. What this bill does in specific, is make possession of a shopping cart off the premises of the owner, a crime--a misdemeanor. That possession of a shopping cart, at the present time, is not treated as theft and is not a crime. The idea of the bill is to make possession without the permission of the owner, off the premises, a misdemeanor."

Further debate ensued.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Bender, Senator Owen was excused.

On motion of Senator Zimmerman, Senator Sellar was excused.

Absent: Senators Benitz, Deccio - 2.

Excused: Senators Owen, Sellar - 2.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 3717, by Senator McDermott

Relating to retirement systems.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator McDermott, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3717 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 3717 and the substitute bill was advanced to second reading and read the second time.

Senator McDermott moved that the following amendment be adopted:

On page 10, after line 2, insert the following:

"Sec. 13. Section 6, chapter 294, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. as amended by section 10, chapter 184, Laws of 1984 and RCW 41.26.450 are each amended to read as follows:

The required contribution rates to the retirement system for members, employers, and the state of Washington shall be established by the director from time to time as may be necessary upon the advice of the state actuary.

The member, the employer and the state shall each contribute the following shares of the cost of the retirement system:

Member	50%
Employer	30%
State	20%

Effective January 1, 1986, however, no contributions are required for any calendar month in which the member is not granted service credit.

Any adjustments in contribution rates required from time to time for future costs shall likewise be shared proportionally by the members, employers, and the state: PROVIDED, That the costs of amortizing the unfunded supplemental present value of the retirement system, in existence on September 30, 1977, shall be borne in full by the state.

Any increase in the contribution rate required as the result of a failure of the state or of an employer to make any contribution required by this section shall be borne in full by the state or by that employer not making the contribution.

The director shall notify all employers of any pending adjustment in the required contribution rate and such increase shall be announced at least thirty days prior to the effective date of the change.

Members' contributions required by this section shall be deducted from the members basic salary each payroll period. The members contribution and the employers contribution shall be remitted directly to the department within fifteen days following the end of the calendar month during which the payroll period ends.

Until such time as the director shall establish other rates, members, employers of such members, and the state shall each contribute the following percentages of basic salary:

Member	8.14%
Employer	4.88%
State	3.28%

In addition, the state shall initially contribute an additional twenty percent of basic salary per member to amortize the unfunded supplemental present value of the retirement system in effect on September 30, 1977.

Sec. 14. Section 11, chapter 14, Laws of 1963 ex. sess. as last amended by section 1, chapter 236, Laws of 1984 and RCW 41.32.401 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) For the purpose of establishing and maintaining an actuarial reserve adequate to meet present and future liabilities of the system and to pay for an equitable portion of the operating expenses of the department, the director shall determine the necessary contribution rates to be made by each employer on all members' total earnable compensation on the basis of the latest valuation prepared by the state actuary, and shall include a percentage contribution of the total earnable compensation, to be known as the "normal contribution" and an additional percentage contribution of such earnable compensation, to be known as the "unfunded liability contribution." The director shall notify employers of such rates at least thirty days prior to their effective date. Such determination shall provide for amortization of unfunded retirement system liabilities over a period of not more than fifty years from July 1, 1964. The legislature shall appropriate to the superintendent of public instruction the full amount recommended by the state actuary for the employer contribution rates for state funded certificated staff. The amounts shall be deposited in the teachers' retirement fund for the payment of pensions, survivors' benefits, and the employer's share of the operating expenses for the system. However, a school district for the 1985-86 school year shall not be required to pay to the department of retirement systems for the employer contribution to the teachers' retirement system, any amount in excess of the funds received by such school district from the state through the office of the superintendent of public instruction for such purpose, and for the 1986-87 school year and thereafter, a school district shall not be required to pay at a rate exceeding the rate that the director sets for the employer contribution for each employee. Effective January 1, 1986, however, no contributions will be required for the calendar months in which the member is not granted service credit if the member or employee first established membership on or after October 1, 1977.

(2) In order to equitably reimburse the department of retirement systems expense fund, the director shall ascertain and report to each employer the contribution rate necessary to defray its proportional share of the cost of administering this chapter during either the next biennium or fiscal year, whichever is required to provide the amounts needed to defray such cost of administration. The director shall also ascertain at the beginning of either each biennium or each fiscal year, whichever is required, and request from the legislature an appropriation for the department of retirement systems expense fund sufficient to cover estimated expenses for the biennium or fiscal year.

Sec. 15. Section 6, chapter 293, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. as amended by section 11, chapter 184, Laws of 1984 and RCW 41.32.775 are each amended to read as follows:

The required contribution rates to the retirement system for both members and employers shall be established by the director from time to time as may be necessary upon the advice of the state actuary: PROVIDED, That the employer contribution shall be contributed as provided in RCW 41.32.401.

Contribution rates required to fund the costs of the retirement system shall always be equal for members and employers, except as herein provided. Effective January 1, 1986, however, no contribution is required for any calendar month in which the member is not granted service credit. Any adjustments in contribution rates required from time to time for future costs shall likewise be shared equally by the members and employers: PROVIDED, That the costs of amortizing the unfunded supplemental present value of the retirement system, in existence on September 30, 1977, shall be borne in full by the employers.

Any increase in the contribution rate required as the result of a failure of an employer to make any contribution required by this section shall be borne in full by the employer not making the contribution.

The director shall notify all employers of any pending adjustment in the required contribution rate and such increase shall be announced at least thirty days prior to the effective date of the change.

Members contributions required by this section shall be deducted from the members earnable compensation each payroll period. The members contribution shall be remitted directly to the department within fifteen days following the end of the calendar month during which the payroll period ends and the employers contribution shall be remitted as provided by law.

Until such time as the director shall establish other rates, members and employers of such members shall each contribute 5.66% of earnable compensation: PROVIDED, That employers shall initially contribute an additional 5.80% of earnable compensation per member to amortize the unfunded supplemental present value of the retirement system in effect on September 30, 1977.

Sec. 16. Section 34, chapter 274, Laws of 1947 as last amended by section 12, chapter 190, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. and RCW 41.40.330 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Each employee who is a member of the retirement system shall contribute five percent of his total compensation earnable: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That a retirement system expense fund contribution of two dollars and fifty cents per annum shall be transferred in semiannual payments of one dollar and twenty-five cents from each employee account balance in the employees' savings fund to the department of retirement systems expense fund account, as set forth in this section. On and after July 1, 1973, each employee who is a member of the retirement system shall contribute six percent of his total compensation earnable. Effective January 1, 1986, however, no contributions are required for any calendar month in which the member is not granted service credit. The officer responsible for making up the payroll shall deduct from the compensation of each member, on each and every payroll of such member for each and every payroll period subsequent to the date on which he became a member of the retirement system the contribution as provided by this section.

(2) Any member may, pursuant to regulations formulated from time to time by the board, provide for himself, by means of an increased rate of contribution to his account in the employees' savings fund, an increased prospective retirement allowance pursuant to RCW 41.40.190 and 41.40.185.

(3) The officer responsible for making up the payroll shall deduct from the compensation of each member covered by the provisions of RCW 41.40.190(5) and 41.40.185(4) on each and every payroll of such member for each and every payroll period subsequent to the date on which he thereafter becomes a member of the retirement system, an amount equal to seven and one-half percent of such member's compensation earnable.

Sec. 17. Section 38, chapter 274, Laws of 1947 as last amended by section 22, chapter 52, Laws of 1982 1st ex. sess. and RCW 41.40.370 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The director shall ascertain and report to each employer the contribution rates necessary to meet present and future pension liabilities of the system for the ensuing biennium or fiscal year, whichever is applicable. The amount to be so provided shall be computed by applying the rates of contribution as established by RCW 41.40.361 or 41.40.650 to an estimate of the total compensation earnable of all the said employer's members during the period for which provision is to be made.

(2) Beginning April 1, 1949, or October 1, 1977, as the case may be, the amount to be collected as the employer's contribution shall be computed by applying the applicable rates established by RCW 41.40.361 or 41.40.650 to the total compensation earnable of employer's members as shown on the current payrolls of the said employer, except no contributions are required for any calendar month in which the member is not granted service credit. Each said employer shall compute at the end of each month the amount due for that month and the same shall be paid as are its other obligations.

(3) In the event of failure, for any reason, of an employer other than a political subdivision of the state to have remitted amounts due for membership service of any of the employer's members rendered during a prior biennium, the director shall bill such employer through the director of financial management for such employer's contribution together with such charges as the director deems appropriate in accordance with RCW 41.50.120. Such billing shall be paid by the employer as, and the same shall be, a proper charge against any moneys available or appropriated to such employer for payment of current biennial payrolls.

Sec. 18. Section 6, chapter 295, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. as amended by section 12, chapter 184, Laws of 1984 and RCW 41.40.650 are each amended to read as follows:

The required contribution rates to the retirement system for both members and employers shall be established by the director from time to time as may be necessary upon the advice of the state actuary.

Contribution rates required to fund the costs of the retirement system shall always be equal for members and employers, except as herein provided. Effective January 1, 1986, however, no contribution is required for any calendar month in which the member is not granted service credit. Any adjustments in contribution rates required from time to time for future costs shall likewise be shared equally by the members and employers: PROVIDED, That the costs of amortizing the unfunded supplemental present value of the retirement system, in existence on September 30, 1977, shall be borne in full by the employers.

Any increase in the contribution rate required as the result of a failure of an employer to make any contribution required by this section shall be borne in full by the employer not making the contribution.

The director shall notify all employers of any pending adjustment in the required contribution rate and such increase shall be announced at least thirty days prior to the effective date of the change.

Members contributions required by this section shall be deducted from the members compensation earnable each payroll period. The members contribution and the employers contribution shall be remitted directly to the department within fifteen days following the end of the calendar month during which the payroll period ends.

Until such time as the director shall establish other rates, members and employers of such members shall each contribute 5.51% of compensation earnable: PROVIDED, That employers shall initially contribute an additional one and one-half percent of compensation earnable per member to amortize the unfunded supplemental present value of the retirement system in effect on September 30, 1977."

Renumber the sections consecutively.

Debate ensued.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Bottiger, further consideration of Substitute Senate Bill No. 3717 was deferred.

SENATE BILL NO. 3416, by Senators Moore, Rasmussen, Halsan, Warnke and McDonald

MOTIONS

Senator Vognild moved that the following amendment be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. Section 1, chapter 23, Laws of 1967 ex. sess. as last amended by section 1, chapter 254, Laws of 1981 and RCW 62A.3-515 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Whenever a check as defined in RCW 62A.3-104 has been dishonored by nonacceptance or nonpayment the payee or holder of the check is entitled to collect a reasonable handling fee for each such instrument. When such check has not been paid within fifteen days and after the holder of such check sends such notice of dishonor as provided by RCW 62A.3-520 to the drawer at his last known address, then if the instrument does not provide for the payment of interest, or collection costs and attorneys fees, the drawer of such instrument shall also be liable for payment of interest at the rate of twelve percent per annum from the date of dishonor and cost of collection not to exceed forty dollars or the face amount of the check, whichever is the lesser. In addition, in the event of court action on the check the court, after such notice and the expiration of said fifteen days, shall award a reasonable attorneys fee as part of the damages payable to the holder of the check. This section shall not apply to any instrument which has been dishonored by reason of any justifiable stop payment order.

(2)(a) In any action against a person who makes any check as defined in RCW 62A.3-104 brought no sooner than thirty days after notice of dishonor has been sent for the payment of money which has been dishonored for lack of funds or credit to pay the same, or because the maker has no account with the drawee, the payee or holder may recover from the defendant damages in an amount equal to one hundred dollars or triple the amount for which the check is drawn, whichever is greater, not to exceed five hundred dollars.

