If the offender violates these sentence conditions the court may revoke the suspension and order execution of the sentence. All confinement time served during the period of community supervision shall be credited to the offender if the suspended sentence is revoked.

(b) When an offender is convicted of any felony sexual offense and is sentenced to a term of confinement of more than one year but less than six years, the sentencing court may, on its own motion or on the motion of the offender or the state, order the offender committed for up to thirty days to the custody of the secretary of the department of social and health services at the Eastern State Hospital or the Western State Hospital for evaluation and report to the court on the offender's amenability to treatment at these facilities. If the secretary of the department of social and health services cannot begin the evaluation within thirty days of the court's order of commitment, the offender shall be transferred to the state for confinement pending an opportunity to be evaluated at the appropriate facility. The court shall review the reports and may order that the term of confinement imposed be served in the sexual offender treatment programs at Western State Hospital or Eastern State Hospital, as determined by the secretary of the department of social and health services. However, the court shall not order that the term of confinement be served in the sexual offender treatment programs at Western State Hospital or Eastern State Hospital for any offender whose evaluation report indicates that the offender is dangerous or an escape risk. The offender shall be transferred to the state pending placement in the treatment program.

If the offender does not comply with the conditions of the treatment program, the secretary of the department of social and health services may refer the matter to the sentencing court for determination as to whether the offender shall be transferred to the department of corrections to serve the balance of his term of confinement.

If the offender successfully completes the treatment program before the expiration of his term of confinement, the court may convert the balance of confinement to community supervision and may place conditions on the offender including crime-related prohibitions and requirements that the offender perform any one or more of the following:

- (i) Devote time to a specific employment or occupation;
- (ii) Remain within prescribed geographical boundaries and notify the court or the community corrections officer of any change in the offender's address or employment;
- (iii) Report as directed to the court and a community corrections officer;
- (iv) Undergo available outpatient treatment.

If the offender violates any of the terms of his community supervision, the court may order the offender to serve out the balance of his community supervision term in confinement in the custody of the department of corrections.

(8) If the court imposes a sentence requiring confinement of thirty days or less, the court may, in its discretion, specify that the sentence be served on consecutive or intermittent days. A sentence requiring more than thirty days of confinement shall be served on consecutive days. Local jail administrators may schedule court-ordered intermittent sentences as space permits.

(9) If a sentence imposed includes a fine or restitution, the sentence shall specify a reasonable manner and time in which the fine or restitution shall be paid. In any sentence under this chapter the court may also require the offender to make such monetary payments, on such terms as it deems appropriate under the circumstances, as are necessary (a) to pay court costs, including reimbursement of the state for costs of extradition if return to this state by extradition was required, (b) to make recoupment of the cost of defense attorney's fees if counsel is provided at public expense, (c) to contribute to a county or interlocal drug fund, and (d) to make such other payments as provided by law. All monetary payments shall be ordered paid by no later than ten years after the date of the judgment of conviction.

(10) Except as provided under RCW 9.94A.140(1), a court may not impose a sentence providing for a term of confinement or community supervision which exceeds the statutory maximum for the crime as provided in RCW 9A.20.020.

(11) All offenders sentenced to terms involving community supervision, community service, restitution, or fines shall be under the supervision of the secretary of the department or such person as the secretary may designate and shall follow implicitly the instructions of the secretary including reporting as directed to a community corrections officer, remaining within prescribed geographical boundaries, and notifying the community corrections officer of any change in the offender's address or employment.

(12) The sentencing court shall give the offender credit for all confinement time served before the sentencing if that confinement was solely in regard to the offense for which the offender is being sentenced.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Talmadge: "Senator Granlund, have you analyzed your proposed amendment in the light of the Peterson case, that holds the mental health facility liable if they release someone who is deemed to be a dangerous patient?"

Senator Granlund: "It's precisely why I'm doing this, Senator Talmadge. I believe that the courts have the discretion not to send a person who is dangerous—a person who should be going to our state correctional institutions and not into a program. I would hate to bore the audience or bore our colleagues today with the ten sets of criteria, but they are spelled out very clearly that if this person is brought before the judge and has any one of these that applies to him, he should not be sent to the program and yet we have people on the bench, today, that say their hands are tied and I don't believe they are. We've had eight escapes from Western State Hospital. Right now, the capacity of the program at Western State Hospital is a hundred and ninety-eight—and we have two hundred and eighteen people there. At Eastern, we have fifty-six in an installation that has a capacity for forty-three—and I think something needs to be done."

Senator Talmadge: "I would certainly agree with that, Senator Granlund. My question was, has anybody on your staff analyzed this amendment from the standpoint of the Peterson case and the liability to the state? In specific, if someone is committed to the program at Western State Hospital and Eastern State Hospital, with your amendment, they must presumably not be dangerous and if, in fact, they are released and do damage to someone, wouldn't the state be necessarily liable under the Peterson case for the activity?"

Senator Granlund: "Pardon me, if I'm being obtuse. The point is—they should not be there at all, so the Peterson case would not apply."

Senator Talmadge: "But, I'm suggesting if the state makes a designation—if someone is sent to a facility, presumably they must not be dangerous. Is that correct, under your amendment?"

Senator Granlund: "Certainly."

Senator Talmadge: "If they, in fact, go out and do harm to someone, wouldn't the state be almost strictly liable for the consequences of the activity?"

Senator Granlund: "That has nothing to do with this amendment. This amendment is to keep people out of the program."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Talmadge, further consideration of Substitute Senate Bill No. 4105 was deferred.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 4141, by Senators Fleming, Bottiger, Hayner and Sellar

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Thompson, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 4141 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Vognild, further consideration of Substitute Senate Bill No. 4141 was deferred.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 4231, by Senators Owen, Conner, McDonald and Zimmerman (by Department of Game request)

Adjusting hunting and fishing license fees.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Owen, Substitute Senate Bill No. 4231 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 4231 and the substitute bill was advanced to second reading and read the second time.

On motion of Senator Owen, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 4231 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Owen, it would appear that on page 6, you've raised the fee for using a game department launching area to eight dollars and that each individual must have that license on him. At the present time, a person could drive in there with his family and have a fishing license or he could have one conservation permit and the whole family could go in there and use the launch area. Now, each one of those in the family, over sixteen, would have individual permits, is that correct?"

Senator Owen: "Senator Rasmussen, the Department of Game tells me that if one person in the family had it, they would not require that everybody else have it."

Senator Rasmussen: "The law here says 'each person'--'a person sixteen years of age or over using clearly identified game department lands and access facilities are required to possess conservation licenses on their person.' That would mean each individual would have to pay eight dollars and I think that is quite a burden for a family that's trying to stay together. The parents could either have a conservation license--or a fishing license would entitle them to use it, but the other individuals would all, now, have to have the license on their person. I don't care what the game department says, this is what the law says. It says 'the conservation license is non-transferrable.' I think that this is quite a burden and I'm going to have to vote 'no' on this legislation.

"Then one other place there, they have raised the license from a hundred to a hundred and fifty dollars and that's far more than nineteen percent increase. I had hoped this bill would be set down, so we could prepare some amendments."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 4231.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 4231 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 38; nays, 11.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Granlund, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 4216 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Granlund, would you explain that a little bit further? Let me say what I think it is and see if that's correct. If I went to a dentist and the dentist had a five hundred dollar bill and he wanted to waive part of it, would that be unprofessional conduct?"

Senator Granlund: "And have your third party pay or pay it all?"

Senator Rasmussen: "Well, the third party payer would only pay whatever they agreed to pay on these insurance plans."

Senator Granlund: "If he is going to waive that part of the bill, in encouraging you to increase your services, even though you don't need to have them, that is unprofessional conduct."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Senate Bill No. 4216.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Senate Bill No. 4216 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 32; nays, 17.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Wojahn, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 4236 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Senate Bill No. 4236.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Senate Bill No. 4236 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 48; absent, 1.

Voting yea: Senators Bailey, Barr, Bauer, Bender, Benitz, Bluechel, Bottiger, Cantu, Conner, Craswell, Deccio, DeJarnatt, Fleming, Garrett, Gaspard, Goltz, Granlund, Guess, Halsan, Hansen, Hayner, Johnson, Kiskaddon, Kreidler, Lee, McCaslin, McDermott, McDonald, McManus, Metcalf, Moore, Newhouse, Owen, Patterson, Peterson, Pullen, Rasmussen, Rinehart, Saling, Sellar, Stratton, Talmadge, Thompson, Vogniid, von Reichbauer, Warnke, Wojahn, Zimmerman - 48.

Absent: Senator Williams - 1.

SENATE BILL NO. 4236, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 3367, by Senators Talmadge and Newhouse (by Public Disclosure Commission request)

Revising public disclosure laws.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Talmadge, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3367 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 3367 and the substitute bill was advanced to second reading and read the second time.

Senator McDonald moved that the following amendments be considered simultaneously and adopted:

On page 13, line 3, after "campaigning" strike "or services performed for the committee"

On page 13, following line 12, add a new subsection as follows:

"(2) Reimbursement for services performed for the committee by a campaign treasurer or other individual."

Renumber the remaining subsection accordingly.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Talmadge: "Senator McDonald, so that I might understand the amendment, the intention of the two amendments that we're talking about here--the one on page 13, line 3, and page 13, line 13, is to permit the candidate to be reimbursed for lost income by the political campaign? Is that what you said?"

Senator McDonald: "No, it is not. The reimbursement would be for expenses, but not for lost income."

Senator Talmadge: "These two amendments would permit the reimbursement for expenses of the candidate?"

Senator McDonald: "Yes, it would allow for expenses, but not for the lost income."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Talmadge: "I looked at the bill and the sections you are attempting to amend in the first amendment, Senator McDonald, talked about reimbursement for loans to cover lost earnings incurred as a result of campaigning and what you're striking is the new language that was proposed by the commission--'or services performed for the committee.' My understanding in asking the question, initially, was--your amendment would still permit one to continue to receive reimbursement for lost wages sustained as a result of campaigning. What your amendment probably does preclude, is the kind of thing Senator Lee is talking about. Would you please clarify?"

Senator McDonald: "Yes, Senator Talmadge. We're simply striking 'or services performed for the committee.' 'Services performed for the committee' is very, very broad language. I think it's far broader than what we want to do. If we wanted to go into far more detail on this and propose something that will itemize those services which are acceptable and those which are not acceptable, I would be happy to join with you, but to simply say 'services,' that can be a whole host of things that I think opens this legislation up far more than we want to."

Senator Talmadge: "Just so I understand, the language that is there that permits reimbursement for expenses of a campaign treasurer or a candidate during a campaign is retained, and as a consequence, what you are talking about is the elimination of the language that relates to reimbursement for general services rendered--not the language relating with reimbursement of the candidate or campaign treasurer for income lost during a campaign, period?"

Senator McDonald: "This is correct."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendments by Senator McDonald.

The motion by Senator McDonald carried and the amendments were adopted.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Newhouse, the following amendment was adopted:
On page 17, line 13, after "set" insert "within the limits of RCW 43.03.028."

Senator Zimmerman moved that the following amendment be adopted:

On page 17, line 21, after "chapter" insert "including a report of all registered groups making aggregate contributions of one thousand dollars a year. This report will include a listing of all individual contributions exceeding fifty dollars. The report will be published no later than March 1 each year."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Talmadge: "Senator Zimmerman, as I understand it, the Public Disclosure Commission, now, does this. They procure a listing of the various campaigns--the contributions that were given. Is this to be substantially different than that report the Public Disclosure Commission now prepares--or do you have something else in mind?"

Senator Zimmerman: "I think that the way it's presently--is scattered. It's a scattered report. It's not easy for people to get to as far as the accurate contribution from groups. This would very much simplify the ability for the public--for people to see what's being contributed. I know they do put out some information--this would, I think, be the essence of doing it in a more useable, more practical report."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senator Zimmerman.

The motion by Senator Zimmerman carried and the amendment was adopted.

MOTION

Senator Pullen moved that the following amendment be adopted:

On page 10, line 2, after "of" strike "fifty dollars or more" and insert "more than fifty dollars"

Debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senator Pullen.

The motion by Senator Pullen carried and the amendment was adopted on a rising vote.

MOTION

Senator Stratton moved that the following amendment be adopted:

On page 21, after line 20, insert the following:

"NEW SECTION, Sec. 14. A new section is added to chapter 42.17 RCW to read as follows:

If a candidate who is required to file a statement of financial affairs under RCW 42.17.240 has not filed the statement by the time provided in RCW 42.17.240, that candidate's name shall not be placed on the ballot by the appropriate elections officer."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Pullen: "Senator Stratton, I want to commend you for your amendment and I'm inclined to support it. However, I have a technical question that I was hoping you could resolve. In the amendment, you refer to the time provided in RCW 14.17.240. Is that time April 15th each year?"

Senator Stratton: "When you file your financial affairs statement, it has to be filed within so many days of filing--if you recall."

Senator Pullen: "Unless you are an incumbent."

Senator Stratton: "And in 42.17.240, the incumbents would continue to file each year on April 15th, as we do."

Senator Pullen: "I guess my concern arises if an incumbent--in a year that he's not up for election should forget to file, I think that's happened to a few of our members from time to time. For example, suppose one of us were to forget to file prior to April 15th of this year, or for that matter, I suppose, simply forget to file in any year during the four-year period that you served as state Senator. Would you, then, under the terms of your amendment, be precluded from filing for office four years later when you're up--"

Senator Stratton: "Senator Pullen, if you will read line 9, this amendment says 'if a candidate,' so this would apply once you've become a candidate--to all people becoming candidates."

Senator Pullen: "Candidates who are incumbent did not file the F-1 report and other than the regular F-1 report due April 15th, if you're up for election--"

Senator Stratton: "If your F-1 report is delinquent, then I'd presume we'd come under the same treatment."

Senator Pullen: "Do you feel there ought to be some reasonable grace period, since if an incumbent Senator were just to forget by one day to file his report, then, I think a literal reading of your amendment would preclude him from being able to file as a candidate several months later."

Senator Stratton: "Let's be realistic. If you file your report on April 15th, even for a primary election, the ballots would not be printed until sometime in August--and if we, as Senators, are not responsible enough to be sure that our F-1's are filed, then 'yes,' we should be left off the ballot."

Senator Pullen: "Normally, it would be pretty easy, but I guess during a legislative session, when we're in session around April 15th and trying to get our income tax forms out at the same time--and in session every night seven days a week--it is easy to forget, I guess."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senator Stratton.

The motion by Senator Stratton carried and the amendment was adopted.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Talmadge, the following title amendment was adopted:

On page 1, line 4 of the title, after "42.17.405;" insert "adding a new section to chapter 42.17 RCW;"

On motion of Senator Talmadge, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3367 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Patterson: "Senator Talmadge, could you describe the process that the Public Disclosure would use in auditing a lobbyist's records?"

Senator Talmadge: "Senator Patterson, the authority that's contained in this bill is contained in Section 9 of the bill. In a particular case that was brought to the Supreme Court, there was some question about the scope of information that could be requested of the lobbyists. This particular amendment to the law provides that the Commission may ask for such other information as prescribed by a rule of the Commission. So that that issue--the issue of how much information need be provided would be something that the Commission could lay down in a rule process that will be open to public hearings and people will have an opportunity to testify and determine what kind of information could be disclosed. This would give them the authority to check what the lobbyist was saying in the reports."

Senator Patterson: "Would you anticipate that there will be additional expenses that would be incurred by the Public Disclosure Commission with these additional audit duties being prescribed?"

Senator Talmadge: "I certainly hope not. I don't think, in fact, that will be the case. The bill, as we have it before us, does not prescribe additional audits. It simply makes clear the authority of the Commission to ask such other information in the reporting process as they deem appropriate after the establishment of what it is they are going to ask via the rule-making process."

Senator Patterson: "And these are only those lobbyists that are officially registered to lobby during a legislative session? I'm just trying to get a handle on exactly the people we're talking about. Does the casual lobbyist that comes by--has a particular issue--may or may not be registered--would it include that person?"

Senator Talmadge: "I believe not. I believe it applies only to the normally registered lobbyist under the act."

Senator Patterson: "Someone who chose not to lobby, but comes down here and walks in here--and most of us are not aware of whether or not these individuals are registered lobbyists--we know who's in the book, but what I'm concerned about are those people who come in here and talk to us about a particular problem that they have. They are, in fact, lobbying and I just want to understand to the extent the audit of these persons' records would be subject to this law?"

Senator Talmadge: "At present, those kinds of casual lobbyists or citizen lobbyists are not required to report under the Public Disclosure Act. This particular section, I believe, does not affect that at all. It simply affects those people who are presently registered lobbyists who are making various kinds of expenditures for which they have to file reports under this amendment. When they do have to file reports, the Commission may ask for additional information, but only after establishing what that is, after a rule-making process."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Deccio: "Senator Talmadge, I haven't read the bill, but I would like to ask the question--are the provisions in this bill or any other provisions required that anyone coming over here for just one day to lobby a specific issue, would have to register? Is that changed any?"

Senator Talmadge: "No, Senator Deccio. My response to you is the same as I gave to Senator Patterson and that is that the sections we have in the bill relating to lobbyists' disclosure that are presently the law are unaffected by the section and I believe it's Section 9 that has been changed in this bill."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3367.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3367 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 44; nays, 5.

Yoting yea: Senators Bailey, Barr, Bauer, Bender, Benitz, Bottiger, Cantu, Conner, Deccio, DeJarnatt, Fleming, Garrett, Gaspard, Goltz, Granlund, Guess, Halsan, Hansen, Hayner, Johnson, Kiskaddon, Kreidler, Lee, McDermott, McDonald, McManus, Moore, Newhouse, Owen, Patterson, Peterson, Rasmussen, Rinehart, Saling, Sellar, Stratton, Talmadge, Thompson, Vognild, von Reichbauer, Warnke, Williams, Wojahn, Zimmerman - 44.

Yoting nay: Senators Bluechel, Craswell, McCaslin, Metcalf, Pullen - 5.

ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 3367, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

There being no objection, the President advanced the Senate to the eight order of business.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Williams, the following resolution was adopted:

SENATE RESOLUTION 1985-37

by Senators Williams, Rasmussen, Bender, Thompson, Owen, Talmadge, McManus, Fleming, McDermott and Vognild

WHEREAS, There has recently been discussion suggesting a more contemporary theme song as the official song of the state of Washington; and

WHEREAS, Few of our citizens are aware that there is an official theme song; and

WHEREAS, Even fewer of our citizens know the words or could carry the tune; and

WHEREAS, Members of the "baby boom generation" have come of age and constitute a major population with increasing influence over economic decisions; and

WHEREAS, Many of our citizens exhibit their pride, energy, and creativity through the art of music; and

WHEREAS, "Rock and roll" musicians have provided some of our citizens the ability to express their pride, energy, and creativity through the art of dance; and

WHEREAS, It has been suggested that the song "Louie Louie" should be adopted as the state theme song; and

WHEREAS, Rockin' Robin Roberts, singer for the "Wailers", a Washington musical group, was the original vocalist for the song "Louie Louie;" and

WHEREAS, Lyrics have been written especially for our state by Richard Berry to the tune "Louie Louie;"

WHEREAS, Some of our legislators, citizens, and even the Governor are not familiar with the song "Louie Louie";

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, By the members of the Senate, That before the end of the 49th legislative session, the proposed lyrics written to the tune "Louie Louie" be performed in the rotunda for the citizens of this state to enjoy; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the members of the Senate for the state of Washington hereby declare April 12, 1985, to be "Louie Louie Day;" and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the secretary of the Senate transmit a copy of this resolution to Mr. Berry.

Discussion on the resolution continued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Stratton: "Senator Rasmussen, I asked a question out here and I got an answer. I asked what is considered the baby boom generation and I was told it was those who came of age after the war. And I see your name on this amendment, and I'd like to know after what war?"

Senator Rasmussen: "Mr. President, if I may. Let me assure you that it was not the battle of the sexes. I do not participate in that, but I know that when my children and grandchildren get in the car and say 'Grandpa can I turn on the rock and roll,' I say, 'well it all depends on how bad the traffic is.' I did join on this, Senator Stratton, because I don't think Senator DeJarnatt can sing 'Washington My Home.' I have a little guilty conscience--having succumbed to the lobbying of Senator Bob Bailey, who did represent that district, and he did a terrific lobbying job, as Sid well knows. I don't remember that we sang the song, but it does not have the lilt like 'Bow Down to Washington.' You play that and everybody recognizes it, but when you play 'Washington My Home,' they say 'what is it?'"

"Helen Davis is a very nice woman. We all met her over in the House at the time we adopted that song and she did a good job for those days, but times change. The record sales have not been astounding, so possibly we should listen to another tune and, maybe, designate a committee of--well Margaret Hurley isn't here any more—but we could, maybe, ask her to lead a group to get a better song with more lilt to it—for Washington. So, my guilty conscience, Senator Stratton, and not wanting to battle with the real artists, I'm just hoping that, maybe, we can make some progress."

Further debate ensued.

The President introduced Mr. Ross Shafer, promoter of 'Louie, Louie' as the state song, seated on the Rostrum.

With permission of the Senate, business was suspended to permit Mr. Shafer to address the Senate.

MOTION

At 12:18 p.m., on motion of Senator Vognild, the Senate recessed until 1:30 p.m.

AFTERNOON SESSION

The Senate was called to order at 1:30 p.m. by President Cherberg.

There being no objection, the President reverted the Senate to the first order of business.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Senate Bill No. 4262 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 43; absent, 6.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Owen, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3877 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 3877 and the substitute bill was advanced to second reading and read the second time.

Senator Owen moved that the following amendment be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

*NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. A new section is added to chapter 75.25 RCW to read as follows:

(1) A nonresident shellfish and food fish license is required for nonresident persons over the age of fifteen years to fish for, take, or possess shellfish and food fish for personal use from state waters or offshore waters. This license is not required to take, fish for, or possess Hood Canal shrimp, razor clams, or salmon for which a license is required under RCW 75.25.015, 75.25.020, or 75.25.100.

(2) An annual nonresident shellfish and food fish license is valid for the calendar year in which it is issued. The fee for an annual nonresident shellfish and food fish license is fifteen dollars.

(3) A two-day nonresident shellfish and food fish license may be issued to nonresidents who fish for food fish and shellfish other than razor clams, Hood Canal shrimp, and salmon. The fee for a two-day nonresident shellfish and food fish license is five dollars. Nonresident shellfish and food fish licenses are validated at the time of purchase by the signature of the license holder.

(4) A nonresident shellfish and food fish license is not required to harvest shellfish from private shellfish lands or farms.

(5) Nonresident scuba divers and skin divers over the age of fifteen years must possess a nonresident shellfish and food fish license to fish for, take, or possess shellfish and food fish other than razor clams, Hood Canal shrimp, and salmon.

(6) Revenues from the sale of nonresident shellfish and food fish licenses shall be deposited in the general fund and shall be appropriated for the resource management, enhancement, research, and enforcement functions of the shellfish and marine fish programs of the department of fisheries.

Sec. 2. Section 12, chapter 327, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. as last amended by section 7, chapter 80, Laws of 1984 and RCW 75.25.130 are each amended to read as follows:

Salmon angling licenses, Hood Canal shrimp licenses, nonresident shellfish and food fish licenses, and razor clam licenses shall be issued only under authority of the director. The director may authorize license dealers to issue the licenses and collect the license fees. In addition to the license fee, license dealers may charge a dealer's fee of twenty-five cents for salmon angling licenses and fifty cents for nonresident shellfish and food fish licenses, Hood Canal shrimp licenses, and razor clam licenses. The dealer's fee may be retained by the license dealer.

The director shall adopt rules for the issuance of salmon angling licenses, Hood Canal shrimp licenses, nonresident shellfish and food fish licenses, and razor clam licenses and for the collection, payment, and handling of license fees and dealers fees.

Sec. 3. Section 15, chapter 327, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. as last amended by section 8, chapter 80, Laws of 1984 and RCW 75.25.140 are each amended to read as follows:

and write his or her signature for comparison with the signature on the license. Failure to comply with the request is prima facie evidence that the person does not have a license or is not the person named on the license.

(2) The razor clam license shall be visible on the licensee while digging for razor clams.

Sec. 4. Section 99, chapter 46, Laws of 1983 1st ex. sess. as amended by section 9, chapter 80, Laws of 1984 and RCW 75.25.150 are each amended to read as follows:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

MOTION

On page 2, line 8 of the amendment strike "over the age of fifteen years"

Debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senator Metcalf to the amendment by Senator Owen.

The motion by Senator Metcalf carried and the amendment to the amendment was adopted.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senator Owen, as amended.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Peterson: "Senator Owen, your amendment would only apply to non-resident fishermen or taking of shellfish?"

Senator Owen: "That's correct, only non-residents."

Senator Peterson: "That would mean my grandchildren and our family could still go out on the beach and dig butter clams without having to submit to a personal use license for shellfish?"

Senator Owen: "That's correct. If you go perch fishing or rock fishing and you want to go out and dig clams, then you would not have to have a license. Let me note one thing--to be fair to Senator Stratton in her bill. We did amend that if it's on your own property, her bill does not apply, but in my bill, it doesn't regardless of whose property."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McCaslin: "Senator Stratton, we've been coming in early and working late, I may have missed something. Didn't we just have a bill that had to do with the fishing licenses and what's the connection here?"

Senator Stratton: "Senator McCaslin, the bill we passed this morning related to the game department increases. This is not an Eastern Washington issue. This is a protection for the resource issue. We will get into that as we discuss the bill after this amendment is defeated."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senator Owen, as amended.

The motion by Senator Owen failed and the amendment, as amended, was not adopted on a rising vote.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Owen, the following amendment was adopted:

On page 4, line 33 of the amendment, after "food fish" insert ", or skin or scuba dive for food fish or shellfish."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Metcalf: "I don't have the bill before me right now. My amendment that was attached to the amendment that failed would require all scuba divers to have licenses is not attached to this particular amendment at this time, then, to the bill?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "Your amendment went down when Senator Owens' amendment went down."

Senator Metcalf: "Would it be proper, then, to offer it as an oral amendment? You all know what it is--to this bill to say that 'scuba divers or skin divers under the age of fifteen shall have to have a license.' That is, all scuba divers have to have a license, because, now, that we're talking about residents, it's a little bit different, but if it's proper I would offer it as an oral amendment to this bill."

President Cherberg: "Where would you place it, Senator?"

Senator Metcalf: "Well, perhaps we should place the bill down and I can get it and place it properly--or if you can take it as an oral amendment wherever it belongs in the bill. I'll trust our Chief Clerk to handle that."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Vognild, further consideration of Substitute Senate Bill No. 3877 was deferred.

"NEW SECTION, Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 49.44 RCW to read as follows:

In a civil action alleging a violation of RCW 49.44.120, the court may:

(1) Award a penalty in the amount of two thousand dollars to a prevailing employee or prospective employee in addition to any award of actual damages;

(2) Award reasonable attorneys' fees and costs to the prevailing employee or prospective employee; and

(3) Pursuant to RCW 4.84.185, award any prevailing party against whom an action has been brought for a violation of RCW 49.44.120 reasonable expenses and attorneys' fees upon final judgment and written findings by the trial judge that the action was frivolous and advanced without reasonable cause."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Newhouse: "Senator Talmadge, the language here would infer that the judge had no alternative than to access the full amount. Do you intent that? Shouldn't it say 'the court may award?'"

Senator Talmadge: "Senator, in the original bill, there was a mandatory two thousand dollar figure. I have no problem in making that something that would be discretionary with the court, if that is what you would want to do."

Senator Wojahn: "They have to give a warning first--before they close--that they give the warning--the greater amount they would receive. They have to close. They do not get it unless they close, but it would assist them as far as the closing costs. It might keep them in business. I think that most businessmen--the philosophy is they do not want to close a business."

Senator Lee moved that the following amendment be adopted:

On page 2, line 34, after "governor", insert "and direction of the authority"

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Lee: "Senator Kreidler, I do see in the bill where they are required to submit the plan to the Governor and the legislature and they give a date. I don't see any place where the legislature has to approve that plan or has to take any action of any kind. I thought you indicated that the bill was intended to do that. I'm just trying to clarify that in my own thinking."

Senator Kreidler: "By virtue of having the option of considering the plan for review, we have that option. It won't be a formal process of approving the plan, as such, but it will be to give us the opportunity to take action to either approve or reject it by virtue of legislative action that could be considered by the body."

Senator Lee: "However, it only requires the submission just as any other report--like the report that is being handed out right now from the Public Disclosure Commission--or something of this sort. Was it your intention that the legislature should actually review--in compiling this bill--so there would be like a report from the committee or something of this sort?"

Senator Kreidler: "The purpose was to give us the opportunity to take action if we did not agree with the plan, but wouldn't require the plan to have approval before it could be implemented. It gives us the opportunity to take action if we are in disagreement. It's one of those processes whereby we reach a compromise on this issue. I think we can all readily agree that everybody will have their two bits to offer if we had the absolute plan before us, but if there is disagreement with it, we will have the option of presenting legislation for consideration of that plan to make modifications to it, but it would not be a system whereby we we could stop the plan from going into effect per se."

Senator Lee: "So your answer is that it would take specific legislation passed through both houses to make any modification to the plan?"

Senator Kreidler: "That's what I said, yes."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senator Lee.

The motion by Senator Lee failed and the amendment was not adopted.

Modifying provisions relating to drivers' and motorcyclists' licenses.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Peterson, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3035 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 3035 and the substitute bill was advanced to second reading and read the second time.

On motion of Senator Kreidler, the rules were suspended. Substitute Senate Bill No. 3035 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator McManus, I quickly scanned this bill. Could you tell me if it has a seat belt provision for the motorcycle and for the jimmy seat?"

Senator McManus: "This bill does not have a seat belt requirement for the jimmy seat, Senator Rasmussen. No, it does not."

Senator Rasmussen: "I thought you were on TV saying they were very necessary."

Senator McManus: "Well, I believe they are necessary for cars and trucks and probably in a motorcycle you have a different set of circumstances. I would have to think that one through before I'd want to mandate a seat belt on a jimmy seat on a motorcycle."

Senator Rasmussen: "Thank you. Maybe we can get the House to amend it."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Patterson: "Senator McManus, when the bill was before the Transportation Committee, I was somewhat confused and I'm sure other members of the committee were confused in that, technically, the bill applies only to young people under the age of eighteen--that are required to go through this training course. Is that correct?"

Senator McManus: "No, that's not correct, Senator Patterson. If you're already licensed and you can demonstrate that you have had the proper education to drive a motorcycle, you're grandfathered in. If you're not licensed or your license has expired, then before you can renew your license you would have to pay the fee and go through a motorcycle driver's education class and that would apply to any age of driver in the state."

Senator Patterson: "In other words, for the first time--now, I am licensed to drive my automobile--if for the first time, I decide I want to go crazy and get out there and get on one of those bikes, do I have to go through--"

Senator McManus: "No, Senator Patterson, because you're grandfathered in, because you already have your driver's license."

Senator Patterson: "Driver's license for what?"

Senator McManus: "For cars."

Senator Patterson: "So, it's really not a license to drive a motorcycle you're talking about?"

Senator McManus: "It will be a permit certification to drive a motorcycle for those who are not yet licensed to drive."

Senator Patterson: "Then, what is the cost of the training course to the one that needs to have this kind of training?"

Senator McManus: "There will be a four dollar fee added to the basic driver's license fee of fourteen dollars to provide the money for the payment for the course which will be provided by the Motorcycle Safety Foundation through the Department of Licensing."

Senator Patterson: "So, all it's going to cost to take this training course--what you're saying--is that four dollars?"

Senator McManus: "That's correct, sir."

Senator Patterson: "That wasn't my understanding, but you are on record. As I understand, it costs more than that to take the training course, but that's your understanding of it, is that correct?"

Senator McManus: "That's correct and that's what's written. The training course has already been established, so you're not having to pay for the establishment of a new course. It's already in existence."

Senator Patterson: "Now, I asked one other question when they were testifying--the people that conduct these training courses. They all drive these high powered motorcycles and I noted and I asked the question whether or not, in their instruction there, if they recommend that the helmet be worn and I understand that that's one of the major problems with riding a bicycle--is that the head injuries that occur if you get thrown off and are in a bad situation with another vehicle. The answer came to me, 'oh, yes, we do.' Just for the benefit of this body, I waited until all those that were there that apparently were the instructors went out to their bicycles and got aboard and there wasn't a one of them--and there were nine of them--there wasn't a one of them that had a helmet with them. This bothers me very much.

"You know, these are the advocates of giving them proper training and yet when it came time for them to do their instruction, then, they personally do not wear the helmet and that bothers me somewhat."

Senator McManus: "I'm also told, Senator Patterson, that many of these instructors who are both members of cyclist groups and who are not, do wear their helmets and other protective equipment."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 3035.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 3035 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 33; nays, 16.

Voting yea: Senators Bailey, Bauer, Bender, Bluechel, Bottiger, Conner, DeJarnatt, Fleming, Garrett, Gaspard, Goltz, Granlund, Guess, Halsan, Hansen, Hayner, Kiskaddon, Kreidler, Lee, McDermott, McManus, Moore, Owen, Peterson, Rinehart, Saling, Stratton, Talmadge, Thompson, Vognild, Warnke, Williams, Wojahn - 33.

SENATE BILL NO. 3125, by Senators Conner, Hansen and Garrett (by Department of Transportation request)

Authorizing construction of the Quinault Tribal Highway.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Peterson, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3125 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 3125 and the substitute bill was advanced to second reading and read the second time.

On motion of Senator Peterson, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3125 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Patterson: "Senator Vognild, I want to refer to the substitute bill that dealt with this issue. Could you kind of describe just a little bit for the benefit of the body what some of the problems were in trying to have the state of Washington involved in this project?"

Senator Vognild: "I'll try, Senator. Basically, the substitute bill is a bill that authorizes the Department to acquire the land--the right of way--to proceed with the engineering and build a highway as they would any place in the state. Now, some of the problems involved are that we are going through, in this case, the Quinault Indian Reservation. The Quinault tribe feels that they should have ownership of the land. They would want to control the access from the highway and they want the power to police the highway, as well. This bill does not give them any of that power. Joe De LaCruz, who is president of the tribe has indicated that there is room to talk and there is room for a potential agreement. I think our best move is to put this bill over to the House now that they are willing to talk. I feel comfortable that we have a good chance of working out an agreement that is agreeable to the property owners, to the people of the state of Washington and to the Quinault tribe and get this very valuable piece of highway built."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Fleming: "Senator Vognild, what you're saying is that this substitute bill is going to amend it to be as any highway that we are constructing--would normally be in terms of authority and so on? Is that correct?"

Senator Vognild: "That's correct, with one exception I should probably put in there. The one exception is that they are authorized to negotiate with the federal government and the tribe for some federal money to build the highway."

Senator Fleming: "O.K. Secondly, the way this is written up now is not, as I would see it, this is not the way it would normally go if this was a normal road going across an Indian reservation. On a normal situation, they would have the authority that you struck out of this original bill. Am I right?"

Senator Vognild: "Not necessarily, Senator. There are roads built in this state on Indian reservations that are owned and controlled completely by the state of Washington. There are other roads on reservation lands that are built and operated under a mutual agreement, so both can be done."

Senator Fleming: "O.K., but that's land that's owned and operated by the government and was either negotiated or sold to the government by the Indians?"

Senator Vognild: "Yes, as any other private land owner would be treated."

Senator Fleming: "As this bill was drawn up, this bill would make it happen without that negotiation or without buying it in terms of putting a hammer over the Indian reservation's head to bring them to the table?"

Senator Vognild: "No, Senator, it would not, because if the highway were to pass through or in any way encroach upon any land currently owned by the Quinault Nation, they would have to be negotiated with--purchased whatever the case is as any landowner would."

Senator Fleming: "My last question, then, if that is the case, why did you change the language from the original bill to this bill?"

Senator Vognild: "Because the original bill indicated that any land that was purchased would automatically revert to the control of the Quinault tribe, even though it was purchased from a private landowner that was not a member of the tribe."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 3125.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Hansen: "Senator Goltz, I understand your problem with the floods that happened, but could anybody have taken that material out of that area without a hydraulic's permit? On the Nooksack River, I've seen timber laying in there that the people would love to get out, but the Game Department says 'no' and it's eating the banks away. In the Yakima River, the rafters--where after the flood and washed debris--that was hazardous to the rafters that use that river--went out and tried to take them out and they were stopped by the Game and Fisheries Department. Now, you're trying to put the fox in the hen house here and I think they're the one that stopped a lot of this clean-up before. Have you thought of that angle?"

Senator Goltz: "I will try to think of that angle as I give the reasons for my being interested in the bill."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Zimmerman: "Senator Bender, on page 2, where they list the number of the reserves, it indicates the reserves of the report claims at the end of the current year. My concern is how far out can you project reserves? It seems to me there's going to be cases--suits and so on that would possibly come down the line for the various professions that are covered. Probably, there would be the possibility of medical malpractice. I don't know how far down the line can you see reserves?"

Senator Bender: "This is a category in terms of their accounting procedure called 'losses incurred but not reported.' They keep a certain amount which they consider to be future claims down the road and these are kept for years, and they also use this money in terms of investment as well. While they're keeping this money in reserve, they also put it to investments and get to collect that money off of those investments as well."

Senator Zimmerman: "Actuarially though, there are certain figures you have to assume they have to keep for purposes of coverage. We're not leaving anyone bare out there in terms of the possibility of not being covered?"

Senator Bender: "That's correct. All we're asking for in this bill is to give us some more information to base those decisions on."

Senator Zimmerman: "The one other question, Senator Bender, where it says down on line 33, that 'this section shall provide for as many preceding years as required by the commissioner.' Is it likely that they would go back several years? That would be a little bit of a burden. I'm just curious as how that would apply."

Senator Bender: "My understanding with the Insurance Commissioner's Office is that they don't have any plans at all to go back to preceding years. All they want, now, is terms of what's going to happen today and in future years. They do not plan to go back."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 3897.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bluechel: "Senator Bauer, would this establish a separate agency and in the funding for these, would these be listed as a separate item--they would be out of DSHS--they would be by themselves literally as a separate agency?"

Senator Bauer: "Yes, Senator, the original suggestion was that they put them through the Superintendent of Public Instruction, but it appeared that that wasn't the necessary move, so they will be separate agencies, yes."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 3797.

On motion of Senator Moore, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3989 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Pullen: "Thank you, Senator Wojahn. I commend you for your work in this very sensitive area. Let me ask one question, though. Is there any time limit involved in the bill beyond which insurance companies may or may not renew or provide insurance? In other words, I would assume that if a mastectomy had occurred recently, the insurance company could have a legitimate fear that there could be a recurrence of cancer. Is there any time limit that is involved in the bill?"

Senator Wojahn: "Yes, it's five years, and, also, if a person has had a mastectomy in order to have reconstructive work, it has to occur by six and a half years, generally, because the muscles contract and atrophy."

Senator Pullen: "I would assume that at least, to me, it seems like a reasonable time frame. Is there any evidence that there is any significant statistical recurrence of cancer after a five-year period?"

Senator Wojahn: "That's the magic date."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McDonald: "Senator Wojahn, just looking at the bill, if a woman had some other disease or some other problem, does it say that they cannot deny insurance because of that?"

Senator Wojahn: "It simply says that insurance may not be denied because of a mastectomy and this has been the reason that there have been denials according to the Insurance Commissioner's Office and so the bill covers only that section. They are simply pulling that out of context and doing it. Now, they haven't had complaints on other items and that's the reason we sponsored the bill because there had been complaints—a number of them in the last year and a half."

Senator McDonald: "But they can deny it for another reason?"

Senator Wojahn: "I'm sure. Sure."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 3989.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 3989 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 42; nays, 1; absent, 3; excused, 3.

Voting nay: Senator Sellar - 1.

Absent: Senators Barr, Lee, McDermott - 3.

Excused: Senators Benitz, Johnson, von Reichbauer - 3.

SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 3989, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 3558, by Senators Thompson, Metcalf and Conner

Authorizing state support of Washington students pursuing maritime studies out of state.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Gaspard, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3558 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 3558 and the substitute bill was advanced to second reading and read the second time.

On motion of Senator Gaspard, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3558 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Patterson: "Senator Gaspard, as I recall when we signed this bill out of committee, it was authorizing a program in optometry."

Senator Gaspard: "Optometry was authorized a couple of years ago."

Senator Patterson: "I'm reading on page 102 of the digest and it's a summary. Do we have another bill in committee that expands the authority of WICHE?"

Senator Gaspard: "We passed one yesterday, I believe, in osteopathic medicine."

Senator Patterson: "That's the other bill?"

Senator Gaspard: "That's the other bill and the reference to optometry--there was a section there that said we used optometry as the only expansion that we've had in the last few years. We wanted to make sure that these students will be in addition to the programs and that's why optometry is still in there with the current language."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McDonald: "Senator Gaspard, going through the numbers, it looks like a lot of money per student--$8,100. I'm a WICHE commissioner and that's great and I think it's a great program, but it does seem like a lot of money. Is there any explanation for that?"

Senator Gaspard: "We have an appropriation on it for $48,600. Is that what you're asking for--the appropriation?"

Senator McDonald: "No, I'm asking why eight thousand dollars a year?"

Senator Gaspard: "It's just what has been recognized to us as the cost of the program."

REMARKS BY SENATOR BOTTIGER

Senator Bottiger: "Senator McDonald, the thing you're referring to is what it costs the state of California to run the program per student. If you'll notice, six students on a two-year program--this is a two-year appropriation. That would be $24,000 a year. We would be subsidizing about four thousand a student."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 3558.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 3558 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 44; absent, 2; excused, 3.

Absent: Senators Lee, Rinehart - 2.

Excused: Senators Benitz, Johnson, von Reichbauer - 3.

SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 3558, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 3830, by Senators Garrett, Saling and Williams

Requiring full compensation for street vacations acquired at public expense.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Thompson, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 3830 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bottiger: "Senator Garrett, it has been my experience that on occasion one abutting property owner will want the vacation in the entire tract and the other abutting property owner is perfectly willing to allow them to do that. In that case, the person acquiring the property would pay the full appraised value of the entire tract being vacated?"

Senator Garrett: "That's absolutely right. In some instances, they would go ahead and each one would buy it and then they would make the deal between them. In my sister's case in Seattle, it was exactly as you indicated. There was an alley vacated and the property owner on the other side did not want it. She got the whole right of way for half the appraised value, because it was dedicated for public use only."

Senator Bottiger: "The second part--the part I'm concerned about--is where each of the abutting property owners want one-half and they are each willing to pay one-half of the full appraised value. Does this bill require them to each pay a full appraised value for only half of the property?"

Senator Garrett: "Absolutely not. They could only get the full appraised value and it would, of course, not matter to the taxpayers or the citizens who paid it."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Senate Bill No. 3830.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Senate Bill No. 3830 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 44; absent, 4; excused, 1.

Voting yea: Senators Bailey, Barr, Bauer, Bender, Bluechel, Bottiger, Cantu, Conner, Craswell, Deccio, DeJarnatt, Garrett, Gaspard, Goltz, Granlund, Guess, Halsan, Hansen, Hayner, Johnson, Kiskaddon, Kreidler, Lee, McCaslin, McDermott, McDonald, Metcalf, Moore, Newhouse, Owen, Patterson, Peterson, Pullen, Rasmussen, Rinehart, Saling, Sellar, Stratton, Talmadge, Thompson, Vognild, Williams, Wojahn, Zimmerman - 44.

Absent: Senators Benitz, Fleming, McManus, Warnke - 4.

Excused: Senator von Reichbauer - 1.

SENATE BILL NO. 3830, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 3804, by Senators Zimmerman, McDermott, Talmadge and Kiskaddon

Modifying liability for "AIDS" in transactions involving blood donations.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Cantu moved that the following amendment be adopted:

On page 1, line 2 after the enacting clause, insert a new section to read as follows and renumber the remaining section consecutively:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. A new section is added to chapter 70.01 RCW to read as follows:

Any blood donor program established in this state for receiving blood donations for medical or health purposes shall honor requests by donors to have the blood donations directed for use to persons as specified by such donors. The blood donor program may charge reasonable fees for such directed blood donations to cover administrative costs."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Wojahn: "Senator Cantu, when blood is reduced to plasma, does that kill the impurities? I wonder if you could tell me, since you studied this."

Senator Cantu: "The information that I have as far as the treatments has been not for the transfusions, but as to the preparation of immune human globulin, in that case, they treat it with alcohol and the evidence is not there as to whether that particular treatment would kill the AIDS virus. I have not been able to find information whether it is autoclaved to apply the heat--or on the other side whether the necessary refrigeration has been done. I just simply have not been able to get that answer. Unfortunately, we don't know what this AIDS virus is and this is the reason for the bill. So, I have to concentrate my remarks to that particular subject."

Senator Wojahn: "Well, I have a problem, because I wonder if the AIDS virus could be removed by making plasma from the blood, because plasma is used in lieu of availability of blood, is it not? During the Viet Nam war, wasn't plasma used because whole blood was not available?"

Senator Cantu: "Again, my understanding to that--yes, you can acquire it. The theory for the transmission of AIDS is uncertain. But one thing is for certain, and that through a blood transfusion--because it is an organ and it does carry the virus."

Senator Wojahn: "So, you're assuming that that would also carry over into the plasma?"

Senator Cantu: "Yes, that is my assumption based upon my research."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Zimmerman: "Speaking in opposition to the Cantu amendment, simply on the basis that this particular amendment would require the keeping track individually of every pint of blood that is donated. Trying to keep track of it over the long period of time that may be necessary, it completely becomes a logistics problem. In the King County blood bank, they are serving forty hospitals, they have 250,000 units that they prepared last year to be utilized. There are separate uses of the blood. It isn't all used as whole blood, such as for leukemia patients, you have to get the platelets. Consequently, it becomes an almost incredible administrative problem to try to keep track of the separate blood."

"In other words, it really takes away the entire blood bank idea where you, as a community, are trying to have enough blood to serve the thousands of people to be affected, and particularly for the emergencies where you have to act quickly. Now, this would say that you would have to go out and get your own donors. You more or less would have to get your own family to be the ones. Then the mechanics of it are what become the problem. I think that we must recognize that this would add immeasurably to the cost, but it would be more than the cost, it would just simply be the method of serving. I think the amendment goes far beyond what the bill intends to do. Having said this, I suppose, I would have to challenge the scope and object of the amendment."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Cantu, as I gather--your amendment says that if anybody goes in and makes a blood donation and wishes to make it directly to you, that then the blood bank would have to honor it?"

Senator Cantu: "Let me make sure I understand your question. If, in the case of elective surgery for a member of my family, if I want to go in--and the distinction is that this states 'a donor's request to a patient,' not the other way around, because there seems to be a difference. It's not a case where the patient wants a particular blood, and there's a wait until the patient's request is honored. This is the other way around. I'm trying to control it."

Senator Rasmussen: "To give a little protection from AIDS?"

Senator Cantu: "To give some protection."

Further debate ensued.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Vognil, further consideration of Senate Bill No. 3804 was deferred.

On motion of Senator Bender, Senator Warnke was excused.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 3574, by Senators Gaspard, Sellar, Thompson, Warnke, Johnson, Rasmussen and Wojahn

Modifying provisions on leasehold excise taxation.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator McDermott, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3574 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 3574 and the substitute bill was advanced to second reading and read the second time.

On motion of Senator McDermott, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3574 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Newhouse: "Senator McDermott, you're a little bit inaccurate. The courts did not establish the leasehold tax. The committee of the Legislative Council on Revenue, of which I chaired some years ago, did. Why should the tax be limited to sixty percent of the property tax--why arrive at that magical figure? This is to be an 'in lieu of tax' on public property used for private purposes and they are to pay a tax commensurate to local government to government services and I fail to understand why you arrived at the sixty percent figure."

Senator McDermott: "It, basically, is the average tax that goes through the length of the lease if you use the decreasing lease value. If you took the property tax off the lease value and took it over a twenty year period, that's what you get--an average of sixty percent."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Barr: "Senator McDermott, what is the meaning of 'other than product lease' on page 5 in the main part of the bill? It says 'with respect to a leasehold interest other than a product lease.'"

Senator McDermott: "They're talking about a crop share lease there."

Senator Barr: "Does that mean the crop share leases are exempt from this amendment?"

Senator McDermott: "The crop share leases are not under this. We're talking about leases on buildings and on property--not on the crops that are put in the grainery, etc."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McCaslin: "Senator McDermott, does this pertain just to port districts or any manufacturer in the state of Washington?"

Senator McDermott: "This has to do with the leasehold tax."

Senator McCaslin: "But in the explanation, it talks about manufacturers in the state of Washington selling goods outside the state."

Senator McDermott: "This applies to the leasehold tax on any public property. It's not only ports. The Department of Natural Resources leases land--the University of Washington--any public land that is leased has applicable to it, the leasehold tax. That's all it covers."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 3574.

On motion of Senator Goltz, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3134 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McDonald: "Senator Goltz, what would happen if someone was not able to make a payment? If I follow your logic--that if they didn't make a payment on time in the middle of the quarter, we would then be lending the state's credit if we allowed them to stay on. Is that your understanding?"

Senator Goltz: "No, they're not getting anything. If they don't pay, they don't get any credit--they don't get to attend. So they're not buying anything if they're not paying. They're not attending the institution if they fail to make their payment."

Senator McDonald: "And this is just a pilot program at the Evergreen State College, presently?"

Senator Goltz: "Yes, this will be a pilot program at Evergreen for one year, I believe it is."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Kiskaddon: "I have an amendment on the desk that would strike the section entirely. What do we do so we can consider that amendment, since the other was also striking a section and adding something to it?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "The President believes that it would be necessary for the members of the Senate to vote down Senator Gaspard's amendment before your striking amendment could be considered."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senator Gaspard.

The motion by Senator Gaspard carried and the amendment was adopted.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Gaspard, the following amendments were considered simultaneously and adopted:

On page 9, line 24, after "is a program" strike "approved" and insert "recommended"

On page 9, line 25, after "force" insert "and approved by the school district board of directors"

MOTION

Senator Craswell moved that the following amendment be adopted:

On page 9, line 16, beginning with "NEW" strike all of section 8 up to and including "RCW 28A.71.210." on page 9, line 25, and renumber the remaining sections accordingly.

Debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senator Craswell.

The motion by Senator Craswell carried and the amendment was adopted.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Gaspard, the following amendment was adopted:

On page 9, line 26, after "9." strike all material through "purposes" on line 27, and insert "Implementation of sections 1, 2, 3, and 7 of this act are each subject to funds being appropriated during the 1985-87 biennium for such purpose or purposes"

On motion of Senator Gaspard, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3235 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Patterson: "Senator McDermott, you note the amendment in the section of the bill that makes it null and void--basically the whole act--it's subject to appropriation. I wonder if you've had an opportunity to identify the cost factors in this bill and what kind of an appropriation you might be interested in offering in Ways and Means in order to make the bill active?"

Senator McDermott: "Senator Rasmussen has suggested that I tell you the truth, even if it hurts. The bill, as it now stands before you, is about $400,000--and I think that's a fairly modest sum."

Senator Patterson: "On what basis--you're talking just about the state portion to implement it?"

Senator McDermott: "That's all I have the responsibility for getting it through--is putting out a budget that I can fund."

Senator Patterson: "As chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, have you had an opportunity to review what it's going to cost the local school districts in special levy money?"

Senator McDermott: "Well, as you know, the special levies are determined by the people. They vote for those. They decide how much they want to tax themselves, so it's real hard to know what three hundred school districts are going to do."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bauer: "Senator Gaspard, my biggest concern over this issue, up to this point, has been the question of whether or not what we do here today is going to impact the intentions of House Bill 166. Would you elaborate on that?"

Senator Gaspard: "Senator Bauer, in my opinion, this will not impact or remove the restrictions or intentions of House Bill 166. This section requires that the supplemental compensation for additional days or additional duties--and that supplemental compensation will not be considered an increase in salary or compensation for purposes of--I'll give you the RCW reference here--it's 28A.58.095. That's House Bill 166."

Senator Bauer: "So whatever obligation this might incur will not be the responsibility of the state? It would strictly be a local district determination?"

Senator Gaspard: "That's correct."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Craswell: "Senator Gaspard, what was the fiscal impact of removing Section 8? Do you know?"

Senator Gaspard: "By removing Section 8, I believe the fiscal note that we had was approximately $7 million a year--and we removed that section."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Saling: "Senator Gaspard, am I correct that the last amendment you had proposed did pass--the one that indicates implementation of five sections subject to funds being appropriated? Did that amendment pass?"

Senator Gaspard: "Yes."

Senator Saling: "Then in Section 6, which is not included as far as subject to funds being appropriated by the legislature--Section 6, page 7, beginning on line 12, says 'all rights to incur state funding obligations for the purposes set forth herein are reserved for the legislature.' Yet, your amendment indicated that this was not the responsibility of the legislature. Would you explain that to me, please? Who is going to pay that then? Will it be the local districts?"

Senator Gaspard: "Senator Saling, I think you're referring to Section 6, as it was in the substitute bill. We've adopted a new Section 6 in the amendment that was adopted on the floor."

Senator Saling: "So, whatever is negotiated locally will be paid locally according to the amendment that was adopted? It will not be paid by the legislature? Is that correct?"

Senator Gaspard: "That is correct."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3235.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3235 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 27; nays, 19; excused, 3.

Sec. 3. Section 3, chapter 149, Laws of 1979 and RCW 28A.41.404 are each amended to read as follows:

~~((Each school district which has established an approved program))~~ Each school district in which students are enrolled who are eligible for remediation services under RCW 28A.41.406 shall establish an approved program. Each school district shall submit annually an application to the office of the superintendent of public instruction for program approval. Upon approval of the program, each school district shall be eligible ~~((-as determined by the superintendent of public instruction;))~~ for state funds made available for the purposes of such program ~~((s)).~~ The ~~((number of students eligible to participate in such program in each school district))~~ allocation of state funds for each school district shall be calculated by the superintendent of public instruction ~~((through the use of data derived from the basic skills test, in making such calculations the superintendent of public instruction shall multiply the percentage of students taking the tests which scored in the lowest quartile, as compared to national norms, by the number of students enrolled in the district in grades two through six))~~ as follows: The number of students enrolled in grades two through nine in the district shall be multiplied by the percentage of students taking the basic skills tests in the previous year who scored in the lowest quartile as compared to national norms, and then reduced by the number of students enrolled in the district in grades two through nine receiving special education in basic skills under chapter 28A.13 RCW and who scored in the lowest quartile on the basic skills tests; PROVIDED, That in making this calculation the superintendent of public instruction may use an average of the percentages of the students scoring in the lowest quartile over the immediately preceding five or fewer years.

Each school district shall determine the students ~~((who may))~~ eligible to participate in an approved program of remediation ~~((shall be determined by each school district))~~ through placement testing ~~((- PROVIDED, That only students in grades two through six who are behind grade level in one or more basic skills shall be eligible to participate. PROVIDED FURTHER, That the total number of students in a school district who may participate in an approved program of remediation may not exceed the total number of eligible students calculated in accordance with the provisions of RCW 28A.41.404)).~~ Students enrolled in grades two through nine who score at or below the twenty-fifth percentile in one or more basic skills shall be eligible to participate. Local school districts may determine that additional students who are below grade level in one or more basic skills are eligible if such students can be served within the funds allocated under RCW 28A.41.404. No student receiving ~~((educational services from the programs conducted))~~ special education instruction in basic skills pursuant to chapter 28A.13 RCW shall be eligible to participate in the remediation program established by ~~((this act))~~ RCW 28A.41.400 through 28A.41.414 if the student's ~~((program))~~ special education instruction is designed to address ~~((like needs))~~ the same basic skills as those addressed by the program of remediation.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. A new section is added to chapter 28A.41 RCW to read as follows:

State moneys allocated to local districts for remediation assistance shall be spent only for remediation assistance activities.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. A new section is added chapter 28A.41 RCW to read as follows:

Sec. 7. Section 6, chapter 149, Laws of 1979 and RCW 28A.41.410 are each amended to read as follows:

In order to insure that school districts are meeting the requirements of an approved program, the superintendent of public instruction shall monitor such programs no less than once every three years. The results of the evaluations required by RCW 28A.41.402(3)(b) shall be transmitted to the superintendent of public instruction annually. The superintendent of public instruction shall also review annually the state-wide remediation program and shall submit a report of such review to the legislature on or before January 1 of each year.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 8. In recognition of the fact that remediation assistance is necessary for some students in every grade level in the public school system in order for such students to reach a reasonable level of achievement in basic skills, it is hereby declared to be the intent of the legislature to extend the remediation assistance program to all eligible students in grades two through nine beginning with the 1986-1987 school year. This section shall take effect only if funds are appropriated before July 1, 1987, for the purposes of this act. If such funds are not so appropriated for the purposes of this section, this section shall be null and void in its entirety.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 9. Section 7, chapter 149, Laws of 1979, section 2, chapter 163, Laws of 1982 and RCW 28A.41.412 are each repealed.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 10. This act shall take effect if funds are appropriated in the state operating appropriations act for the 1985-87 biennium for the purposes of this act. If such funds are not so appropriated for the purposes of this act, this act shall be null and void in its entirety."

On motion of Senator Bauer, the following amendment to the amendment was adopted:

On page 9, line 3 of the amendment, after "grades" strike "two through nine" and insert "one through twelve"

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senator Bauer, as amended.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Craswell: "Senator Bauer, I had not seen your amendment until just now and I'm not quite sure I followed all the changes from the committee's substitute bill. Besides changing it through grade 9, what was the significant difference?"

Senator Bauer: "We made provisions so that those children could be served. For instance when a child takes a test and he shows above the percentile in two subjects, let's say language arts and math and reading--the composite score puts him above the 25% percentile. He may be way down in reading and this would allow the school district to funnel money into his deficiencies in reading because in one of those areas, then, he was below the 25%. So, basically, that's the change. The original bill required it to take us through grade twelve. This backs off from grade twelve through nine and makes grades ten, eleven and twelve a contingent upon appropriation."

Senator Craswell: "Thank you. I assume there is a different fiscal impact, then, to this bill. Are you aware what that would be?"

Senator Bauer: "It's the same in the Governor's budget and it's $16.8 million for the biennium. I don't recall what it was in the original bill. I think it was $24 million. It was about $8 million difference."

Senator Craswell: "The substitute bill, as it came out of committee, shows an actual savings--the fiscal note shows an actual savings, because of taking out the SLD's double payment. I believe a six year impact of about $141,000--very little cost at all. Now we're talking about $16 million. That's quite a significant change."

Senator Bauer: "The striking amendment brings the law into line with the budget. It extends only through grade nine. We save, approximately $6.6 million per year by not going to the twelfth grade. So we're saving about $12 million per year by backing off from the twelfth grade."

Senator Craswell: "But, apparently the other change in language of including those children in the program who only fall behind in one or two courses must add a far bigger cost to the bill than I would guess. I'm afraid I'm going to have to vote 'no' on this, because I don't think we have that kind of money to add to the program."

Further debate ensued.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Vognild, further consideration of Substitute Senate Bill No. 3510 was deferred.

SECOND READING

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Bottiger, even with this bill, what authority will the Superintendent of Public Instruction have--or the local school district--over pre-school children?"

Senator Bottiger: "This bill, to the best of my knowledge, gives them no authority over pre-school children other than to set up the office and provide for the school district some program analysis and for us some recommendations for the next session if and when we can afford to implement them."

Senator Rasmussen: "What is to prevent the SPI from doing this at the present time with all the help he has over there--the research people?"

Senator Bottiger: "I think that's exactly the point. We're telling him to do it. There is no statutory authority for them to do it."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 3518.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Gaspard, the following amendment was adopted:

Beginning on page 1, line 6, after "Sec. 1," strike all material down to and including "teachers." on line 26 and insert "The legislature finds that there is an emergent need to attract and retain more professional teachers. The legislature finds that the method and level of compensating professional teachers is an important determinant in retaining, attracting, and motivating excellent teachers. The legislature further finds that the current method of compensating teachers provides insufficient monetary rewards and promotional opportunities for excellent teachers. The legislature further finds that, to improve the quality of teaching, a professional climate should be fostered which encourages creativity and cooperation among teachers and enhances the intrinsic rewards teachers experience from helping students learn. The legislature recognizes that a career ladder compensation and evaluation plan may offer improvements over the current method and could enhance the attractiveness of the teaching profession. The legislature determines that a career ladder compensation and evaluation plan shall be tested prior to July 1, 1987, to examine those features most likely to meet the state's educational goals, be most effective and equitable, and best improve the quality of teaching. The legislature further determines that, in addition to local testing of the career ladder plan, a select commission on teacher compensation and evaluation should be created. The membership and responsibilities of the commission are defined in section 8 of this act."

On motion of Senator Gaspard, the following amendments were considered simultaneously and adopted:

On page 2, line 1, after "grants to" insert "not more than ten"

On page 2, line 2, after "projects," insert "Interested school districts shall apply to the office of the superintendent of public instruction to participate in the pilot projects."

On page 3, line 6, after "sizes," insert "The pilot projects may commence with the 1985-86 school year and shall continue through the 1986-87 school year."

Senator Bluechel moved that the following amendment to the amendments be adopted:

On page 3, line 44 of the amendments, strike "or" and insert "and"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Bluechel, could you explain the difference between the two proposals--the Roundtable and the 3609 Committee?"

Senator Bluechel: "I can't give you all the details, but there are some differences in the salary ranges and some of the other features. Without going into it, I can't give you the specific differences."

Senator Rasmussen: "This is why I wondered why you wanted this amendment. Presumably the Superintendent of Public Instruction and the schools that asked for it are going to be having the same goals, rather than having to work two separate programs. They both were aiming for excellence in education".

Senator Bluechel: "There are to be five pilot programs, as I understand it. That is the limitation here."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bluechel: "Senator Gaspard, how many different programs will there be?"

Senator Gaspard: "On the amendment, we adopted on page 2, line 1, we included the words 'not more than 10.'"

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senator Bluechel to the Gaspard amendments.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Bender, Senator DeJarnatt was excused.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendments by Senator Gaspard.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Gaspard, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3621 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Goltz: "Senator Gaspard, I'm still puzzled by the language of the amendment we adopted concerning the career ladder model. From a practical standpoint, is it possible--given the fact that the request for proposals go out--what happens if one or more of the proposals that come back do not resemble either of the two mentioned here? It seems to me there is something faulty with the prospect of not having a program that you could accept."

Senator Gaspard: "The program is completely voluntary. We're asking districts to make a proposal to the Superintendent of Public Instruction Office to receive the grants necessary for running these pilot projects. In that, we're really trying to give some intent language that we would like them to clearly resemble the career ladders of 3609 or the Business Roundtable. If a proposal comes back and it doesn't include one of those, we're up to eight or nine, I would view it--it shall clearly resemble the models. It doesn't mean that they have to be the 3609 or Business Roundtable, but they have to be something very similar to them."

Senator Goltz: "I haven't read the whole bill in the context of this amendment, but I'm wondering if it could be reworded that the request for proposals that go out have to ask for resemblance to either or both of these proposals? We're talking here about the selection process after the proposals come back."

Senator Gaspard: "The way I view it working is that the Superintendent of Public Instruction will put out requests for proposals to do these pilot projects and I would assume, under the language and intent of what we are trying to do here, is that the SPI will solicit a proposal to have one project resemble what is called the 3609 or the Business Roundtable approach. That request will go out, whether we get a feedback or not, we can only speculate, because it's completely voluntary."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Gaspard, what was the figure used during the campaign for excellence in education--and starting people on a career in education--for starting teachers? Was that $16,000? It was one of the campaign issues that Governor Gardner was going to give an increase to beginning teachers in order to encourage people to go into the career of teaching."

Senator Gaspard: "If I remember correctly, it was a proposal from the Business Round Table that suggested that we increase the first year teacher's salary by about $2,000 above the current average. The current average was about $14,500, I believe."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3621.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bailey: "Senator Talmadge, I don't know if I understood you correctly, but I thought I heard you say that the victims had to use up all of their available assets before they were eligible for this program."

Senator Talmadge: "Their available insurance assets. There is a mechanism that has been in place since 1982, I believe, when the Crime Victims Compensation Fund was restored. I think it even predated it back to 1973 that required that before you could receive compensation under the fund, you had to exhaust certain resources that you had available to use such as insurance."

Senator Bailey: "In other words, if we had a child sexual assault victim, then they would have to use up their insurance assets before they were eligible for counseling?"

Senator Talmadge: "If they had insurance coverage, that would be correct. That's one of the problems with respect to the Crime Victim Compensation Act and one of the reasons that I think we need to look at some supplements to it."

There being no objection, the Senate resumed consideration of Senate Bill No. 3804 and the pending amendment by Senator Cantu on page 1, line 2, deferred March 16, 1985.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "In ruling upon the point of order raised by Senator Zimmerman, the President finds that Senate Bill No. 3804 is a measure with the single purpose of extending implied warranty immunity to lawsuits arising from the contraction of acquired immune deficiency syndrome (AIDS) from blood transfusions.

"The amendment proposed by Senator Cantu requires blood donor programs to honor requests by donors to have blood donations directed for use to persons as specified by such donors.

"The President, therefore, finds that the proposed amendment does expand the scope and object of the bill and that the point of order is well taken."

The amendment was ruled out of order.

MOTION

Senator Cantu moved that the following amendment by Senators Cantu and Rasmussen be adopted:

On page 1, line 16, after "disease" insert "if the blood donor program, which may charge a reasonable fee to cover administrative costs, honors requests by donors to have blood donations directed for use to persons as specified by such donors for a period of fourteen days following the donation"

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Granlund: "A point of order, Mr. President. With all due respect, we once again are dealing with substantially the same amendment that we had before you and I must ask for a ruling on scope and object on this, also."

