AGRICULTURE, WATER, NATURAL RESOURCES & PARKS COMMITTEE WORKPLAN

Forest Health and Wildland Fire Management

---

COMPLETION DATE: December 2018

STAFF: Curt Gavigan 786-7437/Angela Kleis 786-7469

REFERENCE(S):

DESCRIPTION: In 2018, the Legislature passed several bills relating to forest health and wildland fire. This included ESB 6211, which established accounts to accept revenue from and pay expenses related to good neighbor agreements with the federal government for cooperative forest health projects. Additionally, SHB 2561 directed the Wildland Fire Advisory Committee to review and make recommendations on several issues including unprotected lands, community programs such as Firewise, and emergency planning efforts to protect non-English speaking residents. Committee staff will monitor these and emerging forest health and wildland fire issues, and provide information, support, and drafting services to members as requested.

Orca Protection

COMPLETION DATE: December 2018

STAFF: Angela Kleis 786-7469/Curt Gavigan 786-7437

REFERENCE(S):

DESCRIPTION: By statute, the orca is designated as the official marine mammal of Washington State. Southern resident killer whales, also known as southern resident orca whales, are classified as an endangered species under federal and state law. Current law prohibits several actions in the vicinity of a southern resident orca. In 2018, the Legislature considered a number of bills concerning orca protection including expanding enforcement patrols, requiring an orca-related study, and modifying existing vessel regulations. The Governor signed an executive order regarding southern resident killer whales on March 14, 2018. Under the executive order, the Governor asked state agencies, in consultation with the appropriate local governments, federal agencies, and tribal governments, to conduct certain immediate actions such as identifying needed policy and program adjustments and created a Southern Resident Killer Whale Task Force. Committee staff will monitor the implementation of the Governor's Executive Order and provide information, support, and drafting services to members as requested.

Joint Legislative Task Force on Water Resource Mitigation

COMPLETION DATE: December 2019

STAFF: Karen Epps 786-7424

REFERENCE(S):

DESCRIPTION: The Department of Ecology (Ecology) has the authority to adopt rules establishing a minimum water flow for streams, lakes, or other public water bodies for the purposes of protecting fish, game, birds, and the recreational and aesthetic values of the waterways. Ecology may not allow any subsequent water withdrawals with a junior priority date to the instream flow that conflicts with the established flow level, unless the withdrawals clearly serve to satisfy an overriding consideration of the public interest (OCPI). In 2015, the state Supreme Court held that the OCPI exception does not authorize approval of a permanent water right that will impair established instream flows indefinitely and concluded that ecological improvements cannot mitigate the injury when a junior water right holder impairs a senior water right holder (Foster v. Dep't of Ecology, 184 Wn.2d 465; considering a water right permit issued by Ecology to the City of Yelm that relied on the OCPI exception and a regional mitigation plan developed by Yelm and the cities of Olympia and Lacey).

Legislation passed in 2018 established the Joint Legislative Task Force on Water Resource Mitigation (Task Force). The Task Force must review the treatment of surface water and groundwater appropriations as they relate to instream flows and fish habitat. The Task Force is required to develop and recommend a mitigation sequencing process and scoring system to address such appropriations. The Task Force must make recommendations to the Legislature by November 15, 2019. Committee staff will provide support to the Task Force and assist with the report as directed by members of the Task Force. Committee staff will also draft legislation as requested.

Joint Legislative Task Force on Water Supply

COMPLETION DATE: June 2019

STAFF: Karen Epps 786-7424

REFERENCE(S):

DESCRIPTION: The Department of Ecology (Ecology) adopted rules related to instream flows and interruptible water withdraws in the Skagit River basin in 2001. In response to a legal settlement in 2006, Ecology amended these rules to assure that certain future withdrawals were uninterrupted. Ecology's rule set aside a limited amount of surface water for future out-of-stream uses in the Skagit River basin; however, with some exceptions, the basin was to be closed to future appropriation once those set asides were allocated. In October 2013, the Washington Supreme Court invalidated a portion of the instream rules (Swinomish Indian Tribal Cmty. v. Dep't of Ecology, 115 Wn.2d 571). The Supreme Court held that the exception for withdrawals that effect an instream flow to address an overriding consideration of the public interest is narrow and requires extraordinary circumstances before the minimum flow water right can be impaired. The Supreme Court also found that Ecology could not set aside water reservations through water management rules where it had previously set aside water to support stream flows for fish.

In 2018, the Legislature passed ESSB 6095, establishing the Joint Legislative Task Force on Water Supply (Water Supply Task Force). The Water Supply Task Force must review surface and groundwater needs and uses as they relate to agricultural uses, domestic potable water uses, and instream flows, and develop and recommend studies. The Water Supply Task Force must immediately focus on water resource inventory area (WRIA) 4 and must not meet regarding WRIA 3 before January 1, 2019. WRIA 4 is located in the eastern portions of Whatcom, Skagit, and Snohomish counties and WRIA 3 is located in the western portion of Skagit County. Committee staff will provide support to the Water Supply Task Force and assist the members of the Task Force as directed. Committee staff will also draft legislation as requested.

ESB 5087 \(2005\)

DESCRIPTION: The legislature, in 2005, directed the State Board for Community and Technical Colleges (CTCs) to convene a best practices task force to review and update the best practices audit of compensation packages and conditions of employment for part-time faculty. The 2018 supplemental operating budget provided funds for the Washington State Institute for Public Policy (WSIPP) to study CTCs and compensation policies. Specifically, WSIPP will look at academic, classified, and professional employee compensation data, source of funding, and the duties or categories for which that compensation is paid; identify comparable market rate salaries; incorporate data from OFM compensation studies from 2017-19; and provide analysis on whether a local labor market adjustment formula should be implemented.

SCS staff will monitor the WSIPP study, review current policies at CTCs and the public baccalaureates regarding part-time faculty, and reach out to pertinent stakeholders to develop a better understanding of adjunct faculty issues in Washington State.