(b) Subsequent to the commencement of the action but prior to the hearing, the defendant may tender to the plaintiff as satisfaction of the claim, an amount of money equal to the sum of the amount of the check and the incurred court and service costs.

(c) Nothing in this section precludes the right to commence action in any court under chapter 12.40 RCW for small claims. The remedies in this subsection are in addition to any other rights granted in subsection (1) of this section.

Sec. 2. Section 2, chapter 62, Laws of 1969 as amended by section 2, chapter 254, Laws of 1981 and RCW 62A.3-520 are each amended to read as follows:

You are advised to make your payment to at the following address:

MOTION

Senator Fleming moved that the following amendments to the amendment be considered simultaneously and adopted:

On page 2, line 19 of the striking amendment after "amount" strike everything down to and including "dollars" on line 23 and insert "not to exceed one hundred dollars"

On page 4, line 2 of the striking amendment after "dollars" strike everything down to and including "dollars," on line 5

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Pullen: "Senator Vognild, my interest is in the amendments to your amendment, but in order to properly phrase it, I want to make sure I understand the provisions of your basic amendment. Am I correct in understanding your amendment that the triple damages can be avoided simply by paying the amount due within fifteen days? Is that correct?"

Senator Vognild: "Yes, that is correct. My amendment did not change that portion of the original bill."

Senator Pullen: "And the person who wrote the bad check must be notified by certified mail? Is that, also, part of your amendment?"

Senator Vognild: "No, that is not correct. Certified was taken out of both the substitute bill and the amendment."

Senator Pullen: "So, how are they notified?"

Senator Vognild: "They are notified by regular mail."

Further debate ensued.

CORRECTION OF ERROR IN POINT OF INQUIRY TO SENATOR PULLEN

Senator Vognild: "Thank you, Mr. President. I apologize to the body. I made an error in answering Senator Pullen's request. The mail notification is by certified mail. I apologize for that."

Senator Pullen: "I request that the remarks be entered in the Journal as a retraction, so that the record is clear."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "It shall be done, Senator."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendments by Senator Fleming to the amendment by Senator Vognild.

The motion by Senator Fleming carried and the amendments to the amendment were adopted on a rising vote.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Newhouse: "Senator Vognild, I was going to speak in favor of your amendment--I am entirely in favor of removing the drafts. In reviewing the language, and I recognize it's not yours, I find language in there that includes two reasons for which an action might be brought. One, is that there are not sufficient funds, and the other is if they have no account. In both cases, it appears that the one who has been abused is not to institute any action until thirty days have expired. Is that reasonable in the case of a 'no account'? Shouldn't the action be started immediately, if possible?"

Senator Vognild: "That question was brought up in committee and it was discussed. We were told that many times that banks admitted that they make mistakes and if you allow the action to take place immediately and the bank, in fact, has made a mistake, then you have an action in place. This was kind of a middle ground--with the fifteen day notice by certified mail and then the thirty days before action--was felt to be a reasonable middle ground."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senator Vognild, as amended.

The motion by Senator Vognild carried and the amendment, as amended, was adopted.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Bender, Senator Goltz was excused.

On motion of Senator Moore, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3416 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

SENATE BILL NO. 3452, by Senators Talmadge and Granlund

On motion of Senator Talmadge, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3452 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 3452 and the substitute bill was advanced to second reading and read the second time.

On motion of Senator Talmadge, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3452 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Pullen: "Senator Talmadge, I would like to commend you on working so effectively in this important area. One question I have--is there anything in the bill that limits cross-examination of the child witness?"

Senator Talmadge: "No, the concern that you raise was a concern that Senator Halsan raised in the proceedings of the committee. It makes clear that the right of cross-examination is still present, but you will note in the bill that there is a section on page 3 which makes it clear that nothing in this section limits or expand the court's discretion in exercising reasonable control over the mode and order in interrogating witnesses and presenting evidence so as to protect witnesses from harassment or undue embarrassment. In other words, what we've done is preserve the right of cross-examination, but made clear that we want the court to exercise the maximum amount of discretion so that the child witness is not intimidated by counsel and undue embarrassment or harassment is clearly avoided."

Further debate ensued.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 3452 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 47; excused, 2.

SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 3452, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator McDonald: "A point of personal privilege. Mr. President and fellow members of the Senate, on your desk is a piece of paper with an almost indistinguishable signature, I've been told, on the top--mine. It's called 'Scenarios for March through July 10 Collections.' This is from the Economic and Revenue Forecasting Council and these are the six scenarios that Dr. Song, who is the director of the Forecasting Council, has given us as members. This is a public document so you're not seeing anything that is secret. If today, Dr. Song was to give us his estimate of what was going to happen for the rest of the biennium, we would be on option No. five, which says instead of the $32.2 million that we believed that we'd have at the end of this biennium, we are going to have in contrast $17.2 million--a net almost of $50 million difference. This is a time bomb that's ticking and this is something we're going to have to deal with and every day that goes by makes the problem worse.

"If you're going to raise taxes, you're going to have to raise them a whole bunch more; if you're going to cut programs, you're going to have to cut them a whole bunch more. Every day gets us closer to that June 30 deadline. Consequently, the supplemental budget is something we have to deal with. We have been patiently waiting for this to come out, but I think the time is now and the time is growing steadily where we have to deal with this problem. I'm hoping we can precipitate some action from the majority party."

REMARKS BY SENATOR BOTTIGER

Senator Bottiger: "I didn't challenge the use of the personal privilege, because, I think, part of what Senator McDonald said needed saying. Some of these problems, Senator McDonald, project over into next year--and when I go out on public speaking tours and am told that I have $700 million I'm stashing away, I appreciate and will share with them your concern about how these revenue forecasts don't always seem to work right.

"The problem, obviously, outlined here--the federal contractor money is not coming in and former Senator Shinpoch is working on the problem. Also, departments have been told if you get caught spending money at the end of the biennium instead of reverting it, there may be new directors in those departments. The Governor is working on the problem; Senator McDermott is working on the problem, and I think the worst thing we can do is to act precipitously and just use the dart to figure out which one of those scenarios is right. The supplemental budget will come out. There are no agencies that have indicated that they must have any of the money right now--within the supplemental budget. They are all pruning back as best they can, so that won't happen."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Lee: "A point of personal privilege. The point of personal privilege that I am rising to is as the ranking member of the Senate Ways and Means Committee. Senator McDonald has very clearly outlined and Senator Bottiger has agreed the problem that faces us. Let me speak to you about what we would hope would be the privilege that all of us would be granted when this finally does come before us, which has already been mentioned that it will not, probably, be any sooner than March 20, which is less than ninety days before the budget itself runs out. The end of the session, April 28, is only sixty-two more days in which to expend any of that kind of funds. The reason that I'm rising is to make an urgent plea that because it's been delayed so long, that we do not then find ourselves in the position where we see it for the first time at 8:00 o'clock in the morning and are expected to vote on it on this floor at 8:00 o'clock the following morning. That is not a dichotomy request. It is one that is done as a request that we are made fully aware when it comes time to know what kind of push it's putting us into for the biennial budget. Many of the things in the original supplemental would, in fact, commit us, either to additional expenditures, and if we do not make them in the supplemental budget, then to putting them into the biennial budget. We hope to (1) have it expeditiously and (2) to have enough time to make intelligent responses to it--and I make that as a request."

REMARKS BY SENATOR VOGNILD

Senator Vognild: "Thank you, Mr. President. Because I concur with Senator Bottiger that these things needed saying today, this went on, but I would like to point out to the body that the rules were stretched. Rule 33 would not allow either of the presentations that were made here today. I guess I say this simply because I don't want to set a precedent and I hope that the extension of allowing people to speak will not be abused in the future."

REMARKS BY SENATOR McDONALD

Senator McDonald: "I don't know what I rise to. I guess a point of parliamentary inquiry, although it's going to be a statement. I look at Rule 178--Questions of Privilege--in Reeds and it says, 'that questions of personal privilege should be dealing with collectively, the safety, the dignity, and the integrity of its proceedings.' I think that this does fall under that category and I feel no compunction whatever, in using the point of personal privilege to bring up these questions."

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 3279, by Senators Gaspard, Goltz, Saling, Johnson, Lee, Stratton, Conner, Bender, Kiskaddon and Guess

Establishing requirements for home schooling.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Gaspard, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3279 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 3279 and the substitute bill was advanced to second reading and read the second time.

Senator Lee moved that the following amendment be adopted:

On page 5, line 9, after "chapter." insert "The legislative budget committee shall conduct a study on the methods, extent, nature, and results of home-based instruction, which study shall be filed with the legislature on January 1, 1988."

Debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendment by Senator Lee.

The motion by Senator Lee failed and the amendment was not adopted.

MOTION

Senator Metcalf moved that the following amendment by Senators Metcalf and Johnson be adopted:

On page 5, line 9, after "instruction." insert:

"If a child of mandatory attendance age is attending an unapproved private school which is operated as part of a church educational ministry, the parents, guardians or custodians of the child shall not be subject to the twenty-five dollar fine imposed by penalties under RCW 28A.27.100. As used herein, "church educational ministry" means an educational ministry that is integral to and inseparable from its sponsoring religious organization offering educational programs for children."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Gaspard: "I raise a point of order and challenge the scope and object of the Metcalf amendment, Mr. President. The object of the bill is to provide a third option to compulsory attendance and that's home-based schooling. All sections of the bill relate directly to authorization of home-based instruction as an option. Any amendment which addresses the provision of education in a different setting as in the unimproved church school or church educational ministry, in my opinion, is clearly outside the scope of the bill and violates the scope and object clause of the State Constitution which is Article II, Section 38, which states that no amendment shall be allowed which shall change the scope and object of the bill. The title of the bill is 'An Act Relating to Home Schooling.' To expand the bill to address the issue of unimproved church schools or church educational ministries, would be in violation of Article II, Section 19 of the State Constitution which requires that no bill shall enhance more than one subject and shall be expressed in the title. With that understanding, I think the bill is clearly unconstitutional--if this amendment should pass."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator McDonald: "Since Senator Gaspard was reading from papers, I think by leave of the house, probably we could get a copy of that. We'd like to be able to read it as well."

Further debate ensued.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Bottiger, further consideration of Substitute Senate Bill No. 3279 was deferred.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 3205, by Senators Gaspard, Bauer, Patterson, Bender and Johnson

On motion of Senator Gaspard, the rules were suspended. Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3205 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3205.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 3352, by Senators Gaspard, Bauer, Kiskaddon and Patterson

Providing a state clearinghouse for educational information.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Gaspard, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 3352 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Saling: "Senator Gaspard, I had an amendment ready to take up on this particular bill, but I talked to you prior to that and I think there is perhaps no need, now, to submit that amendment, if we clarify the intent of the bill. During the testimony in the committee, there was testimony that some approximately $56,000 from the federal government was being used by the office of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, now, to accomplish this task. I believe the State Superintendent's office was requesting something in the neighborhood of $144,000 per year if the federal funds dried up and they were asked to perform this task. It's my understanding, now, that it's your intent in submitting this bill in its present form that the SPI would be requested to continue the work they have been doing with no additional funds being appropriated. Is that correct?"

Senator Gaspard: "Your analysis of the fiscal note that was drawn is correct. We think this is an important enough operation. Quite frankly, we were concerned when the fiscal note came out--we didn't think that that was appropriate--that this ought to be a function important enough in the SPI office that they ought to do it with their current funds. In other words, I'm not looking for any appropriation to go with this bill, whether it's on the bill or in the budget."

Further debate ensued.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Senate Bill No. 3352 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 47; nays, 1; excused, 1.