Debate ensued.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "In ruling upon the point of order raised by Senator Granlund, the President finds that Senate Bill No. 3804 is a measure with the single purpose of extending implied warranty immunity to lawsuits arising from the contraction of acquired immune deficiency syndrome (AIDS) from blood transfusions.

"The amendment proposed by Senators Cantu and Rasmussen requires blood donor programs to honor requests by donors to have blood donations directed for use to persons as specified by such donors.

"The President, therefore, finds that the proposed amendment does expand the scope and object of the bill and that the point of order is well taken."

The amendment was ruled out of order.

MOTION

Senator Deccio moved that the following amendment be adopted:

On page 1, after line 28, insert the following:

NEW SECTION, Sec. 2. The department of social and health services shall provide a written report to the senate committee on human services and corrections and the house of representatives committee on social and health services by January 1, 1986, providing a description of the current policies and procedures utilized by blood banks for detecting the presence of acquired immune deficiency disease in potential donors, the utilization of such procedures, costs of administering the procedures, and statistics on the number of cases of acquired immune deficiency disease reported as a result of the blood banks' screening procedures and information acquired as a result of transfusions. The department shall have the authority to collect data from blood banks, as necessary to develop the report."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Granlund: "Senator Deccio, what is the fiscal impact of this amendment?"

Senator Deccio: "Senator Granlund, I don't think there should be any fiscal impact at all. This is a very light load to ask the department to do. It seems that every time we want them to sneeze, then they need more money to do it. I can say they can do this in house with what they've got. It's not all that big of job."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senator Deccio.

The motion by Senator Deccio carried and the amendment was adopted on a rising vote.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Deccio, the following title amendment was adopted:

On page 1, line 1 of the title, strike "and" and after "RCW 70.54.120" insert "; and creating a new section"

On motion of Senator Granlund, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3804 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bottiger: "Senator Granlund, in your comment, both today and before, you mentioned that they would still be liable if they were negligent. If there is a test available and they do not use that test, would that, then, mean that they escaped the provisions of this act and they would be liable for the AIDS that would be passed on to somebody else?"

Senator Granlund: "Senator Bottiger, you're certainly the legal expert, but I would presume that if there was a test available and they did not avail themselves of it, certainly they would be liable."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Talmadge, I am going to have elective surgery. I know when it is scheduled--maybe a month away. I asked four, five, six members of my family, to have some in reserve, to come in and donate blood for this operation that I am going to use. The blood bank refuses to send this blood that my donors have directed to go to me and to identify it. Will they, then, become liable? Understand, I have the blood from people I have confidence in--that do not have AIDS and I'm asking that it be labeled mine.

"Let me explain further. I have had my family--when I did have my surgery--donate blood and the name was right on the packet, so when I looked up there from my hospital bed, I saw the names of the people I knew who had made donations. Now, that's my question--it is, specifically, related to--if they refuse to do this at the blood bank, they will become more liable with this bill?"

Senator Talmadge: "Senator Rasmussen, I certainly hope that the blood banks or the health care facility would accommodate your concern, but as to whether or not there would be liability--without research on the issue--I wouldn't have any guess. I don't know."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3804.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3804 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 29; nays, 17; excused, 3.

Voting yea: Senators Barr, Bauer, Bluechel, Bottiger, Craswell, Deccio, DeJarnatt, Fleming, Garrett, Gaspard, Goltz, Granlund, Halsan, Johnson, Kreidler, McManus, Newhouse, Owen, Paterson, Peterson, Rinehart, Saling, Stratton, Talmadge, Thompson, Warnke, Williams, Wojahn, Zimmerman - 29.

Voting nay: Senators Bailey, Bender, Benitz, Cantu, Conner, Guess, Hansen, Hayner, Lee, McCaslin, Metcalf, Moore, Pullen, Rasmussen, Sellar, Vognild, von Reichbauer - 17.

Excused: Senators Kiskaddon, McDermott, McDonald - 3.

ENGROSSED SENATE BILL NO. 3804, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 3444, by Senators Fleming, Wojahn and Talmadge

Establishing the higher education opportunities program.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Gaspard, the following Committee on Education amendments were considered simultaneously and adopted:

On page 2, beginning on line 30, after "at least" strike "one year and have had a minimum annual gross revenue of one million dollars or more" and insert "three years"

On page 2, line 33, after "at least" strike "fifteen" and insert "ten"

On motion of Senator Fleming, the following amendments were considered simultaneously and adopted:

On page 5, line 7, after "minimum" insert "cumulative"

On page 5, line 9, after "terminated" insert "unless the council for postsecondary education, or its successor agency, waives for good cause the minimum cumulative grade point average requirement for a particular student"

MOTION

On motion of Senator Gaspard, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3444 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Saling: "Senator Rinehart, as vice chairman for Higher Education on the Education Committee, I have discussed this with you, somewhat, and I have some questions about one part of the bill. I believe the bill is very good and I intend to support it, but there are some clarifying things that are necessary.

"In Section 5, it indicates the Council for Postsecondary Education or its successor agency are to establish the guidelines in application procedures, but it also states that in selecting the recipients, the following factors shall be considered: age, disability, income, number of dependents--whether the person is the single head of a household and so on, but it doesn't clarify how those are to be taken into consideration. In other words, the factor of age--would a younger person have preference over an older--or disability--would one who was disabled receive more points, for instance, toward a scholarship than one who's not disabled? What about the income--the lower the income, the more points for the person to receive the scholarship? Would you explain that for me, please?"

Senator Rinehart: "Senator Saling, all of the factors listed on page 3, subsection 3, are to be considered together and together they are to give a picture of the person who is applying for the program. Then, the Council for Postsecondary Education or the Higher Education Coordinating Board would take that total picture and match it with the intent of the bill, which is given in Section 1, and with the description of the pilot program which is listed in Section 2. All of those factors would be taken into account together. There would be no assignment of points either on the basis of any single one of them, but all of them to make a total picture of the proposed recipient."

Senator Saling: "Thank you. One other question, if I may? Another point is item (h) on page 4, in Section 5. It states that the Council for Postsecondary Education or its successor agency must determine whether the applicant is capable of succeeding in an institution of higher education, but it also states that it is not intended to be an academically competitive process.

"I know that grade point average is one--and only one indicator of potential success in higher education. If they are not to use that, how are they going to determine if an applicant is capable of succeeding in an institution of higher education?"

Senator Rinehart: "Senator Saling, academic criteria are not ruled out. It simply says they are not to be the sole criteria. Once, again, all of those items listed would be taken into account, whether or not the person has demonstrated a motivation to succeed in the program; whether or not it's reasonable to assume on the basis of family situation--age, income--all those other things once again would come under the total picture to make some kind of assessment."

Senator Saling: "You're telling me that age and income is a predictor of success in higher education?"

Senator Rinehart: "I'm telling you that all those things taken together. You're being a little more troublesome than you promised--all of those things taken together."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3444.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3444 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 46; nays, 1; excused, 2.

Voting yea: Senators Bailey, Barr, Bauer, Bender, Benitz, Bluechel, Bottiger, Conner, Craswell, Deccio, DeJarnatt, Fleming, Garrett, Gaspard, Goltz, Granlund, Guess, Halsan, Hansen, Hayner, Johnson, Kiskaddon, Kreidler, Lee, McCaslin, McManus, Metcalf, Moore, Newhouse, Owen, Patterson, Peterson, Pullen, Rasmussen, Rinehart, Saling, Sellar, Stratton, Talmadge, Thompson, Vognild, von Reichbauer, Warnke, Williams, Wojahn, Zimmerman - 46.

 Voting nay: Senator Cantu - 1.

Excused: Senators McDermott, McDonald - 2.

ENGROSSED SENATE BILL NO. 3444, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

STATEMENT FOR THE JOURNAL

March 18, 1985

Dear Sid,

If possible, I would like to enter a correction in the Journal. My NO vote on Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3444 was in error. I intended to vote YES. I was in the wings discussing another issue and thought the vote being taken was on another bill.

Emilio Cantu,
 Fourth District

There being no objection, the Senate resumed consideration of Substitute Senate Bill No. 3251, deferred on second reading earlier today.

MOTION

Senator Hayner moved that the following amendment by Senators Hayner and Newhouse be adopted:

On page 6, after line 7, insert a new subsection as follows:

"(5) The provisions of this 1985 amendatory act shall not constitute basis for an action for modification of a child custody decree as described in subsection (1) of this section."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Hayner, this in effect--your amendment would prohibit looking back? Can't the court, at the present time, look back?"

Senator Hayner: "Yes, they certainly can. If you'll look at your bill book, you will see the court has the power to modify these decrees under certain circumstances, where it is in the best interest of the child, but not just to say 'I'm going to come into court to demand joint custody as a result of this law having been passed.' I think that's what we're trying to avoid, because what we're interested in is the best interest of the child. Now, Senator Owen has said that he felt that joint custody was not being awarded. Why is it not being awarded? Well, it is not being awarded in many cases, because the parents cannot agree on anything and I defy you to tell me how you can have joint custody when the parents cannot agree where the children should go to school, what they should eat and what they should wear and who's going to pay for it."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senators Hayner and Newhouse.

The motion by Senator Hayner carried and the amendment was adopted.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Talmadge, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3251 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Senator Talmadge moved that the following amendment be adopted:

On page 1, line 29, after "establishment" strike everything through "premises." on page 2, line 1, and insert "classified by the Washington state liquor control board as off-limits to persons under twenty-one years of age."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bottiger: "Senator Talmadge, in many places the restaurant is the lounge. There are cocktails being served and the lounge is a one or two bar area, but the basic place where the eating and consuming takes place is in the restaurant. This amendment would exempt the whole restaurant?"

Senator Talmadge: "If it's the premises that would be the one wherein people under the age of twenty-one would not be permitted, it would be covered by the statute preempting--it would be covered by the statute that bars firearms in the facility. If it were a section that was something that would permit someone under the age of twenty-one to be in it, then it would not be covered by this section."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senator Talmadge.

The motion by Senator Talmadge carried and the amendment was adopted.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Talmadge, the following amendment was adopted:

(a) Discharge of firearms in any portion of their respective jurisdictions where humans, domestic animals, or property might be jeopardized. Such laws and ordinances shall not abridge the right of the individual guaranteed by Article I, section 24 of the state Constitution to bear arms in defense of self or others;

(b) Display in a manner, under circumstances, and at a time and place that either manifests an intent to intimidate another or that warrants alarm for the safety of other persons; or

(c) Possession in certain areas:

(i) In any place in which intoxicating liquor is served for consumption on the premises; or

(ii) In or upon any publicly owned property, excluding public rights of way."

On page 2, beginning on line 36, strike all material down to and including "employees." on line 1, page 3

Renumber the subsections consecutively.

MOTION

Debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senator Pullen.

The motion by Senator Pullen failed and the amendment was not adopted on a rising vote.

MOTION

Senator Pullen moved that the following amendment be adopted:

On page 3, line 1, after "employees" insert ", and only applies to persons who are under the influence of an intoxicating liquor or any drug as determined by application of the evidentiary and chemical tests for intoxication applicable to operators of motor vehicles pursuant to the terms in RCW 46.61.502, 46.61.504, and 46.61.506"

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Peterson: "Senator Pullen, a few sessions back you appeared on the floor of the Senate with a concealed weapon. Do you still carry a gun on the floor of the Senate and is it loaded?"

Senator Pullen: "In answer to your question--is that I carried the firearm that you referred to for two days. It was a demonstration to emphasize the importance of getting past a gubernatorial executive request bill which for some reason was lost in committee at that time. And, in answer to your question, I have not carried a firearm on the floor of the Senate since then and I'm very glad that I haven't because it's hard to carry a concealed pistol. They're hot, they're sweaty, they're heavy and they're awkward--and if you had to carry a concealed pistol around all day, you wouldn't want to do it either."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senator Pullen.

The motion by Senator Pullen failed and the amendment was not adopted.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Zimmerman, Senator von Reichbauer was excused.

*NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. A new section is added to chapter 70.74 RCW to read as follows:

(1) No person may manufacture, sell, import, or be in possession or physical control of any firearm ammunition that is constructed with any solid metal bullet other than lead or an alloy primarily of lead, or any solid metal bullet not constructed primarily of lead or lead alloy, that is jacketed with any type of metal including steel, brass, or copper, either with a truncated cone or hollowpoint nose that is specifically designed to be metal or armor-piercing. "Firearm ammunition" means only handgun ammunition or rifle ammunition that can be fired in a handgun.

(2) A violation of this section is a class C felony as defined under chapter 9A.20 RCW.

(3) Subsection (1) of this section does not apply to city, county, state, or military law enforcement special weapons and tactics teams, or city, county, state, or military law enforcement research units."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Guess: "Senator Williams, did you really intend to do away with the hollow nose bullet?"

Senator Williams: "Senator, I'm like Senator Talmadge. I'm not an expert in this area, however, I have relied on people who are and ran this by police departments all over the state and this is their opinion based on the letters that you see--that this is the appropriate language."

Senator Guess: "The thing that I noticed in your correspondence this morning was that they were all for it and I'm for doing away with one particular type of ammunition, but did you ask any of them if this applied to this type of bullet--that was used in sports shooting? I just learned something that I didn't know about. This is a heavy steel silhouette. I didn't see any in that correspondence. Did any of them mention the fact that the steel silhouette is the fastest growing form of sport?"

Senator Williams: "No, I didn't ask it and I wasn't told that."

Senator Guess: "Mr. President, may I ask a question? Does anybody in the chamber, with the exception of Senator Pullen--has anybody ever seen this type of steel silhouette? Does this mean, then, that we are legislating against something we don't know anything about? I believe it does."

REMARKS BY SENATOR PETERSON

Senator Peterson: "In answering Senator Guess's question--Sam--I have been a big game hunter since I was about twelve years old--before I had to get a license and I don't see the need for teflon bullets or anything of that nature as far as big game hunting is concerned."

Further debate ensued.

Senator Rasmussen demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on adoption of the amendment by Senator Williams.

Excused: Senators Garrett, Stratton - 2.

MOTION

Senator Bottiger moved that the following amendment be adopted:

On page 14, after line 19, insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. A new section is added to chapter 9.41 RCW to read as follows:

Notwithstanding RCW 9.41.290, cities, towns, counties, and other municipalities may enact laws and ordinances restricting the possession of firearms in any public stadium, convention, or trade facility, or performing arts center or visual arts center operated by a city, town, county, or other municipality, excluding a place where a showing, demonstration, or lecture involving the exhibition of unloaded firearms is being conducted."

Renumber the remaining section consecutively.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Bottiger, are they allowed to frisk the people who go into these rock concerts?"

Senator Bottiger: "Senator, I understand that there was a court change that indicated that they could not do pat down searches for drugs."

Senator Rasmussen "Which would also include anything else that they were carrying?"

Senator Bottiger: "Well, Senator, it's pretty hard to conceal a rifle, or as Senator Pullen says a large, heavy gun that he carries under his coat—that's pretty obvious. You don't have to be a very well trained policeman to be able to spot one of those."

Further debate ensued.

Senator McDonald demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on adoption of the amendment by Senator Bottiger.

Excused: Senators Garrett, Stratton - 2.

MOTION

Senator Pullen moved that the following amendment be adopted:

On page 14, after line 19, insert the following:

*Sec. 13. Section 12, chapter 232, Laws of 1983 and RCW 9.41.290 are each amended to read as follows:

The state of Washington hereby fully occupies and preempts the entire field of firearms regulation within the boundaries of the state, including the registration, licensing, possession, purchase, sale, acquisition, transfer, discharge, and transportation of firearms, or any other element relating to firearms or parts thereof, including ammunition and reloader components. Cities, towns, and counties or other municipalities may enact only those laws and ordinances relating to firearms that are specifically authorized by state law and are consistent with this chapter. Such local ordinances shall have the same or lesser penalty as provided for by state law. Local laws and ordinances that are inconsistent with, more restrictive than, or exceed the requirements of state law shall not be enacted and are preempted and repealed, regardless of the nature of the code, charter, or home rule status of such city, town, county, or municipality."

Renumber the sections consecutively.

Debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senator Pullen.

The motion by Senator Pullen carried and the amendment was adopted.

MOTION

Senator Pullen moved that the following amendment be adopted:

On page 14, after line 19, insert the following new sections and renumber any other sections as may be necessary:

NEW SECTION, Sec. 13. The Washington state legislature finds that the constitutional right to keep and bear arms is a fundamental freedom which should be protected, nurtured, and expanded. The legislature also finds that the founding fathers of our state and country very much wanted to have firearms in the hands of ordinary citizens as a means of protecting freedom and deterring potential despots from undermining our constitutional republic by force.

Quotes from the founding fathers clearly support these legislative findings. For example, George Washington said, "Firearms stand next in importance to the constitution itself . . . From the hour the pilgrims landed to the present day, events, occurrences and tendencies prove that to ensure peace, security and happiness, the rifle and pistol are equally indispensable . . . The very atmosphere of firearms anywhere and everywhere restrains evil influence—they deserve a place of honor with all that's good . . ." Thomas Jefferson said, "No free man shall ever be debarred the use of arms." Patrick Henry stated, "The great object is that every man be armed . . . Everyone who is able may have a gun."

Clearly, the founding fathers realized that firearms in the hands of ordinary citizens would on occasion result in sad consequences, such as the death of an innocent person through criminal behavior or a tragic accident. However, they also knew that these relatively few deaths would be far more than offset by the many lives saved as a result of the right to bear arms helping to preserve freedom. They knew that the few lives lost through criminal behavior or accidents would be negligible compared to the large number of lives lost whenever freedom is destroyed and a tyrannical government is established. History has shown our founding fathers to be very wise indeed. While citizens in the United States have experienced unprecedented freedom, the rest of the world has witnessed six million Jews murdered by Adolf Hitler, fifteen million Russians slaughtered by Joseph Stalin, and an estimated sixty million Chinese murdered in communist China, none of whom were allowed to possess firearms.

As a result of these lessons from history, it is the intent of the legislature to promote freedom and protect public safety by enacting the "Firearm Civil Rights Act of 1985" and imposing stiff civil and criminal penalties on any person or public official who unlawfully or unconstitutionally interferes with the right of a citizen to keep and bear arms.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 14. Sections 13 through 17 of this act shall be known and may be cited as the "Firearms Civil Rights Act of 1985."

NEW SECTION, Sec. 15. (1) A person shall be guilty of denial of firearms civil rights if he or she is a public official and:

(a) Denies or causes the denial of the issuance or renewal of a concealed pistol license to an applicant who is qualified under this chapter or other state laws; or

(b) Requests the applicant to provide additional information beyond that required by RCW 9.41.070 or causes the request to be made; or

(c) Confiscates or orders forfeiture of a citizen's firearms without authority under state statutes or without due process of law or sets the policy for such confiscation or forfeiture; or

(d) Prohibits a commercial seller from delivering a firearm to a purchaser without good cause, lawful authority under state statutes, or due process of law or causes such prohibition to be made; or

(e) Orders a commercial seller to delay delivery of a firearm to a purchaser beyond the usual five-day limit specified in RCW 9.41.090 without good cause, lawful authority under state statutes, or due process of law or causes the order to be made.

(2) The fact or claim that a public official was acting under the direction of a superior is not a defense to an action under subsection (1) of this section.

(3) This section applies both to employees who violate a provision of this section and to any employers or supervisors who require or order an employee to violate a provision of this section.

(4) Denial of firearm civil rights is a gross misdemeanor.

For the purposes of this section, public official means any person employed by any state or local governmental entity and includes local government elected officials.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 16. A person whose firearms civil rights have been denied under section 15 of this act shall be awarded civil damages equal to five thousand dollars for each violation plus attorney fees and compensation for loss of income, loss of wages, loss of fringe benefits, transportation expenses, communication expenses, and all other costs associated with efforts to regain the person's firearms civil rights and seek civil remedies. The civil remedies may be sought regardless of whether or not criminal charges are filed pursuant to section 3 of this act; and the petitioner's case shall not be prejudiced by the fact that criminal charges were not filed. The civil action may be brought in the county where the violation occurred or in Thurston county at the discretion of the petitioner.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 17. The attorney general may bring a civil or criminal action for violation of section 15 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 18. Sections 13 through 17 of this act are added to chapter 9.41 RCW."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Bottiger: "Mr. President, a point of order. I raise the point of order that the amendment expands the scope and object to the act. In his very comment, Senator Pullen told us why. It creates a new set of standards applying to public officials under the granting of the denial of the Firearms Registration Act. It creates a civil action the attorney general may bring. It imposes new civil penalties that have not previously been identified and which do not appear anywhere in the subject statute."

Debate ensued.

ROLL CALL

Debate ensued.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator McDonald: "Mr. President, we just voted down an amendment which would have struck all these sections and now Senator McDermott is going back perfecting and striking them one by one. I wonder if you would rule whether this is in order of not?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "It appears to the President that Senator McDermott is endeavoring to strike certain portions and I believe that the amendments are in order."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator McDermott, line 9, is that the one you are striking in subsection 2?"

Senator McDermott: "Yes, sir."

Senator Rasmussen: "In which it says 'not withstanding RCW 43.84.090?' What is RCW 43.090?"

Senator McDermott: "If you look in the bill, subsection 6 of the bill says, 'twenty percent of all income received from such investment shall be deposited in the state general fund.' So, what they're doing here is exempting the convention center from the requirement that twenty percent of the interest goes into the general fund. They're saying 'we're going to put you in a special category--you only have to put in five percent.' Everybody else has to put in twenty percent. It doesn't seem fair to me, does it to you?"

Senator Rasmussen: "No. Thank you, Senator McDermott. Speaking in favor of the amendment, I always become curious when I see a law that says 'notwithstanding.' A law that everybody else has to abide by--we're excusing some group from abiding by the law that has been general law and has stood on the books and we've never had any objection to it. I think we should support the amendment and Senator McDermott is fighting very valiantly to protect the state and the general fund and I would urge that you give him a little support."

Further debate ensued.

Senator McDonald demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on adoption of the amendment by Senator McDermott.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. (1) There is hereby created the special joint legislative committee on review of the state convention and trade center to conduct a comprehensive examination of the state convention and trade center created under chapter 67.40 RCW. The committee shall be composed of three members appointed by the president of the senate and three members appointed by the speaker of the house of representatives. Not more than two members from each house may be members of the same political party.

(2) In conducting its study, the committee shall consider, but not be limited to, the following areas:

(a) The financial solvency of the state convention and trade center project and project participants;

(b) The effects of pending lawsuits;

(c) The impact of the bankruptcy of CHG International, Inc. on the state convention and trade center;

(d) The site selection;

(e) The total cost of the project including contributions, either cash or in-kind, from other state agencies or private interests;

(f) The size of the facility; and

(g) The cost per square foot.

(3) The committee shall hold meetings and hearings at the times and places it designates to accomplish the purposes of this section. It shall make use of existing legislative facilities and the staff of the senate and house of representatives pursuant to joint rule No. 26 of the senate and house of representatives. The committee may contract for legal and expert services and opinions relevant to its study. Members of the committee shall be reimbursed for travel expenses as provided in RCW 44.04.120.

(4) The study shall be completed by July 31, 1985. The committee shall submit its report to the legislature no later than August 15, 1985, or the next committee weekend following such date.

(5) The committee shall cease to exist on August 15, 1985, unless extended by the president of the senate or the speaker of the house of representatives for an additional fixed period of time.

(6) No construction materials, supply purchases, or construction contracts may be awarded, nor any construction commenced or continued on the state convention and trade center from the effective date of this act until September 1, 1985.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 2. There is appropriated twenty-five thousand dollars to the senate and twenty-five thousand dollars to the house of representatives, or so much thereof as may be necessary, from the general fund for the biennium ending June 30, 1987, for the purposes of this act.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 3. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, the support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect immediately."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Goltz: "Senator Moore, which August are you referring to?"

Senator Moore: "August of this year, 1985--August 15."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Talmadge, is it illegal to transfer assets when you're in bankruptcy without the approval of the bankruptcy court?"

Senator Talmadge: "There's something in bankruptcy, and I'm not a bankruptcy lawyer, but there's something in bankruptcy called a preference and when one transfers certain selected assets to certain selected collectors or preferred creditors, and I believe it is a three months' time period prior to the filing of the bankruptcy--the court will void the transfer of the preference in bankruptcy."

Senator Rasmussen: "The other question I have, I keep hearing about the border case. What was the border case? How did the court rule on that?"

Senator Talmadge: "Senator Bauer--"

Senator Rasmussen: "The reason I'm asking is that, obviously, there is a difference in tax in the local areas. Some motels, with less than sixty units, will pay a certain tax and the other motels, with more than sixty units will pay a tax. Under the border case, would that be illegal? I think they ruled that all taxes would be equal."

Senator Talmadge: "Senator I'm not going to hazard a guess as to what the Supreme Court will do, having practiced before the Supreme Court myself on many occasions. The first thing I learned about our state Supreme Court is never to predict an outcome of any case."

Senator Rasmussen: "What did they do on the border case?"

Senator Talmadge: "My understanding of the border case was the courts struck down the provisions of the bill that this legislature enacted that dealt with giving a break on the sales tax to certain border counties and increasing the B & O tax to offset the amount lost from the border counties. The court said you had to apply the excise taxes on a uniform basis."

Senator Rasmussen: "Is a sales tax an excise tax?"

Senator Talmadge: "It certainly is."

Further debate ensued.

Senator Rasmussen demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on adoption of the amendment by Senator Moore.

Voting nay: Senators Bailey, Bender, Benitz, Bluechel, Bottiger, Cantu, Conner, Craswell, DeJarnatt, Fleming, Garrett, Gaspard, Goltz, Granlund, Guess, Halsan, Hayner, Johnson, Kiskaddon, Kreidler, Lee, McDonald, McManus, Newhouse, Rinehart, Saling, Sellar, von Reichbauer, Williams, Zimmerman - 30.

Absent: Senator Deccio - 1.

MOTION

On motion of Senator McDermott, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3762 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Talmadge: "Senator Bottiger, since the time of the passage of the first bill on the convention center, we've had the convention center people come and ask us for various modifications of that statute, virtually each and every session of the legislature. Can you give us some kind of assurance that this is the last time we're going to modify anything relating to the Washington Convention and Trade Center?"

Senator Bottiger: "Senator Talmadge, when they first introduced this bill back in '79, I said, 'you guys are making a terrible mistake--you don't understand the legislature--you don't understand our credit rating--you don't understand the extra interest you are going to be paying; why don't you go to King County and do it?' They had no answer for that, but they came down and did it anyhow. They rolled over me in '79, in '81 and '83. Now, they've got the dammed thing so far down the road that somebody has got to change the statute so that they are operational under a state budget system."

Senator Talmadge: "I only wish that you had given the same response that Senator Bauer gave to a question on the floor with respect to the issue of a window for state employees getting back into the pension system."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rinehart: "Senator Bottiger, Section 2 of the bill on page 2, subsection (1) contains language which is fairly unusual. It suggests that the corporation may expend money for purposes in excess of the amount appropriated to the extent that the corporation receives or will receive additional operating revenue. Could you explain, in particular, the interpretation of the revenues they will receive?"

Senator Bottiger: "The legislature will continue to appropriate the convention center budget which will be based on the estimated level of business and the expenditures and revenue associated with it. If business is better--and I underscore better--than expected, either through the booking of more conventions--the greater number of delegates--the demand for ancillary services, such as food or telephones--the convention center has to be able to spend money in order to make money. There will be occasions when the expenditure must be made prior to the receipt of revenue. The language has been worked out with OFM, which believes that it will have sufficient control over expenditures of this nature. I call your attention to the language on line 7--'or will receive additional operating revenues notwithstanding.'"

Senator Rinehart: "A further question for Senator Bottiger. The words that you used in relationship to those monies that were anticipated did not suggest there was a contract involved. Am I to understand, that if there is an order placed for some kind of ancillary service that that order is, then, to be interpreted--funds that will be received--or will there be a contract involved?"

Senator Bottiger: "Senator, I don't understand the difference between a valid order and a contract. A valid order is a contract. If there is an obligation for the convention center to supply material with a promise that they will be paid by the convention people, this language allows them to order the extra telephones or the extra dinner with the understanding that they will be paid for."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Does this measure require a sixty percent vote?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "Yes, Senator."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Bottiger, your answer to Senator Rinehart indicated that if they did not receive enough revenue, that then the state would fill in the amount that they were short. Is this correct?"

Senator Bottiger: "Senator, I didn't say anything like that. I don't know where you got that."

Senator Rasmussen: "Well, I just heard you explain it--'The corporation may spend money for operational purposes in excess of the amount appropriated for such purposes, to the extent that the corporation received or will receive'--they're hoping they will receive additional operating revenue and if they don't the state is going to make it up. Is this correct?"

Senator Bottiger: "Senator, it says, 'to the extent the corporations receives or will receive additional operational revenue.' That's the example of the delegates at the convention having ordered, initially, 4,000 dinners and now want to change their order to 4,500. When that occurs--and we've all been to conventions where that occurs--the convention center would have the authority to order the extra dinners on the obligation of the people to pay for them."

Senator Rasmussen: "And if they didn't?"

Senator Bottiger: "Senator, if they didn't pay for the 500, they probably wouldn't pay for the 4,000 either, so we've got that problem."

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Bottiger, in the event that lawsuits are throwing out the sale tax financing, who will be required to pay for the bonds?"

Senator Bottiger: "If the hotel/motel tax was declared unconstitutional, we would have ninety-nine million dollars in state bonds out there which would become general obligation requirements. Unless we could pick up another way to pay for them, they would also apply to our debt service limitation. We would come up some place with, approximately, twenty million a biennium."

Senator Rasmussen: "And being general obligation, they are direct in line of attack for any revenues that the state has?"

Senator Bottiger: "At this time, they are bonds dedicated to be paid from a specific tax and, therefore, not general obligation. If the specific tax were declared unconstitutional, they would become general obligation bonds."

Senator Rasmussen: "WPPSS."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McDermott: "Senator Bottiger, my question is--are you assuming that in subsection (1) on page 2, lines 5 through 8, that the money that the legislature will appropriate is only money received from conventions--that is, conventions--let's say the American Dental Society comes in and they have a convention and they pay a lease and they buy a couple of dinners, is that the money, or are you thinking that there is any possibility that there will be general fund money for operation of this center?"

Senator Bottiger: "Senator McDermott, because of the amendment that Senator Shinpoch and I put on this bill, which took out the pure revolving account, this state agency must be subject to appropriation. They will come in with estimated revenues and estimated expenditures and the legislature will go over that and make the appropriate appropriation. As I understand the long-term debt service and the operation of the convention center, they do perceive there'll be a time--and I believe it's six to seven years from now--because of the debt load and their estimate at this time of how many conventions they will attract, they have acknowledged that they will probably have to borrow money from the general fund to pay in--that period of time a deficit--which will be made up later, when the debt service begins to go down. It's just a typical debt service curve and they're looking at the hotel/motel tax on a fairly steady, if not because of inflation, increasing amount. There is a period of space of time in the charts I've seen where the lines do go into a small deficit for a period of about four years."

Senator McDermott: "As I understand then, that you're saying that there will be a deficit in bond redemption money or in operational money? The hotel/motel tax is dedicated to paying off the bonds. Now, they're trying to get interest here to be used as operational money. Are you assuming that there will be general fund money for operation or general fund money for paying off the bonds?"

Senator Bottiger: "Senator, I'm sorry, I can't answer that question. I've seen the chart and it was filed with your committee, so that no one could claim surprise in the future that there is acknowledged to be a period of time where there will have to be some financial assistance from the state general fund for which purpose I can't recall."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3762.

There being no objection, the Senate resumed consideration of Substitute Senate Bill No. 3450 and the pending amendment by Senator Pullen on page 14, line 19, deferred earlier today.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "In ruling upon the point of order raised by Senator Bottiger, the President finds that Substitute Senate Bill No. 3450 is a measure revising numerous statutes relating to firearms including provisions regarding wrongful denial of concealed pistol licenses.

"The amendment proposed by Senator Pullen establishes the "Firearms Civil Rights Act of 1985" and provides penalties for the denial of firearms civil rights, including among many other things, the denial of concealed pistol licenses.

"The President, therefore, finds that the proposed amendment does not expand the scope and object of the bill and that the point of order is not well taken."

The amendment by Senator Pullen was ruled in order.

Debate ensued.

Senator Bottiger demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on adoption of the amendment by Senator Pullen.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Barr: "Senator Barr, the amendments that we put on and took off in there--and I didn't know in the first place how this was going to affect local government--could you kind of give us an estimate comparing where local governments were on their income as to where they are, now, if this bill passes?"

Senator Vognild: "I would make, I think, a fairly reasonable estimate here that revenue to local government is likely to go up slightly. Under the bill, in its present form--had the amendment not passed which curtailed the trade stimulants--local government's revenue would probably have gone up fairly well, but as it is, it should go up slightly."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McCaslin: "Senator Zimmerman, can you give me the total investment of those folks to earn that money?"

Senator Zimmerman: "Certainly, I cannot give that investment. I know there is a big one out there. I'm not trying to say they shouldn't get a return. I'm just saying it seems to me it's quite adequate."

Further debate ensued.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Bluechel: "Mr. President, in the past, to expand gambling activities, you ruled to the sixty percent of the constitutionally elected Senators. Is this true in this particular bill?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "This bill will take twenty-five votes. It's a sad person who is not willing to admit a mistake. It could be that this bill would even reduce gambling and I would be foolish to say it would require a sixty percent. I don't think this expands gambling. Therefore, it will take a constitutional majority of a minimum of twenty-five votes of the members elected."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3066.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3066 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 27; nays, 22.

Having voted on the prevailing side, Senator Warnke served notice that he would moved to reconsider the vote by which the amendment by Senator Pullen on page 14, line 19, to Substitute Senate Bill No. 3450, was adopted earlier today.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 3014, by Senator Williams

Modifying provisions relating to validity of voter registrations.

On motion of Senator Talmadge, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3014 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Kiskaddon: "Senator Talmadge, this subsection (3)--'any person protected by Article VI, Section 4 of the registration is cancelled may vote by absentee ballot.' Will you explain what that is all about?"

Senator Talmadge: "These people, under Article VI, Section 4 of the state constitution, I believe, if I recall, Senator Kiskaddon, are people who are residents outside of the state of Washington."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bottiger: "Senator Williams, before I ask you the question I've got to tell you a little story. My uncle, who is since deceased and in his last years lived at the same address as my parents. My uncle's initials were B. H. Bottiger and my father's initials were A. H. Bottiger. My uncle died. Somebody on the poll booth turned in a slip saying my father had died. My uncle never voted, I don't think, in his life, but they turned in a slip saying my father had died and my father was very much disturbed when he arrived at the polling place to find out that he was no longer a registered voter. Since he is occasionally out of town for more than twenty days, can that happen to other people when they show up at the polling place and there is nothing they can do?"

Senator Williams: "Well, I assume, in that particular case, that you would receive a letter. Now, if you were out for longer than twenty days, certainly the letter would still be there when he got back and he could make the inquiry that would correct that situation."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3014.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3014 and the bill failed to pass the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 13; nays, 36.

Voting yea: Senators Craswell, Guess, Hayner, Kreidler, Lee, Metcalf, Pullen, Sellar, Stratton, Talmadge, Vognild, Warnke, Williams - 13.

Voting nay: Senators Bailey, Barr, Bauer, Bender, Benitz, Bluechel, Bottiger, Cantu, Conner, Deccio, DeJarnatt, Fleming, Garrett, Gaspard, Goltz, Granlund, Halsan, Hansen, Johnson, Kiskaddon, McCaslin, McDermott, McDonald, McManus, Moore, Newhouse, Owen, Patterson, Peterson, Rasmussen, Rinehart, Saling, Thompson, von Reichbauer, Wojahn, Zimmerman - 36.

ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 3014, having failed to receive the constitutional majority, was declared lost.

There being no objection, the President reverted the Senate to the fourth order of business.

The department shall ensure that all the enforcement authorities are informed on a regular basis as to the location of the designated crisis residential center or centers in their judicial district, where children taken into custody under RCW 13.32A.050 may be taken.

Every officer taking a child into custody shall provide the child and his or her parent(s) or responsible adult with whom the child is placed with a copy of such statement. In addition, the administrator of the facility or his or her designee shall provide every resident and parent with a copy of such statement.

(c) The child has no suitable place to live other than the home of his or her parent.

(3) An agreement between parent and child made pursuant to RCW 13.32A.090(2)(e) or pursuant to RCW 13.32A.120(1) is no longer acceptable to parent or child, and:

other suitable residence to be determined by the department until an alternative residential placement petition filed by the department on behalf of the child is reviewed by the juvenile court and is resolved by such court. The department may authorize emergency medical or dental care for a child placed under this section. The state, when the department files a petition for alternative residential placement under this section, shall be represented as provided for in RCW 13.04.093.

Sec. 11. Section 31, chapter 155, Laws of 1979 as last amended by section 1, chapter 188, Laws of 1984 and RCW 13.32A.170 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The court shall hold a fact-finding hearing to consider a proper petition and may approve or deny alternative residential placement giving due weight to the intent of the legislature that families, absent compelling reasons to the contrary, shall remain together and that parents have the right to place reasonable rules and restrictions upon their children. The court may appoint legal counsel and/or a guardian ad litem to represent the child and advise parents of their right to be represented by legal counsel. The court may approve an order stating that the child shall be placed in a residence other than the home of his or her parent only if it is established by a preponderance of the evidence that:

(a) The petition is not capricious;

(b) The petitioner, if a parent or the child, has made a reasonable effort to resolve the conflict;

(c) The conflict which exists cannot be resolved by delivery of services to the family during continued placement of the child in the parental home; and

(d) Reasonable efforts have been made to prevent or eliminate the need for removal of the child from the child's home and to make it possible for the child to return home.

The court may not grant a petition filed by the child or the department if it is established that the petition is based only upon a dislike of reasonable rules or reasonable discipline established by the parent.

(2) The order approving out-of-home placement shall direct the department to submit a disposition plan for a three-month placement of the child that is designed to reunite the family and resolve the family conflict. Such plan shall delineate any conditions or limitations on parental involvement. In making the order, the court shall further direct the department to make recommendations, as to which agency or person should have physical custody of the child, as to which parental powers should be awarded to such agency or person, and as to parental visitation rights. The court may direct the department to consider the cultural heritage of the child in making its recommendations.

(3) The hearing to consider the recommendations of the department for a three-month disposition plan shall be set no later than fourteen days after the approval of the court of a petition to approve alternative residential placement. Each party shall be notified of the time and place of such disposition hearing.

(4) If the court approves or denies a petition for an alternative residential placement, a written statement of the reasons shall be filed. If the court denies a petition requesting that a child be placed in a residence other than the home of his or her parent, the court shall enter an order requiring the child to remain at or return to the home of his or her parent.

(5) If the court denies the petition, the court shall impress upon the party filing the petition of the legislative intent to restrict the proceedings to situations where a family conflict is so great that it cannot be resolved by the provision of in-home services.

(6) A child who fails to comply with a court order directing that the child remain at or return to the home of his or her parent shall be subject to contempt proceedings, as provided in this chapter, but only if the noncompliance occurs within ninety calendar days after the day of the order.

Sec. 12. Section 82, chapter 155, Laws of 1979 as amended by section 18, chapter 298, Laws of 1981 and RCW 74.13.036 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The department of social and health services shall oversee implementation of chapter 13.34 RCW and chapter 13.32A RCW. The oversight shall be comprised of working with affected parts of the criminal justice and child care systems as well as with local government, legislative, and executive authorities to effectively carry out these chapters. The department shall work with all such entities to ensure that chapters 13.32A and 13.34 RCW are implemented in a uniform manner throughout the state. ~~((The department shall make reports at least quarterly to the governor and to the legislature regarding implementation of the chapters cited in this section and shall report any violations and misunderstandings regarding the implementation thereof.))~~

The plan and procedures required under this subsection shall be submitted to the appropriate standing committees of the legislature by January 1, 1986.

There shall be uniform application of the procedures developed by the department and juvenile court personnel, to the extent practicable. Local and regional differences shall be taken into consideration in the development of procedures required under this subsection.

(6) Where appropriate, the department shall request opinions from the attorney general regarding correct construction of these laws.

On page 6, lines 16 and 17, delete "~~((seventy-two))~~ one hundred twenty" and insert "seventy-two"

Delete section 10 and renumber accordingly

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Stratton: "Senator Granlund, do you have any information from the Governor's office as to the funding in the budget for the group homes and the crisis residential centers?"

Senator Granlund: "Senator Stratton, I talked to the Governor yesterday on that very subject and told him that I was going to fight as hard as I could to get the funding for those group homes which--actually the budget shows, right now, that there is money there for catch up, which by no means takes care of problems that those group homes have had--that are closing across the state."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Lee: "Senator Granlund it has already been alluded to that the reason for this amendment to your amendment is a cost factor. What is the cost difference for a child in a crisis center as opposed to a residential treatment center?"

Senator Granlund: "I'm not sure what the rate is, Senator Lee, and if that is important for you to have in order to vote for this, I can get you those figures. I would like to say the point of this amendment is--originally, when we asked for the additional time we were doing it, because of practice, because they were not able to get the paperwork done. It seemed they were staying longer than the seventy-two hours, so we thought it prudent to give them extra time. On checking, we found that areas, such as Spokane do go along with the law. They do get their paperwork done; they do get them out in seventy-two hours.

"I think your question is a good question, but I don't know that it is particularly timely to this amendment, but I can certainly ask staff to do a little research for you."

Senator Lee: "One of the reasons I asked the question is because it sometimes may not be inappropriate to have a five-day period as opposed to a three-day period, particularly if there is difficulty in finding residential placements, which, as already has been mentioned in Senator Stratton's question, a bit of a problem. We don't want to find ourselves in the kind of position where these children, indeed, have to be, shall we say, kicked out of the crisis center and not have an appropriate place to go. I think that is what is concerning most of us and is behind my question as far as the costs were concerned."

Senator Granlund: "When Senator Talmadge and I discussed this, the problem that he has--and I concur--is that whenever we started spending the time, it seems that there's slippage. There's more and more time and it's more appropriate that those youngsters go on to perhaps get the kind of counseling that will return them to their families, because after all, that is the state's primary aim. Senator Lee, I will try to get that information for you on the funds."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendments by Senator Talmadge to the amendment by Senator Granlund.

The motion by Senator Talmadge carried and the amendments to the amendment were adopted.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senator Granlund, as amended.

The motion by Senator Granlund carried and the amendment, as amended, was adopted.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Talmadge, the following title amendment was adopted:

On page 1, after line 1 of the title, strike the remainder of the title and insert ", 13.04.450, 13.32A.030, 13.32A.050, 13.32A.060, 13.32A.130, 13.32A.140, 13.32A.170, and 74.13.036; adding a new section to chapter 13.34 RCW; creating a new section; and prescribing penalties."

On motion of Senator Talmadge, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 4059 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bailey: "Senator Talmadge, I will support this bill, but with the juvenile offender problems--and DSHS closing facilities in Snohomish County and other counties around the state--and with the time limitations that this bill creates on the juvenile problem, aren't we, unless we really begin to fund some of these activities, aren't we really cutting down on the effects of helping our children that are in distress?"

Senator Talmadge: "Senator Bailey, first the time limits that are contained in this bill are simply the time limits for crisis residential centers that are presently in the law. We're not altering that fact at all. Certainly, to the rest of your question, I would agree. We need to be more aggressive about providing funding for juvenile facilities--particularly for those juveniles who are in a run-away situation--so that we can provide appropriate services to them and, hopefully, reconcile them to their families and bring families together.

"There is absolutely no question in my mind that some of the concerns you have been experiencing in Snohomish County--with the appropriate funding of group homes and some of your very excellent facilities in that county--require the attention of the legislature and I'm going to make sure--and I think that Senator Granlund has indicated she will--that we provide adequate funding for group homes and other facilities for children in our state."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 4059.

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 4059 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 44; nays, 3; excused, 2.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Pullen: "Senator Talmadge, I assume the intent of the bill is still to limit the ballot title to a single question. In other words, now that we've expanded the number of words that would not allow, say, an explanation followed by a question or a dual question with it? The intent is still to phrase the ballot title as just one single question?"

Senator Talmadge: "That is my understanding, Senator Pullen."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Senate Bill No. 3436.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McDonald: "Senator Halsan, I wasn't quick enough on your amendment. Tell me what that does--which RCW citation?"

Senator Halsan: "It was brought to my attention by representatives of the Farm Forestry Association that the substitute bill that was passed out of committee referred to the wrong citation of RCWs. I conferred with Senator McDermott and staff and the amendment clarifies the appropriate section that it should have referred to for the definition of forest lands."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Newhouse: "Senator Halsan, this land was previously in what classification?"

Senator Halsan: "Forest land."

Senator Newhouse: "Then, would it not be subject to the Forest Practices Act? Should it have been reforested--replanted?"

Senator Halsan: "That's, basically, the issue. If it's taken out of forest land, then it would have to pay the back taxes unless it was complied with forest practices and been reforested. This changes it from one category of forest land to open space, either ag or timber."

SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 3571, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

STATEMENT FOR THE JOURNAL

March 19, 1985

It was my intention to vote 'aye' on Substitute Senate Bill No. 3571.

Barbara Granlund,
Twenty-sixth District

There being no objection, the Senate resumed consideration of Senate Bill No. 3323, deferred on second reading March 18, 1985.

MOTION

Senator Owen moved that the following amendment be adopted:

On page 2, line 4, after "only," insert "However, the court may, upon a showing of hardship by a noncustodial parent, reduce the amount of the judgments for child support that has accrued during the six months prior to the filing of the modification petition. "Hardship," as used in this section, means a substantial reduction in the financial position of a party resulting in the inability to perform the terms of the child support order."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Kiskaddon: "Senator Talmadge, if I were a divorced father and all of a sudden I lost my job and I went to my attorney that day and we went to court, how long would it take me to get to where I would have some resolution to the situation?"

Senator Talmadge: "It depends on the courts in which you're filing. In the King County Superior Court, it might be a time period if you had to go to a full-blown trial--as long as a year. If it's simply a modification, it can be done on a motion--a shorter period of time in some of the other courts across the state, you know--a matter of several weeks, perhaps."

Senator Kiskaddon: "Would that mean that if I went to court and it took a year, that I would still be having to have that judgment for a full year?"

Senator Talmadge: "Under those circumstances, the court that enters judgment or order that would reduce child support obligations from the time that you filed your petition, it would be retroactive to that extent back to the time of the filing of the petition. What Senator Owen's amendment proposes to do is to go back prior to the time of the filing of the petition--back as long as six months before that where the order has become a valid judgment and there's no petition pending."

Further debate ensued.

Senator Owen demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on adoption of the amendment by Senator Owen.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll and the motion by Senator Owen carried and the amendment was adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 26; nays, 21; absent, 2.

Voting nay: Senators Bailey, Barr, Bender, Benitz, Bluechel, Bottiger, Cantu, Craswell, Fleming, Granlund, Hayner, Kiskaddon, Kreidler, Lee, McDermott, McDonald, Newhouse, Rinehart, Talmadge, Wojahn, Zimmerman - 21.

Absent: Senators Bauer, von Reichbauer - 2.

MOTION FOR RECONSIDERATION

Having voted on the prevailing side, Senator Moore moved that the Senate reconsider the vote by which the amendment by Senator Owen on page 1, line 17, to Senate Bill No. 3323, was adopted March 18, 1985.

Debate ensued.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Owen: "Mr. President, we're trying to figure out which amendment it is. The procedure is to vote on the motion to reconsider first and then on the amendment again after that?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "Senator Owen, the answer is 'yes.'"

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator McDonald: "Mr. President, there has been intervening business, is the reconsideration in order?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "The bill was held over, Senator McDonald, and it carries over on the same status as it was formerly."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Vognild, further consideration of Senate Bill No. 3323 was deferred.

Renumber the remaining sections consecutively

Senator Fleming moved that the following amendment be adopted:

On page 4, line 19, after "state" strike "parks and recreation commission" and insert "board of health"

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Newhouse: "Senator Fleming, I can't quite understand why all this goes on. Who does all this, now, under the present set up?"

Senator Fleming: "Senator Newhouse, at the present time, what happened was we established the athletic training council last time out and when the bill went down to the Governor, there were those who, now--we will be putting on the board who will be more involved in this. There has been a little turf problem and as a result the Governor vetoed out the proposed rule making and so forth--left the study and the money in--there is a study being done."

Senator Newhouse: "Who sets those standards now, that's my question?"

Senator Fleming: "The point is that the State Board itself--they have the authority to do that at the present time. All these many years, they've never taken the initiative to do that. That was one of the reasons that we established the council to make a study--to make recommendations so we could indicate to them that, yes, indeed, we want them to do this. As far as the organized sports, little league and so forth, there's no set group that would do this at this point in time and so that's why for the Board of Health--that's talking about little league and other activities-non-profit activities."

Senator Newhouse: "I'm not sure that it fits under this amendment, but doesn't the Washington Interscholastic Association do that type of thing?"

Senator Fleming: "They are involved with the State Board. The problem you had was the people who were supposed to do this had not done it all these years and so what we're telling them is we want them to do this. These rules and regulations would be established and what we did was we set up this council to do a study and they will come back and propose these recommended rules to the State Board, which is a part of the structure that you're talking about and then they will establish rules and regulations for the six to eighteen year olds that are in our public schools. There was no agency or entity dealing with those young people we have out there in organized little leagues--and that's why we had to try and find an agency to deal with that. We felt as though that's the part that originally we said parks and recreation--because a lot of that activity takes place on our parks and then there was some concern that that's not the kind of thing they do, so we tried to find an agency that is involved in that kind of rule-making authority and the Department of Health is that kind of agency."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Patterson: "Senator Fleming, in your amendment, you make reference to rules in one place and standards in another place and I'm somewhat concerned about using both of them. My understanding was that the State Board would--working with the Interscholastic Association--would establish some recommended standards. I would be quite reluctant to suggest that they are going to set up rules. Now, if there are standards that they can recommend that they be followed by the various little league groups and what have you, that I could concur with, but not rules."

Senator Fleming: "Senator Patterson, if you will look at Section 5--'the council shall develop and recommend to the State Board of Education proposed rules to establish standards for the health and safety of students between the ages of six and eighteen.' Those are standards. They are proposing rules by which the standards will be set by the State Board."

Senator Patterson: "And that would be working with the people that are involved in all the time and that's your coaches, the people in the K-12 system--"

Senator Fleming: "If the WIA can't have an input with these people that they are involved with--that are putting on the sports--they've got problems, but we have been working with them, and, as you well know, we expanded the Board and put, which we originally didn't have--a member of the Board of Education on the Council."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senator Fleming.

The motion by Senator Fleming carried and the amendment was adopted.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Fleming, the following amendment was adopted:

On page 4, line 27, following "procedures," insert "The state board of health shall seek the assistance of the association of Washington cities and the Washington state association of counties in disseminating the rules to appropriate city and county governmental officials. The state board of health shall encourage city and county governmental officials to adopt the recommended standards in their local ordinances."

On motion of Senator Fleming, the following amendment was adopted:

On page 5, beginning on line 16, strike all material through "act" on line 19. Renumber the remaining sections consecutively.

On motion of Senator Fleming, the following title amendment was adopted:

On page 1, line 5 of the title, after "RCW;" strike "making an appropriation."

On motion of Senator Fleming, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3317 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

Senator Patterson: "Senator Talmadge, I want to follow up on the comment that was made by Senator Fleming and that is--'that if they don't do it, we'll come back and we'll require that they do it.' Now, if the state requires that they do this, whose responsibility is it, then, and who will be charged with the liability in the case of a major injury that occurs on little league fields?"

Senator Talmadge: "Senator Patterson, I give you my usual admonition and that is to remember what the intrinsic value of free legal advice is. With respect to your question, I have not done any research on the subject, but my sense of it is that the entity--the state in establishing rules and regulations about a particular conduct does not necessarily bear liability simply in setting of those standards for conduct. The primary responsibility rests with the parties that are operating the particular system. In this case, the little league association or whatever it might be. If, in fact, they violate the normal standard that we use in the tort law, which is the reasonable person standard--a person owes a duty to another person--the duty is determined on the basis of what a reasonable prudent person would do if that duty is breached and the breach of the duty is the approximate result of damages to another person.

"The state can set standards and we do that all the time. For example, in the area of work place injuries--work place safety requirements. The state in establishing those work place safety requirements is not liable, then, if someone violates those work place safety standards"

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3317.

MOTION

Senator Pullen moved that the following amendment be adopted:

On page 1, line 25, after "third degree," insert "theft in the first degree."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Talmadge, that fellow might be running out down the street with a hundred dollar television set—a small one—how does that officer know that he hasn't left behind some older person laying on the floor there? We have plenty of instances where they have killed for less than five dollars. Now, he has no knowledge, but he would stop this person, use his gun, shoot him in the leg or the arm or whatever and then find out—or he would hold his gun and let the fellow get away and later find out that there had been a murder committed in there where the theft was. Now, you're telling that officer, unless we adopt this amendment, that he can't attempt to stop him?"

Senator Talmadge: "Senator Rasmussen, what this particular bill is designed to do is to give some guidance to law enforcement officers across the state--for the circumstances for which they can use deadly force and that is force sufficient to kill somebody. Under the circumstances that you've mentioned, there would be some question in the officer's mind. The bill provides that you can use deadly force to prevent a robbery situation, a burglary situation, but we're talking about theft here and the problem, I think, is equally great if the officer were to use deadly force and shoot somebody who was innocent that happened to be running by in jogging clothes, for example, and ran under some circumstances, or if the officer made some incorrect assessment of who was at fault and shot somebody. I think we want to be very, very cautious and I think that is the point that the whole bill is designed to get at and why the sheriffs and police chiefs have been concerned. Use deadly force under circumstances that merit its use. The crimes have to be sufficiently dangerous or people have to be under sufficient threat of danger to exercise that use of deadly force."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senator Pullen.

The motion by Senator Pullen failed and the amendment was not adopted.

MOTION

Senator Pullen moved that the following amendments by Senators Pullen and Rasmussen be considered simultaneously and adopted:

The motion by Senator Pullen carried and the amendments were adopted.

MOTION

Senator Halsan moved that the following amendment be adopted:

On page 1, line 24, after "assault in the second degree," delete "assault in the third degree,"

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Metcalf: "Senator Halsan and Senator Pullen, what about the case of someone who wants to run and he strikes the officer, say in the throat or maybe a kick in the groin, in order to render the officer unable to apprehend, or whatever, would that be assault in the third degree? Maybe each of you could comment on that, because that would make a big difference, I think, under those circumstances. I think the policeman should certainly have the right to use deadly force."

Senator Halsan: "The definitions used in regard to assault in the second degree or what constitutes assault in the second degree is with intent to cause grievous bodily harm. Grievous bodily harm is defined as bodily harm that is hard to bear. Bruises, broken bones, obviously, or the injuries that you described could easily escalate it to the assault in the second degree."

Senator Pullen: "To answer Senator Metcalf's question, it could go either way. It could be charged as assault in the second degree or it could be charged as assault in the third degree and for that reason, I feel that the Halsan amendment is objectionable and should be defeated."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senator Halsan.

The motion by Senator Halsan carried and the amendment was adopted on a rising vote, the President voting 'aye.'

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Zimmerman: "Senator Thompson, do we have an idea--on page 3, line 8, the words that are called 'application portfolio'--that term sounds like a state-of-the-art term. Is that anything that we know what that specifically deals with?"

Senator Thompson: "Well, the term 'application' is commonly used in this technology, as I understand it--a computer application to a certain process task. I suppose a portfolio would be a grouping or collection of these applications."

Senator Zimmerman: "When it says 'systems application portfolio,' I guess I thought that might be some specific kind of item. Perhaps we will get some more information as this moves along. I guess that one is just sort of a peculiarity."

Senator Thompson: "Senator Zimmerman, you should have more confidence in this legislation. This is going to improve things around here."

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Williams, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3283 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 3283 and the substitute bill was advanced to second reading and read the second time.

On motion of Senator Williams, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3283 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Moore: "Senator Williams, in your closing statement, I think you suggested that this legislation would allow certain improvements on historic properties. What do we mean by that?"

Senator Williams: "It could be actually anything, but basically to maintain and reuse or whatever to use the building. In other words, you could have historic property in Pioneer Square. Basically, the exterior of the building is what is historic."

The whole interior might be remodeled totally, the front could be restored to its historic character and maintained and so forth. There are no particular limits other than the historic character of the building must be maintained."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Williams, I'm for restored property. We sold city hall for seventeen thousand dollars when I was mayor of Tacoma and we had to preserve the outside of the building. As you said, they couldn't change it, however, then when they are restored, usually the rents jump up to nine, ten, twelve dollars and a half a square foot. Is there any way in this bill that you recover against the rent, which because of the improvement, they go higher?"

Senator Williams: "The assessor, once the building is improved--the assessor will assess it at whatever its new value is and tax it at that rate, less the tax on the improvements only. So, in other words, over a period of time the property may continue to rise and the taxes will continue to rise, but the exemption in the bill is only for the tax on the improvement that was made and that applies for the ten-year period."

Senator Rasmussen: "If they bought this property and then put two million dollars improvements in it, they would not be taxed on that portion?"

Senator Williams: "Just the two million, but the rest will increase in value over the years and they will pay that increase--"

Senator Rasmussen: "Then, they're getting a double bite, because they're getting the depreciation on the two million plus they're getting a tax exemption, plus they're getting the additional square foot rent, because of the improved condition. It kind of looks like Santa Claus."

Senator Williams: "Well, the square footage rent, of course, on a business property is how the assessor's valuation is based, so if that rent goes up the valuation goes up and their taxes go up. So, it's only the dollar amount at the time of the improvement that is ever not assessed over that--"

Senator Rasmussen: "Isn't there a federal credit, also?"

Senator Williams: "There is, presently, twenty-five percent tax credit on historic properties to the owners of historic property, however, there is a danger that that may disappear."

Further debate ensued.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Zimmerman, Senators Benitz and Patterson were excused.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 3283.

On motion of Senator Williams, the rules were suspended. Substitute Senate Bill No. 3112 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Williams, there's a high pressure boiler mentioned in here to preserve a yet-to-be completed cogeneration unit. Where is it? What is it?"

Senator Williams: "This is, I think, the Simpson Timber Company plant in Shelton and the reason for the amendment is that the Shelton plant wants to put a high pressure boiler in now, which will be a part of a plan for a cogeneration facility later on. They do not get the tax credit until the full cogeneration plant is in place and operating, so it simply allows for that to happen, now, in a planning sense, but they get the credit when the cogeneration facility is in operation."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 3112.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 3112 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 44; absent, 2; excused, 3.

There is appropriated from the general fund to the department of community development for the biennium ending June 30, 1987, the sum of one hundred thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, to carry out the purposes of this act. The general fund shall be reimbursed for all moneys expended under this section by January 1, 1987, pursuant to section 4 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. A new section is added to chapter 19.27 RCW to read as follows: The department of community development shall develop and implement a method of funding the building code council by counties and cities by January 1, 1986."

Renumber the sections consecutively and correct internal references accordingly.

Senator Rasmussen moved that the following amendments be considered simultaneously and adopted:

On page 3, line 22, strike "and"

On page 3, line 26, after "70.92.160" insert the following:

": and

(6) Regulations which shall be adopted by the pertinent legislative authority permitting the conversion of single family residences to include separate, code-approved units within existing space to promote energy efficiency and reduce resource waste. The regulations required under this subsection shall be adopted by ordinance or resolution"

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Talmadge: "A point of order, Mr. President. I raise the question of scope and object with respect to the amendment. I believe the bill is designed to deal with the Uniform Building Code and updates the state building code to conform to the requirements of the most recent version of the building code. What Senator Rasmussen's amendment does is to attempt to preempt local decision making with respect to the issue of so-called mother-in-law apartments and I believe that that proposal which is not reflected in the Uniform Building Code would expand the scope and object of the bill."

Further debate ensued.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Vognild, further consideration of Substitute Senate Bill No. 3261 was deferred.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "In ruling upon the point of order raised by Senator Talmadge, the President finds that Substitute Senate Bill No. 3261 is a measure which renames the State Building Code Advisory Council, updates the state building code and preempts local governments from excluding single family or multi-family residences from the state building code.

"The amendments proposed by Senators Rasmussen authorize within the state building code, local government regulations which allow the conversion of single-family residences to include separate units within existing space.

On motion of Senator Thompson, the following amendments by Senators Thompson and Zimmerman were considered simultaneously and adopted:

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McDonald: "Senator Thompson, we just struck the appropriation. Are we limiting the duties at all?"

Senator Thompson: "We're not limiting the duties. I'm hopeful that we can obtain some funding through the appropriations process. But should that not occur, this effort could be funded by the legislature, itself, to the extent it participates as provided by this bill, and by the counties and cities from their fund sources. We have an opportunity, following the passage of this, before the end of the session to examine those options."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Thompson, is there a Washington Association of Counties? Do the county commissioners and other elected county officials have an association?"

Senator Thompson: "They certainly do, Senator."

Senator Rasmussen: "And have they combined? Has the legislature directed?"

Senator Thompson: "Are you asking--have they combined with the elected officials association?"

Senator Rasmussen: "Yes."

Senator Thompson: "That has not occurred. They have a closer working relationship and they plan to join together in the housing of their executive offices."

Senator Rasmussen: "What about the Association of Washington Cities? Is that still functioning?"

Senator Thompson: "That's still functioning."

Senator Rasmussen: "Are all of these outfits financed with tax money?"

Senator Thompson: "They are, indeed."

*NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. A new section is added to chapter 48.21 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Any group disability insurance policy issued, renewed, or amended on or after October 1, 1985, that provides coverage for hospital or medical expenses shall contain a provision granting the person covered by the policy the right to continue coverage under the group policy for one hundred eighty days from the date the person's eligibility for coverage under the policy is terminated.

(2) Continuation of coverage under this section need not be offered to:

(a) A person who was not covered under the group policy for at least three continuous months before termination of employment or membership; or

(b) A person whose employment or membership was terminated for misconduct.

(3) Upon termination of a person's eligibility for coverage, the insurer shall provide written notice to the person of the continuation rights under this section. If the person applies for unemployment insurance benefits in connection with termination of employment, the employment security department shall provide written notice to the person of the continuation rights. A person who wishes to continue coverage under this section must request continuation in writing not later than ten days after the later of the date on which eligibility for coverage ended and the date on which the person was first notified in writing of the right to continue coverage. However, a person may not make a request for continuation of coverage more than thirty-one days after the date of termination of group coverage.

(4) A person who requests continuation of coverage may be required to pay the contribution required by the employer or group policyholder, on a monthly basis and in advance, as provided in this subsection. The person shall pay the contribution to the insurer, employer, or policyholder, whichever the group policy provides. The required contribution may not exceed the group premium rate for the insurance being continued under the group policy as of the date the contribution is due. The person must pay the first contribution not later than thirty-one days after the date on which the person's coverage under the group policy would otherwise end.

(5) Continuation of coverage shall end before the one hundred eighty-day period if:

(a) The person fails to make timely payment of a required contribution; or

(b) The group policy is terminated or the employer or other group terminates participation under the policy. However, if the employer or other group replaces the group coverage with similar coverage under another group policy a person may continue coverage as provided in subsection (6) of this section.

(6) A person may obtain coverage under the replacement group policy for the balance of the period that remained under the replaced group policy. The replacement policy shall not duplicate benefits still payable under the replaced policy. The replaced policy shall continue to provide benefits to a person to the extent of that policy's accrued liabilities and extension of benefits as if the replacement had not occurred.

Sec. 6. Section 2, chapter 190, Laws of 1984 and RCW 48.21.250 are each amended to read as follows:

Every insurer that issues policies providing group coverage for hospital or medical expense shall offer the policyholder an option to include a policy provision granting a person who becomes ineligible for coverage under the group policy and whose right to continuation of coverage under section 5 of this act has expired, the right to continue the group benefits for a period of time and at a rate agreed upon. The policy provision shall provide that when such coverage terminates, the covered person may convert to a policy as provided in RCW 48.21.260.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. A new section is added to chapter 48.44 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Any group health care service contract issued, renewed, or amended on or after October 1, 1985, that provides coverage for hospital or medical expenses shall contain a provision granting the person covered by the contract the right to continue coverage under the group contract for one hundred eighty days from the date the person's eligibility for coverage under the contract is terminated.

(2) Continuation of coverage under this section need not be offered to:

(a) A person who was not covered under the group contract for at least three continuous months before termination of employment or membership; or

(b) A person whose employment or membership was terminated for misconduct.

(3) Upon termination of a person's eligibility for coverage, the health care service contractor shall provide written notice to the person of the continuation rights under this section. If the person applies for unemployment insurance benefits in connection with termination of employment, the employment security department shall provide written notice to the person of the continuation rights. A person who wishes to continue coverage under this section must request continuation in writing not later than ten days after the later of the date on which employment or membership ended and the date on which the person was first notified in writing of the right to continue coverage. However, a person may not make a request for continuation of coverage more than thirty-one days after the date of termination of group coverage.

(4) A person who requests continuation of coverage may be required to pay the contribution required by the employer or group contract holder, on a monthly basis and in advance, as provided in this subsection. The person shall pay the contribution to the contractor, employer, or contract holder, whichever the group contract provides. The required contribution may not exceed the group premium rate for the coverage being continued under the group contract as of the date the contribution is due. The person must pay the first contribution not later than thirty-one days after the date on which the person's coverage under the group contract would otherwise end.

