School districts are responsible for selecting, paying for, and maintaining student transportation vehicles. School districts that purchase buses through established competitive processes are eligible for state reimbursement funds that are based on the category of vehicle, the anticipated vehicle lifespan, and a state reimbursement rate. These state funds must be deposited in a school district's transportation vehicle fund and may be expended for purchases and repairs of pupil transportation vehicles.

In 2022, the Legislature passed SHB 1644, which expanded the allowable uses of money from a transportation vehicle fund to include:

- the purchase, installation, and repair of electric pupil transportation vehicle charging stations and other zero-emission fueling stations, and other costs necessary for their installation;
- completing feasibility plans to transition from gas or diesel pupil transportation vehicles to electric or zero-emission pupil transportation vehicles; and
- converting or repowering existing gas or diesel pupil transportation vehicles to electric or zero-emission pupil transportation vehicles.

During the 2023 session, the Legislature considered SB 5431, to create a Zero Emission School Bus Grant Program, but it was not enacted.

Staff will research and summarize the current depreciation schedule timelines for school districts in Washington. Staff will work with regional transportation coordinators and student transportation staff at the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction to identify any challenges that school districts may face when transitioning to zero-emission pupil transportation vehicles. In addition, staff will develop a list of zero-emission funding programs that are currently available to school districts.

Staff will work with regional transportation coordinators and student transportation staff at the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction to determine which district and ridership characteristics could be considered when developing a new transportation formula. Staff will summarize these findings and draft legislation as directed.