Voting nay: Senator Barr - 1.

Excused: Senator Owen - 1.

SENATE BILL NO. 3352, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

Debate ensued.

MOTION

Revising high school graduation requirements.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Gaspard moved that the following Committee on Education amendment be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

*NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The state board of education shall adopt rules pursuant to chapter 34.04 RCW, to implement the course requirements set forth in RCW 28A.05.060. Such rules shall include, as the state board deems necessary, granting equivalencies for and temporary exemptions from the course requirements in RCW 28A.05.060 and special alterations of the course requirements in RCW 28A.05.060. In developing such rules the state board shall recognize the relevance of vocational and applied courses and allow such courses to fulfill in whole or in part the courses required for graduation in RCW 28A.05.060. NEW SECTION, Sec. 4. Sections 1 and 3 of this act are each added to chapter 28A.05 RCW."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Kiskaddon: "I have another striking amendment. Is mine appropriate after we take care of this one?"

REPLY BY PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE GOLTZ

President Pro Tempore Goltz: "Yours will follow the committee report."
Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Pullen: "Senator Gaspard, as I read Section 2 where it lists the credits required--previously for English, there was nine required and now we're proposing just three? Is that correct? For Math, it used to be six and we're now requiring two?"

Senator Gaspard: "What the State Board has requested us to do and what we are doing is that those credits will now equate to a year."

Senator Pullen: "What did they equate to before?"

Senator Gaspard: "Before, it was three credits equalled a year."

The President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the Committee on Education amendment.

The motion by Senator Gaspard carried and the committee amendment was adopted.

MOTION

Senator Kiskaddon moved that the following amendment be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION, Sec. 1. A new section is added to chapter 28A.05 RCW to read as follows:

(1) In recognition of the statutory authority of the state board of education to establish and enforce minimum high school graduation course requirements, the state board shall periodically reevaluate the graduation course requirements and shall report such findings to the legislature in a timely manner as determined by the state board.

(2) The state board of education shall establish minimum high school graduation course requirements: (a) To assure that students graduating from high school recognize the value of life-long learning, recognize the importance of formal and informal educational experiences, and have the capability of learning what they need to learn in order to adapt to society's rapid evolution into a technological age, and (b) to assure that students can function as contributing and responsible members of society who have developed senses of personal and social accountability, esteem of self and others, the ability to pursue the creative use of one's innate talents and skills, the ability to strive for successful relationships with family, coworkers, and society, and concern for and cooperation with others.

(3) The state board of education shall adopt rules pursuant to chapter 34.04 RCW, to implement the course requirements established pursuant to subsection (2) of this section. Such rules shall include, as the state board deems necessary, granting equivalencies for, temporary exemptions from, and special alterations of the course requirements established pursuant to subsection (2) of this section. In developing such rules the state board shall recognize the relevance of vocational and applied courses and allow such courses to fulfill in whole or in part the courses required for graduation as established pursuant to subsection (2) of this section. Such rules may include provisions for competency testing in lieu of such courses required for graduation established under subsection (2) of this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. Section 6, chapter 278, Laws of 1984 and RCW 28A.05.060 are each repealed."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bottiger: "Senator Kiskaddon, Senator Fleming was going to ask this, but I can't find him. Would this amendment permit a local school board to adopt global education?"

No reply.

Further debate ensued.

The President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendment by Senator Kiskaddon.

The motion by Senator Kiskaddon failed and the amendment was not adopted.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Gaspard, the following title amendment was adopted:

On page 1, on line 1 of the title, after "requirements;" strike the remainder of the title and insert "amending RCW 28A.05.060; and adding new sections to chapter 28A.05 RCW."

On motion of Senator Gaspard, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 4140 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Lee: "Senator Gaspard, this really is a question for information, and I'm almost sorry I didn't ask it before we got to third reading, but it may be all right here also. The first section of the bill is, I think, a great addition. What I'm referring to now is Section 2. In reply to a question, I think from Senator Pullen, you had indicated that what is now called 'credits' on your committee amendment means 'years.' I do not see that said any place else in here--that 'credits' means 'years,' and then when I look down here on electives, I see five and one-half. In most cases, I think, high school is no more than four years. What I'm really asking--is there a definition of 'credits' someplace if it's not here in this particular measure?"

Senator Gaspard: "The intent here is to coincide with what is now currently being proposed in the State Board of Education. They're adopting the rules and regulations to change 'credits' to mean 'years' and we're doing that to be consistent in the bill we're passing.

Senator Lee: "So, five and one-half years for electives is correct?"

Senator Gaspard: "Senator Lee, I don't know if I can answer that at this point. Let me try to ask staff here and I'll find out."

Senator Lee: "I don't necessarily say we have to hold it up here, but I think we may have a problem that we may want to talk to the House members about to be sure that the definition of 'credit' is taken care of in the Administrative Procedures Act or in the statute."

Senator Gaspard: "Remember, we're giving some broad rule-making authority to the State Board and they can define that elective other than in 'years' if they so wish."

Senator Lee: "That really gets confusing. I don't know if I can support the bill under those circumstances."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Bottiger, further consideration of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 4140 was deferred.

President Cherberg assumed the chair.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "In ruling upon the point of order raised by Senator Gaspard, the President finds that Substitute Senate Bill No. 3279 is a measure authorizing and regulating home-based instruction as an alternative to public schooling or approved private schooling.

"The amendment proposed by Senators Metcalf and Johnson exempts children attending unapproved private schools operated as part of a church educational ministry from state truancy requirements.

"The President, therefore, finds that the proposed amendment does change the scope and object of the bill and that the point of order is well taken."

The amendment was ruled out of order.

MOTION

Senator Craswell moved that the following amendment by Senators Craswell, Conner, Johnson and Goltz be adopted:

On page 9, after line 3, insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. The legislature recognizes that while the right of parents to raise their children pursuant to their personal conscience is set forth in both the federal and state constitutions, state law makes no exemption from the current compulsory attendance requirements for parents who, by reason of religious beliefs, were opposed to such requirements. The legislature finds that there is a growing number of parents who by reason of truly held religious beliefs are educating their children at home or in unapproved church schools. The legislature further finds that there is a scarcity of information on the nature and effectiveness of education provided in these settings.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. A new section is added to chapter 28A.27 RCW to read as follows:

From the effective date of this section until July 1, 1988, the provisions of this chapter shall not apply to parents who by reason of truly held religious beliefs are conscientiously opposed to such provisions, make a declaration to the superintendent of the local school district in which they reside that they will exercise parental rights to be responsible for the instruction of their child, and are providing an educational program consistent with their religious beliefs through an unapproved church school or in their own home.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. (1) A temporary commission is hereby established to:

(a) Study the number, teaching methods, and curriculums of unapproved church schools and home schools and their effectiveness in educating children;

(b) Review laws and policies of other states with regard to unapproved church schools and home schools;

(c) Study the history, purpose, and enforcement of compulsory attendance and its impact on truancy and on unapproved church schools and home schools; and

(d) Review court decisions regarding unapproved church schools and home schools both in this state and other states.

(2) The commission shall be composed of fifteen members as follows:

(a) Four legislators with one from each caucus of each house appointed by the speaker of the house of representatives or the president of the senate as applicable;

(b) The private education director of the office of the superintendent of public instruction;

(c) The executive secretary of the Washington association of prosecuting attorneys or his or her representative; and

(d) The following persons selected by the majority leader of the senate and the speaker of the house of representatives:

(i) A superintendent of a school district or principal of a public school;

(ii) An administrator of an unapproved church school;

(iii) Three parents whose children attend unapproved church schools; and

(iv) Six parents who for religious reasons teach their children at home.

(3) Nonlegislative members of the commission shall not receive compensation but shall be reimbursed for travel expenses under RCW 43.03.050 and 43.03.060. Legislative members shall be reimbursed under RCW 44.04.120.

(4) The members of the commission shall elect a member to serve as chairman and may adopt bylaws to govern the commission's proceedings. The legislature shall provide staff and support services to the commission.

(5) The commission shall report its findings to the legislature by January 1, 1988.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. Sections 6, 7, and 8 of this act shall expire July 1, 1988.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. Sections 6, 7, and 8 of this act are necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, the support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect immediately."

Renumber the remaining section accordingly.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Gaspard: "Mr. President, I rise to challenge the scope and object of this amendment and use the same arguments with the Metcalf amendment, that this applies not only to home schools, but also has unimproved church schools in it, and I believe that is beyond the scope and object."

Debate ensued.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "In ruling upon the point of order raised by Senator Gaspard, the President finds that Substitute Senate Bill No. 3279 is a measure authorizing and regulating home-based instruction as an alternative to public schooling or approved private schooling.

"The amendment proposed by Senators Craswell, Conner, Johnson and Goltz delays the implementation date of the act for parents who by reason of truly held religious or philosophical beliefs conscientiously oppose regulation and establishes a commission to study this type of schooling.

"The President, therefore, finds that the proposed amendment does change the scope and object of the bill and that the point of order is well taken."

The amendment was ruled out of order.

MOTION

Senator Barr moved that the following amendment by Senators Barr and Goltz be adopted:

On page 9, after line 3, insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. The legislature recognizes that while the right of parents to raise their children pursuant to their personal conscience is set forth in both the federal and state constitutions, state law makes no exemption from the current compulsory attendance requirements for parents who, by reason of religious or philosophical beliefs, are opposed to such requirements. The legislature finds that there is a growing number of parents who by reason of truly held religious or philosophical beliefs are educating their children at home. The legislature further finds that there is a scarcity of information on the nature and effectiveness of education provided in this setting.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. A new section is added to chapter 28A.27 RCW to read as follows:

From the effective date of this section until July 1, 1988, the provisions of this chapter shall not apply to parents who by reason of truly held religious or philosophical beliefs are conscientiously opposed to such provisions, make a declaration to the superintendent of the local school district in which they reside that they will exercise parental rights to be responsible for the instruction of their child, and are providing an educational program consistent with their beliefs in their own home. The state board of education shall not by rule or otherwise further define "truly held religious or philosophical beliefs" or "conscientiously opposed."

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. (1) A temporary commission is hereby established to:

- (a) Study the number, teaching methods, and curriculums of home schools and their effectiveness in educating children;
 - (b) Review laws and policies of other states with regard to home schools;
 - (c) Study the history, purpose, and enforcement of compulsory attendance and its impact on truancy and home schools; and
 - (d) Review court decisions regarding home schools both in this state and other states.
- (2) The commission shall be composed of eleven members as follows:
- (a) Four legislators with one from each caucus of each house appointed by the speaker of the house of representatives or the president of the senate as applicable;
 - (b) The private education director of the office of the superintendent of public instruction;
 - (c) The executive secretary of the Washington association of prosecuting attorneys or his or her representative; and
 - (d) The following persons selected by the majority leader of the senate and the speaker of the house of representatives:
 - (i) A superintendent of a school district or principal of a public school; and
 - (ii) Four parents who for religious or philosophical reasons teach their children at home.
- (3) Nonlegislative members of the commission shall not receive compensation but shall be reimbursed for travel expenses under RCW 43.03.050 and 43.03.060. Legislative members shall be reimbursed under RCW 44.04.120.

(4) The members of the commission shall elect a member to serve as chairman and may adopt bylaws to govern the commission's proceedings. The legislature shall provide staff and support services to the commission.

(5) The commission shall report its findings to the legislature by January 1, 1988.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 9. Sections 6, 7, and 8 of this act shall expire July 1, 1988.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 10. Sections 6, 7, and 8 of this act are necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, the support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect immediately."