(5) Continuation of coverage shall end before the one hundred eighty-day period if:

(a) The person fails to make timely payment of a required contribution; or

(b) The group contract is terminated or the employer or other group terminates participation under the contract. However, if the employer or other group replaces the group coverage with similar coverage under another group contract a person may continue coverage as provided in subsection (6) of this section.

(6) A person may obtain coverage under the replacement group contract for the balance of the period that remained under the replaced group contract. The replacement contract shall not duplicate benefits still payable under the replaced contract. The replaced contract shall continue to provide benefits to a person to the extent of that contract's accrued liabilities and extension of benefits as if the replacement had not occurred.

Sec. 8. Section 5, chapter 190, Laws of 1984 and RCW 48.44.360 are each amended to read as follows:

Every health care service contractor that issues group contracts providing group coverage for hospital or medical expense shall offer the contract holder an option to include a contract provision granting a person who becomes ineligible for coverage under the group contract and whose right to continuation of coverage under section 7 of this act has expired, the right to continue the group benefits for a period of time and at a rate agreed upon. The contract provision shall provide that when such coverage terminates, the covered person may convert to a contract as provided in RCW 48.44.370.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. A new section is added to chapter 48.46 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Any group health maintenance agreement issued, renewed, or amended on or after October 1, 1985, that provides coverage for hospital or medical expenses shall contain a provision granting the person covered by the agreement the right to continue coverage under the group agreement for one hundred eighty days from the date the person's eligibility for coverage under the agreement is terminated.

(2) Continuation of coverage under this section need not be offered

(a) A person who was not covered under the group agreement for at least three continuous months before termination of employment or membership; or

(b) A person whose employment or membership was terminated for misconduct.

(3) Upon termination of a person's eligibility for coverage, the health maintenance organization shall provide written notice to the person of the continuation rights under this section. If the person applies for unemployment insurance benefits in connection with termination of employment, the employment security department shall provide written notice to the person of the continuation rights. A person who wishes to continue coverage under this section must request continuation in writing not later than ten days after the later of the date on which employment or membership ended and the date on which the person was first notified in writing of the right to continue coverage. However, a person may not make a request for continuation of coverage more than thirty-one days after the date of termination of group coverage.

(4) A person who requests continuation of coverage may be required to pay the contribution required by the employer or group agreement holder, on a monthly basis and in advance, as provided in this subsection. The person shall pay the contribution to the health maintenance organization, employer, or agreement holder, whichever the group agreement provides. The required contribution may not exceed the group premium rate for the coverage being continued under the group agreement as of the date the contribution is due. The person must pay the first contribution not later than thirty-one days after the date on which the person's coverage under the group agreement would otherwise end.

(5) Continuation of coverage shall end before the one hundred eighty-day period if:

(a) The person fails to make timely payment of a required contribution; or

(b) The group agreement is terminated or the employer or other group terminates participation under the agreement. However, if the employer or other group replaces the group coverage with similar coverage under another group agreement a person may continue coverage as provided in subsection (6) of this section.

(6) A person may obtain coverage under the replacement group agreement for the balance of the period that remained under the replaced group agreement. The replacement agreement shall not duplicate benefits still payable under the replaced agreement. The replaced agreement shall continue to provide benefits to a person to the extent of that agreement's accrued liabilities and extension of benefits as if the replacement had not occurred.

Sec. 10. Section 8, chapter 190, Laws of 1984 and RCW 48.46.440 are each amended to read as follows:

Every health maintenance organization that issues agreements providing group coverage for hospital or medical care shall offer the agreement holder an option to include an agreement provision granting a person who becomes ineligible for coverage under the group agreement and whose right to continuation of coverage under section 9 of this act has expired, the right to continue the group benefits for a period of time and at a rate agreed upon. The agreement provision shall provide that when such coverage terminates the covered person may convert to an agreement as provided in RCW 48.46.450.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator McDonald: "Mr. President, a point of order. I would like to raise the question of scope and object on this amendment. Notwithstanding the good arguments raised on this, it seems to me that this is a bill that deals with the notice for cancellation of insurance policies, whereas Senator McDermott's rather comprehensive amendment deals with people who are leaving employment and their ability then to continue their health care costs. While it may be within the title, it is clearly outside the object of the bill before us."

Further debate ensued.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Vognild, further consideration of Substitute Senate Bill No. 3775 was deferred.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 3800, by Senators Granlund, Bailey and Garrett

Establishing uniformity in the publication of certain legal notices.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Thompson, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 3800 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Senate Bill No. 3800.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Senate Bill No. 3800 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 46; nays, 1; absent, 1; excused, 1.

Voting yea: Senators Bauer, Bender, Benitz, Bluechel, Bottiger, Cantu, Conner, Craswell, Deccio, DeJarnatt, Fleming, Garrett, Gaspard, Goltz, Granlund, Guess, Halsan, Hansen, Hayner, Johnson, Kiskaddon, Kreidler, Lee, McCaslin, McDermott, McDonald, McManus, Metcalf, Moore, Owen, Patterson, Peterson, Pullen, Rasmussen, Rinehart, Saling, Sellar, Stratton, Talmadge, Thompson, Vognild, von Reichbauer, Warnke, Williams, Wojahn, Zimmerman - 46.

Voting nay: Senator Barr - 1.

Absent: Senator Newhouse - 1.

Excused: Senator Bailey - 1.

SENATE BILL NO. 3800, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 3478, by Senators Kreidler, Kiskaddon and Vognild

Excluding certain capital expenditures for hospitals from the certificate of need program.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Granlund, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3478 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 3478 and the substitute bill was advanced to second reading and read the second time.

On motion of Senator Granlund, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3478 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Guess: "Senator Kreidler, we have two hospitals in our area that are running about 55 percent occupancy. Would this enable the board of directors of that hospital to dedicate a wing, say, that this would now be a nursing home area, rather than a hospital area?"

Senator Kreidler: "It would if they met a certain criteria. This bill specifies small hospitals, and the second would be the criteria that there couldn't be a lot of vacant nursing home beds in that particular area already. This is how they would qualify for this program right now. If they meet that criteria, they would be able to come under the bill."

Senator Guess: "Well, there are not many nursing home beds available. In fact, there is a scarcity--a waiting list in certain parts of town, but they are not small hospitals. They just don't have the capacities now to keep them going and I was wondering what you call a small hospital?"

Senator Kreidler: "Deer Park would be an example of a small hospital, as opposed to one of the larger urban hospitals."

Senator Guess: "St. Lukes and the Valley General Hospital are both running at 55 percent occupancy."

Senator Kreidler: "They would not come under this bill. One possibility is that in the future, this bill would be expanded to include large hospitals like this, so they could use those beds in a swing bed type of role. But I think when that comes up, there's going to be the policy issue we're all going to have to wrestle with, as to how many beds do we want to have out there for nursing home beds. Obviously, they are kind of like prison beds--they tend to all get filled and we wind up having to pay for them in some way or another. It's going to be one of those things the committee is going to have to judge very carefully before the decision is made."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McDermott: "Senator Kreidler, what is the fiscal note on this bill?"

Senator Kreidler: "I don't have the fiscal note in front of me, but it was a negligible cost. Obviously, this cost would be something to be determined by the Department of Social and Health Services in making a decision as to whether a small rural hospital would qualify to come under the swing bed provisions. It's going to be a nominal cost."

MOTION

On motion of Senator McDermott, further consideration of Substitute Senate Bill No. 3478 was deferred.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 3082, by Senators McDermott, Zimmerman, Deccio, Warnke and Bluechel

Modifying the measure of B & O tax for artistic or cultural organizations.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

On motion of Senator McDermott, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 3082 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

MOTION

On motion of Senator McDermott, further consideration of Senate Bill No. 3082 was deferred.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 3356, by Senators Peterson, Patterson, Hansen and Conner (by County Road Administration Board request)

Revising county road administrative procedures.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Peterson, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3356 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 3356 and the substitute bill was advanced to second reading and read the second time.

On motion of Senator Peterson, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3356 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

On motion of Senator Bender, Senator Garrett was excused.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 3356.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 3356 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 42; nays, 2; absent, 3; excused, 2.

Voting yea: Senators Barr, Bauer, Bender, Benitz, Bluechel, Bottiger, Cantu, Conner, Craswell, Deccio, DeJarnatt, Fleming, Gaspard, Goltz, Granlund, Guess, Halsan, Hansen, Hayner, Johnson, Kiskaddon, Kreidler, Lee, McCaslin, McDermott, McDonald, McManus, Metcalf, Moore, Owen, Patterson, Peterson, Rinehart, Saling, Stratton, Talmadge, Thompson, von Reichbauer, Warnke, Williams, Wojahn, Zimmerman - 42.

Voting nay: Senators Pullen, Rasmussen - 2.

Absent: Senators Newhouse, Sellar, Vognild - 3.

Excused: Senators Bailey, Garrett - 2.

SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 3356, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 3516, by Senators Bauer, Gaspard, Benitz, Moore, Bender, Rinehart, Lee and Johnson (by Temporary Committee on Educational Policies request)

Providing for instruction in Spanish and Japanese in grades one through six.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Gaspard, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3516 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 3516 and the substitute bill was advanced to second reading and read the second time.

Senator DeJarnatt moved that the following amendments by Senators DeJarnatt, Thompson and Gaspard be considered simultaneously and adopted:

On page 2, after line 10, insert the following:

"Sec. 5. Section 28A.67.020, chapter 223, Laws of 1969 ex. sess. as amended by section 1, chapter 340, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and RCW 28A.67.020 are each amended to read as follows:

No person, who is not a citizen of the United States of America, shall be permitted to teach in the common schools in this state: PROVIDED, That the superintendent of public instruction may grant to an alien a permit to teach in the common schools of this state if such teacher has all the other qualifications required by law, and has declared his intention of becoming a citizen of the United States of America: PROVIDED FURTHER, That after a one year probationary period the superintendent of public instruction, at the request of the school district which employed such teacher on a permit, may grant to an alien whose qualifications have been approved by the state board of education a standard certificate to teach in the common schools of this state: PROVIDED FURTHER, That the superintendent of public instruction may grant to a nonimmigrant alien whose qualifications have been approved by the state board of education a temporary permit which is renewable for no more than one year to teach (~~as an exchange teacher~~) in the common schools of this state.

Before such alien shall be granted a temporary permit he shall be required to subscribe to an oath or affirmation in writing as follows: I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will support the Constitution and laws of the United States and the Constitution and laws of the state of Washington; that I do not advocate the overthrow, destruction, or alteration of the constitutional form of government of the United States or of the state of Washington or any political subdivision of either of them. All oaths or affirmations subscribed as herein provided shall be filed in the office of the superintendent of public instruction and shall be there retained for a period of five years. Such permits shall at all times be subject to revocation by the superintendent of public instruction."

Renumber the remaining section consecutively.

On page 2, on line 11, after "of" insert "sections 1 through 4 of"

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Pullen: "Senator DeJarnatt, how long is the temporary permit issued for now? In other words, your amendment, as I read it, deals with the renewal of the permit."

Senator DeJarnatt: "It permits a temporary certificate which is not permissible under present law, as I understand it. This temporary certificate could be renewed once."

Senator Pullen: "Present law says that the Superintendent of Public Instruction may grant to a non-immigrant alien whose qualifications have been approved by the State Board of Education, a temporary permit to teach as an exchange teacher."

Senator DeJarnatt: "Exchange teacher' is another special category. Also, as I understand present law, they can be granted a permit to teach if they intend to become a citizen. In this case, and I suspect in others, they would be graduate students here who do not intend to become citizens. I would defer to Senator Gaspard who is more authoritative on this subject."

Senator Pullen: "Mr. President, could we move this bill down one bill, so we could discuss this?"

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Pullen: "Mr. President, I would like to challenge the amendment on scope and object. I won't explain why it expands the scope and object. It clearly does and the President invariably does such an outstanding and fair job of ruling in this area, it usually doesn't do much good to make any comments anyway. I am sure the President will rule correctly, as he always does."

Debate ensued.

There being no objection, further consideration of Substitute Senate Bill No. 3516 was deferred.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 3535, by Senators Wojahn, Johnson, Peterson, and Granlund

Changing provisions relating to city taxation of motor vehicle and special fuel

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Talmadge moved that the following amendment by Senators Talmadge, Fleming, Garrett and Lee be adopted:

On page 2, line 11, after "navigation" insert: ", or which includes a crossing of a navigable river within the city limits of a city having a population of more than 400,000"

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Patterson: "Senator Talmadge, I'm trying to recall when we authorized legislation for the local gas tax option. Do you recall what the jurisdiction was and the procedures that had to be followed in order to implement that?"

Senator Talmadge: "In reply to your question, it was for the city of Seattle. My recollection was, and I'll confirm it in the bill, the city of Seattle, pursuant to its local legislative authority--the city council--could authorize the imposition of a gas tax within its limits in one-half cent increments up to two cents. The ironic thing, in this case, was they never had to impose the gas tax because of the fortuity of a particularly bad pilot of a vessel who ran into the bridge. We can't all be lucky enough to have a bad pilot like that who will give us the opportunity to get federal money to deal with an emergency as we did in the case of the West Seattle bridge. But the city council, as I understand it, would have been able to impose this had they needed to."

Senator Patterson: "The city council has the authority to levy it? It does not have to go to a vote of the people of the city of Seattle?"

Senator Talmadge: "No, that is my understanding."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senators Talmadge, Fleming, Garrett and Lee.

The motion by Senator Talmadge carried and the amendment was adopted.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Wojahn, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3535 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Lee: "Senator Talmadge, I joined you in this particular amendment, but after a bill that we were working on the other day that related to the question about whether an additional tax--we were talking about hotel/motel tax in relation to the convention center and whether it would be jeopardized by the border tax ruling--would you feel that there might be some possibility of jeopardy in this particular tax for that reason?"

Senator Talmadge: "I think not. Of course, you cannot always predict the ultimate disposition of a case by the Supreme Court. My best guess is that a local option tax that would be subject to the approval of the appropriate legislative jurisdiction in that area, would not fall within the uniformity provisions of the State Constitution that the Supreme Court found to be of concern in the border tax case."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3535.

On page 2, line 30 of the amendment, strike "of less than ten" and insert "of ten or less"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Cantu: "Senator Bottiger, there's always a question and we had them when we discussed this in caucus. With this amendment of the exemptions, is a registration fee required for these boats that are exempted?"

Senator Bottiger: "No, Senator, the registration fee you're talking about for under sixteen feet is six dollars. It pays for a title. Boats under sixteen feet with less than ten or less horsepower engines will not have to pay six dollars, nor will they get a title. Now, there may be somebody that has a ten horsepower boat that would like to have a title to that boat so he can get bank financing. I'm sure he would be able to go down and do it by saying he wants to be licensed for an eleven horsepower, in case he bought one. There is an advantage in being registered and that is you can get financing for your boat and if it's stolen you've got some proof as to who owned it."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senator Halsan, as amended.

The motion by Senator Halsan carried and the amendment, as amended, was adopted.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Bottiger, the following title amendments were considered simultaneously and adopted:

On motion of Senator Bottiger, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3157 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Newhouse: "I may have missed this, Senator Bottiger, but does this bill, as drafted now, comply with Coast Guard requirements?"

Senator Bottiger: "Ed Wilson, who has been a staff member for many years--working for both caucuses--has told me he has gone all the way to Washington, D.C. to make sure that this is Coast Guard approved and would qualify us for any federal money, if there is still such a thing in existence."

ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 3345, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

There being no objection, the Senate resumed consideration of Substitute Senate Bill No. 3775 and the pending amendment by Senator McDermott on page 5, line 21, deferred earlier today.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "In ruling upon the point of order raised by Senator McDonald, the President finds that Substitute Senate Bill No. 3775 is a measure which extends from twenty days to ninety days the notice requirement for cancellation or nonrenewal of various insurance policies.

"The amendment proposed by Senator McDermott allows a person who becomes unemployed to continue to be covered by an existing group policy for 180 days if the unemployed person chooses to continue to pay for such a policy.

"The President, therefore, finds that the proposed amendment does change the scope and object of the bill and that the point of order is well taken."

The amendment was ruled out of order.

MOTION

Senator Deccio moved that the following amendment by Senators Deccio, Wojahn, Johnson, McCaslin, Moore, Bottiger, Vogt, Saling, Metcalf, McDermott and Warnke be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

(a) Written notice of such cancellation must be actually delivered or mailed to the insured or to his or her representative in charge of the subject of the insurance not less than ((twenty)) forty-five days prior to the effective date of the cancellation except for cancellation of insurance policies for nonpayment of premiums, which notice shall be not less than ten days prior to such date and except for cancellation of fire insurance policies under chapter 48.53 RCW, which notice shall not be less than five days prior to such date;

The insurer shall retain in its records any such item so mailed, together with its envelope, which was returned by the post office upon failure to find, or deliver the mailing to, the addressee.

(3) The affidavit of the individual making or supervising such a mailing, shall constitute prima facie evidence of such facts of the mailing as are therein affirmed.

(4) The portion of any premium paid to the insurer on account of the policy, unearned because of the cancellation and in amount as computed on the pro rata basis, must be actually paid to the insured or other person entitled thereto as shown by the policy or by any endorsement thereon, or be mailed to the insured or such person as soon as possible, and no later than ((thirty)) forty-five days after the date of notice of cancellation to the insured for homeowners', dwelling fire, and private passenger auto. Any such payment may be made by cash, or by check, bank draft, or money order.

(1) No contract of insurance predicated wholly or in part upon the use of a private passenger automobile shall be terminated by cancellation by the insurer until at least twenty days after mailing written notice of cancellation to the named insured at the latest address filed with the insurer by or on behalf of the named insured, accompanied by the reason therefor: PROVIDED, That where cancellation is for nonpayment of premium, or is within the first thirty days after the contract has been in effect, at least ten days notice of cancellation, accompanied by the reason therefor, shall be given: PROVIDED HOWEVER, That in case of a contract evidenced by a written binder which has been delivered to the insured, if such binder contains a clearly stated expiration date, no additional notice of cancellation or nonrenewal shall be required.

(2) (a) No notice of cancellation by the insurer as to a contract of insurance to which subsection (1) applies shall be valid if sent more than sixty days after the contract has been in effect unless:

(i) The named insured fails to discharge when due any of his or her obligations in connection with the payment of premium for the policy or any installment thereof, whether payable directly to the insurer or to its agent or indirectly under any premium finance plan or extension of credit.

(ii) The driver's license of the named insured, or of any other operator who customarily operates an automobile insured under the policy, has been under suspension or revocation during the policy period or, if the policy is a renewal, during its policy period or the one hundred eighty days immediately preceding the effective date of the renewal policy.

(b) Modification by the insurer of automobile physical damage coverage by the inclusion of a deductible not exceeding one hundred dollars shall not be deemed a cancellation of the coverage or of the policy.

(3) The substance of subsections (1) and (2)(a) of this section must be set forth in each contract of insurance subject to the provisions of subsection (1) above, and may be in the form of an attached endorsement.

(4) No notice of cancellation of a policy which can be canceled only pursuant to subsection (2) shall be effective unless the reason therefor accompanies or is included in the notice of cancellation.

Sec. 3. Section 20, chapter 241, Laws of 1969 ex. sess. as last amended by section 17, chapter 339, Laws of 1981 and RCW 48.18.292 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Each insurer shall be required to renew any contract of insurance subject to RCW 48.18.291 unless one of the following situations exists:

(a) The insurer gives the named insured at least ~~((twenty))~~ forty-five days' notice in writing as provided for in RCW 48.18.291(1), that it proposes to refuse to renew the insurance contract upon its expiration date; and sets forth therein the actual reason for refusing to renew; or

(5) No insurer shall refuse to renew the liability and/or collision coverage of an automobile insurance policy on the basis that an insured covered by the policy of the insurer has submitted one or more claims under the comprehensive, road service, or towing coverage of the policy. Nothing in this subsection shall prohibit the nonrenewal of comprehensive, road service, or towing coverage on the basis of one or more claims submitted by an insured.

(c) The insured's agent or broker has procured other coverage acceptable to the insured prior to the expiration of the policy period.

(2) Renewal of a policy shall not constitute a waiver or estoppel with respect to grounds for cancellation which existed before the effective date of such renewal, or with respect to cancellation of fire policies under chapter 48.53 RCW.

(3) "Renewal" or "to renew" means the issuance and delivery by an insurer of a contract of insurance replacing at the end of the contract period a contract of insurance previously issued and delivered by the same insurer, or the issuance and delivery of a certificate or notice extending the term of a contract beyond its policy period or term: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That any contract of insurance with a policy period or term of six months or less whether or not made continuous for successive terms upon the payment of additional premiums shall for the purpose of RCW 48.18.290 and 48.18.293 through 48.18.295 be considered as if written for a policy period or term of six months: PROVIDED, FURTHER, That any policy written for a term longer than one year or any policy with no fixed expiration date, shall, for the purpose of RCW 48.18.290 and 48.18.293 through 48.18.295, be considered as if written for successive policy periods or terms of one year.

On page 11, line 29 of the amendment, after "institutions", strike all language after "and" and add the following: "shall take effect July 1, 1985."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Deccio, on my automobile, I have liability insurance and on my homeowners I have some coverage, but on my property I have other liability insurance. Why can't I buy one umbrella policy that would carry my liability?"

Senator Deccio: "You can buy an auto policy, you can buy a homeowners, you can buy another liability and you can, also, buy an umbrella liability policy."

Senator Rasmussen: "Oh, you can?"

Senator Deccio: "The companies have not presented policies which deal with all of those coverages, because they are different in what they do and I don't think you would really want to buy your homeowners, your auto and everything together, because if they cancelled one, then you have the whole thing cancelled and I don't think you would want that to happen."

Senator Rasmussen: "I wish you would give me a sample umbrella policy. I want to see what's under the umbrella. Thank you."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senator Deccio to the amendment.

The motion by Senator Deccio carried and the amendment to the amendment was adopted.

SENATE BILL NO. 4109, by Senators Moore, Williams and Goltz

Regulating the interception of telephone communications.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator McDonald, Senators Benitz and Kiskaddon were excused.

On motion of Senator Williams, Substitute Senate Bill No. 4109 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 4109 and the substitute bill was advanced to second reading and read the second time.

Senator McManus moved that the following amendments by Senators McManus and Moore be considered simultaneously and adopted:

On page 1, line 12, after "corporation" strike everything down to and including "(2)" on line 20

On page 1, line 25, strike all of subsection (3)

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Pullen: "Senator McManus, I'm a little concerned about striking subsection (3). I guess my concern is that subsection (3), presently, says 'that nothing contained in this bill will require the utilization of an automated tone warning device, in the case of a wire tap or other form of monitoring that is used by law enforcement and is otherwise lawful.' I'm a little concerned that by striking this subsection the courts may read some particular action into that striking and with that language then being omitted from the bill, it's possible that someone could interpret the action as meaning that you have to have an automated beeper when we're listening in to some organized crime official with a court order and otherwise through lawful means.

"I can understand what you're trying to do in the first part of the amendment, but now that you've combined the first part and the second part as one amendment, I'm a little worried that there's going to be an adverse impact on law enforcement with respect to the second part of your amendment."

Senator McManus: "Senator Pullen, I anticipated that question and I checked with Marty Brown, our caucus attorney, and he told me that in no way is that amendment interfering with any law enforcement procedure. In fact, it is desirable and necessary to put that amendment into this bill just to make sure that we're not interfering with law enforcement and their law enforcement procedures. As I see it, it's a technical matter."

Further debate ensued.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Newhouse: "Mr. President, are we still addressing the amendment or are we on final passage?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "It addresses the two amendments."

Senator Newhouse: "That's what I thought and I wanted to say that I think it's a bad bill, but maybe these two amendments will improve it a little bit."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendments by Senators McManus and Moore.

The motion by Senator McManus carried and the amendments were adopted on a rising vote.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Williams, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 4109 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 4109.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 4109 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 26; nays, 19; absent, 1; excused, 3.

Voting yea: Senators Bauer, Bender, Bottiger, Conner, DeJarmatt, Gaspard, Goltz, Granlund, Halsan, Hansen, Kreidler, McDermott, McManus, Moore, Owen, Peterson, Pullen, Rasmussen, Rinehart, Talmadge, Thompson, Vognild, von Reichbauer, Warnke, Williams, Wojahn - 26.

Voting nay: Senators Barr, Bluechel, Cantu, Craswell, Deccio, Fleming, Guess, Hayner, Johnson, Lee, McCaslin, McDonald, Metcalf, Newhouse, Patterson, Saling, Sellar, Stratton, Zimmerman - 19.

Absent: Senator Garrett - 1.

Excused: Senators Bailey, Benitz, Kiskaddon - 3.

Modifying provisions on the retail sale of motor vehicle fuels.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Peterson, the following Committee on Transportation amendment was adopted:

On page 2, beginning on line 29, strike all of New Section 5 and renumber the remaining sections accordingly and correct internal references.

Senator Peterson moved that the following amendment be adopted:

On page 1, line 18, after "corporation," strike all material down to and including "outlets" on line 20 and insert: "who or which is engaged in the refining of crude oil into fuels, lubricants, petro-chemicals, or other products, and who or which supplies motor fuel for sale, consignment, or distribution through retail outlets. For purposes of this chapter, 'motor fuel supplier' does not include any person, firm or corporation, including an affiliate of the person, firm, or corporation, who or which has less than three hundred twenty-five thousand barrels of operating capacity per calendar day, as reported to the federal department of energy."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Sellar: "Senator Peterson, do I understand this amendment right then-- that a company-owned station would not be allowed to sell gas, but a 7-11 would? Is that what this amendment does?"

Senator Peterson: "That's not exactly right. It takes them out from under the umbrella of what the ultimate effect of the bill would do."

Senator Sellar: "7-11 will continue to do just what they're doing now, but the service station across the street could not, if they were company owned?"

Senator Peterson: "That's right, if they were company owned as of the effective date of the act."

Senator Sellar: "And if they both have refineries, one can do it and one can't?"

Senator Peterson: "The capacity is listed in the bill--two hundred and twenty-five thousand gallons, which covers Centex, which covers Southland and covers Time and those that have had the major concern with the bill."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senator Peterson.

The motion by Senator Peterson carried and the amendment was adopted on a rising vote.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Guess: "Mr. President were you going to bump the bill? I have some amendments for the bill and I just received them. If you don't mind, I'd like to put this down for at least one bill."

REMARKS BY SENATOR PETERSON

Senator Peterson: "The bill has been on the calendar for a week, Senator. I object to putting it down. If there are amendments, you can offer them in the House. I think the time to move it through here is now."

REMARKS BY SENATOR BOTTIGER

Senator Bottiger: "Mr. President, we've tried to use the rule of fairness. We're going to use it one more time, Senator Guess, but that should have been circulated and turned in so that everybody had a chance to look at it."

Senator Guess: "I thought there was going to be a meeting at 1:00 o'clock and I would have an opportunity to talk about it at that time and then there was a Rules Committee meeting, so I didn't get a chance to receive the amendments."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Vognild, further consideration of Senate Bill No. 3418 was deferred.

There being no objection, the President advanced the Senate to the seventh order of business.

There being no objection, the Senate resumed consideration of Substitute Senate Bill No. 3478, deferred on third reading earlier today.

On page 2, beginning on line 34, after "days." strike all material down to and including "review." on page 3, line 1

The committees shall have provided its report to the governor and the legislature prior to the convening of the 1986 regular session of the legislature.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. This Act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, the support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect July 1, 1985.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Talmadge: "Mr. President, a point of order. I believe the amendment offered by Senator Guess expands the scope and object of the bill. I believe that Senate Bill 3418, as it is before us, is a bill of divorcement dealing with the prohibition on manufacturer-owned service stations. The proposed amendment by Senator Guess deals with the regulation of the relationship between motor fuel suppliers and sellers and I believe, for that reason, the amendment expands the scope and object of the bill."

Further debate ensued.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Vognild, further consideration of Senate Bill No. 3418 was deferred.

President Pro Tempore Goltz assumed the chair.

There being no objection, the Senate resumed consideration of Substitute Senate Bill No. 3516 and the pending amendment by Senators DeJarnatt, Gaspard and Thompson on page 2, line 10, deferred earlier today.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Pullen, and there being no objection, the point of order on the amendment to page 2, line 10, to Substitute Senate Bill No. 3516 was withdrawn.

The President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senators DeJarnatt, Gaspard and Thompson.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Pullen, the following amendments by Senators Pullen, Gaspard and DeJarnatt to the amendment were considered simultaneously and adopted:

On line 4 of the amendment, after "a", insert "one year" and after "renewable" on line 5, insert "only once"

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senators DeJarnatt, Gaspard and Thompson, as amended.

The motion by Senator DeJarnatt carried and the amendment, as amended, was adopted.

MOTION

Senator Craswell moved that the following amendment by Senators Craswell and Gaspard be adopted:

On page 2, line 13, after "act" insert: "and any program or programs which may be implemented pursuant to this act shall not be interpreted as part of the state's responsibility of basic education."

Debate ensued.

On motion of Senator Gaspard, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3516 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Pullen: "Senator Bauer, I'm kind of curious as to why Spanish and Japanese were selected? Maybe some of the proponents could speak to that. That wasn't mentioned in any of the remarks we just heard. I assume Japanese is selected because it's one of our far east trading partners, but we don't trade much with Spain or Mexico—at least not out of this state, yet, one out of every four citizens in the world is from China. We've just gotten a delegation here recently that showed our trade with China was starting to expand dramatically. If the idea is to make us more of a Pacific Rim country, it seems to me the languages we ought to be including in here are Chinese and Japanese, not Japanese and Spanish. I'm a little puzzled by that. Maybe some of the proponents could shed some light on that."

Senator Bauer: "Senator Pullen, the committee made up of thirteen citizens and four legislators debated it considerably and felt that Chinese would be great--which of the dialects do we teach? Japanese was a little bit more, probably, teachable or understandable language. We are doing a lot of business with Japan right now. We may do more with China in the future and at that time, this legislature will be back every year. It can put on another pilot program--work those other languages.

"Spanish is the language of the Philippines and some of the other Pacific Rim countries and all of our neighbors to the south--so those two languages were picked. There's one other spot that the SPI can pick other than Spanish and Japanese--one pilot program--if it's the desire to use Chinese, that will be up to the SPI, but they report back to us and then, at that time, we'll decide whether it's a worthwhile program to start these programs in the elementary school and that's what this is targeted for."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Stratton: "Senator Bauer, I guess my question to you--I've asked before. If we pass this bill which says 'the Superintendent may grant funds.' It goes on to say 'that they shall establish a procedure and they shall evaluate and that they shall report back to the legislature before January 1988.' Just what do we have if we pass this bill with no money attached to it?"

Senator Bauer: "We have implementation subject to appropriation of funds and I think that before we leave here in a few weeks that we're going to pick high priority areas that are not too expensive that may have a long reach in terms of improving our total educational program in this state. I think this is one of them. It isn't expensive and it will yield great returns in the future, but is something that we can intelligently look at in a couple three years in terms of a priority that we might want to pursue on a more consistent long-term uniform base in the schools. It gives us a little education in a couple two, three years on what is the potential we have out there and what the cost might be and then we can set that priority later.

"I think you could ask the same question, Senator Stratton, of every education bill we passed, every water bond bill we passed, every social and health service bill, every prison or corrections bill--we could ask that this session of all of those bills. We believe from the Education Committee, and you are on it and support it--and from the study committees that education should have a high priority and we're making our pitch for that priority among the other priorities that we will be pitching, also."

Senator Stratton: "Thank you very much, Senator Bauer. I agree with most everything that you said, however, in the Governor's press conference statement of March 19, he states that we have made a decision not to drive the cost forward, so I'm wondering if you are taking that into consideration?"

Further debate ensued.

The President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3516.

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3516 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 33; nays, 12; absent, 1; excused, 3.

There being no objection, the Senate resumed consideration of Senate Bill No. 3418 and the pending striking amendment by Senator Guess, deferred earlier today.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "In ruling upon the point of order raised by Senator Talmadge, the President finds that Senate Bill No. 3418 is a measure dealing with practices in the motor fuel supply business including pricing, distribution, leases and other aspects of the business within our state.

"The amendment proposed by Senator Guess also deals with essentially the same business practices of motor fuel supply in our state.

"The President, therefore, finds that the proposed amendment does not change the scope and object of the bill and that the point of order is not well taken."

The amendment was ruled in order.

Debate ensued.

Senator Peterson demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on adoption of the amendment by Senator Guess.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll and the motion by Senator Guess failed and the amendment was not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 8; nays, 36; absent, 2; excused, 3.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Peterson, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3418 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Sellar: "Senator Peterson, in my previous question, I asked about the Southland Corporation and Senator Bottiger said we had to take care of the little people. I'm not sure that Southland is really little. As I understand it, if I was driving out Martin Way, now, and I went by the 7-11 Store--under this bill, the way it's amended--they would continue to sell gas just like they are. A couple of blocks up the road, there's an ARCO PM-AM--I deal with an independent dealer, because I prefer that--but under this bill, what would happen to that gas station?"

Senator Peterson: "By 1988, ARCO would have to divest their interest in that station. They would no longer be in competition with the independent retailer."

Senator Sellar: "Aren't the two stores quite similar?"

Senator Peterson: "They probably are, but they are certainly not both large refineries."

Senator Sellar: "But one's in and one's out?"

Senator Peterson: "Well, the large refinery is out."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3418.

The stadium restaurant authorized by this subsection (2)(b) shall be operated by a private concessionaire under a contract with the county."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Talmadge: "Senator Lee, is it your intention, by your amendment, to exclude the possibility that King County will use this state tax money for the purpose of constructing certain facilities known as sky loges in the King Dome?"

Senator Lee: "It is not my intention to exclude any kind of additional improvements that might be beyond those that are listed here."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senator Lee.

The motion by Senator Lee carried and the amendment was adopted.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Talmadge: "Mr. President, I believe that the amendment that Senator Rinehart and I would like to offer is more restrictive than the amendment offered by Senator Lee and, therefore, its consideration would be in order, notwithstanding the adopting of the Lee amendment."

MOTION

The stadium restaurant authorized by this subsection (2)(b) shall be operated by a private concessionaire under a contract with the county."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Newhouse: "Mr. President, I would contend that Senators Talmadge and Rinehart should have put up an amendment to the amendment striking, but not limited to, if they wanted to accomplish the purpose and they are precluded now, by the adoption of the Lee amendment."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "Senator Talmadge and members of the Senate, the President believes that Senator Newhouse has a good point."

Further debate ensued.

On motion of Senator Talmadge, and there being no objection, the amendment was withdrawn.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 4110, by Senator Talmadge (by Superintendent of Public Instruction request)

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Gaspard, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 4110 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Senate Bill No. 4110.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Senate Bill No. 4110 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 46; excused, 3.

Voting yea: Senators Bailey, Barr, Bauer, Bender, Bluechel, Bottiger, Cantu, Conner, Deccio, DeJarnatt, Fleming, Garrett, Gaspard, Goltz, Granlund, Guess, Halsan, Hansen, Hayner, Johnson, Kreidler, Lee, McCaslin, McDermott, McDonald, McManus, Metcalf, Moore, Newhouse, Owen, Patterson, Peterson, Pullen, Rasmussen, Rinehart, Saling, Sellar, Stratton, Talmadge, Thompson, Vognild, von Reichbauer, Warnke, Williams, Wojahn, Zimmerman - 46.

Excused: Senators Benitz, Craswell, Kiskaddon - 3.

SENATE BILL NO. 4110, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 4142, by Senator Gaspard (by State Board of Education request)

Revising laws regulating the organization of school districts.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Gaspard, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 4142 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "At the present time, Senator Gaspard, it is a committee formed in the local county? Is that correct?"

Senator Gaspard: "That's correct."

Senator Rasmussen: "Then when you vote a regional, you're going to deprive the local people, who know the situation, of their input and really take away somebody that's not even in the school district who would be making decisions on the boundary lines and I think it's important you keep that at the local level."

Senator Gaspard: "The bill, currently reads that 'the regional committee shall consist of no fewer than seven or no more than nine members' and they are elected by the majority of the votes cast by the school board members of the school districts in that ESD district. So, you're still going to have local people within that ESD making that decision."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Lee: "Senator Gaspard, I notice our digest shows there's a fiscal note available. I just wondered if you could tell us what kind of fiscal impact that this will have since the ESDs themselves are financed--some directly by the state and some by contributions from the school districts, but in either case, now, with most of the funding for schools coming from the state, I'm just curious as to what kind of effect that's going to have, even though it may be minimal?"

Senator Gaspard: "The fiscal note points out that there is actually an overall savings in the bill, because of the reduced meetings of all the county reorganization committees."

Senator Lee: "I expected that, but do you have any kind of figure or estimates of the amount?"

Senator Gaspard: "All they have is a note down here that I can share with you. They don't identify any costs involved but they do have a note that indicates what I just mentioned that there would be a savings among all the meetings of the county."

Senator Lee: "I think we're just as interested in savings as we are in the other. Thank you for your response."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Barr: "Senator Gaspard, my question is--I notice in the explanation of it here where they talk about district organization, what was the testimony in committee? What are they talking about on district organization? Immediately after that, they talk about new school districts. That kind of language kind of makes you wonder? Would you explain that?"

Senator Gaspard: "Primarily, you're dealing with school district disputes on boundary lines and petitions among neighborhoods to petition to leave one school district and go into another school district."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Senate Bill No. 4142.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Senate Bill No. 4142 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 39; nays, 7; excused, 3.

Voting yea: Senators Bailey, Bauer, Bender, Bluechel, Bottiger, Conner, Deccio, DeJarnatt, Fleming, Garrett, Gaspard, Goltz, Granlund, Guess, Halsan, Hansen, Hayner, Johnson, Kreidler, Lee, McCaslin, McDermott, McManus, Moore, Newhouse, Owen, Patterson, Peterson, Rinehart, Saling, Stratton, Talmadge, Thompson, Vogndild, von Reichbauer, Warnke, Williams, Wojahn, Zimmerman - 39.

Voting nay: Senators Barr, Cantu, McDonald, Metcalf, Pullen, Rasmussen, Sellar - 7.

Excused: Senators Benitz, Craswell, Kiskaddon - 3.

SENATE BILL NO. 4142, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 4119, by Senator Barr

Modifying provisions relating to weed control.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Hansen, Substitute Senate Bill No. 4119 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 4119 and the substitute bill was advanced to second reading and read the second time.

On motion of Senator Bender, Senator Wojahn was excused.

Senator McCaslin moved that the following amendment be adopted:

On page 11, after line 29, insert a new subsection as follows:

"(6) The enforcement provisions of this section shall not apply to non-agricultural property or to property zoned other than agricultural."

Debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senator McCaslin.

The motion by Senator McCaslin failed and the amendment was not adopted.

On motion of Senator Hansen, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 4119 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Hansen, I'm looking at page 5 which says, 'provided further that the land owners owning more than one parcel are entitled to one vote, corporations, partnerships, associations, communes.' Communes--do you have communes over there in eastern Washington?"

Senator Hansen: "Yes, we've got a few of them up there in the brush."

Senator Rasmussen: "Well, it's nice that you give them a vote. My question is--doesn't this violate the one-man one-vote provision of the Constitution?"

Senator Hansen: "I really don't think so. In the irrigation districts, we have different modes, so acreage is figured in--taking an urban area where it's a county weed board and the weed board can be controlled strictly with urban voters. We have to have the ability of people that know what insecticides, pesticides, hoeing or plowing is. To get rid of these weeds, we have to pretty much be sure that there are people on that board that have the ability to know the best way to handle it."

Senator Rasmussen: "Thank you. Your answer convinces me, yes, you're trying to maintain the control where you want it, which is your business. The other question I have is--'within sixty day from initial employment, the weed coordinator shall obtain a pest control consultant's license.' Is this the fellow that is going to be doing the spraying?"

Senator Hansen: "As a rule, the weed board hires a coordinator and an applicator and he has to be dual licensed to be able to handle the insecticides, pesticides--"

Senator Rasmussen: "That's why I'm wondering, Senator. You're going to give them sixty days to get a license and up to the time he gets his license he can be making applications and you don't know if he should be licensed."

Senator Hansen: "No, that's not so. When they hire him, they hire him far enough ahead that he has sixty days to get his license to prove that he is qualified. In our area, any farmer, himself, that uses these materials has to have an applicator's license and the man that sells the material to him has to have a consultant license."

Senator Rasmussen: "You're sure he doesn't do anything for sixty days?"

Senator Hansen: "That's right."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 4119.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 4119 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 42; nays, 3; excused, 4.

On motion of Senator Gaspard, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3514 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Guess: "Senator Bauer, I notice that this has got a five million, seven hundred thousand dollar cost to it."

Senator Bauer: "Forty-nine thousand dollars."

Senator Guess: "But, the appropriation has got to be the five million, seven hundred thousand dollars. Is the footnote wrong?"

Senator Bauer: "Apparently it is, forty-nine thousand, five hundred is still in the substitute bill."

Senator Guess: "I'm not as concerned, but I would like to know, does this bill, also, have the null and void clause in it?"

Senator Bauer: "These are just pilot programs and after those pilot programs are accomplished, there will be a report back to their effectiveness. The fiscal note--Senator Gaspard tells me is from the original bill and if you put in a full pledged program with almost no restrictions to it, that would be the impact. I, also, question the kinds of fiscal notes we get from the SPI anyway, because I have a little feeling that somehow or another certain agencies of this government tend to want to wag our dog's tail and by using fiscal notes, they help engineer philosophy around here and I resent that. I think some things we can do and we can do realistically with a lot less money and we should do those. I would certainly support your concern there, but the forty-nine thousand dollars is a way for us to field test this program."

Further debate ensued.

Senator Patterson: "Senator Bauer, I am not going to ask you a specific question, but I do want to talk about the philosophy that's expressed in that 5.7 million dollar appropriation and the reason why we would have to reimburse any school district if the coupon was used to go to some other school district? Why is it necessary to reimburse a school district that would be having several students that would use the coupon to go to another school district that offered a special program? I don't quite understand that. Don't they receive an appropriation at the beginning of the school year to conduct their programs? I don't know why we have to reimburse them. Could you explain that to me?"

Senator Bauer: "Yes, Senator Patterson, our notes indicate that receiving institutions--the facility in which the course is being taken--are authorized to redeem the coupon for the share of the state's per pupil cost at the student's own high school for that amount of time the student spent in class at the receiving institution. So, in other words, what we're hoping to do is--if another institution provides a program for that student, we will be able to assess--back at the institution where the student will not be attending then, because they have couponed themselves over into another institution. So, a student who has gone half a day to--like in your school district there--let's say they're in a language program in one of the larger high schools or even community college, that student could be gone half a day for that program and that would be leveraged against the home-based institution."

Senator Patterson: "Is that because of the attendance requirement?"

Senator Bauer: "Yes. The money would follow the kids then, so to speak. Ultimately, that philosophy is one that I am sure you support. Senator--that we ought to look at developing programs for kids at wherever they are and let the kids attend those and don't let the barriers--buildings and district and grade levels and all--impede that student's opportunity to articulate through the program."

Senator Patterson: "Do we still reimburse a school district based upon the daily attendance?"

Senator Bauer: "Yes."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Guess, have you lost your camel? You were always telling me about that camel who got his nose in the tent and pretty soon he had the whole tent. I thought maybe you had lost it."

No answer.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Bauer, do they have any idea what school districts they are talking about where these students are going to take the electives? You've got forty-nine thousand dollars for programs in five school districts. How is that going to be spread around?"

Senator Bauer: "On limited pilot programs, Senator Rasmussen."

Senator Rasmussen: "So, if I've got ten kids in my school district and they want to go over to the the Seattle School District and they would say 'no, we can only take one,' so I'm depriving the other nine of their opportunity to move."

Senator Bauer: "Up to the utilization. We think, someday, this will prove itself to be a departure from our traditional, very expensive and restrictive ways--that boys and girls have opportunities and that some day someone might report back to us that we need more latitude in this area and we need more opportunity to give those other nine kids that opportunity. It's an experiment that's going on to some degree now, Senator Rasmussen--cooperation between community colleges and common schools. That's going on to a certain degree."

Senator Rasmussen: "I know community colleges have a big remedial program."

Senator Bauer: "Right, and what we're trying to do is to expand that. We have small school districts and the 3609 committee looked at consolidation and a number of things and backed off of that, of course. The idea that in small communities where programs are not quite offered in the high school like they are somewhere else--maybe that student could get that opportunity in one of the larger high schools or somewhere else and that's the opportunity we ought to explore."

MOTION

On motion of Senator von Reichbauer, Senator McCaslin was excused.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 3514.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Lee: "Senator Gaspard, the description for the background for this bill says that this honors program would provide the means to recognize additional students, in other words, additional for the Washington State Scholars Program, who have achieved high levels of academic performance, and then of course, it is clearly to core subjects. In other words, it might, in fact, be someone who was very good in one of those core subjects, but not necessarily the overall high grade point average that is honored in the Washington Scholars Program. Is it your intent that Washington Scholars could also qualify for this or that this be an additional program?"

Senator Gaspard: "This is an additional program to the Washington Scholars Program. However, the students that are recognized as part of the Washington Scholars Program can also be recognized by this program. The difference between the two programs, of course, is the tuition and fee waiver for the Washington Scholars Program and this has no such waiver. It's basically a recognition from the State of Washington and the encouragement from the local communities that they have done outstanding academic work."

Senator Lee: "The reason I've raised this question is because it concerns me that even with the Washington Scholars, many of these young people truly are multiple awards and I just kind of like to see some of these awards spread a little bit more. Because of that--I'm not going to propose any kind of amendment now--but I think I might be talking to some people in the House under the Section 3 to have the Superintendent of Public Instruction to, at least, consider the degree and, at least, keep track of that, because if we find we are just presenting another award to somebody--in other words--the majority of these, in fact, also turn out to be Washington Scholars. I don't think we have really accomplished what you wished to accomplish with the bill."

Senator Gaspard: "Senator Lee, please keep in mind that the Washington Scholars program only affects three students in every legislative district and we're trying to recognize the top ten academic students, so even if we included all of the Washington Scholars, it would be a very small percentage of the students we're trying to recognize."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3782.

On motion of Senator McDermott, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 386, as amended by the Senate, was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage. Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Barr: "I have a little question to ask Senator McDermott if I may. I want to, also express our appreciation to Senator McDermott for coming into our caucus and explaining what he thought was the direction that this would go, but this thing has popped out here on our desks and I don't feel comfortable voting for something like this with only five minutes. I appreciate the rhetoric. It, at least, gives me a little time to look at the bill. It may not be worth anything else, but it's worth that.

"On page 26, Senator McDermott, where you're talking about school transportation, and, of course, when you say school transportation you're talking about the seventh legislative district in spades. What does that mean there--sub eight and on down--'provided that funds for this subsection are provided in the Appropriations Act with respect to the transportation programs--The Superintendent of Public Instruction may increase standard student mile?' If that's not asking too much, we're not going to change our vote up or down all that much on this point, but if you could tell me what that means very briefly, maybe some of our other members could be looking at it while you tell me this."

Senator McDermott: "I wanted to check--this language in sub eight on page 26--has to do with the classified insurance and the language you're reading there has to do with the provision for money for classified employees to buy insurance benefits. Most of the transportation people, that is, people who drive buses are part time and they have not previously had benefits. So, in this budget, we were setting up the new program for them to have insurance benefits and this allocates 35.2 cents per person, per day, for their insurance. It's the technical language to implement the giving of insurance benefits to classified employees that drive buses."

Senator Barr: "Thank you. I appreciate that."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Deccio: "Mr. President, is it too late for me to ask Senator McDermott a question on Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 500?"

"Senator McDermott, on line 17 on page 1, it says, 'The Department may include a prohibition against the voluntary assignment of the property for cash for the purpose of qualifying for assistance.' Does this, in any way, interfere with the so-called Deccio amendment which Senator Talmadge and I hung on a bill a couple years ago?"

Senator McDermott: "It is not the intention, Senator Deccio, to change the purpose of that provision."

MOTION

On motion of Senator McDermott, Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 500 was ordered immediately transmitted to the House.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 3390, by Senators Granlund, Kiskaddon and Kreidler (by Department of Social and Health Services request)

Changing nursing home auditing standards.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator McDonald, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3390 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Deccio: "Senator McDermott, the new language in Section 18 of this bill includes a legislative finding that rates set under Chapter 74.46 in the RCWs meet the federal cost-reimbursement requirements that are a condition for fifty percent federal match funding in the Medicaid Program. As you know, the Federal Deficit Reduction Act of 1984 may be interpreted to prohibit states from reimbursing increases in ownership costs due to sales of facilities, and to require states to recapture depreciation previously reimbursed when facilities are sold.

"Although DSHS is asking the Federal Department of Health and Human Services to continue federal funding under our current property reimbursement system, there is some chance that they will refuse to do so. Does the new language in Section 18 affect the state's ability to continue receiving federal matching funds for the nursing home program?"

Senator McDermott: "The new language in Section 18 is not intended to affect the availability of federal matching funds. Another section of our existing Cost Reimbursement Law, RCW 74.46.840, specifically provides that any part of our law which conflicts with federal matching requirements is declared inoperative, solely to the extent of that conflict. It also authorizes the Secretary of DSHS in such a situation, to adopt such rules as to resolve a specific conflict and which do meet minimum federal requirements and requires her to notify the legislature of any rule change and to recommend legislation to resolve the conflict. Nothing in the bill before us changes those provisions of current state law.

"The purpose of Section 18 of this bill is not to create any conflict between state and federal law. The purpose is to make clear that the rates set under Chapter 74.46--our Cost Reimbursement Statute--are to be considered 'reasonable and adequate to meet the costs that must be incurred by economically and efficiently operated facilities.' Some judges have treated this existing language as a separate state standard for evaluating rates, ignoring the rest of our statute and the fact that the federal government has approved our system as conforming to federal requirements. In Section 18, we are simply making clear that the 'reasonable and adequate' standard is a federal standard. We cannot and should not try to prevent any nursing home from appealing or litigating its rates, but under this language any challenge must be based either on the Department's non-compliance with particular provisions of Chapter 74.46 or on non-compliance with the federal 'reasonable and adequate' standard on which our state law is based."

Debate ensued.

MOTION

Senator McDermott moved that the following amendment be adopted:

On page 2, line 1, after "within" strike "thirty" and insert "ten"

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Lee: "Senator McDermott, I had passed out to the members one of the cash flow charts we had and that, of course, showed the amount of total money that we would have to pay out of taxes, one way or another, if they were done on the thirty-five year basis. It showed that the cash flow at its maximum was about fifty-one million dollars a year during the middle part of that repayment period. With a ten year repayment period, what kind of average demand are we going to have on the general fund? This one shows the highest to be fifty-one million a year. What would be the highest demand we might have?"

Senator McDermott: "Senator Lee, I don't know because, in part, you don't know the interest rate, but, obviously, you would pay more over a short period of time than you would spread out over a thirty-five year period. I don't have the particular runouts for ten percent bonds or eleven percent or twelve percent or anything else."

Senator Lee: "Senator McDermott, would it seem to you that even if the interest rate were cut in half, but yet we were reducing the time we were paying them back by a third, that it might be a hundred million per year?"

Senator McDermott: "We could speculate all over the place, but I think you have to know--if you give a set of figures, I think I could crank up a set of assumptions pretty quickly, but I don't know whether a hundred million is a reasonable figure. I suspect that that isn't too far off, but it's hard to know."

Senator Lee: "All right, let's say that it's going to happen to come out that--do you think the general fund and the tax base that we now have can sustain a hundred million per year debt from what you know of what's the present revenue base?"

Senator McDermott: "I suspect that Senator Moore would have a better answer than I would to this whole question. He and I talked about this issue and it seemed to me that the less interest we could pay, the better off we would be in the long run. That's why I shortened the period."

Senator Lee: "I just wanted to be sure we could pay for it without a tax increase."

REMARKS BY SENATOR MOORE

Senator Moore: "Without being absolutely positive, it is obvious that if we borrow four hundred and fifty million and we paid ten percent, we are paying forty-five million a year in interest and if we amortize that over ten years, we're looking at about ninety million payment the first year and the last year it will be down to forty-five million or a little more than that--maybe fifty million--so the minimum amount would be the maximum amount under the thirty-five year plan. We will get it out of the way and the only use in prolonging the agony, really is if we have tremendous inflation."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Moore: "Senator Kreidler, are you predicating your figures on all of the bonds being sold now or in the very near future or are you predicating it on selling them, maybe, fifty million as needed?"

Senator Kreidler: "It would be spread out over approximately a twelve-year period in which these bonds would be sold, and--it certainly--the results depended on the amount of the debt capacity that exists in any one given year in order for the bonds to be sold, but it's going to be spread out over a period of time."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senator McDermott.

The motion by Senator McDermott carried and the amendment was adopted on a rising vote.

MOTION

Senator Lee moved that the following amendment be adopted:

Strike everything after the word "resources" on page 1, line 13, and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. The proceeds from the funds authorized by this chapter shall be deposited in the water quality improvement revolving account--waste disposal facilities hereby created in the general fund and shall be used exclusively for the purpose specified in this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. The department may use or permit the use of funds authorized under this chapter to accomplish the purpose of this chapter by direct expenditures and by grants or loans to public bodies, including grants to public bodies as cost-sharing funds in any case where federal, local, or other funds are made available on a cost-sharing basis for improvements within the purpose of this chapter.

The department shall ensure that funds authorized under this chapter do not constitute more than fifty percent of the total eligible cost of any liquid waste disposal or management facility. The department shall also ensure that any combination of grants and loans of funds authorized under this chapter or by a federal agency shall not exceed seventy-five percent of the eligible cost of any liquid waste disposal or management facility. Not more than two percent of the funds may be used by the department of ecology in relation to the administration of the expenditures, grants, and loans.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. Nothing in this chapter prohibits the department from requesting legislative approval to obtain short-term financing for those periods during the construction of facilities provided for by this chapter when the cash balance in the water quality improvement revolving account—waste disposal facilities is insufficient to cover anticipated project outlays.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. The department shall allocate from those funds authorized by this chapter in the following manner:

(1) No more than two hundred seventy-five million dollars for construction of pollution control facilities that discharge directly into Puget Sound;

(2) No more than twenty-five million dollars for projects involving direct discharge into the straits of Juan De Fuca, Georgia, and Rosario;

(3) No more than ten million dollars for projects involving direct discharges into other marine estuaries within Washington state;

(4) No more than seventy-five million dollars for construction of facilities that will protect from contamination sole source aquifers as designated under the federal safe drinking water act, and other groundwater bodies as designated by the department, including but not limited to the Spokane-Rathdrum Prairie Aquifer; and

(5) No more than sixty-five million dollars and such sums that may be remaining in the categories specified in subsections (1) through (4) of this section, for construction of waste disposal and management facilities that result in water quality improvement of fresh and marine waters.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. When allocating funds appropriated by the legislature to the projects within the categories described in section 5 of this act, the department of ecology shall follow the recommendations established by the Puget Sound water quality authority and any other board, council, commission, or group established by the legislature to study water pollution control issues around the state.

One-half of one percent of the total authorized by the legislature each biennium may be used to provide funds to local bodies to prepare feasibility studies on joint development and other alternative methods of financing waste water treatment facilities. Public bodies receiving funds for investigating the feasibility of alternative waste water financing methods shall not have their standing on the department of ecology grant funding priority list jeopardized.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) "Waste disposal and management facilities" means any facilities or systems owned or operated by a public body for the control, collection, storage, treatment, disposal, recycling, or recovery of nonradioactive liquid wastes, including but not limited to sanitary sewage, storm water, residential, industrial, commercial, and agricultural wastes, and concentrations of organic sediments, inorganic nutrients, and toxic materials which are causing environmental degradation and loss of the beneficial use of the environment. Waste disposal and management facilities may include all equipment, utilities, structures, real property, and interest in and improvements on real property necessary for or incidental to such purpose. As used in this chapter, the phrase "waste disposal and management facilities" shall not include the acquisition of equipment used to collect residential or commercial garbage.

(2) "Public body" means the state of Washington or any agency, political subdivision, taxing district, or municipal corporation thereof, an agency of the federal government, and those Indian tribes now or hereafter recognized as such by the federal government.

(3) "Control" means those measures necessary to maintain and/or restore the beneficial uses of critical state water resources including, but not limited to, the diversion, sedimentation, flocculation, dredge and disposal, or containment or treatment of nutrients, organic waste, and toxic material to restore the beneficial use of the state's critical water resources and prevent the continued pollution of these resources.

(4) "Planning" means the development of comprehensive plans for the purpose of identifying critical water resource needs for specific waste disposal facilities as well as the development of plans specific to a particular project.

(5) "Critical water resource" means those significant water bodies in jeopardy of further degradation causing irreparable deterioration.

(6) "Department" means the department of ecology.

(4) Beginning August 1, 1987, moneys collected under this section which result from a rate of one-tenth of one percent of the selling price shall be deposited monthly in the water quality improvement revolving account--waste disposal facilities until four hundred fifty million dollars has been deposited in the account.

Sec. 9. Section 82.12.020, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 as last amended by section 7, chapter 7, Laws of 1983 and RCW 82.12.020 are each amended to read as follows:

There is hereby levied and there shall be collected from every person in this state a tax or excise for the privilege of using within this state as a consumer any article of tangible personal property purchased at retail, or acquired by lease, gift, repossession, or bailment, or extracted or produced or manufactured by the person so using the same, or otherwise furnished to a person engaged in any business taxable under RCW 82.04.280, subsections (2) or (7). This tax will not apply with respect to the use of any article of tangible personal property purchased, extracted, produced or manufactured outside this state until the transportation of such article has finally ended or until such article has become commingled with the general mass of property in this state. This tax shall apply to the use of every article of tangible personal property, including property acquired at a casual or isolated sale, and including byproducts used by the manufacturer thereof, except as hereinafter provided, irrespective of whether the article or similar articles are manufactured or are available for purchase within this state. Except as provided in RCW 82.12.0252, payment by one purchaser or user of tangible personal property of the tax imposed by chapter 82.08 or 82.12 RCW shall not have the effect of exempting any other purchaser or user of the same property from the taxes imposed by such chapters. The tax shall be levied and collected in an amount equal to the value of the article used by the taxpayer multiplied by the rate in effect for the retail sales tax under RCW 82.08.020, as now or hereafter amended, in the county in which the article is used.

Beginning August 1, 1987, the moneys collected under this section which result from a rate of one-tenth of one percent of the value of the article used shall be deposited in the water quality improvement revolving account--waste disposal facilities until four hundred fifty million dollars has been deposited in the account.

In the collection of the use tax on motor vehicles, the department of revenue may designate the county auditors of the several counties of the state as its collecting agents. Upon such designation, it shall be the duty of each county auditor to collect the tax at the time an applicant applies for the registration of, and transfer of title to, the motor vehicle, except in the following instances: (1) Where the applicant exhibits a dealer's report of sale showing that the retail sales tax has been collected by the dealer; (2) where the application is for the renewal of registration; (3) where the applicant presents a written statement signed by the department of revenue, or its duly authorized agent showing that no use tax is legally due; or (4) where the applicant presents satisfactory evidence showing that the retail sales tax or the use tax has been paid by him on the vehicle in question. The term "motor vehicle," as used in this section means and includes all motor vehicles, trailers and semitrailers used, or of a type designed primarily to be used, upon the public streets and highways, for the convenience or pleasure of the owner, or for the conveyance, for hire or otherwise, of persons or property, including fixed loads, facilities for human habitation, and vehicles carrying exempt licenses. It shall be the duty of every applicant for registration and transfer of certificate of title who is subject to payment of tax under this section to declare upon his application the value of the vehicle for which application is made, which shall consist of the consideration paid or contracted to be paid therefor. Any person wilfully misrepresenting, or failing or refusing to declare upon his application, such value shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

Each county auditor who acts as agent of the department of revenue shall at the time of remitting license fee receipts on motor vehicles subject to the provisions of this section pay over and account to the state treasurer for all use tax revenue collected under this section, after first deducting as his collection fee the sum of two dollars for each motor vehicle upon which the tax has been collected. Except as provided in RCW 82.12.020, all revenue received by the state treasurer under this section shall be credited to the general fund. The auditor's collection fee shall be deposited in the county current expense fund. A duplicate of the county auditor's transmittal report to the state treasurer shall be forwarded forthwith to the department of revenue.

Any applicant who has paid use tax to a county auditor under this section may apply to the department of revenue for refund thereof if he has reason to believe that such tax was not legally due and owing. No refund shall be allowed unless application therefor is received by the department of revenue within two years after payment of the tax. Upon receipt of an application for refund the department of revenue shall consider the same and issue its order either granting or denying it and if refund is denied the taxpayer shall have the right of appeal as provided in RCW 82.32.170, 82.32.180 and 82.32.190.

The provisions of this section shall be construed as cumulative of other methods prescribed in chapters 82.04 to 82.32 RCW, inclusive, for the collection of the tax imposed by this chapter. The department of revenue shall have power to promulgate such rules and regulations as may be necessary to administer the provisions of this section. Any duties required by this section to be performed by the county auditor may be performed by the director of licensing but no collection fee shall be deductible by said director in remitting use tax revenue to the state treasurer.

Senator Gaspard demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Fleming: "Senator Talmadge, would you yield to a question, to further elaborate on it? Mr. President and members of the body, recognizing that Senator McDermott is one of my good friends and Senator Talmadge is one of my good friends, I'm a little confused about who's telling the truth."

Senator Talmadge: "I suspect, Senator Fleming, that we're both seeing the truth as we see it, but the fact of the matter is if we only dealt with 3265, which Senator McDermott has suggested, a lot of local governments would be in a severe quandary of whether or not they should proceed with the construction of needed facilities and, in fact, they would be almost compelled to raise sewer rates in order to accomplish a secondary treatment and other water quality projects."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the motion of Senator Bauer to reconsider the vote by which the amendment by Senator McDermott on page 2, line 1, was adopted.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll and the motion by Senator Bauer failed by the following vote: Yeas, 22; nays, 26; excused, 1.

Voting yea: Senators Bauer, Bender, Bottiger, DeJarnatt, Fleming, Garrett, Gaspard, Goltz, Granlund, Halsan, Hansen, Kreidler, McManus, Moore, Peterson, Rinehart, Stratton, Talmadge, Thompson, Vognlid, Warnke, Wojahn - 22.

Voting nay: Senators Bailey, Barr, Bluechel, Cantu, Conner, Craswell, Deccio, Guess, Hayner, Johnson, Kiskaddon, Lee, McCaslin, McDermott, McDonald, Metcalf, Newhouse, Owen, Patterson, Pullen, Rasmussen, Saling, Sellar, von Reichbauer, Williams, Zimmerman - 26.

Excused: Senator Benitz - 1.

MOTION

Senator Metcalf moved that the following amendment by Senators Metcalf, Lee, Zimmerman and Cantu be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. A new section is added to chapter 43 RCW to read as follows:

The water protection assistance account is hereby established in the general fund. Each biennium after June 30, 1985, the state treasurer shall transfer, in equal payments each quarter, ninety million dollars from the unrestricted general fund to the water protection assistance account. Moneys in the water protection assistance account may be spent only after appropriation for grants or loans to eligible projects, and for related administrative purposes as provided in section 2 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 43 RCW to read as follows:

The department of ecology shall make grants or loans from the water protection assistance account to local governments to finance up to fifty percent of the costs of eligible projects, or in conjunction with any other combination of grants and loans which do not exceed seventy-five percent of the costs of eligible projects. Up to one percent of the moneys in the water protection assistance account may be used by the department of ecology in relation to the administration of the grants and loans."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Metcalf: "Senator Kreidler, where would the funds to pay the bonds come from if we do not adopt my amendment and go with the amendment that's presently there?"

Senator Kreidler: "Senator Metcalf, my proposal would be the one that's on the table that's sponsored by Goltz and Lee and I think that's the method that I would urge the body to accept as a pay-as-you-go approach."

Senator Metcalf: "Is that amendment then a dedicated fund? Does that raise taxes or just dedicate one-tenth of one percent?"

Senator Kreidler: "It gives the people that option here as to whether they want to have the typical or usual funding mechanism of funding bonds, that being one where we have an ongoing benefit over a number of years, and, therefore, the people over a number of years should pay for the benefits that accrue from those capitol projects or they could go with the pay-as-you-go approach and that would be a referendum to the people to make the decision. They would make the choice as to what approach they prefer."

Further debate ensued.

Senator Metcalf demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on adoption of the amendment by Senators Metcalf, Lee, Zimmerman and Cantu.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll and the motion by Senator Metcalf failed and the amendment was not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 20; nays, 28; excused, 1.

Voting yea: Senators Bailey, Barr, Cantu, Craswell, Deccio, Garrett, Guess, Hayner, Johnson, Kiskaddon, Lee, McCaslin, Metcalf, Newhouse, Patterson, Pullen, Sating, Sellar, von Reichbauer, Zimmerman - 20.

Voting nay: Senators Bauer, Bender, Bluechel, Bottiger, Conner, DeJarnatt, Fleming, Gaspard, Goltz, Granlund, Halsan, Hansen, Kreidler, McDermott, McDonald, McManus, Moore, Owen, Peterson, Rasmussen, Rinehart, Stratton, Talmadge, Thompson, Vogndild, Warnke, Williams, Wojahn - 28.

Excused: Senator Benitz - 1.

MOTION

Senator Goltz moved that the following amendment by Senators Goltz and Lee be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The long-range environmental goals for the state of Washington must include the protection of the state's most critical water bodies for the health, safety, and enjoyment of its people, and the economic use of water by providing facilities and systems among others, for the general control, collection, treatment, or disposal of nonradioactive liquid waste materials. The purpose of this chapter is to provide financial assistance to the state and local governments in the achievement of federal and state water pollution control requirements for the protection and utilization of the state's most critical water resources.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. For the purpose of providing funds for the planning, design, acquisition, construction, and improvement of public waste disposal and management facilities in this state, the state finance committee is authorized to issue as specified herein general obligation bonds of the state of Washington in the sum of four hundred million dollars, or so much thereof as may be required to finance the improvements defined in this chapter and all costs incidental thereto. Bond proceeds may be used to pay administrative costs and other costs incidental to such projects and to the issuance of such bonds including, but not limited to, salaries and costs of officials and employees of the state and costs of insurance or credit enhancement agreements. The department may not use or permit the use of any funds derived from the sale of bonds authorized by this chapter for the support of increased capacity for development or growth.

These bonds shall be paid and discharged within thirty years of the date of issuance. Bonds authorized in this section shall be sold in such manner, at such time or times, in such amounts and at such price as the state finance committee shall determine. No such bonds may be offered for sale without prior legislative appropriation of the net proceeds of the sale of the bonds and the total amount of bonds authorized to be issued by this chapter shall be reduced by an amount equal to the amount of moneys placed in the account under RCW 82.08.020 and 82.12.020 and income from the investment of this amount. The state finance committee may obtain insurance or letters of credit and may authorize the execution and delivery of agreements, promissory notes, and other obligations for the purpose of insuring the payment or enhancing the marketability of bonds authorized in this section. Promissory notes or other obligations issued pursuant to this section shall not constitute a debt or the contracting of indebtedness under any constitutional or statutory indebtedness limitation if their payment is conditioned upon the failure of the state to pay the principal of or interest on the bonds with respect to which the same relate.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. The proceeds from the sale of bonds authorized by this chapter shall be deposited in the 1985 water pollution control account hereby created in the state treasury and shall be used exclusively for the purpose specified in this chapter and for payment of the expenses incurred in the issuance and sale of the bonds.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. The proceeds from the sale of the bonds deposited in the 1985 water pollution control account under the terms of this chapter shall be administered by the state department of ecology subject to legislative appropriation. The department may use or permit the use of any funds derived from the sale of bonds authorized under this chapter to accomplish the purpose for which the bonds are issued by direct expenditures and by grants or loans to public bodies, including grants to public bodies as cost-sharing funds in any case where federal, local, or other funds are made available on a cost-sharing basis for improvements within the purposes of this chapter. The department shall ensure that grants of funds authorized under this chapter do not constitute more than fifty percent of the total eligible cost of any liquid waste disposal or management facility. The department shall also ensure that any combination of grants and loans of funds authorized under this chapter or by a federal agency shall not exceed seventy-five percent of the eligible cost of any liquid waste disposal or management facility. Not more than two percent of the proceeds of the bond issue may be used by the department of ecology in relation to the administration of the expenditures, grants, and loans.

The department of ecology shall present a progress report on use of bond proceeds to the legislature no later than November 30th of each year.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. The department shall allocate from those funds authorized by this chapter in the following manner:

- (1) No more than two hundred forty-three million five hundred thousand dollars for construction of pollution control facilities that discharge directly into Puget Sound;
- (2) No more than twenty-two million five hundred thousand dollars for projects involving direct discharge into the straits of Juan De Fuca, Georgia, and Rosario;
- (3) No more than nine million dollars for projects involving direct discharges into other marine estuaries within Washington state;
- (4) No more than sixty-seven million dollars for construction of facilities that will protect from contamination sole source aquifers as designated under the federal safe drinking water act, and other groundwater bodies as designated by the department, including but not limited to the Spokane-Rathdrum Prairie Aquifer; and
- (5) No more than fifty-eight million dollars and such sums that may be remaining in the categories specified in subsections (1) through (4) of this section, for construction of waste disposal and management facilities that result in water quality improvement of fresh and marine waters.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. When allocating funds appropriated by the legislature to the projects within the categories described in section 5 of this act, the department of ecology shall take into consideration the following:

- (1) The protection of water quality and public health;
- (2) The level of local fiscal effort calculated per capita since 1972 in financing water quality improvements;
- (3) Regulatory actions established in federal and state compliance orders;

(4) The cost of improvements mandated by federal and state agencies;

(5) The amount of state general fund revenue collected in the area served by a local project sponsor;

(6) The recommendations of the Puget Sound water quality authority and any other board, council, commission, or group established by the legislature to study water pollution control issues around the state; and

(7) Geographical distribution.

One-half of one percent of the total authorized by the legislature each biennium may be used to provide funds to local bodies to prepare feasibility studies on joint development and other alternative methods of financing waste water treatment facilities. Public bodies receiving funds for investigating the feasibility of alternative waste water financing methods shall not have their standing on the department of ecology grant funding priority list jeopardized.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) "Waste disposal and management facilities" means any facilities or systems owned or operated by a public body for the control, collection, storage, treatment, disposal, recycling, or recovery of nonradioactive liquid wastes, including but not limited to sanitary sewage, storm water, residential, industrial, commercial, and agricultural wastes, and concentrations of organic sediments, inorganic nutrients, and toxic materials which are causing environmental degradation and loss of the beneficial use of the environment. Waste disposal and management facilities may include all equipment, utilities, structures, real property, and interest in and improvements on real property necessary for or incidental to such purpose. As used in this chapter, the phrase "waste disposal and management facilities" shall not include the acquisition of equipment used to collect residential or commercial garbage.

(2) "Public body" means the state of Washington or any agency, political subdivision, taxing district, or municipal corporation thereof, an agency of the federal government, and those Indian tribes now or hereafter recognized as such by the federal government.

(3) "Control" means those measures necessary to maintain and/or restore the beneficial uses of critical state water resources including, but not limited to, the diversion, sedimentation, flocculation, dredge and disposal, or containment or treatment of nutrients, organic waste, and toxic material to restore the beneficial use of the state's critical water resources and prevent the continued pollution of these resources.

(4) "Planning" means the development of comprehensive plans for the purpose of identifying critical water resource needs for specific waste disposal facilities as well as the development of plans specific to a particular project.

(5) "Critical water resource" means those significant water bodies in jeopardy of further degradation causing irreparable deterioration.

(6) "Department" means the department of ecology.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. Both principal of and interest on the bonds authorized by section 2 of this act shall be payable from the waste disposal facilities bond redemption fund. The state finance committee may provide that a special account be created in such fund to facilitate payment of such principal and interest.

The state finance committee shall, on or before June 30th of each year, certify to the state treasurer the amount required for principal and interest on such bonds in accordance with the provisions of the bond proceedings. The state treasurer shall withdraw from any general state revenues received in the state treasury and deposit in the waste disposal facilities bond redemption fund, or a special account in such fund, such amounts and at such times as are required by the bond proceedings. The owner of each of the bonds or the trustee for any of the bonds may by mandamus or other appropriate proceeding require the transfer and payment of funds as directed in this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. The legislature may provide additional means for raising moneys for the payment of the principal and interest of the bonds authorized in this chapter, and this chapter shall not be deemed to provide an exclusive method for such payment.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. The bonds authorized in this chapter shall be a legal investment for all state funds or for funds under state control and for all funds of any other public body.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. The total authorization of this chapter shall be reduced by such sums as specifically appropriated in lieu of bond sales authorized by this chapter.

Sec. 12. Section 82.08.020, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 as last amended by section 41, chapter 3, Laws of 1983 2nd ex. sess. and by section 62, chapter 3, Laws of 1983 2nd ex. sess. and RCW 82.08.020 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(1) There is levied and there shall be collected a tax on each retail sale in this state equal to six and five-tenths percent of the selling price.

(2) In addition to the tax imposed under subsection (1) of this section, there is levied and shall be collected on each retail sale in this state an additional tax equal to one-tenth of one percent of the selling price. Moneys collected under this subsection shall be deposited in the 1985 water pollution control account.

(3) The tax imposed under this chapter shall apply to successive retail sales of the same property.

~~((3))~~ (4) The rates provided in this section (~~applies~~) apply to taxes imposed under chapter 82.12 RCW as provided in RCW 82.12.020.

Sec. 13. Section 82.12.020, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 as last amended by section 7, chapter 7, Laws of 1983 and RCW 82.12.020 are each amended to read as follows:

There is hereby levied and there shall be collected from every person in this state a tax or excise for the privilege of using within this state as a consumer any article of tangible personal property purchased at retail, or acquired by lease, gift, repossession, or bailment, or extracted or produced or manufactured by the person so using the same, or otherwise furnished to a person engaged in any business taxable under RCW 82.04.280, subsections (2) or (7). This tax will not apply with respect to the use of any article of tangible personal property purchased, extracted, produced or manufactured outside this state until the transportation of such article has finally ended or until such article has become commingled with the general mass of property in this state. This tax shall apply to the use of every article of tangible personal property, including property acquired at a casual or isolated sale, and including byproducts used by the manufacturer thereof, except as hereinafter provided, irrespective of whether the article or similar articles are manufactured or are available for purchase within this state. Except as provided in RCW 82.12.0252, payment by one purchaser or user of tangible personal property of the tax imposed by chapter 82.08 or 82.12 RCW shall not have the effect of exempting any other purchaser or user of the same property from the taxes imposed by such chapters. The tax shall be levied and collected in an amount equal to the value of the article used by the taxpayer multiplied by the rate in effect for the retail sales tax under RCW 82.08.020, as now or hereafter amended, in the county in which the article is used.

The moneys collected under this section which result from a rate of one-tenth of one percent of the value of the article used shall be deposited in the 1985 water pollution control account.

Sec. 14. Section 82.12.045, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 as last amended by section 2, chapter 77, Laws of 1983 and RCW 82.12.045 are each amended to read as follows:

In the collection of the use tax on motor vehicles, the department of revenue may designate the county auditors of the several counties of the state as its collecting agents. Upon such designation, it shall be the duty of each county auditor to collect the tax at the time an applicant applies for the registration of, and transfer of title to, the motor vehicle, except in the following instances: (1) Where the applicant exhibits a dealer's report of sale showing that the retail sales tax has been collected by the dealer; (2) where the application is for the renewal of registration; (3) where the applicant presents a written statement signed by the department of revenue, or its duly authorized agent showing that no use tax is legally due; or (4) where the applicant presents satisfactory evidence showing that the retail sales tax or the use tax has been paid by him on the vehicle in question. The term "motor vehicle," as used in this section means and includes all motor vehicles, trailers and semitrailers used, or of a type designed primarily to be used, upon the public streets and highways, for the convenience or pleasure of the owner, or for the conveyance, for hire or otherwise, of persons or property, including fixed loads, facilities for human habitation, and vehicles carrying exempt licenses. It shall be the duty of every applicant for registration and transfer of certificate of title who is subject to payment of tax under this section to declare upon his application the value of the vehicle for which application is made, which shall consist of the consideration paid or contracted to be paid therefor. Any person willfully misrepresenting, or failing or refusing to declare upon his application, such value shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

Each county auditor who acts as agent of the department of revenue shall at the time of remitting license fee receipts on motor vehicles subject to the provisions of this section pay over and account to the state treasurer for all use tax revenue collected under this section, after first deducting as his collection fee the sum of two dollars for each motor vehicle upon which the tax has been collected. Except as provided in RCW 82.12.020, all revenue received by the state treasurer under this section shall be credited to the general fund. The auditor's collection fee shall be deposited in the county current expense fund. A duplicate of the county auditor's transmittal report to the state treasurer shall be forwarded forthwith to the department of revenue.

Any applicant who has paid use tax to a county auditor under this section may apply to the department of revenue for refund thereof if he has reason to believe that such tax was not legally due and owing. No refund shall be allowed unless application therefor is received by the department of revenue within two years after payment of the tax. Upon receipt of an application for refund the department of revenue shall consider the same and issue its order either granting or denying it and if refund is denied the taxpayer shall have the right of appeal as provided in RCW 82.32.170, 82.32.180 and 82.32.190.

The provisions of this section shall be construed as cumulative of other methods prescribed in chapters 82.04 to 82.32 RCW, inclusive, for the collection of the tax imposed by this chapter. The department of revenue shall have power to promulgate such rules and regulations as may be necessary to administer the provisions of this section. Any duties required by this section to be performed by the county auditor may be performed by the director of licensing but no collection fee shall be deductible by said director in remitting use tax revenue to the state treasurer.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. Sections 1 through 11 of this act shall constitute a new chapter in Title 43 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. Sections 12 through 14 of this act shall be submitted to the people for their adoption and ratification, or rejection, at the next succeeding general election to be held in this state, in accordance with Article II, section 1 of the state Constitution, as amended, and the laws adopted to facilitate the operation thereof."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Lee: "The Goltz amendment, as I understand it, is a striking amendment--striking everything after the enacting clause and I believe that Senator Bailey has an amendment that is a perfecting amendment."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "Senator Lee, the Senate has adopted the amendment by Senator Kreidler establishing four hundred million and the Senate has already decided that."

Senator Lee: "This would be an even smaller amount."

President Cherberg: "We start with the larger amount first. Once the body has decided, that precludes other amendments. In other words, Senator Bailey's is precluded."

MOTION

Senator Metcalf moved that the following amendment to the amendment be adopted:

On page 15, line 31, after "14" add: "and new sections 17 and 18" and after Section 16, add: NEW SECTION, Sec. 17. A new section is added to chapter 43 RCW to read as follows:

The water protection assistance account is hereby established in the general fund. Each biennium after June 30, 1985, the state treasurer shall transfer, in equal payments each quarter, eighty million dollars from the unrestricted general fund to the water protection assistance account. Moneys in the water protection assistance account may be spent only after appropriation for grants or loans to eligible projects, and for related administrative purposes as provided in section 2 of this act.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 18. A new section is added to chapter 43 RCW to read as follows:

The department of ecology shall make grants or loans from the water protection assistance account to local governments to finance up to fifty percent of the costs of eligible projects, or in conjunction with any other combination of grants and loans which do not exceed seventy-five percent of the costs of eligible projects. Up to one percent of the moneys in the water protection assistance account may be used by the department of ecology in relation to the administration of the grants and loans."

Debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senator Metcalf to the amendment by Senators Goltz and Lee.

The motion by Senator Metcalf failed and the amendment to the amendment was not adopted.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Goltz, the following amendment to the amendment was adopted:

On page 16, line 3 of the amendment, after the ".", insert: "If approved by the people, section 12 through 14 shall take effect on July 1, 1986."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senators Goltz and Lee, as amended.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Patterson: "Senator Goltz, just to clarify my understanding of your proposal--in the event, as I understand it, you have a four hundred million dollar bond issue that would be authorized under the act? At the same time you are proposing an increase in the sales tax and that would be submitted to the people for their approval--an increase in the sales tax. Are the two tied together? In other words, if they do not approve the sales tax, what will be the source of the bond redemption?"

Senator Goltz: "It would be the general fund of the state of Washington."

Senator Patterson: "In other words, one does not depend upon the other?"

Senator Goltz: "That is correct. If this amendment passes and if the voters do not approve of a tenth of a cent sales tax, this bill would still authorize the issuance of a four hundred million dollars worth of bonds for the purposes we all are familiar with and that obligation would come due to this legislature each subsequent biennium until those bonds were paid off."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Patterson: "Mr. President, in view of this response, does this amendment--in view of the bond issue itself being authorized--does it take a sixty percent vote of the body to authorize this amendment?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "Sixty percent, Senator."

REMARKS BY SENATOR BOTTIGER

Senator Bottiger: "Mr. President, this is an amendment, not final passage. It wouldn't take sixty percent of the amendment."

President Cherberg: "No, not on the amendment."

Senator Patterson: "But if we do adopt the amendment and then it comes to final passage, it takes sixty percent at that time?"

President Cherberg: "Sixty percent at that time."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Goltz, this is a damned if you do and damned if you don't approach, is this right?"

Senator Goltz: "No, I think you will have clean water one way or the other."

Senator Rasmussen: "But in the event of the people--there's no way they can escape. They're going to be stuck for either the bonds or the sales tax."

Senator Goltz: "I don't think the people want to escape. My impression is that the people of the state really support the clean-up of our waters. The people of Spokane are very, very fearful that that precious aquifer by Spokane will some day not permit them to take it for drinking water."

Senator Rasmussen: "I really didn't want a speech. I just wanted an answer to my question."

Senator Goltz: "I felt it coming on. I think the people really do expect that this is a good piece of legislation and the question before us is simply how do you want to pay for it--now or later?"

Senator Rasmussen: "I agree--you either get hung with a new rope or with the same old rope. Yes, I am glad that you can see it that clearly. I am preparing an amendment that will solve all your problems and you won't even have to use the rope."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Hansen: "Senator Rasmussen, you know, I've been here and listened to all those problems and the needs, how about putting a sales tax on food, strictly on food alone for the clean-up of the waters. That's what's contaminating the water so let's put the sales tax on the food."

Senator Rasmussen: "What they claim, Senator Hansen--and no Democrat should vote for that because it is contrary to our platform--what they claim is that it's that unseen pollution that's coming from the cattle. Now, if you know of any cattlemen, they can tell about it because one of the ponds broke and it killed fifty million fish just not too long ago up in Senator Goltz's area--somewhere around there. What stream was that--"

Senator Goltz: "I don't know the name of the stream. You know in Whatcom County, we are now beginning to diaper the cows."

Senator Rasmussen: "That, Senator Hansen, is your answer right there. It's that unseen pollution that seeps."

MOTION

Senator Barr moved that the following amendment to the amendment by Senators Goltz and Lee be adopted:

On page 5, lines 32 and 33, strike "and marine"

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Barr: "Senator Goltz, what do you mean by marine waters for the rest of it? It clearly says here that this remaining sixty-five million would go into fresh or/and marine waters. Now, I think the fresh water people here, obviously--I almost used a farm term here of where you were at--but could you give me a definition of how marine water is going to be used in this or if this money is going--"

Senator Goltz: "I think the meaning of marine water is quite clear, but I think the location of where marine water exists may not be. Marine waters are ocean-related waters and I would say the area in Grays Harbor and that area would certainly qualify. I'm not that familiar with the geography along the coast, but would certainly include, at least, Grays Harbor, as well as some other places."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senator Barr to the amendment by Senators Goltz and Lee.

The motion by Senator Barr failed and the amendment to the amendment was not adopted.

MOTION

Senator Rasmussen moved that the following amendment to the amendment be adopted:

On page 1, after line 3 of the striking amendment, strike all remaining language through page 16, line 3 and insert:

(3) The tax imposed under this chapter shall apply to successive retail sales of the same property.

~~((3))~~ (4) The rates provided in this section ~~((applies))~~ apply to taxes imposed under chapter 82.12 RCW as provided in RCW 82.12.020.

Sec. 3. Section 82.12.020, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 as last amended by section 7, chapter 7, Laws of 1983 and RCW 82.12.020 are each amended to read as follows:

There is hereby levied and there shall be collected from every person in this state a tax or excise for the privilege of using within this state as a consumer any article of tangible personal property purchased at retail, or acquired by lease, gift, repossession, or bailment, or extracted or produced or manufactured by the person so using the same, or otherwise furnished to a person engaged in any business taxable under RCW 82.04.280, subsections (2) or (7). This tax will not apply with respect to the use of any article of tangible personal property purchased, extracted, produced or manufactured outside this state until the transportation of such article has finally ended or until such article has become commingled with the general mass of property in this state. This tax shall apply to the use of every article of tangible personal property, including property acquired at a casual or isolated sale, and including byproducts used by the manufacturer thereof, except as hereinafter provided, irrespective of whether the article or similar articles are manufactured or are available for purchase within this state. Except as provided in RCW 82.12.0252, payment by one purchaser or user of tangible personal property of the tax imposed by chapter 82.08 or 82.12 RCW shall not have the effect of exempting any other purchaser or user of the same property from the taxes imposed by such chapters. The tax shall be levied and collected in an amount equal to the value of the article used by the taxpayer multiplied by the rate in effect for the retail sales tax under RCW 82.08.020, as now or hereafter amended, in the county in which the article is used.

The moneys collected under this section which result from a rate of one-tenth of one percent of the value of the article used shall be deposited in the local improvement revolving account--waste disposal facilities 1985 until four hundred million dollars has been deposited in the account.

Sec. 4. Section 82.12.045, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 as last amended by section 2, chapter 77, Laws of 1983 and RCW 82.12.045 are each amended to read as follows:

In the collection of the use tax on motor vehicles, the department of revenue may designate the county auditors of the several counties of the state as its collecting agents. Upon such designation, it shall be the duty of each county auditor to collect the tax at the time an applicant applies for the registration of, and transfer of title to, the motor vehicle, except in the following instances: (1) Where the applicant exhibits a dealer's report of sale showing that the retail sales tax has been collected by the dealer; (2) where the application is for the renewal of registration; (3) where the applicant presents a written statement signed by the department of revenue, or its duly authorized agent showing that no use tax is legally due; or (4) where the applicant presents satisfactory evidence showing that the retail sales tax or the use tax has been paid by him on the vehicle in question. The term "motor vehicle," as used in this section means and includes all motor vehicles, trailers and semitrailers used, or of a type designed primarily to be used, upon the public streets and highways, for the convenience or pleasure of the owner, or for the conveyance, for hire or otherwise, of persons or property, including fixed loads, facilities for human habitation, and vehicles carrying exempt licenses. It shall be the duty of every applicant for registration and transfer of certificate of title who is subject to payment of tax under this section to declare upon his application the value of the vehicle for which application is made, which shall consist of the consideration paid or contracted to be paid therefor. Any person willfully misrepresenting, or failing or refusing to declare upon his application, such value shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

Each county auditor who acts as agent of the department of revenue shall at the time of remitting license fee receipts on motor vehicles subject to the provisions of this section pay over and account to the state treasurer for all use tax revenue collected under this section, after first deducting as his collection fee the sum of two dollars for each motor vehicle upon which the tax has been collected. Except as provided in RCW 82.12.020, all revenue received by the state treasurer under this section shall be credited to the general fund. The auditor's collection fee shall be deposited in the county current expense fund. A duplicate of the county auditor's transmittal report to the state treasurer shall be forwarded forthwith to the department of revenue.

Any applicant who has paid use tax to a county auditor under this section may apply to the department of revenue for refund thereof if he has reason to believe that such tax was not legally due and owing. No refund shall be allowed unless application therefor is received by the department of revenue within two years after payment of the tax. Upon receipt of an application for refund the department of revenue shall consider the same and issue its order either granting or denying it and if refund is denied the taxpayer shall have the right of appeal as provided in RCW 82.32.170, 83.32.180 and 82.32.190.

The provisions of this section shall be construed as cumulative of other methods prescribed in chapters 82.04 to 82.32 RCW, inclusive, for the collection of the tax imposed by this chapter. The department of revenue shall have power to promulgate such rules and regulations as may be necessary to administer the provisions of this section. Any duties required by this section to be performed by the county auditor may be performed by the director of licensing but no collection fee shall be deductible by said director in remitting use tax revenue to the state treasurer."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Kiskaddon: "Senator Rasmussen, I guess I would like to clarify this--you are still leaving in the bond issue?"

Senator Rasmussen: "No."

Senator Kiskaddon: "I thought that was in section 2 and your amendment started on page 10."

Senator Rasmussen: "My adviser says 'yes' it is still in, but if you have the money, the bonds won't be sold. In the hurry of preparing the amendment, we didn't get the bonds taken out."

Senator Kiskaddon: "So your goal here is to make it a complete pay-as-you-go plan with an additional one-tenth of a cent sales tax?"

Senator Rasmussen: "This is my intent, yes."

Further debate ensued.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Bottiger: "Mr. President and members of the Senate, we have already voted on that once early on in one of the amendments by Senators Lee and Metcalf. That was rejected by the body and now to submit it again probably, Mr. President, would raise a point of order that we're doing the same thing with a different amendment."

Senator Kiskaddon: "I believe this is a different situation. In Senator Lee's amendment, there was no additional increase of tax and I think this one actually adds an additional tenth of a cent of tax, so unless I'm misunderstanding what is going on, Senator Bottiger, I think this is a different situation than the ones that we voted on before."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "Senator Kiskaddon's point is well taken."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Deccio: "Senator Rasmussen, in order to get this clear in my mind, what your amendment does is increases the sales tax one-tenth of one percent so we pay the whole thing up front over a ten-year period?"

Senator Rasmussen: "Yes, whatever it takes to get the four hundred million just estimated will be needed--and we'll start it July 1, 1985. You'd have the assurance that the money will be coming in. You won't have to be waiting for a referendum and takes the referendum off of the bill."

Senator Deccio: "There would be no bonds? There would just be cash payments?"

Senator Rasmussen: "That's correct."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on adoption of the amendment by Senator Rasmussen to the amendment by Senators Goltz and Lee.

(4) The board shall submit a report to the legislature each biennium identifying the licenses that the board believes should be added to the list of those processed under the master license system."

On motion of Senator Warnke, the following title amendment was adopted:

On page 1, line 1 of the title, after "center;" strike the remainder of the title and insert "amending RCW 19.02.040; and creating a new section."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Warnke, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3413 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3413.

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3413 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 41; nays, 3; excused, 5.

Voting yea: Senators Bailey, Bauer, Bender, Bluechel, Bottiger, Cantu, Conner, Deccio, DeJarnatt, Fleming, Garrett, Gaspard, Goltz, Granlund, Halsan, Hayner, Johnson, Kiskaddon, Kreidler, Lee, McCaslin, McDermott, McDonald, McManus, Metcalif, Moore, Newhouse, Owen, Rasmussen, Rinehart, Saling, Sellar, Stratton, Talmadge, Thompson, Vognild, von Reichbauer, Warnke, Williams, Wojahn, Zimmerman - 41.

ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 3413, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 3829, by Senators Kreidler and Deccio

Revising provisions relating to the licensing of physicians.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Bender, Senator Moore was excused.

On motion of Senator Granlund, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 3829 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Zimmerman: "Senator Granlund, just in the last section on the last page, on page 6, when you are striking the 'regarding the certification for acupuncture,' striking out 'the other countries' that were mentioned, maybe you could explain what was the reason for eliminating that kind of reference?"

Senator Granlund: "I know one of the concerns that I had is that we had an acupuncture bill that is coming up and in no way does that have any effect on that. I'm not sure. Maybe Senator Kreidler will remember why the section on 'other countries' was stricken."

REMARKS BY SENATOR KREIDLER

Senator Kreidler: "Senator Zimmerman, there was language in there relative to the kind of certification that came from some foreign acupuncture training programs that really was archaic language and it was just coloring up the statutes so it was removed. It was not controversial when it was taken out."

Senator Granlund: "It hasn't been considered essential and there are other ways that they do check to determine if they are adequately trained?"

Senator Kreidler: "That's right. There's the acupuncture bill that has passed the House that is in the Senate Human Services and Corrections Committee that addresses any issue that might have been relative to this issue."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bluechel: "Senator Kreidler, what changes did you make in the acupuncture section? Could you describe the procedures before now and what will happen if this bill is enacted?"

Senator Kreidler: "Senator Bluechel, the present status was that they were essentially licensed much like physician's assistants. That still remains the same. There's a separate bill that is coming through that would change that process and that's the bill that will be before the committee and probably on the floor of the Senate at a later time. It was language that dealt with the issue of certain acupuncture schools that were in other counties and it really was the Department of Licensing that had identified it as a problem because it really wasn't applicable and it made the recommendation that the language be removed. The acupuncturists and the physicians were agreed that there was no controversy on that point."

Senator Bluechel: "Further question. Senator Kreidler, what would be the position --say for acupuncture if the other bill didn't pass and this one did?"

Senator Kreidler: "It would make no change and that was their reason for not opposing the language change in this bill."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Senate Bill No. 3829.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Senate Bill No. 3829 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 37; nays, 6; absent, 1; excused, 5.

Voting yea: Senators Bailey, Bauer, Bender, Bluechel, Bottiger, Cantu, Conner, Deccio, DeJarnatt, Fleming, Garrett, Gaspard, Goltz, Granlund, Guess, Halsan, Hayner, Johnson, Kreidler, McDermott, McDonald, McManus, Newhouse, Owen, Rasmussen, Rinehart, Salling, Sellar, Stratton, Talmadge, Thompson, Vognild, von Reichbauer, Warnke, Williams, Wojahn, Zimmerman - 37.

Voting nay: Senators Craswell, Kiskaddon, Lee, McCaslin, Metcalf, Pullen - 6.

Absent: Senator Barr - 1.

Excused: Senators Benitz, Hansen, Moore, Patterson, Peterson - 5.

SENATE BILL NO. 3829, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 3175, by Senators Granlund, Kiskaddon, Kreidler and Stratton (by Department of Social and Health Services and Department of Fisheries request)

Regulating removal and possession of commercial quantities of shellfish.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Granlund, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3175 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 3175 and the substitute bill was advanced to second reading and read the second time.

Senator Guess moved that the following amendment be adopted:

On page 2, line 21, after "health," insert "It is unlawful for anyone to apply, or to aid in the application of, Sevin or any similar chemical in shellfish growing areas."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Granlund: "Mr. President, I ask for a ruling on scope and object. I think that the intent of the amendment is far afield from what we are talking about. This bill modifies the Department's statutory authority to regulate shellfish and I think we would be making a grave mistake to get into the controversial use of Sevin. I think there may be good reason to look into that with a thorough hearing, but certainly not with an amendment on the Senate floor and I ask for a ruling, please."

Further debate ensued.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Vognild, further consideration of Substitute Senate Bill No. 3175 was deferred.

There being no objection, the President reverted the Senate to the fourth order of business.

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE

March 21, 1985

Mr. President:

The Speaker has signed:

SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 500, and the same is herewith transmitted.

DENNIS L. HECK, Chief Clerk

SIGNED BY THE PRESIDENT

The President signed:

SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 500.

There being no objection, the President returned the Senate to the sixth order of business.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 3517, by Senators Bauer, Gaspard, Benitz, Moore, Bender, Rinehart and Johnson (by Temporary Committee on Educational Policies request)

Providing an adult literacy program.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Gaspard, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3517 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 3517 and the substitute bill was advanced to second reading and read the second time.

Senator Bauer moved that the following amendment by Senators Bauer, Kiskaddon and Gaspard be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature is concerned that at least two hundred fifty thousand citizens of the state have been determined to be functionally illiterate, operating with educational skills at or below the eighth grade level, which is a condition which prevents them from fully participating in the democratic process and society at large. In order to begin a program to raise the educational skills of these persons, the legislature intends to establish a coalition of individuals to address this issue.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 28A.03 RCW to read as follows:

(1) The superintendent of public instruction shall establish a state advisory literacy coalition to facilitate implementation and development of a state literacy program. The coalition shall provide a formal connection among the programs serving adults needing to develop reading and writing skills and shall:

(a) Publicize and promote adult literacy programs throughout the state to encourage participation by students and volunteers and heighten public awareness of this program;

(b) Conduct research to identify the locations of persons needing services and to estimate the extent of the problem throughout the state;

(c) Promote communication and the exchange of ideas among service providers; and

(d) Promote and facilitate contributions of time, space, funds, and other support by business and industry for employees lacking the necessary reading and writing skills and for employees to become volunteers in the literacy program.

(2) The members of the coalition shall be representative of business, labor, the legislature, the department of corrections, the department of social and health services, the state board for community college education, the office of the superintendent of public instruction, the state library, public libraries, persons eligible to participate or participating in the program, volunteer organizations, and other community organizations professionally involved in promoting literacy in the state. The representatives of the state agencies shall be designated by the heads of their respective agencies. The other members of the coalition shall be selected by the superintendent of public instruction. The members of the coalition shall be reimbursed for travel expenses as provided in RCW 43.03.050 and 43.03.060.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 3. The sum of forty-nine thousand dollars, or as much thereof as may be necessary, is appropriated for the biennium ending June 30, 1987, from the general fund to the superintendent of public instruction for the purposes of this act."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Kiskaddon, I just caught your remark that we ought to walk around and talk to each other a little bit more. I thought that was one of our problems, that there was too much walking around on the Senate floor and too much talk, and sometimes you can't even hear the votes. Have you noticed that? Do you think we're walking around enough or do you want more?"

Senator Kiskaddon: "I think what I was saying is just talking at each other really doesn't do the job. I think some of the walking around--if we had it a little more organized and so that it became part of the organized activity instead of chaos could be useful, so we might be able to replace that chaos."

Senator Rasmussen: "Thank you. I hope you don't get it any more organized this session."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Zimmerman: "Senator Bauer, would this measure have an adverse effect on adult literacy programs that are handled in the volunteer section now? There is Laubach, Literacy and others that have been functioning as literacy organizations--teaching, etc. How does it affect them?"

Senator Bauer: "Quite the contrary. It would be a positive step toward coordinating those efforts. We have adult literacy in the community colleges, we have adult literacy in SPI, and we have the private organizations. This would provide a nucleus to coordinate those activities, and it would be a positive thing."

Senator Zimmerman: "The second question. This will not be adding to our state responsibilities in the sense of providing a basic education for all adults?"

Senator Bauer: "Absolutely not. Hopefully, it's a major private sector contribution, too--from industry and business."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senators Bauer, Kiskaddon and Gaspard.

The motion by Senator Bauer carried and the amendment was adopted.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Gaspard, the following title amendment was adopted:

On page 1, line 2 of the title, strike "and" and after "section" insert "; and making an appropriation"

There being no objection, the Senate resumed consideration of Substitute Senate Bill No. 3175 and the pending amendment by Senator Guess on page 2, line 21, deferred earlier today.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "In ruling upon the point of order raised by Senator Granlund, the President finds that Substitute Senate Bill No. 3175 is a measure giving state agencies the authority to regulate the removal and possession of commercial quantities of shellfish.

"The amendment proposed by Senator Guess makes it unlawful for anyone to use Sevin or any similar chemical in shellfish growing areas.

"The President, therefore, finds that the proposed amendment does change the scope and object of the bill and that the point of order is well taken."

The amendment was ruled out of order.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Granlund, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3175 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 3355, by Senators McDermott, Moore, Deccio, Rasmussen and Talmadge

Continuing group insurance coverage for unemployed persons.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator von Reichbauer, Senator Hayner was excused.

On motion of Senator McDermott, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 3355 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Kreidler: "Senator McDermott, as I am considering this bill, I am wondering about a couple of issues. One of them would be what happens to a company that goes under? What happens to that type of situation where the insurance coverage and the company are no longer linked together in some kind of group plan? The second question would be relative to those companies that are self-insured. Would they be able to--because of the ERISA preemption--to have the same type of extension for one hundred-eighty days?"

Senator McDermott: "The first question, obviously, if the company went out of business, there would no longer be any insurance plan so that that would be gone. So those people would have no alternative. Regarding the second provision, my understanding is that they would have some way out of it in private insurance. If they are doing self-insurance, they would not be able to be covered under that kind of thing--if they are laid off. I, personally, think we ought to be able to provide it for those people, too, but this covers those people who are in an insurance plan and covered at the time they are unemployed."

REMARKS BY SENATOR GUESS

Senator Guess: "Answering Senator Kreidler's question, this has been a long time established practice in the construction trades. Ever since 1955, we put the clause into being then, that the employee, in the event of a layoff, could self-insure for six months. We later raised that to a year. Answering Senator McDermott's question about what happens to a bankrupt company, he is covered even so because of the retention. We are required by law to maintain a retention level that will pay out in an instance and it will pay for up to a year. So, if you bill your system, the requirement, then is that the payments are at a level that will provide for the retention."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McDonald: "Senator McDermott, I'm sorry I didn't get to you before this. But the concern on this, and I think it's a valid one, is that there would be adverse selection in that people who were sick or susceptible to being sick would sign up. The people who were well would not sign up and so, consequently, group rates would go up. If this is a valid concern, it would affect--since we are a major buyer in that market--our rates as well. Has there been any look at all as to what effect there would be on the general fund for our insurance purposes?"

Senator McDermott: "I'm not sure how you would look at that question. Clearly, when insurance companies give a group rate, they figure in all the problems. When someone is laid off, they don't become any more of a risk than they were. If they are someone who has a problem, they are going to become sick anyway and wind up being fed in an uncollectible debt. So, I think it's a much better program and it's out on top of the table that they are paying their policy premium and therefore buying insurance rather than going uncovered and winding up having the cost shifted to someone else. The state, obviously, is a recipient of some of the problems of the rest of the insurance industry since we buy for so many employees. And it's sort of like the Fram commercial--you're going to pay now or you're going to pay later. You either pay up front with a little bit of premium cost or you pay after they are an uncollectible debt and you come back and pay a little increase in premium cost. You are going to pay one way or another. It's going to be paid by somebody."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Patterson: "Senator McDermott, I'm somewhat confused. The digest says that he must pay the premiums. You extend it for one hundred--eighty days--the coverage. Does that mean that the employee, say he was employed by the state of Washington, lost his job--would he pay the premium of the group rate which is currently $180 some per month?"

Senator McDermott: "Senator Patterson, already in the state law, for state employees, if you lay off a state worker, they can now pay for six months--the premiums. This would extend into the private sector. If someone is laid off, they would have to pay the group rate premium for six months in order to have the benefit. It is not paid by the employer, it is paid totally by the employee at his choice."

Senator Patterson: "O.K. We do that now, is that what you're saying? That's figured into the overall plan. Now, when the individual is extended this one hundred--eighty days, does then the employee that has now lost his job, after that initial period of coverage, does he then pickup and pay the premium of $180 per month?"

Senator McDermott: "Yes, the law says, now, a state employee who is laid off, if he or she wants to continue at the group rate, they have to pay the full premium that the state was paying for them as an employee of the state. That's why what Senator Newhouse said is incorrect. We already have it in law; it is already figured in as a part of the adverse selection process in state contracting and there would be no change in that in the private sector."

Senator Patterson: "Thank you. That clarifies it for me."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Senate Bill No. 3355.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Senate Bill No. 3355 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 41; nays, 6; excused, 2.

Voting yea: Senators Bailey, Barr, Bauer, Bender, Bluechel, Bottiger, Cantu, Conner, Craswell, Deccio, DeJarnatt, Fleming, Garrett, Gaspard, Goltz, Granlund, Guess, Halsan, Hansen, Johnson, Kiskaddon, Kreidler, Lee, McDermott, McDonald, McManus, Metcalf, Moore, Newhouse, Owen, Patterson, Peterson, Rinehart, Saling, Sellar, Stratton, Talmadge, Thompson, Vogt, von Reichbauer, Warnke, Williams, Wojahn, Zimmerman - 44.

Voting nay: Senators McCaslin, Pullen, Rasmussen - 3.

Excused: Senators Benitz, Hayner - 2.

SENATE BILL NO. 3445, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 3541, by Senators Moore, Deccio, Sellar, Newhouse, Bender, Wojahn and Rasmussen (by Insurance Commissioner request)

Revising health care services provisions.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Moore, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3541 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 3541 and the substitute bill was advanced to second reading and read the second time.

On motion of Senator Moore, the following amendments were considered simultaneously and adopted:

On page 9, line 12, strike "Every" and insert "After July 1, 1986 or on the next renewal date of the agreement, which is later, every"

On page 9, line 12, after "renewed" strike "after July 1, 1986."

On motion of Senator Moore, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3541 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McDermott: "Senator Moore, is there anything in this bill which would relieve the health care contractor from responsibility, having once collected the premium, from delivering the service?"

Senator Moore: "He must live up to the terms of the contract. That has not been altered, but he can, after it has been in effect for two years, cancel or refuse service, but must live up to the terms of the premium payment."

Senator McDermott: "He can do that on an individual basis, or just close down the operation?"

Senator Moore: "That's a rather severe term and I'm not really sure about closing down, but it gives him total authority, so I assume that it would close it down."

Senator McDermott: "The reason I ask the question is that I'm concerned that in California they had a number of health care contractors spring up in the last few years as they did in Arizona. People paid their premium and then wound up not getting the coverage for which they thought they had paid. You're saying that that is not possible until one year?"

Senator Moore: "In this business, as you know, almost anything can happen. But that's why we're tightening it up to give the Insurance Commissioner more authority. I don't have the bill in front of me, but it's covered in, I think, page 3 of the bill."

Senator McDermott: "You're talking about Section 3 which says 'that if any of the health services which are promised in any such agreement are not to be performed by the health care service contract or by participant, such activity shall not be subject to the laws relating to insurance, provided provision is made for reimbursement or indemnity who have previously paid or in whose behalf premium has been paid.' That's the part you are talking about--lines 18 through 25--that's what you're referring to?"

Senator Moore: "Yes, and the other part that is particularly important is you'll notice on page 4, starting on line 10, there was new language added--'the amount necessary to cover incurred but unpaid reimbursement or indemnity benefits,' and the indemnity is referred to at the top of the page as in reimbursement, but then it goes on to say 'as reported in the last annual statement filed with the Insurance Commissioner and adjusted to reflect known or anticipated increases or decreases during the ensuing year plus an amount of unearned prepayments applicable to reimbursement or immediate benefit satisfactory to the Insurance Commissioner.' It has to be satisfactory to the Insurance Commissioner. I think it's important that that be the way it is. We're trying to keep as much from chance as possible."

Senator McDermott: "The reason I raise the question is because the Insurance Commissioner has raised a question about the language on page 4, line 14, beginning--'plus an amount of unearned prepayment applicable to reimbursement or indemnity benefits satisfactory to the Insurance Commissioner.' He's suggesting that we take that out, I guess. I was curious why we hadn't done that."

Senator Moore: "I don't think the Insurance Commissioner does want that out. That's not my understanding."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Wojahn: "Senator Moore, wasn't this the bill that also established a guarantee fund, so that people who lost benefits because of a closure would be able to be covered to a period? Is this out now?"

Senator Moore: "No, this is still in effect. Nothing has changed. The guarantee fund is still in."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3541.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3541 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 47; absent, 1; excused, 1.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 42.17 RCW to read as follows:

Any lobbyist registered under RCW 42.17.150, any person who lobbies, and any lobbyist's employer making a contribution that exceeds five hundred dollars within the twenty-one day period immediately preceding an election shall file a special report in the manner provided under RCW 42.17.105."

On motion of Senator Bottiger, the following amendment to the amendment was adopted:

On page 3, line 11 of the striking amendment after "make" strike "a contribution" and insert "contributions in the aggregate"

On motion of Senator Bluechel, the following amendment to the amendment was adopted:

On page 2, line 6 of the striking amendment, after "within" strike "twenty-four" and insert "~~((twenty-four))~~ forty-eight"

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senator Bottiger, as amended.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Sellar: "Senator Bottiger, for the purpose of this act would a loan to a campaign be considered a contribution and be under the same restrictions in the last twenty-one days?"

Senator Bottiger: "I was just conferring with Senator Talmadge about the effect of a court case. Clearly, a loan from someone other than the candidate would be considered a contribution and come under the language of this act. I'm a little bit unclear, and perhaps Senator Talmadge could expand on it, as to whether a candidate can loan his own campaign money--whether that would be covered. I would yield to Senator Talmadge on that one."

REMARKS BY SENATOR TALMADGE

Senator Talmadge: "I think Senator Bottiger has adequately described it. I think if a person receives a loan from another person, they would clearly be within the provisions of the bill. However, if they received a loan from themselves--from their own money--then they would not be within the provisions of this bill insofar as we have not limited the ability of a candidate to receive money from himself or herself. I don't think we have the opportunity to do that."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senator Bottiger, as amended.

The motion by Senator Bottiger carried and the amendment, as amended, was adopted.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Talmadge, the following title amendment was adopted:

On page 1, line 1 of the title, after "financing;" strike the remainder of the title and insert "amending RCW 42.17.105; and adding a new section to chapter 42.17 RCW."

On motion of Senator Talmadge, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3307 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Deccio: "Senator Talmadge, in view of the recent Supreme Court decision what effect, if any, does that have on this bill?"

Senator Talmadge: "I don't think that case has any effect on this particular situation. The federal case to which you refer was one dealing with the question of independent expenditures by a political action committee. Under federal law, the presidential candidates agree to expenditure limitations in exchange for public financing of the campaigns and also severe restrictions on the amounts they can receive in contributions. The U.S. Supreme Court said that an independent political action committee could not be subject to the $1,000 expenditure limitation contained in the federal law because they did not receive the public financing in exchange for that limitation. This bill does not purport to make expenditure limitations. It only regulates the process of contribution and, therefore, is not within the provisions of that case. The case of Buckley against Vallejo was specifically upheld in the federal Supreme Court case which indicates that contributions can be limited and regulated."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3307.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Pullen: "Senator Talmadge, does that mean they can commit fraudulent actions as long as they don't have knowledge of the fraud?"

Senator Talmadge: "No, Senator Pullen. What it means is--with respect to a securities act violation-- before one can be held responsible for the violation of the securities law, one must have actual knowledge--scienter, it's called--of the fraud before you can be held liable for a violation of the securities act. As I say, at present, this is true for the members of the board and for the agencies themselves, the governing bodies. But not true for the state itself and for the political subdivisions of the state. It is designed to make the standard for fraud consistent all the way out. Not fraudulent conduct, but rather constructive fraud or knowledge with respect to a securities act violation. It's a different kind of thing."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 4114.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 4114 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 35; nays, 2; absent, 11; excused, 1.

On page 1, line 15, strike "one dollar" and insert "two and one-half dollars"

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Pullen: "Senator Williams, some of us would like to make a fairly objective vote on this particular bill and amendment. Some of us are quite sympathetic to what you have been attempting to do, but some of us don't want to impose any truly unreasonable or artificial constraints on banks at the same time. Can you give me an idea approximately what the cost is of processing a check through a bank?"

Senator Williams: "The House of Representatives did a study during the interim to determine those costs and the costs that they came up with were approximately forty-five cents per check. So the $1 charge in the bill is well over what that study showed."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Wojahn: "I would like Senator McDermott to respond to this, because when I walked onto this floor I thought it was one-half million dollars in a biennium and I'm finding out it may be $2.8 million."

Senator McDermott: "The original fiscal note which was given to us by the Department of Revenue back in September said $500,000. We have received one in the mail here in the last two weeks that says it's $2.8 million. I think we, once again, have an example of why the legislature ought to take over the writing of fiscal notes and make sure we know what's going on. I, frankly, don't know the difference between the two and can't tell you which one is right, but there is some fiscal impact to this change to the B & O tax."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senator Wojahn.

The motion by Senator Wojahn failed and the amendment was not adopted.

MOTION

Sec. 3. Section 3, chapter 66, Laws of 1983 1st ex. sess. and RCW 82.04.419 are each amended to read as follows:

STATEMENT FOR THE JOURNAL

March 22, 1985

Mr. Sid Snyder
Secretary of the Senate
Legislative Building
Olympia, Washington
Dear Sid,

SUBJECT: SB 3419 Preliminary Plat Approval

I would request that the following comments be made part of the Journal record in reference to SB 3419 Preliminary Plat approval.

SB 3419 would eliminate the public hearing process of preliminary plats that meet current land use zoning unless a petition is filed by surrounding property owners. The petition must meet certain criteria as determined by the local administrative authority. I am very concerned with eliminating any public hearing process. We must protect every citizen's right to a full hearing on issues that will affect their daily lives, and we must assure the "appearance of fairness" to the general public.

Also, in many cases current land use comprehensive plans are out-of-date and we must question the validity of the existing zoning.

It is for these reasons that I voted against SB 3419.

Thank you for allowing me to comment for the record.

Sincerely,
Cliff Bailey,
Senator, Thirty-ninth District

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 3627, by Senators Warnke, Wojahn, Goltz, Metcalf and Bender

Modifying the unemployment compensation requirements for persons with marginal labor force attachment.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Vognild moved that the following amendment by Senators Vognild and Newhouse be adopted:

On page 1, line 4, after "WASHINGTON;" strike all material through "period." on page 3, line 35, and insert:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. (1) Prior to December 31, 1986, the Commissioner may suspend the provisions of RCW 50.20.015(2) if the Commissioner determines that a reasonable application of that section may be precluded for an economically distressed occupation, defined as an occupation in an industry for which the thirteen-week insured unemployment rate equals or exceeds one hundred percent of the average of such rate for the corresponding thirteen-week period in each of the preceding five calendar years, or an occupation where governmental action has precluded the normal activities in such occupation. The Commissioner shall develop rules and regulations describing the work search policy of the department for all claimants identified by this section. Factors to be considered in developing the policy shall include occupation of the claimant, employment conditions within the industry, labor market demand, length and frequency of unemployment of the claimant, and the potential for return to work at his or her previous employment. Claimant work search activities shall be conducted in accordance with the policy developed pursuant to the requirements of this section.

(2) The Commissioner shall submit a report to the Commerce and Labor Committees of the Senate and House of Representatives which describes those industries identified in subsection (1) of this section to be distressed industries and for which RCW 50.20.015(2) is suspended. The report shall be filed within one week of the date that the suspension is made."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Newhouse: "Senator Vognild, you and I have both been aware of the difficulties involved in arriving at such an agreement. In the section--about one-third down the page--where it mentions governmental action, where an occupation or governmental action has precluded the normal activities of such occupation--would we intend that the department should use this language in not addressing such normally seasonal industries as fishing."

Senator Vognild: "My answer to that would be that we are looking at abnormal conditions such as high fire conditions in the woods, such as an environmental problem. I think the piledrivers were particularly affected by an environmental problem that is a normal operation of government in their normal duties such as controlling fish would be."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senators Vognild and Newhouse.

The motion by Senator Vognild carried and the amendment was adopted.

MOTION

Senator Guess moved that the following amendment by Senators Guess, McDonald and Barr be adopted:

On page 3, line 35, after "period," insert a new section 2 stating the following:

"Sec. 2. Section 77, chapter 35, Laws of 1945 as amended by section 12, chapter 8, Laws of 1953 ex. sess. and RCW 50.20.090 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) An individual shall be disqualified for benefits for any week with respect to which the commissioner finds that ~~((his)) the individual's~~ unemployment is due to a ~~((stoppage of work which exists because of a))~~ labor dispute at the factory, establishment, or other premises at which ~~((he)) the individual~~ is or was last employed ~~((--PROVIDED-- That))~~; (2) Subsection (1) of this section shall not apply if it is shown to the satisfaction of the commissioners that:

~~((+he)) (a) The individual~~ is not participating in or financing or directly interested in the labor dispute ~~((which caused the stoppage of work; and (2) he))~~, and the individual does not belong to a grade or class or workers of which, immediately before the commencement of the ~~((stoppage)) labor dispute~~, there were members employed at the premises at which the ~~((stoppage)) labor dispute~~ occurs, any of whom are participating in or financing or directly interested in the dispute ~~((--PROVIDED-- That))~~; or

~~(b) The labor dispute has been settled by the negotiating parties, or the labor organization has provided written notice to the employer that the labor dispute is terminated.~~

(3) For the purposes of this section, if in any case separate branches of work which are commonly conducted as separate businesses in separate premises are conducted in separate departments of the same premises, each such department shall ~~((--for the purpose of this subdivision--))~~ be deemed to be a separate factory, establishment, or other premises."

Renumber the remaining section and amend the title accordingly:

Debate ensued.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Vognild: "Mr. President, I raise the point of order that the amendment exceeds the scope and object of the bill. The original bill dealt strictly with marginal work force attachment and workers who may be identified as that and what type of work search they would be involved in. The amendment by Senator Guess involves an entirely different section of the unemployment law. It involves a labor dispute language change. It has absolutely no relationship to marginal work force or to the problem which we are trying to address in the bill. I believe it clearly exceeds the scope and object of the bill."

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "In ruling upon the point of order raised by Senator Vognild, the President finds that Senate Bill No. 3627 is a measure modifying the unemployment compensation requirements for persons with marginal labor force attachments.

"The amendment proposed by Senators Guess, McDonald and Barr modifies provisions of unemployment compensation law relating to disqualification from benefits due to a stoppage of work resulting from a labor dispute.

"The President, therefore, finds that the proposed amendment does change the scope and object of the bill and that the point of order is well taken."

The amendment was ruled out of order.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Warnke, the following title amendment was adopted:

Debate ensued.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator McDonald: "I am asking how many votes this will take to pass."

REMARKS BY SENATOR VOGNILD

Senator Vognild: "Thank you, Mr. President. Speaking on the inquiry, this deals with buildings. This bill deals with the use of buildings. It does not, in any way, expand the amount of bingo games that can be played by any organization. The likely effect of this bill, if it passes, would be that two groups would go together and hold, each, their own games in one building, rather than holding them in two separate buildings. I think there is absolutely no possibility of any increase in bingo activity resulting from this bill."

REMARKS BY SENATOR KREIDLER

Senator Kreidler: "Mr. President, speaking to the point of inquiry also, I would certainly agree with the question that has been raised by Senator McDonald. I think the point is that there are people out there that have buildings that would eagerly go out and try to recruit groups to come in and have bingo games on a seven-day a week operation. That represents an expansion of gambling and it clearly would be the case that there would be certain locations that would become the bingo hall--exclusively for bingo. This issue is one we've debated many times in the past, frequently referred to as the Ocean Shores amendment when it was applied to other bills and certainly could be the Ocean Shores bill right now because that's certainly one location that would like to have had the exemption from the three-day a week limit that has previously existed. It has been debated by the legislature extensively and, obviously, would represent a significant expansion of gambling."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "The President believes that Senate Bill No. 3497 will have to meet the 60% requirement."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Bender, Senator Granlund was excused.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Senate Bill No. 3497.

(b) Restricting the possession of firearms in any stadium or convention center, operated by a city, town, county, or other municipality, except that such restrictions shall not apply to:

However, if the applicant does not have a valid permanent Washington driver's license or Washington state identification card or has not been a resident of the state for the previous consecutive ninety days, the issuing authority shall have up to sixty days after the filing of the application to issue a license. (e) Has an outstanding warrant for his or her arrest from any court of competent jurisdiction for a felony or misdemeanor.

The license shall be revoked immediately upon conviction of a crime which makes such a person ineligible to own a pistol or upon the third conviction for a violation of this chapter within five calendar years. The license shall be in triplicate, in form to be prescribed by the department of licensing, and shall bear the name, address, and description, fingerprints and signature of the licensee, and the licensee's driver's license number or state identification card number if used for identification in applying for the license. The license application shall contain a warning substantially as follows:

CAUTION: Although state and local laws do not differ, federal law and state law on the possession of firearms differ. If you are prohibited by federal law from possessing a firearm, you may be prosecuted in federal court. A state permit is not a defense to a federal prosecution.

The license application shall contain a description of the major differences between state and federal law and an explanation of the fact that local laws and ordinances on firearms are preempted by state law and must be consistent with state law.

The original thereof shall be delivered to the licensee, the duplicate shall within seven days be sent by registered mail to the director of licensing and the triplicate shall be preserved for six years, by the authority issuing said license.

(2) The fee for the original issuance of a four-year license shall be twenty dollars: PROVIDED, That no other additional charges by any branch or unit of government shall be borne by the applicant for the issuance of the license: PROVIDED FURTHER, That the fee shall be distributed as follows:

(a) Four dollars shall be paid to the state general fund;

The fee shall be distributed as follows:

(a) Three dollars shall be deposited in the state game fund and used exclusively for the printing and distribution of a pamphlet on the legal limits of the use of firearms, firearms safety, and the preemptive nature of state law. The pamphlet shall be given to each applicant for a license; and

(b) Seven dollars shall be paid to the issuing authority for the purpose of enforcing this chapter.

(5) Notwithstanding the requirements of subsections (1) through (4) of this section, the chief of police of the municipality or the sheriff of the county of the applicant's residence may issue a temporary emergency license for good cause pending review under subsection (1) of this section.

(6) A political subdivision of the state shall not modify the requirements of this section or chapter, nor may a political subdivision ask the applicant to voluntarily submit any information not required by this section. A civil suit may be brought to enjoin a wrongful refusal to issue a license or a wrongful modification of the requirements of this section or chapter. The civil suit may be brought in the county in which the application was made or in Thurston county at the discretion of the petitioner. ~~(The prevailing party is entitled to reasonable costs, including attorneys' fees.)~~ Any person who prevails against a public agency in any action in the courts for a violation of this chapter shall be awarded costs, including reasonable attorneys' fees, incurred in connection with such legal action.

Sec. 4. Section 9, chapter 172, Laws of 1935 as last amended by section 4, chapter 232, Laws of 1983 and RCW 9.41.090 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) In addition to the other requirements of this chapter, no commercial seller shall deliver a pistol to the purchaser thereof until:

(a) The purchaser produces a valid concealed pistol license and the commercial seller has recorded the purchaser's name, license number, and issuing agency, such record to be made in ~~((duplicate))~~ triplicate and processed as provided in subsection (4) of this section; or

(b) The seller is notified in writing by the chief of police of the municipality or the sheriff of the county that the purchaser meets the requirements of RCW 9.41.040 and that the application to purchase is granted; or

(c) Five consecutive days including Saturday, Sunday and holidays have elapsed from the time of receipt of the application for the purchase thereof as provided herein by the chief of police or sheriff designated in subsection (4) of this section, and, when delivered, said pistol shall be securely wrapped and shall be unloaded. However, if the purchaser does not have a valid permanent Washington driver's license or state identification card or has not been a resident of the state for the previous consecutive ninety days, the waiting period under this subsection (1)(c) shall be up to sixty days.

(2) In any case under subsection (1)(c) of this section where the applicant has an outstanding warrant for his or her arrest from any court of competent jurisdiction for a felony or misdemeanor, the seller shall hold the delivery of the pistol until the warrant for arrest is served and satisfied by appropriate court appearance. The local jurisdiction for purposes of the sale shall confirm the existence of outstanding warrants within seventy-two hours after notification of the application to purchase a pistol is received. The local jurisdiction shall also immediately confirm the satisfaction of the warrant on request of the seller so that the hold may be released if the warrant was for a crime other than a crime of violence.

(3) In any case where the chief or sheriff of the local jurisdiction has reasonable grounds based on the following circumstances: (a) Open criminal charges, (b) pending criminal proceedings, (c) pending commitment proceedings, (d) an outstanding warrant for a crime of violence, or (e) an arrest for a crime of violence if the records of disposition have not yet been reported or entered sufficiently to determine eligibility to purchase a pistol, the local jurisdiction may hold the sale and delivery of the pistol beyond five days up to thirty days in order to confirm existing records in this state or elsewhere. After thirty days, the hold will be lifted unless an extension of the thirty days is approved by a local district court or municipal court for good cause shown. An applicant shall be notified of each hold placed on the sale by local law enforcement and of any application to the court for additional hold period to confirm records or confirm the identity of the applicant.

(4) At the time of applying for the purchase of a pistol, the purchaser shall sign in ~~((duplicate))~~ triplicate and deliver to the seller an application containing his or her full name, address, ~~((occupation))~~ place of birth, and the date and hour of the application; the applicant's driver's license number or state identification card number; and a description of the weapon including, the make, model, caliber and manufacturer's number; and a statement that the purchaser is eligible to own a pistol under RCW 9.41.040. The application shall contain a warning substantially as follows:

CAUTION: Although state and local laws do not differ, federal law and state law on the possession of firearms differ. If you are prohibited by federal law from possessing a firearm, you may be prosecuted in federal court. State permission to purchase a firearm is not a defense to a federal prosecution.

The purchaser shall be given a copy of the department of game pamphlet on the legal limits of the use of firearms, firearms safety, and the fact that local laws and ordinances on firearms are preempted by state law and must be consistent with state law.

The seller shall, by the end of the business day, sign and attach his or her address and deliver the original of the application and such other documentation as required under subsection (1) of this section to the chief of police of the municipality or the sheriff of the county of which the seller is a resident. The seller shall deliver the pistol to the purchaser following the period of time specified in this section unless the seller is notified in writing by the chief of police of the municipality or the sheriff of the county, whichever is applicable, denying the purchaser's application to purchase and the grounds thereof. The application shall not be denied unless the purchaser fails to meet the requirements specified in RCW 9.41.040. The chief of police of the municipality or the county sheriff shall maintain a file containing the original of the application to purchase a pistol.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 5. A new section is added to chapter 9.41 RCW to read as follows:

After a public hearing, the department of game shall publish a pamphlet on firearms safety and the legal limits of the use of firearms. The pamphlet shall include current information on firearms laws and regulations and state preemption of local firearms laws. This pamphlet may be used in the department's hunter safety education program and shall be provided to the department of licensing for distribution to firearms dealers and persons authorized to issue concealed pistol licenses. The department of game shall reimburse the department of licensing for costs associated with distribution of the pamphlet.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 6. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected."

On motion of Senator Talmadge, the following title amendment was adopted:

On page 1, line 1 of the title, after "to" strike the remainder of the title and insert "state preemption of local firearms laws; amending RCW 9.41.290, 9.41.070, and 9.41.090; adding new sections to chapter 9.41 RCW; and prescribing penalties."

On motion of Senator Talmadge, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3450 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3450.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3450 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 34; nays, 14; excused, 1.

Voting yea: Senators Bailey, Barr, Bauer, Bender, Bluechel, Bottiger, Conner, DeJarnatt, Gaspard, Goltz, Granlund, Halsan, Hansen, Hayner, Johnson, Kreidler, Lee, McDonald, McManus, Metcalfe, Moore, Newhouse, Owen, Patterson, Peterson, Rasmussen, Stratton, Talmadge, Thompson, Vognilid, von Reichbauer, Warnke, Wojahn, Zimmerman - 34.

Voting nay: Senators Cantu, Craswell, Deccio, Fleming, Garrett, Guess, Kiskaddon, McCaslin, McDermott, Pullen, Rinehart, Saling, Sellar, Williams - 14.

Excused: Senator Benitz - 1.

ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 3450, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 3265, by Senators Kreidler, Zimmerman, Talmadge, Granlund and Goltz

Reducing bond money available for waste systems capable of producing renewable energy or energy saving.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Kreidler, Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 3265 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 3265 and the second substitute bill was advanced to second reading and read the second time.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Newhouse: "Mr. President, I rise to a point of order. I wonder if this bill is properly before us. It addresses an initiative of about five years ago--1980, approved by the people and changes the purposes for which the initiative moneys are to be spent. It is a bond issue. If you read Article VIII, Section 3 of the Constitution, it says, 'these moneys must be authorized by law for some single work or object to be distinctly specified therein.' That was done--in the law and it is 43.99F-.040 of our statute, which is the wording of the initiative and it says, 'at least $150 million of the proceeds of the bonds authorized by this chapter shall be used exclusively for waste management systems capable of producing renewable energy or energy savings as a result of the management of the waste.' I contend that this changes the purposes for which the people have authorized these bonds and is, therefore, illegal.

"I know you hesitate to rule on constitutionality, but I don't think we can address those sections of the law in that manner."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Vognild, further consideration of Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 3265 was deferred.

MOTION FOR RECONSIDERATION

Having served prior notice, Senator Warnke moved that the Senate now reconsider the vote by which Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 3827 failed to pass the Senate on March 21, 1985.

Senator Sellar demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the motion by Senator Warnke to reconsider the vote by which Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 3827 failed to pass the Senate.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll and the motion by Senator Warnke carried by the following vote: Yeas, 26; nays, 22; excused, 1.

Voting yea: Senators Bauer, Bender, Bottiger, Conner, DeJarnatt, Fleming, Garrett, Gaspard, Goltz, Granlund, Halsan, Hansen, Kreidler, McDermott, McManus, Moore, Owen, Peterson, Rinehart, Stratton, Talmadge, Thompson, Vognild, Warnke, Williams, Wojahn - 26.

Voting nay: Senators Bailey, Barr, Bluechel, Cantu, Craswell, Deccio, Guess, Hayner, Johnson, Kiskaddon, Lee, McCaslin, McDonald, Metcalf, Newhouse, Patterson, Pullen, Rasmussen, Saling, Sellar, von Reichbauer, Zimmerman - 22.

Excused: Senator Benitz - 1.

The Senate resumed consideration of Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 3827, on reconsideration.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Bottiger, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 3827 was returned to second reading and read the second time.

MOTIONS

Senator Kreidler moved that the following amendment be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION, Sec. 1. The long-range environmental goals for the state of Washington must include the protection of the state's critical water bodies for the health, safety, and enjoyment of its people, and the economic use of water by providing facilities and systems among others, for the general control, abatement, collection, treatment, or disposal of nonradioactive liquid waste materials. The purpose of this chapter is to provide financial assistance to the state and local governments in the achievement of federal and state water pollution control requirements for the protection and utilization of the state's critical water resources.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 2. For the purpose of providing funds for the planning, design, acquisition, construction, and improvement of public waste disposal and management facilities in this state, the state finance committee is authorized to issue as specified herein general obligation bonds of the state of Washington in the sum of four hundred million dollars, or so much thereof as may be required to finance the improvements defined in this chapter and all costs incidental thereto. Bond proceeds may be used to pay administrative costs and other costs incidental to such projects and to the issuance of such bonds including, but not limited to, salaries and costs of officials and employees of the state and costs of insurance or credit enhancement agreements. The department may not use or permit the use of any funds derived from the sale of bonds authorized by this chapter for the support of increased capacity for development or growth.