Renumber the remaining section accordingly.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Gaspard: I again rise to a point of order challenging the scope and object of the amendment. Like the other amendments we have before us, this is a bill that deals with another way of educating--recognized education--compulsory schooling in the state, whether it be the public school system or the approved private school system, now we're talking about home-based schooling. The amendment before us gives a temporary exemption to the compulsory attendance law, but the bill before us creates a permanent alternative to schooling, and the amendment before us creates a special exemption to the compulsory attendance law for parents whose truly held religious or philosophical beliefs cause them to fail to comply with the law.

"Finally, the amendment before us, essentially, removes all the regulatory authority of the state, whereas here in the bill we're dealing with home schooling. We are providing for a reasonable balance between the parental interests and the interests that the state has in educating its children."

Debate ensued.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "In ruling upon the point of order raised by Senator Gaspard, the President finds that Substitute Senate Bill No. 3279 is a measure authorizing and regulating home-based instruction as an alternative to public schooling or approved private schooling.

"The amendment proposed by Senators Barr and Goltz delays the implementation date of the act for parents who by reason of truly held religious or philosophical beliefs conscientiously oppose regulation and establishes a commission to study this type of schooling.

"The President, therefore, finds that the proposed amendment does change the scope and object of the bill and that the point of order is well taken."

The amendment was ruled out of order.

MOTION

Senator Craswell moved that the following amendment be adopted:

On page 2, after line 28, add the following:

"(e) The parents, by reason of truly held religious beliefs, are conscientiously opposed to such requirement and are providing an educational program consistent with their religious beliefs."

Debate ensued.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Bottiger, further consideration of Substitute Senate Bill No. 3279 was deferred.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Gaspard: "Mr. President, after I've had an opportunity to review the amendment before us, I think it's consistent with the other amendments that have been proposed, and although they've been proposed with good intentions, they're still, in my opinion, outside the scope and object of the bill that was drawn for home schooling. For that reason, I would ask you to make a ruling on my point of order."

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "In ruling upon the point of order raised by Senator Gaspard, the President finds that Substitute Senate Bill No. 3279 is a measure authorizing and regulating home-based instruction as an alternative to public schooling or approved private schooling.

"The amendment proposed by Senator Craswell adds an exemption to the mandatory attendance laws if parents by reason of truly held religious beliefs are conscientiously opposed to such requirements.

"The President, therefore, finds that the proposed amendment does change the scope and object of the bill and that the point of order is well taken."

The amendment was ruled out of order.

MOTION

There being no objection, the Senate resumed consideration of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 4140, deferred on third reading earlier today.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Gaspard, the rules were suspended and Engrossed Senate Bill No. 4140 was returned to second reading and read the second time.

On motion of Senator Gaspard, the Senate reconsidered the Committee on Education amendment which was adopted earlier.

MOTION

Senator Lee moved that the following amendment by Senators Lee and Gaspard to the Committee on Education amendment, on reconsideration, be adopted:

On page 2, section 2, line 10, insert "(2) For the purposes of this section one credit is equivalent to one year of study."

Renumber the following subsections accordingly.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Pullen: "Senator Lee, just as a point of clarification, I assume the one year time frame that is referred to in your amendment refers to the 180 day school year?"

Senator Lee: "In most cases it would, for 99.99 percent of the students. Also, in this same act--4140--we have Section 1 which allows for some equivalencies, so this language would not conflict with that first section."

Senator Pullen: "I also assume that the time that's being spent in class each of the 180 days for the 99 percent of the school districts you referred to, is approximately one hour less a reasonable passing time?"

Senator Lee: "That's what the current Washington Administrative Code says and that's where I think that should be defined. Any exceptions thereto would then also be handled in that administrative code."

Senator Pullen: "I assume you're not worried about whether the passing time is five minutes or ten minutes, but you do intend it to be approximately one hour of study per school day--less a reasonable amount of passing time--whatever the WAC should determine that to be?"

Senator Lee: "Yes, we do intend that it be a uniform requirement that's established by the State Board of Education, so that a child who has one year of study in some place like Washtucna will be getting the same kind of equivalent education as to someone in Bellingham."

Senator Pullen: "So one credit, then, is approximately 180 hours of class time, less a reasonable amount of passing time?"

Senator Lee: "Under the current Washington Administrative Code, that is true."

Senator Pullen: "And that would be the case under your definition as proposed in this amendment, as I understand it?"

Senator Lee: "Until that code is changed."

Senator Pullen: "How could it be changed other than perhaps the amount of passing time? In other words, is it conceivable that it be defined in the WACs that ten minutes shall be spent in class and fifty minutes shall be allowed for passing time?"

Senator Lee: "Well, Senator Pullen, it just happens that this state has had 180 days for a long period of time and that's where that 180 hours comes from. If at some time or other that should be changed to 181 or 179, then we would, also, need to make a change in that WAC."

Senator Pullen: "The 180 days is presently statutorily defined?"

Senator Lee: "That is correct."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senators Lee and Gaspard to the Committee on Education amendment, on reconsideration.

The motion by Senator Lee carried and the amendment to the committee amendment, on reconsideration, was adopted.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the Committee on Education amendment, as amended on reconsideration.

The motion by Senator Gaspard carried and the committee amendment, as amended on reconsideration, was adopted.

MOTION

Voting nay: Senator Pullen - 1.

Absent: Senator Kiskaddon - 1.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 3067, by Senators Hansen, Gaspard, Bottiger, Barr, Benitz, Vognild, Sellar, Goltz, Bailey and Newhouse

Modifying provisions relating to aquatic farming.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Bottiger moved that the following amendment by Senators Bottiger, Hansen and Vognild be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION, Sec. 1. The legislature declares that aquatic farming provides a consistent source of quality food, offers opportunities of new jobs, increased farm income stability, and improves balance of trade.

The legislature finds that the National Aquaculture Act of 1980 (Public Law 96-362) recognizes aquaculture as an agricultural industry and designates the United States department of agriculture as the lead agency for promotion of the aquaculture industry and that designating the Washington department of agriculture would be consistent with the purposes and intent of that federal act.

The legislature finds that many areas of the state of Washington are scientifically and biologically suitable for aquaculture development, and therefore the legislature encourages promotion of aquacultural activities, programs, and development with the same status as other agricultural activities, programs, and development within the state of Washington.

The legislature finds that aquaculture and aquacultural activities, developments, and facilities should be considered a branch of the agricultural industry of the state of Washington for purposes of any laws that apply to or provide for the advancement, benefit, or protection of the agriculture industry within the state of Washington.

The legislature further finds that in order to ensure the maximum yield and quality of cultured aquatic products, the department should provide diagnostic services that are workable and proven remedies to aquaculture disease problems.

It is therefore the policy of this state to encourage the development and expansion of aquaculture within the state of Washington. This chapter does not authorize or provide the private sector the legal authority to release salmon or steelhead trout into the public waters of the state and subsequently to recapture such species as in the practice commonly known as ocean ranching.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 2. Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) "Aquaculture" means the process of growing, farming, or cultivating, private sector, cultured aquatic products in marine or freshwaters and includes management by an aquatic farmer. This chapter does not authorize or provide the private sector the legal authority to release salmon or steelhead trout into public waters of the state and the subsequent recapture of such species as in the practice commonly known as ocean ranching.

(2) "Aquatic farmer" is a private sector person who farms and manages the cultivating of private sector cultured aquatic products on the person's own land or on land in which the person has a present right of possession.

(3) "Private sector cultured aquatic products" are native, nonnative, or hybrids of marine or freshwater plants and animals that are propagated, farmed, or cultivated, or that are naturally set on aquatic farms under the supervision and management of a private sector aquatic farmer. NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. The department is the principal agency for the private sector aquaculture industry.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. (1) The director shall establish a program of disease inspection and control for aquatic farmers and shall use the expertise of the state veterinarian, the department of fisheries, the department of game, and the aquaculture industry in administering the program. The purpose of the program is to protect the aquaculture industry and wildstock fisheries from a loss of productivity due to aquatic diseases, parasites, pests, or maladies affecting fin fish, shellfish, or other private sector cultured aquatic products. The disease program may include, but is not limited to, the following elements:

- (a) Disease diagnosis;
- (b) Import and transfer requirements;

(2) The director shall consult regarding the disease control program with the department of fisheries, the department of game, federal agencies, and Indian tribes to assure protection of state, federal, and tribal aquatic resources and to protect private sector cultured aquatic products from disease that could originate from waters or facilities managed by those agencies.

(3) The director may enter into contracts or interagency agreements for diagnostic field services with government agencies and institutions of higher education and private industry.

(4) The director in administering the disease control program shall not place constraints or take enforcement actions on the aquaculture industry that are more rigorous than those placed on the department of fisheries, the department of game, or other fish-rearing entities.

(5) All aquatic farmers must register with the department. The director shall develop and maintain a registration list of all aquaculture farms. Registered aquaculture farms shall provide the department production statistical data. The state veterinarian, the department of fisheries, and the department of game shall be provided with registration and statistical data.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. (1) There is hereby created the aquaculture advisory council. The council shall consist of the director or the director's designee, one representative of private sector inland fin fish farmers, one representative of private sector marine fin fish farmers, one representative of private sector marine shellfish farmers, and one representative of marine plant farmers, chosen by the governor to serve for a term of three years. Ex officio members of the advisory council, to be appointed by the governor, shall include a representative of the department of game, the department of fisheries, and a pathologist. Other ex officio state agency members may be appointed at the director's discretion.

(2) The council shall represent aquatic farmers in matters that relate to all aspects of interest to aquatic farmers including the performance, operation, expansion, development, promotion, and interdepartmental coordination.

(3) Any vacancies on the council shall be filled in the same manner as the original appointment.

(4) The council shall select a chairman by vote of the council members. A quorum consisting of at least three voting members must be present to conduct council business. The council shall meet at the call of the chairman or at the request of the director.

(5) The council shall expire June 30, 1991.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. The director, in consultation with the advisory council, the department of fisheries, the department of game, and the state veterinarian shall adopt rules to implement this chapter.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 3740, by Senator Talmadge

Relating to courts.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Talmadge, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3740 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 3740 and the substitute bill was advanced to second reading and read the second time.

On motion of Senator Talmadge, the following amendment was adopted:
On page 23, line 30, after "Sections" insert "2 and"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Pullen: "Senator Talmadge, are there any provisions in the bill that affect the right of trial by jury?"

Senator Talmadge: "No."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3740.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Barr: "Senator Talmadge, I'm not clear on what the redistribution of the court receipts means to the small counties. Could you clarify that?"

Senator Talmadge: "Certainly. In the 1984 Act, you might recall that we used to have a whole series of special accounts to which certain parts of the civil filing fees and other fees went. In the 1984 Act, we simply put all of those into one single account and that account was to be distributed 65 percent to the local government and 35 percent to the state government. Out of our 35 percent, for example, comes Crime Victims Compensation and some other very important services such as the Criminal Justice Training Commission, etc.

"We said, however, at the time that we passed the Act, that if it impacted adversely on the revenue coming into the county governments that we would review the figures and if there was an adverse impact, we would adjust the formula to make its revenue neutral. What we've done is adjust the formula to provide for 68 percent of the revenues derived by fees and forfeitures to the local governments and 32 percent to the state government. That reflects a revenue neutral distribution of the fines and fees amongst the county and state governments. It should mean some more money in terms of revenue for the local governments as a result of this bill."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3740.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Thompson, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 3768 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Pullen: "Senator Thompson, any time we take away the right of voter approval, it should cause a legislator to stop and ask a couple of questions. Apparently, there was a reason in the existing law why prior legislators thought it was important to require voter approval. Could you give us some indication of the historical reasons why prior legislators thought voter approval was so important in this area?"