These bonds shall be paid and discharged within thirty years of the date of issuance. Bonds authorized in this section shall be sold in such manner, at such time or times, in such amounts and at such price as the state finance committee shall determine. No such bonds may be offered for sale without prior legislative appropriation of the net proceeds of the sale of the bonds. The state finance committee may obtain insurance or letters of credit and may authorize the execution and delivery of agreements, promissory notes, and other obligations for the purpose of insuring the payment or enhancing the marketability of bonds authorized in this section. Promissory notes or other obligations issued pursuant to this section shall not constitute a debt or the contracting of indebtedness under any constitutional or statutory indebtedness limitation if their payment is conditioned upon the failure of the state to pay the principal of or interest on the bonds with respect to which the same relate.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 3. The proceeds from the sale of bonds authorized by this chapter shall be deposited in the 1985 water pollution control facilities account hereby created in the general fund and shall be used exclusively for the purpose specified in this chapter and for payment of the expenses incurred in the issuance and sale of the bonds.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 4. The proceeds from the sale of the bonds deposited in the state and local improvements revolving account--waste disposal facilities 1985 of the general fund under the terms of this chapter shall be administered by the state department of ecology subject to legislative appropriation. The department may use or permit the use of any funds derived from the sale of bonds authorized under this chapter to accomplish the purpose for which the bonds are issued by direct expenditures and by grants or loans to public bodies, including grants to public bodies as cost-sharing funds in any case where federal, local, or other funds are made available on a cost-sharing basis for improvements within the purposes of this chapter. The department shall ensure that grants of funds authorized under this chapter do not constitute more than fifty percent of the total eligible cost of any liquid waste disposal or management facility. The department shall also ensure that any combination of grants and loans of funds authorized under this chapter or by a federal agency shall not exceed seventy-five percent of the eligible cost of any liquid waste disposal or management facility. Not more than two percent of the proceeds of the bond issue may be used by the department of ecology in relation to the administration of the expenditures, grants, and loans.

The department of ecology shall present a progress report on use of bond proceeds to the legislature no later than November 30th of each year.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 5. The department shall allocate from those funds authorized by this chapter in the following manner:

- (1) No more than two hundred forty-three million five hundred thousand dollars for construction of pollution control facilities that discharge directly into Puget Sound;
- (2) No more than twenty-two million five hundred thousand dollars for projects involving direct discharge into the straits of Juan De Fuca, Georgia, and Rosario;
- (3) No more than nine million dollars for projects involving direct discharges into other marine estuaries within Washington state;
- (4) No more than sixty-seven million dollars for construction of facilities that will protect from contamination sole source aquifers as designated under the federal safe drinking water act, and other groundwater bodies as designated by the department, including but not limited to the Spokane-Rathdrum Prairie Aquifer; and
- (5) No more than fifty-eight million dollars and such sums that may be remaining in the categories specified in subsections (1) through (4) of this section, for construction of waste disposal and management facilities that result in water quality improvement of fresh and marine waters.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 6. When allocating funds appropriated by the legislature to the projects within the categories described in section 5 of this act, the department of ecology shall take into consideration the following:

- (1) The protection of water quality and public health;
- (2) The level of local fiscal effort calculated per capita since 1972 in financing water quality improvements;
- (3) Regulatory actions established in federal and state compliance orders;
- (4) The cost of improvements mandated by federal and state agencies;
- (5) The amount of state general fund revenue collected in the area served by a local project sponsor;
- (6) The recommendations of the Puget Sound water quality authority and any other board, council, commission, or group established by the legislature to study water pollution control issues around the state; and
- (7) Geographical distribution.

One-half of one percent of the total authorized by the legislature each biennium may be used to provide funds to local bodies to prepare feasibility studies on joint development and other alternative methods of financing waste water treatment facilities. Public bodies receiving funds for investigating the feasibility of alternative waste water financing methods shall not have their standing on the department of ecology grant funding priority list jeopardized.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 7. Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

- (1) "Waste disposal and management facilities" means any facilities or systems owned or operated by a public body for the control, collection, storage, treatment, disposal, recycling, or recovery of nonradioactive liquid wastes, including but not limited to sanitary sewage, storm water, residential, industrial, commercial, and agricultural wastes, and concentrations of organic sediments, inorganic nutrients, and toxic materials which are causing environmental degradation and loss of the beneficial use of the environment. Waste disposal and management facilities may include all equipment, utilities, structures, real property, and interest in and improvements on real property necessary for or incidental to such purpose. As used in this chapter, the phrase "waste disposal and management facilities" shall not include the acquisition of equipment used to collect residential or commercial garbage.

(2) "Public body" means the state of Washington or any agency, political subdivision, taxing district, or municipal corporation thereof, an agency of the federal government, and those Indian tribes now or hereafter recognized as such by the federal government.

(3) "Control" means those measures necessary to maintain and/or restore the beneficial uses of critical state water resources including, but not limited to, the diversion, sedimentation, flocculation, dredge and disposal, or containment or treatment of nutrients, organic waste, and toxic material to restore the beneficial use of the state's critical water resources and prevent the continued pollution of these resources.

(4) "Planning" means the development of comprehensive plans for the purpose of identifying critical water resource needs for specific waste disposal facilities as well as the development of plans specific to a particular project.

(5) "Critical water resource" means those significant water bodies in jeopardy of further degradation causing irreparable deterioration.

(6) "Department" means the department of ecology.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. Both principal of and interest on the bonds authorized by section 2 of this act shall be payable from the water pollution control facilities bond redemption fund. The state finance committee may provide that a special account be created in such fund to facilitate payment of such principal and interest.

The state finance committee shall, on or before June 30th of each year, certify to the state treasurer the amount required for principal and interest on such bonds in accordance with the provisions of the bond proceedings. The state treasurer shall withdraw from any general state revenues received in the state treasury and deposit in the waste disposal facilities bond redemption fund, or a special account in such fund, such amounts and at such times as are required by the bond proceedings. The owner of each of the bonds or the trustee for any of the bonds may by mandamus or other appropriate proceeding require the transfer and payment of funds as directed in this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. The legislature may provide additional means for raising moneys for the payment of the principal and interest of the bonds authorized in this chapter, and this chapter shall not be deemed to provide an exclusive method for such payment.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. The bonds authorized in this chapter shall be a legal investment for all state funds or for funds under state control and for all funds of any other public body.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. The total authorization of this chapter shall be reduced by such sums as specifically appropriated in lieu of bond sales authorized by this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. Sections 1 through 11 of this act shall constitute a new chapter in Title 43 RCW."

Senator Barr moved that the following amendment by Senators Barr and Kreidler to the amendment be adopted:

On page 5, line 27 of the amendment, after "waters" insert: ", specifically including waste disposal and management facilities that result in water quality improvement of inland lakes the funding of which shall be given a high priority by the department"

Debate ensued.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Kreidler, and there being no objection, his name was removed as being a sponsor of the amendment to the amendment.

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bottiger: "Senator Zimmerman, this was identified as a reason why some people couldn't vote for the bill, so there was an agreement to add it in so that we could get thirty votes. Are you telling me that if it's in we have enough support for it or are you telling me that it doesn't make any difference, you aren't going to vote for it anyhow?"

Senator Zimmerman: "Were saying that in the improvement of the bill, this makes sense. I think it's a matter of policy. It's good sense. Now, we're not in any way talking about the votes on the bill."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senator Barr to the Kreidler amendment.

The motion by Senator Barr carried and the amendment to the amendment was adopted.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment, as amended.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Saling: "Senator Kreidler, one page 5 of your amendment, line 15-- and a little bit before that--we're talking about sole source aquifers and particularly mentioned is the Spokane Rathdrum Prairie Aquifer, but also, in the language it states 'that the money designated for that particular area, also, is designated for other ground water bodies, as designated by the Department.' Would you explain what that other ground water body would be, please?"

Senator Kreidler: "Thank you, Senator. Obviously, there might be some other aquifers that would qualify in the same fashion that the Spokane aquifer would meet this criteria and I would certainly interpret it to mean that the funds could be expended for other purposes that would be similar to what is being identified with the Spokane aquifer."

Senator Saling: "In other words, if there is irrigation in Ephrata for wheat fields, that comes from ground water and there was a problem with that like a lowering water table--some of the monies by virtue of the Department itself making the designation--it says in your language, that money could go for that purpose."

Senator Kreidler: "If it met the criteria being a sole source aquifer--"

Senator Saling: "I don't believe it says that, does it, Senator?"

Senator Kreidler: "If you would allow me to finish--if it meets that criteria of being a sole source aquifer, then it would be in that particular category. However, my understanding is that there are a few other sole source aquifers that would be available for that consideration and then, secondly, certainly would be a part of the process of ranking as to where the need exists.

"Obviously, the need is most pronounced in the Spokane area and I can't imagine, from my conversations with the Department, that any other would ever outrank them, but obviously, we want to make sure that the money goes where it will do the most good for the most people."

Senator Saling: "Is there any guarantee that Spokane will get any specific amount of money from this designated amount?"

Senator Kreidler: "No more than any community that may have a secondary treatment facility or otherwise. It's a matter of setting up a criteria. I think it's very appropriate this body always consider that when we're dealing with an issue like this--that we don't go out with the idea of necessarily pork barreling for our own community. We try to look for the total interest of the people of the state of Washington, setting up categories that will certainly be--undoubtedly provide funds for Spokane and would certainly provide funds for the general overall area of the Puget Sound--are the most appropriate things we could be doing without establishing specific criteria."

Further debate ensued.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Barr: "Mr. President, having a short memory and being a slow learner, too, in relation to the five o'clock-- on this measure, now--that we are working it. Can we continue to work it after five o'clock?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "Yes, Senator."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senator Kreidler, as amended.

The motion by Senator Kreidler carried and the amendment, as amended, was adopted.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Kreidler, the rules were suspended. Reengrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 3827 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Reengrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 3827.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Reengrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 3827 and the bill failed to pass the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 26; nays, 22; excused, 1.

Voting yea: Senators Bauer, Bender, Bottiger, Conner, DeJarnatt, Fleming, Garrett, Gaspard, Goltz, Granlund, Halsan, Hansen, Kreidler, McDermott, McManus, Moore, Owen, Peterson, Rinehart, Stratton, Talmadge, Thompson, Vognild, Warnke, Williams, Wojahn - 26.

Voting nay: Senators Bailey, Barr, Bluechel, Cantu, Craswell, Deccio, Guess, Hayner, Johnson, Kiskaddon, Lee, McCaslin, McDonald, Metcalf, Newhouse, Patterson, Pullen, Rasmussen, Saling, Sellar, von Reichbauer, Zimmerman - 22.

Excused: Senator Benitz - 1.

REENGROSSED SECOND SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 3827, having failed to receive the constitutional 60% majority, was declared lost.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Bottiger, the Senate resumed consideration of Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 3265, deferred on second reading earlier today.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator McDonald: "Mr. President, it appears to me that it's after five o'clock which puts us beyond the cutoff of the Senate Concurrent Resolution."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "It is 5:15, however, the Senate had started considering Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 3265 and the President has always permitted at least one bill in that particular situation to be considered after the cutoff resolution. Actually, the reason it was delayed was to give the President the opportunity to properly evaluate the point of order presented by Senator Newhouse."

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "The President believes that Senator Newhouse's point of order raises a constitutional issue on which the President respectfully declines to rule.

"The President believes Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 3265 has followed the appropriate legislative process and is, therefore, properly before the Senate."

MOTION

Senator Barr moved that the following amendment be adopted:

On page 2, beginning on line 17, strike everything down to line 1 on page 3, and insert in lieu thereof the following:

"(2) At least fifty million dollars of the unobligated proceeds of the bonds authorized by this chapter remaining as of June 30, 1985, shall be used by this chapter remaining as of June 30, 1985, shall be used exclusively for municipal waste water disposal and management facilities in this state. Any remaining unobligated funds shall be available for the general purposes authorized by this chapter."

Debate ensued.

Senator McDonald demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

MOTION

At 5:21 p.m., on motion of Senator Bottiger, the Senate adjourned until 11:45 a.m., Monday, March 25, 1985.

JOHN A. CHERBERG, President of the Senate.

SID SNYDER, Secretary of the Senate.

SECOND READING

HOUSE BILL NO. 312, by Representatives O'Brien, P. King, Long, Smitherman, Holland, Wang, L. Smith and Day

Revising the minimum school hours and day requirements for private schools.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Metcalf moved that the following amendment be adopted:

On page 1, line 28, after "RCW 28A.58.754", insert a new subsection and renumber the following subsections consecutively:

"(2) If a child of mandatory attendance age is attending an unapproved private school which is operated as part of a church educational ministry, the parents, guardians or custodians of the child shall not be subject to the twenty-five dollar fine imposed by penalties under RCW 28A.27.100. As used herein, "church educational ministry" means an educational ministry that is integral to and inseparable from its sponsoring religious organization offering educational programs for children"

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Gaspard: "Mr. President, a point of order. If you will look at the bill before us, it deals with the minimum amount of school days for approved private schools and the amendment that Senator Metcalf has presented talks about mandatory attendance and also addresses itself to the church educational ministries in a different section of the RCWs and because of that, I would suggest that it is beyond the scope and object of the bill before us."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Bender, further consideration of HB 312 was deferred.

SECOND READING

SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 850, by Committee on Commerce and Labor (originally sponsored by Representatives Cole, Appelwick, G. Nelson, Wang, Tilly, Ebersole, O'Brien, Taylor, Berozoff, D. Nelson and Jacobsen)

Continuing and modifying regulation of landscape architects.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Warnke, the rules were suspended, Substitute House Bill No. 850 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Warnke, under this bill, would I be prohibited from landscaping my widow neighbor's property?"

Senator Warnke: "No."

Senator Rasmussen: "I could do any of that work that I wanted to do?"

Senator Warnke: "Yes, you could."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Substitute House Bill No. 850.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Substitute House Bill No. 850 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 40; nays, 5; absent, 1; excused, 3.

Voting yea: Senators Bauer, Bender, Benitz, Bluechel, Bottiger, Cantu, Conner, Deccio, DeJarnatt, Fleming, Garrett, Gaspard, Goltz, Granlund, Halsan, Hansen, Hayner, Johnson, Kiskaddon, Kreidler, Lee, McDonald, McManus, Moore, Newhouse, Owen, Patterson, Peterson, Rasmussen, Rinehart, Saling, Sellar, Stratton, Talmadge, Thompson, Vognild, von Reichbauer, Warnke, Williams, Zimmerman - 40.

There being no objection, the Senate resumed consideration of House Bill No. 312 and the pending amendment by Senator Metcalf on page 1, line 28, deferred earlier today.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "In ruling upon the point of order raised by Senator Gaspard, the President finds that House Bill No. 312 is a measure revising the minimum school hours and day requirements for private schools.

"The amendment proposed by Senator Metcalf exempts the parents of children attending private schools operated as a part of a church ministry from certain monetary penalties for violating the compulsory school attendance law.

"The President, therefore, finds that the proposed amendment does change the scope and object of the bill and that the point of order is well taken."

The amendment was ruled out of order.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Gaspard, the rules were suspended, House Bill No. 312 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Saling: "Senator Gaspard, the passage of this bill would make it possible for private schools to cut their school year to say--one hundred seventy-five days, if they still maintained the proper number of hours that the public schools gave to a given subject. Is there any intention on the part of the Education Committee or the Senate to, sometime in the future, reduce the school year for the public schools to something less than one hundred eighty days so that they could join the private schools in longer school days?"

Senator Gaspard: "Senator Saling, of course, this applies to approved private schools. Secondly, they would still be required by the basic education law--the program offerings, and thirdly, to your question, the only area that we have looked at in shortening the school year for public schools was a proposal for a pilot project to have a longer school day and shortening the school year, but those proposals have not been acted upon favorably as of yet."

Senator Saling: "So, if I understand your statement, there is no intention by this measure to start a trend to reduce the school year for public schools?"

Senator Gaspard: "Senator Saling, that is correct. There is no intention to have this apply to public schools."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of House Bill No. 312.

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of House Bill No. 312 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 46; excused, 3.

Excused: Senators Bailey, Guess, Wojahn - 3.

HOUSE BILL NO. 312, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Bender, Senators Bauer and Goltz were excused.

On motion of Senator Warnke, the rules were suspended, Substitute House Bill No. 16 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Sec. 9. Section 11.92.040, chapter 145, Laws of 1965 as last amended by section 12, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.92.040 are each reenacted to read as follows:

It shall be the duty of the guardian or limited guardian:

(1) To make out and file within three months after his or her appointment a verified inventory of all the property of the incompetent or disabled person which comes to his or her possession or knowledge, including a statement of all encumbrances, liens, and other secured charges on any item;

(2) To file annually, within thirty days after the anniversary date of the guardian's or limited guardian's appointment, and also within thirty days after termination of the appointment, a written verified account of the administration: PROVIDED, That the court in its discretion may allow reports at intervals of up to thirty-six months, with instruction to the guardian or limited guardian that any substantial increase in income or assets or substantial change in the incompetent's or disabled person's condition shall be reported within thirty days of the substantial increase or change;

(3) Consistent with the powers granted by the court, if he or she is a guardian or limited guardian of the person, to care for and maintain the incompetent or disabled person, assert his or her rights and best interests, and provide timely, informed consent to necessary medical procedures, and if the incompetent or disabled person is a minor, to see that the incompetent or disabled person is properly trained and educated and that the incompetent or disabled person has the opportunity to learn a trade, occupation, or profession. The guardian or limited guardian of the person may be required to report the condition of his or her incompetent or disabled person to the court, at regular intervals or otherwise as the court may direct: PROVIDED, That no guardian, limited guardian, or standby guardian may involuntarily commit for mental health treatment, observation, or evaluation an alleged incompetent or disabled person who is, himself or herself, unable or unwilling to give informed consent to such commitment unless the procedures for involuntary commitment set forth in chapters 71.05 or 72.23 RCW are followed: PROVIDED FURTHER, That nothing in this section shall be construed to allow a guardian, limited guardian, or standby guardian to consent to:

(b) Surgery solely for the purpose of psychosurgery;

(c) Amputation;

(d) Other psychiatric or mental health procedures which are intrusive on the person's body integrity, physical freedom of movement, or the rights set forth in RCW 71.05.370.

A guardian, limited guardian, or standby guardian who believes such procedures to be necessary for the proper care and maintenance of the incompetent or disabled person shall petition the court for an order unless the court has previously approved that procedure within thirty days immediately past. The court may make such order only after an attorney is appointed in accordance with RCW 11.88.045, as now or hereafter amended, if none has heretofore appeared, notice is given, and a hearing is held in accordance with RCW 11.88.040, as now or hereafter amended:

(4) If he or she is a guardian or limited guardian of the estate, to protect and preserve it, to apply it as provided in this chapter, to account for it faithfully, to perform all of the duties required by law, and at the termination of the guardianship or limited guardianship, to deliver the assets of the incompetent or disabled person to the persons entitled thereto. Except as provided to the contrary herein, the court may authorize a guardian or limited guardian to do anything that a trustee can do under the provisions of RCW 11.98.070 for a period not exceeding one year from the date of the order or for a period corresponding to the interval in which the guardian's or limited guardian's report is required to be filed by the court pursuant to subsection (2) of this section, whichever period is longer;

(5) To invest and reinvest the property of the incompetent or disabled person in accordance with the rules applicable to investment of trust estates by trustees as provided in chapter 11.100 RCW, except that:

Such prior order of the court may authorize specific investments, or, in the discretion of the court, may authorize the guardian or limited guardian during a period not exceeding one year following the date of the order or for a period corresponding to the interval in which the guardian's or limited guardian's report is required to be filed by the court pursuant to subsection (2) of this section, whichever period is longer, to invest and reinvest as provided in chapter 11.100 RCW without further order of the court;

(b) If it is for the best interests of the incompetent or disabled person that a specific property be used by the incompetent or disabled person rather than sold and the proceeds invested, the court may so order;

(6) To apply to the court for an order authorizing any disbursement on behalf of the incompetent or disabled person: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That the guardian or limited guardian of the estate, or the person, department, bureau, agency, or charitable organization having the care and custody of an incompetent or disabled person, may apply to the court for an order directing the guardian or limited guardian of the estate to pay to the person, department, bureau, agency, or charitable organization having the care and custody of an incompetent or disabled person, or if the guardian or limited guardian of the estate has the care and custody of the incompetent or disabled person, directing the guardian or limited guardian of the estate to apply an amount weekly, monthly, quarterly, semi-annually, or annually, as the court may direct, to be expended in the care, maintenance, and education of the incompetent or disabled person and of his or her dependents. In proper cases, the court may order payment of amounts directly to the incompetent or disabled person for his or her maintenance or incidental expenses. The amounts authorized under this section may be decreased or increased from time to time by direction of the court. If payments are made to another under an order of the court, the guardian or limited guardian of the estate is not bound to see to the application thereof.

Sec. 10. Section 13, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.92.140 are each reenacted to read as follows:

The court, upon the petition of a guardian of the estate of an incompetent or disabled person (collectively hereafter referred to in this section as "incompetent"), other than the guardian of a minor, and after such notice as the court directs and other notice to all persons interested as required by chapter 11.96 RCW, may authorize the guardian to take any action, or to apply funds not required for the incompetent's own maintenance and support, in any fashion the court approves as being in keeping with the incompetent's wishes so far as they can be ascertained and as designed to minimize insofar as possible current or prospective state or federal income and estate taxes, and to provide for gifts to such charities, relatives, and friends as would be likely recipients of donations from the incompetent.

The action or application of funds may include but shall not be limited to the making of gifts, to the conveyance or release of the incompetent's contingent and expectant interests in property including marital property rights and any right of survivorship incident to joint tenancy or tenancy by the entirety, to the exercise or release of the incompetent's powers as donee of a power of appointment, the making of contracts, the creation of revocable or irrevocable trusts of property of the incompetent's estate which may extend beyond the incompetent's disability or life, the exercise of options of the incompetent to purchase securities or other property, the exercise of the incompetent's right to elect options and to change beneficiaries under insurance and annuity policies and the surrendering of policies for their cash value, the exercise of the incompetent's right to any elective share in the estate of the incompetent's deceased spouse, and the renunciation or disclaimer of any interest acquired by testate or intestate succession or by inter vivos transfer.

The guardian in the petition shall briefly outline the action or application of funds for which approval is sought, the results expected to be accomplished thereby and the tax savings expected to accrue. The proposed action or application of funds may include gifts of the incompetent's personal or real property. Gifts may be for the benefit of prospective legatees, devisees, or heirs apparent of the incompetent, or may be made to individuals or charities in which the incompetent is believed to have an interest. Gifts may or may not, in the discretion of the court, be treated as advancements to donees who would otherwise inherit property from the incompetent under the incompetent's will or under the laws of descent and distribution. The guardian shall also indicate in the petition that any planned disposition is consistent with the intentions of the incompetent insofar as the intentions can be ascertained, and if the incompetent's intentions cannot be ascertained, the incompetent will be presumed to favor reduction in the incidence of the various forms of taxation and the partial distribution of the incompetent's estate as provided in this section. The guardian shall not, however, be required to include as a beneficiary any person whom there is reason to believe would be excluded by the incompetent. No guardian may be required to file a petition as provided in this section, and a failure or refusal to so petition the court does not constitute a breach of the guardian's fiduciary duties.

Sec. 11. Section 11.92.150, chapter 145, Laws of 1965 as last amended by section 14, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.92.150 are each reenacted to read as follows:

At any time after the issuance of letters of guardianship in the estate of any incompetent or disabled person, any person interested in the estate, or in the incompetent or disabled person, or any relative of the incompetent or disabled person, or any authorized representative of any agency, bureau, or department of the United States government from or through which any compensation, insurance, pension or other benefit is being paid, or is payable, may serve upon the guardian or limited guardian, or upon the attorney for the guardian or limited guardian, and file with the clerk of the court where the administration of the guardianship or limited guardianship estate is pending, a written request stating that special written notice is desired of any or all of the following matters, steps or proceedings in the administration of the estate:

- (1) Filing of petition for sales, exchanges, leases, mortgages, or grants of easements, licenses, or similar interests in any property of the estate.
- (2) Filing of all intermediate or final accountings or accountings of any nature whatsoever.
- (3) Petitions by the guardian or limited guardian for family allowances or allowances for the incompetent or disabled person or any other allowance of every nature from the funds of the estate.
- (4) Petitions for the investment of the funds of the estate.
- (5) Petition to terminate guardianship or limited guardianship or petition for adjudication of competency.
- (6) Petition for judicial proceedings under chapter 11.96 RCW.

The request for special written notice shall designate the name, address and post office address of the person upon whom the notice is to be served and no service shall be required under this section and RCW 11.92.160 as now or hereafter amended other than in accordance with the designation unless and until a new designation has been made.

When any account, petition, or proceeding is filed in the estate of which special written notice is requested, the court shall fix a time for hearing which shall allow at least ten days for service of the notice before the hearing; and notice of the hearing shall be served upon the person designated in the written request at least ten days before the date fixed for the hearing. The service may be made by leaving a copy with the person designated, or that person's authorized representative, or by mailing through the United States mail, with postage prepaid to the person and place designated.

Sec. 12. Section 1, chapter 202, Laws of 1959 as last amended by section 16, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.93.010 are each reenacted to read as follows:

Sec. 13. Section 2, chapter 202, Laws of 1959 as last amended by section 17, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.93.020 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(1) A person who is eighteen years or older may, outright or by a trust agreement executed during his or her lifetime or by will, make or provide for a gift of tangible or intangible personal property, including securities, money, life insurance policies, annuity contracts, or real property interests to a person who is a minor on the date of the gift or distribution:

(a) If the subject of the gift is a security in registered form, by registering it in the name of the donor, another person who is eighteen years or older, or a trust company, followed, in substance, by the words: "As custodian for (name of minor) under the Washington uniform gifts to minors act";

(b) If the subject of the gift is a security not in registered form, by delivering it to a person who is eighteen years or older other than the donor or a trust company accompanied by a statement of gift in the following form, in substance, signed by the donor and the person designated as custodian:

"GIFT UNDER THE WASHINGTON UNIFORM
GIFTS TO MINORS ACT

I, (name of donor), hereby deliver to (name of custodian) as custodian for (name of minor) under the Washington uniform gifts to minors act, the following property: (Insert an appropriate description of the tangible or intangible property delivered sufficient to identify it or them) (signature of donor) (name of custodian) hereby acknowledges receipt of the above described property as custodian for the above minor under the Washington uniform gifts to minors act.

Dated: (signature of custodian)";

(c) If the subject of the gift is money, by paying or delivering it to a broker or a financial institution for credit to an account in the name of the donor, another person who is eighteen years or older, or a trust company, followed, in substance, by the words: "As custodian for (name of minor) under the Washington uniform gifts to minors act";

(d) If the subject of the gift is a real property interest and constitutes a recordable interest or charge in or against real property in the records of the county auditor or recorder, by registering it in the name of the donor, another person who is eighteen years or older, or a trust company, followed, in substance, by the words: "As custodian for (name of minor) under the Washington uniform gifts to minors act";

(e) If the subject of the gift is a life insurance policy or annuity contract, by causing the ownership of the policy or contract to be registered with the issuing insurance company in the name of the donor, another person who is eighteen years or older, or a trust company, followed, in substance, by the words: "as custodian for (name of minor) under the Washington uniform gifts to minors act";

(f) If the gift is by will or as a distribution under a trust agreement, by the legal representative or trustee delivering the subject of the gift to the person, who is eighteen years or older, or a trust company designated by the decedent or settlor to serve as custodian for the minor under the Washington uniform gifts to minors act or similar uniform act of the domicile of the designated custodian and causing the subject of the gift to be registered in the name of that custodian, followed, in substance, by the words: "As custodian for (name of minor) under the Washington (or, alternatively, state of the custodian's domicile) uniform gifts to minor's act." If the decedent or settlor fails to designate a specific custodian or if the designated custodian dies or is unable or unwilling to serve, the legal representative, with the approval of the court having jurisdiction over the decedent's estate, or the trustee may designate a member of the minor's family who is eighteen years or older, a guardian of the minor, or a trust company as custodian. The legal representative or trustee may designate himself or herself as custodian, provided he or she falls within the class of persons or entities permitted in this subsection. The custodian's receipt constitutes a sufficient release and discharge of further accountability by the legal representative or trustee for the gift and acceptance of the custodianship by the custodian.

(2) Each gift made in a manner prescribed in subsection (1) of this section may be made to only one minor and only one person may be the custodian.

(3) A donor who makes a gift to a minor in a manner prescribed in subsection (1) of this section shall promptly do all things within his or her power to put the subject of the gift in the possession and control of the custodian, but neither the donor's failure to comply with this subsection, nor his or her designation of an ineligible person as custodian, nor renunciation by the person designated as custodian affects the consummation of the gift.

(4) The legal representative of an estate to whom a certificate of qualification, or letters testamentary or of administration are issued may, with the approval of the court having jurisdiction over the decedent's estate, or the trustee of a trust of which a minor is a distributee or beneficiary may pay or transfer to a custodian for the minor under this chapter or a similar uniform act of the jurisdiction in which the minor may be domiciled, in the form and manner prescribed in subsection (1) (a) through (e) of this section or comparable provisions of the uniform act of the other jurisdiction, any money, security, or other property qualifying for custodial gifts which is distributable to the minor. The legal representative or trustee may make distribution in this manner if the legal representative or the trustee deems it to be in the best interests of the minor, except where the decedent, settlor, or court authorizing the distribution has expressly directed that distribution of the property due that minor shall not be made in the manner provided for in this subsection. The legal representative, with the approval of the court having jurisdiction over the decedent's estate, or the trustee shall designate a member of the minor's family who is eighteen years or older, a guardian of the minor, or a trust company as custodian. The legal representative or trustee may designate himself or herself as custodian, provided he or she falls within the class of persons or entities permitted in this subsection. This chapter governs the custodianship in the same manner as though the legal representative or trustee were the donor. The custodian's receipt constitutes a sufficient release of the transferor and discharge of further accountability by the legal representative or trustee for the property distributed and acceptance of the custodianship by the custodian. Subject to specific directions in the governing instrument, no legal representative or trustee may be required to pay or transfer to a custodian property otherwise distributable to a minor. A failure or refusal to distribute property to a custodian as authorized in this section does not constitute a breach of the legal representative's or trustee's fiduciary duties.

(5) Only property that could be the subject of a lifetime gift under this chapter may be distributed under subsections (1)(f) and (4) of this section.

(6) This section is applicable to gifts made before or after January 1, 1985, and regardless of whether the persons who made the gifts are alive on that date.

Sec. 14. Section 3, chapter 202, Laws of 1959 as last amended by section 18, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.93.030 are each reenacted to read as follows:

(1) A gift made in a manner prescribed in this chapter is irrevocable and conveys to the minor indefeasibly vested legal title to the security, real property, life insurance policy, annuity contract or money given, but no guardian of the minor has any right, power, duty, or authority with respect to the custodial property except as provided in this chapter.

(2) By making a gift in a manner prescribed in this chapter, the donor incorporates in the gift all the provisions of this chapter and grants to the custodian, and to any issuer, transfer agent, bank, financial institution, life insurance company, broker or third person dealing with a person designated as custodian, the respective powers, rights, and immunities provided in this chapter.

Sec. 15. Section 4, chapter 202, Laws of 1959 as last amended by section 19, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.93.040 are each reenacted to read as follows:

(1) The custodian shall collect, hold, manage, invest and reinvest the custodial property.

(2) The custodian shall pay over to the minor for expenditure by the minor, or expend for the minor's benefit, so much of or all the custodial property as the custodian deems advisable for the support, maintenance, education, and benefit of the minor in the manner, at the time or times, and to the extent that the custodian in the custodian's discretion deems suitable and proper, with or without court order, with or without regard to the duty of the custodian or of any other person to support the minor or his or her ability to do so, and with or without regard to any other income or property of the minor which may be applicable or available for any such purpose.

(3) The court, on the petition of a parent or guardian of the minor or of the minor, if the minor has attained the age of fourteen years, may order the custodian to pay over to the minor for expenditure by the minor or to expend so much of or all the custodial property as is necessary for the minor's support, maintenance or education.

(4) To the extent that the custodial property is not so expended, the custodian shall deliver or pay it over to the minor on attaining the age of twenty-one years, or, if the minor dies before attaining the age of twenty-one years, the custodian shall thereupon deliver or pay it over to the estate of the minor.

(5) The custodian, notwithstanding statutes restricting investments by fiduciaries, shall invest and reinvest the custodial property as would a prudent person of discretion and intelligence who is seeking a reasonable income and the preservation of capital, except that the custodian may, in his or her discretion and without liability to the minor or the minor's estate, retain a security given to the minor in a manner prescribed in this chapter or hold money so given in an account in a financial institution to which it was paid or delivered by the donor.

(6) The custodian may sell, exchange, convert, surrender or otherwise dispose of custodial property in the manner, at the time or times, for the price or prices and upon the terms the custodian deems advisable. The custodian may vote in person or by general or limited proxy a security which is custodial property. The custodian may consent, directly or through a committee or other agent, to the reorganization, consolidation, merger, dissolution or liquidation of an issuer, a security which is custodial property, and to the sale, lease, pledge, or mortgage of any property by or to such an issuer, and to any other action by such an issuer. The custodian may execute and deliver any and all instruments in writing which the custodian deems advisable to carry out any power as custodian.

(7) The custodian shall register each security which is custodial property and in registered form in the name of the custodian, followed, in substance, by the words: "as custodian for (name of minor) under the Washington uniform gifts to minors act". The custodian shall hold all money which is custodial property in an account with a broker or in an insured financial institution in the name of the custodian, followed, in substance, by the words: "As custodian for (name of minor) under the Washington uniform gifts to minors act". The custodian shall keep all other custodial property separate and distinct from the custodian's own property in a manner to identify it clearly as custodial property.

(8) The custodian shall keep records of all transactions with respect to the custodial property and make them available for inspection at reasonable intervals by a parent or legal representative of the minor or by the minor, if the minor has attained the age of fourteen years.

(9) A custodian has, with respect to the custodial property, in addition to the rights and powers provided in this chapter, all the rights and powers which a guardian has with respect to property not held as custodial property, and all the rights and powers of a trustee under RCW 11.98.070.

(10) If the subject of the gift is a life insurance policy or annuity contract, the custodian:

(a) In the capacity as custodian, has all the incidents of ownership in the policy or contract to the same extent as if the custodian were the owner, except that the designated beneficiary of any policy or contract on the life of the minor shall be the minor's estate and the designated beneficiary of any policy or contract on the life of a person other than the minor shall be the custodian as custodian for the minor for whom the custodian is acting; and

(b) May pay premiums on the policy or contract out of the custodial property.

Sec. 16. Section 5, chapter 202, Laws of 1959 as amended by section 20, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.93.050 are each reenacted to read as follows:

(1) A custodian is entitled to reimbursement from the custodial property for reasonable expenses incurred in the performance of custodial duties.

(2) A custodian may act without compensation for services.

(3) Unless he or she is a donor, a custodian may receive from the custodial property reasonable compensation for his or her services determined by one of the following standards in the order stated:

(a) A direction by the donor when the gift is made; or

(b) An order of the court.

(4) Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, a custodian shall not be required to give a bond for the performance of his or her duties.

(5) A custodian not compensated for services is not liable for losses to the custodial property unless they result from bad faith, intentional wrongdoing, or gross negligence, or from failure to maintain the standard of prudence in investing the custodial property provided in this chapter.

Sec. 17. Section 6, chapter 202, Laws of 1959 as last amended by section 21, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.93.060 are each reenacted to read as follows:

No issuer, transfer agent, bank, life insurance company, broker or other person or financial institution acting on the instructions of or otherwise dealing with any person purporting to act as a donor or in the capacity of a custodian is responsible for determining whether the person designated as custodian by the purported donor or by the custodian or purporting to act as a custodian has been duly designated or whether any purchase, sale or transfer to or by or any other act of any person purporting to act in the capacity of custodian is in accordance with or authorized by this chapter, or is obliged to inquire into the validity or propriety under this chapter of any instrument of instructions executed or given by a person purporting to act as a donor or in the capacity of a custodian, or is bound to see to the application by any person purporting to act in the capacity of a custodian of any money or other property paid or delivered to the custodian. No issuer, transfer agent, bank, life insurance company, broker or other person or financial institution acting on any instrument of designation of a successor custodian, executed as provided in subsection (1) of RCW 11.93.070 by a minor to whom a gift has been made in a manner prescribed in this chapter, and who has attained the age of fourteen years, is responsible for determining whether the person designated by the minor as successor custodian has been duly designated, or is obliged to inquire into the validity or propriety under this chapter of the instrument of designation.

Sec. 18. Section 7, chapter 202, Laws of 1959 as last amended by section 22, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.93.070 are each reenacted to read as follows:

(1) Only a member of the minor's family who is eighteen years or older, a guardian of the minor, or a trust company is eligible to become successor custodian. A custodian may designate a successor by executing and dating an instrument of designation before a subscribing witness other than the successor; the instrument of designation may but need not contain the resignation of the custodian. If the custodian does not so designate a successor before the custodian dies or becomes legally incapacitated and the minor has attained the age of fourteen years, the minor may designate a successor custodian by executing an instrument of designation before a subscribing witness other than the successor. A successor custodian has all the rights, powers, duties, and immunities of a custodian designated in a manner prescribed by this chapter.

(2) The designation of a successor custodian as provided in subsection (1) takes effect as to each item of the custodial property when the custodian resigns, dies, or becomes legally incapacitated and the custodian or his or her legal representative:

(a) Causes the item if it is a security in registered form or a life insurance policy or annuity contract, to be registered, with the issuing insurance company in the case of a life insurance policy or annuity contract, in the name of the successor custodian followed, in substance, by the words: "As custodian for (name of minor) under the Washington uniform gifts to minors act"; and

(b) Delivers or causes to be delivered to the successor custodian any other item of the custodial property, together with the instrument of designation of the successor custodian or a true copy thereof and any additional instruments required for the transfer thereof to the successor custodian.

(3) A custodian who executes an instrument of designation of a successor containing the custodian's resignation as provided in subsection (1) of this section shall promptly do all things within his or her power to put each item of the custodial property in the possession and control of the successor custodian named in the instrument. The legal representative of a custodian who dies or becomes legally incapacitated shall promptly do all things within his or her power to put each item of the custodial property in the possession and control of the successor custodian named in an instrument of designation executed as provided in subsection (1) of this section by the custodian or, if none, by the minor if the minor has no guardian and has attained the age of fourteen years, or in the possession and control of the guardian of the minor if the minor has a guardian. If the custodian has executed as provided in subsection (1) of this section more than one instrument of designation, the custodian's legal representative shall treat the instrument dated on an earlier date as having been revoked by the instrument dated on a later date.

(4) If a person designated as custodian or as successor custodian by the custodian as provided in subsection (1) of this section is not eligible, dies, or becomes legally incapacitated before the minor attains the age of twenty-one years and if the minor has a guardian, the guardian of the minor shall be successor custodian. If the minor has no guardian and if no successor custodian who is eligible and has not died or become legally incapacitated has been designated as provided in subsection (1) of this section, a donor, his or her legal representative, the legal representative of the custodian, or an adult member of the minor's family may petition the court for the designation of a successor custodian.

(5) A donor, the legal representative of a donor, a successor custodian, a member of the minor's family who is eighteen years or older, or a guardian of the minor or the minor if the minor has attained the age of fourteen years, may petition the court that, for cause shown in the petition, the custodian be removed and a successor custodian be designated or, in the alternative, that the custodian be required to give bond for the performance of his or her duties.

(6) Upon the filing of a petition as provided in this section, the court shall grant an order, directed to the persons and returnable on such notice as the court may require, to show cause why the relief prayed for in the petition should not be granted and, in due course, grant such relief as the court finds to be in the best interests of the minor.

Sec. 19. Section 8, chapter 202, Laws of 1959 as amended by section 23, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.93.080 are each reenacted to read as follows:

(1) The minor, if the minor has attained the age of fourteen years, or the legal representative of the minor, a member of the minor's family who is eighteen years or older, or a donor or his or her legal representative may petition the court for an accounting by the custodian or the custodian's legal representative.

(2) The court, in a proceeding under this chapter or otherwise, may require or permit the custodian or the custodian's legal representative to account and, if the custodian is removed, shall so require and order delivery of all custodial property to the successor custodian and the execution of all instruments required for the transfer thereof.

Sec. 20. Section 10, chapter 202, Laws of 1959 and RCW 11.93.900 are each reenacted to read as follows:

This chapter may be cited as the "Washington uniform gifts to minors act".

Sec. 21. Section 9, chapter 202, Laws of 1959 and RCW 11.93.910 are each reenacted to read as follows:

(1) This chapter shall be so construed as to effectuate its general purpose to make uniform the law of those states which enact it.

(2) This chapter shall not be construed as providing an exclusive method for making gifts to minors.

Sec. 22. Section 7, chapter 88, Laws of 1967 ex. sess. and RCW 11.93.911 are each reenacted to read as follows:

The provisions of chapter 202, Laws of 1959 hereby amended as hereby amended shall be construed as a continuation of chapter 202, Laws of 1959 hereby amended according to the language employed and not as a new enactment. This amendment of chapter 202, Laws of 1959 hereby amended does not affect gifts made in a manner prescribed therein nor the powers, duties or immunities conferred by gifts in such manner upon custodians and persons dealing with custodians. The provisions of chapter 202, Laws of 1959 hereby amended as hereby amended henceforth apply, however, to all gifts made in a manner and form prescribed in chapter 202, Laws of 1959 hereby amended except insofar as such application impairs constitutionally vested rights.

Sec. 23. Section 25, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.93.912 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

All custodianships established prior to January 1, 1985, that have not been fully distributed as of that date shall not terminate upon the minor attaining the age of eighteen, but these custodianships shall remain operative until the minor reaches the age of twenty-one or sooner dies, except that, as to any custodianship established after August 9, 1971, but before January 1, 1985, a minor has the right after attaining the age of eighteen to demand delivery from the custodian of all or any portion of the custodianship property.

Sec. 24. Section 11, chapter 202, Laws of 1959 and RCW 11.93.920 are each reenacted to read as follows:

If any provision of this chapter or the application thereof to any person or circumstances is held invalid, the invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of the chapter which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this chapter are severable.

Sec. 25. Section 52, chapter 117, Laws of 1974 ex. sess. as amended by section 26, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.94.010 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(1) Whenever a principal designates another ~~(thee)~~ as his or her attorney in fact or agent, by a power of attorney in writing, and the writing contains the words "This power of attorney shall not be affected by disability of the principal," or "This power of attorney shall become effective upon the disability of the principal," or similar words showing the intent of the principal that the authority conferred shall be exercisable notwithstanding the principal's disability, the authority of the attorney in fact or agent is exercisable ~~(by the principal in the power)~~ on behalf of the principal as provided notwithstanding later disability or incapacity of the principal at law or later uncertainty as to whether the principal is dead or alive. All acts done by the attorney in fact or agent pursuant to the power during any period of disability or incompetence or uncertainty as to whether the principal is dead or alive have the same effect and inure to the benefit of and bind the principal or the principal's guardian or heirs, devisees, and personal representative as if the principal were alive, competent, and not disabled. A principal may nominate, by a durable power of attorney, the guardian or limited guardian of his or her estate or person for consideration by the court if protective proceedings for the principal's person or estate are thereafter commenced. The court shall make its appointment in accordance with the principal's most recent nomination in a durable power of attorney except for good cause or disqualification. If a guardian thereafter is appointed for the principal, the attorney in fact or agent, during the continuance of the appointment, shall account to the guardian rather than the principal. The guardian has the same power the principal would have had if the principal were not disabled or incompetent, to revoke, suspend or terminate all or any part of the power of attorney or agency.

(2) Persons shall place reasonable reliance on any determination of disability or incompetence as provided in the instrument that specifies the time and the circumstances under which the power of attorney document becomes effective.

Sec. 26. Section 53, chapter 117, Laws of 1974 ex. sess. as last amended by section 27, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.94.020 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(1) The death, disability, or incompetence of any principal who has executed a power of attorney in writing other than a power as described by RCW 11.94.010, does not revoke or terminate the agency as to the attorney in fact, agent, or other person who, without actual knowledge of the death, disability, or incompetence of the principal, acts in good faith under the power of attorney or agency. Any action so taken, unless otherwise invalid or unenforceable, binds the principal and the principal's heirs, devisees, and personal representatives.

(2) An affidavit, executed by the attorney in fact, or agent, stating that the attorney did not have, at the time of doing an act pursuant to the power of attorney, actual knowledge of the revocation or termination of the power of attorney by death, disability, or incompetence, is, in the absence of a showing of fraud or bad faith, conclusive proof of the nonrevocation or non-termination of the power at that time. If the exercise of the power requires execution and delivery of any instrument which is recordable, the affidavit when authenticated for record is likewise recordable.

(3) This section shall not be construed to alter or affect any provision for revocation or termination contained in the power of attorney.

~~((4) Any person may place reasonable reliance on any determination of disability or incompetence as provided in the instrument which specifies the time and the circumstances under which the power of attorney document becomes effective.))~~

Sec. 27. Section 28, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.94.030 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

If a principal, pursuant to RCW 11.94.010 or 11.94.020, has given a designated attorney in fact or agent all the principal's powers of absolute ownership or has used language to indicate that the attorney in fact or agent has all the powers the principal would have if alive and competent, then that language, notwithstanding chapter 30.22 RCW, includes the authority (1) to deposit and to make payments from any account in a financial institution, as defined in RCW 30.22.040, in the name of the principal, and (2) to enter any safe deposit box to which the principal has a right of access, subject to any contrary provision in any agreement governing the safe deposit box.

Sec. 28. Section 29, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.94.040 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

Any person acting without negligence and in good faith in reasonable reliance on a power of attorney shall not incur any liability thereby. Unless the document contains a time limit, the length of time which has elapsed from its date of execution shall not prevent a party from reasonably relying on the document. Unless the document contains a requirement that it be filed for record to be effective, a person ((may)) shall place reasonable reliance on it regardless of whether it is so filed.

Sec. 29. Section 30, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.94.050 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(1) ~~((Except as provided in subsection (2) of this section, even though))~~ Although a designated attorney in fact or agent has all powers of absolute ownership of the principal, or the document has language to indicate that the attorney in fact or agent shall have all the powers the principal would have if alive and competent, the attorney in fact or agent shall not have the power, unless specifically provided otherwise in the document: To make, amend, alter, or revoke any of the principal's wills, codicils, life insurance beneficiary designations, employee benefit plan beneficiary designations, trust agreements, community property agreements; to make any gifts of property owned by the principal; to make transfers of property to any trust (whether or not created by the principal) unless the trust benefits the principal alone and does not have dispositive provisions which are different from those which would have governed the property had it not been transferred into the trust, or to disclaim property.

(2) Nothing in subsection (1) of this section prohibits ~~((a spouse of a principal from acting as))~~ an attorney in fact or ~~((as an))~~ agent ~~((to make))~~ from making any transfer of resources not prohibited under RCW 74.09.532 when the transfer is for the purpose of qualifying the principal for medical assistance or the limited casualty program for the medically needy.

Sec. 30. Section 31, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.94.060 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

If a principal, pursuant to RCW 11.94.010 or 11.94.020, has given a designated attorney in fact or agent all the principal's powers of absolute ownership or has used language to indicate that the attorney in fact or agent has all the powers the principal would have if alive and competent, then these powers include the right to convey or encumber the principal's homestead.

Sec. 31. Section 1, chapter 160, Laws of 1955 as amended by section 33, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.95.010 are each reenacted to read as follows:

Any power exercisable by deed, will, or otherwise, other than a power in trust which is imperative, is releasable, either with or without consideration, by written instrument signed by the holder and delivered as hereinafter provided.

Sec. 32. Section 2, chapter 160, Laws of 1955 as amended by section 34, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.95.020 are each reenacted to read as follows:

A power which is releasable may be released with respect to the whole or any part of the property subject to the power and may also be released in such manner as to reduce or limit the persons or objects, or classes of persons or objects, in whose favor the powers would otherwise be exercisable. A release of a power shall not be deemed to make imperative a power which was not imperative prior to the release, unless the instrument of release expressly so provides.

Sec. 33. Section 3, chapter 160, Laws of 1955 as amended by section 35, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.95.030 are each reenacted to read as follows:

In order to be effective as a release of a power, the instrument of release must be delivered to any trustee or co-trustee of the property, and the person holding the property, to which the power relates. Delivery of a copy of the instrument of release may be made to the secretary of state, which shall from the time of delivery constitute notice of the release to all other persons.

Sec. 34. Section 4, chapter 160, Laws of 1955 as amended by section 36, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.95.040 are each reenacted to read as follows:

The enactment of RCW 11.95.010 through 11.95.050 shall not be construed to impair the validity of any release heretofore made which was otherwise valid when executed.

Sec. 35. Section 5, chapter 160, Laws of 1955 and RCW 11.95.050 are each reenacted to read as follows:

It shall be the duty of the secretary of state to mark each instrument of release filed in his office with a consecutive file number and with the date and hour of filing, and to note and index the filing in a suitable alphabetical index according to the name or names of the person or persons signing the same and containing a notation of the address or addresses of the signer or signers, if given in the instrument. The fee for filing is one dollar. The secretary of state shall deliver or mail to the person filing the instrument a receipt showing the filing number and date and hour of filing.

Sec. 36. Section 38, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.95.060 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(1) The holder of a testamentary or lifetime power of appointment may exercise the power by appointing property outright or in trust and may grant further powers to appoint. The powerholder may designate the trustee, powers, situs, and governing law for property appointed in trust.

(2) The holder of a testamentary power may exercise the power only by the powerholder's last will, signed before or after the effective date of the instrument granting the power, that manifests an intent to exercise the power and that identifies the instrument granting the power and its date. Unless the person holding the property subject to the power has within six months after the holder's death received written notice that the powerholder's last will has been admitted to probate or an adjudication of testacy has been entered with respect to the powerholder's last will in some jurisdiction, the person may, until the time the notice is received, transfer the property subject to appointment on the basis that the power has not been effectively exercised. The person holding the property shall not incur liability to anyone for transfers so made. A testamentary residuary clause is not deemed the exercise of a testamentary power.

(3) The holder of a lifetime power of appointment shall exercise that power only by delivering a written instrument, signed by the holder, to the person holding the property subject to the power. If the holder conditions the distribution of the appointed property on a future event, the written instrument may be ~~((made revocable until the event specified has occurred and shall specify the method of its revocation))~~ revoked in the same manner at any time before the property becomes distributable upon occurrence of the event specified, except that any contrary provisions in the written instrument exercising the power, including provisions stating the exercise of the power is irrevocable, shall be controlling. If the written instrument is revoked, the holder of the power may reappoint the property that was appointed in the instrument. In the absence of signing and delivery of such a written instrument, a lifetime power is not deemed exercised.

Sec. 37. Section 39, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.95.070 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(1) This chapter does not apply to any power as trustee described in and subject to RCW 11.98.019.

(2) Sections 33 through 36, 38, and 39, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and the 1984 recodification of RCW 64.24.050 as RCW 11.95.050 apply as of January 1, 1985, to all existing or subsequently created powers of appointment, but not to any power of appointment that expressly or by necessary implication make those 1984 changes inapplicable.

Sec. 38. Section 2, chapter 124, Laws of 1959 as amended by section 64, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.97.010 are each reenacted to read as follows:

The trustor of a trust may by the provisions of the trust relieve the trustee from any or all of the duties, restrictions, and liabilities which would otherwise be imposed by chapters 11.95, 11.98, 11.100, and 11.104 RCW and RCW 11.106.020, or may alter or deny any or all of the privileges and powers conferred by those provisions; or may add duties, restrictions, liabilities, privileges, or powers to those imposed or granted by those provisions. If any specific provision of those chapters is in conflict with the provisions of a trust, the provisions of the trust control whether or not specific reference is made in the trust to any of those chapters. In no event may a trustee be relieved of the duty to act in good faith and with honest judgment.

Sec. 39. Section 65, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.97.900 are each reenacted to read as follows:

This chapter applies to the provisions of chapters 11.95, 11.98, 11.100, and 11.104 RCW and to RCW 11.106.020.

Sec. 40. Section 1, chapter 124, Laws of 1959 as last amended by section 67, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.98.009 are each reenacted to read as follows:

Except as provided in this section, this chapter applies to express trusts executed by the trustor after June 10, 1959, and does not apply to resulting trusts, constructive trusts, business trusts where certificates of beneficial interest are issued to the beneficiary, investment trusts, voting trusts, trusts in the nature of mortgages or pledges, trusts created by the judgment or decree of a court not sitting in probate, liquidation trusts, or trusts for the sole purpose of paying dividends, interest, interest coupons, salaries, wages, pensions or profits, trusts created in deposits in any financial institution pursuant to chapter 30.22 RCW, unless any such trust which is created in writing incorporates this chapter in whole or in part.

Sec. 41. Section 3, chapter 124, Laws of 1959 as amended by section 68, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.98.016 are each reenacted to read as follows:

(1) Any power vested in three or more trustees jointly may be exercised by a majority of such trustees; but no trustee who has not joined in exercising a power is liable to the beneficiaries or to others for the consequences of such exercise; nor is a dissenting trustee liable for the consequences of an act in which that trustee joins at the direction of the majority of the trustees, if that trustee expressed his or her dissent in writing to each of the co-trustees at or before the time of such joinder.

(2) Where two or more trustees are appointed to execute a trust and one or more of them for any reason does not accept the appointment or having accepted ceases to be a trustee, the survivor or survivors shall execute the trust and shall succeed to all the powers, duties and discretionary authority given to the trustees jointly.

(3) An individual trustee, with a co-trustee's consent, may, by a signed, written instrument, delegate any power, duty, or authority as trustee to that co-trustee. This delegation is effective upon delivery of the instrument to that co-trustee and may be revoked at any time by delivery of a similar signed, written instrument to that co-trustee. However, if a power, duty, or authority is expressly conferred upon only one trustee, it shall not be delegated to a co-trustee. If that power, duty, or authority is expressly excluded from exercise by a trustee, it shall not be delegated to the excluded trustee.

(4) If one trustee gives written notice to all other co-trustees of an action that the trustee proposes be taken, then the failure of any co-trustee to deliver a written objection to the proposal to the trustee, at the trustee's then address of record and within fifteen days from the date the co-trustee actually receives the notice, constitutes formal approval by the co-trustee, unless the co-trustee had previously given written notice that was unrevoked at the time of the trustee's notice, to that trustee that this fifteen-day notice provision is inoperative.

(5) As to any effective delegation made under subsection (3) of this section, a co-trustee has no liability for failure to participate in the administration of the trust.

Nothing in this section, however, otherwise excuses a co-trustee from liability for failure to participate in the administration of the trust and nothing in this section, including subsection (3) of this section, excuses a co-trustee from liability for the failure to attempt to prevent a breach of trust.

Sec. 42. Section 69, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.98.019 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

Any (~~individual co-trustee~~) trustee may, by written instrument delivered to ~~((a))~~ any then acting co-trustee and to the current adult income beneficiaries of the trust, relinquish to any extent and upon any terms any or all of the trustee's powers, rights, authorities, or discretions that are or may be tax sensitive in that they cause or may cause adverse tax consequences to the trustee or the trust. Any trustee not relinquishing such a power, right, authority, or discretion and upon whom it is conferred continues to have full power to exercise it.

Sec. 43. Section 4, chapter 124, Laws of 1959 and RCW 11.98.029 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

~~((Upon petition of the trustee of a trust, the superior court having jurisdiction may accept his resignation and discharge him from the trust upon such notice, if any, and upon such terms as such court may require.)) Any trustee may resign, without judicial proceedings, by a writing signed by the trustee and filed with the trust records, to be effective upon the trustee's discharge as provided in section 141 of this 1985 act.~~

Sec. 44. Section 5, chapter 124, Laws of 1959 as amended by section 72, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.98.039 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(1) Where a vacancy occurs in the office of the trustee and there is a successor trustee who is willing to serve as trustee and (a) is named in the governing instrument as successor trustee or (b) has been selected to serve as successor trustee under the procedure established in the governing instrument for the selection of a successor trustee, the outgoing trustee, or any other interested party, shall give notice of such vacancy, whether arising because of the trustee's resignation or because of any other reason, and of the successor trustee's agreement to serve as trustee, to all adult income beneficiaries of the trust and to all known and identifiable adults for whom the income of the trust is being accumulated. If there are no such adults, no notice need be given. The successor trustee named in the governing instrument or selected pursuant to the procedure therefor established in the governing instrument shall be entitled to act as trustee except for good cause or disqualification. The successor trustee shall serve as of the effective date of the discharge of the predecessor trustee as provided in RCW 11.98.040.

(2) Where a vacancy exists or occurs in the office of the trustee and there is no successor trustee who is named in the governing instrument or who has been selected to serve as successor trustee under the procedure established in the governing instrument for the selection of a successor trustee, and who is willing to serve as trustee, the beneficiaries and the then-acting trustee, if any, of a trust may agree for the nonjudicial change of the trustee under RCW 11.96.170 ((if the governing instrument does not name a successor trustee who is willing to serve)). The trustee, or any beneficiary if there is no then-acting trustee, shall give written notice of the proposed change in trustee to every beneficiary or special representative, and to the trustor if alive. The notice shall: (a) State the name and mailing address of the trustee or the beneficiary giving the notice; (b) include a copy of the governing instrument; ((and)) (c) state the name and mailing address of the successor trustee; and (d) include a copy of the proposed successor trustee's agreement to serve as trustee. The notice shall advise the recipient of the right to petition for ((the)) a judicial ((determination of the proposed)) appointment or change in trustee as provided in subsection ((2)) (3) of this section. The notice shall include a form on which consent or objection to the proposed change in trustee may be indicated. The successor trustee shall serve as of the effective date of the discharge of the predecessor trustee as provided in section 141 of this 1985 act or, in circumstances where there is no predecessor trustee, as of the effective date of the trustee's appointment.

((2)) (3) Any beneficiary of a trust, the trustor if alive, or the trustee may petition the superior court having jurisdiction for the appointment or change of a trustee under the procedures provided in chapter 11.96 RCW (a) whenever the office of trustee becomes vacant, (b) upon filing of a petition of resignation by a trustee, ((or)) (c) upon the giving of notice of the change in trustee as referred to in subsection (1) or (2) of this section, or (d) for any other reasonable cause.

((f3)) (4) For purposes of this subsection, the term fiduciary includes both trustee and personal representative.

(a) Except as otherwise provided in the governing instrument, a successor fiduciary, absent actual knowledge of a breach of fiduciary duty: (i) Is not liable for any act or omission of a predecessor fiduciary and is not obligated to inquire into the validity or propriety of any such act or omission; (ii) Is authorized to accept as conclusively accurate any accounting or statement of assets tendered to the successor fiduciary by a predecessor fiduciary; and (iii) is authorized to receipt only for assets actually delivered and has no duty to make further inquiry as to undisclosed assets of the trust or estate.

(b) Nothing in this section relieves a successor fiduciary from liability for retaining improper investments, nor does this section in any way bar the successor fiduciary, trust beneficiaries, or other party in interest from bringing an action against a predecessor fiduciary arising out of the acts or omissions of the predecessor fiduciary, nor does it relieve the successor fiduciary of liability for its own acts or omissions except as specifically stated or authorized in this section.

Sec. 45. Section 74, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.98.045 are each reenacted to read as follows:

(1) A trustee may transfer trust assets to a trustee in another jurisdiction or may transfer the place of administration of a trust to another jurisdiction if the trust instrument so provides or in accordance with RCW 11.98.051 or 11.98.055.

(2) Transfer under this section is permitted only if:

(a) The transfer would facilitate the economic and convenient administration of the trust;

(b) The transfer would not materially impair the interests of the beneficiaries or others interested in the trust;

(c) The transfer does not violate the terms of the trust; and

(d) The new trustee is qualified and able to administer the trust or such assets on the terms set forth in the trust.

(3) Acceptance of such transfer by a foreign corporate trustee or trust company under this section, RCW 11.98.051, or 11.98.055 shall not be construed to be doing a "trust business" as described in RCW 30.08.150(9).

Sec. 46. Section 75, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.98.051 are each reenacted to read as follows:

(1) The trustee may transfer trust assets or the place of administration in accordance with RCW 11.96.170. In addition, the trustee shall give written notice to those persons entitled to notice as provided for under RCW 11.96.100 and 11.96.110 and to the attorney general in the case of a charitable trust subject to chapter 11.110 RCW. The notice shall:

(a) State the name and mailing address of the trustee;

(b) Include a copy of the governing instrument of the trust;

(c) Include a statement of assets and liabilities of the trust dated within ninety days of the notice;

(d) State the name and mailing address of the trustee to whom the assets or administration will be transferred together with evidence that the trustee has agreed to accept the assets or trust administration in the manner provided by law of the new place of administration. The notice shall also contain a statement of the trustee's qualifications and the name of the court, if any, having jurisdiction of that trustee or in which a proceeding with respect to the administration of the trust may be heard;

(e) State the facts supporting the requirements of RCW 11.98.045(2);

(f) Advise the beneficiaries of the right to petition for judicial determination of the proposed transfer as provided in RCW 11.98.055; and

(g) Include a form on which the recipient may indicate consent or objection to the proposed transfer.

(2) If the trustee receives written consent to the proposed transfer from all persons entitled to notice, the trustee may transfer the trust assets or place of administration as provided in the notice. Transfer in accordance with the notice is a full discharge of the trustee's duties in relation to all property referred to therein. Any person dealing with the trustee is entitled to rely on the authority of the trustee to act and is not obliged to inquire into the validity or propriety of the transfer.

Sec. 47. Section 76, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.98.055 are each reenacted to read as follows:

(1) Any trustee, beneficiary, or beneficiary representative may petition the superior court of the county of the situs of the trust for a transfer of trust assets or transfer of the place of administration in accordance with chapter 11.96 RCW.

(2) At the conclusion of the hearing, if the court finds the requirements of RCW 11.98.045(2) have been satisfied, it may direct the transfer of trust assets or the place of trust administration on such terms and conditions as it deems appropriate. The court in its discretion may provide for payment from the trust of reasonable fees and expenses for any party to the proceeding. Delivery of trust assets in accordance with the court's order is a full discharge of the trustee's duties in relation to all transferred property.

Sec. 48. Section 6, chapter 124, Laws of 1959 and RCW 11.98.060 are each reenacted to read as follows:

A successor trustee of a trust shall succeed to all the powers, duties and discretionary authority of the original trustee.

Sec. 49. Section 78, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.98.065 are each reenacted to read as follows:

Any appointment of a specific bank, trust company, or corporation as trustee is conclusively presumed to authorize the appointment or continued service of that entity's successor in interest in the event of a merger, acquisition, or reorganization, and no court proceeding is necessary to affirm the appointment or continuance of service.

Sec. 50. Section 7, chapter 124, Laws of 1959 as amended by section 80, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.98.070 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(29) Retain and store such items of tangible personal property as the trustee selects and pay reasonable storage charges thereon from the trust estate;

(30) Issue proxies to any adult beneficiary of a trust for the purpose of voting stock of a corporation acting as the trustee of the trust;

(31) Place all or any part of the securities at any time held by the trustee in the care and custody of any bank, trust company, or member firm of the New York Stock Exchange with no obligation while the securities are so deposited to inspect or verify the same and with no responsibility for any loss or misapplication by the bank, trust company, or firm, so long as the bank, trust company, or firm was selected and retained with reasonable care, and have all stocks and registered securities placed in the name of the bank, trust company, or firm, or in the name of its nominee, and to appoint such bank, trust company, or firm agent as attorney to collect, receive, receipt for, and disburse any income, and generally may perform, but is under no requirement to perform, the duties and services incident to a so-called "custodian" account;

(32) Determine at any time that the corpus of any trust is insufficient to implement the intent of the trust, and upon this determination by the trustee, terminate the trust by distribution of the trust to the current income beneficiary or beneficiaries of the trust or their legal representatives, except that this determination may only be made by the trustee if the trustee is neither the grantor nor the beneficiary of the trust, and if the trust has no charitable beneficiary;

(33) Rely with acquittance on advice of counsel on questions of law; and

(34) Continue to be a party to any existing voting trust agreement or enter into any new voting trust agreement or renew an existing voting trust agreement with respect to any assets contained in trust.

Sec. 51, Section 81, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.98.080 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(1) Two or more trusts may be consolidated if:

(a) The trusts so provide; or

(b) Whether provided in the trusts or not, in accordance with subsection (2) of this section, if all interested persons consent as provided in subsection (2)(~~(e)~~)(b) of this section and the requirements of subsection (1)(d) of this section are satisfied; or

(c) Whether provided in the trusts or not, in accordance with subsection (3) of this section if the requirements of subsection (1)(d) of this section are satisfied;

(d) Consolidation under subsection (2) or (3) of this section is permitted only if:

(i) The dispositive provisions of each trust to be consolidated are substantially similar;

(ii) Consolidation is not inconsistent with the intent of the trustor with regard to any trust to be consolidated; and

(iii) Consolidation would facilitate administration of the trusts and would not materially impair the interests of the beneficiaries;

(e) Trusts may be consolidated whether created inter vivos or by will, by the same or different instruments, by the same or different trustors, whether the trustees are the same, and regardless of where the trusts were created or administered.

(2) The trustees of two or more trusts may consolidate the trusts on such terms and conditions as appropriate without court approval as provided in RCW 11.96.170.

(a) The trustee shall give written notice of proposed consolidation by personal service or by certified mail to the beneficiaries of every trust affected by the consolidation as provided in RCW 11.96.100 and 11.96.110 and to any trustee of such trusts who does not join in the notice. The notice shall: (i) State the name and mailing address of the trustee; (ii) include a copy of the governing instrument of each trust to be consolidated; (iii) include a statement of assets and liabilities of each trust to be consolidated, dated within ninety days of the notice; (iv) fully describe the terms and manner of consolidation; and (v) state the reasons supporting the requirements of subsection (1)(d) of this section. The notice shall advise the recipient of the right to petition for a judicial determination of the proposed consolidation as provided in subsection (3) of this section. The notice shall include a form on which consent or objection to the proposed consolidation may be indicated.

(b) If the trustee receives written consent to the proposed consolidation from all persons entitled to notice as provided in RCW 11.96.100 and 11.96.110, the trustee may consolidate the trusts as provided in the notice. Any person dealing with the trustee of the resulting consolidated trust is entitled to rely on the authority of that trustee to act and is not obliged to inquire into the validity or propriety of the consolidation under this section.

(3)(a) Any trustee, beneficiary, or special representative may petition the superior court of the county in which the principal place of administration of a trust is located for an order consolidating two or more trusts under chapter 11.96 RCW. If nonjudicial consolidation has been commenced pursuant to subsection (2) of this section, a petition may be filed under this section unless the trustee has received all necessary consents. The principal place of administration of the trust is the trustee's usual place of business where the records pertaining to the trust are kept, or the trustee's residence if the trustee has no such place of business.

(b) At the conclusion of the hearing, if the court finds that the requirements of subsection (1)(d) of this section have been satisfied, it may direct consolidation of two or more trusts on such terms and conditions as appropriate. The court in its discretion may provide for payment from one or more of the trusts of reasonable fees and expenses for any party to the proceeding.

(4) This section applies to all trusts whenever created.

Sec. 52. Section 8, chapter 124, Laws of 1959 as amended by section 83, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.98.090 are each reenacted to read as follows:

In the absence of knowledge of a breach of trust, no party dealing with a trustee is required to see to the application of any moneys or other properties delivered to the trustee.

Sec. 53. Section 9, chapter 124, Laws of 1959 as amended by section 84, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.98.100 are each reenacted to read as follows:

When the happening of any event, including but not limited to such events as marriage, divorce, performance of educational requirements, or death, affects the administration or distribution of the trust, then a trustee who has exercised reasonable care to ascertain the happening of the event is not liable for any action or inaction based on lack of knowledge of the event. A corporate trustee is not liable prior to receiving such knowledge or notice in its trust department office where the trust is being administered.

Sec. 54. Section 10, chapter 124, Laws of 1959 as last amended by section 85, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.98.110 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

As used in this section, a trust includes a probate estate, and a trustee includes a personal representative. The words "trustee" and "as trustee" mean "personal representative" and "as personal representative" where this section is being construed in regard to personal representatives.

Actions on contracts which have been transferred to a trust and on contracts made by a trustee, and actions in tort for personal liability incurred by a trustee in the course of administration may be maintained by the party in whose favor the cause of action has accrued as follows:

(1) The plaintiff may sue the trustee in the trustee's representative capacity and any judgment rendered in favor of the plaintiff is collectible by execution out of the trust property; PROVIDED, HOWEVER, if the action is in tort, collection shall not be had from the trust property unless the court determines in the action that (a) the tort was a common incident of the kind of business activity in which the trustee or the trustee's predecessor was properly engaged for the trust; or (b) that, although the tort was not a common incident of such activity, neither the trustee nor the trustee's predecessor, nor any officer or employee of the trustee or the trustee's predecessor, was guilty of personal fault in incurring the liability; or (c) that, although the tort did not fall within classes (a) or (b) above, it increased the value of the trust property. If the tort is within classes (a) or (b) above, collection may be had of the full amount of damage proved, and if the tort is within class (c) above, collection may be had only to the extent of the increase in the value of the trust property.

(2) If the action is on a contract made by the trustee, the trustee may be held personally liable on the contract, if personal liability is not excluded. Either the addition by the trustee of the words "trustee" or "as trustee" after the signature of a trustee to a contract or the transaction of business as trustee under an assumed name in compliance with chapter 19.80 RCW excludes the trustee from personal liability. If the action is on a contract transferred to the trust or trustee, subject to any rights therein vested at time of the transfer, the trustee is personally liable only if he or she has in writing assumed that liability.

(3) In any such action against the trustee in the trustee's representative capacity the plaintiff need not prove that the trustee could have secured reimbursement from the trust fund if the trustee had paid the plaintiff's claim.

(4) The trustee may also be held personally liable for any tort committed by him or her, or by his or her agents or employees in the course of their employments, subject to the rights of exoneration or reimbursement:

(a) A trustee who has incurred personal liability for a tort committed in the administration of the trust is entitled to exoneration therefor from the trust property if (i) the tort was a common incident of the kind of business activity in which the trustee was properly engaged for the trust, or (ii) although the tort was not a common incident of such activity, if neither the trustee nor any officer or employee of the trustee was guilty of personal fault in incurring the liability;

(b) A trustee who commits a tort which increases the value of the trust property is entitled to exoneration or reimbursement with respect thereto to the extent of such increase in value, even though the trustee would not otherwise be entitled to exoneration or reimbursement.

(5) The procedure for all actions provided in this section is as provided in chapter 11.96 RCW.

(6) Nothing in this section shall be construed to change the existing law with regard to the liability of the trustee of a charitable trust for the torts of the trustee.

Sec. 55. Section 11.98.010, chapter 145, Laws of 1965 as amended by section 87, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.98.130 are each reenacted to read as follows:

If any provision of an instrument creating a trust, including the provisions of any further trust created, or any other disposition of property made pursuant to exercise of a power of appointment granted in or created through authority under such instrument violates the rule against perpetuities, neither such provision nor any other provisions of the trust, or such further trust or other disposition, is thereby rendered invalid during any of the following periods:

- (1) The twenty-one years following the effective date of the instrument.
- (2) The period measured by any life or lives in being or conceived at the effective date of the instrument if by the terms of the instrument the trust is to continue for such life or lives.
- (3) The period measured by any portion of any life or lives in being or conceived at the effective date of the instrument if by the terms of the instrument the trust is to continue for such portion of such life or lives; and
- (4) The twenty-one years following the expiration of the periods specified in (2) and (3) above.

Sec. 56. Section 11.98.020, chapter 145, Laws of 1965 as amended by section 88, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.98.140 are each reenacted to read as follows:

If, during any period in which an instrument creating a trust, as described in RCW 11.98.130, or any provision thereof, is not to be rendered invalid by the rule against perpetuities, any of the trust assets should by the terms of the instrument or pursuant to any further trust or other disposition resulting from exercise of the power of appointment granted in or created through authority under such instrument, become distributable or any beneficial interest in any of the trust assets should by the terms of the instrument, or such further trust or other disposition become vested, such assets shall be distributed and such beneficial interest shall validly vest in accordance with the instrument, or such further trust or other disposition.

Sec. 57. Section 11.98.030, chapter 145, Laws of 1965 as amended by section 89, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.98.150 are each reenacted to read as follows:

If, at the expiration of any period in which an instrument creating a trust, as described in RCW 11.98.009, or any provision thereof, is not to be rendered invalid by the rule against perpetuities, any of the trust assets have not by the terms of the trust instrument become distributable or vested, then the assets shall be distributed as the superior court having jurisdiction directs, giving effect to the general intent of the creator of the trust or person exercising a power of appointment in the case of any further trust or other disposition of property made pursuant to the exercise of a power of appointment.

Sec. 58. Section 11.98.040, chapter 145, Laws of 1965 as amended by section 90, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.98.160 are each reenacted to read as follows:

For the purposes of this chapter the effective date of an instrument purporting to create an irrevocable inter vivos trust is the date on which it is executed by the trustor, and the effective date of an instrument purporting to create either a revocable inter vivos trust or a testamentary trust is the date of the trustor's or testator's death.

Sec. 59. Section 91, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.98.170 are each reenacted to read as follows:

(1) Any life insurance policy or retirement plan payment provision may designate as beneficiary:

(a) A trustee named or to be named by will, and immediately after the proving of the will, the proceeds of such insurance or of such plan designated as payable to that trustee, in part or in whole, shall be paid to the trustee in accordance with the beneficiary designation, to be held and disposed of under the terms of the will governing the testamentary trust; or

(b) A trustee named or to be named under a trust agreement executed by the insured, the plan participant, or any other person, and the proceeds of such insurance or retirement plan designated as payable to such trustee, in part or in whole, shall be paid to the trustee in accordance with the beneficiary designation, to be held and disposed of by the trustee as provided in such trust agreement; a trust is valid even if the only corpus consists of the right of the trustee to receive as beneficiary insurance or retirement plan proceeds; any such trustee may also receive assets, other than insurance or retirement plan proceeds, by testamentary disposition or otherwise and, unless directed otherwise by the transferor of the assets, shall administer all property of the trust according to the terms of the trust agreement.

(2) If no qualified trustee makes claim to the insurance policy or retirement plan proceeds from the insurance company or the plan administrator within twelve months after the death of the insured or plan participant, determination of the proper recipient of the proceeds shall be made pursuant to the judicial or nonjudicial dispute resolution procedures of chapter 11.96 RCW, unless prior to the institution of the judicial procedures, a qualified trustee makes claim to the proceeds, except that (a) if satisfactory evidence is furnished the insurance company or plan administrator within the twelve-month period showing that no trustee can or will qualify to receive such proceeds, payment shall be made to those otherwise entitled to the proceeds under the terms of the policy or retirement plan, including the terms of the beneficiary designation except that (b) if there is any dispute as to the proper recipient of insurance policy or retirement plan proceeds, the dispute shall be resolved pursuant to the judicial or nonjudicial resolution procedures in chapter 11.96 RCW.

(3) The proceeds of the insurance or retirement plan as collected by the trustee are not subject to debts of the insured or the plan participant to any greater extent than if the proceeds were payable to any named beneficiary other than the personal representative or the estate of the insured or of the plan participant.

(4) For purposes of this section the following definitions apply:

(a) "Plan administrator" means the person upon whom claim must be made in order for retirement plan proceeds to be paid upon the death of the plan participant.

(b) "Retirement plan" means any plan, account, deposit, annuity, or benefit, other than a life insurance policy, that provides for payment to a beneficiary designated by the plan participant for whom the plan is established. The term includes, without limitation, such plans regardless of source of funding, and, for example, includes pensions, annuities, stock bonus plans, employee stock ownership plans, profit sharing plans, self-employed retirement plans, individual retirement accounts, individual retirement annuities, and retirement bonds, as well as any other retirement plan or program.

(c) "Trustee" includes any custodian under chapter 11.93 RCW or any similar statutory provisions of any other state and the terms "trust agreement" and "will" refer to the provisions of chapter 11.93 RCW or such similar statutory provisions of any other state.

(5) Enactment of this section does not invalidate life insurance policy or retirement plan beneficiary designations executed prior to January 1, 1985, naming a trustee established by will or by trust agreement.

Sec. 62. Section 12, chapter 124, Laws of 1959 and RCW 11.98.920 are each reenacted to read as follows:

Sec. 65. Section 30.24.020, chapter 33, Laws of 1955 as amended by section 97, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.100.020 are each reenacted to read as follows:

(1) A fiduciary is authorized to acquire and retain every kind of property. In acquiring, investing, reinvesting, exchanging, selling and managing property for the benefit of another, a fiduciary, in determining the prudence of a particular investment, shall give due consideration to the role that the proposed investment or investment course of action plays within the overall portfolio of assets. In applying such total asset management approach, a fiduciary shall exercise the judgment and care under the circumstances then prevailing, which persons of prudence, discretion and intelligence exercise in the management of their own affairs, not in regard to speculation but in regard to the permanent disposition of their funds, and if the fiduciary has special skills or is named trustee on the basis of representations of special skills or expertise, the fiduciary is under a duty to use those skills.

(2) Except as may be provided to the contrary in the instrument, the following are among the factors that should be considered by a fiduciary in applying this total asset management approach:

(a) The probable income as well as the probable safety of their capital;

(b) Marketability of investments;

(c) Length of the term of the investments;

(d) Duration of the trust;

(e) Liquidity needs;

(f) Requirements of the beneficiary or beneficiaries;

(g) Other assets of the beneficiary or beneficiaries, including earning capacity; and

(h) Effect of investments in increasing or diminishing liability for taxes.

Within the limitations of the foregoing standard, and subject to any express provisions or limitations contained in any particular trust instrument, a fiduciary is authorized to acquire and retain every kind of property, real, personal, or mixed, and every kind of investment specifically including but not by way of limitation, debentures and other corporate obligations, and

Subject to the standards of RCW 11.100.020, a fiduciary is authorized to invest in new, unproven, untried, or other enterprises with a potential for significant growth whether producing a current return, either by investing directly therein or by investing as a limited partner or otherwise in one or more commingled funds which in turn invest primarily in such enterprises. The aggregate amount of investments (~~made~~) held by a fiduciary under the authority of this section valued at cost shall not exceed ten percent of the net fair market value of the trust corpus (~~at the time~~), including investments made under the authority of this section valued at fair market value, immediately after any such investment is made. Any investment which would have been authorized by this section if in force at the time the investment was made is hereby authorized.

Sec. 67. Section 99, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.100.025 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

A corporation doing a trust business may invest trust funds in savings accounts with itself to the extent that deposits are insured by an agency of the federal government. Additional trust funds may be so invested by the corporation only if it first sets aside under the control of its trust department as collateral security:

- (1) Direct obligations of the United States or other obligations fully guaranteed by the United States as to principal and interest; or
- (2) Bonds or other obligations which constitute general obligations of any state of the United States or municipal subdivision thereof.

The securities so deposited or securities substituted therefor as collateral shall at all times be at least equal in market value to the amount of the funds so deposited.

Funds held by a bank or trust company in a fiduciary capacity awaiting investment or distribution shall not be held uninvested or undistributed any longer than is reasonable for the proper management of the account. These funds, including managing agency accounts, may, unless prohibited by the instrument creating the trust or by other statutes of this state, be deposited in the commercial or savings or other department of the bank or trust company, only if the bank or trust company first sets aside under control of the trust department as collateral security:

- (1) Direct obligations of the United States or other obligations fully guaranteed by the United States as to principal and interest; or
- (2) Bonds or other obligations which constitute general obligations of any state of the United States or municipal subdivision thereof.

The securities so deposited or securities substituted therefor as collateral shall at all times be at least equal in market value to the amount of the funds so deposited, but such security shall not be required to the extent that the funds so deposited are insured by an agency of the federal government.

Sec. 71. Section 30.24.040, chapter 33, Laws of 1955 and RCW 11.100.040 are each reenacted to read as follows:

Nothing contained in this chapter shall be construed as restricting the power of a court of proper jurisdiction to permit a fiduciary to deviate from the terms of any will, agreement, or other instrument relating to the acquisition, investment, reinvestment, exchange, retention, sale, or management of fiduciary property.

Sec. 72. Section 30.24.050, chapter 33, Laws of 1955 as amended by section 107, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.100.050 are each reenacted to read as follows:

The provisions of this chapter govern fiduciaries acting under wills, agreements, court orders, and other instruments effective before or after January 1, 1985.

Sec. 73. Section 108, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.100.060 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

~~((Any fiduciary may hold during the life of the trust all securities or other property, real or personal, received into or acquired by the trust from any source, except such as are purchased by the fiduciary in administering the trust, unless there are express provisions to the contrary in the instrument))~~ Subject to express provisions to the contrary in the trust instrument, any fiduciary may hold and retain any real or personal property received into or acquired by the trust from any source. Except as to trust property acquired for consideration, a fiduciary may hold and retain any such property without need for diversification as to kinds or amount and whether or not the property is income producing.

Any fiduciary may invest funds held in trust under an instrument creating the trust in any manner and in any investment or in any class of investments authorized by the instrument.

The investments described in this section are permissible even though the securities or other property are not permitted under other provisions of this chapter, and even though the securities may be securities issued by the corporation that is the fiduciary.

A fiduciary is not liable for any loss incurred with respect to any investment held under the authority of or pursuant to this section if that investment was permitted when received or when the investment was made by the fiduciary, and if the fiduciary exercises due care and prudence in the disposition or retention of any such investment.

Sec. 74. Section 30.24.070, chapter 33, Laws of 1955 as amended by section 110, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.100.070 are each reenacted to read as follows:

The terms "legal investment" or "authorized investment" or words of similar import, as used in any such instrument, shall be taken to mean any investment which is permitted by the terms of RCW 11.100.020.

Unless the instrument creating the trust expressly provides to the contrary, any fiduciary in carrying out the obligations of the trust, may not buy or sell investments from or to himself, herself, or itself or any affiliated or subsidiary company or association. This section shall not be construed as prohibiting the trustee's powers under RCW 11.98.070(12).

Sec. 76. Section 1, chapter 89, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. as amended by section 112, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.100.120 are each reenacted to read as follows:

Sec. 77. Section 2, chapter 89, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. and RCW 11.100.130 are each reenacted to read as follows:

Whenever power or authority to direct or control the acts of a trustee or the investments of a trust is conferred directly or indirectly upon any person other than the designated trustee of the trust, such person shall be deemed to be a fiduciary and shall be liable to the beneficiaries of said trust and to the designated trustee to the same extent as if he were a designated trustee in relation to the exercise or nonexercise of such power or authority.

Sec. 78. Section 114, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.100.140 are each reenacted to read as follows:

(1) A trustee shall not enter into a significant nonroutine transaction in the absence of a compelling circumstance without:

(a) Providing the written notice called for by subsection (4) of this section; and
(b) If the significant nonroutine transaction is of the type described in subsection (2)(a) of this section, obtaining an independent appraisal, or selling in an open-market transaction.

(2) A "significant nonroutine transaction" for the purpose of this section is defined as any of the following:

(a) Any sale, option, lease, or other agreement, binding for a period of ten years or more, dealing with any interest in real estate other than real estate purchased by the trustee or a vendor's interest in a real estate contract, the value of which constitutes twenty-five percent or more of the net fair market value of trust principal at the time of the transaction; or

(b) The sale of any item or items of tangible personal property, including a sale of precious metals or investment gems other than precious metals or investment gems purchased by the trustee, the value of which constitutes twenty-five percent or more of the net fair market value of trust principal at the time of the transaction; or

(c) The sale of shares of stock in a corporation whose stock is not traded on the open market, if the stock in question constitutes more than twenty-five percent of the corporation's outstanding shares; or

(d) The sale of shares of stock in any corporation where the stock to be sold constitutes a controlling interest, or would cause the trust to no longer own a controlling interest, in the corporation.

(3) A "compelling circumstance" for the purpose of this section is defined as a condition, fact, or event that the trustee believes necessitates action without compliance with this section in order to avoid immediate and significant detriment to the trust. If faced with a compelling circumstance, the trustee shall give the notice called for in subsection (4) of this section and may thereafter enter into the significant nonroutine transaction without waiting for the expiration of the twenty-day period.

(4) The written notice required by this section shall set forth such material facts as necessary to advise properly the recipient of the notice of the nature and terms of the intended transaction. This notice shall be given to the trustor, if living, to each person who is eighteen years or older and to whom income is presently payable or for whom income is presently being accumulated for distribution as income and for whom an address is known to the trustee, and to the attorney general if the trust is a charitable trust under RCW 11.110.020. The notice shall be mailed by United States certified mail, postage prepaid, return receipt requested, to the recipient's last-known address, or may be personally served, at least twenty days prior to the trustee entering into any binding agreements.

(5) The trustor, if living, or persons entitled to notice under this section may, by written instrument, waive any requirement imposed by this section.

(6) Except as required by this section for nonroutine transactions defined in subsection (2) of this section, a trustee shall not be required to notify beneficiaries of a trust of the trustee's intended action, to obtain an independent appraisal, or to sell in an open-market transaction.

(7) Any person dealing with a trustee may rely upon the trustee's written statement that the requirements of this section have been met for a particular transaction. If a trustee gives such a statement, the transaction shall be final unless the party relying on the statement has actual knowledge that the requirements of this section have not been met.

(8) The requirements of this section, and any similar requirements imposed by prior case law, shall not apply to personal representatives or to those trusts excluded from the definition of express trusts under RCW 11.98.009.

Sec. 79. Section 30.28.010, chapter 33, Laws of 1955 as amended by section 1, chapter 105, Laws of 1979 and RCW 11.102.010 are each reenacted to read as follows:

Any bank or trust company qualified to act as fiduciary in this state, or in any other state if affiliated with a bank or trust company qualified to act as fiduciary in this state, may establish common trust funds for the purpose of furnishing investments to itself and its affiliated or related bank or trust company as fiduciary, or to itself and its affiliated or related bank or trust company, and others, as cotrustees; and may, as such fiduciary or cotrustee, invest funds which it lawfully holds for investment in interests in such common trust funds, if such investment is not prohibited by the instrument, judgment, decree, or order creating such fiduciary relationship, and if, in the case of cotrustees, the bank or trust company procures the consent of its cotrustee or cotrustees to such investment: PROVIDED, That any bank or trust company qualified to act as fiduciary in the state of its charter, which is not a member of the federal reserve system, shall, in the operation of such common trust fund, comply with the rules and regulations as made from time to time by the supervisor of banking in the state where chartered and in Washington the supervisor is hereby authorized and empowered to make such rules and regulations as he may deem necessary and proper in the premises.

"Affiliated" as used in this section means two or more banks or trust companies:

(1) In which twenty-five percent or more of their voting shares, excluding shares owned by the United States or by any company wholly owned by the United States, are directly or indirectly owned or controlled by a holding company; or

(2) In which the election of a majority of the directors is controlled in any manner by a holding company.

Sec. 80. Section 30.28.020, chapter 33, Laws of 1955 and RCW 11.102.020 are each reenacted to read as follows:

Unless ordered by a court of competent jurisdiction the bank or trust company operating such common trust funds is not required to render a court accounting with regard to such funds; but it may, by application to the superior court, secure approval of such an accounting on such conditions as the court may establish.

Sec. 81. Section 30.28.030, chapter 33, Laws of 1955 and RCW 11.102.030 are each reenacted to read as follows:

This chapter shall apply to fiduciary relationships in existence on June 11, 1943, or thereafter established.

Sec. 82. Section 30.28.040, chapter 33, Laws of 1955 and RCW 11.102.040 are each reenacted to read as follows:

This chapter shall be so interpreted and construed to effectuate its general purpose to make uniform the laws of those states which enact it.

Sec. 83. Section 30.28.050, chapter 33, Laws of 1955 and RCW 11.102.050 are each reenacted to read as follows:

This chapter may be cited as the uniform common trust fund act.

Sec. 84. Section 1, chapter 74, Laws of 1971 as amended by section 116, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.104.010 are each reenacted to read as follows:

As used in this chapter:

(1) "Income beneficiary" means the person to whom income is presently payable or for whom it is accumulated for distribution as income;

(2) "Inventory value" means the cost of property purchased by the trustee and the cost or adjusted basis for federal income tax purposes of other property at the time it became subject to the trust, but in the case of a trust asset that is included on any death tax return the trustee may, but need not, use the value finally determined for the purposes of the federal estate tax if applicable, otherwise for another estate or inheritance tax;

(3) "Remainderman" means the person entitled to principal, including income which has been accumulated and added to principal.

Sec. 85. Section 2, chapter 74, Laws of 1971 as amended by section 117, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.104.020 are each reenacted to read as follows:

(1) A trust shall be administered with due regard to the respective interests of income beneficiaries and remaindermen. A trust is so administered with respect to the allocation of receipts and expenditures if a receipt is credited or an expenditure is charged to income or principal or partly to each:

(a) In accordance with the terms of the trust instrument, notwithstanding contrary provisions of this chapter;

(b) In the absence of any contrary terms of the trust instrument, in accordance with the provisions of this chapter; or

(c) If neither of the preceding rules of administration is applicable, in accordance with what is reasonable and equitable in view of the interests of those entitled to income as well as of those entitled to principal, and in view of the manner in which persons of prudence, discretion, and intelligence would act in the management of their own affairs.

(2) If the trust instrument gives the trustee discretion in crediting a receipt or charging an expenditure to income or principal or partly to each, no inference of imprudence or partiality arises from the fact that the trustee has made an allocation consistent with the instrument but that is contrary to a provision of this chapter.

Sec. 86. Section 3, chapter 74, Laws of 1971 as amended by section 118, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.104.030 are each reenacted to read as follows:

(1) Income is the return in money or property derived from the use of principal, including:

(a) Rent of real or personal property, including sums received for cancellation or renewal of a lease;

(b) Interest on money lent, including sums received as consideration for the privilege of prepayment of principal except as provided in RCW 11.104.070 on bond premiums and bond discounts;

(d) Corporate distributions as provided in RCW 11.104.060;

(e) Increment in value on bonds or other obligations issued at a discount as provided in RCW 11.104.070;

(f) Receipts from business and farming operations as provided in RCW 11.104.080;

(h) Receipts from other principal subject to depletion as provided in RCW 11.104.110; and

(i) Receipts from disposition of underproductive property as provided in RCW 11.104.120.

(2) Principal is the property which has been set aside by the owner or the person legally empowered so that it is held in trust eventually to be delivered to a remainderman while the return on or use of the principal is in the meantime taken or received by or held for accumulation for an income beneficiary. Principal includes:

(a) Consideration received by the trustee on the sale or other transfer of principal or on repayment of a loan or as a refund or replacement or change in the form of principal;

(b) Proceeds of property taken on eminent domain proceedings;

(c) Proceeds of insurance upon property forming part of the principal except proceeds of insurance upon a separate interest of an income beneficiary;

(3) After determining income and principal in accordance with the terms of the trust instrument or of this chapter, the trustee shall charge to income or principal expenses and other charges as provided in RCW 11.104.130.

Sec. 87. Section 4, chapter 74, Laws of 1971 as amended by section 119, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.104.040 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(1) An income beneficiary is entitled to income from the date specified in the trust instrument, or, if none is specified, from the date an asset becomes subject to the trust. In the case of an asset becoming subject to a trust by reason of a will, it becomes subject to the trust as of the date of the death of the testator even though there is an intervening period of administration of the testator's estate.

(2) Subject to subsection (2) (a) and (b) of this section, in the administration of a decedent's estate or of an asset becoming subject to a trust by reason of a will all receipts paid on or before the date of death of the testator are principal and all receipts paid after that date are income.

(a) Notwithstanding the foregoing, receipts due but not paid on or before the date of death of the testator are principal; and

(b) Receipts in the form of periodic payments (other than corporate distributions to stockholders), including rent, interest, or annuities, not due on or before the date of the death of the testator shall be treated as accruing from day to day. That portion of the receipt accruing before the date of death is principal, and the balance is income.

(3) In all other cases, any receipt from an income producing asset is income even though the receipt was earned or accrued in whole or in part before the date when the asset became subject to the trust.

(4) On the termination of an income beneficiary's income interest, if such interest was not subject to any discretion to withhold, accumulate, or distribute income to or for any other beneficiary, then income on hand but undistributed belongs to that income beneficiary or that beneficiary's estate, except that if the income beneficiary is the surviving spouse of the testator or grantor of the trust and the income interest otherwise qualifies for the marital deduction on any federal estate or gift tax return, then all accrued but undistributed income is subject to a testamentary general power of appointment in the surviving spouse, exercisable (by will by specifically referring to this statute) as provided in RCW 11.95.060 by specific reference to this statutory provision, to appoint the same to ((the testator or grantor or)) himself or herself, or to his or her estate. All undistributed income not disposed of under the foregoing provisions of this subsection shall be held and distributed as part of the next eventual interest or estate in accordance with the provisions of the will or trust relating to such next eventual interest or estate.

(5) Corporate distributions to stockholders shall be treated as due on the date fixed by the corporation for determination of stockholders of record entitled to distribution, or if no date is fixed, on the date of declaration of the distribution by the corporation.

Sec. 88. Section 5, chapter 74, Laws of 1971 as amended by section 120, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.104.050 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(1) Unless the will or the court otherwise provides and subject to subsection (2) of this section, all expenses incurred in connection with the settlement of a decedent's estate, including debts, funeral expenses, estate taxes, interest due at death, and penalties concerning taxes, family allowances, fees of attorneys and personal representatives, and court costs shall be charged against the principal of the estate, except that the principal shall be reimbursed from income for any increase in estate taxes due to the use of administration expenses that were paid from principal as deductions for income tax purposes.

(2) Unless the will or the court otherwise provides, income from the assets of a decedent's estate after the death of the testator and before distribution, including income from property used to discharge liabilities, shall be determined in accordance with the rules applicable to a trust under this chapter and distributed as follows:

(a) To beneficiaries of any specific bequest, legacy, or devise, the income from the property bequeathed or devised to them respectively, less taxes, ordinary repairs, and other expenses of management and operation of the property, and appropriate portions of interest accrued since the death of the testator and of taxes imposed on income (excluding taxes on capital gains) which accrue during the period of administration;

(b) Subject to (c) of this subsection, to all other beneficiaries, including trusts, the balance of the income less the balance of taxes, ordinary repairs, and other expenses of management and operation of all property from which the estate is entitled to income, plus the balance of all income accrued since the death of the testator, and less the balance of all taxes imposed on income (excluding taxes on capital gains) which accrue during the period of administration, in proportion to their respective interests in the undistributed assets of the estate computed at times of distribution on the basis of the fair value, provided, that the amount of income earned before the date or dates of payment of any estate or inheritance tax shall be distributed to those beneficiaries in proportion to their interests immediately before the making of those payments; and

(c) Pecuniary bequests not in trust do not receive income, and, subject to the provisions of RCW 11.56.160, all such bequests, including those to the decedent's surviving spouse, are not allocated any share of the expenses identified in subsection (2)(b) of this section.

(3) Any income with respect to which the income taxes have been paid which is payable in whole or in part to one or more charitable or other tax exempt ((organization(s))) organiza-tions, and for which an income tax charitable deduction was allowable, shall be allocated among the distributees in such manner that the diminution in such taxes resulting from the charitable deduction allowable will inure to the benefit of the charitable or tax exempt organization giving rise to the deduction.

(4) Income received by a trustee under subsection (2) of this section shall be treated as income of the trust.

Sec. 89. Section 6, chapter 74, Laws of 1971 as amended by section 121, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.104.060 are each reenacted to read as follows:

(1) Corporate distributions of shares of the distributing corporation, including distributions in the form of a stock split or stock dividend, are principal. A right to subscribe to shares or other securities issued by the distributing corporation accruing to stockholders on account of their stock ownership and the proceeds of any sale of the right are principal.

(2) Except to the extent that the corporation indicates that some part of a corporate distribution is a settlement of preferred or guaranteed dividends accrued since the stock became a part of the trust corpus or is in lieu of an ordinary cash dividend, a corporate distribution is principal if the distribution is pursuant to:

(a) A call of shares;

(b) A merger, consolidation, reorganization, or other plan by which assets of the corporation are acquired by another corporation; or

(c) A total or partial liquidation of the corporation, including any distribution which the corporation indicates is a distribution in total or partial liquidation or any distribution of assets, other than cash, pursuant to a court decree or final administrative order by a government agency ordering distribution of the particular assets.

(3) Distributions made from ordinary income by a regulated investment company or by a trust qualifying and electing to be taxed under federal law as a real estate investment trust are income. All other distributions made by the company or trust, including distributions from capital gains, depreciation, or depletion, whether in the form of cash or an option to take new stock or cash or an option to purchase additional shares, are principal.

(4) Except as provided in subsections (1), (2), and (3) of this section all corporate distributions are income, including cash dividends, distributions of or rights to subscribe to shares or securities or obligations of corporations other than the distributing corporation, and the proceeds of the rights or property distributions. Except as provided in subsections (2) and (3) of this section, if the distributing corporation gives a stockholder an option to receive a distribution either in cash or in its own shares, the distribution chosen is income.

(5) The trustee may rely upon any statement of the distributing corporation as to any fact relevant under any provision of this chapter concerning the source or character of dividends or distributions of corporate assets.

Sec. 90. Section 7, chapter 74, Laws of 1971 as amended by section 122, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.104.070 are each reenacted to read as follows:

(1) Bonds or other obligations for the payment of money are principal at their inventory value, except as provided in subsection (2) for discount bonds. The trustee shall not provide for amortization of bond premiums or for accumulation of discount except where the trust instrument provides otherwise. If the instrument provides for amortization of premiums or accumulation of discount, but not both, and is silent as to one, it is the duty of the trustee to amortize premiums and accumulate discount. The proceeds of sale, redemption, or other disposition of the bonds or obligations are principal.

(2) The increment in value of a bond or other obligation for the payment of money bearing no fixed rate of interest or payable at a future time in accordance with a fixed schedule of appreciation in excess of the price at which it was issued is distributable as income. Except as otherwise provided in RCW 11.104.040(4), the increment in value is distributable to the beneficiary who was the income beneficiary at the time of increment from the first principal cash available or, if none is available, when realized by sale, redemption, or other disposition. Whenever unrealized increment is distributed as income but out of principal, the principal shall be reimbursed for the increment when realized.

Sec. 91. Section 8, chapter 74, Laws of 1971 as amended by section 123, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.104.080 are each reenacted to read as follows:

If a trustee uses any part of the principal in the operation of a trade, business or farming operation, the proceeds and losses of the business shall be allocated in accordance with what is reasonable and equitable in view of the interest of those entitled to income as well as those entitled to principal, and in view of the manner in which persons of prudence, discretion, and intelligence would act in the management of their own affairs in accordance with RCW 11.104.020. The operation of real estate for rent is considered a business.

Sec. 92. Section 9, chapter 74, Laws of 1971 as amended by section 124, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.104.090 are each reenacted to read as follows:

(1) If any part of the principal consists of a right to receive royalties, overriding or limited royalties, working interests, production payments, net profit interests, or other interests in minerals or other natural resources in, on or under land, the receipts from taking the natural resources from the land shall be allocated as follows:

(a) If received as rent on a lease or extension payments on a lease, the receipts are income;

(b) If received from a production payment, the receipts are income to the extent of any factor for interest or its equivalent provided in the governing instrument. There shall be allocated to principal the fraction of the balance of the receipts which the unrecovered cost of the production payment bears to the balance owed on the production payment exclusive of any factor for interest or its equivalent. The receipts not allocated to principal are income; and

(c) If received as a royalty, overriding or limited royalty, or bonus, or from a working, net profit, or any other interest in minerals or other natural resources, receipts not provided for in the preceding paragraphs of this section shall be apportioned on a yearly basis in accordance with this paragraph whether or not any natural resource was being taken from the land at the time the trust was established. Receipts shall be allocated to income or apportioned between income and principal at the discretion of the trustee, but in no event may principal be allocated more than that portion of the gross receipts that is deductible for federal income tax purposes during that year. The balance of the gross receipts, after payment therefrom of all expenses, direct and indirect, is income.

(2) If a trustee, on January 1, 1972, held an item of depletable property of a type specified in this section, the trustee shall allocate receipts from the property in the manner used before January 1, 1972, but as to all depletable property acquired after January 1, 1972 by an existing or new trust, the method of allocation provided herein shall be used.

(3) This section does not apply to timber, water, soil, sod, dirt, turf, or mosses.

Sec. 93. Section 12, chapter 74, Laws of 1971 as amended by section 125, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.104.120 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(1) Except as provided in subsection (5) of this section, a portion of the net proceeds of sale of any part of principal which is underproductive shall be treated as delayed income to which the income beneficiary is entitled as provided in this section. The net proceeds of sale are the gross proceeds received, including the value of any property received, less expenses, including any capital gains tax incurred in disposition, and less any carrying charges paid while the property was underproductive.

(2) The sum allocated as delayed income is the difference between the net proceeds and the amount which, had it been invested at simple interest at four percent per year while the property was underproductive, would have produced the net proceeds. This sum, plus any carrying charges and expenses previously charged against income while the property was underproductive, less any income received by the income beneficiary from the property and less the value of any use of the property by the income beneficiary, is income, and the balance is principal.

(3) Except as otherwise provided in RCW 11.104.040(4), an income beneficiary is entitled to delayed income under this section as if it accrued from day to day during the time he was a beneficiary.

(4) If principal subject to this section is disposed of by conversion into property which cannot be apportioned easily, including land or mortgages (for example, realty acquired by or in lieu of foreclosure), the income beneficiary is entitled to the net income from any property or obligation into which the original principal is converted while the substituted property or obligation is held. If within five years after the conversion the substituted property has not been further converted into easily apportionable property, no allocation as provided in this section shall be made.

(5) This section does not apply to underproductive property that the trustee is authorized to retain by the terms of the controlling document or by law; that is received into or acquired by the trust from any source, except property which is purchased by the fiduciary in administering the trust; the retention of which has been authorized in writing by the income beneficiaries; or the retention of which would be considered proper under the standard set forth in RCW 11.100.020.

(6) As used in this section, the term "underproductive property" refers to any property that has not produced an average net income of at least one percent per year (simple interest) of its inventory value for more than a year (including as income the value of any use of the property by the income beneficiary).

Sec. 94. Section 13, chapter 74, Laws of 1971 as amended by section 126, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.104.130 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(1) The following charges shall be made against income:

(a) Ordinary expenses incurred in connection with the administration, management, or preservation of the trust property, including regularly recurring taxes assessed against any portion of the principal, water rates, premiums on insurance taken upon the interests of the income beneficiary, remainderman, or trustee, interest paid by the trustee, and ordinary repairs;

(b) If the trustee deems the same to be appropriate under the standards in RCW 11.104.020(1)(c), a reasonable allowance for depreciation on property subject to depreciation under generally accepted accounting principles; no allowance shall be made for depreciation of that portion of any real property used by a beneficiary as a residence or for depreciation of any property held by the trustee on January 1, 1972 for which the trustee is not then making an allowance for depreciation;

(c) One-half of court costs, attorney's fees, and other fees on periodic accountings, unless the court directs otherwise;

(d) Court costs, attorney's fees, and other fees on other accountings or judicial proceedings if the matter primarily concerns the income interest, unless the court directs otherwise;

(e) One-half of the trustee's regular compensation, whether based on a percentage of principal or income ~~((- and all expenses reasonably incurred for current management of principal and application of income))~~;

(f) All expenses reasonably incurred for current management of principal and application of income; and

(g) Any tax levied upon receipts allocated to income under this chapter or the trust instrument and payable by the trustee.

(2) If charges against income are of unusual amount, the trustee may by means of reserves or other reasonable means charge them over a reasonable period of time and withhold from distribution sufficient sums to regularize distributions.

(3) The following charges shall be made against principal:

(a) Trustee's compensation not chargeable to income under subsections (1)(d) and (1)(e) of this section, special compensation of trustees, expenses reasonably incurred in connection with principal, court costs and attorney's fees primarily concerning matters of principal, and trustee's compensation computed on principal as an acceptance, distribution, or termination fee;

(b) Charges not provided for in subsection (1) of this section, including the cost of investing and reinvesting principal, the payments on principal of an indebtedness (including a mortgage amortized by periodic payments of principal), expenses for preparation of property for rental or sale, and, unless the court directs otherwise, expenses incurred in maintaining or defending any action to construe the trust or protect it or the property or assure the title of any trust property;

(c) Extraordinary repairs or expenses incurred in making a capital improvement to principal, including special assessments, but, a trustee may establish an allowance for depreciation out of income to the extent permitted by subsection (1)(b) of this section and by RCW 11.104.080;

(d) Any tax levied upon profit, gain, or other receipts allocated to principal notwithstanding denomination of the tax as an income tax by the tax authority; and

(e) If an estate or inheritance tax is levied in respect of a trust in which both an income beneficiary and a remainderman have an interest, any amount apportioned to the trust, including interest, whether on account of direct or indirect borrowing for the purpose of paying those taxes, and penalties, even though the income beneficiary also has rights in the principal.

(4) Regularly recurring charges payable from income shall be apportioned to the same extent and in the same manner that income is apportioned under RCW 11.104.040.

Sec. 95. Section 30.30.010, chapter 33, Laws of 1955 as amended by section 128, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.106.010 are each reenacted to read as follows:

Sec. 97. Section 30.30.030, chapter 33, Laws of 1955 as amended by section 130, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.106.030 are each reenacted to read as follows:

In addition to the statement required by RCW 11.106.020 any such trustee or trustees whenever it or they so desire, may file in the superior court of the county in which the trustees or one of the trustees resides an intermediate account under oath showing:

- (1) The period covered by the account;
- (2) The total principal with which the trustee is chargeable according to the last preceding account or the inventory if there is no preceding account;
- (3) An itemized statement of all principal funds received and disbursed during such period;
- (4) An itemized statement of all income received and disbursed during such period, unless waived;

Sec. 99. Section 30.30.050, chapter 33, Laws of 1955 as amended by section 132, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.106.050 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

Upon the return date or at some later date fixed by the court if so requested by one or more of the parties, the court without the intervention of a jury and after hearing all the evidence submitted shall determine the correctness of the account and the validity and propriety of all actions of the trustee or trustees set forth in the account including the purchase, retention, and disposition of any of the property and funds of the trust, and shall render its decree either approving or disapproving the account or any part of it, and surcharging the trustee or trustees for all losses, if any, caused by negligent or willful breaches of trust.

Sec. 102. Section 30.30.080, chapter 33, Laws of 1955 as amended by section 135, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.106.080 are each reenacted to read as follows:

The decree rendered under RCW 11.106.070 shall be deemed final, conclusive, and binding upon all the parties interested including all incompetent, unborn, and unascertained beneficiaries of the trust subject only to the right of appeal under RCW 11.106.090.

Sec. 103. Section 30.30.090, chapter 33, Laws of 1955 as last amended by section 136, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.106.090 are each reenacted to read as follows:

Sec. 105. Section 30.30.110, chapter 33, Laws of 1955 as amended by section 138, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.106.110 are each reenacted to read as follows:

This chapter is declared to be of similar import to the uniform trustees' accounting act. Any modification under chapter 11.97 RCW, including waiver, of the requirements of this chapter in any will, deed, or agreement heretofore or hereafter executed shall be given effect whether the waiver refers to the uniform trustees' accounting act by name or other reference or to any other act of like or similar import.

Sec. 106. Section 140, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.108.010 are each reenacted to read as follows:

Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) The term "pecuniary bequest" means a gift in a governing instrument which either is expressly stated as a fixed dollar amount or is a gift of a dollar amount determinable by the governing instrument, and a gift expressed in terms of a "sum" or an "amount," unless the context dictates otherwise, is a gift of a dollar amount.

(2) The term "marital deduction" means the federal estate tax deduction allowed for transfers under section 2056 of the internal revenue code.

(3) The term "maximum marital deduction" means the maximum amount qualifying for the marital deduction.

(4) The term "marital deduction gift" means a gift intended to qualify for the marital deduction.

(5) The term "governing instrument" includes a will and codicils, irrevocable, and revocable trusts.

(6) "Fiduciary" means trustee or personal representative. Reference to a fiduciary in the singular includes the plural where the context requires.

(7) References to the "internal revenue code" are to the United States internal revenue code of 1954, as it is amended from time to time. Each reference to a section of the internal revenue code refers as well to any subsequent provisions of law enacted in its place.

(8) The term "gift" refers to all legacies, devises, and bequests made in a governing instrument.

Sec. 107. Section 141, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.108.020 are each reenacted to read as follows:

If a governing instrument contains a marital deduction gift, the governing instrument, including any power, duty, or discretionary authority given to the fiduciary, shall be construed to comply with the marital deduction provisions of the internal revenue code and the regulations thereunder in order to conform to that intent. Whether the governing instrument contains a marital deduction depends upon the intent of the testator at the time the governing instrument is executed. If the testator has adequately evidenced an intention to make a marital deduction gift, the fiduciary shall not take any action or have any power that may impair that deduction. This section shall neither require nor prohibit a fiduciary from making the election referred to in section 2056(b)(7) of the internal revenue code.

Sec. 108. Section 142, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.108.030 are each reenacted to read as follows:

(1) If a governing instrument authorizes the fiduciary to satisfy a pecuniary bequest in whole or in part by distribution of property other than money, the assets selected for that purpose shall be valued at their respective fair market values on the date or dates of distribution, unless the governing instrument expressly provides otherwise. If the governing instrument permits the fiduciary to value the assets selected for the distribution as of a date other than the date or dates of distribution, then, unless the governing instrument expressly provides otherwise, the assets selected by the fiduciary for that purpose shall have an aggregate fair market value on the date or dates of distribution which, when added to any cash distributed, will amount to no less than the amount of that gift as stated in, or determined by, the governing instrument.

(2) A marital deduction gift shall be satisfied only with assets that qualify for those deductions.

Sec. 109. Section 143, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.108.040 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(1) If a testator, under the terms of a governing instrument executed prior to September 12, 1981, leaves outright to or in trust for the benefit of that testator's surviving spouse an amount or fractional share of that testator's estate or a trust estate expressed in terms of one-half of that testator's federal adjusted gross estate, or by any other reference to the maximum estate tax marital deduction allowable under federal law without referring, either in that governing instrument or in any codicil or amendment thereto, specifically to the unlimited federal estate tax marital deduction enacted as part of the economic recovery tax act of 1981, such expression shall, unless subsection ~~((1) or)~~ (2) or (3) of this section applies, be construed as referring to the unlimited federal estate tax marital deduction, and also as expressing such amount or fractional share, as the case may be, in terms of the minimum amount which will cause the least possible amount of federal estate tax to be payable as a result of the testator's death, taking into account other property passing to the surviving spouse that qualifies for the marital deduction, at the value at which it qualifies, and also taking into account all credits against the federal estate tax, but only to the extent that the use of these credits do not increase the death tax payable.

(2) If this subsection applies to a testator, such expression shall be construed as referring to the estate tax marital deduction allowed by federal law immediately prior to the enactment of the unlimited estate tax marital deduction as a part of the economic recovery tax act of 1981. This subsection applies if subsection (3) of this section does not apply and:

(a) The application of this subsection to the testator will not cause an increase in the federal estate taxes payable as a result of the testator's death over the amount of such taxes which would be payable if subsection (1) of this section applied; or

(b) The testator is survived by a blood or adopted descendant who is not also a blood or adopted descendant of the testator's surviving spouse, unless such person or persons have entered into an agreement under the dispute resolution procedures in chapter 11.96 RCW; or

(c) The testator amended the governing instrument containing such expression after December 31, 1981, without amending such expression to refer expressly to the unlimited federal estate tax marital deduction.

(3) If the governing instrument contains language expressly stating that federal law of a particular time prior to January 1, 1982, is to govern the construction or interpretation of such expression, the expression shall be construed as referring to the marital deduction allowable under federal law in force and effect as of that time.

(4) If subsection (2) or (3) of this section applies to the testator (~~and if the expression contains any provision reducing the amount or the fractional share left outright to or in trust for the benefit of the surviving spouse by other property passing to the surviving spouse and qualifying for the federal estate tax marital deduction, the provision~~), the expression shall not be construed as referring to any property that the personal representative of the testator's estate or other authorized fiduciary elects to qualify for the federal estate tax marital deduction as qualified terminable interest property. If subsection (1) of this section applies to the testator, any (~~such~~) provision shall be construed as referring to any property that the personal representative of the testator's estate or other authorized fiduciary elects to qualify for the federal estate tax marital deduction as qualified terminable interest property, but only to the extent that such construction does not cause the amount or fractional share left to or for the benefit of the surviving spouse to be reduced below the amount that would pass under subsection (2) or (3) of this section, whichever is applicable.

(5) This section is effective with respect to testators dying after December 31, 1982.

Sec. 110. Section 144, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.108.050 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

If a governing instrument indicates the testator's intention to make a marital deduction gift in trust, in addition to the other provisions of this section, each of the following also applies to the trust; provided, however, that such provisions shall not apply to any trust which provides for the entire then remaining trust estate to be paid on the termination of the income interest to the estate of the spouse of the trust's creator, or to a charitable beneficiary, contributions to which are tax deductible for federal income tax purposes:

(1) The only income beneficiary of a marital deduction trust is the testator's surviving spouse;

(2) The income beneficiary is entitled to all of the trust income until the trust terminates;

(3) The trust income is payable to the income beneficiary not less frequently than annually; and

(4) Except in the case of (~~qualified terminable interest property resulting from~~) property that has or would otherwise have qualified for the marital deduction only as the result of an election under section 2056(b)(7) of the internal revenue code, upon termination of the trust, all of the remaining trust assets, including accrued or undistributed income, pass either to the income beneficiary or under the exercise of a general power of appointment granted to the income beneficiary in favor of the income beneficiary's estate or to any other person or entity in trust or outright. The general power of appointment is exercisable by the income beneficiary alone and in all events (~~and the income beneficiary, or a fiduciary acting in behalf of the income beneficiary if he or she is then a minor or incompetent, may exercise it in a will or an instrument other than a will unless the instrument creating the power specifically directs otherwise~~).

The exercise of the general power of appointment provided in this section shall be done only by (~~express written reference to this general power of appointment in a will or inter vivos trust instrument executed by~~) the income beneficiary in the manner provided by RCW 11.95-.060 by specifically referring to this section.

Sec. 111. Section 145, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.108.060 are each reenacted to read as follows:

If a governing instrument contains a marital deduction gift, whether outright or in trust and whether there is a specific reference to this section, any survivorship requirement expressed in the governing instrument in excess of six months does not apply to property passing under a marital deduction, and in addition, is limited to a six-month period beginning with the testator's death.

Sec. 112. Section 146, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.108.900 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

This chapter applies to ~~((any distribution made))~~ all estates, trusts, and governing instruments in existence on or any time after March 7, 1984, ((whether the testator died before or) and to all proceedings with respect thereto after that date, whether the proceedings commenced before or after that date, and including distributions made after that date. This chapter shall not apply to any governing instrument the terms of which expressly or by necessary implication make this chapter inapplicable. The judicial and nonjudicial dispute resolution procedures of chapter 11.96 RCW apply to this chapter.

Sec. 113. Section 1, chapter 53, Laws of 1967 ex. sess. and RCW 11.110.010 are each reenacted to read as follows:

The purpose of this chapter is to facilitate public supervision over the administration of public charitable trusts and similar relationships and to clarify and implement the powers and duties of the attorney general with relation thereto.

Sec. 114. Section 2, chapter 53, Laws of 1967 ex. sess. as amended by section 1, chapter 226, Laws of 1971 ex. sess. and RCW 11.110.020 are each reenacted to read as follows:

When used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires:

"Person" means an individual, organization, group, association, partnership, corporation, or any combination of them.

"Trustee" means (1) any person holding property in trust for a public charitable purpose; except the United States, its states, territories, and possessions, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, and their agencies and subdivisions; and (2) a corporation formed for the administration of a charitable trust or holding assets subject to limitations permitting their use only for charitable, religious, eleemosynary, benevolent, educational, or similar purposes: PROVIDED, That the term "trustee" does not apply to (a) religious corporations duly organized and operated in good faith as religious organizations, which have received a declaration of current tax exempt status from the government of the United States; their duly organized branches or chapters; and charities, agencies, and organizations affiliated with and forming an integral part of said organization, or operated, supervised, or controlled directly by such religious corporations nor any officer of any such religious organization who holds property for religious purposes: PROVIDED, That if such organization has not received from the United States government a declaration of current tax exempt status prior to the time it receives property under the terms of a charitable trust, this exemption shall be applicable for two years only from the time of receiving such property, or until such tax exempt status is finally declared, whichever is sooner; or (b) an educational institution which is nonprofit and charitable, having a program of primary, secondary, or collegiate instruction comparable in scope to that of any public school or college operated by the state of Washington or any of its school districts.

Sec. 115. Section 4, chapter 53, Laws of 1967 ex. sess. and RCW 11.110.040 are each reenacted to read as follows:

All information, documents, and reports filed with the attorney general under this chapter are matters of public record and shall be open to public inspection, subject to reasonable regulation: PROVIDED, That the attorney general shall withhold from public inspection any trust instrument so filed whose content is not exclusively for charitable purposes. The attorney general may publish, on a periodic or other basis, such information as may be necessary or appropriate in the public interest concerning the registration, reports, and information filed with him or any other matters relevant to the administration and enforcement of this chapter.

Sec. 116. Section 5, chapter 53, Laws of 1967 ex. sess. as amended by section 149, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.110.050 are each reenacted to read as follows:

The attorney general shall establish and maintain a register of trustees as defined in RCW 11.110.020 and, to that end, shall conduct whatever investigation is necessary, and shall obtain from public records, court officers, taxing authorities, trustees, and other sources whatever information, copies of instruments, reports, and records are needed, for the establishment and maintenance of the register.

Sec. 117. Section 6, chapter 53, Laws of 1967 ex. sess. as last amended by section 150, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.110.060 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

Every trustee shall file with the attorney general within two months after receiving possession or control of the trust corpus a copy of the instrument establishing his title, powers, or duties, and an inventory of the assets of such charitable trust. In addition, trustees exempted from the provisions of RCW 11.110.070 by RCW 11.110.073 shall file with the attorney general a copy of the declaration of the tax-exempt status or other basis of the claim for such exemption; a copy of the instrument establishing the trustee's title, powers or duties; an inventory of the assets of such trust; and, annually, a copy of each publicly available United States tax or information return or report of the trust which the trustee files with the internal revenue service. The trustees of charitable trusts existing at the time this chapter ~~((takes effect))~~ takes effect or on August 9, 1971, shall comply with this section within six months thereafter.

Sec. 118. Section 7, chapter 53, Laws of 1967 ex. sess. as amended by section 3, chapter 226, Laws of 1971 ex. sess. and RCW 11.110.070 are each reenacted to read as follows:

Except as otherwise provided every trustee subject to this chapter shall file with the attorney general annual reports, under oath, setting forth information as to the nature of the assets held for charitable purposes and the administration thereof by the trustee, in accordance with rules and regulations of the attorney general.

The attorney general shall make rules and regulations as to the time for filing reports, the contents thereof, and the manner of executing and filing them. He may classify trusts and other relationships concerning property held for a charitable purpose as to purpose, nature of assets, duration of the trust or other relationship, amount of assets, amounts to be devoted to charitable purposes, nature of trustee, or otherwise, and may establish different rules for the different classes as to time and nature of the reports required, to the ends (1) that he shall receive reasonably current, periodic reports as to all charitable trusts or other relationships of a similar nature which will enable him to ascertain whether they are being properly administered, and (2) that periodic reports shall not unreasonably add to the expense of the administration of charitable trusts and similar relationships. The attorney general may suspend the filing of reports as to a particular charitable trust or relationship for a reasonable, specifically designated time upon written application of the trustee filed with the attorney general after the attorney general has filed in the register of charitable trusts a written statement that the interests of the beneficiaries will not be prejudiced thereby and that periodic reports are not required for proper supervision by his office.

A copy of an account filed by the trustee in any court having jurisdiction of the trust or other relationship, if the account substantially complies with the rules and regulations of the attorney general, may be filed as a report required by this section.

The first report for a trust or similar relationship hereafter established, unless the filing thereof is suspended as herein provided, shall be filed not later than one year after any part of the income or principal is authorized or required to be applied to a charitable purpose. If any part of the income or principal of a trust previously established is authorized or required to be applied to a charitable purpose at the time this act takes effect, the first report, unless the filing thereof is suspended, shall be filed within six months after the effective date of this act.

Sec. 119. Section 4, chapter 226, Laws of 1971 ex. sess. as amended by section 153, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.110.073 are each reenacted to read as follows:

(1) A bank or trust company subject to examination by the supervisor of banking of the state of Washington, the comptroller of the currency of the United States or the board of governors of the federal reserve system; which such bank or trust company is acting as trustee, executor or court-appointed fiduciary; PROVIDED, That a bank or trust company which is a co-fiduciary of a trust shall be deemed to be the sole fiduciary of such trust under this section, if the bank or trust company is custodian of the books and records of the trust and has the responsibility for preparing the reports and returns which are filed with the internal revenue service;

(2) The governing body of a nonprofit community foundation or other nonprofit foundation incorporated for charitable purposes, contributions to which are currently allowed as charitable deductions under the United States income tax laws;

(3) The governing body of a hospital which is nonprofit and charitable, other than a hospital initially formed as a trustee pursuant to or in connection with the terms of a charitable trust.

A trust is not exclusively for charitable purposes, within the meaning of RCW 11.110.040, when the instrument creating it contains a trust for several or mixed purposes, and any one or more of such purposes is not charitable within the meaning of RCW 11.110.020, as enacted or hereafter amended. Such instrument shall be withheld from public inspection by the attorney general and no information as to such noncharitable purpose shall be made public.

Annual reporting of such trusts to the attorney general, as required by RCW 11.110.060 or 11.110.070, shall commence within one year after trust income or principal is authorized or required to be used for a charitable purpose.

When a trust consists of a vested charitable remainder preceded by a life estate, a copy of the instrument shall be filed by the trustee or by the life tenant, within two months after commencement of the life estate.

If the trust instrument contains only contingent gifts or remainders to charitable purposes, no charitable trust shall be deemed created until a charitable gift or remainder is legally vested. The first registration or report of such trust shall be filed within two months after trust income or principal is authorized or required to be used for a charitable purpose.

Sec. 121. Section 8, chapter 53, Laws of 1967 ex. sess. and RCW 11.110.080 are each reenacted to read as follows:

The custodian of the records of a court having jurisdiction of probate matters or of charitable trusts shall furnish within two months after receiving possession or control thereof such copies of papers, records, and files of his office relating to the subject of this chapter as the attorney general shall require.

Every officer, agency, board or commission of this state receiving applications for exemption from taxation of any charitable trust or similar relationship in which the trustee is subject to this chapter shall annually file with the attorney general a list of all applications received during the year.

Sec. 122. Section 9, chapter 53, Laws of 1967 ex. sess. and RCW 11.110.090 are each reenacted to read as follows:

It is the purpose of this chapter to make uniform the laws of this and other states on the subject of charitable trusts and similar relationships. Recognizing the necessity for uniform application and enforcement of this chapter, its provisions are hereby declared mandatory and they shall not be superseded by the provisions of any trust instrument or similar instrument to the contrary.

Sec. 123. Section 10, chapter 53, Laws of 1967 ex. sess. and RCW 11.110.100 are each reenacted to read as follows:

The attorney general may investigate transactions and relationships of trustees and other persons subject to this chapter for the purpose of determining whether the trust or other relationship is administered according to law and the terms and purposes of the trust, or to determine compliance with this chapter in any other respect. He may require any officer, agent, trustee, fiduciary, beneficiary, or other person, to appear, at a time and place designated by the attorney general in the county where the person resides or is found, to give information under oath and to produce books, memoranda, papers, documents of title, and evidence of assets, liabilities, receipts, or disbursements in the possession or control of the person ordered to appear.

Sec. 124. Section 11, chapter 53, Laws of 1967 ex. sess. as last amended by section 157, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.110.110 are each reenacted to read as follows:

When the attorney general requires the attendance of any person, as provided in RCW 11.110.100, he shall issue an order setting forth the time when and the place where attendance is required and shall cause the same to be delivered to or sent by registered mail to the person at least fourteen days before the date fixed for attendance. Such order shall have the same force and effect as a subpoena, and, upon application of the attorney general, obedience to the order may be enforced by any superior court judge in the county where the person receiving it resides or is found, in the same manner as though the notice were a subpoena. The court, after hearing, for good cause, and upon application of any person aggrieved by the order, shall have the right to alter, amend, revise, suspend, or postpone all or any part of its provisions. In any case where the order is not enforced by the court according to its terms, the reasons for the court's actions shall be clearly stated in the record, and shall be subject to review by the supreme court or the court of appeals by certiorari or other appropriate proceeding.

Sec. 125. Section 12, chapter 53, Laws of 1967 ex. sess. as amended by section 158, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.110.120 are each reenacted to read as follows:

The attorney general may institute appropriate proceedings to secure compliance with this chapter and to secure the proper administration of any trust or other relationship to which this chapter applies. He shall be notified of all judicial proceedings involving or affecting the charitable trust or its administration in which, at common law, he is a necessary or proper party as representative of the public beneficiaries. The notification shall be given as provided in RCW 11.96.100, but this notice requirement may be waived at the discretion of the attorney general. The powers and duties of the attorney general provided in this chapter are in addition to his existing powers and duties, and are not to be construed to limit or to restrict the exercise of the powers or the performance of the duties of the attorney general or of any prosecuting attorney which they may exercise or perform under any other provision of law. Except as provided herein, nothing in this chapter shall impair or restrict the jurisdiction of any court with respect to any of the matters covered by it.

Sec. 126. Section 6, chapter 226, Laws of 1971 ex. sess. and RCW 11.110.125 are each reenacted to read as follows:

The wilful refusal by a trustee to make or file any report or to perform any other duties expressly required by this chapter, or to comply with any valid rule or regulation promulgated by the attorney general under this chapter, shall constitute a breach of trust and a violation of this chapter.

Sec. 127. Section 13, chapter 53, Laws of 1967 ex. sess. and RCW 11.110.130 are each reenacted to read as follows:

A civil action for a violation of this chapter may be prosecuted by the attorney general or by a prosecuting attorney designated by the attorney general.

Sec. 128. Section 14, chapter 53, Laws of 1967 ex. sess. and RCW 11.110.140 are each reenacted to read as follows:

Every false statement of material fact knowingly made or caused to be made by any person in any statement or report filed under this chapter and every other violation of this chapter is a gross misdemeanor.

With respect to any such trust created after December 31, 1969, RCW 11.110.200 through 11.110.260 shall apply from such trust's creation. With respect to any such trust created before January 1, 1970, RCW 11.110.200 through 11.110.260 shall apply only to such trust's federal taxable years beginning after December 31, 1971.

Sec. 130. Section 2, chapter 58, Laws of 1971 as amended by section 162, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.110.210 are each reenacted to read as follows:

The trust instrument of each trust to which RCW 11.110.200 through 11.110.260 applies shall be deemed to contain provisions prohibiting the trustee from:

(1) Engaging in any act of "self-dealing" (as defined in section 4941(d) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954), which would give rise to any liability for the tax imposed by section 4941(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954;

(2) Retaining any "excess business holdings" (as defined in section 4943(c) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954), which would give rise to any liability for the tax imposed by section 4943(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954;

(3) Making any investments which would jeopardize the carrying out of any of the exempt purposes of the trust, within the meaning of section 4944 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, so as to give rise to any liability for the tax imposed by section 4944(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954; and

(4) Making any "taxable expenditures" (as defined in section 4945(d) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954), which would give rise to any liability for the tax imposed by section 4945(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954:

PROVIDED, That this section shall not apply either to those split-interest trusts or to amounts thereof which are not subject to the prohibitions applicable to private foundations by reason of the provisions of section 4947 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954.

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE

March 25, 1985

Mr. President:

The House has passed SENATE BILL NO. 3073 with the following amendments:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The purpose of this act is to make technical corrections to chapter 149, Laws of 1984, and to ensure that the changes made in that chapter meet the constitutional requirements of Article II, section 19 of the state Constitution.

Sec. 2. Section 11.12.250, chapter 145, Laws of 1965 as amended by section 5, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.12.250 are each reenacted to read as follows:

A gift may be made by a will to a trustee of a trust executed by any trustor or testator (including a funded or unfunded life insurance trust, although the trustor has reserved any or all rights of ownership of the insurance contracts) if (1) the trust is identified in the testator's will and (2) its terms are evidenced either (a) in a written instrument other than a will, executed by the trustor prior to or concurrently with the execution of the testator's will or (b) in the will of a person who has predeceased the testator, regardless of when executed. The existence, size, or character of the corpus of the trust is immaterial to the validity of the gift. Such gift shall not be invalid because the trust is amendable or revocable, or both, or because the trust was amended after the execution of the testator's will or after the testator's death. Unless the will provides otherwise, the property so given shall not be deemed to be held under a testamentary trust of the testator but shall become a part of the trust to which it is given to be administered and disposed of in accordance with the terms of the instrument establishing the trust, including any amendments, made prior to the death of the testator, and regardless of whether made before or after the execution of the will. Unless the will provides otherwise, an express revocation of the trust prior to the testator's death invalidates the gift. Any termination of the trust other than by express revocation does not invalidate the gift. For purposes of this section, the term "gift" includes the exercise of any testamentary power of appointment.

Sec. 3. Section 6, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.12.255 are each reenacted to read as follows:

A will may incorporate by reference any writing in existence when the will is executed if the will itself manifests the testator's intent to incorporate the writing and describes the writing sufficiently to permit its identification. In the case of any inconsistency between the writing and the will, the will controls.

Sec. 4. Section 7, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.12.260 are each reenacted to read as follows:

(1) A will may refer to a writing that directs disposition of tangible personal property not otherwise specifically disposed of by the will other than property used primarily in trade or business. Such a writing shall not be effective unless: (a) An unrevoked will refers to the writing, (b) the writing is either in the handwriting of, or signed by, the testator, and (c) the writing describes the items and the recipients of the property with reasonable certainty.

(2) The writing may be written or signed before or after the execution of the will and need not have significance apart from its effect upon the dispositions of property made by the will. A writing that meets the requirements of this section shall be given effect as if it were actually contained in the will itself, except that if any person designated to receive property in the writing dies before the testator, the property shall pass as further directed in the writing and in the absence of any further directions, the disposition shall lapse and RCW 11.12.110 shall not apply to such lapse.

(3) The testator may make subsequent handwritten or signed changes to any writing. If there is an inconsistent disposition of tangible personal property as between writings, the most recent writing controls.

(4) As used in this section "tangible personal property" means articles of personal or household use or ornament, for example, furniture, furnishings, automobiles, boats, airplanes, and jewelry, as well as precious metals in any tangible form, for example, bullion or coins. The term includes articles even if held for investment purposes and encompasses tangible property that is not real property. The term does not include mobile homes or intangible property, for example, money that is normal currency or normal legal tender, evidences of indebtedness, bank accounts or other monetary deposits, documents of title, or securities.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. This act shall apply to wills of decedents dying after December 31, 1984.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, the support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect immediately."

On page 1, on line 3 of the title, after "11.12.260;" strike everything through "section" and insert "creating new sections".

and the same are herewith transmitted.