Senator Thompson: "I've concluded that these statutes, because they are old, were established at a time that city water systems were planned and formed and the question of the manner and method of delivering water was considered crucial at that time. There are still safeguards, of course, in the establishment of extensions and in the financing of water system improvements. This language, at this stage of development of these systems, is unduly restrictive. They've aged to a point, now, where new pipe has to go in, some new rerouting, some size changes and that sort of thing and these sections, having been ignored all these years, now loom as unduly restrictive."

*Sec. 13. Section 6, chapter 294, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. as amended by section 10, chapter 184, Laws of 1984 and RCW 41.26.450 are each amended to read as follows:

The required contribution rates to the retirement system for members, employers, and the state of Washington shall be established by the director from time to time as may be necessary upon the advice of the state actuary.

The member, the employer and the state shall each contribute the following shares of the cost of the retirement system:

Member	50%
Employer	30%
State	20%

Effective January 1, 1986, however, no contributions are required for any calendar month in which the member is not granted service credit.

Any adjustments in contribution rates required from time to time for future costs shall likewise be shared proportionally by the members, employers, and the state: PROVIDED, That the costs of amortizing the unfunded supplemental present value of the retirement system, in existence on September 30, 1977, shall be borne in full by the state.

Any increase in the contribution rate required as the result of a failure of the state or of an employer to make any contribution required by this section shall be borne in full by the state or by that employer not making the contribution.

The director shall notify all employers of any pending adjustment in the required contribution rate and such increase shall be announced at least thirty days prior to the effective date of the change.

Members' contributions required by this section shall be deducted from the members basic salary each payroll period. The members contribution and the employers contribution shall be remitted directly to the department within fifteen days following the end of the calendar month during which the payroll period ends.

Until such time as the director shall establish other rates, members, employers of such members, and the state shall each contribute the following percentages of basic salary:

Member	8.14%
Employer	4.88%
State	3.28%

In addition, the state shall initially contribute an additional twenty percent of basic salary per member to amortize the unfunded supplemental present value of the retirement system in effect on September 30, 1977.

Sec. 14. Section 11, chapter 14, Laws of 1963 ex. sess. as last amended by section 1, chapter 236, Laws of 1984 and RCW 41.32.401 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) For the purpose of establishing and maintaining an actuarial reserve adequate to meet present and future liabilities of the system and to pay for an equitable portion of the operating expenses of the department, the director shall determine the necessary contribution rates to be made by each employer on all members' total earnable compensation on the basis of the latest valuation prepared by the state actuary, and shall include a percentage contribution of the total earnable compensation, to be known as the "normal contribution" and an additional percentage contribution of such earnable compensation, to be known as the "unfunded liability contribution." The director shall notify employers of such rates at least thirty days prior to their effective date. Such determination shall provide for amortization of unfunded retirement system liabilities over a period of not more than fifty years from July 1, 1964. The legislature shall appropriate to the superintendent of public instruction the full amount recommended by the state actuary for the employer contribution rates for state funded certificated staff. The amounts shall be deposited in the teachers' retirement fund for the payment of pensions, survivors' benefits, and the employer's share of the operating expenses for the system. However, a school district for the 1985-86 school year shall not be required to pay to the department of retirement systems for the employer contribution to the teachers' retirement system, any amount in excess of the funds received by such school district from the state through the office of the superintendent of public instruction for such purpose, and for the 1986-87 school year and thereafter, a school district shall not be required to pay at a rate exceeding the rate that the director sets for the employer contribution for each employee. Effective January 1, 1986, however, no contributions will be required for the calendar months in which the member is not granted service credit if the member or employee first established membership on or after October 1, 1977.

(2) In order to equitably reimburse the department of retirement systems expense fund, the director shall ascertain and report to each employer the contribution rate necessary to defray its proportional share of the cost of administering this chapter during either the next biennium or fiscal year, whichever is required to provide the amounts needed to defray such cost of administration. The director shall also ascertain at the beginning of either each biennium or each fiscal year, whichever is required, and request from the legislature an appropriation for the department of retirement systems expense fund sufficient to cover estimated expenses for the biennium or fiscal year.

Sec. 15. Section 6, chapter 293, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. as amended by section 11, chapter 184, Laws of 1984 and RCW 41.32.775 are each amended to read as follows:

The required contribution rates to the retirement system for both members and employers shall be established by the director from time to time as may be necessary upon the advice of the state actuary: PROVIDED, That the employer contribution shall be contributed as provided in RCW 41.32.401.

Contribution rates required to fund the costs of the retirement system shall always be equal for members and employers, except as herein provided. Effective January 1, 1986, however, no contribution is required for any calendar month in which the member is not granted service credit. Any adjustments in contribution rates required from time to time for future costs shall likewise be shared equally by the members and employers: PROVIDED, That the costs of amortizing the unfunded supplemental present value of the retirement system, in existence on September 30, 1977, shall be borne in full by the employers.

Any increase in the contribution rate required as the result of a failure of an employer to make any contribution required by this section shall be borne in full by the employer not making the contribution.

The director shall notify all employers of any pending adjustment in the required contribution rate and such increase shall be announced at least thirty days prior to the effective date of the change.

Members contributions required by this section shall be deducted from the members earnable compensation each payroll period. The members contribution shall be remitted directly to the department within fifteen days following the end of the calendar month during which the payroll period ends and the employers contribution shall be remitted as provided by law.

Until such time as the director shall establish other rates, members and employers of such members shall each contribute 5.66% of earnable compensation: PROVIDED, That employers shall initially contribute an additional 5.80% of earnable compensation per member to amortize the unfunded supplemental present value of the retirement system in effect on September 30, 1977.

Sec. 16. Section 34, chapter 274, Laws of 1947 as last amended by section 12, chapter 190, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. and RCW 41.40.330 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Each employee who is a member of the retirement system shall contribute five percent of his total compensation earnable: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That a retirement system expense fund contribution of two dollars and fifty cents per annum shall be transferred in semiannual payments of one dollar and twenty-five cents from each employee account balance in the employees' savings fund to the department of retirement systems expense fund account, as set forth in this section. On and after July 1, 1973, each employee who is a member of the retirement system shall contribute six percent of his total compensation earnable. Effective January 1, 1986, however, no contributions are required for any calendar month in which the member is not granted service credit. The officer responsible for making up the payroll shall deduct from the compensation of each member, on each and every payroll of such member for each and every payroll period subsequent to the date on which he became a member of the retirement system the contribution as provided by this section.

(2) Any member may, pursuant to regulations formulated from time to time by the board, provide for himself, by means of an increased rate of contribution to his account in the employees' savings fund, an increased prospective retirement allowance pursuant to RCW 41.40.190 and 41.40.185.

(3) The officer responsible for making up the payroll shall deduct from the compensation of each member covered by the provisions of RCW 41.40.190(5) and 41.40.185(4) on each and every payroll of such member for each and every payroll period subsequent to the date on which he thereafter becomes a member of the retirement system, an amount equal to seven and one-half percent of such member's compensation earnable.

Sec. 17. Section 38, chapter 274, Laws of 1947 as last amended by section 22, chapter 52, Laws of 1982 1st ex. sess. and RCW 41.40.370 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The director shall ascertain and report to each employer the contribution rates necessary to meet present and future pension liabilities of the system for the ensuing biennium or fiscal year, whichever is applicable. The amount to be so provided shall be computed by applying the rates of contribution as established by RCW 41.40.361 or 41.40.650 to an estimate of the total compensation earnable of all the said employer's members during the period for which provision is to be made.

(2) Beginning April 1, 1949, or October 1, 1977, as the case may be, the amount to be collected as the employer's contribution shall be computed by applying the applicable rates established by RCW 41.40.361 or 41.40.650 to the total compensation earnable of employer's members as shown on the current payrolls of the said employer, except no contributions are required for any calendar month in which the member is not granted service credit. Each said employer shall compute at the end of each month the amount due for that month and the same shall be paid as are its other obligations.

(3) In the event of failure, for any reason, of an employer other than a political subdivision of the state to have remitted amounts due for membership service of any of the employer's members rendered during a prior biennium, the director shall bill such employer through the director of financial management for such employer's contribution together with such charges as the director deems appropriate in accordance with RCW 41.50.120. Such billing shall be paid by the employer as, and the same shall be, a proper charge against any moneys available or appropriated to such employer for payment of current biennial payrolls.

Sec. 18. Section 6, chapter 295, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. as amended by section 12, chapter 184, Laws of 1984 and RCW 41.40.650 are each amended to read as follows:

Any increase in the contribution rate required as the result of a failure of an employer to make any contribution required by this section shall be borne in full by the employer not making the contribution.

The director shall notify all employers of any pending adjustment in the required contribution rate and such increase shall be announced at least thirty days prior to the effective date of the change.

Members contributions required by this section shall be deducted from the members compensation earnable each payroll period. The members contribution and the employers contribution shall be remitted directly to the department within fifteen days following the end of the calendar month during which the payroll period ends.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Williams, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3468 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 3468 and the substitute bill was advanced to second reading and read the second time.

On motion of Senator Williams, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3468 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Newhouse: "Senator Williams, in Section 2, sub (1), the board is given authority, if it's dissatisfied, to conduct its own, and in sub (2), it says 'it shall seek federal funding.' Obviously, there's no assurance that federal funding will be forthcoming. Who, then, is to pay for all that investigation if they are dissatisfied?"

Senator Williams: "Senator Newhouse, the two go hand in hand. I'm also a member of the Nuclear Waste Board--a legislative member. In that process, I know and you know, that the Nuclear Waste Board operates on the funds that are provided to it by the federal government. If that monitoring is not satisfactory and additional testing is needed, the funds aren't there to go out and do it, so the process of determining to do that and, also, the request to the federal government for those funds go hand in hand. Ultimately, if the state is unhappy or dissatisfied with the degree of cooperation on the part of the federal government in providing those funds, we can go to court.

"As a matter of fact, we are doing that on some other issues already. The Department of Energy has not been totally as cooperative as we would like them to be. They're very protective of their funds and are responsible to Congress and they're not going to give us those funds, always, just because we ask for them. Sometimes we have to leverage it a little bit, but the federal act does require that the federal government shall pay for this process and if we don't protect ourselves by insisting on some of these things, we won't get them done."

Senator Newhouse: "I don't believe you answered the question, Senator. If the funds are not there, does the state board go on conducting that independent evaluation? Must it wait until the funds are forthcoming from the federal government?"

Senator Williams: "I don't believe that the Nuclear Waste Board can spend money it doesn't have. That's why I say the decision to advocate additional testing, as well as seeking federal funds, have to go hand in hand. You can't go out and pay for something when you don't have the money."

Senator Newhouse: "So the federal funds must be there before that responsibility is assumed?"

Senator Williams: "Unless, through all of this, the Nuclear Waste Board and the Department of Ecology were to come back to the legislature and say, 'we can't get the feds to pay for this.' They could come back and ask us for it, I suppose, but I don't see the Nuclear Waste Board spending money it doesn't have."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Saling: "Senator Bailey, would you tell me where this waste comes from that we're talking about?"

Senator Bailey: "The nuclear waste is scheduled to come from all across the United States and that is why citizens of the United States should pay for the monitoring costs that we're requiring in this bill."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Stratton: "Senator Vognild, yesterday we passed a bill which turns the aquaculture industry over to agriculture, would you not feel that this, too, should go to agriculture?"

Senator Vognild: "Senator, the answer to that would be 'no,' because in one case yesterday, we were talking about growing, producing and marketing a food product. In this case, we are talking about preserving and enhancing a natural resource and I think that this is where it belongs with game and fish."

The President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 3556.