When not precluded by a conflict of interest, a guardian ad litem may be appointed to represent several persons or interests.

(2) For the purposes of this section, a trustee is a person interested in the trust and a personal representative is a person interested in an estate.

(3) The court appointed guardian ad litem supersedes the special representative if so provided in the court order.

ENGROSSED HOUSE BILL NO. 601, by Representatives Nutley, J. King, Perry, Sutherland, Tanner, Zellinsky, Walk, Lux, Appelwick, Fuhrman, L. Smith and Isaacson

Authorizing the advertisement of prices as including sales tax.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Warnke, the following Committee on Commerce and Labor amendment was adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

*Sec. 1. Section 82.08.050, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 as last amended by section 7, chapter 299, Laws of 1971 ex. sess. and RCW 82.08.050 are each amended to read as follows:

The tax hereby imposed shall be paid by the buyer to the seller, and each seller shall collect from the buyer the full amount of the tax payable in respect to each taxable sale in accordance with the schedule of collections adopted by the department pursuant to the provisions of RCW 82.08.060. The tax required by this chapter, to be collected by the seller, shall be deemed to be held in trust by the seller until paid to the department, and any seller who appropriates or converts the tax collected to his own use or to any use other than the payment of the tax to the extent that the money required to be collected is not available for payment on the due date as prescribed in this chapter shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

In case any seller fails to collect the tax herein imposed or having collected the tax, fails to pay it to the department in the manner prescribed by this chapter, whether such failure is the result of his own acts or the result of acts or conditions beyond his control, he shall, nevertheless, be personally liable to the state for the amount of the tax.

The amount of tax, until paid by the buyer to the seller or to the department, shall constitute a debt from the buyer to the seller and any seller who fails or refuses to collect the tax as required with intent to violate the provisions of this chapter or to gain some advantage or benefit, either direct or indirect, and any buyer who refuses to pay any tax due under this chapter shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. The tax required by this chapter to be collected by the seller shall be stated separately from the selling price (and) in any sales invoice or other instrument of sale. For purposes of determining the tax due from the buyer to the seller and from the seller to the department it shall be conclusively presumed that the selling price quoted in any price list, sales document, contract or other agreement between the parties does not include the tax imposed by this chapter, but if the seller advertises the price as including the tax or that the seller is paying the tax, the advertised price shall not be considered the selling price.

Where a buyer has failed to pay to the seller the tax imposed by this chapter and the seller has not paid the amount of the tax to the department, the department may, in its discretion, proceed directly against the buyer for collection of the tax, in which case a penalty of ten percent may be added to the amount of the tax for failure of the buyer to pay the same to the seller, regardless of when the tax may be collected by the department; and all of the provisions of chapter 82.32 RCW, including those relative to interest and penalties, shall apply in addition; and, for the sole purpose of applying the various provisions of chapter 82.32 RCW, the fifteenth day of the month following the tax period in which the purchase was made shall be considered as the due date of the tax.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 82.08 RCW to read as follows:

A seller may advertise the price as including the tax or that the seller is paying the tax, subject to the following conditions:

(1) Unless the advertised price is one in a listed series, the words "tax included" are stated immediately following the advertised price and in print size at least half as large as the advertised price;

(2) If the advertised prices are listed in a series, the words "tax included in all prices" are placed conspicuously at the head of the list and in the same print size as the advertised prices;

(3) If a price is advertised as "tax included," the price listed on any price tag shall be shown in the same manner; and

(4) All advertised prices and the words "tax included" are stated in the same medium, be it oral or visual, and if oral, in substantially the same inflection and volume.

Sec. 3. Section 82.08.010, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 as last amended by section 2, chapter 2, Laws of 1985 and RCW 82.08.010 are each amended to read as follows:

For the purposes of this chapter:

(1) "Selling price" means the consideration, whether money, credits, rights, or other property except trade-in property of like kind, expressed in the terms of money paid or delivered by a buyer to a seller without any deduction on account of the cost of tangible property sold, the cost of materials used, labor costs, interest, discount, delivery costs, taxes other than taxes imposed under this chapter if the seller advertises the price as including the tax or that the seller is paying the tax, or any other expenses whatsoever paid or accrued and without any deduction on account of losses; but shall not include the amount of cash discount actually taken by a buyer; and shall be subject to modification to the extent modification is provided for in RCW 82.08.080.

When tangible personal property is rented or leased under circumstances that the consideration paid does not represent a reasonable rental for the use of the articles so rented or leased, the "selling price" shall be determined as nearly as possible according to the value of such use at the places of use of similar products of like quality and character under such rules as the department of revenue may prescribe;

(2) "Seller" means every person, including the state and its departments and institutions, making sales at retail or retail sales to a buyer or consumer, whether as agent, broker, or principal, except "seller" does not mean the state and its departments and institutions when making sales to the state and its departments and institutions;

(3) "Buyer" and "consumer" include, without limiting the scope hereof, every individual, receiver, assignee, trustee in bankruptcy, trust, estate, firm, copartnership, joint venture, club, company, joint stock company, business trust, corporation, association, society, or any group of individuals acting as a unit, whether mutual, cooperative, fraternal, nonprofit, or otherwise, municipal corporation, quasi municipal corporation, and also the state, its departments and institutions and all political subdivisions thereof, irrespective of the nature of the activities engaged in or functions performed, and also the United States or any instrumentality thereof;

(4) The meaning attributed in chapter 82.04 RCW to the terms "tax year," "taxable year," "person," "company," "sale," "sale at retail," "retail sale," "sale at wholesale," "wholesale," "business," "engaging in business," "cash discount," "successor," "consumer," "in this state" and "within this state" shall apply equally to the provisions of this chapter.

Sec. 4. Section 82.08.120, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 as amended by section 51, chapter 278, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. and RCW 82.08.120 are each amended to read as follows:

Whoever, excepting as expressly authorized by this chapter, refunds, remits, or rebates to a buyer, either directly or indirectly and by whatever means, all or any part of the tax levied by this chapter(~~or makes in any form of advertising, verbal or otherwise, any statements~~ which might infer that he is absorbing the tax or paying the tax for the buyer by an adjustment of prices, or at a price including the tax, or in any other manner whatsoever)) shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. The violation of this section by any person holding a license granted by the state or any political subdivision thereof shall be sufficient grounds for the cancellation of the license of such person upon written notification by the department of revenue to the proper officer of the department granting the license that such person has violated the provisions of this section. Before any license shall be canceled hereunder, the licensee shall be entitled to a hearing before the department granting the license under such regulations as the department may prescribe.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, the support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect immediately."

On motion of Senator Warnke, the following title amendment was adopted:

On page 1, line 1 of the title, after "taxes;" strike the remainder of the title and insert "amending RCW 82.08.050, 82.08.010, and 82.08.120; adding a new section to chapter 82.08 RCW; and declaring an emergency."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Warnke, the rules were suspended Engrossed House Bill No. 601, as amended by the Senate, was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Bauer, that last scheme that the border counties dreamed up cost the state fifty-three million dollars in lost sales tax. Is this going to cost us more money?"

Senator Bauer: "No, Senator Rasmussen, this won't cost us any money. It ought to enhance the sales on the border which in turn will increase the revenue to the state in the B & O and other areas."

Senator Rasmussen: "I have a question in relation to that. I'm a merchant and I'm selling watches and I don't decide to do this--include the sales tax in my advertised price. Next door, I've got another merchant and he's selling watches also, and he decides to do that. How does this equalize between merchants?"

Senator Bauer: "That's their option. The merchant has that option."

Senator Rasmussen: "And, also, between counties not on the border, but further up, they practically have to do this, also, in order to compete with the Hazel Dell merchants or the Vancouver city merchants?"

Senator Bauer: "I'm glad you know where Hazel Dell is. I didn't know it was on the map. I appreciate that, but it's strictly optional and it goes back to what it was for years and years in this state before we changed it to take it out."

"I just want to make one comment. I heard your reference, Senator, about the border's fifty-three million, or whatever it was, lost sales tax. I disagree with that interpretation. I think it was a fair and equitable decision by this legislature. I was considerably aggrieved that Justice Dore and the court made that decision. I still question whether or not it was an appropriate decision, however, that's water under the bridge. It was not fifty-three million. Our merchants enhanced their business as a consequence of what this legislature very wisely did and as a consequence of that, business picked up on the border. There was an increase of the B & O tax on that border; the merchants paid more money on B & O tax. It enhanced the business, so they paid an increasing amount of taxes."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Vognild: "Senator Halsan, does Section 2, sub (3) of Engrossed House Bill No. 106, as amended by the Senate Commerce and Labor Committee, allow the seller to add the sales tax to the selling price listed on all tags and labels if the seller posts a sign stating that the sales tax is included in all prices?"

Senator Halsan: "Yes, Senator Vognild. RCW 82.01.060 (2) and 82.32.300 grant the Department of Revenue authority to draft and implement rules that would allow the seller to include the sales tax in all prices listed on items, contingent upon the posting of a sign stating, 'tax included in all prices.'"

Further debate ensued.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Bender, Senator Williams was excused.

The President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Engrossed House Bill No. 601, as amended by the Senate.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Engrossed House Bill No. 601, as amended by the Senate, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 36; nays, 11; absent, 1; excused, 1.

Voting yea: Senators Barr, Bauer, Bender, Benitz, Bottiger, Conner, Deccio, DeJarnatt, Fleming, Garrett, Goltz, Granlund, Guess, Halsan, Hansen, Hayner, Johnson, Kiskaddon, Kreidler, Lee, McCaslin, McDermott, McManus, Metcalf, Moore, Newhouse, Owen, Patterson, Peterson, Sellar, Talmadge, Thompson, Vognilid, Warnke, Wojahn, Zimmerman - 36.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Vognild, all bills were referred to the Committees as listed on the desks of each member with the exception of Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 470.

Senator Vognild moved that the rules be suspended and Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 470 be referred to the Committee on Rules.

Senator Kiskaddon moved that Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 470 be referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "Senator Kiskaddon, the two motions are of equal right. The President believes that we should act upon Senator Vognild's motion first and if that fails then the measure would be in order for you to refer the bill to the Committee on Ways and Means."

REMARKS BY SENATOR KISKADDON

Senator Kiskaddon: "Mr. President and fellow Senators, the sheet and the way the bill came out of committee was that it be referred to Ways and Means. That was on the basis that there was an appropriation of approximately eight hundred and seventy thousand dollars in the bill. Our customary policy is to send that kind of bill to Ways and Means.

"Now, yesterday, Senator Vognild came over because he wanted us to remove a bill from the Rules Committee and send it to Ways and Means--that was Substitute House Bill No. 270 and it dealt with acupuncture, and the bill had an appropriation of eighty-seven thousand dollars on it. So, what we were saying--yesterday that it was appropriate to send a bill with eighty-seven thousand dollars to Ways and Means--today eight hundred and seventy thousand, it is not. I believe the process of this body is important and that we really want to work for consistency and if it's our process to send them to Ways and Means--that you do so.

"There is a committee meeting this afternoon and it would be possible for the bills to come back. It would not be killing the bill any more that it was killing the bill yesterday, so I believe that both of those bills deserve the same treatment. If we decide to leave this bill and to have Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 470 go directly to Rules, it would be appropriate then to remove Substitute House Bill No. 270 from Ways and Means and send it to Rules at this time, also. So, at this point, I argue against sending this bill to Rules."

REMARKS BY SENATOR McDERMOTT

Senator McDermott: "Senator Vognild, yesterday, stuck a very painless needle into Ways and Means, but we are crashing toward the end of this session, and it seems to me--I've looked over Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 470--and it is a bill paid for by fees from counselors and it's not going to cost the general fund anything and for that reason, I don't think it needs to come to Ways and Means. We have about twelve hours left before all the bills have to be read out of committee and into Rules, if they are going to be dealt with, and I think this is a public policy issue that should not be killed in Ways and Means."

REMARKS BY SENATOR McDONALD

Senator McDonald: "Both of these appropriations, once again were from the health professionals account of the general fund. One was larger than the other. The one we're dealing with now is about ten times the amount of the acupuncture bill. Senator McDermott has moved very judiciously and very quickly with bills in the Ways and Means Committee and I suspect that if this bill was before us in the Ways and Means Committee, it would mean, maybe, a ten minute longer committee meeting than we have presently. It is the process that seems to me to be at stake here and not a killing motion for this particular bill. I would urge, as Senator Kiskaddon did, that we defeat the motion to send it to Rules and then take one up that would send it to the Ways and Means Committee to keep the process consistent. I'll hope you vote 'no.'"

REMARKS BY SENATOR BOTTIGER

Senator Bottiger: "Mr. President, there is a difference. There is a difference in twenty-four hours, which is time to schedule and to get all of the information ready for the Ways and Means Committee. There's another difference. This bill was out of committee, but because of the delay in getting the sign-up sheet signed, it's here now instead of two days ago when it would have been had someone not said you had to get a minority report sign-up sheet filed at the same time, so there is a substantial difference. This bill is a revolving fund. It is not an impact on the general fund and had the acupuncture bill come out in the same time on the last day, the same motion would have been made. It is not a money loser. It is not anything of that nature. There was time for the acupuncture bill. There is not time with this bill."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Zimmerman: "Senator McDermott, is it going to be the policy, in the future, that all bills that deal with licensing or that have licensing fees involved will go directly to Rules or will they be able to go to Ways and Means?"

"Senator McDermott: "Senator Zimmerman, consistency is the hobgoblin of small minds. There are times and places when certain things are done one way and other times they are done another way. As long as we balance the budget and leave here on the 28th of April, I think the people will be pleased. The policy will be determined as we have issues before us."

Senator Zimmerman: "But in this particular instance, it does show an inconsistency that I think that most of us are concerned about and I'm also wondering whether or not this doesn't deserve what Senator Kiskaddon alluded to?"

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the motion by Senator Vognild to suspend the rules and refer Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 470 to the Committee on Rules.

The motion by Senator Vognild carried on a rising vote and Engrossed House Bill No. 470 was referred to the Committee on Rules.

MOTION

Senator Kiskaddon moved that the Committee on Ways and Means be relieved of further consideration of Substitute House Bill No. 270 and that Substitute House Bill No. 270 be referred to the Committee on Rules.

At 12:03 p.m., Senator Bottiger moved that the Senate recess until 5:00 p.m.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Hayner: "Mr. President, a point of order. I would like to challenge the scope and object of this amendment. The bill before us deals with vacancies on the Human Rights Commission; it deals with some of the powers and authorization of the Human Rights Commission. The amendment before us does nothing but deal with city, county and municipal problems and just requires that the Human Rights Commission approve it. This is certainly not within the scope and object of this bill. The object of the bill is to deal with the inner workings of the Human Rights Commission and I contend that the amendment is not within the scope and object of the bill."

Debate ensued.

On motion of Senator Vognild, further consideration of Substitute House Bill No. 52 was deferred.

The heads of all departments, divisions or agencies of the city government, including the library department, and departments headed by commissions or elected officials shall submit to the mayor estimates of revenues and necessary expenditures for the ensuing fiscal year in such detail, in such form and at such time as the mayor shall prescribe.

The budget director shall assemble all estimates of revenues; necessary departmental expenditures; interest and redemption requirements for any city debt; and other pertinent budgetary information as may be required by uniform regulations of the state auditor; and, under the direction of the mayor, prepare a proposed budget for presentation to the city council.

Modifying the distribution of timber taxes.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator McDermott, the following Committee on Ways and Means amendment was adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

(1) On the last business day of the second month of each calendar quarter, the state treasurer shall distribute from the timber tax distribution account to each county the amount of tax collected on behalf of each county under RCW 84.33.051, less each county's proportionate share of appropriations for collection and administration activities under RCW 84.33.051, and shall transfer to the state general fund the amount of tax collected on behalf of the state under RCW 84.33.041, less the state's proportionate share of appropriations for collection and administration activities under RCW 84.33.041. The county treasurer shall deposit moneys received under this section in a county timber tax account which shall be established by each county. Following receipt of moneys under this section, the county treasurer shall make distributions from any moneys available in the county timber tax account to taxing districts in the county, except the state, under subsections (2) through (4) of this section.

(2) From moneys available, there first shall be a distribution to each taxing district having debt service payments due during the calendar year, based upon bonds issued under authority of a vote of the people conducted pursuant to RCW 84.52.056 and based upon excess levies for a capital project fund authorized pursuant to RCW 84.52.053, of an amount equal to the timber assessed value of the district multiplied by the tax rate levied for payment of the debt service and capital projects: PROVIDED, That in respect to levies for a debt service or capital project fund authorized before July 1, 1984, the amount allocated shall not be less than an amount equal to the same percentage of such debt service or capital project fund represented by timber tax allocations to such payments in calendar year 1984. Distribution under this subsection (2) shall be used only for debt service and capital projects payments. The distribution under this subsection shall be made as follows: One-half of such amount shall be distributed in the first quarter of the year and one-half shall be distributed in the third quarter of the year.

(3) From the moneys remaining after the distributions under subsection (2) of this section, the county treasurer shall distribute to each school district an amount equal to one-half of the timber assessed value of the district or eighty percent of the timber roll of such district in calendar year 1983 as determined under this chapter, whichever is greater, multiplied by the tax rate, if any, levied by the district under RCW 84.52.052 or 84.52.053 for purposes other than debt service payments and capital projects supported under subsection (2) of this section. The distribution under this subsection shall be made as follows: One-half of such amount shall be distributed in the first quarter of the year and one-half shall be distributed in the third quarter of the year.

(4) After the distributions directed under subsections (2) and (3) of this section, if any, each taxing district shall receive an amount equal to the timber assessed value of the district multiplied by the tax rate, if any, levied as a regular levy of the district or as a special levy not included in subsection (2) or (3) of this section.

(5) If there are insufficient moneys in the county timber tax account to make full distribution under subsection (4) of this section, the county treasurer shall multiply the amount to be distributed to each taxing district under that subsection by a fraction. The numerator of the fraction is the county timber tax account balance before making the distribution under that subsection. The denominator of the fraction is the account balance which would be required to make full distribution under that subsection.

(6) After making the distributions under subsections (2) through (4) of this section in the full amount indicated for the calendar year, the county treasurer shall place any excess revenue up to twenty percent of the total distributions made for the year under subsections (2) through (4) of this section in a reserve status until the beginning of the next calendar year. Any moneys remaining in the county timber tax account after this amount is placed in reserve shall be distributed to each taxing district in the county in the same proportions as the distributions made under subsection (4) of this section.

Sec. 2. Section 84.52.080, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 as last amended by section 14, chapter 204, Laws of 1984 and RCW 84.52.080 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The county assessor shall extend the taxes upon the tax rolls in the form herein prescribed. The rate percent necessary to raise the amounts of taxes levied for state and county purposes, and for purposes of taxing districts coextensive with the county, shall be computed upon the assessed value of the property of the county; the rate percent necessary to raise the amount of taxes levied for any taxing district within the county shall be computed upon the assessed value of the property of the district; all taxes assessed against any property shall be added together and extended on the rolls in a column headed consolidated or total tax. In extending any tax, whenever it amounts to a fractional part of a cent greater than five mills it shall be made one cent, and whenever it amounts to five mills or less than five mills it shall be dropped. The amount of all taxes shall be entered in the proper columns, as shown by entering the rate percent necessary to raise the consolidated or total tax and the total tax assessed against the property.

(2) For the purpose of computing the rate necessary to raise the amount of any excess levy in a taxing district which has classified or designated forest land under chapter 84.33 RCW, other than the state, the county assessor shall add the district's timber assessed value, as defined in RCW 84.33.035, to the assessed value of the property: PROVIDED, That for school districts maintenance and operations levies only one-half of the district's timber assessed value or eighty percent of the timber roll of such district in calendar year 1983 as determined under chapter 84.33 RCW, whichever is greater, shall be added.

(3) Upon the completion of such tax extension, it shall be the duty of the county assessor to make in each assessment book, tax roll or list a certificate in the following form:

I, _____ assessor of _____ county, state of Washington, do hereby certify that the foregoing is a correct list of taxes levied on the real and personal property in the county of _____ for the year one thousand nine hundred and _____.

Witness my hand this _____ day of _____, 19...

_____, County Assessor

(4) The county assessor shall deliver said tax rolls to the county treasurer on or before the fifteenth day of December, taking his receipt therefor, and at the same time the county assessor shall provide the county auditor with an abstract of the tax rolls showing the total amount of taxes collectible in each of the taxing districts.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. Section 1 of this act applies to distributions beginning in 1986, and thereafter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. Section 2 of this act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, the support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect immediately, and shall be effective for taxes levied for collection in 1986 and thereafter."

On motion of Senator McDermott, the following title amendment was adopted:

On page 1, line 1 of the title, after "distributions;" strike the remainder of the title and insert "amending RCW 84.33.081 and 84.52.080; creating a new section; and declaring an emergency."

SECOND READING

SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 802, by Committee on Trade and Economic Development (originally sponsored by Representatives Scott, Silver, McMullen, Lundquist, Appelwick, Schmidt, Wineberry and May)

Declaring economic development programs with nonprofit corporations to be a public purpose for cities and counties.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Warnke moved that the following Committee on Commerce and Labor amendments be considered simultaneously and adopted:

On page 1, beginning on line 5, strike all material through "development." on line 16.

Renumber the sections consecutively.

On page 1, beginning on line 23, strike all material through "immediately," on line 26.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Barr: "Senator Warnke, does this, in any way, interfere with the bill or how does it relate to Senate Bill 3214? If you remember, is that bill progressing and has this got anything to do with that other bill's progress?"

Senator Warnke: "The bill that went over to the House dealt only with cities and counties. The bill that came over from the House dealt with cities, counties and ports. The bill on cities and counties is in Rules and coming out on the House calendar, apparently today, so we just took out cities and counties here and left ports in this bill."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the Committee on Commerce and Labor amendments.

The motion by Senator Warnke carried and the committee amendments were adopted.

On motion of Senator Warnke, the following title amendment was adopted:

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Warnke, could you explain what this would do that the ports cannot already do? They're engaged in economic development and how do they propose to contract with private developers? Are they going to use port tax money or what?"

Senator Warnke: "Senator Rasmussen, the cities, counties and ports are already engaged in economic development programs. Apparently, there is no place in the law which allows them the clear authority to engage in economic development programs, so this bill takes care of that issue. In contracting with private nonprofit corporations in the development, they will do the same thing they are doing now."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Substitute House Bill No. 802, as amended by the Senate.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Substitute House Bill No. 802, as amended by the Senate, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 36; nays, 2; absent, 2; excused, 9.

On page 1, line 13, after "session" insert ": PROVIDED, That the final action of the board as to the denial, revocation, or restriction of clinical or staff privileges of a physician or other health care provider as defined in RCW 7.70.020 shall be done in public session."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McCaslin: "Senator Talmadge, your definition of final action--would final action be up to the decision of the board to notify the clinical or staff privileges of a physician to be revoked? In other words, do you notify the individual or person involved before the final action takes place?"

Senator Talmadge: "I'm sure that would be the case, Senator McCaslin. It's very similar to what's in Senate Bill 3386 and that is if there's to be some kind of, in effect, discipline of the physician by the public hospital district, the hearing process will be confidential. The taking of testimony would be confidential and done in executive session, but there would have to be some notation in the public records of the hospital district that the clinical privileges of physician 'X' were denied, or something like that. There has to be some public notation about what finally occurred--the final action itself."

Senator McCaslin: "I would envision a scenario where a physician might be on vacation when the board met and I would hope that your amendment would deal with notifying him or her when she returned, rather than giving it to the public prior to their knowledge themselves."

Senator Talmadge: "There would have to be notification to the physician--the health care provider--as to the hearing process, with respect to the discipline. I think the intention is that that would be the notice and that there would be an opportunity to be heard and to raise any questions about it. All this is, is the final action."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senator Talmadge.

The motion by Senator Talmadge carried and the amendment was adopted.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Granlund, the rules were suspended, Substitute House Bill No. 279, as amended by the Senate, was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Substitute House Bill No. 279, as amended by the Senate.

Voting nay: Senator Pullen - 1.

Absent: Senator Bluechel - 1.

Excused: Senators Benitz, Hayner, McDermott, McDonald - 4.

There being no objection, the Senate resumed consideration of Substitute House Bill No. 52 and the pending amendment by Senators Talmadge and Fleming, deferred April 8, 1985.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "In ruling upon the point of order raised by Senator Hayner, the President finds that Substitute House Bill No. 52 is a measure revising and updating provisions relating to the Human Rights Commission.

"The amendment proposed by Senators Talmadge and Fleming allows local governments to make reparations to an employee dismissed from 1942 to 1947 as a result of Federal Executive Order 9066 if authorized by the Human Rights Commission.

"The President, therefore, finds that the proposed amendment does change the scope and object of the bill and that the point of order is well taken."

The amendment was ruled out of order.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Pullen, the following amendment was adopted:
On page 4, line 6, after "property" strike the period and insert ";

On motion of Senator Pullen, the following amendment was adopted:
On page 5, line 6 after "guarantee" insert ", to the extent possible."

Sec. 78(a)), as amended, the registration statement or application may be filed with the supervisor in lieu of the requirements of this section.

(f) Any acquiring party shall also deliver a copy of any notice or application required by this section to the savings bank proposed to be acquired within two days after such notice or application is filed with the supervisor.

(g) Any acquisition of control in violation of this section shall be ineffective and void.

(h) Any person who willfully or intentionally violates this section or any rule adopted under this section is guilty of a gross misdemeanor pursuant to chapter 9A.20 RCW. Each day's violation shall be considered a separate violation, and any person shall upon conviction be fined not more than one thousand dollars for each day the violation continues.

(3) The supervisor may file an action in the superior court of the county in which the bank is located to restrain the pending acquisition of control of a savings bank if he finds after considering the application and within thirty days after its filing any of the following:

(a) The poor financial condition of any acquiring party might jeopardize the financial stability of the savings bank or might prejudice the interest of depositors, borrowers, or shareholders;

(b) The plan or proposal of the acquiring party to liquidate the savings bank, to sell its assets, to merge it with any person, or to make any other major change in its business or corporate structure or management is not fair and reasonable to its depositors, borrowers, or stockholders or is not in public interest;

(c) The banking and business experience and integrity of any acquiring party who would control the operation of the savings bank indicates that approval would not be in the interest of the savings bank's depositors, borrowers, or shareholders;

(d) The information provided by the application is insufficient for the supervisor to make a determination or there has been insufficient time to verify the information provided and conduct an examination of the qualification of the acquiring party; or

(e) The acquisition would not be in the public interest.

(4) (a) For a period of ten years following the acquisition of control by any person, neither such acquiring party nor any associate shall receive any loan or the use of any of the funds of, nor purchase, lease, or otherwise receive any property from, nor receive any consideration from the sale, lease, or any other conveyance of property to, any savings bank in which the acquiring party has control except as provided in (b) of this subsection.

(b) Upon application by any acquiring party or associate subject to (a) of this subsection, the supervisor may approve a transaction between a converted savings bank and such acquiring party, person, or associate, upon finding that the terms and conditions of the transaction are at least as advantageous to the savings bank as the savings bank would obtain in a comparable transaction with an unaffiliated person.

(5) Except with the consent of the supervisor, no converted savings bank shall, for the purpose of enabling any person to purchase any or all shares of its capital stock, pledge or otherwise transfer any of its assets as security for a loan to such person or to any associate, or pay any dividend to any such person or associate. Nothing in this section shall prohibit a dividend of stock among shareholders in proportion to their shareholdings. In the event any clause of this section is declared to be unconstitutional or otherwise invalid, all remaining dependent and independent clauses of this section shall remain in full force and effect.

Sec. 26. Section 45, chapter 85, Laws of 1981 and RCW 32.32.230 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) No conversion may be approved by the supervisor unless the plan of conversion provides that the converted savings bank shall enter into an agreement with the supervisor, in form satisfactory to the supervisor, which shall provide that for a period of three years following the conversion any company significantly engaged in an unrelated business activity, either directly or through an affiliate thereof, shall not be permitted, regardless of the form of the transaction, to acquire control of the converted savings bank. Any acquisition of a converted savings bank shall also comply with (~~RCW 30.04.400 through 30.04.410~~) section 25 of this 1985 act.

(2) As used in this section:

(a) The term "affiliate" means any person or company which controls, is controlled by, or is under common control with, a specified company.

(b) A person or company shall be deemed to have "control" of:

(i) A savings bank if the person directly or indirectly or acting in concert with one or more other persons, or through one or more subsidiaries, owns, controls, or holds with power to vote, or holds proxies representing, more than twenty-five percent of the voting shares of the savings bank, or controls in any manner the election of a majority of the directors of the bank;

(ii) Any other company if the person directly or indirectly or acting in concert with one or more other persons, or through one or more subsidiaries, owns, controls, or holds with power to vote, or holds proxies representing, more than twenty-five percent of the voting shares or rights of the other company, or controls in any manner the election or appointment of a majority of the directors or trustees of the other company, or is a general partner in or has contributed more than twenty-five percent of the capital of the other company;

(iii) A trust if the person is a trustee thereof; or

(iv) A savings bank or any other company if the supervisor determines, after reasonable notice and opportunity for hearing, that the person directly or indirectly exercises a controlling influence over the management or policies of the savings bank or other company.

(c) A company shall be deemed to be "significantly engaged" in an unrelated business activity if its unrelated business activities would represent, on either an actual or a pro forma basis, more than fifteen percent of its consolidated net worth at the close of this preceding fiscal year or of its consolidated net earnings for such fiscal year.

(d) The term "unrelated business activity" means any business activity not authorized for a savings bank or any subsidiary thereof.

Sec. 27. Section 52, chapter 85, Laws of 1981 and RCW 32.32.265 are each amended to read as follows:

Upon determination that an application for conversion is properly executed and is not materially incomplete, the supervisor shall advise the applicant, in writing, to publish notices of the filing of the application. Promptly after receipt of the advice, the applicant shall furnish a written notice of the filing to each eligible account holder and also publish a notice of the filing in a newspaper printed in the English language and having general circulation in each community in which an office of the applicant is located, as follows:

NOTICE OF FILING OF AN APPLICATION FOR APPROVAL TO CONVERT TO A STOCK SAVINGS BANK

Notice is hereby given that, pursuant to chapter 32.32 of the Revised Code of Washington

.....
(fill in name of applicant)

has filed an application with the Supervisor of Banking for approval to convert to the stock form of organization. Copies of the application have been delivered to _____ (address)

Written comments, including objections to the plan of conversion and materials supporting the objections, from any account holder of the applicant or aggrieved person, will be considered by the supervisor if filed within twenty business days after the date of this notice. Failure to make written comments in objection may preclude the pursuit of any administrative or judicial remedies. Three copies of the comments should be sent to the aforementioned. The proposed plan of conversion and any comments thereon will be available for inspection by any account holder of the applicant at _____ (address) _____. A copy of the plan may also be inspected at each office of the applicant.

If a significant number of the applicant's account holders speak a language other than English and a newspaper in that language is published in the area served by the applicant, an appropriate translation of the notice shall also be published in that newspaper. A notice sent by mail may be accompanied by the statement that the converting institution will not mail a subscription offering circular to an eligible account holder or a supplemental eligible account holder unless the eligible account holder or the supplemental eligible account holder, prior to the commencement of the subscription offering, requests the subscription offering circular by returning a postcard. The issuer of stock in the conversion shall pay the postage of this postcard and shall inform the eligible account holder or supplemental eligible holder that the postage is paid.

Sec. 28. Section 97, chapter 85, Laws of 1981 and RCW 32.32.490 are each amended to read as follows:

Amendments to the articles of incorporation of the converted savings bank shall be made ~~((in accordance with the procedures specified in RCW 30.08.088 and 30.08.090, provided that the amendments are also approved by the supervisor))~~ only with the approvals of the supervisor, of two-thirds of the directors of the savings bank, and of the holders of a majority of each class of the outstanding shares of capital stock or such greater percentage of these shares as may be specified in the articles of the converted savings bank.

Sec. 29. Section 98, chapter 85, Laws of 1981 as amended by section 3, chapter 44, Laws of 1983 and RCW 32.32.495 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Every converted savings bank shall be managed by not less than five directors, except that a bank having a capital of fifty thousand dollars or less may have only three directors. Directors shall be elected by the stockholders and hold office for one year and until their successors are elected and have qualified. In the first instance the directors shall be those named in the articles of incorporation and afterwards, those elected at the annual meeting of the stockholders to be held at least once each year on a day to be specified by the converted savings bank's bylaws but not later than May 15th of each year. If for any cause an election is not held at that time, it may be held at an adjourned meeting or at a subsequent meeting called for that purpose in the manner prescribed by the corporation's bylaws. Each director shall be a resident of a state of the United States. The directors shall meet at least ~~((once))~~ nine times each ((month)) year and whenever required by the supervisor. A majority of the board of directors shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. At all stockholders' meetings, each share shall be entitled to one vote, unless the articles of incorporation provide otherwise. Any stockholder may vote in person or by written proxy.

(2) If the board of directors consists of nine or more members, in lieu of electing the entire number of directors annually, the converted savings bank's articles of incorporation or bylaws may provide that the directors be divided into either two or three classes, each class to be as nearly equal in number as possible, the term of office of directors of the first class to expire at the first annual meeting of shareholders after their election, that of the second class to expire at the second annual meeting after their election, and that of the third class, if any, to expire at the third annual meeting after their election. At each annual meeting after such classification, the number of directors equal to the number of the class whose term expires at the time of such meeting shall be elected to hold office until the second succeeding annual meeting, if there are two classes, or until the third succeeding annual meeting, if there are three classes. A classification of directors shall not be effective prior to the first annual meeting of shareholders.

(3) Immediately upon election, each director shall take, subscribe, swear to, and file with the supervisor an oath that he will, so far as the duty devolves upon him, diligently and honestly administer the affairs of the corporation and will not knowingly violate or willingly permit to be violated any provision of law applicable to the corporation.

(4) A vacancy occurring in the board of directors may be filled by the affirmative vote of a majority of the remaining directors. A director elected to fill a vacancy shall be elected for the unexpired term of the director's predecessor in office. A directorship to be filled by reason of an increase in the number of directors may be filled by the board of directors for a term of office continuing only until the next election of directors by the shareholders.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 30. A new section is added to chapter 32.32 RCW to read as follows:

(1) In a conversion of an unconverted mutual savings bank that is in the process of acquisition by a savings bank holding company or in the process of merger or consolidation with a subsidiary of a savings bank holding company, the restrictions imposed by RCW 32.32.110 on resale of stock apply to shares of the holding company purchased on original issue by any director or officer of the converting savings bank that is in the process of acquisition, merger, or consolidation, and the restrictions imposed by this chapter apply to the ownership of capital stock in the holding company with the same force and effect as they would apply to the ownership of capital stock of the unconverted mutual savings bank if shares of this savings bank were offered to depositors or the public pursuant to this chapter.

(2) The tender of shares by directors and officers of a converted savings bank in exchange for shares of another converted savings bank, or for shares of a holding company, do not constitute a sale for purposes of RCW 32.32.110. However, the restrictions of RCW 32.32.110 and 32.32.115 apply to the resale of the shares they receive in such an exchange with the same force and effect as to the shares of the converted savings bank they purchased on original issue for a period of three years following the date of such purchase on original issue.

Sec. 31. Section 99, chapter 85, Laws of 1981 and RCW 32.32.500 are each amended to read as follows:

A mutual savings bank or bank converted under this chapter may merge with, consolidate with, convert into, acquire the assets of, or sell its assets to any other financial institution chartered under Titles 30, 32, or 33 RCW or under the National Bank Act, as amended, or the National Housing Act, as amended, or to a holding company thereof, subject to (1) the approval of the supervisor of banking if the surviving institution is one chartered under Title 30 or 32 RCW, or (2) approval of the supervisor of savings and loans if the surviving institution is one chartered under Title 33 RCW, or (3) if the surviving institution is to be a national bank, the comptroller of currency under 12 U.S.C. Sec. 35, 12 U.S.C. Sec. 215, 12 U.S.C. Sec. 215a, and 12 U.S.C. Sec. 1828c, or (4) if the surviving institution is to be a federal savings and loan association, the Federal Home Loan Bank Board under 12 U.S.C. Sec. 1464 (d)(11), or (5) if the surviving institution is to be a bank holding company, the Federal Reserve Board under 12 U.S.C. Sec. 1842 (a) and (d).

In the case of a liquidation, acquisition, merger, consolidation, or conversion of a converted savings bank, chapter ~~(32.34 and 30.49)~~ 32.34 RCW shall apply.

Sec. 32. Section 100, chapter 85, Laws of 1981 and RCW 32.32.505 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) It is the intention of the legislature to grant, by this chapter, authority to permit conversions by mutual savings banks to capital stock form, and the rights, powers, restrictions, limitations, and requirements of Title 32 RCW shall apply to a converted mutual savings bank except that, in the event of conflict between the provisions of this chapter and other provisions of Title 32 RCW, the other provisions shall be construed in favor of the accomplishment of the purposes of this chapter.

(2) References in the Revised Code of Washington as of the most recent effective date of any amendment, to mutual savings banks shall refer also to stock savings banks converted from mutual form under this chapter. References in the Revised Code of Washington to the board of trustees of a mutual savings bank shall refer also to the board of directors of a stock savings bank converted from mutual form under this chapter. The provisions of Title 30 RCW shall not apply to a converted mutual savings bank except insofar as the provisions would apply to a mutual savings bank.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 33. (1) The voluntary liquidation of a mutual savings bank converted to the stock form requires the affirmative vote or written consent of two-thirds of the directors of the converted savings bank, requires the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the outstanding stock of the savings bank, shall proceed as prescribed in chapter 32.24 RCW, and shall be complete upon the payment of any surplus remaining, after satisfaction of all debts and liabilities of the savings bank, to shareholders in accordance with their legal rights to such surplus.

(2) A savings bank which has converted to the stock form may sell all its assets and transfer all its liabilities upon the affirmative vote or with the written consent of two-thirds of its directors, and upon the affirmative vote of the holders of two-thirds of the outstanding voting shares in each class entitled to vote.

(3) Any merger or consolidation involving a mutual savings bank converted to stock form requires approval by two-thirds of the directors and by the holders of a majority of the outstanding voting shares in each class except that a merger or consolidation approved by two-thirds of the outstanding voting shares in each class requires approval by only a majority of the directors of the converted savings bank, and except as provided in subsection (4) of this section.

(4) A savings bank that has converted to the stock form may engage in a consolidation and pooling of assets upon the affirmative vote of two-thirds of its directors, if (a) the total assets of the converted savings bank, immediately prior to the day of the consolidation and pooling of assets, exceed two-thirds of the assets of the institution that would result from the consolidation and pooling of assets, (b) the converted savings bank will survive the consolidation and pooling of assets, without its shareholders surrendering their shares of stock in the converted savings bank, and (c) the other institution being merged or consolidated is a savings bank or savings and loan association.

(5) Any converted savings bank may provide in its articles of incorporation for a higher percentage of affirmative shareholder votes to approve any liquidation, sale of assets, merger, or consolidation.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 34. (1) No savings bank having capital stock may establish a holding company to own all its stock without the approval of the supervisor. Upon tender of their shares of the converted savings bank, the shareholders of the savings bank shall receive all the shares of the holding company which are outstanding at the time of this tender.

(2) Any company owning more than twenty-five percent of the outstanding voting stock of a savings bank doing business under this Title 32 RCW shall, in addition to the restrictions of section 25 of this act, be subject to regulation as a savings bank holding company. Any savings bank holding company which is not subject to regulation by the federal reserve board or the federal home loan bank board, and all holding company subsidiaries engaging in businesses which are not subject to regulation or licensing by the federal home loan bank board, the supervisor of savings and loan associations, the commissioner of insurance, or the administrator authorized to regulate loan companies doing business under Title 31 RCW, will be subject to such regulation of accounting practices and of the qualifications of directors and officers, and such inspection and visitation by the supervisor of banking as the supervisor shall deem appropriate, subject to the limitations imposed on regulation, inspection, and visitation of a savings bank under this title. In addition, any savings bank holding company and all holding company subsidiaries will be subject to visitation by the supervisor of banking as such shall deem appropriate, subject to the limitations imposed on visitation of a savings bank under this Title 32 RCW and under the supremacy clause of the Constitution of the United States. The savings bank subsidiary of this holding corporation may engage in subsequent mergers, consolidations, acquisitions, and conversions, only to the extent authorized by RCW 32.32.500, and only upon complying with the applicable requirements in section 33 of this act and this chapter.

(3) In the event a savings bank forms a subsidiary to carry out any of the powers of savings banks under this title, any institution with which this subsidiary merges shall continue to be subject to regulation, inspection, and visitation by the supervisor of savings and loans if the subsidiary is authorized to do business by Title 33 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 35. A savings bank not having capital stock may establish a business trust for the benefit of its depositors, with the approval of the supervisor and subject to such rules and regulations as the supervisor may adopt. The supervisor may permit this business trust to become a mutual holding company owning all shares of an interim stock savings bank, the sole purpose of which shall be to merge into the mutual savings bank that formed the business trust. The depositors in an unconverted savings bank which has merged with the subsidiary of such a mutual holding company, in the event of a later conversion of this mutual holding company to the stock form, shall retain all their rights to their deposits in the savings bank, and shall also receive, without payment, nontransferable rights to subscribe for the stock of the holding company, and rights to a liquidation account maintained by the holding company in proportion to their deposits in the savings bank, to the same extent that they would receive these rights in a stock conversion of the savings bank as prescribed in chapter 32.32 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 36. (1) Any holder of shares of a savings bank shall be entitled to receive the value of these shares, as specified in subsection (2) of this section, if (a) the savings bank is voluntarily liquidating, being acquired, merging, or consolidating, (b) the shareholder voted, in person or by proxy, against the liquidation, acquisition, merger, or consolidation, at a meeting of shareholders called for the purpose of voting on such transaction, and (c) the shareholder delivers a written demand for payment, with the stock certificates, to the savings bank within thirty days after such meeting of shareholders. The value of shares shall be paid in cash, within ten days after receipt of the written demand and stock certificates, except that if three appraisers are appointed as specified in subsection (2) of this section, the payment shall be due forty-five days after receipt of such demand and stock certificates.

(2) The value of such shares shall be the price published for shares listed on a national securities exchange, and shall be the bid price published for shares traded over the counter, at the close of business on the business day before the shareholders' meeting at which the shareholder dissented, except that if such shares are not so listed or traded, or if the value so determined differs by twenty percent or more from the average of such prices for the shares during the thirty days prior to this business day, or if a violation of RCW 32.32.225 has affected such determination, then the value of the shares shall be determined, within forty days after delivery of the stock certificates, by three appraisers appointed as provided in RCW 30.49.090.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 37. Sections 33 through 36 of this act are each added to chapter 32.34 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 38. The following acts or parts of acts are each repealed:

- (1) Section 32.20.140, chapter 13, Laws of 1955 and RCW 32.20.140;
- (2) Section 32.20.150, chapter 13, Laws of 1955 and RCW 32.20.150;
- (3) Section 32.20.170, chapter 13, Laws of 1955, section 4, chapter 80, Laws of 1955 and RCW 32.20.170;
- (4) Section 32.20.180, chapter 13, Laws of 1955 and RCW 32.20.180; and
- (5) Section 32.20.190, chapter 13, Laws of 1955 and RCW 32.20.190."

and the same are herewith transmitted.

DENNIS L. HECK, Chief Clerk

MOTION

Senator Moore moved that the Senate do concur in the House amendment to Substitute Senate Bill No. 3361.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Moore, I'm looking at page 7, and it looks like little odds and ends that you were speaking of. It says in Section 6, sub (1), 'anybody can withdraw, but they have to wait six months to get their money' and then there is a proviso, 'provided the bank may create a special class of depositors, who shall be entitled to receive their deposits upon demand and this can be enacted by the trustees at any time.' That is something new. I thought we were all one class in the savings banks. My question is--presumably, the trustees might say, 'well, if you have a hundred thousand dollars, you will be a special depositor and you can get your deposit back on demand,' but if I only have five thousand dollars, which is my life savings, I've got to wait six months for it.

"If you can't answer it, Gene's there and he's probably got the answer. It just doesn't sound right, Senator Moore, to have a special class. I thought we were all one and I hope you can explain it satisfactorily."

Senator Moore: "Senator Rasmussen, as you know when you drive by any institution, you will see outside advertised 'three months' certificates, six-months' certificates, ten-year certificates' and so on. This merely clarifies the fact of what is going on already and making it possible for the directors of an institution to decide, in their wisdom, to offer to somebody the fact that if they take a lesser interest rate, they can get their money instantly. If they want to leave it in longer and get a higher rate, it is now mandated that they can do that."

Senator Rasmussen: "But it indicates that the Board of Trustees can do this at any time and it doesn't spell it out. A certificate of deposit, I can understand, but it just says you can create special groups of depositors and you may change the rules of the game after you get the money in there."

Senator Moore: "I do not believe that that is the intent, nor do I believe that is what it really says."

Senator Rasmussen: "I am only trying to read the printed. I don't know what the intent is."

Senator Moore: "Well, I think it is well for us to remember that a contract is a contract and if somebody puts his money in on a certain basis, that cannot be preempted by the bank except in a failing condition."

Senator Rasmussen: "That's what I'm afraid of. There are lots of them failing."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the motion by Senator Moore that the Senate do concur in the House amendment to Substitute Senate Bill No. 3361.

The motion by Senator Moore carried and the Senate concurred in the House amendment to Substitute Senate Bill No. 3361.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 3361, as amended by the House.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 3361, as amended by the House, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 41; nays, 3; absent, 5.

Voting yea: Senators Bailey, Barr, Bauer, Bender, Benitz, Bluechel, Bottiger, Cantu, Conner, Craswell, DeJarnatt, Fleming, Garrett, Gaspard, Goltz, Granlund, Halsan, Hansen, Hayner, Johnson, Kiskaddon, Kreidler, Lee, McCaslin, McDermott, McDonald, McManus, Metcalf, Moore, Newhouse, Owen, Peterson, Sellar, Talmadge, Thompson, Vogniid, von Reichbauer, Warnke, Williams, Wojahn, Zimmerman - 41.

Voting nay: Senators Pullen, Rasmussen, Stratton - 3.

Absent: Senators Deccio, Guess, Patterson, Rinehart, Saling - 5.

SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 3361, as amended by the House, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

There being no objection, the President advanced the Senate to the sixth order of business.

There being no objection, the Senate resumed consideration of Substitute House Bill No. 52, deferred on second reading earlier today.

MOTION

Senator Craswell moved that the following amendment be adopted:
On page 7, line 16, strike subsection (8)

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Deccio: "Senator Talmadge, would you give the body an example of the kind of format that the Human Rights Commission would use to go out and do all these good little things? They are going to teach all these employers on how to avoid discriminating against their employees. I think that would be very interesting."

Senator Talmadge: "Senator, for example, if you take a look at the regulations of the Human Rights Commission, they have in them examples of what you can do to avoid problems with respect to a claim for discrimination, i.e., how to avoid asking questions in a certain fashion that would create a violation of the law, and how to ask for information in a way that is appropriate and how to establish bonafide occupational qualifications. For example, where you have a particular need to have a special qualification for a job--all those things are in the regulations and there have been seminars, to my knowledge, that provide that kind of information to employers to avoid a claim. In fact, I think a lot of good law firms in the state of Washington provide that kind of service to their clients in conjunction with the Human Rights Commission, so that they avoid those kinds of problems, but if you look at the regulations of the Commission, they are right in there as to how to avoid specific problems with respect to the anti-discrimination law."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senator Craswell.

The motion by Senator Craswell failed and the amendment was not adopted on a rising vote.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Talmadge, the rules were suspended, Substitute House Bill No. 52, as amended by the Senate, was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Substitute House Bill No. 52, as amended by the Senate.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Substitute House Bill No. 52, as amended by the Senate, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 44; nays, 5.

Voting yea: Senators Bailey, Barr, Bauer, Bender, Benitz, Bluechel, Bottiger, Cantu, Conner, Craswell, Deccio, DeJarnatt, Fleming, Garrett, Gaspard, Goltz, Granlund, Halsan, Hansen, Johnson, Kiskaddon, Kreidler, Lee, McDermott, McDonald, McManus, Metcalf, Moore, Newhouse, Owen, Patterson, Peterson, Rasmussen, Rinehart, Saling, Seilar, Stratton, Talmadge, Thompson, Vogtild, von Reichbauer, Warnke, Williams, Wojahn - 44.

Voting nay: Senators Guess, Hayner, McCaslin, Pullen, Zimmerman - 5.

SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 52, as amended by the Senate, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE

April 3, 1985

Mr. President:

The House has passed ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 3012 with the following amendments:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION, Sec. 1. The legislature finds that the prevention of serious, personal harassment is an important government objective. Toward that end, this chapter is aimed at making unlawful the repeated invasions of a person's privacy by acts and threats which show a pattern of harassment designed to coerce, intimidate, or humiliate the victim.

The legislature further finds that the protection of such persons from harassment can be accomplished without infringing on constitutionally protected speech or activity.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. (1) A person is guilty of harassment if:

(a) Without lawful authority, the person knowingly threatens:

(i) To cause bodily injury in the future to the person threatened or to any other person; or

(ii) To cause physical damage to the property of a person other than the actor; or

(iii) To subject the person threatened or any other person to physical confinement or restraint; or

(iv) Maliciously to do any other act which is intended to substantially harm the person threatened or another with respect to his or her physical or mental health or safety; and

(b) The person by words or conduct places the person threatened in reasonable fear that the threat will be carried out.

(2) A person who harasses another is guilty of a gross misdemeanor punishable under chapter 9A.20 RCW, unless the person has previously been convicted in this or any other state of any crime of harassment, as defined in section 6 of this act, of the same victim or members of the victim's family or household or any person specifically named in a no-contact or no-harassment order, in which case the person is guilty of a class C felony punishable under chapter 9A.20 RCW.

(3) The penalties provided in this section for harassment do not preclude the victim from seeking any other remedy otherwise available under law.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. Any harassment offense committed as set forth in section 2 of this act may be deemed to have been committed where the conduct occurred or at the place from which the threat or threats were made or at the place where the threats were received.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. (1) Because of the likelihood of repeated harassment directed at those who have been victims of harassment in the past, when any defendant charged with a crime involving harassment is released from custody before trial on bail or personal recognizance, the court authorizing the release may require that the defendant:

(a) Stay away from the home, school, business, or place of employment of the victim or victims of the alleged offense or other location, as shall be specifically named by the court in the order;

(b) Refrain from contacting, intimidating, threatening, or otherwise interfering with the victim or victims of the alleged offense and such other persons, including but not limited to members of the family or household of the victim, as shall be specifically named by the court in the order.

(2) An intentional violation of a court order issued under this section is a gross misdemeanor. The written order releasing the defendant shall contain the court's directives and shall bear the legend: Violation of this order is a criminal offense under chapter ___ RCW (chapter ___, Laws of 1985). A certified copy of the order shall be provided to the victim by the clerk of the court.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. A defendant who is charged by citation, complaint, or information with an offense involving harassment and not arrested shall appear in court for arraignment in person as soon as practicable, but in no event later than fourteen days after the next day on which court is in session following the issuance of the citation or the filing of the complaint or information. At that appearance, the court shall determine the necessity of imposing a no-contact or no-harassment order or other conditions of pretrial release according to the procedures established by court rule for preliminary appearance or an arraignment.

MOTION

Senator Talmadge moved that the Senate do not concur in the House amendments to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3012 and asks the House to recede therefrom.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Metcalf: "Senator Talmadge, as you envision it, we're going to send the bill back for another purpose. Would you advocate that the House amendments stay on the bill or not stay on the bill? I thought they were pretty good amendments."

Senator Talmadge: "It would be my intention, Senator Metcalf, to leave the amendments that are contained thereon--just as they appear. There is a section that was added, in fact, to 3254 by the House that relates to the penalties for the violation of a no-contact order. That was a very sensible idea and we wanted to mirror that particular pattern from 3254--this proposal."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the motion by Senator Talmadge that the Senate do not concur in the House amendments to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3012.

The motion by Senator Talmadge carried and the Senate did not concur in the House amendments to Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3012 and asks the House to recede therefrom.

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE

April 3, 1985

Mr. President:

The House has passed SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 3254 with the following amendments:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

*Sec. 1. Section 3, chapter 263, Laws of 1984 and RCW 26.50.020 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Any person may seek relief under this chapter by filing a petition with a court alleging that the person has been the victim of domestic violence committed by the respondent. The person may petition for relief on behalf of himself or herself and on behalf of minor family or household members.

(2) The courts defined in RCW 26.50.010(3) have jurisdiction over proceedings under this chapter. ~~((If a proceeding under chapter 26.09, 26.12, or 26.26 RCW is commenced in a superior court before or after the filing of an action in a district or municipal court under this chapter, then the superior court shall have exclusive jurisdiction over proceedings under this chapter. Any municipal or district court order entered while that court had jurisdiction remains valid until superseded by a superior court order.))~~ The jurisdiction of district or municipal courts under this chapter shall be limited to the issuance and enforcement of temporary orders for protection provided for in RCW 26.50.070 if: (a) A superior court has exercised or is exercising jurisdiction over a proceeding under this title or chapter 13.34 RCW involving the parties; (b) the petition for relief under this chapter presents a child custody or visitation issue; or (c) the petition for relief under this chapter requests the court to exclude a party from the dwelling which the parties share. When the jurisdiction of a district or municipal court is limited to the issuance and enforcement of a temporary order, the district or municipal court shall set the full hearing provided for in RCW 26.50.050 in superior court and transfer the case. If the notice and order are not served on the respondent in time for the full hearing, the issuing court shall have concurrent jurisdiction with the superior court to extend the order for protection.

(3) An action under this chapter shall be filed in the county or the municipality where the petitioner resides, unless the petitioner has left the residence or household to avoid abuse. In that case, the petitioner may bring an action in the county or municipality of the previous or the new household or residence.

(4) A person's right to petition for relief under this chapter is not affected by the person leaving the residence or household to avoid abuse.

~~((5) If an action under this chapter is commenced in a district or municipal court and a petitioner or respondent contests custody or visitation rights, then, upon the motion of either party containing proof that the petition for relief under this chapter has been filed with the superior court, the district or municipal court shall dismiss the action.))~~

Sec. 2. Section 4, chapter 263, Laws of 1984 and RCW 26.50.030 are each amended to read as follows:

There shall exist an action known as a petition for an order for protection in cases of domestic violence.

(1) A petition for relief shall allege the existence of domestic violence, and shall be accompanied by an affidavit made under oath stating the specific facts and circumstances from which relief is sought.

(2) A petition for relief may be made regardless of whether or not there is a pending lawsuit, complaint, petition, or other action between the parties except in cases where the court realigns petitioner and respondent in accordance with RCW 26.50.060(3).

(3) All court clerk's offices shall make available simplified forms and instructional brochures. Any assistance or information provided by clerks under this section does not constitute the practice of law and clerks are not responsible for incorrect information contained in a petition.

(4) A filing fee of twenty dollars shall be charged for proceedings under this section. No filing fee may be charged for: (a) A petition filed in an existing action or under an existing cause number brought under this chapter in the jurisdiction where the relief is sought; or (b) the transfer of a case from district or municipal court to superior court under RCW 26.50.020(2). Forms and instructional brochures shall be provided free of charge.

(5) A person is not required to post a bond to obtain relief in any proceeding under this section.

Sec. 3. Section 31, chapter 263, Laws of 1984 and RCW 26.50.035 are each amended to read as follows:

The administrator for the courts shall develop and prepare, in consultation with interested persons, the forms and instructional brochures required under RCW 26.50.030(3). ~~((These forms shall be distributed to and available for use by the court clerks before September 1, 1984.))~~ The administrator for the courts shall distribute a master copy of the forms and instructional brochures to all court clerks.

Sec. 4. Section 5, chapter 263, Laws of 1984 and RCW 26.50.040 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Persons seeking relief under this chapter may file an application for leave to proceed in forma pauperis on forms supplied by the court. If the court determines that a petitioner lacks the funds to pay the costs of filing, the petitioner shall be granted leave to proceed in forma pauperis and no filing fee or any other court related fees shall be charged by the court to the petitioner for relief sought under this chapter. If the petitioner is granted leave to proceed in forma pauperis, then no fees for service may be charged to the petitioner.

(2) For the purpose of determining whether a petitioner has the funds available to pay the costs of filing an action under this chapter, the income of the household or family member named as the respondent is not considered.

Sec. 5. Section 7, chapter 263, Laws of 1984 and RCW 26.50.060 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Upon notice and after hearing, the court may provide relief as follows:

~~((1))~~ (a) Restrain a party from committing acts of domestic violence;

~~((2))~~ (b) Exclude the respondent from the dwelling which the parties share or from the residence of the petitioner;

~~((3))~~ (c) On the same basis as is provided in chapter 26.09 RCW, award temporary custody and establish temporary visitation with regard to minor children of the parties, and restrain any party from interfering with the custody of the minor children;

~~((4))~~ (d) Order the respondent to participate in treatment or counseling services;

~~((5))~~ (e) Order other relief as it deems necessary for the protection of a family or household member, including orders or directives to a peace officer, as allowed under this chapter; and

~~((6))~~ (f) Require the respondent to pay the filing fee and court costs, including service fees, and to reimburse the petitioner for costs incurred in bringing the action, including a reasonable attorney's fee. If the petitioner has been granted leave to proceed in forma pauperis, the court may require the respondent to pay the filing fee and costs, including services fees, to the county or municipality incurring the expense.

(2) Any relief granted by the order for protection, other than a judgment for costs, shall be for a fixed period not to exceed one year.

(3) In providing relief under this chapter, the court may realign the designation of the parties as "petitioner" and "respondent" where the court finds that the original petitioner is the abuser and the original respondent is the victim of domestic violence.

Sec. 6. Section 10, chapter 263, Laws of 1984 and RCW 26.50.090 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) An order issued under this chapter shall be personally served upon the respondent, except as provided in subsection (6) of this section.

(2) The sheriff of the county or the peace officers of the municipality in which the respondent resides shall serve the respondent personally unless the petitioner elects to have the respondent served by a private party.

(3) If service by a sheriff or municipal peace officer is to be used, the clerk of the court shall have a copy of any order issued under this chapter forwarded on or before the next judicial day to the appropriate law enforcement agency specified in the order for service upon the respondent. Service of an order issued under this chapter shall take precedence over the service of other documents unless they are of a similar emergency nature.

(4) If the sheriff or municipal peace officer cannot complete service upon the respondent within ten days, the sheriff or municipal peace officer shall notify the petitioner. The petitioner shall provide information sufficient to permit notification.

(5) Returns of service under this chapter shall be made in accordance with the applicable court rules.

(6) If an order entered by the court recites that the respondent appeared in person before the court, the necessity for further service is waived and proof of service of that order is not necessary.

(7) Except in cases where the petitioner is granted leave to proceed in forma pauperis, municipal police departments serving documents as required under this chapter may collect the same fees for service and mileage authorized by RCW 36.18.040 to be collected by sheriffs.

Sec. 7. Section 15, chapter 263, Laws of 1984 and RCW 26.50.200 are each amended to read as follows:

Nothing in this ((act)) chapter may affect the title to real estate: PROVIDED, That a judgment for costs or fees awarded under this chapter shall constitute a lien on real estate to the extent provided in chapter 4.56 RCW.

Sec. 8. Section 9A.36.040, chapter 260, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. as amended by section 18, chapter 263, Laws of 1984 and RCW 9A.36.040 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Every person who shall commit an assault or an assault and battery not amounting to assault in either the first, second, or third degree shall be guilty of simple assault.

(2) Simple assault is a gross misdemeanor.

~~((3) Every person convicted of three offenses under this section against a family or household member as defined in RCW 10.99.020 is guilty of a class C felony.))~~

Sec. 9. Section 1, chapter 198, Laws of 1969 ex. sess. as last amended by section 19, chapter 263, Laws of 1984 and RCW 10.31.100 are each amended to read as follows:

A police officer having probable cause to believe that a person has committed or is committing a felony shall have the authority to arrest the person without a warrant. A police officer may arrest a person without a warrant for committing a misdemeanor or gross misdemeanor only when the offense is committed in the presence of the officer, except as provided in subsections (1) through (4) of this section.

(1) Any police officer having probable cause to believe that a person has committed or is committing a misdemeanor or gross misdemeanor, involving physical harm or threats of harm to any person or property or the unlawful taking of property or involving the use or possession of cannabis shall have the authority to arrest the person.

(2) A police officer shall arrest and take into custody, pending release on bail, personal recognizance, or court order, a person without a warrant when the officer has probable cause to believe that:

(a) An order has been issued of which the person has knowledge under RCW 10.99.040(2), 10.99.050, 26.09.060, chapter 26.26 RCW, or chapter 26.50 RCW restraining the person and the person has violated the terms of the order restraining the person from acts or threats of violence or excluding the person from a residence; or

(b) The person is eighteen years or older and within the preceding four hours has assaulted that person's spouse, former spouse, or ((other)) a person eighteen years or older with whom the person resides or has formerly resided. An officer shall make an arrest if the officer believes: (i) A felonious assault has occurred; (ii) an assault has occurred which has resulted in bodily injury to the victim, whether the injury is observable by the responding officer or not; or (iii) that any physical action has occurred which was intended to cause another person reasonably to fear imminent serious bodily injury or death. Bodily injury means physical pain, illness, or an impairment of physical condition. When the officer has probable cause to believe that spouses, former spouses, or other persons who reside together or formerly resided together have assaulted each other, the officer is not required to arrest both persons. The officer shall arrest the person whom the officer believes to be the primary physical aggressor. In making this determination, the officer shall make every reasonable effort to consider: (i) The intent to protect victims of domestic violence under RCW 10.99.010; (ii) the comparative extent of injuries inflicted or serious threats creating fear of physical injury; and (iii) the history of domestic violence between the persons involved.

(3) Any police officer having probable cause to believe that a person has committed or is committing a violation of any of the following traffic laws shall have the authority to arrest the person:

(a) RCW 46.52.010, relating to duty on striking an unattended car or other property;

(b) RCW 46.52.020, relating to duty in case of injury to or death of a person or damage to an attended vehicle;

(c) RCW 46.61.500 or 46.61.530, relating to reckless driving or racing of vehicles;

(d) RCW 46.61.502 or 46.61.504, relating to persons under the influence of intoxicating liquor or drugs;

(e) RCW 46.20.342, relating to driving a motor vehicle while operator's license is suspended or revoked;

(f) RCW 46.61.525, relating to operating a motor vehicle in a negligent manner.

(4) A law enforcement officer investigating at the scene of a motor vehicle accident may arrest the driver of a motor vehicle involved in the accident if the officer has probable cause to believe that the driver has committed in connection with the accident a violation of any traffic law or regulation.

(5) Except as specifically provided in subsections (2), (3), and (4) of this section, nothing in this section extends or otherwise affects the powers of arrest prescribed in Title 46 RCW.

(6) No police officer may be held criminally or civilly liable for making an arrest pursuant to RCW 10.31.100(2) if the police officer acts in good faith and without malice.

Sec. 10. Section 4, chapter 105, Laws of 1979 ex. sess. as last amended by section 22, chapter 263, Laws of 1984 and RCW 10.99.040 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Because of the serious nature of domestic violence, the court in domestic violence actions:

(a) Shall not dismiss any charge or delay disposition because of concurrent dissolution or other civil proceedings;

(b) Shall not require proof that either party is seeking a dissolution of marriage prior to instigation of criminal proceedings;

(c) Shall waive any requirement that the victim's location be disclosed to any person, other than the attorney of a criminal defendant, upon a showing that there is a possibility of further violence: PROVIDED, That the court may order a criminal defense attorney not to disclose to his client the victim's location; and

(d) Shall identify by any reasonable means on docket sheets those criminal actions arising from acts of domestic violence.

(2) Because of the likelihood of repeated violence directed at those who have been victims of domestic violence in the past, when any ((defendant)) person charged with or arrested for a crime involving domestic violence is released from custody before arraignment or trial on bail or personal recognizance, the court authorizing the release may prohibit ((the defendant)) that person from having any contact with the victim. The ((arresting)) jurisdiction authorizing the release shall determine whether ((the defendant)) that person should be prohibited from having any contact with the victim. If there is no outstanding restraining or protective order prohibiting ((the defendant)) that person from having contact with the victim, the court authorizing release may issue, by telephone, a no-contact order prohibiting the ((defendant)) person charged or arrested from having contact with the victim. The no-contact order shall also be issued in writing as soon as possible. If the court has probable cause to believe that the ((defendant)) person charged or arrested is likely to use or display or threaten to use a deadly weapon as defined in RCW 9A.04.110 in any further acts of violence, the court may also require ((the defendant)) that person to surrender any deadly weapon in ((the defendant's)) that person's immediate possession or control, or subject to ((the defendant's)) that person's immediate possession or control, to the sheriff of the county or chief of police of the municipality in which ((the defendant)) that person resides or to the defendant's counsel for safekeeping.

(3) At the time of arraignment the court shall determine whether a no-contact order shall be issued or extended.

(4) Willful violation of a court order issued under subsection (2) or (3) of this section is a misdemeanor. The written order releasing the ((defendant)) person charged or arrested shall contain the court's directives and shall bear the legend: Violation of this order is a criminal offense under chapter 10.99 RCW and will subject a violator to arrest. A certified copy of the order shall be provided to the victim. If a no-contact order has been issued prior to charging, that order shall expire at arraignment or within fifteen days if charges are not filed. Such orders need not be entered into the computer information system in this state which is used by law enforcement agencies to list outstanding warrants.