MOTION

On page 1, line 8, after "retirement" strike "benefits" and insert "compensation"

On motion of Senator Talmadge, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3211 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Newhouse: "Senator Talmadge, in view of the fact that these divorce cases from that period were settled and the judge may very well have taken retirement into consideration, even though, supposedly not able to divide that, won't this bill possibly create about as many inequities as it might solve?"

Senator Talmadge: "Senator Newhouse, I think my response to that would be that you may remember that the language of the bill provides that the whole divorce settlement is open to scrutiny by the court. If the court took into consideration the division of the future military retirement benefits, then the court, conceivably, might not permit the reopening of the settlement. There was some request made to the committee that we confine the reopening just to that military retirement issue. We declined to do that, because we wanted the whole settlement before the court and presumably if the settlement was a fair one in its overall terms, then the court would decline to reopen on this issue."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Hayner: "Senator Talmadge, in view of what you answered, I predict that there will be a flurry of applications to the court to reopen those settlements. Do we have any idea at all how many cases dealing with that military pay might be involved?"

Senator Talmadge: "We do not at the present time. The language of the bill is language authorized to us by a congressional enactment on this issue. I would suspect that there may be some cases that are filed, I think--as I responded to Senator Newhouse's question--so long as the overall terms of the total settlement will be before the court, I don't think a lot of attorneys are going to recommend to their client to rush off to reopen for fear that some other more beneficial aspects of the settlement might be altered by the reopening. I think it's going to be something that's rather cautious and I wouldn't expect a tremendous volume of these kinds of petitions for reopening to follow."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3211 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 35; nays, 10; absent, 2; excused, 2.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Warnke, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3856 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 3856 and the substitute bill was advanced to second reading and read the second time.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Newhouse: "I would wonder if 3856 is properly before us. Again, I see there are only five signatures on the bill report and there are ten members of that committee."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Newhouse: "Senator Moore, I notice instructions to the so-called commission to within two years carry on a chess tournament and a bridge tournament each with a prize fund of eighty thousand dollars. Knowing some of the costs of putting on such an affair, how's it supposed to be funded without any appropriation or no fiscal note?"

Senator Moore: "It would be done in much the same way as conventions are done--by pressing the citizens that have an interest in it--like hotels and restaurants to help finance it."

Senator Newhouse: "An official commission of the state is supposed to put pressure on private parties to contribute to this fund?"

Senator Moore: "Precisely."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McCaslin: "Senator Moore, I would have preferred to ask Senator Rasmussen this question, however, his name isn't on the bill, but in the background material, they say 'mental sports, including chess, checkers, go.' I don't know what 'go' is. Could you explain to the body?"

Senator Moore: "'Go' is a very ancient, oriental game that has never been given a great deal of credibility in our society, but it is worthy--and it does require some memory in order to play it adequately. We, also, could have mentioned 'mahjong' and those of you who are in my age bracket will remember that sixty years ago this country was swept by 'mahjong' and then it faded away. Today several billion people are aware that 'mahjong' exists and I think we could attract an international tournament to Seattle from the Orient."

Senator McCaslin: "One further question, Senator Moore, if Senator Pullen was here, would he feel that this is a constitutional bill?"

Senator Moore: "I would really prefer to defer to either Senator Pullen or Senator Rasmussen."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McCaslin: "Senator Pullen, would this fit into the constitution of both the United States and the State of Washington?"

Senator Pullen: "Yes."

The President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Senate Bill No. 3405.

On motion of Senator Vogtild, the following amendments were considered simultaneously and adopted:

On page 3, beginning on line 30, after "between" strike all of the matter down to and including "resources" on line 31, and insert "state agencies"

On motion of Senator Warnke, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3856 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Vognild, several existing statutes are repealed including provisions outlining a commission for vocational education, powers and duties and they are transferred over to this new board. My question--we have a good fire training program in our vocational schools and additional training out at Cover Park, what does this do to the vocational schools in the present system that's operating and how many people are we transferring over to the new department?"

Senator Vognild: "Senator, it does absolutely nothing to the programs that you're referring to. Those are pretraining programs and they remain in the vocational educational field. The fire service training that we are transferring is inservice type of training--updating and upgrading of skills and that is the portion we are talking about."

Further debate ensued.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 4286, by Senator Lee

Authorizing the parks and recreation commission to issue permits for use of metal detectors on state beaches.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Kreidler moved that the following Committee on Parks and Ecology amendment be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION, Sec. 1. A new section is added to chapter 43.51 RCW to read as follows:

The use of metal detectors has become an enjoyable hobby for many state park visitors. Metal detector use on state beaches should be encouraged because it aids in keeping state parks clean and enjoyable for all. The commission may issue permits for the use of metal detectors and the recovery of found items on state beaches under its jurisdiction. The commission may adopt rules under chapter 34.04 RCW as it finds necessary to establish appropriate conditions and limitations for the permits, and to govern issuance of the permits and the fee to be charged therefor.

Sec. 2. Section 197, chapter 255, Laws of 1927 and RCW 79.01.748 are each amended to read as follows:

Every person who wilfully commits any trespass upon any public lands of the state and cuts down, destroys or injures any timber, or any tree standing or growing thereon, or takes, or removes, or causes to be taken, or removed, therefrom any wood or timber lying thereon, or maliciously injures or severs anything attached thereto, or the produce thereof, or digs, quarries, mines, takes or removes therefrom any earth, soil, stone, mineral, clay, sand, gravel, or any valuable materials, shall be guilty of larceny. The state parks and recreation commission may develop rules permitting the removal of certain materials that have no historic, archaeological, or natural resource value, and that the commission finds are otherwise appropriate for removal using a metal detector.

Sec. 3. Section 198, chapter 255, Laws of 1927 and RCW 79.01.752 are each amended to read as follows:

Every person being in lawful possession of any public lands of the state, under and by virtue of any lease or contract of purchase from the state, cuts down, destroys or injures, or causes to be cut down, destroyed or injured, any timber standing or growing thereon, or takes or removes, or causes to be taken or removed, therefrom, any wood or timber lying thereon, or maliciously injures or severs anything attached thereto, or the produce thereof, or digs, quarries, mines, takes or removes therefrom, any earth, soil, clay, sand, gravel, stone, mineral or other valuable material, or causes the same to be done, or otherwise injures, defaces or damages, or causes to be injured, defaced or damaged, any such lands unless expressly authorized so to do by the lease or contract under which he holds possession of such lands, or by the provisions of law under and by virtue of which such lease or contract was issued, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. The state parks and recreation commission may develop rules permitting the removal of certain materials that have no historic, archaeological, or natural resource value, and that the commission finds are otherwise appropriate for removal using a metal detector."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Kreidler, is issuance of permits compulsory?"

Senator Kreidler: "No, Senator, it is not compulsory. It is permissive."

Senator Rasmussen: "It is permissive?" Then, let me ask one further question. I'm Joe Jackson and I come in from Indiana and I've got my metal detector with me and I go down there on the beach--I don't know anything about it being compulsory and it just says 'maybe.' How do I know if I'm operating legally or illegally and will that warden give me a ticket if I show up without having a permit?"

Senator Kreidler: "Right now, you'd be in a situation, under the current law, where you'd wind up being able to be told that you could not use them and could not keep anything you collected while you were using a metal detector. Essentially, now, we're setting up a permissive rule system which would, essentially, allow them then to be able to do it without any problems. I'm sure there would be signs that would have to be posted and if the signs were not properly posted, the assumption would be that there were no rules governing the use of metal detectors."

"One of the things we did in committee to try and reinforce to the Parks Department, which really caused this problem to come up in the first place, was to express to them the sincere interests of the committee to see that this was done with a great deal of latitude to essentially encourage and support people who want to use metal detectors as some form of recreation."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the Committee on Parks and Ecology amendment.

The motion by Senator Kreidler carried and the committee amendment was adopted.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Kreidler, the following title amendment was adopted:

On page 1, on line 1 of the title, after "beaches;" insert "amending RCW 79.01.748 and 79.01.752;"

On motion of Senator Kreidler, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 4286 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 4286 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 46; absent, 2; excused, 1.

Absent: Senators Cantu, McDermott - 2.

Excused: Senator McManus - 1.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 3500, by Senators Peterson, Benitz, Hansen, Vognild, Conner and Metcalf

Regulating tourist and agricultural directional signs along state highways.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Zimmerman, Senator Cantu was excused.

On motion of Senator Peterson, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3500 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 3500 and the substitute bill was advanced to second reading and read the second time.

On motion of Senator Peterson, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3500 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Peterson, in the explanation here it says, 'political signs.' Are political signs going to be allowed to go along side the highways?"

Senator Peterson: "I think the penalty clause is removed on them during the period of the campaign. Yes, that's one of the things that everyone might not agree with and as Senator Patterson has indicated, Slim, there may be some glitches in this bill that when it gets to the House, that some of these things may be improved or taken out. Rather than delaying action of the bill with the limited time we have left, I think the amount of effort that we put forth in this, I would like to pass it through this body. If there are necessary corrections to be made for it, I am sure we will have the opportunity again to do so."

Senator Rasmussen: "Well, Senator Peterson, I guess my question will be--would it be considered that we would have a personal interest in this bill in the allowing of political signs along the highways?"

Senator Peterson: "I think if you'll note, it's off of the right-of-way, Slim."

Senator Rasmussen: "How far off?"

Senator Peterson: "I don't know how far off--it doesn't say. It says it's off of the right-of-way, so we're not allowing political signs on the rights-of-ways of our state highways. Right now, political signs in any given campaign--you'll find them not only on the right-of-way--but surely any where off the right-of-way on private property are permitted and allowed."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Mr. President, I know you don't rule on constitutional questions, but this question is--a bill that is clearly related to politics and summer-time bloom--would it be a conflict of interest for those of us who are going to be running for office to vote on this legislation? Let me say further, Mr. President, that you do not discolor the highways with your signs. I've never seen any of them out there, but you don't vote. I might have a conflict that somebody would say 'you feathered the bed for yourself.'"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "The President believes that everyone is treated the same and it is of no special interest to any one person."

Senator Rasmussen: "Even our opponents would have that right, too, then? Thank you. I see your point. Our opponents would have that same right if they knew the maintenance man along the highway."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 3500.

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 3500 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 42; nays, 5; excused, 2.

On page 1, after line 27, insert the following:

"Sec. 2. Section 12, chapter 137, Laws of 1981 as last amended by section 6, chapter 209, Laws of 1984 and RCW 9.94A.120 are each amended to read as follows:

When a person is convicted of a felony, the court shall impose punishment as provided in this section.

(1) Except as authorized in subsections (2) and (5) of this section, the court shall impose a sentence within the sentence range for the offense.

(2) The court may impose a sentence outside the standard sentence range for that offense if it finds, considering the purpose of this chapter, that there are substantial and compelling reasons justifying an exceptional sentence.

(3) Whenever a sentence outside the standard range is imposed, the court shall set forth the reasons for its decision in written findings of fact and conclusions of law. A sentence outside the standard range shall be a determinate sentence.

(4) An offender convicted of the crime of murder in the first degree shall be sentenced to a term of total confinement not less than twenty years. An offender convicted of the crime of assault in the first degree where the offender used force or means likely to result in death or intended to kill the victim shall be sentenced to a term of total confinement not less than five years. An offender convicted of the crime of rape in the first degree shall be sentenced to a term of total confinement not less than three years, and shall not be eligible for furlough, work release or other authorized leave of absence from the correctional facility during such minimum three year term except for the purpose of commitment to an inpatient treatment facility. The foregoing minimum terms of total confinement are mandatory and shall not be varied or modified as provided in subsection (2) of this section.