((4*)) (5) Whenever an order prohibiting contact is issued, modified, or terminated under subsection (2) or (3) of this section, the clerk of the court shall forward a copy of the order on or before the next judicial day to the appropriate law enforcement agency specified in the order. Upon receipt of the copy of the order the law enforcement agency shall forthwith enter the order for one year or until the expiration date specified on the order into any ((computer-based criminal intelligence)) computer information system available in this state used by law enforcement agencies to list outstanding warrants. Entry into the law enforcement information system constitutes notice to all law enforcement agencies of the existence of the order. The order is fully enforceable in any jurisdiction in the state.

Sec. 11. Section 46.64.015, chapter 12, Laws of 1961 as last amended by section 2, chapter 28, Laws of 1979 ex. sess. and RCW 46.64.015 are each amended to read as follows:

Whenever any person is arrested for any violation of the traffic laws or regulations which is punishable as a misdemeanor or by imposition of a fine, the arresting officer may serve upon him a traffic citation and notice to appear in court. Such citation and notice shall conform to the requirements of RCW 46.64.010, and in addition, shall include spaces for the name and address of the person arrested, the license number of the vehicle involved, the driver's license number of such person, if any, the offense or violation charged, the time and place where such person shall appear in court, and a place where the person arrested may sign. Such spaces shall be filled with the appropriate information by the arresting officer. The arrested person, in order to secure release, and when permitted by the arresting officer, must give his written promise to appear in court as required by the citation and notice by signing in the appropriate place the written citation and notice served by the arresting officer. An officer may not serve or issue any traffic citation or notice for any offense or violation except either when the offense or violation is committed in his presence or when a person may be arrested pursuant to RCW 10.31.100, as now or hereafter amended. The detention arising from an arrest under this section may not be for a period of time longer than is reasonably necessary to issue and serve a citation and notice, except that the time limitation does not apply under any of the following circumstances:

(1) Where the arrested person refuses to sign a written promise to appear in court as required by the citation and notice provisions of this section;

(2) Where the arresting officer has probable cause to believe that the arrested person has committed any of the offenses enumerated in RCW 10.31.100~~((2))~~(3), as now or hereafter amended.

Sec. 12. Section 5, chapter 105, Laws of 1979 ex. sess. as amended by section 24, chapter 263, Laws of 1984 and RCW 10.99.050 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) When a defendant is found guilty of a crime and a condition of the sentence restricts the defendant's ability to have contact with the victim, such condition shall be recorded and a written certified copy of that order shall be provided to the victim.

(2) Wilful violation of a court order issued under this section is a misdemeanor. The written order shall contain the court's directives and shall bear the legend: Violation of this order is a criminal offense under chapter 10.99 RCW and will subject a violator to arrest.

(3) Whenever an order prohibiting contact is issued pursuant to this section, the clerk of the court shall forward a copy of the order on or before the next judicial day to the appropriate law enforcement agency specified in the order. Upon receipt of the copy of the order the law enforcement agency shall forthwith enter the order for one year into any computer-based criminal intelligence information system available in this state used by law enforcement agencies to list outstanding warrants. Entry into the law enforcement information system constitutes notice to all law enforcement agencies of the existence of the order. The order is fully enforceable in any jurisdiction in the state.

Sec. 13. Section 37, chapter 299, Laws of 1961 and RCW 3.46.030 are each amended to read as follows:

A municipal department shall have exclusive jurisdiction of matters arising from ordinances of the city, and no jurisdiction of other matters except as conferred by statute.

Sec. 14. Section 51, chapter 299, Laws of 1961 as last amended by section 104, chapter 258, Laws of 1984 and RCW 3.50.020 are each amended to read as follows:

The municipal court shall also have the jurisdiction as conferred by statute. The municipal court is empowered to forfeit cash bail or bail bonds and issue execution thereon; and in general to hear and determine all causes, civil or criminal, including traffic infractions, arising under such ordinances and to pronounce judgment in accordance therewith."

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. Section 43.19.1906, chapter 8, Laws of 1965 as last amended by section 3, chapter 102, Laws of 1984 and RCW 43.19.1906 are each amended to read as follows:

Insofar as practicable, all purchases and sales shall be based on competitive bids, and a formal sealed bid procedure shall be used as standard procedure for all purchases and contracts for purchases and sales executed by the state purchasing and material control director and under the powers granted by RCW 43.19.190 through 43.19.1939, as now or hereafter amended. This requirement also applies to purchases and contracts for purchases and sales executed by agencies, including educational institutions, under delegated authority granted in accordance with provisions of RCW 43.19.190 as now or hereafter amended. However, formal sealed bidding is not necessary for:

(1) Emergency purchases made pursuant to RCW 43.19.200 if the sealed bidding procedure would prevent or hinder the emergency from being met appropriately;

(2) Purchases not exceeding (~~((twenty-five hundred))~~ five thousand dollars: PROVIDED, That the state director of general administration shall establish procedures to assure that purchases made by or on behalf of the various state agencies shall not be made so as to avoid the (~~((twenty-five hundred))~~ five thousand dollar bid limitation: PROVIDED FURTHER, That the state purchasing and material control director is authorized to reduce this formal sealed bid limit of (~~((twenty-five hundred))~~ five thousand dollars to a lower dollar amount for purchases by individual state agencies, including purchases of specialized equipment, instructional, and research materials by colleges and universities, if considered necessary to maintain full disclosure of competitive procurement or otherwise to achieve overall state efficiency and economy in purchasing and material control. SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 890, by Committee on Agriculture (originally sponsored by Representatives Nealey and Baugher)

Reestablishing procedures for certain agricultural liens.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Hansen, the following Committee on Agriculture amendment was adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION, Sec. 1. As used in this chapter, the terms defined in this section have the meanings indicated unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(1) "Agricultural product," "conditioner," "consignor," "person," "processor," and "producer" have the meanings defined in RCW 20.01.010.

(2) "Preparer" means a person engaged in the business of feeding livestock or preparing livestock products for market.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 2. Starting on the date a producer delivers any agricultural product to a processor or conditioner, the producer has a first priority statutory lien, referred to as a "processor lien." This processor lien shall continue until twenty days after payment for the product is due and remains unpaid, without filing any notice of lien, for the contract price, if any, or the fair market value of the products delivered. The processor lien attaches to the agricultural products delivered, to the processor's or conditioner's inventory, and to the processor's or conditioner's accounts receivable. However, no processor lien may attach to agricultural products delivered by a producer, or on the producer's behalf, to a processor which is organized and operated on a cooperative basis and of which the producer is a member, nor may such lien attach to such processor's inventory or accounts receivable.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 3. Starting on the date a producer delivers grain, hay, or straw to a preparer, the producer has a first priority statutory lien, referred to as a "preparer lien." This preparer lien shall continue twenty days after payment for the product is due and remains unpaid, without filing any notice of lien, for the contract price, if any, or the fair market value of the products delivered. The preparer lien attaches to the agricultural products delivered by the producer to the preparer, and to the preparer's accounts receivable.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. (1) A producer claiming a processor or preparer lien may file a statement evidencing the lien with the department of licensing after payment from the processor, conditioner, or preparer to the producer is due and remains unpaid. For purposes of this subsection and section 5 of this act, payment is due on the date specified in the contract, or if not specified, then within thirty days from time of delivery.

(2) The statement shall be in writing, verified by the producer, and shall contain in substance the following information:

- (a) A true statement of the amount demanded after deducting all credits and offsets;
- (b) The name of the processor, conditioner, or preparer who received the agricultural product to be charged with the lien;
- (c) A description sufficient to identify the agricultural product to be charged with the lien;
- (d) A statement that the amount claimed is a true and bona fide existing debt as of the date of the filing of the notice evidencing the lien; and
- (e) The date on which payment was due for the agricultural product to be charged with the lien.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. (1) (a) If a statement is filed pursuant to section 4 of this act within twenty days of the date upon which payment from the processor, conditioner, or preparer to the producer is due and remains unpaid, the processor or preparer lien evidenced by the statement continues its priority over all other liens or security interests upon agricultural products, inventory, and accounts receivable, except as provided in (b) of this subsection. Such priority is without regard to whether the other liens or security interests attached before or after the date on which the processor or preparer lien attached.

(b) The processor or preparer lien shall be subordinate to liens for taxes or labor perfected before filing of the processor or preparer lien.

(2) If the statement provided for in section 4 of this act is not filed within twenty days of the date payment is due and remains unpaid, the processor or preparer lien shall thereupon become subordinate to:

- (a) A lien that has attached to the agricultural product, inventory, or accounts receivable before the date on which the processor or preparer lien attaches; and
- (b) A perfected security interest in the agricultural product, inventory, or accounts receivable.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. (1) The processor lien shall terminate six months after, and the preparer lien shall terminate fifty days after, the later of the date of attachment or filing, unless a suit to foreclose the lien has been filed before that time as provided in section 7 of this act.

(2) If a statement has been filed as provided in section 4 of this act and the producer has received payment for the obligation secured by the lien, the producer shall promptly file with the department of licensing a statement declaring that full payment has been received and that the lien is discharged. If, after payment, the producer fails to file such statement of discharge within ten days following a request to do so, the producer shall be liable to the processor, conditioner, or preparer in the sum of one hundred dollars plus actual damages caused by the failure.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. (1) The processor or preparer liens may be foreclosed and enforced by civil action in superior court.

(2) In all suits to enforce processor or preparer liens, the court shall, upon entering judgment, allow to the prevailing party as a part of the costs, all moneys paid for the filing and recording of the lien and reasonable attorney fees.

Sec. 8. Section 1, chapter 139, Laws of 1959 as last amended by section 1, chapter 305, Laws of 1983 and RCW 20.01.010 are each amended to read as follows:

(12) "Retail merchant" means any person operating from a bona fide or established place of business selling agricultural products twelve months of each year. (~~PROVIDED FURTHER, That such lien shall be subordinate to any crop lien or crop mortgage which has been filed for record prior to the furnishing of such materials or products~~). This lien shall take first priority over any other security interest in crops for which no new value was provided if such materials or services were given to enable the debtor to produce crops during the production season.

(2) If the crop, or any part thereof, is sold subsequent to the filing of the lien, or possession delivered to an agent, broker, cooperative agency or other person to be sold or otherwise disposed of and its identity lost, or the crop commingled with other property so that it cannot be segregated, and if the purchaser, agent, broker, cooperative agency or other person is notified of the filing of the lien by being served with a certified copy thereof, the lien shall attach to the proceeds of the sale of the crop or part thereof remaining in the possession of the purchaser, agent, broker, cooperative agency or other person at the time of the notice and to any proceeds of such sale that may thereafter come into the possession of any of such persons and the lien shall be as effective against such proceeds as against the crop itself.

(3) A commercial fertilizer, pesticide, or weed killer lien takes priority over any perfected or unperfected security interest for which no new value was provided if materials or services were given to enable the debtor to produce the crops during the production season.

Debate ensued.

MOTION

"No grant or loan or combination thereof shall be made for preconstruction activities, not including planning, for any project whose financing requires an increase in the state bond debt limit."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Talmadge: "Senator Bluechel, it's your intention to make it a state statutory bond debt limit--right--not the state constitutional bond debt limit?"

Senator Bluechel: "I was trying to cover both of them by saying bond limit, but that's a good point. We didn't delineate between the two, but there is a difference in either case. Either one would prevail under the existing statutes--under the voter approved, which could go beyond, but it would still apply. You couldn't go beyond the constitutional limit anyway, but it is primarily directed at the state statutory limit."

Senator Talmadge: "Might it not make some sense to insert 'statutory' in there to make that clear?"

Senator Bluechel: "No, some of them are voted on and that was an issue we couldn't clarify at the time. I think this does the job. It's been in it for quite a few years in an erroneous manner. This is a much better version of the thing and I would recommend we look at it for now rather than to try and rewrite it. We went through a great deal of effort with both staffs trying to make the thing correct."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senator Bluechel.

The motion by Senator Bluechel carried and the amendment was adopted.

On page 49, after line 26, after the appropriation, insert the following:

"$250,000 for fiscal year 1986 and $250,000 for fiscal year 1987 are appropriated to the state conservation commission to be used as matching grants to implement cost-effective activities identified in conservation district long-range programs. No less than ten statewide projects including, but not limited to, programs for erosion control, stream corridor environment, water quality and irrigation water management, prime agricultural land conservation, woodlot improvement, and range management shall be funded."

The motion by Senator Bailey failed and the amendment was not adopted.

MOTION

Senator Zimmerman moved that the following amendment be adopted:

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "Senator Granlund, the vote was a standing vote and Senator Williams--"

REMARKS BY SENATOR BOTTIGER

Senator Bottiger: "Mr. President, I can assure Senator Granlund that I tried to jerk his coat, but he was talking to somebody else and they stood up and he stood up."

Further debate ensued.

Senator Williams demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the motion by Senator Williams to reconsider the vote by which the amendments by Senators Granlund, Bender and Rasmussen on page 49, lines 29 and 32, were adopted.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll and the motion by Senator Williams for reconsideration failed by the following vote: Yeas, 22; nays, 26; excused, 1.

I want to know if there was some funding for hospitals and if you could give me the rate?"

Senator McDermott: "Senator Zimmerman, when we were reducing the vendor rates due to inflation reductions in the most recent forecast, the hospital inflation rate is at 4.1 percent. We put an additional percent above that, so that the inflation rate is at 5.1 percent, which is the standard that the Hospital Commission uses in setting hospital rates."

Senator Zimmerman: "That would be 5.4, I think. Your addition would be 5.4, as you indicated a point above."

Senator McDermott: "I think it's 4.1 and 5.1, but if you want me to check that number--"

Senator Zimmerman: "I think it's 5.4."

Senator McDermott: "My staff tells me you're right."

Senator Zimmerman: "That's fine. I just wanted to hear it from you. Thank you very much."

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE

April 3, 1985

Mr. President:

The House has passed SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 3180 with the following amendment:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. Section 11, chapter 36, Laws of 1969 ex. sess. as last amended by section 3, chapter 11, Laws of 1980 and RCW 28B.16.110 are each amended to read as follows:

The salary schedules and compensation plans, adopted and revised as provided in RCW 28B.16.100 as now or hereafter amended, shall reflect prevailing rates in other public employment and in private employment in this state or in the locality in which the institution or related board is located. For this purpose comprehensive salary and fringe benefit surveys shall be undertaken by the board with the assistance of the various personnel officers of the institutions of higher education and on a joint basis with the department of personnel, with such surveys to be conducted ((at least)) in the year prior to the convening of ((each)) every other one hundred five day regular session of the state legislature. In the year prior to the convening of each one hundred five day regular session during which a comprehensive salary and fringe benefit survey is not conducted, the board with assistance of the various personnel officers of the institutions of higher education and on a joint basis with the department of personnel, shall conduct a trend salary and fringe benefit survey. This survey shall measure average salary and fringe benefit movement for broad occupational groups which has occurred since the last comprehensive salary and fringe benefit survey was conducted. The results of ((such)) each comprehensive and trend salary and fringe benefit survey shall be completed and forwarded by September 30 with recommended salary adjustments, which recommendations shall be advisory only, to the governor and the director of financial management for their use in preparing budgets to be submitted to the succeeding legislature. A copy of the data and supporting documentation shall be furnished by the board to the standing committees for appropriations of the senate and house of representatives.

In the case of comprehensive salary and fringe benefit surveys, the board shall furnish the following supplementary data in support of its recommended salary schedule:

(1) A total dollar figure which reflects the recommended increase or decrease in state salaries as a direct result of the specific salary and fringe benefit survey that has been conducted and which is categorized to indicate what portion of the increase or decrease is represented by salary survey data and what portion is represented by fringe benefit survey data;

(2) An additional total dollar figure which reflects the impact of recommended increases or decreases to state salaries based on other factors rather than directly on prevailing rate data obtained through the survey process and which is categorized to indicate the sources of the requests for deviation from prevailing rates and the reasons for the changes;

(3) A list of class codes and titles indicating recommended monthly salary ranges for all state classes under the control of the higher education personnel board with:

(a) Those salary ranges which do not substantially conform to the prevailing rates developed from the salary and fringe benefit survey distinctly marked and an explanation of the reason for the deviation included; and

(b) Those higher education personnel board classes which are substantially the same as classes being used by the department of personnel clearly marked to show the commonality of the classes between the two jurisdictions;

(4) A supplemental salary schedule which indicates the additional salary to be paid state employees for hazardous duties or other considerations requiring extra compensation under specific circumstances. Additional compensation for these circumstances shall not be included in the basic salary schedule but shall be maintained as a separate pay schedule for purposes of full disclosure and visibility; and

(5) A supplemental salary schedule which indicates those cases where the board determines that prevailing rates do not provide similar salaries for positions that require or impose similar responsibilities, judgment, knowledge, skills, and working conditions. This supplementary salary schedule shall contain proposed salary adjustments necessary to eliminate any such dissimilarities in compensation. Additional compensation needed to eliminate such salary dissimilarities shall not be included in the basic salary schedule but shall be maintained as a separate salary schedule for purposes of full disclosure and visibility.

It is the intention of the legislature that requests for funds to support recommendations for salary deviations from the prevailing rate survey data shall be kept to a minimum, and that the requests be fully documented when forwarded by the board. Further, it is the intention of the legislature that the department of personnel and the higher education personnel board jointly determine job classes which are substantially common to both jurisdictions and that basic salaries for these job classes shall be equal based on salary and fringe benefit survey findings.

Salary and fringe benefit survey information collected from private employers which identifies a specific employer with the salary and fringe benefit rates which that employer pays to its employees shall not be subject to public disclosure under chapter 42.17 RCW.

The first comprehensive salary and fringe benefit survey required by this section shall be completed and forwarded to the governor and the director of financial management by September 30, 1986. The first trend salary and fringe benefit survey required by this section shall be completed and forwarded to the governor and the director of financial management by September 30, 1988.

Sec. 2. Section 16, chapter 1, Laws of 1961 as last amended by section 1, chapter 11, Laws of 1980 and RCW 41.06.160 are each amended to read as follows:

In preparing classification and salary schedules as set forth in RCW 41.06.150 as now or hereafter amended the department of personnel shall give full consideration to prevailing rates in other public employment and in private employment in this state. For this purpose the department shall undertake comprehensive salary and fringe benefit surveys to be planned and conducted on a joint basis with the higher education personnel board, with such surveys to be conducted ((at least)) in the year prior to the convening of ((each)) every other one hundred five day regular session of the state legislature. In the year prior to the convening of each one hundred five day regular session during which a comprehensive salary and fringe benefit survey is not conducted, the department shall plan and conduct on a joint basis with the higher education personnel board a trend salary and fringe benefit survey. This survey shall measure average salary and fringe benefit movement for broad occupational groups which has occurred since the last comprehensive salary and fringe benefit survey was conducted. The results of each comprehensive and trend salary and fringe benefit survey shall be completed and forwarded by September 30 with a recommended state salary schedule to the governor and director of financial management for their use in preparing budgets to be submitted to the succeeding legislature. A copy of the data and supporting documentation shall be furnished by the department of personnel to the standing committees for appropriations of the senate and house of representatives.

In the case of comprehensive salary and fringe benefit surveys, the department shall furnish the following supplementary data in support of its recommended salary schedule:

(1) A total dollar figure which reflects the recommended increase or decrease in state salaries as a direct result of the specific salary and fringe benefit survey that has been conducted and which is categorized to indicate what portion of the increase or decrease is represented by salary survey data and what portion is represented by fringe benefit survey data;

(2) An additional total dollar figure which reflects the impact of recommended increases or decreases to state salaries based on other factors rather than directly on prevailing rate data obtained through the survey process and which is categorized to indicate the sources of the requests for deviation from prevailing rates and the reasons for the changes;

(3) A list of class codes and titles indicating recommended monthly salary ranges for all state classes under the control of the department of personnel with:

(a) Those salary ranges which do not substantially conform to the prevailing rates developed from the salary and fringe benefit survey distinctly marked and an explanation of the reason for the deviation included; and

(b) Those department of personnel classes which are substantially the same as classes being used by the higher education personnel board clearly marked to show the commonality of the classes between the two jurisdictions;

(4) A supplemental salary schedule which indicates the additional salary to be paid state employees for hazardous duties or other considerations requiring extra compensation under specific circumstances. Additional compensation for these circumstances shall not be included in the basic salary schedule but shall be maintained as a separate pay schedule for purposes of full disclosure and visibility; and

(5) A supplemental salary schedule which indicates those cases where the board determines that prevailing rates do not provide similar salaries for positions that require or impose similar responsibilities, judgment, knowledge, skills, and working conditions. This supplementary salary schedule shall contain proposed salary adjustments necessary to eliminate any such dissimilarities in compensation. Additional compensation needed to eliminate such salary dissimilarities shall not be included in the basic salary schedule but shall be maintained as a separate salary schedule for purposes of full disclosure and visibility.

It is the intention of the legislature that requests for funds to support recommendations for salary deviations from the prevailing rate survey data shall be kept to a minimum, and that the requests be fully documented when forwarded by the department of personnel. Further, it is the intention of the legislature that the department of personnel and the higher education personnel board jointly determine job classes which are substantially common to both jurisdictions and that basic salaries for these job classes shall be equal based on salary and fringe benefit survey findings.

Salary and fringe benefit survey information collected from private employers which identifies a specific employer with the salary and fringe benefit rates which that employer pays to its employees shall not be subject to public disclosure under chapter 42.17 RCW.

The first comprehensive salary and fringe benefit survey required by this section shall be completed and forwarded to the governor and the director of financial management by September 30, 1986. The first trend salary and fringe benefit survey required by this section shall be completed and forwarded to the governor and the director of financial management by September 30, 1988.

Sec. 3. Section 5, chapter 152, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. as last amended by section 2, chapter 11, Laws of 1980 and RCW 41.06.167 are each amended to read as follows:

The department of personnel shall undertake comprehensive salary and fringe benefit surveys for officers of the Washington state patrol, with such surveys to be conducted ((at least)) in the year prior to the convening of ((each)) every other one hundred five day regular session of the state legislature. In the year prior to the convening of each one hundred five day regular session during which a comprehensive salary and fringe benefit survey is not conducted, the department shall conduct a trend salary and fringe benefit survey. This survey shall measure average salary and fringe benefit movement which has occurred since the last comprehensive salary and fringe benefit survey was conducted. The results of each ((such)) comprehensive and trend survey shall be completed and forwarded by September 30, after review and concurrence by the chief of the Washington state patrol, to the governor and director of financial management for their use in preparing budgets to be submitted to the succeeding legislature. A copy of the data and supporting documentation shall be furnished by the department of personnel to the legislative budget committee and the standing committees for appropriations of the senate and house of representatives. The office of financial management shall analyze the survey results and conduct investigations which may be necessary to arbitrate differences between interested parties regarding the accuracy of collected survey data and the use of such data for salary adjustment.

Surveys conducted by the department of personnel for the Washington state patrol shall be undertaken in a manner consistent with statistically accurate sampling techniques, including comparisons of weighted averages of salaries. This service performed by the department of personnel shall be on a reimbursable basis in accordance with the provisions of RCW 41.06.080 as now existing or hereafter amended.

A comprehensive salary and fringe benefits survey plan shall be submitted jointly by the department of personnel and the Washington state patrol to the director of financial management, the committee on ways and means of the senate, the committee on appropriations of the house of representatives and to the legislative budget committee six months before the beginning of each periodic survey. The legislative budget committee shall review and evaluate the survey plan before final implementation.

Relating to transportation.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Peterson, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3920 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 3920 and the substitute bill was advanced to second reading and read the second time.

Senator Wojahn moved that the following amendment by Senators Wojahn, Talmadge, Guess, Johnson, Stratton, Garrett, Lee, Fleming, Peterson and Granlund be adopted:

On page 9, after line 13, insert the following:

*Sec. 20. Section 1, chapter 181, Laws of 1979 ex. sess. and RCW 82.39.010 are each amended to read as follows:

The legislative authority of any city having a population ~~((of))~~ over ~~((four hundred))~~ one hundred-forty thousand may, by resolution or ordinance for the purposes authorized by RCW 82.39.030, fix and impose an excise tax on the sale or distribution of motor vehicle fuel and special fuel within such city. The rate of such tax shall be in increments of one-tenth of a cent per gallon and shall not exceed two cents per gallon. Any person paying such excise tax who, in turn, sells or distributes such fuel to another, whether or not for use, shall include the tax as part of the selling price of the fuel. Any person thereafter paying a price for such fuel which includes an increment for the tax imposed hereunder, and who subsequently resells said fuel, shall include the increment so paid as part of the selling price of the fuel.

The tax so imposed shall be collected and paid to the city imposing it but once in respect to any motor vehicle fuel or special fuel. Such tax shall be in addition to any other tax authorized or imposed by law. The total proceeds of such tax shall not exceed the sum of twenty-five million dollars plus administration and collection expenses pursuant to RCW 82.39.040 and refunds, if any, during the period July 1, ~~((1979))~~ 1985, through June 30, ~~((1985))~~ 1991.

Sec. 21. Section 3, chapter 181, Laws of 1979 ex. sess. and RCW 82.39.030 are each amended to read as follows:

The entire proceeds of the tax imposed under this chapter, less refunds and less amounts deducted by the state department of licensing for administration and collection expenses pursuant to RCW 82.39.040, shall be used solely to finance the local share of preliminary engineering, right of way acquisition, and construction expenditures for any project located on one or more adjacent city streets, forming a state corridor ~~((with existing average weekday traffic in excess of sixty-five thousand vehicles)),~~ which includes a high-level crossing of a waterway ~~((used for international commercial navigation))~~ within the city limits of a city having a population of more than 140,000.

Sec. 22. Section 9, chapter 181, Laws of 1979 ex. sess. (uncodified) is amended to read as follows:

~~((Sections 1 through 3 of this 1979 act))~~ RCW 82.39.010 through 82.39.030 shall expire on June 30, ~~((1985))~~ 1991, and ~~((section 4 of this 1979 act))~~ RCW 82.39.040 shall expire on June 30, ~~((1986))~~ 1992."

Renumber the remaining sections accordingly.

Debate ensued.

POINTS OF INQUIRY

Senator Patterson: "Senator Talmadge, this bill provides for the collection of up to two cents a gallon in tax on gasoline and I was wondering, do you have any estimate at all of the cost of the project you are contemplating in Seattle and the area where the gasoline stations are located--the proximity of them to the taxing area? What is the taxing area and what is the cost of the project?"

Senator Talmadge: "My recollection, Senator Patterson, is the total cost of the project in 1984-1985 dollars is somewhere between fifty and sixty million dollars. The First Avenue South Bridge is within the city limits of the city of Seattle and is a major route into the city of Seattle from southwest King County--State Route 509. The bridge is actually on the state route and then feeds into the city street system for the city of Seattle."

Senator Patterson: "I used to use it every day. I'm primarily concerned in the cutoff date on the gas tax being authorized and whether or not the magnitude of the project can be retired by 1992. I just wonder to what extent you have gone into the actual financing of the project, because I would suggest, following your remarks, that maybe the state in a year or two might come in and help out, also."

"It is somewhat bothersome to me since you we are providing this kind of roadway throughout the state of Washington. I just don't want to get ourselves in a position that the state is going to be expected to come back and pick up the balance of some sixty million dollar project for Seattle alone. I don't know what the cost of the waterway in Tacoma is going to be or what the outstanding bond issue is on the Spokane Maple Street Bridge, but I think we have to look at it from a standpoint of whether it can be funded under the proposal."

Senator Talmadge: "I think your remarks, Senator Patterson, are very appropriate. Your concern is a very appropriate one, also. My understanding is that this tax proposal is local option. If the city council of the city of Seattle chose not to do it, they didn't have to. It's in increments of one-tenth of a cent, so they can justify their share of the overall project that way. When I said I hope the state comes in sometime in the future, what I meant by that is, this project is in the Category C priority scheme. It's simply a question of when that money will be made available under Category C for projects such as the First Avenue South Bridge.

"We have, so far, had very excellent cooperation from the State Department of Transportation, the Port of Seattle, King County, and the city of Seattle--each contributing money to design proposals for this particular project. I think that cooperative attitude--county, city, port and state--will continue. It's not expected that the city of Seattle would be able to fund this whole project from this gas tax. Rather, as I said, it's only one piece of an overall funding mechanism that would be beneficial."

Senator Patterson: "But the city is committed, Senator, to taking some portion of the gas tax revenue they now get for cities distributed statewide into this project. Have they allocated some of their share of their gas tax resources to this particular bridge?"

Senator Talmadge: "They did for purposes of that design endeavor that I mentioned earlier. It is my understanding that that is what occurred. They have spent jointly with the port, the county and the state for design from that money that they have received."

Senator Patterson: "Thank you very much, Senator Talmadge. I guess I would, also, like to ask Senator Wojahn if you have any kind of firm estimates on the cost of the Waterway Bridge in the city of Tacoma?"

Senator Wojahn: "Yes, the estimated amount is sixteen million. They have generated through their own efforts and through the highway budget, about ninety million--that is committed--but they're short and I've been told that it would be about sixteen million at this particular time. This came from the city of Tacoma--"

Senator Patterson: "Do you think 1992 is long enough?"

Senator Wojahn: "They seem to think so, because that was the date that they gave me when they asked for the amendment."

Senator Patterson: "I thank you very much. I don't need to ask about Maple Street. Senator Guess, could you respond in the same way as to what the costs will be to pick up the tab on the Maple Street Toll Bridge?"

Senator Guess: "Five-and-a-half million in five-and-a-half years."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senators Wojahn, Talmadge, Guess, Johnson, Stratton, Garrett, Lee, Fleming, Peterson and Granlund.

Senator Newhouse: "In the new biennium, how many patrolmen in relation to how many were in the current budget?"

Senator Peterson: "We'll have a total of sixty-one. We've got another class coming up that we're funding in this budget after this one is graduated."

On page 8, line 34, after "~~((one))~~" strike "four" and insert "three"

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Fleming: "Senator Patterson, to your knowledge or recollection, to what extent was that same question asked about those other costs that are going to be charged to individuals and so forth, as to whether that was the actual cost that would cover the services that were rendered to these people whether they could determine whether it was too much or too little?"

Senator Patterson: "In most cases, that's the basis upon which the committee considered the increase in all of these separate fees. It gets a little old coming back here every three or four years and asking the legislature to increase these fees and I think, in view of the fact that it was eighteen to twenty years since this particular one was raised--"

Senator Fleming: "Your original decision was along with these other decisions--was five dollars?"

Senator Patterson: "That's right."

Senator Fleming: "But Senator Sellar, or whomever, offered the amendment to reduce it to four and now Senator Sellar to three. They did not offer an amendment to reduce any of the others that were going to individuals just to big insurance companies."

Senator Patterson: "I can't recall the--"

Senator Fleming: "Have you any other amendment to reduce these others?"

Senator Patterson: "I'm sorry, I can't respond to that, Senator."

Further debate ensued.

MOTION

Senator Fleming moved that the following amendment to the amendments be adopted:

Strike "three" in both amendments, and insert "five"

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Pullen: "Mr. President, a point of order. It would seem to me that Senator Fleming's amendment changes the scope and object of the basic amendment."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "Senator Pullen, Senator Fleming is merely trying to start at the highest point. The President doesn't believe that it changes the scope and object of the bill. He's just trying to get a little higher rate, I guess."

Senator Pullen: "As usual, the President has made a fine ruling. It just seems to me that one in essence was more of a downward adjustment and the other was more upward, and it seemed to me that that's a change in direction. I appreciate the President's ruling and the President invariably makes excellent rulings in this area."

Further debate on the amendment to amendments ensued.

On page 2, line 11, after "proposition" insert "at a November general election"

On page 2, line 32, after "proposition" insert "at a November general election"

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Barr: "Senator Pullen, it's getting to be quite common out in the far-flung districts that I come from that they turn the first one down--just for kicks, I guess--then quite a few of the times they pass it the second time. Now, that's the way people are and we're not going to change that. How would this amendment affect that?"

Senator Pullen: "This amendment would have no affect whatsoever on the situation you described."

Senator Barr: "They would have to wait until the next November to do it?"

Senator Pullen: "No, this amendment merely deals with the voter turnout requirement in a November election. This amendment merely says that if the proposition is submitted to the voters in a November election, then there are no voter turnout requirements. In other words, the levy would only have to receive a three-fifth's majority of votes to pass and not meet any voter turnout requirement at the same time."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendments by Senators Pullen, Craswell and Metcalf.

The motion by Senator Pullen failed and the amendments were not adopted.

MOTION

Senator Craswell moved that the following amendment by Senators Craswell and Metcalf be adopted:

AND PROVIDED FURTHER, That the provisions of this section shall also be subject to the limitations contained in Article VIII, Section 6, of this Constitution:

(c) By the state or any taxing district for the purpose of paying the principal or interest on general obligation bonds outstanding on December 6, 1934; or for the purpose of preventing the impairment of the obligation of a contract when ordered so to do by a court of last resort.

Mr. President:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

*Sec. 1. Section 18, chapter 108, Laws of 1975-'76 2nd ex. sess. as last amended by section 1, chapter 281, Laws of 1981 and RCW 43.21G.040 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The governor may subject to the definitions and limitations provided in this chapter:

(a) Upon finding that an energy supply alert exists within this state or any part thereof, declare a condition of energy supply alert; or

(b) Upon finding that an energy emergency exists within this state or any part thereof, declare a condition of energy emergency. A condition of energy emergency shall terminate thirty consecutive days after the declaration of such condition if the legislature is not in session at the time of such declaration and if the governor fails to convene the legislature pursuant to Article III, section 7 of the Constitution of the state of Washington within thirty consecutive days of such declaration. If the legislature is in session or convened, in accordance with this subsection, the duration of the condition of energy emergency shall be limited in accordance with subsection (3) of this section.

Upon the declaration of a condition of energy supply alert or energy emergency, the governor shall present to the committee any proposed plans for programs, controls, standards, and priorities for the production, allocation, and consumption of energy during any current or anticipated condition of energy emergency, any proposed plans for the suspension or modification of existing rules of the Washington Administrative Code, and any other relevant matters the governor deems desirable. The governor shall review any recommendations of the committee concerning such plans and matters.

The governor shall review the status of such plans annually with the house of representatives and senate standing committees on energy and utilities.

Upon the declaration of a condition of energy supply alert or energy emergency, the emergency powers as set forth in this chapter shall become effective only within the area described in the declaration.

(2) A condition of energy supply alert shall terminate ninety consecutive days after the declaration of such condition unless:

(a) Extended by the governor upon issuing a finding that the energy supply alert continues to exist, and with prior approval of such an extension by the committee; or

(b) Extended by the governor based on a declaration by the president of the United States of a national state of emergency in regard to energy supply; or

(c) Upon the request of the governor, extended by declaration of the legislature by concurrent resolution of a continuing energy supply alert.

In the event any such initial extension is implemented, the condition shall terminate one hundred and fifty consecutive days after the declaration of such condition. One or more subsequent extensions may be implemented through the extension procedures set forth in this subsection. In the event any such subsequent extension is implemented, the condition shall terminate sixty consecutive days after the implementation of such extension.

(3) A condition of energy emergency shall terminate forty-five consecutive days after the declaration of such condition unless:

- (a) Extended by the governor upon issuing a finding that the energy emergency continues to exist, and with prior approval of such an extension by the committee; or
- (b) Extended by the governor based on a declaration by the president of the United States of a national state of emergency in regard to energy supply; or
- (c) Upon the request of the governor, extended by declaration of the legislature by concurrent resolution of a continuing energy emergency.

In the event any such initial extension is implemented, the condition shall terminate ninety consecutive days after the declaration of such condition. One or more subsequent extensions may be implemented through the extension procedures set forth in this subsection. In the event any such subsequent extension is implemented, the condition shall terminate forty-five consecutive days after the implementation of such extension.

(4) A condition of energy supply alert or energy emergency shall cease to exist upon a declaration to that effect by either of the following: (a) The governor; or (b) the legislature, by concurrent resolution, if in regular or special session: PROVIDED, That the governor shall terminate a condition of energy supply alert or energy emergency when the energy supply situation upon which the declaration of a condition of energy supply alert or energy emergency was based no longer exists.

(5) In a condition of energy supply alert, the governor may, as deemed necessary to preserve and protect the public health, safety, and general welfare, and to minimize, to the fullest extent possible, the injurious economic, social, and environmental consequences of such energy supply alert, issue orders to: (a) Suspend or modify existing rules of the Washington Administrative Code of any state agency relating to the consumption of energy by such agency or to the production of energy, and (b) direct any state or local governmental agency to implement programs relating to the consumption of energy by the agency which have been developed by the governor or the agency and reviewed by the committee.

(6) In addition to the powers in subsection (5) of this section, in a condition of energy emergency, the governor may, as deemed necessary to preserve and protect the public health, safety, and general welfare, and to minimize, to the fullest extent possible, the injurious economic, social, and environmental consequences of such an emergency, issue orders to: (a) Implement programs, controls, standards, and priorities for the production, allocation, and consumption of energy; (b) suspend and modify existing pollution control standards and requirements or any other standards or requirements affecting or affected by the use of energy, including those relating to air or water quality control; and (c) establish and implement regional programs and agreements for the purposes of coordinating the energy programs and actions of the state with those of the federal government and of other states and localities.

The governor shall immediately transmit the declaration of a condition of energy supply alert or energy emergency and the findings upon which the declaration is based and any orders issued under the powers granted in this chapter to the committee.

Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to mean that any program, control, standard, priority or other policy created under the authority of the emergency powers authorized by this chapter shall have any continuing legal effect after the cessation of the condition of energy supply alert or energy emergency.

If any provision of this chapter is in conflict with any other provision, limitation, or restriction which is now in effect under any other law of this state, including, but not limited to, chapter 34.04 RCW, this chapter shall govern and control, and such other law or rule or regulation promulgated thereunder shall be deemed superseded for the purposes of this chapter.

Because of the emergency nature of this chapter, all actions authorized or required hereunder, or taken pursuant to any order issued by the governor, shall be exempted from any and all requirements and provisions of the state environmental policy act of 1971, chapter 43.21C RCW, including, but not limited to, the requirement for environmental impact statements.

Except as provided in this section nothing in this chapter shall exempt a person from compliance with the provisions of any other law, rule, or directive unless specifically ordered by the governor. ~~((The emergency powers granted to the governor in this chapter shall expire on June 30, 1985.))~~

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, the support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect June 29, 1985."

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 58.17 RCW to read as follows:

The legislative body of any county or city may, at its option, adopt procedural rules and regulations for the administrative review of a preliminary plat without a public hearing. The legislative body may specify a threshold number of lots in a subdivision above which a public hearing must be held. The administrative review process shall meet the following minimum conditions:

(1) The notice requirements of RCW 58.17.090 shall be followed. The notice shall include notification that no public hearing will be held on the application, except as provided by this section. The notice shall set out the procedures and time limitations for requesting a public hearing and making comments.

(2) Recipients of the required notice shall have a period of twenty days from the date of the notice to comment upon the preliminary plat. All comments received shall be provided to the applicant. The applicant has seven days from receipt of the comments to respond thereto. All persons filing comments shall be given notification of the administrative recommendation for approval or disapproval of the preliminary plat.

(3) Recipients of required notice may file a request for a public hearing within seven days of the notice date. The request for a public hearing may be submitted as part of the comments submitted under subsection (2) of this section. The request shall include reasons in support of holding a public hearing. The legislative body shall send the applicant a copy of the request for a public hearing, and shall notify the applicant, and the person filing the request for the hearing of the date on which the request will be considered by the legislative body. The legislative body shall act on any request for a public hearing within twenty-one days of the date of the public notice issued pursuant to RCW 58.17.090. Any hearing ordered under this subsection shall be conducted by the planning commission or hearings officer as required by county or city ordinance. The time period during which the request for a public hearing is considered, not to exceed twenty-one days, is added to the time limitation established by RCW 58.17.140.

(4) If the legislative body determines that a public hearing is necessary, then the notice requirements of RCW 58.17.090 shall be followed. The ninety day period for approval or disapproval of the preliminary plat shall commence from the date of the legislative body's decision in favor of holding a public hearing. Any hearing ordered under this subsection shall be conducted by the planning commission or hearings officer as required by county or city ordinance.

(5) If the public hearing is waived as provided in this section, the planning commission or planning agency shall complete the review of the proposed preliminary plat and transmit its recommendation to the legislative body as provided in RCW 58.17.100.

Sec. 3. Section 14, chapter 271, Laws of 1969 ex. sess. as last amended by section 3, chapter 121, Laws of 1983 and RCW 58.17.140 are each amended to read as follows:

Preliminary plats of any proposed subdivision and dedication shall be approved, disapproved, or returned to the applicant for modification or correction within ninety days from date of filing thereof unless the applicant consents to an extension of such time period or the ninety day limitation is extended to include up to twenty-one days as specified under section 2(3) of this 1985 act; PROVIDED, That if an environmental impact statement is required as provided in RCW 43.21C.030, the ninety day period shall not include the time spent preparing and circulating the environmental impact statement by the local government agency. Final plats and short plats shall be approved, disapproved, or returned to the applicant within thirty days from the date of filing thereof, unless the applicant consents to an extension of such time period. A final plat meeting all requirements of this chapter shall be submitted to the legislative body of the city, town, or county for approval within three years of the date of preliminary plat approval: PROVIDED, That this three-year time period shall retroactively apply to any preliminary plat pending before a city, town, or county as of July 24, 1983, where the authority to proceed with the filing of a final plat has not lapsed under an applicable city, town, or county ordinance containing a shorter time period that was in effect when the preliminary plat was approved. An applicant who files a written request with the legislative body of the city, town, or county at least thirty days before the expiration of this three-year period shall be granted one one-year extension upon a showing that the applicant has attempted in good faith to submit the final plat within the three-year period. Nothing contained in this section shall act to prevent any city, town, or county from adopting by ordinance procedures which would allow other extensions of time that may or may not contain additional or altered conditions and requirements.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. This act does not affect the provisions of RCW 82.02.020."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Talmadge: "Mr. President, a point of order. I believe the amendment proposed by Senators Thompson and McManus expands the scope and object of the bill. The original bill deals with the issue of surveys and survey notes that are required to accompany a request for a plat for a subdivision. The proposed amendment deals with hearings on preliminary plat approvals and alters the procedural mechanism, substantially, with respect to approval of preliminary plats. I think, therefore, the amendment does expand the scope and object of Substitute House Bill No. 602, as it has come to us."

Further debate ensued.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Vognild, further consideration of Substitute House Bill No. 602 was deferred.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Metcalf: "Senator Granlund, on the second page we have the case where the people who have been determined to be alcoholic, drug users and so forth and can't get a license, except that a license can be issued if the department determines that they have been granted this deferred prosecution. We have put in other bills, I think, that the license that they get, if they are on deferred prosecution, has to have a particular mark so the patrol can recognize those people on deferred prosecution. I don't see it in this bill."

Senator Granlund: "From my understanding of the testimony that both you and I heard in the Committee on Transportation is that is the case and I am sure that this would conform to any legislation that we would pass this session. All this does, Senator Metcalf, is to bring it into conformity--the law is silent as it applies to drug abuse. All it is doing is including them in the same process that we use for those who abuse liquor."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Substitute House Bill No. 163.

Strengthening laws on reporting of child abuse.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTIONS

Senator Talmadge moved that the following Committee on Judiciary amendment be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The Washington state legislature finds and declares:

The children of the state of Washington are the state's greatest resource and the greatest source of wealth to the state of Washington. Children of all ages must be protected from child abuse. Governmental authorities must give the prevention, treatment, and punishment of child abuse the highest priority, and all instances of child abuse must be reported to the proper authorities who should diligently and expeditiously take appropriate action, and child abusers must be held accountable to the people of the state for their actions.

The legislature recognizes the current heavy caseload of governmental authorities responsible for the prevention, treatment, and punishment of child abuse. The information obtained by child abuse reporting requirements, in addition to its use as a law enforcement tool, will be used to determine the need for additional funding to ensure that resources for appropriate governmental response to child abuse are available.

Sec. 2. Section 3, chapter 13, Laws of 1965 as last amended by section 3, chapter 97, Laws of 1984 and RCW 26.44.030 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) When any practitioner, professional school personnel, registered or licensed nurse, social worker, psychologist, pharmacist, or employee of the department has reasonable cause to believe that a child or adult dependent person has suffered abuse or neglect, he shall report such incident, or cause a report to be made, to the proper law enforcement agency or to the department as provided in RCW 26.44.040. The report shall be made at the first opportunity, but in no case longer than ~~(seven days)~~ forty-eight hours after there is reasonable cause to believe that the child or adult has suffered abuse or neglect.

(2) Any other person who has reasonable cause to believe that a child or adult dependent person has suffered abuse or neglect may report such incident to the proper law enforcement agency or to the department of social and health services as provided in RCW 26.44.040 ~~((as now or hereafter amended))~~.

(3) The department, upon receiving a report of an incident of abuse or neglect pursuant to this chapter, involving a child or adult dependent person who has died or has had physical injury or injuries inflicted upon him other than by accidental means or who has been subjected to sexual abuse, shall report such incident in writing to the proper law enforcement agency.

(4) Any law enforcement agency receiving a report of an incident of abuse or neglect pursuant to this chapter, involving a child or adult dependent person who has died or has had physical injury or injuries inflicted upon him other than by accidental means, or who has been subjected to sexual abuse, shall report such incident in writing as provided in RCW 26.44.040 to the proper county prosecutor or city attorney for appropriate action whenever the law enforcement agency's investigation reveals that a crime ~~((has))~~ may have been committed.

The law enforcement agency shall also notify the department of all reports received and the law enforcement agency's disposition of them.

(5) Any county prosecutor or city attorney receiving a report under subsection (4) of this section shall notify the victim, any persons the victim requests, and the local office of the department, of the decision to charge or decline to charge a crime, within five days of making the decision.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 26.44 RCW to read as follows:

If an investigating agency responds to a complaint of child abuse and discovers that another agency has also responded to the complaint, the agency shall notify the other agency of their presence, and the agencies shall coordinate the investigation and keep each other apprised of progress.

The department, each law enforcement agency, each county prosecuting attorney, each city attorney, and each court shall make as soon as practicable a written record and shall maintain records of all incidents of suspected child abuse reported to that person or agency. Records kept under this section shall be identifiable by means of an agency code for child abuse.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 4. A new section is added to chapter 26.44 RCW to read as follows:

Commencing in 1986, the prosecuting attorney shall include in the annual report a section stating the number of child abuse reports received by the office under this chapter and the number of cases where charges were filed."

MOTION

Senator Vognild moved that the following amendment by Senators Vognild, Warnke and Newhouse to the Committee on Judiciary amendment be adopted:

On page 4, after line 34 of the committee amendment, insert the following:

"Sec. 5. Section 6, chapter 35, Laws of 1969 ex. sess. as last amended by section 6, chapter 97, Laws of 1984 and RCW 26.44.070 are each amended to read as follows:

The department shall maintain a central registry of ((reported)) cases of child abuse or neglect or abuse of an adult dependent person that have been substantiated through a court proceeding and shall adopt such rules and regulations as necessary in carrying out the provisions of this section. Those persons or agencies exempted by this section from the confidentiality of the records of the registry shall not further disseminate or release such information so provided to them and shall respect the confidentiality of such information, and any violation of this section shall constitute a misdemeanor."

Debate ensued.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Bluechel: "Mr. President, I have an amendment that does similar things, but not exactly, but there may be one conflicting section in it and this is subsection (d) of Section 1 of the first page of my amendment. If this passes, would there be a conflict or would this amendment be allowed to supercede the amendment? I have no problem with the amendment that Senator Vognild is proposing, but there is a potential conflict in the amendment and I want to make sure we are able to debate my amendment."

REMARKS BY SENATOR TALMADGE

Senator Talmadge: "Mr. President, I believe there clearly is a conflict of subsection (d) of Senator Bluechel's amendment. It permits the accumulation of data relating simply to reports. Senator Vognild's amendment is designed to deal with adjudication, an entirely different subject matter. I think the fact that we have moved on with this striking amendment with respect to this bill perhaps places Senator Bluechel's amendment out of order, but Mr. President, to give you time to think about it, I'd ask that we have the bill hold its place on the calendar and we proceed to the next bill."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "Thank you, Senator Talmadge, further consideration of the measure will be deferred."

There being no objection, further consideration of Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 932 was deferred.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Hayner: "Senator Gaspard, could you tell me what is the estimate of what this might cost? I understand it is permissive, but suppose that every school district had such a program, what are we talking about in costs?"

Senator Gaspard: "Senator Hayner, the fiscal note, as I recall, said that there is no state fiscal involvement. It is permissive language. Local districts, if they wish to do it, may do it. There is no impact on the state general fund--the last statement on the fiscal note."

Senator Hayner: "Senator Gaspard, don't you believe that the Superintendent of Public Instruction would have to have new people that would gear up and in the next biennium, we would see that appearing as a request in their budget?"

Senator Gaspard: "I don't believe that's required in the bill."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Substitute House Bill No. 799, as amended by the Senate.

REMARKS BY SENATOR McDERMOTT

It is a bill that says if somebody in the LEOFF I system wants to go back to work, they go before the disability board--the disability board says you still have a disability--they still have a right to appeal so that they can go back to work and it sets up the procedure and, in fact, it will get people off time-loss payments, so it will be a money saver. I urge the passage of the bill."

SECOND READING

HOUSE BILL NO. 832, by Representatives Kremen, Smitherman, Tilly, Barrett, McMullen and Zellinsky

Authorizing the acceptance of gifts by the world fair commission.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Goltz moved that the following amendment by Senators Goltz and Bluechel be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION, Sec. 1. A new section is added to chapter 43.96D RCW to read as follows:

The world fair commission may receive such gifts, grants, loans, and endowments from public or private sources as may be made from time to time, in trust or otherwise, and may enter into contracts, leases, or other revenue producing agreements for the use and benefit of the purposes of the commission and expend the same and any income therefrom in implementing its duties under this chapter.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 2. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, the support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect immediately."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Cantu, the following amendment to the amendment was adopted:

On page 1, line 20, after the period insert "However, no gift, grants, and endowments shall be accepted for the personal use of any commissioner."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senators Goltz and Bluechel, as amended.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Goltz, I didn't have time to talk to you before. The amendment provides that the 'World's Fair Commission may receive such gifts and grants,'--that part is good, but it goes on to say 'loans.' Would it be possible for the Commission to accept loans that would obligate us for millions of dollars to pay back?"

Senator Goltz: "No, the meaning of the word 'loan' in this amendment is the loan of such things as equipment from Boeing or something like that. The theme of the fair is transportation and communication, and part of the exhibit that Washington State will have there will show some of the products that would be manufactured in the state of Washington and rather than to accept those as gifts or grants or whatever, they would be on loan and that's all that the meaning of the word 'loan' is. There is no obligation incurred by the Commission in this language."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senators Goltz and Bluechel, as amended.

The motion by Senator Goltz carried and the amendment, as amended, was adopted.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Vognild, the following title amendment was adopted:

On page 1, on line 1 of the title, after "commission;" strike "and" and on line 2, after "RCW" insert "; and declaring an emergency"

On motion of Senator Vognild, the rules were suspended, House Bill No. 832, as amended by the Senate, was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Halsan: "Senator Cantu, with the amendment that you offered and was adopted in this bill, regarding the commissioners not being allowed to accept gifts, grants or endowments, is it the intention of that amendment that commissioners could not accept such gifts as lapel pins or passes to the fair--or souvenirs--or baseball caps or things such as that?"

Senator Cantu: "No, Senator Halsan, that's not the intent. I did not consider that a gift. I'm thinking in terms of a world's fair, one normally looks at items that may come in that are of considerable value--trophies, silverware, etched glass and those kinds of things that may be used for displays and then when the world's fair is over, there may be some residual assets of that type. That's what I had in mind. It was not my intention to include the kinds of things you mentioned."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of House Bill No. 832, as amended by the Senate.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of House Bill No. 832, as amended by the Senate, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 48; excused, 1.

SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1114, by Committee on Energy and Utilities (originally sponsored by Representatives Todd, Allen, Long, D. Nelson and Unsoeld)

Revising procedures for adoption of energy related building standards.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTIONS

Senator Bottiger moved that the following Committee on Energy and Utilities amendment be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

*Sec. 1. Section 3, chapter 96, Laws of 1974 ex. sess. as last amended by section 1, chapter 101, Laws of 1984 and RCW 19.27.030 are each amended to read as follows:

There shall be in effect in all cities, towns, and counties of the state a state building code which shall consist of the following codes which are hereby adopted by reference:

(1) Uniform Building Code and Uniform Building Code Standards, 1982 edition, published by the International Conference of Building Officials;

(2) Uniform Mechanical Code, 1982 edition, including Chapter 22, Fuel Gas Piping, Appendix B, published by the International Conference of Building Officials;

(3) The Uniform Fire Code and Uniform Fire Code Standards, 1982 edition, published by the International Conference of Building Officials and the Western Fire Chiefs Association: PROVIDED, That, notwithstanding any wording in this code, participants in religious ceremonies shall not be precluded from carrying hand-held candles;

(4) The Uniform Plumbing Code and Uniform Plumbing Code Standards, 1982 edition, published by the International Association of Plumbing and Mechanical Officials: PROVIDED, That chapters 11 and 12 of such code are not adopted;

(5) The rules and regulations adopted by the council establishing standards for making buildings and facilities accessible to and usable by the physically handicapped or elderly persons as provided for in RCW 70.92.100 through 70.92.160; and

(6) ~~((The thermal performance and design standards for dwellings as set forth in RCW 19.27.210 through 19.27.290. This subsection shall be of no further force and effect when RCW 19.27.200 through 19.27.290 expire as provided in RCW 19.27.300))~~ The Washington state energy code, June 30, 1980, edition adopted by the state building code advisory council and amendments to the code adopted prior to January 1, 1985, the revision to the state energy code adopted pursuant to RCW 19.27.075, and subsequent amendments adopted by the council under chapter 34.04 RCW.

In case of conflict among the codes enumerated in subsections (1), (2), (3), and (4) of this section, the first named code shall govern over those following.

Sec. 2. Section 3, chapter 76, Laws of 1979 ex. sess. and RCW 19.27.075 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The state building code advisory council shall ~~((have authority to))~~ promulgate rules, pursuant to chapter 34.04 RCW, for the purpose of adopting a ~~((state-wide thermal efficiency and lighting))~~ revised state code ((to the extent necessary to comply with Title 10, Code of Federal Regulations, section 420.35. Such)). The revised code shall be designed to achieve reductions in energy consumption relative to buildings constructed to comply with the state energy code, June 30, 1980 edition, as amended. The council shall follow the legislature's guidelines set forth in this section to design a revised code which requires new buildings to meet a certain level of energy efficiency, but allows flexibility in building design and construction within that framework. The revised code shall take into account regional climatic conditions((=shall take effect prior to June 30, 1980; and shall be presented to the senate and house committees on energy and utilities at the time it is proposed as a draft rule)) and shall be designed according to the following guidelines:

(a) For new electric resistance heated residential buildings, the code shall be designed to achieve energy savings equivalent to savings achieved in typical buildings constructed with:

(i) Ceilings insulated to a level of R-38, except single rafter or joist vaulted ceilings may be insulated to a level of R-30 (R value includes insulation only);

(ii) Walls insulated to a level of R-19 (total assembly);

(iii) Floors over unheated spaces insulated to a level of R-19 for areas with six thousand or less annual heating degree days and to a level of R-25 for areas with more than six thousand annual heating degree days (R value includes insulation only);

(iv) Double glazed windows with tested R values not less than 1.79 when tested according to the procedures of the American architectural manufacturers association; and

(v) In areas with more than six thousand annual heating degree days a maximum of seventeen percent of the floor area in glazing; in areas with six thousand or less annual heating degree days a maximum of twenty-one percent of the floor area in glazing. Throughout the state for the purposes of determining equivalent thermal performance, the maximum glazing area shall be fifteen percent.

(b) For new residential buildings which are space-heated with other fuels, the code shall be designed to achieve energy savings equivalent to savings achieved in typical buildings constructed with:

(i) Ceilings insulated to a level of R-30 (R value includes insulation only);

(ii) Walls insulated to a level of R-19 (total assembly);

(iii) Floors over unheated spaces insulated to a level of R-19 (R value includes insulation only);

(iv) Double glazed windows with tested R values not less than 1.40 when tested according to the procedures of the American architectural manufacturers association; and

(v) In areas with more than six thousand annual heating degree days a maximum of seventeen percent of the floor area in glazing; in areas with six thousand or less annual heating degree days a maximum of twenty-one percent of the floor area in glazing. Throughout the state for the purposes of determining equivalent thermal performance, the maximum glazing area shall be fifteen percent.

(c) For new nonresidential buildings, the code shall be designed to achieve a ten percent reduction in energy consumption relative to buildings constructed to comply with the state energy code, June 30, 1980 edition, as amended.

(2) The council shall publish the revision as proposed rules pursuant to chapter 34.04 RCW and provide for the rules to become effective January 1, 1986. All cities, towns, and counties shall enforce the revised state energy code not later than April 1, 1986.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 19.27 RCW to read as follows:

(1) The revised state energy code shall supersede all local government residential energy codes except as provided in subsections (2) and (3) of this section: PROVIDED, That cities, towns, and counties may adopt more energy efficient codes for residential construction if the builder or owner of new residential construction is reimbursed by an authorized federal agency for those additional costs to the consumer of conservation components that are attributable to the more energy efficient codes. This subsection shall not apply after January 1, 1989.

(2) The revised state energy code shall not preempt energy codes, adopted by a city, town, or county of the state prior to the effective date of this act or first class cities with a population over three hundred thousand which operate electrical utilities, that are designed to achieve reduction in energy consumption relative to the revised state energy code.

(3) The revised state energy code shall not preempt a less energy efficient energy code adopted by a county, city, or town if it can be shown that the revised state energy code is not cost-effective for that county, city, or town.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 4. A new section is added to chapter 19.27 RCW to read as follows:

(1) The University of Washington college of architecture and department of mechanical engineering shall conduct in situ testing of the annual thermal transmittance of individual construction components and conservation measures proposed for new residential construction by the northwest power planning council.

(2) There shall be a committee to oversee the study. The committee shall include the director of the state energy office as chair; two members recommended by the home building industry chosen by the governor; and two members nationally renowned as experts in building energy performance chosen by the governor.

(3) The study shall include an analysis of the economic feasibility of adopting thermal performance standards for new residential construction as proposed by the northwest power planning council. The study of economic feasibility shall include but not necessarily be limited to factors which shall not require an amortization of the individual components exceeding a life cycle of seven years and a discount rate (interest) computed at the current conventional market rate of home mortgages at par.

(4) The director of the state energy office shall make recommendations, based on the results of the study and the residential standards demonstration program, to the legislature and the state building code advisory council regarding the cost-effectiveness of the revised state energy code developed pursuant to RCW 19.27.075 no later than January 15, 1988.

(5) If federal funds are not available, the study shall be funded by a surcharge on building permit fees for new building construction imposed by all local governments of the state. The department of community development, after consultation with the state energy office, shall develop and implement a method of collecting the surcharge. The surcharge shall be ten dollars on all multifamily residential building permits, fifteen dollars on all single-family residential building permits, and fifteen dollars on all other building permits. The surcharge shall terminate on June 30, 1989, or at such time as the state general fund is reimbursed for the cost of the study.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. A new section is added to chapter 19.27 RCW to read as follows:

As used in this chapter, references to the state building code advisory council shall be construed to include any successor agency.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. The following acts or parts of acts are each repealed:

- (1) Section 1, chapter 14, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and RCW 19.27.200;
- (2) Section 2, chapter 14, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and RCW 19.27.210;

Senator Rasmussen moved that the following amendments to the Committee on Energy and Utilities amendment be considered simultaneously and adopted:

On page 2, line 16 of the amendment, strike "and" and insert "~~(and)~~"

On page 2, line 23 of the amendment, after "~~19-27-300~~;" insert "code rules and regulations which shall be adopted by the pertinent legislative authority permitting the conversion of single family residences to include separate, code-approved units within existing space to promote energy efficiency and reduce resource waste. The rules and regulations required under this subsection shall be adopted by ordinance or resolution; and (7)"

Debate ensued.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Bottiger: "Without forsaking the point of order I'm about to make-- I've supported you consistently Senator Rasmussen, however I raise the point of order, Mr. President, that the amendments expand the scope and object of the bill. This particular measure is an act relating to energy codes in cities. It has nothing to do with zoning, which is the subject matter of Senator Rasmussen's amendments. The amendments would supersede all state codes pertaining to single-family dwellings. The bill before us has absolutely nothing to do with that."

Debate ensued.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "In ruling upon the point of order raised by Senator Bottiger, the President finds that Substitute House Bill No. 1114 is a measure requiring the State Building Code Advisory Council to revise the statewide minimum energy code according to certain criteria.

"The amendments proposed by Senator Rasmussen authorize within the State Building Code, regulations adopted by local governments which allow the conversion of single-family residences to include separate units within existing space to promote energy efficiency and reduce resource waste.

"The President, therefore, finds that the proposed amendments do change the scope and object of the bill and that the point of order is well taken."

The amendments to the committee amendment were ruled out of order.

MOTION

Senator Pullen moved that the following amendment by Senators Pullen, Moore, McDermott, Benitz, Goltz, Craswell, Metcalf and Rasmussen to the Committee on Energy and Utilities amendment be adopted:

On page 5, after line 37 add a new subsection as follows:

"(2) In developing the revised code, the council shall consider possible health and respiratory problems caused by insulating buildings so tightly that the rate of air exchange is significantly retarded, thereby concentrating toxic pollutants at unhealthy high levels."

Renumber accordingly.

Debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senators Pullen, Moore, McDermott, Benitz, Goltz, Rasmussen, Craswell and Metcalf to the Committee on Energy and Utilities amendment.

The motion by Senator Pullen carried and the amendment to the committee amendment was adopted.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the Committee on Energy and Utilities amendment, as amended.

The motion by Senator Bottiger carried and the committee amendment, as amended, was adopted.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Williams, the rules were suspended, Substitute House Bill No. 1114, as amended by the Senate, was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bailey: "Senator Williams, what is the significance of the phrase, 'new electrical resistance heating residential building?'"

Senator Williams: "Senator Bailey, it means that the insulation guidelines which follow the section that has the requirements for that kind of heated homes, are homes heated with baseboard heaters or electric forced air units. A home with a higher efficiency electric heating system, like a heat pump, could achieve equivalent savings with lower insulating levels. In the same way, homes heated with fuels other than electricity could be built with lower insulation levels than the guidelines, if they are equipped with more efficient furnaces than required for certain current codes."

Senator Bailey: "How can R-19 walls 'total assembly' be built?"

Senator Williams: "There are two ways. One is with 2 x 6 studs and R-19 batt insulation or in a 2 x 4 stud wall with R-13 batts and a three-quarter inch insulating rigid sheeting."

Senator Bailey: "What is meant by 'for the purpose of determining equivalent thermal performance, the maximum glazing area shall be fifteen percent?'"

Senator Williams: "The insulation levels and glazing areas in this section are guidelines for the Building Code Advisory Council to use in developing a code which will result in equivalent thermal performance. For glazing area, the guideline is fifteen percent of the floor area, although larger areas--twenty-one percent in western Washington and seventeen percent in eastern Washington--can be used without requiring additional insulation. The average glazing area in new construction is currently about 13.5 percent."

Senator Bailey: "Thank you, Senator Williams. I have one more question, if I might. Will the insulation level spelled out in this bill be required in all new construction when the code become effective?"

Senator Williams: "No, not necessarily. In the prescriptive standard areas, they most likely will be. However, the insulating levels in the bill are guidelines and the State Building Code Advisory Council is charged with developing an energy code which achieves the same savings compared to the current code as these guidelines, but allows the builder flexibility in how the home is actually built."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Substitute House Bill No. 1114, as amended by the Senate.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Substitute House Bill No. 1114, as amended by the Senate, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 32; nays, 16; excused, 1.

Voting yea: Senators Bailey, Barr, Bender, Bluechel, Bottiger, Cantu, Conner, DeJarnatt, Fleming, Garrett, Gaspard, Goltz, Granlund, Guess, Halsan, Kiskaddon, Kreidler, Lee, McDermott, McManus, Moore, Owen, Peterson, Rinehart, Saling, Talmadge, Thompson, Vognild, von Reichbauer, Williams, Wojahn, Zimmerman - 32.

Voting nay: Senators Bauer, Benitz, Craswell, Deccio, Hansen, Hayner, Johnson, McCaslin, McDonald, Metcalf, Newhouse, Patterson, Pullen, Rasmussen, Sellar, Stratton - 16.

Excused: Senator Warnke - 1.

SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1114, as amended by the Senate, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Talmadge, Senator Vognild was excused.

SECOND READING

SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 4, by Committee on Local Government (originally sponsored by Representatives Rayburn and Baugher)

Changing requirements for the removal of county seats.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Thompson, the rules were suspended, Substitute House Bill No. 4 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Talmadge: "Senator Thompson, the question I have is--Article XI, Section 2 of the State Constitution--on the location and removal of county seats is very explicit. It seems to say that a proposition of removal shall not be submitted in the same county more than once in four years. Has there been some legal review of that constitutional provision by the committee staff in order to determine whether or not, in light of the Constitution's provision, you could alter that to make it once every eight years?"

Senator Thompson: "I can assure you that the committee staff feels that we're on firm constitutional grounds here. I can't represent, in my own response, that I have any authority in this area. It is my impression that the constitution writers intended that this not be presented frequently, but that the legislature would have some latitude to extend that period."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Substitute House Bill No. 4.