(5) In sentencing a first-time offender, other than a person convicted of a violation of chapter 9A.44 RCW or RCW 9A.64.020, the court may waive the imposition of a sentence within the sentence range and impose a sentence which may include up to ninety days of confinement in a facility operated or utilized under contract by the county and a requirement that the offender refrain from committing new offenses. The sentence may also include up to two years of community supervision, which, in addition to crime-related prohibitions, may include requirements that the offender perform any one or more of the following:

- (a) Devote time to a specific employment or occupation;
 - (b) Undergo available outpatient treatment for up to two years, or inpatient treatment not to exceed the standard range of confinement for that offense;
 - (c) Pursue a prescribed, secular course of study or vocational training;
 - (d) Remain within prescribed geographical boundaries and notify the court or the community corrections officer of any change in the offender's address or employment;
 - (e) Report as directed to the court and a community corrections officer; or
 - (f) Pay a fine, make restitution, and/or accomplish some community service work.
- (6) If a sentence range has not been established for the defendant's crime, the court shall impose a determinate sentence which may include not more than one year of confinement, community service work, restitution, a term of community supervision not to exceed one year, and/or a fine. The court may impose a sentence which provides more than one year of confinement if the court finds, considering the purpose of this chapter, that there are substantial and compelling reasons justifying an exceptional sentence.

(7) (a) When an offender is convicted of any violation of chapter 9A.44 RCW or RCW 9A.64.020 except RCW 9A.44.040 or RCW 9A.44.050 and has no prior convictions of chapter 9A.44 RCW, RCW 9A.64.020, or any other felony sexual offenses in this or any other state, the sentencing court on its own motion or the motion of the state or the defendant, may order an examination to determine whether the defendant is amenable to treatment.

After receipt of the reports, the court shall then determine whether the offender and the community will benefit from use of this special sexual offender sentencing alternative. If the court determines that both the offender and the community will benefit from use of this provision, the court shall then impose a sentence within the sentence range and, if this sentence is less than six years of confinement, the court may suspend the execution of the sentence and place the offender on community supervision for up to two years. As a condition of the suspended sentence, the court may impose other sentence conditions including up to six months of confinement, not to exceed the sentence range of confinement for that offense, crime-related prohibitions, and requirements that the offender perform any one or more of the following:

- (i) Devote time to a specific employment or occupation;
- (ii) Undergo available outpatient sex offender treatment for up to two years, or inpatient sex offender treatment not to exceed the standard range of confinement for that offense. A community mental health center may not be used for such treatment unless it has an appropriate program designed for sex offender treatment;
- (iii) Remain within prescribed geographical boundaries and notify the court or the community corrections officer of any change in the offender's address or employment;
- (iv) Report as directed to the court and a community corrections officer;
- (v) Pay a fine, make restitution, accomplish some community service work, or any combination thereof; or
- (vi) Make recoupment to the victim for the cost of any counseling required as a result of the offender's crime.

If the offender violates these sentence conditions the court may revoke the suspension and order execution of the sentence. All confinement time served during the period of community supervision shall be credited to the offender if the suspended sentence is revoked.

(b) When an offender is convicted of any felony sexual offense and is sentenced to a term of confinement of more than one year but less than six years, the sentencing court may, on its own motion or on the motion of the offender or the state, order the offender committed for up to thirty days to the custody of the secretary of the department of social and health services at the Eastern State Hospital or the Western State Hospital for evaluation and report to the court on the offender's amenability to treatment at these facilities. If the secretary of the department of social and health services cannot begin the evaluation within thirty days of the court's order of commitment, the offender shall be transferred to the state for confinement pending an opportunity to be evaluated at the appropriate facility. The court shall review the reports and may order that the term of confinement imposed be served in the sexual offender treatment programs at Western State Hospital or Eastern State Hospital, as determined by the secretary of the department of social and health services. The offender shall be transferred to the state pending placement in the treatment program.

If the offender does not comply with the conditions of the treatment program, the secretary of the department of social and health services may refer the matter to the sentencing court for determination as to whether the offender shall be transferred to the department of corrections to serve the balance of his term of confinement.

If the offender successfully completes the treatment program before the expiration of his term of confinement, the court may convert the balance of confinement to community supervision and may place conditions on the offender including crime-related prohibitions and requirements that the offender perform any one or more of the following:

(i) Devote time to a specific employment or occupation;

(ii) Remain within prescribed geographical boundaries and notify the court or the community corrections officer of any change in the offender's address or employment;

(iii) Report as directed to the court and a community corrections officer;

(iv) Undergo available outpatient treatment.

If the offender violates any of the terms of his community supervision, the court may order the offender to serve out the balance of his community supervision term in confinement in the custody of the department of corrections.

(8) If the court imposes a sentence requiring confinement of thirty days or less, the court may, in its discretion, specify that the sentence be served on consecutive or intermittent days. A sentence requiring more than thirty days of confinement shall be served on consecutive days. Local jail administrators may schedule court-ordered intermittent sentences as space permits.

(9) If a sentence imposed includes a fine or restitution, the sentence shall specify a reasonable manner and time in which the fine or restitution shall be paid. In any sentence under this chapter the court may also require the offender to make such monetary payments, on such terms as it deems appropriate under the circumstances, as are necessary (a) to pay court costs, including reimbursement of the state for costs of extradition if return to this state by extradition was required, (b) to make recoupment of the cost of defense attorney's fees if counsel is provided at public expense, (c) to contribute to a county or interlocal drug fund, and (d) to make such other payments as provided by law. All monetary payments shall be ordered paid by no later than ten years after the date of the judgment of conviction.

(10) Except as provided under RCW 9.94A.140(1), a court may not impose a sentence providing for a term of confinement or community supervision which exceeds the statutory maximum for the crime as provided in RCW ~~(9A.20.020)~~ 9A.20.021.

(11) All offenders sentenced to terms involving community supervision, community service, restitution, or fines shall be under the supervision of the secretary of the department or such person as the secretary may designate and shall follow implicitly the instructions of the secretary including reporting as directed to a community corrections officer, remaining within prescribed geographical boundaries, and notifying the community corrections officer of any change in the offender's address or employment.

(12) The sentencing court shall give the offender credit for all confinement time served before the sentencing if that confinement was solely in regard to the offense for which the offender is being sentenced.

(13) Whenever a court sentences a person convicted of a violent offense to a term of confinement of more than one year, the court shall also order, in addition to the other terms of the sentence, that the offender, upon release from confinement, serve up to three years of community supervision. The conditions of supervision shall be limited to:

(a) Crime-related prohibitions;

(b) A requirement that the offender report to a community corrections officer at regular intervals;

(c) A requirement to remain within or without stated geographical boundaries;

(d) Restrictions on the association of the offender during the period of community supervision;

(e) A requirement that the offender participate in treatment or counseling services;

(f) A requirement that the offender secure and maintain employment;

(g) A requirement that the offender pursue a prescribed, court approved course of study or vocational training;

(h) A requirement that the offender abstain from the use of alcohol or other intoxicants;
and

(i) Any other requirements the court deems necessary for the protection of the public.

The length and conditions of supervision shall be set by the court at the time of sentencing. However, within thirty days prior to release from confinement and throughout the period of supervision, the length of supervision may be shortened and conditions of supervision may be modified by the sentencing court, upon motion of the department of corrections, the offender, or the prosecuting attorney. The period of supervision shall be tolled during any time the offender is in confinement for any reason. The period of supervision shall be concurrent with any outpatient supervision that is part of a treatment program imposed under subsection (7) of this section. In no case shall the period of supervision, in combination with the other terms of the offender's sentence, exceed the statutory maximum term for the offender's crime, as set forth in RCW 9A.20.021.

If the offender violates any condition of supervision, the sentencing court, after a hearing conducted in the same manner as provided for in RCW 9.94A.200, may order the offender to be confined for up to sixty days in the county jail at state expense. An offender may be held in jail at state expense pending the hearing, and any time served while awaiting the hearing shall be credited against confinement imposed for a violation. Appeals may not be taken except as provided by Rule 2.3, rules of appellate procedure.

(14) Whenever a court sentences a person convicted of a nonviolent offense to a term of confinement of more than one year, the court shall also order, in addition to the other terms of the sentence, that the offender, upon release from confinement, serve up to one year of community supervision. The conditions of supervision shall be limited to:

(a) Crime-related prohibitions;

(b) A requirement that the offender report to a community corrections officer at regular intervals;

(c) A requirement to remain within or without stated geographical boundaries;

(d) Restrictions on the association of the offender during the period of community supervision;

(e) A requirement that the offender participate in treatment or counseling services;

(f) A requirement that the offender secure and maintain employment;

(g) A requirement that the offender pursue a prescribed, court approved course of study or vocational training;

(h) A requirement that the offender abstain from the use of alcohol or other intoxicants;

and
(i) Any other requirements the court deems necessary for the protection of the public.

The length and conditions of supervision shall be set by the court at the time of sentencing. However, within thirty days prior to release from confinement and throughout the period of supervision, the length of supervision may be shortened and conditions of supervision may be modified by the sentencing court, upon motion of the department of corrections, the offender, or the prosecuting attorney. The period of supervision shall be tolled during any time the offender is in confinement for any reason. The period of supervision shall be concurrent with any outpatient supervision that is part of a treatment program imposed under subsection (7) of this section. In no case shall the period of supervision, in combination with the other terms of the offender's sentence, exceed the statutory maximum term for the offender's crime, as set forth in RCW 9A.20.021.

If the offender violates any condition of supervision, the sentencing court, after a hearing conducted in the same manner as provided for in RCW 9.94A.200, may order the offender to be confined for up to sixty days in the county jail at state expense. An offender may be held in jail at state expense pending the hearing, and any time served while awaiting the hearing shall be credited against confinement imposed for a violation. Appeals may not be taken except as provided in Rule 2.3, rules of appellate procedure.

(15) The decision to impose or to modify any condition of post-release supervision shall be made to apply equally to offenders in all parts of the state, without discrimination as to any element that does not relate to the crime or the previous record of the offender. The decision on the length and conditions of supervision shall be made solely by the court.

(16) A departure from the standards in RCW 9.94A.400(1) and (2) governing whether sentences are to be served consecutively or concurrently is an exceptional sentence subject to the limitations in subsections (2) and (3) of this section, and may be appealed by the defendant or the state as set forth in RCW 9.94A.210(2) through (6).

Sec. 3. Section 20, chapter 137, Laws of 1981 as amended by section 12, chapter 209, Laws of 1984 and RCW 9.94A.200 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) If an offender violates any condition or requirement of a sentence, the court may modify its order of judgment and sentence and impose further punishment in accordance with this section.

(2) If an offender fails to comply with any of the requirements or conditions of a sentence the following provisions apply:

(a) The court, upon the motion of the state, or upon its own motion, shall require the offender to show cause why the offender should not be punished for the noncompliance. The court may issue a summons or a warrant of arrest for the offender's appearance;

(b) The state has the burden of showing noncompliance by a preponderance of the evidence. If the court finds that the violation has occurred, it may order the offender to be confined for a period not to exceed sixty days for each violation, and may convert a term of partial confinement to total confinement. Any time served in confinement awaiting a hearing on noncompliance shall be credited against any confinement order by the court; and

(c) If the court finds that the violation was not willful, the court may modify its previous order regarding payment of fines or other monetary payments and regarding community service obligations.

(3) Nothing in this section prohibits the filing of escape charges if appropriate.

Sec. 4. Section 7, chapter 115, Laws of 1983 as amended by section 19, chapter 209, Laws of 1984 and RCW 9.94A.360 are each amended to read as follows:

The offender score is measured on the horizontal axis of the sentencing grid. The offender score rules are summarized in Table 3, RCW 9.94A.330.

The offender score is computed in the following way:

(1) Include juvenile felony convictions if the offender was 15 or older at the time the offense was committed and the offender was less than 23 at the time the offense for which he or she is being sentenced was committed.

(2) If the present conviction is for Murder 1 or 2, Assault 1, Kidnaping 1, or Rape 1, count three points for prior adult and juvenile convictions for crimes in these categories, two points for each prior adult and juvenile violent conviction (not already counted), one point for each prior adult nonviolent felony conviction, and 1/2 point for each prior juvenile nonviolent felony conviction.

(3) If the present conviction is for Burglary 1, count priors as in subsection (5) of this section; however count two points for each prior adult Burglary 2 conviction, and one point for each prior juvenile Burglary 2 conviction.

(4) If the present conviction is for Vehicular Homicide, only count the following crimes as part of the offender score: Vehicular Homicide, Vehicular Assault, Felony Hit and Run (RCW 46.52.020(4)), Hit and Run (RCW 46.52.020(5)), Driving While Intoxicated (RCW 46.61.502), Actual Physical Control (RCW 46.61.504), Reckless Driving (RCW 46.61.500), Attempting to Elude a Police Officer (RCW 46.61.500). Count two points for each adult or juvenile Vehicular Homicide conviction, one point for each other adult felony traffic or serious traffic conviction, and 1/2 point for each other juvenile felony traffic or serious traffic conviction.

(5) If the present conviction is for a violent offense and not covered in subsections (2), (3), (4), or (8) of this section, count two points for each prior adult and juvenile violent felony conviction, one point for each prior adult nonviolent felony conviction, and 1/2 point for each prior juvenile nonviolent felony conviction.

(6) If the present conviction is for escape (Escape 1, RCW 9A.76.110; Escape 2, RCW 9A.76.120; Willful Failure to Return from Furlough, RCW 72.66.060; and Willful Failure to Return from Work Release, RCW 72.65.070), count only prior escape convictions in the offender score. Count adult prior escape convictions as one point and juvenile prior escape convictions as 1/2 point.

(7) If the present conviction is for Burglary 2, count priors as in subsection (9) of this section; however count two points for each adult and juvenile prior Burglary 1 conviction, two points for each adult prior Burglary 2 conviction, and one point for each juvenile prior Burglary 2 conviction.

(8) If the present conviction is for a violation of chapter 69.50 RCW, except for possession of a controlled substance (RCW 69.50.401(d)), count two points for each adult prior felony drug conviction (chapter 69.50 RCW, except RCW 69.50.401(d)), and one point for each juvenile drug conviction. All other adult and juvenile felonies are scored as in subsection (5) of this section if the current drug conviction is violent, or as in subsection (9) of this section if the current drug conviction is nonviolent.

(9) If the present conviction is for a nonviolent offense and not covered by subsection (6), (7), or (8) of this section, count one point for each prior adult felony conviction and one point for each prior juvenile violent felony conviction and 1/2 point for each prior juvenile nonviolent felony.

(10) If the present conviction is for an offense committed while the offender was under community supervision pursuant to this chapter, count one point.

(11) For all offender scores, the fractional totals shall be rounded down to the nearest whole number.

((+)) (12) In the case of multiple prior convictions for the purpose of computing the offender score, count all adult convictions served concurrently as one offense, and count all juvenile convictions entered on the same date as one offense. The conviction for the offense that yields the highest offender score is used.

((+)) (13) Class A prior felony convictions are always included in the offender score. Class B prior felony convictions are not included if the offender has spent ten years in the community and has not been convicted of any felonies since the last date of release from confinement pursuant to a felony conviction (including full-time residential treatment), if any, or entry of judgment and sentence. Class C prior felony convictions and serious traffic convictions as defined in RCW 9.94A.330 are not included if the offender has spent five years in the community and has not been convicted of any felonies since the last date of release from confinement pursuant to a felony conviction (including full-time residential treatment), if any, or entry of judgment and sentence. This subsection applies to both adult and juvenile prior convictions.

The designation of out-of-state convictions shall be covered by the offense definitions and sentences provided by Washington law.

The offender score is the sum of points accrued under subsections (1) through ((12)) (13) of this section.

Sec. 5. Section 4, chapter 115, Laws of 1983 as amended by section 18, chapter 209, Laws of 1984 and RCW 9.94A.330 are each amended to read as follows:

It shall be filed with the secretary of the senate and chief clerk of the house of representatives by January 1, 1986.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. Sections 2, 3, 4, and 5 of this act shall take effect for all persons sentenced for offenses committed after September 1, 1986."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Granlund: "I raise the issue of scope and object. I, respectfully, would like to submit to you that this amendment is outside the scope and object of the bill. Senate Bill 3148 repealed obsolete probation back to the set up special supervision programs for adult felons who received probation. Now, sometime ago we had what we called the special adult supervision program that was authorized by statute—that was an inducement, I guess I would have to say, to counties to share in the costs of supervision for service. These references in statutes are obsolete with the passing of SRA. We no longer have a need for this and I would remind you that the bill speaks to probation not to post release supervision.

"I think the amendment—I'm not going to speak to the merits of it now, but it probably is an amendment—a philosophical vent, if you will, that would be more probably put on a package that would be coming over from the House—House Bill No. 348, which is a sentencing reform package. Mr. President, I, respectfully, submit that you rule on the scope and object issue."

Debate ensued.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "In ruling upon the point of order raised by Senator Granlund, the President finds that Senate Bill No. 3148 is a single purpose measure repealing chapter 9.95A, The Probationary Subsidy Act.

"The amendment proposed by Senator Halsan provides for the supervision of felons upon their release from prison as an addition to the sentences provided in Chapter 9.94A, the Sentencing Reform Act.

"The President, therefore, finds that the proposed amendment does expand the scope and object of the bill and that the point of order is well taken."

The amendment was ruled out of order.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Granlund, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 3148 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Senate Bill No. 3148.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Senate Bill No. 3148 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 45; excused, 4.

Voting yeas: Senators Bailey, Barr, Bauer, Bender, Benitz, Bluechel, Bottiger, Conner, Craswell, Deccio, DeJarnatt, Fleming, Garrett, Gaspard, Goltz, Granlund, Guess, Halsan, Hansen, Hayner, Kreidler, Lee, McCaslin, McDermott, McDonald, Metcalf, Moore, Newhouse, Owen, Patterson, Peterson, Pullen, Rasmussen, Rinehart, Saling, Sellar, Stratton, Talmadge, Thompson, Vogt, von Reichbauer, Warnke, Williams, Wojahn, Zimmerman - 45.

Excused: Senators Cantu, Johnson, Kiskaddon, McManus - 4.

SENATE BILL NO. 3148, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

MOTION

At 7:15 p.m., on motion of Senator Vognild, the Senate adjourned until 9:30 a.m., Friday, March 15, 1985.

JOHN A. CHERBERG, President of the Senate.

SID SNYDER, Secretary of the Senate.

SIXTY-FIRST DAY

MOTION

On motion of Senator Vognild, the reading of the journal of the previous day was dispensed with and it was approved.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 4105, by Senators Newhouse, Hayner, Lee and McCaslin
Relating to mental health commitment.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Talmadge, Substitute Senate Bill No. 4105 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 4105 and the substitute bill was advanced to second reading and read the second time.

Senator Granlund moved that the following amendment by Senators Granlund, Johnson and Pullen be adopted:

On page 3, after line 28, insert the following:

*Sec. 2. Section 12, chapter 137, Laws of 1981 as last amended by section 6, chapter 209, Laws of 1984 and RCW 9.94A.120 are each amended to read as follows:

When a person is convicted of a felony, the court shall impose punishment as provided in this section.

(1) Except as authorized in subsections (2) and (5) of this section, the court shall impose a sentence within the sentence range for the offense.

(2) The court may impose a sentence outside the standard sentence range for that offense if it finds, considering the purpose of this chapter, that there are substantial and compelling reasons justifying an exceptional sentence.

(3) Whenever a sentence outside the standard range is imposed, the court shall set forth the reasons for its decision in written findings of fact and conclusions of law. A sentence outside the standard range shall be a determinate sentence.

(4) An offender convicted of the crime of murder in the first degree shall be sentenced to a term of total confinement not less than twenty years. An offender convicted of the crime of assault in the first degree where the offender used force or means likely to result in death or intended to kill the victim shall be sentenced to a term of total confinement not less than five years. An offender convicted of the crime of rape in the first degree shall be sentenced to a term of total confinement not less than three years, and shall not be eligible for furlough, work release or other authorized leave of absence from the correctional facility during such minimum three year term except for the purpose of commitment to an inpatient treatment facility. The foregoing minimum terms of total confinement are mandatory and shall not be varied or modified as provided in subsection (2) of this section.

(5) In sentencing a first-time offender, other than a person convicted of a violation of chapter 9A.44 RCW or RCW 9A.64.020, the court may waive the imposition of a sentence within the sentence range and impose a sentence which may include up to ninety days of confinement in a facility operated or utilized under contract by the county and a requirement that the offender refrain from committing new offenses. The sentence may also include up to two years of community supervision, which, in addition to crime-related prohibitions, may include requirements that the offender perform any one or more of the following:

(a) Devote time to a specific employment or occupation;

(b) Undergo available outpatient treatment for up to two years, or inpatient treatment not to exceed the standard range of confinement for that offense;

(c) Pursue a prescribed, secular course of study or vocational training;

(d) Remain within prescribed geographical boundaries and notify the court or the community corrections officer of any change in the offender's address or employment;

- (e) Report as directed to the court and a community corrections officer; or
- (f) Pay a fine, make restitution, and/or accomplish some community service work.

(6) If a sentence range has not been established for the defendant's crime, the court shall impose a determinate sentence which may include not more than one year of confinement, community service work, restitution, a term of community supervision not to exceed one year, and/or a fine. The court may impose a sentence which provides more than one year of confinement if the court finds, considering the purpose of this chapter, that there are substantial and compelling reasons justifying an exceptional sentence.

(7) (a) When an offender is convicted of any violation of chapter 9A.44 RCW or RCW 9A.64.020 except RCW 9A.44.040 or RCW 9A.44.050 and has no prior convictions of chapter 9A.44 RCW, RCW 9A.64.020, or any other felony sexual offenses in this or any other state, the sentencing court on its own motion or the motion of the state or the defendant, may order an examination to determine whether the defendant is amenable to treatment.

After receipt of the reports, the court shall then determine whether the offender and the community will benefit from use of this special sexual offender sentencing alternative. If the court determines that both the offender and the community will benefit from use of this provision, the court shall then impose a sentence within the sentence range and, if this sentence is less than six years of confinement, the court may suspend the execution of the sentence and place the offender on community supervision for up to two years. As a condition of the suspended sentence, the court may impose other sentence conditions including up to six months of confinement, not to exceed the sentence range of confinement for that offense, crime-related prohibitions, and requirements that the offender perform any one or more of the following:

- (i) Devote time to a specific employment or occupation;
- (ii) Undergo available outpatient sex offender treatment for up to two years, or inpatient sex offender treatment not to exceed the standard range of confinement for that offense. A community mental health center may not be used for such treatment unless it has an appropriate program designed for sex offender treatment;
- (iii) Remain within prescribed geographical boundaries and notify the court or the community corrections officer of any change in the offender's address or employment;
- (iv) Report as directed to the court and a community corrections officer;
- (v) Pay a fine, make restitution, accomplish some community service work, or any combination thereof; or
- (vi) Make recoupment to the victim for the cost of any counseling required as a result of the offender's crime.
